Russians Accused Of Katyn Forest Massacre in WWII

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—A special House inquiry committee today accused Soviet Russia of perpetrating the infamous Katyn Forest massacre in World War II and urged the new 84th Congress to investigate alleged Communist atrocities in the Korean War.

The committee said the U.S. acting through the U.N., should initiate steps to have Russia arraigned before the International Court of Justice on charges of murdering 15,000 Polish Army officers and intellectuals at Katyn.

It said the Katyn espisode set the pattern for "similar atrocities" committed against American and Allied soldiers in Korea.

The House group, headed by Rep. Ray J. Madden D-Ind., made it clear it was referring to reports of Korean atrocities first published more than a year ago.

Rep. Flood D-Pa., a committee member, told newsmen the House group has turned up evidence there have been "many, many Katyns."

Three Arrested On Narcotics Rap

Three arrests of alleged narcotic addicts were made by Santa Ana police over the weekend, following a party at the home of Robert Dick Scotland, 21, 225 E. Berkeley st.

Two of Scotland's guests, Gerald James Crawford, 20, and Alvin E. Gardella, 20, were taken into custody after leaving the party. Scotland himself was later arrested, when found walking, apparently under the influence of a drug in the 700 block of E. Walnut st., Santa Ana.

Marine in Korea Granted Divorce In Absentia

Paul Mica, Jr., a Marine now fighting in Korea, has just been granted a divorce in Superior court at Santa Ana, without a fight.

The decree, granted in absentia by Superior Judge Robert Gardner, freed him from his marriage to Leah Nadine Mica, who deserted him more than a year ago, his divorce complaint stated.

The divorce suit was filed while Mica was stationed at El Toro Marine base. His wife's answer indicated that she resides in Connecticut. Supporting Mica's charges of desertion were depositions from his mother-in-law and sister-in-law.

Two Arrested in Three Santa Ana Burglary Cases

Two men, one an Orange resident, were arrested on burglary charges by Santa Ana police over the weekend, and they were searching for the perpetrator of another burglary and a fire at the home of C. Scott Lee, 1722 Bush st., where a collection of 60 silver dollars were stolen from a chest Friday evening.

The burglar set fire to a bed in the home before leaving, thus drawing attention of the fire department, which in turn called police because of suspicious circumstances indicating a burglary.

William Franklin Henderson, 21, truck driver, of 110 E. River ave., Orange, was arrested in a cafe at Chestnut and Main streets, Santa Ana, at 5:30 a.m. Sunday, and police said he was wearing a blue shirt, one of a half-dozen he had taken from the home of Charles Mattox last Friday. A suit and top coat also was taken, it was said. Police said all of the missing clothing was found in Henderson's home—and on his back.

Henderson assertedly told police he had attended a party at the Mattox home Friday and learned that Mattox was leaving for San Diego. So Henderson returned after the party and took the clothing.

Michael Jankowski, Jr., 23, of Visalia and Santa Ana, was arrested on a charge of stealing golf clubs and a camera from the home of Henry A. Edwards, 1417 N. Garnsey, Santa Ana.

Officers observed Jankowski looking through the window of the union bus depot, where his wife is employed. They apprehended him at Fourth and Bush streets, and when they asked for his identification papers, he fled. They caught him at Fourth and Main streets.

Interpreter Given Additional Leave

Charles C. Carrillo, official interpreter for Superior Court, who has been away on leave since last Oct. 1, has obtained an extension of his leave to next Oct. 1. He had planned to return to duty next Feb. 1, but told the supervisors that he has unfinished business in attending to his holdings in Mexico and elsewhere.

SENATORIAL FAMILY

By MORRIE LANDSBERG

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 22 (AP)—State Controller Thomas H. Kuchel, 42-year-old Republican go-getter, was named by Gov. Warren today to Vice president-elect Richard M. Nixon's seat in the U. S. Senate. Kuchel—it's pronounced "Kee-Kul"—pledged right away to get behind President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower and the new Republican administration "in the fulfillment of their pledges to the American people."

In a speech before the Republican state convention in August, he praised Eisenhower as "soldier, statesman and patriot, politically unfettered and free." He was a pre-convention Warren-for-President booster.

The Republican governor picked one of his legislative supporters, Assemblyman Robert C. Kirkwood, (R-Saratoga), a lawyer-farmer, to take over Kuchel's $12,000 a year job—it goes up to $16,000 next fall—as the state's chief disbursing officer and auditor. Kuchel will receive $12,000 a year salary as a senator.

In Washington, Nixon, two years Kuchel's junior, spoke of the appointment as "outstanding." He sent in his resignation as far back as Nov. 9 and Kuchel told a reporter that the long wait had cost him a nervous stomach.

"I probably looked like I'm biting nails," he remarked to Warren after finishing his acceptance statement for newsreel and television cameras and for radio broadcast. Warren made his announcement to newsmen first, then went through it again an hour later for the cameras and radio.

Kuchel's appointment not only helps maintain the new GOP majority in the senate but will give the Republicans a head start for the 1954 campaign when the senate seat will be up for election. If he wins, he'll have to run again in 1956 for a full six-year term.

The slender, dark haired new senator, who was Republican state chairman at 30, is a proven vote-getter. He has become known to California throngh seven years as a controller. He polled close to a million votes in 1950.

As a state assemblyman and senator, Kuchel generally voted with the conservatives. He changed his views somewhat after Warren first appointed him controller in 1946, and proceeded to win both Republican and Democratic nominations in the primaries. Associates now call him a middle-of-the-road Republican.

Kuchel accepted the appointment "with a sense of honor and of duty." He plans to leave for Washington shortly. He will gain seniority over newly elected members of being sworn in before congress meets Jan. 3. Nixon's resignation as senator is effective Jan. 1.

Both of California's Republican senators now owe their place to the 62-year-old governor. Sen. William F. Knowland of Oakland, just reelected for six more years, was named by Warren in 1945 to replace the late Sen. Hiram W. Johnson. Both are World war II veterans—Knowland was an army major and Kuchel a navy lieutenant. And both are members of prominent California publishing families.

Knowland is assistant publisher of the Oakland Tribune. Kuchel's father owned and edited the Anaheim Gazette 48 years. His brother, Theodore B. Kuchel, is president of the newspaper.

Warren said in a press statement that the appointment will give balanced representation to the state in view of the fact that Knowland lives in northern California and Kuchel comes from Southern California. Nixon is from Whittier, in Southern California.

"State Controller Kuchel has all the qualifications to become an outstanding senator," the governor said.

"He combines youth with a long and honorable career in various capacities of public service, including military service in World war II . . .

"I think Sen. Kuchel and Sen. Knowland will make a fine team for California.

Kuchel said he will "endeavor, as best as I can to assist President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower and the new Republican administration in the fulfillment of their pledges to the American people.

"I look forward to the opportunity of working in cooperation with California's able senior senator, William F. Knowland, and with the members of the state's congressional delegation, in the proper representation of our great and growing state.

"For almost seven years as controller, I have given the best that is in me to the people of my native state. And now as the junior senator from California, I shall continue to serve the people with the best that I have. That is my prayer and my pledge."

Meany Approves T-H Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new head of the American Federation of Labor says the AFL, which long has demanded repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act, is now willing to settle for satisfactory amendments to the labor law.

THOMAS H. KUCHEL
(Named to Succeed Nixon)

Newly-Appointed Senator 'Tommy' Kuchel is Son of Pioneer Family

The new US Senator from California, Thomas H. Kuchel, is a true son of Anaheim and Orange county. His paternal grandfather, Conrad C. Kuchel, came to Anaheim in 1859 as one of the first families with the new senator's father a babe in arms.

His maternal grandfather, Dr. George H. Bailey, came to Anaheim with his family from Texas in the Butterfield Stage Co. in the 1860's.

His father, the late Henry Kuchel, carried the first copies of the Anaheim Gazette around the town in 1870. In 1875 his uncle, the late Richard Melrose, also a former member of the California Legislature, bought the Gazette and operated it until 1887, when Henry Kuchel and his brother, Charles, purchased the newspaper from Melrose. Henry Kuchel bought out his brother in 1900 and it has remained in the family ever since.

