Colony Quips

One of America's own holidays comes up this Thursday and the name tells what it is and what it is for—Thanksgiving. To most Americans the day means the time for stuffing a turkey and then stuffing the turkey down themselves. This we will admit is a very enjoyable and popular pastime. Neither is it very new. The Romans were very adept and probably outdid most Americans. So the eating part of the day is no place to try and set a new record even though this is probably the only country on earth today where all the ingredients and available in record smashing quantities. Our early-day Americans decided to have a feast of Thanksgiving and not just a Thanksgiving feast. They added the spirit of thankfulness to their observance. Judged by the standards of today they would probably come in the category of 'bluenoses' and make pretty poor company. But they had the quality of being humble and that is one quality we are short of today. If a man has faith, hope and charity in his heart it will help to make him humble. And as the Good Book says: The greatest of these is charity. Not tin cup charity. Not charity that is emblazoned on one's sleeve. But charity in your heart for another man's beliefs and ideas. Whether or not they jibe with yours. Be humble and realize that you and yours are not the only gift of God to this old world. A little hard to do, isn't it?

If you have come this far then we would like to call your attention to a Thanksgiving meeting right here in Anaheim on Thursday morning in the high school auditorium at 9 o'clock. It will only last an hour. This is the first time that a public Thanksgiving service has been attempted here in Anaheim. There is no religious dogma involved. It is simply a period set aside to realize some of the things we have to be thankful for and they are legion.

—o—

Coach Frank Leahy of Notre Dame will not have to go into much seance to get his players fired up for their game this weekend with the SC Trojans. All he will have to tell them is that this is the club they had to come from behind to tie last year. All the boys will remember that one very easily. On form the Irish should do it, but good, on Saturday. But they know that also and therein lies the chance for our Trojans to make a good showing. They played a fine defensive game against UCLA last week but their offense had about as much deception as an elephant walking into a china shop. We are not trying to throw any rocks at Dean Schneider for that young man had not played any offensive ball all year and you cannot make a sharp 'T' quarterback over night. That takes years and the finest of raw material. To fool any of Frank's pupils you have to be an expert. But rest assured that the Trojans will be there to play the best game they can come Saturday.

If anyone knows how a poor country newspaperman can get enough oday to get to South Bend this coming week end to see the game will you please let us know. Anything short of murder will do. It will be appreciated.

Survey Vast Area for Recreation

An historic 12-hour trek through the county's backwoods country was made Sunday by more than fifty county residents interested in the development of this vast mountain country as a recreational area for out-door enthusiasts.

District Forest Ranger Joseph K. Munhall and Hamilton K. Pyle, supervisor, U. S. Forestry Service, both of the Cleveland National Forest led the auto caravan thru the Santa Ana mountains and national forest for a first-hand view of some of the 550 miles of trails and bridal paths that could be opened to horsemen and hikers.

All-Day Trek

The all-day trek was organized by Jim Workman of the Orange County Associated Chamber of Commerce's planning and development committee and marked the first time the area had been inspected by an official party from Orange county.

Spearheading the opening of this area and providing transportation for the trek were the six riding clubs who make up the Associated Riding Clubs of Orange county.

Officials participating included A. A. Beard, consulting engineer for the Orange county highway department, members of the board of supervisors, Charles H. Diggs, county planning director, members of the county planning commission and other interested county groups.

Anaheim Represented

Anaheim was represented by E. W. Moeller, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, John O'Kane, state director Izaak Walton League and Robert L. Funseth, Anaheim Gazette.

The group left Santa Ana at 6:30 a.m. and spent the morning inspecting Silverado, Trabuco and Holy Jim canyons.

They were met at O'Neill park by more than 250 horsemen of the county's six riding clubs who hosted them to a chuck wagon feed.

In the afternoon the trek followed the Gubernadora Trail to the Ortego Highway. This was the route followed by Gaspar Portola in 1769 when the first white men came into this country.

Ascend Santiago

The caravan followed the Ortega highway to El Cariso and then over the ridge trail climaxed by an ascent to Santiago Peak, the highest point in this county. The trek returned to "civilization" over the Harding Truck route arriving back in Santa Ana at 7:30 p.m.

Anaheim Future Farmers Purchase Hereford Calves

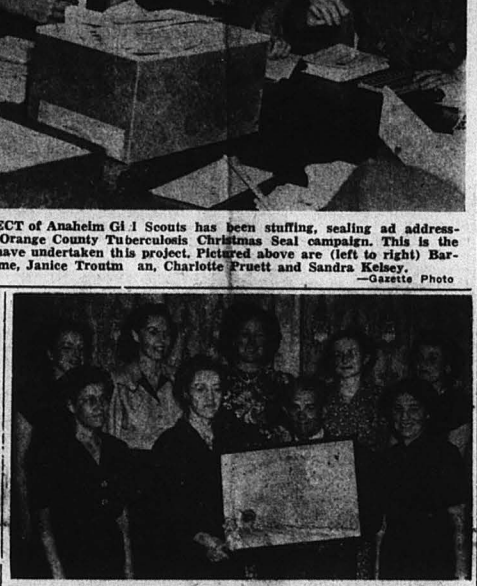

Seven Anaheim Future Farmers of Americt Monday gained possession of 13 purebred Hereford calves at the Anaheim high school farm as part of their livestock project.

The young steers were made available to the local youth at Wyoming range prices by the Farmers Insurance Group, in cooperation with the state bureau of agricultural education.

More than 120 other vocational agricultural students of southern California took advantage of this opportunity to purchase top-grade feeder calves at Chino last Saturday. As a part of a school project, the calves will be fed and marketed through a supervised training program.

Representing Farmers Insurance Group Monday morning when the Anaheim students selected their calves was Robert Martin, manager of the Anaheim office of the company.

Students making purchases were Charles Holland, John Patin, Jerome Schinhofen, Robert Van Dyke, George Mitobe, Carroll Coykendall and James Cuthbert.

Will Stress Family Theme at Joint Thanksgiving Service

With emphasis on the family as the pillar of true society, the first annual city-wide Thanksgiving service will be held this Thursday, November 24 at 9 a.m. in the Anaheim Union high school auditorium with churches and civic organizations cooperating.

A non-denominational service, the program will give local families an opportunity to give thanks for the blessings of freedom, prosperity, health and the many bountiful gifts of God in the spirit reminiscent of the founders of Thanksgiving Day.

The Rev. Frank E. Butterworth, new pastor of White Temple Methodist church, will deliver the principal address. The pastor, who came here from Redlands September 1, will speak on "Thanks for the Wilderness."

A nursery will be conducted at the high school for the convenience of parents who may leave small children while attending the service.

Voices of a huge union choir will be raised in praise and Thanksgiving under direction of Mrs. Donald Rees, choir director of the Evangelical United Brethren church. This choir, to be featured during the hour-long program, will be composed of members of most of the churches of Anaheim.

Led by William Cook, the high school orchestra will play "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," by Luther, as well as the prelude and accompaniment to the congregational singing.

Mayor Charles Pearson will read the Thanksgiving proclamation. Presentation of the American and Christian flags will be by the high school Cadet Corps.

The Rev. John Kimball Saville, pastor of St. Michael's Episcopal church, will preside and receive the offering while the Rev. Raynard P. Wilson, assistant pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, will give the benediction.

The invocation and Lord's prayer will be led by the Rev. John Moll, pastor of the Bethany Full Gospel church. The unison reading will be led by Dr. B. Shelby Corlett of the Nazarene church. The organist will be Mrs. Raymond Ringwald.

After expenses are paid, the offering of the service will be used to support the Released Time Christian Education Classes which arenow in their fifth year in Anaheim, church sponsors announced. High school usherettes will collect the offering under direction of Mrs. Ethel Caverly.

Committeemen

Special committees preparing for the service include Herman Schacht of the Church of Christ, decorations; the Rev. O. L. Underwood of the Four Square Gospel church; the Rev. Philip Selfridge of the Evangelical United Brethren church; the Rev. Howard S. Congdon of the First Presbyterian church; Ted Kuchel and Howard Loudon, publicity, and Paul Demaree, invitations to community organizations.

RC Movie Depicts Blood Program

Purpose of the nation-wide Red Cross sponsored blood bank program was revealed to Fox theater audiences here during Sunday, Monday and Tuesday performances.

Details of the program showed the mobile blood bank unit in operation and the accurate typing and sorting of the pints of blood donated.

Also pictured were typical blood banks in hospitals and specific cases where the supply was used to give life-saving transfusions.

All pints in the bank are dated. Blood that is old becomes plasma or is processed to obtain other special derivatives highly valuable in treating various medical cases, the motion picture showed.

J. A. Baker Re-Elected Vice-President of MOD

Frank S. Gunter of Redlands was re-elected chairman of the board of directors for Mutual Orange Distributors at the board's reorganization meeting.

J. A. Baker of Anaheim was re-elected vice-president, and J. M. Van Horn of Redlands was returned as secretary to the cooperative's governing body.

C. T. Norwood of Redlands was elected to the board as a new member. Other members are George DeWolfe, Chula Vista; T. J. Steves, La Verne; John W. Crill, Garden Grove; George W. Burch, Covina; Glenn A. Harris, La Habra; W. B. Merchant, Wooklake; Harry W. Clark, Phoenix; J. A. Porter, Olive; A. R. Schultz, Jr., Redlands;

Many Register To Donate Blood

Because of heavy registration at the Mobile Blood Bank held here at the Ebell clubhouse, beginning Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, closing time was extended one hour to 8 p.m.

Many private citizens, relatives of persons aided by the national Red Cross blood bank program and groups of industrial workers volunteered their services at the mobile unit.

Final tabulations of the number of pints of blood received will be disclosed next week, Mrs. P. H. Nelson and Mrs. W. E. Fennell, chapter co-chairmen of the program for this city, announced. Joe Thompson was recruitment chairman for the campaign here.

Pints of blood will make possible an adequate supply in the blood banks of county hospitals for transfusions to cope with such emergencies as operations and burn cases. All pints donated will be typed. Some will be turned into plasma and some of the blood will be made into other life-saving derivatives.

Sponsored by the American Red Cross this blood program is being expanded into a national project.

Aroused Property Owners Voice Strong Protest to Re-Zoning for Industry

100 Jam Public Hearing to Oppose Re-Zoning in SE Section of City

Over one hundred aroused propery owners crowded the council chambers to protest re-zoning of the southeastern area of the city for light industry at Monday afternoon's city planning commission meet.

This was the first public hearing to be held by the city's planners on the re-zoning petition which would change 40-acres of land located along the Santa Fe railroad tracks from R-1 to M-2.

