DENY TALE OF NEW MODEL FORD COMING

"About every six months, for the last five years," says George Dunton, Anaheim Ford and Fordson distributor, "there has been a rumor that there was to be a radically new model Ford. Newspapers carried such an announcement last week. Here is what the Ford Motor Co. has to say about it:

"Our attention has been called to recent newspaper articles to the effect that there is to be a new Ford car on the market Aug. 15, with a change in design to ventilating windshield and one man top. As we do not contemplate any such changes and there is no foundation to the rumors circulated in this connection, we have no hesitancy in making a denial of the report."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Efforts were made today to secure early action on the amendment to the Fordney tariff bill, introduced in the senate by Senator Hiram Johnson of California to increase import duty on unshelled walnuts from 2½ to 4 cents a pound.

"Walnut growers of California state that a rate of 4 cents on unshelled walnuts is absolutely necessary to protect the industry against importations from China. If proper protection is afforded California in a few years will be enabled to supply the entire country. Your assistance will be greatly appreciated."

Duke, bandit suspect, wounded in a gun battle near Manchester-st and Western-ave shortly before midnight, today revealed the name of his companion who fled during the shooting. Posses of officers are out searching for Duke's partner.

DISARMED POLICEMAN NABS YOUNG H. B. BANDIT SUSPECT

J. L. Cale, 20, Under Arrest for Robbing Police Officer W. M. Hines, Huntington Beach, of Star and Gun.

Revenge is sweet and Police Officer W. M. Hines, of Huntington Beach, who suffered the ignominy of being relieved of his gun and star at the point of a gun in the hands of a man he attempted to place under arrest night before last, today believed he was well on the road toward complete vengeance.

He observed a young man arranging his neck tie before a pool hall. Something about his actions seemed familiar. Closer inspection convinced the officer that the young man was the one who had held him up. Hines placed him under arrest.

Taken by surprise when the man he was about to arrest suddenly whirled around and leveled a gun at his head, Hines held up his hands high and was relieved of his revolver and star.

Hines encountered the man at the corner of Ocean avenue and Fifth-st, Huntington Beach. He thought the man was drunk and planned to pick him up on the charge of being intoxicated. Hines approached the stranger from the rear.

When the officer was within a few paces of the man the latter turned suddenly and pointing a stolen gun at the officer, said:

"Stick 'em up!"

Keeping the officer covered, the man backed away to a safe distance and then jumped into an automobile. The authorities believe that the man in the car was a partner of the bandit who robbed the officer.

MIDSUMMER MOTOR EXHIBIT WEDNESDAY ON ORANGE PLAZA

Orange-Co. Auto Trades Assn. Will Be Hosts to Public Aug. 10

The Orange-co Auto Trades Assn. will be hosts to the people of Orange-co. at a Mid-summer Exhibit to be held at the plaza in Orange on Wednesday, Aug. 10th.

This decision was reached when the exhibit committee of the association met at a luncheon. Present were Bob White, Harry D. Riley, Stanley Mansur and Secretary Herb Davis.

The exhibit will be a most attractive affair, according to plans. The use of the plaza, which was extended to the association recently by the city trustees, will enable the committee to arrange an unique display of automobiles and accessories for an afternoon and evening. The exhibit is to be entirely free to the public.

The Auto Trades band will give two concert, one in the afternoon and one in the evening, while the evening concert will be followed by a street dance, also a free affair.

The plaza will be divided into spaces for thifty exhibitors with room to show 100 models of auto vehicles. In addition to most of the automobile dealers being represented, ignition and accessory firms will have space and there will be a motorcycle exhibit as well as one of camping equipment.

Extensive illumination is being arranged for the evening so that the plaza will be ablaze with colored lights during the evening exhibit.

It is the intention of the association to give the people of Orange and the county a general good time as well as to show what may be expected in the automobile industry during the coming year. It is planned to advertise the affair widely about the county and draw hundreds of people here on that day.

U. S. CENSUS TOO SMALL FOR COUNTY

That there is something radically wrong with population figures so far as they concern Orange-co is the opinion of County Clerk J. M. Backs. He believes there are approximately 90,000 ersons in Orange-co while the last government census recorded but 61,375.

Backs draws his conclusion in this wise:

He says that there are at least 4,500 aliens between the ages of 21 and 60, who are subject to the $10 poll tax. He figures five persons to the family in each alien. Thus 4,500 times five would be 22,500.

There are 26,000 registered voters in the county. To get at population based in this figure Backs multimplies 26,000 by 2½, or a little less than three members to the family. The result is 65,000. And 65,000 plus 22,500 representing the aliens and their families, makes a total of 87,500.

Backs believes there are at least 500 aliens who did not register. Using the same basis of five to a family that would make 2,500 more. And 2,500 plus 87,500 would bring the total to 90,000.

According to books in the tax assessor's office there are approximately 30,000 taxpayers.

WOODEN SHIPS NOW CONSIDERED PASSE

WASHINGTON, Aug 5.—Definite recommendation to sink all the wooden ships built by the shipping board in the early days of the war has been made to the house appropriations committee by Chairman Lasker of the shipping board, it was learned today.

Although the ships were built at a cost of millions of dollars, it is held by the shipping board that they are unseaworthy and incapable of use even in coastwise commerce.

Wooden ships totalling hundreds of thousands of tons are now idle and rotting in many American ports.

Strong opposition to the sinking of the ships has already developed in congress. Several congressmen expressed the opinion that the ships might be junked for old lumber.

INDEPENDENT DOCTORS URGE DRIVE DROPPED

At today's C. of C. directors' meetinf, Doctors Utter, Cole, Brastad and O'Toole, independent practicioners, presented a report, which was requested of them at the previous board meeting, setting forth suggestions as to the care of crippled children in northern Orange-co, and which is as follows:

Anaheim, Calif., Aug. 2, 1921.

To the Honorable Board of the C. of C., Anaheim, Calif.

Gentlemen:

As requested by your honorable board that we physicians of Anaheim make a report to you in regard to the care and treatment of the crippled children of the County of Orange, we decided that we would call on the Supervisors of the County of Orange and ascertain their opinion regarding the matter before reporting to you.

At a meeting of the supervisors held at Santa Ana Aug. 2, 1921, Dr. H. E. Zaiser, superintendent of the County Hospital, was called upon by the supervisors and asked if it were advisable to equip a place in the County Hospital for the care of such children. He stated that in his opinion it was not and that there were comparatively few orthopedic cases in the county of Orange; what cases there were could be treated better in Los Angeles at either the Orthopedic Hospital school or the Children's Hospital, than at the Orange County Hospital or private hospitals. He also stated that the county would not be warranted in building an extra wing to the County Hospital or aiding in the support of a private institution for handling orthopedics. In his opinion, the county was willing and able to take care of all indigent orthopedic cases in the county.

Miss Leebrick of Santa Ana, head of the County Social Service Dept., voiced practically the same opinion. She said that the county could name a bed in either of the orthopedic hospitals in Los Angeles for $1000 a year and that would take care of all cases which would come up in that time.

This is not a subject or service that is new to our Board of Supervisors. They have used the following method: The County Social Service Dept. accept orthopedic hospitals in Los Angeles. The average fee for each case has been between $150 and $200. Where parents are unwilling to accept charity and have not the immediate means, opportunities are provided, thru private funds, to borrow the necessary money so that no crippled children of our county are being neglected in this respect.

The undersigned physicians of Anaheim heartily endorse the sentiments of Dr. Zaiser and Miss Leebrick, and recommend that the campaign that has been started to raise $10,000 for medical work among indegent crippled children of Northern Orange County be dropped.

Signed—DRS. J. L. BEEBE, J. P. BRASTAD, C. S. O'TOOLE, J. W. UTTER, J. H. COLE.

