Elementary School Districts Reject Proposal to Unify with AUHS District

Elementary school districts composing the Anaheim Union High school district last night turned down a proposal to unify their districts with the high school district.

Unification was proposed by the State Board of Education to facilitate the acquisition of two junior high schools in the high school district.

Anaheim, Centralia, Cypress, Katella, Laurel, Loara, Magnolia and Savanna elementary school districts and Anaheim Union High school district trustees met with the Orange County committee for the Reorganization and Unification of School Districts in Katella school last night.

Opposition to the plan for unification, which was recommended by the county committee, came mostly from Katella and Cypress Elementary districts, represented by Raymond V. Terry and Pat Arnold, respectively.

Main objection of the opposition was the possible loss of local control under a unified system and centralization of power in the unified district board of trustees which would have been provided for under the proposed setup.

Some of the opposition favored instead an independent high school in the western districts. When it was pointed out that the western districts' assessed valuation is insufficient to support a high school or even a junior high school independently, general sentiment switched in favor of a union of elementary districts for the building and maintenance of one or two junior high schools.

Chief proponents of the unification plan were A. J. Labourdette, trustee from Laurel district, and Arthur Shipkey, member of the high school board. County Committee members present pressed for further study and information on the plan, in the hope that more light on the subject would give a basis for changed opinion on the part of some trustees.

The vote on unification by districts was 5 to 4 against the proposition. However, members of the county committee, who were entitled by law to vote on the question, turned the tide in favor of the proposal. Katella and Cypress trustees objected strenuously to the committee's vote, claiming it was not in the committee's power to impose their vote on the districts.

Eventually the matter was settled when County Superintendent of Schools Linton Simmons declared that the vote of the boards

IN AGREEMENT—But trying to line up everyone to agree on the question of a unified school district earlier was a different question. Among those present last night were A. J. Labourdette, Laurel; James A. Baker, chairman of the AUHS board; Pat Arnold, Cypress, and Raymond V. Terry, Katella. (Gazette photo by Kreidt)

La Palma School to be Converted Into Youth Center by Kwikset

INVESTMENT IN YOUTH—Officials this morning toured the buildings and grounds of the old La Palma school to start things moving on improving the premises for use by organized youth groups in Anaheim. Shown above in front of the old school building at La Palma and N. Olive st., are (l-r): Andrew Spatzier, Kwikset representative; Clinton Flynn, of the Izaak Walton league; Mrs. Marion Bushman of the Girl Scouts; Adolf Schoepe, president of Kwikset Locks; Leo Friis, representative of Anaheim service clubs; Mrs. Mildred Schmitz, of the Girl Scouts; Ezra Owston, of the Boy Scouts, and John Boyce, of the Boy Scouts. The group hopes to have the premises sufficiently rehabilitated to permit use of the recreation center within a month. The land and cost of repairs have been donated by Kwikset Locks. Izaak Waltons Begin Building

Kwikset Locks today announced plans for converting the old La Palma school into an Anaheim youth center. The property at La Palma and N. Olive st., was purchased by the local firm last Nov. 14. Rehabilitation work under the direction of the Anaheim Izaac Walton League was begun Sunday.

This morning, Adolf Schoepe, Kwikset president and the board of directors of the new recreation area toured the premises and officially started the ball rolling to dress up the abandoned school house.

Kwikset Locks, Inc., purchased the property from the Elementary School Board of Trustees for $15,000 with the intent of converting the buildings and grounds into a supervised recreation spot for Anaheim kids.

Schoepe announced this morning that the property is being turned over to a non-profit corporation to be known as "Investment in Youth, Inc."

Schoepe said "We intend that this property will fill the need in Anaheim for a spacious meeting and recreation area for the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and other organized youth groups."

The cost of repairing damage caused on the premises by vandals will be borne by Kwikset. The

Allied Forces Slow to Crawl As They Hit Main Red Force

TOKYO (AP)—Doughboys spearheading the Allies limited offensive were slowed to a crawl by diehard red resistance today. An officer said they apparently hit the main enemy force arrayed along the frozen western Korean warfront.

On the east coast, U.N. naval power hurled hot steel and bombs into a North Korean town from carrier-based planes and big guns of warships.

The Navy said the powerful task force shelled the area around the east coast port of Kansong throughout the day Tuesday. Shells were rained on rail and road bridges at that point about 25 miles north of the 38th Parallel.

Meanwhile, a South Korean division drove into Kangnung, on the east coast 20 miles south of the Parallel and about 45 miles south of Kansong, a special Fifth Air Force report said.

Hundreds of enemy supply vehicles were seen in North Korea moving southward toward the western battle line.

Forward U.N. units in the western sector advanced laboriously

County Health Authorities Round Up 72 Jars of Liederkranz—Two B3439s

County health authorities announced today that among some six dozen glasses of liederkranz cheese spread collected in a checkup of retail food markets in the county yesterday were two glasses of the spread bearing the same code number B3439 as that which was declared responsible for the death of August Wolf, 53, of South Gate.

Dr. Edward Lee Russell, county health officer, said his department is continuing a check that covers all retail food outlets in the county, including Anaheim, for the purpose of rounding up all of the liederkranz cheese product.

He stated that the Borden co., manufacturers of the spread, already has gathered an estimated 98 per cent of the spread, whether or not it carried the code numbers in question.

Dr. Russell issued a warning to the public that anyone having any of the cheese spread bearing the particular code numbers should not consume it, but

P-TA to Hear Club Activities

The Parent-Teachers association of Anaheim high school will hear about the activities of several student organizations when it assembles tonight in the high school library at 7 p.m.

Miss Fay Schultz, orientation instructor, will be in charge of the meeting that will feature the presidents of ten different clubs, each speaking briefly about his organization.

The clubs and the presidents who will represent them:

Colonist Knights, Dick Ogilvie; Colonial Coeds, Phoebe Merriman; Subdeds, Irma King; Spanish Club, Anette Aier; Latin Club, Janet Larson; Lambda Sigma, Roland Hitlsher; Drama Club, Kenny Gross; Quill and Scroll, Jack Conklin; Riding Club, Carrell Barnett, and Girls' Rifle Club, Lynette Blanchard.

Cal. Citrus Assn. Blasts Pro-Rate

The State Board of Directors of the California Citrus Producers assn., at their regular monthly meeting held last week at Arlington, California, passed the following resolution. "Be it resolved: In the interest of the citrus growers of California and particularly following two disastrous seasons for the Central California navel grower due to the pro-rate or federal volume restrictions under which the citrus industry has been forced to operate, an amendment to the present federal marketing order has become a necessity." "The present pro-rate order must be amended to allow all shippers the privilege to fill all FOB (cash) confirmed orders for citrus fruits, at satisfactory grower prices, unrestricted."

Harold B. Blatz, state secretary for the organization, stated that a move of this kind is an absolute necessity or the California citrus grower would lose more of their markets to Florida and Texas. These states do not operate under any pro-rate or volume restrictions. Blatz further stated that if pro-rate was such a good program for the California grower, why didn't Florida and Texas put the pro-rate into effect in their states?

Producers from Tulare county testified at the meeting, "that thousands of boxes of FOB orders were lost every week of this past season because of low pro-rates." Evidence was presented that one shipper with orders for 20 carloads of navels one day at $5 FOB turned down the orders be-

Senators Propose Recruitment Of United States Foreign Legion

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Two Senators urged Congress today to authorize the recruiting of a U.S. foreign legion, to be composed of a million or more anti-communist young men of other nations.

Senators Lodge (R-Mass) and Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) pressed this idea at hearings by the Senate Preparedness subcommittee on how the United States should build the military forces needed for its defense.

The Defense department wants to draft 18 year olds but many Congress members have been searching for possible alternatives.

Johnson and Lodge both said their proposals for a foreign legion were designed to go along with and not replace the Defense Department's plans to increase the armed forces to 3,462,000 men by June.

But Johnson said his proposal to raise an army of 1,000,000 Germans, Poles and Czechs to serve in Europe under U.S. colors "may make it unnecessary" to take the very young in the years ahead. He said he is opposed to sending "beardless boys to their death and

Eagles to Initiate 30-Second Prayer

A nation-wide movement for a 30-second silent prayer for peace at all civic and public gatherings has been instituted by the Fraternal Order of Eagles and the Anaheim Aerie No. 2401, local Eagle unit has pledged its wholehearted support and co-operation, Louis LeSaout, Chaplain of the Aerie, announced today. The opening ceremony of all subordinate units of the Eagles now includes a silent prayer for peace for all peoples.

"We are living," said M. L. Brown, administrative director of the Order, "in a turbulent world threatened with the devastation of our spiritual, moral and material resources. We have come to the conclusion that the one universal way through which we can aid in defeating communism, preventing war and promoting peace can be by the mobilization of the prayers of our more than one million members."

In Anaheim, Chaplain Louis LeSaout announced that the Eagles will invite other local organizations in the community to join together at all civic and public gatherings in a 30-second silent, universal and personal prayer for peace.

Temperatures

Temperature reading in downtown Anaheim at 2 p.m. today was 56 degrees.

Mercury May Hit 28 Here Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sub-freezing weather tonight was promised California today by the Weather Bureau.

Tonight's cold in Southern California is expected to be only about 28 degrees, possibly necessitating some scattered firing for rich citrus crops.

But minimums of 23 in the Sacramento Valley and 24 in Central California are anticipated, the Fruit Frost Service reported. Citrus has been harvested in the Sacramento area and firing will be necessary there only if the temperature drops to 20, to save the trees.

In the Central California, the Bureau said, firing for fruit will be needed in the coldest districts beginning about 10 p.m.

More than an inch of rain fell in several Southern California cities yesterday.

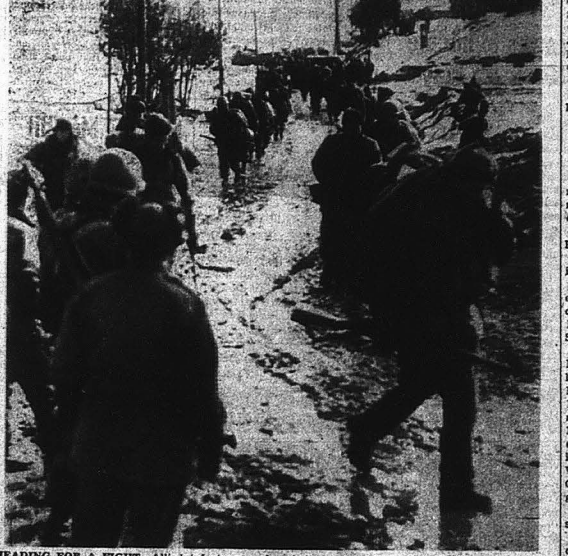

Los Angeles recorded an even inch. Points reporting more than that are Hawthorne, 1.78; Santa Monica, 1.24; Idyllwild, 1.25; Pasadena and San Fernando, 1.17; Arcadia, 1.15. Snow fell in the mountains, blocking the ridge route briefly.