"Tommy" Kuchel attended Anaheim Elementary schools and Anaheim Union High school. In his senior year at AUHS he was student body president. He then attended SC, graduating from the Liberal Arts college in 1932 and from the SC Law school in 1935.

He was elected to the California Assembly in 1936, reelected in 1938. In 1940 he was elected to the California State Senate and reelected, in absentia, while in the Navy, four years later. In 1946 he was appointed by Governor Warren to the post of State Controller, made vacant by the death of Harry Riley. He was elected to the Controller's office in 1946 and reelected in 1950.

In 1942 he married the former Betty Mellenthin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Mellenthin, then a prominent Santa Ana banker, now retired and living in Arcadia. They have one five year-old daughter, Karen.

Mrs. Henry Kuchel was in Sacramento for the appointment of her son and will return here in the next few days.

Medic Claims First Kuchel Handshake

Dr. Herbert E. Johnston, former Anaheim physician, now in retirement in Fullerton, was one of the first Orange countians to call Gazette President Theodore B. Kuchel to congratulate him on the appointment of his brother, Thomas H. Kuchel, to succeed Richard Nixon as junior Senator from California.

"It's fitting I should be one of the first to congratulate him," the doctor said, "since Mrs. Henry Kuchel, (his mother) and I were the first to shake hands with the new Senator."

Dr. Johnston was the physician who attended at the birth of the newly-appointed Senator.

Chaplin Welcomed To Rome in Style With Vegetables

The missiles flew out of a crowd of about 100 persons who lined the street in front of the Palazzo Sistina for the premier.

Most of them cheered and applauded as the gray-haired actor stepped from his car in front of the brilliantly-lighted theater. But as he waved and smiled apples, oranges, broccoli and cabbages flew out of the crowd.

Chaplin was struck several times in the body, but continued to smile and walked on into the theater.

The fruit and vegetable barrage was the first incident to mar the British-born actor's visit here. He came by air from Geneva Friday and until tonight had met nothing but cheers wherever he went.

Weather

Southern California — Mostly clear except local fog near coast early Wednesday morning; slightly warmer this afternoon; locally windy over mountain ridges and through passes.

The Promise of a Tomorrow

By REV. AL CASEBEER
CHRISTIAN CHURCH

"Our world is in deadly peril; we have lost the promise of tomorrow." (Dorothy Van Doren). In the Christmas Gospel that promise may be rediscovered. The shepherds who were tending their flocks on the hills of Bethlehem were living under the heavy threat of Roman tyranny. Nothing seemed to portend for their world a day of freedom, peace, and security. Yet out of the winter sky came the song of a promised springtime: "Fear not; tidings of great joy"—"a Saviour born"—"peace and good will toward men." God guarantees to us as He did to those shepherds that there shall be a tomorrow when peace and goodwill shall triumph.

Eisenhower Says Spiritual Conviction Necessary

IKE GREETS VICTIM OF REDS

New York — President-elect Dwight Eisenhower shakes hands with Robert Vogeler, American businessman who was held prisoner by the Hungarians on espionage charges, as they meet after Ike's speech at the Freedoms Foundation here. Mrs. Vogeler adds her big smile to those of Ike and her husband. Eisenhower told the board of directors of Freedoms Foundation that the "great struggle of our time is the one of spirit—for the hearts and souls of men." (AP Wirephoto)

President-Elect Addresses Freedom Foundation Award Meeting in N.Y.

By ARTHUR EVERETT

NEW YORK, Dec. 22 (AP)—President-elect Eisenhower said today if America is to be strong, "We must be strong first in our spiritual convictions."

"And those convictions must be those that appeal to men," he added as he discussed American-Soviet frictions in an address to the Freedoms Foundation.

"If we are going to win this fight," the general declared, "we are going to have to go back to the fundamentals. If we can be strong enough to sell ourselves this idea at home we can win this ideological war."

The foundation is dedicated to selling the American way of life. It annually makes awards for outstanding achievements in the field of Americanism.

During the day, Eisenhower also impressed a business man with his knowledge of international trade problems, and talked over segregation with a group of Negro clergymen.

Eisenhower was quoted as telling the clergymen he wants to find out through a commission of his own what treatment minority groups get "in hotels, jobs, restaurants and so forth."

At the Freedoms Foundation annual meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, Eisenhower told the group:

"It is my conviction that the great struggle of our times is one of spirit. It is a struggle for the hearts and souls of men—not merely for property, or even merely for power.

"It is a contest for the beliefs, the convictions, the very innermost soul of the human being."

The president-elect recalled from World war II days, his friendship with Marshall Georgi K. Zhukov of the Russian army. Eisenhower said the friendship probably brought Zhukov into eventual disgrace in Russia.

Eisenhower said he tried to get across to the Russian the American theory that, "All men are created free and equal." But he added:

"I was quite certain it was hopeless on my part to talk to him about the fact that our form of government has no sense unless it is founded in a deeply felt religious faith . . . So what was the use of me talking to Zhukov about that? Religion, he had been taught, was the opiate of the people.

Marshal Zhukov, considered one of the Soviet Union's best soldiers went into eclipse after the war, presumably because of his extraordinary popularity. However, on Oct. 15, this year, he was elected an alternate member of the new central committee of the Communist party.

The Negro delegation that saw Eisenhower belonged to the National Fraternal Council of Churches in Washington, D. C. It represents 13 denominations ministering to more than seven million Negroes.

Dr. W. H. Jernagin, spokesman for the group, said Eisenhower "expressed amazement" that Negroes were barred from certain American hotels.

He told the clergymen, Jernagin added, that he wants to appoint a commission to get him all the facts on the treatment of American minorities.

At his Commodore hotel headquarters, Eisenhower conferred with two business men, George A. Sloan, chairman of the U. S. Council of the International Chamber of Commerce, and the chairman-elect who will succeed him, Warren Lee Pierson, chairman of Trans World Airlines.

Sloan, a textile industrialist, said they talked problems of international trade and added:

"Certainly no one in this country has a better grasp of this matter and more comprehensive knowledge of the problem."

He attribtued this to Eisenhower's service as miltiary commander of the North Atlantic Pact forces in western Europe.

"He had to understand them to do his job," Sloan said.

Postal Workers To Get Extra Holiday Dec. 26

Anaheim's Post Office workers will get a two-day holiday for Christmas this year, thanks to an order by President Truman, Postmaster Louis Hoskins said yesterday.

On that day there will be no rural delivery, but the post office will be open for business as usual and there will be regular delivery within the city.

On Christmas day, the office will be closed to allow the employees to spend the holiday with their families. Neither city nor rural deliveries will be made Dec. 25.

Hoskins reported that at the close of business Dec. 19, the local office had receipts of $223,976.33, a gain of $32,042.22 over the same period of 1951, a gain of about 17 per cent.

During the first 19 days of this month, the post office had taken in 18,396 packages for the outgoing mail. No record is kept for incoming packages.

Dec. 18 was the biggest day for outgoing letters and Christmas cards, 101,640 being cancelled and sent out.

Gas Line Break Threatens Heatless Christmas for 80,000 Missourians

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — A pre-Christmas chill enveloped this Northwest Missouri city—and for some of its 80,000 residents there may be at least three more shivering days ahead.

It was brought about by a break in a natural gas supply line.

The break Saturday shut off the entire city's gas supply. That affected about 14,000 out of the 25,000 homes, plus 1500 businesses.

And brother, the temperatures have been plenty chilly—below freezing most of the time. Today the city got sleet and snow, further handicapping the gas company's effort to restore service.

It took only a few hours to repair the break, but here's the rub:

Every meter in the city must be turned off manually before gas can be sent flowing through the lines again. Then every meter has to be turned on again. As a safety measure, the gas company has its own employees or plumbers doing the meter job rather than leaving it to the home owners.

Although gas was back in about 100 homes last night, a company official said the full supply may not be restored for the entire city until at least Christmas.

