Anaheim Man Hurt In Santa Ana, Manchester Crash

Dr. Brockway D. Roberts, of 555 S. Walnut st., Anaheim, was seriously injured yesterday at 6:56 p.m. when his car collided with one driven by Robert Everett Alton, 1625 W. Washington st., San, ta Ana, at Manchester blvd., and Santa Ana st., on the west end of Anaheim.

Dr. Roberts was taken to Anaheim Community hospital for observation following the accident. There it was found that he was suffering from a basal skull fracture.

He was crossing the highway at Santa Ana st., an intersection which has been the scene of many accidents recently, when the collision with the Alton car, which was traveling north, occurred. Alton told Anaheim Policeman, Al Hoxie and Earl Vipond that he saw the Roberts machine crossing the highway, but didn't have time to stop.

A. J. Nelson, 533 Pythias st., told the Gazette today that the intersection is dangerous to begin with, and that speeding motorists increase the hazard daily. He revealed that residents of the area are considering circulating a petition to have something done about the situation at the intersection, since many junior high school students cross the highway at that point.

Manhunt on for Liederkranz Jars

Anaheim and all other Orange county food markets were being combed today by county health authorities in a round-up of all glass jars of liederkranz cheese spread, which has been blamed for the death of one Los Angeles man.

Dr. Edward L. Russell, county health officer, said the state department of health had wired him orders to collect all jars of the cheese spread which is a product of the Borden co., of New York City.

Officials of that company already have directed their wholesale office to pick up all of the product that can be reached and county and state health officials are on the trail of the product in the retail markets. Numerous warnings have been broadcast by radio stations.

Tests of all products collected will be made by the State Department of Health to determine if it carries the botulism germs which were said to be the cause of the Los Angeles death.

Code numbers "B-3459" are stamped on the lids of all glasses of the cheese spread in question, it was stated.

French Premier Pleven Arrives For Cold War Strategy with U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—French Pemier Rene Pleven arrived today for cold war strategy talks and President Truman told him he hopes to prove the United States is the "real friend" of France.

The president greeted the visiting French leader at Union station, a few hours before they were to begin conferences on world problems.

Pleven came here reportedly seeking assurances from the president that the United States will retaliate immediately with the atomic bomb in the event Russian armies invade France.

Mr. Truman, Secretary of State Acheson, Defense Secretary Marshall and most of the cabinet were on hand to meet Pleven on the dark, rainy morning.

Always Friends

The 49-year-old French leader shook hands warmly with the president and said:

"I am looking forward to the conversations with you which begin today. I shall always remember what the United States did for France during the last war.

"I also remember that during the last two centuries our countries have always been friends, and, I am sure, always will be."

Mr. Truman replied:

"I am pleased to welcome you. I hope you will have a pleasant and profitable visit. We are all friends of France here in the United States. We hope to impress upon you during your stay we are the real friends of France."

Prepare for Talk

Mr. Truman and Pleven met on a roped-off side street, surrounded by police and secret service men, about a half hour after Pleven's train pulled in from New York.

Mr. Truman arranged to entertain Pleven at lunch at the Blair House and to start their formal talks at the White House later in the afternoon.

At Acheson's suggestion, Mr. Truman called several officials to a morning meeting at the White House to prepare for the discussions with Pleven. Among those on the list for that gathering were Acheson, David K. E. Bruce, ambassador to France and Donald R. Heath, American minister to the Associated States of Indo-China.

A note on the White House calling list said Acheson "felt the president should have this meeting before discussions with the French again this afternoon."

Duster, Not Crook's Fingers, Sets Off Burglar Alarm

In response to the several inquiries received by the Gazette we are pleased to state that the safe at the Anaheim Bank of America was not cracked Friday evening.

Many folks became curious when the burglar alarm at the bank sounded off a little after 9 p.m. Naturally, they wondered how much loot the bandits got away with.

This may discourage any crook who may have been planning to knock off the vault in the bank, but the burglar alarm in the place is mighty touchy.

The thing went off Friday evening when a woman dusting around the combination lock flicked the dial ever so lightly. The ensuing clatter was heard by a number of people.

Dick Gay, of the bank staff, came to the rescue and got the alarm under control about 9:30 after it had rung for some 15 minutes.

White Temple Brings Two Families Of White Russians to County

Two families of displaced persons came to live in Anaheim this weekend. Sponsored by the Methodist church, these families may find a home here after a quarter century, for some of them, of running away from the reds.

Vladimir, 37, Apolimaria, 65, and Ludmilla, 12, are all members of the Kozlovsky family. The two adults left Russia in 1918 at the time of the revolution. They had been farmers in the Ukraine. When Communist Russia came into power, they had to leave. The reds took everything they had.

Hundreds of families left Russia at that time to flee to Shanghai. They reached their destination by walking across Siberia and the Gobi Desert in Tibet to the International Settlement in Shanghai. They lived in this hayen until about 19 months ago, when the Communists infiltrated Shanghai. The White Russians living there again had to flee to escape punishment for being on Communist black-lists.

Philippine Islands offered refuge for a time. UNESCO program helped to evacuate a large number of them to the Samar Islands where they lived in tents. Many of their children died there of tropical diseases.

Then various church agencies agreed with the U.S. government to find jobs and housing in the United States for the hundreds of DP's marooned on the island.

The government paid the passage for the trip to the U.S. The first group docked in San Francisco in December. Seventeen hundred landed last Tuesday. Three hundred are being sponsored by the Methodist church and the Catholic church took 100 children, all from an orphanage, and are settling them in the San Francisco Bay area. Other churches took the rest.

The local Methodist church is sponsoring the Kozlovsky family and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Takulofs. Both families belong to the Russian Orthodox church.

Mrs. Ben Danker of 8582 S. Ocean View, Olive, offered to house the Kozlovsky family until

It's Wet

About .8 Inch Drizzles Here

By the Farm Editor

Rain, rain, don't go away—come back again, any old day. That is the way farmers of this area want to have the old rain ditty read.

Today's "million dollar" rain was enjoyed by all and Anaheim merchants looked ahead to their own "dollar days" of this week end with new encouragement from Jupiter Pluvious.

The moisture surely looked good but up to about noon time there was too little of it. About .8 of an inch was all a reliable gauge could count in Anaheim. That much was very, very welcome but if more does not come soon many growers will have to irrigate.

Thousands of acres of grain will be determined by this storm and although this sample will keep it going there will have to be at least an inch to get a real growth.

However, all water experts were hopeful of a heavy snowfall in the mountains which would help the water situation greatly. It was snowing at most mountain resorts.

PLANNING CHAIRMAN RESIGNS—William Grafton, left, who has resigned as chairman of the Anaheim Planning Commission, receives the thanks and felicitations of Mayor Charles Pearson, right. Pearson Praises Chairman Grafton For Service with Planning Group

Chairman W. D. Grafton of the Anaheim City Planning commission was congratulated Friday by Mayor Charles Pearson for his 25 years of service to the city.

Chairman Grafton, presiding at a special meeting with full membership present, thanked each member for his fine spirit of cooperation during their many years of association.

He mentioned E. P. Hapgood, J. E. Schumacher and Al Riutcel, especially, who have served with him for more than 15 years, Mel Gauer and Ralph Summers, with approximately 10 years of service, and Joe Thompson who succeeds him as chairman.

In his remarks, Mayor Pearson gave a short history of the Anaheim Planning commission. He said "it was first formed in February, 1927, and was the first planning commission in Orange county and the second in Southern California."

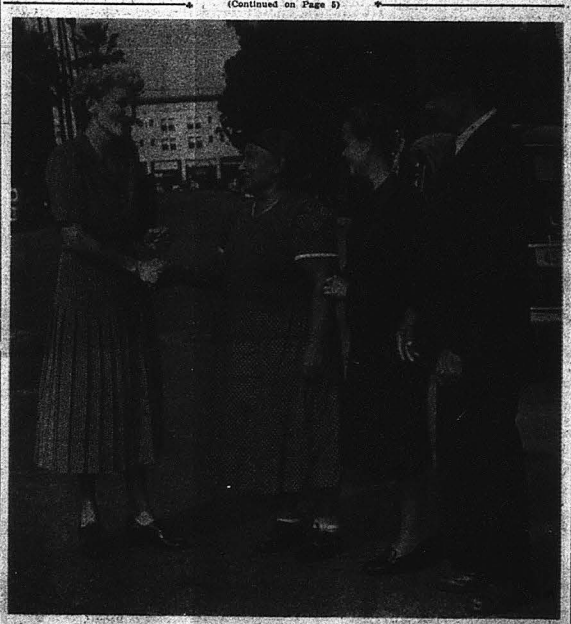

"At that time," he said, "it was the practice to place one city councilman on the planning commision. 'Bill' Grafton was serving his second term on the City council when he was appointed to the Planning commission in January, 1929."

