Community Thanksgiving Service Thursday, 9 a.m.

At nine o'clock Thursday morning, hundreds of citizens of Anaheim and surrounding areas will be making their way into the auditorium of the Anaheim Union High school to attend the traditional annual community Thanksgiving service, jointly sponsored by the Association of Churches and the Ministerial Union, and unanimously supported by the local service clubs, patriotic organizations and women's groups.

Worshippers will be seated by YMCA ushereттes, who will also direct parents with young children to the adjacent nursery in room 3 where trained Girl Scouts will supervise those too young to enjoy the service.

The high school combined a capella choir and the Girls' Glee club will furnish special Thanksgiving music under the direction of Sheldon Disrud. Keith Murdoch, representing the mayor will officially open the assembly with a Thanksgiving proclamation, following a colorful processional of both American and Christian flags down the aisles and onto the platform, carried by junior high boys from every local church.

Rev. William McKinley Walker, pastor of Wesley Methodist church, will bring the Thanksgiving message entitled, "Thanksgiving at Midnight."

The service will close promptly at 10:00 o'clock, enabling worshippers to have ample time to prepare holiday dinners or to reach out-of-town destinations after attending the service. Weeks of planning and preparation have gone into this traditional event which normally attracts over a thousand persons. Every citizen is cordially invited to participate in this oldest and truly American tradition—that of giving thanks to Almighty God for our glorious heritage of liberty under law, and abundant blessings of material and spiritual wealth.

December 'Deadly' For Pedestrians

More California pedestrians are killed in December than any other month of the year, the Automobile Club of Southern California reported today.

Pedestrian fatalities in the 13 counties of southern California during the past three "Decembers" have averaged more than 57 persons, the club said.

Noting that S-D Day this year will be observed on Dec. 1, the club's Public Safety Department issued these suggestions to pedestrians for greater safety not only on S-D Day but the year-round:

1. Cross only at crosswalks and keep to the right.
2. Look both ways before crossing.
3. Cross only on the proper signal.
4. Watch for turning cars.
5. Never go into the roadway from between parked cars.
6. Where there is no sidewalk, walk on the left side, facing traffic.

Fullerton Girl Is Picked as School's Most Outstanding

Named as outstanding senior girl student at Fullerton Union High school during the current year, and top-most in dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism, is Linda Kroeger, president of the Inter-Club Council, according to announcement over the school-wide broadcast Friday morning last week.

Miss Kroeger is the sister of Pat Kroeger, graduate in 1951 who also received the same honor. Pat meanwhile was graduated from Pomona College, married an Air Force servicesman, and now teaches school in North Carolina, it was reported.

Linda was selected this year by the faculty, in a school ballot going to all teachers of FUHS containing the names of three choices by senior girls. Other two top choices were Judy Bauerlein and Nancy Rapp.

Winning of the award means that Linda Kroeger will receive the Good Citizenship title for 1955, offered each year through sponsorship of the California Society of Daughters of the American Revolution, according to Mrs. C. A. Neighbours.

Amoung purposes of the DAR, according to President General Mrs. James B. Patton, is to foster true patriotism and love of country, and to aid in securing for mankind all the blessings of liberty. This, in part, accounts for the emphasis on patriotism and leadership in selection of the girl of the year.

Each state is divided into districts, the winner of each determined by tests in American history and civics (60 per cent), and by activity reports (40 per cent), verified by high school principals. An award of a U.S. Government bond of $25 maturity value is made to the winner in each district.

County Safe Driving Day Set for Dec. 1

The Orange County Board of Supervisors today through Chairman Willis H. Warner called upon all citizens of Orange County to plan for and observe S-D (Safe Driving) Day on December 1, 1955.

This year, as in last year's campaign, it is hoped that S-D Day will demonstrate that by cooperation of each driver and pedestrian, it is possible to cut down the number of vehicle accidents on one day and therefore that same cooperation 365 days of the year would result in materially cutting down the number of vehicle accidents at year's end.