Principal objector to the petition was the Anaheim elementary school board who recently purchased land for a new school to be located on the southeast corner of South and East streets.

The land under question includes 20 acres owned by Elwood and Herman W. Cordes bounded by Water, Olive, Orange and South streets and two ten-acre tracts on the westerly half of an area bounded by Santa Ana, Orange and South streets owned by Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Allen and William Rossman.

Half Proposed School

H. H. Stabbert, representing the school district declared the plans are advanced to the point of starting construction of the new school. Any change in zoning would result in loss of time and money required in locating a new site and preparing revised plans, he stated.

Stabbert said the trustees are not opposed to industry in Anaheim but are opposed to the proposed location.

This was the consensus of opinion of the protesting property owners who feared loss of property values and general nuisance in noise and increased traffic jeopardizing the safety of their children.

A. F. Habener, property owner, speaking for many of the opposition said, "We feel that industry should not be placed in an industrial zone. We are not opposed to industrialization of Anaheim but are opposed to this location.

Applaud

His statement was received by a wild round of applause as were most of the other statements made in opposition to the petition.

Petitions signed by 170 people opposing the re-zoning were presented to the commission with assurance that when the second and final hearing comes up on December 19—"there'll be plenty more."

At the conclusion of the public hearings, the city planning commission will make their recommendation to the city council who will act upon the petition, possibly at their December 27th meeting.

Largest L.B. Band Review In History

The Ninth Annual All Western Band Review to be held in Long Beach next Saturday evening promises to be the largest ever held in its history, and will top all similar parades held anywhere in the nation, according to officials at Band Review headquarters.

A total of 86 units have returned entry blanks indicating that they will be here to vie for top honors in the spectacular two hour long parade, and to meet the time schedule necessary to make the event a success, Horner has moved the starting time of the parade up to 6:47 p.m. at which time the units will begin their long trek around the parade route. The group totals more than 5000 participants.

The Anaheim Union high school band numbering 70 will march in Division 5 competing in the senior high school division.

As in the past the band that comes the furthest distance to join in the competition, will lead the parade of units, and this time it will be the Sciots Band from Watsonville, California. They will fly here in specially chartered planes, arriving the afternoon of the review and returning immediately after the competition is completed.

However, 20 musical organizations with a roll call of more than 1600 participants will stay over night, and all major hotels in the city will house members of these units, it was announced.

Out of the group of 86 bands, 25 are coming for the first time. There will be 65 cities, 15 counties and two states represented in the review with a further breakdown of 44 high school, six junior high school, ten sponsored, three service, three college, and five host bands, along with eight drum and bugle corps and four special entries. Seventy-seven of the bands will be in the actual competition.

The Long Beach Pyramid No. 43 Sciots Liberian Guard will march as official escort for the Santa Claus Float, and an unusual aspect of their attire will be light-

Top Authority Of Frozen Citrus At Anaheim Plant

Gordon Beisel, top-ranking authority on the processing of high vacuum, low temperature frozen citrus juices has been employed by Real Gold Citrus Products as director of research at the Anaheim plant.

The announcment was made by Robbins Russell, general manager of Mutual Orange distributors, parent organization of R.G.C.P., following action by the cooperative's board of directors.

Beisel is presently employed in Florida Citrus Canners cooperative at Lake Wales. His position at R.G.C.P. will become effective July 1, 1950.

Beisel worked on a consulting basis for Real Gold for about six weeks earlier this fall while on a trip to California.

Employment of Mr. Beisel by the California firm is in line with its announced plans for plant expansion and increased microbiological control necessary in the production of a high quality product, Russell said. A streamlined sales program is also being mapped for the coming year.

Beisel pioneered the processing of high vacuum, low temperature concentration in the Florida citrus industry. Since then, the product has gained wide consumer acceptance in the fozen food field. The processing unit at the Anaheim plant was the first to be installed in California.

The plant shipped over 100 carloads of fresh frozen orange juice during the first four months of operations.

Board Opposes Zone Changes, Discusses Bids

Opposition to the proposed alteration of zoning restrictions in the South street area and discussion of the Horace Mann school contract for construction headed business at an adjourned meeting of the Anaheim Elementary District board of trustees, Monday noon in the Fremont Junior high school board room.

The board has withheld letting of the Horace Mann contract for new construction in order to meet with the City Planning Commission for detailed analysis of subdivision additions and areas of future growth.

Planned at the Horace Mann school is a new kindergarten and six class rooms or a new kindergarten and eight class rooms.

By unanimous vote the board went on record in favor of retaining the South street zoning ordinance as it stands. At present this area is zoned for residences only. Proposed is a change of zoning for light industry which the board feels would jeopardize the new South street school slated for early construction.

Present at the adjourned meeting were Herbert H. Stabbert, president; Thomas A. Henry, trustee; John P. Mary, Jr., clerk, and M. A. Gauer, superintendent.

Local Men to Attend Warren's Employm't Meet

National interest will be focused on Sacramento December 5 and 6 during Governor Warren's Conference on Employment, State Employment Director James G. Bryant said upon his return from an interstate conference.

E. W. Moeller, secretary-manager of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce and George Graham, secretary manager of Citrus Growers, Inc., have accepted invitations to attend the two-day conference.

In the belief that it may set a national pattern for development of job opportunities on a community level, Federal Security Agency officials and employment department representatives from the various states are watching the California conference closely, Bryant said.

Oregon and Washington plan to send observers to the conference seeking guidance for posisble similar action programs in their states.

General conference chairman E. T. Grether said response to invitations indicates attendance of approximately 2,000 leaders in California's widely diversified economy.

Opens Monday

Grether, dean of the School of Business Administration at the University of California, announced that conference general sessions will be held in Sacramento's Memorial Auditorium. Governor Warren will personally open the first general session at 10 a.m. Monday, December 5.

Section meetings will be devoted to development of employment expansion programs in special problem groups in the labor market, in various industrial and business fields, through community action on local and state levels and through government action. A final general session for summarization of conference findings is scheduled for Tuesday afternoon.

Conferees will be provided with much new factual information by the conference research committee. Research has been under way for several weeks on more than a score of projects, including studies of labor mobility, population changes, characteristics of unemployment, characteristics of the work force and of job opening available.

Grether said much of the material had not been assembled previously and should assist materially in finding a means of stimulating employment.

Santa Claus Will Open Yule Season

Heralding the Christmas season here, Santa Claus will ride in grand style through main Anaheim streets tomorrow (Friday) night, November 25, beginning at 7:30 and throw the switches, lighting the Christmas street decorations.

Jovial St. Nick, clad in traditional red suit, shining boots and flowing white beard, will head the stately procession to include a uniformed band and decorated cars. After waving cheery greetings from the huge shoe float sponsored by William's Shoe Store, he will meet the youngest generation at the downtown intersection. The band will present a short appropriate program.

To delight the younger set, Santa will be featured in downtown Anaheim both afternoons and evenings during the two weeks preceeding Christmas, Oscar Soller, chairman of the retail merchants' division, announced.

The annual Yule gift hunt will be staged December 9, at 7 p.m.

Local stores will remain open evenings for the convenience of Christmas shoppers after December 16, date of the Retail Merchants Division-sponsored Merchandise promotion at which time $1000 in gifts will be awarded.

Through the considerate kindness of J. D. La Rue we have received the first number of the "Panamint News," a 12x13 inch tri-weekly paper published in Panamint. Though rather diminutive it is highly creditable in its contents and appearance. Its advertising columns show that the different trades are well represented. There are two attorneys, seven saloons, one paper-hanger and one physician, six grocery and dry goods stores, one meat market, one shoemaker, one livery stable, two barbers, three restaurants and one drug store. The cost of living is quite low there, board being $8 per week. Reports from the different mines in the district are highly encouraging.

Episcopal Fair—On the evening of December 16th the people of Anaheim and surrounding country will assemble at Enterprise hall for the double purpose of enjoying themselves and helping to swell another fund for the erection of an Episcopal house of worship. The preparations have been going on for some months under the supervision of the ladies of the congregation and many new features will be introduced which will be an innovation on the usual mode of conducting church affairs. An extensive art gallery will be arranged to which the particular attention of all lovers of the beautiful is especially drawn at the different tables will be found many useful and ornamental articles offered for sale and the near approach of the Christmas holidays will no doubt induce many persons to invest in the purchase of articles suitable for presents. The Fair will open at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and an elegant supper, turkey, chicken pies and cake ad lib—will be served between the hours of 5 and 9 p.m. The price of admission has been placed at the low figure of 25 cts. for adults and 16 cts. for children under 10 years of age. Supper 50 cts. extra. Tickets can be had at all the principal stores of Anaheim, Santa Ana, Richland and Westminster.

Sixty vessels laden with lumber and consigned to James McFadden have discharged their cargoes at Newport Landing during the present season and the demand for lumber still continues.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. MacFarnham of Santa Ana celebrated their wooden wedding on Saturday last at their residence. A large number of friends put in their appearance loaded down with all kinds of wooden "truck," one man living a distance from town donated a load of stove wood.

The newspapers are chronicling the significant fact that Joaquin Miller has had his hair cut. This confirms the rumor that he is about to resume marital relations with Mrs. Miller.

Judge O'Melveny is now taking the action required of him by law to dedicate public land to San Juan Capistrano as a town site. He has examined the maps and surveys and is now preparing his certificate.

Rev. C. Gridley has sent to the Gazette office a sixteen pound sweet potato grown on his ranch. And this is a good place to mention the 168 pound pumpkin grown on John Goodcell's place and on exhibition at P. Davis & Bros. store.

In another column S. Nordlinger, the enterprising Los Angeles jeweler, calls attention to his superb line of holiday goods.

A number of gentlemen are agitating the formation of a debating club. Those desiring to become members are requested to apply personally or by letter to Mr. A. Mendelson.

Westminster items—Our town is improving. The store company is about to erect a warehouse to contain their heavy goods. Mr. Keifhaber, our blacksmith is erecting a fine dwelling. Mr. Fleming is all ready to begin building his home, and the dwellings of Messrs. Josiah McCoy, Sampson Edwards, J. Cary and Mr. Shaw are approaching completion. On Saturday a fire started and as a Santa Ana wind was blowing it threatened to go considerable damage. A shed and several tons of hay belonging to Mr. James McFadden was consumed.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Ben Truman of the Los Angeles Star, we have been favored with a copy of his recently published book.

