Owen Lattimore Indicted for Perjury

KIMBALL LAYS KEEL FOR SUPERCARRIER SARATOGA — Dan Kimball, Secretary of the Navy, rivets the name plate to the keel of the supercarrier Saratoga at the keel laying ceremonies in the New York Naval Shipyard, Brooklyn, today. At right is Rear Admiral R. T. Cowdrey, commander of the shipyard. The 60,000-ton carrier will be a sister ship ship of the Forrestal, which has been building since last July. The carrier will be the sixth naval ship to carry the name Saratoga. She is scheduled to be completed in 1955.

Charges Originate in Lattimore's Witness Before Senate Probers

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (AP)—A federal grand jury indicted Owen Lattimore today on seven counts of perjury. He was accused, among other things, of testifying falsely that he had never been "a sympathizer and promoter of communism and communist interests." The charges against the Far Eastern specialist arise from his testimony before the Senate's internal security subcommittee last spring.

Lattimore, director of a school of international relations at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, was grilled by the senators for 12 days about communist connections and what influence he wielded on America's postwar policy in the Far East.

"I am, of course, innocent," Lattimore said at the office of his attorney here, where he was informed of the indictment.

"That innocence should have to be so long defended against such vengeful harassment as I have been subjected to for three years is something that can better be commented on by others than by myself."

The grand jury, after going over the record of the Senate hearing with government prosecutors, charged that Lattimore lied about seven "material" matters. The jurors reported:

1. That he testified he had never supported communism, whereas he "had been a sympathetizer and promoter of communism and communist interests."

2. That he testified falsely he did not know until 1950 that Dr. Ch'ao Ting Chi was a communist. Chi was a man Lattimore worked with at the Institue of Pacific Relations and was accused by the subcommittee of being a Red agent.

3. That he swore that he did not know until the late 1930's that a person who used the pen-name of "Asiaticus" was a communist, knowing this testimony to be untrue. "Asiaticus" contributed to "Pacific Affairs," a magazine Lattimore edited for the Institute.

4. That he swore falsely that, aside from Russian contributions, he had never published articles in "Pacific Affairs" by persons whom he knew to be Reds.

5. That he testified he lunched in 1941 with a Soviet ambassador in Washington after Hitler's invasion of the Soviet Union, whereas the fact was that he met the ambassador before the invasion occurred and while Russia and Nazi Germany were still Allies.

6. That he swore that he never handled the mail of Lauchlin Currie, an aide of the late President Roosevelt. The grand jury said there is evidence that he did so on occasions when Currie was away from Washington.

7. That he testified he visited the Chinese communist headquarters at Yenan in 1937 without making any advance arrangements. The grand jury said this was untrue, that he "or he did make advance arrangements.

Lattimore will be arraigned in U. S. District Court here at 10 a.m. EST Friday.

DiSalle Back In Government as Price Controller

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (AP)—President Truman today brought Michael V. DiSalle back into the government as economic stabilizer to help maintain a "strong" anti-inflation program until the new Republican administration takes over on Jan. 20.

DiSalle made it clear that he feels controls over prices and wages will be necessary to ward off threats of inflation for some time to come. The former price director added that he is sure the new Congress will study the situation carefully before deciding to abandon the program.

DiSalle probably will be sworn in Monday to succeed Roger L. Putnam. Putnam resigned as economic stabilizer today to return to his private business in Springfield, Mass. DiSalle, in his new post, will have direct supervision over prices and wages.

American Fleet Remains under Admiral Carney

PARIS, Dec. 16 (AP)—The Atlantic Allies today named British Adm. Earl Mountbatten boss of the Mediterranean sea lanes, but left the powerful American Sixth Fleet independent in that sea under U.S. Adm. Robert B. Carney.

Prodded by Prime Minister Churchill, proud of British naval traditions, the council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization NATO acted to:

1. Set up a brand new command in the Mediterranean with the mainly defensive role of guarding the Allied lifelines between Gibraltar and Suez.

2. Placed it initially under Mountbatten, 52, a World War II hero who is a second cousin of Queen Elizabeth II, but specified that he must be subordinate to the supreme allied commander in Europe, U.S. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway.

3. Left the U.S. Sixth Fleet as the naval arm of the Naples-based Southern European Command headed by Carney, who also reports directly to Ridgway. The primary wartime job of this fleet would be to support land operations.

The 20-month-old dispute over whether an American or a Briton should control the Mediterranean thus ended on the very basis the Allies sought to avoid. The basis involves a splitting of Allied authority in a crucial operational area. The compromise proved unavoidable, however, because neither the United States nor Britain, France, Italy, Greece and Turkey will be assigned to Mountbatten, who became commander of the British Mediterranean Fleet last fall. In wartime his force would have the task of guarding convoys, laying and sweeping mine fields and fighting the submarine menace.

All these jobs are of top importance. Across the Mediterranean run British, French and Italian sea routes to Africa, to the Suez Canal and through to the Allies' Asian territories.

Carney, on the other hand, will have an offensive force under him. With its aircraft carriers, battleships and other supporting air and sea craft, it is the largest naval force in the Mediterranean. Carney also has the land forces of such Southern European nations as Italy, Greece and Turkey under him.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — HELD IN SLAYING — Donald Schermerhorn Crosby, 16, high school student, stands on the scales in jail here today after his arrest on suspicion of killing Mrs. Ida C. Mackeown, 67, La Jolla artist. Her body, with 29 stab wounds, was found in her home yesterday. Police Chief A. E. Jansen said Crosby admitted the slaying in oral confession. This picture was taken from an alley outside the jail and shot through the bars.

Sabrejets Best MIGS in Korean Air Battles

SEOUL, Wednesday, Dec. 17. (AP)—U. S. Superforts bucked 100 mile an hour headwinds last night in bombing two Communist supply centers in western Korea near parallel 38.

American Sabre jets shot down at least four Russian built MIGs in 12 air battles high over northwest Korea yesterday. The U. S. Fifth air force reported the Sabre pilots probably destroyed another MIG and damaged one.

A cold fog curtained the battlefront today, limiting the fighting to patrol skirmishes—mostly in the Kumhwa ridges section of the central front.

The U. S. Eighth army reported UN ground troops killed an estimated 2215 Communist soldiers last week—about average for the recent weeks of comparatively light action.

Evidently most of those Red casualties were incurred in last week's clashes on the western front. South Koreans troops won, lost and regained Little Nori but failed in an attempt to win back the bigger hill 300 yards to the north.

The Eighth army's evaluated total of Communist casualties between Dec. 8-14 was 3462, of whom an estimated 1247 were wounded or captured.

Super-Carrier Keel Laid by Sec. Dan Kimball

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (AP)—Navy Secretary Dan Kimball today laid the keel for a spanking new supercarrier with a proud old name—the USS Saratoga.

"Another great weapon for the arsenal of democracy," he called it at the Brooklyn Navy Yard where the ceremony was carried out in bright, cold weather.

The 60,000-ton flattop is the second of her type and Kimball said the Navy wants at least eight more like her. He sister ship, the USS Forrestal, has been under construction since last July.

The old Saratoga, a scarred veteran of World War II, was sunk in the 1946 atomic tests at Bikini lagoon by the world's first atomic depth charge.

The new Saratoga is to be 1040 feet long and 252 feet wide. She will have a capacity of more than 100 aircraft. Her high pressure steam boilers probably will make her faster than the Forrestal.

This is Very Interesting

Like all other businesses this newspaper has some subscribers who have not paid their bills on time. . . . there are not too many . . . . for which we are grateful. . . . BUT since we started a MORNING NEWSPAPER with MORE interesting and timely news content we HAVE HAD EXACTLY SIXTY-TWO families either come into the office . . . mail a check . . . or pay the carrier for subscriptions that were IN ARREARS for from TWO to SIX months.

MOST IMPORTANT . . . is that each payment came with a word of commendation . . . and some suggestions . . . . for this MORNING GAZETTE.

IT PROVES—that when a person makes a sincere effort, it begets sincere approval and action in others for the MUTUAL benefit of both parties.

AGAIN we say THANK YOU for your voluntary actions.

. . . . and because they are voluntary they become MORE important in our FUTURE PLANS.

Guards in Pongam Tell of Frenzy And Din During Sunday Outbreak

PONGAM ISLAND, Korea, Dec. 16 (AP)—U. S. soldier guards told today how they quelled an uprising Sunday by 4500 Red prisoners, who roared communist songs in a glassy-eyed trance heedless of a storm of gunfire. Before order was restored after 55 furious minutes, 84 prisoners had been killed or mortally wounded in the deadliest riot of all those that have broken out in prison compounds this year. Another 118 prisoners and two American and three South Korean guards were injured.

"They brought it on themselves," Lt. Col. George P. Miller, camp commander. "They tested our strength and lost."

Miller told visiting correspondents the uprising was an attempt at a mass breakout. The plot had been discovered when a note from a prisoner was intercepted recently, he added.

This small island off the southwest coast of Koje island — scene of bloody prison riots last February—houses 9200 pro-Communist North Koreans. But only six compounds housing 4500 prisoners took part.

Miller and the guards reported that the trouble began at about 12:30 p.m. Sunday when prisoners in compound F broke out with Communist songs.

That, said Miller, was the starting signal and prisoners in five nearby compounds joined the singing, creating a din which Miller called tremendous.

Prisoners in compound F lined up in three rows in front of their barracks with arms locked. The barracks are on a rocky terrace 20 feet above the remainder of the compound and the gate.

Miller ordered a platoon (40 men) of the U.S. Ninth Military Police Service Company and a platoon of South Korean soldiers into the compound below the terrace.

