National Health Bellringer Drive

New date for the annual Bellringer campaign of Orange County Association for the Mental Health was set for Monday, May 25, it was announced by Mrs. Finley Riggs, president of the Association.

At the same time, Mrs. Riggs announced that Frank McNeese has resigned as campaign director. He is succeeded by Mrs. Ruth Ryden of South Laguna, who is also county Bellringer chairman.

Working on a volunteer basis, Mrs. Ryden will handle the dual assignment.

She sent out a call for other volunteer workers for duty both in the Bellringer drive on May 25 but also during the time preceding the drive. Several telephones have been installed at campaign headquarters, 1302 N. Broadway, Santa Ana, and workers are needed there now, she said.

Bellringer volunteers are especially needed in Anaheim, Fullerton and Costa Mesa, and would be helpful in other county communities, Mrs. Ryden stated. A phone call to headquarters, KImberly 3-0887, would be a convenient way for volunteers to enlist, she added.

The Bellringer drive originally was planned for May 10 and 11, but Association officials decided to postpone it to May 25.

The Gazette Policy

Under the new management of Publisher Bert J. Abraham, the Anaheim Gazette, second oldest newspaper in Southern California, will embark on a progressive policy to serve this community in a fair and impartial manner.

The Gazette will be re-organized and revitalized and many innovations will be added from time to time. Changes we are sure will be for the better will be made slowly and with caution. Reorganization cannot be accomplished overnight and the readers and advertisers will benefit in the immediate future by plans now under way.

It will be the policy to operate a clean and homey newspaper replete with local and club news . . . Not a spectacular and sensational newspaper, not a 'yellow sheet' abhorrent to decent Americans.

The content of interest to women will be improved and increased and detailed announcement concerning this department will soon be released by the publisher.

This newspaper, the oldest in Orange County, has had a distinguished past, operated by a distinguished family. The Kuchel family will remain as co-owners of the Gazette and the advice and council of Senator Thos. H. Kuchel and Theodore Kuchel will be available to the new management, at all times.

As the new co-owner and operating head of this organization the writer pledges that the fine tradition established 70 years ago by a famous and fearless Editor and Publisher Mr. Henry Kuchel shall be maintained. We are dedicated to do a job for Anaheim and that means you, the readers, who have been the loyal supporters of this newspaper for many generations, shall be called upon to submit your constructive criticism of the NEW AND IMPROVED GAZETTE. Watch us Grow!

Backs, Troutman & Kaulbars Make Plans for Erecting A New Mortuary Building in Anaheim

Artist's conception of new and modern mortuary chapel to be built this summer near the corner of La Palma and Euclid for Bacs-Troutman & Kaulbars of Anaheim. The ninety-year-old firm is moving to this new location after careful studies of population growth and the general expansion in the Anaheim area.

Backs, Troutman and Kaulbars, Orange County's first funeral directors, announced plans to expand its facilities by building a new, modern mortuary-chapel near the corner of La Palma and Euclid Boulevard. Construction is expected to begin late this summer.

In making the announcement, Bill Troutman, spokesman for the ninety-year-old firm, explained that the location was selected as the result of lengthy and careful studies of population growth and the general expansion in the Anaheim area.

"The new location is designed to provide the finest and most convenient facilities in Orange County," Troutman said. "Our larger and additional facilities will enable us to lessen the strain of bereavement. Also, travel and parking in the congested downtown areas will be eliminated."

Graceful, Sloping Roof

The new structure will occupy over 10,000 square feet of floor space and have a spacious parking area adjacent to the building. The chapel and offices are cone-shaped, with graceful sloping roof that reach the ground. The chapel will have exposed beam ceilings and be equipped with comfortable natural wood pews. The view from the chapel windows is enhanced by beautiful plantings that extend the full length of the building.

Separate Family Entrance

A music room, with all modern facilities, is near the family room, which is reached by a separate entrance, enabling the family to come and go in complete privacy. Modern decor, with extensive glass panels and window shutters, will be featured in the offices. The edifice also includes apartment facilities for the resident manager and morticians.

