Orange County Officers Swoop Down on Narcotics Peddlers in Weekend Raids

Largest narcotics roundup in Orange county's history netted 13 arrests over the week-end and explained the theft of 23 doctor's medical bags during the last year, as state, county and city officers collaborated in a series of raids, it was disclosed today. Four Orange men are among the prisoners.

They are: Harold Edward Carney, 41, painter, 115 S. Center st., who is detained by police to have purchased drugs taken from the medical bags by younger confederates; James Charles Brewer, 19, 284 Jewel place; Gerald Patrick Smith, 20, alias Jerry Smith, 981 Batavia st., and Roy Raymond Villalobos, 18, 338 N. Lemon st.

Like the other prisoners, they are booked at the county jail under the state narcotics act, Sec. 11,500 of the health and sanitation code.

Arrest of Carney Thursday evening at his home set off the series of week-end raids that brought Brewer, Smith and Villalobos into the police net early Friday morning, when they were apprehended in a car in the 1000 block of N. Broadway. Santa Ana, in company with Gerald J. Crawford, 18, 65 W. Fifth st., Santa Ana.

Santa Ana police officer, Ernest Graebey, had learned of their presence at a drive-in in the 2500 block of S. Main st., Santa Ana, and saw them drive away as he arrived. They turned off their car lights and eluded him, but he picked them up again at Walnut and Main, and followed them in a series of turns until overhauling them. They tossed out the hood's mic kit, the city library and, when halted, tossed a bag of marijuana out the window, Graebey said. He recovered both.

Having had Crawford under surveillance, police immediately started closing in on known companions. They arrested George P. Macias, 18, and Alvin E. Gardella, 19, both of Santa Ana, and Roger LeRoy McMillan, 24, of Fullerton, Saturday evening. Ernest De Valle Fernandez, 21, Santa Ana, was apprehended Sunday evening.

At Huntington Beach four prisoners were arrested in the beach off Eleventh st. early today. They are: Edward Lawrence McCook, 26, and his wife, Lorraine, 26, of Huntington Beach; Luanne Glynn, 24, Pomona; and Earl R. Crandall, 23, Ontario.

The investigation actually started July 28 with the arrest in a Santa Ana hotel of Tommy G. who had been released three days earlier from the men's prison at Chino, where he was serving 10 years to life for first degree robbery. His case is still pending in Santa Ana. The information obtained from his arrest, police discovered a trail of marijuana and narcotics supplied. (Continued on Page 6)

23 Persons Hurt In Orange County Highway Crashes

Collision between cars driven by Frank Fregoso, 46, of 134 W. Broadway, Anaheim, and Earl W. Fortune, 32, of Norwalk, Sunday evening between Katella and Reagan ave., west of Anaheim, resulted in minor injuries to Alice Fregoso, 35, Anaheim, and Inez Beel, 35, of Stanton, also a passenger in the Fregoso car.

After the collision the Fregoso car rammed parked cars registered to Benjamin Valenzuela of Long Beach and P. E. Ellis of Los Alamitos.

Injury to six persons, one seriously, occurred in a three car crash at Highway 39 and Lincoln ave., west of Anaheim Sunday afternoon. Injured were Mrs. Sarah Parks, 50, Long Beach, who received major hurts; her daughter, Miss Sarah Parks, 29, driver of one of the cars; George B. Vogt, 29, Norwalk, another driver and his passengers, Mrs. Vogt, 21, Shirley Wagner, 22, and Nancy Wagner, 6, both of Longmont, Calif.

All injured were taken to Anaheim Community hospital.

Injured in other accidents were the following: Dorothy Bauman, 27, Lloyd Bauman, 32, both of Long Beach; Bruce W. Turner, 65, and Mrs. Gertrude Turner, 65, both of Long Beach; Joseph E. Tinguly, 21, and Jack Scarpie, 21, both of Riverside; Nelda Mason, 16, Santa Ana; Madge Cecil Young, 50, of Delano; Grace King, 26, and Ethel I. Bregman, 68, both of Los Angeles; John E. Newport Beach Resident Held in Fatal Beating of Wife as Suspect of Murder

Held by police after he had reported finding his wife beaten to death in her bed at their home in Newport Beach Saturday forenoon, Troy Raymond Proctor, 37, employee of a boat building firm, was booked at the county jail on suspicion of murder.