Sampson Edwards was in town from Westminster on Monday. He reports that renters are numerous. The rates being from $20 to $25 per acre. In some cases as high as $35 has been paid. Mr. Edwards says that renters have made enough money out of potatoes and celery this past year to complete paying for their land at $200 per acre. The celery he reports to be in fine condition some of the lovely fields, however having suffered from the excessive moisture. The celery crop will around to about 1000 cars.

Otto Rust returned some days ago from a month's visit to Oregon. He also visited in Santa Clara county. As a wine maker he paid particular attention to the appearance of the vines seen on his trip and is of the opinion by far the greater part of them are diseased. The condition of the vines hereabout is vastly superior to those in the north, and Mr. Rust opines the country is just about as far ahead.

Thomas Strain, who recently returned from a trip to Europe, was in town one day last week. Mr. Strain enjoyed his trip to the fullest extent, traveling over the British Isles and the continent. At Naples, a city of over 600,000 inhabitants, he counted only four bicycles in a day's ramble about the town.

Robin Adair Scott has been in town several days from Long Beach visiting with friends. He informs us he has had a pleasant summer season going to cake walks and other social functions at San Pedro and Long Beach.

Miss Anne Everhardy entertained the Social Evening Club at cards and dancing Tuesday evening at the Del Campo hotel. Progressive euchre was the feature of the evening until 10 o'clock. The first ladies' prize was won by Miss Jessie Melrose, the second by Miss Sophie Rimpau and the booby by Miss Laura Roller. Mrs. Cohen carried off the honors for the guest's trophy. Charles Fay won the gentlemen's first prize, Fred Backs the second and Ed Zeus the consolation. After cards a delicious collation was served, and dancing served to while away the balance of the evening which lasted until long after electric light hours.

Charles Porter, son of A. L. Porter, head carpenter at the Bolsa Chcia Club grounds, was seriously injured some days ago by a cave in on the bluff skirting the roadway to the club grounds. Reports are meager but it is said the boy's leg was broken and that he sustained other serious injuries.

Frank Whitaker spent Thanksgiving with the old folks at home in Buena Park. A sumptuous turkey dinner participated in by members of the family was enjoyed and the evening was given over to a rubber of whist. Frank was in town Friday evening on his way to Riverside.

Marshal Steadman has completed his city delinquent tax list which he finds the smallest ever made out by him during the eight years he has held the office. The amount delinquent is $226. All this is no doubt due to the McKinley prosperity spreading itself over the country.

Ralph Roper and Miss Marie Burdick of Orange, were married at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Roper at Santa Ana on Tuesday last. Mr. and Mrs. Roper departed later for Prescott, Arizona, where Mr. Roper will practice dentistry.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Boyd returned Saturday from their honeymoon trip to Coronado and were met at the depot by a delegation of friends. They have gone to housekeeping in Mrs. Steckert's cottage on Cypress street.

Four carloads of poles, some of them 60 feet long have been unloaded at the Santa Fe depot for the Edison Electric Company which will build an electric line to furnish light and power running from Los Angeles through this city to Santa Ana. Agent Clabaugh said yesterday he heard the line would run along the Santa Fe tracks.

Druggist Derge has returned from Kern county and Mr. Hatzfeld who took his place in the drug store, has departed for Santa Ana where he has taken a similar position.

Herman Koster was in town Saturday from his ranch in Soquel canyon. He reports prospects good for abundant pasturage.

Miss Mary Vinson took her departure on Tuesday for Texas where she will visit with friends for a year.

Billy Hale and Mr. Cunningham of the Earl Fruit company were in town on Tuesday.

Pat Seale is down from Los Angeles to spend the holidays with his folks here.

A 1600 acre tract of land fifteen miles southeast of Santa Ana has been offered free of cost to the regents of the University of Southern California if the southern branch is moved from Los Angeles. C. R. Browning, California alumnus, said he had been authorized to make the announcement by Dwight Whiting, owner of the property offered.

Judge J. B. Cox, of Santa Ana, who made himself famous trout the entire nation because he inaugurated the jail sentence for speeding autoists, died at the county hospital Monday night after an illness of several months. Judge Cox was a barber before he became a justice of the peace and came to Santa Ana from Bucyrus, Ohio, many years ago. Earl Abbey, a former Anaheim deputy county clerk, and clerk of the Superior court, is mentioned as his successor.

Articles of incorporation, for the Anaheim Union Laundry Co. have been filed with the county clerk, the capital stock being placed at $50,000. The incorporators are Gus and Rose Smith, L. A. and Ida C. Le Clair and Ruth Langdon, all of Anaheim.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Turck were in town this week from their home in Los Angeles, visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Kistler, who have just returned from a four months tour of Europe. While abroad they visited Mr. Turck's aunt in the city of Strasburg, and found her in excellent health and spirits.

C. E. Jackson, former sheriff of Orange county, is at his home in Santa Ana suffering from a broken leg and collar bone. The result of a fall last week as he was pruning palm trees in his yard. A falling branch knocked the ladder from under him. The injured man is reported improved at this time.

Fred Gresswell, the sign painter, who formerly was an artist of renown on his native heath in Lincolnshire, England, has been occupying his spare time during the past year in painting small landscape, searcap and other beautiful pictures. He has a number of exhibition in the Bingham building on West Center street and is rapidly selling them to visitors who call to admire the display.

Coming as a climax to an excellent program presented by the local Delphian chapter at the regular meeting at Elks club house last week. The book review of Herman Robber's, "The Fortunes of a Household," by Mrs. F. J. Ashen was a genuine treat. Arrayed in a quaint Dutch costume that belonged to her grandmother in Holland years ago, and by reason of her personal knowledge of Dutch traditions and custom, she was able to make the characters live. Mrs. C. J. Dunham, president of the Helphians, presided and the program was presented under the direction of Mrs. H. D. Newkirk, Mrs. C. W. Austin, Mrs. N. H. White, Miss Freda Lumsdon, Mrs. A. B. Prescott and Mrs. C. M. Kemp were among the contributors to the interesting program.

The R. W. Maas realty company has taken out a permit to build four new residences, the total cost being $13,000. They are all to be built on Elsworth avenue.

A. Pierotti was in town from his ranch home Monday transacting business and greeting his numerous friends. Mr. Pierotti is still rejoicing over the outcome of the election, and is particularly pleased over the heavy majority given Coolidge by California.

John B. Hasty Passes Thursday

John B. Hasty, a resident of Anaheim for the past twenty years, passed away at the Santa Fe hospital on Thursday, November 17. Born in Palestine, Texas, he resided at 307 W. Chartres street, this city.

The deceased was a member of Anaheim Masonic Lodge, Royal Arch Masons, Knight Templar, Eastern Star, Scottish Rite of Los Angeles and Shrine of Los Angeles.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. on Monday in the chapel of Backs, Campbell and Kaulbars mortuary with the Rev. John Kimball Saville, pastor of St. Michael's Episcopal church, officiating. Entombment was in Melrose Abbey mausoleum with Masonic rites conducted for interment.

Purpose of the trip was to show Orange county residents, how, with comparatively little cost, sections of the Cleveland National Forest could be reopened, according to Workman.

The trails traversed by the caravan were constructed by the CCC in the early thirties according to District Ranger Munhall. Prior to that time, pack trails were used. It it the pack trails which the county groups want repaired and reopened.

Munhall said the cost would approximate $115 per mile and would be sought from the Department of Agriculture.

At present there are 4400 saddle horses registered with the six riding clubs in the county according to Workman who estimated the horse and saddle business in this county represented an investment of $1,500,000.

'IT'S GONNA BE DUCK FOR DINNER!'

New duck haunts at Palos Verdi were hunted down by a group of local sportsmen who left Anaheim last Thursday morning at 2 o'clock and returned Monday evening in fine feather. The trackers traveled via boats down the Colorado river near Blythe in search of the game birds. These hunters were Bob Williams, sporting goods store owner; Sully Roquet, realtor, and John Mary, Sr., Ken Hellyer and Vic Brown.

These folks mean business for the West... Pacific Telephone people receive pay adding up to $19,000,000 a month.

Telephone paychecks also come to you

1. Timber . . . paper . . . copper—we have to buy many things to build and run the telephone system. Last year Western Electric, our principal manufacturer and supplier, bought over 20 million dollars worth of materials in the West. More than half of each dollar we take in goes for employees. Most of it is spent and goes into circulation where they work and live.

2. More than 80,000 of those whose savings built the business . . . who own telephone stock . . . live in the West. In return for the use of their money, a few pennies of each telephone dollar go to them. And as they spend it, they also add to Western prosperity. It would probably be hard to find anyone who does not in some way benefit from the money we spend.

3. When you add it all up, you find the money you spend for service comes back, in large part, to you. And your telephone dollars are buying more service than ever. Today you can call more of the people you want to call . . . more can call you. And your telephone still does its jobs for only a few pennies a call.

Your telephone is one of today's best bargains

Social and Club Activities

YLI Harvest Time Dance Big Success

Hailed as a huge social success was the harvest-time dance sponsored by the Ways and Means committee of the Young Ladies Institute, Saturday night at the Elks club.

More than 75 couples, clad in sports clothes and ginghams enjoyed square, modern and old time dancing to the music of Marty Martin's Western Stars of Long Beach.

Eddie Goetz was caller for the lively squares which were applauded by participants and watchers alike.

Mrs. Gus Lenain was general chairman aided by her co-chairman, Mrs. Tom McBride. Helen Canton was in charge of tickets at the door. Jane Lambert made arrangements for obtaining the orchestra.

All money from the event, which replaced the traditional card party given by the Catholic church group, will go to swell the social service fund of the Ways and Means committee.

Coming highlights on the YLI calendar include the Easter Monday ball and the big district meeting in March for which the local group will be hostess. Mary Ellen Grady is president of the Anaheim YLI.

Marywood Class Presents Play

"Sacrifice In Brocade," a vignette, was presented by the junior class dramatic students of Marywood Catholic high school Tuesday in the Marywood social hall.

Comprising the cast were Gail Marie Nolan, Marilou Heavrin, Jane Stehly, Anna Mae Hohner, Barbara Kern and Leona King.

Acting as technical assistants were Nell Olsen and Daisy Melendez. Carol Watkins and Barbara Kern appeared in a tribute to St. Catherine. Gwen Holly Simpson was director for the production.

Future Farmers Barn Dance Big Success

Persons of light weight were the lucky ones at the Garden Grove Future Farmers annual barn dance held Saturday night in the Garden Grove high school cafeteria. Admissions were charged according to each individual's "on the hoof" live weight.

All admissions were weighed at the door. Music for square, round dancing and Virginia reels was provided by Bill Willford's orchestra.

