New 'Zip' Added By PO as City Prepares Zoning

Add Numbers
In 60 Days,
McFie Avers

(See Page 10)

Anaheim has been selected for postal zoning by the Post Office Department, in preparation for a revolutionary electronic mail processing system to commence July 1. Postmaster Marshall N. McFie announced today.

Postmaster McFie stressed the urgency of each mail user learning the zone within which he lives, as soon as the zone boundaries are announced, and using the number in his return address.

The new postal zone numbers, when coupled with a three-digit number to be given the city post office, will form this city's ZIP-Code—a system by which some mail delivery will be sped by as much as 24 hours.

When writing to others within the city, the zone number of the area in which the address lives would be added to the address, after the name of the city and before the name of the state.

For example:

John Doe

301 North Lemon Street

Anaheim 5, California

Reduces Errors

"Use of local postal zone numbers will not only speed your mail, through the national ZIP-Code program," Postmaster McFie noted, "but will considerably reduce the possibility of misdirected mail."

IT WILL TAKE A LOT OF REMEMBERING—Postmaster Marshall McFie and Joe de Stigter, assistant postmaster, are happy with the division of the city into postal zones as a substantial indication of the stature the city has attained, both were residents must remember to use the zone numbers if service is to be able to take advantage of the "Zip" program.

Who is Best Dad? Will Lead Rodeo

The "Best Dad" in Orange County will reign as Grand Marshal of the Kiwanis Club Rodeo, which will be staged at La Palma Park, Anaheim, on June 15 and 16. According to Charles Holland, president of the Southwestern Anaheim Kiwanis Club, the Grand Marshal will be selected from letters submitted by youngsters under 12.

The Junior Grand Marshal will be the son or daughter of Orange County's "Best Dad." All youngsters under 12 who live in Orange County are urged to compete in this contest, and explain in 100 words or less why they have the best rovin'-tadin Dad in these here parts. Letters should be sent to the Anaheim Kiwanis Club, P.O. Box 503, Anaheim.

The Southwest Anaheim Kiwanis Club will award the Grand Marshal, Junior Grand Marshal, and the entire family, a fun-packed Father's Day weekend, including free tickets to the area's amusement attractions and dining at Anaheim's finest restaurants.

"Since June 16 is Father's Day," miled Holland, "some lucky youngster will be able to treat Dad—and the whole family—to a week-end they will thoroughly enjoy and long remember."

Letters should include author's name, age, and school, the Dad's name, family address and phone number. The best letter will be picked by the Kiwanis Club "Grand Marshal" committee. Judging will be based on sincerity and originality.

Holland added, "Free rodeo passes will also be awarded to the writers of the next 10 best letters. So kids, if you want a chance to treat the family to a rewarding Father's Day weekend, and become Junior Grand Marshal of the Kiwanis Club Rodeo, send your letters in as soon as possible. Winners will be announced during the first week of June."

Locally, traffic deaths and injuries are making themselves felt. Twiss said, Orange County experienced a total of 185 deaths and 9,623 injuries in 1962. During 1962, 41,000 persons in U. S. were killed and 1,900,000 were injured in traffic accidents. Projecting that trend into the future, it can be determined that in approximately six to five years, 189 million people—more than half of our population—will be victims of traffic mishaps, according to J. City Okays Motel's Tax

The Anaheim City Council Tuesday gave a first reading to the new ordinance to levy a four percent tax on motels and hotels in the city as a means of financing the building of the proposed multi-purpose convention center. Four Councilmen expressed their conclusion that intensive study and analysis has revealed no better plan for the raising of funds. Councilman Odra Chandler was absent from the afternoon session of the council, but had formally previously expressed backing for the tax plan.

The levy originally came from special citizens' committee appointed by the city to study the need and practicability of the city erecting a convention center building that would properly accommodate large delegations.

The committee had included the tax plan as a part of their recommendations.

Zoning Fees May Go Up

The city is losing too much money on zoning applications and is now studying means of adjusting the fees to something more compatible with costs. This was the substance of an informal report to the city council this past week from Keith Murdoch, city manager.

