Eisenhower and MacArthur Plan Meetings in New York

Ike Scheduled to Leave Hawaii by Plane Late Saturday Night for U.S.

By DON WHITEHEAD

ABOARD CRUISER HELENA EN ROUTE TO HAWAII, Dec. 10 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur will discuss his plan to end the Korean war with President-elect Eisenhower in New York, a reliable source close to Eisenhower said today. Neither time nor place has been set for the meeting, the informant said. However, there were indications the meetings might be held next week. Presumably it will be held either at Eisenhower's residence at Morningside Heights or his headquarters in the Commodore hotel.

It will be only the first of a number of meetings between the two who commanded the Pacific and European theaters during World War II, the informant said. He said Eisenhower plans to call on MacArthur frequently for consultation on Far East affairs during the new Republican administration.

Eisenhower expects to leave Hawaii by plane Saturday night and arrive in New York Sunday night.

Meanwhile, Secretary of State designate John Foster Dulles told friends he hopes after he takes office to make a world tour that would carry him to Europe, the Middle East and the Far East.

Dulles said he planned to study world conditions as they relate to Eisenhower's program of peace, informants reported.

Dulles is interested in making the trip to get first-hand information, just as Eisenhower made his trip to Korea. But Dulles has no timetable and has said he does not know when he will be able to break away from the task of reorganizing the State Department.

Later Dulles told correspondents that the conferences aboard the Helena "will pay dividends to the American people for years to come."

"There won't be any immediate grand-scale pay-off," he said, "but it will be a craqual thing, reaching into every part of the government's operations at home and abroad.

"We have been able in this time to form the framework of the new administration policy and we all know the direction we are going and the goals we are aiming for."

Eisenhower and his advisers continued talks aboard the cruiser today.

Truman Calls on MacArthur to Disclose Plans

ABOARD TRUMAN SPECIAL, Dec. 10. (AP)—President Truman called on Gen. Douglas MacArthur today to disclose to him "at once" if he has an air-tight plan for ending the Korean war.

In effect, the president prodded MacArthur to deal directly with the White House—and now—without waiting to confer with Republican President - elect Dwight D. Eisenhower.

"If we can cut this fighting in Korea short one day we should do so," Truman said in a terse written statement.

"I think if anyone has a reasonable plan for ending the Korean fighting in an honorable way that will not lead directly into a great war, that plan should be presented at once to the president."

Less than two hours after Truman issued his statement, a reliable source reported that Eisenhower and MacArthur will meet in New York shortly after the president-elect returns to this country from his visit to the Korean war zone.

An informant aboard the cruiser Helena, which is bringing Eisenhower back across the Pacific, said the meeting will be held to discuss MacArthur's views on ending the Korean war.

Roger Tubby, acting presidential press secretary, said Truman dictated his two sentence statement after reading newspaper accounts of an exchange of cables between MacArthur in New York and Gen. Eisenhower aboard the Helena.

Truman did not mention MacArthur by name in his statement, but Tubby told newsmen there was "no question" the president was referring to MacArthur's statement that "there is a clear and definite solution" to the Korean conflict.

Inhalator Called

Anaheim Fire department's inhalator and the police department answered a call to 710 S. Philadelphia st., where Farlen Wimberley, 47, was suffering from a heart attack.

Wimberley was removed to Fullerton General hospital for treatment.

Lost Boy Returns

Following an absence of about seven hours, Robert Cunningham, 9, son of Mrs. Marion Cunningham, returned to his home in Valencia hotel. The boy was first reported missing at 4 p.m. yesterday and he returned to the hotel at about 11 p.m.

Wedding Plans Interrupted by Car Crash and Arrest on Check Charges

Wrecking of his car in Riverside county while he was in flight from Riverside police at a speed of 90 miles per hour on Dec. 5, not only landed Ralph Clifford Howard, 27, Los Angeles salesman, in the Riverside county hospital, but also canceled his wedding, planned that evening in Hollywood, and left him facing bogus check charges in cities all the way from Bakersfield southward, including Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton and Santa Ana.

Clifford, now is said to have used the alias of Gerald H. Chiles, representing himself as salesman for a soap powder firm, admitted to Santa Ana police today that he had passed about 30 checks for sums aggrerating about $2000 in various Southland cities.

Santa Ana police were given first hold on him and a warrant of arrest was served on him yesterday in the Riverside county hospital by Sgt. H. H. Ely of Santa Ana and Lieut. Curtis of the Anaheim police department. He was transfered to the Orange county hospital.

Howard, driving a car he rented in Hollywood, suffered a broken leg and knee, and a deep cut over one eye, when his car missed a curve while being chased by a Riverside police car Dec. 5. Officers identified him by papers in his possession and discovered that he was wanted.

He told Orange county officers that he had been married and had a son, but his wife left him, taking everything he had. He later fell in love with another girl and they planned to be married in a Hollywood church the evening of Dec. 5. The wedding cake had been baked and delivered, the minister engaged, and invitations to the wedding mailed, he said.

His bride-to-be, left waiting at the church, did not know of Howard's plight until notified by police.

Chiang Kai-Shek's Pendulm Swings Back Again

Spencer Moosa, veteran Associated Press correspondent, was on one of the last Nationalist plane flights out of China three years ago today when the Communists were completing their conquest of the mainland. He almost alone of foreign correspondents stuck it out to the last with Chiang Kai-shek's beaten forces in West China. Not until Chiang left China did Moosa leave. In the following dispatch, Moosa contrasts that distant day with today.

* * *

By SPENCER MOOSA

TAIPEH, Formosa, Dec. 10 (AP)—Three years ago today, President Chiang Kai-shek quit the Chinese mainland for Formosa before the onrush of the conquering Communists.

Chiang vowed to return. But to most people he was finished, once and for all, with the only prospect the Communist seizure of Formosa and, for Chiang, flight or death.

Since then, the wheel of fortune has turned. Fewer and fewer persons now deride Chiang's chances of making a comeback.

His armies on that day were beaten and scattered to the winds. Today he has possibly 600,000 men in his army on Formosa. While it is shy on equipment it is getting more and more material help from the United States.

His air force and navy, with obsolescent and inadequate equipment, had preceded him to Formosa. Both forces still need equipment, but they have the promise of more modern tools of war from the United States. And the morale of both services is high.

It was a cold, dismal day that Chiang left Chengtu, last Nationalist capital on the mainland, for the flight from that city to Formosa.

Chengtu had been the capital for 10 brief days after Chiang had withdrawn from Chungking, the previous capital.

People waiting for the fateful hour of departure knew it was at hand when they saw a soldier carry the telephone switchboard from the commandant's house at Central Military Academy, Chiang's headquarters.

A little later Chiang emerged, got into his car and left. He looked at the big bronze statue of himself on the academy grounds. What his thoughts were, he kept to himself.

A few days before he had told this correspondent: "We shall continue the fight from Formosa." It seemed hardly possible then.

On the way to Phoenix Hill Air Field outside Chengtu, Chiang saw the long lines of his soldiers passing through in their retreat southward.

Chiang stepped out of his car at the airport. He wore a long Chinese gown, a heavy, dark topcoat, and a felt hat.

He boarded his four-engined plane, the Chung Mei, for the flight to Formosa, 1100 miles away. Others in his party boarded three air force transports.

A company or so of Nationalist soldiers at the air field watched silently as the planes roared aloft. But no flags flew and no band blared.

In the four planes heading for Taipeh, more than one person must have reflected that a nation had been lost forever. Today, they are not so sure.

Rate Hike would Increase Cost To Consumers in All Categories

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10 (AP)—Telephone rate increases averaging $1.05 a month over the state were asked of the State Public Utilities commission today by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company.

To Anaheim telephone subscribers the proposed rate hike, if granted, would mean an increase of 65 cents per month for one-party residence use; 40 cents per month for two-party residence use; 30 cents per month for four-party residence use; and $1.50 per month for one-party business use.

The application was accompanied by a statement declaring "general price levels have increased 90 per cent since the 1935-39 period established by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics as normal."

"Telephone rates have lagged behind the inflationary spiral," the company said. "This has resulted in an adverse effect on our earnings. We must improve our financial condition in order to meet our state's growing needs for telephone service."

The company estimated that the increases, which would vary widely from city to city, would add $44,000,000 to its gross annual income. Of this $24,000,000 would go into federal income taxes.

The new rates would provide message unit service to all customers in the Los Angeles extended areas, the company said, and would equalize the message unit rates in the San Francisco Bay Area and Los Angeles extended areas at 4 cents per unit. The rate now is 4.4 cents in the San Francisco area and 3.3 cents in Los Angeles area.

Other areas in which the company said it planned extended service include new sections of Marin county, Merced, Santa Cruz and Sacramento.

Generally, long distance station to station rates would be increased 5 cents for all distances over 45 miles, and person-to-person calls would be upped from 5 cents to 30 cents for all distances over 35 miles.

VP-Elect Nixon To Head Rose Parade Jan. 1

Hon. Richard Nixon, vice-president-elect of the United States has accepted an invitation to serve as grand marshal and guest of honor at the 64th annual Tournament of Roses parade in Pasadena New Year's day, according to Tournament President William H. Nicholas.

