LA Gang Members Taken In Shooting

Six men have been arrested in an Anaheim police dragnet that followed the cracking of the 14-month-old gangland-style slaying of club operator Leslie Simpson.

Police Chief Mark Stephenson said that a seventh suspect is being sought and "there may be even more arrests."

Still being sought is Ralph Wesley Johnson, 30, whose last known address was Los Angeles. Police said Johnson was a member of the Rosato organization and described him as being 5 feet 10½ inches tall, weighing 170 pounds and having brown curly hair and blue eyes.

Latest to be picked up are Warren Larsen, 25, and Lewis Subotter, 30, both of Anaheim.

Stephenson said the pair is being charged with suspicion of armed robbery in the March 9, 1957 holdup of the South Seas Cafe and Simpson and his wife.

Four members of the so-called

Rosato gang were taken into custody Friday.

The quartet are suspects in the slaying of Simpson and the wounding of his wife, Juanita, on the front doorsteps of their 516 Haven Dr. home the night of Feb. 7, 1959.

Preliminary hearing for the quartet was set for 2 p.m. Friday. The couple was cut down from ambush by shotgun blasts.

Anaheim CHP Officer Dies In Accident

California Highway Patrolman Robert Donald Dale, 25, was killed Thursday when he fell in the path of a moving truck.

Dale was the second Anaheim division CHP officer to die in a motorcycle-truck collision in the past four months.

CYCLE OFFICER Leonard Winney, 27, was killed last November in a similar accident only two miles from the scene of Thursday's fatality.

Dale, a resident of Orange, was the County's 20th traffic death of 1960.

The fatal accident occurred at Orchard Dr. near Orangefhorpe Ave. north of Anaheim.

Investigators said Dale's motorcycle apparently spilled as he rounded a curve and fell in front of a truck driven by Thomas Vasko, 55, of Fontana.

Anaheim Student Enlists Gov. Brown In Jr. High PTA

When Stephen Karcher, 8th grade student at Orangewood Junior High School, was asked to recruit adults for the school's PTA—he went right to the top.

Young Karcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Karcher, 10301 Perdido St., fired off a letter to the state's number one citizen, Gov. Pat Brown, asking him to join the Orangewood PTA.

Replied the governor: "This is a very thoughtful and unusual thing for you to do. After reading your letter I feel confident that you will have a fine educational program and will be a success as a science student in college." In the letter was Gov. Brown's signed PTA membership card.

Colonist Five Edged in CIF Cage Finals

The great Anaheim Colonist basketball team faltered—and lost—in the last moments of a fantastic drive toward its first ever CIF Basketball Championship.

The Colonists were beaten, 46-39, by Long Beach Poly High School in the championship game of the CIF Basketball Playoffs at Los Angeles State College Saturday night.

But it took an inspired performance by the favored Long Beach team to turn back the Anaheim club, which previously had won 21 straight victories.

The Colonists kept the pressure on the Jackrabbits throughout the game and tied the bigger Long Beach club 28-28 midway through the third quarter. But Poly spurted

The telephone rang and rang. And out of the avalanche of telephone calls County Assessor Hugh J. Plumb learned another lesson: people just plain have troubles with new forms.

Most of the callers were seeking clarification of a new personal property assessment form mailed property owners by the tax man.

Most of the callers were seeking around a conflict over dates in filling the property assessment form and a veterans exemption form contained on the same application.

"We are asking taxpayers to re-assess the property assessment within 10 days," said Plumb, "but veterans have until the first Monday in May to file."

The idea of putting both forms on one piece of paper came from experts—hired by the county to look for efficiency—"to conserve time and money," said Plumb.

It's simple—added the harassed Mr. Plumb—those who do not qualify as veterans don't need to give any attention to the back of the form.

"ANOTHER question asked over and over concerns autos as personal property. There is no need to list any automobiles owned, since they are taxed through the motor vehicles department," added Plumb.

Hobby equipment (noted on the form) applies only to such things as a home workshop and other large projects. It does not include such smaller items as cameras, golf clubs and the like which are a "part of personal household property."

Is that clear? Many of the question, said Plumb, could be answered by a closer scrutiny of the form by householders.

Plumb isn't feeling too bad about the volume of queries.

"After all," he said, "250,000 forms were mailed."

Asks Letter Sweaters for Honor Pupils

A varsity letter for algebra and all-star team of the best English students?

These are possibilities of a proposal by Anaheim public relations expert George P. Karcher.

Karcher, an officer of the Pacific Water Co., forwarded a proposal to award letters for scholastic achievement at both the junior and senior high school levels to Anaheim Union High School District Superintendent Paul Cook.

Karcher suggested that the cost of such awards be underwritten by private citizens and not the taxpayer.

The idea, he said, developed from a speech before the National Assn. of Secondary School Principals in which Lee A. DuBridge, president of Cal Tech, urged "open, honest intellectual competition through our high schools and colleges."

"We always have been perfectly frank about athletic competition, about a boy's ability to make the football or basketball team,"

Facility To Be Completed In Autumn

Ground was broken Wednesday for a $5 million Lutheran hospital here.

The 144-bed Martin Luther Hospital will be built on a 15-acre site on Euclid Ave. just south of the Riverside Freeway, according to Rev. Lester Mubly, president of the Orange County Lutheran Hospital Assn.

The hospital should be completed within eight months.

The main hospital building will contain five surgical rooms, a fracture room, cytoscope room, two delivery rooms and radiological, pathological and physical therapy facilities and kitchen and cafeteria.

Planning of the hospital allows for the addition of 300 beds in the future.

Lutheran hospitals are considered among some of the finest in the nation.

Crime's Face Reconstructed

Local Lawmen Become Police Artists, Master Use of Revolutionary ID Kit

Four local officers are police artists now—and they don't need a drawing pad or pencil. The officers, Donald Nutt, R. A. Zippel, Michael A. Winney and Don H. Blackman, have completed a course of instruction in the use of the Identikit, a revolutionary device that allows police investigators to re-construct the face of a criminal suspect from description of witnesses minutes after a crime has been committed.

The four Anaheim officers are among the first investigators in the nation accredited to use the Identikit.

