where do you draw the line?

It depends on what you're putting on the line—savings or investments. If it's an investment you're making, naturally you'll want to get a high return. And most investments do pay higher returns because higher risks are involved. But where your savings are concerned, you can't afford to take chances. Most people don't. They put their money where the interest is sure and where the principal is protected—in the bank.

Our Savers Could Fill a City

California Federal's 412,000 savers could fill Newark, New Jersey, and have 7,000 people left over. And what do we do with the hundreds of millions in savings brought to us each year by these multitudes of thirty people? We disburse them as first mortgage loans to home builders and buyers. (The $335 million we loaned in 1963 could have built 16,750 homes worth $20,000 each!) That helped create jobs, wages and tax money for public works and services, too. And our savers were repaid for the use of their money with $37 million in dividends last year. In fact that could have bought 12,333 autos worth $3,000 each or 74,000 color TV sets. In actuality it was probably spent on a little bit of everything. It takes to keep prosperity rolling. So now you know why it's nice to have a giant like California Federal around. Our billion-dollar business benefits almost everyone.

"Thank You, Your Honor"

(Editor's Note: The CALIFORNIA PATROLMAN MAGAZINE recently published a radio editorial by Gene Ragle of Station KA-HI, in Auburn. It is one of the citizens should read, study and resolve to do something about it. It will shock many, but unless we take individual and collective action nothing will happen. Our courts and legal profession have much to answer for on the increasing crime rate. Many lawyers have no right to practice employing techniques and "values" they utilize. Radio and TV stations, newspapers, magazines all share in this growing menace. Whenever mass media praise and glorify crime and criminals, or fails in frontal attacks against judges, juries, lawyers and officials who are lax, stupid or incompetent it fails in its duties. Freedom of press and speech by all means. But these basic freedoms imply and require assuming responsibilities too! —Virgil Pinkley.)

"Thank you, your Honor," were the words uttered by the cold-blooded murderer of Officer Glen Carlson, Roger M. Mealman, to Judge Vernon Stoll of Nevada County, upon receiving a life sentence in lieu of a well deserved death sentence. In response to the hundreds of telephone calls we have had concerning this miscarriage of justice, we are presenting the following radio editorial which was delivered several times over Station KA-HI, Auburn. This editorial has attracted much favorable comment.

If you are concerned about the continuing increase in the crime rate in California — and if you wonder why criminals so often seem to injure or kill victims without worrying about the consequences, you will find a basic reason for it all in the courts. And last Tuesday's (January 28th) decision on the sentences given Roger Mealman and Clifford Toyson, Jr. by Nevada County Superior Court Judge Vernon Stoll, serves to illustrate the problem in a most shocking manner.

showed that Mealman and his two accomplices made any real effort to prevent the killing of California Highway Patrolman Glen Carlson last November 15, while they were attempting to avoid capture after committing a bank robbery in Sacramento.

Police records, readily available to both Nevada County District Attorney Harold Berliner, and to Judge Stoll, showed that Mealman and his two accomplices actually planned their crime while they were still in prison, awaiting parole from a previous sentence. Once released on parole, they followed their plan perfectly. They robbed a bank. And when they thought it necessary to kill a highway patrolman in order to escape, they did that too.

In fact, according to authoritative sources, the killers admitted that they were also prepared to kill any bystanders who might have witnessed their crimes. The same sources also indicated that Roger Mealman was proud of the fact that he actually pulled the trigger of the gun which killed Patrolman Carlson. And he pulled that trigger again and again — until he was quite certain that the officer was dead.

The records don't show that Mealman's accomplices made any real effort to prevent the killing. However, they apparently didn't actually do any shooting, so District Attorney Harold Berliner and Judge Vernon Stoll allowed them to enter pleas of "guilty" on a conditional basis. This made it impossible for them to receive death sentences. In the case of Mealman, the confessed killer of Patrolman Carlson, a conditionally guilty plea was not permitted. His plea of "guilty" was on the basis on which he went to court for sentencing.

