

THE EXTRA COLUMN

(By Frank Hall)

Little Kathy came home from school one day and announced she didn't want to go to school tomorrow. "You know I don't like dogs," she told her mother, and added, "Teacher said we are going to have a puppet show tomorrow."

Conlon Morris, No. 1 Republican in Orange County, doesn't know whether he's running a circus or a political campaign. Reason is that the Orange County Republicans are sponsoring a circus this month and they are selling the tickets for $25 a seat. It does just so happen that Conlon has a few tickets left. Don't mob him, if he's too busy, call me.

Trying to write (hall one) a column in the middle of a (strike one) series of ball games is (hall two) extremely difficult and (strike two) not a bit of the hit the third strike and its going 'way back, but there is the center fielder and he's got it. I'm surprised that there aren't a world series recess clause in their contracts. But they don't.

Headline in yesterday's papers: "Ford plans to enter small car field." That's a real laugh for us folks who remember the 1920 Ford jokes.

Perhaps one of the miracles of modern civilization is the number of people who are killed every year with unloaded guns. You don't believe it? Just read the reports.

What price fame? Rotarian Joe Thompson did a magnificent job a few weeks ago representing Stephen Foster in an evening's entertainment in the Anaheim Greek Theatre. Thompson was good. He's always good. But now he has to suffer and answer to the call of "Silver throat Thompson."

Jim McAlvin, manager of Anaheim's No. 1 hospital, Anaheim Memorial, that is, looking for volunteers to help him with his United Fund work. Sure he got help! Would you dare turn down the manager of a hospital?

George Kellogg to Meet Butterfield Centennial Stage

Meeting the Butterfield Centennial Caravan at Hotel Springs Oct. 6, officials and members of the Imperial Highway Association, led by George Timothy Kellogg of Yorba Linda, executive secretary of the group since it was formed 30 years ago, will hold their Butterfield Centennial banquet there, it was announced today.

The Butterfield Centennial Caravan, which started Sept. 16 from Tipton, Mo., is following the exact route and timetable of the old Butterfield stages, carrying the first transcontinental mail route in 1858.

John Butterfield loaded a mail pouch into his stage at Tipton Sept. 16, 1858, and delivered it

Veterans' Property Tax Exemption Poses Most Tickle of Problems

One of the most ticklish problems, politically speaking, which confronts our legislators is that of the ever-increasing impact of the $1000 veterans property tax exemption on the units of local governments in California. In the last ten years the combined value of such exemptions has more than doubled, and now exceeds $968 million. During the same period the additional tax bill other taxpayers must pick up per year because of the exemption has almost tripled, and now tops $65 million.

For the past year, a subcommittee of the Senate Interim Committee on Districts has been studying the effect of this exemption on local agencies. It first prepared a comprehensive factual report on the problem, the statistics of which certainly demonstrated the growing seriousness of the problem to those counties and other local units in which veterans are concentrated. This report made no recommendations, but did list 14 possible alternatives for action. These ranged from leaving things as they are, through having the state reimburse local units for the "lost" revenue, to complete repeal of the exemption.

Exploratory Hearings

The subcommittee used these alternatives as the basis for its recent public hearing, to which were invited state research and tax agencies, local officials and representatives of veterans' organizations. This meeting served one very important purpose. That was to assure several veterans' groups that the subcommittee is not already committed to recommend any form of legislative action. It was merely an exploratory hearing, to give the subcommittee a feel for the kind of change in the constitutional provision. Subcommittee hearings, including those scheduled for November, are exploratory, and intended to give every group concerned with the problem in San Francisco 24 days later. He operated his famous stage line three years, collecting $600,000 per year from the U.S. Government under his mail contract.

The centennial Caravan, making night stops at the old Butterfield stage stations, will reach Warner Hot Springs, first stop in California, Oct. 6, and is scheduled to reach San Francisco Oct. 10.

A caravan publication titled Butterfield Overland Mailings, notes that Imperial Highway Association smoothed much of the way for the Caravan in California by providing 115 miles of paved highway from Vallejo to Corona, through its activities over three decades.