The Identikit System, newest weapon in the continuing war against crime, is a system of visual identification of criminal suspects. A facial likeness is built by the system from a verbal description given by the victim or a witness to a crime. These images can be transmitted by a simple code to other law enforcement agencies by phone, teletype, or written message without necessity of photographic reproduction. Speed of transmission greatly facilitates the apprehension of criminals as soon as possible after the crime.

Conclusion of the full-week course of instruction held in Anaheim marks further expansion of multiple department use of the Identikit System by foresighted and progressive law enforcement agencies. Officers Nutt, Zippel, Winney and Blackman were assigned to the school by Chief of Police Mark A. Stevenson of the Anaheim Police Department.

The Identikit System is now an integral part of the daily criminal apprehension activities of the Anaheim Police Department.

OFFICERS DONALD NUTT (l), R. A. ZIPPEL, MICHAEL A. WINNEY and DONALD H. BLACKMAN of the Anaheim Police Department receive certificates of graduation as four of the nation's first qualified operators of the new IDENTIKIT System of criminal identification.

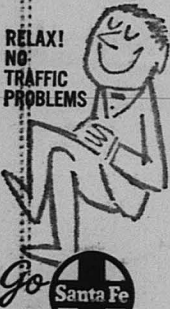

Courtney Owens (c), executive of the Identikit Division, Townsend Company, Santa Ana, makes the presentation. The new Identikit System of criminal identification to aid in the early apprehension of suspects was developed by the Santa Ana firm.

Anaheim Women of the Moose

The hospital chairman Mrs. Virginia McNulty opened the meeting of the Anaheim Women of the Moose Chapter 1473 with the introducing of the evening's speaker, Mrs. James Martin. Mrs. Martin, who at one time was the secretary of the Orange County's Retarded Children's Association chose as her topic "The Retarded Children of Orange County."

Mrs. Martin gave a brief summary on what is being done in Orange County toward the rehabilitation of the retarded people. She told that the association has been trying to raise funds toward the building of a school for these persons. Here in Orange County there are four thousand such cases and the present facilities can only accommodate about half of them. To help us to become better acquainted with the project she distributed pamphlets on what is being done toward this goal and stressed the need for more volunteers to help in this worthy project.

Mrs. Shirley Hudson was welcomed into the defending circle. Drawing of the door prize and refreshments concluded the night program.

International Air On OCC Campus

Orange Coast College students span the globe. This spring out of the 2,063 registered day students there are 39 representatives from ten foreign countries.

This is an increase of twelve over the total number of foreign students enrolled at the same time last year.

Twenty-two of the 39 are from Iran and five from Japan. Canada has three representatives while Denmark and Jordan each have two.

With India, Korea, Lebanon, Nigeria and Turkey each being represented by one student, OCC is fast becoming an international meeting place.

said DuBridge in his Portland, Ore. speech.

The speech inspired Karcher's proposal. Karcher said the awards could be handled through the honor societies of the schools.

Karcher said he contacted Dr. DuBridge and that he was "very much in favor of letters for scholastic work and suggested that the letters be very distinctive and not confused in any way with those awarded for athletics."

"He even suggested that a special jacket or coat be designed to go with the letter."

"I am looking forward to the day when our students proudly wear a 'letter' on their sweaters for their brains as well as their muscles," wrote Karcher.

Perkins Picked as Olympic BB Coach

Chapman College athletic director Don Perkins has been named an assistant coach for the United States Olympic basketball team.

The Orange coach was picked as an assistant by Arid McCutchan, coach of the Evansville, Ind. team which Saturday defeated Chapman, 96-69, for the NCAA (College Division National Championship).

McCutchan will be head coach of the team which will represent the U. S. in the Olympic basketball championships in Rome this summer.

Gang Men

nearly 14 months of intensive and exhaustive investigation, Stephenson said.

Booked in Anaheim city jail and arraigned Tuesday on suspicion of murder was Joseph Rosato, 37, of Hawthorne. Also arrested and arraigned were "gang members" Joseph Rosato, 30, of Los Angeles; John Vlahovich, 30, of San Pedro; and Vita Jacobellis, 52, also of Los Angeles.

Police said they took a shotgun from Vlahovich's home. The six-foot, eight-inch giant was Rosato's bodyguard.

Police said the murder was motivated by revenge. Rosato was acquitted in an Orange County Superior Court trial of charges of robbing Simpson's South Seas bar of $944.

Simpson, who was killed earlier, was to have appeared as a witness against Rosato, police said.

The investigation was directed by Det. John Kerr who had the assistance of officers from other police departments in both Orange and Los Angeles counties and the district attorneys of both counties.

THE ARRESTS of the four men were made in a pre-planned dragnet in Los Angeles Friday night.

The Simpson couple, carrying money from the club, were returning to their home at 3 a.m. on the morning of Feb. 7 when they were cut down by five shotgun blasts.

Simpson died at the scene and his 30-year-old wife had both of her hands amputated later in surgery. She was also struck in the chest by one blast from the .12 gauge shotgun.

Kerr said Rosato gang members came under suspicion from the very beginning.

THE MURDER weapon was found last July in a storm sewer not far from the death scene.

Kerr did not divulge police details of the shooting, but said he expected arrests of more "out of town" suspects within the next few days.

Kerr said Rosato has proof he was on a plane flying to Washington state at the time of the murder.

Police said Rosato was taken into custody at Seattle for the March 9, 1957 holdup of the South Seas, but successfully fought extradition for several months.

Census Counters Stage Maneuvers Today, March 22

This afternoon Orange County's task force of census takers will hold maneuvers in preparation for the big April 1 invasion of homes.

Abbott R. Williams, director of the U. S. Census in Orange County, said 16 of the County's 32 crew leaders will take an actual census of 400 homes in Orange today.

On March 22 the remaining leaders will take a head count in 400 homes in Santa Ana.

The 32 crew leaders will direct a work force of 600 enumerators when the official house-to-house canvass begins April 1, said Williams.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

A Gamble You Always Win

America's free enterprise system has proved to the hilt the old saying that "competition is the life of trade." But our modern pharmaceutical industry has gone much further. It has proved that competition means life itself.

What an electronics company comes out with a new invention, you get a more compact television set with a better picture. But a scientific discovery that comes out of a pharmaceutical laboratory may cure a serious ailment affecting you or someone in your family.

Competition is keen in the drug industry. Scores of firms each year pour millions of dollars into scientific research. They can't sit back, content to produce and market their tried and true products. They must constantly try to find improvements for established drugs or discover better ones. For if they don't, one of their competitors probably will.