Selection of Nixon for this honor was made in recognition of his distinguished record of service to his country and because he so truly represents a typical American family, Nicholas said. Mrs. Nixon and the two daughters, Patricia and Julie, will all ride in the grand marshal's car.

The Nixons will not only ride at the head of a five mile long parade of some 60 rose covered floats, but also will be honor guests at the Rose bowl game the same afternoon.

The role of grand marshal of this historic parade is the highest honor Pasadena ran accord any citizen. Such persons as ex-President Herbert Hoover, Gen. Omar Bradley, Admiral William F. Halsey, Gov. Earl Warren and Paul G. Hoffman have been thus honored in recent years. Last year seven congressional medal of honor winners were jointly honored by the tournament.

Nicholas also said that Nixon and his family will arrive in Pasadena several days in advance of the parade so that the honor guest can participate in the coronation of the tournament queen, the kick off luncheon and other traditional events leading up to the New Year's day festivities.

Air Force Transport Vanishes in Storm

RENO, Nev., Dec. 10. (AP)—An air force C-47 transport plane with six men aboard vanished late today in a snowstorm over the Utah-Nevada border, the air force announced.

An air search by more than a dozen planes was organized to be over the area at dawn weather permitting.

Col. Dimitrios Stampados, assistant commander of Stead air force base here, said the plane carried a crew of five men and one passenger all from the Stead base.

He declined to release their names.

Flying here from Peterson field, at Colorado Springs, Colo., it was last heard from by radio at 2:20 p.m. just west of the great Salt lake in Utah.

Col. Stampades said that while weather conditions in the area were bad, with high winds and and snow flurries there are 11 emergency landing fields between here and Salt Lake.

"The plane is a tough old bird and the crew is experienced. I feel that they've probably put down on some prairie and we'll find them in the morning," he said.

The C-47 left Colorado Springs at 9:37 a.m. and was due here shortly after 6 p.m. Last reported over Lucin, Utah, it carried gasoline to keep it in the air until 11 p.m.

The Fourth air rescue squadron at Hamilton field said it has called B-17 search planes and two-engined amphibians to join Stead planes in a dawn search. Civil air patrol units were also alerted.

The weather might get worse and we wouldn't be able to fly," Col. Stampados said, "but in that case we'll do on the ground."

Police Dislodge Errant Husbands In Free-for-All

Calls from two wives locked in homes with husbands whom they wanted evicted brought help from Santa Ana police who entered both residences last evening and early today to arrest the two men, one of them Edward L. Hall, 50, prominent Santa Ana rancher, who resides at the former home of the Maharajah of Indore, 2221 Heliotrope drive.

Hall was booked at the county jail on a charge of being drunk in a private home after five officers, assisted by Hall's son, Thomas Hall, 1012 McFadden st., tried vainly to get inside, where Mrs. Margaret L. Hall was calling for aid at 1:30 a.m.

Hall at one point, suddenly opened the rear door and punched Officer L. J. Danner in the chin, then quickly closed the door, according to a police report. But he neglected to lock the door after him and his son entered, followed by Danner and Officer V. V. Adams, Faulkner, L. M. Sherwood and V. L. Springer. They subdued Hall.

While they were loading him into the car he kicked Springer in the eye, police said.

Mrs. Hall assertedly told the officers that she had been baby-sitting with her grandson, and that Hall became intoxicated. She went upstairs to bed and he began yelling and screaming downstairs and outside, she reportedly stated. When her son arrived to get his son, she prepared to leave the house and accompany him home, but her husband restrained her. It was then that police were summoned.

At another address, 641 N. Birch st., Officers G. R. Zwilling and Billy Laurie were summoned at 5:20 p.m. yesterday to arrest John William Meador, 68, whose wife, Lucille, called for help and asked that he be removed from the house. Meador had locked both of them inside and refused officers admission. They finally crawled through a window opened for them by the landlord, Peter Hollo, and placed Meador under arrest.

Army Announces Slowdown on Trucks and Tanks

WASHINFTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—The army announced today it will apply the brakes to production of tanks and trucks. Some plants will have to close as a result of the slowdown.

Army spokesmen explained the immediate needs of the army are close to being met. At the same time strong production lines have been established to meet future needs.

Production of medium tanks will be cut back to a point about 45 per cent below the original goal set for the spring of 1954, the army said.

There will be a 22 per cent reduction in the output of light tanks and the manufacture of 2½ ton trucks will be slowed down.

Production rates of some other basic weapons will be reduced later, a spokesman said.

He emphasized that the slowdown will not change the army's original equipment goals. Rather, it will stretch out the delivery time of some articles.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Dec. 10.—The United States and Great Britain blocked an attempt to have the Boy of Tunis send an agent here to outline his complaints against France.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—The government relaxed restrictions on the use of metals in a wide range of construction work today and authorized the automobile industry to aim at the production of 1½ million cars in the second quarter of 1953.

Held for Theft

One Anaheim youngster was placed in the county Juvenile Hall in Santa Ana yesterday, pending a hearing on theft charges, and his companion was released after a lecture by local police officers.

The pair, accused of the theft of a bicycle belonging to Donald Rapp, 606 S. Pine st., were arrested as they rode double through Anaheim. Then it was noted that the bike's license was that of a bicycle listed as stolen.

NAM Members Urged to Snub Wage Board Bid

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—The nation's biggest business organization today completed a one-two punch at the Truman administration's wage - price controls program.

The National Association of Manufacturers, NAM, in a statement closely paralleling one yesterday by the U. S. chamber of commerce, declined to recommend new industry members for the wage stabilization board WSB, crippled by a walkout of all its business spokesmen.

Like the chamber of commerce blast, the NAM statement by its president, Charles R. Sligh, jr., said the time has come for President Truman to order all wage and price curbs terminated at once.

Light on the Road

By Rev. William McKinley Walker
Wesley Methodist Church

When Wm. T. Grenfell of Labrador fame was considering the proposed trip to the Newfoundland and Labrador coasts— the costs, the deprivation and suffering, and the loneliness—he had difficulty in making the decision. He consulted his mother as to what he should do. She replied, "I would use daily the words of the 143rd Psalm, 'Teach me to do today the thing that pleases Thee."

Grenfell went, and thousands of fishermen and their families were blessed by his medical ministrations of many years.

Do you waver in deciding how best to fit into the program for your life? Turn to Psalm 143:8 and 10, and with David and Grenfell say, "Cause me to follow the way wherein I should walk and teach me to do Thy will."

If everyone who reads these lines would do this, Anaheim would far exceed her present glory.

Sheriff Requests Draw Poker be Prohibited

Request from Sheriff James Musick that county ordinance be passed prohibiting the game of draw poker on a commercial basis in Orange county was taken under study Tuesday afternoon by the county supervisors, who greeted the proposal in varying ways.

Chairman Willis Warner commented that permitting the game of draw poker, only gambling game not banished by state law, opened the way to other forms of gambling in public places.

Supervisor C. M. Featherly, Santa Ana, was doubtful about the plan. "If the state doesn't forbid draw poker, why should the county?" he asked.

FUHS-JC Yule Play to Contrast GI Hopes with Realism of Korean War

All too-timely drama of the Korean battlefront this Christmas will be the subject of "Christmas 1952," holiday production by drama students at Fullerton Union High school and Junior college, to be presented to the public on the evening of Thursday, Dec. 18, at 8 p.m., in the auditorium. No admission will be charged.

Written and directed by George Archambeault, drama instructor at FUHS, the play will portray the idealistic hopes and aspirations, together with the brutal realism of wartime conditions, among American GI's on the Korean battle front.

Opening on the day before Christmas in a front-line hospital somewhere in the bleak Asian hills, the drama will introduce efforts of fighting men to recognize the spirit of "peace on earth, goodwill to men," under trying and heartbreaking conditions of separation from homes and loved ones.

Complementing the realism of wartime drama, the program is to include musical and dance numbers by high school and junior college students. Among numbers to be presented are White Christmas, Jingle Bells, and the Hallelujah Chorus, by dance and chorus groups. One scene, to the music of Silent Night, will dramatize the story of shepherds in the field and the three kings seeking the Christ child.

A cappella choirs will be directed by William Henderson for FUHS and Kenneth Helvey for Fullerton Junior college. High school modern dance numbers are under supervision of Mrs. Josephine Murray, and those of the Junior college students by Miss Shirley Anderson.

Among members of the cast, in the Korean scenes, will be Fred Thibault playing Corporal Lawson; Terry O'Brien as Luckman; Johnny Cizo as Chief; Jim Gaffy, diner as Yank; Don Farr, Hollywood; Dick Ogilvie, Colonel; Gail Lucas, Charlie; Mary Lou Neva, Stretcher; Jan Olson, BeBop; Gary Kuenzle, Chaplain.

Ellen Nelson will serve as stage manager, with her assistant, Sally Meeker. Lighting technicians are Ronald Gunn and Howard Stucker; scenic designers are Jackie Holum and Phil Gilkerson. Members of the high school stagecraft class are constructing scenes.

In charge of wardrobe is Jane Amondson; property manager is B. Lingle; house manager, Carl Zehnpfennig; makeup artist chairman, Birdie Wolfe. Stage crew members include Ray Beasley, Doug Coleman, Jim Engle, Glen Hammell, Barbara Lingle, Wayne McCarver, Sally Meeker, and Janis Ponnequin. Sally Meeker is in charge of program organization.