30-Year Resident Of Anaheim Dies

Nancy E. Evans, a resident of Anaheim for 30 years, died yesterday afternoon at the Stratton Rest Home, 7571 S. Spadra Rd. A native of Arkansas, she has lived in California for 34 years, residing most of the time at her home at 222 N. Clementine st.

She is survived by one grandson, Billie Evans of Wilmington.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Hilgenfeld chapel tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. with burial to follow in the Anaheim cemetery.

Alfred Lattin, 92, Dies in Anaheim

Death of one of the vanishing race of American Old-Timers was noted yesterday with the passing of Alfred Lattin, 92, at the home of his son, C. F. Lattin, 1204 Pearl st.

Lattin was born March 28, 1858, in Newton county, Indiana. He participated in one of the most exciting sagas in our countries development: that of the Oklahoma Land Rush on the Cherokee Strip in 1892.

Surviving him are his wife, Ida Mae; two other sons, F. A. of Oklahoma City, and Howard C. of Phoenix, Arizona; five daughters, Mrs. Pearl Rutherford of Pacoima, Calif., Mrs. Gladys Palovik of Ponca City, Okla., Mrs. K. C. Miller of Los Angeles, Mrs. Roy Stapleton of Healdton, Okla., and Mrs. Walter Whitson of Covington, Okla.; 14 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

He was a member of the Assembly of God church.

Services will be held at the chapel of Backs, Campbell and Kaulbars, Wednesday at 2 p.m. Rev. R. W. Culpepper, formerly of Anaheim, will officiate. Burial will be at Anaheim cemetery.

Colonists Face Alumni in March of Dimes Benefit

'Loaded' Graduates to Take Floor After 7 p.m. County Preliminary

The Anaheim Colonists, who have been accused by some of being far too charitable in Sunset league play, step out for charity again tonight—but this time for a much more worthy cause.

The event, as everyone probably knows by now, is the March of Dimes benefit contest between the Colonists and a star-studded alumni quintet. Admission, which will all be turned over to the Dimes fund, will be a minimum of 10 cents. No maximum contribution limit has been placed.

Three Additions

With tipoff time set for 8 a.m. three additions—one each by the Colonists, the alumni, and the management—were announced at the last minute yesterday.

FAULKNER

The Colonists were first with theirs, stating through the medium of Coach Sam Keith that Ed Ramirez, ex-PAULKNER eligible forward who will make his league debut Friday night against Huntington Beach, will be in the Anaheim lineup tonight against the alumni. Not only that, but Keith said that he would probably be in one of the starting spots, although he declined to say just which one of the regular starters would sit this one out.

A roster addition was the contribution of the alumni, who announced that Ed Stringer, guard on the defending city league championship Ritz cleaner squad, would be on their bench for tonight's game.

Prelim Game

Along this same Ritz line, the management announced that that team would play a preliminary game, making tonight's tussle a bargain with a doubleheader. The Cleaners will play Garden Grove in a regular Orange county league game starting at 7 o'clock. Under the present arrangement, the floor must be cleared for the nightcap by 8.

The task of the Colonists may be stated simply: stop Faulkner and Schmitz. But the fulfillment of that task may not be so easy.

Tough Job

Certainly, "little" Ron Faulkner has never faced a challenge as tough this year as that handed him tonight of stopping brother Hugh. Hugh comes in tonight's game at 6 ft. 8 in. and 230 pounds, and thus will tower four inches over the tallest of the Colonists.

He certainly cannot be expected to suffer from unfamiliar surroundings, for it was in this same gym that he earned the title "CIF Player of the Year" in 1947. He was captain of that year's team, its most valuable player, and also set a CIF record that still stands—49 points in a single game.

Local Talent

Unlike his two teammates who will accompany him from Pepperdine—Don Liebhart and Jerry Schmitz—Faulkner went to Santa Ana JC when he was graduated from Anaheim, playing there for a year before transferring to the Waves. Liebhart (1945) and Schmitz (1948) both played at Fullerton before moving to Pepperdine.

All of the other talent has remained local, but it is expected to be no soft touch since most of the men on the Anaheim roster have remained in condition through the medium of the Recreation department's city league.

Backing up these players are Jim Schmitz, Don Hall, Minard Duncan, Lloyd Trapp, Henry Siefkin, Gil Henning, and Don Calaway.

If the secret lies in the reserves, the edge is probably with the alumni. While the Colonist reserves are certainly more plentiful, the alumni subs appear to be much classier.

Nettles First Half Scoring Champion

Armand Nettles of Newport emerged as the Sunset League's top scorer today—at least for the first half of the season.

The Sailor forward plopped through 76 points in his first five games to take a six-point edge over Rex Babcock of Santa Ana. Nettles' teammate, center Glenn Griffith, remained in third place with 62 points.

Three Colonists were among this week's leaders. Guard Sheldon Welch was in fourth place with 58 points and Ira Webber and Ron Faulkner were sixth and seventh, respectively, with 49 and 46.

Rupp Says:

Slow The Game, Slow The Fans

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The surest way to kill basketball as America's number one spectator sport is to slow the game down to a waltz, Kentucky Coach Adolph Rupp said today.

The coach of the nation's No. 1 ranking basketball team believes his players should run with the speed of a bluegrass thoroughbred. His team walloped Tulane 104-68 here last night to give his argument a convincing ring.

Rupp declared in his twangy rural accent:

"Basketball is a game of action. When you take the action away, the customer will stay away, too."

A bitter opponent of slow-style deliberate basketball, Rupp picked up a newspaper to make a point.

"Look here," he said as he pointed to a story of the Oklahoma A. and M.-DePaul game last Saturday in Chicago.

"Only 7000 people turned out to see the Aggies play DePaul in Chicago. Fifth largest town in the world.

(The Aggies are coached by the veteran Henry Iba, leading exponent of a slow deliberate offense that is built around ball control.)

"Why when we played De Paul at Lexington, a tank town in comparison to Chicago, we had 'em standing in the aisles. Sold all 13,500 seats and standing room, too.

Rupp, who watches the turnstiles almost as closely as the scoreboard, has enjoyed tremendous success with his race-horse game, winning 422 and losing 78 in 20 years at Kentucky.

Plans Announced For Field Day

Final arrangements for the next field day for the Anaheim Golf association were announced today by Dick Gay, secretary of the organization.

The next one will be held at the Lakewood country club in Long Beach on Feb. 8, he said. It will be the first field day for the Anaheimers since they last gathered at Willowick on Oct. 11.

Once again the golfers will be vying for the Troutman-Scholz perpetual trophy, symbolic of the day's lowest net score. The trophy was captured by J. W. Anderson last time with a score of 61.

Reserve Tee

Gay said that the tee at Lakewood had been especially reserved for members of the AGA from noon until 1:30 p.m. At October's field day, approximately 80 golfers participated in the quest for the trophy. Besides the large trophy for low net score, Gay said that there would probably be a number of other awards handed out following the day's play.

As is the custom following all of the field days, a dinner will be held in the Lakewood clubhouse at 6:30 p.m. Gay said that a good turnout is expected since about 75 per cent of the golfers remained for the dinner at Willowick.

Dinner Tickets

Gay said that dinner tickets were priced at $3 and that they could be obtained from him or from Les Moon, George Miller, Pep Lake, Joe Scholz, or Rock Conklin.

A brief meeting and some form of entertainment will be given following the day's play, Gay said that plans for the 13th annual AGA tournament would probably be made at the Lakewood meeting.

Faurot Probably, But He Might Not

COLUMBIA, Mo., (AP)—Coach Don Faurot's status at the University of Missouri today was obscure.

Even Faurot was in a dilemma

Missouri wants Faurot to stay on as football coach and athletic director. But so far he and the athletic committee have been unable to reach an agreement on a new contract.

The Missouri coach is also under consideration for football coaching jobs at the University of Southern California and Ohio State.

Yesterday Faurot said proposals made to him by the Missouri athletic committee were not acceptable. He added, however, that he had not resigned.

Asked just where he stood with Missouri, Faurot commented, "I don't know."

His salary is no longer an issue. He has been offered a modest increase to the present $11,500. He also gets $325 in annuity allowances.

Another conference of the athletic committee has been scheduled for today.

The Los Angeles Examiner said today unless Missouri officials satisfy Faurot, he will fly to Los Angeles Thursday to confer with Southern California officials on the coaching job there.

Both Faurot and SC Athletic Director Willis O. Hunter declined to comment on the Examiner's story.

Faurot said negotiations at Missouri have centered around his desire to obtain a "workable plan" for attracting and keeping capable athletes at the school. He also has indicated he would like greater control of the athletic department.

Although he is director of athletics, the athletic committee handles much of the policy making and business affairs.

THE BEST COURSE—George Miller, president of the Anaheim Golf association, finds that the best way to keep his eye sharp during the week is to practice in his front room. Mrs. Miller is more interested in the result than she is in putting form. (Gazette photo by Kreidt)

Kentucky, Aggies Move Out To Lead in AP Cage Voting

NEW YORK—(AP)—With another full month before the first of the basketball tournaments begins, the Kentucky Wildcats and Oklahoma A & M appear due for a battle right down to the wire for the No. 1 collegiate ranking.

For the second week in a row, Kentucky topped the weekly AP poll today, but the margin was by a slim 19 votes over the Aggies of Oklahoma.

Of course, something could pop up to blow down the rankings of one or the other—or both—before the end of the poll. For instance, take the case of Long Island university, the No. 2 team last week, but dropped this week to No. 4 because of its loss to California Saturday, 69-67. Arizona bumped LIC last night at Tucson, 67-61, but this was after the votes were counted for this week's rating.

The results all were in last night, however, before Kentucky took the court to thump Tulane, 104-68, at New Orleans. It was a new Southeastern conference scoring record, and possibly Kentucky felt it needed some positive proof it should show who is boss in the court business.

From here on, the schedule favors Kentucky to add to its 15-1 mark. The Wildcats have nine games left in regular season play, most with impotent Southeastern conference clubs.

On the other hand, Oklahoma A & M has a tougher row to hoe, especially with some Big Seven and Missouri Valley foes waiting to ambush Coach Hank Iba's lads.