However, as developments now show, this habitual criminal and cold-blooded killer might as well have been allowed to plead guilty to overtime parking, with about the same effect.

Judge Stoll sentenced Mealman and his co-murderer, Toyson, to life in prison. But here's the catch. Statistics show that the average life sentence lasts only about seven and one-half years. After that the killers are turned loose to the California Adult Authority to kill, rob, and rape, again and again and again.

And this can be exactly the case with Roger Mealman and his accomplices. Mealman is an habitual criminal, legally identified as such under California law. He has spent the major part of his adult life in prison. There is no evidence to suggest that prison has ever changed his attitudes in any way. When he is not in prison, he is hard at work, committing crime against you and against anyone who gets in his way. Patrolman Carlson got in his way — and was coldly gunned down. Yet, Judge Stoll told Mealman that he felt a life sentence to prison would be a greater punishment than the death penalty. As a result of this amazing sentence, Mealman and his associates may very well be free, within just a few short years, to kill again, and again, and again.

This case of judicial irresponsibility is by no means unusual.

For instance, you may recall the tragic case of the traffic deaths of two children — members of the Anderson family — on Highway 49, north of Auburn at a treacherous curve. The family was driving to church on a peaceful Sunday morning. Ray Robinson of Roseville, driving fast, on the wrong side of the road, and drunk, plowed into the Anderson family car. Everyone in the car was injured — and two of the Anderson children were killed. The scene was so horrible that the Highway Patrolman who handled the accident resigned the next day, saying that he could never face another situation like that.

The drunk driver who killed two innocent children on their way to Sunday school later pled guilty to two counts of manslaughter before Superior Court Judge Ronald Cameron of Placer County. And to this admitted drunken driver who killed two children, Judge Cameron gave a sentence of 45 WEEKS in the Placer County jail, plus three years of freedom on probation.

So — during the week, Mr. Robinson is free to work, play and live as he wishes. On Saturday and Sunday, he sits in the Placer County jail. And the two Anderson children are permanently dead. And their family knows grief every day of every week of every year.

The point of our commentary is this. If you want protection from your courts and your law enforcement officers — you must ask for it loudly and consistently. If you are revolted by the spectacle of killers who have their wrists lashed and are then turned loose to come to your community to kill again, then what are you doing about it? Did you write a letter to the judge about his handling of the Robinson child-killer case? Do you plan to write a letter to the judge about the handling of the Carlson murder case? Do you pay attention to crime news and trial news? Do you re-elect judges and other officials on the basis of voting habit instead of analyzing their performance in office?

REMEMBER — if elected officials are stupid, incompetent, vicious, or senile during their first term in office, you can reasonably console yourself by saying that they were installed by mistake. But if they continue in office after their abilities, or LACK of them, become known, the fault is yours and yours alone.

You put them in office.

If you don't like them — YOU CAN VOTE THEM OUT!

This is Gene Ragle. Thank you.

State Senate Reports

1.5 Million Back Change In Financing of Schools

By John A. Murdy, Jr.

An estimated 1,500,000 "declarations of support" poured into the legislature this past week urging improved state financing for California's Public Educational System.

The declarations came in the form of petitions with signatures from thousands of concerned school officials, teachers, parents, and students.

If the petitions had been placed in a single stack, it would have towered several feet high.

Locally, from Orange County we received thousands of signatures. I was quite impressed with the effort that has gone into this project. We certainly will do our best to improve the fiscal affairs of state education.

But it will be impossible for me to answer all of you individually so please accept my apologies for not making a personal acknowledgment.

I would like to say here that I have received all your petitions and we are making every effort to come up with a plan to improve the financial picture of public education in California this year.

Best estimates are that the special session will carry into April at least two weeks. The budget session and the last week in March.

The local allocations board which provides state school bond money to school districts for building programs, is already feeling the pinch of dwindling funds.

Priority lists are now being set up for what's left of the money.