That's the way free competition works under our system. You've got to take financial risks to stay ahead of your business rivals. That's especially true in the pharmaceutical field. The drug firms must keep up a constant search for better products, for at any moment a competitor may come up with a new compound that makes the wonder drug of yesterday the has-been of today.

This has happened time after time. For example, valued at $5,000,000 in a scientific research program to produce cortisone through a less expensive method than other companies used—by chemical processes instead of extracting the compound from animal substances. The firm finally was successful. It looked forward to a huge and profitable future on its huge gamble. But within a very short time a competing company found a way to produce cortisone at even less cost. The first company soon saw its market dwindle to a fraction of what it was originally. The same situation has developed in the field of antibiotics—the seemingly miraculous drugs which have knocked much of the headlines out of a host of infectious diseases.

The early antibiotics, such as penicillin and streptomycin, achieved a great breakthrough in the war against disease. But these drugs were limited in action, hitting together only about 40 infections. Doctors needed antibiotics that could halt the attack of a broad range of diseases.

Many private pharmaceutical laboratories entered the expensive race to develop such a drug. This costly competition produced just what the doctor ordered—the "broad-spectrum" antibiotics, like Terramycin. These compounds are highly effective against nearly a hundred diseases. It is highly effective against many infections and yet it eliminates or sharply reduces harmful side effects.

This kind of keen competition will continue in our pharmaceutical industry. Some companies will win and others will lose in the vast research gamble. But the American public is a sure winner. For, remember, when private research develops the next wonder drug, the life it saves may be your own.

ed to a 38-38 lead at the three-quarters mark.

Then with less than four minutes left on the clock Anaheim pulled up 36-41 before Poly went into a stall and scored three more points as the desperate Colonists committed several fouls in attempting to regain possession of the ball.

The night before Anaheim upset unbeaten San Diego Hoover. The CIF championship defeat was the second of the season for the Colonists.

More than 5,000 persons viewed the championship game. Anaheim's 1959-60 record was 30-2.

Elsewhere on the Orange County cage front Fullerton Junior College was defeated 77-77 by San Jose City College in the final minutes of the State Junior College Basketball Championship tilt played in San Jose Saturday.

Val Sage of Anaheim Stars In 'Glass Menagerie'; Opens Today

"The Glass Menagerie," the famous Tennessee Williams play, opens for a six night run at Fullerton Junior College today in the Little Theater auditorium.

Heading the cast of four is Val Sage of Anaheim, playing the role of Tom Wingfield, the frustrated son torn between love for his mother and sister and his own ambitions. Marion Eller of Fullerton takes the part of Amanda Wingfield, the mother; Ed Strauss of Fullerton, the "gentleman caller"; and Nancy McFadden of Garden Grove, Laura, the pathetic and crippled daughter.

THE PLAY, which will also be presented on March 18, 19, 24, 25, and 26, is directed by Mrs. Virginia Duncan, FJC drama coach. The student production staff is headed by Dick Odle of Fullerton, set design; Warren Deacon of Buena Park, sound and incidental music; Marvin Capeloto of Anaheim, stage manager; Ron Ranson of Whittier, lighting; John Duhalme of Fullerton and Dennis Williams of Placentia, student direction.

"The Glass Menagerie," originally a Broadway hit in 1935, later became a successful film and has become a theater classic of psychological drama.

Tickets will be available at the door for most performances, but since the small auditorium seats only 250, those who anticipate attending should make advance reservations through the college to avoid being turned away, warns Mrs. Duncan.

Senior Citizens
Visit Capistrano

Proving that they still get around as much as anyone, Anaheim's Senior Citizens Club, under the sponsorship of the Park and Recreation Department, will leave Saturday, March 19, to attend festivities on "Swallow Day" at San Juan Capistrano Mission.

The Senior Citizens, more than 60 strong, will board their buses in front of the Optimist Clubhouse at 10:00 in the morning and head south for a full day of fun. The "Seniors" will attend the downtown parade and then retire to the Mission to view the annual pageant of the swallows. Later that afternoon, the entire group will attend the Western Exhibition show before heading for home.

Reservations are still being accepted at the Recreation office, 309 S. Palm, and those interested should hurry to file theirs.

Magnolia Guild Hears Hideo
Kodani Talk on Home Society

"From my long interest in the work and principles of the Children's Home Society of California came the impetus which has led me to participate, as a volunteer, in the activities of more than 20 welfare, religious and civic organizations."

This expression was voiced by Mrs. Hideo H. Kodani of Pacific Palisades when she spoke to members of the Magnolia Guild, an auxiliary of the society, at their March meeting. Presiding was Mrs. Claude Owens, president of the Guild.

As a member of the Los Angeles District Board of this statewide organization, Mrs. Kodani recognized that the principles of the Children's Home Society were ones that could be transferred to her work in relocating refugee children for the United Nations. Mrs. Kodani leaves shortly for Mexico where she will observe, for the United Nations, work being done at an Educational Center for underprivileged children.

Having come to this country at the age of three from her native Japan, Mrs. Kodani is also actively interested in the work of the Joint Recruitment Program in Southern California, which seeks the placement of boys and girls in Negro, Mexican, American Indian and Oriental homes. Children's Home Society has joined with other adoptive agencies to help solve the problem of finding homes for these minority group orphans.

IN LONG BEACH

ON THE GO with DORIS

Stan Rossi's ANSTAY'S STEAK HOUSE, noted for steak dinners and entertainment, also features complete daily luncheons. One of the specials is the small top sirloin luncheon steak (only $1.35). This includes choice of soup, Du Jour or salad, potato, vegetable, garlic toast and coffee. They also have a variety of other luncheons including many sea food specials for Lent. Try this attractive spot and you won't be disappointed.

I recommend it for an inexpensive evening.

The KETTLE RESTAURANT is still featuring fashion shows every Tuesday evening at 7:30 given by Hi-Top fashion models. Enjoy the show with organ music by delightful Janet Henderson. The food here is always delicious. Remember to try their chicken and dumpling special on Sunday. Your debonair host is Frank Belia.

Not only do they have wonderful New York, porterhouse, etc. but on Monday thru Thursday they feature brochettes of beef (tender squares of steak broiled on a skewer) with peppers, onions, and mushrooms. Or perhaps you prefer griddle of beef cooked in wine sauce and mushrooms. All terrific. I rate this restaurant AAAA.