With 138 sportswriters and broadcasters voting in this week's poll, Kentucky received 42 first place votes and Oklahoma A & M 31. The Aggies, with an 18-1 record, were third last week.

On the basis of 10 points for first place, nine for second, and so forth, Coach Adolph Rupp's Kentucky quintet had 988 points this week, compared with 969 for Oklahoma A & M.

The same 10 teams in the top 10 remained there, but seven of them changed positions in a skimpy week of basketball play due to mid-year examinations.

Indiana (13-1), leading the Big Ten parade, moved up from fifth a week ago to third place, with 836 points. After Long Island comes Bradley (18-3) in fifth, a drop from fourth; Columbia, the country's only major unbeaten team with 12 straight, up from seventh to sixth; Kansas State (13-2), ninth last week, moving to seventh; North Carolina State (19-2) holding to eighth; St. John's of Brooklyn (13-2), dropping from sixth to ninth; and St. Louis (14-4) hanging on to tenth.

Here are the leading teams with points based on ten for first place vote, nine for second, etc. (First place votes and season records including last night's games in parentheses):

1. Kentucky (42) (18-1)	988
2. Oklahoma A&M (31) (18-1)	969
3. Indiana (7) (17-1)	836
4. Long Island U. (3) (16-2)	745
5. Bradley (1) (18-3)	651
6. Columbia (4) (12-0)	435
7. Kansas State (13-2)	400
8. N. Carolina State (7) (19-2)	376
9. St. John's (2) (13-2)	241
10. St. Louis (14-4)	238

Bee Blows Topper On Arizona Refs

NEW YORK (AP)—Long Island University's touring basketball forces are finding their 6000-mile road trip mighty rocky, not at all like playing at home, where they have won 139 straight games.

The Blackbirds have won once and lost twice on the current swing—both setbacks coming by a margin of only three points. And, perhaps the worst is yet to come, as LIU plays Kansas State tomorrow night and St. Louis Saturday.

Arizona staged a brilliant rally last night to nip Long Island, 62-61. Jerry Dillon's free toss in the waning seconds enabled Arizona to extend its home floor string to 73 consecutive victories.

After the game, Clair Bee, LIU's veteran coach, took a direct rap at the officials, claiming "they took the ball game away from us just as everyone on the coast said they would."

Bee was probably miffed because his high-scoring ace, Sherman White, was forced out of the game on fouls with 12 minutes to go.

Meanwhile, Kentucky, ranked No. 1 in this week's Associated Press poll, blasted Tulane, 104-68, in a Southeastern conference game at New Orleans. It was the first time Kentucky scored more than 100 points.

In two Western conference tilts, Northwestern stomped on Ohio State, 78-67, and Purdue climbed out of the cellar with a 59-55 victory over Michigan State in overtime.

Association Started in Mid-'30s to Band Together Anaheim Linksmen

That man without a country routine is old stuff now, but Anaheim has put a new twist on the orphan angle—it has golfers (nearly 150 of them) without a course.

This isn't a new and startling revelation to most people. It's always been this way: As long as anyone cares to remember, Anaheim has had its share of golfers; and as long as anyone cares not to remember, Anaheim has never had a golf course to call its own.

Realizing that it might never have a course here in Anaheim, a group of men banded together some 15 years ago to do the next best thing to bringing a golf course here to Anaheim—they would take themselves to the nearest available course.

Start Small

That was the beginning of the Anaheim Golf association, started in the mid-'30s as close as anyone can tell. The original charter members started a membership drive, charging $1.50 to anyone who cared to enter and they were off. Since they knew that there were many golfers present in Anaheim, they set as their purpose the banding together of those sportsmen to play golf regularly.

In order to accomplish these motives, the association scheduled an annual tournament (the 13th one is coming up) and a number of field days where the association members would compete for various prizes.

Grown Up Now

Today the organization is no longer a baby, but it still finds itself without a course. It has grown to 147 members, many of them belonging to various private clubs in addition to their AGA membership. Fullerton, which has a similar situation, is back far behind in the enrollment race.

George Miller is president of the AGA and Dick Gay is its secretary-treasurer—the only one that it has had since its founding. The association has a board of directors—Al Riutcel, W. N. Miller, Vincent Borden, Bob Rossberg and Harry Pearson—and even has its own handicapper, Les Moon.

Secretary Gay expressed a growing fear that is felt by the collective members of the association with the ever-increasing population of California.

More and Less

"More and more people are coming to this state," he said, "but insead of golf courses increasing, they are on the decrease. The latest to go is the California Country club in Los Angeles. It is being torn up to be subdivided for new homes.

"This makes it increasingly tough for anyone to play golf on the courses that are available. The AGA, for example, has regular times at Willowick when the tee is reserved for it. But it is impossible for anyone to go to a large course, such as Lakwood, on a weekend and expect to play unless he has a regular time reserved every week."

Because of this, it is easy to read validity into the slogan which the AGA has adpoted for its use: "More golf courses for Orange County."

And, specifically, that means Anaheim.

The Membership

The roll of the AGA includes:

Everett Cone, Art Shipkey, R. M. Conklin, Dick Gay, Houston Kier, Clyde Cromer, Harry Pearson, William Claussen, Rudy Lemcke, Ray Officer, Art Schwarting, Clinton Wilmsen, Frank Leonard, Maurice Shirk, Kenny Kendrick, Les Moon, Joe Fitzgerald, Jess Meadows, Dan Watkins, Byron Dahl, Gibby Kuenzli, Ed Charles, Schutz, Jon Sands, Les Bharrat, Wm. PART TIME TAX EXPERTS

Each year during the income tax filing season there appears all over the country the part time "Tax Expert." Usually these individuals follow lines of endeavor during the rest of the year which have no remote connection with either tax recording or accounting. Usually armed with a dollar tax book and with little or no more knowledge of the complex tax structure than the persons whom they serve, they offer bargain prices and "big refunds." Having no regular place of business, they escape the normal overhead of the established professional man who maintains an office for the convenience of his clients. When the tax man reviews the return, they are gone and the taxpayer must face his problems with the Bureau of Internal Revenue alone.

For your protection against the possibility of unqualified persons preparing your income tax returns, look for the State of California Board of Accountancy Permit, or check by mail or phone with the State of California Board of Accountancy, 145 South Spring Street, Los Angeles 12, California, telephone MAdison 6-1515.

This information is submitted by the Anaheim Committee of Public Accountants and Certified Public Accountants in the public interest.

MRS. LERON HESTER—Miss Jane Howorth was a lovely bride as she repeated vows Sunday evening. (Portrait by Paul Kent)

Miss Jane Howorth Is Bride of Leron Hester in Service at Pasadena Chapel

Pasadena's beautiful Chapel of the Roses was the setting Sunday evening for candlelight services which united Miss Jane Howorth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Briggs Howorth of Verdugo View Drive, Los Angeles and Leron Hester, son of the Orva L. Hester's of this city.

The prominent young Los Angeles socialite chose for her wedding a gown of white lace over satin. The full skirt fell into myriads of tiny accordian pleats at the hipline and the fitted bodice, buttoned to the waist, ended in a brief collar. On her white prayer book she carried a delicate spray of lilies of the valley and a white orchid.

Maid of honor, Miss Virginia Burr and bridesmaids, Jean Lubratisch and Levene Hester, wore cocoa brown net over green and carried yellow tulips.

James Palmer was best man and ushers were William Griffin, Dick Hargrove and Sterling Meyer.

Receiving guests with the couple, Mrs. Howorth wore a gown in green lace and Mrs. Hester wore champagne lace. 150 guests attended the reception.

The bride is now attending the University of California at Berkeley where she affiliated with Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority.

Mr. Hester was graduated from Fullerton Junior college and is attending University of California at Berkeley where he is a member of Chi Alpha Kappa professional architects fraternity.

Santa Ana Players To Appear in 'Laura' Thursday

With a cast including Ruth Phelps, Bill Carden, Biff Beeman and Burr Shafer, "Laura," the stage version of Vera Caspary's best-selling novel, opens Thursday night as the current presentation of the Santa Ana Community Players at the Santa Ana Ebell Clubhouse.

Miss Phelps plays the title role, which first was portrayed by Miriam Hopkins and later by Gene Tierney in the movie version of the clever mystery.

Subtle and sophisticated dialogue makes the stage "Laura" a more vivid production than the film, according to Gladys Simpson Shafer, who directs the play.

Completing the cast are Alda Lambert, Caroiyn Young, Bob Burns and Harry Bruckett.

The run of "Laura" is scheduled to continue through Saturday night, and reservations may be made at the Santa Ana Book Store.

Youth Fellowship Holds Officer Installation

Christian Youth Fellowship of the Stanton Community church were accompanied by Rev. and Mrs. Charles White to Idyllwild over the week-end. 18 members enjoyed the winter sports at Pine Cove camp.

The annual installation pot-luck dinner for the Christian Youth Fellowship was held Monday night in the clubrooms, sponsored by Mrs. C. C. Sowers, Sunday school teacher, and Virgil Isbell, deacon of the church.

Officers installed were Robert Padgett, president; Ross Miser, vice-president; Jeannette Koss, secretary; Dale Grivey, treasurer; Max E. Moolick, song leader; Georgia Drake, pianist and Doris Grivey, party chairman.

Add two or three tablespoons of lemon juice to rinse water when washing rayon dresses and slips. As it completely removes soap it will clear the colors, too.

MARRIED FRIDAY—Miss Joyce Ann Carlson became the bride of Gene Albin Friday evening in rites read in Los Angeles home. (Jarrett Snider studio)

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Joyce Ann Carlson-Gene Anton Albin Friday Evening

Miss Joyce Ann Carlson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Carlson of N. Bradford ave., Placentia, was a lovely bride Friday evening as she repeated vows with Gene Anton Albin of Anaheim in evening services performed at the home of the bridegroom's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. William Eustuce of Los Angeles.

Soft scalloping at the yoke and waistline detailed the traditional white satin gown in which the bride said her vows. A quaint dutch bonnet held her fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of yellow and white carnations with stephanotis centered around a cluster of tiny yellow rosebuds.

Miss Bobbie Jean Richardson, maid of honor and the bride's only attendant, wore a floor length gown of ice blue starched pique with a picture neckline and matching blue mitts. A shower of yellow ribbons fell from her bouquet of yellow carnations and candy tuft.

James Whiteman of Anaheim, a cousin of the bridegroom was best man.

The couple were married before a full length mirror surrounded by yellow and white flowers, potted plants and candelabra. The Rev. Clay of Whittier Methodist church performed the double ring rites.