The prisoners answered orders to stop with a hail of stones that fell among the guards below.

Miller said the eyes of the prisoners were glazed as if hypnotized by the singing, adding that "it is impossible to convey to you the state of frenzy."

Gas grenades were useless in the wind, and Miller said he ordered a volley of shotgun fire but "the wounded kept right on singing and the others lifted the wounded as they fell."

Although the first Army account Monday said the prisoners charged in three waves, Miller said there was no concerted rush at the guards.

As the guards continued with rifles and carbines in compound F, prisoners in nearby compound B jammed into the compound courtyard and "were about ready to force the gate or fences," Miller said.

Manila Rescue Work Given up

MANILA, Wednesday, Dec. 17. (AP)—Workmen last night gave up attempts to clear a flooded gold mine shaft where 55 miners perished when a river crashed through its walls Monday.

Roscoe Cannon, superintendent of the United Paracale mine in southern Luzon, wired agents here: "It's impossible to recover any bodies. You have the whole river and the sea in therre."

Japanese Arrest Man as Russ Spy

TOKYO, Wednesday, Dec. 17 (AP)—The foreign office disclosed Tuesday that police were working on a bizarre international spy case which the Japanese press said involved an official of the Russian mission here.

While police made one arrest, the foreign office said Japan lacked the power to do much about the ring unless U.S. Security secrets were involved. Japan has no espionage law.

National rural police arrested Masao Mitsuhashi, a Japanese radio engineer and former soldier. Police said he told them he was paid for spying by Russia, but secretly worked for U.S. counter-Intelligence agents.

He was quoted as saying he sent coded messages to Russia and North Korea three times each month, but only after showing them to agents of the U.S. Counter Intelligence Corps CIC.

There was no confirmation of this from U.S. authorities.

Police seized a U.S. type radio transmitter at Mitsuhashi's home. They said he had been in touch with a radio station with call signals near the big Siberian port of Vladivostok.

Another facet of the case involved Wataru Kaji, leftist writer who raised a furor in the Japanese Diet last week with charges that he was held prisoner by U.S. agents for more than a year.

Thousands Jam into Comanche for Funeral of Killer Billy Cook

COMANCHE, Okla., Dec. 16 (AP)—The strange fascination that killer William E. Cook, Jr., held in the public imagination today brought thousands of persons to this small community for what the slayer's lawyer denounced as a Roman holiday.

"People want to make a Roman holiday out of this thing just like they did in Rome when they threw their prisoners to the lions," declared John Connolly, Oklahoma City attorney who defended Cook in Oklahoma and California kidnaping and murder trials.

"This is just an opportunity for the public to get rid of a lot of hate without assuming any personal guilt. People are going to see Cook's body for the same reason they go to see a wreck or a bull fight. It's just morbid curiosity."

And today, on the eve of his funeral, the steady stream of curious, which began with the arrival of the executed slayer's body Sunday from San Quentin, Calif., had reached approximately 12,000 persons.

Some 10,000 were expected tomorrow for the funeral at 2 p.m. in what will be the biggest event this small Southwest Oklahoma ranching community has seen in years.

Cars came from allover Oklahoma, from Colorado and Texas. Mothers with babes in arms passed through the Boydstun Funeral Parlor at all hours of the day to view the body of the slayer of six. The parade was led yesterday by seven school buses bringing excited students from Byers, Tex.

School children dashed in during lunch hours and recess periods to get a frightened look at the man who killed an Illinois family of five, the Carl Mosners, and Seattle salesman Robert Dewey.

For the latter crime he was executed at San Quentin Friday. He was under a 300-year sentence for the Mosser kidnap-slaying.

The town is so jammed that the State Highway Patrol will direct traffic tomorrow before and after the funeral. Relatives of the 23-year-old desperado hired the Boydstun Funeral Home to conduct final rites.

Edison Company Files with PUC For Rate Hike

The Southern California Edison Company today, Dec. 16, filed an application for a general rate increase with the California Public Utilities Commission. Edison officials said that this will be the company's first rate increase in 31 years. The increase sought would amount to approximately 25 cents a month for the average domestic customer. On an annual basis, it would result in a $16,000,000 increase in the company's gross revenue.

"It is imperative that this application should be filed at this time," W. C. Mullendore, Edison Company president, said. "A rate increase for us is inescapable in the light of the continuing increase in the cost of everything that goes into electric service.

"We must revise our rates so that we will be able to maintain our high standard of service to our customers, to meet the requirements of new customers and, in general, to keep up with the growing load that has come upon the company with the increase in population and business activity in Southern and Central California.

Control Plan Ordered on UN Worker Security

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (AP)—President Truman has ordered that a plan be drawn to provide a maximum guarantee that disloyal Americans are not employed by the United Nations, Attorney General James P. McGranery announced tonight.

McGranery told newsmen Truman had ordered the State and Justice Departments and the Civil Service commission to collaborate in working out the plan.

The attorney general said Truman issued the directive as a result of the recommendations made to U.N. Secretary General Trygve Lie by a panel of three international lawyers, but gave no other details.

The lawyers recommended that disloyal Americans in the U.N. be fired and any other U.N. employees, whether Americans or not, be dismissed if they were guilty of subversive activities or espionage against the U.S.

Rita, Mario Named Least Cooperative

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 16 (AP)—The Hollywood Women's Press Club today named Rita Hayworth and Mario Lanza as the least cooperative stars of 1952.

Runners-up for this designation were Marlon Brando and Esther Williams.

For the first time in the 15-year history of the awards, a husband and wife were voted the most cooperative. They are Tony Curtis and Janet Leigh.

Runners-up for the most cooperative honors were Virginia Mayo and Jeff Chandler.

Secretary Kitty Callahan said votes are cast by the club's more than 125 members—newspaper and magazine writers and studio press-agents.

Dope-Using High School Youth Charged with La Jolla Murder

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 16 (AP)—A tall, slim blond 16-year-old high school student—the admitted knife-slayer of Mrs. Ida C. Mackeown, 67, La Jolla artist—was formally charged today with murder. Gangling Donald Schermerhorn Crosby was named in the complaint signed by Detective Sgt. Paul Walk before Municipal Judge Phil Smith.

Crosby, who told police he was a marijuana user, was quoted by Walk as saying he stabbed the woman after she threatened to notify police he smoked marijuana.

Police Chief A. E. Jansen said Crosby confessed orally over and over again early today that he fatally stabbed Mrs. Mackeown in her fashionable La Jolla home Saturday. But Jansen said the youth changed details of his story almost as often as he told it.

Crosby was arrested late last night, about 14 hours after Mrs. Mackeown's slashed body was fouhd in her home by a neighbor. The body bore 29 stab wounds.

Sgt. Walk said Crosby described the slaying in the words:

"I slapped her and when she began screaming I pulled out my knife. Then I beat her over the head with my fist.

Walk said Crosby then told of plunging the knife into the woman.

"I didn't know if she was dead or not, but when I left I honed she was so she couldn't identify me," Walk quoted the youth.

Walk said Crosby also related the following events of last Saturday:

He solicited yard work from Mrs. Mackeown and, while talking with her inside her home, a marihuana cigarette dropped out of his pocket.

What Do You Want for Christmas

By REV. WM. McKINLEY WALKER
Wesley Methodist Church

On television the other evening I heard an interviewer ask a grown man what he wanted Santa Claus to bring him. Of course, the question was asked in a bit of levity, but the answer was "lots of things." When questioned further he answered, "A good auto," "diamond ring," "some nice clothes," etc.

When we think of gifts, we generally stop at material things, do we not? We may hope to make and keep friends by exchange of gifts, all of which cost money or effort or both. But after awhile we tire of the material things. The auto becomes outdated, the ring tarnishes, the toys are soon broken or stowed away. We have lost real interest in them. Is this not partly because the material things we "trade" at Christmas time are only symbolic of God's giving the Great Gift, His son to the world? Our gifts are cheap and tawdry. His gifts are genuine and abiding.

When Solomon was about to be crowned King, he had a dream in which God appeared to him and asked Solomon what gift he would like. Thinking a moment, Solomon said, that since great responsibility was about to fall upon his shoulders he would need wisdom and understanding as to how he should conduct himself as king. And the Lord said that because Solomon did not ask for long life, and great riches, and revenge against his enemies, that God would give him great knowledges and riches beside. (Please turn to your Bible and Read I Kings 3:5-11)

Wouldn't the world around where we live today be better if we offered up a prayer right now for wisdom, understanding, courtesy, humility and similar virtues? And when we receive gifts from our friends and loved ones, let us remember that material gifts are only symbolic of God's Great Gift and thank Him for His Son, our Savior.

Burned Youngster Appeals for Yule Messages from Other Children

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16 (AP) —Myrlya Ann Fox, brave 10-year-old girl hospitalized nearly a year with burns almost covering her body, hopes that other children will help her shave off the added pangs of loneliness during the holiday season.

Myrla has been in the children's section of St. Francis memorial hospital since last February. She has no chance of getting home to spend Christmas with her family, including two sisters and three young brothers, in Oroville.

So she asks that other children send her Christmas cards—"just any kind"—to help the days go past.

More than 65 per cent of Myrla's body was burned when a gasoline can exploded last January. She was brought to St. Francis hospital last Feb. 7. Since then she has had 33 blood transfusions, 21 skingrafting operations and still must be given skin—building proteins through a nasal tube.

A special nylon covered rack is her bed and the covers are propped up on a frame since ordinary fabrics must not touch her.

Because the expensive medical care is beyond the means of her mill-worker father, Bert Fox, the state bureau of crippled children's services has provided the care needed.

"I hope other children will send Christmas cards," one of Myrla's nurses said, "this can be a lonely time of year in a hospital."

