

THE EXTRA COLUMN

(By Frank Hall)

Water development, which kept both the 1957 and 1958 sessions boiling, is again a hot issue in the current Legislature. Members from both the north and the south have introduced a considerable variety of measures intended to end the stalemate between the two opposite ends of the state.

The difference between the two areas from the fact that a water hungry south feels that a constitutional amendment is necessary to protect its rights to water from projects which will be constructed in the north, while the north feels that such an amendment might conceivably commit its own needed supply. But the legislative skirmishing around this basic issue ended up by involving everything from appropriations for the Feather River Project to studies of the water resources of the El River.

So far in this session the question of new taxes and the size of the budget have tended to steal the limelight from the water issue but nevertheless much legislative work is being done on the latter. A basic issue in the controversy, whether or not to preserve the $150,000,000 investment fund for water development, is in the process of being decided. A bill to utilize the fund for that purpose has passed the Assembly and is now before the Senate.

One significant aspect of the situation is the number of bills which have been introduced which would establish county-wide water agencies in several northern counties. Such measures are regarded by many observers as being a sort of "home rule" answer to demands of the south for a constitutional amendment.

Janet Lorene Yates is a new little girl in Brea and has the distinction in my books of having the most clever birth announcement I have read in many a year. It is in the form of a miniature edition of the Brea-Clinda high school "Wildcat", semi-monthly publication of which her father is the advisor. The back page of the 4-page announcement is entitled "Dr. Spock Didn't Tell All."

"The first time my wife announced that I was in a fatherly way, I bought a book on the care and maintenance of babies. I wanted to find out if a baby would upset the even tenor of a parent's ways and so on."

"The book by Dr. Spock was most comforting. We were quite relieved. We felt there was nothing that a child, a good pediatrician and a father couldn't handle."

"Six years and three children later, I am now prepared for the betterment of mankind, to add a few common ailments that Dr. Spock DIDN'T include in his book: "Sergeant's Tooth." The morbid attraction of the year-old for his first loose tooth. While refusing to allow anybody to PULL the tooth, the child will be most generous in extending invitations to FEEL it. In fact, he will daily pursue his fascinated mother around the house INSISTING that she feel it. Once the tooth is out, the child will then place it under his pillow, following which the Tooth Fairy will leave a shiny quarter and a serve case of...

"Ingrate's Stammer." A mystifying constriction of the larynx which renders a child incapable of pronouncing the words "Thank you."

"Spaghetti Leg." Phenomenon resulting from attempts to put shoes on a child, occurring as the parent orders the child to stiffen leg and push. Though the child ordinarily may have the bone structure of a Percheron and calcium deposits even in each joint to stiffen the leg cause a dislodging of the bone, the bone structure of a Percheron and calcium deposits even in each joint to stiffen the leg cause a dislodging of the bone, the bone structure of a Percheron and calcium deposits even in each joint to stiffen the leg cause a dislodging of the bone...

"Twelve Quirk." An acute selectivity of the memory in which a child is unable to remember a parental command for five minutes but can remember a parental promise for six years.

"Tarnish's Glut." A dietary habit, occurring when a baby is allowed to feed himself at too early an age. Given a piece of cake, a nine-month-old baby, before putting it in his mouth, will either strangle it or beat it to death. Strangling is the more common of the two techniques, and only when the cake is shooting out between his fingers does he consider it dead enough to eat.

"Roman Spines." A sudden collapse of the backbone, occurring always at mealtime and rendering a child incapable of sitting up straight at the table."

"Have you heard Debbie Reynolds' latest release? Eddie Fisher."

"Myrna says she heard about a girl who wanted to become a bubble dancer but her father said, 'no soap'."

Your Legislator At Work!

By John A. Murdy

The governor's recommendations for water development legislation have been expanded since the session opened. Originally, his program called for a $138,000,000 appropriation for construction of the Feather River Project and a $500,000,000 bond issue to finance the distribution system to carry water to the south. The appropriation request has been increased to approximately $182,000,000. Recently, the size of the bond issue recommended has been increased to $950,000,000. A bill embodying that amount has been introduced, and bears the names of a majority of Senate members.

Introduced the same day by a group of senators from central and northern districts was a constitutional amendment calling for a $2,000,000,000 bond issue, proceeds of which would be allocated on a priority basis.

Other constitutional amendments relating to enforcement of water contracts have also been introduced. Their intent is to give the courts the assurance it desires of a firm water supply.

