Haskell Kelley Re-elected Local Court Marshal; Vote Sees 60 Per Cent Turnout

Haskell Kelley was re-elected marshal of the Anaheim-Fullerton Judicial District Tuesday as 60 per cent of the Orange County electorate turned out to vote in a primary election marked by the absence of heated issues.

Kelley polled 35,760 votes to 7,544 for Cheochee Miller Jr. of Placentia and 17,248 for Robert Rono of Garden Grove.

The three-way battle for the office Kelley has held for ten years was the top local issue on the partisan ballots.

Otherwise Orange County pretty well followed the voting pattern established throughout the state, but retained its historical preference for the Republican Party.

Vice President Richard Nixon, Congressman James B. Utt and State Senator John Murdy Jr., all GOPers, piled up sizeable majorities.

On the countywide scene, Cye Featherly, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, defeated three foes to retain his post as Supervisor from the first district.

Co. Nurses Ask Contract

Nurses at eight major Orange County hospitals including Anaheim Memorial, Palm Harbor and Fullerton Community hospitals have asked administrators for contract agreements on working conditions and salary schedules.

The proposal was made by the Orange County Nurses Assn., representing about 75 per cent of the nursing staff in the three local hospitals and these medical facilities: Santa Ana Doctors, Westminster, Santa Ana Community, South Coast Community, Hoag Presbyterian Memorial.

The nurses relinquished the right to strike "or to use in any measure inconsistent with (their) responsibility to the patients," but held that this move on their part made it mandatory that hospital administrators negotiate with them in good faith.

The association, which is affiliated with the California State Nurses Assn., said that definite proposals would be made soon in each of the hospitals to make the staffs work under the same conditions.

The organization said it would decline to negotiate individually with the hospitals for "strictly local contracts."

LOCAL COEDS SPARKLE ON COLLEGE SCENE

Two Anaheim Girls Win Honors at Fullerton JC

Two young Anaheim women figured in the spotlight at Fullerton Junior College this week.

They are: Marilyn Yellis, 19, who was named editor of FJC's weekly newspaper, "The Hornet."

Rhonda Paula DeWitt, who defeated five other contestants in winning the title of FJC's "Sparkling Sports Queen."

She was nominated for the honor by the college's Eastern Conference Champion track and field team.

A third Anaheim coed, Karen Lindstrom, was a runner-up for the college's "Woman of the Year" award.

In other honors as the school year ended, Jim Davis of Fullerton was given the "Best Photograph of the Year" award and Don Robert-

Plan $500,000 Addition At St. Michael's Church Here

Construction will begin in the autumn on a quarter million dollar addition to St. Michael's Episcopal Church here.

A fund drive is planned. St. Michael's is the oldest existing Episcopal church in California.

The old church building will be used as a chapel.

Future plans also include construction of an administrative wing, nine new classrooms and an addition to the guild room.

The proposed new church will include a choir balcony for 52. A bride's room and adjacent sacristy and vesting room.

In the administrative wing there will be offices, workroom and visitors' waiting room.

A two-story Sunday School building would be constructed north of the present cloister and the addition for women's guild would be south of the parish hall.

Organ said the fund drive conducted Sunday will be called Loyalty Sunday. An every member canvass will be conducted in the afternoon.

Architect for the church expansion program is Culver Heaton of Pasadena, designer of 80 churches in Southern California.

The building committee is headed by Bert Weldon. Other members are Russell Ireland, Mrs. E. Warwick, Max Doyle and Mason Henry.

Fund drive leaders are: finance, Ernest Rose, Doyle, Shipley, Organ and Currier; publicity, Bud Lemke, Howard Loudon; advance gifts, Shipley and Herbert Varty; general supervisors, Mrs. Charles Organ and Mrs. John Kent; area supervisors, Mrs. R. W. Edens, Mrs. Waberg, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Gley, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. King and Mrs. William Slater.

Trustees plan to increase the current staff of 524 teachers at the district's two senior high schools and six junior high schools to 601 by opening of school in September.

School district officials said they have not yet determined the additional cost of the salary raises for the 1960-61 district budget.

Big steps toward construction of another major Metropolitan Water District water line into Orange County has been made here.

The Orange County Water District has given tentative approval to the route of a 24-mile, $27.5 million pipeline from Carbon Canyon to the Big Canyon Reservoir in Newport Beach.

Anaheim's share of the project is $660,000.

J. Lester Boyle, consulting engineer for the OCWD, said his final report and recommendation on the project will be ready by July 6.