The address is Myrla Fox, St. Francis Memorial hospital, Post and Hyde sts., San Francisco 9.

Suit Filed in Fernstream Wreck

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16 (AP) —A San Francisco export firm today charged the officers of the freighter Hawaiian Rancher with negligence in a suit to cover cargo lost when the Norwegian motorship Fernstream sank Thursday after a collision with the Hawaiian Rancher.

Getz and Brothers Company's Federal Court suit asked $7000 from the Matson Navigation Company, owners of the Hawaiian Rancher, to cover a small shipment of general merchandise bound for Manila aboard the Fernstream. The ship's whole cargo was valued at 3 million dollars.

The brief said the Hawaiian Rancher was steaming too fast in the fog-shrouded waters of San Francisco Bay, she was off course, and the officers failed to post a proper lookout.

The suit was the first of several expected to be filed by firms shipping cargo aboard the Fernstream.

The Coast Guard board of inquiry is holding hearings to fix responsibility for the accident.

Ten members of Army's 1952 football team are New York state residents. Two of them—James Ryan and Joe Lapchick, Jr.—come from Yonkers, N. Y.

America's Dollar Value Depends On Stalin's Life, Babson Says

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Americans who want to keep the present 60-cent dollar from shrinking to 25 cents, should pray for a long life for Josef Stalin, thinks business economist Roger Babson.

There will be no noticeable easing of the cost of living during 1953, predicts Babson in the January issue of the Journal of Living magazine. However, if World War III breaks out on a major scale, the dollar will go down.

"I am convinced that Stalin does not want war," writes Babson. "If he had wanted it, he could have had it. He passed up many chances in Berlin, in the Middle East and Asia, where he might have provoked our leaders into war. He didn't do it. He has lost his best opportunities, for we are now tooled up to turn out enormous quantities of war materiel.

"I do not predict what course a successor might take. Therefore, I regularly pray that Josef Stalin may be long lived. I suggest you join me in this prayer.

Babson's predictions for 1953 include high total taxes throughout the year, and lower profits for many companies.

On the brighter side, we can look forward to a leveling off of the price index. Cuts in dividends will not be drastic. Interest and pension payments should remain secure.

All told, concludes Babson in his Journal of Living article, we can breathe just a little bit easier in 1953. Although the coming year promises little relief from high prices and high taxes, at least we can look forward to a year in which the cost of living should stand still. And this in itself will be a pleasant change.

Kwikset Credit Union Assets in Heavy Increase

The Kwikset Locks, Inc., Credit union has shown a spectacular gain in assets in the past year, according to Russell W. Sollows, treasurer.

Sollows, who is employed in the plant's punch press department, reports assets on Nov. 30, 1952, totaled more than $30-000. A year previous the figure stood at $26,000.

The Kwikset Credit union is a cooperative association, operated by and for the employees, providing its members a savings plan and a means to borrow money for worthwhile purposes at a low rate of interest. Membership is open to all Kwiksetters.

Employee savings in the Credit union on which interest is paid, now total more than $66,000. On Nov. 30, 1951, savings amounted to $34,000.

At the end of last month, employees had loans outstanding from the Credit union totaling more than $55,000. A year before, Kwikseters had loans outstanding of $34,000 from the association.

Pakistanian Here To Study Dairies

Mr. Nukhtar Ahmed from Pakistan is spending the week in Orange county with W. M. Cozy, farm advisor. While here he is particularly interested in learning about dairying as practiced in Southern California.

At the present time he is registered in the animal husbandry department of the University of California at Davis. His work there will be completed at the end of the fall semester ending in January. From there he will visit other state experiment stations in the United States.

Upon his return to his homeland he will set up a government livestock breeding farm for the purpose of improving the quality of livestock.

State Considers Feasibility of Educational TV

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A score of conferences on the merits of state television weree under way here today as educators from all sections of California wound up the state-wide conference called by Gov. Earl Warren on the subject.

The issue is whether the state should take advantage of eight television channels reserved by the federal communications commission for educational television, which would be operated by the state, or by school districts.

Paul A. Walker, chairman of the commission, attended the conference and warned the educators not to delay plans for ownership, construction and operation of the stations in view of the fact that competition for commercial channels is keen.

"I cannot predict," he said, "what considerations would be persuasive with the commission after June 2 in the matter of continuing reservations on channels which commercial interests may seek to have made available for commercial use."

Gov. Earl Warren welcomed the approximately 2500 delegates to the conference, composed for the most part of California educators, to the city yesterday, stating basic principles are that the programs from the proposed stations should be controlled by educators for educational purposes alone. He said there should be no competition with commercial stations.

California Keeps Books in Black For 1951-52 Year, Kuchel Reports

California's revenues for the fiscal year ending June 30 exceeded expenditrues by $30,676,180, it was announced today by State Controller Thomas H. Kuchel.

The end of the year fiscal statement, Kuchel said, showed a total cost for the year of $1,-055,233,139, while the actual revenues amounted to $1,085,-909,319.

Cost of government for the year, Kuchel stated increased only 1.75 per cent over the previous fiscal year, or a total of $18,152,344.

The statement is based on transactions effected for the entire year, some of which had not cleared through the state treasury at the close of this year rather than on cash expended basis, Kuchel stated.

The controller also said the expenditures included disbursements from reserves, which were accumulated by the state during and immediately following World war II. With the sums deducted, the amount expended from the year's new revenues amounted to $994,162,701, or a ratio of 91.55 per cent of costs to revenues, rather than 97.18 as computed for the gross total.

Of the total amount expended Kuchel said $595,694,356, or 56.45 per cent represented payments to local agencies, an increase of 4.18 per cent over the previous fiscal year. Of this total, education costs for the public school system totaled $286,267,170; shared revenues of gasoline and motor vehicle fees, $155,865,316 and social welfare, $148,897,575.

Of the remainder $294,445,328 represented payment for state operations and $165,272,413 was for capital outlay, the report concluded.

Troop 47 Girl Scouts make Dolls For TB Patients

Inmates of one Orange county hospital TB ward are going to receive some beautiful gifts from the Girl Scouts of St. Boniface school's troop 47.

The girls are working hard every afternoon, making dresses for small dolls. When they're all done, they'll be presented to the patients at a party to be given next Friday.

Under the direction of Mrs. J. F. Dutzi and Mrs. Barney Jordan, leaders, the girls are making the doll clothes according to instructions of Mrs. Frank Salazar.

After the crinoline underskirts have been fastened to the doll, circles of organdy are cut out with pinking shears and fastened together. When enough have been tied together to complete the skirt they are fastened to similar pieces which make up the bodice.

In all, the Girl Scouts will make up about 26 of the dolls.

Working on the production line are Olga Salazar, Lois Schweitzer, Darlene Zenda, Jacqueline Birchall, Mary Cain, Dianne DeCorick, Linda Cone, Janice Barshay, Nancy Dutzi, Rita Flynn, Kathleen Gillispie, Irene Gonzales, Barbara Jordan, Barbara May, Karen Mandeville, Sandra McLaughlin, Patricia Nelson and Sally Rees.

Cub Scouts Hold Christmas Party

Last night the Cub Scouts of Thomas Jefferson school held their first Christmas party at the school. The theme was an old fashioned Christmas.

Santa Claus was on hand to give each of those present a gift. All decorations were made by the scouts and the tree will be sent to the county hospital.

Each scout also brought canned goods which will be given to a needy family, including a fully decorated tree.

Assisting Mr. A. F. Habener, scoutmaster, were the following den mothers: Mrs. A. F. Habener, Mrs. George Hatfield, Mrs. Shirley Darnbey, Mrs. Irene Williams and Mrs. Gladys Langson.

Awards were given to the following scouts: Robert Litz, Robert Moore, Richard Jordan, Richard James Taylor, Michael Mack and Jeffery Habener.

Refreshments and music filled out the evening.

CITY AIRPORT PRODUCES ALFALFA

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Alfalfa grown on the city airport this year produced $7,923 in revenue for the city, according to the Municipal Finance Officers association.

In an unusual arrangement with a local dehydrating company, alfalfa is planted on available portions of the airport. The company harvests the crop and after planting costs are paid, the city and the company share equally in the income. The city spends no money or effort in the entire operation. This year 465 acres were planted.

Mrs. Mackeown threatened to call the police.

Walk said Crosby then described the stabbing.

The detective said the youth then changed his version somewhat.

Crosby Walk said, related how he had smoked a marijuana cigarette in the morning, and that Mrs. Mackeown asked him if he were ill.

"First she said she was going to call a doctor. Then she threatened to notify the police," Walk quoted Crosby.

The 6-foot, 160-pound youth was arrested after neighbors had given police a description of a teen-ager seen on the Mackeown porch Saturday. Officers their list of known juvenile delinquents, then took Crosby into custody.

Sen. Knowland Predicts Changes Due in Presidential Elections

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Sen. William F. Knowland predicted some changes would be made in the nation's presidential electoral system when he addressed the California electoral college just before it cast ballots for president and vice president.

Calling the meeting of Republican leaders who made up this year's state electoral college "an historical occasion," Knowland said he believed congress before the next presidential election would alter the system, possibly to one in which electoral votes of each state would be cast in proportion to the state's popular vote.

He also predicted the next electoral college would include 49 states, with Hawaii as the 49th state.

Gov. Earl Warren, also addressing the college, declared that, after the 24 years since Herbert Hoover's election, great responsibility had been placed with the Republican party.

"Fortunately we have elected a great man," he said.

He asked all Americans to dismiss partisanship and give support to General Eisenhower's leadership.