Established in 1871

The firm of Backs, Troutman and Kaulbars was originally founded by Ferdinand Backs in 1871, a decade before Anaheim was officially incorporated. The population at that time was only 883. The city of Anaheim and Backs, Troutman and Kaulbars have grown steadily together all through those years and it is the firm's aim to continue serving the community with the same devoted and faithful attention in the years to come.

Senator Kuchel Supports Bill on Aid to Education

U. S. Senator Thomas H. Kuchel of California today took direct issue with the Defense Department on the desirability of continuing federal education assistance to former members of the armed services and told the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee the Nation needs less talk and more action to renew programs assuring educational benefits.

Kuchel testified in support of his bill S. 270, which would revive the law which expired Jan. 31, 1955 and provide Federal help toward university and college education as long as the United States employs the draft to obtain defense manpower. The bill would be retroactive to the 1955 cut-off date.

Answering Defense Department objections continued educational aid would "stigmatize a career" in uniform, Kuchel told the Senate Committee that the Armed Forces' arguments against his and related bill are "irrelevant" and unsubstantiated.

Not A Military Problem

"This is not a military problem. This is a civilian problem," the California Senator said. "It is a problem that has to do with the indispensable necessity of the Government of the United States taking an interest in equipping today's young people through a process of education to cope with the perplexities of tomorrow's world.

"The Defense Department's statement does not admit that such assistance was justified in times of national emergency. We are in a national emergency. We are drafting men for the forseeable future. We are spending approximately $41 billion for defense during the coming fiscal year. We are faced with threats to our security in Berlin, Iraq, and the Far East. All over the world, our men are constantly on the alert because there is an emergency.

"We no longer can assume that one's contribution to the defense of our society ends the moment an individual leaves the service. In fact, he might make a greater contribution as a researcher in the laboratory, a skilled engineer or worker in the industrial plant, or the administrator who coordinates complex and far-flung activities. These are the armed forces of democracy in the broadest sense."

Points To Re-Enlistments

Kuchel said Defense Department statistics refute the contention that continuance of educational assistance would induce men to leave the Armed Services.

Doctor buys car to call on lions

Dr. L. Kalantar, owner of the Burbank Dog and Cat Hospital, 130 E. Alameda in Burbank makes many a house call—on dogs, cats, horses, even monkeys and ocelots. "Like the other day I got a call to come out and examine the fangs on a full grown mountain lion. If you own a cat like that you just don't jump in a cab and bring the patient to the hospital. The doctor goes to the patient. So I needed a car. One morning I sat down with The Los Angeles Times classified. Took me an hour to go over all the automobile listings. There were dozens of possibilities—really good buys. Well, from these classified ads in The Times, I bought a '58 Chrysler Convertible and I couldn't ask for a finer car or a better deal. And the seller was just as pleased. He sold his car quickly."

Whatever your needs, find it faster . . . sell it quicker . . . in The Times—world's largest classified section! For Times classified service, call KImberly 3-6448.

...in a road-hugging Wide-Track Pontiac!

- You control this car with a vivid sense of security, a new sense of balance. It has a steadier stance because it has a wider track. Its wheels are five inches farther apart. You cling to curves and corners with much less lean and sway. You drive with a feeling of confidence, security, complete control. This is without a doubt the easiest handling automobile you could possibly choose. Wide-Track design does not widen the car—only the stance. It's the big reason Pontiac is now first in sales in its price class.

THE ONLY CAR WITH WIDE-TRACK WHEELS

Dotted lines show conventional wheel positions. Pontiac's wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens only the stance, not the car itself. Pontiac hugs tighter on curves and corners. Sway and lean are considerably reduced, ride is smoother, steadier.

City Of Orange May Festival Days

Street banners and a festive mood herald the approach of Orange May Festival Days. This year marks the 28th anniversary of the gay event which will run the week of May 18 to 24.

A queen and her court have already been chosen to reign over the activities. A king will be selected by popular acclaim Tuesday night, May 19, in Chapman college auditorium, to kick off the week's festivities. From that point on everyone in Orange will be happily engaged in some kind of celebrating.