Soloist, Mrs. Opal Walters, sang the couple's favorite love songs and Miss Barbara Records sang the traditional wedding music. Frances McKee was accompanist.

Reception followed the ceremony in the home, with Mrs. Vinnie Swallow, the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Ila Holt of Whittier and Mrs. Verla Trantum of Compton and Mrs. John Chapman of Anaheim assisting.

Mrs. Carlson received guests in a gown of cinnamon crepe with brown accessories and a white corsage.

For traveling the bride chose a suit of poudre blue gabardine with a basket weave matching hat and black velvet accessories. She attended Valencia high school at Placentia and Parnell Private School for Girls in East Whittier.

The bridegroom was graduated from Anaheim high school and Fullerton Junior college and is employed in Whittier.

Altar Society To Hold Kick-Off Luncheon

A special meeting of St. Boniface Altar Society was held recently in the home of the new president, Mrs. Frank Braddock, for the purpose of completing plans for a pot luck luncheon to be held in the parish hall Thursday at 12:30.

All past presidents of Altar Society and P-TA will be honored and are asked not to miss a delightful afternoon.

Mrs. Simon Toussau, chairman in charge, reports that the committee is going "all out" to make the luncheon a memorable one.

Mrs. William LeVecke, program chairman has a surprise for all who attend. Those wishing to play cards after the meeting will be able to do so, with prizes to be awarded. All members of the parish are cordialy invited.

Harold E. Roberts of Pasadena wil be guest speaker at the meeting of the Orange County Branch of the National Fuschia Society tonight at 8 p.m. The group will meet at the American Legion hall, 936 N. Lemon st., Anaheim. Visitors are invited to attend the meeting. Program will include a plant sale, and refreshments will be served during the evening.

HONEY DATE BARS

½ cup shortening
1 cup honey
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 eggs or 6 egg yolks
1¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped dates
1 cup chopped nuts
Confectioners' sugar

Blend shortening, honey and vanilla until creamy. Beat in eggs one at a time. Sift dry ingredients into egg mixture. Blend. Add nuts and dates and stir just to distribute evenly. Spread in a greased 9x12-inch pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) until golden brown, 30 to 35 minutes. Cool. Cut in bars and roll in confectioners' sugar. Makes 3 dozen 1x3-inch bars.

Personal Mention

Miss Mildred Buehler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Buehler, 11462 S. Stanton ave., recent winner of the talent award on the NTG television show, spent five days at Palm Springs with her mother as the guest of the sponsor. Friday night NTG showed films of Mrs. Buehler and Mildred present to receive a gift.

From the program Mildred left for Fairfield Base to dance for the Air Corps. She returned home Sunday to report at Marywood Central High school, where she is a junior.

Monthly meeting of the Orange County Branch of the American Begionia Society will be held Thursday, February 1, in the Farm Bureau hall, 333 N. Main st., Orange. Homer Greene of the California Spray Company, manufacturers of Ortho products, will show colored pictures of "How to Grow Begonia's and Camillias," plus a short resume of the latest development in "Scientific Pest Controls." Following the program will be a plant sale, prizes will be awarded and refreshments will be served. Visitors are welcome.

An old fashioned progressive dinner ended the weekend on a friendly note for Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Buis, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Kannard, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Heil and Mr. and Mrs. George Hatfield.

Sunday night the four couples entertained each other in turn. The first stop was at the Heil home on N. West st., for cocktails, then on to the Hatfield home, at Kroeger st., for shrimp salad. Buis's served the entree of Italian spaghetti at their home on S. Melrose. Rest of the evening was spent at the Kanyard home, W. Sycamore, with canasta, cake and coffee.

Mr. and Mrs. John Esparza, 215 N. Topeka st., are parents of a daughter born Jan. 24, at Orange county hospital.

Sprinkle a little lemon juice on broiled or fried mushrooms for a new taste teaser.

Dinner Party In Kunold Home

Mrs. F. Norbert DeCock of this city was honored at a delightful birthday party Sunday when Mrs. Frances Kunold and her mother Mrs. Marie DeCock entertained in the Kunold home on N. Palm st.

Red and white decorations, carrying out the Valentine motif, were used on the attractive birthday cake.

Enjoying the evening were Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Casey and Miss Dolores Young from La Habra. Mr. and Mrs. R. Van Oost and daughter, Mary, of Glendale; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Tittle and family, Celeste and Bruce from Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sesma and Mr. and Mrs. A. Vanderbcke and the DeCocks from Anaheim.

Loves To Fish!

Mrs. Rebecca Peckinpaugh, 1807 West Penn St., Evansville, Ind., says her favorite pastime these days is going fishing with her husband — that is, of course, since she has been relieved of aches and pains by taking HADACOL because she found she had a deficiency of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin. She now has the vitality and energy to do many things that, before HADACOL gave her these necessary elements, she was unable to do.

Here is Mrs. Peckinpaugh's own statement: "I was sure in an awful fix for a while. My appetite was awful bad—could hardly eat anything. Didn't know what I was going to do—I really felt bad. Then one day I heard how other folks were being helped by HADACOL. I decided to try it. Now I have taken 5 bottles of HADACOL and I sure feel fine. I don't ache a bit. I have never heard of anything so wonderful as HADACOL. I even have a wonderful appetite. For sick folks who really want to know what to do—I say try HADACOL."

Buy a bottle of HADACOL either the trial size, $1.25, or the large family size or hospital size, $3.50, and if HADACOL does not help you, your money will be refunded. If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order it direct from the LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana.

In the interests of Anaheim youth . . .

The Gazette, as a spokesman for the community, notes with pleasure and appreciation the friendly action of Kwikset Locks in purchasing the abandoned school building (and adjoining land) at La Palma and N. Olive which the local firm will convert into an Anaheim youth center.

Newspapers by virtue of their type of operation have more than the usual opportunity to become acquainted with the businesses and business leaders of a community.

But, businesses and business leaders, by the nature of their operations, often cannot become personally known by the great numbers of the general public.

Consequently, the finest and most civic minded business organizations often are not fully appreciated (or understood) by the general public.

Let's face it, it is hard actually to know and appreciate a neighbor whom you cannot chat with intimately over the back fence or greet in your living room!

If there is some way it can be accomplished, we feel that every neighbor of Anaheim would be happy to be personally acquainted with the folks who "run" Kwikset. We know that continual close contact with the Kwikset people always shows them to be the civic minded folks they are—as well as folks you would want to drink coffee with, have at your picnic, or just socialize with.

Kwikset President Adolf Schoepe—because there are only so many hours in a day—would find it impossible to get out and call on every Anaheimer in his own living room. But, those who know Mr. Schoepe would immediately agree that that is exactly what he would like to do.

Kwikset doesn't represent an advertiser to the Gazette. So, we don't say these words because we want to polish the apple.

We just happen to know Mr. Schoepe and some of the other Anaheimers at Kwikset and we like them personally. From Mr. Schoepe right on down they are gracious and helpful folks. If we can say a few words to get the idea into a few more of those living rooms we feel we have done our readers a service.

As to the youth center—it is one more friendly addition to the city by Mr. Schoepe and Kwikset. It represents a genuinely keen desire by the Kwikset folks to be warm neighbors with more folks in Anaheim.

It sort of follows along that idea of wanting to get acquainted with folks by visiting with them in their own living rooms.

Not only as parents, but as just plain ordinary citizens of Anaheim we are pleased about this action of Kwikset's.

We sort of think all of you are too.

The young devotees of the skating rink were practicing at Cohen's butcher shop yesterday.

Born—Jan. 22, to the wife of J. K. Tuffree, a daughter.

The gray charger of Doctor Ellis was seen running riderless through the streets yesterday morning, at a rate of speed which seemed to indicate that he had forgotten something and the query was raised as to whether that something might not have been the doctor.

Typhoid fever cases are numerous in Los Angeles. One physician told a Herald reporter that he had fourteen beautiful cases under his care.

Born—In Anaheim, Jan. 26, to the wife of Ferdinand Backs, a son.

Services at the Presbyterian church tomorrow as usual. The pastor, by special request, will repeat in the morning a sermon on "The True Measurement of Christ." A Chinese school will be organized Sabbath afternoon at 3 o'clock under the superintendency of Mr. D. E. Miles.

An inch and fourteen hundredths of rain has fallen during the week, bringing the total for the season to 8.65 inches. Fifteen hundredths fell on Friday night, January 25, according to the Southern Pacific rain gauge and .99 for the following Sunday.

The rains have fallen opportunely and have been followed by warm, growing weather. The country is putting on its most beautiful garb of verdure, which seems all the more enhanced in beauty because of the contrast between the preceding three dry seasons.

J. C. Sheppard of Fullerton was last week awarded the contract for constructing a cement ditch for the Los Nietos water company. He bid against five other contractors. His bid was the lowest, being 47½ cents per lineal foot, and 29 cents per cubic foot of concrete. The next lowest bid was that of Clarence Groat, who bid 49 cents per lineal foot and 27 cents per cubic foot of concrete. Mr. Sheppard will commence work on the ditch immediately.

The Jackson's Mens Wear store at 175 West Center street, owned by William Jackson was burglarized Thursday night. The loss is probably $13,000, wholesale value. Four hundred suits, forty overcoats and two hundred silk shirts, besides a quantity of jewelry and various other things. There was no burglary insurance on the stock. When Mr. Jackson opened the store Friday morning he found instead of the well-filled shelves and racks of men's and boy's clothing which he had left the night before, only empty shelves and empty racks. Only the suits, overcoats and hats displayed in the windows remained. An employee of the Oyster Loaf Cafe observed a suspicious looking man walking up and down the street at about half-past one o'clock. It is presumed he was a lookout stationed there to warn his confederates of the approach of the night-watchman.

Joseph Fiscus passed away at his residence 1001 South Los Angeles street on Thursday. He was a native of Pennsylvania and was aged 73 years. Mr. Fiscus had lived in Anaheim for more than thirty years. He owned a large and very fine orange orchard on South Los Angeles. The funeral will be at Backs, Terry and Campbell's mortuary on Lemon at 2 o'clock Saturday. Rev. Thomas Walker will preach the burial sermon.

A car belonging to F. T. Edmiston was stolen from its parking place in the alley near the Edmiston store Saturday night. An hour later it was found by the police on Illinois street, having been stripped of three tires and the battery.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — It is no secret that the key to Soviet Russia's war-making ability is oil. It is also no secret that Russia does not have sufficient oil to continue a war for more than two or three months. Thus she must get more oil before she starts hostilities.

This is why the little country of Iran, a land of nomad tribes and vast oil reserves, may be the key to future peace.