COUNCIL TAKES INITIAL ACTION FOR CITY'S LARGEST ANNEXATION

Anaheim City Council in special session last Friday night, passed a resolution to allow the circulation of annexation petitions in the Ball-Dale Annexation, a tract of 1120 acres that will cut into Buena Park's hotly contested Dale St. Annexation, and extends through Stanton's proposed incorporation area.

The huge tract runs from Gilbert Ave. on the east to Knott Ave. on the west, with its southern limits listed at 660 feet south of Ball Rd. Its northern boundary is irregular, running along Orange Ave. from Gilbert Ave. to Western Ave., then jumping up to Lincoln Ave., and following it to Knott Avenue.

According to City Clerk Dene Williams, if it goes through, this will be the largest area of land ever annexed by the city. The land is generally agricultural.

Both Buena Park and Stanton will protest this proposed move, said City Administrator Keith Murdoch, but he said that Anaheim had justification in its act. Those two cities, he said, have in the past infringed on Anaheim territory, too. Buena Park's Dale St. annexation and Stanton's incorporation boundaries had cut into Anaheim's Stanton Ave. annexation, he said, adding that Anaheim feels that both neighboring cities' annexations were not legal, as Anaheim's annexation had been approved by the Boundary commission prior to either Buena Park's Dale St. annexation or Stanton's incorporation moves.

Seventy-five property owners in the Ball-Dale tract have already petitioned Anaheim for annexation, Murdoch continued, from points scattered throughout the area. He believes that most of the residents of the area will approve annexation but added that the City of Anaheim would do everything it could to exclude those who did not want to become "city folks."

ALAN T. RAINS TO SPEAK AT M.O.D. GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY MEETING

"All fresh fruit and vegetable producers and shippers must recognize the community of interest that exists insofar as the distribution and merchandising of their products are concerned," declared Alan T. Rains, secretary of the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association, Washington, D. C., who will address the members of Mutual Orange Distributors at their Golden Anniversary meeting in Redlands on Monday, Nov. 28.

Rains, who is making a special flight to California for this important meeting of MOD members, is a recognized authority on fresh fruit and vegetable merchandising. Since its inception some 10 years ago, he has directed the program of the United Merchandising Institute, a promotion of the UFFVA with particular emphasis on the training of retail food store personnel in the handling of fresh fruits and vegetables.

ALAN T. RAINS

"Citrus growers should be as vitally concerned about quality control and merchandising of cantaloupes, asparagus, string beans, or what you, as they are of their own products," he continued.

"There are no 'citrus' stores and there are no 'citrus' departments in the modern food store. If the celery is limp and the lettuce slimy, or the apples wrinkled and wormy, Mrs. Consumer will likely be turned away from the fresh fruit and vegetable department, to the disadvantage of the citrus producer.

"Moreover, she is also likely to develop a traffic pattern in her favorite food store and, if the produce department is not sparkling and fresh, featuring top-quality merchandise, she will probably walk through it hurriedly or perhaps bypass it entirely.

"Nutritionists claim that the per capita consumption of fresh fruits and vegetables must be increased 100 pounds per year if a balanced diet is to be achieved. This is strange indeed when one considers that this nation is enjoying unprecedented prosperity and that our annual food bill exceeds $64 billion. It offers a wonderful merchandising and sales promotion opportunity, however, for an alert industry, such as the citrus industry, that is not anesthetized by support prices. While there is very little variation in the quantity of food we consume, our food preferences are subject to substantial changes. With flavorful and nutritious fresh fruits being the weight-watchers' preference, the opportunities are unlimited for the industry. There's no substitute for freshness," he concluded.

United Campaign Is Short of Goal

The doors of the United Campaign fund drive headquarters have closed $14,170 short of the goal. Volunteers are asked to hold their collections until Nov. 26 when they may be turned in at Mrs. R. W. Marvin's office at 108 S. Clementine St. Contributions may be mailed to United Campaign, P. O. Box 405, Anaheim.