Costume Contest Wednesday

Wednesday the costume contest begins with the "storybook" theme providing the ideas for Orange folks who "dress up" for the occasion. The giant carnival at City Park opens and to call attention to this event a Kiddies Parade is planned. There will be four divisions including decorated bikes, fancy wagons, marching units and clowns and pets.

Musical Farce

"Orpheus in the Underworld", a musical farce by the Chapman college drama department opens at Orange theatre Wednesday night to complete an eventful day.

In addition to the colorful carnival activity, free circus acts are staged twice daily each week day and, four times on Saturday and Sunday. Friday night a dance is held in the Armory featuring an outstanding rhythm and blues orchestra.

Breakfast on Saturday

Saturday morning the Rotary club serves an "all you can eat" breakfast at the southeast corner of the plaza until time for the 2-mile long parade which has become a highlight of the May Festival. Entries this year indicate more colorful floats and bands than ever before in festival history.

Saturday afternoon finds entertainment in the form of a band concert in the bandshell at 3:30 by the Orange Youth Band under direction of Douglas Thomas. The park is also the site of another famous attraction of the festival, the beef barbecue served from 5 to 8 p.m. Master chefs A .B. (Bud) Paschall and George Heineman will be assisted by a committee from St. Peter's Lutheran church in Olive. This is traditionally one of the tastiest barbequed meals served in Orange County and attracts a large following every year.

Week of May 18-24

Orange annually rolls out the red carpet of hospitality for this festive occasion and the week of May 18 to 24 this year promises to be one of fun and merriment for guests from all over the county.

ARMED FORCES DAY—1959. Vice Admiral A. C. Richmond, Commandant of the U. S. Coast Guard, which operates in peacetime under the Treasury Department and, in wartime under the Department of Defense, says that it is the obligation of every thoughtful citizen to see for himself what is being done to help keep our Nation strong and free.

President Wilson made his noted "Fourteen Points" speech before Congress on Jan. 8, 1918.

Gophers are called "salamanders" in the southern states while in the west they become "dogs."

On Thursday and Friday the pupils of the Anaheim public schools were publicly examined in both grammar and primary departments. The exercises were principally in mental arithmetic, geography and grammar. On Friday afternoon many visitors were present, among whom we noticed Mr. Rimpau, Mr. Webber, Mr. Hill, Mr. Higgins, Mr. Schmidt, Mrs. McFadden, Mr. Andrew Guinn, Mr. John Guinn, Mr. Luedke, Mrs. Schmidt, Mrs. Calisher, Mrs. Reiser, Mrs. Blaneo, Mrs. Hartman, Mrs. Kuchel, Mrs. Rimpau, Miss Boldt, Miss Kuchel, Miss Swift, Miss Anna Casad and sisters of Santa Ana. At the close Mr. Guinn returned thanks to the visitors and advised the pupils they would meet at 3 p.m. on Monday next and at the same hour each day thereafter for rehearsal for the first public school exhibition ever given in Anaheim, which will take place in the new hall on Friday evening next.

The laborers employed by the Anaheim Light company lately became dissatisfied and struck for privileges. Mr. R. M. Wells, the agent, promptly paid off the last of them, and by a rapid flank movement had a full force of new hands for duty the next day. One of the privileges demanded was that of getting drunk while at work and Mr. White don't sabe that.

One day last week as Mr. Alexander Hewry was driving a load of hay into town, his wagon ran over an obstruction, throwing him to the ground. As he fell one of the mules which he was driving, kicked him severely, spraining his angle. We are glad to learn that he is now rapidly recovering.

At the meeting of the new city council on Monday last, Mr. John P. Zeyn was elected president, and F. W. Kuelp, clerk, for the ensuing term.

Mr. Ed Polhemus is passing a few days in town. He intends returning to his ranch in Lower California on Monday or Tuesday next. He reports that Mr. C. B. Rawson, Mr. F. W. Athearn, Mr. Patterson and J. E. Bacon are on the road driving their herds of sheep to Lower California. The sheep of Mr. Rimpau are about to be moved to the same destination.