Newport Beach police who were conferring with the district attorney's office today on the filing of charges, said that Proctor admitted quarrelling with his wife after they retired Friday night and said that he slapped her with his open hand. But when Dr. Raymond I. Brandt, county autopsy surgeon, conducted an autopsy Saturday afternoon, he announced that death had been caused by multiple hemorrhages of the brain, apparently caused by a beating.

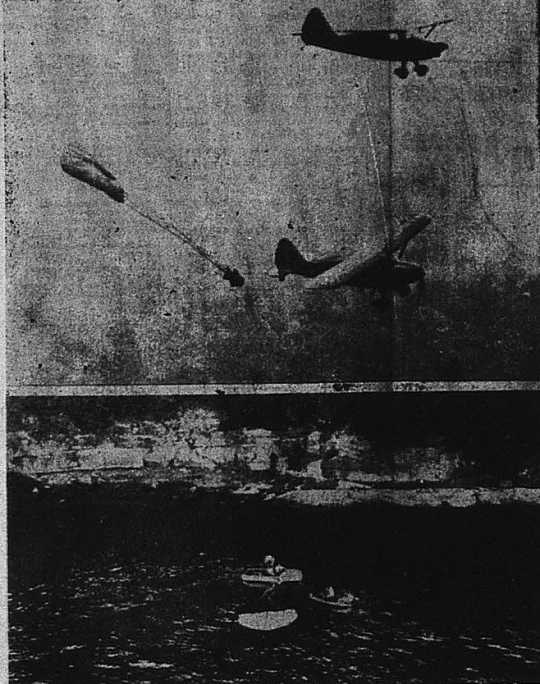

Proctor said he had kicked or knocked his wife out of bed during their quarrel and then had lifted her back into bed. He left home at 8:30 a.m. next morning to pick up his pay check and also to get his wife some asthma medicine, he said. She was alive then and told him, "Goodbye, dear," and the quarrel was apparently forgotten, he told police.

He returned home at 10:30 p.m., and found that she was unconscious. He called Dr. E. E. Tobill of Newport Beach, who found Mrs. Proctor dead when he arrived, it was stated. Her body was nude when found.

An inquest is pending at the Baltz mortuary in Corona del Mar, deputy coroner Roger Burnham announced.

According to information given to coroner's office, Proctor and his wife quarrelled over another man. They were at a drinking party in the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Gould, in their apartment house Friday evening, and the other man, Henry Goff, also a tenant in the apartment house, came in Mrs. Proctor's asserted behavior at that time caused Proctor to leave the party and go to his own apartment where he retired. His wife came in about an hour later, near midnight, it was stated. After she had got into bed, the quarrel was renewed.

Death Wins Wager With Driver on 85 mph Curve

It was death who picked up the stakes Saturday night when a man, who reportedly wagered that he could drive his car around a curve near Seal Beach at 85 miles per hour, lost the wager and his life with it. Twenty-four others were injured in the county's week-end traffic.

Theodore George Fuerbringer, 36, of Compton was instantly killed when his car went off the road at the curve on Bay Blvd., an extension of Westminster Blvd., near Seal Beach at 11:45 p.m., Saturday.

His passenger, Victor Ramirez, 28, of Westminster, who reportedly made the wager with Fuerbringer and then went along to see who won it, received major injuries and was taken to a Long Beach hospital.

'I Recommend This for Everybody,' Says MacFadden After Hudson Jump

Senators to Act On Arms Cutoff To Red Satellites

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Sparkman (Dem.-Ala.) asked the Senate today to approve a new measure aimed at drying up the flow of arms, ammunition and atomic and military material to Soviet Russia and her satellites.

