Allied Forces Clash With Chinese In Hand-to-Hand, Grenade Combat

Patrol Reported 7 Miles from Seoul

INTERNATIONAL AT GLANCE

By The Associated Press

KOREAN FIGHTING FRONT—U.N. forces, backed by warplanes and artillery, assault main Chinese communist line south of Seoul, leaving estimated 3700 dead reds strewn along 40-mile front. Battleship Missouri leads Task Force 77 to blast with big guns and carrier-based planes at Kosang, 45 miles north of Parallel 38.

LAKE SUCCESS—U.N. Political committee, branding red China an aggressor in Korea, left door open for possible peaceful settlement.

WASHINGTON — President Truman and French Premier Pleven wind up two-day talks with pledge not to compromise with Soviet or red China aggression. General Eisenhower arrived in Washington to report to Truman and Congress on his military survey of Europe.

TOKYO (AP)—Advancing Allied forces attacked with bayonets and grenades today after a thunderous artillery and air strikes failed to smash unyielding Chinese communist resistance on the Korean warfront.

This was seven miles northeast of Suwon, on the east flank of the bloody western front just south of Suwon. Although the well dug-in enemy failed to break under bombardment, one front line officer said Wednesday's artillery fire "must have killed thousands of Chinese.

One Allied patrol was reported only seven miles south of Seoul.

On the east coast, the U.S. battleship Missouri, other Naval units and carrier planes pounded Kosang, 45 miles north of the 38th Parallel. Kosang is 20 miles north of Kansong, blighted Tuesday in a similar attack by warships and planes of Task Force 77.

Landing boats circled offshore while rocket ships spewed deadly missles on Kosong. But no landing was attempted.

In Western Korea, stiffening enemy opposition held the Allies to minor gains. Allied planes sighted 15,000 to 20,000 communists troops near Konjiam, a village nine miles northeast of Kumyangjang.

At 5:45 p.m., (12:45 a.m. PST) the enemy launched a 200-man counter-attack seven miles northeast of Suwon that was still going on at nightfall. Air observers reported the reds had pulled out of some positions, but a spokesman said "there was generally no withdrawal."

Only Southwest, Florida Escape Wintry Blasts

By The Associated Press

The winter season's roughest weather enveloped most of the nation today with a mixture of biting cold, sleet, snow and rain.

There was just a measure of relief in the frigid Midwest. Temperatures generally were below zero—but not as low as in the past couple of days.

The cold struck solidly, from the New England states across country to the Rocky Mountains and all the way to the Gulf in Louisiana and Texas.

Florida and some parts of the far Southwest escaped the icy blasts, which have hit hard over the mid-continent all week.

The sub-zero areas today extended over the north central part of the country, in some of the Northeastern states and the Rocky Moutain region.

There were no 40 below readings today — like the past two days—but it was 25 below in International Falls, Minn. And evidence that the full force of the cold Arctic air had reached New England was the —28 reading in Caribou, Me.

The Rocky Mountain region braced for predicted lows of 25 below. Early today it was —1 in Denver.

Texas reeled under the worst storm of the winter and not much relief was in sight. The cold covered the entire state.

There were nearly 60 deaths attributed to the weather.

Snow fell in Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and the Rocky Mountain states. Fair and cold weather was reported west of the Rockies and in most of New England.

No Citrus Frost Damage Reported

Southern California citrus areas had the shivers today but there were no reports of frost damage from the early morning chill.

In Anaheim the temperature dropped to 37 degrees at 5:30 this morning.

The Fruit Frost Forecast service said that lows of about 28 are expected tonight but only light, widely scattered firing will be needed tomorrow morning, mostly for lemons.

The temperature dropped well below freezing early today in desert and mountain areas. In citrus areas, however, it remained near enough to the freezing mark so that even firing wasn't necessary.

Coldest spots included mile-high Mt. Wilson, 22; Sandberg, 23; Palmdale, 25; Beaumont, 27; Thermal, 32; Santa Barbara, 33. Los Angeles had a low of 42.

The Fruit Frost service said that in Central California citrus districts the lowest tonight will be about 26, requiring considerable light firing after midnight.

Temperatures in interior California valleys, notably around Bishop, may drop to 10 above tonight, the Weather Bureau said.

Florida Orange Only Brings Query From Californian: 'What Is It?'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Now it's the Florida orange versus the California orange. It used to be the climate.

It started when Rep. Bennett (D-Fla) received a box of oranges from his mother, Mrs. Walter J. Bennett of Jacksonville.

Bennett gave some to the freshmen congressmen. Among these was Rep. Yorty (D-Calif.).

An exchange of correspondence followed:

Yorty wrote jokingly:

"I am still trying to find out what those round, yellowish, rock-like objects were which came to my office with your card attached.

"The Agriculture department has been unable to tell me what they are, and the Bureau of Standards has refused to recommend them for human consumption. I am sending them to the chemical warfare branch of the Army, because they appear to be not only noxious in odor but toxic in fact.

"If chemical warfare cannot handle them, we may be able to use them as some sort of hand-grenade in case a landing is attempted on any long, awkward peninsula jutting out from the United States and spoiling the shape of the map.

"If I find out what these things are, I will certainly let you know. You must be curious yourself."

Bennett replied in the same vein:

"Upon receiving your letter about one of Florida's gifts to the universe—the Florida orange—I was chagrined to realize that I had neglected to tell you not to eat the peel.

"I should have recalled that on the barren, fog-shrouded West Coast of our country, a true orange is seldom seen and that you would probably not know what to do with it.

"While the peel is delicious when crystallized with sugar, one does not ordinarily eat oranges by biting into them without peeling them. This is what you must have done, for otherwise you could not have failed, to experience the ecstacy, the rare delight.

Arson Question Raised as White Barn Is Razed

Fire razed White Barn Auction and Shopping Center at 11800 U.S. Highway 101, south of Anaheim, to the ground at midnight last night.