Benny Nawahi, the king of the uke, is most entertaining. in Belmont Shore. I plan to He's at Don May's LEILANI HUT stop in tonight. Ray Lee, the chef there for many years, is well known for his many tropical concoctions. His teriyaki steak can't be beat. Don May is your royal host. Mention this column for a gift from the islands.

Had lunch yesterday at the JESTER STEAK HOUSE. Tried their special of the day: chicken a la king with mushrooms. Served with choice of soup or salad, french bread or beverage. The check came to $1.00. Pat, the Irish chef, is real great. You'll enjoy the dancing and entertainment featured nightly at the JESTER STEAK HOUSE.

Stopped at the ROYAL HAWAIIAN and had a nice talk with Dee Hampton who is planning a fabulous luau for March 24. Mak reservations now. Only $7.50. I'll be there. Why don't you join me? While at the ROYAL HAWAIIAN I visited the key club downstairs. Brad and Len are real nice guys. The place was really jumping with a hono session the other night.

For real family dining try the CHALET RESTAURANT. This is the spot that has 27 varieties of pancakes made from their own recipes. Eastern corn fed steaks char broiled over an open fire are also featured. You'll be served in a quaint Swiss atmosphere. The kids will love eating here as the CHALET adjoins the Disneyland parking lot.

Bill Farrell, a terrific guy at the keyboard, plays nightly at CERO'S (a cute little spot on Euclid). You'll be hosted by Mike and Katie, a charming pair, who have had many years experience in the restaurant business.

Have you visited the BRANDING IRON in Orange yet? This is a sensational restaurant for steaks. Not only do they have wonderful New York, porterhouse, etc. but on Monday thru Thursday they feature brochettes of beef (tender squares of steak broiled on a skewer) with peppers, onions, and mushrooms. Or perhaps you prefer griddle of beef cooked in wine sauce and mushrooms. All terrific. I rate this restaurant AAAA.

COME HEAR "KING BENNY"

... If you want good food, entertainment, and atmosphere try Jack Bass' CORSIKAN ROOM in Belmont Shore. This place really jumps with Frank Day at the keyboard. I've always enjoyed this spot. You will too.

... TIMPONE'S on Brookhurst features luscious Italian dishes. One of my favorite dinners is Mostaccioli with choice of tomato sauce, meat sauce, meat balls, sausage, or mushroom sauce (priced from $1.10 to $1.50). On Tuesday nights one of their specials is a half spaghetti and ravioli dinner. Served with burgundy wine, salad, french bread, dessert and beverage. All for $1.45. Children's orders 20c less. They also have food to go.

... The TWIN FLAMES SUPPER CLUB in Long Beach is the place for that 80c steak dinner. (Yes, I said 80c). This do it yourself steak fry is served with all the salad and garbanzo beans you wish. The TWIN FLAMES is a real cute restaurant-bar with a cozy atmosphere. Stop in.

If you like frog legs the ROBERTS ROOM is the place to go. They're served with soup, tossed green salad and rolls. Only $3.00 for this very enjoyable treat. A matinee is featured daily from 2 to 7 with Bob Morris at the keyboard. Don West is at the piano nightly. Both do a real fine job. Joe Roberts is planning a real swinging affair for St. Patrick's day (with corned beef and cabbage served after 9:30 p.m.).

For terrific Australian broiled lobster tail go to HAL GREGG'S STEAK HOUSE. Only $3.50 and served with soup, salad, choice of potatoes, roll and coffee. All this and dancing too. Be sure to catch the fashion shows. Lady Fair Dress Shop Models are featured Tuesday evening at 7:30 and Muriel Dress Shop Models are featured Friday noon.

Had dinner last evening at APPLE VALLEY STEAK HOUSE. I had halibut steak, the best I've ever eaten. It's served with their famous request salad, clam chowder, variety of home made bread and melba toast. This is one of the most famous dining spots in Long Beach. Your host is Charlie Dodd.

Bill Farrell, a terrific guy at the keyboard, plays nightly at CERO'S (a cute little spot on Euclid). You'll be hosted by Mike and Katie, a charming pair, who have had many years experience in the restaurant business.

Take a friend to CROW'S RESTAURANT in Long Beach the other evening. We were delightfully entertained by Emile Williams at the piano. The service was superb (my favorite waitress is Mary). Long Beach councilman Bob Crow is a fabulous host. Whether you prefer Chinese or American food you can't go wrong here. Try their tender ginger beef with oyster sauce, a great treat.

DE PALMA'S LITTLE ITALY is sensational for Italian food. I stop here at least once a week. One of my favorite dinners is lasagne casserole with Italian sausage or chicken (made to order). Served with a huge tureen of soup (all you can eat), a luscious salad, antipasto, bread and beverage. You'll want to go back to this famous spot again and again.

The JOLLY KNIGHT is the spot in Garden Grove famous for steaks. This is one of the favorite spots of the businessmen of this area (both for luncheons and dinners). Herb Larson, at the piano, entertains nightly.

PAUL'S RESTAURANT on Garden Grove Blvd. still features those choice steaks from the broiler. Top sirloin or porterhouse $1.95. New York or filet mignon $2.25. Served with a relish plate, baked potato with cheese and chives and garlic bread. I have eaten here several times and have never been disappointed. Try it.

Have you visited the BRANDING IRON in Orange yet? This is a sensational restaurant for steaks. Not only do they have wonderful New York, porterhouse, etc. but on Monday thru Thursday they feature brochettes of beef (tender squares of steak broiled on a skewer) with peppers, onions, and mushrooms. Or perhaps you prefer griddle of beef cooked in wine sauce and mushrooms. All terrific. I rate this restaurant AAAA.

Had lunch yesterday at the JESTER STEAK HOUSE. Tried their special of the day: chicken a la king with mushrooms. Served with choice of soup or salad, french bread or beverage. The check came to $1.00. Pat, the Irish chef, is real great. You'll enjoy the dancing and entertainment featured nightly at the JESTER STEAK HOUSE.

Stopped at the ROYAL HAWAIIAN and had a nice talk with Dee Hampton who is planning a fabulous luau for March 24. Mak reservations now. Only $7.50. I'll be there. Why don't you join me? While at the ROYAL HAWAIIAN I visited the key club downstairs. Brad and Len are real nice guys. The place was really jumping with a hono session the other night.