Seminar on Red Infiltration Scheduled in SA

The menace of communistic infiltration into the entertainment field will be presented to the public in a seminar scheduled by the American Legion's 21st district committee on un-American activities. The Legion's 21st district includes Orange and Riverside counties.

The seminar is being held on Sunday, Dec. 21 at the American Legion hall, 313 N. Birch st., Santa Ana. The public is invited to attend the sessions which will start at 10:30 a.m. and continue throughout the afternoon with a question and answer period following each talk.

Headline speakers on the subject of communism in the entertainment field have been billed to speak, according to Ed Murrison of Newport Beach, chairman of the district's un-American activities committee. Other members of the committee include Tom Hoag of Anaheim and Harry Moss of Riverside.

Speakers so far scheduled to appear on the program include Martin Berkeley, well known screen writer and an admitted former member of the Communist party who will speak on "How and Why the Communists Came to Hollywood;" Ward Bond, prominent Hollywood actor who will speak on the efforts of organized groups to rid the motion picture industry of communistic infiltration; and Roy Brewer, international representative of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees, whose knowledge of the Communist problem in Hollywood was a factor in establishing good union representation within the motion picture industry.

There is a good possibility that a prominent member of the congressional committee on un-American activities will also be one of the speakers, say committee members.

Reflect the Spirit of Christmas In Inner, Outer House Decor

By JOAN S. WHITE

Time now to think of ways and means of having your home say "Merry Christmas." In this town of friendly people, the first signs that Christmas is on its way are the jingle of strings of sleighbells hung at the front door, illuminated scenes of the nativity in the front yard, colored lights twinkling from the windows, and the exciting aroma of sugar and spice coming from the kitchen.

The celebration of Christmas traditionally centers around the home. We know by the appearance of Santa in the downtown stores, the stacks of Christmas trees piled high on vacant lots and the packages in the post office that it is time to get started.

Look Gay

All sorts of decorations help to make the house look gay. Red candles can be found at all the dime stores. Plain glass candlesticks may be decorated with a sprig of green, or a shiny Christmas tree ornament. Balls are pretty piled around the base of the candle sticks.

Metallic balls look bright and shiny when hung in clusters at the window or from the overhead lights or from side wall light fixtures.

Metallic paper cutouts come packaged ready to put together. Hang these at the windows.

Small lace paper doilies can be pasted or cellophane taped to the windowpanes. To give sparkle, attach a metallic foil star to the middle of each star. Do it so you see the stars in the room.

Gummed gold stars of various sizes can be stuck to a transparent gauze hung at the window. Attach the stars so that the effect is that of a shower of stars.

You will find great decorating possibilities in the liquid that is sprayed from a can to look like fine snow as it settles on a hard surface.

Door Trim

It's fun to go up and down the streets in Anaheim to see the varied decorations on the doors. All sorts of door decorations are popular. Wreaths, red baskets of Christmas greens, a styrofoam snowman, giant simulated candy canes, and stylized flat Christmas trees hung with metallic foil ornaments.

An easy door decoration to make begins with a wire clothes hanger. With strong pliers bend the top arm wownward. Bend the wire cross the bar upwards so that the hanger loosely resembles an inverted V.

Using flexible wire, which you can buy at any florist shop, attach a pine branch across the top and just belowe the hanger hook. Cover the arm the same way. Then build up your leathery arrangement of greens until the hanger is well covered. Attach Christmas tree ornaments, balls, metallic foil cutouts, brightly enameled Christmas cookie cutters or pine cones. Finish with a big bow of red weather proof ribbon.

Christmas Tree

Of course you will have a Christmas tree. But have you thought of having a smaller one in another part of the house trimmed with cookies to be given away to guests who come to wish you happy holidays?

Children are entranced by a bird's Christmas tree in the yard. Their feathered friends will gather enthusiastically for popcorn and cranberries strung on its branches and peck contentedly at pieces of suet.

As your Christmas cards come in they make effective decorations for a special tree of cards and show off the season's new creations to good advantage.

Mirror Beauty

Indoors, mirrors can be very effective. Treat the one over the fireplace or hall table with a special frame of evergreen and red berries. Use a convenient mirror as background for a creche or other special holiday arrangement as the reflection will increase its effectiveness.

Use mirrors too as the basis for table arrangements, setting candles and centerpieces upon it. Or outline a small mirror with fluffy cotton or angel hair to become a frosty lake in a snow scene.

Feast for Eyes

You will get a great deal of pleasure from decorating your home for Christmas. Not only will the trimmings satisy your soul but will be a feast for the eyes of those who walk or drive by.

Bear in mind that too much decoration spoils everything. But holiday trimming, beautifully and tastefully done, will reveal to all that your home has a heart.

Highway accident injuries in the area reached 1536 for the period, compared with 1320 a year ago. The number of rural traffic accidents involving fatalities or injuries stood at 900 on Oct. 31, while in 1951 the comparable figure was 778, according to Patrol officials.

Throughout California the toll of lives snuffed out by accidents on rural highways during the 10-month period mounted to 2066, a 4.8 per cent increase over 1951. The number of injured rose 9.2 per cent to 39,895, and the number of accidents from 23,030 to 24,650, the Patrol reported.

Fullerton Notes

Mrs. Charles Hale was hostess to the Eta Gamma Chapter of the Kappa Delta Phi Monday evening in her home at 836 Casa Blanca. Mrs. Sally Darrow, president, presided during the business meeting. Plans were made for the Christmas party on December 12. Each member is to bring a gift for exchange; in addition, toys and canned food will be donated to add to the welfare Christmas gift. The club has adopted a needy family for the holidays to whom a dinner, decorated tree, toys, canned food and other gifts will be given.

A joining of two groups of the Kappa Delta Phi from Fullerton and Anaheim will be celebrated Jan. 11 at the Cirque Banquet room. Members of the Fullerton chapter will conduct the ceremony. Mrs. Herbert Curtis has been named general chairman of the national conclave for 1953-1954. The Eta Gamma Chapter is in charge and will be hostesses at the Statler hotel, Los Angeles in June of 1953.

A national report of the sorority was read by the president, Mrs. Darrow. Members were told that Mrs. Harold Hemmer, who recently returned from the hospital, has improved and would welcome a visit or cards.

Refreshments of cake, tea and coffee were served from a table decorated in a Christmas motif.

The Beta Gamma Girls of the church presented the program under the direction of Mrs. Carlton Buck. Several traditional carols were sung. An unusual Christmas fashion show of costumes of other countries was presented. As each girl modeled, Mrs. Buck told of the Christmas customs of each country represented. The girls walked through the audience to give a "close-up" of each dress. Mrs. Esther Hatch, program chairman, was given credit for help in assembling the many costumes used.

Mrs. Hal Bender, tea chairman, was ably assisted by the business and professional women of the church in the hostessing duties. Pouring the first hour were Mrs. Clara Chapman and Mrs. Dora Riley, the second hour, Mrs. Melvin Van Ausdale, president of the Women's Fellowship, and Mrs. Barker Brown, chairman of the business and professional women. The lovely silver tea services of Mrs. Clara Chapman and Mrs. William Wickett, Sr., adorned the table.

The entire house used green and gold in the decorations. Greenery which had been sprayed with gold paint, large green candles, and gold balls graced the tea table. Cookies in the shapes of trees, mints; nuts, tea and coffee were served to the guests.

Civil Defense Unit Announces Benefit Party

Mrs. Marjorie McBratney announced that proceeds from the affair will go to defray expenses of the Christmas parcels, now being made ready for patients in the infirmary of the El Toro Marine Base.

The Stanton women are assisting Mrs. Frieda Janss, camp and hospital chairman of the Anaheim Chapter of the American Red Cross, with her Christmas gift program. The eight Red Cross chapters hospital committees of Los Angeles, Long Beach, Whittier and the five Orange county groups are presenting gifts to the various hospitals in their communities.

Jr. Ebell Welfare Section Helps Santa

Mrs. R. Kenton Wines was hostess to the welfare section of the Junior Ebell club, when they met at her home, 819 No. West st., Tuesday evening. Twenty-three members were present.

The evening was spent wrapping gifts for Christmas stockings to be given by the section, to the T.B. ward of the Orange county hospital, and in making ornaments and decorations for the tree at the ward's Christmas party for their children. Dessert and coffee were served at the close of the evening.

Members present were Miss Ruth Tolf, Mmes. Mike Grandi, George Fowler, McFarland Tolf, Dallas Dorman, Charles Pietsch, Parker Markle, Norman Tempus, Marge Pressel, Harry Madley, Robert Glaze and Harold Kogler. Also, Mrs. Arthur Pellar, Mrs. Roy Scheibel, Mrs. Neill Bellanger, Mrs. Kenneth Watkins, Mrs. Boyd Stafford, Mrs. Richard McEwen, Mrs. Bill Wilmer, Mrs. Robert Maefner, Mrs. Edwin Tyreman, Mrs. Robert Armentrout, and the hostess, Mrs. Wines.

Mrs. Armentrout and Mrs. Tyreman are chairman and co-chairman, respectively, of the section.

FJC Ski Club Finds Winter Weather Ideal

As the season for snow fun advances, one of the half dozen largest clubs and most active on the Fullerton junior college campus is the Ski club, with more than 70 members.