Mr. George R. Butler has just started a large band of his horses through to the eastern states for sale. Mr. E. N. MacDonald, Mr. Cuseybery and Mr. Randall of Wilmington, have already forwarded several thousand head. A thousand head were recently started towards Missouri from off the Laguna Rancho.

Mr. A. P. Clark, formerly of Alpine county, has leased the first floor of the Gazette building, and will, on or about the first of June, establish a business therein. The main feature of which will be books, stationery and periodicals.

JAMES J. ABLE

James J. Able of 902 Wichita Street, Anaheim, died Monday at the age of 41. He was born in Louisiana and had been a resident of Anaheim for four years. He was a World War II veteran and at the time of his death was employed by the Hallamore Electronics Company of Anaheim. He is survived by his wife, Corene and a nephew, Raymond Able, both of Anaheim. Funeral services will be held in the chapel of Backs, Troutman and Kaulbars with Rev. A. J. Casebeer officiating and the remains were shipped to New Orleans for interment.

BERTHA C. JOHNSTON

Bertha C. Johnston, 601 North Los Angeles, 87, died at her home after a prolonged illness. She was born in Ravenna, Ohio. She was a member of the First Methodist Church of Anaheim, the Fidelis Class of the church and a member of the Assistance League and Ebell Club since 1918. She is survived by three daughters; Mrs. Lucille J. Borden of Anaheim, Mrs. Art Nygaard of Compton and Mrs. Marguerite Sandlands of Anaheim. Funeral services were held in the chapel of Backs, Troutman and Kaulbars Thursday with Rev. Earl Kernahan officiating and entombment was made in Angelus Abbey Mausoleum, Compton.

Chauncey Huggans has taken charge of Frantz's barber shop, and will conduct the same during the absence of the proprietor, who leaves today at noon for Coronado with his pair of ostriches, which he will put upon the road for exhibition purposes. Frantz will ship the birds down overland, Teamster Marsh having been engaged to take them down in a wagon. Three days will be consumed in the trip, and the exhibition will probably open during the early part of next week. Otto Hussman and Frank Eastman go along. After showing at Coronado the aggregation will return to Los Angeles and thence work along the coast to San Francisco where the professor expects to do a big business. Thence the route will be to fame and fortune through the eastern states. The professor drives the only pair of ostriches ever driven to harness and thinks of taking a colored band of expert musicians with him.

The preliminary meeting for the organization of a chapter of Eastern Star was held at Masonic hall on Thursday evening last, when an organization was effected, and the following officers of the chapter elected; Miss Clara Baker, worthy matron; W. M. McFadden, worthy patron; Mrs. McFadden, associate matron; Joseph Helmsen, secretary; E. Barr, treasurer; Miss Fannie Higgins, conductress; Miss Alma Owen, associate conductress; Mrs. Brown, Ada; Miss Ella Gardiner, Ruth; Mrs. Bourland, Esther; Mrs. Champion, Martha; Mrs. Wood, Electa; Mrs. Perdomo, warden, and W. T. Brown, sentinel.

Dr. Gustav C. Zeyn, son of John P. Zeyn of this city, died at his home in Alameda at 7 o'clock Saturday morning. For ten days he had been confined to his bed with an acute attack of erysipelas. On the preceding Monday he became seriously ill and his life was despaired of but as he improved somewhat and had the best medical skill and the assistance of expert nurses, it was hoped he would ultimately recover. Dr. Zeyn was born in Anaheim 33 years ago.

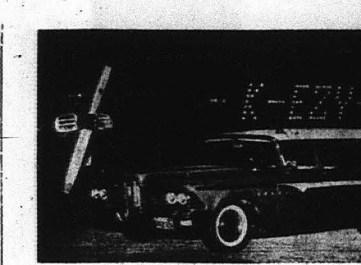

The Baron Carl Rudolf Albert von Steinmetz of Carlsruhe, alias one Arnold of the Los Angeles city jail, has been exposed. He is now in jail in Los Angeles and is known to be an unprincipled scoundrel, adventurer and knave. The Baron exploded in our editorial sanctum last Saturday morning. He called to demand a retraction of an article appearing last week in which the experiences of one Baron von Dinkelspiel were detailed at length by one of our reporters. Stories of the Baron's bloodthirsty propensities had been wafted into the editorial sanctum ahead of him. The Baron in thunderous tones observed that he had been grossly insulted — most injustly insulted, and the article reflected upon him in a manner that called for prompt and adequate reparation. Now he is arrested and in jail. The unprincipled lying scoundrel is scarcely deserving of this notice, but we merely refer to him again to set at rest certain matters which have been rumored about town for a few days past.