Investigators from the California State Forestry Division have not as yet placed an amount on the damage caused by the fire, but some estimates reached as high as $100,000. Building and contents were totally destroyed, according to the Forestry division.

White Barn was owned by Curtis Lipton of Los Angeles. He owned a furniture concession in the building, which he shared with Joseph Burger, proprietor of Jerome Galleries, Los Angeles, who operated an auction.

The huge building was completely enveloped by flames when trucks from the Forestry division arrived on the scene. Four trucks rushed to the fire from the Orange Forestry station, another came from Olive and a sixth from the City of Orange.

Ray Suess, arson investigator for the Forestry division, was combing the ruins this morning in an effort to determine the origin of the blaze.

The furniture and auction business was started about six months ago. The building originally was a bakery but was operated as a war plant during World War II. It was vacant for a period before the auction started.

County health authorities today announced they had located one more jar of the liederkranz cheese spread of the code number B-3439, which was held responsible for the death of a South Gate man several days ago.

The jar, the third to be found in the county bearing the particular number, was located in a Newport Beach market. The other two jars were found yesterday in a market at Costa Mesa, the health department said.

Before he left Anaheim, Reinhardt said he would make an appraisal of some special machinery in Germany in which Kwikset is interested.

Adolf Schoepe, president of Kwikset Locks, received a wire from Reinhardt yesterday, relaying news of his safe arrival. He is expected to return sometime next week.

Flu Knocks Out AUHS Play Preview

An epidemic of the flu is the source of the trouble at Anaheim high school. Preview showing of "Balcony Scene" by Donal Elser, previously scheduled to be shown to the public tonight, has been cancelled. Of the original cast of eight persons, three remain impervious to the bug.

The play will be given at the Pasadena Playhouse the first week of April by the Anaheim drama club. It will again be scheduled for its debut showing in Anaheim sometime during the last of March.

County Wrecks Injure Three

Otto Wookmann, 73, and his wife, Mary, 65, of 12972 Ninth st., Garden Grove, were injured yesterday afternoon at the intersection of Lincoln and Euclid aves., west of Anaheim, when a car in which they were riding with Herman Bruggeman, 46, of the same Garden Grove address, collided with the car of Frank Saver, 47, of Long Beach.

The injured couple was taken to Anaheim community hospital. Mrs. Wookmann suffered shock and internal injuries. Her husband's injuries were said to be minor.

Michael Todd, 7, Santa Ana, received cuts and bruises and pavement burns when his bicycle collided with a car driven by Donald L. Johnson, 38, of Orange yesterday afternoon at the intersection of Santa Clara ave., and Heliotrope dr., Santa Ana. The boy was hospitalized in Santa Ana.

Brea Man Sent To San Quentin

Carl Owens, 39, Brea, recently arrested by a rookie Santa Ana policeman in the act of removing a safe containing $750 from Frank's cafe, in Santa Ana, yesterday was sentenced by Superior Judge Franklin G. West to San Quentin for burglary.

Owens had been on parole from San Quentin at the time the offense took place.

Grand Jury Eyes Commies on Staff Of Co. Hospital

Now nearing conclusion of its deliberations, the 1950 Orange county grand jury yesterday was understood to be investigating reports of communists in county employment, particularly at the Orange county hospital, where two nurses were under fire a few months ago.

One of these nurses still is employed at the hospital.

The county supervisors were summoned to appear before the grand jury in Santa Ana yesterday and were in conference with that body for some time, the subject of the discourse being withheld. However, it was understood that the visit of the supervisors had reference to the communism investigation. Individual supervisors refused to comment after they returned from the grand jury room.

Evangelicals Plan New Home

Plans are underway for the purchase of a new church site and blueprints for a new church building to be drawn and approved for construction, Rev. Phillip Selfridge, minister of the Anaheim Evangelical United Brethren church, announced this morning, following a meeting of the Council of Administration Monday evening.

After a vote of approval by the congregation and instructions from the quarterly conference, the council of administration of the Anaheim Evangelical United Brethren church, met last Monday night and instructed the board of trustees, headed by Walter Taylor, to purchase the church site.

It also instructed the building committee, headed by Alfred Holve to hire an architect and bring working plans for the new church building to the administrative council. Program to raise funds for the forthcoming expenditures will proceed immediately.

Alumni Battle Colonists Down to Wire Before Bowing, 40-38, For March Of Dimes Fund

Ramirez Shines In AUHS Debut

While the rest of the league snoozed peacefully at home, Anaheim's Colonists found their Sunset "off day" to be one of the busiest of their season as they were forced to battle to the final second before dropping a stubborn alumni quintet 40-38 last night in a March of Dimes benefit game in the AUHS gym.

Coach Sam Keith was forced to go with his regulars for about 30 of the 32 minutes of the game to subdue the ex-Anaheimers who simply refused to give up. It was probably the closest overall game that the Colonists have played all year, six points midway through the first quarter being the greatest margin ever to separate the two teams.

Dick Morley, chairman of the March of Dimes campaign here in Anaheim, said this morning that last night's game had realized a profit of $66.67 for the fund.

Hugh On Boards

The schoolboys, murdered on the boards by Hugh Faulkner cashed in on sharp shooting by Ira Webber, Sheldon Welch, and newcomer Ed Ramirez. Although the alumni were close all the way, they never found anyone who was "hot," and cold streaks that spread throughout the entire roster at crucial points cost them the game.

Both teams started cautiously, but after Don Hall's basket had sent the alumni into a 3-2 lead, they failed to hit again from the floor until Jerry Schmitz connected with less than a minute remaining in the quarter. Webber and Welch were hitting for the Colonists, the alumni merely picking up gratis points on three straight Lloyd Trapp free throws.