Weekly trips to the snow are the rule with the ski club, as well as big pre-season preparation party recently at the home of Sandra Carter, Fullerton. There the group conditioned skis and shoes and other equipment, much of which can be seen stored in the student workroom at the college.

Tumbles, near misses, and day-after weariness of muscles long unused are the weekly lot of the snow fans, but they enjoy it, says Larry Lutz, weekly Torch photographer of Anaheim, and an active member.

Officers of the club include Max Casper, Fullerton, president; Don Stevens, Fullerton, vice president, and Sandra Carter, secretary-treasurer.

Footlighter's New Play Opens Sunday Night

"The Carpenter," latest three-act play to be presented by the famed White Temple M. Y. F. Footlights, will have its sole Anaheim showing at the regular 7 o'clock Sunday evening service at White Temple Methodist church. The new play has been three months in rehearsal and received its premiere showing last Sunday night before a capacity crowd at the University Methodist church in Redlands, where it was widely acclaimed. Several critics have considered it one of the most unique and compelling dramas yet attempted by our noted troupe of youthful players from Anaheim.

The story concerns a mysterious young man who comes to a conservative New England town to ply his trade as a carpenter. He begins to touch the lives of many persons, from juvenile delinquents to labor leaders, and provokes much speculation concerning his identity. In a series of events of comedy and pathos he finally is found out, but not until a remarkable parallel is discovered between the events and personalities of this modern play and similar events that happened to personalities of like name in the New Testament.

Playing the stellar role as Jeff Masters is Don Vinding, elevated to the lead part from a minor but well done role in the Footlighters' Easter play, "The Cup of Trembling." Other familiar Footlighters featured are Mary Dougherty, Myrna Lewellyn, Roy Casey, Dorothy Harryman and Judy Belle Wicker all of whom reach new highs in this play. New faces include Kay Schmitt, Gary Gray, Bob Puckett, Joe Dougherty, and Jack Dierberger. Carolyn Lenz is stage manager. The play was directed by Rev. Frank E. Butterworth of White Temple who has made a specialty of religious dramatics for the past ten years. The performance lasts for over two hours. The public is cordially invited.

The entire group from the Santa Monica Methodist church plans to attend the local performance en masse. Subsequent performances are booked next month in Fullerton, Ventura and Calexico.

MAIL EARLY

As you rush to get your Christmas packages in the mail as early as possible, take note of wrappings instructions issued by Anaheim post office.

"Parcels including those marked "fragile" must be securely packed and wrapped or packed in a strong container to withstand handling inside of mail sacks on which several other sacks may be piled and to bear transmission without breaking or injuring the mail bags, their contents, or the persons handling them. Many articles are damaged in the mails because the mailer did not visualize the conditions to which they would be subjected in ordinary course of handling and did not use adequate packing."

PACK PROPERLY

According to Postmaster H. L. Hoskin, parcels improperly or insufficiently wrapped or packed or not properly endorsed or marked as to contents when required are not acceptable for mailing.

The use of good solid or double faced corrugated fiberboard boxes is recommended. A box of poor quality or one improperly packed often results in damage or loss to contents with subsequent loss to all concerned. These boxes must be firmly packed or they will crush under pressure, but if over-packed they may also burst under pressure.

Stout cord should be used in tieing the packages which must have the name and return address of the sender on them as well as the name and address of the addressee. This may be written directly on the box and should be on but one side of the package.

Packages must not be sealed unless the patron has a printed label posted on them authorizing inspection of contents when necessary.

COOKIE WRAP

Better use air express or air parcel post if mailing packages overseas. Most satisfactory container is a lightweight wooden box or a tin. You will want to frost some of your holiday cookies. Plain butter icing made with powdered sugar ships best. If covered with nuts or cocoanut, frosting will not mar in transit.

To pack cookies for mailing, line a sturdy box with waxed paper or kitchen foil. Pad bottom and sides with tightly crumpled waxed paper or folded paper towels wrapped in waxed paper.

Put flat or drop cookies together in pairs back to back, waxed paper between; wrap, seal ends with tape. Wrap bars or squares in big pieces. No use trying to mail fragile cookies at all.

Pack cookies flat in layers with the heaviest ones on the bottom, filling holes with popcorn or puffed cereal or crumpled waxed paper so that cookies can't jiggle.

Tape box shut, wrap and tie securely, label clearly and mail quickly.

SLEIGH BELLS RING

Anaheim stores have certainly done well in decorating in the true tradition of Christmas. The downtown area fairly glows with tinsel, colored lights, effectively decorated trees and clever adaptations of the Christmas theme, especially effective during the after-dark hours.

There is nearly always a cluster of admirers around the window display at Mary Millerick shop at 220 East Center st. There in all its glory in an ancient sleigh, a typical American cutter whose solid brass sleigh bells really ring in merry vibrant tones.

The cutter was unearthed near Pasadena and the 50-year-old bells were brought from Ohio by Louis Heffner. The sleigh has been reupholstered as if ready for real use and given bright red and gold trim.

Filled with beautifully wrapped packages, the fashionable cutter fashionable in the gay ninetics, that is—stands on a cloth of simulated snow flicked with glitter with a lovely design of snow white branches and Christmas lights as its background.

Children as well as adults are delighted by this Christmas scene of another era.

Three Go East For Holidays

An old-fashioned, white Christmas is eagerly looked forward to by three Anaheim residents who leave for Milwaukee, Wis. tomorrow.

Marie Wilke, Anaheim's gracious official hostess, her sister Bessie Giese, who is a popular member of the staff at Earle Jackson's drug store, and their mother, Mrs. E. Dalecky, will spend Christmas with relatives in the eastern city.

They are going by train and expect to be gone about three weeks.

Thomas Jefferson P-TA Board Meets

Mrs. Fred Krastel presided at the recent Thomas Jefferson P-TA board meeting, when plans were made to purchase a large, fire-proofed Christmas tree, for the program which will be given Wednesday, Dec. 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafetorium.

The tree, with decorations donated by the Thomas Jefferson pupils, will later be presented to the children's T.B. ward in Orange county hospital. This is an annual custom of the association, and is greatly appreciated by the hospitalized children.

Mother's of the fourth and fifth grades will serve as hostesses for the Christmas program. The resignation of Mrs. Don Smith, secretary, was regretfully accepted, and Mrs. Floyd Boyer was chosen to take the vacated office.

Mrs. Ernest Daniels, Mrs. John Macias, Mrs. Nick Alvarez, and Mrs. Gilbert Aguilar were in charge of the dental survey which was held at the school yesterday.

Hostesses for the board meeting were Mrs. George Brockman, Mrs. Robert Rees and Mrs. Doye Ford.

Personal

Mrs. Irene Cheslick was hostess at her home on W. North st. when she gave a dinner party honoring Miss Ottie Meador of Fullerton on her birthday. The guests were a group of friends who have observed birthdays of group for many years.

FJC Co-Eds Make Gift To Navajo Boy

A small Navajo Indian boy whose father is dead and whose mother is seriously ill, both from tuberculosis, will be given a happier Christmas through efforts of the Associated Women Students of Fullerton junior college and the generosity of the student body.

After having "adopted" the 12-year-old Harry Upshaw, jr., of Intermountain Indian school, Brigham City, Utah, the AWS conducted a drive for him. Result of the drive conducted Dec. 1-5, was $83.30 collected, said Jo Kemp, El Monte, AWS president.

"The money will be used to pay for the necessities which the Save the Children Federation supplies Harry," said Jo, "and to send him an extra nice Christmas gift."

Harry is one of five children, explained Edith Myers, Norwalk, AWS publicity chairman. While Harry attends the Intermountain school, his brothers and sisters are living at the Good Shepherd mission home, also in Utah. Originally, the children were from Arizona. Their mother, suffering from tuberculosis, is awaiting a bed at the Fort Defiance, Ariz., sanitarium.

The small Navajo boy has promised to write to the AWS members at FJC and it has been arranged to print his letters in the junior college newspaper, said Edith.

FJC Ags Chapter Names Delegates

Five members of the Fullerton junior college chapter of Alpha Gamma Sigma, honorary scholastic group, will be among delegates to the annual state conference of AGS at Orange Coast college Dec. 12, announced Miss Lenn E. Reynolds, adviser, today.

Fullerton delegates will include Clara Malher, Anaheim, James Palmer, Fullerton, Joanne Kemp, El Monte, Bob Eberhard, Anaheim, and Setsuko Shishido, Fullerton, said Miss Reynolds, who will accompany them. Dr. A. M. Williams, Fullerton chemistry instructor, will also go.

An all-day affair, the conference will include workshops, a luncheon, and talks by student officers. Last year, it was held at Harbor junior college, Los Angeles.

The Fullerton AGS chapter's recent activities also include a December 1 visit to the children's wards of Fullerton and Anaheim hospitals. Members visited with the children and took comic books and magazines to them.

Included in the club's seasonal plans, said Miss Reynolds, is a Christmas party for a group of under-privileged children. The date has not yet been set. In the near future the group also plans to spend a day at Riverside's Mission inn, touring the well known resort and eating dinner there.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 10. (AP)—UCLA center Mike Hibler sprained his left ankle in basketball practice Tuesday night, it was disclosed today when he was unable to work out with the team.