Those whose houses were heated with gas either bundled up in heavy clothing or moved in with friends having oil or coal heating equipment.

You could hardly find an electrical heating appliance in any of the stores. There was a run on them shortly after the break.

One man borrowed a plumber's furnace which burns gasoline and is used to heat lead. He set it up in his living room and found he could keep two rooms warm.

Another man with memories of the old open charcoal braziers filled a dishpan with charcoal and set it afire. But he had forgotten about a flue. And his house filled with gaseous fumes.

To prevent freezing of pipes, some persons let water run continuously from their faucets.

The fire department answered several alarms at houses where fireplaces or temporary heating devices got out of hand.

Educators Seek Additional Funds For Special Department Services

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — With the ink barely dry on Proposition No. 2, the measure which will increase the state allotment to schools from 70 to a possible 130 millions dollars a year, California educators already are figuring out ways and means to take even more money out of the taxpayers' pockets.

This was apparent in a meeting called by Dr. Roy E. Simpson, state superintendent of public instruction, for the purpose of determing whether or not the department of education should ask the legislature at the 1953 session for additional appropriations to take care of certain special services furnished by the department.

Attending the meeting were Dr. Arthur Corey, the California Teacher Association chief, his lieutenant, Robert McKay. Speaking on the subject, Corey, who headed the drive which resulted in passage of No. 2 last November, said his organization had no intention of asking the 1953 legislature for additional school apportionments "at the 1953 session."

Corey said after the meeting that his views on more money were limited strictly to the 1953 session. Asked during the meeting if he would oppose any request for additional funds during the session, Corey said he would not oppose any such request.

It could be taken from this attitude that Corey's experience as a top-flight lobbyist stands him well in hand, for the state legislators have little if any inclination to consider a request for more school money in the face of the vote on Proposition 2, which many of them opposed as being unnecessary.

Should a request go to the legislature for additional funds, over and above the new maximum $180 average daily attendance allocation, the request will be opposed by the California Farm Bureau Federation, according to George Wilson, president of that organization.

Wilson spoke at the meeting, and told the educators the Farm Bureau felt the $180 allotment is sufficient to support education for a long time to come. He said he was not aware during the campaign on Proposition 2, that the schools would need or could use the maximum amount, let alone, request additional sums for special programs from the state legislature.

The Farm Bureau Federation was one of the few organizations which opposed Proposition No. 2 publicly.

Simpson indicated during the campaign that he believed that not only should the additional average daily attendance money be voted, but that the legislature should maintain the special programs, which include special services for handicapped youngsters, as additional services. These services are being carried on at the present time with partial financing from state funds, appropriated over and above the maximum provided in the constitution.

Old Court Records To be Destroyed Before Mergers

Orange county justice courts and city courts to be eliminated as the lower court system is consolidated into two new municipal court and three justice court districts will not wait for spring housecleaning time to tidy up for moving day.

They will dump out all records more than seven years old, by ruling of County Counsel Joel Ogle, as they prepare for the big merger. Anaheim justice court and city courts are among the 13 city courts and eight justice courts that will go out of existence next month.

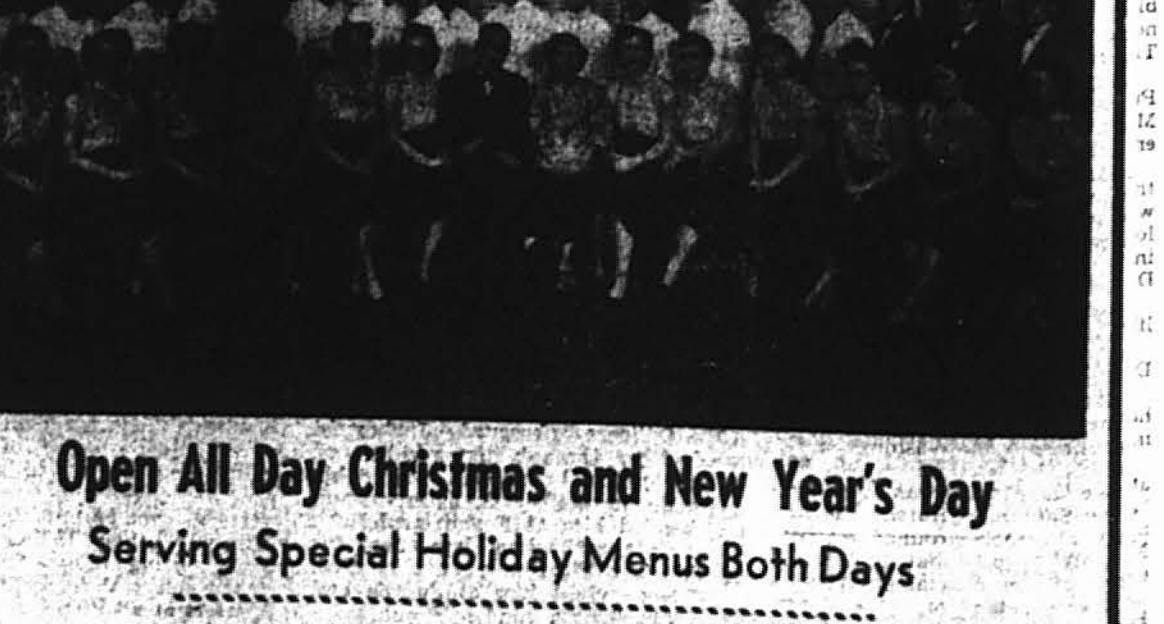

Records of civil cases can be desroyed seven years after judgments are entered, and a complaint can be destroyed in five years, if not prosecuted, Ogle ruled. But no minute book entries, dockets, or judgment dockets can be destroyed, he said.

County M-1 Zone Hearing Slated

The acreage, including the site of the projected plant of Beckman Instruments, to be moved from South Pasadena, will be rezoned to light industry, it is planned. Presently it is zoned for agricultural and business purposes.

Safety Tips For Christmas Bike Owners

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE

Five million boys and girls will ask Santa for a new bike for Christmas, predicts the Bicycle Information Bureau. Grandpa and Grandma will play the biggest Santa roles. Of course, there will be many a parent, too, anxious to please Junior with the bike of his choice.

Bicycles this year, says the Bureau, will be light in weight, with gear shifts for those who live in hilly country and for those who take long bike hikes. There will be a folding bicycle that can be stored in a closet or in the back of a car.

The 1953 models are streamlined and colorful, and come in a variety of styles and sizes. The tires on these bikes are designed like automobile tires with inner tubes and outer casings made to run four or five thousands miles, and resistant to blowouts.

There is usually one point on which Santas fall down in buying a bike, however, according to the Bureau: they fall usually to get the right size for the right age. Definite sizes have been established for the various age groups and if you know the age of the child, it should be easy to select the right wheel for him. For the 4-and-5-year-olds a 16-inch diameter wheel is just right. The 6-and-7-year-olds will need a 20-inch wheel while boys and girls from eight to 10 will be comfortable on a 24-inch wheel. Those over 11 should have a 26-inch adult bicycle. All bikes have adjustable seats and handlebars to allow for growing and developing within respective age limits.

For those learning to ride in the four and six year age group there are supplementary learner's or outrigger wheels that can attach to the bike and keep it steady while the youngster gets the "feel" of riding. Once he has learned the simple technique the outrigger wheels can be discarded or saved for little brother or sister.

Many parents fear for the safety of their children while riding bikes. But, according to the National Safety Council, American bikes and bicyclists are the safest in the world. In fact, the youngsters have chalked up the only accident record we Americans can be proud of. In the past 10 years, the Council tells us, serious bicycle accidents have decreased 50 per cent. In 1951 alone, there was a 10 per cent reduction in such accidents over 1950 in the face of a rapidly increasing bicycle population which today numbers over 21,000,000.

Right now there are more than a million kids pedaling back and forth from school every day. Thousands of them are in the five and six year old group who are going to school for the first time.

