BISHOP SAYS RUIN FACES EUROPE

Nuelsen Tells What Anaheim's $30,000 Gift Did for Starving Children

That hatred between nations in Europe is more intense, that suffering and misery more acute, and that the outlook for Europe and the world is blacker than ever before, was the declaration made last night at the local German Methodist church by Bishop J. L. Nuelsen in a lecture on the conditions in Europe throughout the Central Empires. The bishop's lecture was alternately in German and English.

He stated that if anyone had asked him a year ago whether or not Germany would go bankrupt, he would have answered, "No."

Now he would be forced to answer "It is possible; and if Germany goes bankrupt, no doubt the remainder of Europe will do so also, which would lead to general chaos and anarchy thruout the continent."

Bishop Nuelsen has just returned from Germany, having been in the Central Empires, France and Switzerland since shortly after the signing of the armistice.

He told of the effort that has been made to feed the people, especially the starving children, saying that although English Quakers were the first to get permission to take food across the border following the signing of the Armistice, American Methodists were actually the first to get a carload of foodstuffs across. American Methodists were also the first to get a carload of foodstuffs into starving Petrograd, having been successful in doing this only a few days ago.

He told of the establishment of baby hospitals and children's relief homes, one of which is called "Anaheim Baby Home," because of the fact that Anaheim people gave $20,000 towards its establishment. This home is in the Tannen mountains. He stated a French woman recently said: "We don't know any enemy babies, we only know hungry babies."

One hundred and thirty thousand children have been cared for in this relief work in Germany and Austria, since it was started, and more foodstuffs and more clothing is needed, and must be had in the future than in the past, else conditions are going to be awfully bad. Thousands of children have literally died from lack of nourishment.

The Central Empires, especially Germany, are so burdened down with taxation that it is almost impossible to live even when employment can be obtained. The nations of Europe are paying more for standing armies than before the war, and all of them are standing at swords' points, and there is no telling when the awful volcano of war may break into eruption afresh.

He said that the stationing of "colored" troops from Morocco in Germany for which the German cities have to maintain homes and barracks, is causing a deep-set hatred against the French such as was never experienced by the Germans before. And the high taxes necessary for the payment of this indemnity in making the German people ask themselves, "What is the use?" Gradually a spirit of depression is taking possession of the people, so much so that any chinking may tremble at the possible results. Europe is financially ruined. If America does not help, then Europe is ruined.

He told of obtaining cotton in Texas for making clothing in Germany and how the German government will admit all such shipments made by the American Methodists free of duty. He urged that the people save their old clothing, silks, ribbons, for the Methodist work in the Central Empires, and contribute dried figs and other dried fruits of all kinds for foodstuffs. The making up of these things help to give the unemployed work to do. He told why the employment situation in this country and in England is made more acute. He said, "Some of these '100 per cent Americans'" are taking everything into Europe, manufacturing it there, and bringing the goods back without leaving so much as a thread behind, just because they can get labor over there cheaper than over here.

"Germany is working hard, but is burdened down with taxation until she is unable to get anywhere," he said. "But out of it all, there is a determination among the righteous leaders to build up a generation on the principles of Christian righteousness, and Christian holiness. Surely God has a hand in it all, and will bring it all out right in the end."

The church was crowded to its fullest capacity to hear him.

"Masher" Will Mash Spuds for 30 Days

Juan Fernandez was arraigned before Judge Howard this afternoon on the charge of being a "masher." The judge sent him to the county jail at Santa Ana to "mash" potatoes for the next 30 days.

E. Jones forfeited a bail of $10 on the charge of being drunk.

EXTENDED ILLNESS RESULTS IN DEATH

After an illness extending over two years, Mrs. Emma Haas, wife of Chris. Haas, passed away last night at 8 o'clock at her home on East Broadway. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Backs & Terry undertaking parlors, Rev. Schmelzer officiating.

Mrs. Haas was born in Germany, March 12, 1850, and came to this country, stopping at Davenport, Iowa, in 1868. In 1883 she made Nebraska her home, coming to California three years ago. Surviving are her husband, Chris Haas, a son, Charles, in South Dakota and an adopted daughter, Emily, who resides here. She was a member of Zion Lutheran church, and until illness prevented, was a very active worker.

HUNT SENDER OF POISON CANDY BOX

CHICAGO, Oct. 20. — Postoffice inspectors and police continued today their efforts to trace the sender of poisoned candy that endangered the lives of six nurses at the West End hospital. All of the victims today have virtually recovered.

Benjamin and William Zimmerman, admitted rivals for the hand of Miss Helen Rosenfeld, the nurse to whom the candy was sent, were held by the police for further questioning.

ATTEND SAFETY FIRST MEETING

Miss Norma Meckes of the Anaheim office of the Auto Club of So. Calif. and the Misses Walker and Vance of the Fullerton office of the club will attend the meeting of the Safety Department of the club in Los Angeles tonight. This is a new department and, as its name implies, is devoted to increasing the safety of cars on the highways.

JAPS WILL CONTINUE WARSHIP BUILDING

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.— Japan will complete the warships now being built for Nippon, in spite of the Washington disarmament conference, Vice Admiral H. Kato, Japanese delegate to the parley, declared in journeying to Washington today, voluntarily asserted before leaving this city.

STEALS POUCH IN DOWNTOWN HOLDUP

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—A mail pouch believed to contain valuables, was stolen from a mail collector at Sixth and Spring streets today by an unidentified man who speeded away in an automobile after the robbery. The mail man was taking mail from a box at the street intersection when the bandit snatched his pouch from him.

BEAUTY CAUSE OF MILLION-DOLLAR SUIT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. — Miss Lillian Hendrick, pretty Reno divorcee, who is made the defendant in a $1,000,000 suit by Mrs. Dorothy Van Dusen of Burlington, Vt., refused to discuss the case today, but her mother was emphatic in the assertion that her daughter's enthralling beauty was responsible for all.

LIGHTNING DESTROYS PEAK LOOKOUT POLE

DINUBA, Cal., Oct. 20.— The flag pole at the Peak Lookout station near here is no more. Lightning struck the pole and completely demolished it, according to reports from the station. The Lookout cabin, protected by lightning rods, was undamaged by the storm.

PROPOSE COUNCILS OF PARENTS IN ENGLAND

LONDON, Oct. 20.—A council of parents in every town, whose one object would be to look after the welfare of the people, is the desire of Mrs. Knights-Bruce, widow of the late bishop of that name.

3RD. THEFT IN SIX WEEKS

The fingerprint expert and deputies from the sheriff's office today were investigating the theft of $125 of carpenter's tools from the Conkle home being erected in the Park View tract.

Four tool boxes belonging to the [illegible] Baiten, L. E. Perry, E. L. Calkins and Wayne Amack, employed by Contractor U. S. Amack, were burglarized. The boxes were inside the house, part of them locked in a closet. All were dragged outside the house and pried open. Tools taken included bits, planers, screw drivers, chisels, etc.

This is the third similar robbery experienced by this crew in six weeks.

The finger print expert was reported to have little on which to continue the investigation.

DEATH TALE RETOLD BY WITNESS

Witnesses Recount Incidents of Oilman's Murder by Mrs. Mary Campbell

Cross-examination of the first witness in the trial of Mary Campbell, charged with murder of her husband, Halbod Gilman, was completed this morning and two more placed on the stand.

The first witness was Mrs. Alice E. Carson, who began her testimony late yesterday. The other two witnesses to testify this morning were Miss Shirley Chrysler, 13, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Angelina Thierault, of Tustin.

Late today the defense was to be permitted to introduce the testimony of Harry Morgan, ex-mayor of Taft, and Dr. Abbott Allen, old time acquaintance of the defendant.

All three of the state's witnesses gave vivid accounts of the shooting.

"My God! She got me!"

Jess V. Campbell stood in the doorway of the tent house occupied by Mrs. Carson at Halbod Beach late in the afternoon of July 22 and blood dripped from his arm. He staggered.

Mrs. Carson, telling her version of the tragedy said on the stand:

"I helped him and he lay on the bed. I turned to go out for a doctor, and there stood Mrs. Campbell in the doorway. A revolver was in her hand. She pointed it at me. I backed to the end of the tent. Then Mrs. Campbell leaned over the foot of the bed until the muzzle of the pistol was within two feet from her husband's left side, and screamed:

"'You'll leave me, will you? The man I love will never leave me!' Then she fired and Campbell winced as the shot struck."