Slows Down

After Schmitz' basket, Welch hit a free toss, but Trapp came back with a closing basket to make it 13-10 at the quarter.

The second period was even slower. The alumni pushed through seven points on two baskets by Jim Schmitz, and another and a free throw by Henry Selfkin. Welch, meanwhile, made the only Anaheim bucket of the quarter, Gene Gibson also adding a free throw to allow the alumni to retire with a 17-16 halftime lead.

But Webber and Ramirez both started hitting in the third, each getting seven points, to pull the Colonists out of it. Webber opened with a basket, but both Schmitzes tallied to make it 18-21. Webber again connected and Ramirez followed with a pair to send Anaheim ahead.

Ahead For Keeps

Hugh Faulkner's basket tied it and Jim Schmitz' free throw gave the alumni the edge, but when Rel Schmitt connected with a one-hander it put the Colonists ahead to stay for the remainder of the night.

Leading 32-28 at the quarter, the Colonists saw that evaporate when Gil Henning put free throws around a basket to draw it to 34-32. Ron Faulkner, who had been stifled by his brother through the first three quarters, finally put one through, but brother Hugh came right back with one.

With four minutes left, the Colonists started stalling and managed to last it out, although not without some anxious moments. Ron Faulkner hit his second field goal on a follow of a free throw, but Ed Stringer threw one in to again close the gap.

Ramirez Sparks

Webber then sneaked in during the stall to pot one, but Jerry Schmitz again hit the nets with about 10 seconds left. After enough left for any more alumni that, there just wasn't time efforts.

At least one aspect of the game was encouraging to Colonist fans last night—the work of Ramirez. Regular guard Dennis Denny was again abed with a temperature and the heretofore ineligible Colonist stepped into his place to tally nine points. His only possible shortcoming might have been on the boards, but no one was getting the rebounds away from Big Faulkner last night.

SC Job Hunt Ends Where It Started -- SC

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The nationwide search for a man to coach football at the University of Southern California ended exactly where it started—on the campus at SC.

The winner: Jesse Hill, head track coach at SC and one of the greatest all-round athletes in the school's history.

Dr. Fred B. Fagg, Jr., SC president, made the format announcement late yesterday and soon afterward a mass peace pipe smoking party was held in Dr. Fagg's office with representatives of the faculty athletic committee and powerful alumni groups puffing away in harmony.

Peace, it was wonderful, for until yesterday some of the groups were hardly in accord in the move to select a new football coach. All, it seemed, had different ideas about who should get the job vacated six weeks ago, under alumni pressure, by Jeff Cravath.

Dr. Fagg might have prefaced the Hill announcement with the final, binding statement that among those who would not get the position were Paul Brown, Don Faurot, Fritz Crisler, Bud Wilkinson, Charlie Caldwell, Bernie Bierman, Ray Eliot, Henry Frnka and some 75 others, most of whom either didn't consider it or weren't considered anyhow.

Hill, fortyish, youthfully gray, good looking and easy in manner, was engaged for an "indefinite period." Presumably it is for one year at a time, as has been the custom at SC in past years prior to Cravath's three-year contract, on which he collected for the two years yet to go when he stepped out.

Hill's salary was not disclosed. Guesses ranged around $15,000, to include his job as head track coach.

Hill will continue with the T-formation style of play but may vary it with some single wing, unbalanced line maneuvers which he learned as a fullback for the late Howard Jones at SC in 1928-29.

Hill has coached football for 16 years—at Riverside and Long Beach Junior colleges, Corona high school, as an assistant at St. Mary's and Del Monte preflight during the war, when he was in the navy, and then as freshman coach at SC in 1946.

He said he wanted the job because it offered a challenge. Hill likes challenges. Two years ago he accepted a challenge to succeed the great Dean Cromwell as track coach at SC. The rookie coach won the NCAA championship in 1949 and repeated in 1950.

Sorority Plans Fashion Show

Beta Upsilon chapter of Kappa Delta Phi, a charitable sorority, held a meeting of the committee in charge of the organization's annual Fashion Show last Saturday evening at the home of Miss Charlotte Day of Placentia. Co-hostess for the evening was Mrs. H. O. Day. A Spanish dinner was served the guests.

Plans were made for the fashion show to be held the afternoon of March 3 at the Fullerton City Hall. Shops to participate in the showing will be Bowne's of Fullerton and Thelma Moran, also of Fullerton.

The Masterworks Chorale under the brilliant leadership of its youthful conductor, Allen C. Lannom, returns to Anaheim for a second concert. Those who heard the inspiring work done here by the group of 35 singers last season will welcome an opportunity to hear them again. Allen C. Lannom is rapidly becoming known as an outstanding choral conductor in Southern California. He is the supervisor for adult choruses of the Los Angeles Bureau of Music, is Minister of Music for the First Methodist church in Pasadena and returns this term to the staff of L.A. City College as a choral conductor.

The Anaheim concert, in the White Temple Methodist church, on Feb. 4 at 7 p.m., will be the first conducted by Mr. Lannom since his very recent return from a lecture and choral-demonstration tour in New York, Minneapolis and Chicago. Works of Brahms, Bach, Hassler, Haydn and of contemporary composers will be heard in the performance. The public is urged to attend.

Beautification Contest Here

April 24 is the dead-line date for local homesteaders to win the prize trophy to be given to the community winning the Orange County Civic Beautification contest. Associate Chambers of Commerce will meet the 24th of April for the decision of the judges, whose names will be announced previous to the set date. Trophy will be the permanent possession of the winning community.

Each locality entering the contest will decide upon a plan for a civic beautification project to be undertaken and will submit a report to the judges not later than April 10th.

Judging will be based on completeness of the report, progress made and the method of presentation; scrapbooks are suggested. Relative sizes of the various communities participating will be weighed by the judges in consideration of the decision. That takes care of 50% of the points. Twenty-five per cent will be based on local participation, including organizations, clubs, etc., and the last 25% will be based on the extent of publicity used to further the aim.