Murdoch's calculations reveal a total of $304 is expended by the city in processing a zoning application. This cost is broken down into departmental figures of: planning $128.32; engineering, $71.32; city clerk, $63.15; city attorney, $38.25; and duplicating, $2.17.

Murdoch suggested: increasing the filing fee for reclassifications from $50 to $125; increasing the filing fee for conditional use permits and variances from $50 to $75; charging a combined fee of $100 for conditional use permits or variance are filed in conjunction with a reclassification.

Kuchel Hits Extremists

U. S. Senator Thomas H. Kuchel today called on "cruelly swindled Americans" to reappraise the "possibilities of fight for paranoia and profit" and rejoin the ranks of responsible anti-Communist, pro-Americans.

"America has enough immediate and deadly dangerous enemies, without adding hooligans," he said. "America can use all the responsible help it can get."

Kuchel, Assistant Senate Republican Leader, identified "the right peddlers as hundreds of 'self-styled patriotic groups' ranging from the Black Society to the followers of Gerald L. K. Smith."

He said they have been responsible for a number of horrors, which have terrified thousands of Californians to the point of hysteria, particularly two most recent ones which claim:

The United Nations is training thousands of foreign troops, in chiding barefoot savages, in Georgia as a prelude to a take-over of the country.

The proceeds from the affair are used to further expansion of the All Purpose Recreation Building being erected for Anaheim residents at La Palma Park. The festival will run through May 11.

One of the highlights of the final day has always been, according to Barnes, the barbecue dinner. This year the dinner will be followed by a variety show that will include everything to rodeo events and exhibition riding to South Sea Island flame dancing.

Committee chairman who have been serving to develop the festival include:

Coordination with the City of Anaheim, August F. Lennin, superintendent of the utilities department of the City, Berkeley committee chairman, H. E. "Mike" Krueger, while Al Marzouk heads the house committee.

Traffic Toll Forecast Shows Every Other Person as Victim

If the present accident rate continues, one out of every two persons now living will be killed or injured in traffic before reaching age sixty-five. That sobering statement was released today by the Allstate Insurance Companies, in an effort to highlight the magnitude of our nation's traffic problem.

During 1962, 41,000 persons in U. S. were killed and 1,900,000 were injured in traffic accidents. Projecting that trend into the future, it can be determined that in approximately six to five years, 189 million people—more than half of our population—will be victims of traffic mishaps, according to J. STATE BURGEOINING STATE NEEDS

Require New Billions; Is Challenge for All

Milton Teague, president of the California State Chamber of Commerce, has called on California citizens to "stand up and be counted, join in pooling ideas, and exercise leadership" in solving the state's many problems of growth.

"It is not a job for state government alone, or business enterprise alone," said the head of the 6,000-firm organization in a major speech in Bakersfield. "It is the responsibility of every man, and woman to meet the challenges posed by our greatest population growth in history."

Keynote Message

The State Chamber president, who is also president of Southern Grocers, Inc., and director of a dozen other agricultural and business enterprises, was keynote speaker at a Valley Resources Conference of the Chamber's San Joaquin Valley District, held in the Bakersfield Hotel.

Teague said being the first state in number of people "brings obligations as well as glory, and that we cannot be satisfied with numbers alone."

"Population does not make a state endure, California should not become obsessed with a dogmatic devotion to largeness without striving for the virtues which truly make states and nations great."

One of the "virtues," he said, is maintaining an economic climate which will create new jobs — 234,000 are needed each year to keep up with our expected growth, he declared.

Must Spend Billions

To provide these jobs, business will have to spend $12 billion annually in new capital investments.

Each week, said Teague, industry must provide 2,000 units of new housing, retail outlets must increase by 100, 6,000 additional telephone lines must be installed and 148 new classrooms must be built — just to provide for the state's present growth which now averages 12,000 persons per week.