Mrs. Campbell, sitting with Attorneys Guy Eddie and Howard J. Fish, closed her eyes and swayed in her chair. Her sister, Mrs. David M. Garvey, put her arms around the smaller woman and comforted her. Mrs. Carson continued:

"Campbell arose from the bed and staggered toward his wife. I heard him say:

"'Don't do that, honey. Please don't do that, honey!'

"There were two more shots. One went through the wall, and the other through the roof of the tent.

"Campbell and Mrs. Campbell were grappling in the doorway.

"I managed to wrest the gun from Mrs. Campbell's hand.

"Then, some way, I got out of the door and ran for a telephone. I was too excited to get a doctor. When I came back I saw them on the doorstep of their own home. I went over there.

"I heard Campbell say, 'I didn't deserve this,' and Mrs. Campbell answered, 'Oh, yes you did.' She seemed very calm, very angry.

"The doctor came. I asked him whether there was any hope. He shook his head. Mrs. Campbell broke in:

"'Why, I aimed straight for his heart.'"

She started to say something more, but a woman standing there put a towel over her mouth."

Mrs. Carson said she retrieved the gun after she had kicked it from Mrs. Campbell's hand, and later made a written memorandum of its number. She identified the pistol when Deputy District Attorney C. N. Morley introduced it as an exhibit for the State. It is a Colt's automatic, 38-caliber, square and almost new.

Nine men and three women will decide Mrs. Campbell's case.

Officials now predict the trial will extend into next week. The State plans to call a total of 12 witnesses and the defense is said to have between 20 and 30, in prospect.

These, six the members of the jury:: E. J. Parish, rancher, near Santa Ana; A. V. Vibel, retired, Santa Ana; Miss Minnie C. Childs, Tustin; G. P. Bird, retired, Santa Ana; Gus. A. Straw, rancher, Trabuco Canyon; Clinton Imes, roofing contractor, Santa Ana; Fred. L. Hunniston, rancher, Santa Ana; Mrs. Mary J. Morey, housewife, Orange; Mrs. Agnes E. Carroll, orchardist, Culver's Corners; A. B. Tiffany, retired, Orange; Walter Lehy, orchardist, Tustin; Joel Proctor, retired, Huntington Beach.

BRIDE WINS 14 CHILDREN

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 20.— C. B. Hecke, 58, eloped with Miss Emma Long, 33.

"This is my third marriage," he announced. "I have 14 children and being around them so much keeps me feeling young," she admitted in return.

54 STOCK YARDS UNDER SCRUTINY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.— Fifty-four stockyards throughout the country today were brought under strict federal supervision by an order of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace. As the result of an investigation the secretary held that these yards came within the provisions of the packer control law, recently passed by congress.

Furnish Recreation For Standard Oilmen

There'll be no more gloomy days around the Kraemer lease, at least as far as the employes are concerned. The Standard Oil Co. has just completed a recreation hall for the men, and has equipped it with 101 articles of amusement and entertainment.

One of the features of the new hall is the Kurtzmann baby grand piano which was a gift to the hall from Saul Kraemer and his family. The Kurtzmann is a very expensive piano and from reports received the men have taken to the new "hangout" like a duck to water. The piano was selected by the daughters of Mr. Kraemer.

Plenty of reading material will be on hand to keep the men up-to-date on all movements of the world, and will be renewed as often as the periodicals used are published. It was also stated there would probably be a permanent library established in the hall.

UNION MEN HEAR HARDING'S PLANS

CHICAGO, Oct. 20—Chiefs of the powerful railroad brotherhoods, which have called a strike for Oct. 30, came to Chicago to hear President Harding's peace plans.

The "Big Five," whose 500,000 members carry strike orders in their pockets, were summoned here from Cleveland, where they were holding a war council, to appear before the United States labor board.

Out of the conference, it is believed, will come a truce in the fight between workers and executives and this will be followed closely by permanent peace.

The members of the railroad labor board had certain definite proposals to present to the brotherhood chiefs when they met at 2 p. m. These proposals were whipped into shape by all the board members upon the return of the public group from Washington, where conferences with President Harding and administration leaders were held.

Brotherhood chiefs only agreed to the conferences after railroad board members promised there would be no publicity about the proceedings.

So far as could be ascertained, no strike order would be issued if the railroads promise not to insist on the 10 per cent wage cut recently demanded and that freight rates be reduced immediately.

SUES SON IN FIGHT OVER WIFE'S BODY

LO SANGELES, Oct. 20.— Father and son met today in a court battle for possession of the body of Mrs. Margaret Ann Dalton, wife of the plaintiff and mother of the defendant.

The alleged husband and father, H. H. Dalton, 84, won the initial process when he obtained a temporary restraining order preventing the son from having the body buried.

Funeral services had been set for 10:30 this morning, at the chapel of the Turner & Orena company at Pasadena, and these were held, but the body was then placed in the mortuary to await the final decision of the court.

YOUTH HURT IN GUNFIGHT IS DEAD

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—One of two Mexicans wounded in a battle with two Whittier youths, with whom the Mexicans were said to have had a quarrel over the right of way in a road, died at the county hospital this morning.

As a result of the man's death, it was said that a murder charge may be filed against the Whittier youths who were held on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

DEATH OF ONE WIFE CAUSE OF SUICIDE

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—Grieving over the death of one of his wives, Woo Kee, 38, Chinese merchant of 414½ Apablasa-st, ended his life early today in his room by firing a shot into his head.

For more than three years the oriental had gone to a cemetery and frequently slept on the grave of his wife, who died in 1917, relatives of the merchant told Detectives Davis and Grey of the police first squadron. They also said that the man had another wife in China.

HARDING RETURNS FROM SPEAKING TRIP

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—President Harding and four members of his cabinet returned from Virginia where the President spoke yesterday at Yorktown and Williamsburg. The Mayflower dropped anchor at the navy yard at 9:20 o'clock. The President went directly to the White House.

BAR ASSOCIATION IN MISSION CITY

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—Delegates from all parts of the state gathered today in Riverside to attend the twelfth annual convention of the California Bar Ass'n, which was to open this afternoon with an address by President H. C. Wyckoff of Watsonville. The remainder of the opening session was to be taken up with committee reports.

"OTHER BABY" NAMED

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Mrs. Hanna Swart, seeking divorce, claims here husband walked past her house every Sunday afternoon with an alleged correspondent, rolling a baby carriage.

STEAL MOTOR FROM A. H. SITTON GARAGE

Knob Twisted From Safe But Entrance Was Not Gained; Cash Register Overlooked

The A. H. Sitton garage in Fullerton was ransacked last night, the knob on the safe twisted off and an Overland auto belonging to S. D. Baker stolen, Sitton reported to Fullerton police today.

Sitton was unable to give the license number of the car.

It is not known how entrance was gained. It is probable the thief or thieves hid inside before closing time.

The rear door was opened for removal of the car.

Entrance to the safe was not effected altho it was left in such condition that it was almost impossible for anyone else to open it.

The cash drawer, containing $3 or $4, was not molested.

The police have been unable to obtain any clues as to who committed the crime nor as to the present whereabouts of the car.

Nothing has been missed from the garage except the auto.

SOME OF YANKS ON RHINE WILL RETURN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Of the 13,500 American troops in the army of occupation in Germany, 6500 will be immediately returned to the U. S., officials here today believed. This step will be taken as a result of progress made in the treaty ratification work.

URGES MORE BUILDING

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Building activity was recommended to aid unemployed in the U. S. by I. B. Hiett, president of National Ass'n of Real Estate dealers, in a bulletin broadcasted to realtors today.

U. S. LEGATION STONED; GREAT TERRORIST PLOT

PARIS, Oct. 20.—International anarchists today followed the attempt to bomb Ambassador Herrick yesterday by starting a reign of terror against American officials in many parts of the world. A mob of 1000 syndicalists marched upon the American consulate at Brest, bombarded the building with stones, smashed the windows and did other damage.

The members of the mob carried red flags and sang the "Internationale." They defied the police sent to disperse them and attempted to seize the American flag, but finally retreated after a hot fight with the authorities.