"This is a good bipartisan bill," but I guess we face a fight," Sparkman told a reporter in advance of Senate debate on a measure that would cut off all U. S. aid for any nation engaging in embargoed trade with Iron Curtain countries.

Senators Kem (R-Mo.), Wherry (R-Nebr.), Byrd (D-Va.), and Malone (R-Nev.) have amendments that would cap mandatory restrictions on all such trade and permit no exceptions.

NEW YORK (AP)—Physical culturist Benarr MacFadden, who celebrated his 33rd birthday with a 2000-foot parachute jump into the Hudson River, yesterday, says he is "good for things like this for 10 more years."

"I recommend this for everybody," he adds. "It's a damn good thing to do. I could do it every day in the week."

When MacFadden was fished out of the Hudson after his jump yesterday, he said: "I feel 25. Next year, I'm going to jump over Niagara Falls."

MacFadden's parachute leap yesterday was for the dual purpose, he said, of demonstrating that "old age is just a habit" and that U.S. paratroopers need have no fear of landing in water.

But the publisher of health pamphlets and romance magazines almost failed to accomplish the second purpose. A wind caught MacFadden and almost dashed him into the rocky palisades.

Reds Issue New Blast at UN; But Leave Door Open for New Cease-Fire Talks at Kaesong

Copper Production Of Nation Cut to Trickle by Strike

(By The Associated Press)

America's production of strategic copper dropped to a mere trickle today, And President Truman was asked to step into a strike called by the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind.).

Also halted was production of a considerable quantity of lead and zinc, important along with copper in the defense program.

Mines, mills and other plants in at least 14 states were affected. The union estimated at least 58,000 workers were involved. More than 50 operating plants, 95 per cent of the nation's capacity from mine to final production line, were involved.

Not all the men who left their jobs are members of the IUM-MSW. Members of AFL, craft unions respected picket lines. But maintenance workers kept the mines ready for a quick reopening. Most office workers stayed on the job.

Southeast Europe Red Block May Be Organized

BLED, Yugoslavia (AP)—Formation of a strong defensive bloc against Russian imperialism in southeastern Europe is believed here to have been the aim of W. Averell Harriman's week-end visit to Marshal Tito.

Harriman, President Truman's top-ranking diplomatic trouble shooter, paused in Yugoslavia Saturday and Sunday en route from Tehran, Iran, to London.

It is an open secret that the U.S., Britain and various other Atlantic Pact countries would like Yugoslavia in this area—Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey and perhaps Italy—to draw together in a military alliance.

Collectively they could mount enough strength in fighting men and material to challenge, with American help, Soviet hopes of obtaining a controlling position in the Mediterranean.

Yugoslavia has an army second in size only to Russia on the European continent; the Greek army has been toughened by its experiences in the recently-ended civil war and is equipped by the U.S.

TOKYO (AP)—The communist high command today bitterly rejected the Allied reply on an alleged Kaesong neutrality violation but at the same time left the door open to a possible resumption of the Korean armistice talks.

The Reds broke off the stalemated talks Aug. 23, alleging that an Allied plane had attempted to "murder" the communist delegation at the Kaesong conference site.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme United Nations commander, told them Saturday their charges were "malicious lies" but that he was willing to resume the armistice effort.

In a reply broadcast early today by the Peiping radio, North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung and Chinese Red Gen. Peng Teh-Huai said Ridgway's statement was "entirely unsatisfactory."

They accused him of manufacturing incidents to break up the truce talks and of "slandering" the communists.

Following a wordy complaint that reiterated all the old red charges, they then demanded:

"We hereby once more propose to you that this grave act of provocation should be dealt with by your side with an attitude of serious responsibility. Then the TOKYO, Tuesday (AP)—The communist high command today demanded that Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway acknowledge responsibility for the alleged Kaesong bombing incident at Aug. 22, as their latest price for resuming Korean armistice talks.