The State Chamber believes that California's position as number one in population, declared Teague, "is not a sanctified goal, but rather an historic opportunity to achieve higher goals. The united effort of the State Chamber in the years ahead, therefore, will be directed toward making California the greatest state. This imposes an urgent need for intelligent and cooperative action."

FOUR DAYS TO THAW OUT — Freezer man Paul Anderson at Bridgford Packing Co. declares he is all in favor of bakery department 35-hour, four-day work week. His praise and enthusiasm is typical of men who have tested program over 90-day period.

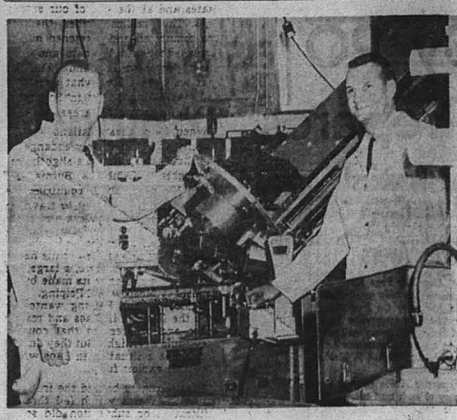

Packer's 4x4 Plan Success

Bridgford's 35-hr. Week Here to Stay

The Bridgford "4 x 4" plan which heralded the 35-hour week into Anaheim has proven to be such a success that the local packing company is now looking forward to its extension into other departments.

It has been given thorough testing in the bakery division of the plant, H. W. Bridgford, vice president, declared, where it was introduced in the fore part of February of this year.

"We have all been elated with the success of the program," Bridgford said. "The plant is operating at a high level of its capacity, the staff of the bakery division is highly pleased with the schedule which provides a so-called vacation every four days and individuals feel more alert and experience a sense of less fatigue during the working day."

NEW EQUIPMENT ADDED — Keeping pace with increased production capabilities of plant, new alter is added to this Bridgford Packing Co. equipment.

Works Praise Plan

Informal discussions with various men in the bakery department have resulted in a very positive estimate of high satisfaction.

Paul Anderson, freezer man who has been with the company for over a year, says both he and his wife, Gloria, find they now have time to do many of the things they have wanted.

"We no longer have to debate what we will try to jam into a short weekend," Anderson said. "We now have sufficient free time to include several ideas."

Johnny Scott, another freezer man, asserts "I don't need so much of a vacation period with this plan. Every four days it seems as though I'm getting a vacation week."

"Now I have finally found time for my hobby of rebuilding cars," Scott says. "Another thing, Dorothy (Mrs. Scott) and I enjoy it getting to see my parents more often. They live about 500 miles away and with a two-day weekend it was next to impossible to get up to see them."

Local Men Praised

The week of thoughtful and efficient local men drew high praise from Bridgford. They are Harold Woodard, secretary of Local 851, and Charles Sigala, business agent of the union.

"These men showed imagination and a pioneer spirit in their selection of the best and most traditional pattern of the work week," Bridgford says. "They worked hard on shaping up the plan with us and I am sure they will credit for their share in starting the program."

Various Problems

out the various problems we encountered in evaluating the program."

Basically, the Bridgford 4 x 4 plan calls for four complete crews of men in the bakery division working alternately. There are no women involved in the program as California state law prohibits women working more than an eight-hour shift.

Over an eight-week period, a total of 36 days. Each of the four crews will work 28 days in the eight weeks. During the 38 days each employee works at 39 hours per day, a total of 280 hours. Dividing this by eight weeks, the "weekly" work is 35 hours long.

To assure employees of consistent pay with the former 40-hour week, Bridgford made a pay raise at the time of inaugurating the plan to bring salaries up to the former level.

The only ones in the program who seem to have grounds for objection are the Bridgford, Father and sons, H. H. president, H. W. vice president for operations and Allan, vice president for marketing, find themselves getting weary greeting new shifts coming in daily before they have recovered from an exhausting round of trying to keep pace with the previous crew.