"I will do everything I can do to support the hand of General Dwight D. Eisenhower as president of the United States," said Warren, a man whose political future under a national Republican administation has not been made clear.

Knowland who campaigned with Eisenhower through some 30 states, stated the president-elect's victory was "not a political victory."

"Eisenhower will not look upon himself as a Republican president," the senator added, declaring that the new president would approach the problems of Korea, the cold war in Europe, high taxes, the national debt, and all problems in the interests of all the people.

Electricity... today's biggest bargain

Electricity is a bigger bargain now than ever. Edison rates for domestic electric service—though lowered many times—haven't been increased since 1921. That record is hard to keep, when the price of nearly everything else has gone up and up for years.

J. Gregory Conway, Author, Honors Guests At Charming Buffet-Supper

All the breathless excitement of Christmas was expressed in the exotic setting of the cocktail and buffet-supper party given by J. Gregory Conway, well-known author of books on flower arrangement, Sunday afternoon.

Conway's home in Fullerton, scene of the event, is like a bit from some old, enchanting fairy tale. Seeing the place from the road, one would never guess what lies at the end of the winding, tree shaded, driveway, where a house, with just a hint of the oriental, is set near a quiet lagoon, surrounded by native trees and shrubs from all parts of the world. Following one of the many enticing little pathways that lead from the house, one is lost, in only a few steps, among towering trees, enchanting little rock gardens, bright flowers blooming beside little, secluded springs, and happily, ever so often, a place to sit. A place to sit, and just feel, the wonderful seclusion of everything but the beauty and peace of a place wrought by the artistic hand of a sensitive man, who knows how to work with nature.

Entering the house the guests were caught for a breathless instant by the almost unbelievable, utter beauty of Conway's conception of a Christmas tree. Placed in a corner window was a banana tree, on which had been arranged branches and foliage from other trees and shrubs, which had been sprayed with copper. Christmas ornaments of silver, and bluish-pink stars, twinkled and gleamed against lime green in the light from a quarter-moon lantern which hung outside the windows, and the baby-spot light on the floor in the room.

The buffet featured the exotic dishes of the Island's, prepared by Conway himself from receipts he collected during his many years residence there.

Bidden to the charming affair were Mr. and Mrs. John Macloghlin, of Anaheim; Mr. and Mrs. Stechert, Santa Ana Canyon; Mrs. Berneice Lutz of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. P. Leonard Hargrove, Belmont Shore.

And Mrs. Bess Langley, Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Kaywood, Long Beach; Miss Louise Chapman, Jasper Lodge, Banff, Canada; and Mr. and Mrs. Alec Millar of Palos Verdes.

Conway's latest book on flower arrangement is now in the hands of Knopff publishers in New York, with it's release expected sometime in the fall of next year. A delay in the release was encountered when it was decided to have the color plates done in Germany.

Done by the German method, which is outstanding in this field, the reproduction is most faithful to the flower subject, and the new book will contain over 100 of these fabulous color plates.

Fullerton Notes

ANN NEWMAN

Ann Newman chapter of the Izzak Walton league entertained their husbands and friends at their annual Christmas turkey dinner Monday evening at 6:30. Green boughs and holly berries decorated the lovely wood panels of the cabin. The traditional turkey dinner was served to 40 guests by Mrs. Margaret Moore and her co-hostesses, Mrs. H. A. Palmer, O. W. Freek, and Charles Houlebak.

Mrs. O. W. Freek, president, presided at a brief business meeting following the feast. It was voted to grant a scholarship to a Fullerton teacher to attend the summer school session of the conservation class at Idylwild. Announcement of the selection will be held at a future meeting. Fifty books on conservation will be sent to both of the newly opened elementary schools, Golden Hills and Raymond avenue.

Mrs. Lawrence Sherwood opened the program with a reading of "The Littlest Stork." This selection was printed in the December issue of Coronet. Community singing of carols was led by Dr. H. R. Wildman, accompanied by his wife. Gifts for exchange had been piled in large baskets. A Schade played Christmas melodies as each woman received her present; Mrs. H. R. Wildman played as the men received gifts.

PICO DE ORA SECTION OF EBELL

Delighted and amazed Pico de Ora section members exclaimed over the beautiful decorations that graced the home of Mrs. Lee Rowland, 620 Valley View, Monday evening. As the guests arrived they saw four lighted Christmas trees on the lawn; the door was decorated to resemble a gay package. Miniatures of Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus extended greetings in the entrance hall.

Members of this Ebell section played various Christmas games. Following the custom of Spain and Mexico, a "pinata" was broken showering candy and numbers for the next game, on the women. Winners of the games were Mrs. Eric Sanders, Goldie Rayne, Florence Cooper, "Girlie" Clever and Mrs. H. Warden. From the silver and blue Christmas tree in the picture window, gifts were exchanged.

Refreshments of flaming plum pudding, stuffed dates, nuts, candy and coffee were served. A white candy house on a red tablecloth lent a gala touch to the dining table. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Clifford Lakeman, Allan Shook, D. Webster Drake and Fred Nunlist.

HOME-MAKERS' FORUM

By The Gazette's Own Home Economist

JOAN S. WHITE

Merry Christmas to your house means more than decorating with glitter and sparkle. You can start now to do it in more dignified subtler ways. Furniture groupings may have to be changed to make room for the tree and the open shelves in your living room cleared off for Christmas cards that will be arriving before long.

Who would think of hanging a wreath on a window which was not shining clean or to put new candles in holders which were not shined to perfection?

A house has a way of collecting things like dust and cobwebs in the oddest places and inventory of closets and bureau drawers bring to light some mighty interesting collections too. Why not relieve your house of its clutter and junk (if you will pardon the expression). Your preparations for the holidays will then proceed unencumbered, and there will be room to store the gifts and toys that come with Christmas.

The Folks Santa Forgets

At Christmas time there are always the poor people whom Santa forgets. The Salvation Army is the agency that steps into the breach to fill stockings that would otherwise be empty, to bring food to a cheerless house, and to place a doll into empty, waiting little arms.

When you are clearing out the debris from your house, the debris that is junk to you but useable by someone else, consider the good done by this welfare agency, and then in the spirit of Christmas you may be tempted to give generously. Clothing, books, toys, furniture, dishes are all needed and will be appreciated. The Salvation Army pick-up truck is just as near as your telephone and the number to call is Ana-heim 4631.

Slip Covers

Sprucing up the house for Christmas often means pepping up draperies and slip covers. These are like the frosting on the cake. You could get along without them but how dull and uninteresting the finished product would be. And like the frosting on the cake, if they do not definitely furnish eye appeal, what is the use of having them? Your window dressings show from the outside and will be lime-lighted by the lights of Christmas.

To Wash Slip Covers

Did you know that you can wash slip covers in a washing machine?

Well, you can—if the slip cover material is washable and colorfast and has seams that are not given to fraying. Naturally, there are some slip covers which should be dry cleaned and you would be wise to check the manufacturer's recommendations on this score.

Be sure you shake the covers well to remove loose, dusty particles and close all zippers or snap openings before you consign them to the washer. Put them into the washer one at a time and do not overload the machine if you want a good cleaning job. One divan cover, two chair covers or five pillow covers probably will make an ample washer load.

Wash the slip covers for 5 to 10 minutes and remove them from the washer immediately after rinsing. Put them in a clothes dryer or out on the line until they are almost dry. Just enough moisture should be left to allow the material to stretch easily.

While the slip covers are still slightly damp, press the bottom ruffle or pleating and carefully place covers on chairs, divan and cushions, stretching and smoothing the material gently to its original shape and size. Finish the job by hand ironing the covers right on the furniture.

AUHS ANGLES

By JOANN FAUST

The wide discussion around the cold drawn AUHS campus this week is the talk of Christmas events and the nearing of Christmas vacation when the students will travel far and wide to visit friends, relatives and sweethearts.

To start out Christmas right, Thursday during assembly period, an original play, "The Christmas Letter", written by Miss Louise Hitt, will be presented to the student body and an evening performance for the general public will be held Friday at 8 p.m.

When the stars are shining brightly and the moon shines from high above, the AUHS study hall lights will be turned down low, and Santa and his workshop will open their doors to the throngs of students attending the "Christmas Formal" in their "bibs and tuckers."

Gay laughter, dreamy music, and mistletoe will surround every couple for a mystic evening of romance and gaiety.

Fred Warring's arrangement of "The Nutcracker Suite", by Tchoekovsky, will be sung by the AUHS A Cappella choir during the Christmas holidays at various places.

Sheldon Disrud, patient and light-hearted in his task of coaching the large choir in the clear pronunciation of the words and phrases in the "Nutcracker Suite", deserves a full hand of praise and credit for his excellent job.

Due to many unpredictable accidents and with the vicious disease of flu forming around the AU campus this week, the junior assembly cast has vanished from the scene of constant practicing and nightly rehearsals and has postponed its assembly until after the Christmas holidays when it will present its assembly to the student body on January 15.

Pamphlets on library rules and etiquette are being distributed to students in their orientation classes this week.

If students were more acquainted with the AU library, they would use the library more often as a place to relax and study quietly without being disturbed or distracted from their homework or reading.

The Bible Club meeting was held Tuesday morning in the cafeteria. The meeting was opened with a short prayer by Dotty Jiles, President Esther Hurtado held a discussion on a Christmas party which was held in the AU Cafeteria Monday, Dec. 15 at 7:00 p.m. with the Bible Club from Fullerton invited.

PRIMER for PARENTS

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT make it real for your child by letting him take part in all the wonderful preparations for the big day.

A cotton dust cap that fits securely over the working end of a broom is excellent for wiping down walls or across ceilings and floors. The cotton cap absorbs the dust fluffs and cobwebs—and it can be washed.