At Brussels the American embassy was under close guard today, following an effort by a mob of 200 to destroy the building.

In Rome Italian troops and police are guarding the American embassy and a number of consulates to prevent threatened violence by communist mobs.

Dispatches from Rio De Janerio, Brazil, state that the international anarchistic plot against America has spread there, and that the Brazilian communists have demanded that the press of Brazil protest against the sentence of death passed upon the anarchists Sacco and Vanzetti, at Dedham, Mass., U. S. A.

Many prominent Americans in Paris have received threatening letters, and sing the "Internationale."

Paris was in uproar today as the result of the anarchist plot against America and Americans.

The attempted assassination led to uproarious scenes and indescribable tumult in the French chamber of deputies today. Deputy Mandell, lieutenant of former Premier Clemenceau, in a fiery speech attacked the police and the department of justice for permitting the outrage to occur. He also made a bitter attack on the communists and the Socialist senator, Escoffier, leaped at him and struck him in the face.

PUSH CONVENTION PLANS

What promises to be the largest convention and gathering ever held in Anaheim will occur when the So. Calif. Sunday school convention convenes here on Nov. 15, 16, at the Methodist White Temple. Preparations for the event are rapidly pushing ahead.

Dr. James Allen Geissinger is directing the plans, assisted by numerous committees.

Although primarily a southland affair, the convention also draws from the entire states of Arizona and New Mexico, and aside from the good work of the convention the advertising benefit to be received by Anaheim will be of wonderful value.

The C. of C. is busy preparing Booklets, a letter of welcome and invitations which will be sent to more than 1,500 pastors and S. S. superintendents thruout the state of Arizona.

A call has been issued to the citizens of Anaheim to cooperate with convention officials in caring for the delegates, who will be entertained on the Harvard plan. Sleeping accommodations will be needed Tuesday and Wednesday nights, Nov. 8 and 9, and breakfasts on Wednesday and Thursday mornings.

There has already been a good response from persons not connected with the convention, according to Harry Jayne, of the entertainment committee. More than 600 will have to be cared for on the above mentioned plan.

A call has also been sent out to auto owners to take part in the parade over the entire county to start from the temple at 2 p. m. Thursday, Nov. 10. More than 100 cars will be needed.

Some of the features of the convention are: Evening, Nov. 8, pageant, "Rights of the Child," White Temple; second day, house to house canvass of the 15,000 people in Anaheim and vicinity; third day, auto parade thru Orange-co., the 56 churches of the county and the delegates participating.

In the departmental conference each afternoon, 60 prominent speakers will participate. The theme of the convention is "Character Building in the Home, Church, Sunday School, Public School and Community."

During the convention the Anaheim Walnut Growers Assn. will give each delegate a souvenir bag of locally grown English walnuts.

There is no doubt that the people of Anaheim realize the significance of the occasion and will get together and send the delegates back to their homes cities as boosters for Anaheim. The delegates will be from widely separated districts and a good word from them to their townspeople about Anaheim will be equivalent to many dollars spent in paid advertising.

FIFTH CLASS BIG BENEFIT

"Would Anaheim be benefitted by applying for recognition as a city of the fifth class?" was the question put to a score of merchants today, and while few have had time to make a diligent study of the benefits to be derived from the change, most of them seem to believe that many advantages lie in the other classification.

"Off-hand I would say that boosting Anaheim into the city of the fifth class would be one of the best steps we could take," declared J. A. Sebastian, of Sebastian Bros. store. "Of course, I haven't given the subject a great deal of thot, but from what I have heard of it, I believe that a majority will favor it. That a majority of the city officials would be elected rather than appointed seems to me to be a somewhat fairer way of handling those positions."

A majority of merchants are gradually growing closer to the idea and indications are that there will be a demand made for the move.

That there are more benefits to be derived from the move than is shown on the surface was the belief expressed today by one merchant, and altho he hadn't taken the movement under deep consideration, he declared the fact that there was a fifth classification allowed under our laws indicates there must be some advantage in being a grade higher.

William Webb, jr., well-known local attorney declared that altho he had not made a study of the difference between the two classes, he believed the fifth class grade would be worth a change.

There is little expense, it was pointed out, to make the change, the entire proceedings being accomplished within a comparatively short time.

CAR SHORTAGE INCREASES

The local packing houses today reported an increased shortage of cars to ship oranges. The Anaheim Citrus Fruits Ass'n, reported that they had no more cars on and, this morning,

PROBE ILLNESS OF 100 BOYS IN SCHOOL

ST. CHARLES, Ill., Oct. 20.— Officials today sought to learn the cause of the sudden illness that affected 100 of the 850 inmates of the state school for boys here after the noon dinner on Tuesday. Dr. A. L. Mann, Elgin city physician, made tests of a beef stew which had been served at the dinner.

LARGELY ATTENDED EPISCOPAL MEETING

There was a largely attended mass meeting of the Episcopalians of Orange-co. last night at St. Michael's Parish house on No. Philadelphia-st. in the interest of the nation-wide campaign of the church, which is now in its tird year.

There was a delegation from Los Angeles which consisted of Rev. Phillip A. Easeley, Rev. Thomas Particulier of Orville and E. H. Lee, who came down to address the meeting.

The residents of Santa Ana, and Orange were also present. Bishop Stephens, who was to have been present, was unable to attend because of a previous appointment. The meeting aroused great enthusiasm, particularly in the interest of missionary development.

PRETTY FURS DO NOT ALWAYS COUNT

KIRKSVILLE, Mo., Oct. 20.—It looked like a cat. But it wasn't. The night was balmy and without breeze as the beautiful little creature moseyed into the baggage room here. Sheriff Waddill "plunked" a couple of bullets into the "critter." A traveling man who nearly fainted at the shots, learned that the animal was a skunk.

SHIP HALF WALNUT CROP THRU CANAL

The Anaheim Walnut Growers Association is sending six carlods of walnuts to eastern markets via San Pedro and the Panama Canal, George Ross, secretary and general manager stated this morning. He said that nearly half the crop would be shipped east by water.

'FATTY' FACES U. S. DRY COURT TODAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Roscoe Arbuckle, comedian, was scheduled to be called into federal court here today to answer to the charge against him of violating the prohibition law.

The charge was an outgrowth of the Labor day party which preceded the death of Virginia Rappe and led to charges of manslaughter against the actor. He is alleged to have served liquor to guests on Labor day. It was expected a further continuance of the case would be asked today, altho it was not certain that further delay could be secured.

WELLMANS BUILD SEVEN-ROOM HOUSE

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wellman have moved their house from their 10-acre ranch at the southwest corner of Placentia-ave. and E. Center-st. across Center-st. to a six-acre ranch which they have recently added to Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Snyder, of San Diego.

They will start the construction shortly of a modern seven-room plastered house on the site from which the old house was removed.

FALLS DOWN STAIRS AND FRACTURES RIB

Mrs. Frank Bungay, 214 So. Melrose-st., walked into an open stairway at her home last evening and suffered the fracture of a rib. Her husband was at his garage in Placentia at the time and only her small son was with her at the time. George, six, revived her by throwing water upon her and assisted her up the steps while a younger son called neighbors.

ADVERTISING MAN FINED FOR DRINKING

George Padien, advertising manager of the Anaheim Herald, and community builder, was fined $25 by Judge Howard this morning when he pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication.

Frank Wilson was also charged with a similar offense but pleaded not guilty and will be given trial.

Old Wooden Home Replaced by Modern

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The old wooden Masonic home at Wallingford, Conn., has been replaced by a fireproof building at a cost of $225,000. A movement has been started in Nova Scotia to raise an endowment fund for the erection of a home for aged members of the order, their wives and widows.

PATIENTS AT HOSPITAL

Mrs. R. C. Umphress of Garden Grove, A. Fernand of Anaheim, and Mrs. John Fells of Anaheim were admitted as patients at the Anaheim sanitarium yesterday afternoon and evening.

DAILY GREETINGS TO OUR READERS

Oh, what, without our youth,
Would love be?—what would youth be without love?
Youth lends it joy and sweetness,
Vigor, truth,
Heart, soul, and all that seems as it from above.
—Byron.

That conference on limitation of armaments, be it remembered, is not a masquerade party.

When Marshall Foch comes, Miss Columbia might unbend her dignity somewhat and kiss him on both cheeks.