Seriously, management is ever more enthused over the program today than when it was launched three months ago. In summary of the advantages that have accrued to the plant and its people, son H. W. (Bill) emphasizes the following:

1. Doubled the number of people working.
2. Raised hourly rate of pay.
3. Maintained 40-hour week.
4. Reduced hours from 40 to 35.
5. Increased leisure days by 15 percent.
6. Greatly increased utilization of facilities, which has diluted the cost of production.
7. Substantially improved individual productivity and employee morale.
8. Eliminated requirement for time and one-half double time.

Five-digit ZIP Code numbers are currently being assigned to every post office office delivery zone in the country as well as to some individual large office buildings such as Federal agencies in Washington.

Day said, "The new system will make it possible for business to pre-sort mail by existing automatic data processing equipment with little, if any, additional effort or cost, but with great savings in time and expense to the Post Office Department, resulting in better delivery of mail."

He explained that ZIP Code mail will be able to bypass as many as six current hand operations and will lay the ground work for extensive automatic sorting of mail by optical reading equipment in the future.

Business Shows Rally for April

Southern California's business activity recorded a moderate April rally to offset the previous month's decline, John S. Fisher, manager of Security First National Bank's Anaheim branch, reported today.

Although the local economy fell short of its all-time high performance of last February, it none the less remained ahead of last year's level, he said.

Based on figures for the week ending April 26, the bank's business index was reported at 124.8 (preliminary) as compared to March's reading of 124.4. In April, 1962, the index figure stood at 122.1.

April indicate they were 20 percent below the March level and 7.1 percent below the November high.

Unemployment throughout Southern California in March stood at 5.7 percent of the labor force, according to latest figures available. This was equal to the seasonally adjusted rate for February and nearly identical with 5.8 percent in March, 1962.

A solid critic of the first time, Packard pointed out in his book "The Waste Makers" the "hidden persuaders" who are the "waste makers" in our society.

He will discuss the "hidden persuaders" who are the "waste makers" in our society.

County GOP Will Retain State Ties

Committees were named, policy established and plans laid for strengthening and enlarging the membership in California Republican Assembly units of Orange County at the first board of directors meeting of the Orange County Coordinating Republican Assembly under the direction of newly elected president John Schmitz.

Urgent appeals to stick together and take steps to maintain and increase present membership, Schmitz said "Division should be left to the politicians of the state-wide level."

This followed unanimous approval of the 14 county units to remain in the parent state-wide California Republican Assembly.

A vote of confidence was given to the new leadership by the "Legislative Research Bulletin" prepared by OOCRA and distributed statewide to interested Republicans.

Support was voted to continue the Bulletin which digests all bills coming before the California legislature and makes a recommendation of support or opposition based upon the principles contained in the Constitution of the USA. Particular support is given to the idea that "basic power should be retained in the hands of the people rather than in the fist of government," according to Schmitz.

Tradition of Ladies First is Mills Hope

Colleges and universities across the country have begun to accept the challenge offered by the Elephant Racing Club of Orange State College for the Los Alamitos Race Track.

Acceptance has been received from Yale University which has named Lucia Beebe of the Stanford University as team captain. Francisco Chonova as team manager. However, Ben Wade, USC's Elephant Club president, said "It is my feeling Yale may be attempting to follow in the footsteps of the Coast Guard last year. The Coast Guard's acceptance last year turned out to be a hoax."

Mills College of Oakland, an all-girl school, was the first to enter the coming race. ERC members consider it something of an emergency as the women's school will be allowed to race in the previously all-male sport. Some members feel this may call for a revision of the "rules" regulations and that safeguards such as the wearing of veils will have to be considered.

Other schools that have accepted are Southern California, Chapman, Long Beach State, and Northridge. In addition, calls have been received from the University of Iowa and New York University.

Badham Sees Bill's Death

Robert E. Badham (R-Coast Mesa) today stated that it was apparently clear that the Liberty Amendment had all but died in the Rules Committee at the hands of partisan bureaucrats.

There seemed to be increasing fear on the part of the Democratic members of the committee to give the bill a full hearing on the floor.