Grafton has served continuously as a member and as chairman for the past nine years. The mayor commended him for his fine leadership during the past year when the commission completed the new zoning ordinance and map which is now ready for adoption by the council.

The retiring chairman spoke of the early days of planning and recalled that when he was first appointed to the commission Mayor Pearson was the secretary.

All members of the commission expressed regret that the chairman felt he should resign, but were pleased that he would continue to serve as a member.

New Chairman Thompson will preside at the next meeting of the planning commission Feb. 19.

Planners OK Canning Factory In So. Anaheim

County planners last Friday approved a canning plant for production of tomato paste and puree in the South Anaheim area.

Permit for the Jalisco Fruit & Steamship co., to establish the plant in existing buildings on the east side of Lewis st., 600 feet south of Katella ave., was approved by the County Planning commission in its weekly session.

The recommendation to the supervisors contained the condition that the firm comply with requirements of the county building and health departments.

The commission also approved a permit for Delmer Johnson to establish a used furniture business at the northwest corner of Harbor blvd. and Ball rd. on the south side of Anaheim.

HS Board to Meet

Board of trustees of Anaheim Union High school district will meet at 6:30 p.m. today in Katella school for dinner and business meeting and to hear a report on legislation affecting education from State Senator Clyde Watson of Orange, according to Paul H. Demaree, principal.

Reds Won't Submit, Dig In to Die

TOKYO (AP)—Chinese communists died fighting in their mountain foxholes today. They resisted to the bitter end a wary but seemingly relentless Allied advance to within 10 miles of Seoul in Western Korea.

Associated Press correspondent Jim Becker reported 130 reds were killed on one hill alone. Only eight were captured.

Air strikes and artillery raked the enemy positions, but U.N. infantrymen finally had to scramble up the frozen hillsides and blast out the reds with grenades and rifle fire.

The U.S. Eighth Army reported advances up to three miles along the 40-mile western front.

In the area north of Suwon, 38 P-51 fighter-bombers dumped 6000 gallons of fiery napalm (jellied gasoline) in the heaviest Mustang mass attack of the war. Red troops and buildings were hit. Early estimates were that 100 reds were killed and 240 buildings destroyed or damaged.

Maj. Thomas D. Robertson, of St. Paul, Minn., who led the attack, said:

"There was over 30 miles of fire buring when we left."

About four hours before describing the bitter hillsides battle, Becker filed a dispatch reporting an Allied advance of one mile, to a point eight miles north of Suwon.

Becker said intelligence officers estimated that the entire 50th Chinese communist army and three North Korean divisions now were near the combat area, holding strong positions. At full strength these forces would total about 60,000 men, but losses are believed to have cut them considerably.

"This is a delaying action with about one Chinese company to

Services Nix Vets, But Want Age Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Armed Services committee today virtually killed the idea of drafting any veterans now, but reached out for single men up to age 28, two years above the present limit.

At the same time pressure built up at the Capitol behind the idea of drafting childless married men in the present 19 through 25 age bracket, plus thousands of youths now classified 4-F, before any 18-year-olds are taken.

But the military held out for the 18-year draft in preference to taking married men.

Two Congressional committee hearings, one in the Senate and the other in the House, showed those trends in discussion of the Defense department's proposal to draft at 18 instead of the present 19 years, hold the men for 27 instead of the present 21 months, and work the program into permanent universal military service and training (UMST).

Resumption of the hearings followed a proposal from Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) to enlist 1,000,000 western Europeans in the U.S. Army.

This foreign legion should remove all military demands for drafting our 18-year-old boys," Johnson told a reporter. "It also should solve some of our domestic manpower shortages and international difficulties."

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the House committee directed Assistant Defense Secretary Anna Rosenberg to give any reasons the department might have against taking men up to their 28th birthday.

With regard to men with prior service, Vinson told newsmen after Mrs. Rosenberg's testimony:

"This committee is not going to draft any veterans."

Colonists in Sole Possession of Third After 54-36 Win Over Last-Place Orange

Anaheim's Colonists finally had a place all to themselves in the Sunset league standings today.

After being tied for first, then second, and finally third, the Colonists gained sole possession of that latter spot by rapping out a 54-36 over last-place Orange Friday night.

It left the Colonists with three wins and two losses for the first round. In other Sunset games on Friday night, Newport protected its first-place spot with a 47-37 win over Huntington Beach and Santa Ana made it nine in a row over Fullerton 68-48.

Alumni Next

While the Colonists now enjoy a week away from conference competition, they will still be busy tomorrow night when they face a strong alumni five in a benefit game for the March of Dimes at 8 o'clock. The second round of league play will open on Friday with the Colonists at Huntington Beach.

It took no great amount of cunning for the Colonists to win on Friday night, Orange simply not being amply endowed with the essentials for putting the ball through the hoop often enough. Only in the first quarter, when center Don Williams masked in under the basket for eight of his total of 14 points, did the Panthers threaten.

Orange Leads

Three Williams' buckets led Orange to a 12-8 lead midway through the opening session, but a hook shot and a tap by Ron Faulkner, a jump shot by Dennis Denny, and a driveln by Ira Webber made it an adverse 14-15 at the quarter.

Rel Schmitt hit two long ones to open the second period, however, Faulkner followed with a short one and Schmitt hit another to one-hander from the corner before Williams could finally counter for the Panthers. His basket was immediately followed, though, by ringers by Grape Welch, Webber, Denny, and Welch to move it to 29-17.

Denny Sparks

The Panthers were held there for the remainder of the second period and throughout the third, principally on the alert floor work of Webber, Schmitt, and, surprisingly enough, Denny, who seemed to awaken from a season's long slumber.

The elongated guard, who has been good on the boards all year long but has done little more to remind spectators of last year's Denny, messed up the Panthers' plans all night long. It was his alertness on pass interceptions, however, that was the topper as he plucked off seven or eight errant Orange throws during the night.

Orange found it increasingly difficult to score after the first period. It got only six points in the second quarter, eight in the third, and seven in the fourth. The damper was put on Ernie Alcantar by Welch to such an extent that the Panther forward failed to make a single field goal and potted only two free throws for his night's work.

Denny, Welch, and Webber rumbled it up to 16-point edge in the final quarter and Coach Sam Keith decided to let his subs work the last part of the contest. Orange retaliated with a reserve lineup of its own and when Gene Gibson and Jim Holve hit baskets, Anaheim won that "game," too, 6-2.

Wilson, Surkont Will Be Big Aid To Boston Braves Says Southworth

By BILLY SOUTHWORTH

(This is the seventh of a series of 16 stories written by the major league managers for the Associated Press under their own bylines telling how their team shapes up for 1951 and sizing up the other clubs.)

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Braves expect to be improved this year because our pitching will be strengthened.

That's what we lacked last year —pitching. We had Vern Bickford, Warren Spahn and Johnny Sain, and then prayed for rain. Max Surkont, who joined us late in the season, winning five and losing two, is a fine addition. We also will have Jim Wilson, purchased from Seattle where he was a 24-game winner. We are taking a number of other young pitchers to spring training who have fine records.

Injuries greatly hampered our progress in finishing higher in the National league race last year. Bob Elliott was out 28 days with a bad leg. Sid Gordon was out two different times, 10 days with a bad leg and two weeks with a bad elbow after having been hit by a pitched ball. Sam Jethroe was out one month with a badly sprained ankle.

Earl Torgeson's work was hampered for a long period of time as he was playing with a fractured rib, after being hit by a pitched ball. These injuries hampered our progress as they happened to important men.

Second base present a problem. Connie Ryan, Sibby Sisti and Gene Mauch failed to come through. However Roy Hartsfield plugged the second base position after much valuable time had been lost.

