YORBA LINDA PLANS ANOTHER SERVICE UPON EASTER MORN

YORBA LINDA, Mar. 31.—Special.—Once again the Easter time draws near, bringing with it thoughts of the Crucifixion and Resurrection, and memory goes back a year to that beautiful sunrise service at Linda Vista Park on Reservoir Hill, Yorba Linda, where there were who attended that wonderful service who have not felt the inspiration and uplift that still lingers with its memories.

Many times throughout the past year, the reverent throngs waiting for that matchless light watched patiently for the first gleam of the rising sun to voice their adoration of the Savior and their glory in the Resurrection and now with Easter only three weeks away we are pleased to announce that once again our invincible musical leader, Mrs. Carl Seaver, is preparing another musical and devotional program, that bids fair to excel the previous event if such a thing is possible.

Soloist Selected Soon
The soloist for the occasion has not as yet been selected, but this matter will be definitely settled within a few days which will complete the program. Mr. Roy Kaiser, who will render the Holy City, and Dr. Marsh has been selected as the principle speaker.

Dr. Marsh is well known throughout this section and has only recently returned to his home here after many months service in the pulpit of a Glendale church.

Community Singing
Arrangements have been made for community singing of appropriate hymns, the words of which will be printed on leaflets so that all can join in singing to the praise and glory of our risen Lord. Remember the time, the place and the date, at Sunday in Yorba Linda on Easter morning.

The community of Yorba Linda takes this opportunity to extend to all surrounding towns a cordial invitation to join them in their annual praise service.

LYTLE, WINNER CROIX DE GUERRE, IN CITY TODAY

Moody Lytle, bearing a Croix de Guerre, which he won as a member of the British Flying Squadron, that dropped food from airplanes to the "Lost Battalion" in the Argonne Forest, last night is greeting old friends in Anaheim, where he is well remembered as the very live proprietor of Moody's Cash Grocery of pre-war days.

Moody was in the flying service in Flanders for nine months with the Royal Flying Corps, being transferred to the British forces when the American army had no planes. Of the 400 who went over with his squadron, 150 were left behind in Flanders fields, a large number of the casualties being due to the fact that the young American trained aviators were given an Italian Caproni push-over-type aircraft when they were accustomed solely with trainers. Many, of course were shot down.

Many Thrilling Incidents

Among the many thrilling incidents which Moody relates is of a visit one night by about 100 German airplanes which dropped hundreds of tons of explosives and leaving the squadron's flying field and hangars a hopeless mass of ruins. The barracks were three kilometers away and the flyers who were up in the air escaped.

This raid was made possible by the Germans having located the field the preceding night when the allied flyers had to be given a light from the field to indicate where to land in heavy fog.

Land on Beach

Following that, the allied flyers landed on the ocean beach near Dunkirk after their night flights, coming home in the morning. The beach flyers were safe on account the ocean appeared as a mirror from the clouds, outlining the sand.

Moody was an observer and saw more than 100 hours flying service. It was his duty to fly the bombers on their night raids and drop flares from an altitude of 10,000 feet over an objective so that the flyers could see where to drop the "milk-cans." An idea of the power of the explosives used is indicated, Moody says, by the fact that the concussion nearly broke a man out of his machine 10,000 feet above the ground. Some of the explosives dropped in the Hun submarine gas chambers were so enormous that the concussion would be felt 20 kilometers away.

Dread Searchlights

In night bombing, the one thing to be dreaded by the flyer is the searchlight which were sprinkled over every city. Once an allied machine was spotted by a searchlight, there was no getting away so the flyers were forced to make a dash for it. How many tail-fins and other maneuvers were resorted to. One searchlight passed the machine onto the next light, all the while the machine being silhouetted against the sky, a sure mark for the anti-aircraft guns.

Moody is delighted to be home again. He says: "I certainly wouldn't want to go thru it again, while I wouldn't take anything for the experience. Sherman never had the faintest idea of what war is."