Forrest L. Dunivan, vocational agriculture instructor, heads the farm youth group. Prizes were awarded to the heaviest and lightest dancers, to the merriment of all attending, and gifts were presented to the boy and girl sporting the best country style costumes.

Other highlights including the crowning of the barn dance queen and the awarding of a 25-pound turkey. The queen's attendants received roasting hens as consolation prizes. Orchids and rose corsages were presented to all candidates during the event.

Rare Cactus at Local City Park

Delicate white blossoms tinted with orchid throats, adorn a rare epiphyllum philo cactus plant in the green house of the famous Anaheim city park.

Despite the name of "Zago-Delecatum," this cacti has an exotic beauty all its own, overshadowing some of the other brilliantly blossomed plants in their hanging baskets, with fragile loveliness.

According to Rudy Boysen, park superintendent, the Zago-Delecatum with its waxy flowers is one of the most rare of the epiphyllum family. The plant at the city park is one of the few in exitsence in this country, he added.

Vets to Benefit From Auxiliary Bazaar Nov. 30

Lots of food, candy, and Legion auxiliary and veteran-made articles will be featured at the second annual bazaar, November 30, in the evening, at the new American Legion clubhouse, Lemon at La Palma, under chairmanship of Nadine Klapper, president of the local auxiliary.

These rehabilitation sales will see all proceeds going to the Veterans' hobby shops in Los Angeles, Leigion auxiliary members stated. In conjunction with a nationwide program, the shops are run as a part of the Veterans Rehabilitation plan.

Entertainment for the annual event tentatively was scheduled at Monday night's board meeting. Committee members were named and plans are now underway to make this year's bazaar bigger and better than ever, Mrs. Klapper remarked.

Among booths planned will be a hot dog stand, the rehabilitation sales booth, auxiliary's handmade article booth where articles for the home such as aprons will be sold, candy booth and food booth.

Reviewer Speaks

A special Thanksgiving observance highlighted the general meeting of the auxiliary recently at which time Mrs. D. Jerry Youngs brought old and new information on the holiday.

A day set aside for giving of thanks was recorded as early as Biblical times, she disclosed. This observance came into sharp focus in this country with the celebration of Pilgrim colonists with friendly Indians years before the revolutionary days in these United States, she added.

Plans for equipping the new Legion hall kitchen with dishes and silverware were discussed in addition to the November 30 bazaar

Dr. Paul Arnold, commander of the American Legion Post No. 72 of Anaheim, spoke in appreciation of the auxiliary's participation in the dedicatory program for the new Legion hall and for the delicious dinner served on "old-timers" night at the headquarters.

He asked the group to serve the county council dinner in January and requested similar service for the Post meeting at the hall on December 19.

The sackbut was an early form of trombone, according to the Encyclopaedia Brittannica.

Red Cross Needs Seamstresses

Seamstresses wishing to donate their services to aid in creating much needed hospital bed jackets for veterans and servicemen are urged to call at the local chapter offices of the American Red Cross, city hall building.

The garments were neatly cut out by members of the Stanton production group recently under direction of Mrs. Robert Clark.

Those present in addition to Mrs. Clark included Mrs. Ralph Vipond, Mrs. Ada Arnett and Mrs. E. B. Briggs. Lunch was served to the workers by the Anaheim chapter canteen.

Valedor Club Elects Officers

Jim Kerwin was named president of the Anaheim-Fullerton Valedor club at the regular meeting last week at St. Boniface Catholic church's hall.

Other officers to serve with Kerwin include Ivan Kapsner, vice-president; Catherine Lansing, recording secretary; Mary Jane Rigby, corresponding secretary, and Mary Jane Stevenson, treasurer.

Ed Heinz acted as program chairman for the evening. Applauded as a both entertaining and educational speaker was Professor LaFleur of Loyola University who discussed "Alcohol—It's Effects and Derivatives."

Next meeting of the club, which comprises young people of both St. Boniface and St. Mary (Fullerton) Catholic churches, will be Tuesday evening, November 29.

Flyer Jack Gregg 'Under Glass' at Pickwick Cafe

Possessed with the pep of breakfast food shot from guns, a camera study of Jack (Jesus Rodriguez Richardo Reynaldo Gonzales) Gregg, orange rancher-inventor, has just been "blown-up" and framed beneath glass of the Pickwick Cafe counter, 225 South Los Angeles street, by photographer-hobbiest Horace Lytell, owner of the Axle & Frame Service Company, this city.

Pilot Gregg was caught by the camera's eye in the process of adjusting some of the four-yard-long, well-ground, wooden gears of his super-contraption which appeared as the Leavitt Ford float entry in the annual Hallowe'en parade. This fantasy, run by two motors, an electric generator and a couple of drivers, depicted a Rube Goldberg-Gregg nightmare whereby a baseball bat hitting a squirrel set off a chain reaction of gyrating animals and other objects.

Gregg, as he meshes the gears from beneath a shock of hair overshadowing his brow, wears a deep glare of stoic puzzlement which might be likened to that shown by an ancestral Indian viewing his first white man.

Steady coffee consumers at the cafe, who admired a smaller edition of this epic piece of photoare, are expressing hearty appreciation for the large job.

"It's enough to make any camera shutter," one wise-acre quipped.

Would Prevent 'McLain Type' Solicitations

Sacramento (WNS) — Legislation to prevent citizens from being victimized by the solicitations of self-styled non-profit and charitable organizations has been advocated by assemblyman Harold K. Levering of Santa Monica.

He said he believed organizations which solicit funds from the public should be required to publish audited statements of revenues and expenditures.

Levering denounced such organizations as the McLain Citizens Committee declaring he will also press for a measure to prohibit the solicitation of funds from persons receiving aged and blind aid.

"It was never intended that persons in need of state or county aid should receive grants in excess of their actual needs," Levering said. "The money is granted in these cases for the purpose of enabling these persons to secure food, clothing and shelter and not to enable them to make donations or pay dues to any organization, charitable or otherwise."

Any legislative proposal along these lines cannot be acted upon until the regular session in 1951. Levering indicated however he will ask the legislative counsel to make a thorough study of the problems so that proper measures can be drafted which will not conflict with constitutional provisions of the state.

Poet Cagers Open Season December 3

Whittier.—Coach Aubrey Bonham is running his Whittier College Poets through intensive daily drills in preparation for a rugged 26-game basketball schedule beginning December 3.

The Poets open against the San Diego State Aztecs in the Border City and play their first home game, December 9, against the Occidental Tigers to open Southern California Intercollegiate Conference competition.

Bonham will take his Poets to Los Angeles National College Basketball Championship, co-sponsored by Pepperdine College and the Helms Athletic Foundation, December 14. Following that, the Quakers will swing north on a road trip, then return to finish their schedule, and wind up the S.C.I.C. play.

Compton-Little Rock in Shrine Charity Tilt

Shriners of this community were notified today by Potentate George E. Sallor of Al Malaikah Temple that Stanton A. Bruned, general chairman of the Shrine Hospital Committee, has arranged for the first annual intersectional junior college football game to be played between Compton College and Little Rock, Ark., Junior College in the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum on Saturday, December 3. The kick-off is scheduled for 2 p.m. and there will be a series of spectacular half-time events.

One hundred per cent of the net proceeds will go for the Los Angeles Unit of the Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children, for which ground-breaking is scheduled early in 1950.

General admission will be $1.00; $1.50 for reserved seats and youngsters under 12 will be admitted for 50 cents.

General Chairman Bruner stated that he hopes to make this an annual money-raising event for the Los Angeles hospital. After the building is completed and the equipment purchased, maintenance money will still be needed.

Our neighbor has figured out how to mow his lawn without effort—he lets his wife do it.

Favor Santa Ana in Turkey Day Game with Fullerton

Orange county gridiron fans are all set for their annual Turkey Day classic between Santa Ana and Fullerton Junior colleges to be played Thanksgiving Day at the Santa Ana Municipal bowl.

Bill Cook's undefeated, untied Dons will be out not only to defeat Fullerton but also to make a loud enough whack to cause the Little Rose Bowl officials to stand up and take note.

Whether Ed Goddard can get his Indians whooped up enough to hit the warpath come Thursday remains to be seen. His team has come through with but two victories against six losses and a tie.

The high-flying Dons who play out of just about every formation ever devised are certain to be prohibitive favorites against the Indians who saw fit to mutiny against their coach mid-way during the season.

Smoke Peace Pipe

However all parties concerned took deep drags on the peace pipes and reports from the north indicate that Goddard's Braves are set to clean some scalps off the touch-down-minded Dons.

Cook is taking no changes and has been reminding his boys that Santa Ana has yet to experience an easy win over Fullerton.

Fullerton will be at full strength for the first time since early season with Bob Ferguson and Bill Newton both back in the line-up. Ferguson who led the nation's scorers as a prep star at Fullerton high and has been a standout in the Eastern conference this year is figured to give the Dons no little trouble.

His side-kick, speedy Bill Newton should also make the Santa Ana defense stay on their toes.

Don Injuries

Over Santa Ana way, the picture isn't quite as rosy with fullback Fred Mirchoff nursing a bruised hip, Franny Kluewer disabled with a deep cut over his left eye and co-captain Carlos Lillywhite a doubtful starter as a result of a scrimmage-sustained chest injury.

End Ed Nearing who reinjured his ankle at San Berdoo last week is definitely out. The silver lining on the Don overcast is the return of first string left tackle Dick Adams who though used sparingly last week is reported to be raring to go against Fullerton.

State Releases 76,689 Pheasants

Sacramento, (WNS)—The state division of fish and game announced today that it had released a total of 76,689 pheasants in 42 counties this year, topping all previous records.

Of the total birds released, the division said 250 were set free in Orange county.

All male pheasants released, according to Carl Van Ornum, chief of game farms, are banded, and hunters are urged to return the metal leg band to the division's Ferry Building Office in San Francisco, giving the location and date of the kill.

The state maintains 14 game farms, and the cost of raising pheasants for release is about $2.25 per bird, according to estimates made by officials of the division.

Marie Staehnke Claimed by Death

Marie Staehnke, a native of Germany, passed away at her home at 601 South Philadelphia street, on Saturday, Nov. 19. She had been a resident of Anaheim since 1909.

The deceased was a member of Zion Lutheran church and the Ladies Aid.

Surviving is her husband, Fred Staehnke, two sisters, Mrs. Elsie Becker and Miss Ida Vorpahl, and two brothers, Ernst and Herman Vorpahl, all in Germany.