Willard Marshall's failure to hit after having had a brilliant spring training, was another blow. I have great confidence that Marshall will return to his old time form in 1951.

The Braves have obtained the services of Edward St. Claire, a catcher with Atlanta last season. He had 117 runs batted in to his credit. Luis Marquez, outfielder purchased from the Pacific Coast league, comes highly recommended. A full list of 40 players will represent the Braves in Spring training and from this number I hope to select an improved 1951 team.

Naturally, I would hate to lose any of my fine young players to the military draft. However, if this should happen it won't affect us to any major degree, as in my opinion, we have the best veteran club in the league.

As to the evaluation of the rest of the league, that poses a tough question. We don't know what inroads that draft will make on our National league clubs. However, Brooklyn, St. Louis and Philadelphia again will present top clubs.

The rookies I expect help from are Surkont, Wilson, Marquez and St. Claire. I will be pleasantly agreeable to any other who can impress me with his fine ability in spring training.

Columbia Only Major Unbeaten But Trails Kentucky, Aggie Duel

NEW YORK (AP)—Now that LIU has taken its place among the vanquished, Columbia's basketball team today stood alone as the only major club in the land with an unsullied record.

But, despite their glamorous 12-0 record, the Lions are forced to take a back seat to the hot duel between Kentucky and Oklahoma A & M, battling for national honors.

Last week Kentucky edged out Long Island university for No. 1 spot in the Associated Press poll, with the Aggies placing third. While Kentucky handled its assignments against Georgia Tech and Vanderbilt in fine style, Oklahoma A & M gained stature in its successive victories over Bradley, the No. 4 team, and ever-tough DePaul.

Cal Snaps It

LIU's Blackbirds took a 15-game winning streak 3000 miles to San Francisco and almost had it snapped by the unimpressive San Francisco Dons. Long Island prevailed, however, 58-52.

But luck deserted the Blackbirds Saturday night. Their 16-game run was smashed by California's Golden Bears—a team which had lost nine times—69-67.

Columbia now is the only club with a chance to complete the season undefeated, a most elusive trick last turned by Army's 1944 squad. That year the Cadets won 15 games without a setback.

Cats Play Four

But getting back to the Kentucky-Oklahoma A & M feud, the Aggies are idle this week while the Wildcats play no fewer than four conference games—Tulane (tonight), LSU (Wednesday), Mississippi State (Friday) and Mississippi (Saturday). All are road games except the LSU tilt.

Kentucky stomped on Vanderbilt, 74-49, to take the undisputed lead in the Southeastern conference. It gave the Wildcats a 6-0 loop record, compared to Vanderbilt's 7-1 and Tulanie's 5-1. The men of Adolph Rupp should have clear sailing from now on.

Aggies Lead MV

Oklahoma A & M, by virtue of its one-point victory over Bradley last Friday, has a mild stranglehold on the Missippi Valley lead. The Aggies, 18-1 overall, have a 5-0 conference record, but, more important, have whipped both Bradley and St. Louis, the teams considered to give them the most trouble.

Long Island university by no means is out of the woods. In fact, the worst is yet to come. The Blackbirds play a formidable Arizona team at Tucson tonight, then make stops at Kansas State, the Big Seven leader, Wednesday and St. Louis Saturday. The lack of dependable reserves is starting to tell on LIU.

Who Gets Faurot? Answer Due Today

COLUMBIA, Mo. — (AP) — The question of whether Don Faurot will continue as head football coach and athletic director at the University of Missouri may be settled today.

Faurot was scheduled to meet with Dean Sam Shirky, chairman of the committee on intercollegiate athletics. He was expected to tell Shirky whether the committee, which met in a four-hour session last Saturday, came close enough to meeting his desires to allow him to remain at Missouri.

Faurot has been under consideration at Ohio State and Southern California, but as far as could be learned neither school has made him an "offer."

Faurot is expected to be offered a modest increase in his salary at Missouri. He presently gets $11,825.

It was also understood that Faurot was seeking some concessions from the committee in the recruiting and maintenance of athletes. Faurot was understood to be asking for a "workable plan" for keeping Missouri in material for its big time football.

New Schedule For City League

In order to make up some of the past games that have been postponed and to work the newest member — Huntington Beach —smoothly into the schedule, a new list of playing dates in the city league was announced today by league director Bill Grady.

The new schedule lists three games on several dates and closes Feb. 15, previously slated to be used on the old schedule. One other date, March 6, was left as an open night in order to make up any games that might be postponed between now and that date.

Under this setup, on three-game nights games will be played at 7, 8, and 9 o'clock; two game nights will have games at 7:30 and 8:45; and single games will be played at 7:30.

Brady also warned all team managers that Thursday, Feb. 1 would be the final date on which to submit both the official team rosters and the entry fee. If that has not been done by that time, he said, subsequent games would all be forfeited until both are submitted to him.

The new schedule:

Jan. 29—Hatfield vs. Team No. 7; Cotler's vs. Hornets; Team No. 6 vs. Huntington Beach.
Feb. 1—Hornets vs. Williams; Team No. 7 vs. Huntington Beach; Ritz vs. Hatfield.
Feb. 5—Cotler's vs. Team No. 6; Hornets vs. Team No. 7; Huntington Beach vs. Williams.
Feb. 8—Williams vs. Cotler's; Ritz vs. Hatfield.
Feb. 12—Team No. 7 vs. Team No. 6; Hornets vs. Huntington Beach.
Feb. 15—Team No. 7 vs. Cotler's.
Feb. 17—Ritz vs. Hornets; Huntington Beach vs. Hatfield.
Mar. 1—Team No. 6 vs. Hatfield; Williams vs. Huntington Beach.
Mar. 4—Team No. 6 vs. Williams; Team No. 6 vs. Hornets.
Mar. 6—Open date for makeup games.
Mar. 8—Hatfield vs. Cotler's; Ritz vs. Huntington Beach; Williams vs. Team No. 7.
Mar. 15—Playoffs start.

Bees Louse It Up, Then Rouse It Up To Take Panthers in Overtime, 34-30

After struggling unvaliantly for 32 minutes to take only nine field goals, the Anaheim Bees suddenly found the range to make four quick ones in a three-minute overtime period to whip Orange 34-30 on Friday and extend their Sunset league winning streak to five straight games.

The league leaders had no business winning the game, Orange blowing two excellent chances to win during the regular time and then muffing an even easier chance in the extra period.

(Tied 28-28, the Panthers were given a courtesy free throw on a technical foul with less than a minute to go. They missed. As the buzzer sounded to end the game, forward Andy Valasquez was fouled and had a free throw after the game had officially ended. He, too, missed.

Fast Start

But victory looked sure for the Panthers when Ken Beltran hit two quick ones from the slot to open the overtime and it seemed inevitable that the Colonists were about to be treated to their first league loss.

The Panthers, however, made the same error that the Colonists had made earlier—they tried rallying when they should have been dallying—and, as a result, the Colonists banged two quick long ones from the hands of Ronnie Bevins and Augie Huesca to tie it.

Lennie Kolb then missed a free throw, but hit on the follow-up to send Anaheim ahead. This time the Colonists did stall and when all five of the Panthers started chasing the dribbler, Gayle Herbel sneaked in under the basket for a layin and the clincher.

Small Leads

The Colonists had never looked as though they were going to win except for a brief session near the end of the third period. They led nearly all the way, but only by two or three points most of the time.

Undoubtedly they were hampered by the absence of Bill Ames from the lineup and the inability of Bevins to hit from the outside. Ames was dismissed from school on Friday, thus making him ineligible for play that night. It has not yet been determined how long he will be out of the lineup.

Coach Bill Hunstock used Kenny Coen in Ames' place and it was a good pick as the redhead contributed eight points and picked off most of the few rebounds that the Colonists managed to get. And it was his free throw that enabled the Colonists to push it into an overtime.

Ho-Hum

Both teams started at turtle's pace, but after missing three, the Colonists finally hit and Huesca's free throw. Kolb added a basket and that was the extent of the scoring for the first five minutes. Spectators got an inkling of what was to come when Bevins—who had been averaging 13½ points in league games—missed two straight easy setups in the first quarter.