The proposal is for a 300-cubic-foot line to swing off the lower feeder in Carbon Canyon, carrying east of Fullerton, Anaheim and Santa Ana to a junction near the intersection of Culver Rd. and an extension of Delhi Rd. The proposal was made by MWD general manager Robert Delmer.

According to Boyle, both Anaheim and the Irvine Co. are in favor of the proposal.

Other costs include MWD, $7,500,000; Santa Ana, $1,400,000; and the Irvine Co., $3,100,000.

Boyle cited these conclusions: 1. Additional MWD water facilities are urgently needed and should be constructed as soon as reasonably possible.

2. That a detailed program of procedures should be developed by OCWD to expedite construction of the facilities and to assist involved agencies in final determinations.

3. If the facilities are to be constructed to serve areas within OCWD it is apparent necessary funds, supplementing those of MWD, must be provided by local sources.

CEREMONIES LOCALLY will see 735 seniors from Anaheim High School graduate at 8 p.m. in La Palma Stadium following the graduation of 625 senior students at Western High School at 5 p.m. at the same location.

Also graduating on Thursday, June 16, are senior classes of Westminster and Garden Grove.

More than 180,000 public school students will terminate classes for the summer holiday next week.

LIVING MIRACLE

Local Snake Man Survives Bite, Back to Work

Kenneth Earnest is a living medical miracle.

Earnest, son of the owner of a reptile farm on La Palma Ave. and a veteran snake handler, has survived bites by an alligator, a rattlesnake and cottonmouth moccasins, but his believe-it-or-not distinction comes from the fact that he is still around to tell about being struck by one of the world's deadliest snakes—the Tiger snake of Australia.

Earnest, 22, was bitten May 17 and survived a medical battle in which doctors gave him only a one-in-five chance of living.

The venom paralyzed his breathing, speech and eye muscles. He was in an iron lung 10 days.

"There wasn't much pain," said Earnest. "Not like a rattlesnake bite, which has a terrible localized prickle about drives you out of your mind."

The snake bit Earnest as he was feeding the two Tiger snakes at the family's Buena Park snake farm.

"Anyone who gets bitten by a snake in captivity is a darned fool," Earnest said. "That goes for me, too."

He said he was anxious to get back to work, caring for the 3,000 snakes and alligators at the farm. "It won't happen again," he said.

City Building Booms In May 3 Big Projects

Construction in Anaheim showed a healthy upward turn during May—soaring nearly a half million dollars above the May, 1959 total.

Overall, however, 1960 lagged nearly $2 million behind construction activity in the city through the first five months of last year.

Permit valuation of construction projects issued here during the month was $6,083,918. It was only $5,584,696 in May, 1959.

Key building activity was high-speed for three large commercial projects: Consumers Mart, 1440 S. Los Angeles St., $1,240,000; White Front Stores, 2222 Harbor Blvd., $700,000, and Fedmark, 500 Mulder St., $700,000.

The 1960 total to date: $18,328,208. The 1959 total for the same period: $20,807,064. Of the Anaheim total, $1,205,000 was in residential construction.

Construction in unincorporated Orange County was also booming—up 135 per cent over May, 1959. Unincorporated areas building permit valuations totaled $10,850,732 in May.

Three valedictorians were selected to represent Anaheim Union High School at the commencement exercises. They are Karen Lanxon, Catherine Gates and Marilyn Miller.

Senior student speakers for Western High School will be Donna McAllister whose topic will be "The Art of Living"; Ronald Graves who will discuss "Progress Through Pioneer Spirit" and Judy Rader, whose subject will be "The End Is the Beginning."

Baccalaureate for Western High School's first graduating class has been scheduled for Sunday, June 12 at Anaheim High School Auditorium.

Beginning at 2:00 p.m., the ceremony will feature guest speaker, Dr. Donald H. Gard who will entitle his address "Write This Upon Your Hearts." Dr. Gard is a nationally known Presbyterian minister and pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Anaheim.

Also participating in the service will be the Western High School A Cappella Choir, who will sing the anthem, "Have Mercy Upon Me, O God," and the Introit Anthem, "Salvation Is Created."

Other guests who are on the program are Reverend Walter J. Vernon of the Anaheim Community Congregational Church who will give the Benediction and Dr. Frank Finkbeiner of the Orange-Thorne Methodist Church who will give the Invocation. Mrs. Bernard Jo Rockwood will be organist.