Funeral services will be held at Zion Lutheran church Wednesday afternoon at 2 p.m. with the pastor, the Rev. L. E. Eifert, in charge of the last rites. Interment will be in Anaheim cemetery with Backs, Campbell and Kaulbars mortuary in charge of arrangements.

Bank of America Resources Increase

Total resources of Bank of America rose $149,161,813 since June 30, according to the comptroller of the currency's call report of November 1, just released. Total deposits increased $94,164,531 in the period.

Loans and discounts outstanding November 1 were $31,145,599 higher than at June 30, and the bank's investment in United States obligations increased by $78,278,100.

Deposit totals shown in the call report do not include the figures of foreign branches or of reciprocal bank balances. On this basis the November 1 totals are: deposits $5,415,771,974; total resources $5,859,355,152; loans and discounts $2,705,113,276; U. S. obligations $1,641,882,177.

Anaheim Plant Gave Growers Doubled Returns

Installation of the new high vacuum-low temperature equipment for processing quick-frozen concentrates of citrus juices at the Anaheim plant of Real Gold Citrus Products this year resulted in doubled returns to the citrus grower, according to Frank S. Gunter, chairman of the Board of Mutual Orange Distributors, parent organization of R.G.C.P.

In his remarks at the cooperative's annual meeting Gunter voiced high praise for the "foresight of General Manager Robbins Russell who early realized that the catastrophic freeze of last winter would result in greatly increased tonnage at the plant.

"Inasmuch as the manufacture of these frozen products required a low temperature process to preserve the quality of the fruit flavor, a special type of low temperature concentrator had to be constructed to produce the high quality products demanded by buyers.

"As there was no plant of its kind in California, it was necessary to erect a pilot plant at South Gate by the C. E. Howard Corp., before ours was installed to insure successful operation. After some delays in construction and low sugar content of the fruit, we began running substantial tonnage by August.

"We are now able to process under the new method a tremendously increased volume of fruit. The quality of the frozen juice has exceeded our expectation and the demand is taxing plant capacity at the present time. The results fully justify the expense entailed," Gunter said.

Solons Declared Ineligible for Interim Work

Sacramento, (WNS)—Fourteen assemblymen and two state senators have been declared ineligible for further interim committee work by State Controller Thomas H. Kuchel.

Kuchel said all have exceeded the 40-day maximum limitation which a member of the legislature may serve upon a single house committee under the terms of a new constitutional amendment adopted November 8.

He said while members are not prohibited from continuing to serve upon a committee they cannot draw the $15 per day expense allowance granted to members of the legislature for service upon an interim committee.

Included in the group are Senators Fred Weybret of Salinas, who is presently heading an investigation of the activities of pension promoter George H. McLain, and Senator Hugh M. Burns, chairman of the Senate Un-American Activities committee.

Assemblymen listed are Bernard Brady, San Francisco; Randal F. Dickey and Francis Dunn, Jr., both of Alameda county; Clayton A. Dills, Thomas M. Erwin, John Evans, Carl Fletcher, Ernest Geddes, Jonathan Holibaugh, Vernon Kilpatrick, Lester McMillan and A. I. Stewart, all of Los Angeles; Richard McCollister, Mill Valley; and John F. Thompson, San Jose.

Death Valley Encampment to Relive History

Death Valley,—Citizens of California were invited today to take part in the biggest "camping out" party in Western history on December 3 here in Death Valley.

Free campsites near Furnace Creek will be provided Friday night, December 2nd and Saturday night December 3rd, for those attending the Death Valley Centennial Pageant at 2 p.m. December 3. The pageant will be the first of the major outdoor spectacles in Southren California sponsored by the State Centennials Commission. Its purpose is to honor the heroism of the pioneers as exemplified in the experience of the Manly-Jayhawker party in Death Valley in 1849.

Campers will be provided with western enterainment, including square dancing and community singing.

Each camping party is requested to be sure to bring its own bedding rolls, food and water.

Both A. W. Noon, president of the Death Valley '49ers, Inc., and Lloyd D. Mitchell, Southern California Manager of the State Centennials commission, emphasized that due to the isolated location of the pageant site it is necessary for visitors to take their food, water and sleeping bags. Sanitary facilities will be provided by the sponsoring organizations.

Mitchell said that the task of adding to the comfort of campers will be greatly aided if each prospective visitor will send his name and address to the Centennial's Commission office, 1212 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles (on the accompanying blank.) In this way, officials can get a rough idea of the number intending to attend the pageant.

The pageant-spectacle, free to the public, will be presented in Desolation Canyon near Furnace Creek. Covered wagons, a 20-mule team and a cast of "pioneers" will re-enact the Death Valley trek and the recue dash of William Lewis Manly and John Rogers who saved part of the group in one of the most amazing feats of heroism in American history.

The action of the pageant will be accompanied by special music composed by Fred Grofe, the creator of "Grand Canyon Suite." The Hollywood Bowl Orchestra will play, under Grofe's direction. A 100-voice chorus will assist. As a climax, a "desert cavalcade" will move past the audience which will be cared for in specially-erected steel grandstands holding 6,000 persons.

Director James Tray of the Pasadena Playhouse is busy today instructing the cast for the pageant, which will be given authenticity by trained ox-teams hauling covered wagons imported from other western states. The 20-mule team will be driven from Owens Valley in a special trek to the site of the performance. Manager Larry Shea and Cavalcade Manager David Malloy are arranging many special effects to aid in the presentation. Otto K. Oleson of Los Angeles, a member of the production committee headed by Supervisor Ardis Walker of Kern county, will be in charge of special sound effects.

Visitors can go to Death Valley by three routes, it was pointed out yesterday by Lloyd D. Mitchell. These are by way of Mojave and Olancha on the Owens Valley Road; via Mojave and Trona over a new section of highway beyond Trona; and by way of San Bernardino, Shoshone, Baker and Death Valley Junction.

"This outing is the opportunity of a lifetime, to come and join in a real camp and to pay tribute to the spirit of the pioneers," Mitchell said. "The roads to Death Valley are good; it is an easy 300-mile trip from Los Angeles, and we intend to do everything possible to see that everyone enjoys the great outdoor spectacle. It is important, however, that each visitor who intends to stay overnight should bring plenty of food, water and covers, because hotel accommodations are, of course, inadequate for a big crowd. If visitors cooperate in these few important essentials the celebration will be one of the most unusual and fascinating ever held."

Preparations for the pageant, one of the major events during California's Centennial celebrations from 1946 through the Year of Statehood in 1950, have been under way for a year.

Florence G. Clark Death Friday

Florence G. Clark, 73 years of age, passed away at the home of her nephew, Leslie Farrell at 203 East Wilhelmina street, this city, last Friday, Nov. 18. She arrived here three days before her death from her home in Los Angeles, 3507 Marmion Way. She was born in San Bernardino.

The deceased was a member of the Congregational church in Los Angeles.

Surviving other than the nephew is a sister, Mrs. Edna McCracken of Los Angeles.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the Congregational church in Perris with the Rev. Magnuson in charge of the last rites. Interment was in the Perris cemetery with Backs, Campbell and Kaulbars mortuary of this city, in charge of arrangements.

Authorize New Auto Insignia For Physicians

"A new streamlined automobile insignia for licensed physicians has been approved for use," Clifford E. Peterson, California Highway Patrol Commissioner announced today.

The metal marker is in the form of a shield and is attached to license plates. It has a light royal blue background, dull gold caduceus and shining gold letters reading "California Licensed Physician."

"The emblem is designed to provide exemption from provisions of the state speed low when a physician is answering an emergency call," Peterson said.

People who profit by their mistakes will find they really have made no mistakes.

To help the California Centennials Commission in estimating the number of persons who will attend the Death Valley Pageant December 3, please clip and mail, either in an envelope or pasted on a penny postcard, the following:

SERVICE MAN GUEST OF ROULAND FAMILY

S/Sgt. John D. Hughes, who has been stationed with the United States Marine Corps in Hawaii for the past two years, is home on furlough visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rouland, 9375 South Hansen road, Anaheim. He and his family and Mr. and Mrs. Rouland had been next door neighbors in Springfield, Illinois. The Marine sergeant plans to enjoy the Thanksgiving holiday with the local couple and then will leave for a base on the east coast.

HE'S DESTINIED TO BE A GOLFER, MAYBE

If youth is any indication, month-old Donald Minder, may be destinied to become an avid golfer like his father. Accompanied by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Minder of Costa Mesa, Donald, on the occasion of his first outing, was the smallest spectator at a county golf course last week. Of course this theory could apply to his three-year-old sister, Laurel. She went along also. Both Mr. Minder and his wife, the former Bebe Quarton, formerly resided in Anaheim.

Elaine Smith-Pasadena Man Wed In Single-Ring Nuptials Wednesday

Lovely in a gown of white slipper satin, Miss Elaine Marie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene E. Smith, 10371 Brookhurst road, Anaheim, became the bride of James Richard Holliday of Pasadena, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wass of Vista, California, yesterday (Wednesday) evening at 8 o'clock in the First Baptist church of Fullerton, with the Rev. E. Woody Hodson, pastor, officiating for the single-ring ceremony.

Baskets of white and pink gladiolas and white chrysanthemums were arranged in the church interspersed with palms and white candles.

The bride's veil cascaded from a tiara of orange blossoms. Her gown was designed with long sleeves, a scalloped bertha collar, a lace yoke and a full skirt accented with scallops beginnig at the waistline. It was fashioned by her grandmother. Traditional sentiment was found in a pendant belonging to her mother, and her grandmother's handkerchief.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride carried a bouquet of white carnations blended with white satin streamers resting on a white Bible.

Maid of honor was the bride's twin sister, Evelyn Smith, who wore a taffeta gown of pastel apple green of identical design to that of the bridal gown. She carried a bouquet of white and pink gladioli.

Three-year-old Frances Smith, cousin of the bride, clad in a frock of rose taffeta, a replica of the bride's gown, was the flower girl. Ring bearer was Mark Reade, 4, nephew of the bride. Serving as best man was Don Barnhart.

Nuptial soloists were Nathan Reade and Harold Todd who sang "The Lord's Prayer," "Because" and "Oh Promise Me." They were accompanied by Mrs. Maxon Foss, organist of the First Baptist church of Fullerton, who played the traditional wedding music.

Immediately following the ceremony, the more than 150 relatives and friends present offered their best wishes and congratulations.

Mrs. Smith, the bride's mother, chose a black ensemble worn with pink accessories and a corsage of white and pink carnations for the occasion. Mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Waas, was attired in a teal blue ensemble accented with brown accessories and a white and pink carnation corsage.