Things got peppier after that when Coen hit two long ones and Herbel added another to make it 10-5 at the quarter.

The frost set in on the Colonists, then, with Bevins making a solitary field goal and Huesca tanking a free toss for the only Anaheim scoring in the second period. Orange, meanwhile, made seven points to close the gap to 13-12 at the half.

Keep on Firing

They battled that way until near the end of the third quarter when Coen put a basket and a free throw around a free toss by Bevins to open it 24-18, the largest margin of the game. That would have been sufficient to win with a stall, but the Colonists chose not to do that.

They kept potting away, hitting nothing, and were unable to snare a single field goal in the final eight minutes. Only free tosses by Kolb and Coen were good for scores.

Tie It Up

When it became 26-24, the Anaheimers finally did decide upon a stall, but Huesca was promptly tagged for walking and the Panthers fast broke down for the tying bucket.

Huesca and Coen both tried free throws, which missed (Coen made his but stepped over the line) and the Panthers also had their unsuccessful pair prior to the overtime.

Fortunately, the Bees will have an entire week to recover from their jitters with an open date tomorrow. Their next game is at Huntington Beach on Friday where the league title will probably be decided.

Warmerdam: Richards' Vault Was 'Just a Matter of Time'

FRESNO (AP)—"It was just a matter of time," the champ said today.

The champ — Cornelius Warmerdam, holder of the world's pole vault record—was speaking of Bob Richards becoming the second man in history to pole vault over 15 feet.

Richards, representing the Illinois athletic club, cleared the bar at 15 feet 1 inch last Saturday night to win his event in the Millrose games at New York's Madison Square Garden. It was the fifth straight time Richards had won the Millrose event.

And Warmerdam, who cleared the 15-foot mark 43 times between 1940 and 1944, thinks Richards may go several inches higher, to "possibly 15 feet 4 inches."

"Dutch," as the lanky 6-foot record holder is known, said that Richards is "somewhat handicapped by his 5 foot 10½ inch height.

"But his speed and power make up for that," Warmerdam said. He said he had considered it just a "matter of time" before Richards topped 15 feet.

"Dutch," who holds the indoor record of 15-8½ and the outdoor mark of 15-7½, has quit vaulting. Now 35, he is a family man with four children.

He is assistant track coach and head basketball coach at Fresno State college.

He said he had practiced vaulting in 1946 but could no longer hit 15 feet.

A modest man about his own feats, Warmerdam said "he was robbed" when he recalled Richards' winning vault in last year's Millrose games. The bar had been set at 15-feet, but after Richards cleared the mark a measurement showed the height to be 14 feet 11½ inches.

"Dutch" thinks Don Laz, of the University of Illinois, may be the third man to clear 15-feet. But he remarked that Laz was not as consistent as Richards.

Laz attempted 15-1 on his last vault at the Millrose games but failed.

MARRIED SATURDAY—Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Schinhofen cut the first slice of wedding cake at reception following their marriage Saturday morning. (Gazette photo by Bradley)

Nuptial Mass Unites Theresa Giardino-Jerome Schinhofen Saturday Morning

Hand embroidered flowers, imported from Italy, graced the exquisite white satin gown in which Miss Theresa Barbara Giardino, daughter of Mrs. Alfonso Giardino of W. Wilhelmina st., repeated vows with Jerome John Schinhofen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schinhofen of Anaheim-Olive rd.

Rev. Father Maurice Dee read the double ring nuptial mass at St. Boniface Catholic church Saturday morning at 9 a.m.

The bride was lovely in an off-shoulder gown of slipper satin with fitted bodice and full gathered skirt ending in a brief train. A seed pearl tiara held her lace trimmed finger-tip veil and she carried a single white orchid on a white prayer book.

Maid of honor was Miss Virginia Procopio who wore a lace trimmed gown of yellow satin. Her bouquet was fashioned from pale blue and white sweet peas.

Bridesmaids were Miss Agnes Schinhofen and Miss Antionette Giardiono who wore gowns similar to that worn by the bride in soft shades of blue and lavender respectively.

Ploxie Daniels was best man and ushers were Henry Schinhofen and Ray Schinhofen.

Soloist Delores Giardino sang "Ave Maria" and "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied by Mrs. Faust at the organ.

A beautifully decorated tiered wedding cake was served to more than 150 guests at the reception held in St. Boniface Parish hall.

Following a week end honeymoon trip to Santa Barbara the couple will establish residence on La Jolla rd., in this city. The bride is a graduate of Anaheim Union High school where she was prominent in many musical productions. Her husband was also graduated from local schools. Both are employed in Anaheim.

Advises Folks to Smile and Forget Their Worries

Mrs. C. H. Williams, 402 Hawthorne Street, Abbeville, Louisiana, says if folks would smile and forget their worries they'd all feel lots better and make other folks feel better, too. Mrs. Williams says she has lots to smile about . . . thanks to HADACOL. Mrs. Williams found that by taking HADACOL she helped to overcome a deficiency of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron, which HADACOL contains.

Here is Mrs. Williams's own statement: "I guess it was over a year ago when I really started to feel mighty bad. When I say I was feeling bad I'm not telling a story—I just didn't have one bit of energy. I was tired all the time. I had to do my housework in spells . . . rest a while, and then work a bit. I couldn't eat a full meal either — I guess I didn't eat enough to keep a bird alive. There was many a night I didn't get but a few hours' sleep. Imagine going to bed and then rolling and tossing most of the night. So many of my friends had been praising HADACOL that I finally decided to try HADACOL. After three bottles of HADACOL I could tell a definite improvement . . . now, after taking HADACOL for over a year, I feel just wonderful. I am not tired or restless during the day; I can do all my housework and still have energy to spare. Sleep—why, I sleep like a top. Just as soon as my head hits the pillow I doze off. And the most wonderful thing is that I can actually eat the way a person should eat—and I really do enjoy my food. HADACOL is absolutely wonderful. There is nothing like HADACOL. I recommend it to all my friends and neighbors."

Buy a bottle of HADACOL either the trial size, $1.25 or the large family or hospital size, $3.50, and if HADACOL does not help you, your money will be refunded. If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order it direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana.

JUST MARRIED—Mr. and Mrs. Donald Breit leave the altar of St. Boniface Catholic church following services Saturday morning. (Gazette photo by Bradley)

Rose Dominguez Is Bride of Donald Breit In Services at St. Boniface Catholic Church

Rows of deep ruffles edged in lace, formed the skirt of an exquisite white satin wedding gown worn by Miss Rose Dominquez Saturday morning when she became the bride of Donald C. Breit in St. Boniface church in Anaheim.

The Rev. Father David Coleman performed the service before the church altar, decorated with large baskets of white flowers and candelabra.

The bride was beautiful in her long trained gown, cut with long sleeves tapered to the wrist, fitted bodice and a full skirt. Her fingertip veil fell from a heart-shaped crown of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of white stephanosis and an orchid on a white prayer book. She is the daughter of Mrs. Genevieve Dominguez of N. Lemon st., and Charles Dominguez of Santa Ana Canyon.

Miss Merecedes Taylor was maid of honor and wore a gown of aqua net over taffeta with a matching hat. Her bouquet was a nosegay of yellow sweet peas.

Little Miss Betty Lou Ferguson, a cousin of the bride was flower girl and wore a dress identical to that worn by the bride in pale yellow net and satin. She carried a nosegay of sweet peas.

Robert DeGroff was best man.

The bride was graduated from Marywood High school and attended Fullerton Junior college. Her husband attended schools in St. Joseph, Missouri and served for four years in the Navy. He is the son of Mrs. Grace M. Breit of that city.

Both young people are employed in Anaheim. Mrs. Breit is with the Southern County Bank and Mr. Breit is at Kwikset Locks, Inc.

MASTERWORKS CHORALE—The Allen Lannom Masterworks Chorale continues an active season with a concert on Feb. 4, at 7 o'clock in the White Temple Methodist church of Anaheim. This is a return engagement for the group which is rapidly growing in popularity throughout Southern California. This professional group of 25 singers is in its fourth season. Added repertoire this year insitions of Kubic, Schoenberg and others. It is hoped the Chorale will perform the Mass in D Minor by Hadyn which had its West Coach Premiere of this great work last year.