According to the Council, child guidance counsellors are pretty much in agreement that the earlier a youngster begins to ride the earlier he gains a sense of responsibility and begins to grow up.

They stress that parents should cooperate with their P-TAs and schools in getting their children to learn by heart these rules:

1. Be alert at all times.
2. Observe all traffic regulations—they are for your safety.
3. Keep well to the right of the road at all times.
4. Have a horn or bell or other warning device.
5. Give pedestrians the right of way.
6. Watch out for cars pulling out of traffic and for parked cars with doors open.
7. Don't hitch onto autos or other vehicles to save a little pedal pushing.
8. Stop at intersections and walk your bike across if there is traffic.
9. Use hand signals.
10. Don't show off on your bike.

Good Grade Meat Gives Housewife Best Buys Now

A bountiful supply of good grade beef now is available and is selling at wholesale at about 12 to 15 cents below ceiling prices, the American Meat institute announced today.

"Here is an opportunity," the institute said in a statement, "for beef hungry consumers to obtain excellent buys in fine beef. Incidentally, good grade beef is selling at wholesale for around 10 cents a pound below the price of choice grade beef, but there's little difference in the eating qualities and desirability from the consumer's point of view between the two grades. Most good beef comes from grain fed animals and consumers can get it, and the advantage from a price viewpoint, if they will ask their retailers for it.

"Illustrative is the fact that—largely because of supply and demand—the difference in the wholesale price of choice and good grade dressed beef last December was 1½ cents a pound, whereas the difference in the price of the two grades now approximately is 13 cents. Choice wholesale beef has declined 4 per cent since last October and 10 per cent from a year ago. However, good grade beef has declined 17 per cent since last October and more than 30 per cent from the price of a year ago."

SICK CALL.

The hospital is no place to spend Christmas. Yet this Dec. 25 will find between five and six hundred men, women, and children celebrating the holiday season from beds at the Orange county hospital.

According to Mrs. Frances Scott, Supervisor of Social Welfare at the hospital, the picture is not quite as bleak as it sounds thanks to many, many warm hearted residents of Anaheim and other nearoy communities, and the many service organizations which have made the hospital their special project for Christmas.

Several Gifts

Hospital staff and patients alike have been overwhelmed by the thoughtfulnes and generosity showered upon the needy this Christmas season. Each patient will have not one but several gifts. Each ward will have a brightly lighted tree. Beautiful hand made layettes are on hand for each new baby, as well as attractive pajamas for the older children and adults.

For a good many years, a group of Anaheim women have attended the special needs of patients in the T. B. Pavillion—visiting, writing letters, baking birthday cakes. The ladies of St. Boniface church send home-made cookies once a month throughout the year. A local homemaker has taken time out from an already full schedule to make dolls to gladden the hearts of at least five sick youngsters on Christmas morning.

Those of you who have donated old playing cards may be surprised to learn that some of these are cut into strips to be woven into baskets as part of the physical therapy or arts and crafts program.

Arts and Crafts

Actually, as far as Mrs. Scott can foresee now, every special Christmas need at the hospital has been met with the exception of the arts and crafts department. Donations of money to be used in buying supplies will be appreciated. For a list of specific art materials needed, contact Mrs. Harnois by calling the hospital at Orange 80.

News flash: Just as we went to press, Mrs. Harnois called to say that there have been several new admissions at the T.B. Pavillion and the following items are urgently needed: 2 silk head scarfs, 1 pair medium-size men's pajamas, water colors and paper for a young boy, materials for leather tooling work. There is a need for any sort of a Christmas present for men and for women who wear small sizes. Do not send handkerchiefs, tooth powder or washcloths. Gift wrap other items and direct them to Mrs. Harnois at the T.B. Pavillion. Mark contents on the outside of package to facilitate distribution.

Christmas Salads

Christmas is the season in which to try new ideas to help portray the yuletide spirit. There are many elaborate food preparations that can be made, but since time is at a premium at Christmas, we know you will like these ideas for quickly prepared salads.

Tomato Aspic Trees

Empty tomato aspic from a can or make your own. Melt over hot water or very low flame. When melted, pour into cone shaped paper cups which are standing upright in a small glass. Place in refrigerator until rejelled. Peel paper cup away from aspic taking care not to break the mold. Serve on lettuce leaf and garnish as desired.

Salad Wreaths

Spread cream cheese which has been thinned with cream over a slice of pineapple. Sprinkle chopped parsley over the cheese. Form a bow of pimiento and place on the wreath.

Pour tomato aspic into the bottom of an individual ring mold, enough to generously cover the bottom. When partially thickened, spread cream cheese thinned with cream over the aspic. Place pineapple slice over cream cheese and place mold in refrigerator until set. Unmold onto salad greens.

Applesauce Meld

1 package orange flavored gelatin
1½ cups sweetened applesauce
½ cup boiling water
¼ cup cinnamon red hots

Dissolve red hots and gelatin in boiling water. Cool. Add applesauce and turn into a mold. Chill until firm. Serve on lettuce leaves garnishing as desired. Makes four medium sized individual molds.

Christmas Twin Salad

Place canned apricots halves with the bottom of individual molds. Fill with cherry or strawberry flavored gelatin. Chill until set. Place pineapple chunks in the bottom of other molds of the same size and fill with lime flavored gelatin. Chill until set.

Serve a small red and a small green salad together as one serving.

Christmas Greetings

To thank you as we'd like to do
Is far beyond our powers
For if we had no friends like you
There'd be no firm like ours

Robert Rouland Honored On Tenth Birthday

Fun and frolic of the variety known only to 10-year-old boys was the scene in the Ralph Rouland home 866 S. Philadelphia, last Saturday afternoon when five young friends of Robert Rouland's were bidden to help him celebrate his 10th birthday.

Games occupied most of the afternoon, participated in by Masters Danny Madsin, James Hall, James Hampton, Robert Moore and Billy Erskine. A typical "boy feast," a weiner luncheon was greatly enjoyed, after which Robert opened his gifts amid much hilarity.

Also attending were Robert's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Bessie Rouland, his aunt, Mildred, Mrs. Robert Schultz, sister, Doris Jean, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rouland. Mrs. J. R. Schultz, maternal grandmother, sent a gift but was unable to be present.

Birthday cake and ice cream were served as a surprise treat at the close of the afternoon.

That a Lady Can Keep Secrets Is Revealed by One Who Knows

by ADELAIDE KERR

Anybody who thinks a woman can't keep a secret should meet the wife of the next secretary of state.

A chat with Mrs. John Foster Dulles reveals that in the 39 years of their marriage she has accompanied her husband on many of his trips as a representative of Uncle Sam, as adviser at councils of foreign ministers in Europe, as delegate to U.N. assemblies, as special representative to negotiate the Japanese Peace Treaty.

She does a lot of typing for him. Priority matters? "Oh, no," says Mrs. Dulles, "just a regular weekend job."

When the Dulles are relaxing at the island camp in Lake Ontario where the future secretary of state loves to hunt and fish, they revel in doing their own cooking. Mrs. Dulles makes the desserts.

What desserts does her husband like best?

"Oh, just desserts," says Mrs. Dulles.

The Dulles family will take up headquarters in Washington this month.

"We have taken an apartment at the Shoreham Hotel," she said, "and will look around. We have no plans beyond that at present." Much of the official entertaining of the secretary of state is now done at Blair House or Anderson House.

The wife of the next secretary of state is an attractive woman with a trim figure and a fluff of silvery hair framing blue eyes. She dresses simply, often in black or navy blue, accented with pearls and a diamond brooch.

"I'm just a plain person," she said. "I love my friends, enjoy music and the theater, love to play bridge, when I have time. I used to play golf, but there has not been much time for it lately."

When John Foster Dulles and his wife were youngsters, they shared the same home town—Auburn, N. Y.—and their families were long-time friends; but they did not meet until they went to Paris. Dulles' father, a minister and professor at the Auburn Theological Seminary, was on sabbatical leave and had taken an apartment there with his family. Pretty Jane Avery was there with her mother for two years' schooling in France.