White and pink gladioli were arranged throughout the church basement where the reception was held after the nuptials. Mary Lee Smith and Mrs. N. L. Reade assisted with the hostess duties.

After cutting and sharing the first piece of their wedding cake, the young couple left for a five-day honeymoon at Big Bear. For traveling the new Mrs. Holliday chose a navy blue gabardine outfit worn with dark red accessories and her bridal corsage.

Upon their return the couple will live in Pasadena where the bridegroom is associated with the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company.

The bride is a senior at the Los Angeles General hospital School of Nursing and plans to continue her studies there with her twin sister, Evelyn Smith. She is a graduate of Anaheim Union high school and attended Fullerton Junior college.

Her bridegroom, who served two years in the United States Navy, is a graduate of Pasadena high school and attended Pasadena Junior college.

Pre-nuptial courtesies honoring the bride included a bridal shower given November 4, in Fullerton, by Mrs. J. D. Smith and Mrs. N. L. Reade and a bridal shower given November 14, in Garden Grove by Mrs. Everett Jones.

CARE Extended To Soviet Zone

Extension of CARE's non-profit food package service into the Soviet zone of Germany was made known today by Paul Comly French, national executive director of CARE.

French, stating that the packages will be mailed into the Soviet zone from stockpiles in other parts of Europe, said:

"We have undertaken this latest expansion of CARE service in response to the many requests we have received from Americans seeking a quick, sure and efficient means of helping their friends and relatives in the Soviet zone."

Edward J. Flynn, Western States Director for CARE, announced that the local CARE office at 217 West Ninth is now accepting orders for CARE's Thrift Food Package at $5.75 and the ten-pound Lard Package at $4.50 for delivery to the Soviet zone.

He pointed out that there are approximately 18,000,000 Germans living in the eastern area of the country in the Soviet zone.

Science Scores Against Arthritis

Early Victory Possible in Three-Thousand Year Struggle

By QUENTIN REYNOLDS

In recent years this reporter has been fortunate enough to witness many news events of far-reaching historical significance.

It is a melancholy fact that with few exceptions these events have sprung from human actions either evil in conception, or good only in the sense that they were instituted remedially to counteract evil.

It is therefore distinctly gratifying to be able to comment on the single important news event of 1949 whose implications are purely indisputably good in terms of human welfare.

The story deals with a discovery of medical science—a discovery which may at long last enable men to control an enemy whose existence probably predates that of man.

The discovery is known as Compound E or coristone, a hormone of marvelous physical properties obtained from the adrenal glands of cattle. The enemy is rheumatic disease, the most widespread of all chronic ailments, claiming seven and a half million American victims.

The bones of prehistoric monsters offer evidence that these creatures were subject to osteoarthritis—one form of rheumatic disease. Dinosaurs are extinct, but osteoarthritis is still with us. Hippocrates, the ancient Greek "Father of Medicine," knew childhood's deadliest foe, rheumatic fever, and described its symptoms.

Physiotherapy, extensively used by the early Romans, is today still the most universally accepted method for treating some types of rheumatic disease. It has persisted through the centuries, not because it is particularly effective, but because science has known nothing better.

Cortisone is something better.

Scientists work in teams. And although two Mayo Clinic doctors, Dr. Philip S. Hench and Dr. Edward C. Kendall, are entitled to most of the credit for cortisone, it is important to remember that other members of the team at Mayo Clinic, and teams of scientists at other institutions as well, made contributions without which the work could not have been successful.

It is even more important to remember that the work is by no means complete. Shortly after the efficacy of Compound E in the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis was made known, it was discovered that another hormone, ACTH, stimulates the human adrenal gland to produce its own Compound E. ACTH is obtained from the pituitary glands of hogs, and the possibility of stimulating the human pituitary gland to produce its own ACTH is now a problem under consideration.

Present sources of supply for both cortisone and ACTH are inadequate. This means that substitutes, either for the substances themselves, or for their sources must be developed. Further, these hormones are effective only for some rheumatic diseases, most importantly rheumatic fever and rheumatoid arthritis. Science has yet to discover effective treatments for all rheumatic diseases.

It adds up to the fact that further research is necessary.

That's why I think that this year's campaign of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation is important. This organization was founded last year to sponsor efforts directed against rheumatic disease. Its membership includes some of the nation's most famous physicians and research scientists. Its research program, if realized may provide us with the final answers.

The Foundation wants the American people to help realize that program by contributing the sum of two million dollars to finance it.

Seven and a half million afflicted Americans provide seven and a half million good reasons why the 1949 campaign of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation deserves your support. If you agree with me, sit down and make out a check, or fold a bill into an envelope. Addres sthe envelope simply ARTHRITIS: care of your local postmaster.

Your contribution may mean more good news in 1950.

X-Ray 1587 for TB In Orange County

With the approach of the Annual Christmas Seal Sale, the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health Association reminded Orange county citizens of one of its important projects with the announcement that 1587 persons were x-rayed throughout the county last week.

It is expected that 7 or 8 cases of tuberculosis will be found as a result of this survey. Tuberculosis specialists report that one person in 200 has TB and doesn't know it.

The importance of casefinding is pointed up by the Orange County Health Departmenat. Dr. Edwin Brauner, TB Controller for the department reports that 42 deaths occurred in the county and 173 cases discovered this last year. The influx of population and improved casefinding through the Health Department and the Tuberculosis Association are factors in a slight rise in the number of cases over last year, it is stated.

Results of the recent chest x-ray survey will be mailed in three or four weeks.

Tuberculosis Association officials are urging everyone to fight tuberculosis two ways: First, thru a periodic chest x-ray and second, through the purchase and use of Christmas Seals which provide casefinding.

APPLE VEAL SALAD
(Hearty lunch in itself)

