Colony Quips

A group of smart people are getting together to hand the California government back to where we pay people to take care of it: the State Legislature. They are calling themselves the 'Vote No On All Propositions Association.' We think the idea is a very good one. It is certainly the business of our legislators to handle this sort of thing and an imposition on the voters to try to make them study up on all the pros and cons of many controversial measures. Unless you have a pet measure to vote for, you can't go far wrong voting a big NO.

We present below a picture of the largest business we have, the United States of America, showing, in some detail just how she stood for last years business. We believe this resume comes at a very opportune time, less than a month before the General Election. Take this with you to the polls on election day. On second thought this will not be necessary if you make sure to go to the polls and cast your ballot.

Practically every member and every association of St. Michael's Episcopal church turned to with a will and put over what was probably the most successful enterprise in its long history here in Anaheim. This is no attempt to give a blow by blow description of the big event but only to tell about a couple of things that happened. As you know, if you read the story in the Gazette, there were three main prizes, a beautiful gas stove and two lovely wrist watches, and these all went to members of the Episcopal church. We hasten to make this statement so all may know everything was honest. Now the second tale which will prove the first: On the drawing for the last wrist watch five names were called before the winner was determined and only two of the five were members of the church. It might be added that in order to win either of the watches on the spot attendance was a requisite. Preceding the name of Don Diekman, the winner, these five names were called: W. R. Smith, C. J. Pace, Dr. H. A. Tews, Dr. G. W. Koch and Mrs. J. P. Brastad. Of the five both Dr. and Mrs. Tews and Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Brastad had been in attendance but had just left before the drawing. No refunds, please.

Special Song Written for Fair

A special song, "In Orange County" written by Adam Syke, has been selected by the fair officials and the Chamber of Commerce in honor of the fair to be held here Oct. 28-31.

"In Orange County" is a beautiful love song and is adaptable for use to most any fair or celebration, the name being interchangeable to fit the occasion.

It was stated the song had been delivered to the honorary mayor of Anaheim, Jack Benney, who is considering using it in a future broadcast on Sunday afternoon on his regular program. The date will be announced in the local papers.

Mr. Syke stated the edition is limited and a copy can now be obtained at the local music store and is also available at a few selected gift stores.

FALL FESTIVAL OF ST. MICHAEL'S CHURCH BOOMS BUILDING FUND

Crowds of Anaheim citizens attended St. Michael's Fall Festival held Saturday afternoon and evening in the Ebell club house, which featured a panorama of attractive booths, concessions and tamale pie dinner with all the trimmings served to more than 350 persons and presentation of many prizes, amidst a myriad of gay carnival colors.

A successful day was recorded as net profits climbed over the $1200 bracket. Excitement waxed high as a deluxe Wedgewood stove, chrome trimmed, was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. William Ham of 306 E. Alberta street, this city. Two beautiful wrist watches went to E. J. Naffziger, 527 South Lemon street, and Don Dieckman of Placentia.

Winners of the kitchen apron contest were Mrs. L. G. Van der Boon, first, and Mrs. George W. Koch, second. In the tea apron contest first prize went to Mrs. F. D. Little and second prize to Mrs. Leonard Vincent.

In the children's ticket contest, John Goodrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Goodrich, won first place in the fifth grade and younger division, and Donna Sangster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Sangster, won first place in the division for sixth graders and older youngsters.

The pony ride proved especially popular with the younger set. Twenty varied concessions were featured with a total of 30 booths open to the public.

The frolic included such traditional items as a candy cotton machine, a variety of refreshments, plaster of paris prizes, fortune telling by Mrs. Walter Ross and Mrs. Grace Witherill and accordion solos by Tom Wright.

Other special awards went to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Phelps, Sally Olding, A. A. Newland, E. J. Naffziger, Mrs. G. S. Hiles, Mrs. J. L. Van der Veer, Mrs. J. P Brastad and Kate Spottswood.

Bazaar attractions were arranged in the Ebell lounge; booths were around the walls of the spacious main dining room, on the club's porch and on the surrounding grounds.

William Davis was general festival chairman. Committee chairmen included Ernest Zitzmann,

Gas Company Names King Supervisor

Appointment of Paul L. King to the position of local office supervisor of the Southern Counties Gas company was announced this week by Justin M. Kennedy, division manager.

The territory under King's supervision includes Anaheim, Orange, Placentia, Fullerton, Brea and adjacent areas.

King was born in Orange, educated in the Orange county schools and entered the Company's service in May, 1927, in the construction department. During World War II he served three years with the Army Air Force in Europe and on his return from military leave went over the position of special representative.

Retailers Make Ready Christmas Street Lights

Since there are only 65 shopping days until Christmas, the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce decided this week it was high time to do something about Christmas street decorations. At a meeting held Wednesday morning at Mother's Kitchen the division decided to levy as assessment of $1.50 a front foot against members to pay for the decorations. It was hoped the mony thus raised would be sufficient to add decorated lights at each of the four principal entrances to Anaheim.

The retailers also decided that since Hallowe'en falls on Saturday, Anaheim stores would remain open Friday night, October 29. Store hours on Saturday, October 30, will be 9 a.m. until 5:30 p.m.

Another Fatal Train-Auto Crash Near Placentia

The Kraemer avenue crossing of the Santa Fe tracks near Placentia where four persons were killed in an automobile crash last winter was the scene last weekend of another fatal accident when Otha Burnett Wright, 68, of Corona drove his automobile on the tracks in front of the second section of the eastbound Grand Canyon Limited.

Engineer G. H. Benton told California highway patrolmen that Wright drove his car onto the tracks when the speeding Santa Fe train was but a few yards away. Wright was thrown from the wreckage of his car 300 feet east of the crossing but the train locomotive carried the wrecked automobile about 1600 feet further along the track before the train could be stopped.

Wright was alone in his car.

WINGFIELD RETURNS FROM MICHIGAN

O. T. Wingfield of this city is enroute home this week after taking delivery on a new Kaiser DeLuxe automobile at the willow Run plant of Kaiser-Fraser Corporation. After travelling to Michigan via train, the local service station manager was guest at Willow Cottage, the company's unique new retail customer driveaway building. In order to save transportation costs, Wingfield made arrangements for factory delivery with H. and K. Motor Sales, local Kaiser-Fraser dealer.

Rev. Thos. Walker, Former Pastor, Dies in Pasadena

The Rev. Thomas Holmes Walker, former pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, passed away at his home in Pasadena last Saturday, Oct. 2, following a long illness. Born in Philadelphia, Pa., on Oct. 23, 1863 he departed this life on Oct. 2, 1948, at the age of 84 years, 11 months and nine days.

A resident of California for, more than 35 years, "Tom," as he was familiarly known to his fellow Rotarians in this city, had served as pastor of the local church for 17 years during which time he was instrumental in bringing the present educational unit of the church structure to a realization. During his work with the church here, he was primarily interested in the young people and he had a strong young people's group who did much hospital work and during the Yuletide season, spread much joy with their beautiful singing of Christmas carols.

After leaving Anaheim, Rev. Walker served the Presbyterian church in San Clemente for three years and then moved to Pasadena where he and Mrs. Walker had lived for the past two years. Prior to coming west, Rev. Walker had served seven churches in the eastern states.

Left to mourn his passing are his wife, Rosamond J. Walker of Pasadena; a daughter, Mrs. Rosamond Burgess of San Francisco; four sons, Thomas H. Walker, Jr., of Alhambra; Paul S. Walker of Pasadena, Donald W. Walker of Los Angeles and Kenneth J. Walker of Anaheim; 12 grandchildren and three great grandchildren, besides a host of friends who counted him as a guiding light and true friend.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock from the chapel of Backs, Campbell and Kaulbars mortuary with the Rev. Robert Burns McAulay, pastor of the Presbyterian church in Orange and the Rev. Howard S. Congdon, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in this city, officiating for the last rites. Interment was in Anaheim cemetery.

LAST CALL

Asking the cooperation of the public in volunteering to give blood, members of the Anaheim Chapter of the American Red Cross are again reminding the citizens of the volunteer blood donor typing center to be held at the Ebell clubhouse on Monday, Oct. 11, between 6:30 and 9:30 p.m.

Assisting the local branch of the Red Cross are the Orange County Medical Association and the Orange County Health Department.

The donors blood is available to anyone and is free upon request of doctors or hospitals. Donors are not called when donations of blood are obtained by the family or friends of the patient. Many cases are on record where a patient's life was spared through the emergency of the blood donor typing center.

Anyone in good health between the ages of 18 and 60 years, weighing over 110 pounds may volunteer.

The small samples of blood extracted by the doctors at the typing center are sent to the laboratories of the Orange County Health Department for serology tests, and type and RH factor are established at the Orange county hospital laboratory.

Let's everyone who comes within the age limit and who is in good health, volunteer in this cause.