It is going to be hard on some of the boys to live from the end of the world's series to the opening of the regular baseball season next spring.

It seems well assured that this country is not in peril of a coal famine this winter. Which is something good in the general situation to ponder.

If they have, on the moon, vegetable gardens which come up, fruit and then pass away, all within one lunar day, equal to two terrestrial weeks, that certainly is outwitting the cutworms and potato-bugs. These garden pests just about get started to gather momentum in two weeks.

America's course in the World War convinced all mankind that this country's aloofness heretofore in foreign affairs did not arise from cowardice or lack of strength. The whole world marveled at the power of the Nation, once the leashes of repression were broken.

There was a time here in the West when a man, growing desperate and bent upon committing suicide, accomplished his purpose by stealing a horse, the infuriated posse with a lively rope doing the rest. But nowadays the would-be suicide might reach the same goal by stealing an auto and speeding around sharp curves.

BASEBALL INTEREST IS HOLDING WELL

Organized baseball has held interest, well, through the country, this year. The game has come back into popular favor after the temporary lull given it by revelations of crookedness among certain players in the major leagues and in the Pacific coast league.

It was realized by friends of this superb sport that it could not hold the confidence and the patronage of the public unless the corruption was winnowed out of it. Consequently, there was a drastic housecleaning, and baseball this year started anew with honesty and clean playing in evidence all around. The people have responded to this sincere attempt to make the game clean and square.

Throwing dishonest players overboard and breaking up gambling in baseball parks have been effectual in restoring the game to the favor and interest of the public.

MAKE NO ENGAGEMENTS THAT ENTANGLE

Report to the London Times by its special correspondent in Paris to the effect that some of the French publicists are proposing that France should, in the conference on limitation of armaments, tender its support to the U. S. in the solving of Pacific problems in return for the American support for France over problems in Europe.

This is of deep interest on this side of the Atlantic. Such a proposal may be or may not be made in the conference.

It is to be hoped that it will not be made in this form. This savors too much of trading sordidly upon the historic friendship between the U. S. and France. Far better would it be for France to stand by the U. S. in these things, not to drive a bargain, but because the attitude of the U. S. is righteous and suitable.

Wanted: Girl Scout Leaders

MRS. HERBERT HOOVER of the Executive Board of the Girl Scouts.

WHERE is the sturdy young war worker chafing now because of inactivity? Where is her younger sister, bemoaning the fate that let her come of age just too late to find anything of interest to do? Where is the college girl who has not taken up a career? Where is the professional woman who has a few hours to spare?

Mrs. Herbert Hoover, of the Executive Board of the Girl Scouts, wants to know, for she has a need for thousands of such young women.

Mrs. Hoover did much real Scouting in the West in days long before the idea of gathering young Scouts together in any sort of organization had been dreamed of in this country. She has been interested in the work of the Girl Scout movement ever since its beginning and now she is participating in the practical side of the Girl Scout organization.

In an interview given out at National Headquarters, 189 Lexington Avenue, New York, recently, Mrs. Hoover said:

"A good Scout is a good woman more than half made. But the Girl Scouts need competent leaders, without which they are exactly like so many little children paddling alone in a pool, with no swimmer for them to imitate and with no one to coach from the bank.

"The Girl Scouts are knocking on the post at the door of the Scout test more rapidly than they can be supplied with Captains. And we want as a Scout leader the girl who, if she knew what Scouting is, would wish that she might have had the opportunity to follow it ten years ago; and who would want to make up for what she missed by helping many younger girls to have it today.

"Where are these attractive, jolly, high-minded girls and women over 21 who will devote some hours a week to their little sisters and neighbors? Here is a service for such a girl. It will mean much for the promotion of her own physical well-being, much in the development of her sense of responsibility, much for the fine homely virtues; and it will mean unmeasured joy in the devotion that will be hers from loyal, appreciative followers."

There are summer training camps for Scout leaders in various parts of the country and this year greater strength than ever will be laid on the training of Girl Scout Captains. Classes will be held at Girl Scout Headquarters in many of the larger cities of the country and the process of recruiting is now going on.

OBSERVE MAGNA CHARTA DAY, PROPOSED

Proposal that Magna Charta Day be observed each recurring fifteenth of June in all English-speaking countries, is put forward by the Magna Charta Assn. It is not designed to make that day a holiday. But it is the purpose to stimulate interest in the Great Charter and to bring about discussions of its provisions, principles and influences by the press, the platform and the pulpit.

This project is deserving of earnest attention in this country as well as in the British dominions. For civil and religious liberties in America are inherited from the Great Charter which King John was compelled to sign at historic Runnymede. It would be well to read this momentous document on each succeeding anniversary, to become conversant with the fundamentals of modern liberties in all lands where the English tongue is spoken.

PLAN BIG PARADE ON ARMISTICE DAY

With reverence, with full recognition of the significance of the day, with solemnity and with gratitude to the memory of the hero dead, Orange-co. will join with the nation in observance of Armistice day, November 11.

The presence of Gov. W. D. Stephens as the principal speaker of the day will add significance, and the program planned by Santa Ana Post No. 131, American Legion, is extensive. It is the plan of the Legion officials to make the celebration complete and to establish a precedent which in future years may well be followed.

At noon there will be a cessation of business while Orange-co., uniting with the nation, with heads bowed in grateful recognition of the deeds of valor and sacrifices made by the soldier heroes, pay mighty and solemn tribute to the unknown dead, whose lives were given to maintain for the nation the honor so highly regarded.

Commercialism will not be tolerated in the Armistice day parade, according to announcement of the executive committee.

SPEEDERS MAY GET JAIL SENTENCES

Those motorists who, for love of exhilaration, excitement and the chance of being arrested and paying a fine, take to speeding in Los Angeles, are on the way to a severe legal jolt. The newly-created Safety Bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California recommends to the courts of Los Angeles that jail sentences be imposed for speeding, for driving to the left of a street car, for driving while intoxicated, or for driving past a street car which is loading or unloading passengers where there is no properly established safety zone. An hour in jail for every mile the motorist exceeds the speed limit is suggested, with the imprisonment doubled or trebled should the offense be repeated. It is also recommended that the courts of Los Angeles adopt uniform penalties and methods of treating traffic violators.

Los Angeles just must do something strenuous to curb the reckless driver. Fines are unavailing. They but add zest to the pastime of speeding. But languishing in jail—that's different. Let Los Angeles judges and justices of the peace give these daredevils the kind of treatment Justice Cox, of Santa Ana, ladies out, and there will be marked improvement in traffic conditions in the big city muy pronto.

EDWARD HOREMANS, Belgian billiard champion, defeated Koji Yamada, Japanese star, in their match, which ended in New York last night. The match was at 18.2 balk line billiards, the score ended 400 to 3.

Babe Ruth hit another homer yesterday in the game between his All-Stars and the Warren Pa. Independents, winning by a score of 5 to 2.

Garry Herrman, owner of the Boston Red Sox, has refused to sell the club franchise to George M. Cohan, famous comedian, according to an announcement from the east today. Cohan has been trying to break into big league ball for several years.

Geo. Kennedy, former lightweight wrestling champion, died yesterday at Montreal.

Ralph Smith, who will box in one end of the main event at the Los Angeles L. A. C.'s monthly show tonight, is 21 years old, weighs 243 pounds, stands 6 feet 7 inches tall, and is said to still be growing. There is not a ready made boxing shoe in America that will fit the boxer. Eight other good bouts are lined up for tonight.

New York Letter

Personally, we're delighted with the census figures. They prove we're in style. We work. So does 48 per cent of Manhattan Island, and 48 per cent of Greater New York. (Of course that doesn't include wives and mothers who just stay at home and cook and sew and things like that. No one considers that they work.) It means that 48 per cent of the people are out hoofing it into the cold world to earn a living or stay at home with a typewriter or paint brush and make something to sell outside. There are 2,531,637 of us here all on the job. When you see as at theatres and restaurants, you can be sure that most of us have worked hard for the rare lobster. And then when you do consider street car conservice and the children, you realize that very little loafing is done around New York.