It is the hope of the Civic Beautification committee, sponsor of the contest, that all Orange county communities, regardless of size, will take part in this contest. The co-operation of local garden clubs, service organizations and Chambers of Commerce will result, not only in a successful contest, but in stimulating interest in making beautiful Orange county a garden spot in California.

Further information is available at the local Chamber of Commerce.

The trouble maker hasn't fired a shot . . .

The government has moved toward a new, but long delayed, era: general price and wage controls. This will also usher in more conflicts and bickerings.

No one is balmy enough to think a price-wage freeze will automatically stop the rise in living costs, which have been spurting upward.

If it puts a real brake on them for a while, slowing down their rush, it will be doing well. But the order freezing prices and wages is just the beginning.

There'll be squawks, and plenty of them, some justified, some phony, as individuals and groups scream that they are being unfairly hurt or squeezed.

And in the months ahead—years, if the defense program keeps on, as it's likely to do—the government's price and wage control agencies will have their hands full.

They'll have to pass on thousands upon thousands of individual and group cases, to make adjustments where a squeeze seems unfair, or at least too unfair. And where there's an easing of controls, prices or wages inch up a bit.

In addition to all that, there's bound to be chiseling by sharpies who want to make a quick buck by booting up a price here, there, or where they can get away with it.

True, there's a penalty for violating a freeze order, but the government still has too small a price control staff to enforce a freeze so tightly that no one dares try to break through.

Congress has shouted for this freeze and after it comes there'll probably be a period of decent silence. After a while you can expect some of the shouts to begin again, but in a slightly different direction.

Next it will be that this control or that one is being mishandled, for Congressmen have constituents who'll build a fire under them to get some relief they claim they need.

If you doubt any of this, just remember how it was in the days of the OPA when the conflicts and bickerings never stopped and OPA never was able to keep living costs absolutely frozen, although it kept them down.

Already living costs are almost five per cent higher than they were last June 15, just before the Korean war.

They've been climbing steadily ever since. By last October they had broken all records. They kept right on climbing and still are.

Why then all this delay in imposing price and wage controls? For one thing, the White House has moved snail-slowly in even setting up enough machinery to slap on the controls.

Even now the machinery is far from complete but under the double pressure of rising costs and public outcry, the decision was made to go ahead and order the freeze and hope for the best.

On Sept. 1, 1950, Congress passed the bill giving the president power to impose price and wage controls and control materials for defense.

It is now almost Feb. 1, five months since the bill was passed to give the government power to slap on price and wage controls.

With that sort of a beginning we can only hope for something which will really work in keeping the civilian economy on a satisfactory footing.

And, to think it all was imposed upon us by one fellow in Russia who hasn't fired a shot, lost a soldier, or tried to get anything through the United Nations.

The rainfall for the season to Jan. 25, was 8¾ inches. Referring to last year's record we find that the rainfall to Jan. 26, was 12 inches—10 inches of which fell from Jan. 19 to 26 inclusive. This, however, was the last rain except a slight fall of three-sixteenths of an inch on March 3.

The sun came out glorously yesterday and his rays were all the more pleasant after the cloudy weather with which we have been surfeited. But about halfpast eight last evening the rain continued to fall and the lowering aspect of the clouds today indicate that the wet season is not yet over.

A hand-car came down from Los Angeles yesterday, but the Anaheim mail was left at Downey.

The railroad track is badly washed at Coyote creek and also near Downey.

Mr. Scott has put down the names of a few of the young Americans who are in the habit of stealing sugar cane from his place. There will be trouble among the youngsters very soon.

The Farmer's club held a very interesting meeting at the residence of M. L. Rogers on the east side on Monday afternoon. President Rogers occupied the chair and George A. Hunter acted as secretary in the absence of Henry Kuchel. Miss Horstman, treasurer of the club reported satisfactory progress in rounding up delinquents. J. J. Schneider, Wallace Scott, H. L. Smith, L. L. Parker and others took part in discussing the subject, "When is the best time for pruning apricot trees." Mrs. Rogers served refreshments assisted by Mrs. Chas. Rogers and Miss Marie Horstman. The club accepted an invitation from Mr. and Mrs. George Hunter to meet at their home the last Monday in February.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

WASHINGTON —U. S. Forces have now captured a Chinese combat bulletin giving their secret estimate of American fighting ability. The estimate is about as humiliating as any statement ever made about the white man in Asia. A translation, as cabled back to Washington, follows:

"United States troops quickly lose the desire to fight when surrounded and surrender early, or they will throw away heavy equipment, hide away until night, and attempt to sneak away as individuals. When they advance, they go far quickly so long as they can stay on the road in their trucks and tanks. When the dismount and get off the road, the sound of firing will make them withdraw.

"When United States troops are on the defense, they can be made to withdraw very easily by putting a few troops near their flanks. When you get in their rear, they become disorganized and think only of getting out.

United States troops are not aggressive. When they were surrounded at Unsan for four days, they did nothing. They quail and flinch at the sound of heavy firing."

Tragedy of this Chinese intelligence estimate is that it is true. There are some notable exceptions, such as the Marines' valiant fight to Hungnam. Also, it should be noted that our fighting spirit has now been roused by Lieut. Gen. Matthew Ridgway.

Apparently, the Chinese estimate of our bravery in battle was writtex after the first Chinese offensive, when the Second Division panicked and our front fell back in a pell-mell, 120-mile retreat. Actually, it was a much inferior Chinese force that pushed us back.

The Unsan incident referred to in the Chinese document was an ambush near the Yalu river, before the first major Chinese strike, and it probably gave encouragement to the Chinese to pull off that strike.

It remains a fact that the weaknesses pointed out in the Chinese document are the same ones which our own intelligence reports have shown. So the Chinese assessment, humiliating as it may be, is fairly accurate.