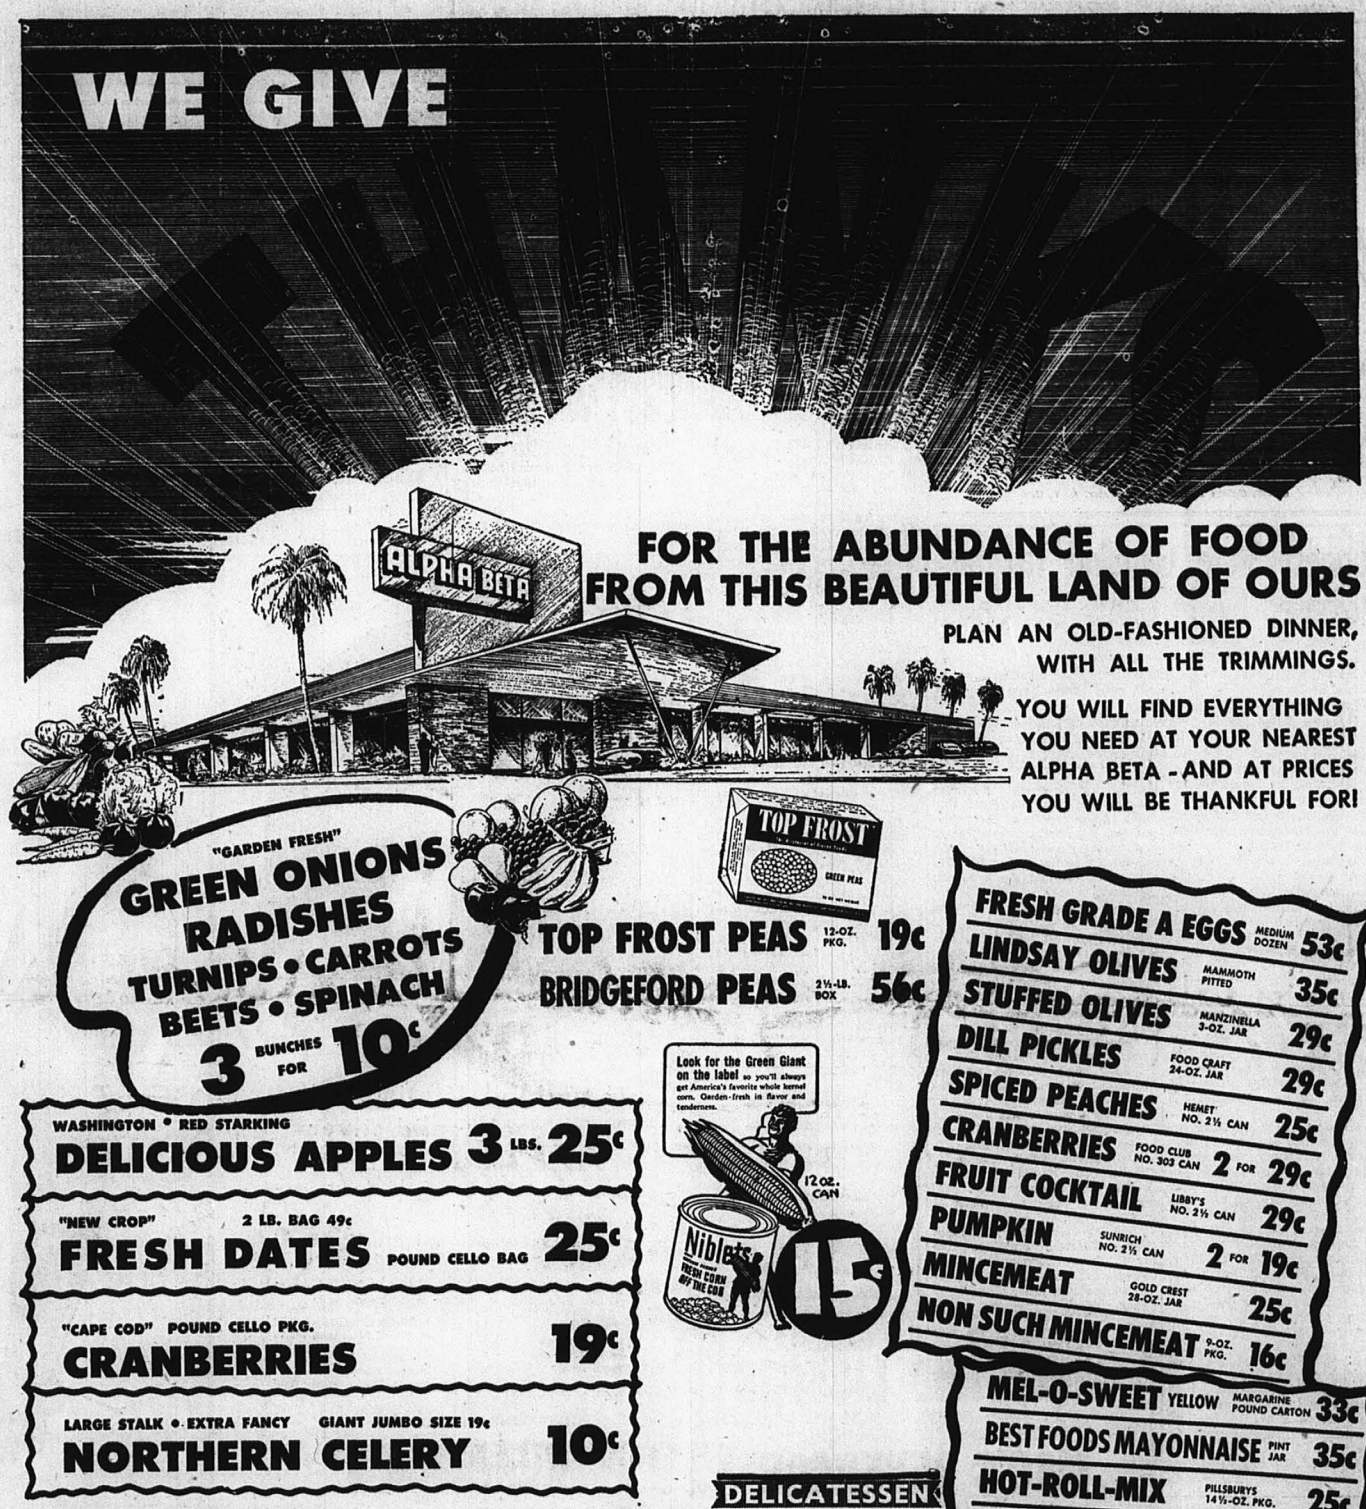

1 cup diced apples, skins left on
1 cup diced cooked veal
1 cup cooked peas
1 cup cooked string beans
1 cup celery
Salt to taste

Mix ingredients with mayonnaise and serve on lettuce. Pork is good instead of veal.

SCRAPPLE UP-TO-DATE

1 pound pork shoulder
1 quart water
1½ cups corn meal
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon finely chopped celery leaves
½ cup chopped parsley
½ teaspoon sage
1 egg, beaten
Cracker crumbs
Bacon drippings

Simmer meat in water until tender. Remove meat, cool and grind. Measure remaining liquid and add enough water to make one quart. Bring broth to boil, and add corn meal slowly, stirring constantly until thick. Add seasonings and meat. Pour mixture into loaf pan and chill until set. Slice, dip in egg, then in sifted cracker crumbs. Brown in drippings. Serves 8 to 10.

Suggest State Gasoline Tax be Increased by 1½ Cents per Gallon

By EARL G. WATERS
Western News Service

Sacramento (WNS)—A suggestion that the state gasoline tax be increased by 1½ cents was made here today by two key members of the legislature.

Senator Randolph A. Collier, author of the Collier-Burns highway measure under which the state increased its gas tax by 1½ cents in 1947 and augmented state highway construction funds by $75 million dollars, said today he favors the increase.

"It is obvious to all," Collier asserted, "that the state is not catching up with its highway needs. At the same time our population is increasing steadily."

Two years ago Collier advocated a straight three cent gas tax increase to finance what he reported to be a billion dollar highway deficiency program. The legislature, in compromise action reduced the tax increase to 1½ cents to bring the present gas tax to six cents, 1½ cents being the federal tax.

At the same time Assemblyman Richard McCollister of Mill Valley, who opposed the Collier proposal of a three cent tax increase, said today he will now support the move for an additional 1½ cents tax.

"I agree we are not building the highways which are needed now. In my own county we have a hodge-podge of three and four lane roadways which are more dangerous than the old two lane roads," McCollister said.

The Marin county legislator said he would support the proposal made yesterday by Clyde Edmondson, Redwood Empire Association president, that the state seek funds from the federal government to finance an immediate highway construction program.

"I have asked the legislative counsel to study the problem and determine what enabling action is required by the legislature to permit the state to borrow up to two billion dollars from the federal government to build highways," he said.

McCollister also suggested that the matter of a state bond issue to finance the highway program be considered. Two years ago Governar Earl Warren expressed unalterably opposition to such a bond issue. At that time he said he did not believe in bond issues but was firmly convinced the state should continue on a "pay as you go" program.

Since then, McCollister pointed out, the governor has modified his position on bonds by advocating the passage of the $250 million school bond issue adopted by the voters November 8.

"At our present rate of revenue for highway building we will never make up our highway deficiencies," McCollister asserted, "we have only $76 million per year revenue to meet a deficiency estimated in excess of two billions. I favor any program which will permit the building of highways now."

McCollister qualified his advocacy of a gas tax increase by declaring flatly that any increase should be earmarked "as strictly for new state highway construction." He pointed out that much of the benefit of the previous gas tax increase was lost to new roadway construction by the provision that the city and county government should share in the increase.

Senator Collier disagreed with McCollister in the matter of financing highways through borrowing by declaring that he did not believe the contractors could handle construction if it were dumped in their laps all at once.

Edmondson had said yesterday that the associated general contractors assured him they could meet the needs of the state.

Collier said that "while perhaps they could it would probably remove all competitive bids by spreading the contracts so fast." This, he said, would result in excessive costs for construction.

Another view was presented by Senator Jack B. Tenney of Los Angeles who was the lone senate vote against the gas tax increase two years ago.

"I am against all tax increases," Tenney declared. "I will not vote for anything which will further increase the load which the average wage earner must carry.

Tenney suggested that if the highways are not being built fast enough the state launch a toll road system.

If that were done those who use the road would pay for it.

WASHINGTON AS SEEN

By Congressman JOHN PHILLIPS

Not all writers of fiction have their names in the weekly lists of "best sellers." Quite a few work in the propaganda sections of the government agencies. When I think of the trees that have to die to provide the pulp for this out-pouring of imagination and inaccuracy, my heart bleeds. Maybe a good business opportunity in the United States would be the manufacture and sale of waste baskets.

I am indebted to a little weekly report called "Human Events" for calling attention to one of the choicest specimens of government propaganda. Incidentally, this weekly analysis, now in its sixth volume, obtainable only by subscription, is doing a splendid job. The editors are Felix Morley and Frank Hanighen, experienced newspaper men. They seem to be trying to revive the lost art of the "pamphlet," familiar to this nation in the days when our Constitution was signed. Dr. Morley was, for the war years, President of Haverford College. They have gathered a notable group of writers around them.

This particular bit of Administration propaganda, which Human Events reports, must have come out in June. It was from the Department of Justice and it was 39 pages long. Yes, that figure is 39. It was to mark the fourth year in office of Tom Clark, as Attorney General of the United States. That in itself has its amusing touch. Tom Clark is a Texas politician, elevated to the Attorney-Generalship and more recently to the Supreme Court bench. His job has been no bed of roses. The lefties have been trying to put Clark Clifford in his place, and his prosecution of subversive characters, or failure to prosecute, in and out of the administration, has pleased nobody.

The release refers, on page 3, to "harmonious working relationships, not only in the internal affairs of the department but between other government organizations as well." That was just about the time when J. Edgar Hoover was persuaded with some difficulty not to hand in his resignation because of Tom Clark's bungling and interference in the subversive cases.

On page 31, there is some exultation over the deportation of Hans and Louisa Eisler but, as Human Events remarks, there is silence about the famous self-deportee, Gerhart Eisler, whom the department allowed to slip through their fingers.

But the choice bit of the 39 page comic book is why there are so many subversives in the United States before the first administrations of Franklin Delano Roosevelt, arriving during the Harding, Coolidge or Hoover periods. Under President Truman, they are being shipped back as fast as the law allows."

I rise to remark that any comment by me, after that gem of mandacity, would be anti-climax.

CALIFORNIA Last Week

(Western News Service)

The Governor: Although he has not announced his candidacy for re-election Earl Warren last week indicated pointedly he is still a contender when he jumped into the forthcoming campaign swinging. Warren had just heard Democrat James Roosevelt announce himself as a candidate on both the Democratic and Republican tickets while declaring strong opposition to the California cross filing primary elections. Said: Warren: It reminds me of the politician who said "there are times when one must rise above principle."

The Legislature: With the passage of a new Constitutional amendment restricting the number of days for which a legislator can receive expenses incurred while doing interim work members of both houses found themselves in the position of being committed to a large amount of work for which they will not be reimbursed. Most members were quick to indicate their work will continue anyway. One committee even expanded by appointing Los Angeles assemblyman William Rosenthal to study traffic law enforcement throughout the state.

The Departments: State Finance director James S. Dean was concluding department hearings on budget requests which will be presented to the legislature next March at which time legislative auditor Roland A. Vandegrift has predicted the state will receive the shocking high budget of one and one-half billion dollars.

Placentia Man Passes Sunday

Louie R. Valenzuela, 41, a native of Placentia, died Sunday afternoon at the Anaheim Community hospital as the result of injuries received about 10 hours earlier when the automobile he was driving ran into a power pole at the intersection of Morse and Van Buren roads.

He had lived in the Placentia-Yorba Linda area all his life. Surviving are his wife, Flora J. Valenzuela; four sons, Donald, Daniel, Robert and Larry Valenzuela, and one daughter, Linda Valenzuela, all of the family home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Valenzuela of Brea; four sisters, Mrs. Carmelita Cerrvantez of Corona, Mrs. Dorothy Been of Texas, Mrs. Beatrice Padilla of Yorba Linda, and Miss Elvira Valenzuela of Brea; five brothers, Frank R. and Ronald R., both of Yorba Linda, Mike R. (a twin brother) of Brea, Ernest R. of Los Angeles and Phil R. Valenzuela of Hawaiian Gardens.

The deceased man was a member of the Catholic church. Funeral arrangements have not been completed and will be announced later by the Hilgenfeld mortuary, Anaheim.

The first daily newspaper in the United States was established in 1784.

Open Bids for Addition to State Capital

Sacramento, (WNS)—With steel work virtually completed on the new addition to the state capitol, the state division of architecture today opened bids for completion of the building.

Swinnerton & Walberg Co., Sacramento, were low bidders for the general work, asking $4,155,729.

The other bidders were:

Heating, ventilating and air conditioning, S. Glen Hickman, Los Angeles, $610,752; plumbing, J. A. Fazio, Oakland, $163,965; electrical work, Victory Engineering Co., Los Angeles, $574,274; and elevators and dumb waiter, Westinghouse Electric Co., San Francisco, $361,581.

The addition when completed will be six stories in height with a full basement, and 340,000 square feet of floor area. It will cost approximately $7,000,000.