The story about the shoe-maker's children going shoeless was always sad enough. But when the law steps in and prevents a tailor from pressing his own clothes, it is almost tragic. Benjamin Minken lives in the rear of his store at 113 Buffalo-ave, Brooklyn. Therefore when he prepared to be all dressed up for church, it was the natural thing for him to carry his own trousers into the front room on Sunday morning and use his good, heavy iron on them. He was arrested for impairing the peace of the day, because it was in his tailor shop that he was doing the work. "Your honor," urged Mr. Minken, "I am so busy pressing other people's clothes six days in the week, that I can't get to my own until Sunday. I didn't know it was against the law for a man to do that. My wife might darn her own stockings on Sunday, 'mightn't she?" Magistrate Dooley agreed with him that a law against that would be too blue, indeed.

The most sensitive financial institution in the country hardly feels currents of prosperity and money tightness more quickly than do philanthropical institutions. That is the cheering thing about the reports of the Y. W. C. A. finance workers who are here in conference from all over the country. They have brot a definite optimism regarding the financial pick-up for which we've all been peering so eagerly into the future. The Y. W., along with other civic and charitable associations, has felt the recent money tightness in its heart as well as its pocketbook. Girls whose jobs just vanished into the general sea of retrenchment and girls who never had jobs but must get them now because of their fathers and brothers and husbands being out of work have all been turning to the Y. W. for aid. The association is helping them to find positions as rapidly as possible and enabling many of them to live decently in the meantime. At the same time, it has been having greater difficulty in obtaining funds with which to carry on even as in normal times. The workers gathered here, however, who are mostly secretaries and chairmen of their local branches, are confident now that even though there will still be difficulties ahead, the way is beginning to brighten somewhat and the strain to lighten. The girls won't all find work right away, but there is a prospect of more money to help out in the meantime, the workers believe; and when that condition arrives, it is never very long before jobs develop, too.

Vassar Alumnae are displaying with pride the valued yellow telegram that came to them here at national headquarters the day that their salary endowment campaign opened. It is dated "The White House" and signed by Warren G. Harding, and it reads: "My sister, a former Vassar student, has called my attention to your salary endowment fund campaign and I must express my interest and hopes for its success. The assurance of adequate compensation to teachers is an important contribution to developments of our educational system, peculiarly necessary at this time."

One never gets too old to make matrimonial mistakes. Mrs. Rebecca Hay Rose, 73 years old, appeared before the supreme court justice the other day to ask an annulment of her marriage on the ground that her husband was lazy. She testified that she discovered this fault as soon as the ceremony had been performed. And one would almost think that even a husband would have the right to be lazy at 71. I've been all my life looking to that age just for that purpose!

We realize that we are the Mecca of the United States—at least we say we are—but we cannot help wondering how a pilgrim of 15 years walk all the way from Indiana to get here. To be perfectly frank, Charles Bjum came more to see his father than to explore our island. Charles had lived with a kind neighbor in Geneva, Indiana, ever since his mother died ten years ago. Then he decided that the only way for even a part of a family to live was together, so he started here to join his father and two sisters. He says that he didn't mind the walk and that by avoiding towns as much as possible he had good meals and kind words. "The country people are the ones that'll feed you," philosophized Charles. When he got here it was a trifle more confusing, but a policeman found him wandering on Fulton street and took him around to the society for the prevention of cruelty to children until his father could be located. Charles admits that not even the hospitality of the rural districts exceeded that.

HOLLOWE'EN IS INSPIRATION FOR DECORATIVE MOTIF

ENJOYING one of the prettiest parties of the Hallowe'en season, the ladies of the Orangethorpe club were guests yesterday afternoon of Mrs. H. J. Schulte, North Los Angeles-st. Yellow chrysanthemums and dahlias were the floral decorations, and evidence suitable for the Hallowe'en season were used for place cards, score cards and about the walls and small tables.

Five hundred occupied the time until luncheon was served, this being at the large table in the dining room. Covers were laid for sixteen, which included the membership and two substitutes, Mrs. B. D. Metcalf playing for Mrs. C. E. Smith, and Mrs. J. A. Schulte for Mrs. W. B. Farrell, who has been ill the past ten days. The members are the Mesdames R. J. McKee, J. W. Dickenson, C. S. Spencer, R. L. Lovering, Sophie Stock, Albert Hall, Ray Cleland, Georges Richardson, Len Witherill, Horace Skinner, Cecil James, E. S. Wents, C. J. Schulz and the hostess.

Prizes were awarded to Mrs. J. A. Schultz, first; Mrs. Sophie Stock, second; Mrs. Ray Harland, third and Mrs. Robert J. McKee, fourth.

PACKING HOUSE VISITORS

Visitors at the Anaheim Orange and Lemon Ass'n yesterday included: W. M. Law, Seattle, Wash., and Mrs. James Chauson, Muncie, Ind.

AMARATH TO MEET TOMORROW

The ladies of Liberty Court of Amaranth will meet this evening with Mrs. Gus. Miller, on East Orangethorpe-ave. The ladies will enjoy a social as well as busy time, planning for the bazaar which they will hold sometime next month. It is requested that all members who possibly can do so, be in attendance.

HANSEN SOCIAL TOMORROW NIGHT

The Hansen Community social and get-together program planned for Friday evening is completed and all who will attend are assured of one of the most pleasant evenings in some time. Everyone in Hansen community and all the friends are cordially invited.

MRS. PARRETT ILL

Mrs. W. B. Parrett has been confined to her bed the past ten days, suffering from the effects of the severe burns which she received last December. While standing close to a gas heater her clothing caught fire, burning her limbs severely. The wounds have not healed properly although everything was done at the time of the accident and at intervals since, which surgical skill knew, but with only fair success. Her many friends sincerely hope for her speedy improvement.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH ACTIVITIES

Several different departments of the Christian church are planning social events for the end of the week. This afternoon at the home of Mrs. N. P. Ballou, the Ladies' Aid of the Christian church held a session. The Loyal Women's class will hold their $1.00 social in the church tomorrow at seven, thirty to which all friends and any one interested may attend. A very interesting program is promised to those who will join. A silver offering will be taken at the door for those who do not take part in the program.

The Live Wire class of the church is inviting the public to the pie social on Saturday, which will be held on the lawn. They have arranged a program which will delight every listener. The big fun will start at 7:30.

LITTLE ART CLUB PARTY

The Little Art club, which is composed of a few ladies who love pictures and painting, and meet each week with Mrs. W. M. Criss, played a little joke on her yesterday afternoon, the inspiration being her 63rd birthday anniversary. Under some pretext, the ladies planned to meet with Mrs. Fred Prussell this week, on Wednesday, and when Mrs. Criss arrived she was happily reminded of the date by being presented with a beautiful decorative table vase.

The afternoon was spent over pictures, discussing studies for their winter's work and criticizing others. At four o'clock a two-course luncheon was served in the studio from artistically decorated table. Covers were laid for the honoree, Mrs. Oliver Hill, Mrs. Bert. Baxter, Mrs. Ben Lawrence and the hostess.

HIGH OFFICIAL INSTALLS

A large number of enthusiastic members of Knights of Columbus met at the K. C. hall last evening, to witness installation ceremonies for the local council for the coming year. District Deputy Homer L. Duffy, assisted by Grand Knight Lucas, both of Pomona, conducted the installation, the officers being placed as follows: Grand Knight, W. J. M. Heinz; Deputy Grand Knight, Paul Bock; Chancellor, C. J. Nenno; financial sec'y, A. D. Erickson; rec. sec'y, W. J. Stehley; treas., S. Kistler; lecturer, E. P. Brus; advocate, T. F. Shea; warden, J. M. Kluthe; inside guard, B. Heinz; outside guard, T. Nelz; trustees, L. A. Muckenthaler and J. Kirsch.

After installation rites the 100 members listened with deepest interest to rousing talks by Dist. Dep. Duffy, Grand Knight Lucas, Grand Knight Caldwell, Ontario, and Grand Knight Cordelly, Orange, Santa Ana. Plans were discussed for entering into the Armistice day celebration in Santa Ana, the local council and the Santa Ana council deciding to enter in the parade. A large delegation from Anaheim will attend the event.

About 40 visiting Knights were present, among them being Past Grand Knight Fugar, of Ontario; Past Grand Knight Cochem, of Santa Ana, two members from Kalispell, Montana, and one from Chicago. A large number from Santa Ana were in attendance. A substantial delegation from Anaheim council and Santa Ana council went through the meeting in Ontario Wednesday evening of this week.