To give you an idea of what's happening, there are several school projects approved in Orange County worth about $13 million dollars now pending. But funds cannot be appropriated at this time.

At the last meeting of the Allocations Board, of which I am a member, we had to postpone action of nearly $23 million worth of school projects.

As of March 11, a total of $115,301,531 in school building applications throughout the state had been approved or submitted. Of this amount, $71,464,606 is approved but not appropriated and another $43,817,925 has been submitted but not approved.

Many millions more are to be requested in the next few months but right now needed school rooms and buildings are being delayed in 44 of our 58 counties.

Not a very pretty picture to paint unless you are totally against the public school program.

But I get the feeling that some people in Sacramento are playing politics with our schools.

LAW IN ACTION

FINAL JUDGMENTS

Some law suits may take a long time since lawyers try to keep their clients out of them. Even when there is a lawsuit a lawyer may try to work out a private settlement favorable to his client.

If a person is sued he must respond quickly. His failure to answer a summons or a complaint may mean a loss by default, and the plaintiff may well get a judgment for all that he sought.

It is the greatest of all mistakes to do nothing because you can only do so little.

—Sydney Smith

How can the loser get the court to set aside such a default judgment? He can do so by showing that the plaintiff misled him or that he did not in fact ignore the complaint, but illness, excusable negligence, or a mistake cannot be the basis for a judgment that is not appealed.

Thus, Mrs. Rockhead sued for a divorce, and the couple agreed to an out-of-court property settlement. Mr. Rockhead did not appear in court, and the court entered a default judgment. The case could begin anew.

Now and then the defendant is not properly served with the complaint and summons to court. Perhaps he cannot be found, and the plaintiff serves him by publishing these papers in a newspaper. When the defendant fails to respond to the notice, the court will enter a default judgment. Later the defendant may show the court facts to justify the court in setting aside the judgment on the ground that he was not properly notified of the fact that a suit was filed against him.

A judgment in a civil case cannot easily be upset.

As a rule, fraud is the only reason for a court to set aside a judgment. Even though one finds new evidence, mistakes, or flaws in a law, a civil judgment is usually still valid and proceedings come to an end.

Gift Shop Profits Benefit Hospital

Mrs. Rodney Darby of Orange, Boyer for Martin Luther Hospital Guild, announced profits from the gift shop and service cart will allow Mrs. Marley Jones of Anaheim, Financial Secretary of the Guild, to present a $500 check to the Guild's general treasury to be used for the purchase of additional equipment for Martin Luther Hospital.

The service cart, presently under the direction of Mrs. Dale Every of Anaheim, was organized and put into service in July 1961, and daily (except for Sundays) offers patients toiletries, books, cards, games, and items to make their stay in the hospital as pleasant as possible. In December of 1961, profits from the service cart allowed the Guild to open a gift shop in the hospital cafeteria. Under the supervision of Mrs. Cory Hoff, the shop is open from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m., daily except Sunday, and stocks both unusual and hand-made items, as well as seasonal gifts for hospitalized patients. Staffed by 25 volunteers, the cart and shop require 250 hours of volunteer time per month.

In the near future, Junior Guild Candystrippers will staff the service cart in the hospital lobby during evening hours for the convenience of visitors.

PESTICIDES TALK

Dr. Emil M. Mark, Chancellor, Davis Campus, University of California, recently told a conference on the use of agricultural chemicals that: "When people know very little about the use of pesticides and have incorrect information on which to base their conclusions they tend to take a positive stand — unfortunately, often the wrong one." He pointed out that facts concerning pesticides should be communicated accurately to the public.

Builders Join to Aid St. Jude Hospital

Three of the leading builders in North Orange County have combined to form a Builders' Guild at St. Jude Hospital. The formation of the guild came as a result of a recent conference during which they discussed the future of North Orange County and the part they, as builders, had to play in it. Among other things, the health field was discussed and the importance of good health facilities in attracting new industries and people to the area. It was apparent that good health facilities must be maintained if a desirable type of resident is to be attracted.