Because of the many bills introduced, and their wide variety of purpose, it will be possible for us to tackle the water problem from many angles. Whether as individuals we represent northern or southern districts, we are in a position to bring their best interests in considering proposed water legislation.

All of us are aware that a solution to the water problem must be reached at this session. Though so far no major bill relating to the problem has been introduced, the progress being made is encouraging, and it seems certain that a sound program will eventually be worked out.

Washington Report

By Your Congressman JAMES B. UTT

It is my pleasure this week to present to the constituents of my district the Honorable Norris Cotton, Senator from the state of New Hampshire, as my guest writer. Senator Cotton is one of the most able men in the United States Senate. He served in the United States House of Representatives for 12 years, and his weekly news reports are always interesting and informative. Like your Congressman, he is considered a conservative, but with a deep and abiding faith in our Constitutional form of government.

For the past two weeks the Senate has been flustered by crises and distractions. The crisis in the Berlin situation which draws senatorial comment like a magnet — a lure which should be resisted because this Nation must speak with a single unified voice. Freedom of debate is a priceless possession, but should be used sparingly in the face of an enemy. Ignorant of the domestic situation, the Nation can't always distinguish between discussion and discord.

The carnation party should be even more baffling to the average citizen. Without an instant's pause the Senate turned from "viewing with alarm" and began emitting cascades of oratory in its perennial drive to name a national flower. The carnation was a new entry in a contest which ranged all the way from the rose to the corn tassel. Its followers hailed it as the most widely grown cut flower in the United States, recognized by Presidents and Congresses as the official flower of Mother's Day. "No thorns, no foliage drop-off, no allergic effects."

Three Important Measures The Senate, like a fractious horse, after spending two weeks backing and filling on these topics, suddenly buckled down to a pre-Easter spurge of business, and in the space of a few hours passed three important measures. It extended the draft (an unhappy necessity) over statehood to Hawaii, and authorized more funds for outer space programs. Thus, after long years of disputation, with only perfunctory debate (the House quickly concurring), 578,000 Americans became first-class citizens with full rights of statehood. This act, which would have been a breath-taking event a year or two ago, came hardly a ripple now. Another star in the flag has little thrill when our space programs are reaching for the stars in the sky.

Sewer Trunk Line Construction in "Crash" Program

Ground breaking ceremonies marking the start of construction of 88 miles of trunk sewer lines were held last week, with city, county, chamber of commerce and sanitation district officials in attendance.

The $225,665,000 project, in operation under a "crash" construction program, is one of the largest single sewer line projects ever undertaken to be completed in so short a time. Including the 16

Hearing Set For Dyke Water Rates

The California Public Utilities Commission will set an adjourned hearing on the Dyke Water Company's rate increase application for 10:30 a.m., April 17, in the Supervisors' chambers in the county courthouse, Santa Ana. Also to be heard is the Commission's investigation of the company's rates, regulations and water main extension practices. PUC Examiner Stewart C. Warner will preside.

The Commission last week said that no further continuance will be granted. If the company is not ready or willing to present evidence on April 17, both the rate increase matter and the investigation will be taken under submission, the Commission said.

The Commission authorized the company an interim increase December 17, 1957, from $3 to $3.75 a month, half the increase requested.

Gas Co. Pays $9 a Customer in Taxes-Franchises

Franchise payments for 1958 have been made by Southern Counties Gas Co. to Orange County and 21 of its communities, to the tune of $284,302, Justin M. Kennedy, division manager for the utility, reported today.

The payments — for use of streets and highways — were up almost $60,000 from similar amounts paid by the gas company for 1957.

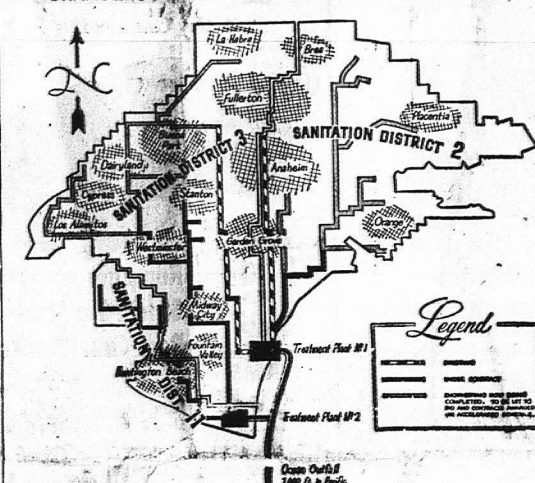

In addition to the county, which was paid $90,761, franchise payments to communities were as follows:

Anaheim: $33,361; Brea: $3,725; Buena: $14,704; Costa Mesa: $12,319; Cypress: $9,861; Fullerton: $8,018; Fountain Valley: $3,331; Fullerton: $23,340; Garden Grove: $27,229; Huntington Beach: $7,294; Laguna Beach: $5,953; La Habra: $9,725; Newport Beach: $12,918; Orange: $11,188; Placentia: $2,045; San Clemente: $6,309; Santa Ana: $33,384; Seal Beach: $2,332; Stanton: $3,951; Tustin: $1,529; Westminster: $8,088.

More Than $1 1/4 Millions When combined with real and property taxes — a first installment of which the utility paid in December — Southern Counties will be responsible for more than $1,230,000 this year to Orange County communities it serves, and in which it has property located.

Over-all, the gas company paid $1,069,353 for franchises to eight counties and 86 incorporated communities. When combined with all real and property taxes throughout its system, the gas company will make payments of approximately $9 for each of the 60,562 customers it served at year-end 1958, Kennedy said.

PROGRESS CHART ON ORANGE COUNTY SEWER LINE CONSTRUCTION

The above shows the trunk sewer lines under construction and the lines on which engineering is being completed in preparation for bidding by contractors. This is the project that citizens of Orange County in Sanitation Districts 2 and 3 voted $21,645,000 in bonds last August 5 and also includes some 16 miles of trunk sewer lines in Sanitation District 11 which voters of that district approved in an election held Jan. 22 for an additional $15,150,000. The existing trunk sewer lines are the Euclid and Magnolia trunk lines, and which are now carrying the load for Districts 2 and 3. Majority of these trunk sewer lines will be completed this year, good news to all citizens of Orange County.

Minimum Wage Bill Is "Hot Potato"

The minimum wage bill — one of the "hot-potatoes" currently being juggled by the California Legislature — was expected to be reported out on the floor of the Assembly for action late this week.

Assemblyman Bruce Sumner (R-Newport Beach) reported that the bill cleared the Assembly Ways and Means Committee, of which he is a member, Monday, March 31. He could not hazard a guess as to the exact date the bill will hit the floor.

The Orange County lawmakers expressed concern over the possible passage of the bill.

"Everybody who has a powerful lobby in Sacramento has been able to remove their special interest people from jurisdiction of the bill," he said. "Everybody, that is, except the man hit hardest by this $1.25 per hour ruling — and that is the small businessman," added the legislator.

Sumner reported newspapermen, domestic help, farm workers and other groups have been removed from jurisdiction of the bill as it now stands. The bill would not protect theatre operators, small store owners and factories, which hire part-time or seasonal employees, he pointed out.

This problem properly is a national one, he said. California industry must compete with other industries in the Midwest and east, he pointed out, and even a minimum wage of $1.25 will not compete with production costs in areas where help can be hired for as little as 40 or 60 cents per hour, he added.

Girls Enjoy Trip To Yosemite Park

Twelve Jr. Tri-Hi-Y girls accompanied by four adults, left for Fresno last Monday and stayed there the first night on their trip to Yosemite. While in Fresno, they were entertained by the Kingsberg Jr. Tri-Hi-Y during an evening of games and an exchange of club and program ideas.

Tuesday morning they drove to Yosemite where they spent the next three days seeing the beautiful falls and points of interest.

The following girls participated in the event: Cheryl Wilford, Pam Fowler, Pam Kufahl, Pamela Borch, Evelyn Hall, Deanna Engbrecht, Sonia Auguston, Leann Ward, Mary Chambers, and Vivian Bridgford. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Cal Emmons and son Roger, Mrs. Glenn Stroud, and Mrs. Orlo Fast, girls program assistant of Y.M.C.A.

New 'Y' Officers Take Over Monday

New Anaheim Y's Men's Club officers were formally installed by James Abrecht, district governor, at a nine-city district installation at La Habra High School Saturday evening.

The new Anaheim officers include James Reed, president; Jack Kahle and William Schaefer, vice presidents; Orlo Fast, secretary and Kenneth Lawrence, treasurer. They will begin their duties at the club meeting scheduled for Monday, April 13, at the YMCA.