Association Lab Moves to New Home in Orange

The Association Laboratory which has been located on Lincoln boulevard ever since it was established by the late Dr. D. D. Waynick has moved to a new home located at 1815 West Chapman avenue, Orange.

M. D. Lindsey, head of the laboratory, has announced that it will continue its agricultural service and in addition increased facilities will enable it to make determinations in the fields of bacteriology, foods, mineral and sanitary water analyses, industrial wastes, general analitical chemistry and material testing.

Loren E. Blakely, consulting civil and sanitary engineer, now associated with the laboratory, will be available for consultation on water problems.

Visiting Nurses Now Included in Community Chest

The Visiting Nurse association of Orange county is to be included in the 1948 budget of the Anaheim Community Chest after all. The board of directors at a meeting last weekend reconsidered earlier action and budgeted $1200 for the association. The action will increase the total budget figure from $29,191 to $30,391 and increase to eight the number of agencies to which the Community Chest pays funds.

Only Part of Anaheim Annexation Program Halted By Court Writ

The Anaheim city council at a special meeting Tuesday night began proceedings to annex to the city a strip of unincorporated and "uninhabited" territory 150 feet wide and extending from the north city limit at Romneya drive northward 777 feet along the west side of 101 Highway. This action was taken without protest from anyone within or without the territory involved.

But there were loud protests from Fullerton and an alternative writ of prohibition sought by Henry G. Meiser, owner of unincorporated property on the east side of 101 Highway, in a suit filed in the superior court, to annexation by Anaheim of two other strips of unincorporated territory north of the Anaheim city limit. In obedience to a court order the council deferred action upon these. Hearing upon this writ has been set for October 15 at 2 p.m. in the court of Superior Judge Franklin G. West.

Vets to Have 'Day' Nov. 11 At Santa Ana

Orange County's Veterans Day Observance, sponsored by the three veterans organizations, it is hoped, will draw an attendance of more than 100,000 people to Santa Ana, November 11, general chairman Newell A. Lucas predicted.

From every city and area of the county, veterans groups headed by the disabled American Veterans, The Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion, will offer evidence of the patriotism of their communities and express a determination to maintain "Peace through Preparedness," Lucas said.

Presidential Candidate Who Would Reform Monetary System Visits Here

Anaheim was paid a visit Saturday by a candidate for President of the United States.

He is Roland C. Casad of Escondido. Mr. Casad's literature gives him no party designation but asks converts to his cause to write in his name on the November 2 ballot.

For twenty years Mr. Casad has aspired to the Presidency of the United States, his campaign literature discloses, in order that he might bring his ideas regarding money "to the attention of all the people of America." And for 20 years more has given the "deepest of thought" to the subject. He is convinced no problem which confronts this country can be solved until it adopts a "righteous money system." His program is hard to criticize, if it will work. It calls for:

Abolition of the income tax entirely.

Abolition of the national debt.

Abolition by all states, counties and states of all taxes on homes and furnishings, and abolition of all taxes for public improvements and welfare agencies, including roads, buildings, schools, hospitals, asylums and penitentiaries.

Provision by the national government of an old-age pension of $200 a month to all citizens 50 years old and older, to one month after death (to provide money for funeral expenses).

A new monetary system for the U. S. A. to carry out the foregoing program. Details of that are not disclosed if Mr. Casad has yet thought it up.

"Fate," confides Mr. Casad, "is conducting my campaign."

Search Made for Novel Hallowe'en Parade Ideas

In a search for novel ideas to introduce into the Silver Anniversary Hallowe'en Festival parade the division captains met Tuesday night at the Chamber of Commerce under the chairmanship of Johnnie Ardaiz, parade marshal, and looked over motion pictures of the latest Mardi Gras parade in New Orleans as well as of pictures of several past Anaheim Hallowe'en parades. The aim is to make the forthcoming parade different and more dazzling than any that has preceded it.

At the Hallowe'en Festival kick-off celebration held last Friday night at the Elks club, 27 "big wheel" buttons were sold at auction for sums ranging from $10 to $55. The latter sum was paid by Robert Boney for No. 13. The No. 1 button went to Dr. Samuel Gendel for $50. Carl Karcher got the coveted No. 25 for $25. Paul Demaree, high school superintendent, was the auctioneer.

FISHING SLACK IN COASTAL WATERS

Surf, charter and private boat fishing in nearby coastal waters is reported light this week. According to Bob Williams, local sporting goods store owner, few marlin have been caught but a bonanza catch is expected by experts at the Balboa Angling club. White sea bass have been fairly numerous. Few albacore have been taken and those brought to deck were smaller than the average run this season.

Begin Search For 'Fairest Of the Fair'

All chambers of commerce and newspapers of Orange county were this week urged by William H. Gallienne, secretary of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county, to help him select the "queen" of the Orange county fair to be held in Anaheim, October 28 - 31.

Candidates for queen, he says, must live in Orange county and must be high school or college students. "Naturally," he says, "she should be beautiful" and she will be judged in street clothes, evening clothes and bathing suit. She will be judged for beauty, poise, talent, scholastic rating and charm. No rules are made for the selection by the various cities, towns and communities of their candidates, but she must be elected by October 23 so that one of them may be chosen queen before the fair's opening date. She will be crowned the opening night and it is hoped that Governor Earl Warren will be here to perform that ceremony.

Orange Market Rise Halted; Lemons Lower

For the fourth consecutive week the orange market last week showed an advance over the preceding week, though the increase last week was only two cents a box. The average f.o.b. price for the week was $4.33 a box.

This week opened with prices showing a lower tendency. This may have been due to the Jewish New Year's day Monday when activity of wholesalers was restricted, though retail trade went along as usual.

The average price brought by lemons last week was $6.91 f.o.b. packing house. This was 43 cents under the average for the preceding week but was more than a dollar higher than the average for any corresponding week in the past four years.

Last week's average of $4.33 per box for oranges compared with $3.27 for the corresponding week in 1947, $4.91 in 1946 and $3.53 in 1945.

It was estimated that about 3600 cars of Valencias would remain to go to market after this week. This was about 40 per cent less than the amount remaining at this time last year. The prorate of 1400 cars of oranges for this week was fixed after members of the Orange Administrative committee heard widely varying views. Representatives of some interests argue for an increase to 1500 cars while representatives of some independent marketers thought 1200 or even 1000 cars were enough.

Of the 55,000 cars Florida expects to ship this season, not more than 310 cars were expected to roll this week, though some of the markets in the south began to drop, in anticipation of Florida oranges which were expected to bring around $3.50 a box delivered. Dallas and Houston were reported backing away from California oranges, too, expecting to buy Texas navels for around $4.25 delivered.

As compared with last week's f.o.b. average of $6.91 per box for lemons, lemons in the corresponding week in 1947 sold for $4.47, in 1946 for $5.82 and for 1945, $5.58.

Weather in consuming centers was about normal for this time of year. Supplies were still in the light side. It was supposed the trade was holding off buying in quantity in hopes of lower prices.

The tendency this week was lower, the best prices early this week being brought by 360s and 432s.

Prorate for the week was 300 cars, same as the prorate last week.

ENJOY 'FLYING FISH' EXPEDITION

Traveling in his Stearman, Boeing-built airplane, Pilot Arnold (Blondie) Lund and his passenger, Henry Keefer of Redding, enjoyed a charter boat trip at Ensenada, Mexico. Another passenger who fished aboard the "Southern Bell" was Ivan Elmore who made the trip by car. Elmore, a local roofing contractor, nabbed four big yellow tail while the other two caught two each. The fish, which proved a strain on tackle, weighed between 25 and 35 pounds.

White Burley tobacco was discovered in Ohio in 1864.

County Fair Grounds Being Laid Out Here By Amusement Specialists

Harvey Walters and Jimmie Woods, owners of the Pan-American Amusement Corporation, of Venice, have been busy in Anaheim this past week laying out the grounds for the Orange county fair to be held in Anaheim during the last four days of October.

In plotting the 10-acre grounds at Palm and La Palma, provision has been made for two big-top and two other large tents, a 5,000 seat arena, a quarter-mile of box-stalls a midway and fun-zone, concession booths, plus eight acres of parking.

The midway has been planned for family fun, with particular appeal to the children. In addition to the Kiddie-Land, there will be double Ferris wheels, merry-go-round, a real steam railroad in miniature that is fired by coal, and many other thrills. The Wild Life Show will have 70 cages of unusual animals and birds and the traditional side shows will have novelty-appeal.

Harvey Walters, in placing the spaces for concessions of foods and skill games, emphasized the desire of Fair officials to have these concessions sponsored and operated by community organizations, including fraternal orders, churches, chamber of commerce, Granges and others who wish to participate. The Fullerton American Legion has applied for the parking concession and this has been granted. Many other concessions are still available upon application to E. W. Moeller, secretary-manager of the Fair.