TACOMA, Wash., Dec. 10. (AP)—The army disclosed today that Pvt. Don Heinrich has been sent for his tour of duty to the Presidio of San Francisco, which is handy to the site of the annual East-West Shrine game Dec. 27. The army did not say whether Heinrich would be given a pass to play in the game.

LINEMAN OF THE YEAR — Donn Moomaw, UCLA's All America linebacker namel Lineman of the Year in an Associated Press poll, works at his waiter's job in a sorority house on the Los Angeles campus. The six-foot four-inch senior also is a frequent speaker at student religious meetings. At left is Lynn Vale.

Two Top PCC Cage Teams, Bruins and Huskies, Meet in Westwood on Friday

LOS ANGELES — One of the country's top-ranking basketball teams — Washington's Huskies—invades the UCLA men's gymnasium this weekend (Dec. 12-13) to battle John Wooden's fast-breaking Bruins in a replay of the Pacific Coast Conference championship series of the last two years.

The hot series opens UCLA's home schedule. The tipoffs are at 8:30 p.m. each night preceded by preliminaries at 6:30 with Doug Sale's Bruin freshmen meeting Pasadena City College Friday and Mc San Antonio College Saturday.

Both Tippy Dye's Huskies and the Bruins won their openers last week in convincing fashion. Washington walloped Utah twice, 82-54 and 77-56. UCLA knocked over Oregon State, 73-63 and 58-43, at Corvallis.

The Huskies really made a big impression on Vadal Peterson, veteran Utah coach. "Washington is the best basketball club I've ever seen in an opening series," Peterson said.

With All-American candidate Bob Houbregs in their lineup, the Huskies deserve to be favored this weekend. However, the Bruins upset Washington in the PCC playoffs at Westwood last March and will be battling to turn the trick again.

Houbregs, the six-foot-seven center with the fabulous hook-shot, showed he is again hitting the basket with unerring regularity by scoring 28 and 19 points in the two Utah games.

Wooden plans to assign his own six-foot-seven cager, Mike Hibler, to the job of trying to stop Mr. Hooks. Hibler did a fine job on Houbregs in the PCC playoffs last year, holding him to only 14 points in the third and deciding game.

Rounding out the powerful, experienced Husky starting five are Doug McClary (6-8) and captain Mike McCutcheon (6-1) at forwards along with Joe Cipriano (5-11) and Charlie Koon (5-11) at guards. Both McCutcheon and Cipriano gave the Bruins fits last season with their shooting and floor games.

The Bruins will counter with their own all-veteran quintet of Dick Ridgway (6-4) and Don Bane (6-2) at forwards, John Moore (6-5) at center and Ron Livingston (5-10) and Don Bragg (6-4) at guards.

Ridgway made an auspicious return to the Bruin lineup last week following a year on the sidelines because of academic troubles. This 1951 All-Coast cager paced the team in scoring with a 28-point weekend, 71 the first night and 11 the second, and also did a creditable job on defense.

Only four points separate the next five Brüin scorers, with Moore (9-10) and Hibler (9-10) tied with a two-game total of 19, followed by Livingstone (14-4) with 18, forward Ron Bane (10-7) with 17 and Bragg (9-6) with 15.

Wooden thought his Bruins played typical opening games against Oregon State, with Friday's performance being the best of the two. Moore played a terrific game, both shooting and on the boards, in the first half of Saturday's contest to keep the Bruins in the ball game. Ridgway and Hibler found the range in the second half to help UCLA pull away from the Beavers.

Going into this weekend's games, Washington holds an all-time record of six wins out of eight basketball starts against UCLA. The Bruin victories came last year in the PCC playoff series.

SAN BRUNO, Dec. 10. (AP)—Square Off charged into the lead on the last turn and won the feature race at Tanforan today by five lengths.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP) — Washington's Don Heinrich, the T-quarterback who played his last college football game five days after being inducted into the army, won the major college passing title for 1952.

ROSE QUEEN — Leah Feland (above), 17-year-old student at John Muir College, Pasadena, has been named Queen of the 1953 Tournament of Roses. The brown-eyed miss will reign over the colorful rose parade on New Year's Day and then be a guest of honor at the Rose Bowl game between USC and Wisconsin. She was selected from 2500 Pasadena coeds.

Tribe President Intends to Keep Job, Has Backing

CLEVELAND, Dec. 10 (AP) — President Ellis Ryan of the Cleveland Indians said today he intends to keep his job and has the backing of more than 50 per cent of the baseball club's stock.

The slim, nervous front office boss of the Tribe said he expects to win his fight to "restore unity to the ball club."

If he wins, as he predicts he will, Ryan said he will keep Hank Greenberg as general manager for the remaining two years of Greenberg's three-year contract.

When the front office rift first hit the headlines a week ago, it was reported that differences between Ryan and Greenberg had reached a point where one of the other would have to go.

Ryan abruptly left the major league meeting at Phoenix, Ariz., last Thursdty to return to Cleveland, and the action was interpreted as an indication he had decided to sell his 600 shares of Tribe stock and quit the job he took over from Bill Veeck three years ago.

Duke Snider is Due for Raise

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 10 (AP)—Brooklyn outfielder Duke Snider and Buzzy Bavasi, vice-president of the Dodgers, huddled today on Snider's 1953 contract. Already one of the higher-paid members of the Flatbush family, Snider figures to get a raise on the basis of his season's work and his World Series performance.

Bavasi, who signed Manager Chuck Dressen for another year at Phoenix last week, also conferred here with five other Southern California residents who are Dodgers—Ben Wade, Dick Williams, Rocky Bridges, Vic Marasco and Ronnie Lee. The latter two belong to Montreal, a Brooklyn farm club, but will train with Dressen's club next spring.

Bavasi said he is still hopeful the Dodgers can get a southpaw pitcher.

Fred Haney to Confer with Branch Rickey

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 10 (AP) — Fred Haney, manager of the Pacific Coast League Hollywood Stars, will huddle with Branch Rickey tomorrow amid confident speculation that the Westerner will be named manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

But Rickey, known as the man who promotes one idea with a thousands words, says he doesn't know whether he will name a manager or not.

Said Rickey:

"There are several things depending on the decision. The main one being if he wants to become the Pirates manager."

Rickey denied that Haney's insistence on signing a three-year contract has delayed the signing, adding:

PCC Relaxes Control of Athletic Recruiting at Winter Conference

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 10. (AP)—The Pacific coast conference relaxed its strict control of athlete recruiting today and voted to permit alumni to bring prospective athletes to and from a campus.

A subject of agitation for the last six or seven years, the new transportation policy brings the PCC into a pattern of recruiting that is prevalent in other conferences of the nation.

Conference spokesman H. P. Everest of the University of Washington, emerging from the closed session of the faculty representatives, said that violations of the old rule had been a "common occurrence."

"The alumni can bring a prospective athlete to a campus for a one day and night visit. The conference specified that there should not be any form of lavish entertainment such as a banquet style dinner, and that the cost of the night's lodging and visit can be paid either by the alumni or the school involved.

The conference cannot control, Everest admited, anything that goes on in the trip to or from the campus. He said, however, that efforts will be made to keep such details on a moderate basis.

This is the second step the conference has taken in relaxing alumni recruiting activities. In 1945 a rule was abandoned which denied alumni permission to even talk to prospective athletes. As far back as this the conference conceded that alumni activity was difficult to control. The penalty in this instance, as well as the transportation rule, resulted in punishment to the prospective student, who was declared ineligible when the case was detected.

Everest said the debate today lasted an hour and a half and that the majority of the faculty representatives expressed the opinion that the change would reflect a "typical and normal interest by an alumnus in a boy's attending his alma mater."

In another decision the PCC fathers empowered Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt to settle any conflict where a discrepancy occurs in the transcript of credits which show up at two or more schools.

Defense Big Item in 1952 Grid Play, AP Poll Shows

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP) Well conceived defensive play, carried out with fighting fury, and of frequent fumbles by the offense were the most notable developments of the 1952 college football season. They're two things that usually go together in football.

The nation's sports writers and broadcasters, replying to the Associated Press post - season questionnaire, singled out the improvement in defensive play and the recognition of its importance as the most significant trend of the season. The frequent cases of "fumbitis" came second in the list of trends.

In many replies these two items were bracketed together as the observers pointed out that the strenuous efforts of the defensive players, plus high tackling in the effort to shake the runner loose from the ball, were among the principal causes of fumbling.

Another contributing factor noted was a swing to the split-T formation, in which the quarterback carries the ball loosely, ready to flip it to another runner. And this, too, was listed as one of the season's more important trends.

No less than a dozen coaches in various sections particularly noted a swing toward the split-T. Others observed that the straight T was declining in popularity; that teams were using more varied offenses with several standard formations or that the single wing was gaining in popularity.

The spread formation, one of last year's popular developments, came in for more attention, but opinion was divided, apparently along sectional lines. A half dozen noted that the spread was losing favor, that defenses were catching up with it, etc. An equal number listed the increased use of spreads as an outstanding trend.

Similarly, as many noted a swing away from "platoon" football and toward all round players as saw increased use of platoons and specialists.

Out of 125 replies to this section of the AP questionnaire, 23 mentioned defenses in one way or another. Many pointed out that the leading teams in the nation-al rankings, such as Michigan State, Georgia Tech and Oklahoma and other good ones like Tennessee and Navy had powerful defensive units and that the games between strong teams usually ended with low scores.