SURPRISE PARTY APPROPRIATE WAY TO CELEBRATE DAY

ALTHOUGH we expect the largest theater crowds ever seen in Anaheim at our opening Saturday avenue. The occasion was her birthday anniversary and her guests were of the thoughtful kind, bringing along a two-course luncheon. The table was quickly spread and a beautiful birthday cake, daintily iced in pink and white, bearing the required number of burning candles, was one of the many gifts. It was given the point of vantage, the center of the table and later cut and served by the honoree, Mrs. Marschall.

Guests of the occasion were the Misses and Mesdames Dan Marschall, their children, Wanda and Danny Marschall; Leo Dargatz, son and daughter, Oliver and Opal Dargatz; Alex Eggert and children, Leonard, David and Edith; Jack Tenney, Mrs. Albert Brackman, Bert and Geraldine Brackman; Mrs. Roberts Dargatz, Marguerite, Roy and Ernest Dargatz; Mrs. Dora Dargatz, Miss Alma Dargatz, Miss Lydia Klemm, David and Arthur Dormies, Bert Dargatz and Harry Fox.

PIE SOCIAL SATURDAY NIGHT

The Live Wire class of the Christian church has a treat in store for the pie lovers of Anaheim. On Saturday evening a pie social will be held at the rear of the Christian church in the yard, and pies of all kinds will be for sale, either by the piece, or on the whole. Mrs. Warden, who was with the Boston cooking school for five years, is grand high official maker of these pies and is authority on the job. A taste of Mrs. Warden's pies convinces one of this fact, and the ones used Saturday night will be no exception. Mr. and Mrs. Warden and little daughter have resided in Anaheim for several months, and the Live Wire class considers itself fortunate in having Mrs. Warden for a member.

NOTICE TO RED CROSS

Please take notice that the annual meeting of the Anaheim Chapter of the American Red Cross will be held Oct. 26, 1921, at 8 p. m. at the American Legion hall (Fisher bldg.) for the election of five directors, consideration of and action upon reports, and transaction of such other business as may properly come before the Chapter. Each member of the chapter is earnestly urged to be present.—Eva H. Boyd, Sec'y.

EASTERNERS PLEASED WITH ANAHEIM

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Cleiwer, of Cherokee, Okla., were guests yesterday of Mr. and Mrs. Don Granada, of 714 Zeyn-st. Mr. Cleiwer is a banker in his home town and had been attending the bankers' convention in Los Angeles. The visitors were former townspeople of Mrs. Granada in Hillsboro, Kan. They were pleasantly surprised to find Anaheim so progressive a little city, and greatly admired its beautiful homes.

CLASSES CONSOLIDATED

Meeting with Mrs. L. Howe yesterday, the local Women and the Live Wire classes consolidated into one big class, uniting such the Women's Bible class of the Christian church. Mrs. McClelland will be the teacher and Mrs. Belshaw will be assistant teacher. The executive committee was chosen at yesterday's meeting and are: president, Mrs. Al. Morrigan; vice presidents, Mesdames King, Belshaw, Swindler and L. Howe; secretary, Mrs. James Baker; assistant secretary, Mrs. Cook of Fullerton; treasurer, Mrs. R. L. Bowen. An executive meeting has been planned for the near future but no date has been announced. After other important business transactions, the meeting was adjourned.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE SECTION FRIDAY

The regular monthly meeting of the Domestic Science section of Ebell club will meet tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. F. A. Backs, Sr., on North Claudina-st. All members are requested to attend and those who have donated material for aprons for the bazaar are asked to bring it to the meeting.

HOTEL VALENCIA GUESTS

Guests at Hotel Valencia yesterday included: J. H. Fitzpatrick, Pasadena; E. Harvey, Los Angeles; L. B. Powell, Los Angeles; V. O. Buckles, San Bernardino; I. H. Dupont, Los Angeles; D. B. Whiting, Los Angeles; F. C. Scott, Los Angeles; J. C. Waterburg, Los Angeles; J. C. Matthias, Los Angeles; L. A. Christopher, Riverside; E. P. Ingle, Arnulfo, Tex.; C. J. McClung, Pasadena; Frank A. Millff, San Francisco; S. A. Cheatham, Redlands; J. W. Baker, Los Angeles.

"MISS DIMPLES" HERE

It has started off with an interest and enthusiasm surprising to all members of the local order of Elks. "What has started off," did you say? Here is the answer—the Elks' show, "Dolly Dimples." Kitty Kean Miller, the directress, started rehearsals yesterday and from indications, 200 local persons will be included in the cast before the end of the week. The tiniest tot in Anaheim to the oldest Elk, and 200 students from the schools will be in this big affair. Indians, Yama-Yama girls, Italian troubadors, Greek dancers, cupids, in all 21 musical numbers and 12 big choruses. The affair will be one of the largest staged in Anaheim. The Elks' first show, and will no doubt be a real society event.

PARTY MARKS TWO EVENTS

A double event took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Leonard when the couple celebrated their Tin wedding anniversary and also the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Leonard. The affair took place in their pretty home in Fullerton. The rooms were artistically decorated for the occasion and a very appropriate entertainment was for the evening enjoyed. Light refreshments were served at the close of the evening. The guests present were relatives from Fullerton and Anaheim.

The Plain Dealer for Good Printing.

ANAHEIM GIRL IS GIVEN SHOWER FOR COMING EVENT

MISS LILLIE PAYSE was the honored guest at a delightful shower at the home of Mrs. R. M. Wyckoff in Santa Ana last evening. The honoree is soon to become the bride of Clifford Ranney of Santa Ana, and her approaching marriage was the inspiration for this happy gathering of her friends. All table decorations and flowers were carried out with Hallowe'en suggestions and the many pretty and useful gifts were in a big basket trimmed in Hallowe'en colors.

The remainder of the evening was passed in conversation, games and music. A delicious luncheon was served at its close and the guests departed showering the honoree with advice and wishes for the future. The guests enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Wychoff were Misses Alice Ranney and Mildred Ranney, Gladyse Dixon, Hazel Cleu, Wanda and Danny Dinon, W. Beach, W. D. Ranney, W. Wyckoff, all of Santa Ana; Mrs. E. Skinner of Montebello, and the honoree, Miss Lillie Payne.

LUNCHEON AND BRIDGE

The Wednesday Bridge club was very delightfully entertained yesterday at the home of Mrs. Jas. Jacobson. The color scheme was carried out in hallowe'en decorations, yellow dahlias being used as the predominating flower and color. The afternoon was started off with a delightful luncheon at 12:30. Prizes were awarded Mrs. Ford Clayes, first, and Mrs. D. Jessurum, second. The members yesterday were Mesdames J. A. Clayes, D. Jessurum, J. H. Garnett, Richards, president; Mrs. Chapman, vice president; Mrs. W. H. Houts, sec.-treas. The rooms were very prettily decorated in vari-colored dahlias. At the close of the afternoon, Mrs. Chapman served light refreshments. Mrs. B. F. Houts and Mrs. Wm. H. Houts and Mrs. J. Cook are the members from Anaheim.

METHODIST WHITE TEMPLE RALLY

At the Congregational rally held last evening in Methodist White Temple, Dr. J. A. Geissinger, pastor outlined the church program for the coming year, and his plans indicate a busy season. He announced a series of ten addresses on "Religious Education," which he will give on each Wednesday evening, after the Sunday school convention, in November. The rally was largely attended and informal discussion of arrangements for the convention came up later.

SPANISH DAY FOR ROUND TABLE

The meeting of the Placentia Round Table club yesterday afternoon was one of unusual interest, the topic of the principal address, "California History and Landmarks" by Mrs. Florence Godson Shoneman, of Los Angeles, being one of intense interest to all who remain in this country for any length of time. Mrs. Schoneman, the descendent of an old Spanish family, wore native costume and looked most fetching. She talked intimately on Spanish customs and home life in early days, and the Spanish atmosphere was continued by two solos, in Spanish, given by Mrs. Farley, accompanied by Miss Shepardson, on the piano. Miss Frandes Schalles played two piano numbers which were delightly heard.