Odell Is Through At U.W.

SEATTLE, Dec. 16. (AP)—Coach Howie Odell, who tutored two all-America backs during his five years at Washington is on the way out as head man of Husky football.

Arriving in San Francisco today, Odell confirmed a Seattle report that he was through.

Before leaving here he said Athletic Director Harvey Cassill had told him "he was going to recommend that I be not retained for next year." Odell's contract has one more year to run.

He blamed personal differences between himself and Cassill and said he didn't have "any hope there will be a change in his, Cassill's, attitude."

Cassill's recommendation will go to the school administration and then—if approved—to the board of regents. The athletic director would say only that he still has talks yesterday with Odell and could not comment further until a recommendation is made and acted upon.

Under O'Dell's coaching Don Heinrich was named quarterback on the Associated Press all-America team in 1950 and again this year. In 1951 fullback Hugh McElhenny made the team. Since the coach has been here all school attendance records have been shattered and a 15,000 seat addition to the stadium was built.

He came here from several years of success at Yale, arriving in 1948. The squad he got him inactive the first season and his 1949 team was not outstanding. But in 1950 with Heinrich and McElhenny together in the backfield, his Huskies compiled an 8-2 record, losing only to Notre Dame and California.

Heinrich was out with an injury, in 1951, and the season turned sour, but this year an Odell club that was rated well down in the pre-season picture compiled a 7-3 record, losing to Illinois, UCLA and USC.

DOLLAR STARTED CENTURY-OLD VILLAGE

CENTRALIA, Ill. (AP) — Little Macystown — on a site Jacob Macys bought for one dollar in 1852—observes its 100th anniversary this year. The village in the hills of southern Illinois now is headed by Jacob's son, Mayor Ed Macys.

FRANKIE TAKES 'EM OFF—Frankie Albert, "Mr. T" of professional football, unlaces his famous left shoe to give to a youthful admirer two minutes before the final gun in a game with the Green Bay Packers in San Francisco. Albert gave away all of his uniform but the bare essentials before leaving the field for the last time. He announced his retirement earlier in the week. He led the 49'ers to a hard-fought 24-14 victory.

Dodger Recovering

BROOKLYN, Dec. 16. (AP) — George Shuba, Brooklyn Dodger outfielder today, was found to be making satisfactory recovery from an operation for removal of a cartilage from his left knee. Dr. Herbert Fett examined Shuba at the Long Island college hospital. The operation was performed in early November.

"Warhorse" Signs

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 16. (AP)—Enos Slaughter, the old warehorse of the St. Louis Cardinals, has signed his 1953 contract, the club announced tonight.

It was the 13th Cardinal contract for the veteran outfielder, who reportedly signed for $25,000 —an increase of about $5,000 over his 1952 salary.

Anaheim Cagers Win First Test in Oil City Tourney

Anaheim high school basketball team sailed over the first obstacle yesterday in the 24th annual Huntington Beach invitational tournament by defeating Laguna Beach, 52-35.

The Colonist leagers got off to a slow start with Laguna getting an 8-8 tie at the end of the first period and the score standing 20-18 Anaheim, at halftime.

In the second half, Coach Bill Hunstock's boys began to hustle and pulled away from their opponents to end the third period on long end of a 32-23 tally.

Bill Ames, Anaheim ace forward and Laguna's Center Clyde Cook tied for scoring honors, each hitting the nets for 15 points.

Second in scoring for Anaheim was Forward Gayle Herbel who chalked up 13 tallies. Center Dave Moody did his bit by contributing 11 points for the victors.

In other games in yesterday's play Huntington Beach downed Puente 53-34 for its seventh straight victory this season.

Orange, led by Dick McCarter who scored 24 points, came out on top in a game with Garden Grove which ended in a lopsided score of 72-39. Santa Ana slid past Downey 52-41 and Bellflower trounced Newport Beach 66-38.

Ram Coach Sobs As Layne Lost From Big Game

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16. (AP)—The loss of one man from the Los Angeles Rams, defending pro football champions, had Coach Hampton Pool practically sobbing today. It's a condition that frequently affects coaches before fourth games.

You could almost detect the tears in his voice as he viewed—and the view was mighty dismal—the Rams playoff next Sunday at Detroit with the Lions for the western division title.

Despite the discouraging outlook, however, the Rams will make the trip. They fly out Thursday, Pool confirmed.

The man who has Pool moaning is Dick Night Train Lane. Lane is out with a severely sprained ankle and wrenched knee.

"The loss of Lane is probably the most severe loss we could have sustained," Pool said. "He was our one chance to stop Cloyce Box."

Box is Detroit's ace pass catcher. He has scored four of Detroit's five touchdowns in their two victories over the Rams this season.

"Herb Rich might be able to do it," Pool went on, "but he won't be in top shape. He'll play. He'll have to. But we don't know how fast he'll be able to run, or whether he can last."

Rich, who alternates with Lane at one of the deep defensive posts, had a toe stepped on in practice by Stan West, 240 pound Ram guard. The damage was sufficient to sideline him in last Sunday's game with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Humbolt Defeats Oregon Tech 65-57

EUREKA, Calif., Dec. 16. (AP)—Trailing at halftime, Humboldt State surged ahead to tie the basketball game at the end of the third quarter and went on to defeat Oregon Tech 65-57 here tonight, and grab a two game series.

Oregon Tech led 28-22 at the halftime and it was a 42-42 tie at the end of the third quarter.

Humboldt was sparked by forward Glenn Wallace, high point man for the game who earned 26 points, 13 in each half.

Oregon guard Len Genetin topped Oregon Tech scoring with 18.

Northrop Victors In City League Overtime Play

Northrop and Williams Sporting Goods furnished the fireworks last night in City League basketball play with the aircrafters coming out victors in an overtime contest that ended 49-47.

Keeping the point spread close throughout the game, the two teams were tied 42-all at the end of the fourth period. In the overtime, Northrop garnered two points to take victor's honors.

Leading scoring for Northrop was Hugh Faulkner who racked up a total of 33 points which included 15 field goals.

Wendy Range was high man for Williams, tossing in eight field goals and six free throws for a total of 22 tallies.

Close contests were the order of the night in other City League games as Cotler's Clothing downed El Toro 52-49 and Ritz Cleaners downed the Optimists 49-44.

Tied 15-15 at the end of the first period, El Toro managed to pull away to hold a scant one-point margin over Cotler's at the half. The third quarter saw Cotler's leading by 31-29.

D. Bryant and D. Berg led scoring for Ritz, each racking up 15 points with five field goals each and three free throws. M. VanDerwende was high man for the Optimists, hitting the nets for seven field goals and one free throw to also score 15 points. B. VanDyke was a close second with 14 tallies for the losers.

The two teams were tied 12-12 at the end of the first stanza, but Ritz managed to maintain a lead for the rest of the contest.

Gallardo Retains State Crown in Win over Smith

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16 (AP)—Dave Gallardo is still the featherweight champion of California. He racked up his seventh straight win of 1952 at the expense of Reuben Smith in the 12-round main event at the Olympic Auditorium tonight.

Gallardo weighed 125½, Smith 126, both are of Los Angeles.

There was no question about the decision. Gallardo jabbed and stabbed his way to round after round with an accurate left hand.

An odd feature of the fight was that Referee Red Gilmore and Judges Mushy Callahan and Tommy Hart had identical scores, 60-54.

There were no knockdowns. In the eleventh round, Smith's eyelid was turned in and Dr. Robert Rock, the club physician, had to fix it up before Referee Gilmore allowed the fight to continue.

Moore 8 to 5 Favorite To Win Championship

Light-Heavy Title at Stake In 15-Rounder

By MURRAY ROSE

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 16 (AP)—At the ripe old age of 36, able Archie Moore finally gets his long sought crack at the light heavyweight title tomorrow night when he clashes with champion Joey Maxim in a 15-rounder at the arena.

An 8 to 5 favorite to cash in on his first championship chance, Moore, if he wins, will become the oldest 175-pound king since Ruby Bob Fitzsimmons grabbed the crown at the age of 41.

A crowd of some 14,000 was expected by the promoting International Boxing Club to pay about $85,000. The 10 p.m. EST bout will be broadcast and telecast coast to coast by CBS. The St. Louis area will be blacked out of the telecast.

With over $60,000 in the till, a new gate receipts record for a St. Louis fight already has been set. The old record was the $56,905 paid by 11,115 fans for the Jan. 16, 1950 Willie Pep-Charley Riley featherweight title scrap.

In addition, the radio-TV sponsor was reported chipping in a minimum of $50,000 to the purse for the air rights. Maxim has been guaranteed about $75,000 for his third defense of the crown he won nearly three years ago from England's Freddie Mills. Moore is getting his chance at the title and nothing else. His end may just about cover his training expenses, but the veteran campaigner said the Toledo Negro contender's age has been hammering at the doors of champions for over five years.

The main thing is that I'm finally getting my shot. I know I can beat Maxim. I'm going to knock him out."

If he does, he will be the second man ever to turn the trick against the steel-chinned Cleveland cutey. Curtis Hatcher Sheppard bombed out Maxim in the first round in March, 1942. Maxim whipped the Hatchetman a month later. Former heavyweight champ Jim Jeffries, Jack Dempsey and Jersey Joe Walcott never floored Maxim.

The 30-year-old champion, nettled by Moore's prediction of a knockout victory, said "there's an old saying, 'string along with the champion'. Well, I'm the champ and I'll still be the champion when the fight is over."