There has been a greater demand than anticipated for exhibit space at the fair, according to Mr. Moeller.

During the first week of assigning space in the commercial and industrial tent, firms who signed for space included Smith-Reafsnyder, Koesel's, Southern California Telephone company, Heath and Owsten, Romelli Blinds, V. B. Anderson, Markham Appliances, Excelsior Creamery, Orange County Willys Company, Hammond Brothers, Ludlam Carpet Co., Santa Ana Tent and Awning Co., and the La Vida Bottling Co.

Already signed for community exhibits are Santa Ana, Laguna, Newport and Anaheim, while other community exhibits are now in the planning.

"The community, the farm, the schools and industry are part of our Orange County," stated H. Clay Kellogg, president of the fair directors and the 32nd District Agricultural Association. "It is a co-operative venture throughout. Prominent people, who are specialists in a certain phase of our community life, have been placed

Mother Colony House Restaurant Reopens Tuesday

Newly remodeled, the Mother Colony House Restaurant, 243 West Center street, reopened for business Tuesday morning under the new managership of Dick Adams who replaces Day Tawney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Tawney, owners. Featuring standard prices throughout the establishment it is open from 10 a.m. to 12 midnight, and is closed each Monday.

Food and refreshments may be ordered from the varied menu which are the same price both in the coffee shop and the Rose Room upstairs.

The transformation included adding a bar to the right of the coffee shop, replacing the one in the Rose Room and re-arranging of booths to accommodate a grand piano and television set in the room.

The downstairs dining room, retains a crisp yet casual air. The Rose Room retains an atmosphere of luxury combined with warm color tones of the over-all large rose print of wall paper. Head hostess up-stairs and banquet annex is Jessie McKee.

Mr. and Mrs. Tawney launched plans for the two-month renovation of their restaurant following a month's vacation in Idyllwild and nearby mountain areas.

Polio Strikes Husband, Wife of Former Residents

Ensign Donald Dondero, husband of Pamela Van Buren Dondero who grew up, in Anaheim, died Monday at the Oak Knoll naval hospital of infantile paralysis, and Mrs. Dondero is so seriously ill of the same malady in a San Francisco hospital that it has been deemed inadvisable to tell her of the death of her husband.

Robyn, the seven month daughter of the pair, has apparently escaped the dread disease. Ensign and Mrs. Dondero were believed to have contracted the malady while enroute from Huntington Beach to Berkeley where Ensign Dondero's parents live. He had just returned from a tour of duty in China.

E. E. Van Buren who was for years in the linoleum business here, and Mrs. Van Buren are with their daughter. They went from here about a year ago to Oceanside.

Seven Districts Regain Title to School Buildings

Ownership titles of seven school buildings in Orange county have just been returned to the school districts by the State Board of Public Building Reconstruction.

The board entered into agreements with the school districts in 1933 to reconstruct buildings damaged by earthquakes. The board borrowed some $2,000,000 from the Federal Reconstruction Finance Corporation and repaired the buildings or replaced them, after the school districts had agreed to payment of a fixed rental fee.

The rentals were to repay the R. F. C. loan plus its 4 percent interest. The loan has been fully repaid but until the recent action by the board, the titles remained with the state.

Building titles were returned to the following school districts:

Buena Park Elementary School District; Garden Grove Union High School District; Huntington Beach Elementary School District; Newport Beach Elementary District; Santa Ana Elementary District; Santa Ana High School District; and Seal Beach Elementary District.

REPORT GOOD ANGLING

White sea bass, halibut and barracuda are reportedly being caught in nearby coastal waters. According to spokesmen of the Balboa Angling club, many marlin are being spotted but few caught off the east end of Santa Catalina Island and near Laguna Beach.

Felony Charged To Driver of Death Auto

After a coronor's jury had found that Dr. Albert H. Steffens, fatally injured when he was struck by an automobile while crossing Broadway at Lemon street last Friday night, came to his death in reason of the negligent manner in which the automobile which struck him was operated, Lt. Thomas Taylor of the Anaheim police department arrested the driver at the inquest. He was Melvin E. Reck, 21, a native of Orange county and now a resident of Long Beach. The charge he faces is felony manslaughter.

A preliminary hearing has been set for 10 a.m. October 15.

The police said records show young Reck has been cited many times for infractions of the motor vehicle code, including reckless driving.

Dr. Steffens died shortly after midnight Saturday morning from his injuries in a Fullerton hospital.

The retired physician was going northward across Broadway and the Reck car was traveling westward along Broadway. Investigators said skidmarks showed the driver of the car had applied his brakes 30 feet before hitting Dr. Steffens and that it carried him 60 feet before it stopped.

Dr. Steffens was a native of Germany and had lived in the United States 68 years, the last seven in Anaheim. He is survived by the widow, Mrs. Amelia Steffens of Anaheim and many nieces and nephews in the east. Dr. Steffens was a member of Bethel Baptist church of Anaheim.

Funeral services at the Hilgenfeld chapel followed the inquest. Rev. P. G. Neumann was in charge. The body was taken for burial to Trenton, Ill.

Which Is the Best Season Of the Year?

Many will argue loud and long that spring is best with its first warm days, its tender greens peeping timidly in little patches here and there, then bursting in full bloom to cover the earth. They say, too, that there's no time like spring to encourage the old but ever new game of love.

This column, though proclaims autumn as its favorite season. If spring's delicate coloring prompts romantic instincts, who possesses a heart that does not palpitate amid the warm colors of fall—the reds, burnt oranges, browns and greens? And who does not find romance in the fleeting sparks that burst like tiny rockets from a blazing campfire 'neath a harvest moon?

It might not have occurred to you that these thoughts were leading directly to the kitchen—but, after all, fall's bounty of vegetables and fruits is another point to chalk in its favor. What prettier sight could there be than a basket of red-ripe apples? What better eating than a Waldorf salad of apples, raisins, nuts and real mayonnaise?

Let our friends avow that spring is the best season. We rest our argument with a quotation from William Herbert Carruth's "Each in His Own Tongue"—"Some of us call it Autumn, And others call it God."

Oblique Technique

There are strong indications that Proposition 13—the scheme to give a few big counties complete legislative control—will go down to a thumping defeat at the polls in November.

This has become apparent even to the backers of the measure for they are now indulging in some rather desperate methods in an effort to gain support. One of these methods is to attempt to create the impression through propaganda releases that certain groups or organizations favor Proposition 13, when, in fact, they are strongly opposed to it. This has been referred to as an "oblique technique." It's just a polite way of saying something that could justifiably be expressed in harsher language.

Proposition 13 is one of the most unpopular measures to appear in a long time. Scores of organizations from the California State Chamber of Commerce on down have voiced their objections to it. They recognize that it would disfranchise 54 of California's 58 counties. They recognize too, that the real purpose back of the plan is an attempt by radical labor leaders to seize control of the Legislature.

The people of California will not be led into changing their present form of representative government. Under the existing system there is a proper balance between the rural and the urban areas. In this way the interests of all receive fair consideration. That's as it should be. That's as it should continue to be.

Forest Fires

Each year forest fires in California leave a black mark on California hills and valleys and a blacker mark on the record of fire prevention. This year is no exception. Thousands of acres have already felt the searing flame, and thousands of fire fighters have struggled valiantly to halt the destruction caused by a single carelessly tossed match or lighted cigarette. Some people never learn the necessity for caution in wooded areas. Unfortunately, those responsible for the blazes are rarely apprehended. In most instances they are unaware of their guilt. The imposition of stiff sentences, however, on those found to be extremely careless or deliberately negligent with fire might help to put down the annual holocaust. More must be done to prevent the ravaging of our fields and timberlands.

Banning the Comics Isn't Enough

It will be a great day for parents when comic book epics are limited to the adventures of Mickey Mouse, Roy Rogers and other unobjectionable characters.

That day may not be so far away. Many cities and towns throughout California are expected to pattern legislation after an ordinance passed last week in Los Angeles forbidding the sale of crime comic books to children.

Of course, banning horror comics won't automatically make model children out of delinquents. There are still radio programs and movies of questionable influence for parents to worry about. Should these be removed, too, there would be a vast entertainment void left in most children's lives that parents would have to set about filling.

Good children's movies, radio programs and books, entertaining and engrossing enough to take the place of bad ones, are needed if censorship is to have any sensible effect. As far as books are concerned, there is fortunately no dearth of good, lusty adventure stories, both old and new, if parents would take the trouble to introduce their children to them.

Manufacturing concerns, including automobiles, are having trouble in getting enough steel to keep the wheels going 'round in their factories. Steel continues to be the bottle-neck in national industries.

IN THE DAYS OF LONG AGO

75 Years Ago

October 18, 1873

Three schooners, laden with lumber, are expected to arrive at Anaheim Landing during the early part of next week. On their return to San Francisco they will carry off a large quantity of the grain that has been accumulating at the warehouse of the Anaheim Lighter company.