The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. A. T. Pendleton and Mrs. C. H. Smith. An invitation was read from the Better Mothers' club to attend a program on Nov. 17, when a representative from Barker Bros. will address the ladies on psychology of color and furnishings. A communication from the high shool was read, asking the privilege of sending a "two-minute man" to speak before the club regarding "Good English" week. The speaker will appear Nov .2.

The resignation of Mrs. Harry Jordon as a member of the club was regretfully accepted. New members received yesterday are the Mesdames Dan New, J. T. Monroe, Victor Gorenflo, Roy Charlton and H. P. Bender. Mrs. Thaiher, delegate to the county federation of clubs held in Anaheim Saturday, read a report of the meeting.

At the close of the program the hostess served iced tea and wafers.

High School Notes

The boys' shop class took a motor trip to San Pedro the other day to view the mechanism of the big battle ships in the harbor. They also went thru the submarine base. The class is in charge of Mr. R. Kellam. The instructor has planned more of these interesting trips for his students. The trips are very instructive and are looked forward to by the boys.

Under the new management, the new cafeteria is doing a very thriving business. The work is in charge of Mrs. Frost and Mrs. Stone. They will serve all kinds of vegetables, fruits and other eatables at a very reasonable price. This affords the faculty and students opportunity to buy nutritious foods.

The Latin club, at its first meeting, elected as officers, Mary Kane, Margaret McOmie and Dorothy Bishop; pres., Mary Kane; treasurer, Paul Dickman; song leader, Mildred Maurhan. Miss Mary L. Ross and Miss Nettie Owen are the faculty members. The organization is called "The Classical Club." They will hold their meetings once a month. These meetings give the students a social evening as well as an instructive lesson.

The football boys of Alhambra were scheduled to afford a very interesting scrimmage for local athletes this evening after school. Tomorrow is the game with Huntington Beach. The next league game will be with Whittier on the home grounds.

Don't forget the pie social at the Christian church Sat. eve., Oct. 22.

CALKIN'S REMAINS SENT TO NEW YORK

YORBA LINDA, Oct. 20.—(Special.)—Mrs. Geo. Calkins, beloved wife of Geo. Calkins, passed away early Monday morning at her home northeast of town. She had been confined to her home for several months, the last five of which she was completely helpless. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the home and Mr. Calkins left Wednesday morning with the remains, for Geneva, N. Y. The Eastern Star, of which she was a member, held the beautiful services, and the loads of beautiful flowers showed the love and esteem in which she was held by a large circle of friends. Miss Louise Kirtz was born in New York city, May 7th, 1860. She moved with her parents to Geneva, N. Y., and there grew to womanhood where she was united in marriage to Mr. Peete, who passed away a number of years ago. Six years ago she married Mr. Calkins, in Toledo, Ohio and they came here within a year or so. Besides the bereaved husband she leaves two sisters who visited her here last winter, Mrs. R. Rodgers of Toledo, and Mrs. Van Huben, of Geneva, N. Y., and two brothers, Geo. Kurtz, of Buffalo, and Wm. Kurtz, of Washington.

Little Miss Peggy Rennaker, older daughter of Mr. an dMrs. N. W. Rennaker left Thursday with her aunt, Mrs. Wm. Fawcett, to spend the winter at the latter's home in Imperial Valley.

Mrs. W. G. Cochran spent Saturday in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Horne returned Sunday from a week's stay at Riverside.

Mr. and Mrs. Plummer Stuart entertained the "XX Pioneer Club" at dinner on Thursday evening. This club is the old "Park Board" which used to hold their meetings some years ago and which died a natural death when the oil derricks invaded the park on Reservoir hill.

Mr. D. Francisco left yesterday with his small son for Los Angeles where they will be joined by Mrs. Francisco and will sail via Panama canal for their old home in Italy. Mrs. Francisco has been in very poor health brought on by grief over the death of a daughter four years ago, and has been in a Los Angeles sanitarium and Mr. Francisco hopes the change will be beneficial for her.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Knight and Mrs. Ralph Thing spent Tuesday in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kellogg and daughter Susanne motored to the Riverside fair on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ulurich of Avalon have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Plummer Stuart the past week. Mr. Ulurich is a brother of Mr. Stuart.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Holloway entertained the farm bureau at their home on Tuesday evening. Items on the program included a talk on "Avocadoes, past, present and future" by Dr. Lester Keller, and on "Varieties" by Mr. L. D. Oliver. Light refreshments were served tendance.

FUNERAL TODAY OF WILLIAM N. SEAMAN

Funeral services for William Nowell Seaman, late of East North street, were held this morning at the Eagle & Terry undertaking parlors, Rev. G. N. Messias, of St. Michael's Episcopal church, officiating. Burial was made in Anaheim cemetery.

Mr. Seaman had been ill but a few days, having gone by auto with his wife and daughter, Mrs. Christensen, to Sawtelle on a business trip the latter part of the past week. He had been troubled with a tooth, but was apparently feeling normal when they left. His death occurred in Sawtelle Monday, and the body was received in Anaheim the following day.

Mr. Seaman was a member of the Episcopal church but had not affiliated with the local parish. His immediate surviving relatives are the wife and daughter, both of whom have many sympathizing friends.

The Interviewer

A PLEASANT surprise was given last Monday evening in honor of Mrs. Dan. Marschall, on Orange night, we will handle the people without the least confusion and everyone will be seated before the show begins," said Manager Jack Retlaw, of the new California today. "Everything is in readiness for the opening and Anaheim people will be treated to a show that is the latest out and one of the best. Charles Ray will open the house in "Midnight Bells," his latest offering, and I'll vouchsafe the information that it is one of his best productions."

"More people should call at the C. of C. and receive the Anaheim name plates for their cars," Malcom Fraser, secretary, said today. "They are one of the best advertising stunts we have had and every Anaheim car leaving town should be equipped with one. Anaheim people are always traveling and with the knowledge that we are already one of the best known cities in the state, we could bear in mind that we must keep up the good work in order not to be forgotten."

$220 REDUCTION ON ESSEX MOTOR CARS

A reduction announced yesterday that startled the automobile world was the new decline in price on Essex cars, effective immediately. The drop on touring cars amounted to $220, making the new price of this popular car $1475.

The cabriolet, which was selling above the $2000 mark, is now listed at $1690.

The total reduction since the prices on Essex began to drop amounts to $823. The Essex is now listed at the lowest since it appeared on the market.

Herbert Grove, local manager of Townsend and Medbery, distributors of Essexs and Hudson cars, declares that in spite of the tremendous drops the quality of the car has been increased in several respects.

"The drop is merely in conformity to the readjustment of conditions and the return to normalcy," Mr. Groves stated. "At the rate the Essex wasselling at the old prices I am afraid to predict the run that will result from the new drop. We have, indeed, been fortunate to make deliveries as promptly as we have, and I understand things have been arranged to care for the increased demand which is expected from the new reduction.

The Village Gossip

Probation Officer R. R. Miller has devoted himself enthusiastically to the business of changing Frank Maxfield's opinion of the Orange county courts.

This transformation is temporarily delayed until the authorities can locate Maxfield, whose last known address was Bolivar. The exact opinion that Miller wishes revamped is one recently expressed to him by Maxfield's brother, after the superior court had ordered Maxfield to provide $20 per month for the support of his child. According to Miller, the brother opined that:

"Of course, we don't have to pay any attention to your little local court's orders. They don't amount to anything."

Acquaintances of Mr. Miller can easily visualize the bristles arising as this asserted remark struck his astounded ears. It is quite a different view of the courts that Miller holds and he is so sure that his own view is the correct one that he is determined to show Maxwell's error to that individual when located.

Maxfield's child was recently made a ward of the juvenile court and given into the custody of its grandparents, at Garden Grove. Maxfield was ordered to contribute a monthly sum to its support.

Unsalted albacore, bonita, tomcod or kingfish are tempting lobster bait, according to veteran fishermen who were today taking advantage of the open season which began on Saturday in this state.

Sportsmen who have taken advantage of the opportunity reported good fishing, while many others have not yet returned from the scenes of their efforts. Santa Monica, Long Beach, San Pedro, Balboa, Venice, Redondo and locations with similar formations of rock and kelp are most favorable for the fishing.

The bait will be more attractive if it is slightly putrid, according to experts. Fishing should be done with a snag, the end of the line resting on the bottom. When the lobster is felt scratching on the snag, it is altogether proper to give a healthy jerk on the line, and haul in the catch.