Dr. H. A. Johnston, who was absent from Anaheim when the several meetings held on the subject took place, addressed the board as to the offer of the Johnston-Wickett clinic to treat such cases without charge for surgical services, and Chairman H. M. Adams of the committee on committees, appointed a committee to recommend to the chamber after fully reviewing both sides of the matter, what course might be pursued in this connection: Messrs. Ahlborn, McFadden and Riley. This committee will make its recommendation in writing to the board Aug. 12.

The report of the doctors named above was placed in file, on motion of Mr. Eygabroad, seconded by Mr. Adams, pending further investigation of the subject by the committee. The committee's report will be fully set before the public.

Violet Tiabant late yesterday swore to a complaint at Santa Ana charging Jesse Cunningham, 26, of Los Angeles, with bigamy. Today Cunningham was in the Orange-co jail.

She told officers Cunningham was employed in a Los Angeles furniture store. The Los Angeles sheriff's office was notified and within 45 minutes Cunningham was being held in the Los Angeles-co jail. DAILY GREETING TO READERS

To right the oppressed, and bring

To just disgrace.—Somerville.

WORLD WAR PERIOD MOST APPALLING

Thruout the centuries to come mankind will regard the seven-year period, from 1914 to 1921, as covering and embodying the most appalling tragedy in the history of mankind. The seventh anniversary of the beginning of the World War finds peace movements with greater momentum and greater hope of successful achievement than ever before. President Harding, speaking at the Pilgrim tercentenary celebration, voiced his faith in the forthcoming disarmament conference. Formal peace between the United States and the central powers will soon be concluded. The desvastations of the war rapidly are being surveyed and rehabilitation is in full swing.

A tragedy so far flung and so horrible necessarly dislocated economic machinery and put the whole world in turmoil from which immediate recovery was impossible. There had to be much agonizing, even after the armistice was signed. But the agonizing is passing away. Normality is on its return march. Slowly, but surely, the activities of peace are coming into evidence. And throughout America and throughout Europe—and, it is to be hoped, throughout Asia—there is a mighty volume of crystallized sentiment against warfare and for the establishment of permanent peace on a basis of justice and equity among nations.

Seven years after the curtain was raised on the greatest tragedy in human annals, the world is yearning to set the stage of international affairs that there may never again be a return engagement of this terrible drama of blood, and anguish, and ruin.

TO NORTH POLE BY AIR IS PROJECTED

Several flights to the north pole by baloon have been attempted, but all of them ended disastrously. But the swift evolution of the airplane has revived interest in the project of reaching the pole by air. Edwin Fairfax Aaulty, scientist, of New York, announces his intention of starting a flight, next month, from Point Barrow, Alaska, to the pole and thence to Norway. Not many years ago an undertaking of this kind would have been scoffed at mercilessly. But now the announcement is received with the tacit admission that the enterprise probably will succeed. Should it fail, other attempts will be made. For the journey to the Pole can be made by air with much fewer obstacles to overcome than the trip on terra firma.

There is much knowledge of scientific value to be gleaned in the polar regions. The swift flight of airships, with favorable conditions for making observations, offer alluring opportunities to searchers after scientific truth.

CARE OF VETERANS PUT ON BETTER BASIS

Congress is rounding out, in conference, the Sweet measure and it soon will have the approval of the President and become law. While the measure is not an end in itself, it provides the means for attaining the end desired by World War veterans and their friends. It consolidates and centralizes bureaus which have to do with soldier relief, and makes possible the cutting of red tape and elimination of condition which have caused insufferable delays and much hardship in caring for disabled veterans. The rights of former service men to war risk insurance are increased, and in other ways the measure is favorable to the veterahs.

Should defects be found, after the act becomes effective, congress can and should remedy them promptly by amendment. The measure should prove to be a nucleus for the evolving of a far better system of caring for disabled veterans.

Bonus is withheld from World War veterans on the plea that to grant it at this time would wreck the treasury. But for the valiant, life offering services of these brave men, the treasury indeed would be a wreck and in ruins. What these men accomplished cannot be measured or rewarded in money. But the nation could show a measure of gratitude by granting them the adjusted compensation they feel that they should have.

To preach the doctrine that no "bad law should be respected" is pernicious. Who is to determine which laws are bad and which are good? Surely no other than courts of last resort. So long as a law is upon the statute books unrepealed and not declared unconstitutional by the supreme tribunal, that law should be observed. It is proper at any time for the people to move, in constitutional way, for the repeal of a law which they regard as unsound. But until it is repealed or set aside by higher courts, it should be obeyed, just like all other laws.

Hundreds of new laws became effective in California a few days ago. Thousands of well meaning persons are not conversant with the provisions of many of these laws. Truth is, there are too many laws and ordinances—too many of them which are complicated, puzzling and unreasonable in their application. If this state and this nation need one thing above another it is a simplification of legal codes and legal processes and a reduction of the number of laws and ordinances enacted. This would be a good thing viewed from every angle. Best of all, it would promote respect for law and eliminate many infractions.

President Harding and Secretary Hughes are very right in insisting that there shall be no preliminary conference before the great meet on disarmament, unless all the invited powers were represented in the preliminaries. There should be no shadow of reason given for suspicion or distrust of motives of the United States, or any grouping—or apparent grouping—or part of the participating powers against any country or countries. The whole conference, from inception to end, should be open and above board.

Civilization has its curses and its plague spots, as well as its blessings. These baneful influences are felt, for example, in child life. Multitudes of little ones, born even in this favored land, are denied the favorable conditions which promote physical health, mental vigor and moral stamina. They are doomed to live—provided they live at all—in unsanitary tenements, amid scenes of squalor and reeking with vicious influences. This is one of the plagues of civilization—one of the blots that America has not eradicated.

It is worth half one's life to rid oneself of useless and harrowing worrying. There is nothing that so completely plucks the flowers of sweetness from existence as worry and chronic fearsomeness. To conquer needlss fear and worry is to make one of the greatest possible conquests in life.

The economic situation has been and is trying, in some parts of this country. But at no time has it been hopeless. Experts agree that the worst is past. The Pacific West, in particular, is feeling the lively influence of forthcoming betterment. There are hard economic spots to be crossed yet, but the trend is toward improvement.

Preservation of world peace rests ultimately upon the peaceful intent and innate sense of justice of the masses of mankind. Men may be trained effectually to peace, just as they may be trained to war. Conservation of peace depends very largely upon the way the child is taught in the home and in the school, and on the nature of its environment.

Sorry indeed would be the plight of this Nation if it became spendthrift with its natural resources. Its forests already are on the road to extinction. Its coal and oil are not conserved as they should be. Its waterpower sites should be safeguarded with sedulous care against grasping greed. The working out of these problems demands the exercise of the highest type of statesmanship at Washington and in the capitols of the states. These problems will not solve themselves aright automatically.

Letters From People

Editor Plain Dealer: Having read a good deal of late of the Pilgrims, but nothing is said or published about their religion or educational part,—allow me space in your valuable paper to point out a few effects along this line of the Mayflower Pilgrims' work.

The Pilgrims who emigrated to Plymouth Rock came as a church, organized at Gainsboro in 1602, and organized in Scrooby a few years later as a "Church of Jesus Christ." They preserved that organization intact thru 12 years in Holland. All that they gave to posterity in New England and the nation were gifts of the Pilgrim church. If there had been no church there would have been no colony at Plymouth. It is well to remember this in the days when men within and without the church are asking—Of what use is the church anyway?

The Pilgrims were Congregationalists. Traces have been found in London of the church of Congregational principles as early as 1567.

What the Pilgrims Did for Liberty

The Pilgrim pioneers gave tremendous impetus and enlargement to liberty, both in church and state. Reacting from gross eccleastical abuse in the 16th and 17th centuries, they held that each church was free to manage its own affairs, without dictation from any outside authority. They found their charter of independency in the words of Christ, "one is your master, even Christ, and all ye are brethren." They were determined, with the apsotle Paul, to "stand fast in the liberty wherewith Christ has made us free." They demanded the separation of church and state, and insisted on the right of every man to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience.