One of the principal reasons that prevents Anaheim from receiving its fair proportion of the tourist public is our want of house room. If some of our moneyed men would build a few cottages, suitable for small families they would find it a profitable investment. There is no trouble in obtaining the ground as Heimann and George and Fischer are selling town lots at reasonable prices. We call attention to this matter because accommodation for the traveling public is much needed and cottage building will be a profitable investment for idle capital.

The town of Los Angeles has long needed a first-class daily newspaper. The Los Angeles Herald bids fair to supply this want. Its columns are filled with the latest telegrams, and it is, what all dailies should be, a news paper. We welcome it, as a co-worker in developing our county and accord it a place among our most valuable exchanges.

Today we begin the removal of the presses and material of this office, to our new rooms in the upper part of the building occupied by Heimann & George, at which place we will hereafter be glad to receive our friends.

We have been requested to state that subscribers to the fund for building the Presbyterian church, would greatly facilitate the labors of the committee who have been appointed to settle the financial affairs, if they would immediately pay in the amount of their subscriptions.

On last Monday, as a Mexican boy about 10 years old, was riding rapidly along Center street, his horse stumbled and fell, breaking the boy's arm. Although suffering severe pain, he went to the butcher shop, whither he had been sent to purchase meat, and while there the attention of Dr. Ellis was called to his condition. The doctor set the broken limb and administered remedies to assuage the pain.

The best constructed ditch in this section is the one recently made by Messrs. Watson and Barham, of upper Santa Ana. "Dye" Davies superintended the construction and demonstrated in a most complete manner his knowledge of ditch making.

Yesterday afternoon, Dr. Taylor of Fairview, met with a serious accident. He was driving a large lumber wagon into Anaheim, when he was thrown out under the wheels. We have not heard the opinion of his physician as to the extent of his injuries.

A change was made in the time of the arrival of the mails on last Thursday. The Los Angeles stage going south, arrives at 9 o'clock p.m. and the San Diego stage arrives at 7 o'clock a.m.

The steamer "Mohongo" will make no more calls at San Simeon or San Luis Obispo.

We learn from the Star that a man named James Ganning was killed at Wilmington on Wednesday afternoon by being smashed between the cars while switching.

Messrs. Halberstadt, Lafaucherie and Goodman have returned from San Francisco.

We are informed that a large circular saw will soon be put in position at the lumber yard at Anaheim Landing.

Southeast winds and cool, cloudy days foretell the approach of the rainy season. Weather prophets prognosticate a very wet winter.

25 Years Ago

October 18, 1923

Last Thursday the Gazette rounded out the fifty-third year of its career, and with this issue it begins on its fifty-fourth volume. It enjoys the distinction of being the oldest newspaper south of the Tehachapi with the exception of the San Diego Union which was born some months earlier. When Geo. W. Barter established the paper in 1870, the town had a population of considerably less than one thousand. After running the paper for about a year Barter sold it to Chas A. Gardner, who after the lapse of a couple of years sold it to Richard Melrose, from him it was purchased by Henry Kuchel. During its long career the Gazette has maintained an aggressive policy fighting for every proposition that promised to benefit the town. It has been through many fights political and factional, and sometimes emerged somewhat scarred and battered, but always undaunted and never discouraged. During its fifty-three years of existence the Gazette has faithfully chronicled the doings of its friends. It has recorded the births, marriages and deaths of hundreds. It has seen Anaheim grow from a frontier hamlet of half a hundred population to a beautiful city of 12,000. Now the Gazette begins its fifty-fourth year confident that the future years will be profitable not only for the paper but for the city with which it has been so long identified.

City Attorney Weisel's ordinance prohibiting drilling for oil within certain sections of the city limits was read at the trustee meeting Thursday evening. The ordinance is designed to protect the thickly populated residence sections from the possible oil flow and at the same time permit drilling on acreage property within the city limits.

The city attorney was instructed to draw up an ordinance prohibiting the storage of fumigating tents within 600 feet of a residence, which means that all tents must be stored outside the city. On several occasions the lingering fumes of poisonous gas has threatened the lives of children playing nearby.

The Foley & Burk Carnival Co. will begin a six-day show here Monday. This show, one of the largest companies on the road has twenty or thirty attractions. It has been here on two former occasions and left a good name behind it. The show will be under the auspices of the Moose lodge.

Mrs. Arthur Lewis entertained the Ladies Euchre Club at the Elks hall on Thursday afternoon. A three course luncheon was served at 1 o'clock after which the ladies enjoyed the usual game of progressive euchre. Mrs. A. Rimpau won the first prize, Mrs. Jos. Carroll the second and Mrs. Schulte (Konig) the consolation.

The Domestic Science section of the Ebell society met at the home of Mrs. C. C. Randall Monday and elected officers for the coming year. Mrs. H. C. Jacoby was elected leader, Mrs. J. E. Schumacher, secretary and Mrs. H. C. Ruick, treasurer.

Contracts for the three story Cassou building to be erected at the corner of Clementine and Center street have been let and work of demolishing the building now encumbering the site will begin at once. This wooden structure is one of the oldest business houses in the city. It has been the home of various business enterprises, but its useful days are past. The new building will have six store rooms on the ground floor.

T. E. Stephenson, managing editor of the Register received his commission Monday as postmaster at Santa Ana, and has already taken charge of the office. Stephenson has for many years been a prominent worker in the party's ranks, and is now chairman of the Republican County Central Committee.

Permit to build a stucco residence on South Helena street, costing $3,800 was issued to W. A. Miner, Monday.

A lily pond is being constructed at Anaheim high school grounds, J. D. Guy being in charge of the work.

Civil Air Patrol Group to Meet

An organization meeting of the Civil Air Patrol will be held at the Fullerton Air Service clubroom at the Fullerton Municipal airport at 8 o'clock tonight (Thursday).

All former members of the CAP, all ex-veterans and all persons interested in air patrol activities are invited to attend the course to be instructed by M. R. McKnight of Fullerton.

Activated during the recent war, the CAP was instrumental in serving as a specialized part of the United States Army. The patrol carried out reconnaissance, rescue and patrol flights and participated in emergency flights of wide variety.

plaint, prepared in the office of Attorney Lloyd S. Very of Fullerton, is that action to annex the territory to Fullerton had already been started when the Anaheim city council began. The fact is that the only action of record was taken by Meiser, W. L. Todd, Lewis Palm and C. W. Melman on September 15, last, when they filed with the city clerk of Fullerton notice that they intended to pass a petition among owners of property involved, asking for an annexation election. Meiser also alleges in his complaint that Anaheim is acting "fraudulently" with intent to deprive him and other property owners from annexing to the city of their choice. One of the chief points the court will have to decide apparently is whether the notice filed in Fullerton by Meiser and others constituted action toward annexing the property to Fullerton. Under a law passed in 1913, the proposed election petition could not be circulated among property owners within 21 days after notice was given. Meantime the Anaheim city council acted to annex the strips of uninhabited territory which would surround the property involved in the notice filed in Fullerton.

Annexation proceedings begun by the Anaheim council Tuesday night and involving only the 150 foot strip extending along the west side of 101 Highway from Romneya drive 777 feet northward, which was not involved in litigation consisted of the first reading of an ordinance including this territory within the Anaheim city limits.

Legislative Propositions For November 2 Election Described

The Gazette between now and the November 2 election will present facts relating to the 19 legislative propositions which will appear on the ballot. The aim is to make these summaries purely informative and as nearly without bias as possible. Here is the first instalment.

(This if the first of a series of articles analyzing the various proposals which will appear on the November ballot.—Editor)

Proposition No. 1 on the November ballot deals with the property tax exemption on veterans homes.

Under present law property amounting to $1,000 owned by all war veterans residing in this state is exempted from property tax providing the veteran owns no property in excess of $5,000 in value.

The proposal now submitted merely asks a clarification of the existing law which leaves unclear what is meant by $5,000 valuation. Some county assessors have interpreted the law to mean "cash value" rather than "assessed value" which Richard McCollister, chairman of the Assembly Military Affairs Committee, states, was the original intent of the law.

Proposition No. 2 on the November ballot, together with Proposition No. 12, are proposed changes in present liquor laws. The two can be considered together.

No. 12 is a measure advanced by the dry forces of the state and supported by some tavern owners.

Under its provisions the state would revert to the old principle of local option whereby each city and each county would determine whether or not liquor should be sold within its boundaries.

Proposition No. 2 proposes little more than what is already the law. The main exception is that it would segregate unescorted women in bars on the theory it is immoral for women without escorts to sit at a bar. The proposal would permit these same unescorted women to be served in a bar if they sit at a table.

Proposition No. 3 is a labor-management fight. It proposes the repeal of a law which has been on the statutes for 37 years providing for a full train crew on freight trains and defining what a full crew shall consist of.