RALPH W. SEWARD

Ralph W. Seward, 324 East Broadway, died at the Florence Nightingale Sanitarium Thursday after a prolonged illness. He had been a resident of Anaheim for 25 years, and 50 years in California. He was a Past Master of Lodge No. 207 F&AM and Past High Priest of Anaheim Chapter 125. He is survived by his wife, Jessie N., of Anaheim. Funeral services were held in the chapel of Backs, Troutman and Kaulbars and interment was made in the Anaheim cemetery with Anaheim Masonic Lodge in charge of graveside services.

LUCILLE LYON

Lucille Lyon, 905 Fairview Street, Anaheim, died after a prolonged illness at the age of 45. She has been an Anaheim resident of two and a half years. Mrs. Lyon lived in Lubbock, Texas, prior to moving to California. She is survived by her husband, Thomas, and two sons, Thomas and Larry of the home. Funeral services were held in the chapel of Backs, Troutman and Kaulbars with Rev. A. J. Casebeer officiating and interment was made in Rose Hills cemetery.

Orange County will be the scene of another "first" later this month when new radio station K-EZY, sponsores the first air - ground advertising ever produced.

A giant airborne sign of flashing lights will spell out K-EZY invitation to viewers to participate in its broadcasting test. The message is in traveling letters, will be visible for 17 to 25 miles.

Simultaneously, the same message will be flashed on an 18' x 12' sign atop a station wagon cruising Orange County. In both cases, the continuous message will operate like the famous flashing news copy on the New York Times building.

Shown viewing the station wagon sign and its companion airplane are (left to right) Cliff Gill, K-EZY president; Ira Laufer, general sales manager, and Jim Gilbertson of Nite Lite Advertising, operators of the air-ground signs. KEZY will broadcast on 1190 Kilocycles from studios in Disneyland Hotel, Anaheim and the Wicket Building in Fullerton.

YOUR LEGISLATOR AT WORK!

Some wit has irreverently compared our ever-growing system of California freeways to a huge platter of cooked spaghetti dropped on our state which is gradually covering the whole area. The comparison has its elements of humor, but it hides the very important fact that growth of our freeways is carefully planned, and anything but haphazard.

My job as your senator is to make sure that the laws controlling the development of our statewide highway system will help the solution of our traffic problems, not hinder. Each of us in the legislature must be diligent to protect the real interests of our communities and their people, to see that full consideration is given to all other factors in the determination of freeway routes.

Freeway and Expressway System

It is our legislative responsibilities in this field which have led to the developing and drafting of one of the most important highway measures to be considered at this session. That is a bill which would establish by law a 12,500 mile California Freeway and Expressway System in the general highway system, adding about 1,500 miles to existing state mileage to do so. The measure passed the Senate with no opposition, and is now before the Assembly.

The bill has been carefully drafted to coordinate state planning and action as closely as possible with the needs and planning of local communities and areas in order to make certain that exact routes best meet local conditions and needs. The bill also requires a complete review of the new system every four years, with recommendations to the legislature for necessary revisions, and requires the highway department to cooperate with any advisory committee of local officials to the fullest extent.

Much Excitement Raised

During the past few months, there has probably been more excitement raised in connection with proposed freeway routes than a World Series on our west coast would produce. Loudly voiced contentions that proposed routes would adversely affect communities involved, would reduce the local tax base, and would retard industrial development, clouded the issues and have been reflected in proposed legislation.

Freeway development in California has been spread over enough years so that our legislative committees concerned with it, as well as the administrative agency, have been able to collect facts and figures on the effects of freeway construction.