The two youngsters met at a family tea. Young Dulles, a Princeton graduate preparing for a career at the bar, did not take much notice of the pretty girl who was his mother's friend. He was pleasant, but distant.

Back to Auburn cramming for his bar exams, he suddenly saw things in a different light. His family began to be afraid he would flunk his exams. A year later, after he had passed them, he and Jane Avery were married and moved to New York. Dulles began his law practice with Sullivan and Cromwell. Three children were born—two boys and a girl.

When Mrs. Dulles takes up her duties as hostess for the secretary of state in January, she will be no stranger to Washington. The family lived there during World War I, when Dulles was a major in the Army Military Intelligence, and again during his service as an interim senator in 1949 and during part of his negotiation of the Japanese Peace Treaty.

In New York Mrs. Dulles devotes most of her time to running a town house and a country place at Cold Spring Harbor, Long Island. She has also given a lot of time to charity, including service as a governor of the nursing school of Bellevue Hospital. Another favorite activity is the National Society of Colonial Dames which buys old colonial houses in various parts of the country and restores them as shrines.

She is no espouser of the creed that woman's only place is at home.

"I'm delighted to see women in politics and in the professions," she says. "I'd like to see more women in Congress. We need more women to take an active interest in public affairs."

Here is why we have applied for a rate adjustment

... our first in 31 years

The Southern California Edison Company has applied to the California Public Utilities Commission for permission to make a general rate increase.

This increase in your electric service rates—to be the first in 31 years—will add only a little to the average domestic customer's service bill—about 25 cents a month.

Actually, your cost for Edison electric service has been going down constantly since 1921. But the burden of increasing costs of operation, construction, capital and greater tax burdens—all the effects of inflation—have made a rate change necessary so we can keep up our high standards of service and meet the requirements of both new and old customers.

Specifically, these are the principal reasons why we are making this application now:

1. Costs of everything we need have skyrocketed. Our costs of labor and materials have risen to new heights, and taxes now take 25 cents out of every dollar we receive from sales of electric service. Every item in our operating budget has soared, just as every item in your budget has soared (except electric service), making it harder to match income and outgo.

2. We must continue to build new facilities as we have been and are doing. A principal factor enabling us to avoid a rate increase until now was the refunding of a large part of our outstanding securities a few years ago, which reduced the company's interest and dividend requirements. Also, Edison's generating capacity, before the inflationary period and since power from Hoover Dam became available, together with the company's transmission and distribution capacities already built, made it possible previously to serve a large proportion of our load growth with pre-inflation built hydroelectric plants and other existing facilities. But those factors no longer have any significant effect in helping the company compensate for inflation. The ever increasing demands for electric service must be met with new facilities, constructed at inflated costs.

3. As is true with any other business, we must pay a fair rental for the use of money to buy, build and operate facilities to meet the growing demands for electric service. This means that we must offer to stock and bond holders earnings which provide reasonable returns for the use of their savings, and which will encourage them to invest in the Edison Company. There is no other way for this or any company to compete for the capital it needs.

about the increase and how it affects you:

Faced with our situation most any other business would simply increase its prices. But for the Edison Company, and other privately owned public utility companies in California, rate increases must be authorized by the California Public Utilities Commission. The Commission will hold hearings on the company's application and then determine whether the company may be granted the increase for which it has applied. Under the proposed increase, the average domestic customer would pay about 25 cents more per month for electric service.

Electric service will remain the biggest bargain in modern living.

East's Backfield Chosen For Annual Shrine Classic

Coaches for the Eastern team in the annual East-West all star football game in San Francisco, Dec. 27, apparently have decided upon their starting backfield.

The four have worked together in every practice here. Two drills were held today.

Ray Eliot of Illinois and Bernie Bierman, former Minnesota coach, are handling the backs and ends. Head coach Clarence Munn, his assistant at Michigan State, Duffy Daugherty, and Dr. Eddie Anderson, have the other linemen in charge.

Coach Munn said the players had absorbed 60 per cent of the offense which will peel off three formations, the "T", single wing and spreads.

The pass snagging ability of ends Paul Dekker, Michigan State, Harry Babcock, Georgia, Bob O'Neil, Notre Dame, and John Gurski, Navy, came in for praise.

Coach Eliot revealed the East will rely greatly on a passing attack when he told the squad:

"Remember, there are no decoys in a good pass offense. Every man is a potential receiver. We will work on this fact all week."

The first and probably only scrimmage is scheduled for Wednesday.

Mangrum Victor in Montebello Open

MONTEBELLO, Dec. 22. (AP) — Lloyd Mangrum of Los Angeles won the Montebello open golf championship today with a 207 after a deep gash in the back of his left hand.

Mangrum, the national open titleholder in 1946, was carrying a large boxful of gifts through the doorway of his daughter-in-law's home when he scraped the hand against the doorway, gouging a deep furrow in it. The injury was so painful he had to change from an inter-locking to an overlapping grip from baseball style to cross handed style, but he still shot the last nine holes in 33.

His performance gave him a 69 during the day, three under par.

Three ex-West Virginia Mountaineers are playing in the National Football League. They are Max Baumgardner, Tom Keane and Dave Stephenson.

Harland Carl Badger's First Practice Casualty as Southern Cal and Wisconsin Prepare for Rose Bowl

PASADENA, Dec. 22. (AP)—Wisconsin's left halfback, Harland Carl, became the Badger's first Rose bowl practice casualty today as he twisted his knee and fell heavily when he cut back to catch a forward pass.

He was able to walk off the field, but x-rays will be taken tomorrow to determine the extent of the injury.

Carl, probably the fastest man on Wisconsin's squad, which plays Southern California here Jan. 1, has been plagued by the injury jinx throughout his collegiate career. A broken hand sidelined him two years ago, a leg injury hobbled him in 1951 and he missed three full games and parts of two others this season after receiving a head injury.

Carl was emulating a Southern California player for the Wisconsin defensive platoon when he was hurt.

Wisconsin's trainer said tonight they did not believe Carl's injury would keep him out of action New Year's day, but the diagnosis must await x-rays.

The Rose bowl football coaches, Ivy Williamson of Wisconsin and Jess Hill of Southern California, expressed mutual respect for the other's team's play today and then hurried away to conduct further conditioning programs.

The two spoke briefly before a jammed session of the Southern California Football Writers' chapter at a luncheon in Los Angeles sponsored by President Bill Nicholas and the Pasadena Tournament of Roses.

Williamson predicted that if today's bright weather continues, the Badgers figure to go into the New Year's day in perhaps the best shape of the season.

Wisconsin definitely knows it has a huge task ahead, Williamson said.

Hill, in humorous fashion, said the coast conference teams "have been more than hospitable" to the Big Ten representatives in the past six Rose bowl games. "Specially, this is all right," Hill said, adding "the policy must be terminated in the coming game itself.

"We are looking forward to meeting this fine Wisconsin team. We respect it very highly," the Trojan coach declared.

The coaches agreed they hope Jan. 1 will be bright and the footing firm.

Similar expressions of regard came from Commissioners K. L. Tug Wilson of the Big Ten and Victor O. Schmidt of the coast loop.

Twenty-four colleges are represented on the football roster of the Detroit Lions.

Newly-Crowned Moore Said Ready To Give Turpin Chance at Title

NEW YORK, Dec. 22. (AP)—Archie Moore's manager today officially notified the state athletic commission that the newly crowned light-heavyweight champion is ready to defend his title against Randy Turpin if the British boxer wants a shot.

Manager Charley Johnston told Bob Christenberry, chairman of the commission, that Moore is willing to meet Turpin in New York next summer or sooner.

Turpin, former middleweight champion, indicated last week however, that he planned to go after Ray Robinson's abdicated middleweight title.

"I've asked Jim Norris president of the International Boxing, to stage a return bout with Joey Maxim as soon as possible within 90 days," said Johnston.

"If Maxim indicates that he doesn't want the return, or if he wants too much time, he'll have to wait until Moore fights Turpin. Moore is going to be a fighting champion and he doesn't want to lay off waiting for some one to make up his mind."