The Masterworks Chorale under the brilliant leadership of it's youthful conductor, Allen C. Lannom, returns to Anaheim for a second concert. Those who heard the inspiring work done here by the group of thirty-five singers last season will welcome an opportunity to hear them again. Allen C. Lannom is rapidly becoming known as an outstanding choral conductor in Southern California. He is the Supervisor for Adult Choruses of the Los Angeles Bureau of Music, is Minister of Music for the First Methodist Church in Pasadena, and returns this term to the staff of L. A. City College as a choral conductor.

The Anaheim concert, in the White Temple Methodist Church, on February 4 at 7:00 p.m. will be the first conducted by Mr. Lannom since his very recent return from a lecture and choral-demonstation tour in New York, Minneapolis, and Chicago.

Double Ring Services in Ranch Home Unite Edith Milbrat-Gregory Fox

Charming simplicity marked the informal services which united Miss Edith LaMae Milbrat, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Milbrat of Brookhurst ave. and Gregory Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Fox of Long Beach.

The spacious ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Milbrat Sr. on Simmons St., Anaheim, formed an attractive setting for the double ring rites witnessed by the families of the couple.

Repeating vows before the mantle banked with flowers and greenery, the bride wore a ballerina length gown in white taffeta with a fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. A deep collar accented the low neckline of the bodice, which was styled with three quarter length sleeves gathered below the elbow. An interesting contrast was formed in her veil of soft lavender illusion net held by tiny cap and she carried a matching orchid on a white bible.

Mrs. Barbara Taylor, matron of honor, wore a short gown in white batiste and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Bud Taylor of Long Beach was best man. Gordon Hammen of Garden Grove, soloist, sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The double ring service was performed by the Rev. Victor Haymen of Garden Grove Baptist church.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Ralph Saes, Mrs. Dan Miller, Mrs. Burton Pickett and Mrs. Robert Fogarty, all cousins of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Milbrat wore a dress in black wool jersey with matching accessories and a corsage of white gardenias. Mrs. Fox wore a tailored black wool suit and a gardenia corsage.

The bride attended Anaheim High school and her husband was graduated from schools in Long Beach. He is employed in Garden Grove where they will make their home following a northern honeymoon trip to San Francisco.

College Small Talk

By JACKIE CUSHING

Finished is the word for the way students feel after a two-hour semester exam, but things are looking up this week for FJC'ers as late hours and cramming are forgotten and the rush for registration is on again.

Last One Through . . .

. . . is an old maid. This might be the policy of registration except it puts the men in a rather feminine light. At any rate, the pace of lining up the new semester's classes has begun and today for the the sophomores, tomorrow for the freshmen will be dedicated to that purpose.

Project Plus

Phi Alpha Omega sorority launched a welfare project last week that will be carried on throughout the year. Every other week a group of the girls will travel to the Long Beach Veterans hospital to visit the paraplegic ward. The other two groups on campus, Theta Mu Theta and Kappa Lambda Sigma, also have an active schedule of welfare projects and were particularly busy during the Yuletide Season, caring for needy families and insuring their happiness for Christmas.

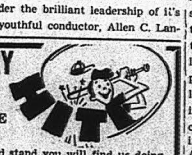

Hello Again

A week of "hello-ing all newcomers on campus will again be featured this semester, although it seems much more plausible to say "welcome back!" to everyone brave enough to take another whack at it.

Temporarily Postponed

Danny Dither a musical production, slated to be staged in March, has been postponed due to problems arising from the present national emergency. Because of the number of students in the cast and orchestra that might be withdrawn it was decided to discontinue plans for the immediate production of the musical.

Maybe it isn't all wet . . .

Drawing yourself some water is as easy as falling off a log. All you have to do is flip the handle on the faucet and swish.

When it comes that easy you find it a little hard to consider that the water supply is a real problem in these parts.

Last year a bunch of scientists explored a desert in southwest Afghanistan. (We are out of Orange county, now, and talking about a place in Asia.)

These scientists came across an extinct Afghan city which they figured once had from 50,000 to 100,000 inhabitants.

The city limits of the place would remind one of Fullerton—the city was six miles long and five miles wide.

Except for what 10 centuries of desert weather had done to the city, the place was intact.

Tools of iron and bronze were found. And, there were some fabrics and bracelets. But, there were no human footprints or other signs that people had lived in the city in a number of centuries.

The scientists concluded, from a number of old dry wells, that somehow the water supply of this ghostly place, had failed centuries ago, forcing the people to get out as fast as they could.

Everytime we hear of water problems in Orange county we think of the story of the city in Afghanistan.

Not that there is any apparent danger of this area suddenly hitting the dusty trail. We've always had fairly good rainfall averages in the right places, though the distribution of the water leaves a lot to be desired.

Arizona and California are in a knockdown and dragout legal fight over Colorado river water rights; people here in the county say "import water or export people"; the population continues to grow; water - gulping air - conditioning is on the increase; and so are various industrial processes which require larger and larger amounts of water. Above all, of course, are the requirements of agriculture.

Well, maybe if things got bad enough the government might set up some sort of a program to find a way to make lots of fresh-water from the sea . . . inexpensively.

But, even if that happened, getting the stuff inland from seaside refining plants probably would call for elaborate piping and pumping systems, or at least a multitude of railway tank cars. If we could produce fresh water from the sea cheaply enough we probably would find ways to get it to points of need.

However, a great amount of attention is now being given to increasing the supply of water through artificial rainmaking.

All of a sudden rainmaking has emerged from the comic book stage into the realm of likelihood.

In California, the legislators are studying proposed licensing and other regulatory measures to encourage and control rainfall experimentation.

That sounds a little hopeful.

Rainmakers claim they have alleviated the—perennial water shortage in California's Central Valley by increasing precipitation over the Sierra-Nevada by scientific means.

Even in Southern California rainmakers claim they have increased the tempo of rainfall.

Rainmakers who worked the clouds over in San Bernardino county claim they were responsible for that heavy rain Anaheim had last fall.

And, on it goes.

Perhaps much of the rain claimed by the artificial rainmakers (who seed clouds with dry ice) could be a coincidence.

But, many highly responsible persons are watching the experiments with more than casual interest—and with considerable approval.

Maybe something will come of it . . . and, as one writer put it:

"Some day, perhaps, large-scale weather control operations by state or federal agencies may make the sprawling canal systems and giant dams presently envisioned by engineers for the nation's major river networks obsolete and unnecessary."

IN THE DAYS OF LONG AGO

From the Files of the Anaheim Gazette

By MRS. HENRY KUCHEL

75 Years Ago

Geo. M. Wolfe has been appointed Postmaster at Downey City.

Col. R. S. Baker has been elected vice-president of the Los Angeles County Bank.

The Tennessee Jubilee Singers gave a concert last evening at Kroeger's hall to a large and appreciative audience. They have been induced to remain tonight and give us another concert. There will be a complete change of programme—Admission$ 1—children under 12—50 cents.

The election of a Zanjero for the Anaheim Water Company was postponed until Saturday next in order to allow candidates to make out their applications to conform to the new regulations, passed at the meeting yesterday.

That honey-handed Granger Gen. P. T. Banning, visisted his constituents at Santa Ana yesterday.

The committee appointed by the Presbyterian church of Orange reported on Sunday that the time to build has come and as soon as $1500 has been subscribed a finance committee will be appointed to provide plans and building will begin. The following gentlemen were appointed on the building committee: Mr. Parker, W. A. McGiffer, Levi Lockhart, Mr. Crowder, Robt. McPherson, Mr. Armor, A. Tarrington, Rev. J. M. Allis. A vote of thanks was passed to the M. E. church for the use of their building.

Pedro Blanco arrived in Anaheim last night from Arizona. His horse died on the desert and he was compelled to foot his way a long distance.

50 Years Ago

Miss Nancy M. Gregg has been re-appointed postmaster at Fullerton by the president. The appointment is one eminently fit to be made.

John Elman and Miss Louise M. Schumacher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Schumacher, were united in the holy bonds of wedlock at the residence of the bride's parents in this city on Monday. After a short honeymoon spent in Los Angeles, the happy couple will return to the city to reside. We join their many friends in wishing them the felicitations of the season.