According to Bob Flickinger, outgoing president, the Monday meeting will feature Frank Stillwell and Don Langson, both Anaheim businessmen, who will report on a motorcycle trip to Santa Rosa, Calif. California. The men traveled 2,000 miles in eleven days, largely on dirt trails and unimproved roads.

The YMCA service club meets bi-monthly at 6:30 p.m. at the "Y" and cordially invites interested men to attend.

Post Office Needs Clerks, Carriers

Postmaster Marshall N. McNeil announced that the Anaheim Post Office urgently needs men to fill job vacancies, and that applications are now being accepted for the positions of postal clerk and letter carrier.

McNeil stated that the Post Office Department has established a special Board of Civil Service Examiners for the Anaheim area to speed up the testing and rating of applicants who take the Civil Service examinations. This will enable enrollment of career postal employees as soon as vacancies occur.

Applications from both men and women are being accepted for clerk positions, but men only may apply for letter carrier positions. In most instances, clerk vacancies will be filled from the list of applicants who take the Civil Service examinations. This will enable enrollment of career postal employees as soon as vacancies occur.

Hawaiian Senate In Resolution of Thanks to Kuchel

The Hawaiian Senate has just sent U.S. Senator Thomas H. Kuchel of California a formal resolution commending him for his work in bringing about enactment of the law admitting Hawaii to the Union as the 50th state.

Sponsored by 25 members of the upper house of the island legislature, the resolution, adopted March 16, points out that "hopes and aspirations of the people of Hawaii for equal rights and privileges with all other citizens of the United States" were realized by the approval of S. 50, of which Kuchel was a cosponsor.

A 14 lb. 8 oz. blue fin tuna, believed to be the first rod and reel tuna in United States waters in 1958, was taken April 4 by Joe Macareenas of Torrance while sportfishing aboard the boat "Horner" at San Clemente Island. Five others were hooked up, but due to the surprise of their appearance so early in the year, the shocked anglers were not prepared for them. Fishing experts exclaimed that this is the earliest that tuna have shown up in these waters and immediately forecast an unprecedented fishing year due to the early appearance of warm water tidal currents. During the week of March 30th, two marlin were seen from the Catalina excursion vessel "Magic Isle" and a broadbill swordfish was reported seen by the Department of Fish and Game, off the west end of Catalina Island... according to Mac McClintock, general manager, Pierpoint Landing, Long Beach.

CONGRATULATIONS WERE IN ORDER when state and county Medical Auxiliary leaders were among the honored guests at a dinner meeting last week of the Orange County Medical Association, before which Congressman James E. Uhl (far right) was guest speaker. William Wickett, M.D., of Fullerton, (left) president of the Orange County Medical Association, is shown with the congressman congratulating Mrs. Richard A. Preston, of Santa Ana, president of the Orange County Medical Auxiliary, and Mrs. Sophie Gaudel, of Fullerton, president-elect of the California Medical Auxiliary. More than 500 guests, representing various professional groups and Chambers of Commerce in the county heard Uhl discuss the Simpson-Keech Bill, which he favors, and which recently was passed by a voice vote by the House of Representatives.

HEY, FLORIDA! — California grows 'em bigger and more beautiful. Proof is this gigantic Washington Navel orange, measuring 15 inches in circumference, being displayed by pretty Evelyn Velez, queen of last year's Mexican Hacienda, again expected to be popular attraction at 1959 National Orange Show, April 23-May 8, in San Bernardino. Choicest of California's famed citrus crop will take the exhibit spotlight at coming 44th annual exposition, world's largest citrus show.

CALIFORNIA CIVIC AND BUSINESS CLUBS
INVITED TO ASSIST STATE'S WORLD TRADE FAIR

CALFAIR invites all Southern California organizations—Public Affairs Committee; left to right, Ruben Neuharth, president of the Southern California Association of Chambers of Commerce; Walter Coombs, executive director of the World Affairs Council; Arthur G. Pollock, chairman of the Los Angeles Newspaper Publishers' Association; Dick Miller, assistant manager, California Newspaper Publishers' Association. Seated is Mrs. Leland Atherton Irish, club-woman and Hollywood Chamber of Commerce Representative.

Los Angeles, Calif., U.S.A.—All civic, business and industry organizations of California today were invited by CALFAIR's new public affairs committee to participate in the world trade fair.

Through the committee, the California International Trade Fair & Industrial Exposition, to be held here from April 4-12, urged all important organizations to take part in a seven point program.