Moody has spent three weeks with an army hospital on the east coast, after landing in this country. His brother, Art Lytle, who was in the heavy artillery, arrived here two weeks ago, while a second brother, Wm. Lytle, who was with the cavalry, is expected to land in New York this week.

KRAMER OIL FIELD BUSIEST SECTION IN CALIF. NOW

The busiest and most active field anywhere in the state is the new Kramer field opened by the advent of the Union Oil Company's gusher on the Chapman ranch east of Placentia. Two of the largest oil companies in the state are rushing development work at top speed, and many smaller companies are making frantic efforts to keep up with the fast pace. Ten new wells have been started off. Lumber is being used on the ground in truck lots and derricks are springing up all over the field.

After flowing for several days and producing oil at the rate of 4000 barrels daily, the big union Oil Gusher on the Chapman ranch ran out of last week. Tools run in the hole revealed a peculiar and unusual condition.

Due to Gas Pressure

The derricks began cleaning out at the 500 foot level and were taken down past the 2000 foot mark taking out sand and shale. The sanding is due to the enormous pressure of the gas before the well was under the 500 foot level and the well was choked the hole, preventing the oil to come out on a reduction in pressure, thus holding back the gas pressure and permitting the well to clean itself rather than sand up again.

Shale stopped the plug and at 500 feet the well was plugged with sand drilled out. Owing to the danger of damaging the pipe this drilling had to be proceeded with great care. Just how this plug is a matter of conjecture. It may be that the plug from the bottom is filled up. This being the case it will take some time to redrill and get the hole cleaned out. It is expected that as soon as this plug is removed the well will make another record production. Everything is now in readiness to handle any emergency.

Standard Busy

The Standard Oil Company is determined to get its share of the big things in the new field and is pushing development work at top speed. The rig for Kramer-2-1 is up and drilling will commence there before the week. Three locations have been staked off and plans for two more rigs will be on the ground in a few days.

The Petroleum Development Company is pushing the erection of two rigs to get its property adjoining the Union Oil's Chapman well and drilling wells just as soon as the rigs are completed.

The Union Oil Company

is not to get its share of the big things in the new field and is pushing development work at top speed. The rig for Kramer-2-1 is up and drilling will commence there before the week. Three locations have been staked off and plans for two more rigs will be on the ground in a few days.

Hedron Miss Conglomerate

At 200 feet, almost the identical spot that the Union Oil Company encountered the hard conglomerate in the Chapman well, the Hedron Oil Company has been slowed down to a few feet a day of drilling. This hole started out to be now being pumped up to be changed over to cable tool once, as it is thought faster time can be made this way than with the rotary drill.

Superintendent Knudson, of the Stewart Station Refinery, has made an analysis of the oil from the Chapman well and finds it to be of especially high grade. The gravity is 1.24 and it is 17 per cent distillate and 8 per cent residue. The latter ingredient running very much higher than in ordinary crude petroleum products. The oil from this well which last week was being rated at the big tanks on the Graham Street wharf is now being pumped through to the Stewart Station Refinery.

This week a new company, known as the River Bank Oil Company, and consisting of 50 Fullerton business men, has been organized. They have purchased 42 acres south of the Chapman well, taken leases on some 250 acres of oil land surrounding the Chapman purchase, and making preparations to drill at once.

MILLIONAIRE AVERY

PRESIDENT VISITS ANAHEIM SATURDAY

A. B. Bartholomew, millionaire president of the Avery tractor manufacturing company of Peoria, Ill., was in Anaheim Saturday as the guest of Manager Edw. L. Olmstead of the Avery Company of Orange County.

The activity shown by Manager Olmstead who has received five cars totaling 30 Avers within a month, has attracted the keenest interest from Avery officials, a number of whom have visited Olmstead within the last week. Among them, besides President Bartholomew, were A. B. Bartholomew, Jr., son of the president, himself a field representative; L. A. Smith, field manager of the S. W. Rainey, manager of the S. W. California branch at Los Angeles.