Markson then cabled Lew Burston, the IBC's foreign representative who is in Paris, to contact George Middleton, Turpin's manager.

'Grand Old Man' Of Baseball Has 90th Birthday

FORT MEYERS, Fla., Dec. 22 (AP)—Connie Mack, the grand old man of baseball, today celebrated his 90th birthday and passed along this tip for old age—don't worry.

"There's not a worry in the world worth worrying about," he said. "That helped me live longer than anything else I know."

The retired Philadelphia Athletics chieftain celebrated his birthday today instead of Dec. 23 as in years past.

His elder brother, Michael, always insisted Connie was born on Dec. 22. Two years ago, A. West Spencer, Mass. check of birth records revealed Cornelius McGillicuddy Connie Mack was born about midnight Dec. 22.

Mack beamed over the flowers he received from Will Harridge, president of the American league.

Mack reported he suffered a slight injury a few days ago in St. Petersburg. He tried to move a chair which was too heavy and slipped.

Mack will spend a few days longer here, then return to St. Petersburg. He will go to West Palm Beach in late February to be on hand when the A's come down for spring training.

Trojan Peagreens Beat S.A. Marines

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 22. (AP)—Jack Dunne, 18-year-old University of Southern California freshman, was the whole show today as the Trojan Peagreens thumped the Santa Ana Marines in basketball, 87-57.

Dunne scored 19 of his team's 36 field goals and 13 of its 15 free throws for a total of 51 points. It was the sixth straight win for the freshmen.

Dunne entered USC from Loyola high school.

Miceli Loses to Turner by TKO In Sixth Round

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 22 (AP)—Gil Turner unleashed a smashing two-fisted attack to score a technical knockout over New York's Joe Miceli tonight in 58 seconds of the sixth round. Turner weighed 149½ and Miceli 146½ for the scheduled 10-round welterweight scrap.

Referee Pete Tomasco stopped the uneven fight despite the vociferous objections of a thoroughly angered Miceli. The New York welter wanted to continue and danced around the ring to show that he still was full of fight. He was bleeding slightly under the left eye and had taken tremendous body punishment from the heavier Philadelphia Negro.

Turner ended a two-bout losing streak and gained his 32nd win in a 34 fight career.

The 22-year-old Turner looked strong as he weathered a first round beating to come back and take control for the balance of the fight.

Miceli, a soldier stationed at Camp Kilmer, N.J., came out fast at the start of the fight and for a round at least had the 5401 fans—they paid $26,743—standing and roaring with approval of his fearless, hard punching attack on the solid 3-1 favorite. He hurt Turner in that first round, but Gil weathered the onslaught and came back savagely.

Thoroughbred Sold For Forty Thousand

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 22 (AP) — Country Coz, a Kentucky Derby hopeful, was sold today for a reported $40,000 by Miami Attorney Dan Chappell and left later in the day by train for California.

The promising 2-year-old was purchased by the Silver Creek Ranch of Tuscarora, Nev., and has been nominated for both the $100,000 Santa Anita Derby and Hialeah's $100,000 Flamingo Stakes.

Favored Cartier Held to Bloody Dray by Langlois

BROOKLYN, Dec. 22 (AP) — Walter Cartier, New York, and Pierre Langlois of France battled to a bloody 10-round draw tonight at the Eastern Parkway Arena in a bout advertised as an elimination for Sugar Ray Robinson's vacated middleweight crown. The favored Cartier weighed 161, Langlois, 159½.

The two middleweights finished the battle in a toe-to-toe slugfest with blood streaming from both of their faces.

The Frenchman suffered a gash on the bridge of his nose in the second round and the wound was examined twice by Dr. Samuel Swetnick—at the end of the second and again at the end of the fourth—before the invader was permitted to continue.

Cartier's nose began to spout blood in the fourth and he also suffered a cut over his nose in the seventh.

The New Yorker, a 3-1 favorite, stepped off to an early lead in the first three rounds but Langlois rallied in the fourth, forcing Cartier with repeated rights to the head.

The last five rounds were closely waged with both fighters staying to land a knockout blow.

Lions Favored to Defeat Browns for National Title

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Lions—armed with a surprise passing play that started as an end run and led to the National Conference championship—will try for the National Football league title Sunday.

The Lions, thirsting for a title for the last 17 years, probably will enter the game at Cleveland as favorites. Their opponents will be the Cleveland Browns, who'll represent the American Conference for the third straight year.

The game will be nationally televised but will be blacked out in the Cleveland area.

Browns Workout On Malts, Touch Tackle, Loafing

CLEVELAND, Dec. 22. (AP)—Milk shakes and touch tackle last week. Today, lasting.

That is the extent of "practice" the Cleveland Browns have engaged in so far for the pro championship football game Sunday with the Detroit Lions.

Contrary to what some may think, this is rather common in pre-football circles. They don't kill each other between games. Coach Paul Brown, for instance, never holds scrimmage—too much of a chance for injuries.

Last week, the Browns didn't have any game coming up, and didn't know whether their Sunday opponents would be the Lions or the Los Angeles Rams. So they split up into groups and played touch—losers buy the milk shakes—just to warm up.

There weren't any workouts in Detroit, either. Coach Buddy Parker met with his team today and went over the week's plans. That was all.

Starting tomorrow, the Browns will hold classroom exercises on offensive and defensive plays, then run through them on the practice field.

What worries Brown about Sunday's game here isn't any particular play. It's knee trouble.

His great halfback, Dub Jones, and fine end, Mac Speedie, both have sore knees as a result of a game a week ago in New York against the Giants.

"Bad knees are something you never can know about," said Brown. "I think there is serious question whether either Jones or Speedie will play at all. That also goes for John Kissel, a tackle and Lou Groza, tackle-kicker, who also were hurt in that game."

History Made as UCLA Cagers Beat Bradley 91-83

PEORIA, Ill., Dec. 22. (AP) — UCLA's touring cage team ran up the highest score in history against Bradley's Braves in registering a 91-83 intersectional basketball victory tonight.

The highest previous total recorded against the Braves came in Duke's 87-69 triumph a year ago.

Tonight's game featured a personal scoring duel between UCLA's Don Bragg, 6-4 sophomore, and the Braves' Bob Carney. Each scored 30 points.

In the end, it was the Braves' inability to hit accurately from the free throw line that decided the contest. Bradley missed 26 gift shots, UCLA only 14.

The Uclans, who had beaten Michigan State and lost to Notre Dame in midwest games over the weekend, used a fast break that gained them a 49-45 halftime advantage.

Then with three regulars—huge center Mike Hibler, Ron Bane and John Moore—hitting the foul limit, UCLA changed its offense to a deliberate long shot strategy and gradually lengthened an edge that Bradley couldn't overcome.

Bragg's two field goals and one by Dick Ridgway shot the Uclans into a 53-45 lead early in the third quarter and the victors went on from there.

St. Mary Cagers Lose First Game

DETROIT, Dec. 22 (AP)—Forward Ernie Wagner, held to one field goal in the first half, scored 10 points in a third period rally that boosted unbeaten Wayne University's Tartars to a 73-58 victory over previously unbeaten St. Mary's tonight in the opening game of the Motor City Basketball Classic.

Billy Bayley paced the Californians with 15 points.

USC Given Slight Edge over Badgers

PASADENA, Dec. 22 (AP)—An informal poll of Rose Bowl football people came out close today.

The count: 44 picked USC, 42 picked Wisconsin and seven predicted a tie.

Participating in the vote were officials and coaches of the two schools, all football writers here for the game and Tournament of Roses dignitaries.

The Lion's surprise weapon was a play used only twice. Each time quarterback Bobby Lane handed off to a halfback who raced wide as if to skirt the end. Ram defenders raced up to tackle the runner and suddenly the halfback unleashed a pass.

As a result two touchdowns were scored. The first time right halfback Bob Hoernschemyer passed 24 yards to Doak Walker, who reached the Rams 4. Pat Harder bulled into the end zone to give the Lions a 14-0 edge midway of the second period.