The senior class processional will initiate the baccalaureate program. Special tickets are being provided for family members and guests.

Anaheim Armored Soldier Takes Part In Ger. Maneuvers

Army Specialist 4 John W. Lee, 24, whose wife, Sandra, lives at 601 S. Dickel St., Anaheim, recently participated with other personnel from the 4th Armored Division's 68th Armor in Exercise Hawk, a fire-power demonstration conducted in Germany for 500 members of the Defense Orientation Conference Association.

The demonstration included artillery and tactical air support for combat elements of the 4th Armored Division, a major element of the NATO shield of defense in Europe.

Specialist Lee, who arrived overseas in June 1959, is a welder in the armor's Headquarters Company in Illesheim. He completed basic training at Fort Hood, Tex.

A 1955 graduate of Anaheim Union High School, Lee worked for the Scott Construction Co. in North Hollywood before entering the Army in November 1953.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Lee, live at 581 S. Dickel St.

Mrs. Collins was employed by Peek for 25 years in Long Beach.

She has been a resident of Orange County for 10 years, living at 14418 Rancho Ave., Westminster.

The new co-manager, Long Beach native, attended school there and at the University of Southern California. Her hobby is gardening and specializes in the culture of exotic tropical plants.

At Peek's her duties will be direction of account auditing procedures.

Father's Day

3,000 County Boys Really Need 'Someone' Who Cares

Tommy really exists. His name isn't Tommy but he lives somewhere in Orange County. His mother must work and he is the man of the family at age eight. Tommy also has a four-year-old sister at home. He attends third grade, is exactly 4 feet high, weighs 55 lbs. and wears glasses.

Tommy's mother sought out Big Brothers as a possible solution to problems with her son. He spent his time almost as a fixture in front of the television set. He seemed to have no interests. He attended school only because he had to. Discipline came frequently. His grades were poor and he had few friends. His yearning for attention often landed him in trouble both at school and at home. Tommy wanted to join the Indian Guides, but his father was gone, a fact his schoolmates would not let him forget.

TOMMY STATED bluntly that he was not sure his mother loved him, and that his father had deserted him. He said that if his father would come back he would still love him. He cried, and said that if only his Daddy and his Mother would live together again, he would be happy. He said that he was unable to hit or catch a ball very well, and if he tried, the boys he was playing with would laugh at him, and he guessed he just wasn't good at anything.

Tommy has now had the guidance of his Big Brother less than six months. His growing-up problems are just beginning but he is learning to face them. He and his Big Brother are active in "Y" Indian Guides which Tommy looks forward to with a great deal of enthusiasm. Tommy has the ability to do honor work, but has not yet reached this goal. His attitude toward his teacher seems to be one of optimism and acceptance now. He will pass this year at school. Tommy is gradually feeling his way along toward participating in group activities. He practices catching and hitting baseball whenever the Big Brother suggests it, and is doing well in swimming, which he has approached with enthusiasm.

The Big Brother has encouraged Tommy to attend Sunday School, which he does regularly.

The big event of the week in his life is the afternoon that he spends with this man who is giving him his time without strings.

He is looking forward to a summer of working and being with his Big Brother. They have already planned a camping trip.

There are still problems to be solved with Tommy. He cannot yet accept the competition of another child for the Big Brother's time, teamwork is difficult for him and he is very sensitive about his glasses.

Time and understanding on the part of the Big Brother can help him overcome these feelings. Tommy has become convinced that this Big Brother holds him in high esteem and is no longer afraid that he will leave him as his father did.

This case is an ideal pattern of how a boy will seek acceptance and follow the example of a man who is genuinely interested in him.

Tommy is not his real name but there are more than 3,000 "Tommys" in Orange County.

Court of Awards Set By Anaheim GS Unit

Members of Anaheim Girl Scout Troop No. 74, fifth-graders from the John Marshall School, held their first Court of Awards at the fire ring of the Corral Shopping Center on May 24. The girls' first experience with badge work has been very successful for every girl received at least on badge. Most girls have touched on every badge which they will complete next fall. Ceremonies started at 7:30 p.m. and were planned entirely by the girls. Families of the troop members and other interested Scouts attended.

Chamber of Commerce officials Frank Hall and George Uribe presided at the formal ribbon cutting ceremony, along with lovely Joylyn Harbst of Anaheim.

FROM 11 A.M. to 5 p.m. Saturday, and again from 12 noon to 6 p.m. Sunday, there'll be a carnival of free rides for Anaheim youngsters. Children accompanied by adults will also receive free 7-Up and popcorn.