Without exception, they were much impressed with the wonderful demand for tractors from fertile Orange-co. Particularly was Smith elated at the visit to this garden spot. Smith has been conducting a very successful Avery tractor school at Phoenix, Ariz., where he enrolled 125 for the three-day course. He thinks Anaheim paradise after his sojourn in Phoenix.

Already keen interest is being shown in the Avery tractor school which will be held here. Manager Olmstead has received a number of applicants locally and Rainey has mailed invitations to every Avery tractor user in So. California to attend the Anaheim school.

EXCHANGE BETS DRY

WAVE BIG HELP TO CITRUS FRUIT MEN

National prohibition may prove to be the greatest boon to California citrus fruit growers. The California Fruit Growers Exchange, overlooking no bet to broaden the market for citrus fruit, at a meeting last week decided upon an entirely new advertising stunt which, if it proves successful as its promoters anticipate, will develop into the biggest thing the Exchange has ever put over recently, and the Exchange is a doer of big things.

The plan, in brief, reports Manager Schureman of the Anaheim Citrus Fruit Assn., who attended the meeting, is to sprinkle the entire nation with "bars," or "fountains" selling nothing but orange and lemonade made from California citrus fruit.

Appropriate $3000

"As an experiment and starter, the Exchange directors last week appropriated $3000 for the establishment of the first bar in the Los Angeles business district," says Manager Schureman.

"This 'bar' will be set up in the most attractive fashion, rivaling the best soda fountains and saloons. If it proves the success we think it will only be a brief time until such stands are sprinkled over every city, town and hamlet in the country, as it is the idea to follow right on the heels of the closing up of the old saloons."

Increase Consumption

"The object, of course, is vastly to broaden at one stroke the consumption of oranges and particularly lemons. As a matter of fact, the production of lemons is increasing much faster than the increase in population or the increased consumption thru advertising. The lemon does not lend itself to the advertising done for orange, and it is hoped in this way that the consumption of lemons may be greatly enhanced."

It is pointed out by our advertising experts that, with the nation's supply of beer and other drinks shut off, there must be the greatest opening resulting for other forms of drinks, for the public is going to drink something and drink it in enormous quantities. There is every reason to believe that lemonade, mint, fruit and orange juice will compete most successfully with the manufactured drinks, like Coca-Cola.

Best Lemonade in Saloons

"Our advertising men will also place that when the saloons go they will be found to be good."

"This idea of broadening citrus fruit consumption is to be pushed in still another way. The Exchange proposes to acquire the co-operation of the youngsters of America. At the Exchange meeting the other day, a very young lemonade and orange juice stand, intended for the small boy-dispenser from lawn or sidewalk, was displayed. It is proposed to make thousands of these stands and with their neat canvas canopy and advertising for the Exchange will start any American boy in business for himself. The boy, of course, pays the nominal cost of the stand."

"The Exchange does not plan to make any money directly from these various schemes, but will handle them, so they pay their own way."

The program was faultlessly rendered every pupil playing her part splendidly and was a credit to the pupils as well as the teacher and it goes to show that Miss Rhodes is a very efficient teacher. CHAPMAN GUSHER CUTS LOOSE AGAIN

RICHFIELD, Mar. 31.—(Special)—Friday at 11 a. m., the Chapman well, after being maddened for several days, broke loose and started gushing as hard as ever. R. Collins was elected grammar school trustee after a warmly contested race with W. R. Jones. Mr. Collins received 26 votes to 10 for Mr. Jones.

The Standard Oil Co. had a fire in their boilers for the first time at the rig they have put up on the Kramer lease adjoining the Chapman property. This probably means early drilling.

Banner Of Honor

SERVICE

—Realizing that the brave soldiers and sailors who so nobly and gloriously served our country during the late war, deserve to have their picture placed in their home, we have the exclusive right in Anaheim and vicinity for the making of the

BANNER OF HONOR SERVICE PHOTO FLAG—which is a photograph of your soldier relative printed directly on silk. One of these should be in every home from which a loved one served his country.