In that connection, you may recall my mentioning a bill I introduced earlier in the session calling for an additional $10,000,000 to be added to the state highway department's revolving fund, with the requirement that the rights-of-way division had to purchase the property designated by the highway commission as a freeway route—within two years after such designation.

The Transportation Committee of the Senate, which heard the bill recently, felt additional information was necessary, and that not enough money was available to place in the revolving fund at the present time, so it sent the measure to an interim committee for full study. I feel confident that the legislation will be adopted by the legislature in the 1961 session, upon completion of the committee's study.

Increase in Tax Base

In the meantime, studies of the tax effects of freeway location show that they actually increase the tax base, instead of lowering it. Land along a major freeway, previously selling for $2,000 per acre now brings $26,000.

So long as we are people who live on wheels, freeways will be needed to move us and our things, and we cannot continue without them. But despite all the freeways that have been built and are contemplated, we must begin thinking about California's ultimate future through some kind of rapid transit that is less expensive and less smog-producing.

Kuchel Supports —

Citing records of the Air Force, which he pointed out is the only service with a four-year enlistment, the California Senator noted the re-enlistment rate of first-term airmen all entitled to G.I. benefits went up from 14.4 per cent in fiscal 1955 to 45.7 per cent in the first six months of the current year. All of those men were entitled to the educational program because they signed up before the 1955 expiration date, he remarked.

"The constantly increasing percentage of reenlistments by regulars would seem to place the Department of Defense's claim in its proper, irrelevant perspective," Kuchel told the Senate Committee. "Probably some men leave the service for educational benefits. But I suggest that those men probably would leave the service anyway."

Educational Challenge

Urging the passage of his bill and revival of the program for various reasons, Kuchel commented "our attempt as a nation in encouraging educational opportunity through Federal action is older than the signing of the Constitution. Today educational opportunity is necessary both for individual advancement and to fulfill the responsibilities and goals of our nation. We have heard about the military challenge of Russia; now we are hearing about the economic challenge; perhaps we should hear more about the educational challenge. To attain security in the first two we need unmatched supremacy in the last one.

The legislation before you seeks to remedy our deficit and meet our needs educationally . . . Many high school graduates have the mental capacity but lack the financial resources to attend college. That is sad and shocking."

Stone quarry owner rates Chevrolet the toughest truck going

"Put a Chevy out there and it stays!"

At the Snyder Stone Quarry, Martinsville, Va., you see Chevrolet trucks of all ages. "They get better every year," Mr. R. G. Snyder says. "My '59's keep going with no downtime for major service . . . moving more material at less cost than any other truck I've had." The grades are steep from quarry to crushing mill, the loads big and punishing. That's why Mr. Snyder specifies Chevrolet. "You never do wear one out. You just get tired of looking at it and get a new one."

The 8403 tandem you see up above is taking on a mountain of a payload. "About 28,000 pounds of granite," Mr. Snyder states. "And it moves over the road like a light truck."

Today you sure can't assume that because a truck is trim-lined and good looking it doesn't work every bit as hard as those old-styled steam rollers. Put a Chevy on your run and see the big difference that precision-engineered chassis components and super-efficient power make. Your Chevrolet dealer will arrange the details.

No job's too tough for a Chevrolet truck! CHEVROLET

WHAT'S DOING

H. I. Perry, your Telephone Manager in Anaheim

Will you be looking for interesting programs for your club or church meetings next fall? Here's a suggestion: We have a big selection of entertaining films, and we're happy to let your group borrow them. They range from short, 10-minute features to hour-long color films of our great TV science shows, like Our Mr. Sun and The Alphabet Conspiracy (scene above). If you're interested, just give us a call here at the telephone business office, and we'll be glad to help you. Do it now, while films are still available for most dates next fall. No charge, of course.

Audrey Phelan of the Accounting Department is shown operating the machine which will prepare the bill you will receive in the coming months. By July all of our customer statements will feature the new two color bill which represents a faster, more accurate and economical method of accounting.

The Orange County area is the first in Southern California to receive the new bills. It will be easier to read and is prepared completely by machine.