Should Moscow be able to take over Iran's priceless oil fields, she would not only have enough oil to wage war, but would also have access to the Indian Ocean through the Persian Gulf. This would probably mean that India, Arabia, and the Near East eventually would become Soviet-led.

In view of this, the uncensored news of what is happening in Iran today is extremely important.

This news is that Moscow is waging a quiet and extremely effective campaign to take over Iran by friendly infiltration. Simultaneously, the United States has so bungled its diplomacy—including our failure to put through a $25,000,000 loan—that Iran is on the verge of tossing aside its traditional friendship with the USA.

Unquestionably what Russia is aiming at is envelopment of Iran by peaceful means. To do otherwise would ruin the oil supply. For, any armed clash over Iran would bring about bombing and the demolition of Iran's oil fields, thus defeating Moscow's chief reason for taking over the country.

The Soviet strategy, therefore, is to have Iran nationalize her oil fields, then hire Russian experts to "advise" on oil well operation.

U. S. Bungles

This strategy has made much more progress than most people realize, and has been speeded up by the following factors:

1. When Iran faced a famine in 1948-50 we hemmed, hawed, and delayed about sending wheat. Meanwhile, our reputation as a humanitarian nation vanished.

2. The Anglo-Iranian Oil co., owned by the British government, has operated as if Iran were a colony.

3. We have sent Iran considerably less military and economic aid than her neighbors.

4. The $25,000,000 loan extended by the Export-Import bank had so many conditions attached that the Iranian parliament will probably veto it.

U. S. Ambassador Henry Grady has been pounding Washington corridors trying to pry loose the $25,000,000 in a hurry. He is getting no where fast.

Meanwhile, Iran has cut off the Voice of America, has given free play to the Voice of Moscow, and has negotiated a new trade treaty with Russia, giving favorable treatment to Iranian products. In brief, Moscow has found that friendship pays, and is working at it overtime.

Alienating Voters

Here is how not to get re-elected.

A group of Montana farmers found Senator Zales Ecton, himself a Montana farmer, in a grumpy mood the other day. As they were ushered into his office, Ecton snorted angrily:

"I wish you people would quit bothering me. I wish you would leave me alone, so I can get constructive work done with some of my fellow Senators."

Without a word, the farmers turned on their heels and walked out.

Quadruple Amputee

A Marine colonel, who asked to remain anonymous, has endorsed his $500 Pennsylvania bonus check over to Pfc. Robert L. Smith, who lost both hands and both feet in Korea.

The anonymous colonel mailed the endorsed check to Senator James Duff, Pennsylvania Republican, who turned it over to Smith at the Walter Reed hospital in Washington, D. C.

In an accompanying note, the colonel explained: "Enclosed herewith is the check for $500 given to me by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for my services in the Armed Forces of the United States during World War II . . . The state of Pennsylvania owes me nothing. It is rather that I owe Pennsylvania far more than I can ever repay."

Capital Chaff

President Truman will appoint a new commission to investigate why more Americans don't vote—and what can be done about it. Fifty years ago 74 per cent of American voters went to the polls; last November only 43 per cent. (Minority rule is what runs and ruins Russia) . . . If White House Assistant John Steelman gets the $100,000 job he wants with the New York Stock Exchange, Stuart Symington will become Truman's No. 1 assistant . . . Senator Long of Louisiana is investigating complaints that the big automobile companies are hoarding steel under fictitious names, while the little companies can't get enough steel to stay in business . . . Chester Bowles, ex-governor of Connecticut, has been offered the important job of directing American aid throughout the whole Far East. The aim is to sell America to Asia's millions—before it is too late.

WELL, MOSES DID IT

Hal Boyle

TAEGU, Korea (AP)—This is where I came into the Korean war more than six months ago.

And this is where I left it.

You would think a man would be happy at the chance to go back to America after spending half a year in a land as sorry and unhappy as Korea.

But the truth is I didn't want to go. I would rather stay and see how the campaign finally came out.

The other correspondents came around and poured me a farewell drink and said: "You've been over here about as long as anybody. You ought to have got the hell out of here long ago. Nobody cares about this story back in the states anymore. Korea is getting to be back page news. The people at home are worrying about themselves—not about the Army over here."

And my Army friends said:

"You want to stay on here? You're crazy. Boy, give me the chance to get back to old Uncle Sugar—Just give me the chance."

I appreciated their sympathy, and I loved them for the liars they were—beautiful, wonderful, loyal liars. But they didn't fool me at all. Everyone wants to go home in war, but no man who is a man wants to leave his Army while it is non-victorious.

In two wars I had retreated with the American Army on three continents at Kasserine Gap in Africa, at Spa in the Battle of the Belgian Bulge, at Seoul in Korea. In the retreats in Africa and Europe I had stayed with the American troops through the entire ordeal and still was with them when they counterattacked and moved back to victory.

This time there was no real prospect of a final victory. The best that can be gained in Korea now is a bitter diplomatic compromise. It was for this very reason that I hungered most to stay here. I didn't want to "bug out" on this shoestring army just because it was caught fighting a war down a dead end street.

But this has been the longest and saddest half year of my life. I had reached a point where I felt I could no longer do well the job that is mine—to tell the story of individual men in battle. It had all become a gray monotony of the heart and mind, and I had become so worn down with it that I no longer could write it. I could feel the suffering of soldiers and civilian refugees. I could share their dangers. But I no longer could come back and put those experiences into words. I guess I came to identify myself too damn much with this American Eighth Army I have learned to love.

When a reporter no longer can write about what he sees, it is time that he pasture his spirit elsewhere for a time. And that is why I left for home, neither the first nor the last to go—but one who wants to try it again, when he can do it again. Otherwise it would be better that I put away my typewriter and pick up a rifle.

It was a hot and sunny day I landed at the airfield here last July. Men fainted in the heat as they fought upon the hills. They were on the defensive then. They were basically back upon the defensive again on the cold bright day I went back out to the same airfield to start my return trip to America. A bitter wind was blowing, and frostbite was now a problem to the men fighting in the hills.

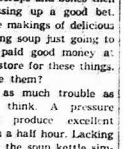

In the plane I boarded were a number of happy soldiers getting a five day leave back in Japan. We took off. The plane circled over a bare field dotted with white crosses. It was the largest United Nations cemetery in Korea.

In six months I had made some friends and lost some friends, and some of them were there under the crosses below.

I felt I might never see Korea again, or know these dead and living friends again as I had known them here. I pulled my chin down into my parka and cried silently and alone until I fell asleep.

I think I was the smarting I had from Korea, where better men than I have lost something they never can recover—no, not even if tomorrow a candle of peace were suddenly lit upon every bloody frozen hill from Manchuria to Pusan.

Few things give a homemaker such a feeling of thrift as does the preparation of good soup.

The uninitiated is apt to ask, "why should I make soup when I can buy it canned, dehydrated or frozen, already to serve?"

Prepared soup definitely has its place on our menus the year round and a kitchen is poorly stocked without it.

But look.

And the place to look is in the garbage pail. If it is brimming with vegetable parings, vegetable trimmings, the wilted outer leaves of lettuce and cabbage, celery tops, left over vegetable salad, meat scraps and bones then you are passing up a good bet. Here are the makings of delicious and nourishing soup just going to waste. You paid good money at the grocery store for these things. Why not use them?

It is not as much trouble as you might think. A pressure cooker will produce excellent soup stock in a half hour. Lacking that, you let the soup kettle simmer for about three hours, after which there is straining and chopping to be done. That seems a small price to pay for a hearty dish almost unbelievably rich in vitamins and minerals.

This is the reason why the thrifty homemaker who is interested in her family's health as well as her food budget makes a habit of collecting miscellaneous odds and ends suitable for soup. They will keep fresh when stored in the refrigerator in a crisper or in an airtight, and waterproof bag made for that purpose.

These days, the vegetable scraps will probably collect more quickly than the meat scraps and bone so you may want to buy a shin bone or a knuckle bone from your butcher. Lacking the bone from a roast, ten cents worth of soup bone will supply you with all the soup stock you can use.

Soup Stock

Have the butcher crack the bones or cut them into as small pieces as is possible. To bring out the full flavor of uncooked bones, sear two pounds of them until browned on all sides. Pour off any fat that may accumulate and add two quarts of water and two teaspoons of salt. Do not forget to put in the scraps of meat and bone you have been saving.

Acid added to the water, will draw valuable calcium from the bones into the stock, so it is well to add tomatoes, tomato juice or one-fourth cup of vinegar.

Cover the soup pot closely and simmer gently for three hours. In the meantime, coarsely chop the vegetable scraps you have been collecting and at the end of the three hour cooking period, add these chopped vegetables. Boil slowly for 20 minutes.

Strain the liquid and cool. Skim off the fat. This will make approximately two quarts of stock.

This stock is the basis for many

Colony Quips

We send your way today a letter written to the Lindsay Gazette by one of the prominent orange men of that northern California area. Mr. B. G. Rooke gives his views in this letter which was printed in the Tulare county paper December 29, 1950.

He makes a point that if any shipper has a definite contract at parity or above he should be allowed to ship the fruit prorate or not. The point, we believe, is well taken. So long as the grower receives parity, or above, we have no kick with any organization.

And, any organization which pays the grower less has no reason to expect grower support—even the big Exchange. Mr. Rooke's letter follows:

"As the purpose of the orange pro-rate is to get the grower more money I wish to submit a few facts for your consideration. In the first place many markets are being lost due to the inability of assuring delivery of definite amounts of fruit for the consumer. Many eastern and mid-western dealers handling large quantities of California navels, have been, and at times still are, accepting Florida and Texas fruit on account of previous California commitments being reduced by pro-rate to such an extent that dealers are forced to look elsewhere for supplies. (This statement pertains to merchandising methods of marketing only.)

"The writer of this article has had 40 years experience in this district and is thoroughly familiar with the hazardous handling and marketing of citrus fruits together with sometimes very adverse weather conditions. At times picking has been delayed for weeks due to rain and fog.

"Our heavy competitor, Florida, was several years ago credited with lack of control whereas they are at present accomplishing some very fine results.

"Under the present method of operation we hesitate to think what our condition may be at such time as we have a full crop of oranges and at present there is considerable alarm as to decay and breakdown of the remaining (approximately 40 per cent) of the crop.

"The present season shows clearly adverse conditions under which we are forced to operate with picking practically one week before packing and then being subjected to weather conditions in the East, Florida and at home.

"The amount of allotted pro-rate set each Thursday makes operating within the allotted proration extremely difficult.