Studying Our Mistakes

However, one healthy development is that Sen. Lyndon Johnson's investigating subcommittee and members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff have been studying the mistakes of the Korean war. And they can be summed up in the caustic words of Bernard Baruch to the Truman committee—"we never seem to learn from the mistakes of past wars. The Army command conveniently forgets them. The only way our men learn to fight is by fighting."

Perfume Blamed For Infant's Death

Death of Kenny Dykes, 18-months-old son of Mrs. Illene Dykes, 18, 507 Fruit st., Santa Ana, who expired yesterday while his mother was rushing him to a physician's office in a taxi, was under investigation today by the coroner's office to determine the cause, believed to be swallowing perfume.

Deputy Coroner Roger Burnham reported finding an empty perfume bottle in the child's crib, and smelling the odor of perfume in the baby's mouth. A bottle of hair oil, with a piece of the glass broken from its shoulder, also was found in the crib. Likewise the scattered contents of a package of gelatine, some of it on the nipple of an empty nursing bottle.

Santa Ana police investigators said that the mother told them she had fed the baby his milk last night, but he had not been fed this morning up to the time she heard him start to scream, at about 9:30 a.m. An older child was with him at the time.

The mother thought that Kenny might have swallowed something, as he had swallowed a penny once, and so she held him head down and shook him, to dislodge whatever it might be. But he stiffened and had difficulty breathing, so she ran to a neighbors, telephoned the doctor, then summoned a taxi and took Kenny to the doctor's office. The child was dead on arrival there.

The coroner's office ordered an autopsy conducted today.

WE HAVE STATED many times in this column that it makes no difference to any intelligent orange grower how his fruit is handled so long as it is put into the consumers' hands on a profitable basis to the producer. It seems to us that return to grower is the all important question and that grower efforts should be tuned to that note. With Florida Mutual in the picture the minimum is set by the grower. A minimum price per box. Money, that is, and not "chin music" as the California grower gets.

IN CALIFORNIA, we had last year, the spectacle of Mr. Wilcox signing a contract to sell "cheaper fruit" to Mr. Fox. That act automatically reduced the price of every California valencia, in or out of the Exchange, and, we believe, it was done with that very thing in mind. How else can you explain it? Now in their last "News Letter" the Exchange runs an article which reports Minute Maid had a net loss in a year which saw their sales more than double. The Exchange "points the finger" at this loss and, we suppose, their thought is to scare old man grower into thinking his fruit is not worth as many dollars as hoped. Why else the Exchange should mention this sort of thing is beyond us. They sold their growers' fruit to Minute Majd in the "cheaper fruit" contract for less than was being paid to Florida growers for late fruit so, perhaps, they feel now that if Minute Maid wants some more concentrate from Exchange fruit it should be cheaper than last year so Minute Maid could show a profit.

DON'T FORGET that the reports from Florida show that frozen grapefruit and also orange and grapefruit blend concentrates showed very poor consumer acceptance and, in almost every case, a loss to the processor. BUT NOT ORANGE CONCENTRATE. Let the Exchange deny that one if they will. And they are perfectly welcome.

We will make a small wager that, if the truth were known, Minute Maid showed great profit on frozen orange concentrate and that the loss was confined to the grapefruit and blend concentrates.

Anyway it is small concern to the California valencia grower how the Minute Maid corporation is operated. All the grower should care about is what kind of money he gets for his fruit—and we mean how MUCH.

Any corporation which expands its sales from $11 million to almost $25 million in the space of one short year with a net loss of $8345 (less than the salary of one small executive) has done quite some piece of business. Anything can happen with a growth like that.

What proportion of that $25 million did the Exchange get for their grower? That is a much more important question for Exchange growers to be told something about.

IT SEEMS to us that the Exchange is laying the ground work for a suggestion that we sell fruit still cheaper to Minute Maid this year so they can pay fat salaries and still show a profit. Now that would be just fine wouldn't it? If the "hired help" sells fruit "cheaper" then they should work the same way. Do they do it? No, m'am, they just got another raise. They dont like to talk about it, either. Some have said: "to talk about the raise is not in the best interests of the Exchange." What kind of an attitude is that? If the raise was justified then they had it coming. From their attitude one would get the impression that the recipients themselves thought it was on the fishy side.

What kind of a business is that?

DISPUTE FAILS TO BAR TRADE

JAMMU, Kashmir (AP) — While all is quiet on the 800-mile-long Pakistan cease-fire line in Kashmir, people on both sides have organized an "underground" mail service, linking the Indian and Pakistani-held parts of the disputed state.

Simultaneously, barter trade across the cease-fire line is going on, with agents from the Pakistan side exchanging wheat, rock salt, snuff and maize for Indian cloth and rice. Police have been making systematic efforts to check this "illicit traffic" in the mountain terrain.

It is estimated that some 52,954 Confederates were killed in the Civil War battles. Union Army dead in battle is estimated at 110,070.

Railroad Workers Wildcat Walkout Cripples Freight, Express Shipments; Eastern States Embargo Clamped

By The Associated Press

A wildcat walkout of railroad workers struck a crippling blow at freight and express shipments in most sections of the nation today.

With freight already jamming terminals, the Railway Express Agency slapped an embargo on rail express shipments between 14 northeastern states and the rest of the country.

The strike spread swiftly to a dozen cities in the east, midwest, south, and far west. It started in Chicago and Detroit yesterday and hopped to St. Louis, Milwaukee, Buffalo, N. Y., Peoria, Ill., Washington, Portland, Ore., Philadelphia, Trenton, N. J., Knoxville, Tenn., and Dallas, Tex.