And at 1:30 p.m. Sunday, "Engineer Bill," famous TV star of KTLT-TV, Channel 9, will appear in person at the new Mohawk station to greet his local fans. Harold DeGarro, nationally famous stillman—made up as "the world's tallest Indian"—will be present over the weekend to meet the youngsters and hand down free balloons.

Recreation Program Will Cost More

It will cost more to participate in the city's summer recreation program.

City Recreation Dept. officials have announced that a fee system is being instituted on programs whose costs are primarily borne by the city and the local school districts.

Mayor Schutte and Chamber of Commerce President Taylor were escorted around the new station today by Jack J. Reed, Southern Division Manager for Mohawk Petroleum Corporation.

REED explained why local motorists will be able to buy quality-controlled Mohawk gasoline at savings of from 2c to 6c a gallon.

"Mohawk," he said, "is an independent California company. I stress the word independent because that is the key to our economy of operation. We have our own wells and refinery; we transport our own product. Our stations are wholly-owned by the company, and staffed with our own trained employees. All of this adds up to an efficiency of production and operation—which means savings that can be passed on to the public."

REED stressed that this type of operation also insures quality control.

"We can guarantee," he added, "that every gallon of gasoline you buy will be exactly the same quality, and a true reflection of the octane ratings on the pump. The major stations also have quality control, but they can't give you the same economy. Other independents sell below major prices, but very, very few can control their product from oil well to the tank of your car."

YOUR LEGISLATOR AT WORK

SENATOR JOHN A. MURDY, JR. State Senator

At yet, not many Californians are sufficiently aware of the basic importance of the Delta Area to the state's economy. As planned, the complex network of waterways and fertile islands which make up the junction of the Sacramento and San Joaquin Rivers will be transferred to the state engineering into the "Delta Pool" to receive, store, and transmit water from the Feather River and associated projects to the southern and western parts of the state.

At our recent special session the Assembly adopted a resolution which called the Delta Pool the "heart" of the water transportation facilities the state will construct and which authorized an extensive study of plans for the Pool, its operation, finance, and related problems. This study was assigned to the Assembly's interim committee on water, and the group has just wound up the first of a series of hearings on the matter. Prior to the hearing, committee members made four of the area to familiarize themselves with its physical features.

Before proceeding to matters discussed at the hearings, it might be helpful to describe the Delta Area briefly. Instead of one flowing directly into the other as is usually the case, the Sacramento and the San Joaquin Rivers divide into numerous smaller channels, which eventually unite in such a way that the waters of the two rivers gradually commingle. The multitude of islands within the channel network are mostly low-lying, but are exceedingly fertile and productive. However, their soil is frequently peaty, and this condition creates extensive problems of water seepage into farm land, subsidence of land surfaces, and infiltration of salt water. All of these factors must be taken into account in planning for the Pool and its structures.

Another problem which is also troublesome is of a slightly different character. It arises from the fact that release of wastes into the San Joaquin and its tributaries reduces the quality of delta water. To stop this, it will be necessary to construct a sizeable San Joaquin drainage system, properly tied into the Delta Pool and the statewide water plans.

At its hearing, preliminary information was given to the committee as to the estimated costs of the Delta project. Total costs are now fixed at approximately $83 million, to be financed from the proceeds of the $1.75 billion bond issue which will appear on the November ballot. Preliminary data as to the quality of water at various locations of costs between various types of users, and the price of Delta water, were also reviewed.

The Committee was informed that the construction of the Delta Pool must be integrated with that of other features of the project statewide system. If the project is authorized, and if properly coordinated arrangements can be worked out with local agencies and interests, it is anticipated that construction would extend over the 20-year period from 1962 through 1982.

Another important matter touched upon was the amount of usable water which will be salvaged by the Pool structures are engineered to present plans. Earlier estimates were that some 937,000 acre feet per year, a very considerable increase.

Later meetings of the committee will receive testimony from interested local agencies as well as additional information on the points I have written to here. From what I have written, it should be obvious that the Delta Pool will be an important topic to our 1961 session.

Supervisors Delay CAO Post Decision

County Supervisors delayed decision on a county administrative post for six months.

Supervisors, in general, favored some kind of CAO office but with certain restrictions and with the knowledge that such an office would be completely subject to the board.

Supervisor William Phillips said the county currently had 60 departments responsible to the board and that a CAO could possibly handle the transfer of surplus property, inter-department information, and other routine items now handled by the board.