"Believing that the harvesting of Tulare county oranges resembles in many phases the short season of Elberta peaches we must provide a more flexible and tolerant method of handling.

"It must be realized that many smart business men not familiar with the citrus set-up who have considered investments in same have upon analysis of operations after hearing of discontent decided that they want no part of it.

"My recommendation is that any shipper having definite sale orders at parity or above should be allowed to ship such fruit regardless of whether said shipper has shipped his allotted pro-rate or otherwise."

Latin America May Be Romantic, But Only in Songs Says Anaheim Woman After Year Spent in Argentina

By ANITA ROBERTSON

South of the border may be a romantic haven to some, but from one Anaheim woman's point of view it's, "South America, take it away. Please!"

Mrs. William J. Chancellor, her husband and two sons, Roy, 11, and Alan, 8, returned from Argentina recently after spending a year in that legendary paradise.

Chancellor had been in Argentina for about four years, contracting for oil wells for an American firm, when Mrs. Chancellor decided to join him there last February. During that time, they lived in the territory of Chaco, North Argentina, and in the midwest province of Mendoza, near the Andes mountains.

RALPH R. RHEA

At their first home in Chaco, they lived in a village inhabited by only five other American families. From this "romantic" setting, Mrs. Chancellor made the following observations:

When she first arrived in the Argentine, the value of money was 10 pesos to one dollar. By the time she left, this value had decreased to the ratio of 14 to 1.

There are no paved roads; naturally, no sidewalks. Stoves burn either wood or charcoal. There is some electricity, but the refrigerator is a practically unknown object in spite of the fact that the weather is always warm.

Water, for drinking, bathing, washing and other household uses, comes when it rains, and there are no precautionary measures taken, such as chlorinization or even boiling in the homes. Milk is fresh because it's straight from the cow to the consumer, so that must be boiled, too.

There is never any chilly weather there. The seasons are reversed from the northern hemisphere, but the winter is still warm, the summers just hot.

The major portion of all business in the village is run by tradesmen of foreign extraction. Natives are employed mostly as farm and field hands. Cotton fields provided the principal employment in that area, but pay was very meager.

There were no American schools in the districts where the Chancellors lived, and the native schools were quite different in style from the American system. It is not compulsory, for example, and a school day is really only a half day. But while school itself is not compulsory, dress is if it is attended, and all children are required to wear a white coat or smock over their other clothes.

These schools are overcrowded, there are no heating facilities, and no running water. Whatever water is available comes from a cistern, and, of course, is not treated in any way for harmful bacteria.

Students must buy their own books, and organizations such as the P-TA are unknown. School is in session six days during the week, and for this work, teachers are paid between 170 and 300 pesos ($12-$20) per month.

But even this great number of school days is outnumbered by the fiesta days. The Argentinians are always celebrating something. The year that the Chancellors spent in Argentina saw the Latins celebrating the centennial anniversary of the liberation by San Martin. The ceremony ended promptly at the close of the 365th day.

Most of the Americans who were there are now coming back to this country from Argentina. Reasons center around an agreement made by Argentina and the oil company that has been operating there to ship men and equipment to that country to drill 40 wells. Four wells had been drilled when an Argentine government organization took over the wells and equipment, thereby breaking the agreement.

Mr. and Mrs. Chancellor lived at 542 S. Palm st. for five years prior to their Argentine visit. The two boys attended Benjamin Franklin school. Since their year among the natives, all members of the family speak Castellano fluently now.

Chancellor was formerly employed at Hellyer Buick as a mechanic and also owned the Harbor service station on Center st.

Ralph R. Rhea To Lecture in SA

Ralph R. Rhea, Unity minister, lecturer, and writer, will speak at the Unity Church of Truth, 2016 N. Broadway, Santa Ana, at 8 p.m. Friday, on the subject, "The Real Triumph."

Rhea is secretary of the Unity Ministers' association, minister of the Unity Farm center, and a member of the field department at the Unity School of Christianity, Lee's Summit, Mo.

Rated by some critics as an overpowering speaker, he is expected by church officials to pack in overflow crowds.

exposing them to the hell holes" of the world.

Lodge proposed a "volunteer freedom corps," to be open to Asiatics as well as Europeans. Under his idea, the corps would begin with 250,000 recruits in Europe but aim for an eventual build up to 2,000,000 men.

The general idea of a foreign legion was endorsed by Tracy S. Voorhees, former Under Secretary of the Army. But Voorhees said he thought it would be necessary soon to draft both (1) 18 year olds, and (2) married men under 26 who have no children. Some Congress members have been considering those as alternative groups for an exemption of the draft.

Hit-Run Accident

A hit-run accident at Palm and Center sts., Anaheim, yesterday resulted in damage to the car driven by Clarabelle S. Congdon, 208 E. Broadway, Anaheim. The other car, described as an old, green sedan got away before its license number could be taken.

Rest Is Important, Says Housewife

It has been said that there are lots and lots of ways for people to try to get some sleep at night. Some folks paint their windows black, others use ear plugs to shut out noises, while others count sheep. All of these are good and they do help some folks get their rest, but Mrs. Frank Jones, 1220 Bell, Montogmery, Alabama, has the best way to get a fine night's rest. Mrs. Jones, who didn't rest well at night before she took HADACOL, is able to say, after taking HADACOL, "I rest wonderfully now!" Mrs. Jones found that HADACOL supplied Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron in which her system was deficient.

Here is Mrs. Jones' own statement: "For a long time I had been bothered with indigestion and sour stomach. Food didn't seem to agree with me. I always had that uneasy fullness after I ate. I got to where I didn't want to eat. I had no energy. Felt like I couldn't make it during the day. I also was very nervous. I didn't rest well at night. A friend of mine told me about HADACOL. After the fourth bottle I felt wonderful. My food agreed with me—no more indigestion or sour stomach. My appetite is terrific. I now have lots of energy and my nervousness has gone. I rest wonderfully now; in fact, I feel good all the way round. I recommend HADACOL to everybody—it's wonderful!"

Truman, Pleven Agree Completely

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House said today President Truman and French Premier Pleven are "in complete accord" on North Atlantic problems.

Also, Pleven reported that France is building strength steadily to do her full part in the alliance against communist aggression.

After another of the series of Truman-Pleven conferences, Presidential Secretary Joseph Short read reporters this statement:

"The president and the prime minister and their advisers met from 11:04 a.m., to 12:40 p.m.

"They discussed problems relating to Europe, especially those of European unity.

"They also reviewed the status of existing measures for the defense of Western Europe within the framework of the North Atlantic treaty organization.

"The president and the minister found themselves in complete accord.

"The discussions will be resumed."

The French premier went immediately from the White House conference to the National Press club to make a speech. It was in this speech, copies of which were distributed in advance, that he discussed France's rearmament.

THIS NATION'S WEATHER—While Anaheimers basked in the sun today, these two Minneapolis girls found that it was plenty cold at the bus stop this morning. At 24 degrees below zero, it was warming up then, since therehad been an overnight low of —28. Today's sun was a change even for Anaheim. Santa Ana Police Charge Pair With Forgery, Grand Theft, Arson

Charged with forgery and arson, Clarence L. Walters, 31, 818 N. Bristol st., and Robert G. Tilley, 22, 201 Orange ave., Santa Ana, were held in the county jail today. Walters facing an additional charge of grand theft, as the result of a series of activities extending over the past month.

Ten payroll checks, stolen and then forged for amounts aggregating more than $1000, are said to have been admitted by the two prisoners, who were arrested by Santa Ana police yesterday. The checks, bearing the forged signature of O. L. Halsell of the Santora co., were passed at various Santa Ana markets and department stores, one being cashed at the Alpha Beta market in Anaheim.

Two automobiles were burned by the pair, it is alleged, in a semi-comic act of spite by Walters against a man whom he thought was calling upon his estranged wife. The man's automobile was burned on the evening of Dec. 29, and a month later, Walters saw what he thought was the same car in another part of town, and burned it again, with Tilley's aid, police charge. That car happened to belong to another man.

Walters is accused of stealing $321 from the service station of George L. Taney, 802 N. Flower st., where Walters was employed Sunday mornings, to work out a bill he owed Taney. The $321 included a $25 check, which Walters later burned, police claim.

Walters also was employed by the Santora co., as a gardener at Fairhaven cemetery. On Dec. 10, police allege, he was working about the company's offices at 107 W. Sixth st., and took half a dozen payroll checks he found in a storeroom. He took these to Tilley, in a Santa Ana hotel and they borrowed a typewriter to make out three checks, spoiling the others, according to police.

One of these checks, on which Halsell's signature was traced, was passed at the Alpha Beta market on N. Main st., Santa Ana, Dec. 15, a second was passed at Merrill's market, Chapman ave., east of Orange, the same day and the third was passed the following day at Merrill's market. Each check was for slightly more than $100.

Early in January, according to police, Walters obtained 15 more payroll checks from the Santora offices. He told police he gave them to Tilley and a third party, not known to Walters, made out the checks for approximately $100 each.

On Friday evening, Jan. 12, police said, Walters cashed checks at the Red Rooster market, Owl-Mayfair market and the Alpha Beta markets on S. Main st., N. Main st., all in Santa Ana and the Alpha Beta market in Anaheim.

On Saturday, Jan. 13, Tilley, with Walters driving their car, passed checks at Sears and the J. C. Penney co., then tried The Famous department store, which telephoned the bank. Tilley and Walters disappeared, so the store called police. The uncashed checks were destroyed by the two men at the end of E. Fourth st., said police.

For identification in passing the checks, all of which were made payable to James R. Owens, Walters used his VFW card, changing the name to Owens and Tilley did the same with his draft card, police claimed.

The burned cars, identical models, belonged to J. C. Goodman, 916 Kilson drive and Veral Vernon Tilton, former police officer, 515 S. St. Andrews place, both Santa Ana.

Buena Park Woman Hurt in Crackup

Mrs. Eunice Bailey, 29, of 6241 Mission st., Buena Park, received major injuries yesterday when a car driven by her husband, Harold Bailey, collided with the car of Russell L. Frodensen, 25, of Pomona, at the intersection of Commonwealth and Grand aves., in Buena Park. Mrs. Bailey was hospitalized in Fullerton.

SAVANNA 3Fs MEET

The Savanna District 3Fs of civil defense met Monday night. The new District Warden, Carl M. Jameson of 7341 Katella Rd., was present. Block Wardens to assist Jameson were selected.

F. S. Valdez, 10972 Katella Rd., will assist by taking charge of the block wardens in the Latin American Colony.

All members of the staff, council and block wardens are to attend a meeting next Monday at 7:30 p.m., at the Stanton Community church.