"I don't think Ridgway will do it unless he receives definite instructions from higher up," said a high officer at headquarters on hearing the communist demand.

Continuation of the negotiations for a just and reasonable armistice agreement can be guaranteed.

"At the same time we demand that your liaison officers proceed to Kaesong to carry out a re-investigation jointly with our liaison officers of the incident that occurred on Aug. 22, when your military aircraft bombed and strafed the vicinity of the residence of our delegation in order once again to prove the full validity of our protest."

The Reds, after a long week-end of vitriolic propaganda against the United States and the United Nations, thus passed the buck back to General Ridgway.

On the basis of the previous exchanges, it appeared unlikely that he would consider their response satisfactory.

However, the red invitation to renew the investigation at Kaesong and to seek a settlement indicated clearly they were not yet prepared to cancel the deadlocked truce talks once and for all.

McCracken Trial Moves Slowly as McGaff Examined

Progressing slowly today, the second murder trial of Henry Ford McCracken, accused of slaying Patty Hull, 19, in his motel cabin at Buena Park last May 19, was still occupied today with the testimony of Captain Thomas McGaff, in charge of the sheriff's identification bureau.

McGaff, who was called to the stand last Thursday by the prosecution, was still under direct examination until nearly noon today, when the defense attorneys started what is expected to be an exhaustive examination. McGaff probably will be on the witness stand all day.

His testimony dealt in detail with the appearance of McCracken's cabin, No. 8, on Aug. 21, two days following the alleged murder of the child, who, according to McCracken, died in an accidental fall from his kitchen table.

McGaff described what he saw appeared to be bloodstains on the table, walls, floor and other furnishings of the kitchen, the floor of the combination living and bedroom, and on bedding. His testimony apparently was leading up to testimony expected, possibly tomorrow, from Roger Greene, state criminologist from Sacramento. Greene testified at the first trial that the stains actually were blood, as shown by tests he conducted.

During McGaff's testimony this morning, he identified a green workshirt and black shoes worn by McCracken on May 19, showing alleged bloodstains.

Sgt. Boyd Sturgis of the sheriff's office, investigator in the McCracken case, was slated to follow McGaff on the witness stand. Also waiting to testify was Jack Cadman, chemist in the identification bureau, who is expected to testify to typing bloodstains found in the cabin. These tests showed they were of a different type than McCracken's blood, the prosecution claims.

Man 'Feels Fine' After 109 Temp

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Bernard Selden, 54, was "feeling just fine" today after battling a 109-degree temperature that probably made him the hottest man in the world last week.

Physicians at Mt. Sinai hospital were mystified over what caused the high temperature and how Selden came to have it with no apparent harmful effects.

A temperature of 107 to 108 usually is fatal, except in some cases of sun or heat stroke.

The reds are coming...

The Russians are coming to San Francisco September 4 to fire some more anti-American propaganda, this time over the Japanese peace treaty which this country has taken on the lead in working out.

On that date this country invited 30 of its wartime partners to the coast city to discuss, agree on, and sign the treaty which is mainly the work of John Foster Dulles, Eisenhower's lawyer working for the State Department.

Not every country is satisfied with all parts of the treaty which already has been distributed for examination and criticism in draft form. But the most strenuous objection has come from Russia.

Although the treaty has been in the works for a couple of years, it doesn't seem to have attracted much attention from, or discussion by, the American public.

Maybe that's because the war, now six years ended, seems far away, or Russia has become the big center of attention, or the public is just glad to get the loose ends of that war cleared up.

Or it may be the public feels the Japanese can be trusted now as an American ally in any trouble with Russia. And it's on that very point that Russia will have plenty to say.

Under the treaty, as proposed by the U.S., the Japanese will be able to rearm and the U.S. will be able, by agreement with the Japanese, to keep large military forces in Japan just in case of trouble with Russia.

Japan will become this country's strongest Pacific outpost. After looking at the proposed treaty, the Russians at first said they wouldn't take part in the San Francisco meeting at all. Then they said they'd send a delegation.