Management claims the present law, which this proposal would repeal, makes legal the practice of "feather-bedding" in that it requires more men than is necessary to man a freight train.

The railroad brotherhoods defend the law as a safety measure designed to guard the lives of the railroad employees and the public in general.

Proponents of the repeal measure maintain the practice of feather bedding adds 20 per cent to the cost of commodities and state this proposal is an opportunity to strike the first blow at that practice.

Railroad brotherhoods claim this is not true and testify that from official records train accidents increased as high as 35 per cent during the period the full crew law was not in force.

Proposition No. 4 deals with the aged and blind aid provided by the state for indigent aged and blind.

Under the present law the legislature has the power to adjust these payments to fit the needs of the times and the Department of Social Welfare, directed by an appointee of the governor and directly responsible to the governor, administers the laws and the aid provided for the aged and blind indigents.

This amendment would write into the constitution of the state the amounts desired by the aged and blind of the state at a time when the cost of living is at a peak. It would place the administration of the aged and blind laws and aid the hands of a new set of constitutional officers to be elected on a statewide election basis.

The question of compensation for members of the legislature is the subject of Proposition No. 5.

The present law provides for the payment of $100 per month to members of the legislature. This was the amount fixed by the voters 20 years ago.

This proposed amendment would grant the legislators the privilege of fixing their own salary and a measure has already been passed by the legislature which would fix the salary of members at $300 per month.

Proposition No. 6 is another measure which can be considered in connection with a second ballot proposal to be submitted at the same election. The second measure is Proposition No. 15.

Both Propositions 6 and 15 are submitted by sportsmen organizations bent upon conserving California's natural resources as they pertain to fish.

Opposition to both measures stems from commercial fishing interests.

Proposition No. 6 is an effort by legitimate sports fishing organizations to close the San Francisco Bay and the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers to net fishing. The precedent for this has been established and all other California streams have been closed to this type of fishing as has Santa Monica Bay.

Proposition No. 15 regulates the use of purse seiners and round haul nets and affects only southern California south of Point San Simeon.

Milk Men Say Current Price Is too Low

Public hearings to inquire into the cost of producing and distributing fluid milk in five southern California milk marketing areas, embracing six counties, have been called by the Bureau of Milk Control, California Department of Agriculture. The hearing for the Orange county marketing area is to be at 10 a.m. October 11, at the Santa Ana city council chambers.

A petition of milk producers and distributors supplying the areas declares present minimum prices set by the state are too low to assure the public of an adequate supply of wholesome milk.

Extensive sulphur deposits in Texas and Louisiana are covered with quicksand and cannot be mined by ordinary methods.

Named to Head March of Dimes

Gov. Earl Warren

Earl Warren, Governor of California and Republican Vice Presidential candidate, has accepted the state chairmanship of the 1949 March of Dimes, Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, announced today. It is Governor Warren's third consecutive year as head of the fund raising campaign in California.

The March of Dimes, conducted nationally each January, is the sole support of the National Foundation and its 2,800 local county chapters. Funds contributed to the annual drive pay costs of medical care and treatment for polio victims and finance the scientific research and professional education programs sponsored by the National Foundation. The 1949 appeal will be held January 14-31.

In announcing Governor Warren's acceptance of the March of Dimes chairmanship, Mr. O'Connor emphasized the increasing importance of National Foundation activities in California where 2,672 cases of infantile paralysis have been reported this year through September 18, compared to 633 cases for the equivalent period in 1947.

He also pointed out that almost $250,000 from the epidemic emergency fund maintained by the organization's national headquarters had been sent into the state this year to assist National Foundation chapters in paying costs of care and treatment for California polio victims.

"While the final answer to the mystery of poliomyelitis—the discovery of a cure and a preventive for the disease—lies in the research laboratory," Mr. O'Connor said, "the generous support of the American people is now more vital than ever before if victims of polio, children and adults alike, are to receive the care they must have to achieve maximum recovery."

Yosemite Topic Of First Forum

Launching the series of Anaheim Public Forum meetings, colored motion pictures and a travelogue describing Yosemite Park was presented Monday night in the high school auditorium, by Stan Midgley, known as "the cycling cinematographer" who accompanied the film with a narration of his adventures. Ralph Focht is director of the annual forum series to be presented each Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock on the campus and will be free of charge.

Midgley, who planned to be a chemist, turned to travel and photography following his graduation from Princeton. Carrying all of his equipment on a bicycle, he traveled through most of the scenic parks of the United States. His motion picture record both natural beauty and adventures which he encountered.

Some of Midgley's photographs of United States parks were featured recently in the National Geographic magazine. The featured speaker is well known as a popular writer and humorist.

'Organic' Method To Be Tried In Citrus Groves

Owners of about thirty citrus groves in northern Orange county have expressed willingness to cooperate with the Los Angeles University of Applied Education, near La Habra, in a test of the value of what is known as the "organic" method of tree culture.

The tests will be carried out under the direction of John L. Sherman, head of the university's new School of Plant Growth. For the past eight years he has been carrying out extensive experiments and demonstrations in San Diego county and says the organic method has brought back to profitable production thousands of citrus trees which had declined to the point of practical worthlessness.

Prof. Sherman makes no pretension, of course, to being the originator of the method which, he says, has been in use in various countries of the world, and won an English knighthood for a man who restored the Indian tea industry to a flourishing condition after it had been dying.

Briefly, says Prof. Sherman, the organic system employs organic materials for building up and maintaining soil fertility instead of chemicals.

"For years," he says, "we have conceived of trees and other plant growth as a chemical process and have attempted to replace what the crops have taken out of the soil with chemicals. And we are only beginning to see the appalling results. We should think of the growth of any vegetation as an organic process and feed the soil with organic matter. That means, largely, decayed vegetation. It includes 'some animal manures.'

"Our aim at Los Angeles University of Applied Education," he said, "is in no sense to promote a controversy with followers of existing methods of tree culture. The evils which have crept into the citrus and avocado groves are so serious that any point of view offering relief is to be welcomed. Many grove owners have come to question practices which have proved unsuccessful and now are willing to investigate the organic position, which has a very much stronger standing in other countries."

Students enrolling at the new school will work for a degree of Master of Farm Management. Emphasis will be placed on field work in line with the University policy of applied education. Non-technical and popular courses for grove owners and others are likewise to be offered at convenient hours, day and evening classes.

Expenditures for Autos Leads All County Items

(Western News Service)

What residents of Orange spent $41,904,000 for during the first three months of 1948 was outlined by the State Board of Equalization in its quarterly report.

Principal items of expenditure were:

Clothing, $2,023,000; general merchandise, $2,777,000; home furniture and appliances, $3,207,000; building materials and fixtures, $5,008,000.

Motor vehicles, $6,236,000; meals and drinks, $4,910,000; service stations and auto supplies, $3,559,000.

Food is not subject to the state sales tax and was therefore not included in the report.

The sales of taxable merchandise reflected an increase of 12.5 per cent over the $37,240,000 spent during the corresponding period in 1947. Retail outlets increased 7.4 per cent in 12 months.

Florida Citrus Harmed Little By Hurricane

No official estimates of the damage done by the recent hurricane to the Florida citrus crop has yet been made available here, but unofficial estimates place the damage to the Florida orange crop at practically nothing.

The Florida grapefruit in the Indian Valley was damaged about 10 per cent, according to this estimate, but this is less than 1 per cent of grapefruit grown in Florida.

Oranges, it was said, got off practically without damage. The storm went out to sea before invading heavy producing areas.

Col. Wellington Heads Fight on Reapportionment

Declaring Proposition No. 13 on the Nov. 2 general election ballot must be defeated for the welfare of California, Col. M. B. Wellington, Bank of America Building, Santa Ana, has accepted chairmanship of the Orange county committee against senate reapportionment.

He accepted the appointment at request of A. J. McFadden, agriculturist of Santa Ana, who is southern California chairman of the fight against the measure.

Dangers of the measure were described by Col. Wellington, who said:

"Senate Reapportionment is the most dangerous measure on the ballot, and must be defeated. It springs from special-interest groups which believe their causes would be served by putting legislative control in the hands of four heavily populated counties.

"These counties occupy only four per cent of the state's area. The other 96 per cent, which includes 54 of the 58 counties, would be deprived of an effective vote in the Senate.

"California must continue to look after the well-being of the people who produce our state's basic wealth from farms, groves, mines and timberlands. The state also must protect its water sources which lie in the sections which would be disfranchised.

"The present system of electing senators on a geographical basis and assemblymen on population is fair and equitable to all. It has served more than two decades. Under the existing plan, the big cities are so well represented that they dominate the Assembly, which should be sufficient.

"The measure must be defeated for the best interests of the entire state. Our committee strongly urges every citizen to vote NO on Proposition No. 13."