Generations of golden wheat harvests are the rich heritage of America's midlands. And the supreme compliment to a savings institution is, "It's sound as the wheat!"

It is symbolic that several offices of California Federal Savings stand on land once occupied by fields of wheat. For soundness... "sound as the wheat"... is also the great tradition of the nation's largest federal savings association.

At California Federal, the same, sound management policies have weathered all tests of wars, depressions and prosperity for over a third of a century. Reserves have grown to $34,000,000—an all-time high. Resources have passed $1/2-billion. And, since 1934, every savings account has been insured under the terms provided by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

Consistently, too, California Federal has always paid the highest rate commensurate with safety for your savings.

Fifteen hundred pounds of cement have been sculptured into an eight-foot tall life-like camel under the skillful manipulation of

Special trains speed "spuds" to market

New potatoes have been harvested in the fertile fields of California and Arizona.

To be sure they keep their fresh and delicate goodness, these potatoes must get to market fast—and be kept under ice all the way.

To meet tough market deadlines, Santa Fe runs entire potato trains—"Spud Specials"—on precision schedules that give special delivery treatment to over 3,400,000 pounds of potatoes per train. And Santa Fe's refrigerator cars are now hustling more than 1,000,000,000 of these new potatoes halfway across the country.

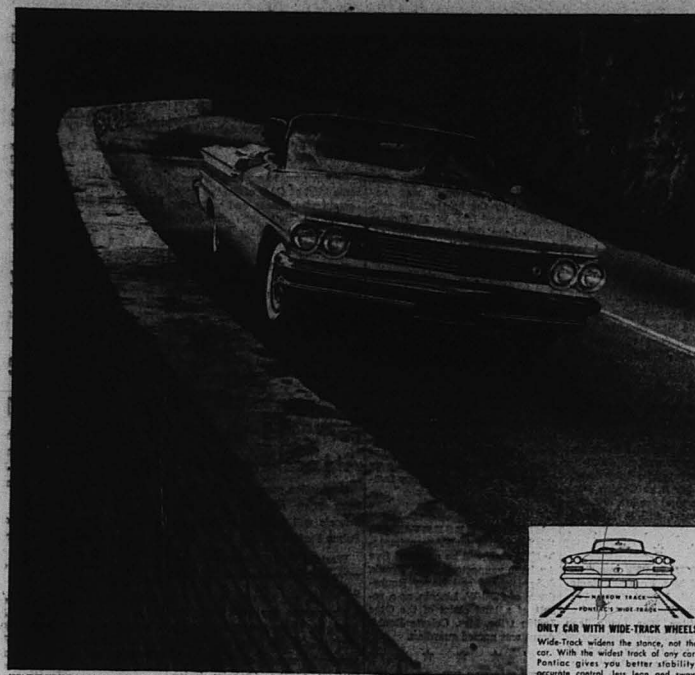

Getting important crops like this to market in time is another example of how Santa Fe is meeting the transportation needs of a growing America.

FAIR BOARD

Gov. Confirms Beckham's Post As Fair Director; 2 Others Named

Official notification of new appointments to the board of directors of the Orange County Fair have been received at the fairgrounds. It was announced today by Stewart W. Yost, manager of the fair.

Ralph P. Maskey of 3714 Channel Place, Newport Beach, long-time member of the board, has been reappointed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown to a term which will end Jan. 15, 1964.

The governor also announced appointment of two new members:

Frederick R. Beckham of 811 Valencia Mesa Drive, Fullerton, to fill a newly created position as board member whose term will end Jan. 15, 1962; and Samuel Dreizen of 711 W. 10th St., Santa Ana, to fill the seat vacated by Willis F. Mitchell of Tustin. Dreizen's term will expire Jan. 15, 1964.

News of the appointments was directed to the 32nd District Agricultural Assn. (official name of the state-operated Orange County Fair) in a memo from the office of A. E. Snider, chief of the Fairs and Expositions Division of the State Department of Finance.

The appointments will go into effect immediately, said Yost. The new board members will be seated at the next regular meeting of the board on Wednesday, June 15, he said.

The seat vacated on the fair board by William S. Lee, Costa Mesa attorney who was appointed to a judgeship by Gov. Brown, still remains to be filled by appointment by the governor. Another vacancy must be filled by governor's appointment to fill the unexpired term of A. J. Schutte, who resigned earlier this year. The term runs through Jan. 15, 1961.