"All Californians can benefit economically, culturally and educationally from CALFAIR," said Dick Miller, assistant manager of the California Newspaper Publishers' Association, and a member of CALFAIR's Public Affairs Committee.

He said: "We urge all civic and business organizations to carry CALFAIR announcements in their publications; to talk about it at their meetings; to request speech material; to display CALFAIR materials and brochures, to pass resolutions supporting CALFAIR and to inform their local newspapers; to visit CALFAIR and to apply for group courtesies as visitors."

He said inquiries could be directed to CALFAIR Manager Fred Imhof, 700 State Drive, Exposition Park, Los Angeles. CALFAIR, an exposition of consumer goods from 33 nations, will be a giant show window of the $20 billion retail market of California. This state is soon destined to be the number one market of the world and CALFAIR will reflect this new importance and opportunity, the committee said. CALFAIR will be held in the Great Western Exhibit Center, Santa Ana Freeway at Atlantic.

Today Is Anaheim Day at Home Show

Thursday is Anaheim day at the 1959 Orange County Home Show. Mayor A. J. Schutte has been invited to appear on stage during the day's festivities at the fifth annual edition of the show.

The show is being staged in the Commercial Exhibits Building at the Orange County Fairgrounds. As expected, the show's crowdstopper is the $20,000 "Chance-of-a-Lifetime" Gold Medallion Duplex. The home, which can furnish a lifetime income through rental for its winner, will be given away Sunday night.

The house is focal point of a show which has drawn exhibits from throughout the United States. Orange County dealers and distributors are represented in the 190 displays arrayed on the 30,000 square feet of the sprawling Commercial Exhibits Building. Newest innovations for the home are featured, including a "disappearing" window screen and a door hinge which raises the door as it is opened so it doesn't drag on carpeting.

Daily stage shows bring a musical comedy in a capsule to the show's stage. The Home Show is open 6 to 11 p.m. weekdays and 1 to 11 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

LAW IN ACTION

WHAT IS A PATENT?

A patent gives you the right for a limited time to keep others from making, using or selling your invention without your permission. The federal government issues a patent to you if you meet certain requirements.

(1) You must have something useful—a process, a machine, an article, a material, a plant or an ornamental design. The United States will patent only means to make ideas work and will not patent ideas such as new ways to do business, a new mathematical formula or newly discovered laws of nature.

(2) You must have something new. This means you must be the first to make the invention. Before the government issues a patent, the patent office makes a search for related patents and publications to find out if the invention was known to others before you made it.

(3) You must have made an

"invention." This means that there must be something unexpected about it and not obvious to others working the same art. (4) You must apply for your patent in good time. You cannot get a patent if the invention was sold or publicly used in the United States or described in a printed publication in any country more than one year before applying. You cannot abandon your invention.

and then, after someone else has made it, change your mind and get a patent. The other inventor may be regarded as "the first inventor."

Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

Anaheim, Calif., Thurs., April 9, 1959

ALAMEDA, CALIF. (FHTNC)
—Jack G. Fletcher, airman, USN, son of Mrs. Helen Ruth of 7361 Katella, Anaheim, was serving with Heavy Attack Squadron Eight aboard the aircraft carrier USS Midway returned to Alameda, Calif., March 12 after a six-month tour of duty with the U.S. Seventh Fleet in the Far East. This squadron was aboard the Midway when it was rushed to Formosa where it patrolled the Formosa Straits for 36 continuous days during the Quinson crisis. During her patrol in the Western Pacific the Midway was visited by many dignitaries, including the President of Nationalist China, Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek.

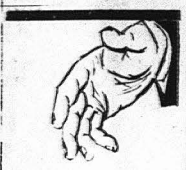

CAMP LEJEUNE, N.C. — Marine Pfc. Richard D. Lippin, son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Lippin Jr., of 1404 E. Broadway, Anaheim, returned to Camp Lejeune March 24 with the 2nd Battalion, 6th Marine Regiment after eight months in the Mediterranean Sea with the U.S. Sixth Fleet.

During the last week of February, in a joint operation with Spanish Marines, the Leathernecks completed their sixth amphibious exercise since arriving in the Med. The three-day operation was held near Almeria, Spain. Following the Marine landing the Spaniards conducted a separate landing to give the Leathernecks their version of amphibious warfare.

On completion of the operation the battalion began making preparations for the return voyage home.

Foreign currency spent in Israel in 1958 totaled 12 million dollars. This is about twice as much as was spent in 1957.