Badham stated that his office received approximately 15,000 pieces of mail for the Amendment and two again. This kind of popular support can only indicate that the people of this State are sick and tired of runaway taxation.

This, Badham explained, was good reason for the Democratic Rules Committee members to kill the bill and not let it come to the floor.

The Democratic bureaucrats claim to help the little man and yet must seek the hide fact from that same "little man" that he pays 90 per cent of the taxes in this country," Badham said.

Division in Laos Permitted Typical Communist Action

The dangerous situation in Laos was to be expected.

The mess there is the logical outcome to the creation of a three-headed monster wherein the tiny Southeast Asian kingdom was split into three groups headed by pro-Communist, pro-Western and neutral forces.

Any time the Reds are permitted to participate in such a division of a country, or if Communists gain important cabinet positions in a coalition government, the ball game is all over. It is only a matter of time.

The Reds are consistent. They never really retreat and they do not give up. They may back up temporarily, or switch to another tactic, but they do not give up on goals. Their goal in Southeast Asia is to take over through various means Laos, Burma, Thailand, Cambodia, South Vietnam, Malaysia and Formosa. Once this is achieved, the next wave of conquests would carry them to Indonesia, South Korea, New Zealand, India, Japan and the Philippines.

Today the Communists in Southeast Asia, regarded by Peiping as a prime area for their efforts and concern, are utilizing subversion, infiltration, sabotage, propaganda, psychological warfare and the threat of military-economic-diplomatic pressures. In the end if these techniques do not succeed, military aggression in varying degrees can be utilized. Russia is vitally concerned and extremely active in Southeast Asia too.

The seven nations earmarked by Peiping for conquest during the next few years have about 500,000 square miles of territory. They are rich in food production, especially rice, and they have many natural resources such as tin, rubber, oil, minerals, fishing, and forest products. Their populations number some 170 millions. Red China has about 3½ million square miles and something like 700 to 800 million people. The Reds are poor in raw materials, have an extremely low living standard, and are faced with food shortages or famine much of the time. Therefore Burma, Thailand, Cambodia, Laos, South Vietnam, Malaysia and Formosa are rich and tempting prizes.

Moscow and Peiping are utilizing Laos as they have Berlin, South Korea and Cuba. They do not want law and order and progress and peace in Laos. Quite the contrary. Laos gives the Kremlin a made-to-order situation which can be played on at will by the Soviets. They know that Laos is thousands of miles away from the United States and at the end of our supply lines. They realize further that we are committed and stretched out in Korea and South Vietnam and to a lesser degree in Thailand. Further, that we have a somewhat uncertain and vacillating policy in Southeast Asia as in many other areas.

When Laos goes Thailand will be directly and immediately endangered and the same applies in a slightly lesser degree to Cambodia, Burma, and South Vietnam. These countries are the route the Reds want to travel as they drive toward Malaya and eventually Indonesia. The latter country probably can be taken over without too much trouble in view of the heavy Communist efforts there, a large Red party and commitments made by Indonesia to Moscow and Peiping.

If Moscow and Peiping wanted to stop the fighting in Laos and restore peace and progress to that country they could overnight. But they do not! They have a situation in Laos which they will exploit fully.

Every country behind the Iron and bamboo curtains which fell through infiltration or subversion did so by Communists taking over key positions in the government. The Reds went after the minister of defense, minister of the interior and minister of press and propaganda. This gave them control of all military forces, the secret police, jails and concentration camps and all mediums of thought and expression. The various Red ministers of press and propaganda took over newspapers, radio stations and then moved over into schools, theaters and churches. But always the Communists worked to win the defense ministry which gave them the shooting control and real power of the country.

The troika, or Russian three-headed monster concept, is only another expression of this basic Communist tactic. It is classic with the Reds. In Laos they have achieved another troika setup.