"With the drive falling down so miserably," said steering committee chairman Keith Murdoch, "we had to curtail office overhead."

"Failure to accomplish the goal within the time set is blamed on lack of cooperation from business and industry leaders as well as lack of volunteers for door-to-door canvassing. However, the drive will continue until all those who wish to contribute are contacted, Murdoch said.

Luncheon Officially Launches Annual Christmas Seal Sale

Members of the Orange County Tuberculosis Ass'n. at a luncheon-meeting in Santa Ana Monday, officially launched the annual drive for funds through the sale of Christmas Seals.

Charles H. Baldwin, manager of Santa Ana plant of the United States Rubber Co., was principal speaker.

Frank Tesch, chairman of the association's seal sale committee, said sale of the Christmas Seals finances the activties of the Tuberculosis association for the coming year.

Company Sponsors Luncheon

Baldwin, whose company sponsored the luncheon for the first time this year, said:

"We are delighted at this opportunity to take up our share of community responsibility by sponsoring such activities and by adding to the Christmas Seal fund the contribution of United States Rubber and its employes."

The association will mail out nearly 100,000 envelopes of the stamps this week.

Urges Co-operation

Tesch declared: "We urge each citizen to buy and use the seals this Christmas season and to do his part on fighting a disease which may strike anyone, regardless of age, health, wealth, education or social position."

"The Christmas Seal and its double-barred cross are messengers of courage and foresight serving the health of you and your community," he added.

"They are constant reminders that tuberculosis is preventable. We want to emphasize that the disease is contagious — you do not inherit it, you catch it from someone who has it."

Placentia Mayor Explains Issue Of Dog Shooting

(Editor's Note: The article reproduced here is taken from the Placentia paper and is a direct statement as obtained from the mayor of Placentia regarding the recent issue of the shooting of a dog in that city.)

The mayor of Placentia talked a little too much, a spiteful would-be journalist garbled information and "raddio" spellbinders who seldom bother with facts sallied off into the wild blue yonder. Even the actors on teevee stations got into the act.

Under the 'Hollywood version that any kind of mention can be considered truthful, Placentia the past week received a half million dollars worth of publicity. About the only people taken in by the hoax were ardent lovers of dogs.

A dog was shot and buried in an orange grove. That happened about 22 months ago. That's about all the facts there are, ma'am.

Leon T. Gillilan has been a rancher and resident of Placentia for more than 25 years. He was elected to the Council two years ago and was appointed mayor a year ago. On a portion of his ranch at Melrose and Orangethorpe Aves. three years ago he built 27 houses and sold them.

He did write into the purchase contracts that dogs would not be allowed to be kept on the premises.

To the west of these homes Gillilan still owned 25 acres of land and it was on this property, out among orange trees, that the dog was killed and buried. Many complaints had been made about the animal. This property was later developed when Signature homes built 101 new houses.

In the course of a Planning Commission meeting held in Round Table club house Tuesday night Mayor Gillilan was explaining that he plans to paint some houses he moved to locations near the Signature tract. And to keep them neat and clean, similar to those he had built, the mayor outlined his ideas about dogs that run loose.

The only person who paid any attention to his remarks was Penny Olsen, the reporter for Anaheim Bulletin, who scribbled notes furiously. She has been giv-

New Freeway Through County

The California Highway Commission announced today it is considering the adoption of freeway routings in Orange County which would relocate two state highway routes to provide a north-south freeway 12 miles long between Santa Ana and the Los Angeles County line.

The State Highway engineer has recommended a combined freeway route which would extend from Santa Ana Freeway in Santa Ana, in the vicinity of La Veta Avenue, to the Los Angeles County line northeast of Bres. There it would connect with a freeway route along Brea Canyon Road adopted in June, 1955. The Brea Canyon Road route extends from the Orange-Los Angeles County line to Ninth St., in Pomona.

... FROM AN EGG-SHAPED HEAD — By Waldo Hunter, P.S.B.