John Illingworth Dies from Injuries

S/Sgt. John H. Illingworth, who was stationed at March Field near Riverside with the U. S. BIBLE COMMENT
FOR OCT. 10

Bible Is Source Of Biographies Of Many Men

"THE proper study of mankind is man," wrote the poet Pope. And there are no finer or more adequate sources of material for that study than are to be found in the 66 books that we call the Bible.

The late President Thwing, of Cleveland's Western Reserve University, made a specialty of collecting books of biography. He once told me that he had 17,000 volumes, of which the greater part were biographies. One can imagine what vast sources of incident, anecdote and illustration could be found in that immense array of books.

But though such a collection of biographies might offer great variety and detail, I venture to believe that it would offer no basic facts concerning human life and character that do not somewhere find their most pointed exemplification in the Bible.

There we find man in his heights of goodness, and in his depths of evil. There are tragedies of sorrow, disaster and failure, in contrast with experiences of ecstatic joy and sublime feeling. There are literary skills that not even Shakespeare has surpassed, and practical philosophies of living that reveal wisdom.

The Bible is a book of prophets, priests and kings. Chapter 11 of Hebrews records the lives and doings of Israel's great, both men and women. It is a noble chapter. What nation or people could record anything better? And in the history that it summarizes, as in the New Testament itself, are the almost full-length biographies of great individuals — Abraham, Moses, Samuel, Saul, David, Solomon, Jeremiah, Isaiah, Paul, Peter, and many more.

But the Bible is also the book of the common man. The most interesting, significant and vital things concern incidents in the lives of the lowly, sometimes named, sometimes unnamed, who played their part or who exemplified some nobility of character and action.

What a book! "God's book for man's life," but also the wonderful book of the lives of men.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"O Lord my God, I cried unto thee, and thou hast healed me." This statement from the Psalms will be the Golden Text of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. The question "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the subject.

Matthew relates in his Gospel that a woman from Canaan came to Jesus, saying, "Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou son of David: my daughter is grievously vexed with a devil. But he answered her not a word. . . . Then came she and worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me. But he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it to dogs. And she said, Truth, Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their masters' table. Then Jesus answered and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that very hour."

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," Mary Baker Eddy says, "If sickness is real, it belongs to immortality; if true, it is a part of Truth. . . . But if sickness and sin are illusions, he awakening from this mortal dream, or illusion, will bring us into health, holiness and immortality. . . . This is the salvation which comes through God, the divine Principle, Love, as demonstrated by Jesus."

Looking Backward

C. E. Holcomb

From the
Anaheim Gazette, Jan. 31, 1874

The Semi Tropic Fruit company. Its early history, the "Punic" faith of the Los Angeles Land company. The result of the first years labor.

On the twentieth day of July, 1872, a project, which for quite awhile before had been contemplated by a number of gentlemen, residents of Healdsburg, Sonoma County, was practically carried into effect by the organization of a Stock Company. The object of the organization was to raise semi-tropical fruits, and the fundamental principles upon which the members of the Association relied for success, were unity and cooperation.

The name of the Association was the "Southern California Semi-Tropical Fruit company," and its first presiding officer was R. H. Gilman, now in charge of the company farm, lying three miles north of Anaheim. As soon as Mr. Gilman was chosen to conduct the management of the company's affairs, he set forth during the fall of 1872 on a tour of investigation through the southern country in order to select the most eligible site for the future semi-tropical orchard.

Los Angeles and Santa Barbara, Riverside and San Diego were visited and critically examined; but at none of these places were there found so many natural advantages as existed, though in a dormant state, as in the vicinity of Anaheim.

The location upon which Mr. Gilman looked most favorably, could not be irrigated from the water ditches then in operation, but upon the assurance of the Los Angeles Land company that they intended constructing a large canal at once, a purchase was made.

In December, 1872, Mr. Gilman resigned the position of President of the company, and was immediately appointed Superintendent. In January of the following year he commenced active operations upon the company's purchase. Work has been going on, therefore, about 13 months, and notwithstanding the unfavorable seasons of last year, notwithstanding the broken promises of the Los Angeles Land company, the result of the first years labor has not been at all unsatisfactory. There are set out and growing upon the farm, 600 orange and lime trees, now four years old.

These trees were irrigated by means of elevated tank and force pumps; it being impracticable to obtain water for irrigation purposes from the Santa Ana river.

The company purchased last year and have now in Los Angeles, subject to order, 7000 orange, lemon and lime trees, three years old. Mr. Gilman will, during the coming months, set out 2000 trees, his preparations for so doing having been completed.

As we understand from him, his company is perfectly satisfied with their location and with the progress that has been made under existing circumstances. They believe that they have secured land in the best portion of southern California; a section, which at the present time, has only one incubus over shadowing it,—the Los Angeles and San Bernardino Land Company; a section which will have no superior on the Pacific coast, when the waters of the Santa Ana river have been properly utilized.

In the April 17, 1880, issue of the Anaheim Gazette, we find two interesting items; one anticipating an over production of oranges in the more or less distant future and the other the possibility of growing oranges with little or no irrigation. Here they are.

"The orchard of the Southern California Semi-Tropical Fruit Company, near Anaheim, will soon begin to yield a revenue to the stockholders. The Superintendent, Mr. R. H. Gilman has shipped large quantities of limes, and a few lemons and oranges, to San Francisco this year, and in another twelve months the sales of citrus fruit from this orchard will be considerable. The size, vigor and general thriftiness of the trees is remarkable when the fact is taken into consideration that they were grown almost wholly without water. (Meaning without irrigation.) Mr. Gilman doesn't believe much in irrigation anyhow, and announced his determination to practice it very seldom. A little judicious watering, however, is of value. He has noticed, for instance, that the result of irrigating his lime orchard late in the spring is to make the fruit much larger than it would be if irrigation was omitted."

And now looking forward to over production of oranges in 1880 in this same issue of the Gazette. "Among the probable future industries of this part of Southern California is the making of orange wine, or, as it is termed in France, 'orange amere.' The taste of this wine is said to be delicious, and its more general use is only interdicted by the high price which it commands. When the production of oranges largely exceeds the demand (a state of affairs which some people contend will be witnessed in a few years), the surplus fruit can be utilized in making this wine. Having thus discovered a way to utilize our surplus oranges as well as our surplus lemons and limes (the two last named in the manufacture of citrus acid), our advice is to keep on planting citrus trees."

Nixon to Talk At Dinner at Santa Ana

Disclosure of Communist infiltration in high places in the administration in Washington are promised when Congressman Richard M. Nixon, "working" member of the Thomas UnAmerican Committee speaks at a dinner meeting Oct. 13 at 7 p.m. in Santa Ana Masonic Temple.

Capt. Nixon, native of Yorba Linda, is a young veteran who went to Congress two years ago and was reelected by both major parties in the June primary. He is classed as "working" member of the Thomas Committee because of his almost full-time investigations.

The meeting is to be under sponsorship of the Orange County Republican Assembly, now headed By Roscoe G. Hewitt of Santa Ana, who recently succeeded Hilmer Lodge of Fullerton as president.

Hewitt, any of the Assembly officers, and Mrs. Lela Framhein at Dewey-Warren headquarters at 516 S. Main street, Santa Ana, will make reservations for guests, or they may be made by telephoning KImberly 2-9893 or KImberly 3-4540.

New Palestine Plan

Under UN consideration is the U. S. proposal that the General Assembly approve the late Count Bernadotte's settlement plan for Palestine. It recognizes Israel and revises the original plan, transferring Negeb (1) to the Arabs and Galilee (2) to the Jews. Haifa (3) and Lydda (4) would be free port and airport respectively, and the Jerusalem-Bethlehem area (5) would be UN-controlled. The merger of Arab Palestine with Trans-Jordan (6) is also recommended.

A transfer of $4,095,910 was made to the state highway fund for allocation to cities, and $16,-986,360 to the same fund for expenditure on state highways. The remaining $102,267 was appropriated to the bureau of highway accounts and reports.

STRONG FARM LEADERSHIP NEEDED

This is no time for farmers to let go of the steering wheel of the farm program, says E. H. Spoor, chairman of the California PMA Committee. "The use of farmer-elected committees to administer the Agricultural Conservation Program, Price Supports and other programs has proven effective and efficient and this is no time to let this farm leadership down by not showing up when community elections are held.

"These elections are not to be confused with the regular elections for political candidates. In the Agricultural Conservation Program there are no party lines. These farmer elections are non-political and the best farm leadership should be voted in," said the chairman."

Elections in California will be held during November, 1948.

Notices of the elections will be posted in advance of the elections in the various communities over the state.

LOANS AVAILABLE ON FARM STORED COTTON

Cotton stored on farms in approved structures is now eligible for Commodity Credit Corporation loans. As originally announced, loans were available only on cotton stored in approved public warehouses. With a prospective crop of more than 15 million bales as compared with a 10-year average of 12 million, the ruling will tend to relieve pressure on public warehouses. Information on loans and storage requirements is available at County Agricultural Conservation Association offices.