Richard Egan, Esq., of San Juan Capistrano, spent a couple of days with friends in Anaheim during last week.

The boys enjoyed a rabbit drive on Sunday and but for the rain which began to fall shortly after noon would have slain 175 rabbits. The start was made at the Tustin track, the hunters moving toward Richfield when lunch was partaken of. One hundred and twenty-five rabbits were killed.

Frank Steadman succeeded in killing a coyote, which he fired at from a distance of ten yards, hitting the varmit in the back of the head and toppling him over. This makes two coyotes killed within a few days, one having been killed last week by Roman Wisser.

G. M. Townsend of Los Angeles, county editor of the Herald, was in town yesterday on a short business trip.

25 Years Ago

Although the rainfall this season is far below the normal up to date, don't worry. There is plenty of time yet for plenty of rain, according to John Cubbon, a Santa Ana pioneer. Cubbon, who has lived in Santa Ana for more than half a century, has a copy of the rainfall record kept by Richard Egan at San Juan Capistrano during the season of 1884. The season was dry up to the last of January. Grass in the foothills withered and the desert winds came often. Then it rained. It kept on raining until one could ride in a boat from Santa Ana to Los Angeles over land that is now farmed or occupied by homes. Everything from Santa Ana to the sea was under water. Until the morning of January 27, there had been 3.12 for the season, which had dried away as fast as it had fallen. Then the next day 3.60 inches fell. It rained on 10 different days between Jan. 31 and Feb. 17, during which time 12.13 inches fell. March was also wet with 9.33 inches recorded on 13 different days. It rained on 7 different days in April with a total for the month of 1.56. On May 15 came .42 inch and on May 18, there was added .34. On the 13th of June .92 inch fell. The total for the season was 32.65 inches. With this record before us, we are not saying that the spring of 1926 is necessarily going to be dry. It might be like the spring of 1884.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—When General Eisenhower went off to Europe, a lot of people got the impression that he was rather glad to leave Columbia, get into uniform again and return to his old haunts abroad. Actually, this was not the case.

To a few close friends just before he left, Ike confessed that he dreaded going overseas again, knew that he would face hostile crowds, realized how tough it would be to organize rearmament in war-weary Europe.

Ike also knew, though he didn't say, that getting back into uniform might blast any presidential ambitions he had.

There was nothing phony or theatrical, therefore, about Ike's answer when President Truman called him in Chicago last December and asked him to become chief commander under the North Atlantic Pact. Ike replied that a soldier has to go where he is called, and he meant it.

Report to Congress

Behind Eisenhower's report to Congress this week will be two significant facts which the general public may not at first appreciate.

No. 1 is that the president has partially abdicated to Eisenhower the national leadership in regard to European policy. It will be up to Ike to sell Congress and the nation on sending U.S. troops to Europe at a time when isolationism is growing and when thousands of mothers do not at all relish seeing their sons leave home.

No. 2 is the fact that Eisenhower, though trained as a military man, has now become a political figure.

Furthermore, Eisenhower's political development is bound to accelerate; for his job of welding different nationalities into a smooth-working military machine is much more political than military.

For some time, Ike's critics—and he has some—have harped on his political proclivities.

Political General

And though they criticize Ike for having been a political general during the invasion of Europe, it must be remembered that one of his jobs was to smooth the ruffled feathers of General Giraud, get the cooperation of the difficult General de Gaulle, tone down the passion for publicity of Field Marshal Montgomery and weld the heterogenous, politically minded armies of Europe into a homogenous unit.

One thing that griped some Americans, for instance, was Ike's order that there was to be no criticism of the British during and after the D-Day invasion of Normandy. He also placed a British officer alongside each American officer in key jobs where cooperation was essential. This may have slowed military movements at times but it built Allied harmony—which was all-important.

This is some of the invaluable experience Eisenhower will draw on when it comes to the present peacetime mobilization of Europe.

Ike Hates War

Another quality that will help the North Atlantic Pact command is the fact that his hatred of war is just as genuine as that of the war-weary Europeans who now dread preparing for another showdown. Probably Ike gets this from his mother, a descendant of a Swiss-German family who fled Europe to escape its wars. Mrs. Eisenhower never relished the fact that her son became a soldier and once, when Sam Goldwyn congratulated her on her son, she promptly replied:

"Which one?"

Eisenhower Go-Round

As a schoolboy in Abilene, Kas., Eisenhower was called "Ugly Ike." . . . His father was a Democrat, Ike had a little difficulty getting an appointment to West Point, but finally obtained the endorsement of the leaders of both wings of the Republican party in Abilene. . . . The Eisenhower high-school gang used to hang around the office of the Abilene News where they did odd jobs for editor J. W. Hawe and where young Ike read exchange newspapers. According to Howe: "Dwight never complained about working, seeming to take that for granted. In school discussions he was always for the underdog and contended we needed a somewhat better distribution of wealth."

WILD WEST SHRINE PASSES

DEL RIO (AP)—The Val Verde Hotel, where Judge Roy Bean meted out the only law west of the Pecos, 78 years ago is being torn down.

The Southern Pacific Railroad built the building when Indian tribes menaced the white man. J. W. Burns, whose mother operated the hotel in its early days, says "a man could get a clean bed for 25 cents in those days and a whole beef liver for five cents."

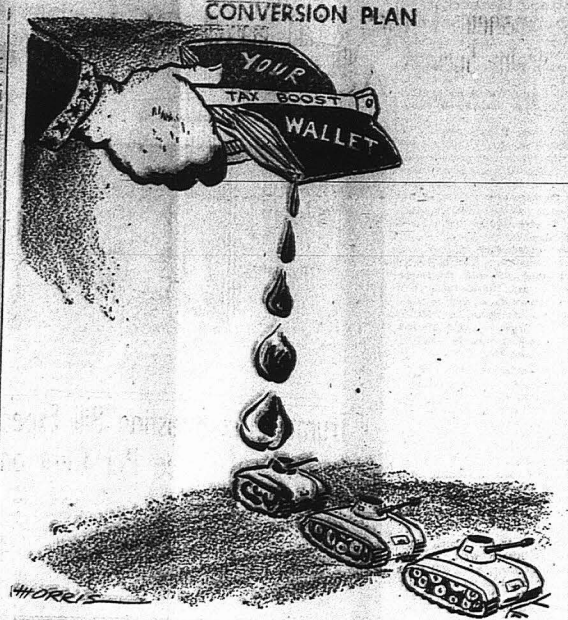

The Val Verde is the fourth of Del Rio's old hostelries to be dismantled.

Once you have met her, you cannot forget her. Her kindliness, charm and scintillating personality has the quality that stays in your mind.

I met her first in Anaheim's Community Chest office. As a volunteer worker, she displayed an amazing knowledge of Anaheim and its environs and quickly answered all my questions in a way that made me glad I asked.

We met again in the office of her tax consultant husband where she assists during the rush of the income tax season. She not only remembered my name but brightened up my day with her well-informed and witty conversation.

This lady is one of Anaheim's outstanding home-makers who has raised two fine children and at the same time has worked long and hard for the youth of our whole community. My hat is off to—

Mrs. R. W. Marvin.

Mrs. Marvin was in the news recently when she was awarded a national life membership in the P-TA. This was the result of many years of service to that organization. Mrs. Marvin joined the P-TA when daughter, Dorothy, was in kindergarten. She became president of the local organization at the old Citron school which was located where the Fremont cafeteria is now.

She was elected president of the Anaheim P-TA council and then in 1932 went on to become president of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, fourth District. The Four District designates Orange county because it was the fourth area in the state to be organized in this way.

For eight years, Mrs. Marvin was a member of the State board as radio chairman. She retired voluntarily because she felt that the board should offer a place for new folks with new ideas.

But not for an instant did her interest in the youth of the community stop.

During the last war she was a member of Anaheim's popular Teen Canteen. At present she is a member of the Orange County Probation committee in connection with the Juvenile home.

And with the welfare of our young folks in mind, she has become vitally interested in a rather new organization called the Orange County Council of Community Agencies. Its aim is to integrate the needs of the county in [illegible] and youth under one head in departments of health, welfare and group work and recreation. Characteristically, Mrs. Marvin is chairman of the group work and recreation section.