✔ THANKSGIVING, 1955—And what's there for us to be thankful for? We have listed a few here. Can you think of any more?

—For an economic system which enables even the "little" man to set a Thanksgiving table as good as if not better than some potentates in foreign countries.

—For the fact that the President has recovered and is back on the job.

— For the blessed fact that right now not one American soldier anywhere in the world is firing a weapon in anger.

— For humming commerce and industry which makes possible this overall highest standard of living in the world.

✔ And what have we Southern Californians in particular to be thankful for?

— For our ever-beautiful seacoast, our mountains, and our fascinating desert regions, with an almost endless list of places to go, things to see, things to do in our spare time.

✔ And how about localizing the question to what do we Anaheimers have to be thankful for in particular?

— For a well-knit local economy balanced between agricultural pursuits and an ever-growing system of light, clean industries which do not despoil the area but which provide a comparatively huge annual payroll making for local economic stability.

—For those of our officials who have through the years had the ability not to gaze back into the dim past but toward the future and plan our city's orderly growth; to promulgate long-range plans designed to prevent too-rapid growth from turning the city into a hodgepodge of mixed up residential and industrial blocks with slum blights sprinkled over the whole.

— For a sincere and dedicated group of school administrators who, despite almost insurmountable obstacles, have kept our sprawling school system functioning well, and who have also planned for the inevitable growth of population.

—For the hard-working members of the City Council and those of the City Hall staff who day after day and week after week do their jobs, steadfastly cleaving to the onerous task of local government, a task compounded by the eternal headache that "you can't please 'em all."

—For our truly impressive list of churches always offering to him who would accept it quiet sanctuary, fine fellowship, and understanding.

—For our many service and fraternal clubs with their boundless enthusiasm and their willingness always to throw their energies behind projects which make for the good of the community as a whole.

—For all these things, then, we should give thanks.

IN THE DAYS OF LONG AGO

From the Files of The Anaheim Gazette
By MRS. HENRY KUCHEL

75 Years Ago . . .

November 1880

There never was a ball more thoroughly enjoyed than that given at Kroeger's hall on Thursday (Thanksgiving) night. Th hall was filled to overflowing and not until four o'clock on Friday morning did the "merrie companie" tire of responding to the music, which the Anaheim Brass band discoursed without any respite all night long. Notwithstanding the immense throng which partook of supper, so liberal had been the donation of eatables that dozens of chickens, scores of cakes and boxes of bread, etc., remained after all had partaken and this surplus was yesterday distributed among those to whom the committee thought it would prove acceptable. One immense, handsome cake, the work of Mrs. König, brought $9 at raffle. The spontaneous liberality which has characterized the people of Anaheim to recent appeals to their generosity does them great honor and it is safe to say that in few communities could be found persons who would unask-edgiven their time and services to a task such as has been accomplished by the ladies and gentlemen who managed this affair. The amount realized could not be definitely ascertained yesterday.

The cars from Los Angeles have brought almost nightly during the week large consignments of grapes for B. Dreyfus & Co., who are paying $22 per ton for all the grapes which are delivered to them. The operations of this firm are of greater magnitude than is generally realized. The firm will make this year in Anaheim, San Gabriel, Cucamonga and Napa over 800,000 gallons of wine and will handle at least 2,500,000 gallons of this year's output.

The Colusa Sun says that if some method of stopping the work of the coddling moth is not soon discovered the orchards of that county will be utterly destroyed.

The night of the 16th inst., on the Colorado desert was the most memorable in the railway annals of the Yuma branch of the Southern Pacific. The eastbound train was caught in the Tortugas switch, seven miles west of Mammoth Tank by a simoon which literally took all the ballast and roadbed away. The train careened over on one side and the engineer and brakemen prevented the locomotive from keeling over outright by shoveling dirt and improvised ballast on one side or the other of the track as the occasion demanded. There was a detention of sixteen hours then, which the hungry passengers and train hands improved by breaking into the stores of canned pork and beans consigned to Arizona merchants. The incident was one long to be remembered.