Of course such a doctrine was revolutionary at that period of human history. King James scented danger at once. "No bishop, no king," said he; and he declared of such religion iconoclasts that he would "make them conform or harry them out of the kingdom." The little church of Scrooby fled for its life to Holland, and 11 years later to this new world, where they were determined to create "a church without a bishop, and a state without a king." The persecutions and hardships of these heroic Pilgrims who landed at Plymouth in 1620 only served to spread more widely their ideal of liberty. Many others arose in England who cherished the same beliefs. The Baptists, whose first "Confession" in England was drawn up in 1644, nearly a quarter of a century after the Mayflower anchored in Plymouth harbor, held to the same liberty of conscience and church life. William Penn, who came to these shores more than 60 years later than the Pilgrims, disowned the right of any state church to dictate how his people should worship or what they should think. But those sturdy independents of Scrooby and Leyden and Plymouth were in the very front rank of those who insisted on untrammeled freedom of conscience and absolute liberty in all the affairs of the soul.

It was the Pilgrims in the cabin of the Mayflower, at anchor in Providence Bay, who drew up that immortal "compact" which was the first written constitution of democratic government in human history. It was the principle of their church government applied to civil government. It has been well said that this note sounded then "went on swelling and deepening till it was heard at last in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States."

There was no telegraph cable then to flash across the sea the news of this constitution of democracy.

It was the obscure act of some score colonists in the wilderness. Only 41 persons, heads of families, signed that historic compact. But it was the seed from which later sprang the Republic.

Governor Roger Wolcott of Massachusetts said that it contained the fundamental principles of equal rights in a free state, equal priviléges in a free church and equal opportunities in a free school. Bancroft the historian said that "popular constitutional liberty had its beginning in the drawing and adoption of that compact." Senator Hoar went further and called it the "most important political transaction that has ever taken place on the face of the earth."

Later on at Hartford in 1638, Rev. Thomas Hooker preached a sermon before the general court—the legislature—of Connecticut in which he laid down the principles:

1—That the choice of public magistrates belongs unto the people by God's own allowance:

2—The privilege of election which belongs unto the people, therefore, must not be exercised according to their humors, but according to the blessed will of God.

3—They who have power to appoint officers and magistrates, it is in their power also to set bounds and limitations of the power and the place unto which they call them.

This idea of commonwealth was developed by the hearers of the sermon into the Connecticut Constitution of 1639, of which Thomas Hooker may well be called the father, and which did more than anything else to shape the form of government of the United States. The Pilgrims believed in education. William Bradford improved his sojourn in Holland by studying Dutch, French, Latin, Greek and Hebrew. They believed in education because of the high authority which they give to the bible. Schools were an absolute necessity for teaching their children to read it. It was therefore natural and logical that in 1647 Massachusetts, by law, established common schools in every settlement of 50 families in the colony. This movement was the forerunner and pioneer of the common schools of the United States. The Congregationalists have always believed in an educated ministry. So they founded Harvard College in 1636. The Massachusetts legislature appropriated $2000 for the establishment of the new college, "the first body in which the people by their representatives ever gave their own money to found a place of education." Yale was founded by a little group of Congregational ministers in 1701. Time fails to enumerate others but one-tenth of the higher institutions of learning in the country were Congregational in their origin. Timothy Dwight, Mary Lyons and Mark Hopkins were Congregationalists. Congregational church was the firsth in behalf of religion, liberty and freedom, also first in education. Common schools and colleges, for this reason, if no other, every town should have a leading Congregational church?—J. M. CLAY, 1111 West Broadway, Anaheim, Calif.

To the Editor of the Plain Dealer:
Dear Sir:

During the past few days the attention of the public has been called to the formation of an organization for the relief of crippled children and with your permission I would like to make a statement concerning same.

Some time ago a former representative of the Crippled Children's Association in Los Angeles came to me stating that crippled children of Southern California were not being cared for as they should be; that the institutions in Los Angeles for such cases were now over crowded and there was a long waiting list; that cripples living outside the city could not be adequately cared for on account of the distance and the difficulty of getting them back and forth and that the number of orthopedic surgeons willing to donate their services was limited. It was stated that Orange-co should devise ways and means for caring for its own unfortunates of whom there was a considerable number. It was also mentioned that since an orthopedic surgeon who was thoroughly competent had joined the staff of the Johnston-Wickett Clinic, and he being the only one in the county, this institution would be the logical place to bring these cases.

Being willing and anxious to do bur bit in a community need of this character, and remembering that a short time ago an official of the Hospital Standardization Committee made a criticism of the Anaheim Hospital and physicians that we owed it to the community to intimate and carry on some form of organized charity for those patients less able financially, when the proposition of caring for crippled children was brought to us we felt that nothing could be more worthy and at once consented to assist in forming an organization.

With this purpose in view at the request of the association Dr. Newkirk laid the matter before the Chamber of Commerce and it was unanipiously endorsed. In order to raise funds to defer actual expenses in such cases a campaign was authorized by the association and Mr. Garrett Graham was given charge, since he was a newspaper man and acquainted with the local situation. The articles written for the papers were solely his and were not even seen by any of th doctors in the Clinic prior to their publication.

For some season, the cause of which I can only infer, certain doctors who do not belong to the Clinic at once raised a protest and attempted to negtive all the constructive work done up to this time on the whole proposition. None of these doctors handle such cases as the association proposed to care for, while Dr. Calvin, who has had a large experience in this kind of work, offered his services gratis.

The organization has been working out its plans carefully, feeling that it is poor policy to ask Los Angeles to do what can and should be done right here at home. Community nurses in the various localities will be asked to render assistance in locating the children and securing the co-operation of the parents in the work.

With this statement we shall drop all further discussion of the matter, but since we feel that the cause is just and our services can be of some benefit to the poorchildren, we shall go right head and care for any and all cases of crippled children whom we may be called to treat. Anyone knowing of crippled children will confer a favor upon the association by notifying me.

Yours very truly,
BESSIE F. RAICHE, M. D., Pres.

What Your Home Town Means To You

YOUR HOME TOWN CAN BE MADE JUST THE KIND OF A TOWN YOU WOULD LIKE IT TO BE, if you will become an active part and cooperate with your neighbors. Too many times from selfish motives or from lack of interest, we adopt buck-passing—let the other fellows do it—accept glowing advertisements of out-of-town firms as meaning they are in a better position to serve you and for less money than those who are lending a helping hand in making life more worth while for you.

YOUR HOME TOWN IS THE POINT WHERE GOODS AND SERVICES OF THE WORLD ARE GATHERED TO SERVE YOU. It is the means of connecting you and your family with satisfactions that enable you to get more out of life in goods, refreshments, recreation, knowledge and service. You want for instance, a better house, better furniture, better conveniences, better transportation, better professional services for health, education and information. Your chamber of commerce, the doctors, the merchants, the newspapers, the banks, the lumber yards, the telephone, electricity and other business and professional men of the town are agents of this service of the world to you. Without them, your home town would practically vanish, your touch with the world would be difficult, your service from the world would greatly diminish.

A GOOD HOME TOWN, WITH GOOD ROADS IS ONE OF THE MOST VITAL REQUIREMENTS FOR GETTING FROM THE WORLD THE SATISFACTION THAT MAKES LIFE RICHER. It is where commerce from you to the world begins and where commerce from the world to you ends. It is where you look when you have products or service to sell. You want these satisfactions largely because of the touch that your home town gives you with the world of thought, action and achievement. Wanting them, you strive for them. That means progress. Your home town makes it possible for you to get them. That means more enjoyment out of life.