Facts and figures on the light-heavyweight title fight tomorrow night between champion Joe Maxim and challenger Archie Moore:

Wisconsin Set to Give its Best in Rose Bowl Contest

MADISON, Wis., Dec. 16 (AP)—Wisconsin will need its best performance of the year to beat Southern California in the Rose Bowl, Coach Ivy Williamson said tonight on the eve of departure for the West Coast.

"The big question is whether we can crack the Southern Cal defense enough to do any good," said Williamson as he ran he Badgers through their last indoor drill before the squad leaves by plane tomorrow morning.

"We always have a chance, of course," he added, "but we'll have to play better than we did at any time this fall to come away with a victory."

Williamson said he saw the New Year's Day game as "a contest between our offense and the Trojans' defense, which is very good."

"I believe their offense is better than it showed at Notre Dame, too," added Williamson who, with his entire staff, scouted the 9-0 Irish victory at South Bend, Ind., Nov. 29, which snapped USC's nine-game winning streak.

The fact that Wisconsin rates a one-touchdown underdog is no surprise to Williamson.

"Our boys' mental attitude is good," he said, "but we're still some time away from the kickoff."

The Badgers will rely offensively on their basic T-formation attack which was powerful enough to win them top honors for ground gaining and a share of the Big 10 title this year, the school's first slice of the championship in 40 years. However Williamson has indicated he will make some adjustments in blocking to counteract Southern Cal's defensive patterns.

All drills on the Coast will be conducted in private, according to prior announcement. Williamson said earlier he had consulted coaches of other Big 10 teams which have made the Rose Bowl trip and that the concensus was that practice behind locked gates was the best method of preparation.

PCC Pulls Out Of Row Over Officials

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16. (AP)—The Pacific coast conference pulled out of a row over basketball officials today, announcing it will make no assignments to work games in San Francisco's Cow palace where PCC clubs are not the home team.

St. Mary's coach Red Foley had threatened to cancel Friday night's game with Southern California unless an official named by Frank McCormick, PCC supervisor of officials, was withdrawn. Foley said his own league, the California Basketball association, did not have the official in question on its approved list.

In addition, he said, St. Mary's, as the home team, was paying the officials and asked: "Why should McCormick tells us whom we should use? This is autocratic rule by one man and I'm not going to be dictated to."

PCC Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt released the following statement today:

"Due to a misunderstanding of the situation in which conference teams play in the San Francisco Cow palace as the visiting team, this office has withdrawn from the assignment of officials for these games and is asking the conference schools involved to make their agreement directly with the teams they are playing concerning the appointment of game officials.

Officials for Cow palace games in which PCC teams compete have up to this time always been assigned by the PCC office with agreement by everyone, even when another school was designated the home team. It was the understanding that this was to be continued this year upon our notification to the president of the northern California officials group of the officials selected. We followed this procedure.

However, there now appears to be some misunderstanding about this arrangement. Therefore in all Cow palace games in which conference schools are not home teams and in which game contracts do not require conference officials, all appointments made by this office will be cancelled."

San Diego Bows To Wildcats 68-64

TUCSON, Ariz., Dec. 16 (AP)—The University of Arizona held off a rallying San Diego State basketball team in the final minutes tonight to edge the visiting Aztecs 68-64.

Arizona led from the opening basket, but San Diego tied the count on three different occasions. With seven minutes left to play Arizona's Wildcats were 13 points to the good.

Then, in a closing rush, San Diego almost pulled into a tie in the final seconds, only to fade just before the final gun.

Arizona led at the half, 38-28.

The game was marred by a maze of personal fouls. San Diego committed 33, Arizona 25. Arizona's Bill Kemmeries was high man with 25 points.

Mariano Jesus Cuaso says that "while words of truth and food packages were excellent weapons against an active, lying, rabble-rousing enemy, military efforts reduced the militant aspect of the Communist movement to impotency."

Rose Bowl Sold Out for Big Game

PASADENA, Dec. 16. (AP)—The Rose bowl is "sold out" for its football titanic New Year's day between Southern California and Wisconsin.

A long queue quickly bought up the 3500 seats offered at public sale this morning. The fee was $3.50 for a end zone view of the struggle. Some of the faithful had waited in line as long as 19½ hours to purchase a pair of the precious pasteboards.

Forty four thousand other tickets go to Southern California, the Pacific coast conference representative. The rest go to Wisconsin, co-champion of the Big Ten, and the Tournament of Roses association, game and Rose parade sponsor.

Manager Named For Bakersfield Baseball Team

BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 16. (AP)—Ray Perry, former San Francisco Seals infielder, today was named manager of the Bakersfield Indians of the California league.

The 31-year-old Perry broke into professional baseball in 1940 with Salt Lake City. He played for the Seals in 1942 and 1946 and was in the navy the three years in between.

He operated and managed the Redding team of the now defunct Far West league for awhile and last year managed El Dorado of the Cotton States league. In the latter post he led the circuit with 15 home runs even though he played only half the year.

Perry will take over here March 1. He was hired by the Community Baseball Associated, which operates the club next year. A seven-year agreement with the Cleveland Indians expired this year.

Reynolds, Shantz Top Hurlers

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (AP)—Righthander Allie Reynolds of the New York Yankees and southpaw Bobby Shantz of the Philadelphia A's were the most effective American League pitchers in 1952, according to official statistics released today.

Reynolds, 33-year-old veteran of 10 major league seasons, took earned run honors with a 2.07 average. The strong arm hurler permitted only 56 earned tallies in 244 innings to compile the lowest ERA since Hal Newhouser's 1.94 in 1946.

Allie, with an identical 2.07 mark, was on top in the unofficial earned run lists computed by the Associated Press and released in October.

The Yankee ace also led the league in strikeouts with 180 and with Mike Garcia of Cleveland was the pace setter in shutouts, each with six whitewashings.

Shantz was No. 1 in games won, 24, and in winning percentage, .774. The diminutive lefty, who received the circuit's most valuable player award, only lost seven games. Bobby was third in the earned run ratings with 2.48, a shade back of Garcia's 2.37 slate.

Cleveland's Bob Lemon came away with the most complete games, 28, and the most innings pitched, 310. Lemon won 22 games.

Early Wynn, who captured 23 victories for the Indians, gave up the most bases on balls, 132, and was tagged for the most home-runs, 23.

Art Houtteman of the Detroit Tigers lost 20 games to lead in that department. The hard luck Bengal won eight games.

Behind Shantz in the earned run derby came Lemon with a 2.50 average, Joe Dobson of Chicago, 2.51, Billy Pierce, also of the White Sox, 2.58, Bob Porterfield, Washington, 2.73, Vic Raschi, New York, 2.78 and Washington's Connie Marrero, 2.89.

LaSalle Named Nation's No. 1 Basketball Team

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (AP)—LaSalle's smooth-working basketball team, currently living up to their nickname of Explorers, are the No. 1 team in the nation in the first Associated Press poll of the burgeoning cage season.

Unranked in the final poll last year—since the voting was taken before their victory in the National Invitation Tournament—LaSalle's veteran team was voted first on 26 of 104 ballots cast by sports writers and broadcasters throughout the country. On the usual basis of 10 points for first, nine for second and so on, LaSalle piled up 692 points to beat out Kansas State and Illinois for the top honors.

Kansas State, highly-esteemed in most pre-season forecasts, placed second with 552 points to 538 for the Illini.

LaSalle, with six straight victories, plays at Arizona Thursday and in San Francisco, against Santa Clara and Stanford, on Friday and Saturday.

Washington represented the Far West at the No. 9 position.

Herman-Carter Draw Proves Unpopular Go

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 16 (AP)—Freddy Babe Herman of Los Angeles fought World Lightweight Champion Jimmy Carter to an unpopular draw in a 10-round non-title fight tonight.

Referee John Bassanelli and Judge Billy Burke called the fight a draw, overruling Judge Fred Bottaro who gave the bout to Herman, a decided underdog.

The biggest Sacramento fight crowd since Joe Louis fought here in 1945 booed when Bassanelli's deciding vote was announced.

Commission Sets New Atom Tests Early in 1953

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Dec. 16 (AP)—Another atomic test series in Nevada, possibly early in 1953, was indicated today by an Atomic Energy Commission announcement.

The AEC said it was awarding the Reynolds Electrical and Engineering Company, El Paso, Tex., a contract calling for maintenance, minor construction and scientific structural services at the Nevada proving grounds beginning Jan. 1.

Under the one-year contract—with options for two one-year extensions—the Reynolds firm will maintain permanent facilities at the proving grounds and Camp Mercury where AEC personnel is housed, perform minor construction of test facilities, and provide labor, materials and equipment for erection and construction of scientific equipment and structures which must be performed during actual test periods.

While the AEC has not officially announced its next series here, America's atomic tests have followed a general fall and spring pattern in recent years. Nuclear experiments were recently completed at Eniewetok. The last tests here were conducted last spring.

The AEC said the Reynolds Company was selected over 16 others. The company did some of the preliminary work for the first Nevada tests in January, 1951, and has had contracts with the AEC since then.

On Nov. 14 the AEC awarded a contract for security services at the grounds, and on Dec. 3 a contract was let for feeding, housing and related personnel services at Camp Mercury.

Wolfpack Downs Whitworth 82-71

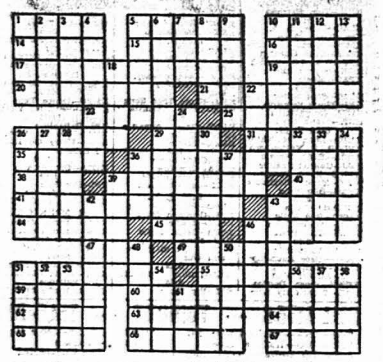

RENO, Dec. 16 (AP)—Nevada's Wolfpack outhustled favored Whitworth College of Spokane, Wash., tonight to upset the tall visitors in basketball 82-71.