"In almost every conference the team with the best defensive record has been the leader record-wise," one writer pointed out. Another commented that "the need for fumbles, interceptions and penalties by opponents to score touchdowns indicated better defenses."

Team Works Out

MADISON, Wis., Dec. 10. (AP)—Wisconsin's football team today hustled through the second of five workouts scheduled before the squad leaves Madison Dec 17 for Pasadena, site of the Jan. 1 Rose bowl clash with Southern California.

Team spirit remained high and so did the odor of the livestock which usually occupy the building now being used for indoor grid practice.

The doors were left open today to air out the premises and to lower the temperature. Yesterday the mercury reached 77 in the livestock pavilion.

Charles Berndt, first string offensive tackle, reinjured his shoulder while blocking a dummy. The injury is not believed serious and is expected to work out in a day or two. The rest of the Badgers are in top condition.

Frankie Albert Added to List Of Retiring Pros

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10. (AP) —Frankie Albert, star quarterback for the San Francisco 49'ers and pre-war Stanford Indians will retire from football Sunday, the 49'ers announced today.

Sunday's game against the Green Bay Packers in Kezar stadium will be Albert's last for the San Francisco team, the club said.

Albert announced he would retire to work fulltime as a business executive. He is employed by an auto agency in Burlingame, Calif.

In seven season's with the 49'ers, Albert completed 815 of 1,538 passes for a total gain of 10,582 yards. That's just short of six miles.

"He ran the club on the field, and he was the greatest field general we ever had," a spokesman for the 49'ers said.

Albert went to work for the Stanford Indians as a sophomore in 1939. The next year he sparked the team's new T-formation through an unbeaten season and led it to victory over Nebraska in the Rose bowl.

His retirement will leave Bruno Eanducci, guard, the only player who has been with the 49'ers since founding of the team in 1946. Another charter member, halfback John Strzykalski, also has announced his retirement.

Albert was a two-mile all-American, in 1940 and 1941. He spent four years in the navy before joining the 49'ers in 1946.

He was a quarterback in all his 10 seasons of college and professional football.

FUHS to Host Tennis Players January 2 and 3

High school tennis players throughout Southern California were invited last week to enter the 26th annual midwinter tennis tournament at Fullerton Union high school, to be held next year on Jan. 2 and 3, under guidance of Harry L. Burnham.

Dating back to 1923, the annual tournament has drawn such boy undergraduates as Ellsworth Vines of Pasadena, Gene Mako of Glendale, Bobbie Riggs of Los Angeles, and Jack Kraemer of Montebello. Last year's winner was Fedro Yanes of El Monte.

Famous girl entrants include Midge Gladman of Santa Monica, Helen Marlowe of Los Angeles, and Dorothy Bundy of Santa Monica. Last year's under-graduate girl winner was Linda Mitchell of Hoover, winner also in 1949 and 1950.

Fullerton's midwinter matches are approved by California Interscholastic Federation, Southern section, and National Lawn Tennis association. Each school is limited to two entrants for boys' singles and two for girls' singles with students beyond twelfth grade not eligible.

Annual prizes include the Charlotte Morris Girls' trophy and Fullerton Chamber of Commerce Boys' trophy to winners of singles. A Junior Chamber of Commerce trophy is awarded to the school winning the greatest number of points, with Santa Monica the winner for the past four years.

Individual trophies go to winners and runners-up in boys' and girls' singles, it was announced by Burnham.

Biggie Munn Gets Nod as Nation's Top Grid Coach

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP) — Michigan State today had the football coach of the year in Clarence Biggie Munn as well as the nation's No. 1 college football team.

Munn was named first on the ballot of 139 of the coaches to win by 40 votes over Bobby Dodd, coach of Georgia Tech's second ranking 11. The unbeaten and untied Engineers play Mississippi in the Sugar bowl.

Jess Hill of Southern California's Rose bowl-bound Trojans, was third with 55 votes, followed by Jordan Olivar, Yale, 45; Frank Leahy, Notre Dame, 26; Ivy Williamson, Alabama, 14; Henry Sanders, UCLA, 11; Wes Fesler, Minnesota, 10, and L. HARD AGROUND—High winds and rough seas off the Washington coast are hampering rescue ships trying to free the freighter Yorkmar (above), hard aground near the Grays Harbor jetty (in background). Capt. Oscar Kullbom, Portland, Ore., said none of 37 crewmen were hurt and ship not in danger of breaking up.

Water District to Seek Larger MWD Feeder Line into the County

Inadequacy of the planned Metropolitan Water District feeder line into Orange county, via Santa Ana canyon, to supply all the water that will be needed in the local basin, brought suggestion at yesterday's meeting of the Orange County Water District directors that a move be made to obtain a larger line.

Director C. Roy Browning of Tustin reported a conversation with MWD engineers in which Browning urged that the proposed capacity of 220 second feet flow be increased to 400 second feet. Browning said the MWD engineers refused to consider the increase, because of added cost, and told Browning that if the Orange County Water District wanted to continue buying more surplus water from MWD than the proposed line would carry, it would have to receive the water at the Arlington aqueduct as at present.

Because the present method, involving a flow of 20 miles down the Santa Ana river to the Orange county spreading grounds, results in loss by evaporation, and disputing with the Anaheim Union Water Co. over the taking of such water into its canals without entering an agreement for compensating the water district, Browning said he believed the matter of a larger feeder line should be taken up directly with the MWD board of directors, through the five members from Orange county.

The MWD feeder line as proposed would terminate near the Santiago dam, with a lateral branching across the river to provide delivery points for the Anaheim Union Water Co. and Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Co., also the Orange County Water District.

Because the water district envisions possible purchase of as much as 90,000 acre-feet of water a year from MWD, its officials feel that a larger feeder line would be needed.

Failure of the Anaheim Union Water Co. to sign an agreement with the water district containing a formula for equitable compensation of the water district for MWD water taken into the Anaheim company's canals along with the natural surface flow, was discussed at yesterday's meeting. The Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Co. has signed such an agreement but the other company refuses, it was stated. The Anaheim Union, directors said, claims that it is entitled to half the surface flow of the river, regardless of whether it is natural flow or Colorado river water purchased from MWD.

OCWD to Meet with Water Basin Committee on Replenishment Costs

Meeting with the Orange county water basin committee to discuss proposed contents of the amended water district bill in connection with spreading cost of basin replenishment, will be requested by the water district directors, they decided yesterday, when they heard a report of suggested provisions regarding district representation and taxing powers.

Attorney Rodger Howell, counsel for the water district, who has been working with the conservation committee, outlined to the directors principal provisions, including the proposal that directors in the seven existing divisions of the water district be elected by popular vote instead of the present vote based on accessed property valuation, while the three new districts created by annexation of Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton, each have a director appointed by their respective city councils.

Water district directors frowned on the popular vote suggestion. Director E. T. Watson pointed out that the method would immediately give the cities complete control of the district. Other directors agreed with him.

Engineer Paul Bailey said that experience in other districts throughout the state shows that election of directors on the basis of assessed property valuation had proved more successful, and has shown that in such cases the taxing of property is in harmony with the benefits received.

Attorney A. W. Rutan recommended a study of the draft of the bill to amend the water district act be made and then a meeting requested with the conservation committee to discuss its provisions.

Meanwhile, steps were ordered taken to have the title of the bill introduced as early as possible in the legislature, to secure a place on the legislative calendar, with final details of the bill to be submitted later.

Game NY Officer Shoots Down Thug In Gun Battle

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—A killer with a lust for gunplay was shot down by a game cop early today in a wildly blazing gun battle in the Times Square area. Six other persons, including three policemen were hit.

At least eight policemen had a hand in the running pre-dawn gunfight that surged along three blocks on Eighth ave.—a wild west affray in the heart of sophisticated Manhattan.

The gunman, Clarence O. Sims, 37-year-old Negro holdup man from Cleveland, all but got away as whining bullets sent frightened early morning passersby scrambling for cover.

However, patrolman Cornelius O'Shea, 24, intercepted Sims. The cop charged the gunman, traded him shot for shot and finally sent him spinning to the pavement with bullets in his head and hand.

Other policemen then closed in. Sims' skull was fractured, his jaw smashed.

Before the gunman was taken to a hospital, near death, O'Shea sheathed his gun, then knelt cooly beside his fallen foe, told him he was dying and got Sims to admit a long list of unsolved stickups.

Later, police said Sims told them from a guarded hospital bed that he shot and killed a man Nov. 1 in a Harlem brawl.

King Gustav of Sweden Gives Out 1952 Nobel Prizes

By GUSTAV SVENSSON

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Dec. 10. (AP)—King Gustaf Adolf distributed the 1952 Nobel prizes tonight. Three scientists from the United States, two Britons and a French novelist received the coveted awards and a royal handshake in Stockholm's greek-columned concert hall.

Gold medals, diplomas and checks totaling more than 664,000 Swedish kroner about $132,000 were shared in this 49th festival of the Nobel foundation by the winners in four fields.

Medicine—Dr. Selman A. Waksman, 64, Russian born American scientist of Rutgers university, New Brunswick, N. J., named for his work in discovery of streptomycin as a wonder drug weapon against tuberculosis.