THINK ABOUT THESE TRUTHS THE NEXT TIME YOU ARE CALLED UPON TO COOPERATE IN MAKING POSSIBLE SOME NECESSARY improvement and when out-of-town firms solicit your patronage, ask yourself: What are they doing to help me and my town? Do they contribute in taxes toward building good roads, schools, churches and business blocks? Do they aid in beautifying my home town? Does any of their money go toward making life more worth while for me and my loved ones? When you need assistance can you get it from these out-of-town firms?

The real moral of this article is: Closely co-operate with those who are willing and anxious to co-operate with you.

HOME BREW HIT IN PROPOSED ORDINANCE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5.—The proposed new Los Angeles city prohibition ordinance, which is now being drafted by City Attorney Jess E. Stephens at the direction of the city council, will be directly aimed against "home brewing," Councilman Walter Mallard, one of the supporters of the measure, stated today.

Practically the entire city council yesterday took a whack at the druggists, now holding the only legal right to sell liquor by prescription, for its new turn on the prohibition question. It was charged by councilmen hat the druggists now have a "special end" to gain under the ordinance.

It was claimed that the tax of 50 cents on each prescription filled by the druggists is the reason druggists now desire the prohibition enforcement ordinance.

CHAMBER READY TO FILE INCORPORATION

Incorporation papers of the Santa Ana C. of C. were being prepared today by Charles D. Swanner, attorney of the chamber.

Smith, president of the chamber, reported progess made on the automobile park and camping grounds now under construction on the banks of the Santiago creek east of the North Main street bridge. A foreman is constantly on duty during working hours, he said, as the chamber's paid representative to supervise the placing and scattering of fill material.

Trans-Continental Talk Cost $29.50

Anaheim's first trans-continental talk with a President, carried out May 17, when President Harding opened the First Annual California Valencia Orange Show, conversed unconventially with his sister, Mrs. Remsberg, and proved the ease with which a voice can be heard over 3900 miles of wire, was reported on the streets to have cost $5000. The C. of C. this morning received the bill for the tolls, amounting to $29.50 in full. This added to about $5 for printing badges and cards for those who were fortunate enough to hold receivers at the function, constitutes Anaheim's entire expense in the matter.

Credit is due to the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. for making this expense so slight. When President Harding signified his willingness to open the show, Chairman Herman Stern cast around for a fitting arrangement, by which hundreds migh hear the executive voice. It was found that amplifiers, the mechanisms necessary to convey the voice and distribute it plainly to the thousands of bystanders, were not to be had, except at the expense of thousands of dollars. The telephone company's officials stepped in and agreed to furnish 75 receivers, install an amplifier at their local office and inspect the line from here to Washington. Two days were spent here by some of the technical officers of the coast branch located at San Francisco.

The trans-continental line was cleared for hours during these two days, to observe weather and static conditions affecting the line, and thousands of dollars loss and actual expense was suffered by the company. Managers Beard and Morrow, who were responsible for the local arrangements, agreed to pay for telegrams to all invited guests, and to discharge all expense in connection with the opening. The executive committee here insisted on getting ribbon for the memento badges and place cards, which ran to about $5. Today's bill for $29.50 represents only the actual time taken by the President officially to make his opening speech, the personal phases of the talk having been absorbed by the company.

While it is perfectly true that $5000 would have been but a small item of expense, considering the huge publicity derived by the President's generous cooperation, it is due to the public to state that Anaheim's participation was kept well under $50.

Noted Engineer Elected Head of Inventors' Group

Dr. Miller Reese Hutchison, who served as chief engineer and personal representative to Thomas A. Edison, has been elected president of an organization to investigate and develop worthy inventions. Hudson Maxim, Sir Edgar Rees Jones, M.P., and other men of prominence are associated with Dr. Hutchison in the venture, which will call upon the combined intelligence of America's inventive genius to help the rising inventor to success.

In 1902 Dr. Hutchison was presented with a special gold medal by Queen Alexandria, of England, in recognition of exceptional merit in the field of invention. He was awarded gold and silver medals at the St. Louis Exposition and became associated with Thomas A. Edison in 1910.

During the war, Dr. Hutchison devoted his entire time to the government as a member of the Naval Consulting Board. Since the armistice was signed he has been planning to launch the project which now promises to revolutionize the world of invention. Dr. Hutchison's offices and laboratories on the 51st floor of the Woolworth Building, New York, will be devoted to the research work and business administration of the new organization, which will bear the inventor's name.

HYDRO-ELECTRICITY DEMAND INCREASES

WHY A POWER PROGRAM IN CALIFORNIA?

BY H. G. BUTLER

Former Power Administrator for California.

The 6,000,000 horsepower of potential electrical energy in California's streams — only one-sixth of which is now in use—if it were completely developed and could be laid down in the New England States, would bring every year, at existing rates, the enormous sum of $1,000,000,000. Developed and used in California it would cost the consumers but half that amount.

If the present rate of growth in the power industry continues — and there is not the slightest reason to think that it will not continue—the year 1941 will see the California power streams completely harnessed. It will see also a greater difference between power rates, east and west. Comparing New England's rate with California's, the ratio is now about two to one. But the future power of California, and all the west, will be hydro-electric, and in New England and the east steam-electric—steam generated from fuels constantly increasing in cost.

So in 20 years the difference between the two rates cannot fail to be even more to California's advantage than it is now. But with no change, the California producer will have an edge on his eastern competitor of $500,000,000 per annum in power costs—a sum that would "bridge the bay" at San Francisco 12 1-2 times yearly.

He has a proportionate advantage today. The average rate at which the product of the power companies of the state is sold is somewhere around two cents per kilowatt-hour, a figure that of course is lower than the average lighting rate, which varies; in San Francisco, for instance, it is from 8 cents maximum, to 1.5 cents as a minimum. But the average rate, which is governed more by the price paid for commercial than for lighting power, is the important factor. At two cents per kilowatt-hour the power companies of California can with confidence invite comparison with rates for similar service anywhere.

The remarkable growth of the west during the last 20 years has been largely due to just this fact. In that time the population of the United States as a whole increased 110 per cent; in the west it increased 403 per cent. The assessed value of all property grew in the United States 451 per cent; in the west 1341 per cent. The annual value of manufactured products jumped 1070 per cent in the United States and 2096 per cent in the west. During the last ten years, the increase in bank clearings in the United States was 427 per cent and in the west 1281 per cent.

It is not necessary to go far back in the history of the state to reach a time when it was a bold and adventurous thing for a power company to spend a few hundred thousand dollars in a power plant 200 miles away in the mountains, with dams and canals, and its tower [illegible] carrying a thin copper thread [illegible] the product to market. Such [illegible] was followed by a per[illegible] activity in securing [illegible] utilize the output. [illegible] factories here, and mines [illegible] pumps, but they were [illegible] of energy. Sales[illegible] ary to bring about [illegible] electric power. [illegible] but [illegible] no competi[illegible] cannot be secured the projected factory and the projected pumping plant are not constructed. In the process of building up and developing the community, the sequence is, first the power, then more factories, more farms and more intensive cultivation, more mines opened up. From these come more transportation, more people—all demanding more power—and a strong and healthy growth.

In marked contrast to the situation a few years back, the power companies of the state today estimate that it will be necessary for them to raise and spend $500,000,000 in the next ten years for new plants and the appurtenances required to bring this power to the consumer. They no longer have to devote time to the missionary work of making converts to the electric motor.

Fifteen million dollars can be spent by the Pacific Gas and Electric company on the Pit River, by the Great Western Power company on the Feather River, by the San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation on the San Joaquin, or by the So. Calif. Edison company on the big Creek project, without definite arrangements for the sale of the energy. The market will be ready when the power is. Indeed, during the last three years the demand has always been greater than the supply, and the problem of the future is not the selling of power, but in getting money enough to develop it.

In its energy-producing natural resources California has been doubly endowed by nature—it has both water power and oil. But its oil cannot be depended upon to carry out any program of general state development. In a recent address, a prominent oil man of the coast said:

"We cannot continue to burn more oil than we produce, and we cannot continue indefinitely to count on even our present production. There can be only one answer to the situation—some one who is burning oil today will have to use another source of energy tomorrow."