Incidentally, as a follow-up to the Governor's conference in Sacramento and the Mid-century White House Conference on Children and Youth, this group is holding its mid-winter meeting Jan. 31, at the new YWCA in Santa Ana. It is to be a dinner meeting to which anyone interested in the county's youth program is urged to attend. All service clubs, women's clubs and churches are invited to send representatives.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. Marvin or with the YWCA.

With all her varied activities, Mrs. Marvin's own family has always come first. She is an enthusiastic homemaker who loves to garden and to cook.

Dorothy, her daughter, is grown up now and married. As wife of Capt. Harry W. Dodge of the U. S. Army, Dorothy is in Japan and write many interesting letters home. She is employed in Japan with the ordnance section of the army's armament division.

Son, Robert, or "Red" as his friends know him, was a fine athlete while attending Anaheim schools and spent three years with the Navy. At present he is finishing his fifth year at Whittier college where he will soon receive his general secondary teaching credential.

During 34 years in Anaheim, many a social hour at the Marvin's has revolved around an old fashioned ice cream freezer. Mrs. Marvin's recipe file bulges with ice cream recipes that cannot be made in the refrigerator. It may take a little extra work, but when the little folks get to licking the paddle while their moms and dads exclaim at the frozen cream's smoothness and flavor, Mrs. Marvin knows its worth the effort.

MRS. MARVIN'S ORANGE ICE CREAM

1 qt. strained orange juice
1 qt. half and half cream
3½ cups sugar
1 tablespoon gelatin
½ cup cold water

Dissolve the gelatin in the cold water and mix with the other ingredients. Freeze in an old fashioned ice cream freezer. Let stand three to four hours to mellow.

OBLONG VIEWS

FROM AN EGG-SHAPED HEAD
By WALDO HUNTER

EMINENT SOCIOLOGISTS are concerned about what is happening to the American home, and their perturbation is understandable. Whatever happened to that wonderful old institution, the Family Circle? Remember those fine old days when there was no radio or television, when a night away from home was actually an event, and when if it was decided to see a movie, the entire family went?

It used to be that after mom had done the dinner dishes (we called the third meal of the day "supper" back home) dad would ease into his favorite chair, the kids would find things to do in the living room, under strict orders not to play too noisily, and mother would busy herself with sewing or a magazine. On long winter nights, apples would be brought up out of the cellar, or perhaps popcorn would be the treat. Sometimes a real old "taffy pull" was on the program. Running throughout these pleasant evenings was a constant stream of conversation (with the children, of course, awaiting their turn to speak and never butting in on the adults' conversation as they do today).

THOSE WERE rich, pleasant evenings and it is too bad we can't recapture them. Quite frequently the head of the house would draw the family about his great chair and read passages from the Bible or perhaps a poem by Longfellow or Whittier. Etched on my memory is one such scene of years ago when dad read to us "The Village Blacksmith" and when mother had to cry a little at one of the more sentimental lines.

I don't want to sound old fashioned, but it seems to me that the home in those days (not very long ago at that) was a solid rock of comfort and inspiration. There was real companionship; a constant undercurrent of understanding among all members of the clan. The pressure of outside activities had not disrupted the home in those days. Mother was ALWAYS on hand and not away at club meetings. Dad, too, with the exception of his night at Lodge, was there when we needed him. It was not necessary then for a man to belong to a dozen or so clubs and organizations to be a success. In contrast, today both parents find the demands of social and fraternal organizations taxing them to the utmost. The good old Family Circle has literally been clubbed to death.

TODAY, WHAT is the American home like? What once was the very cornerstone of our great democracy is now just a focal point where the family keeps its possessions, where it eats and sleeps. It is a base of operations, a headquarters from which are planned outside excursions. If a high school sophomore spends a night at home any more, his parents, if they are there to notice it, suspect that he is either seriously ill or hiding from deputy sheriffs, which amounts to the same thing.

Love, companionship, and a spirit of doing things together is the cement which knits the home into a compact unit. It would give us all more of a sense of peace and security in these frightening times if we would direct our energies more toward the home and less toward the Eat and Chatter Societies.

As Edgar Guest so wisely penned:

"It takes a heap o' livin'
In a house to make a home."

-Colony Quips-

By the Gazette Farm Editor

YOUR FRIEND HARRY intimated some days ago he would seek power to establish ceiling prices BELOW PARITY when controls were put on farm and food products.

That simple statement is, perhaps, oversimplified but it sort of implies that the individual orange grower should stop for a second and give a thought to it. There maybe something he could do that would improve his own welfare. He might even write a letter to his US senators and congressman.

At least one of our citrus packing houses has informed its growers of the issue and has asked them to get out a letter if they were interested. As this group does not belong to the Exchange there may be some letters written.

This writer intends to get a letter into the hands of these three of our officials:

Congressman John Phillips,
New House Office Building, Washington, D.C.

Senator William Knowland,
Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C.

Senator Richard Nixon,
Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C.

SO FAR AS we have heard the Exchange has made no move to inform its growers that anything of this nature is going on. The boys, perhaps, take the attitude that word of this nature would only tend to upset a group of docile citrus ranchers who would rather sit around in a state of suspended animation and be "taken care" in the same old way: by getting paid off in "baloney" and "cheaper fruit" contracts.

Of course, the big co-op wants no mention of "money" when parity is mentioned, for that is not "free enterprise, which we cherish" or is it? If a prorate does not mean that government has a hand in the pie then who is getting kidded? Prorate means government control, control by majority, if you please, and with no MONETARY guaranty. The wheat, corn, soy and all the rest have government in the picture—BUT they also have a price figure mentioned that means they get MONEY for their crop.

And if anything gets set-up at below parity we will make a sizeable wager that it will be California citrus. And who will be most to blame? No, not the Exchange. Their individual stultified growers, whose name, we are afraid, is legion. They are the ones who give the "hired help" the power, inadvertantly it is true, to do the things which we thing are a detriment to the citrus industry.

IF YOU WANT Mr. Wilcox to sell it for you "cheaper" then just relax and go back to sleep. But if you want to get nearer to what your fruit is actually worth, in a dollar valuation, then get out a letter to these worthies mentioned above.

Tell them plainly that you do not want anyone to have the power to set ceiling prices below parity—especially on California oranges or orange products.

You could tell them that you don't like Mr. Wilcox to sell anything you have "cheaper" and that you don't even think it is "selling" but merely a political move to make him look better by comparison. But that wont do any good. Tell Wilcox. Write him a letter. We would but are afraid he would act like Mr. Prizer.

But write your senators and congressman and let them know you need money to pay taxes, bills, etc., too.

Stop being a sucker and tell these guys whats what.

They will respect you a lot more.

You also might help some other poor grower who is scared to get up and make a large noise.

Truman Tax Boosting Bill Expected to Ask for Increase of Three Per Cent on Individuals

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some Capitol Hill tax authorities indicated today that President Truman, when he unveils his $16,500,000,000-plus tax boosting bill next Monday, will call for levies on individuals at the highest rates imposed in World War II.

This might mean an overall increase of 30 per cent or more, although the impact would not be that heavy on all individuals. It would add about five million lower income persons to the tax rolls, raising the number of individual income taxpayers to about 60 million.

One highly placed member of Congress, who did not want his name used, said it is a fair guess that the administration recommendations will call for:

1. A reduction in personal exemptions from $600 to $500, and an increase of three percentage points in the rate applied at all levels of taxable income. The 20 per cent rate on the first $2000 of taxable income would go to 23; the rate for the next $2000, from 22 to 25, and so on up the scale. Also, he said, there may be some steps to offset part of the advantage of split-income reporting by husbands and wives. These measures, he said, would add about $7,500,000,000 in revenue, if approved.

2. A broad expansion and boosts in the excise list, aimed especially at so-called "luxury" items. This member said the administration probably will ask that the liquor tax be increased from $9 a gallon to $12, and that the imposts be raised on wine, beer, cigarettes, gasoline, and many other items.

3. An increase in corporation income rates, probably from the present 47 per cent rate to 55, to bring in close to $3 billion more. The top normal corporation rate has been raised from 38 to 47 per cent since the Korean war commenced. Its top in World War II was 40 per cent.

4. Broad action in the "loophole plugging" field, along with stern efforts to crack down on persons who do not now list all their income in making tax reports, especially from dividends and interest.