Kellogg's group has devoted itself to developing the old Butterfield route into a major highway linking Los Angeles to Imperial Valley.

PABLO VILLALOBOS

Pablo M. Villalobos, 68, a native of Mexico who came to Anaheim 40 years ago and who lived here continuously, died Monday at his home 1140 1/2 Perry Street. He is survived by six nieces, Mrs. Tomas Hernandez of Artesia, Mrs. Della Ruiz of Watsonville, Mrs. Julia Torres, Mrs. Virginia Alvarez and Mrs. Mary Ruiz all of Visalia, and Mrs. George M. de Tule; a nephew, Sipriano Villalobos of Visalia. He was a member of St. Boniface Catholic Church and of the Mexican Beneficiary Society of Orange County. Funeral arrangements were pending at the Hilgenfeld Mortuary.

88 YEARS OF DEVOTION TO ALL THAT IS GOOD IN ANAHEIM

Vol. LXXXVIII—Anaheim, Orange County, Calif. 11

Style Show Seen by Anaheim B-PW Club

Forty members and guests of the Anaheim Business and Professional Women's Club met in the courtyard room of the Home Savings and Loan Association, September 24th, with a style show presented by Walburg's Apparel Shop, as the special attraction. The narrator, Mrs. Ida May Walburg, a member of the local club, displayed a round-the-clock wardrobe suitable for the business woman. Other members of the club who assisted were Mrs. Eleanor Bartleson, Mrs. Margaret Byers, Mrs. Dolores Chromier, Mrs. Evah Drennon, Mrs. Doris Prickett and Mrs. Ethel Thatcher.

A $85 Million Dollar Tab

The Board of Equalization furnished the subcommittee with detailed tabulations on the amount and effect of the exemption from its beginning in 1912. The Board fixed the cost to date of the exemption to non-exempt taxpayers at more than $582 million.

One veterans' organization offered a bold and thoughtful program for restricting the benefit to California veterans, who are actual service in real conflicts, but liberalizing its terms for the truly disabled or for widows and other survivors. Other organizations reserved their testimony until they complete their study of the subcommittee and other reports.

Legislation on the veteran's exemption will require affirmative action by the committee, the vote Legislature and the voters. The subcommittee is performing a valuable service for all these groups in gathering all the facts and information for their use.

Richfield Oil Has New Powerful Fuel

Western motorists found a new, more powerful fuel on the highway this week when Richfield Oil Corporation announced their new "100 Plus Boro Super Octane" gasoline.

Introduction of the new gas was "timed to meet the higher compression requirements in the new lines of 1959 automobiles," according to Stan H. Green, Richfield Southern Division Manager. "Operators of older vehicles will enjoy the extra power and economy of our new gasoline," he added.

Richfield became first among the majors to offer gasoline of an over 100 octane rating manufactured under the Boro formula.

NORMAN REYNOLDS

Norman L. Reynolds, 86, a native of Illinois who came to California in 1901 and to Anaheim 20 years ago, living for many years at 9612 Orange Avenue, died September 26 at the Parkview Convalescent Home after a brief illness. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Lou Fellows of Hollywood and Mrs. Vera Reynolds Reel of Buena Park; a sister, Mrs. Cassie Owens of Nebraska; a grandson, Jack E. Fellows of Hollywood and two great grandchildren. He was affiliated with the Unity Church in Santa Ana and Rev. Estelle Taylor Key, former pastor of the church, officiated at funeral services in the Hilgenfeld Mortuary Chapel Tuesday. Entombment followed in Loma Vista Mausoleum.

Fuel Economy Accorded in 1959 CHEVROLET PICKUP TRUCK

Big fuel economy, new two-tone and larger brakes are among improvements in the 1959 Chevrolet pickup truck, one of 130 truck models in the company's new line. An economy six engine gives up to 18 per cent better fuel mileage, with higher torque at normal speeds. A further economy carburetor-rear axle option is available on six-cylinder half-ton models.