Senate Committee OKs Arizona Water Power Project

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Interior committee approved today a bill to authorize the $700 million Central Arizona water and power project.

The committee voted to make a favorable report on the controversial measure. It approved last year a similar bill which later passed the Senate. It was blocked, however, in the House Public Lands committee because of California's opposition.

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) chairman, told reporters after a meeting of his Interior committee that its favorable report will be issued soon.

He said only one member present voted against the report.

Continued California opposition to the project was assured.

Senator Nixon (R-Calif) said Californians will "muster all the strength possible against the project on the Senate floor."

Nixon said the Senate vote last year in favor of the project points to "an uphill fight," but predicted that opponents can "improve our position because some of the new Senators will be with us where their predecessors were not."

"In these times, when we are confronted with the largest peacetime budget in history, it is unthinkable that the Congress should consider such a project, much less approve it," Nixon said.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) said it is "unprecedented that a bill involving upwards of $750,000,000 should be reported from the committee without hearings and without reports being received from the Budget Bureau and the Department of Interior."

Knowland said the bill, from an economic point of view, is "just as objectionable now as it was in the last Congress."

Winter's Worst Blast Hits Nation; Wisconsin Coldest at 37 Below

By The Associated Press

The worst cold wave of the winter pushed into new sections today. And there wasn't much relief in sight.

Frigid blasts were felt in the Southeastern states. The cold moved clear over to the West Gulf Coast.

Highways were glazed over wide areas. Rain, sleet and snow were reported from East Texas northeast to the Appalachians and Great Lakes region.

Temperatures dropped below freezing in the lower Rio Grande Valley.

The severe cold spread to the Far West. Sub-zero weather invaded Eastern Oregon.

But the lowest readings were in the Midwest.

The lowest temperature readings this morning came from a belt from Montana to Michigan. At Flint, Mich., 6100 General Motors workers were idled by a breakdown at the Fisher body plant caused by the cold.

Sample lows were Helena, Mont., —26; Minneapolis, —29; International Falls, Minn., —35; Madison, Wis., —37, Milwaukee, —24; Grand Rapids, Mich., —21, and Chicago, —15.

Lemon's Salary May Rival Feller's

LONG BEACH (AP)—Bob Lemon may get an argument from another pitching Bob—Lemon—for the honor of being the highest paid Cleveland Indian this season.

Lemon, who paced the major leagues with 23 victories in 1950, said yesterday he has not received his contract yet. He is believed to be asking for a substantial increase over last year's reported $35,000.

Feller signed for an estimated $45,000-$50,000 in Cleveland yesterday.

California Will Wait to Build Community Bomb Shelters - Warren

SACRAMENTO (AP)—For the time being, Governor Warren said today, California is going to hold off on the building of community bomb shelters.

He told a news conference that the parley of governors on civil defense held in Chicago last week felt that there wasn't enough time to build such shelters.

The idea of special community shelters may be dropped completely, he said.

Millard Caldwell, federal civil defense chief, told the governors that the overall federal plan was speeded up, so that the timetable calls for effective air raid protection by July, 1952, instead of October, 1954.

Shelving of the community shelter plans has the effect of postponing the time when California will have to find ways of raising about $100,000,000 as the state and local share of building the structures.

Warren said he will not recommend to the legislature that money for this purpose be appropriated. He said he will wait until Congress and federal officials not only define the plan, but also provide the federal share of the money.

However, Warren went on, this will not in any way slow down the selection and designation of air raid shelters in existing buildings.

Ralph Schaiff Stricken in Car

Ralph Schaiff, 51, died last evening as he was returning home from his work. His son was with him in the car when he was suddenly stricken. The Crane ambulance was called and he was brought to the Anaheim Community hospital, where a doctor pronounced him dead upon arrival.

He came to California 32 years ago from Arkansas, and has lived in Anaheim for 30 years.

Surviving him are his wife, Viola R. Schaiff, at the family home at 12711 Trask ave., southwest of Anaheim; one daughter, Mrs. Louise Price of Garden Grove; one son, Malbern R. of Garden Grove; one brother, Connie Schaiff of Missouri; four sisters, Mrs. Eunice Heinze of Anaheim, Mrs. Elizabeth Martin of Orange, Mrs. Elon Owens of Arizona and Mrs. Syble Gasper of Chula Vista, and three grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Hilgenfeld chapel Thursday at 2 p.m. Rev. Virgil F. Ledbetter, former pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, will officiate. Burial will be made in the Anaheim cemetery.

School Board

was too close not warrant an investigation into the merits of unification costing from $500 to $1000, and the submission of the question to the people. He recommended, and the suggestion was adopted, that the boards meet separately, decide what they wanted, and let the county know their decision.

Meeting after the combined assembly had adjourned the trustees unanimously voted a desire to form a Junior High School district, and almost unanimously turned down a Katella district motion to ask the county committee to cease any further investigation in the unification plan.

Frank L. Bowman, chairman of the county committee, presided over the combined meeting. James A. Baker, chairman of the Anaheim Union High School District board, presided over the rump session of school district boards.

John Branigan of the State Division of Schoolhouse Planning appeared at the meeting to explain the pros and cons of unification. Also present was Clyde A. Watson, state senator from Orange county, who gave a short talk on activities in the state legislature.

The committee is composed of two members from each supervisorial district in Orange county, elected by trustees of all school districts in the county at a joint meeting. Present at the meeting were Bowman, chairman, of Santa Ana; Louis Conrady, Westminster; Genevieve M. Crosby, Garden Grove, president of Fourth District P-TA council; Leah Milligan, Santa Ana; L. Jerome Neiger, El Modena; Wallace Rhutcel, Fullerton; Theodore Robins, Newport Beach; Mrs. J. Lee Robins, Anaheim; Carl E. Sturdevant, Olive-Orange; and Linton Simmons, county superintendent of schools and ex-officio secretary of the committee. Willis Warner, representing the County Board of Supervisors, and John E. Sadlier, vice-chairman of the committee were not present.

should issue a warning of the health department for testing.

(An autopsy has disclosed that botulinus—a poisonous organism developed in a jar of the liederkranz spread — killed Wolf.)

Rotarians Hear Own Members During Meeting

Rotary club had an exceptional program yesterday noon, despite the absence of the scheduled speaker.

The guest speaker was to have been a person in the television industry. He notified the club that he would be unable to make the appearance because of an unavoidable delay on his return from the north.

Several Rotarians offered their services as pinch-hit speakers and the meeting was successful.

Walter Taylor of the Taylor Lumber co., and George Owens, operator of the Cranford Flying Instruction field, both spoke for a few minutes on their respective trade interests.

Mel Gauer, superintendent of schools, reported on the current issue of the "Rotarian," a monthly publication. Charles Young, local building contractor, followed Gauer with a report on his recent trip to Chicago. Charles Sisk, sales manager for Winckler and Smith Citrus Produce co., ended the speakers list with a resume of his travels around the U.S., in the interests of citrus by-products.

Switchmen 'Sick', Hamper Freight Movement on Rails

By The Associated Press

Railroad switchmen reported sick today on at least six railroads in the Chicago and Detroit areas, hampering movement of vital freight.

A spokesman for the Army, which is running the railroads, said freight traffic in the Chicago area is "definitely hampered" and that "the situation is building up rapidly."

The spokesman, who declined use of his name, said about 80 per cent of the switchmen failed to report at the Santa Fe railroad in Chicago, and about 90 per cent at the Belt Railway company of Chicago.

The small Chicago and Illinois Western railroad was 100 per cent affected, he said.

He added that the walkout had spread to the Baltimore and Ohio railroad in Chicago, with an estimated 20 per cent of the switchmen staying home.

Railroads affected in Detroit were the Chesapeake and Ohio and the Wabash.

A C & O spokesman said 53 of 89 switchmen in the Detroit area failed to show up on the early shifts and that freight service there was "pretty well tied up."

Passenger service apparently was not affected immediately.

KOREAN WAR

only a few hundred yards on the sixth day of their northward limited offensive.

A regimental officer told Associated Press correspondent Jim Becker:

"I think we've hit their main defense line."

On the flank, however, gains up to six miles were recorded.

An enemy division may be massing the red defense line on the western half of the 40-mile front.

"They're well dug in and determined to stay," Lt. Col. Bernard Peeters of Park Falls, Wis., executive officer of a spearhead regiment, told Becker.

Advance Allied units, he added, were suffering their heaviest casualties of the offensive, but these were far below the "terrific losses being inflicted on the enemy."

For the second straight day Chinese artillery pounded away at U.N. positions nine miles northwest of Suwon. About 100 rounds were fired Tuesday. Seven miles northwest of Suwon American units were fired on by reds in well-hidden caves and made only a small advance.

"Air and artillery is pouring in there," said Peeters, "but the Doughboys still have to go in there and dig them out one by one."

Maj. Gen. Edward M. Almond, U. S. Tenth Corps commander on the central front, told a news conference the North Korean Fifth Corps is poised for an attack on Allied forces.

He added: "We are ready for it."

He said his troops had wiped out the Korean reds' Second Corps.

kinds of soup. Serve it clear as bouillon to pep up the appetite for the rest of the meal or add noodles or vegetables for more hearty fare. You may even become famous for your French onion soup!

FRENCH ONION SOUP

2 tablespoons fat
3 large onions, sliced very thin
1 qt. soup stock
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Salt and pepper to taste

Brown the onions in the fat and combine with the other ingredients. Serve it piping hot with grated parmesan cheese and crispy French bread.

And then comes the day when you have on hand a beautiful bone from a ham. That calls for soup made with split peas, navy beans or lentils.

SPLIT PEA SOUP

2 cups split peas
3 qts. water
½ cup chopped onions
1 cup chopped celery (leaves and all)
½ cup grated carrots

Soak the peas over night in enough water to cover them to a depth of two or three inches. Put the peas, water and all into a soup kettle and add enough water and left-over vegetable juices to make about three quarts. Cover the kettle tightly and simmer gently for three hours. Add the remaining vegetables and cook until soft.

Put the soup through a sieve, adding pieces of the ham meat afterwards. Thicken with a roux made of two tablespoons of fat and two tablespoons of flour. Cook and stir until the soup boils. It may be diluted with three cups soup stock or milk if you wish.

For a filling Saturday night supper, serve it with rye bread and a salad with fruit cobbler for dessert.

Murdy Optimistic On Outlook for Pres. Hospital

An encouraging outlook for the Hoag Memorial Hospital-Presbyterian to be built at Costa Mesa was given by John Murdy, Jr., president of the hospital board, at the annual meeting Thursday evening. Murdy reviewed the progress of the organization since its start in 1943, at the suggestion of the Rev. Brahms whose plan was for a small hospital at Laguna Beach to serve the Orange county coast.