He might have added, "the only other cource is hydro-electricity."

The oil companies are not required to keep California supplied with oil. The power companies, being public utilities, and as such having distinct obligations to the public, are committed to the definite undertaking of seeing that California's hydro-electric development is sufficient, not only to carry the increasing load in its own field, but to take up their burdens when the oil companies lay them down.

This is the power program and, to quote from the address again, nothing can be more certain than this:

"We must realize that the success of this program is vital to our prosperity, and that success can come only thru the substantial encouragement of community support."

LIBRARIAN ARRIVES

A few members of the fourth district Congress of Mothers and Parent Teacher association enjoyed an informal luncheon at Santa Ana yesterday, the affair being in honor of Miss Margaret E. Livingston, just arrived to assume her duties as librarian of the county free library.

Mrs. Earl Morris, president of the fourth district Congress of Mothers, stated that the social meeting was strictly informal. She intimated that a formal reception would be planned later.

Miss Livingston came from Colusa where she was librarian of the county free library. She is highly recommended as an efficient and capable librarian.

It is understood that Miss Livingston has already assumed her duties and the county free library is expected to be organized as rapidly as possible.

Miss Livingston will make her headquarters in Santa Ana, but is expected to pay frequent visits to the branch libraries thruout the county.

One hundred years ago, a bitter controversy like that between Lloyd George and Lord Northcliffe would have ben settled on "the field of honor," as Alexander Hamilton and Aaron Burr settled their feud. But the duel has gone out of fashion, and only words—or occasionally a resort to fisticuffs—figure in the code duello today.

Brunswick CORD TIRES

COST PLUS CARE

Because we strive to make the finest tires in the world, we have "speeded" our workers to slowness—

—to the slowness which reflects the master craftsmanship of a superior product.

Each tire we make is inspected individually. Each one is 100% before it leaves us.

Yet the time it takes to put it there is not reckoned in the cost to you. For the Brunswick, Cord or Fabric, is priced no more than other tires. And in many cases less. Hence there have never been quite enough to go around. Not every car can boast them.

But wherever you find them, you hear tales of greater service—of value given for value received.

VALVE-IN-HEAD Buick MOTOR CARS

Announcing

The New Buick "Four"

—A Thoroughbred Four, Completing the Famed Buick Line

The new Four-Cylinder Buick, here announced, is a thoroughbred—a pedigreed car well worthy of its name.

Down to the very last detail, this new model possesses every quality of enduring serviceability, complete comfort, and distinctive appearance that have always characterized Buick automobiles.

The advent of this new Four makes the Buick 1922 line complete. It offers to purchasers of a car of this size all the quality and service that go to make up the name "Buick."

The Buick Valve-in-Head Engine A Power Plant That Has Proved Itself—

The engine, of course, is of the time-tested Buick Valve-in-Head type. The year-after-year concentration of Buick's engineering skill and experience in building Valve-in-Head motors assures the highest standard of performance obtainable today.

Every other unit is of a quality equal to the power plant. The whole assembly constitutes a perfectly balanced chassis which is of typical Buick construction. The equipment of Cord Tires is merely evidence of the quality which characterizes the entire car.

Two open and two closed body types mounted on the Buick built chassis comprise the new series.

Even the most casual inspection of the details of design and workmanship will reveal that full measure of quality which motorists have learned to associate with Buick.

A Great Car, Prices Make It An Even Greater Value

Obviously a high grade automobile—a genuine Buick production—the prices listed below make this great Four even greater. A value such as this is possible only because of the combination of Buick engineering skill devoted to the one ideal of quality, Buick production facilities developed over nearly a quarter of a century, and Buick's nation-wide distribution and service organization.

The Buick Motor Company is proud of the Buick Four. It has the faith of long experience in this newest addition to its line. It places upon it unreservedly the Buick guarantee carried by every Buick automobile produced. That its confidence is well placed is manifested not only by the keen interest with which motorists have awaited this announcement, but also the advance orders placed by distributors, dealers, and the general public.

This made it hard for me to keep at my work. My kidneys acted irregularly and I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and got them at Heying's Pharmacy. They weren't long in strengthening my back and kidneys. COUNTY'S GROWTH SHOWN BY FIGURES

The development of Orange-co in the past ten or eleven years cannot be entirely told in figures, but certain figures go a long way toward bringing a realization of the fact that Orange-co has grown rapidly for a number of years.

And the last year has witnessed more rapid growth than any previous year.

County Assessor, James Sleeper, armed with statistics, is authority for the statement that the county has gone forward in great strides.

"The number of assessments and the personal property collections," said Assessor Sleeper, "mean a great deal when one comes to size up the county's development."

In 1910 the total number of assessments on the rolls of the county assessor was 13,696.

In 1920 the number reached 21,825.

The gain in one year was 4,803. That means that in one year there were enough new businesses started, that enough new subdividing was done and that enough new leasing and realty deals were entered into to make it necessary for the assessor to make 4,803 more assessments for 1921 than were needed in 1920.

But more interesting, too, are the figures on the number of personal property receipts. The collection of personal property taxes has become onne of the biggest things that the county assessor does. Eleven years ago the personal property assessments amounted to but little. When Sleeper became assessor he got into the practice of assessing oil leases.

An oil lease is personal property and the taxes upon it are collectable and collected at the time the assessment is made. Any personal property attached to real estate has the tax collected with the assessment.

Here are some figures:

In 1910 the number of personal property receipts issued by the county assessor totaled 667, and the amount of money received was $14,038.68.

In 1920 the number of receipts reached 2,636 and the amount collected by the assessor's office reached $513,331.06.

This year, 1921, the number of receipts came to 3,186 and the total collections are $814,282.62. That is one-fourth of all the taxes collected in this county. The largest amount collected from one firm or individual was collected this year from the Standard Oil company. Sleeper received from company a check for $541,474.25.

The Standard's assessment in this county totals about $18,000,000. The assessments of the Union Oil company add up to $10,500,000.

"The climb that has been made in the assessment totals of the county shows that we have grown," says Sleeper. "In 1910 the total assessment for all classes of property in this county was $30,597,530. Last year it was $114,089,155, and this year it is about $127,648,000. The railroad assessment for this year is not yet available, so the exact total for 1921 cannot be given at this time."

SLAVE CASE BANKER TO REMAIN IN JAIL

Peter B. Hovley, Brawley, banker and admitted white slaver, must remain in the Orange-co jail until at least October, despite the fact that the U. S. circut court recently allowed him a writ of error in his case.

This was the information reaching here today from Los Angeles.

The higher court denied Hovley a petition for a writ of supersedeas which would have allowed his release from jail on bond.

The question of his appeal will not come before the circuit court until October or November and in the interim Hovley will be forced to stay in jail in Santa Ana.

Hovley pleaded guilty to a violation of the Mann act in bringing his niece from Chicago to Los Angeles for an immoral purpose. He started his year's imprisonment here last week after having been allowed several stays of sentence.

SEEK TRUCK THIEF SUSPECT IN TWO COS.

San Bernardino and Riverside officers were searching today for a former Riverside man who is suspected of having stolen a Moreland truck belonging to George L. Wright, Santa Ana transfer man.

The truck was found abandoned on a street in San Bernardino yesterday afternoon. Local authorities said they know who stole the truck and believe that the man would be apprehended today.

The truck was stolen from the alley way back of Wright's home Monday night.

It was seen passing through Olive by a young woman friend of Joe Beroms, who is in Wright's employ.

UNIQUE PLAN FOR CLUB TO GET BLDG.

The women of the district will sell the lots and while earning a commission on their business, also will receive ground for a park and clubhouse in the center of the district.

In other words, while the women of La Habra Park Square are choosing their own neighbors and selling plots to them, they will be earning the money with which to build their clubhouse on the donated ground.

