TIME IS RIPE NOW FOR HARBOR VOTE, STATES DUCKWORTH

Between 30 and 40 families moved from Anaheim and vicinity to work in the harbor industrial plants at Long Beach and San Pedro, and this loss has helped local people realize the benefit which would be derived by Anaheim property owners by having such plants nearer home on the harbor at Newport, was the declaration of J. W. Duckworth, local member of the Orange County Harbor conference yesterday afternoon with the supervisors at Santa Ana.

Time Now Ripe
 "People of Anaheim have realized, especially during the last month or two, the need of a harbor at Newport," Duckworth said. "They think the time is now ripe for starting development of our harbor on a large scale, and I am sure they will vote for the bonds. I believe the election should be called within sixty days of that hearing on the commission's report."

That the present is the most opportune time for the county to start improvement of the harbor so that we can ask government assistance.

was also urged by other members of the harbor commission, including K. E. Watson of Orange, Linn L. Shaw of Santa Ana, J. A. Armitage of Sunset Beach, and L. H. Wallace of Newport.

Project Meritorious
The argument was advanced that not only is the project meritorious and feasible and would prove a profitable investment for every part of Orange county, but it should be got-men under way in the near future, so that it will provide work for soldiers and sailors returning to the county. The commissioners declared there is no doubt but that the people of the county realize the benefit they individually would derive from harbor near home, and that they will support the bonds and gladly pay the very slight additional taxes. Chairman Talbert of the board of supervisors said all realize the possiilities of the harbor project, and that the bond election will be called at, upon investigation, they find the time to be opportune. Another meeting will be held Feb. 5 when the harbor report will probably be filed.

The walnut men will unite in introducing a bill before the legislature, appropriating $10,000 per year to be used by the University in combating the walnut codling moth, which threatens to injure the industry.

A Sandusky 10-20 J model Tractor leaving the sales room and service station of the Walter & Day Co., corner of Center and Olive-sts, Orange county agents for the Sandusky Tractor. This tractor was on the way to the J. O. Nichols ranch and the sale was made after a competitive demonstration with three other tractors. During the demonstration the tractor pulled a seven-foot 20-inch double disc and a ten-foot spike-tooth harrow thru exceedingly sandy soil, with an additional weight of four men riding on the disc. Mr. Nichols himself drove the tractor during a greater part of the demonstration. Mr. Nichols is now operating a 24-inch double disc plough travelling thru the sandiest part of his orchard in high gear.

AIRPLANE MAKER VISITS SANTA ANA

Glenn L. Martin of Santa Ana, airplane builder and designer of the 300-horsepower super bombing plane which bears his name, has arrived in Santa Ana from Cleveland, Ohio, with his mother. Martin expects to remain in Southern California for about 30 days for a rest, and will make trips of investigation to the nearby fields at Riverside and San Diego.

Also, Martin while here is laying out plans for a prospective airplane assembling plant in the south, which he may build to accommodate his vast coast government business. Whether or not the western plant will be erected, Martin said, depends on the army program approved by the general staff at Washington. Should the federal staff approve plans for a 500,000 army, as appears likely, this would mean 22,000 men for the air service, and during the coming year the government would acquire not less than 500 of the new Martin war planes, capable of carrying five machine guns and a cannon, and which have a speed of 150 miles an hour and can climb 10,000 feet in 11 minutes.

Should this program be approved, about 75 of the machines would be ordered for the west coast field, and it would be to prepare these for delivery that the Southern California factory would be erected. The first of the commercial machines, which will carry 12 passengers, will be turned out in the spring, Martin said, and they may be put to use on passenger air routes, proposed establishment of which is now being investigated by eastern capitalists.

FIRST BIBLE CLASS MEETING IN MONTHS

The Business Woman's Bible Study class held its first meeting in several months in the Y. M. C. Y. hall Sunday evening. Although the meeting had not been announced through the paper, there was a good attendance, twenty-five members being present. Supper was served at 6 o'clock, followed by a short social period, after which the study of the lesson under the leadership of the class teacher, Mrs. R. Zurbuchen.

The members who were not present are asked to hand in suggestions as to what they would like to study at the meetings in the future. The lesson for the next meeting will be Exodus 20 to 24, inclusive. Much thankfulness was expressed by the different members, that although several had been ill with influenza, none of the classes had been lost.

It was decided by the members of the class to take over the serving of the supper, and have secured the services of Mrs. Gortitt, who had charge of the cafeteria at the high school.

Y. M. C. A. CAMPAIGN

A campaign for raising the annual Y. M. C. A. budget in Orange county will be waged from Feb. 4 to Feb. 11, and arrangements for this drive are now being made. Harry Lewis will be county chairman. The plans were discussed at a conference between Lewis, W. B. Tedford, of William D. McLean, state secretary of county work, who was here getting in touch with local conditions and co-operating with the new county secretary, Lieut. Wm. Kroemer.

Incidentally McLean expressed confidence that Santa Ana is the nearest future would have a city "Y" organization and a creditable building, construction of which he said is the logical thing to do to aid all the young men of the community as well as the returning soldiers, who, he said, will demand such service, having become accustomed to it in the army camps and "over there." "An extended home-work program has been outlined for the Y. M. C. A. organizations all over the country," said McLean. "First, to meet the needs of young men returning from the war, and second, to extend the work to previously uncontacted territory. This will include enlargement of 'Y' service for boys in industrial plants, city and country, Orange was the first to organize a county Y. M. C. A. in California in 1907, and since that time ten other counties have organized on the same plan. Twenty-three hundred boys were included in our county Bible study group last year."