MUDDY WATER IS LAND LOST

One of the big jobs of the Agricultural Conservation Program is clearing up muddy water, says R. L. Hale, chairman of the Orange County Agricultural Conservation Committee. In most cases muddy water means that good top-soil is leaving the farm.

One of the most effective means of checking water erosion, the chairman points out, is to tie the land down with grass and legumes. The heavy close-growing vegetation protects the soil from heavy rains and breaks the flow of water over the surface. The roots lead the water into the soil and at the same time hold the soil together.

Among ACP practices which help control erosion through the establishment of sod are seeding legumes and grasses, renovation of pasture, maintenance, the application of lime and phosphate which increase the growth and control of grazing on range and pasture.

Among other means of controlling erosion is to place obstructions in the way of the water. The water is held back on the land and if there is more than can soak into the soil, it is spread out or diverted to a sod waterway where it can drain away without taking the soil with it. Practices in this group, the chairman indicates, are dams, terraces, contour furrows, spreader ditches, and cross slope farming.

When drainage water already has started cutting away the land, there are a number of program practices to help the farmer — rip-rapping, weirs, check dams, flumes, and lining drainage ditches with materials that protect the banks. Sometimes fast-growing plants are started in ditches and gullies to hold the soil and help fill them up.

Full information on all of these practices is available at the County Agricultural Conservation office.

TREE PLANTING SHOWS INCREASE

U. S. Forest Service figures indicate that over 200 million trees were planted in 1947. That is 2½ times the number planted the year before.

A good share of last year's plantings were put in as a direct result of the Agricultural Conservation Program. Figures just released show that 45,634 acres were planted under the program. Under ordinary circumstances it takes one thousand trees to plant an acre which means over 45 million trees to make the plantings under ACP.

In making total 1947 plantings practically all of the nursery stock available was used up. Officials report that much planting stock could have been sold if it had been available.

The outlook at present is that 300 million trees will be available for planting next spring. Shortage of seed in this and foreign countries has hampered nursery production. Seed stocks are being increased, however, by offers of attractive prices. In Wisconsin a top price of $8 a bushel of Norway pine cones will be paid this year, as compared with 50 to 75 cents a bushel in prewar years.

Iron was first discovered in the United States in 1585.

that is and not too well politically. Admission, it is reported, has been charged at most of his meetings and the 'house' was very good in many places. Many folks thought that here was the chance to see a good show and as it would cost money to go to a theater they might as well go out to see Henry's act. Down south Henry kept his expenses to a minimum—he did not even pay for the eggs that were used in the act.

—o—

It is tough enough being in the newspaper business these days but on the other hand being a football coach in the Pacific Coast Conference and having to play Big Nine teams is something we would not like to face. It looks like the boys playing the men. Out here we will have to fall back on the old bromide that we are building character and are moulding the minds of our young men into the highest aesthetic standards. What else is there? Our two southern teams certainly don't know too much about blocking, tackling and handling the ball. Perhaps our coaches should sit in the chair of philosophy. The game of football teaches team play and fierce physical contact is the essence of good play. Without this ingredient your team is a dud. What we need is another Howard Jones, Knute Rockne or Pop Warner in his prime. They taught that it is more Godly to give a block than to receive one. SC and UCLA need a little more of this old-fashioned gospel.

CYPRESS NEWS

About the only news from the Cypress area this week is the arrival home of the Weigert triplets, who were born on September 23 at the Artesia hospital to Mr. and Mrs. George Wiegert.

Little Lyle, Lynn and Larry are becoming widely known with many nationally advertised brands of baby products as well as local assistance being offered. This week Pet Milk has given the wee ones a year's supply of milk and the doctor is changing their formula in order to take advantage of it. Gerber Baby Foods have added their products for the trio's disposal. A registered nurse has cheerfully given her time a few hours each day until the young mother is stronger and able to cope with so much added responsibility. There is also a two-year-old daughter. The Cypress Chamber of Commerce voted a gift of $25 for the little boys and there are containers in all the business houses where coins may be dropped for their aid. An ad appearing in the local paper this week by the Diaper Service of the F. & F. Laundry of Santa Ana reads: "We are keeping the triplets, Larry, Lynn and Lyle DRY."

On Wednesday morning at ten o'clock townspeople gathered at the home of Mrs. Richard Hathcock to sew for the youngsters. It was in the nature of a shower, only money to buy materials and busy fingers were asked for instead of each one bringing a gift, so that all the little garments might be of the same quality. A delicious luncheon was served at noon by Mrs. Hathcock assisted by Mrs. Bott and Mrs. Priddy as co-hostesses. Since the Weigerts had planned for only one child, and it was found there were possibly twins expected, and since the three little fellows decided to put in their appearance a wee bit earlier than even twins were expected, one can readily imagine the problem confronting the young parents. Some seventy-five people contributed either time and money or both to build up the young masters wardrobes.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bennett of Evansville, Indiana, maternal grandparents, flew out this week to see the famous triplets. The babies will be placed in the window of their home so that visitors may view them.

VETERANS' LEADER—Conrad (Tex) Hanson, right, accepted Orange County chairmanship of Veterans' Committee for Dewey-Warren campaign. Widely known veterans' leader, Hanson is active in both American Legion and Disabled American Veterans. With him is Robert Banyard, county president of Young Republicans, and immediate past commander of Orange County Council of American Legion.

Mrs. C. E. Swain returned home from St. Mary's hospital in Long Beach Friday. The tiny twin daughters now weighing four pounds nine ounces and four pounds three ounces will have to remain in the hospital for a few days longer until they reach a hefty five pounds each before the hospital authorities will release them to their home. Petite Judith Lea and Julie Ann are identical twins.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Menzel and daughter, Mary, of Inglewood and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Schantzen of Cypress, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cormier at the Harvey Baby Exchange in west Cypress. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Harvey from the Exchange were Sunday guests in Ontario.

Miss Dickerson, principal of the Cypress school, reports an enrollment of 490 this year. Mr. Dysinger, principal of Centralia, reports an increase of six over last year, making a total of 160 enrolled in his school.

Lions to Hear President Briggs Here Tonight

the Okmulgee, Oklahoma' Lions

Dr. Eugene Briggs who is the president of Phillips University, Enid, Okla., and also president of Lions International, will address a joint meeting of all Orange county Lions clubs tonight at the Elks club here.

Dr. Briggs has had a long career as a Lion. He has served as third, second and first vice-president before becoming president and has also been an international director. For six years he served a contributor to education and club as director and in 1926-27 was president of that club. He has also been president of all Lions clubs in Oklahoma.

A native of Missouri, Dr. Briggs received the degree of Bachelor of Arts from Central College, Fayette, Mo., and from the University of Missouri. His M. A. is also from Missouri and his Ph. D. from Teachers College of Columbia University, New York.

Dr. Briggs is the author of several books on education and is California coast line, but found religious publications.

He is a member of all the Masonic bodies and is also a member of a number of educational, religious and welfare organizations.

Predict Record U. S. Fire Loss

Last year, according to the National Fire Prevention Association, 11,000 lives were lost, 20,000 persons injured and $700,000,000 in property destroyed by fire. This year, at the present rate of fire losses, total property destruction of close to 800-million dollars is forecast by the NFPA, showing an increase of 22 per cent over 1947.

With this, an all-time record of fire loss forecast for next year, Chief Rudolph Nyboe of the Anaheim Fire Department, urged cooperation throughout the year with edicts being issued during the current October 3 to 9 Fire Prevention Week.

"The tragedy of these figures," Chief Nyboe said, "is that 90 per cent of all home fires are avoidable. Sound, fire-safe construction, the selection of fire-resistant building materials, control of human carelessness and the elimination of common fire hazards that exist in the average home would drastically curtail the toll of fire in Anaheim."

"Only by the acceptance of responsibility to prevent fires, by each individual, can we cut down the appalling destruction and loss of life due to fire in this country," he added.

Nyboe urged elimination of structural fire hazards such as defective heating plants and flues, or improper electrical wiring systems. Careless smoking headed his list of fire causes. Other hazards arise from failure to clean out rubbish, misuse of electricity, failure to replace worn cords and equipment, and matches left within the reach of small children.

Toastmasters Seat Officers, Honor Ladies

Herman Hoch was seated president of the Anaheim Toastmasters club for the ensuing six months. Toastmistress members were welcomed and wives of members honored during the joint installation and ladies' night program held at La Palma Grill on Monday evening.

Following dinner, Alfred Holve, installing officer, seated Hoch as president; Vic Huber, vice-president; Kenneth Heuler, sergeant-at-arms, and Ed Wright, secretary-treasurer. Toastmaster of the evening was C. O. Garshweiler.