Manufacturing Leads the Field As Orange County's Top Employer

A progress report issued by the county stated that the majority of workers employed in Orange County are in the manufacturing field.

Statistics showed that manufacturing has replaced the trade, wholesale and retail field as the county's No. 1 employer.

Total employment in the county was set at 176,300 as of July 1959 with manufacturing having a total of 42,000. The commercial field was a close second with service industries being third place.

Agriculture remained in the same status while mineral extraction dropped down a hundred last year.

Government, city and county soared from 4730 in 1950 to 21,200 in 1959.

Contract construction also showed a sharp decline as did the business world of finance, insurance, and real estate.

Big BP Swim Park Will Open In July

The 900-person capacity Municipal Swim Stadium in nearby Buena Park will be completed in mid-July. The stadium will be located in Peak Park at El Dorado and El Coto Aves.

The pool will be 165 ft. long and 65 ft. wide with depths ranging from 12 feet to 2 ft. 9 in.

$25 Million 'Shop Center of Future' Proposed For Construction In Anaheim

The shopping center of the future may be built right here in Anaheim.

In this center, the shopper would park his car, mount a circular and moving bench—and like the proverbial roulette wheel—spin to his or her objective.

The $25 million dollar shopping center was described last week to Anaheim city officials by Claude Pomeroy of Mesa, Ariz., president of Circle Centers, Inc.

Builder of the project, should it become reality, would be the Teitz Construction Co.

Pomeroy said the corporation has 75 acres across Katella Ave. from the south side of Disneyland under lease. The center site fronts on Katella Ave., Harbor Blvd. and West St.

Take a step, Mr. and Mrs. Shopper, in the future:

It would be like this: Mrs. Customer drives her car through one of four entrance ports into the circular center of the shopping center. Parking, she is surrounded by a circle of 100 or more modern, glass-fronted stores. If she wishes she may take a comfortable seat on the circular bench fronting the wheel of store fronts. The bench travels around the circle. She gets off and goes into whichever of the stores she thinks appeal to her fancy or her needs. She returns, reseats herself on the bench, and surveys the window displays of the other stores.

Thus, according to Pomeroy, the modern—indeed, future—store merchandiser makes "re-use" of each customer, a feature he says is being overlooked by all our present shopping centers.

"Give them not one, not two, but a dozen shoe stores, a dozen hat shops, a half-dozen bakeries from which to choose, without the need of driving the family car. That is the future concept of the shopping center," Pomeroy told officials.

According to Pomeroy, not a single shopping center in the nation today is making enough profit to return to its principal investors. The reason he gives—lack of "re-use" of the customer.

Other features of the proposed furamarc center would be a glass domed hute to the wheel which would house the world's largest service station, and, if the city of Anaheim will permit, a gigantic heliport where aerial customers may eventually set down the family 'copter and ride the merry-go-round to better shopping. It would include, if desired, an electronically controlled package delivery service in which the housewife would simply make her purchases in the various stores, slip an identification card into a slot, and at an exit tower, the entire run of purchased packages would be carried down into her car as she leaves.

The center would also boast some 20 or more "drive-in and shop" points, where the hurry-up customer who needed no more than a package of cigarettes or a new toothbrush would drive up to a chute, order his merchandise via microphone, pay a mechanical cashier, and drive off.

The shopping center, designed to provide all 65 necessities demanded by the average housewife, would provide a "one-stop" shopping area.

The corporation which proposes construction of this center chose Anaheim and Orange County, Pomeroy said, because of its tremendous growth potential, the greatest in the entire nation. Capitalists are standing by ready to provide the funds for development as soon as the "wrinkles of land and legality" are ironed out, he told Anaheim's mayor, members of the city council, and most of the city's planning commission. The futuristic aspect of the project is illustrated by the proposed doors through which customers would enter the 100 stores. A "sheet" of gently moving air-conditioned air is all that bars the entrances. Bugs won't be able to get in.

Gardener's Check List

By the California Association of Nurserymen

- Overhead sprinkling of roses, contrary to popular opinion, is beneficial in controlling many pests.
- June starts the period to put particular emphasis on deep-watering of lawns. Ample water spaced less frequently will do more to keep your grass green and vigorous than shallow daily waterings.
- Grow your own corsages! Glamorous gardenias are available in containers at C.A.N. nurseries. Their exquisite white blossoms exuding sweet fragrance will add to the delight of a summer's eve.
- For a longer harvest in the vegetable garden, make new sowing of carrots, radishes, green onions, beets, beans, squash and cucumbers.
- For a brilliant display of color and ease of growth in full sun—geraniums and petunias are hard to beat. If your garden needs a quick injection of color, buy them flowering in containers at a C.A.N. nursery.