It was also realized that people moving into the area caused the shortage of hospital beds that necessitated the recent expansion program at St. Jude. The incoming population needed hospitalization but at that period were not in a financial condition to contribute to the construction of the needed health facilities.

It was also realized that income from newly constructed housing depended, to a certain extent, on the continuation of a good quality of health care. Thus, reasoned the builders, it was up to them to give financial support to the hospital in the name of the buyer.

As a result of this conversation each builder in attendance agreed to contribute a set amount to the hospital for each new home sold. Since F.H.A. regulations prevent such expenses from being passed on to the buyer, the funds would have to be taken from the profits made on each sale. The final result was an agreement to contribute $25, from each sale to St. Jude, the money to be used to help pay for the new wing and for further expansion and/or improvements.

Charter members of the group include William Lyon, president of Sunny Hills Development Company and Luxury Homes, Inc.; Donald N. Schneider, president of D. N. Schneider and Associates; and Middlebrook-Anderson, builders of President Homes. William Lyon is Chairman of the group. Other builders in the area will be contacted in order to expand the group's membership and to give each builder an opportunity to join.

At a presentation ceremony at St. Jude Hospital on Wednesday, March 11, each member was presented with a hand-somely designed plaque for display in the builders' offices. The presentation was made by Sister Jane Frances, C.S.J., hospital administrator, who expressed her deep appreciation of the attitude of the builders, their concern for the health needs of their clients and their intelligent analysis of the situation, as well as for the funds received by the hospital.

AVOCADO UNIQUE

Unlike most nuts, avocados never ripen on the tree. They must be picked and left at room temperature from two to seven days until they soften. Ripe avocados, with their delicate taste, are rapidly increasing their share of the American family's diet.

Juniors Aiding YMCA

The main philanthropic project of the year materialized for the Juniors when members voted to donate $1500 to the Anaheim YMCA for the purchase of materials to construct a cabin at Camp Osceola. Mrs. Jack Alberts, chairwoman of a successful spring fashion show in February.

Guests at the Junior Ebell Club of Anaheim March meeting were greeted at the door by Mrs. Edward Strickler, president. Mrs. Fred Fuchie, president of the Ebell Club of Anaheim and Mrs. Ralph Dix, second vice president. The hospitality committee, headed by Mrs. E. K. Boydston, registered guests and was assisted by Mrs. Eldon Hauck and Mrs. W. H. Currier.

Mrs. Ralph Dix announced that prizes for the best costumes at the "Oddball Play" were awarded to Mrs. Jack Kable and Arthur Burns. Mrs. Carl Montero gave plans for the annual Easter egg hunt. The book section, headed by Mrs. Robert Andrews, met March 16 at the home of Mrs. Robert Paulson to discuss the works of Pearl Buck. Mrs. Rosemary Peterson gave two readings, one dramatic and one comedy.

Gift chairman, Mrs. Gary Driver, indicated that a new series of golf lessons will begin March 24 at the Anaheim Municipal Golf Course with Olin D. Trautman.

Mrs. LaFrance Terrell, asked for more commemorative stamps which she takes to the Veterans Hospital and used in books and magazines for the Merchant Marine Library in San Pedro.

Mrs. Karl Kasky asked members to participate in a water conservation project involving effective sprinkling of lawns.

Mrs. Leonard Van Fleet of Anaheim was endorsed by the club for the office of Orange District treasurer for March 28. E. Grif of San Clemente was also endorsed for the Orange District office of auditor.

Mrs. Patrick Coffee introduced three club members wearing ensembles they had made. Mrs. Albert Burton, district entry in the Mrs. America contest, wore a jiffy shift made of heavy turquoise cotton trimmed with large white buttons and white stitching. Mrs. Rudy Hart, 1963 district winner of the home sewing contest, modeled a white novelty-weave wool suit. The Vogue double-breasted blazer, trimmed with sculptured brass buttons, was worn with a yellow lace knit mobair and wool shell blouse. Mrs. Jack Kable, club winner of the 1964 home sewing contest, modeled her blue semi-fitted suit made of French Luser wool and completely lined in matching China silk, worn with a white and blue print fitted overblouse.