For real family dining try the CHALET RESTAURANT. This is the spot that has 27 varieties of pancakes made from their own recipes. Eastern corn fed steaks char broiled over an open fire are also featured. You'll be served in a quaint Swiss atmosphere. The kids will love eating here as the CHALET adjoins the Disneyland parking lot.

Realignment of County Supervisor Areas Sought

Sweeping realignment of Orange County's five supervisorial districts is being considered, it has been disclosed. County Supervisors have revealed a study is afoot to realign boundaries of the five districts so they will be more evenly representative of the County population.

At present the "out of line" shapes of supervisorial districts are as follows:

- District 1 (Featherly), 90,000;
- District 2 (Warner), 160,000;
- District 3 (Phillips), 300,000;
- District 4 (Hirstein), 80,000; and District 5 (Nelson), 105,000.

The widest disparity is between District 3 (including Anaheim and Fullerton) and District 4 (sparsely populated east Orange County).

One crimp is put into the proposal to realign by a state law that prohibits supervisorial districts from crossing state assembly district borders.

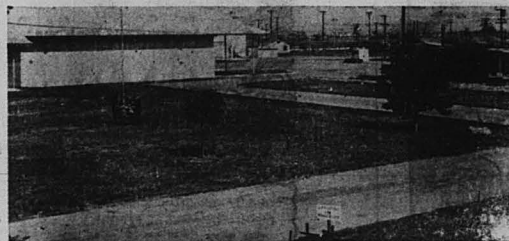

The Santa Ana River is presently the dividing line between the 74th and 75th Assembly districts.

Equitable district distribution for Orange County's estimated 750,000 to 800,000 population would be 150,000 per district, most experts agree.

Board Chairman Cye Featherly says he sees no need for immediate change in supervisorial districts until a realignment of the assembly districts, already proposed, is undertaken later this year.

Imperial Insurance Gives Dividends

SAN GABRIEL, Calif.—Imperial Insurance Exchange has issued their first policy holders' dividend based on the 1958 policy year after but two years in operation specializing in workman's compensation insurance, according to Executive Vice President, John W. Davis.

In making the announcement, Davis stated, "Since the inception of the Imperial Insurance Exchange, our primary objective has been to achieve the lowest possible net cost for our policy holders. This announcement of our first dividend is a significant indication

Local School Youngsters Health Guarded By Well-Chosen Meals

Mom got the lowdown from Centralia School District food experts on how to fill Junior's stomach.

Mrs. Marian Garrett, head of food services, outlined requirements the district must meet to serve "Type A" meals. These menus provide from one-third to one-half the daily nutritional needs of the elementary school age child.

Certain fundamental requirements must be met, Mrs. Garrett explained. A menu must that our ultimate goals are well within reason."

provide two sources of protein each day and three sources of fruit or vegetables. Vitamin A is required once a week while vitamin C is an every day "must." The latter is most difficult to obtain on a low cost budget of 30c per meal, Mrs. Garrett told the mothers, because children do not particularly care for parsley, spinach or broccoli. This leaves a choice of sources such as citrus fruit or tomatoes. The latter commodity is costly during most of the school year, she pointed out.

BREAD AND BUTTER and at least one-half pint of whole milk are included in each meal. Surplus commodities are furnished schools under the state and national plan. Mrs. Garrett cited butter as an example. The state furnishes one pound for every 50 children. A state audit once or twice a year determines the amount of butter bought and the amount furnished by the government. Centralia district used an average of 70 pounds for the first two weeks last December at one school when 3533 meals were served.

Main dishes may include meat or fowl, beans or cheese, fish or egg, or a combination or variation of those ingredients. Color and variety must be considered, too, Mrs. Garrett explained, so food looks appetizing to the youthful consumer.

Although "preference of children" is last on the state's menu analysis, cafeteria managers and Mrs. Garrett are aware that some items have more appeal for the youngsters. Hamburger day, when 80 to 100 more lunches are served in each school, is most popular. Other favorites are pizzaburger, toast-dog and combination meat dishes. Apple crisp and chocolate cake are popular desserts.

VOLUMINOUS DAY BY DAY and monthly records from each cafeteria must be checked, involving not only food commodities but intangible items such as costs and labor, also audited by the state. Dr. S. C. Joyner, special consultant on school administration, commended the district on a recent visit for the few man hours spent in the district's five cafeterias in proportion to the average number of children who participate in the hot lunch program each day. Centralia district is one of the fortunate districts in southern California which has been able to operate on the low cost of 30c per lunch for school children and still stay out of the red, according to, Palmer G. Campen, assistant superintendent of business. He gives Mrs. Garrett much of the credit, and told P.T.A. presidents that in addition to the cafeteria staff, much additional labor goes into cafeteria accounting, payroll, delivery, warehousing and keeping personnel records by the business office's staff.

Vet Exemptions Deadline May 2

Veterans must file $1,000 property tax exemptions no later than May 2. County Veterans Service Officer Ben Liebermann has announced.

California grants exemption from taxes, but not special assessments, on $1,000 assessed value to qualified resident veterans of wars or campaigns, including women veterans. Eligibility is limited to veterans who do not own real estate and personal property with an assessed value of $5,000 or more, although under the community property laws he and his wife together may own property up to an assessed value of $10,000 and still be eligible under certain circumstances.

Veterans are warned that if they intend to file for the exemption on any property they own or are buying, they must have the deed or contract of sale recorded before March 7. A veteran cannot get an exemption on property not assessed to him. It must be owned, claimed, possessed or managed by the veteran at noon on the first Monday in March to have it assessed to him.

Anaheim Area Milkmaids Eligible To Compete for State Dairy Princess

Pretty Anaheim milkmaids are eligible to compete for title of 1960 California Dairy Princess, according to Edward H. De Boer of Anaheim, director of the American Dairy Assn. of California.

De Boer said that any girl with a dairy farm background at any time in her life, between 16 and 25, is eligible to enter the contest.

The winner of the district contest will compete in the state finals for the title of California Dairy Princess April 29 through May 1 at the Merced County Spring Fair in Los Banos.