Each and every resident of this neighborhood will be more keenly interested in its welfare, it is believed, thru the workings of this plan.

Members of the Women's Improvement club voted to accept the proposition, made by the owners of the sub-division, at a recent meeting. They decided to conduct a whirlwind campaign to sell the tract in record time.

The block of six lots, which they will gain as a location for their clubhouse, is in the center of the tract.

Streets have already been named by the women, who declare that they intend the district shall be an attractive, as well as a high-class residence neighborhood. With this advantage, they anticipate no trouble in disposing of the lots.

Many difficulties have been overcome by the women of the club in their desire to grasp the generous offer. Many plans were discussed and the matter seemingly sidetracked for a time. Now they are ready to put the venture thru with the least delay.

Price and Bishop, owners of the sub-division, promis all possible aid to the women. Citizens of La Habra, it is expected, will enter into the spirit of the affair from a business standpoint and take an active part in furthering its accomplishment.

1921 APRICOT CROP NOW BEING GRADED

Grading and hand-picking of dried apricots is occupying the attention of C. C. Collins company, fruit packers, at present.

The house is handling the crops of association members who this year are selling on the market and not at a guaranteed price, according to information. Drying was completed about two weeks ago. The crop passing thru this plant is estimated at 280 tons, and it is said will about equal that of last year.

Prices range from 12 to 15 cents, according to quality, independent packers said. Most of the pack is being sold at the middle price, 13 or 14 cents, they said.

"See My Lawyer" will be the feature of the program at the Grand tonight and tomorrow night. It deals with a threatened divorce. Tonight "Movie Chats," a review, will be shown, and Saturday "Tough Luck," a comedy, will be added for additional spice.

ORANGE MAY VOTE ON STREET DANCE

Do the residents of Orange believe that street dances should be held there?

They will probably have the opportunity to decide this question at the polls next spring.

This was indicated at a special meeting of the Orange city trustees today, when a vote of two to three that body declined to give the Orange-Co Auto Trades Assn. a permit to hold a street dance in conjunction with its mid-summer automobile exhibit.

Immediately afterward, the trade association committee announced it would at once get to work on plans for a feature that would take the place of the street dance—a feature that would be equally as popular and entertaining.

While the Orange trustees declined to sanction the street dance they declared themselves wholeheartedly with the trades association in its plans for the forthcoming exhibition. They will cooperate to the fullest extent, they told the automobile men.

Councilmen Walton and Hemphill voted against the dance, stating it to be their belief that the citizens of Orange did not favor it. Councilmen Hallman and Gunther voted approval. While Mayor Hayward voted no, saying he did so "rather than create friction in the council."

It was the stand of the councilmen that no more street dances would be allowed at Orange and that the voting public would probably be given an opportunity next spring to decide the question of street dances.

Mrs. A. V. Wheeler was the charming hostess Thursday when she entertained with a shower in honor of her sister, Mrs. W. K. Suiter, at her charming country home southeast of town.

Washington Social Leader Starts Center For Nation's Women

Mrs. Clarence Crittenden Calhoun of Washington, D. C., is president of the Woman's National Foundation, the aim of which is to affiliate feminine activities in America by means of a glorified club, home and civic center in the national capital. Any white woman of good moral character over eighteen years of age residing in the United States or its dependencies, is eligible for membership in the Foundation.

All members when in Washington will have use of the Foundation grounds of nine and a half acres of wooded land in an exclusive residential section easily accessible from the city's center. In the historic home on this estate there have already been opened a restaurant and reception rooms for use of members and their guests, where it is intended that women of all interests will meet on neutral ground.

In the fall lecture courses will be begun. That on Civics will be conducted personally by Mrs. Maud Wood Park. There will also be a clearing house of information on feminine activities and a bulletin for the benefit of members. Later it is planned to erect a hotel for out-of-town members, a theatre and a convention hall for use of clubs. A group of prominent, patriotic women have already given $1,000 each for the initiation of this work. They are to be known as the Founders' Club, to which other women contributing the same amount will be eligible for a limited period. Founders will have their names inscribed on the stone of the new buildings. Those interested in the Foundation work should communicate with Mrs. C. C. Calhoun, Woman's National Foundation, Connecticut Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C.

EBELL AFFAIR BIG SUCCESS

The Ebell picnic and club dance held last evening at Orange county park under the auspices of the domestic science section was a decided social and financial success, a very neat sum being added to the club lot fund.

Fully 200 picnickers gathered about the tables at 7 o'clock which were spread with loads of good things, and the ladies of the section furnished hot coffee and Spanish beans. Immediately after supper the music started and dancing which was the chief pastime, was enjoyed for several hours. The music was donated by Roderick Brastad, Johnnie and Jimmie Johnston, and was of excellent quality, which called forth encores again and again. The lighting in the park system is yet undergoing repairs, so batteries for lights were donated by the Anaheim Ignition Works, and the work supervised by W. B. Ashford.

The committee in charge of the affair was composed of Mrs. J. T. Lyon, chairman, and Mrs. Wm. Duckworth and Mrs. Juan Bandini, who were assisted in serving by many other willing members of the section. A large number from the younger set was in attendance as well as the older ones.

ENJOYABLE EVENING.

Liberty Court, Order of the Amaranth, entertained the Past Royal Matrons and Patrons Association last night in Masonic temple, Mrs. Eva Boyd and Mr. D. Jessurun, Junior Past Royal Matron and patron presiding.

A program of music and readings of exceptional merit were heard. Miss Elva Stark read two numbers in her effective manner, one an Italian reading "Thies," by T. A. Daly, and a French-Canadian number by William Henry Drummond, "Little Batteese." Mr. Corley sang most beautifully "Duna," by McGill and "When," by Benham. Mrs. Kellogg, and her daughter, Miss Kellogg from Santa Ana, each read a number which was well enjoyed.

After the program all were invited to the banquet room where a two-course luncheon was served. A graceful bouquet of Tacoma blossoms and greenery graced each table. There were members present from Los Angeles, Santa Ana, Fullerton and Long Beach present.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

NEW YORK, Aug. 5—The Hudson River Freight Car tan is going to run a close rival to the Palm Beach and the Atlantic City tans long before this summer is done with. Everybody knows that the days of envying white skin are in the far-away. Nowadays, the shops even sell khaki-colored powder to give the illusion of having been wintering or summering in the leisure lands. And a freight car may do as well as the Siasconset sands if it's properly employed. Now, the Hudson river offers perfectly good water for New York stay-at-homes to swim in, but it's short on beaches, especially on the New York side. It has, however, a fine little assortment of freight cars parked on the tracks that edge it; and they are the substitute. Into the river jumps the bathers; then jump out again all nice and wet, and climb to the top of a freight car and stretch themselves out to receive the rays of the tanning sun. What care they for the curious eyes of passing brakemen? Before long, they'll have a coat of tan that each additional person who looks at them will mean one more glow of pride.

Gertrude Atherton is one of the fiction writers who give a particular fascination to the days just preceding the Civil War—particularly the days as spent in San Francisco. She has done this specially well in her new film drama, "Don't Forget Your Wife." Mrs. Atherton is always picturesque and so is the city of the Golden Gate. The combination results in a story of big dramatic interest, told with cleverness and subtlety. From the title, one would something of the plot; but the complexities, the intensities, which Mrs. Atherton can weave around a plot framework are never completely unrolled until the last minute before the curtain falls. The story carries one from San Francisco Society, where Dr. Howard Talbot neglects his young wife he brought across the continent from Boston, to the the Five Points in New York City, and back again, with drama in every film and geographical fact. And the best part of it is that it never becomes melodrama, which might easily have happened. Mabel Julienne Scott is the young Boston bride, and Lewis Stone plays the part of Langdon Nustus, the man who takes the place in her heart lost by the neglectful husband. Charles Clary, Kate Lester and Josephine Crowell are others who stand out in the cast. It is well-acted thruout, and well-directed.