Whitworth, which defeated Washington State 54-48 a week ago, seemed confounded by the aggressive Nevadans.

With a starting lineup averaging just under 6 feet 6 inches in height, Whitworth grabbed a 15-10 first quarter lead.

But the Nevadans, who averaged only an inch over 6 feet, gained backboard control, pulled into a 32-30 halftime lead, and extended it to 58-42 at the three-quarter mark.

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 16, (AP)—Cal Poly got hot in the second half tonight to down Sacramento State's basketball team 58-53.

To travelers
and stay-at-homes on Christmas

MANY PEOPLE won't be home for Christmas this year. Some people will be traveling.

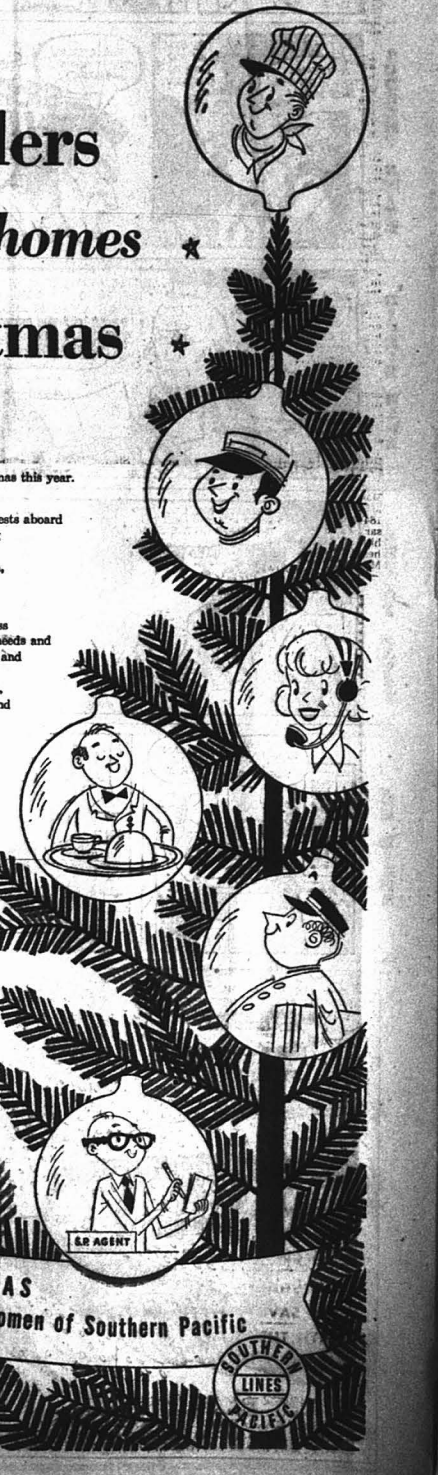

In fact, we're expecting thousands of Christmas guests aboard our trains that day—people going somewhere along the 15,000 miles of S. P. lines. They will include returning servicemen, mothers with children, businessmen, essential service workers, people making "family emergency" trips, and so on.

We of Southern Pacific know what it means to miss Christmas at home, because in serving your travel needs and your freight requirements, around the clock, day in and day out, year after year many of us cannot spend Christmas at home, either. Ours is a 24-hours-a-day, seven-days-a-week business, and on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day along our 15,000 miles of line, Southern Pacific people will be on the job at lonely outposts in the mountains and on the deserts, at busy terminals and on the trains, just as every other night and day of the year.

So when we say, "Merry Christmas!," you will understand that the words have a special significance to us.

We hope you find in dealing with us, at this and every season, that our railroad is a very human thing, built of the hearts and friendliness and aspirations of 95,000 men and women, not just steel rails and engines and cars. And we hope too, while you're enjoying Santa Claus, that you'll give a thought to our role as Santa Claus, in the steady movement of mail, express and freight at Christmas time.

To our shippers, commuters and travelers, for whom we've had the pleasure of working in 1952, and to all our friends, everywhere, we extend wishes for a merry Christmas and a happy and prosperous New Year. We pledge you continued loyal, friendly service in 1953, the kind of service which will contribute to the well being of the West and Southwest we serve.

MERRY CHRISTMAS
from the 95,000 Men and Women of Southern Pacific

IN THE DAYS OF LONG AGO

From the Files of Anaheim Gazette

By MRS. HENRY KUCHEL

25 Years Ago

Walter Neipp, the popular manager of the Safeway store at 141 W. Center st., is enjoying a short vacation at San Juan Hot springs.

Death claimed another pioneer of Northern California in the passing early Friday of Mrs. Margaret Strain, aged 76, a resident of Placentia for 44 years. Mrs. Strain was born in Ireland and came to this country in 1880. She leaves her husband, Thomas Strain and five children. They are Mrs. A. Pierotti, Mrs. Geo. Key, Miss May Stain, of Los Angeles; Mrs. Frank of Woodland and Thomas Strain, Jr., of Fresno.

50 Years Ago

Last evening the Republicans held a rally at the opera house. It was an old-fashioned rouser. Capt. M. J. Daniels of Riverside, W. W. Peck, the eloquent political orator, C. C. Chapman, and other distinguished gentlemen were present. Richard Melrose presided.

Fred Beier of Detroit, Mich., is here visiting his cousin, Oscar Renner. He will remain several weeks, viewing the sights and enjoying our climate.

75 Years Ago

In May last Mr. Bennett, engineer at A. Guy Smith & Co.'s mills had a horse saddle and bridle stolen. From a clue obtained some days ago he traced the stolen property to Riverside, San Bernardino county. It was there found in possession of the Justice of the Peace who had purchased it from a young Mexican who claimed to be the son of Pedro Lopez of Anaheim. The young man was arrested and it transpires that his name is Fredreco Franco. He will be examined in Justice Clark's office tomorrow.

Ismael Romero, the notorious horse-thief, has again turned up at Temecula, where he stole a horse and killed a man who was pursuing him.

All officers selected to fill the new quota will report in February, March or April. 1953, and will be assigned to the 3700th air force indoctrination wing, Lackland air force base, Texas.

Ten days of processing will be required at Lackland before they are ordered to their duty stations with eight weeks refresher flight training at a civilian contract school.

Officers requesting volunteer recall to active duty in the grade of lieutenant must not have reached their 30th birthday. Those being recalled in grades from captain through lieutenant colonel must not have reached their 36th birthday and must have a total of 500 hours flying time with at least 250 hours as first pilot.

GIFTS — Are Christmas gifts practical? Or are most such gifts just items bought on the spur of the moment? Someone said that 70 per cent of the pipes men smoke are bought by women as presents. Do women buy these pipes with the man's taste in mind? Or do they buy a pipe that appeals to them? Wonder if a woman ever bought a corn cob pipe for her hubby or boy friend? Wonder if a woman ever regrets that she bought hubby a pipe after he gets it broken in and smudges up the house? It isn't the gift—but the sentiment behind it, huh?

FORECAST—An Anaheim stargazer writes that big things are in the making for Anaheim and the United States in 1953. These prognosticators have done right well in the past. So has the old Gazetteer. We've given you the low down on the higher ups together with long range predictions like Clare Vah Hoorebeke's Amahi football team coming through. They did. We said Yorba Linda's Dick Nixon was No. 1 candidate for General Dwight Eisenhower's running mate. That he was. Then we said Gov. Earl Warren would have to appoint a successor to Nixon. He has, but he hasn't appointed Tommy Kuchel, yet.

He may have another good year with Oakland . . . Herb Grimm, the Anaheim egg man, is one of the most progressive poultrymen in the business. New AF Reserve Status Policy Is Announced

New criteria under which eligible air force reservists may apply for transfer from "ready" reserve status to "standby" reserve status was announced today by Maj. Gen. Alfred A. Kessler, Jr., commanding general of Fourth air force.

This new policy affects all west coast reservists residing in the Fourth air force area (Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Nevada, California and Arizona).

"The armed forces reserve act of 1952 established two major categories for reservists—'Ready' and 'standby,'" General Kessler pointed out. "Members of the 'Ready' reserve are available for active service when needed during an emergency declared by the president. Only war or congressional action would normally summon the 'standby' reservists."

There are three ways in which a reservist may become eligible for 'standby' reserve status: (1) Five years active military duty, or (2) one year of active military duty during World war II and one year of active duty since the Korean conflict began, or (3) active military and reserve training totalling five years. A reservist may count any period of reserve membership prior to July 1949 as inactive reserve training to establish eligibility.

Ralph Borley on Rest Furlough

WITH THE 2D INFANTRY DIVISION IN KOREA—Cpl. Ralph G. Borley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Borley, Los Alamitos, Calif., recently had an opportunity to catch up on his Christmas shopping in Japan while on a five-day rest and recuperation leave from the 2d Infantry Division in Korea.

The vacation is part of the Army's policy to give front-line soldiers respite from combat. At the same time soldiers at the "R and R" hotels have been afforded opportunities to visit the well-stocked Army stores (Post Exchanges) established for their convenience and holiday shopping. Packaging and mailing services are set up at most of these centers.

Corporal Borley, a jeep driver, joined the division last April. He entered the Army in May 1951.

HUNTER MAKES THREE MISTAKES

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—County Sheriff Dave Middlemas here took into custody a 20-year-old hunter who admitted shooting two elk intentionally before shooting himself accidentally.

The sheriff said the hunter first shot a cow elk and when he started to dress it a big bull elk came out of the woods. The hunter downed the bull, finally killing it with a shot in the head. Then the hunter admitted shooting himself when he jammed the .22 caliber pistol into a hip holster.