Slipped Disc Vets Getting Recall Exams

Approximately one-third of the 1,000 veterans who have been treated for back trouble known as "slipped discs" have been re-examined in a Veterans Administration research project aimed at comparing present treatment and developing better techniques in therapy, it was announced today by Dr. Michael Mello, Director of Long Beach VA Hospital. Bill to Add Court Judges Over Hurdle

The State Assembly has passed the bill increasing the strength of Orange County Municipal Courts by adding two judges in the Anaheim-Fullerton Municipal Court and one in the Santa Ana-Orange Municipal Court.

The bill, introduced by Assemblyman William E. Dunnemeyer (D-Fullerton), will increase the Anaheim court to six judges and the Santa Ana court to four. It still must receive senate passage.

Approval will also automatically add an additional marshal and court clerk for each judicial appointment.

Crowded court calendars, increased filings and an exploding county population have been cited as the main reasons for the need.

The North County Anaheim court serves 12 cities and more than half the total population.

Another bill adding three additional superior court judges to the present 13 in the county is also pending before the state legislature. That bill introduced by Assemblyman James Whetmore, R-Garden Grove, carries the endorsement of the County grand jury, board of supervisors, and bar association.

Garden Group To Honor Past Club Leaders

MISS ANAHEIM HOPERUL — Ida Higgins is not only anxious to win the coveted title but also is an Anaheim girl and claims some proprietary rights to the title to be judged May 24 at the Charter House Hotel as the first step toward Miss California and then a try at national honors.

Miss Anaheim Seen As Miss California

The 1963 selection of Miss Anaheim, in the California Beauty Pageant, will be held on Friday evening, May 24, at 7:30 in the Rib Room of the Charter House Hotel.

Dr. Leonard Stallcup, president of the California Beauty Pageant, said today that the Anaheim contest will be one of the highlights in the Miss California race. "The event, girls in the Anaheim event," said Stallcup, "are very beautiful, and it wouldn't surprise me if our new Miss California is one of the Anaheim contestants."

Reservations for the dinner type show have gone on sale at the Charter House Hotel. Early reservations are suggested for prime seating at the annual beauty in the Miss California race. "The event,

Lyon Plans New Project Near Coast

William Lyon, Anaheim builder-developer, has added another major home project to his California enterprises with purchase of 200 acres of farmland in Huntington Beach for a purchase price in excess of $2,000,000.

The seller was George D. Buccola, builder of homes and apartments for the past decade, president of the Buccola Investment Company and owner-developer of the Newport Inn at Newport Beach.

John H. Horner, Anaheim real estate broker, represented both parties in the transaction. The tract is inland from the ocean 1½ miles, along Slater Street, and borders the historic Bolsa Chica Gun Club property.

Lyon expects to begin construction within 90 days on the 800-home residential development. He has built thousands of homes in the Orange County area, as president of Luxury Homes, Inc., with headquarters in Anaheim, and is one of the major home builders of the nation.

Walter Corbin, manager of the Santa Ana Office of Title Insurance and Trust Company, reported the sale to be one of the largest all-cash escrow transactions ever handled by his office.

HOME BUILDERS — William Lyon, center, Anaheim builder-developer, will erect 800 homes on Huntington Beach farmlands he has purchased from George D. Buccola, right, Newport Beach developer of the famed Newport Inn. John H. Horner, of Anaheim, was the real estate broker representing both parties in the $2,000,000 transaction.

School Rifle Club Active

An enthusiastic organization on the Western High School campus is the Rifle Club under the direction of sponsors Calvin Johnson and Billy Jones. Members, using Remington 517 Target rifles, attempt to improve their target practice scores through practice at various rifle ranges. A future excursion planned includes a day at the Army Rifle Range at Fort McHenry.

Members are carefully instructed in all areas of gunmanship by qualified personnel affiliated with the National Rifle Association. Rick TerBorch, Mal Duncan, and Kent Gummison have earned the rank of instructor through rigid written and shooting tests. Skilled members who have reached superior shooting status will compete in several intercollegiate contests and in the Riverside Invitational, Southern California State Championship.

Club officers are Mike Smith, president; John Roach, vice president; Mark Kovacs, secretary; Bob Nadel, treasurer; Bob Miller, activity chairman; and cabinet members Rick TerBorch, Kent Gummison, and Mal Duncan.