Since the treaty points in dispute between this country and Russia are so fundamental, it's impossible to believe the Russians will change their minds and sign or that this country will alter the treaty to please Russia.

So the only purpose for the Russian delegation in San Francisco must be to make more anti-American propaganda and perhaps try to line up some of the other 30 nations against the U.S.

The State Department had hoped the treaty conference could be ended in a week. But now that Russia is coming it may drag on for many weeks, unless this country can find some way to make the Russians shut up.

In the end, after delaying, obstructing and propagandizing, the Russians seem sure to walk out. But by that time the American public, and people elsewhere, will have been made more conscious of the treaty.

So maybe the Russians will serve a purpose after all.

Mr. A. G. Cook arrived yesterday from a visit to the Centennial.

As usual in all large gatherings, a few visitors to the circus placed themselves upon the outside of too much bug-jug. One person thought he could stop a four horse team by lying down in front of them, and another fancied that the circus troupe did not number enough to elect him from their tent. A few other little vagaries could be noticed, but nothing worthy of remark.

Something over seven hundred persons attended the great circus yesterday afternoon. The number at the evening performance more than doubled that number.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By HARRY J. ANSLINGER

(Ed. note—While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by several distinguished guest columnists, today's being by Harry J. Anslinger, the Treasury Department's Commissioner of Narcotics and the U.S. representative on the United Nations Narcotic commission. In international circles Mr. Anslinger is regarded as the greatest living authority on the world narcotics traffic. On June 30, 1951, in the U.S. Hall of Representatives, Congressman Gordon Canfield said: "The nation of the world regard him as the world's No. 1 authority on the subject.")

WASHINGTON

The narcotic peddler does not kidnap your children; he destroys them. In extreme distress, parents brought their 16-year-old boy to my office. The lad quivered like the leaves of the aspen. He was suffering from a nervous withdrawal syndrome of drug addiction. He was one of those who use bravado to rain admission to the delinquent gang.

"Tell me where you get heroin," I said, "I will send you to the hospital for a cure."

We used an undercover agent to buy from the "pusher," who led us to the wholesale peddler. Then by progressive steps we graduated to one of the big traffickers who controlled a nationwide syndicate. We trapped him like a rat. It took men, endless patience, long hours of vigilant surveillance, and infinite detailed cooperation. Now, where did he get his supply? From a country which signed the Geneva Convention of 1921 to limit the manufacture of narcotic drugs to medical needs, and then estimated its heroin consumption at 10 times its actual medical needs. Even today, elaborate reporting and checking by international bodies, the padded estimates escaped the attention of the United Nations control machinery.

Our enemy is artfully cunning. The seller is satisfied, and the user won't tell. There are no complaints as in crimes like robberies and kidnapping. Not one witness before the Senate Crime committee would reveal his source of supply, through fear of consequences. We work on the undercover, and must come up with the corpus delicti (evidence) at the conclusion of the investigation. We are severely handicapped by court decisions relating to search and seizure, and must rely on state prosecution in many cases.

We need a law which will put the peddler away longer than 18 months. The House of Representatives passed such a bill. It is pending in the Senate. These cruel exploiters deserve greater punishment. If we had 1000 agents (instead of 195)—without a mandatory sentence law—we would still be on a treadmill, a merry-go-round (no reference to this column). Recently a notorious trafficker with five narcotic-law convictions received a suspended sentence.

Harold Normandale is an addict who over 100 arrests, including one for rape, murder, and many for narcotics. He peddled narcotics to take care of his own addiction. This type creates addicts. There are thousands like him. They have no sense of moral responsibility. They would, without hesitation, shoot heroin into the radiant veins of your 15-year-old daughter, and send her into prostitution to get money for the heroin she pumps into her veins.

Limitation of manufacture of narcotic drugs and control of international distribution have been accomplished for many years. The United Nations is now working on a plan to limit opium production to world medical needs. This is the goal I have been working for at every international conference I have attended since 1951. Such an agreement would be the greatest achievement so far attained toward suppressing the abuse of narcotic drugs throughout the world.