Physics—Dr. Felix Bloc, 47, a Swiss born professor of Stanford university, and Dr. Edward Mills Purcell, 40 of Harvard university, named jointly for their independent development of a new method of measuring magnetic fields in atomic nucell.

Chemistry—Dr. Archer Martin, 45, of the National Institute for Medical Research, London, and Dr. Richard Synge, 38, of the Rowett Research institute, Aberdeen, Scotland, named jointly for their discovery of partition chromatography, a new method for separating compounds.

'Yorkmar' Crew Remains Aboard Grounded Vessel

ABERDEEN, Wash., Dec. 10 (AP)—Thirty seven men remained aboard the grounded and surf-battered freighter Yorkmar for the third successive night tonight with another helicopter-aided salvage effort set for daybreak tomorrow.

A Coast Guard helicopter will then attempt to fly a light "messenger line" from the tug Salvage Chief, in deep water, across the 7207-ton liberty ship's decks, so a tow line may be put in place. The weather thwarted such an effort today.

Wallowing in the frothy seas close in shore, the Yorkmar was being pushed around and had not settled deep into the sand, the Coast Guard reported. The vessel, under Capt. Oscar Kullbom, Portland, Ore., grounded 24 miles west of here Monday inbound to Grays Harbor from San Francisco.

STILL WORKING—Dr. Henry Augustus Pilsbry (above), 90, an expert on snails, clams, oysters and other mollusks at the Philadelphia Academy of Natural Sciences, claims he "still has 10 to 15 years work in front of him now." He joined the Academy staff in 1887. After occupation of Japan Emperor Hirohito, rated a "good mollusk man" by world scientists, sent Pilsbry a copy of his book on Maine shells.

Local Old-Timer Likes New Gazette, Recalls Items from Anaheim's Past

The Gazette was favored yesterday by the following letter from Ed. R. Heinze, who lives at 1209 Lincoln ave. It is reprinted here because of the warm glow it gave Ye Editor and because of the past history of Anaheim it contains.

Gentlemen:

Just a few words of praise for your brand new paper. Have been taking it ever since you came to press this last time, and must say, it is getting better all the time. I am not one to praise where praise is not due, but your paper and staff deserve praise for this outstanding fete in trying to build a better paper in these very uncertain times. I congratulate you all.

I notice where you miss the column of the good old days (Days of Long Ago, by Mrs. Henry Kuchel) every once in a while. This is one column I REALLY like reading. I am a native of Anaheim, having been born and raised here on E. Sycamore and Gables pls. I wish you would print more of the 75-year stuff, as I am always trying to remember the people I knew in the long ago.

For instance, "J. J. Dwyer used to be my Dad's boss way back when he was mayor of our fair city. We lived on his ranch in a two-story house where the Mother Colony house now stands. The red barn still is there. We played there when we were children.

There were no streets around there then, and just past Five Points was the desert or range land. Nothing but cactus then.

They used to have a cheese every year on the lot where Jackson's Drug store is now. They used to cross a bridge over the Santa Ana river where La Palma park now stands to go to Fullerton. They had a "slew of saloons" in each block here in town too. We used to swipe the bottles in the dump and bring them in the front to sell.

Have John S. Neubauer put some old time stuff in his column. Us old-timers have forgotten where Gospel Swamp and a lot of other places with changed names were. Give us some news on OLD ANAHEIM. If I may suggest, your Sunday paper would be just the issue to read it in. Have a small magazine-type paper like the LA paper puts out on Sundays—just for old Anaheim.

Wishing you very much success in your new venture, I remain

E. R. Heinze.

SANTA MONICA, Dec. 9 (UP)—Red Skelton underwent X-ray examination today in the hospital where he is being treated for an upside-down stomach.

Results were not announced and doctors have not decided whether to operate. Red's nurse said the comedian's condition was good.

Orange Countians Return from Farm Bureau Conclave

Six Orange county residents will return this weekend from Seattle where they attended the annual convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation which closed Thursday.

The Orange county members left from Berkeley last Wednesday morning for Seattle on the Shasta Daylight with 461 California Farm Bureau members making up the major portion of the California delegation. Approximately 100 other Californians made the trip by plane, train or auto.

Prior to the opening of the convention in Seattle Sunday, Dec. 7, the California group took a side trip to Victoria, B.C., where they spent two nights and a day sight-seeing on Vancouver Island, and made an overnight stop in Portland.

No Persons Hurt In Collision of Ships Near SD

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Dec. 10 (AP)—The freighter Seafort and the U. S. escort carrier Sitkoh Bay limped into port here today after colliding at sea 35 miles southwest of San Diego last night.

No casualties were reported on either ship, but both vessels suffered damage.

C. I. Petrin of Baltimore, seaman on the freighter, said "only a miracle prevented loss of life" as all of the crew except those on duty were in the mess hall on the port side at the time of the collision.

Merle Dicicco of Ohingten, Mass., said the sound of the carrier crashing against the freighter's starboard bow "was a big explosion." He said he ducked behind a bulkhead to escape a shower of steel splinters.

Capt. Dragutin Domac, skipper of the Seafort, and the first mate were on the bridge when the edge of the Sitkoh Bay's flight deck smashed 30 feet of the Seafort's bridge and caved in bulwarks on the starboard side for 350 feet.

There are hundreds of varieties of pineapples, in many shapes, sizes and colorings but the original fruit from which they were all developed was Brazilian.

Crippled Boy Walks Again, Thanks To Santa Claus and Casa Colina

Last year little Ronnie Gill, a patient at Casa Colina, asked Santa for a pair of braces to help him walk again. Ronnie hadn't walked since his spinal cord was severed in an automobile accident. The lad got the braces and now he wants all his friends to know how well he can use them.

Ronnie is at home now—"he's walking everywhere," says his mother. "We can't keep him down"—but there are many other children at Casa Colina, rehabilitation home for crippled children, who are asking Santa for something they had no thought of last year—just to help them walk again. In some cases, this means crutches and expensive braces; in others, just highly trained people who know how to retrain muscles and instill confidence until a frightened and apprehensive youngster can once more get around under his own power. The address is just Casa Colina, Chino.

IN THE DAYS OF LONG AGO

From the Files of Anaheim Gazette

By MRS. HENRY KUCHEL

25 Years Ago

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jayne and son Robert leave tomorrow for Mecca where they will reside for some months. Robert is enrolled as a student in the Mecca high school.

Mrs. W. J. Cole and little daughter have returned from a week's sojourn at Coronado and San Diego.

F. A. Korn and Miss Masie Hortsman returned on Saturday from a four months' tour of Europe.

50 Years Ago

Ramon Aguilar dropped into town and out again on last Thursday, so suddenly that his friends hadn't time to hear that he was in town until he was gone again. Ramon is station agent for the octopus at Fernando, and has three new men under him. He is rising steadily in the service, and some of these days we expect to hear of him riding in a private car with Harriman.

75 Years Ago

There was a man in town from Los Angeles on Friday who possesses the faculty of playing on nine different musical instruments at one time. We understand he has been engaged to assist some of the candidates.

Dr. Head of Garden Grove was in town yesterday. The future prospects of the doctor are very bright.

The Los Angeles Star is unusually interesting just now. Its political gossip is well and racily written.

Latest Dam in River Barrier Chain Dedicated

DAVIS DAM, Ariz., Dec. 10. (AP)—Davis dam—the latest in the chain of river barriers harnessing the mighty Colorado—was dedicated today.

The governors of three states, Mexican officials and a crowd of swimmers and sightseers were on hand to hear Reclamation Commissioner Michael Straus hail completion of the $119,000,000 structure.

"Today, as we dedicate this dam we may well also dedicate ourselves to a united determination that no legitimate attainable need for water or electric energy anywhere in the basin shall go unsatisfied," he said.

Standing where he could look out over the 67 mile lake backed up by the rock and earth fill structure, Straus pointed out that the task of building dams on the Colorado is only partially done.

"The job is not yet finished—neither the physical construction job nor the job of building the institutions on which our structures rest," he said. "Not until each drop of water in the entire Colorado river system is put to its best possible use will our job be finished."

Gov. Howard Pyle of Arizona spoke briefly and said he looked forward to more projects that would stop the wasteful flow of water into the ocean.

Govs. Charles H. Russell of Nevada and John W. Bonner, Montana, were also present. Gov. Earl Warren of California toured the dam in the morning but had to leave before the dedication.

PROBE ICY WATERS — Diver Edward Doherty, going down ladder, one of four Navy divers from the Great Lakes Naval training station, are probing the icy waters of the Colorado river near Glenwood Springs in an effort to locate the bodies of three women presumed lost when an automobile plunged into the stream. Only the driver survived.

Orange County Cities Overcome Serious Barriers to Expansion

By GEORGE HART

Costa Mesa is at the moment understandingly concerned by the imminent threat of Newport Beach's new public dump, not merely at its doorstep but actually in the living room.

However, no matter what outcome of the unpleasant situation may develop, or whatever transient setback in community development might result from having a malodorous fog in eyes and nostrils and an offensive trash pile meeting the startled eyes of prospective new residents, time will eventually cure it all.

It should be inserted here with haste that this is not an argument in favor of living on a public dump. It is merely a reminder that "this, too, will pass." Costa Mesa's growth will never be seriously cramped even by this wallop from Newport Beach.