Next October, New York is to have a Swedish celebration, as a supplement to the Pilgrim Four Hundred Year anniversary. The Swedes settled in Deleware in 1638, only 18 years after the arrival of the Mayflower.

The musical hat is the latest Broadway innovation. Whether it will ever reach Fifth-ave. remains to be seen—and doubted. But it appeared in a Broadway millinery shop a week or so ago, and I have seen two or three on that highway—actually! Somewhere in the ribbon trimming, is a tiny sounding board and in front of that a frame is strung with real catgut. When the breeze hits the string, a faint but real tune is played. Remembering the time I went in late to a funeral and sat down on a musical chair, I can fancy the wearers sensations.

It's quite all right to pamper the children; but my gracious haven't the poor grown-ups a right to live, too? So questioned Manhattan as they watched the shower baths that the traveling hose gave ecstatic crowds of kids these hot summer evenings. Consequently Fire Chief Kenlon is being deluged with applications for the showers to be continued after the young generation is safely tucked in bed. Down in the Greenwich Village corner of town, they are already at it. Block shower parties with bathing suits the costume de rigeur are almost every evening affairs.

I have lived in New York for—well, quite a few years—and never until yesterday did I find out what the men cry that come thru the courts underneath the rear windows of your apartments looking for old clothes to buy. It took me one year to learn that much—that it was old clothes they were after. But their words were beyond me. But now I've learned them. It's "Pie cash." Some day I expect to find out why the Battery is called the Battery.

Deep-sea-going bicycles are the latest acquatic sport medium. They are actual bicycles of a peculiar design, with floaters attached somehow to keep them afloat even with a husky passenger pedaling away on them. Miss Barrett, one of the enthusiasts over the new sport, won a race the other day over the course from the Battery to Midland Beach, making it in 2 hours 40 minutes.

At the S. P. C. A. hospital in New York there is $400,000 worth of radium for the relief of animal cancer. Dr. Smith of the hospital staff reports that scores of animals, dogs, cats, cows and horses have been cured by means of it. "During the current year," he said, "the hospital has handled an average of 40 cases a day. The radium is the property of the Memorial Hospital but by a special arrangement it has been made available to the relief of suffering among the dumb animals."

Fishermen on the north side of Montauk point, Long Island, have found a novel and valuable use for old and discarded fish nets. They make roads of them; lay them over the marshes back of the beach where their huts and boats are placed, and the sand blows into the meshes and stays there. Soon it is packed into a firm roadway solid enough even for light automobiles.

The parlor game of bagatelle is reproduced on a large scale in a new amusement device, patrons riding in small cars being rolled down a board filled with pegs that divert them thru various exits.

CALIF. CAN FINANCE ELECTRICAL GROWTH

Assurances that California can finance the stupendous electrical development needed to take care of the state's demand for power that is not now being met, have been given the senate committee on banking and currency by Arthur S. Bent, of Los Angeles.

Bent estimated that all of the potential electrical energy in California will be needed within the next 10 years especially if the steam railroads electrify their lines as is now contemplated. Without railroad electrification the entire power resources of the state will be absorbed in 15 years, Bent said.

The cost of this gigantic development Best estimated at $750,000,000, but the finances can be arranged, he said, with an enlightened public opinion and helpful federal and state legislation.

Bent said:

"It is pretty widely agreed that the Pacific Coast is to be the center of the greatest drama of history. In that favored and portentious region, lies 50 per cent of the hydro-electric possibilities of the country. When we should be conserving and preparing this stragetic region for its great destiny, we are wasting its resources and tearing down its defenses.

"In my own state of California, we have one million horsepower developed and digested, and during the war this was all pooled by inter-communication and is now available at practically every point in the state. This is good. But we have at the same time three million of potential power not touched, and this is bad. The situation with us is acute. We are burning the precious oil which should be saved for our navy and marine, and still we are short of power. We have burned down our house to warm our hands. We have been the "Coal Oil Johnny" of the nations, scattering in a few hours the accumulated natural wealth of ages. And now the end of our priceless legacy is in sight. Our forests are dwindling and we have not replanted them. We can count the coal left in our cellar. We are already wondering what we are going to do for gasoline and for lubricating oil. Germany might have lost the war for want of lubricants. And yet we burn and burn and burn, while 50 millions of horsepower runs continually to waste. Gentlemen, that awful fire burning day and night should be put out. The great army of men who feed it should be disbanded and their energy harnessed to that of the water and the soil, be turned from destruction to production."

Roughly, it takes 1000 tons of coal per hour to develop a million kilowatt hours of energy. Disregarding the waste of irrecoverable coal, just consider the army of miners required to produce it. Yet three million kilowatt hours can be developed by the Colorado River alone in only 110 miles of its course. The same energy that the labor of one man produces by water, requires 16 men to produce by fuel. There's a 16 to 1 idea well worth our consideration.

Just think! In the United States this very 24 hours, 43 million horsepower was developed with our precious fuel, while 52 million hydro-horsepower slipped by us unharnessed into the seas. And of the labor involved in this production, 15-16 was wasted. That waste meant roughly, 8 hours work for 10,000 men and this means interest on a capital of 300 million dollars. And even this takes no account of the fact that a large percentage of the transportation power of our railways is expended to haul coal and oil for their own use.

NEWS OF FULLERTON

FULLERTON PERMITS DECLINE FOR JULY

July building permits issued in Fullerton ran behind the June business.

Twenty-four permits representing a valuation of $61,250 were taken out, as against 38 permits involving $64,000 in June. More than half the permits called for the erection of dwelling houses, but half of the money will go into two business buildings—the Edison Co. warehouse in East Walnut and the Henderson garag building in West Santa Fe.

Figures given out on dwelling houses in July are lower, none of them running over $3500, whereas in June there were several priced at $4000 and some as high as $5000, indicating one of two things: that building prices are coming down or that the July standard is not up to that of June, with the weight of evidence in favor of the first proposition. The list follows:

George Wilkins, garage, $1600; Harold Walberg, remodeling house, $500; Fred Klahn, double house, $3500; Alex Henderson, public garage, $10,200; E. J. Spey, garage, $100; George Deitrich, repairs, cost $200; A. J. Hider, California house, $1000; J. S. Thompson, addition, cost $250; George Welton, dwelling, cost $1500; O. W. Block, dwelling, $2500; Russell Beckett, repairs, $200; So. Calif. Edison Co., warehouse and garage, $20,000; J. V. Lewis, apartment house, $3400; D. L. Jordan, residence, $2800; L. Christianses, a dwelling, $3500; La Habra Sand and Gravel Co., rock bunker, $2500; D. T. Mix, remodeling market, $250; Paul Nicholas, remodeling warehouse $2500; E. W. Moore, office building, $200; C. H. Herron, dwelling, $20000; J. E. Turner, dwelling; W. J. Gerry, garage, $150; George Amerige, remodeling store front, $200; William Katter, dwelling, cost $1200.

There will be special entertainment by a trio of professional musicians and vocalists from 11 to 3 and from 5 to 9.

LA HABRA MEXICAN SCHOOL ON PICNIC

About 35 Mexican women and children who have been attending the Mexican instruction school in La Habra were given a treat yesterday when their teacher, Miss Mackay, took them for a days' outing at Newport Beach. The Fullerton high school busses transported the crowd to the Beach city, leaving about 7 o'clock. Bathing was the feature of the day, many of the Mexicans taking their first dip into the ocean. Wading was the childrens' delight. A picnic lunch was served on the sands at noon. The crowd returned home early in the afternoon.

ORANGE MARKET IN MIGHTY FINE SHAPE

The orange market still continues in good shape, and doubtless will so continue if the growers will keep their shirts on and not flood the market with fruit, Manager W. H. Schureman of the Anaheim Citrus Fruits Assn. said today.

He declared, however, if growers flood the market the prices will break.