Mr. Jos. Helmsen has just received another lot of beautiful Christmas candies which people have only to see to purchase. He has also a superior lot of Christmas candles.

The rainfall of last Thursday night amounted to.30 in town and at the Mr. E. E. Saxton's place the gauge showed .44. In Los Angeles the fall was .56.

In anticipation of coming events —When Centre street will more nearly resemble Broadway, N. Y., than it does now—The sidewalk in front of the Planters Hotel has been thoroughly repaired.

The Commercial says that the Republican County Central Committee have paid all the bills incurred by them during the campaign. But they haven't. They owe the Gazette $12 and if they don't pay it we shall make such revelations as will shake these United States from center to circumference and will make Garfield think that it would be more than two dollars and a half in his pocket if he hadn't been born.

Mr. H. Cahen advertises today special bargains in ladies and misses shoes.

50 Years Ago . . .

November 1905

An inch and .31 of rain has fallen since last report, bringing the seasonal total, according to Mr. Dickel's gauge to 5.32 inches. While figures of the rainfall a quarter of a century ago are not at hand as we write, it is the opinion of W. J. Hill, who is one of the best posted men in Orange County upon such matters, that not since the winter of 1878 has so much rain fallen up to the first of December. Not in the past 30 years has anything like it fallen. Indeed, we have had years during the past decade when the entire amount of rainfall has but slightly exceeded that already precipitated. On all hands plowing progresses actively and a record-breaking acreage will be seeded to grain. Rain began falling early on Sunday morning and continued until midnight when the heaviest precipitation in years set in and lasted half an hour. Eighty-five hundredths of an inch was the night's record. Monday night, forty-six hundredths fell making the season's total 5.32. Rain has fallen from the Columbia river to the Mexican coast. The drouth in the north is broken, yet the fall in Southern California largely exceeds that so far recorded in the north. The fall in this section is as large as that of any section of the state.

Ben Snodgrass of the Jungle ranch west of town has presented the Chamber of Commerce with a sample branch of olives and a cluster of pomegranates for the exhibit room. The branch is well filled with olives of large size. Mr. Snodgrass states that he will gather 100 gallons of olives from eight trees.

C. C. Chapman of Fullerton is reported to have sold a carload of late Valencia oranges in the New York market some days ago for $3600. This is the highest price ever realized for a carload of California fruit.

Engineer H. Clay Kellogg and Attorney Keech were over from Santa Ana on Thursday to attend a meeting of the litigation committee of the water company.

Ed Bustamente has recovered from an attack of typhoid fever contracted in Los Angeles and which kept him to his bed during eleven weeks. He lost 42 pounds during his illness falling from 160 pounds to 118. He has gained 17 pounds and now tips the beam at 137. Under Dr. Beebe's treatment he expects to soon be himself again.

R. H. Gilman has sold 10½ cars of late Valencia oranges for $14,000 through the citrus union, and will this season clean up $20,000 on his crop. He has 40 acres of young oranges in the Tuffree tract for which he recently refused $40,000 from a Riverside party.

Prof. E. Crowther has returned to his Placentia home after a six months four of the conservatories of Europe. He studied for a time in Paris under one of the foremost violinists in that country.

Mrs. L. C. Blake, Miss Alice Carver and Miss Lois Blake were in Los Anges Saturday and attended the play of Ben Hur in the evening.

A. S. Bradford announces he has discovered that oranges pay better than walnuts and contemplates grubbing out five acres of nut trees after gathering the crop. Last year he took out five of his ten acres of walnut trees and thinks that he will follow suit this year with the remainder. Mr. Bradford is marketing his navel oranges through the citrus union at fancy prices. His Valencia lates be disposed of at $2 per box on the trees. His land is well adapted to citrus fruits, but is not so good for walnuts.

Frank Fox shot a blue sandhill crane up the ditch while hunting Tuesday afternoon. The crane is of large size and will be stuffed and placed on exhibition in Frank's tonsorial parlor.