Reports of large-scale drug addiction in the "world" are a post-war phenomenon, and a jittery world.

About 1947 we had the traffic under control. Prison wardens reported an absence of addicted criminals. The population of our Lexington Narcotic hospital had fallen to such an extent that a move is under way to abolish the hospital. I urged all to stand by and to prepare. We could feel it coming here and abroad. Warnings went unheeded. In the past two years it rolled in like an ungulating surf.

Finally in dealing with the international traffic must be reached. Its continued existence and evergreen activity is a sad reflection on the world's lack of joint determination to be done with these plague carriers whose god is Auri Sacra Fames (the accursed thirst for gold).

Here in California we have few brown or brightly hued leaves to denote the coming of fall. Instead we have the fashion shows. These are heralded by the rich, dark fabrics that are replacing summer prints in our ladies ready-to-wear departments along with hats and warm-looking coats.

Windows full of college girl classics early in the season usually start the home-maker thinking about her own wardrobe for fall. We may not be able to squeeze into those junior sizes but they do start a train of thought. The fashion magazines help to indicate style trends but there is nothing like a fashion showing with attractive live models to put the ideas across.

"The Adventures in Wonderland of Fashion" showing to be held at the Balboa Bay Club by the Santa Ana Auxiliary of the Children's Home Society on Sept. 6 promises to be one of the big events of the social season. It is open to the public and tickets are priced at $2.50 and are on sale now.

The affair is especially notable because of the fact that the proceeds will go toward facilitating good adoptions and good adoption practices. The handful of young women who make up this branch of the Children's Home Society are busily engaged in the preparation for the splendid display sponsored by the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county.

The entry will be in the citrus feature division. Thus citrus fruits will predominate. These will be augmented by large baskets of foliage, lemon leaves and yellow pom-pom chrysanthemums. The base will be approximately 30x30 feet and will carry out a novel "mirror image" idea in which oranges will be reflected by the clever manipulation of mirrors.

Large plastic oranges will carry the name "Orange County." The recreational attractions of the county will be emphasized by an ocean scene with a sailing boat rocking merrily along. It will be a regular boat with its mast extending 15 to 20 feet and occupied by a typically clad youth and maiden enjoying the excursion.

The educational phase of the exhibit will carry data pertaining to the county's wealth of resources. A pretty girl attendant, clad in beach costume, will be on hand to dispense information and printed matter.

Karen Marie is the new arrival in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Kellogg, Jr., of San Francisco. She was born at Stanford Memorial hospital. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kellogg of 530 N. West st. and maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. S. Siegmund of Longview, Wash.

Mrs. Marian Magnuson, 10442 Chapman ave., is on a trip to San Francisco, Salt Lake City and Lake Tahoe. She is accompanied by Mrs. Claude Crosby of 11321 Chapman.

Miss Carol Jean Kirby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Evelyn S. Kirby of Fullerton and William Hesse, whose wedding will take place on Sept. 6, were guests at the VFW post and auxiliary at a party.

Mrs. Fred Hesse and Mrs. William Williamson were assisted as hostesses by Mrs. Julian Black. The group presented the couple a card table and chairs.

Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Truxaw of 887 S. Los Angeles are staying at their "Seaside" Beach residence where the doctor, who has been very ill for the last six weeks, is convalescing.

and amid the popcorn and spun sugar candy and stage shows we picked up a lot about our country that we never knew before.

It was a great fair. The directors are anxious to make it even better and have asked for constructive criticism. Here are several we would like to pass along:

1. Why don't they put more emphasis on the outstanding home show and the persons who make it possible, and a little less on the ostentatious? The birds were a novelty, yes, but obviously overrated.

2. How about a large centrally located clock so that families and friends could more easily meet as arranged?

3. We would like to see some representative souvenirs of the fair on sale. Most people were anxious to make a purchase or two but were not attracted by stuffed monkeys and silly hats.