Too many watermelons were shipped into Anaheim and the price broke. The same principle will work in the orange market.

JUNIOR COLLEGE BULLETIN

A very attractive bulletin has been issued for the Fullerton Junior College, giving full information concerning entrance, organization and the courses taught, Prof. Wm. T. Boyce, president of the college, announced this morning. Mr. Boyce stated that judging from the number of students in the past and from the interest this year, it is conservative to expect 25 or 30 students from Anaheim to enter the college this year. Any students inerested are requested to write Mr. Boyce at the Fullerton high school office, or drop in and see him personally.

BIBLE CLASS WILL VISIT LONG BEACH

There will be no services at the First Christian church of Fullerton Sunday morning, it was announced at the study of Rev. J. T. Houser, pastor, this morning.

The Houser Bible class of this church will be transported bodily to Long Beach next Sunday to witness the 9:30 session of the Taubman Bible class—largest men's class in the world.

Autos will form a line more than a mile in length and the Fullerton delegation will march into the auditorium fully 200 strong. Free badges and pennants are provided and special songs will be sung for the benefit of the Long Beach class.

This parade and visit will be the livest and biggest stunt the class has pulled off.

The Taubman class expects 2000 men in attendance so the Houser bunch will get to see "the biggest class" at its best.

Autos will line up by eight o'clock Sunday morning, in single file, on Spadra from the Rialto north.

Procession will start at 8:15 and regulate speed to arrive at Pine-ave pier, Long Beach, at 9:15.

Route is as follows: west out Commonwealth to Buena Park; south to end of road; west thru Cypress to end of road; south thru Los Alamitos to end of road; west over Pepper Tree Drive and Anaheim-st to American; then south on American to Ocean. Here cars will scatter to find parking space.

RITES PLANNED FOR FULLERTON PASTOR

The body of the Rev. Clark Marsh, Y. M. C. A. worker and World War martyr, who died at Harve, France, March 4, 1919, arrived from New York at Monrovia, last night.

Services will be held Monday at Monrovia, the cortege leaving the Renaker and company chapel at 3 p. m., under escort of the Santa Ana Commandery, Knights Templar, going direct to the Live Oak cemetery, Monrovia, where the services will be conducted by the Fullerton Blue lodge, F. and A. M.

The Rev. M. Marsh was a familiar figure in Orange-co, being actively associated with the Knights Templar, and Commander A. E. Koepsel of the commandery urges that every member be at the Renaker chapel at Monrovia promptly at 3 o'clock, Monday.

The Rev. Mr. Marsh was a very popular figure in Fullerton, where he was pastor of the Christian church at the time he entered the foreign Y. M. C. A. service, and his death from illness over two years ago, on the very day he was to sail for home and family and friends, came as a shock to the whole town.

A widow and three children live in Monrovia.

Directors of the Fullerton B. of T. Tuesday appointed a committee to go to Monrovia to take part in the funeral services.

LUNCHEON FOR TEACHER

Mrs. Katherine Caldwell of Artesia, formerly a teacher in the Fullerton high school, is visiting friends in Fullerton. She has been teaching in Colorado the last year. She was entertained with a luncheon at noon today at the home of Miss Clara Schaaf, and this evening will be given a dinner at the home of Mrs. L. M. Beck.

FULLERTON BRIEFS

Rev. and Mrs. Stark who have been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Marsden and family of Fullerton, left this morning for their home in Tombstone, Ariz.

The Misses Winifred and Alice Wilbur of Fullerton spent last evening with a friend and schoolmate of Miss Winneford Wilbur at Los Angeles. The friend accompanied them home this afternoon to spend the evening with them.

The regular weekly concert will be given by the Fullerton band under the direction of A. E. Steuelke at the Fullerton City park tonight at eight o'clock.

Charles R. Sutherland has placed a window display, picturizing the La Habra Home Acres with an artistic background of oil wells on the hills, in his office window on So. Spadra-rd.

F. Cox left this morning over the Santa Fe for Kirby, Wyoming.

Mrs. Winnie Dyckman and three children left this morning over the Santa Fe for Kansas City.

Work on the Lesser oil well west of Anaheim will begin soon. The boilers are already in and the derricks up.

H. D. Thurber of Fullerton, who has just returned from Fallbrook, reports that the Rugby Oil Co. is ready to drill on the southermost well in the Murietta oil district. It is on a line between the other Murietta well and the coast.

SALT LAKE SIGN MAN LOCATES IN ANAHEIM

I. D. Wheeler, formerly of Salt Lake City, an experienced sign painter, has established a complete sign-making shop at 139 So. Los Angeles-st.

He states he looked over all So. Cal and readily decided that Anaheim appealed to him most as a live and up-and-coming place in which to locate his business.

FILE INCORPORATION.

The company is capitalized at $500,000. Its principal place of business is Los Angeles. The directors are: Jay L. Hines, Pasadena; Ernest Richter, Pomona; W. B. Wilmore, Whittier; Harry H. Krohn, Fullerton; and Marshall L. Hazzard, Pasadena.

NEW BUICK "FOUR" LOOKS LIKE "SIX"

Wm. Goodrum, Anaheim Buick distributor, was in Los Angeles yesterday inspecting the new four-cylinder Buick. He noted with pleasure that the car is only nine inches shorter than the six-cylinder while the clutch, body lines and upholstering all identical with the larger model. It develops 50 h. p., and has 31x4 cord tires.

"In fact," says Goodrum, "you have to look it over very closely to determine that it is not the six."

Goodrum expects to have one of the new models, which is attracting so many attention with motorists just now, on display within a few days.

NOW SUPERVISOR OF SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

Under a new state law, W. C. Roberts has been appointed supervisor of attendance for the schools of Orange-co.

Roberts is to carry on county truancy work just as he has during the past year. A year ago, he was appointed by the board of supervisors as county school attendance officer. Through his activities, the attendance in some of the schools of the county was bigger and steadier than ever before, and consequently the amount of money received from the state, based on average daily attendance, was greater than ever before for those districts.

Probably there was not a school district in the county that did not benefit materially through the work of the truancy officer.

The last legislature passed a bill, which became law July 30, under which the attendance officer passed from the control of the board of supervisors to the control of the county school superintendent and county board of education. Under that law, County School Superintendent R. P. Mitchell appointed Roberts, and, under the law, the board of education fixed Roberts' salary at $2250 a year.

Strikes and Spares

Since the announcement the new City League would get under way the first of next month, there has been a noticeable stirring and mumbling among some of the members of the old bowlers home. They should read that notice over carefully and note where it says this year's league is going to be faster than ever.

Schneider's Market team, in a hurry to be first to sign up for the league, might be putting more thot to being first in the percentage column. Wearing the Schneider's colors will be J. B. Konz, the luckiest bowler that ever came out of Portland. Milt Varner will be captain. It is understood he will also bowl altho he wasn't signed for that. Konz merely seeking a little jazz to balance the butchers, Oscar and Walter Schneider, and Jack Schaffer.

Bert Myres and Shorty O'Donnell have new balls. They are ready to take on most anybody, knowing they have good alibis—not used to the ball, you know.

HUNT FOR LOOT IN L. A. PROVES FUTILE

Los Angeles police today stood baffled in their attempt to locate a large amount of loot, which was said to be buried in a Hollywood orange orchard, and directors for the finding of which were asserted to have been found on Louis A. d-Angoise, 25, dapper Frenchman held for alleged passing of no fund checks, who claims his fiance, lives in Santa Ana.

When d-Angoise was arrested for writing alleged worthless checks he was searched and plans for the escape of a convicted highwayman now serving time in the Los Angeles jail were said to have been found on him besides a map telling where a large sum of bonds and other negotiable securities could be found.

D-Angoise blamed his first downfall on his attempt to purchase a ring for a fiance whom he claims was formerly a French motion picture actress and now lives in Santa Ana.