The district winner will reign for a year in her area, representing the dairy farmers of this district, and should she be the state winner, a full year of travel and excitement is in store for her. The winner in the state receives a wardrobe, scholarship, full year of employment, many gifts, and will represent California at the American Dairy Princess contest, scheduled for an eastern state late in 1960.

Magnolia Trustees Thumb Down Request to Give Bibles to Students

Magnolia School District has denied a request by the Gideon Society to distribute Bibles to fifth and sixth grade students here.

The board vote against free distribution of King James Versions of the Bible was 4-1.

Rev. Robert Lehman, pastor of the Orange County Unitarian Church, quoted legal rulings against distribution of the Bible in public schools.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Cobb, who asked the distribution privilege, argued the legal rulings were merely opinions and that they had never been tested in court.

The couple asked the board to delay its decision, but the board voted against the proposal despite Trustee C. Joseph Anderson's request that "other churches be heard from" first.

Frank Blisitt of Fullerton, a Gideon Society spokesman, said the society has already distributed "new Testaments in Santa Ana, Tustin and Garden Grove."

Mrs. English Feted

Mrs. Dorothy English, 8902 Siesta St., Anaheim, was among nine long-time employees of Market Basket honored at a banquet in Pasadena when President Neil D. Ramsey welcomed new members to the "Stemwinders Club."

Taking its name from the inscribed watches which the company presents to initiates, the club is made up of persons who have completed their fifteenth year with Market Basket.

Local CHP Warns About Wrong Turns

"Don't make a U-turn at an intersection controlled by traffic signals unless there is a sign permitting such a turn."

Captain F. E. Winchell, commander of the California Highway Patrol's Anaheim unit, issued this warning today, adding that an increasing number of motorists appear not to know and understand the law dealing with U-turns.

"A U-turn may be made in a business district at an intersection that does not have traffic signals and there is no sign posted prohibiting such a turn," he continued. "In a residential district, a U-turn may also be made between intersections if there are no cars approaching within 200 feet from either direction."

The CHP commander also noted three other places where it is illegal to make a U-turn. They are on a curve, near the crest of a grade where the car cannot be seen for 200 feet in either direction, and in front of a fire station.

"When you want to make a U-turn on a divided highway, do so only at openings provided for turns and never drive over or cross any dividing section, curb, or strip," he declared.

County Union Officer In National AFL-CIO Post

Orrin W. Lutterbeck, Secretary-Treasurer of Retail Clerks Union Local 324 since 1955, has announced his resignation from the local in order to accept the position of Executive Assistant to James A. Suffridge, President of the parent Retail Clerks International Association, AFL-CIO.

In a letter to the members and executive board of the Union, Lutterbeck submitted his resignation "with great regret and with a full sense of obligation to the organized labor movement."

Lutterbeck will report to Washington in April. His duties with the headquarters staff of the 400,000 member International Association will include coordination of many of the basic departments of the union.

While acting as principal executive officer of the second largest Retail Clerks Local in California, Lutterbeck saw Local 324 increase from a membership of 1500 to the nearly 8000 who belong today. Local 324 has jurisdiction in the Long Beach area and in all of Orange County.

Originally from Ohio, he completed his college education at the University of Dayton. He won a Bronze Service Star during extensive overseas duty in World War II when he served with a special intelligence group.

He married his wife, Louise, at her home city of Nancy, France. They have made their residence at La Mirada, California and have one daughter, Beatrice, 13.

Lutterbeck began his career with the Retail Clerks Union in 1948. In 1949 he was elected to the Executive Board of Local 324, rising to the position of Organizer in 1950 and Business Representative in 1952. He was first elected Secretary-Treasurer in 1955.

In addition to his local union post, he served as an officer and trustee of several pension and health and welfare funds pertaining to Retail Clerks Unions in Southern California.

Murder Rate Up, City Auto Deaths Lead County

There were nine homicides in Orange County during 1959, the County Coroner has reported.

The coroner noted that there has already been five murders during the first 24 months of 1960. The coroner's office handled a total of 1058 cases last year, an increase of 163 over 1959.

Accidents, poisoning and other deaths by violence accounted for 345 lives.

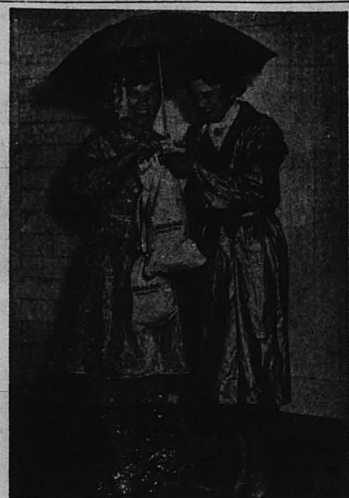

Traffic took 154 lives, and Anaheim with 24 fatalities led all Orange County cities in traffic deaths.

Flower Classes

Spring is not so far away and spring means flowers. Spring flowers can bring added beauty to your home in many ways, all of which will be explored in the new flower arranging class being offered by the Anaheim Park and Recreation department.

The floral arranging classes, which will place emphasis on oriental techniques, will begin on Friday at the Optimist clubhouse. Lessons are slated between the hours of 9:30 and 11:30 a.m. The fee is $3.50 and registrations are now being taken at the Park and Recreation office, 309 S. Palm.

Special emphasis during the 8-week course will be placed on home decorations and the exquisite oriental arrangements. The meaning and forms of authentic Japanese styles will be presented and the use of local flowers and ferns within these arrangements will be among the class objectives.

THAT RAINY DAY YOU'VE BEEN SAVING FOR WAS HEART SUNDAY. Although inclement weather interfered with volunteer efforts in some locations on Heart Sunday, Mrs. Loren Heather (left), of Newport Beach, county vice-chairman for this year's drive, and Mrs. George E. Warner (right), of Garden Grove, 1960 Orange County Heart Sunday chairman, today reported that tabulations indicate that the campaign was a great success and that Heart Sunday contributions are up about 20% over last year's drive. Mmes. Heather and Warner attributed success for Heart Sunday to the thousands of volunteers who participated in the door-to-door fund solicitation. However, for those who were not at home on Heart Sunday, contributions are still being accepted by the Orange County Heart Association and may be mailed to Heart, Box 1704, Santa Ana, California.

Arnold was formerly president and treasurer of the Anaheim Electronics Company, Inc., which was recently purchased by the Electronic Engineering Company. The newly formed division will continue to manufacture and market a punched tape programmer and a relay tester, the main products of Arnold's old company.