Other members concerned with tax legislation have been making about the same predictions.

These forces, U.S. and Puerto Ricans, infantrymen were supported by tanks. British, Turkish, Greek and South Koreans were in the push elsewhere on the front.

County School Supt. Takes Notice Of Gazette's 'High School' Issue

The staff of the Orange County Superintendent of Schools in its current issue of "Orange County Schools" takes note of the Jan. 16 issue of the Gazette which was published by Anaheim high school journalism students.

A representative of the superintendent's office was on hand during the day and took notes on the work being done by the local students.

In its publication, which provides information of interest to all of the county's schools, the superintendent's office said:

"For months to come the Anaheim high school students will be talking about the Jan. 16 issue of the Anaheim Gazette. That was the day on which Mr. Howard Hall's journalism class took over the facilities of the city's daily newspaper and published the entire paper for the public.

"Student photographers, editors of sports, society news and teletype flashes, even the advertising manager's job, were done by the local high school students. They put out a regular edition of which any newspaper staff might be proud and learned a great deal of practical knowledge in doing it.

"Not only did the students learn from the experience but the teacher gained new insight. He reports that seldom has he seen students so eager to learn and so willing to take responsibility seriously. In this activity the newspaper's regular staff has become very much interested in the students and the school. The townspeople also registered pride in the fine work done."

The front cover of "Orange County Schools" has a photograph of Annette Ater, AUHS student, Ted Kuchel, Gazette publisher, and Hall, taken while the students were working on the paper.

HORATIO ALGER—CAT STYLE

SAN DIEGO (AP)—In free and democratic America any cat can become a champ.

This was proven here yesterday when an alley tabby, which only a year ago crouched sadly in a humane society shelter, won triple honors at the fourth annual San Diego cat fanciers show.

Bubbles, entered in the show by 10-year-old Mike Clancy, won first in the novice class, first in open competition and first in best of his color and type. Bubbles was formally entered as an American bred short hair silver tabby.

Police Comfort Children, Thrash Father Verbally

A Torrance father is an embarrassed but wiser man today, following a dissertation on the care of children by Anaheim police officers Saturday night.

Police were notified at 9:10 p.m. that three children were crying in a car parked in the Safeway market parking lot and had been for two hours. The children were taken to the police station by officers, where they were warmed up and comforted. Then they waited for the parents to show up.

Finally, Henry Ascencio of Torrance walked into the station looking for his children. They were delivered to him, but only after the policemen delivered their opinions of fathers who leave children in a parked car and had extracted a promise from him never to do it again.

Newsman Tells His Own Success Story

Throughout the years there have been numerous success stories of how this man or that man started from nothing and finally achieved prosperity. But the best of all success stories is where a man in a run-down condition finally gets to where he feels wonderful again. William Bogard, newspaper reporter in Sulphur Springs, Texas, has such a story to tell. Yes, now that Mr. Bogard is taking HADACOL, he says, "I wish I could tell my story to every man and woman in the country who is now suffering as I was suffering." Mr. Bogard was suffering a deficiency of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron, which HADACOL contains.

Here is Mr. Bogard's own statement telling how HADACOL helped him:

"Two years ago, at age 40, I was convinced that nothing remained for me in life. The most encouraging words I ever heard were: 'Maybe you will get straightened out after a while.' The only thing that really mattered to me was how I felt and the fact that my apparent decline had brought my many dreams and aspirations in total ruins before my feet.

"I heard and read many stories and testimonials concerning HADACOL, but, unfortunately for me, I didn't take any of them seriously. I considered these testimonials to be from fictitious people with imaginary ills who talked solely for money. How wrong I was! In spite of my wariness, I decided to give HADACOL a try. I took great care that no one knew I was taking it because I feared their ridicule.

"I took three bottles of HADACOL before I began to 'feel' its effects. After that, my progress was steady and sure. My appetite picked up. I not only ate at meal time, which I had not been doing before, but I enjoyed in-between-meal snacks of delicacies which I had long since forgotten.

"I wish I could tell my story to every man and woman in the country who is suffering as I was sufering; I wish I could let them know and make them believe that what I say is all truth and none fiction."

Remember HADACOL is sold on a strict money-back guarantee. And so inexpensive. Trial-size bottle only $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, La.

John Kolafas, operating a testing range 40 miles north of here, let go with another blast yesterday, some 24 hours after a lighter explosion Saturday.

The detonations unleashed a wave of speculation as to the possible new atomic weapons scientists may be testing.

Hundreds of rudely-awakened witnesses saw a tremendous white flash in the sky, followed closely by a dimmer orange one. The Civil Aeronautics administration has ordered all planes out of the air for seven hours in the southwest Nevada area. One citizen said: "It looked like noon even though it was predawn." Residents in Southern California, and even Northern Mexico, reported seeing the flashes.

All the AEC would say immediately was that this was atomic explosion No. 11, and that a survey by its technicians indicated no radioactivity within a 150-mile radius of blast No. 10 on Saturday. The other nine nuclear blasts listed by the AEC:

1. The Almagordo, N.M., explosion on July 16, 1945.
2. Hiroshima, Aug. 6, 1945.
3. Nagasaki, Aug. 9, 1945.
4 and 5. Bikini lagoon in the spring and summer of 1946.
6, 7 and 8. Eniwetok, announced May 17, 1948.

The Elks Minstrel show will be the first half of the program, with professional entertainment taking over the second part. Ticket reservations may be had by calling the Elks club, 7233.

Govt. May Limit Profit During 'Freeze'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Price Director Michael DiSalle said today he is studying the idea of price controls through limiting the margin of profit on manufactured items.

DiSalle went on to say his office is looking into the possibility of "margin type" price controls for manufacturing generally.

Under a control of this type, a seller would be permitted to fix his price at cost plus a fixed margin of profit.

Price and wage stabilization officials are engaged now in trying to work out systems to replace the general wage-price "freeze."

Their task is to remove as quickly as possible the acknowledged inequities which resulted when the government on Friday night froze most prices at peak levels between Dec. 19 and Jan. 25 and all wages as of Jan. 25.

The Wage Stabilization board prepared a statement expected to announce that large groups of employes are exempt from the wage freeze. These would include four million federal, state and municipal workers and also employes of very small firms—all exempt from stabilization during World War II.

There are whole industries exempted from price controls under the defense production act, too. These include newspaper and publishing fields, radio, television and similar communications, utilities, carriers and movie theater admissions. Whether wages in those industries will be controlled is up to the lawyers, already holding their heads.

Besides the statement on exemptions, the wage board headed by Cyrus S. Ching is driving to come out with a formula—probably on Tuesday or Wednesday—for granting blanket approval to increases along the pattern developed last year. In major industries this generally was for a 10 per cent wage hike — sometimes with pensions and similar benefits.

Price Administrator Michael V. DiSalle also was pushing his program along. He conferred yesterday with representatives of the commodity exchanges, some of which closed down Saturday to await some clarification of their situation under the price freeze. The seller was limited to the highest price he achieved during the base period Dec. 19-Jan. 25.

DiSalle's aides said he hoped to come out with a clarifying statement on that today.

The former Toledo major still needed a man for the big assignment of running government operations, following resignation of Vice Admiral John H. Hoover. DiSalle appointed Harold Leventhal, Washington and New York attorney, as his acting general counsel.

Hoover resigned with a statement that "politics has no place in an organization affecting every American home." He did not amplify.

Tuesday Rites For Vernon Heil

Last rites for Vernon Heil, 55, prominent Smeltzer fruit grower, water conservationist, and president of the Orange county water district, will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the First Presbyterian Church, Santa Ana, with Dr. O. Scott McFarland, pastor, officiating. Mr. Heil was an elder of the church.

Mr. Heil died at 11:45 a.m. Saturday in St. Joseph Hospital with a heart ailment complicated by pneumonia. He had been in the hospital since the Sunday preceding.

Mr. Heil was a past president of the Orange County Farm Bureau and was on its board of directors at the time of his death. He also was a director of the Santa Ana River Water assn., tri-county group with headquarters in Riverside. He took active leadership in formation of the new Orange County Municipal Water district, which was formed as an agency to bring Colorado river water into Orange county.