Top Women in Public Health

Three of the world's leading women in the field of public health consult in New Delhi, India, during a meeting of the U.N. World Health Organization (WHO), called to draw up plans for the improvement of health conditions in the countries of South East Asia. Left to right: Dr. Martha Eliot, of the U.S.A., Assistant Director-General of WHO; Rajkumari Amrit Kaur, India's Minister of Health; and Mrs. U. Aung San, widow of the late Prime Minister of Burma, now Director of Burma's Women's and Children's Welfare Board.

Plan Observance Of Thanksgiving at VA Hospitals

Spirit of Thanksgiving will be expressed in religious observances and traditional festivities at the Veterans Administration Hospitals of Birmingham in Van Nuys, San Fernando, and the Center at West Los Angeles, according to hospital managers.

Complete menus have been planned for Thursday noon, dining rooms will be colorfully decorated, and tray favors will add a gay touch to meals for patients who cannot leave their beds.

Musicians will tour buildings and wards. Welfare groups will send hundreds of helpers to the hospitals to aid both patients and guests visiting them.

Chapels will feature Thanksgiving text and music, and the famous bedside radio networks will carry the services throughout the buildings.

Many veterans will be guests at the professional football game during the afternoon at the Coliseum between the New York Yankees and the Los Angeles Dons.

Among features at San Fernando VA Hospital will be a stage show Thursday evening with name stars holding the bill. Special menus at the VA Center will carry address spaces on the reverse for sending to relatives and friends. Birmingham VA Hospital will see the civilian volunteers dressed in early-day costumes.

VA offices will be closed all day in honor of the holiday.

Invite 2,000 To Governor's Employment Meet

Sacramento, (WNS)—The office of Governor Earl Warren has announced that more than 2,000 invitations have been mailed to leaders in every phase of California's economic life to attend the two-day conference on employment here December 5 and 6.

The invitation emphasized that one of the most important problems in California is to have enough jobs for an expanding population. He stated the state has gained more than 3,000,000 people since 1940 and is still growing at the rate of 300,000 annually.

Caution Needed To Prevent Auto Accidents

Sacramento — Numerous recent serious traffic accidents traceable to unfavorable weather and road conditions drew words of warning today from Clifferd E. Peterson, Commissioner of the California Highway Patrol.

"The best insurance against trouble in bad weather is extreme caution," Peterson said. "This means caution before starting on a trip as well as during the trip. Be sure your brakes are in good condition, that your windshield wiper is working and that your lights are functioning properly. Tires with worn out treads are dangerous on slippery roads, so check each one carefully. A few minutes of caution may save a liftime of sorrows."

Peterson also issued a word of caution to persons planning to drive in snow country.

"Call the nearest Highway Patrol office and inquire if chains are needed in the areas you plan to visit," he said. "Never take a chance without them. And watch your speed—it is much harder to stop a fast moving car on icy pavement than it is on dry pavement. Don't skid yourself."

PROUD PARENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Morales, 317 West Elm street, this city, became the parents of a baby son who arrived at Fullerton General hospital, Friday.

Thomas Jefferson and John Adams died on the same day, July 4, 1826.

Springfield Enters Float In Rose Parade

The City of Springfield, Illinois, home of Abraham Lincoln, will enter a floral float depicting Lincoln and his ideals, as our greatest American Heritage, in the 1950 Tournament of Roses, January 2, Parade Chairman John H. Biggar announced today.

Springfield's Mayor, Harry A. Eielson, will journey to Pasadena, arriving here December 27. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Eielson, their son and daughter, and will be distinguished guests of the Tournament while visiting Pasadena.

Miss Dorothy Martin, 92 East Orange Grove avenue, Pasadena, acted as one of the Tournament's "ambassadors" while visiting Springfield last summer. Miss Martin presented a brochure to Mayor Eielson at that time inviting his city to participate in the 1950 Tournament under the theme, "Our American Heritage."

Mayor Eielson had a special interest in Pasadena's famed floral pageant as he participated in the 1919 World War I Rose Bowl game when the U. S. Naval Training Station team played the U. S. Marine Barracks team, and is well acquainted with our festival here.

Parade committeeman Virgil White visited Springfield last week and final plans for the eastern entry were completed at that time.

The float will show in flowers the Lincoln Memorial in Springfield, his home there, and the famous log-splitting episode.

Sixty-five entries have been received so far for the 1950 event.

Entries have been closed for several weeks, but the Tournament Parade committee is still expecting to hear favorably from entries that were invited prior to the closing date.

Mr. Biggar announced that approximately seventy floats will participate in the 61st annual parade in addition to the many fine marching bands and equestrians.

Repurchase of GI Leave to Complete Term

Any veterans who are close to the exhaustion of their entitlement to Federal educational help under the GI Bill of Rights are advised by Ben Lieberman, Orange County Service Officer, to look into the matter of repurchasing some of the leave time charged against them.

They may find, he said, that it is possible to extend the period of their right to GI Bill subsistence and tuition payments.

Unless a veteran-student specifically requests otherwise in advance, he is placed on "leave" for 15 days at the end of the enrollment period. He is paid subsistence allowance for this leave time, but it is charged against his total entitlement.

If a veteran now finds that he has only enough GI Bill entitlement to carry him, for example, to a date 12 days before the midpoint of a college term, he would have to complete the term at his own expense. But if he has entitlement enough to carry him past that mid-term date, he can complete the term at government expense.

Under new regulations, that veteran can now "buy back" 13 days of his leave time, by refunding to Uncle Sam the subsistence paid him for those 13 days. The cost of this is far less than the monetary gain to the veteran that would result.

Further information and assistance along this line is available to interested veterans at the Orange County Veterans Service Office, 225 N. Broadway, Santa Ana.

Mary E. Enloe Taken By Death

Mary Elizabeth Enloe, 83, a native of Missouri who had resided in Anaheim for the past two years, died early Friday morning at the home of her son, 215 Melrose street, after a prolonged illness.

She is survived by five sons, Clarence D. and Lon V. Enloe of Missouri, Charles H. Enloe of North Carolina, and Ben W. and W. Harvey Enloe both of Anaheim; two sisters, Mrs. Mat Piercie and Mrs. Cassie Smith both of Missouri; two brothers, Walter Blackburn of Missouri and Andrew Blackburn of Illinois; nine grandchildren and seven great grandchildren. She was a member of the Baptist church in Missouri.

Arrangements were made by Hilgenfeld mortuary, Anaheim, to ship the body to Russellville, Missouri, where funeral services are to be held. Interment was in the family plot in the Enloe cemetery.

Harvest Festival Service Sunday At White Temple

Harvest festival services were held at the White Temple Methodist church, Sunday evening in honor of the Thanksgiving season.

Three choirs of the church participated in the candlelight musical program. Climaxing the musicale, the Cecilian choir, Temple choir and high school choir combined voices to sing "Come Ye Thankful People."

A duet was presented by Mr. and Mrs. Orville Thomason. Quartet selections were interpreted by Jeanne Cariker, Gwen Harlow, Phyllis Herman and Ruth Demaree, under the direction of Mrs. Eral Ryan.

Organist for the church is Mrs. Joe A. Burk. Musical director is Miss Gania Demaree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Demaree.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE THANKSGIVING SERVICE

In conformity with the Proclamation by the President of the United States, Thanksgiving Day services will be held in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. The public is cordially invited.

The Proclamation, designating the day as a day of thanksgiving, will be read by the First Reader. A period will be set aside for the giving of testimonials by Christian Scientists appropriate for the occasion.

The Golden Text of the Thanksgiving Day Lesson-Sermon is from I Thessalonians, and reads, "In every thing give thanks; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you."

In a Scriptural selection Joel declares, "Fear not, O land; be glad and rejoice: for the Lord will do great things . . . Be glad then, ye children of Zion, and rejoice in the Lord your God: for he hath given you the former rain moderately, and he will cause to come down for you the rain, the former rain, and the latter rain in the first month. . . . And ye shall eat in plenty, and be satisfied, and praise the name of the Lord your God, that hath dealt wondrously with you."

Mary Baker Eddy writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:" "God is not moved by the breath of praise to do more than He has already done, nor can the infinite do less than bestow all good, since He is unchanging wisdom and Love." "Asking God to be God is a vain repetition. God is "the same yesterday, and today, and forever;" and He who is immutably right will do right without being reminded of His province."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The Golden Text of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, will be from II Chronicles: "The eyes of the Lord run to and fro throughout the whole earth, to shew himself strong in the behalf of them whose heart is perfect toward him." "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced," is the subject.

It is related in the Acts that the people "gave heed unto those things which Philip spake . . . For unclean spirits, crying with loud voice, came out of many that were possessed with them: and many taken with palsies, and that were lame, were healed . . . But there was a certain man, called Simon, which beforetime in the same city used sorcery, and bewitched the people of Samaria, . . . But when they believed Philip preaching the things concerning the kingdom of God, and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women. Then Simon himself believed also."

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy says, "Ignorance, subtlety, or false charity does not forever conceal error; evil will in time disclose and punish itself . . . To put down the claim of sin, you must detect it, remove the mask, point out the illusion, and thus get the victory over sin and so prove its unreality."

MRS. MINDER VISITS COSTA MESA COUPLE

Mrs. Anna Minder, 205½ South Ohio street, and her grandson, Jimmy Kordahl of Anaheim, enjoyed an informal dinner and evening of conversation at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Minder of Hamilton street, Costa Mesa. Ronald Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Barnes of Costa Mesa, dropped in briefly on the group.

Oil helps grow food for you . . . in Hawaii

Beyond the Islands' coral beaches, behind their blue, cliff-sharp hills, lie some of the most efficiently mechanized farming areas in all the world.

The pineapple you eat and much of the sugar you serve are grown, not in palm-shaded tropical valleys, but on broad fields of rich, red soil . . . contour plowed, expertly cultivated, carefully harvested.

And in all these jobs, oil plays a major part.

Oil powers plows and cultivators; petroleum emulsions control weeds in fields of young cane and pineapple plants; at harvest time, huge Diesel machines rake and load 130 tons of cane an hour, and ripe pineapples are gathered on conveyor belts. Trucks and barges speed the harvest to canneries and mills.

Supplying the oil Hawaii needs has been Standard of California's job ever since kerosene lamps burned in Honolulu's lighthouse. Today, this service has spread to all the Islands . . . provides millions of gallons of petroleum products every year . . . helps insure better living for the Islanders and better food for you.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY OF CALIFORNIA
plans ahead to serve you better