WHAT'S DOING

Harvey Hendrickson, your Telephone Manager in Anaheim

Here's one way to go from coast to coast and not leave town. This young lady will soon call lots of places every day on her new job as a long distance operator. Here she's at a practice switchboard, training with a phone woman who learned the job in this way too. Other new people starting out in the telephone business will get training for different jobs—and get paid while learning. It's the first step in helping them build fine careers for themselves. And, of course, good training like this means good service for you.

Planning to move? It's a good time to get that extension phone you've been thinking about. At no extra installation charge, we'll put in an extension phone—or two or three—when we install your new service. So if you'd like to start planning where you'd like those new phones, why not call your service representative at the telephone office, or talk to your telephone service man.

Miss Roma Tedford, who resides at 1107 West Broadway, has completed 35 years of service with the Pacific Telephone Company as one of your operators. All of Miss Tedford's telephone career has been in Anaheim. When she was hired in 1925, the office was then located at 123 North Lemon Street. Miss Tedford is known for her pleasant voice and continues each day to serve Anaheim customers in her courteous manner.

Carnival And Barbecue Slated At El Toro's Big Annual Rodeo

Rodeos come and rodeos go, but from the looks of things the El Toro Rodeo at the Marine Corps Air Station, near Santa Ana, is here to stay.

Only five years old, it has grown from a small scale cow-town type rodeo to one of professional standing. Drawing from the rodeo profession some of the best talent that has ever appeared in this American sport.

The El Toro Rodeo will be conducted under the nationally recognized Rodeo Cowboy Association rules that govern the competition of one of the nation's oldest and largest sports contests. It will be built around the five standard events of bareback bronc riding, calf roping, saddle bronc riding, steer wrestling and bull riding.

In addition to professional participation, an amateur portion of the arena show will see many El Toro Marines competing for the title of "All Around Marine Cowboy Champion."

Although the rodeo will be the main attraction, the El Toro Marines will also stage a carnival and barbecue during the two-day event, a "Walking Draw" Fast Gun Contest and an old Country Auction of merchandise contributed by California merchants.

From the preparation the El Toro Marines have been making for their forthcoming rodeo, to be held June 18th and 19th, this their Fifth Annual Rodeo should give the spectators everything they desire in the form of entertainment.

City mayors throughout Orange County have declared the week of June 12th to 18th as "El Toro Rodeo Week." Civic centers and shopping centers have invited the El Toro Marines to join on their festive celebrations to further promote the El Toro Rodeo.

Foreign countries are also herding the two-day affair. The "Diaria de Noticias" in Lisbon, Portugal states, "If you are interested in the spirit of competition between man, bulls, and horses, you have a unique opportunity of enjoying a tremendous rodeo... 1960, the year to visit the U.S.A." From Rangoon, Burma, "Marines on horseback must appear as strange as a snowball in the Sahara, but this spectacle will be produced for the cause of charity shortly in the United States, when the U. S. Marines at Santa Ana, Calif., will stage an international rodeo on June 18th and 19th in aid of the Navy Relief Fund."

Yes, from the looks of things, the El Toro Marines have also received press clippings from Madrid, Spain, Tel Aviv, Israel, Caracas, Venezuela and Baghdad, Iraq.

Local Girl Scouts Set Active Agenda

Girl Scout troops in the Anaheim Schools have exciting activities in store for them. Tuesday, May 17, 29 Girl Scout leaders met with Mrs. Melva Williams, Dean of Girls at Fremont Junior High School, for a round-table discussion of their present program and their plans for next year. Mrs. Williams gave the leaders suggestions on how Girl Scout troop activities could be coordinated with the program in the Junior High Schools.

MRS. JAMES HARTWELL, Junior High coordinator on the Girl Scout program committee, outlined plans for a boy-girl square dancing program, Junior First Aid and Lifesaving classes, and service projects in conjunction with Orange County Agencies. Primitive backpacking trips will be offered to troops that are seasoned campers at Sho-An at Big Bear Lake this summer and two sessions of beach camping stressing water skills will be held at Huntington Beach State Park.

