LAW IN ACTION

HEARTBATH

The marriage contract differs from others because of the public's basic stake in it. California law sets out who may marry, their age, physical examinations they must take, and how one enters into the marriage contract — with licenses, certificates, and ceremonies. The law also sets out how death or divorce dissolves a marriage. The law controls many other things related to marriage such as community property and custody of children.

Up until 1939 in California, a woman could sue a man for breach of promise to marry, and recover damages, even for her injured feelings and pride. But California has long since ended civil suits for such things as "alienation of affections" and breach of promise. Why? In the hands of black-mailers such claims did much harm without helping innocent victims much.

Yet recently courts have upheld somewhat similar cases. In one case a man and woman had married. The woman had handed her property over to the man to get him to marry her. But, as it turned out, he had no idea of carrying out the marriage vows. The court allowed the wife to annul the marriage and to get the value of her property back in damages for "fraudulent representation."

In another case, a woman and her spouse together bought property of share after marriage. What did the court say when the wedding went sour? The property could be recovered and returned in part. It was held in trust up to the amount each had put into the joint fund.

Again, a woman with a good job bought things in expectation of marriage, and then quit her job. But, alas, as she proved in court, her betrothed never meant to marry her. She recovered damages for her loss.

Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

Army Pvt. Raymond Reyes, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Reyes, 408 S. Rose St., Anaheim, recently was graduated from the 82nd Airborne Division Jump School at Fort Bragg, N.C. He received his coveted paratrooper wings after completing four weeks of intensive ground and aerial training which included five parachute jumps. Reyes entered the Army last May. A 1954 graduate of Anaheim Union High School, he attended Fullerton Junior College. He was employed by Sylmar Electric in Fullerton before entering the Army.

Army Pvt. Robert A. Kruger of Anaheim, recently was graduated from the 82nd Airborne Division Jump School at Fort Bragg, N.C. Kruger received his coveted paratrooper wings after completing four weeks of intensive ground and aerial training which included five parachute jumps. Kruger entered the Army last July and completed basic combat training at Fort Ord, Calif. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Kruger, 1931 Savoy, he is a 1958 graduate of Anaheim Union High School.

The nine acts of Eugene O'Neill's play "Strange Interlude" (including a dinner intermission) ran for 426 nights on Broadway.

SAN DIEGO — Jerry D. Bentley, apprentice petty officer second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd T. Bentley of 9709 Aladdin Drive, Anaheim, graduated Jan. 30 from Recruit Training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego. Apprentice petty officers are chosen from the ranks of the seaman recruits to assist Company Commanders. The selection is based on individual aptitude.

A new body, new engine, and new frame, head a list of 65 new features incorporated in the 1959 Pontiac.

Sleek, narrow winged, chrome front fender ornaments, chrome inches long, add an exciting touch of aerodynamic styling to the 1959 Pontiac line.

Cures claustrophobia in one hour

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Wittenberg, 7241 McCool Avenue, Los Angeles were suffering from a slight case of claustrophobia. "The walls were closing in on us. Our house was just too small. We needed more room. Then one morning I had an inspiration. I remembered the tremendous number of things for sale in The Los Angeles Times classified. I opened The Times to the classified pages and sure enough, I found a house I liked. Best of all the house was available at a price we could afford. I called my husband and we bought it within an hour after seeing the ad. The real estate people said they were swamped with calls. Lucky I looked in The Times early and got there first."

Whatever your needs, find it faster - sell it quicker - in The Times - world's largest classified section! For Times classified service, call Kimberly 3-8448.