Arnold served as president and corporate director of the company which he co-founded in 1956. He has a total of 21 years experience in the electronics field. Before forming his own organization, he was senior project engineer from 1956 to 1959 with Rheem Electronics Division. During this period he was project engineer on an automatic transistor test set for the Army Signal Corps; an automatic checkout console for the Titan Missile Program; a communications control center for Edwards AFB; and for company-sponsored temperature measuring system.

From 1949-53 he owned and operated his own TV sales and service business in Memphis, Tennessee. He served two hitchhikes in the Navy from 1937-40 and 1942-46 where he was an aviation chief electronics technician.

Youth Industries

Exec Quayle Chairman of Teen Unit

Aircraft company executive T. H. Quayle has been named chairman of the recently-formed Orange County Junior Achievement program.

The JAP board of directors supervises eight small student-operated industries in Orange County. JAP was organized in the county last year to help teenagers learn fundamentals of free enterprise.

The eight industries now in operation are run by 150 students from high schools in Anaheim, Costa Mesa, Buena Park, Fullerton, Santa Ana, and Tustin. These include the manufacturer of illuminated ceramic planters, ping pong sets, candles, outdoor serving trays, hand painted ties, and modernistic wall decorations. Profits are distributed among the youthful members.

Other Orange County executives who will serve with Quayle in supervising the company's JAP program are C. E. White of Hughes Aircraft; Paul Doyle, Union Oil Co.; J. H. Hagan, Chiksan Corp.; V. C. Horner, B-J Electronics; Howard H. Lamb, Allstate Insurance Co.; L. W. Patterson, Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co., and Adolf Shoop of the Fluidmaster Corp.

Mom Killer Gordon May Not Be Tried

Authorities have indicated that former mental patient Rufus R. Gordon, 31, will not have to stand trial for the "fit of rage" murder of his mother, Mrs. Maggie Mae Holyoke, 56, here last week.

Gordon, an inmate of a mental institution for six years, was ordered to appear Tuesday, March 29 in Anaheim-Fullerton Municipal Court for preliminary hearing on a murder charge.

However, the district attorney's office has indicated it will accept a murder by reason of insanity plea.

Gordon gunned down his mother in a driveway across from their 1015 Mohawk Ave. home last Thursday morning. The shooting followed an argument over the family car.

Gordon impassively told police the murder was "a mercy killing."

"The suspect, who was under treatment for schizophrenia, said he thought his mother was 'mentally ill.'"

He has shown no remorse.

Y Indians Slate Big Pow-Wow

There will be a "heep big" celebration for a tribe of local braves March 26.

That's the date when 800 adults and boys will mark the induction of 24 new tribes into the Y-Indian Guide in solemn ceremonies at La Palma Stadium.

The ceremonies are scheduled to begin at 5 p.m.

The two-nation family outing will start at 2 p.m. at La Palma park with an hour of games, visiting fathers and sons in such contests as sack races and three-legged sprints.

Comanche Chief Tom Turner will head the induction team which will bring five tribes into the Eastern Nation and 19 into the Western Nation.

The Y-Indian Guide induction is an annual affair.

Sunny Anaheim

Former NATO Commander Delighted by Area Climate

General Alfred M. Gruenther, president of the American Red Cross, who was an Anaheim visitor last week, complimented Anaheim and Southern California on its sunny climate.

In a communication to the ANAHEIM GAZETTE, he said, "You may be interested to know that, when I reached Los Angeles International Airport last night (Wednesday, March 9) I found that the jet flight to Baltimore had been cancelled and the jet flight to Idlewild was no better than a 50/50 proposition. Then I tried TWA and found that they were going to make the flight. They did make it and here I am. Washington has a 5 inch covering of snow and, at the moment, it is still snowing. Also the road from Baltimore to Washington was extremely slippery."

"However, I did not mind any of that because I am still looking over my shoulder toward sunny Southern California. It is really a delightful area, and I can well understand why so many people are moving there."

"Best wishes always, and many thanks for your Red Cross support."

General Gruenther addressed the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County at a capacity audience last Wednesday at Disneyland Hotel and was the guest of Red Cross leaders of the County.

Anaheim Garden Club has voted to send a contribution to the Federation of Garden Clubs to assist in defraying costs of landscaping the Memorial Gardens at the Orange County Fairgrounds. IN THE DAYS OF LONG AGO

From the Files of The Anaheim Gazette
by MRS. HENRY KUCHEL

MARCH 9, 1975

William R. Olden has a lengthy article in this issue of the Gazette reciting the many advantages Anaheim offers to those who want a home. He concludes by saying: "Anaheim has the peculiar advantage of being located not only in the geographical center of this valley, but in the center of the very best of it, known as the Stearns ranches, containing 116,000 acres of the finest lands in the world, which are selling rapidly and being occupied by a steady and industrious population. But we want more. Thousands of acres are still unsold and uncultivated, awaiting in their virgin fertility the plow of the intelligent husbandman."

John Forster writes that hog thieves have been operating on his rancho and adds that right in the center of his rancho a party of men under the pretense of bee-hunting, stole, killed and sold down as many fat porkers as they could carry away. We should say a handful of buckshot would fit the case, and if parties will abuse the privilege of hunting bees upon a man's land by stealing his hogs, the legislature had better pass a law prohibiting the hunting of bee-trees upon private lands unless with the consent of the owner.

Many of our readers may not know what pineapple is—most old Californians do. It is roasted ground. It is delicious food and exceedingly healthful. Send to the Eagle Mills in Los Angeles and get some.

Mr. Boldt informs us that he felt a slight earthquake shock at half-past four o'clock Tuesday morning. It was preceded by a rumbling noise and traveled from southeast to northwest.

Mrs. Kate Parker has favored us with a copy of the "Revolution," the celebrated woman's paper, but we think in justice to its cause, it ought to be edited by a woman instead of a man.

Messrs. Benl Dreyfus of Langenberger and Co., and M. L. Goodman of the firm of Goodman and Rimpau left for San Francisco by the Orizaba on Thursday last.

Mr. John Hanna informs us that a large whale is ashore on the San Mateo beach about 12 miles beyond Capistrano. Chance for oil.

Mr. Fischer is having three large signs made for the Planters hotel, each three feet wide by forty feet long.