OC to Forego Building Plan

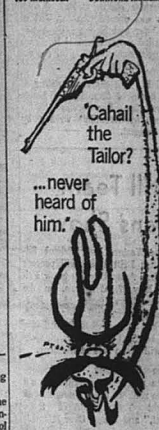

Decision not to participate in the School Construction Systems Development Project was made this week by the Orange Coast Junior College Board of Trustees following a progress meeting with project personnel at Stanford.

The project was originally drawn up to develop component parts which would be designed specifically for school construction needs and produced in quantity by manufacturers. Orange Coast was the only junior college to indicate interest in the project.

Architects for the Golden West College campus advised board members that the recent meeting with project personnel indicated that participation in the project would not result in building economy.

PUT BUNDLES FOR BRITAIN IN THE SHADE—With the price of admission at one good-sized bundle of clothing for the Thrift Shop, the Anaheim Auxiliary Dames of the Assistance League enjoyed a highly successful "Bundle Bunch" this past week at the League's Club-

It takes 240,000 farm acres to produce the agricultural products which are purchased each year by California brewers. Last year the brewers bought $15 million pounds of malt, corn, sugar, rice, hops and soybeans to use in the brewing process, at a total cost of $19.3 million.

The California brewing industry, fifth in the nation in production, uses approximately 40 pounds of cereal grain and other farm products in each barrel of beer.

VERSATILE QUEEN - Jane Ann Callie, Queen of the Fantasy Ball, is a headline in a variety of activities. Ballerina, cheer leader and a "wonderful member of the family" are three of the facts that keep her going at full speed in addition to the honors won in the "Y" selections.

Fantasy Ball Queen Is Savanna Student

Chosen as the most outstanding Tri-Hi-Y girl from the Savanna, Magnolia and Western High Schools, Miss Jane Ann Callie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Callie, was named Queen of the Fantasy Ball in a regal ceremony climaxing the formal dinner dance at the Charter House Ball room.

Announcement of the honorees from each school, and the name of the finalist from among the three was made by Charles Wood, all Master of Ceremonies for the evening.

Voted by Tri-Hi-Y members of each school as their choice for top honorees were Miss Mary Hopkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hopkins, candidate from the Y - Amies of Magnolia High School; Miss Juanita Fater, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Fater, candidate from the Y-Sigma Phi of Western High School; and Miss Callie, candidate from the Forever Y's of Savanna High. Miss Callie was then chosen by an adult committee as the girl who represented the finest Tri-Hi-Y girl from the three high schools. Jane Ann has been active in Tri-Hi-Y since her 7th grade year in school, first joining a Jr. Tri-Hi-Y club at Brookhurst. She has retained her active membership throughout her six years in secondary school, and has carried every major office in her club, serving as President of Forever Y's this past year.

She has an enviable record of participation in both regular club events as well as special projects sponsored by her club, always ranking among those who have carried the "extra" loads assigned to Mrs. Ann Moore, Girls Program Director. She has been a camper at Camp Occochee as well as a Camp Counselor, and plans to continue her relationship with the YMCA next year by serving as advisor to a 10th grade club she is now assisting to organize at Brookhurst Jr. High. Mrs. Moore describes Jane Ann as an outstanding student at Savanna High School, active in her church, and a talented teacher of dance and baton. Within the past two years she has had several offers to enter the professional world, including an opportunity to dance with the San Francisco Ballet. She has chosen instead to put a higher priority on her school activities, serving as Cheer Leader at Savanna this year, and to carry over her Y club presidency. Her leadership toward creating Christian standards in all areas of her life has been obvious to all who have been associated with her, Mrs. Moore declared.

Dinner at the Charter House for the Savanna, Magnolia, Western Tri-Hi-Y girls and their escorts is hosted annually by the West Anaheim YMCA Women's Committee of which Mrs. Charles Wood has been President for the past two years.