Mrs. William Fox displayed a plaque received from the Southern California Veterinary Association for services rendered last year in assisting the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the rabies clinic.

DURANTE AND PROWSE INTERVIEWED—Jimmy Durante and Juliet Prowse who will open at Melodyland Saturday tell Gazette Editor

ila Jones their plans for rehearsal while at the press conference at the Charter House Hotel.

'BEATLES PLEASANT'

By ILA JONES

"The Beatles are very pleasant," he commented. Jimmy Durante answered a question about his thoughts of the English group as he shared the spotlight with Miss Juliet Prowse for the Orange County Chapter of the press at the Charter House Hotel on Harbor Blvd.

"That drummer, I hated him with that nose!" quipped the dynamic man who became famous with the line, "Goodnight, Mrs. Callabash, wherever you are."

The famous Schmoza heads up a fabulous array of performers including young pop singer, Bobby Vinton, glamorous Juliet Prowse, one of the nation's foremost dancing stars, Eddie Jackson, and knockabout comedian Sonny King.

Jimmy will make his theatre-in-the-round debut at Melodyland, Saturday night, March 28, when his "Jimmy Durante Show" opens for a nine-day run. The lovable modish Schmoza said, "I'm no big star. I just go along on an even keel."

But I have a whole new career as a recording star. A new album, "Hello Young Lovers" will be released soon. I particularly like one of the album's songs, "This Is All I Ask."

Miss Prowse also has an album due for release called, "Anyone Can Whistle." She has just closed at the "Flamingo" in Las Vegas and will return there following the Melodyland show. The tall red-haired beauty stated, "I'm glad to be off the road so I can spend some time at home. I'm glad Anaheim is so close to Hollywood by freeway."

Jimmy has given strict orders that all performers get star billing along with him on all signs and programs, with Juliet billed even larger.

"As far as I'm concerned, they don't even have to mention my name," says Jimmy. "Just tell the people it's the Jimmy Durante Show! They'll come!"

With the PTA

The topic for the panel discussion for the Harbor Council PTA meeting of Fourth District PTA at Corona del Mar High School was "Framework for Guiding Our Youth."

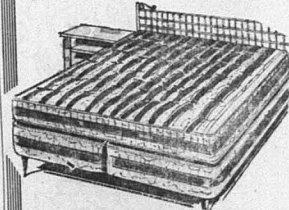

Moderator for the panel was Stan F. Oeding, junior protection chairman for Fourth District who states, "We hear a great deal of talk about the decline of religious convictions and moral concern in our youth. Our youths are lazy. They do not work at their studies. The community standards are slipping. Just how much credence can we give these ideas?"

The panelists who gave the response to these provocative remarks included: Manuel Esqueda, acting as a representative of the community and a parent; Paul Gellman, who works while attending college, as a representative of youth.

DOLLARS & SENSE

By M. F. Essemacher

Manager, First Federal Savings of Anaheim

We always spell the word Customer with a capital "C". He's THAT important to us, and we cannot deny, to the success of our business. In another column we began a list of definitions of a Customer. We feel we must extend it:

A Customer is not someone to argue or match wits with—nobody ever won an argument with a Customer.

A Customer is a person who brings us his wants—it's our job to satisfy them.

A Customer is the person who makes it possible to pay the salary of each savings and loan teller, appraiser, secretary, managing officer and worker in our industry.

A Customer is deserving of the most courteous and attentive treatment we can give him. A Customer is the life-blood of this and every other business.

There's another word that we always insist on spelling with a capital, "F". It's Friend. We're the first to admit at First Federal Savings that we cannot tell the difference between our Friends and our Customers. They're inseparable.

The address of our Anaheim office is 329 South State College Boulevard, one block south of East Anaheim Center. Head office: Garfield and Bay State Street, Anaheim.