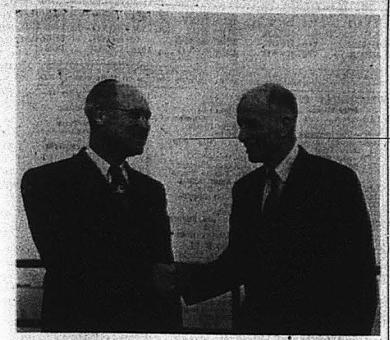

At least 27 railroads were hit directly. Many others felt the indirect effects of the tie-up of vital switching lines.

At a few points, striking switchmen were joined by firemen and engineers.

Steps aimed at ending the walkout were begun in Chicago, where the federal attorney's office said it is preparing contempt citation against the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, key union in the stagnating situation.

An Army spokesman said the work stoppage threatened "serious effects" to war shipments.

Effects of the strike were felt almost immediately. Freight and passenger movement was hampered.

GETS WELCOME—Welcomed to his seat on the board of directors of the Orange County Water district today was Gerald Price (left), Bolsa, appointed to succeed his uncle, the late Vernon Heil, president of the board, whose death took place last Saturday. Gerald Price Picked to Direct Orange County Water District

Gerald Price, 43, Bolsa farmer and manufacturer of agricultural implements, was appointed director of the Orange County Water district late yesterday to fill the vacancy caused by the death of board President Vernon C. Heil of Smeltzer last Saturday.

Price, who is a nephew of the late board president, is a native of Orange county, like his late uncle. He farms 320 acres of land at Bolsa and operates the implement manufacturing plant on Bolsa ave. He resides with his wife and family at 9221 Bolsa ave.

The new member was sworn into office today by Secretary W. D. Miller of the water district, and posted his bond as director. He represents Division 6 until the end of the Heil term, March 1, and is expected to be a candidate for re-election at the water district election Feb. 6.

Price is a graduate of Santa Ana high school, class of 1924, and holds a BS degree in mechanical engineering from Oregon State college, 1930. From 1933 to 1941 he was electrical inspector for Orange county, and since has been engaged in farming and manufacturing.

Preceding the appointment of Price, the water district board met to pass a resolution of regret at the death of its president, Vernon Heil, and expressed condolence to his family.

In the death of Mr. Heil, said the resolution, "The Orange County Water district has sustained a loss that cannot be replaced."

Funeral services for Mr. Heil were conducted in Santa Ana yesterday.

He Can't Praise Hadacol Enough

HADACOL Supplies Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron which His System Lacked

Mr. Dan Goldsmith, 3024 Curron Road, Louisville, Ky., owner of Coogla Cut Rate Store at 935 West Broadway, says there just aren't enough words in the English language to praise HADACOL correctly. He says he knows most folks don't realize what a change HADACOL can make in their life if their systems are deficient in Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin.

Here is Mr. Goldsmith's statement:

"Before I started taking HADACOL I was run down and nervous—and had a hard time sleeping nights. With my work in the store I have to spend sometimes 14 hours a day on my feet. Since I am in the retail business I saw how many folks were asking for HADACOL so I decided to try it myself. After the first couple of bottles I could tell a definite improvement. Now I have all the pep and energy in the world, my nerves are steady as ever and I really do get a good night's rest. HADACOL is wonderful — I not only take it, but recommend it to all my customers. I praise the day Senator Dudley J. LeBlanc put HADACOL on the market." Give remarkable HADACOL a chance and if you don't feel better with the first few bottles you take—you get your money back. Only $1.25 for Trial Size; Large Family or Hospital Size, $3.50. If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order it direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana. (Adv.)

Byebye Blackbirds Meet K-State Next

NEW YORK (AP)—Clair Bee's Long Island university Blackbirds, the season's most controversial basketball team, make stop No. 4 on their fiery road trip tonight for a tilt with the Kansas State Wildcats.

LIU tool: a 15-game winning streak to the West Coast last weekend for a couple of games with San Francisco and California. After squeaking past Frisco, the Blackbirds were stopped by California — a team which had lost nine times—by two points.

Then came the hotly-disputed Arizona game at Tucson Monday night, which LIU also lost, 62-61.

Now, the Blackbirds move into Manhattan for a game with the seventh - ranking team in the country. LIU placed No. 4 in this week's Associated Press poll.

Kansas State, leading the Big Seven conference, has an overall 13-2 record.

In the Midwest, Notre Dame rallied to whip Butler, 75-65, snapping a three-game losing streak. Other leading games saw St. John's ninth - ranked nationally, upend Manhattan, 46-39; North Carolina whip Wake Forest, 82-70; South Carolina trip Duke, 82-62; Wichita turn back Drake, 64-45; Xavier down Toledo, 79-59; and Texas Christian defeat Baylor, 60-48.

Kefauver Investigation May Dig Out Plans for Overthrowing LA

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An underworld plot to take over city government here may be disclosed when the Kefauver Senate Crime committee returns in February.

Harold G. Robinson, former chief investigator for the committee on the west coast, so stated today.

Robinson, now deputy director of the law enforcement division in the California Attorney General's office, said two Kefauver investigators already are working on the case.

He named them as Herbert Van Brunt, one-time FBI man and former investigator for the California Crime commission, and William Ruymenn, former Las Vegas, Nev. attorney. Van Brunt, Ruymenn and Robinson were with the Senate crime probers at sessions here last November.

At that time, the Senate committee learned from Jimmy Utley, underworld foe of Gambler Mickey Cohen, that Utley took part in a recall movement to oust Mayor Fletcher Bowron.

Utley, tabbed by the California Crime commission as a "man of increasing importance in the underworld," testified then that he dropped out of the recall movement "after the early stages."

Bowron successfully weathered the recall action which was started one day after he was re-elected. The mayor accused underworld elements of attempting to oust him.

Police Chief William H. Parker said today that he knew of a gangland secret plan to recall Bowron and "move in."

Another report said that unidentified Reno, San Francisco and Albuquerque gamblers had offered financial help for the recall but dropped out when the original backers could not find a strong candidate to face Bowron.