4. Lots of families would spend the day at the fair and make a picnic out of it. If there was a place to picnic. How about a little shade and some picnic tables?

Orange County's LA County Fair Exhibit Revealed

With the avowed purpose of greeting the million or more visitors to Los Angeles County Fair in Pomona, Sept. 14 through Sept. 30, with the most artistic and attractive exhibit among the many beautiful creations in the palace of agriculture, William Gallienne, executive secretary and his assistants are busily engaged in the preparation for the splendid display sponsored by the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county.

Valencia Orange Market in Slight Decline in Week

Lighter arrivals limited sales of Southern California Valencia oranges during the week ending Aug. 25, total volume declining about 50 cars below that of the previous week but the local average continued firm at the level of the past two weeks.

Larger size valencias were higher but small sizes were showing a lower trend towards the end of the week. The over-all average price however, continued well above that of the comparable week during the past three years.

Pronate for the week ending Sept. 1 was set at 1200 cars of Southern California Valencia oranges by the Orange Administrative committee, 50 cars more than this week. Should demand so indicate, some increase in shipments, prorate 25 cars to a total of 400 may be recommended by the com. cars.

California lemon prices were fractionally lower during the week ending Aug. 25, sales declining about 50 cars below those of the previous week due to lighter arrivals. Demand for medium to small sizes exceeded supply in many markets of the country, prompting the Lemon Administrative committee to increase this week's prorate 25 cars to a total of 400 may be recommended by the com. cars.

Crackling Flames Endangering Three Lake Resort Areas

NEWHALL (AP)—Three lake resorts were menaced today by crackling flames which have blackened more than 6000 acres of brush and timber 20 miles north of here in the Angeles National Forest.

More than 500 men were on the firelines. The blaze, which started three days ago, was believed to have started from a carelessly tossed cigarette.

Firebreaks were thrown up to protect resorts at Lake Hughes, Elizabeth lake and Munz lake. Extensive backfiring at Lake Hughes was undertaken to halt the spreading flames. The 600 residents of the lake were prepared to evacuate.

The fire painfully burned three men and destroyed a helicopter, truck and cabin in the San Francisco canyon area. A U.S. forestry service lookout tower atop Grass mountain also went up in flames.

Forestry officials said the fire, fanned by winds of 20 to 30 miles an hour, was crackling out of control and is 22 miles long.

The three men were injured after they landed their helicopter near the Grass mountain lookout station. Forestry officials said heat from the flames exploded a gasoline drum on a pickup truck and ignited the helicopter.

Building and Loan Office Entered Through Skylight

Police officers Eggleston and Klotterhoff were making their rounds about 10:30 Saturday evening when they found the door to the temporary headquarters of the Anaheim Building and Loan Assn. open. They got in touch with E. T. Smith, executive of the association, who came over to check with the officers in case of stolen property.

They found that no money had been taken and that the burglar, finding he couldn't pry the rear door open, had removed the glass in the skylight. He had not removed his fingerprints, though, and they are being checked with the files now.

He was accorded the honor following a command inspection of units of the 7th Division's 17th "Buffalo" Regiment in a rest area behind the battle lines in Korea.

Rastin has completed three months of combat duty as a rifleman. Before entering the Army, he was employed by Fred Vilt's Upholstering Co.

Orange Co. Officers

Across the county, they are. They enlisted the assistance of the district attorney and sheriff, two state narcotics agents, and the police of Anaheim, Fullerton, Orange, Newport Beach, and Huntington Beach. Lt. Tommy Taylor of Anaheim represented his department in the investigation and raids.

Next arrest after that of Martinez occurred at Newport Beach, where five teen-age boys were observed taking marijuana out of a hiding place on the beach. They were arrested by a district attorney's investigator and Newport Beach police near the Rendezvous ballroom in Balboa. That was Saturday, Aug. 18.

Santa Ana police were led to Carney's home in Orange after receiving information that he, with Macias, Crawford and Gardella, had been giving themselves "shots" of a drug lack of a service station in Santa Ana. The group hid the equipment back of a bush, and Carney returned later and picked it up, police said.