—It not only gives you a beautiful banner, but a picture of the soldier serving enlarged on white silk finished satin and entered in center of blue star. The picture can be reproduced from any small picture or photograph, enlarged to the desired size to fit in circle in center of star, 4, 5, 6, 7 or 8 inches depending on the size of the banner wanted.

—The banners are made in the different sizes as follows: 12x18 in., 16x24 in., 20x30 in., 24x36 in., and 30x48 in. These banners are made of red silk with white field and blue felt star sewed on edge with enlarged picture in center of star.

—These service flags and banners must be seen to be appreciated. Our prices are very reasonable and within the reach of all.

—Bring the picture or photograph with you; and we thank you for an early call.

TOWNER'S

Bean Planter

THE TOWNER BEAN PLANTER is made of the best material, with heavy wood in front and back of frame to give it proper stiffness. It is well bolted and braced on axle blocks to hold the wheels rigid. The wood which hoppers are fastened to are installed with extra large screws and bolts which prevents them from working loose in hard usage. The pole is from large stock and is made to be detached from the planter when not in use. It has a good thick seat spring and a special hitch which is adjustable.

The planter is well balanced and the extra weight does not affect the stock.

THE HOPPER BOXES are well made, bound together on the top with steel straps to prevent splitting off when filling or warping. The rear bar is of one inch steel with heavy brackets well bolted. The arms are of a new type to prevent breaking and are held in place by large set screws. The levers are hand made and will stand the strain in the heaviest adobe soil. Hook bolts on planter boots are special and the boot is equipped with the heavy points. Boot braces extra.

THE PICKUPS are of the standard type used in all planters.

THE WHEELS are built with a six inch flat tire with a rib in the center to prevent slipping, twelve 9-16 in. spokes, cast hub, oil pipes for oiling eliminating wheel trouble.

THE MARKER is standard with chain, rings and hooks ready for immediate use.

For tractor use we build to order shorter frames so two or three planters can be used end to end.

Quickenads have a horrible fascination for writers and readers of fiction, and the reality is every bit as bad as fancy paints it. One of the most remarkable quickenad accidents occurred years ago in New Zealand. Two prospectors were wading across the mouth of a small stream running into the sea in the north island of New Zealand. Both stepped into the quickenad. One who merely touched the edge of it got loose. The other sank rapidly and, in spite of his companion's efforts, was sucked under. When an attempt was made to recover the body it was found that the mud was enormously rich in gold. From a single ton of it $1500 worth of gold was washed.

The Arabic Language.

There is no language more poetical than the Arabic language, where snow is called "hair of the mountain" and the rainbow is "bride of the rain."

Red mullet is "the Sultan of fishes;" maldenhair feru is translated by "little cane of the well." Ordinary Arabic words show an extraordinary gift of description. The word "miser" is expressed thus: "When the charcoal takes root and the salt buds."

Uncontrolled ascendancy of imagination marks the Arab and endows his nature with a fascination all its own. An outdoor life is his heritage, and the things of nature are a part of himself. Spring he calls "green" summer is "pleasing" autumn is "fruit;" winter is "rainy."

BUILD NOW!

Time, opportunity and need—all beckon you to build now. Promote the Home beautiful and City beautiful plan, start local activities and trade, employ labor—especially the returning soldiers and sailors looking for occupation. It's the patriotic thing to do, its the sensible thing to do, its the profitable thing to do. Our town has grown a bit shabby in spots, it has halted somewhat in its progress. No fault of ours. The government during the war with-held the use of building materials. The ban is now removed. Unless we get busy now, if we do not progress, then the fault will be ours.

It is up to you investors and Home builders NOW. The need is great for new homes, stores, and sanitary factories and packing plants. Put money in circulation, employ labor. It will add to the prosperity of our town and return to the investor and wage earner remarkable dividends.

If you have your own lot free and clear as a start the rest can be arranged on convenient terms, about the same as you now pay rent. An ideal home is an ideal spot—and under this plan it will be all your own without your missing the cost.

Better Building Reports

—More than 13,000 building permits were issued in 152 cities during January 1919 as against 9,600 a year ago.