C of C Backs United Fund

The Anaheim Chamber of Commerce in a letter forwarded to all of its members this week over the signature of Harry L. Horn, president, and George E. Strachan, manager, called for support of the forthcoming United Fund appeal in Anaheim, Centralia, Cypress, Los Alamitos, Magnolia and Stanton, because of the urgency of the situation which exists for the Fund.

Service Groups

The participating human service groups of the United Fund for the Anaheim area are: American Red Cross, A.S.A. of Christian Churches, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Catholic Welfare Bureau, Chaplain Society, Family Service, I.O.O.F., Girl Scouts, Orthopaedic Hospital, St. Ann's Maternity Hospital, Salvation Army, U.S.O., Visiting Nurse Ass'n, and Y.M.C.A. (including Girls' work).

Need Is Urgent

The Chamber of Commerce letter to its members reads as follows:

"The United Fund for the Anaheim area faces an urgent and emergency need. Because your Chamber helped organize the Fund, and because of this serious situation, it is asked that you join with the board of directors and the United Fund to plan for a successful campaign.

"We are interested in the United Fund because we believe it is much better to encourage one great teamwork campaign in a united effort rather than to spread our interests over a dozen separate efforts which otherwise would be a reality.

"Because the United Fund fell 21 per cent short of its goal last year, the fourteen participating service groups are now operating on only a ten month budget — and a greatly reduced budget at that! The board of directors of the Anaheim United Fund and its board of directors of the United Fund are now planning to raise $250,000.00 for the year 1959. The request made for this year's united effort. But—this still represents a goal of $175,000.00, or $50,000.00 more than raised in the last campaign — but is the rock bottom minimum need if we are to have a United Fund."

United Fund Leaders

A representative committee of the Chamber, in cooperation with the United Fund, has organized a Citizens Advisory Committee of seven leaders of this area representing every segment of community interest. Sixty out of seventy of these leaders met on July 16th, and based upon their collective judgment have selected and agreed to lead this great united teamwork project: Adolf Schoepner, general campaign chairman; Joseph R. Thompson, executive vice chairman; Mrs. Martha Schumacher, vice chairman; Robert A. Dally, vice chairman; Walter Taylor, vice chairman; B. W. Jordan, vice chairman; O. G. Thompson, vice chairman; Ed E. Fingler, vice chairman.

"Substantial giving will be required. Successful United Funds use a deferred payment plan. Employers are urged to give serious consideration to use the same sort of payroll deduction plan which enables each employee to do his fair share on a voluntary basis — but at the same time makes possible a United Fund.

"These campaign leaders for a United Fund need your help."

Bernard W. Jordan and O. G. Thompson, vice chairman of the United Fund for the $175,000 United Fund campaign in the Anaheim area have announced their divisions will launch their solicitations at a dinner meeting in the Elks Lodge, Anaheim, 6:30 p.m., Monday, October 6.

JOHN STANLEY HANSEN

He leaves one niece, Mrs. Margaret G. Carroll of Anaheim. Funeral services were conducted from the Hilgenfeld Mortuary Chapel Saturday morning. Rev. William Root officiated and cremation followed.

Favorable Trend Is Indicated by Economic Survey

SACRAMENTO — William A. Burkett, State Superintendent of Banks, reported today to Governor Knight the following economic survey:

In California economic indicators in August continued to reflect the recovery initiated in April. The adjusted index of California department store sales at 156 showed an eight point increase over July and was six points above the 1957 August index figure. Bank deposits for the first eight months of the year totaled 117.3 billion, a 1.6 billion over the cumulative year-ago figure. Employment totaling 5,737,000 in August improved 86,000 or 1.6% during the month but continued slightly under the level of a year ago. The ratio of unemployment in California (seasonally adjusted) increased 3/10 of 1% during the month.