Weaver Guild Meets

An all day workshop, planned for the May 9 meeting of the South Coast Weavers' Guild, will take place at 427 Charlotte in Long Beach, the home of R. E. Reinken from 9:30-12 a.m. and 1-4 p.m. Truly Emerson will present the topic, "Nature Designing." Members are requested to bring yarns, scarves, colored pictures, and a sack lunch.

WW I Veterans Plan Bake Sale

Veterans of World War I Baracks 1283 and Auxiliary will hold a home baked cake sale at the American Legion Hall, 938 N. Lemon St., Anaheim, on May 13. The doors will be open until 9 p.m. All Veterans of World War I and their families are especially invited. Arrivals Grand, publicity chairman, says. The sale is open to the public.

Glasses in which beer is served should be washed with a detergent salt or baking-soda solution rather than soap. Soap leaves a film which detracts from taste and appearance.

CLOSE IN

THIS IS ROBERTA — Immobilized from the waist down by a heavy cast that covers her right leg down to her toes, she nevertheless has the capability of being out-going and full of zowies.

Hip-Length Cast Is No Deterrent

Roberta has the type of personality you want in a secretary. She is lively in speech and facial expression; her eyes are wide and intelligent; she is brisk in response to questions; she has an excellent sense of humor.

Above all we would say, Roberta has the drive, the will to succeed. And if your secretary succeeds, you will too.

Roberta has only one problem. She is encased in a cast that extends from her toes to mid-waist. She has been in the cast for over two years and can expect to remain in it for as much as another year before she will again be able to stand upright and try and walk again.

Roberta is Roberta Hamilton Brennecke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hamilton of 1915 Orondaga in Anaheim. She was divorced from her husband about a year, before an automobile accident wiped out the life of her son and spun her into a plaster cast from which she emerges only from time to time as doctors still try to piece together the shattered bones and muscles of her legs.

Has Special Bed
Roberta is at home, living on a special hospital bed that has been fitted up to accommodate, not only her restricted condition, but also to permit her to pursue the work of the competent secretary she has become.

Sh has fought back from the brink of nothingness to the point where today she is confidently moving to get a business license and open up a secretarial service. She has been doing some experimental work already through the good offices of the State Department of Education, Vocational Rehabilitation Service and the Poly Priest Business College.

It has just worked out splendidly, all concerned report. A training program from the state office, under the local supervision of Francis N. Everett of the Santa Ana office, was developed through the Poly Priest school. The goal was to qualify Roberta for secretarial and letter service business.

Special teaching tapes were prepared covering English, spelling, letter writing, filing, etc. A shorthand machine was installed for shorthand training and a tape recorder was installed.

After ten weeks of training Roberta was up to 55 words per minute in typing and taking shorthand at 60 words per minute. She is now well above these figures.

How does she type while lying in bed? This is accomplished through the use of an electric typewriter which is on a special amount that permits easy swinging into position for use. It was PR 3-3782.

given to her by friends. She is now working on the use of a special recorder which will permit business houses to call by phone and dictate their correspondence over the phone into the machine for later transcribing.

In addition to all of this effort Roberta is working on the completion of her college work toward an Associate in Arts degree. She is emphasizing history, political science and literature in her studies.

To talk with Roberta is inspirational. She has no lack of confidence in the future — only some impatience with the time. She is overboard in her thanks to the legion of persons who have contributed to her efforts.

Big Debt To Pay
And she still needs a lot of support. The medical attention she has received has run into the thousands of dollars and both of her parents are working to assist in paying off these debts. An aunt, Mrs. Helen Harris of Fullerton, comes down each day and stays in the house to attend to household needs while the parents are off at their work.

At night Roberta's father delivers any of the experimental work she has completed.

If you would like to reach Roberta her telephone number is PR 3-3782.

IT SHOULD DEVELOP GOOD MUSCLE TONE — When Roberta needs to reach a little distance the bar above her gives her shoulders a raise of several inches and extends her reach to more distant points around the perimeter of her bed. Here she turns on a special recorder which may be attached to the telephone and accept dictation which she can later type.