In the third period left halfback Walker took the handoff, raced to his right and rifled a pass to end Leon Hart in the end zone. That made it 21-7.

The Lions will probably gain the favorite's role next Sunday for two other reasons besides their impressive victory before 47,645 fans in fog-wrapped Briggs Stadium and thousands of televiewers in the nation:

1. Coach Buddy Parker of the Lions has never lost to the Cleveland Browns in two exhibition games and one league game.

In fact, the Browns own at least one league victory over every NFL team they've played—except the Lions. In this year's league meeting, the Lions won 17-6. Earlier the Browns won an exhibition game at Syracuse, N.Y.

2. The Browns, always a favorite in previous NFL title games, are saddled by first-line injuries. Main worries are halfback Dub Jones and end Mac Speedie, who have twisted knees. They are expected to play some.

In addition, ace placekicker Lou Groza has a bruised rib. Three other injured players will be ready to go.

Top Ten Scorers Named in Local Basketball League

Based on five league games, the ten top scorers in the Industrial Basketball League were named today.

John Powell of Rosan Screw, Inc., led the list with 80 points to his credit.

Next in line with 77 points was Jerry Larkin, also of Rosan's.

Union Oil's Abe Bullington with 64 points was third and Jim Boyd of Alpha Beta, fourth on the basis of his 61 points.

Others in the top ten, their scores and teams are:

Duane Duncan, 53, Alpha Beta; Earl Robinson, 47, Kwikset Locks; Doug Harding, 43, Union Oil; Don Hall, 40, Kwikset; Larry Potter, 39, Knotts Berry Farm; Elmer Potter, 34, Kwikset.

Union Oil is leading the league with five wins and no losses, trailed by Rosan with four wins and one loss.

In third place is Kwikset with three wins and two losses, while Alpha Beta is holding down fourth spot with two wins and three losses.

Knott's Berry Farm is fifth, having won one game and lost four. Presently in the league cellar is Northrop Aircraft with no games won and five lost.

Ferrante Plans No Court Action

NEW YORK, Dec. 22 (AP) — Chairman Bob Christenberry of the New York State Athletic Comission today said he had been assured by Tony Ferrante, manager of Middleweight Joey Giardello, that he planned no court action as a result of the reversed decision in Friday night's fight.

Christenberry said Ferrante told him he never made any statement that he planned a suit.

Small College Defense Champs Named by Bureau

NEW YORK, Dec. 22 (AP)—Don Gottlob, Sam Houston State quarterback; Al Conway, ex-West Pointer now at William Jewell; and West Bair, of Illinois State Normal, were the individual offense champions among the nation's smaller colleges during the 1952 football season.

Gottlob accounted for a record 2470 yards, 2325 of them by passing, for the total offense crown; Conway took rushing and scoring honors with 1325 yards and 133 points, and Bair led the passers with 158 completions, in final statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau.

SEES SANTA FOR FIRST TIME — Apparently even at two and a half, Carol Ann Reeves knows that any male, Santa or not, appreciates thanks delivered with a good sound hug and kiss. And here, in spontaneous manner, she does just that, all a-tiptoe and undeterred by Santa's girth or those bushy whiskers. It was little Carol Ann's first honest to goodness meeting with Santa at a party for less fortunate children at the Sheltering Arms Nursery in Atlanta, Ga.

IN THE DAYS OF LONG AGO

From the Files of Anaheim Gazette

25 Years Ago

Lloyd Ross, driver of a high school bus, figured in an accident Tuesday morning, and, as a result was slightly cut about the face and head by broken glass. The accident happened on Lincoln ave., near the Garden Grove rd., at 7:15 o'clock. Ross was driving out to gather up his load of students. Just ahead of him, near the intersection, a car driven by Miss Eva Turley backed out of an orchard into the road. Ross swerved to one side to go around the car. It continued to back up and he edged further over and dropped off the pavement. Before he could jump out, the backing car struck the bus, breaking the windshield and damaging it considerably otherwise. Miss Hurley's car was only slightly damaged, she explained that she was blinded by the rising sun and did not see the bus.

Mr. J. B. Raine, prominent hopgrower of the Swamp, contracted for a lot of Chinamen to pick his hops. He was informed by white laborers that they would pick his hops as cheap as the Chinamen. He agreed providing they would furnish enough men to save his crop, requiring some 60 men, which they agreed to do. They furnished but 30, who worked for a while, when half of them struck for higher wages or quit. This sort of thing will strengthen the demand for Chinese labor.

PROGRESS REPORT—Just ten years ago, Anaheim industrial payrolls were limited to citrus and citrus by-products almost exclusively. There were several other embryonic enterprises but their payrolls were hardly a drop in a growing city's expanding economy. What has been done to build industry to Anaheim in such a short time is truly remarkable and the City Fathers and the Chamber of Commerce must be given full credit for this outstanding achievement. Anaheim is no longer dependent on citrus, though the industry still is a vital part of the economic picture. Anaheim is part and parcel of the West's industrial growth, because it has an adequate labor pool of skilled and semi-skilled workers; it has transportation — both rail and truck; it has schools, churches, parks and recreation to make Anaheim workers' homelives more congenial. A happy worker is a good worker.

PROFILES—Bill Phelps isn't shopping for air rifles this Christmas. Remember it was a beebee gun that put his boy in the hospital a year or so ago . . . Dave Brann, the able Anaheim insurance man, will write a policy on everything—everything except a bell player's batting average . . . Max Moody can tell you that Anaheim lies 150 feet above sea level, but the water level is below sea level. Good thing that metropolitan water supplies 90 per cent of Anaheim's needs . . . Lawrence Myers has made quite a study on Mexico, its people and its culture . . . Chet Hankins would like to tinker with his mechanical hobbies if he had more time . . . Jerome Heltzman is one of Anaheim's most distinguished senior citizens . . . Mel Hilgenfeldt might rate as a Middle East expert, but the Anaheim educator is too busy running his school . . . Phil Schrott ain't complainin', but he's the kinda guy who'd really be happy if there was more wild life closer to home.

MEMORY LANE—Who can forget those memorable National Baseball league games at the City Park when Anaheim was a power in the nocturnal pastime? Remember those teams of 1932, 1937 and 1948? While Anaheimers can never forget those thrill packed games with Santa Ana and Huntington Beach, neither will they forget the struggle the late Ben Gelker put up to field a team at Olive. He had men like Ora Sands. Remember him? Terry Gardner, Al Rebola, Ben Thiery, Fritz Guenther, Bill Sweet, Floyd (Chisel) Hatfield, Rudy Heman. Olive never won championships, but Gelker had a team of colorful personalities who were and are tied to the Anaheim scene. If a guy had a mind to, he could write a book about each one of these men.

PASSING—The old Fairyland Theater is nothing but a memory. The new home of the Joseph Hurst enterprise has completely obliterated the show-place from the Main Stem. Rex Cvons and his workmen did a good job, but they weren't able to erase the memory of Anaheim's old movie house that was once part of Milton Arthur's great chain of theatres. The Fairyland was part of Anaheim. Richars Voegel and Harold Ferguson can still remember how they looked forward to seeing a show when they were school boys in Placentia long long ago. The old showhouse faded from its glory which was at its height back when the shadows jumped all over the screen and the projectionist had the tedious job of turning the crank. When was that? Back in 1918 or 1919 when Anaheimers used to tear off the roof with shrill whistles, stomping feet and thunderous applause every time the Stars and Stripes appeared on the silver screen. Remember? How could anyone forget?

PERSONALITIES—Alex Omelev once played a small part in a motion picture. They shoved his face in the mud before they let the cameras grind. What price a man will pay for dramatic glory! . . . Don Goff may help Fullerton college rebuild its basketball team in its attempt to regain Eastern conference supremacy . . . M/Sgt. Steve Lopera has a big job in Korea. As new administrative chief airlift command, he handles the paper work for Gen. Chesley E. McCarthy. That's almost as big a job as Lefty Lynn, Jr., held when he was with the truce talkers at Panmungjon . . . Dr. Graham C. Chester recently told a Fullerton college audience that Russia is not planning war. If she were, he said, she'd do it now. That ain't the way I heard it, Professor. Ping-pong diplomacy was unlucky. Someone lifted $500 worth of photographic equipment from his car, but chances are it won't wind up his photographic career like the time someone stole Joe Jones $1800 fiddle.