There is no need to look for an example. Look, for instance, at Santa Ana. The county seat, now leaving the 50,000 population mark behind, and with the prospect of doubling its population within the next five years by reason of just one industry planning to locate there, is scarcely in need of sympathy with reference to growth.

Yet Santa Ana has had its barriers to climb over. Away back when Santa Ana was about the present age of Costa Mesa—but lacking Costa Mesa's lusty vigor of youth—Santa Ana had some pretty serious handicaps to expansion.

There's no vestige of it now, but once there was a cemetery within a few blocks of the Santa Ana business district. You have to go back to the early maps, before Orange county was born, to find it. But is was there, extending from about Eighth and Flower sts. It lay against the west side of the new county civic center that is taking shape. Indians and Mexicans of an early era were its occupants.

And just west of Flower st. the present Santa Ana municipal bowl covers the site of a smelly old brickyard, and, yes—a public dump. These were more recent barriers, brushed aside by the inexorable march of progress 30 years ago, just as the old cemetery was obliterated two or three generations earlier.

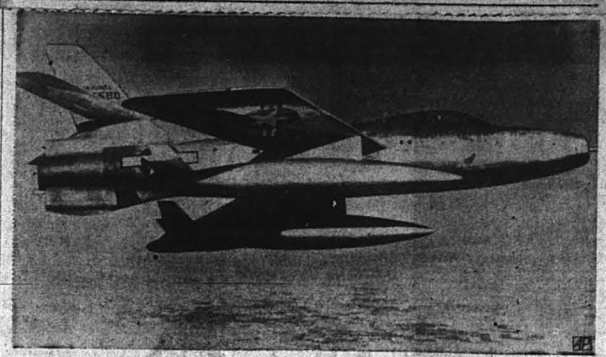

Costa Mesa is facing contact with a public dump. But did Costa Mesa ever run into an epidemic of leprosy? Hardly. But Santa Ana did. Santa Ana had to set match to a whole section of the small town it was then.

A two blocks strip of Bush st., between First and Third sts., at the edge of the business district, was a small Chinatown in that early period. The leprosy broke out there.

The panic can be imagined. But the little city grimly met the crisis, applied drastic measures, and, after burning down that part of town, which was in itself an improvement, went on to bigger things.

No more can Costa Mesa be stopped, public dump or no public dump.

There would be one consolation in any event. The smoke would hide the sight of the thing.

RECORD SMASHING FIGHTER IN FLIGHT—This is the Republic XF-91 interceptor which made the first supersonic, rocket-powered flight ever flown by a U.S. combat-type experimental fighter in tests at the Air Force Center, Muroc Lake, Calif. The XF-91 uses two engines, one a 2500-pound thrust rocket turbojet used to approach the sound barrier. The other is a 6000-pound rocket engine to ram the plane past the barrier. Torpedo-like objects under wings are spare fuel tanks with fins. Although performance figures are restricted, a supersonic flight is one in excess of 750 miles per hour, speed of sound at sea level.

234 Unemployment Claims Received At SA Office

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The number of California workers filing new unemployment insurance claims again leaped upward during the week ending Nov. 20, from 17,500 the previous week to 21,022, the state department of employment reported today.

Coupled with the 20 per cent rise in new claims was a 15 per cent climb in the total number of claims filed, to 89,467, and a 13 per cent increase in the number of claims paid, 57,681 for the week.

For the same week a year ago, the department said, the figures stood at 20,706 new claims, a total of 82,504 claims, and 52,223 paid.

During the week 234 new claims were received in the Santa Ana office, compared with 206 for the week ending Nov. 13. The office paid 661 claims and took in a total of 1063.

'Bill of Rights' Week Chairman Says Interest High in Observance

"This 1952 observance of the Bill of Rights Week has been the most gratifying demonstration of rededication to our basic American principles the Southland has seen in many years."

This was the statement of Joe Crail, chairman of the Bill of Rights Week committee, as he reported hitherto unequalled interest and participation in the observances marking the 161st Anniversary of the signing of the Bill of Rights. Bill of Rights Week this year extends from Dec. 9 through 15.

Crail especially praised the Southland newspapers for their aid in bringing the importance of the Bill of Rights to the public. "The support of the traditional American free press is something for which all of us interested in the Bill of Rights can be grateful. Perhaps, more than any other phase of our American life, our newspapers represent the kind of freedoms we all enjoy under our Bill of Rights. Without the help of the newspaper, and other media, the tremendous public participation in the Week would not have been possible."

"Every community in the Southland is doing something constructive to call the attention of its residents to the importance of perpetuating the freedoms our founding fathers established," Crail said.

"All this week and for the next few days, there will be a long series of community pageants, speeches by civic leaders, church and court participation, and school and student activities, all calling attention to the Bill of Rights," Crail said.

Have you had a kindness shown?
Pass it on;
'Twas not given for thee alone,
Pass it on;
Let it travel down the years,
Let it wipe another's tears,
'Til in Heaven the deed appears—
Pass it on!
—Rev. Henry Burton.

FAITH—We walk by faith, not by sight.—II Cor. 5:7.

FASTUALLY — Did you know that the City of Orange was founded in 1870 and was originally called "Richland" because of the fertility of the soil? When the postoffice was established 13 years later (1883) the present name was officially taken . . . There were only 126 people in Brea in 1910 . . . Remember the California Valencia Orange Show? It became an Anaheim institution in 1921 when 20,000 people visited the exhibitions. It grew from a 13,000 to a 163,000 square foot tent-covered show that drew 100,000 spectators in 1929 before it became a victim of the depression . . . What was San Clemente's population in 1920? There was no San Clemente in 1920—Ole Hansen, its developer, didn't have the dream of building a Spanish village then.

FORECAST — Few people we know foresaw the Korean War, but a lot of folks see the coming of another global war. Alert Anaheim Biblical students tell me such a conflict isn't far off. They point to the bustling activity of defense plants. "Why, Northrop plans to build a guided missile plant in Anaheim shortly after the first of the year. Does that mean anything?"

PERSONALITIES — Norman Lombard received quite a jolt when his car was rammed as he turned to drive into his Orangethorpe estate 'other day . . . Archie Logsdon, Brea postal employee, says he can sympathize with the boys in Korea. His teeth actually chatter when he says: "Boy, it was cold there last winter." . . . The 1952 California cotton crop was estimated at 1,825,000 bales. Wonder if that includes the 500-pound bale Verne Brown raised on the E. O. (Tex) Bolton place in Fullerton? Incidentally, Dixon Tubbs, ag commissioner, says it's the only cotton crop in the county. About a bale of cotton still remains on the plants standing on the one-acre "plantation" . . . Dido Harter has given promise of being one of the best sharpshooters an Orange Hi cage team has had . . . Buena Park's Gene Rosen probably "lost" a lot of money at Phoenix last week. The baseball meetings legislated against big bonuses to promising high school graduates, y'know.

Oil Test to Help Water District

Geophysical tests to be conducted by the Standard Oil Co. along the Santa Ana river channel from Santa Ana freeway to the Anaheim-Olive bridge, were authorized by directors of the Orange county water district yesterday as a possible benefit to the water district's fund of information, as well as serving the oil company's purpose.

The oil company representatives promised to supply the water district with logs of the test holes to be drilled to a depth of 125 feet at intervals of 750 feet along the river. The logs will show the depth and thickness of clay strata underground, it was pointed out, and the water district would like to have such information.

The oil company, which will set off small dynamite charges at the bottom of each test hole, agreed to assume all damage that might result to water wells, or to persons and property of any sort.

STEEL FRAMEWORK goes up on new $250,000 addition to the Anaheim telephone central office building at 217 North Lemon street. One-story and basement structure, scheduled to be completed in the spring, will provide 10,700 square feet of floor space for the installation of dial switching equipment to care for future telephone requirements in the Anaheim exchange.

Bridgford Co. Set To Produce New Skinless Sausage

Skinless pork sausages—one of the latest developments in the meat industry—will make its debut in Anaheim this week when the Bridgford Packing Company introduces the new pork links.

The Bridgford Packing company officials revealed that they had left nothing undone to make the new skinless sausages truly the world's finest. Selection of mid-western pork and the special Bridgford recipe as well as the new skinless process will give the housewife something really good in a sausage.

The new sausages are boxed in a bright "window" box and will be offered to local markets in a special coupon introductory offer starting Thursday.

Optimist Yule Party and Dinner Slated Tonight

Anaheim Optimists, their wives and children and the Junior Optimist boys will gather in the club's Youth Center at 133 W. Chartres st. tonight for their annual Christmas party and dinner.

Santa Claus will be there to officiate over the proceedings under the big decorated tree in the meeting hall. The program committee promises unusually fine entertainment.

The chicken dinner will be prepared by mothers of the Senior Girl Scouts and will be served by the Girl Scouts.

Jim E. Wurtz To Graduate

San Jose State College will confer degrees on 135 students Dec. 17 at the close of the fall quarter. In addition, 55 teaching credentials will be given to students who have already received degrees. Informal ceremonies will be held at a dinner honoring the members of the graduating class with Dr. John T. Wahlquist, new president of the college, delivering the commencement address.

December graduate from Anaheim is Jim E. Wurtz, son of Dr. E. P. Wurtz, 118 N. Janss. Wurtz will receive a bachelor of arts degree in industrial arts.