Catholic Church To Be Dedicated In Westminster

The dedication of the new Blessed Sacrament church, 14008 Olive, Westminster, will take place at 11 a.m. Sunday. The Right Rev. Bishop Timothy Manning, auxiliary bishop of the Los Angeles diocese, of which Westminster is a part, will perform the ceremony, assisted by the pastor, Father Robert Ross, S.S.C., and his assistants, Fathers Kevin McNally, Francis Ruddy, Ernest Speckhart and Fr. Thomas McCormick. About 15 visiting priests will take part in the procession.

The blessing of the $75,000 California mission-style edifice, designed by Gene Verge of Los Angeles, will be followed by solemn High Mass. Fr. John M. McFadden, who is here from St. Columbans Catholic Seminary at Bristol, R. I., and who was first pastor of the parish from Jan. 1947 to Dec. 1948, will deliver the sermon.

Regular masses at the church will be 6:30, 8:00 and 10:00 o'clock on Sunday mornings. To encourage parents to attend services a special soundproof room with glass windows to the left of the main altar has special accommodations for children.

Santa Ana Student Art on Exhibit

On display in building Q-1 are the products of the Santa Ana college commercial art, drawing and painting, and color and design classes. This varied exhibit of art work can be seen by the public at any time by merely coming to the campus.

One section of the exhibit devoted to the color and design classes stresses fundamental exercises in color and picture building. The color definitely brings out the creative instinct in art students, since one student contributor imagines the painting he has created to contain a fire, a mysterious night in a swamp and a person disappointed in love.

The color and design students are rated sb proficient that they can match any color when they finish the course. This not only serves them well in art but is useful when problems such as a color selection for their homes, their dress, and other practical matters face them.

Drawing from models is also a featured portion of the Art Department's curriculum and living models are used to a considerable degree. Many of these exhibitions are on display for those of the public who are interested.

The commercial art students have on display many paintings which can be converted into "palette pay". The college continuity receives calls for students trained in this area. The school service has made all the posters and mailing pressures for the drama plays this season which are circulated to 1500 people.

Elliott to Cards Trade Unlikely

BOSTON (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals' chances of obtaining Bob Elliott, the Boston Braves' hard-hitting third baseman, in a trade during the weekend baseball meeting in New York today appeared extremely slim.

General Manager John Quinn of the Braves, said all player negotiations with several clubs, including the Cardinals, are considered closed.

"No team offered us a deal we felt was satisfactory," Quinn explained.

Pretty Contrast

Destined to be her favorite party dress is this adorable yoked style for girls of three to eight. Soft eyelet is used for the dainty shaped yoke and lower skirt. Note the exciting shoulder buttoning.

Barbara Bell sew-rite perforated pattern No. 1238 is designed for sizes 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 years. Size 4 requires 1½ yards of 35 or 39-inch fabric; 1 yard contrast.

For this pattern, send 25 cents plus 5 cents for first-class mailing, in coins, your name, address, pattern number and size wanted to Barbara Bell, Anaheim Gazette, 367 W. Adams St., Chicago 6, Ill.

Anaheim Gazetteer

By JOHN S. NEUBAUER

What applies to one sport applies to every sport.

. . . Even the very hairs of your head are numbered. . . fear not therefore.—Luke 12:7.

☆

BOX OFFICE—Six months ago it was reported in this column that Marion (Shorty) Hill, the Buena Park girls' softball impresario, was trying to promote another softball alignment which would include the fast, turnstile clicking teams of the great southwest. His dream is about to become a reality . . . Incidentally, Little Mary Whitney, we are told, is doing right well at Santa Barbara state where she is taking a physical education course . . . Don (Bucky) Green, the little lefthanded pitcher didn't get a $100,000 bonus when he signed with the Pittsburgh Pirates, but the little fellow has what it takes to win ball games . . . His father Don Green, a manufacturers representative, is a great baseball enthusiast and a friend of the Mahatma—Branch Rickey, Sr., who undoubtedly will drop in at La Palma Park this spring to talk baseball with Vic Buedy.

☆

CONGRATULATIONS — Today's accolade goes to Mrs. Stella Danker and Bernard and Mary Renstrom, Anaheimers with hearts as big as they are themselves. In troubled times like these, it is indeed a pleasure to sing the praises of honest-to-goodness humanitarians.

☆

STATISTICS — For some reason or other there's something fascinating about statistics. That's why people read annual reports and stuff like that there. Coroner Earl Abbey states that 498 people became statistics last year. More than half of these people—54 per cent—died from natural causes; but, 18 per cent, or 89 people, were traffic fatalities . . . Nineteen of these were pedestrians; 31 died as the result of two-car crashes and 13 died as the result of truck-auto accidents. Most of these people had something to live for—most of them were in the prime of life. Drive carefully. Do it for your own sake. . .

☆

NEWSIES—Albert Rothaermel is one of those friendly good-natured hombres who learned to like people by serving them. Edward Juenemann is an exceptional fellow. He's always cheerful. No wonder — he's boosting Anaheim by boosting the Morales Brothers food products . . . You're a comparatively newcomer to Anaheim if you don't remember Old Alex's tamale factory when it was back of Leo Sheridan's place of business . . . In those days, kids like Pat Kavanagh even helped the Morales brothers—Alex, Jr., Richard, Charles and Albert—help Alex Sr. with the chores—such as peeling an onion. . . . And, it wasn't very long ago, either, that Joe Lickhus had a corn patch where Anaheim's fast-growing Northgate industrial plants now stand. Why Joe's old mule grew fat on the bermuda grass that grew wild.