Social and welfare projects will be part of the program. Other officers are Caroline Covington, vice-president; Carole Lehr, secretary; Judy Rau, treasurer; and Pat Conatser, membership.

Fire Protection For Your Car

When you're at the factory, the boss worries about fires. When you're home or driving the car, you're the boss and it's your worry. Your car is susceptible to fire in many ways. Fire may be caused by bad electrical wiring, too much gasoline in the backfire at carburetor or hot or leaky exhaust systems. Brakes are also a fire hazard in the event they overheat and ignite grease or oil. Then there's the possibility of fire arising from accidents. According to the Interstate Commerce Commission about 90 percent of its fire experience with cars engaged in interstate commerce occurs in connection with collisions, many of these rear-end collisions which damage the fuel tanks, resulting in ignition of the gasoline vapors. Whether or not you depend on your car for transportation to and from work, it's wise to be familiar with the steps to take should a fire break out, as outlined by the National Fire Association:

1. Turn off the ignition and, if possible, disconnect the battery.
2. Get everyone out of the car.
3. Call the nearest fire department.
4. Fight the fire with the proper type of fire extinguisher.

Automobiles should be equipped with an approved "Class B" type of fire extinguisher. But if you don't have an approved fire extinguisher, be prepared at least with a box of baking soda. It's a precaution that costs but a few cents. Attack the fire from the windward side and from the outside of the car. If the fire is in the engine, raise the hood if possible and apply the baking soda or the extinguishing agent to the base of the flame. If the fire originates from a fuel tank leak, put out the fire closest to the tank first. If the fire was in the engine, don't restart the engine until the cause of the fire has been eliminated.

SOMETHING NEW under the sun... and stars

A Dome Car with two decks — and every seat "under glass"

"Sky-wide and handsome" is what you'll say about Southern Pacific's unique new Dome Lounge Car, when you first step inside. It's built on two levels, or terraces, but is open to the heavens from stem to stern. (Incidentally, we've also put in extra capacity air conditioning, and lightly tinted glass, so that it's always pleasant inside, no matter what the weather outside.)

One third of the car is a high-ceiling cocktail lounge, while up a short flight of steps is a terrace deck with many more comfortable seats for enjoying refreshments and unparalleled views of the scenery.

A ride in one of these new Dome Cars is like a ride in a convertible with the top down—but without the wind.

You'll find a new Dome Lounge Car on the San Joaquin Daylight between Los Angeles and San Francisco via the Valley Route, the Shasta Daylight between San Francisco and Portland, and between San Francisco and Ogden on the Overland.

We invite you to try one soon—and we hope you'll find it an indication that, for both passenger and freight, we are trying to do a modern, progressive job of railroading.

Short On Time? Serve Tuna Spanish Rice

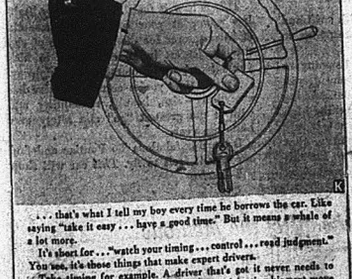

CHILLY WEATHER calls for plenty of substantial meals, and for all-around value there's nothing to beat Tuna Spanish Rice which is easily prepared with canned tuna and pre-cooked packaged rice. Always a favorite, canned tuna from California adds lots of flavor to any dish, and best of all it won't shatter your budget. Let it work menu magic for you soon.

TUNA SPANISH RICE
(Makes 4-6 servings)

1 7-ounce can solid-pack tuna
1 medium-sized onion, thinly sliced
½ cup chopped green pepper
1½ cups (8-ounce package) packaged pre-cooked rice
1¼ cups hot water
2 8-ounce cans tomato sauce
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 10-ounce package frozen peas

Drain tuna and reserve oil. Cook onion, green pepper and rice in tuna oil, stirring occasionally, until lightly browned. Add water, tomato sauce, salt, pepper and peas; heat to boiling point. Cover and cook 10 minutes. Break tuna into pieces and add to rice mixture. Heat to serving temperature, stirring occasionally.