Repubic Supply
Reports Earnings

The Republic Supply Company of California yesterday (Wednesday, March 16) reported first quarter earnings after taxes for the three months ended January 31 of $147,203 and sales of $8,366,099, compared with earnings of $45,918 and sales of $5,950,567 for the like period of 1959.

According to John J. Pike, president, per share earnings for the quarter were 36 cents on 411,734 shares of outstanding common stock compared with 11 cents in 1959. Pike said Republic does not feel first quarter results will necessarily be indicative of operations during the remainder of the year, although sales are expected to exceed last year's level and favorable profit margins should be maintained.

Republic is a major West Coast distributor of industrial and water works supplies, tubing, and oil field equipment. The company is currently expanding operations to become a supplier of specialty metals for the industrial, aircraft and missile markets.

Col. H. G. Otis, editor of the Los Angeles Times, seems, according to the dispatches from Washington, to be slated for the appointment as assistant secretary of war. Col. Otis would grace the position and we are free to say that not a single man in the state of California deserves more of the McKinley administration than the same able and conservative Republican editor. Col. Otis might be said to be the original almoner pure Bill McKinley editor of California, with the name blown in on the battle, for while other Republican newspapers leaned toward silver and others tread the primrose path of the Allison folly, Col. Otis heaved to the line and his paper was for McKinley, first, last and all the time. On the occasion of the Raced day celebration in Los Angeles he trumped in the "buses" in the parade while the "buses" rode horses, with gay cockades in their hats and patches of golden ribbon pinned upon their manly bosoms that would put a poppy field to shame. We are glad to hear that the old man is slated for an important appointment and extend our congratulations.

Frank Ey has made a trip to San Pedro and tells us he has not seen such a boom in the past ten years. Frank thinks that when the Utah Southern comes this way, which will probably be in the next two years, every section of Southern California will experience a boom from one end to the citrus

Gazette Reports:

County Committee Ends Study of Delinquency

The 19-member committee studying juvenile delinquency in Orange County has completed its investigation.

The local survey will be combined with similar studies made in five other counties for preparation of a statewide report on JD. Completion of the report to be handed Gov. Brown is under the direction of Ralph Hickman of the Orange County Schools office.

Hickman said the Orange County report showed that delinquency in Orange County wasn't generally a violent nature, but principally involved lack of parental control, truancy and non-felonious offenses.

Recommendations by the Orange County fact-finding group were made on three levels, local, county and state and included:

COUNTY — Pre-school identification of potential problem children. Creation of a special high school to train students for employment rather than college entrance. Employment of psychiatric case workers by school districts to uncover potential problem children and work with them.

STATE — A clear cut statewide policy defining the responsibilities of individual school districts concerning problems related to juvenile delinquency.

LOCAL — Change in curriculums at all levels so maximum assistance can be given to problem children in need of help. Special classes for children unable to adapt to regular school programs. A trained counselor to work with problem students on the elementary level. Expanded counseling for problem students in high schools. Send school district officials as consultants to juvenile court hearings involving young-

WHAT'S DOING

Telephone men wearing headsets aren't too unusual a sight in our business. This man, for instance, makes final checks on newly installed phones to make sure they're ready to use. Also, from his special test desk he traces out trouble reports so repair men can get right on the job. You may never have occasion to see a deskman at work. But remember he's always ready to track down any sign of trouble on your line and help keep your telephone a service you can count on.

MICROWAVE ANTENNA TOWER. A temporary 130 foot tower has been installed on the roof of the Telephone Building at 217 North Lemon Street. The purpose of this tower is to make microwave tests between Anaheim and Los Angeles. It will determine the feasibility of a microwave system between these two points.

"In fact he's got the biggest selection I ever saw. No problem at all to find what you want."

"It's got that V8 in it I've been talking about too. What an engine that is."

"And deal! Sweetie, wait! I tell you the deal they've offered me. This is the time to buy all right."

YOUR LEGISLATOR AT WORK

JOHN A. MURDY, JR.
State Senator

It is already very apparent that when we reconvene our Budget Session in Sacramento next week a number of hot issues will be dragged before us in one fashion or another. We will not know until after it is released what matters the Governor may put in his call for the Special Session, but many items are being discussed as possibilities.

Education is one of the basically important fields in which we may be called upon to act. New classrooms for public elementary and secondary schools are still a major necessity. Two months ago a new school building bond issue of $250 million was being discussed. Today the figure is $430 million, and nobody knows what the total amount may be when the matter comes up for final consideration.

Higher education presents other problems which will be put before us next week. A knotty and complicated question which has at long last been worked out by educational authorities is the respective areas which should be blocked out for the University, the state, and the junior colleges. This matter must be resolved once and for all, or California will be confronted by costly competition and building races between the various kinds of public colleges.

Because of the need for settling this question, the request of the University for $13 million for new campuses was omitted from the budget bill. However, when the matter came up for hearing in committee, University spokesmen pressed for the re-inclusion of $3 million for a new site in the middle of the state, giving as their reason the ever-growing threat of inflation in land prices.

Still a different topic which could be brought before us via the budgetary route, if not included in the special session agenda is the matter of automatic suspension of the driver's licenses of those convicted of driving under the influence of alcohol. The current practice of the department of motor vehicles in making such suspensions has been successfully attacked in several recent court actions. Some jurists have also independently criticized the practice as invading the prerogatives of the courts. A senate subcommittee has indicated it will study the legislative implications of the policy very carefully.

In the field of welfare legislation, it is apparent that strong efforts are being made to get two items included in the agenda. First of these would call for the complete repeal of the "relative's responsibility" clause which is now in our state old age security law. This provision has been hotly controversial for many years. Repealed once before, it was restored by the vote of the people, and has since been re-adjusted a number of times by our legislative action. If it is put on the agenda, it could greatly influence the length of the special session.

The second welfare matter being pressed is a change in the law under which aid is provided to needy children. Local officials who administer the program have been severely critical of laxity in the law and regulations. They assert this situation encourages parents to shift the financial burden of many children to the taxpayers. Since this system is financed by county as well as state and federal funds, there are many angles involved which will require extended study before a good solution can be worked out.

From these illustrations it can be seen that there are many complicated subjects which could be added to the list for the special session. I know that many of my colleagues join me in the hope that only those matters in which a real emergency exists are being brought before us.