☆

BULLETINS — Mrs. Florence Williams told police that her purse—it contained $150 — was taken from her car while she was visiting her daughter. It's always wise to lock your car. Dr. John Truxaw learned that the hard way, too . . . Anaheim's able and efficient police chief, Mark Stephenson, is well aware of the modus operandi of the Orange county "pants-burglar." He warned Anaheimers to lock their doors. But what happened? They leave the doors wide open—a virtual invitation to a clever crook. Warren Lichenwalter left his car parked at the side of a lonely country road. When he came back, the car was just where he left it—but it had been stripped of $190's worth of parts. What can the sheriff do about it? Investigate.

WOMEN SENATORS ABSENT

NEW HAVEN (AP) — For the first time in 10 years, there are no women members in the Connecticut State Senate. Another oddity of the current session is that not one of the 17 Republican members of the chamber is a lawyer, although there are several of that profession among the 19 Democrats.

The total coast of the Revolutionary War to American taxpayer was $144,555,642.

20 Pensioners Die in Old-Age Home Flash Fire

HOQUIAM, Wash., (AP)—Twenty old age pensioners perished in a flash fire that roared through a rambling frame rest home yesterday noon, and two more were near death early today.

The blaze apparently leaped from a basement clothes drying room to the second floor while the 30 aged residents of the home, many too ill and feeble to move lay in their beds awaiting lunch.

Fourteen were trapped in the flames and suffocating smoke that licked and billowed up stairways and air vents to encompass the rear of the building and its second floor and leave it a charred shell.

Firemen and volunteers helped 16 others escape the building. Six of those rescued died later, five from burns and one from a heart attack.

He Didn't Sell Daughter for $5, Says Job Hunter

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—William A. O'Brien, who has been job hunting clear across the country and back in the past year, denies that he ever offered to sell his 11-year-old daughter, Shirley, for $10 and a tank of gasoline.

But, he did leave her—"just till I got on my feet"—with a Los Angeles service station operator, Cecil Glover. Then O'Brien and his wife and four smaller O'Briens continued north seeking a job.

The 55-year-old itinerant sail maker, cotton picker and man of all work but few jobs rushed to the police yesterday. He had read an account that Shirley told Los Angeles police her father tried to sell her to Glover. She said he settled for $5 and the gasoline.

Glover had turned Shirley over to the Los Angeles authorities after he heard from O'Brien that his jalopy had broken down in Bakersfield and the family had gone on to San Francisco after selling the old auto.

"Nothing to it," O'Brien told the Associated Press. "Glover offered to care for Shirley until I got on my feet. I left her birth certificate with him so he could get her in school because I didn't get a transfer for her from the last school in Phoenix."

Last March, the O'Briens turned up in New York and slept in the old auto for several days. When authorities investigated, O'Brien said he had been looking for work all the way from Los Angeles. Newspaper readers contributed clothes and money and gave promises of housing and jobs. Then the O'Briens dropped out of the news until Shirley told her story in Los Angeles.

O'Brien said he had located a job at the Mare Island Navy yard, "if this ruckus hasn't killed it for me."

Government Eases Up Wage Freeze Soft Coal Miners Get $1.60 Boost

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today eased the wage freeze to permit all wage raises granted Jan. 25, or before, which apply to a pay period starting Feb. 9 or before.

The action was taken by the Wage Stabilization board by a vote of 6 to 3, with the three industry members dissenting.

The new order permits a wage increase of $1.60 a day for about 400,000 soft coal miners which takes effect tomorrow.

It apparently does not permit, however, a similar increase to about 75,000 hard coal miners, but Board Chairman Cyrus S. Ching said "we will have to determine that. We don't know the facts of that case."

The hard coal contracts were signed Jan. 26, the day after the wage-freeze order took effect. The soft coal contract was signed several days earlier.

The regulation does not specifically mention coal, and board officials said at least 50 other contracts, and maybe 10 times that many, are affected by the easing of the wage freeze.

The announcement of the regulation and three other wage orders clarifying the wage freeze was made by Ching at a suddenly called news conference.

One of the new orders exempts state, county, and municipal employees—but not federal—from the wage freeze. But the regulation says states and other governments which fix the wages of those employees are "expected" to conform to the wage freeze and whatever other policy is laid down by the board.

The fact that the industry members dissented in the very first major policy decision did not mean that they would quit the board, they said.

They merely thought that wage raise contracts, signed before the freeze order but effective afterward, should be taken care of in a later general order on wage policy.

AUSTERITY ORDERED IN FORMOSA

TAIPEI (AP)—The people of Formosa face harder times. Living costs are going up continually. Electricity for private homes is provided on a fixed basis and all excess consumed is subject to severe overcharges.

The foreigner in Formosa pays through the nose for almost everything. Landlords think nothing of asking $300 to $500 a month rent for a modest little house, rent payable six months or a year in advance. Such conditions, Chinese officials explain, are necessary because the government is short of foreign exchange and is fighting the Chinese reds. Austerity is the order of the day.

Painter Feels Good Again

Hadacol Supplies Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron Which His System Lacked

When a man works hard all day, he has to get a good night's sleep in order to keep going. Take Mr. Tony Wesalick of 1010 Tabor St., Houston, Texas, for example. Up until a few months ago Mr. Wesalick just couldn't sleep, had no appetite, and was bothered with indigestion. Then he heard about HADACOL and started taking it. A painter by profession, Mr. Wesalick says that now he gets up in the morning feeling so rested, and so full of energy that he's almost never tired any more. He eats everything he wants without being troubled with indigestion, and has a wonderful appetite since HADACOL helped overcome his deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron.

Here is Mr. Wesalick's own statement: "I was run-down and I would get up in the morning feeling as if I hadn't slept at all. My appetite was bad, and I just didn't feel like eating, and when I did eat I had terrible indigestion. After a bottle and a half of HADACOL I felt much better. I have now taken about five more bottles of HADACOL and can eat and enjoy everything I want. I sleep much better and feel more rested. HADACOL has done this for me."
