Santa Ana Unit CRA Chartered

At the state-wide annual convention of the California Republican Assembly held at the Disneyland Hotel on Feb. 22, 23 and 24, the Santa Ana Unit of the Assembly was chartered. The CRA is the leading and oldest Republican volunteer organization in the state, and is dedicated to work for the improvement of politics and the quality of laws and lawmakers on the local, state and national levels. It seeks the best possible candidates for public office, gives opportunity for all Assembly members to help select and endorse good candidates to represent the Republican party. It provides year-round offices in strategic locations available to Republicans. It brings speakers of national prominence to express viewpoints on matters of current interest and sponsors public forums and social programs.

The past success of the CRA is evidenced by election results. For many years, most of the Republican candidates in California have won repeatedly over the opposition.

Elected as first president of the Santa Ana Unit is John M. Finamore of Santa Ana, who has had much experience in politics, both as a candidate and as instructor in various colleges and universities. He is presently teaching at Fullerton and Santa Ana Evening Colleges. Elected to serve with him as secretary, is Robert Cariberg of Santa Ana, treasurer. Eight more officers are needed to complete the organization, two vice-presidents and six directors. Officers are to be elected each year at an annually meeting in January. Mr. Finamore invited anyone who would like to fill one of these positions to write him and indicate their qualifications, the requirement being the desire, energy and enthusiasm to work.

The Santa Ana Unit of CRA requests all registered Republicans in Orange County to join the Assembly. Dues are $3 per year for one and $5 for a married couple. All correspondence must be mailed to P.O. Box 1795, Santa Ana.

George Strachan, Secretary-Manager of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce, announces that Mildred Yorba MacArthur has been retained to research and to write the history of Anaheim for the Centennial Celebration, which will officially open in May, and close with its already renowned Halloween Parade and Festival in late October.

Clyde Cromer, chairman of the Centennial Committee, says, "Our search for someone to do this historical research, we were very glad that we were able to secure the services of an author and publicist, with a fine background in both fields, and also a native daughter of the city in every sense of the word."

Mildred Yorba MacArthur is a descendant of four of California's oldest families. She is the daughter of Alonso E. Yorba and the late Mrs. Tuffrey Yorba. Orange County pioneers. Her maternal grandparents were J. K. Tuffrey and Carolina Pothemus Tuffrey, early settlers in Placentia. Her paternal grandparents were, Juan Basilio Yorba and Maria Antonia Rowland, of La Puente, Los Angeles County.

The Yorba family dates back to the founding of the Missions. When the first Yorba, Jose Antonio, came with Father Junipero Serra, in 1769, as a part of the Portola Expedition. For his services to the King of Spain, this 21 year old soldier was given a grant of 80,000 acres, much of which is still owned by members of the family.

After his death in 1949 she decided to take up writing and publicity as a career.

Her first job, for Jacqueline Cochran, the noted flier, took her to New York City. After leaving her employ she remained there where she worked for ABC-TV in their publicity office.

Mildred is the author of "California Spanish Proverbs," which was published at the Grabhorn Press in San Francisco in 1954. The proverbs were printed in both Spanish and English. Her book is now listed among the rare and unusual publications and has become a collector's item.

In the sports field, she has written for the staff of the Collier for the past nine years, where she is a regular contributor. In baseball, one of her most talked of stories was one on Walter Johnson, for the Los Angeles Times. In the entertainment field she has written stories for Silver Screen, Screenland and Photo-play. Intimate sketches on Bing Crosby, Bob Hope, Martin and Lewis, Ed Sullivan, Toots Shott and many others.

As a member of the Lakeside Country Club in Hollywood she was seven times women's Club Champion, played for many years to a handicap, qualified for two National Championships, and was the runner-up in the Pebble Beach Golf Championship for Women in 1938.

Under her own by-line she has written sports, history and biographies for many Orange County papers, and in Los Angeles for the Times, Herald-Express and Examiner.

Sen. Kuchel Works On Huge Flood Control Projects

United States Senator Thomas H. Kuchel reported today that the bill will be cleared for more than $180,000,000 worth of additional Federal-financed California flood prevention projects, extending the length of the state, if the House concurs in a $150,000,000 omnibus public works bill just approved by the Senate.

As a member of the Public Works Committee which drafted the legislation, Kuchel was instrumental in obtaining revision authorization for a substantial Federal contribution to build the massive Oroville Dam, key feature of the California $150,000,000 Feather River Project.

While the bulk of the authorization is extensions of previously approved projects, the bill would make possible two large dams, Buchanan on the Chowchilla Reservoir and Hidden on the Fresno River, and one levee job on the Eel River never before authorized by Congress.

The omnibus program approved by the Senate includes one beach erosion project in San Diego County and a combined flood navigation project on the Sacramento River between Chico Landing and Red Bluff, the beach restoration work to cost $289,000 of Federal funds, would benefit Oceanide, Ocean Beach and Imperial Beach. The navigation project, calling for an outlay of $1,500,000, would involve channel improvements and measures to prevent bank scouring along 52 miles of river.

The new California flood-prevention act, which Kuchel said enactment of the bill will be possible is: Sacramento River (general program), $17,000,000; Sacramento River (Chico Landing Rebut), $1,500,000; Feather River (Sandy Prairie), $707,000; San Joaquin River (general program), $13,000,000; Buchanan Reservoir (Chowchilla River), $10,000,000; Hidden Reservoir (Fresno River), $12,500,000; Klamath and Rogue Basins (general plan), $28,000,000; Los Angeles Basin, (general plan), $44,000,000; and Santa Ana Basin (general plan), $3,000,000.

"ALWAYS A GOOD DEAL and A GOOD DEAL MORE"

Silverwoods Apparel Store is latest addition to Broadway-Orange County Shopping Center at Santa Ana Freeway and Euclid.

Silverwoods to Open Local Store

The new Silverwoods clothing store located in The Broadway-Orange County Shopping Center, at Santa Ana Freeway and Euclid, Anaheim, has scheduled its formal opening for noon Friday, Apr. 5, Silverwoods President

Stephen C. Bihelmer announced today.
 The store is the ninth for the sixty-four year old southern California apparel firm. With the opening of the new unit, the Silverwoods group of stores will extend from Santa Barbara to Orange County.
 Edward W. Carter, President of Broadway-Hale Department

Stores and Mayor Pearson of Anaheim will welcome Silverwoods at a special ribbon-cutting ceremony. Many Los Angeles and Orange County notables are expected to attend the three-day opening celebrations Friday, Saturday and Monday, April 5, 6 and 8. Each day there will be favors for all visitors and special drawings for valuable door prizes.

The new 15,000 square foot unit is contemporary in motif, and emphatically suburban in layout, decoration and coloring. Wall-to-wall carpeting, generous use of planters and wood panels will emphasize the distinctively casual interior.
 Store manager will be Tom Short, Silverwoods executive veteran. His assistant will be, Jim Williams.