—January, 1919, gained over December, 1918.

Each Month Shows An Increase

—February reports show a volume of $23,441,353.00 a gain of over 24% over February 1918, and the first gain shown over the same month since January, 1917.

NO PROBABILITY OF NOTICEABLE DROP IN LUMBER PRICES

That there is no probability that the price of lumber will be reduced is shown in a dispatch from Washington, where representatives of the lumber industry and the industrial board of the Department of Commerce held a conference last week relative to a reduction in the price of lumber.

That there is nothing to be gained by waiting for a reduction in lumber has been asserted by local building materials men for weeks. Should there be a reduction in price it would be of no great consequence and would make little difference in the total cost of a house, and anyone contemplating building should build at once.

The Washington dispatch says of the conference there:

"At the close of more than six hours discussion it was announced that in the absence of any organization competent to speak for a majority of the lumber producers in this country no agreement had been reached.

"Hope of an agreement was held out, however, in the decision to have a committee of the lumbermen remain in Washington for a consultation with the board.

"It is evident from comments after the meeting that the lumbermen did not hold out any proposal of material reductions in the prices of their products. John H. Kirby president of the National Lumber Manufacturers Association declared production costs had gone up out of proportion to the rise in price and that the increase had continued even since the armistice was signed."

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

The three principal objections to the participation of the United States in the proposed League of Nations apparently are these:

The Paris constitution conflicts with and supersedes the constitution of the United States.
The Executive Council of nine, the real business end of the League on which the United States has but one vote, will be able to order Uncle Sam about at will.

The United States will be forever entangled in European, African and Asiatic feuds and yet will be obliged to use its own hands to strangle the Monroe Doctrine.

Are these really valid objections? Take a look at the good old long-suffering constitution of these United States and observe what happened to it in the last two years—without the League of Nations. The Espionage and Sedition Acts—war measures—distinctly violate the spirit and the letter of the constitution as would any act imposing a tax of ten dollars on every red head. Yet they were passed and enforced because a majority of us wanted them passed and enforced. If a majority of us, after the League of Nations to save us from the necessity of more espionage and sedition legislation, the constitution surely can stand the additional strain.

It is true that the United States has only one vote on the Executive Council of nine, but it is not true that the representatives of any eight, sixteen or twenty-four nations can order Uncle Sam about or will try to do so. The great in the striped pants is the modern combination of Hercules and Midas. He has in his hand most of the world's steel, gold, copper, cotton and food. He is now and will be for generations to come—until Russia finds her stride—the powerfuller power on earth. It can't be done. He just won't stand for being ordered around. And if the little fellows on the Executive Council get nasty, Uncle Sam can always take his hat, withdraw from the League and go home. If any other power or combination of powers tried to follow him with a club, that power or combination of powers would most surely be stabbed in the back by a few of its friends and near neighbors.

Without the United States the League of Nations has no chance at all—and the United States is strong enough to be just as safe inside the League as outside.—From the April Sunset.

CUSHER PUTS PRODUCTION OF FIELD AT HIGHEST POINT

WITH THE OIL OPERATORS

In spite of the fact that the Montebello field has produced some great wells recently, the production of the field month shows a decrease of more than 2000 barrels a day. The old wells are not keeping up very strong. The field is now making about the same amount as it was producing last September, or a little better than 7,000 barrels a day. As soon as the 600 barrels a day. As soon as the 600 barrels a day. As soon as the 600 barrels a day.

The Standard Oil Company's wildcat well at Newport, No. 21, drilled at 2630. The formation is a shale and is not showing any oil as yet. The Standard will make this hole a deep test well.

Liberty Petroleum Still Shut Down The Liberty Petroleum Well still stands shut down. It seems that this company is waiting on the outcome of the Standard's deep test well before resuming further operations. On account of water developing badly in this well a cementing was done. The cement job shut off all the oil as well as the water and now the well is worthless.