SEVERAL Anaheim Junior High troops are planning troop trips to Carlsbad Caverns, Monterey, and the Redwood area. Snow trips are popular on winter week ends. enough leaders to work with the girls who are interested in the older troop program of the Girl Scouts, the number of troops for this age level is expected to increase in the fall. Young adults and newcomers to the city who would be interested in working with older Girl Scout troops next fall are invited to register their names at the Anaheim Girl Scout office, 201 S. Citron St., and they will be interviewed for leadership some time this summer.

Fire Science Course Certificates Issued

Certificates of completion of fire science courses will be given members of four Santa Ana College classes at the annual banquet of the group on Tuesday, June 14, in the Student Union at 7 p.m.

Dr. John Gerletti, Dean of Public Administration at the University of Southern California, will be the speaker, tracing the growth of college training for fire department employees and the advantages of trained administrators.

Dr. John E. Johnson, SAC President, will outline the growth of the Santa Ana College fire science program in the last two years—only fire program offered in Orange County—and the proposed expansion for next fall. The fire and accompanying police science classes are a major part of the college's public administration curriculum.

Recognition will be given the college advisory board of fire chiefs, who have assisted in developing the program. These include Chiefs John Garthe, Santa Ana, committee chairman; R. J. Briscoe, Newport Beach; Lloyd W. Eckles, Fullerton; Ed J. Stricker, Sr., Anaheim; and Marion Umphress, Garden Grove.

ON THE GO with Doris

The Ink Spots are back and the ANAHEIM BOWL has them... This magnificent quartet really packed them in when they were here a few months ago... These international favorites have concluded successful tours in Hawaii, Korea, Japan, and Australia... Don't miss this act...

Had a terrific Cantonese dinner Sunday evening at Don May's LEILANI HUT... We had the Pork Chow Mein dinner for two which included soup, egg roll, fried shrimp, shrimp chop suey, fried rice, Chinese tea and almond cookies... Only $2.00 per person... I always enjoy the atmosphere at LEILANI HUT... Don is a fabulous host and restaurateur... David Garo, well known banjo player, entertains nightly...

Have you heard the new vocalist, Joyce King, featured at the DOMINO?... She's a doll with loads of talent... Her new records will soon be released through ABC Paramount... At the DOMINO you may dance to the music of Bernie Jones on two dance floors... They now feature continental cuisine and the food is real great... For an exciting evening in the Las Vegas manner remember the DOMINO...

One of the most attractive restaurants in Long Beach is VICTOR HUGO... The food is delicious, inexpensive, and expertly served... You'll be entertained nightly by that well known fellow at the piano, Keith Carver... Your friendly host is Lou Furst... Stopped for dinner the other evening at JACK'S CORSIAN ROOM in Naples... Had an outstanding steak dinner with soup, tossed salad, baked potato, desert, and coffee... The New York cut sirloin was broiled to perfection... We were expertly entertained by that versatile gentleman at the keyboard, Frank Day... For an exceptional evening out, stop at JACK'S CORSIAN ROOM...

LAR in Balboa for an enjoyable evening in romantic atmosphere... The food is great, prepared by Andre (a top chef from Brussels)... You'll be delightfully entertained by Pat O'Dare at the organ... Don't forget the GYPSY CELLAR at 105 Main in Balboa...

The SOHO RESTAURANT in Buena Park serves wonderful food, both luncheons and dinners in the continental style... One of my favorite dinners is Tournedos of Beef Tenderloin with berranese sauce, eggplant, ham, asparagus and mushrooms... Really delicious... Have Lennie mix you one of his fabulous after dinner drinks with ice cream... Your hosts are Jim Crisp and Pete Limon...

One of my favorite dinner houses in Long Beach is the FRANCOIS MANHATTAN... Their table d'hôte dinners are hard to beat... Served with assorted relishes, soup du jour, salad or spaghetti... They have many entrees to choose from, such as frog legs saute meuniere, beef stroganoff with wild rice, stuffed fresh mushrooms, etc... All these dinners are outstanding... For a treat stop at the FRANCOIS MANHATTAN, one of the most popular restaurants in Long Beach... Your handsome host is Robert Boyle...

The CHALET RESTAURANT, located near Disneyland, is one of the most popular restaurants in Anaheim... Their specialties are charcoal broiled steaks and a luscious variety of pancakes... The CHALET also features terrific 55¢ luncheon specialties... One of these is broiled center cut eastern loin pork chop with tart apple sauce, whipped potatoes, garden vegetables, hot rolls and butter... Truly a taste treat... The CHALET is also a favorite spot for Sunday morning breakfasts (both with tourists and Anaheim residents).