The seriff said he got into the case when the hunter, after medical treatment, hauled the bull away but left the cow where it was shot—undressed, a Montana game law violation.

Large Crowd Attends Community Christmas Program in City Park

With between 600 and 700 persons looking on last night two Anaheim children were awarded a radio each as the climax of the Community Christmas program being put on each night under the sponsorship of the retail divisions of the chamber of commerce.

Fred Stowe, a third grader, and Nancy Lillywhite, a second grader, both of Horace Mann school, were presented the radios, furnished by McMahan's furniture store and Elder's furniture store, by Santa Claus. Their ticket stubs were drawn from a box containing stubs from each of the 250 children who attended last night.

Another drawing will be held tonight, weather permitting. Chairman Al LaMont said last night that the program will be postponed if rainy weather sets in. The nightly shows would begin again as soon as the weather cleared.

Under the direction of Sheldon Disrud, the a cappella choir of Anaheim union high school presented the music last night. The choir of White Temple Methodist church will present the music program at 7 p.m. tonight. Santa Claus will be there to greet the children of the fourth grades and country fifth grades.

LaMont estimated that between 600 and 700 persons, including the 250 children, attended last night's program.

Elizabeth Heuler and Jim Parsons were the lucky ticket holders at the drawing Monday night. Garey's furniture store and Langson's TV store provided the radios. The Nazarene choir presented the music.

CHRISTMAS CAME EARLY to Fred Stowe, left, and Nancy Lillywhite, both Horace Mann students, who each won a radio last night at the Community Christmas program in the Greek Theater last night. McMahan Furniture Co. and Elder's Furniture store provided the gifts, which were awarded to lucky ticket holders. (Gazette photo)

Harry Fox Returns From Eastern Trip

Harry Fox of H. R. Fox Appliance store returned Monday from a flying two-day trip to Buffalo, N.Y., where he attended the semi-annual national convention of the Baptist Life Insurance Assn. The only director of the association west of the Mississippi river, Fox made the long trip by air, both ways.

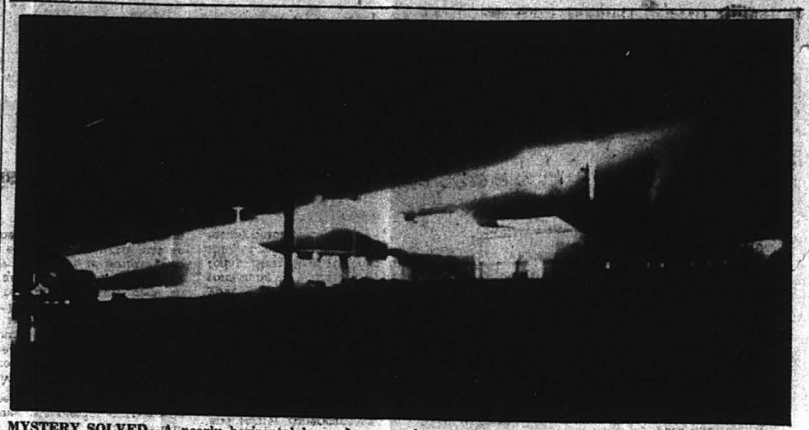

Fox reported the association, 70 years old next year, is financially one of the strongest of the fraternal insurance associations in the country. It was organized by Baptist laymen and now operates under the regular insurance laws of New York state.

For the second consecutive year, Fox reported, the West Coast has led the rest of the U.S. in sales by the association.

FREE CIVIES FOR FRENCH VETS

PARIS (AP)—Communist deputies are introducing a bill into the national assembly which would give each discharged French soldier a Sunday suit and two sets of working clothes and a pair of "best" shoes and some working boots.

French conscripts are paid about 5 American cents a day during their term of service. The Communists point out this does not permit them to save to buy clothes on their return to civilian life.

MYSTERY SOLVED—A nearly horizontal beam from a searchlight stabbing across Anaheim aroused the curiosity of a Gazette photographer, so he set about finding out why. A couple of phone calls produced an interesting, quite simple answer: Northrop Aircraft's range finder plant up on Orangethorpe ave. needed a target on which to zero in the range finders, so they trained a large searchlight on one of the chimneys in the industrial section and used that. Essex Wire Corporation's factory on Patt st. lies in the path of the beam. (Gazette photo)

The Brooklyn Dodgers averaged five runs a game last season but finished third in the National League in team batting with a .262 mark.

When Northwestern beat Illinois recently by 28-26 the Wildcats took a 22-21 lead in the football series. Three games ended in tied.

Pitcher Harry Byrd of the Athletics, American League rookie of the year, won 10 games from July 11. He finished with a 15-15 record.

SANTA, I'D LIKE—Little Grace Castro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Castro of Anaheim, has a heart-to-heart talk with Santa about her needs (and wants) for Christmas. Santa heard plenty of requests from Anaheim small fry last night at Greek Theater. (Gazette photo)

Windsors Won't Attend Queen's Coronation

CHERBOURG, France, Dec. 16. (AP)—The Duke of Windsor said tonight neither he nor his Baltimore-born duchess will attend the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II next June 2, though he probably will be in England at the time.

The Duchess of Windsor told ship news reporters aboard the Queen Mary before sailing with the duke for a four month stay in the United States that she would not accompany him if he goes to England during coronation week.

The duke is Elizabeth's uncle, the fomer King Edward VIII.

In a statement issued in Paris, he said it would be against constitutional usage "for the coronation of a king or queen of England to be attended by the sovereign or former sovereign of any state."

This position was confirmed by Buckingham palace in London. A court spokesman noted that no sovereigns attended the coronation of Elizabeth's father, George VI, and said none had been invited to see her crowned.

Britain invites foreign royalty to attend the funerals of her sovereign kings and one foreign states normally are not expected to show up for coronations. Four foreign kings one one foreign queen had places last February in the funeral procession of King George VI, also attended by the duke, his brother.

The duke's Paris statement said: "The Duchess of Windsor and I will not be present at the Westminister Abbey on June 2, 1953, because it would not be in accordance with constitutional usage for the coronation of a king or queen of England to be attended by the sovereign or former sovereign of any state."

The duke gave up the British throne in 1936 to marry "the woman I love," the twice-divorced Wallis Warfield Simpson, against the advice of his family and his prime minister, Stanley Baldwin. The duties and burdens of the throne shifted to his brother, George VI. Upon George's death last February, they fell upon Elizabeth.

British court circles expressed belief last month that Elizabeth might invite the duke and kuchess to the coronation to complete the duke's reconciliation with all members of the royal family. Parisian friends of the couple also considered such a move possible.

Helicopters Remove 39 Seaman From Wrecked Navy Supply Ship

LEGHORN, Italy, Dec. 16. (AP)—Four U. S. navy helicopters starred today in the last act of a drama of the sea, removing the last of 39 crewmen of a broken, storm-swept U. S. supply ship to safety after 36 tense hours of rescue operations.

The helicopters snatched the final 13 of the crewmen from the wave lashed decks of the Grommet Reefer and flew them to shore. Breeches-buoy and small boat operations earlier had rescued 23 of their fellow sailors and three others swam ashore.

True to the tradition of the sea, the last to leave the 3800 - ton navy refrigerator ship was her skipper Capt. Henry P. Saukant of Brooklyn. A helicopter set him down in safety just 36 hours after the ship, battered by gusts of wind up to 110 miles an hour, crashed on the rocks in Leghorn harbor and broke in two.

The 39 crew members, all civilians, were in good health. Fervently muttering prayers of thanks, they took hot baths and tumbled into beds in the U. S. army hospital here to rest. Some were treated for exposure effects.

The Grommet Reefer, carrying 176 tons of Christmas foodstuffs to U. S. servicemen in Europe, hit the rocks at 2 a.m. Monday. As the vessel broke in half the crew then hastened to the stern and huddled there.

American and Italian sailors on shore, with the help of the Grommet Reefer's crew, rigged a breeches buoy and hauled three men to safety in its canvas sling before the buoy's cable snapped.

For eight hours the rescuers labored desperately to replace the cable. Thereafter the group of about 50 American soldiers and sailors began hauling men ashore at the rate of about one every 10 minutes.

The breeches buoy operation accounted for 16 of the crewmen. Seven others had slipped down the side of the ship on a rope last night, and were picked up by a small Italian navy boat in the early morning.

LA Men Indicted On Charges of Election Fraud

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16 (AP)—Todd Faulkner, Sr., and Deputy Registrar of Voters Royce J. Bushong were indicted today by the Los Angeles County Grand Jury on charges of conspiring to violate the state election code.

The grand jury heard 20 witnesses, including Benjamin S. Hite, county registrar of voters, testify to apparent discrepancies in the voter lists in the Signal Hill area, where an anti-gambling ordinance was on the ballot last Nov. 4. A reported bogus registration of 430 names figured in the investigation.

Faulkner, known as Kid Mexico, is a bingo game operator in the Signal Hill district.

Bushong, 25, already was charged on 12 counts of falsely registering voters. He is free on $5000 bond.

Damage Suits Filed in 'Bloody Christmas Case

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16 (AP)—Suits totaling $450,754 were filed today against Chief William H. Parker and other members of the police department in connection with the so-called "bloody Christmas" beatings of prisoners last year.

One suit, brought by Daniel Rodela, 22, gas company meter reader, demanded $250,457 damages. He claims he suffered a brain hemorrhage, broken cheek bone and a crooked nose.

Rodela's brother, Elias, 21, a floor finisher, demanded $100,078. Raymond Marquez, 22, a glazier, sued for $100,122.

The county grand jury investigated the beatings and several officers were convicted and others acquitted of charges that they beat seven youths arrested for striking a police officer.