Army Prepares To Rush More GI's Stateside

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 23 (AP)—Transport planes were assembled, route plans were mapped and processing details were alerted tonight as the Army prepared to rush one more shipload of Korean veterans home for Christmas.

The transport Gen. William F. Hase, due at Ft. Mason tomorrow morning with 2256 soldiers from Korea, is the last ship carrying combat men scheduled in before the holidays.

The troops will be processed aboard ferries headed for Camp Stoneman and officers said all will be bound for discharge or reassignment centers nearest their homes by Wednesday.

Four other transports carrying personnel from overseas bases are due in before Christmas. The men aboard them lack the transportation priorities afforded Korea veterans, but officers said every effort will be made to speed them homeward, if not for Christmas Day for the rest of the holidays.

The non-veteran ships are the Gen. D. E. Aultman, due tomorrow with 854 mixed service personnel and 215 civilians; the Gen. E. D. Patrick, due Wednesday with 619 servicemen and 163 civilians; The President Jackson, due Wednesday with 140 servicemen and 68 civilians, and the Sgt. Charles Mower, due Wednesday with a passenger list not announced.

SMASHED CHRISTMAS PRESENT — Sgt. Ervin Chandler of Atlanta, Ga., radio operator, who got another man to take his place on the Globemaster which crashed at Moses Lake, Wash, takes parts of a smashed tricycle from the wreckage of the tail section. Eighty-three passengers and crewmen, most of them servicemen going home on Christmas furloughts, were killed in the crash. There were 32 survivors. It was aviation's greatest disaster.

Child Threatened by Mysterious Disease; Brother, Sister Stricken

MANCHESTER, Ia., Dec. 22 (AP)—With two of their three children near death from a rare and mysterious ailment tentatively diagnosed as "pelizeous-merzbacher," Mr. and Mrs. Grant Faust are praying this Christmas season that their third may be spared.

Allan Faust, 8, is near death at a Manchester hospital. His sister Alisa, 4, is under veterans of the modern Faust farm home near Ryan, Ia.

Both were healthy, normal children until they reached 3. Then the strange affliction, also known as diffuse leucoencephalopathy, began its progressive destruction of their brain cells. Both are now helpless invalids.

Faust, 32, and his 31-year-old wife tried 4 various specialists before doctors at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., decided their children's symptoms resembled "pelizeous-merzbacher." It is a disease having a tendency to attack members of the same family.

A research institution had advised Dr. Paul G. Meyer of Manchester that there are fewer than 10 cases of the disease on record for the last 100 years. There is no known treatment or cure.

The Fausts have traveled 40,000 miles in their old car in the last year to consult specialists. But they have found no source of hope.

Only now has their plight found its way into the news. As gifts flow in, Faust—a World War II veteran and like his wife a former college student—has only this to say:

"We are more grateful than we can say, but we want nothing for ourselves. Our one hope is that somewhere there is medical knowledge which can help us. If there is, these gifts will help us get there."

Underlying their anxiety over Allan and Marsha is another question which haunts Mr. and Mrs. Faust.

Their third child, 6-month-old Craig, plays heartily in his crib. He is the picture of health. Will the disease strike him too when he reaches 3?

Des Moines, Iowa, leads the cities of the world in the publication of farm journals.

Rotarians Hold Christmas Meet

The Christmas program of the Anaheim Rotary club yesterday had as its theme Christmas in other lands. The Rev. John Kimball Saville, the narrator told of Christmas observances the world around, while Mrs. Margaret Beller sang carols of some typical of the countries described. Mrs. Dorothy Cook accompanied on the piano.

During the program, Oscar Renner gave a brief sketch of the career of Tom Kuchel, newly appointed United State Senator. Mr. Renner described Senator-designate Kuchel as "very much in earnest" and said he was a public official who "has given a good account of himself in whatever position he had held."

Others heard from during the course of the program included Jeff Palin, Claude Russell, Dr. E. H. Kersten, Ray Hadley, Mel Gauer, Dr. Howard Tews, Bernard Jordan, Ben Stakemiller, Jim Morris, Hugh Bridgford, Paul Demaree, Arvel Morris, Ray Alden and Dick Gay.

Arch Baker presided and introduced the program.

CARE PACKAGE Cost Deductible From Income Tax

Cost of CARE packages sent to unknown individuals or to orphanages overseas is deductible from income tax, according to a ruling received today by O. G. Thomason, local CARE chairman from the Office of the Collector of Internal Revenue.

"Such contributions are regarded as charity and may be deducted from income tax," Mr. Thomason said today. "As Americans are preparing to pay their final installment of their tax or are amending their declarations, it seems timely to remind them that their donations to CARE are items which are deductible," Mr. Thomason said.

In this classification Mr. Thomason emphasized contributions to CARE for Korea where, he said, the need is critical now. CARE packages arriving in the next few weeks, he indicated will take food and clothing to tide over the winter the desperately hungry and cold war refugees who otherwise may not survive.

Mr. Thomason said orders for CARE packages or donations in any amount may be mailed to CARE and a return receipt will testify to the donor's contribution.

Orders for a $10 CARE food or underwear package or contributions in any amount may be sent to CARE, 855 S. Broadway, Los Angeles.

Freeway Park To get Cheaper Water Rates

While water leaders of the county say that the day of cheap water in Orange county has gone forever, water is going to be cheaper at least in one area, Orange County Water Works District No. 7, which serves Freeway Park area, northwest of Anaheim.

The county supervisors, as directors of the water works district, approved a 50 per cent rate reduction in the district proposed by its superintendent, Alvin E. Baker. The 193 water users in the district, after Jan. 1, will get 2000 cubic feet of water for $30, instead of 1000 cubic feet, as now.

Having more money than it needs, from water sales for the past fiscal year, when 5,021,000 gallons were sold for $7552.70, the district is able to cut the cost, Baker said, and expects to have an income of $6527.10 under the new rate.

Flood Threatens Bordeaux, France

BORDEAUX, France (AP)—Some 1000 Bordeaux residents were housed today in garages and other shelters after a hurried move from the flood-threatened northern section of the city.

Trucks, supplied by the city and military, hauled the people and their farm animals out of the danger area yesterday after flood waters surged through two breaks in a dike along the Garonne river.

County Planners Approve Larger BP Sewage Pump

Proposed enlargement of Buena Park's sewage pumping station at Eighth street and Western ave., was approved Friday afternoon by the county planning commission, on application of the Buena Park Sanitary District.

The action, subject to final decision by the county supervisors next Tuesday, would allow the district to double the capacity of the present pumping station.

The planning commission also approved permit for a real estate office for George W. Asawa, to be operated in connection with a fruit stand that he will establish on Stanton ave. south of Orange ave., Stanton.

Deferred for one week by the planners was the application of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. to erect a telephone repeater station, covering 7200 square feet, on Cypress st. south of Ocean ave., southeast of La Habra.

Vet Likes British Artificial Arm

NEW YORK (AP)—A handless ex-GI leader says the British have a better artificial arm than the United States—and he hopes the Veterans Administration will agree.

Harold Russell, 38, of Natick, Mass., a founder of the Amvets, returned yesterday from a meeting of the World Veterans Federation in London and said the British arm is about 25 per cent better than the one used by the Veterans Administration.

Russell, who lost both hands in World War II, said he would ask Amvets to urge the VA to adopt the British arm.

Aviation Gas Tax Proposed

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 22 (AP)—The State Aeronautics Commission announced today its Advisory Committee has proposed a state aviation gasoline tax to raise funds for needed airport development in California.

The advisory group, composed of aviation industry representatives, also suggested the state take over from counties the function of aircraft registration in the same manner it took over automobile licensing.