Not Satisfied with No. 21, the Brea Canyon Oil Co. is making preparations to deepen the well. This well was put on the pump three weeks ago at 2730 feet, starting off with an initial production of 90 barrels. This output, however, quickly dwindled to less than one-third. It is believed that a couple hundred feet more of hole will make the well a good producer. The redrilling will start at once. No. 21, drilled in the shale at 1900 feet, is showing up very strong, and judging from the amount of gas and oil present the well is to be a heavy producer. The redrilling of No. 9, an old well, is to start in a few days. No. 22, a new well, is marked with a grade.

No. 7 a slicker for Columbia After fishing for three months the Columbia Oil Co.'s No. 7 still looks like a hard problem. A double section failed last at 2520 feet has defeated every method known to the science of fishing.

Fullerton Oil Co. Cements No. 13 At 2313 feet the Fullerton Oil Co. has set its water string in No. 13. Some fast time has been made on this well. The drilling was never halted since the well started.

Deepest Well Not Showing Oil The deepest well now drilling in California is the Union Oil Co.'s No. 6 on the Blatachbury Ranch near Fullerton. The well, now 5190 feet, is drilling in blue shale and is not showing the faintest color of oil or odor of gas. The blue shale formation has continued for over 400 feet and is regarded as the longest run of any one formation ever drilled thru this field. The drilling is being done inside a 1-2 inch casing and consequently cannot continue much longer.

1265 Barrell Well on Graham-Lotus. No. 49 on the Union Oil Co.'s Graham-Lotus is now a completed project an don the beam making 125 barrels of oil. The completion depth is 3504 feet. This well now leaves only two more drilling on this once famous big well property. No. 51 is drilling in the blue shale at 2600, and No. 52 is making a hole in the conglomerate at 2500. The completion of these two wells will probably see the development work on this property brought to a close.

Narajal Property Looking Up For the first time in months the wells drilling in the Narajal lease are all showing good production. The property presents some of the most difficult propositions ever encountered in the oil game. Due to the fact that the formation seems to stand on end it is with great difficulty that a straight hole can be maintained and frequent fishing jobs and pipe trouble has been the history of the development work. Narajal No. 7 completed last week, is making 220 barrels an dlooks like it will hold this figure. No. 8 is standing cemented. No. 9 is sweating out casing at 2300. No. 10 is drilling in blue shale at 2460. No. 11 is at 2500, and No. 12 at 1900 feet. The property is free from fishing jobs and all wells are making hole fast. James Pickering, a veteran of the oil game, is in charge of this property.

THE OLINDA FIELD

Columbia Oil Company Leading The Columbia Oil Co. is leading the development work in the old Olinda field with a new well on production, two drilling, and preparations for the drilling of a third under way. No. 31 is now drilling at close to 2900 feet and is showing up very nicely. No. 31 met with a fishing job at 2800 feet and has been detected. No. 32, a new well, is being rapidly rigged up for the immediate starting of drilling.

Olinda Wildcat Holds Interest

As the Olinda Land Co.'s wildcat well in the extreme eastern end of the field goes deeper, the interest in the Olinda field is growing. The depth, the well is drilling in brown shale, and the showing of oil colors, gives the well a very hopeful outlook. No. 20 shows close to a 1000 feet of hole.

West Coast Near Completion The West Coast Oil Co. has its No. 62 drilling at 2850. At this depth the oil and carried for more than 100 feet continued, making the well look extremely good. This well will be completed now in a short time. No. 69 is drilling in brown sandy shale at 2800. No. 79 drilling in the same formation at 2800 is making rapid progress and will be the next well completed. The production on the old West Coast property, one of the oldest properties in the state, is building up to a remarkably good figure. Some of the wells have appeared on the beam 16 years, and show little decline. Today the West Coast property is making better than 2000 barrels. Most of this production is high gravity oil, free from water and clean.

At Ibbotson No. 1 the Amalgamated Oil Co. has had good results in shutting off water. After standing completed a couple of weeks at 2150 the well stood the exhaustive bailing test and is ready to go ahead with the drilling. On the Yorba property a rig has been completed and drilling is to commence the middle of the week. The drilling of this property is being watched with a great deal of interest in that the land is held in favor by local oil experts.