When confronted by officers, he produced the equipment at his home, they said.

Gardella, Crawford and Macias made statements admitting theft of medical bags, and selling narcotics to Carney, when questioned in Santa Ana police headquarters by Officers Graeber, Lt. Taylor of Anaheim and Lt. Herb Curtis of Fullerton police department. It was stated.

Three of the youths are admitted addicts, but since being jailed, have announced that they will not take any more and will break the habit.

Sept. 22 Deadline For Fenderless Car Warns Patrol

Owners of hot rods and stripped-down cars had better begin thinking about replacing those fenders—or reasonable facsimiles thereof—the California Highway Patrol reminded them today.

Beginning Sept. 22 the patrol will enforce a newly added section to the state vehicle code requiring all vehicles be equipped with fenders, flaps, covers or similar devices. The only exceptions are vehicles weighing less than 1500 pounds and those not requiring registration.

Crash Kills Pilot Of Mail Helicopter

LYNNWOOD (AP)—A mail-carrying helicopter crashed 300 feet from its landing field here today, killing the pilot.

Lynnwood police Sgt. Ralph Dorton identified him as Carl Crew, 24, of Inglewood.

Dorton said witnesses told him the spinning rotors flew off just before the craft fell from a height of 200 feet onto Lynnwood road. One of the propellers crashed into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Page, a few feet from where they were sleeping. They were unhurt.

Dorton gave this account: The plane, due here at 6:15 a.m., was coming in from the east on the regular mail route from Los Angeles to Long Beach. Five hundred feet from its landing field the first blade flew off, landing in a park. The pilot tried desperately to keep the plane in the air, but 200 feet farther along the second prop let go. The craft plummeted down, crashed Crew in the wreckage. He was pulled out but was pronounced dead on arrival at Tweedy Industrial hospital.

Raging Winds, Rain Pound at Barstow

BARSTOW (AP)—Winds up to 100 miles an hour and rains of cloudburst proportions struck parts of California's Mojave desert over the weekend, causing considerable damage.

The death of nine-month-old John Robert Long in a three-car accident near Blythe yesterday was attributed by sheriff's deputies to the storm. The infant's mother, Mrs. Vivian Long, of Palm Springs, was seriously hurt in the crash, officers reported.

More than three and a half inches of rain fell in nine hours at Blythe and it was still raining early today. Flash floods closed highways, disrupted telephone and electric power systems.

High wind unroofed a school at Baker and ripped the roof off the Death Valley Inn and several other structures. The Barstow power plant was put out of action for several hours.

LONG BEACH (AP)—Here is a robber with an eye for profit. He walked into a liquor store here, asked for a bottle of whiskey, then forced clerk William H. Roberts, 64, to lie on the floor in the back room, Roberts told police yesterday.

The robber had just scooped 450 out of the cash register when a customer entered to pay for newspapers taken from a rack outside.

The gunman accepted the change, thanked the customer, then walked out.

134 Anaheimers Donate Blood to Mobile RC Unit

An unusually healthy aggregation of 134 Anaheimers showed up Friday at the Anaheim Shell club house to donate blood at the regular visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile.

An attending physician expressed gratification at the very low percentage of rejections—only 19 out of 134.

"You people must be very healthy here," he told Mrs. P. H. Nelson, Blood Program chairman. The actual number of donors far exceeded expectations, only 90 persons having asked for appointments before the bloodmobile arrived and donations were taken. Another unusual aspect of Friday's Bloodmobile visit, according to Mrs. Nelson, was the fact that only two persons who had obtained appointments failed to show up.

Local persons assisting Friday were: Mrs. M. A. Gauer, canteen chairman; Mrs. Afton Reinert, in charge of nurses aides; Mrs. Ben Kaubars, in charge of staff aides; Mrs. Joe Walters, chairman of the Motor Corps, and Mrs. Nelson.