Kenneth Heuler, table topic chairman, presented the subject "Benefits Derived Through the Toastmasters and Toastmistress clubs."

Mrs. S. K. Watters, Toastmistress, described "The Good Old Days" for ten minutes with Bob Allen acting as her evaluator.

"For a Happy Marriage Use the Touch System," J. W. Stephen, toastmaster member and president of the local Optomists club, stated in his topic sentence. Brock was his evaluator.

Mrs. Margaret Freeman, Toastmistress, spoke on "Fording Along" with Vic Huber the evaluator. "The Queens," luxury ocean liners, were described by Sydney Pellew, Toastmaster who recently returned for an European trip. His talk was evaluated by Aubrey Van Verst. Mrs. Frank Gilbert acted as grammarian. The significance of the Patterson Trophy rotating award, which is given each week to the best speaker, was explained by Earl Smith.

Bronze and gold chrysanthemums decorated the tables, augmenting gay party decorations which carried out a Hallowe'en motif. These arrangements were by Mesdames Kenneth Heuler and Vic Huber.

Toastmistresses attending the annual dinner-program included Miss Sarah E. Wheatley, president; Miss Rose V. Search, secretary, and Misses Florence Spencer and Margaret E. Freeman and Mesdames Emma Pellew, S. K. Watters and Frank Gilbert whose husband was also present.

Other guests introduced in addition to wives of toastmasters included Mrs. Margaret Redpath, guest of Herman Hoch; Miss Marian Pickel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Pickel, and Tom Wright, son of Ed Wright.

Program assignments for next Monday night will be mailed to respective participants by Secretary Ed Wright.

Man Goes to Prison for Sale Of Marijuana

The plea of Frank M. Venegas, 31, of Placentia, for probation after he pleaded guilty to a charge of selling marijuana cigarettes and to possession of a quantity of marijuana was denied last weekend by Superior Judge Franklin West who sentenced Venegas to San Quentin penitentiary.

Meanwhile the attorney general's office has begun action in the superior court to seize the automobile of Reuben Grijalva, La Jolla camp, which the state alleges was used in transporting Venegas and the narcotic cigarettes.

Venegas, Grijalva and a third man were arrested the night of September 9 near the Pacific Electric station in Fullerton by state agents and police, including Lt. Thomas Taylor of the Anaheim police department.

Every second of night and day, 7,000 persons board a trackless trolley coach, street car or bus in the United States and Canada.

WASHINGTON AS SEEN

By Congressman
JOHN PHILLIPS

This is a "request" letter: At several meetings I have spoken briefly of the situation in Berlin.

I had occasion to talk to Washington by telephone. That is not unusual. What was unusual was that I was talking to a prominent member of the National Press Club, to which I also belong. I asked him, after we had concluded the business of the call, what the men at the Press Club thought of the Berlin situation.

"They think;" he said, "that the crisis will come in 48 hours." Just like that, no equivocation. I think within a week, but I still stick to my public statements that there will be no war this fall. Call it intuition, if you want, and Mr. Hitler ran a war very unsuccessfully by intuition. Call it my favorite crystal ball, and the crystal ball never had so serious a problem to look into. Call it inside information, and I haven't any more than you have, if you were to read the reports, public or confidential, that I read, and to which others have the same access. Call it the experience that comes with years of taking the items involved in a complicated situation, and putting them into the Hollerith-like mind of an analyst and then having the mind, like that machine, bring up an answer.

The seriousness must not be underestimated. We face the possibility of a continuous "crisis" until it is settled, even by conflict: On one side we have liberty, and independence of action and thought, and the hopes of free men and women; on the other side we have slavery, physical and mental control, and the depths into to which that mass destruction called "communism" has led its satellites and would like to lead the world.

Let's add it up. Unexplainable promises and appeasements of the then-president at Yalta and Teheran, and elsewhere, and the commitments at Potsdam; with the unconscionable surrender which held up American troops thirty hours, so that Russian troops could take over Berlin, with no provisions for access, placed us in a position where the Russians thought us weak and foolish. Why shouldn't they? Our job now is to overcome that start.

Time is in our favor. Our allies are stronger, physically and morally. Talks have produced only deadlocks. The UN cannot act, because of the veto. Yet the UN now is stronger. We will stay in Berlin. Our planes and carriers are shifting to the Atlantic. England has stopped its demobilization. Supplies are being stored. Russia does not understand appeasement, but does understand strength. Plans have been handed factories, and orders, to open only in case of attack. Civilian defense is planned. Russia may, as she boasts, have the atomic bomb, but we still have the know-how, and her bomb, copied presumably from information secured through treason and theft, will still trail our present research and production methods. To some, these things point to war soon. To me, knowing Russia, they point to peace.

The one big question, bigger than any $64 question ever asked, is whether conflict can be avoided forever between this nation, founded on liberty and pledged to liberty, and the U.S.S.R., founded on destruction, and pledged to slavery, not only for its own people, but for all peoples.

Both the Army and Air Force contemplate reviving the system of temporary officer promotions. The Air Force already has notified its field commanders that it now appears feasible to "implement an approved plan for filling current requirements for temporary promotions of officers in the Air Force of the U. S." Implementation of the Air Force program is expected to be effected early in 1949.

Promotions to middle grades for Army enlistment personnel will soon show a sharp upward trend. General promotion to the first three grades still awaits modification of promotion machinery for personnel not yet covered by career fields.

Festival Kickoff Dinner, Auction Big Success

With a lively auction geared to raise funds with which to stage a-bigger-and-better - than-ever Hallowe'en festival, the kickoff dinner was held Friday night in the Elks club heralding the coming silver anniversary Hallowe'en celebration here.

Paul Demaree again proved a witty and versatile master of ceremonies. For the privilege of wearing "Big Wheel" button No. 1, Dr. Samuel Gendel paid $50. A total of 50 buttons were sold by auctioneer Demaree with bidders' competition running high.

New members of the Chamber of Commerce, honored during the dinner-event, were introduced by President Kenneth Hellyer. Reports of chairmen in charge of festival activities were given.

Committee heads for the twenty-fifth annual celebration were introduced by Glenn Hipes, general chairman of the festival. Chairmen include John Ardaiz, parade marshall; Clyde Nickle, whiskerino and Slick Chick contests; Al Cotler, festival costume breakfast; M. A. Gauer, kiddie parade; Al Garey, parade float chairman, and Ralph Spencer, window art contest.

Designed to conform with the Orange county fair on Oct. 28-31, the new parade route, recently scheduled, was disclosed by Ardaiz.

October 30, the parade will be featured, forming at Five Points on West Center street, then east to Los Angeles street and then north to the fair grounds at the La Palma and Palm street intersection.

This year the kiddies' parade will see a line of march ending at the fair grounds, Mel Gauer stated. The children's afternoon event will form on Sycamore street just north of the city park, then travel north on Palm street to the fair grounds.

Mrs. Adolph Schoepe, wife of one of the new chamber members, won the door prize of a silver compote donated by Joe Hurst. Special stage entertainment and a musical program by members of the high school ensemble, directed by Bill Cook, were presented during the kickoff dinner.

Gas Company Has New Appliance Sales Policy

Justin M. Kennedy, manager, Orange county division, Southern Counties Gas company, announced this week a new gas appliance sales policy inaugurated by his company the first of this month.

Abandoning the sales policy which has been in force for many years, the Southern Counties Gas company has now virtually discontinued the practice of retaining for its own account any retail sales of gas appliances. In the future, sales contracts for gas appliances sold at retail in this area by company salesman will, in most instances, be assigned to local gas appliance dealers.

"All gas appliance dealers operating on the lines of the company are invited to participate in the company's new sales program," said Mr. Kennedy.

Arrangements have been completed with various gas range manufacturers, gas water heater manufacturers and the distributors for Servel gas refrigerators, Hamilton gas clothes dryers and Calcinator incinerators, to provide display appliances for each of the company's display floors.

Mr. Kennedy announced the appointment of the following men to the position of Sales Representatives in this area:

Joe C. Crooke, John Schroeder, Robert Wilson, George J. Blackman, Wayne V. Price, Leonard S. Parker.

The prime objective of these men will be to sell domestic appliances at retail prices to consumers on the lines of the Southern Counties Gas company.

PLACENTIA MAN TO HEAD COLLEGE DIVISION

Dr. Baxter M. Geeting, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark E. Geeting of Placentia, will head the division of humanities and fine arts at Sacramento State college. His appointment was announced by Dr. Guy A. West, acting president. Dr. Geeting has been serving as head of the speech department at San Francisco State college where he taught three years. He graduated from Santa Ana Junior college and Pomona college, later receiving his master of arts and doctor of philosophy degrees from the University of Southern California. He also taught at west Texas State college and was senior researcher with the U. S. Office of Education in Washington, D. C., for one year, and for four years and educational counselor for a major food firm. He was also director of radio work at Stanford university.