ANAHEIM IS MOST ATTRACTIVE TRADING CENTER, SOUTH

Why is it parking places for blocks in the business district of Anaheim are jammed with automobiles during shopping hours, particularly on Saturday evening?

Answer: It's because Anaheim is the best trading point in Southern California, bar none.

Not only does Anaheim have the most convenient shopping district in Orange—If you don't believe that statement, start out on a little shopping tour to various Orange cities, and see if you aren't convinced for all time that Anaheim shops are more compact and conveniently located than at any other point in the county—but most important of all, Anaheim merchants are live, progressive and up-to-date, offering inducements for shopping here that can be found in no other city, big or little in the southland.

Prices Attractive

Because of the volume of business handled, Anaheim merchants are able to turn over goods on the small margin of any similar group of business institutions in this end of the state, and this statement includes the big Los Angeles stores which have under the handling of enormous overhead from high rents, high clerical, expensive advertising and other varied and numerous expenses which the Los Angeles shopper has to pay when he buys an article in Los Angeles.

Shopper from Anaheim

A notable example has come to attention this week. Following some articles along this line a few days ago, there was cited one of those cases of a woman at Redondo who said all the trading she can conveniently do so at Anaheim stores.

"I have shopped in Redondo, Los Angeles, Long Beach and other cities in this end of the state, and I want to say that Anaheim stores offer the most attractive inducements for trading, at lower prices, etc., of any city I have visited," stated the Redondo woman. "I do not find trading possibly can in Anaheim as I find I save more than paid for making the trip here."

"Of course, Redondo woman's experience is only typical of many others at outlying points.

Brea and Oil Fields

P. H. Mewner and wife, who have been visiting relatives here for a short time, left for Klamath Falls, Oregon, Wednesday where they will spend some time with friends before returning to their home in Tillamook, Oregon.

Miss E. H. Peterkin and W. V. Bates were delegates from the local oil workers union to attend the trial of W. J. Yarrow held at Colliery last Wednesday. It is reported that Yarrow is charged with infidelity to the fundamental principles of unionism, though no one seems to be able to verify the charge nor know exactly why the trial is being held.

Friends of Dr. and Mrs. J. P. McNaughton will be interested to know that they have received their passports and expect to sail for Turkey about the middle of the coming month, where they will do missionary work among the Armenians. The people of Brea had the privilege about a month ago of listening to the earnest appeal from Mrs. McNaughton in behalf of the unfortunate people in whom they are interested.

ADVERTISING PAYS NUT ASSOCIATION

The California Walnut Association has become a hearty supporter of advertising. That eastern markets have become daily better as the dealers read and appreciate the advertisements of the Diamond Brand walnut.

These advertisements, read by millions all over the United States, have done more to boost walnut groves and walnut industry than could possibly have been done in any other way. Walnut orchards being more in demand since these advertisements have appeared than ever before in the history of the walnut business.

These advertisements have appeared in such publications as the Saturday Evening Post and the Ladies' Home Journal.

The biggest thing that walnut growers must keep in mind is the necessity of a firm association organization throughout the state, for in that way only can the growers hope to get a fair deal. This factor is impressed upon the minds of local walnut association members, who are urged to discuss the situation with their non-member neighbors and get them into the association.

Started the Native.

Herrera, the Spanish historian, says of the natives when he landed in South America owed his life and those of his companions to the fact that one of the party fell off his horse by accident.

The natives had succeeded in cutting off the natives, a Spaniard to their ships, when one of the riders was thrown. The Indians were so astonished at the dissolution of partnership that they took flight at once. They had supposed horse and man to be one animal.

Just the Things.

"My boy," said the man of millions, with a note of pathos in his voice, "I hoped when you became of age I would be able to relinquish some of my business cares and take a little rest."

"Good old dad! And so you again," replied the glided youth. "Come with me and take a cruise in my yacht."