Unable to secure a site there, Murdy told of the plan to bring together all the Presbyterian churches in the county and the campaigns for funds for a larger hospital under the county-wide plan. He referred to the breakdown of the first fund drive, then the second campaign, headed by the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, which secured cash and pledges of $594,000.00 including an outstanding gift of $100,000 from Glenn Martin.

He next referred to requests made for state and federal help and how these appeals had been deferred by the State board due to the many demands for help from areas said to be in more urgent need.

President Murdy told of the offer from Mrs. George Grant Hoag and how, through her and the help of the Hoag foundation, a donation of $500,000 in memory of George Grant Hoag was assured under a plan to join the hospital plans of the foundation and those of the church group by equal interest in the board of directors. He mentioned the selection of R. L. Bacon, for 13 years administrator of the hospital when pital, to act as advisor and administrat or of the hospital when built.

He said it would require added funds to build the type and size of hospital now decided upon. The 75 bed institution would now cost about $1,212,000 complete. Toward this sum the hospital board has $1,051,625. After allowing for a small loss on pledges due to death, etc., Murdy suggested from $150,000 to $200,000 would be needed to build and furnish complete. He said he hoped drawings and specifications would be completed in time to call for bids about April or May. He allowed one year to fifteen months for construction.

Murdy also mentioned the appointment of a Medical Advisory committee, nominated by the Orange County Medical association. This committee includes Drs. Wightman, Whittaker, Monaco, Reeder, Tedstrom, Maxwell and Hall. They are now advising and will serve as the nucleus of the medical staff when the hospital is in operation.

Bicyclist Injured In Auto Collision

Raymond Eugene Pierce, 12, 216½ N. Philadelphia st., Anaheim, was hurt slightly yesterday when he reportedly rode his bicycle in front of a car driven by Joseph Ellis, 40, Antlers Hotel, 109 N. Los Angeles st. He was taken to Anaheim Clinic by his mother for treatment.

Ellis was turning into a parking lot in the 100 block of W. Chartres st., when the boy cut in front of him. Anaheim police report of the accident said it was "unavoidable."

L.A. Man Jailed for Failure to Appear

Harold Vauhn Holybee, Los Angeles, was committed to Orange county jail yesterday after he was sentenced to serve 25 days or pay $50 for failing to appear to answer a citation for permitting a minor to drive his car without a license. He had been delivered to Anaheim city jail from Los Angeles, where he was picked up.

Buchu Pills

Buchu is one of the oldest drugs known to medical science. It is a very valuable agent in most all forms of kidney trouble. The kidneys act as blood filters for your system—sometimes they need a stimulant and then it is high time for you to get a package of McCoy's Diuretic Compound Pills. These pills contain Buchu, Stone root, Uva Ursi, Potash, Nitrate and Algae for stimulating diuretic effect. Sold at all McCoy Drug Stores, Santa Ana and Anaheim.

'ROUND TOWN — Saw Ralph McLean, t'quiet, soft-spoken Brea City engineer, downtown t'other day. He's one of those easy-going, good-natured fellows who get a lot done without making a fuss about it.

NEWSVIEWS — Robert Rossberg, the Yorba Lindan who guides the destinies of the local telephone exchange, really knows that Anaheimers use their phones. Anaheimers made 30,366 local calls last year. Half of them must have been to Earnest Moeller . . . Dick Morley is to be congratulated. Wisely, he isn't soliciting the business men for March of Dimes funds. Everyone else puts the bite on the fellow who runs a business. Anaheim merchants probably will show their thanks by contributions . . . Larry Weaver is brushing up on his book learnin' so that he can transfer to Loyola university in the fall. He's 4-F as far as the draft is concerned . . .

NEWSLINES — Walter Schmid has just returned from a trip to Europe. That makes him an authority on European affairs . . . Not only did Tom Henry and Robert Harvey pay $40,000 for the Fullerton packing house, they've also taken over the place that formerly housed Austin Merrifield's trucking firm. They're building quite a plant there . . . William Schumacher is quite a man about Anaheim. Why, there's a William Schumacher who is the building and loan executive; and there's a William Schumacher who is a vital cog in the Essex Wire co., production line; and there's a William Schumaker who is a west Anaheim rancher; and then, too, there is the William Schumaker who was the gear of the Orangethorpe Citrus assn., which merged with Jack Prizer's Placentia Orange Growers . . .

YOU BET—That Duane Starr is a good scout.

HELLBOX — Sam'l Gilbert is building himself a $20,000 hacienda on a Fullerton hill. That was the most pretentious home of the 116 dwellings which swelled Fullerton's building permits for a cool $1,007,715 for last week . . . By the way, Edward Mittleman, the Hunt Foods executive, will move to Fullerton from swanky Beverley Hills when V. J. Anderson completes his $15,000 hill-top home . . . Anita Schultz, the Anaheim lass who makes fun of hitting the high notes, was a member of a Hollywood troop which entertained soldiers at Great Falls, Montany, a week ago . . . Don K. Weaver, the prominent oilman, has been given up as being lost. His son, Neal, is a senior at Stanford. Last week the stork visited them and left a daughter, Wendy Ann . . .

HONOROLL—Chief Machinist Mate Arthur M. Moore, 31, returned to La Habra where he grew up. A native of Brea, Art spent most of his life except for the years he was in the service in Orange county. He was at Pearl Harbor on that eventful Dec. 7, 1941, and won a citation for bravery. Art Moore died in Honolulu last month. His final resting place will be in the hills he loved.

NEWSNAMES — Lucille Quetschke writes some mighty nice verse . . . William Montague has become an Anaheimer. He is a go-getter who served as a city councilman of Fullerton . . . Herman Schafer is to be congratulated for buying a piece of Oscar Heying's drug store. And Oscar Heying is to be congratulated, too, on acquiring Herman Schafer as a partner . . . The City council has taken George Holyoke's request that his salary be hiked to $525 a month under advisement. Santa Ana pays its city engineer $600 monthly . . . Curtis Meade will try to make up for the year of track competition he lost because of an apendectomy . . . John Ward, the Santa Ana jaysee track mentor, is counting on the Anaheimer both in sprints and hurdles . . .

REMEMBER — Alarm clocks within arm's reach are often useless.

AN ABANDONED school house soon will be transformed into a recreation center for organized youth activities in Anaheim. Shown above is the old La Palma school at La Palma and N. Olive st., which is being converted into an area for youthful Anaheimers to pursue Girl and Boy Scout activities and other organized programs. The property was purchased from the Elementary School Board of Trustees by Kwikset Locks, Inc., for $15,100. Kwikset has turned the area over to a non-profit organization to develop the buildings and grounds for use by Anaheim kids. (Gazette photo by Kraidt) work of restoring buildings and grounds is in the hands of the Izaac Walton members.

All groups are co-operating to open the buildings and grounds to the kids as soon as possible.

The main building contains a large assembly hall with stage, which make it an ideal inside meeting place for large groups. Adjacent buildings contains necessary utilities.

The large well-shaded grounds provide space for baseball games and other outdoor sports.

Incorporation articles for the non-profit organization are being drawn up by Leo Friis, local attorney, after consultations with various civic leaders.

The board of directors of the new youth project are Schoepe, Friis, Mrs. Mildred Schmitz and Mrs. Marion Bushman of the Anaheim Girl Scouts, John Bovee and Ernie Owston of the Boy Scouts and Clinton Flynn of the Izaac Walton League. Andrew Spatzier, Kwikset auditor, also will represent Kwikset with the board.

The remodeled building will be used for Boy Scout, Girl Scout and other organized youth activities.

Plans include using the grounds for camping. Improvements to the basketball court and baseball field are contemplated.

"We hope the citizens of Anaheim will give every needed support to this undertaking," Schoepe said. If the project does not prove feasible under the non-profit corporation setup, the property will be turned over to the city for recreational purposes, he added.

San Diego Gives Rainmaker Pact; First Since '16

SAN DIEGO (AP)—This city today made a contract with rainmakers.

The $10,000 contract for two months of cloud-seeding was entered into with Rainfall corp. of America, a Pasadena concern.

Efforts to increase precipitation by spraying cloud masses with silver lodide will be in the mountain area which feeds storage reservoirs of the city water system.

City water director said he had been informed by Ronald Ballay and R. D. Elliott of the rain-making company that operations would start at once.

The last time the city entered into such a contract, in the days before rain-making had gained scientific statute, there was a disastrous flood. That was in 1916. The courts held it was an "act of God" and the rain-maker got no credit or cash.

No Pro-Rate

cause he did not have the pro-rate to ship them while at the same time the packing house was full of good eating navels that were rotting because of not pro-rate.

Blatz also stated that the present pro-rate has created an unbearable high price condition for the average American housewife, forcing her to stop buying fresh oranges.

A. C. Miller and R. W. Dickenson, who took Sidney Pellew's place on the board, represented Orange county at the meeting. E. L. Miller and Leroy Turner, also of Orange county, were present.

Calvin Shaver Fined $150 on Dual Charge

Calvin L[illegible]y Shaver, alias Calvin Leroy Baird, appearing yesterday on charges of disturbing the peace and resisting arrest, was sentenced to 25 days in jail or $50 fine for the first offense and $100 or 50 days for the second. He chose to pay the fines.

Shaver was picked up by Anaheim police officers at Harmony park where he was drunk and fighting Saturday night, according to police blotter. He lives in Costa Mesa.

Look how soft and fluffy towels are ...DRIED IN MY NEW AUTOMATIC GAS CLOTHES DRYER!

I'm proud of my laundering now! Towels come from my automatic gas clothes dryer so soft, fluffy and wrinkle-free I can fold them immedi[illegible]y and place in my linen closet. My dried clothes are always sweet-smelling ... never spotted with soot or rust.

I'm spared the drudgery of lugging heavy clothes baskets to outside lines ... of hanging up and taking down. I simply toss my wet clothes into my automatic gas clothes dryer and set the control. In a matter of minutes, the load is dry. Gas clothes drying is the fastest way to dry clothes I know. Sprinkling is eliminated, too. For shirts, dresses, pillow cases, I just set the control for perfect ironing condition.

This modern drying method is inexpensive. The installed price of an automatic gas clothes dryer is lower than that of other types of dryers. The operating cost is also much lower ... only 2¢ to 3¢ per dryer-full. It will pay you to see the displays at dealers' or your Gas Company. Inquire how you can win an automatic gas clothes dryer in an easy contest.