Wheel 'er home safely, son!

. . . that's what I tell my boy every time he borrows the car. Like saying "take it easy . . . have a good time." But it means a whole of a lot more.

It's short for . . . "watch your timing . . . control . . . road judgment."

You see, it's those things that make expert drivers.

Take timing for example. A driver that's got it never needs to dart from lane to lane. He glides his car, anticipating his next move long in advance. Watch the way an expert wheels his car through traffic. He does it without jerky stops and starts. As smooth as sailing, he blends right in with the flow of traffic. It's a pretty picture if it's done right. But that takes practice.

Control, too, plays a major role in expert driving. By keeping at reasonable speeds—not too fast, not too slow—the expert is always master of the wheel.

That's why I tell my son—"wheel 'er home safely."

More on . . . Placentia Mayor—

ing Placentia had publicity ever since the chief of police there offered to lock her in jail and throw the key away.

She was accused of going through the office desks when there were no police officers present.

The Anaheim Bulletin story was a dilly. The up county papers, in a battle with the Santa Ana Register, have banded together under the title of Orange County News Service, titled in news stories as OCNS. A story written for one paper goes over telephone wires to Orange, Newport Harbor, Fullerton and to the only "raddio" station in Orange county, KWIZ, at Santa Ana. The spellbinder there is Pat Michaels, who lives on thrills and excitement, and seldom bothers with facts. Evidently he brought in George Putnam, who acts out news items on television station KTTV.

The reporter stated in her vindictive story that Mayor Gilliland had walked on the lawn of one of the homes and with two youngsters watching him had shot down a dog. And a lot of other things. Newspaper stories are believed, for telephone calls from dog lovers started to arrive and the mayor of Placentia began to take a beating. The only accurate story published in a newspaper was an interview in the Santa Ana Register, quoting Gilliland directly.

The Anaheim Bulletin and KWIZ have kept up a week of innuendo and reiteration of garbled information. The District Attorney was sorry, but there was nothing he could do, the event being more than a year old. The Humane Society of Los Angeles would be happy to come down and investigate, if a few Orange county residents would sign up and pay dues. The picture-taking station wagons of the radio and teevee stations cruised up and down Placentia streets hunting anyone who would stand for an interview, providing their answers suited the propagandists.

Many persons who actually have a love for dogs were taken in by the newspaper stories. The attitude of citizens in Placentia was shown Tuesday night at City Council meeting, with all the participants present, when no mention was made of the incident, or dogs.

Oops! The Unexpected Happened!

AVA GARDNER was saved from a bad tumble by Stewart Granger when she fell from William Keene's M-G-M picture "Pigeon Junction" on a street in Pakistan. Not hurt—just a bit shaken up.

Drivers Urged to Use Right Lane

"Many motorists are still failing to drive in the right hand lane for traffic on our multiple lane highways," said Capt. H. W. Null, commanding officer of the Orange area of the California Highway Patrol. "A local survey conducted by our officers to determine the compliance to Section 525.1 of the Vehicle Code proves that many motorists do not realize the seriousness of the offense.

We wish again to remind all motorists that they are legally required, when driving at a speed less than the normal speed of traffic, to drive in the right hand lane for traffic, except when making or preparing to make a left turn or when in the process of passing," warned Null.

The right hand lane for traffic, informs the patrol, is the lane nearest the right curb or edge of the roadway. This applies on all types of roadway and is not limited to the divided multiple lane type.

"Less than the normal speed of traffic" is defined as the speed of a slower moving vehicle as compared to the average speed of other vehicles on the highway.

CARVING MEAT CUTS

Lamb Crown Roast

A lamb crown roast is made from the rack, or rib section, of the lamb. A pork crown is made from the rib sections of two or more loins of pork. Either can be served in a similar manner to that of the pork loin roast.