The mid-August total of 335,000 unemployed or 5.5% of the total labor force, however, represents a 75% increase over the year ago figure of 188,000 or 3.2% of the labor force unemployed. Construction employment index (seasonally adjusted) increased 9/10 of a point during the month and was 16 points above the August 1957 figure. Combined applications for FHA and VA loan commitments on new construction for the first eight months of this year increased 89.5% over the first eight months of 1957.

In The Nation

In the United States the monthly index of industrial production (seasonally adjusted) continued a four-month rise during August, reaching 137, three points above July but eight points below the 145 August high of 1957. The adjusted durable goods index also showed a gain of four points above July and two points over August of 1957. Preliminary department store sales were up three per cent for the four weeks ending August 30 compared with a year ago period. Cumulative sales, however, from January 4, 1958 were down one per cent. The automobile index (seasonally adjusted) dropped four points to 95 as a result of the seasonal model changeover and shut-down of the 154 lagged sharply behind the 154 seasonally adjusted figure of August 1957.

Private housing activity in August increased by 10,000 starts to an annual rate of 1,170,000 for the week ended July 26th and 82.2% for the year ago rate. Employment in mid-August was up nearly 200,000 to a seasonal high of 63.3 million. While unemployment dropped by 60,000 to 4.7 million, the ratio of unemployment to a seasonally adjusted basis, however, increased 3/10 of 1% during the month to 7.6% of the labor force.

As a further benefit to Anaheim patrons, the postmaster stated that all window services, including money orders, are available at Contract Station No. 1 located at 2009 E. Center Street from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., every day including Sundays and holidays.

No Penalty Yet on Postage Due Mail

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield announced that the 5-cent postage due penalty on all unpaid or insufficiently prepaid mail will be deferred again until February 1, 1959 to permit further study by the Department and to avoid possible confusion during the holiday mail season.

On July 17, the imposition of this 5-cent shortpaid charges as applicable to unpaid shortpaid mail was suspended to October 31, because new postage rates went into effect last August 1st, and the Department felt the public's lack of knowledge about them would create needless confusion.

"We believe the additional time will enable the public to become more familiar with the variety of changes in the new postage rates and prevent penalties being imposed on innocent postal users who make honest mistakes," Summerfield said.

Picnickers represented Beckman plants in Anaheim, Fullerton, and South Pasadena. The program consisted of performances by Disneyland attractions, including Roy Williams of the Mouseketeers, and a softball game featuring Beckman's championship team, winner of this year's Anaheim Industrial League.

Plans for the picnic were prepared by the Beckman Recreation Committee, an employee group. Its members include Gayland Leach, Alan Polakoff, and James Harvey of Fullerton; Ashton Congilio and Clara Meyer of Anaheim; Harold Bires, Drea; John Bossett, Norwalk; Antoinette Pack Whittier; and Jack Warren, Laguna Beach. Reading School to Augment Classes

Opening this week in Garden Grove, the Reading Guidance Center brings Orange County an opportunity for solution to remedial reading problems.

"Reading skills underlie success in school, business and industry," emphasized Richard L. Zweig, director of the new clinic located at 12041 E. Belfair Drive in Garden Square.

Educators generally agree that one-third of all school children perform below grade level in reading. Zweig points out, "This yardstick would indicate that there are 32,000 Orange County school children in need of remedial help."

Zweig, a certificated school psychologist, tells how the clinic serves: "A poor reader is referred to the Center by the teacher, school psychologist, or directly by his parents. Our staff of psychologists administer diagnostic tests to pinpoint specific problem areas and to determine the student's reading potential."

Pupils Regain Confidence
A definite program for development is then planned to bring the youngster up to his full potential.

"We lead the child from one success to another," explains the veteran teacher and clinician, "until he is ready to participate with confidence in his regular school program."

Each member of Zweig's staff holds a master's degree and most hold a Ph.D. All staff members have a minimum of ten years experience in public schools and university clinics.

The Reading Guidance Center, Garden Grove, is the newest branch of a large organization founded several years ago in Long Beach. Zweig now makes available to Orange County residents the full range of scientific methods and techniques which have been successfully developed over a period of years.