Slice between the ribs to get a standard serving cut. Serve to the side of the platter any spareribs in the center which might interfere with the carving. Steady the roast by placing the fork firmly between the ribs.

Cut down between the ribs, allowing one rib to each slice.

Lift the slice on the knife using the fork to steady it.

CONCERT SET FOR ANAHEIM

Anaheim will be the locale for the Orange County Philharmonic Society's next concert, which will be on Saturday evening, December 3rd, at 8:30 p.m. in the Anaheim High School Auditorium, it was announced by Miss Martha Mettler Orange County Philharmonic Chairman for Anaheim.

"The Society has a definite policy of trying to divide the playing fairly between the northern and southerna parts of the county," stated Miss Mettler. "The beach area was served with the August concert at the Irvine Bowl, the central area of the county with the recent one in Santa Ana, and it is now northern Orange county's turn. There were two northern area concerts last season, but both of those were in Fullerton. This will be the first time that the group will have played in Anaheim."

The Brahms Fourth Symphony and Rimsky Korsakov's Scheherazade Suite will be the numbers featured this time by Frieda Belinfante, the Society's permanent conductor, and the Society's professional orchestra.

Pork Loin Wins Holiday Vote

Late autumn or early winter weather, pork loin roast sets the mood for a favorite meal during the Thanksgiving holidays. Colorful sprigs of parsley and lemon slices act to set off the roast while the spicy candied sweet-potatoes permit a perfect accompaniment. Pork loin is roasted in a slow oven (350° F.) until golden brown on the outside, well done inside.

CHERRY COBBLER

1 pkg. cup cake mix
1 pkg. cup cake mix
1 egg
¼ cup milk
½ teaspoon vanilla
2½ to 3 cups (or large can) red sour pitted cherries
1 cup sugar

Pour cherries and juice into skillet. Add sugar; cover and bring to boil. Empty contents of package into bowl; add egg, milk and vanilla, blend. Beat 2 minutes. Drop by tablesoontuls into gently boiling cherry mixture. Cover and simmer 20 minutes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

BAKLAVA

Pastry

2 cups sifted flour
½ cup shortening
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg, and water to make ½ cup

Filling

2 cups slivered almonds
½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed, or honey
1 cup melted butter or margarine
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg

Sirup

1 cup water
1 cup sugar
Grated rind of 1 orange
Grated rind of 1 lemon

To make the pastry: Cut shortening into flour and salt until mixture looks like cornmeal. With a fork, blend the egg and water. Add to dry ingredients, mixing until thoroughly dampened. Turn onto waxed paper. Knead 8 times. Roll into ball and let stand ½ hour.

To make filling: mix together all ingredients for filling.

To combine Baklava: Divide pastry into four portions Roll out 1 portion very thin on a lightly floured pastry cloth, into a rectangle 8x16 inches. Cut rectangle in half to form two 8-inch squares. Place 1 square in bottom of 8x8x2-in. baking pan. Spread 2 tablespoons of filling over this pastry. Place second layer of pastry on top of filling. Roll out another portion of pastry as above. Continue making layers of pastry and filling, having top layer of pastry.

To make sirup: Mix ingredients for sirup in saucepan. Boil 5 minutes.

To bake Baklava: Cut Baklava into 8 servings. Pour 3 tablespoons of sirup over Baklava. Bake at 350° F. for 35-40 minutes. Serve remaining sauce (cooled) over hot Baklava.

HARVESTS LARGER

¼ cup flour
3 tablespoons lard
Salt and pepper

10 small whole onions
2 cups canned or cooked peas
2 cups mashed potatoes

Dredge meat in flour and brown slowly in the lard. Season. Add only enough water to cover. Cover tightly and cook for 1½ hours. SCHOOL NURSE HEADS PROGRAM

Miss Elizabeth Curtis, a public health nurse for 30 years and now Western Junior High school's first full-time nurse, presented a fine program at the recent P-TA meeting under the heading "Working Together To Keep Our Children Healthy." It was the latest in the group's "Teamwork Does It" Series and was well attended.