The season closes March 1.

Altho full reports on the number of deer killed during the 1921 open season had not been rendered, it is believed by local sportsmen that the number is high. Hunters were plentiful, and it is generally understood that there was no lack of game in the county.

The open season on doves will end Oct. 31 while the quail season will open Nov. 1.

SHELL HORSCH 1 ON PRODUCTION TEST

Long Beach

Drilling stopped on the Shell's Horsch No. 1 at 2730 feet. After cleaning out and putting the hole in production condition the well went on a production test Monday. The results of the oil and water test will not be known for several days. The report that the well is making 1500 barrels is without foundation. Alamitos No. 3 set pipe at 3190 and a water test is now being made. This well is now showing considerable oil. Alamitos No. 2 is drilling at 2500 in brown shale, Babb-Tucker drilling at 3100 in sandy brown shale is showing oil. Jones No. 1 at 2700 is in sandy brown shale. Martin No. 1, a new well, set 600 feet of 15½. Mesa No. 1 at 2792 is still held with a fishing job. Pickler No. 1 drilled to 2590 and set pipe at 2493. Stakemiller No. 1 at 3096 is fishing. Wilbur No. 1 shows 1160 feet of hole. Goddard No. 1 another new well is rigging.

Drilling on the California-Mexican Petroleum Syndicate's No. 1 is making some good progress. More than 1000 feet of hole was made last week. The log shows 2100 feet and drilling in hard sand.

The Crest Oil Co.'s No. 1 is now drilling into production at 2856. The screen pipe has been put in and everything is in readiness for what looks like the second producer on the Hill. Crest-Consolidated has spudded in.

Drilling at 3275 Dabney No. 1 is in sandy shale showing some gas. It is the intention to set pipe soon, the idea being to look for a suitable landing place in the next 50 or 100 feet. Dabney No. 2 shows 1800 feet in hard sand. No. 3 is a rig and the lumber is on the ground for No. 4. No. 4 is located across the road from the Standard's Alamitos No. 1. The Standard well will prove up Dabney's No. 4 location.

E. J. Miley's Xemino No. 1 passed the 3800-foot mark yesterday. At this depth the formation is blue shale with streaks of sand. At 3750 a few colors started the rumor that the Miley well har struck the "pay."

Drilling out the cement at 3307 the Oceanic found a little water, enough to necessitate a second cementing. This was done Monday, and today the well is drilling out to go ahead. A new kind of oil well cement was used that is guaranteed to set in two days. The results of the two-day standing is now being awaited with some interest.

The Signal Hill property of the Orange-co Petroleum Co. is to be developed by McIntyre Bros., Long Beach. Thomas Lloyd is in charge and actual work is scheduled to begin soon.

After several days of deliberation and careful testing the Ramsey Oil Co. decided to set Long Beach Municipal No. 1 at 2740. At this point an excellent clay formation afforded a suitable landing spot.

Drilling at 3500 feet in brown shale showing streaks of sand the best that San Marteau No. 1 is showing is an occasional color. No. 2 set pipe at 3054 and is standing cemeted.

With the state's O. K. on Sandburg-Cooperative and No. 1 drilling out the cement at 2303 the outlook for the Sandburg Petroleum Co. coming into production soon is good. Reports from No. 1 today are to the effect that the second cementing appears to be a "job."

The Standard Oil Co.'s Bixby No. 1 is now the deepest well drilling in the state. At 200 feet deeper than a Bile the yel is not showing anything to cause any excitement in the way of an oil well. It is the intention of the Standard to proceed as deep as possible and make a conclusive deep test well of the field. Drilling at 5480 is going nicely with the rotary; of course the work has to be done carefully.

Adjoining the Torrance holdings the Standard is building new rigs on the Sylvester, Long Beach Trust and Savings Bank, and the Lomita 1, 2800 sand and boulders, drilling.

WITH opening of the new California theatre in this city next Saturday evening at 7:15, one of the city's most prominent business men, and recognized throughout this section as a showman of unusual ability will be at the local helm of the new theatre as well as the Fairyland and Grand.

G. T. Ingram, whose new capacity with the theatres is Resident manager, and who is also interested as a partner with the West Coast Theatres, Inc., is not new to Anaheimites. He became interested with C. L. Head some years ago as an active partner in both the Fairyland and Grand, and it was only recently that he and the West Coast Theaters, Inc., became associated together.

Before acquiring an interest in the theaters with Mr. Head, Mr. Ingram was well known as an automobile dealer. Aside from this he has been a resident in Anaheim for many years, and was born at Garden Grove. His charming wife, Mrs. Mary Ingram, is also well known in this community. Her society is sought at all times by the prominent elect of this city, and she is prominent in the social life of the Mother Colony.

Undoubtedly Mr. Ingram's increased activities with such a beautiful theater as the California will be heralded with much satisfaction among the residents of this city. He is always readily accessible, and all of the financial details concerning the local houses will be handled here by him.

THE MEN BEHIND THE CALIFORNIA

ONE of the biggest theatrical events in the history of Southern California is scheduled for next Saturday evening, when the new California theater in this city throws open its doors to the eagerly waiting public, marking a new era in theatricals for all of Orange county.

This theater, a beautiful, modern structure, which has been in the course of building for the past few months, represents but another link in the great West Coast Theaters, Inc. chain of splendid theaters. Numbering among its extensive holdings some of the most modern cinema palaces in the entire West, this immense corporation is rapidly becoming one of the greatest motion picture exhibiting mediums on the coast.

Although the West Coast Theaters, Inc. has not been in existence as long as many other noted circuits, yet the dominating personnel is composed of men who have by sheer perseverance and hard work, reached the very pinnacle of theaterdom.

The famous Gore Brothers; M. Gore, president, of the West Coast Theaters, Inc., and A. L. Gore, secretary of the same company, have been well known exhibitors in and about Los Angeles for many years past, splendid reputation as thoroughly experienced showmen, and particularly on Los Angeles "film row" as well as among the other exhibitors, their advice is eagerly sought.

Sol Lesser, vice-president of this great company, is regarded among the premier exploitation men of the Western Hemisphere. He not only won wide recognition but spectacular success as well as a showman when he presented the famous Mack Sennett super-comedy "Yankee Doodle in Berlin" some time ago. In fact, Mr. Lesser's name was heralded far and wide as a man of unusual ability and knowledge in this business.

Adolph Ramish, treasurer of the West Coast Theaters, Inc., is probably one of the best known theatrical magnates in the West. He has owned numerous theatres, notably the immense Hippodrome theater in Los Angeles, generally regarded as one of the most successful show houses in Southern California.

As a financial genius he is without a peer, which in these days means more than common ordinary handling of great transactions. In his capacity of treasurer, it is Mr. Ramish's sole aim to make this corporation one of the most powerful of its kind in the country.

Another of the more prominent officials of this company is Harry C. Arthur, Jr., general manager. Serving in this capacity, everything of importance goes through Mr. Arthur's office. In fact his office in the Knickerbocker building, Los Angeles, is a regular beehive.

Mr. Arthur is considered one of the foremost theatrical geniuses in this country today. He is a marvel for handling and supervising details, and many of the theaters on this chain today are handled along his original lines of exploitation.

Others who are responsible for the executive end of the West Coast Theaters, Inc., are David M. Croft, auditor and master mathematician; William J. Quinn, booking manager, who supervises the booking of all presentations; Arthur Smith, chief projectionist for the entire chain and a "wizard" of an electrician, and Richard Spier, Director of Publicity, through whose fingers sift the great publicity features of these many play houses.

All of the above men are experts in their line, and the entire ensemble is considered one of the keenest west of Chicago.

They have in that time achieved a

THE extraordinary metropolitan presentations and unusual effects to be seen with each program at the new California theatre in this city which throws open its doors to the public next Saturday afternoon and evening, will be the creations of Jack Retlaw, local representative of the West Coast Theaters, Inc., and managing director in charge of all presentations.

Nowadays, the critical public is demanding much for its admission fee. Only the best will be accepted by it, and the more unusual as well as different presentations which can be presented to the public, the more the people will acclaim them.

Mr. Retlaw's experience as a showman dates back twenty years or more, and he has almost grown up with the motion picture and vaudeville business. He has handled theatricals from every angle, even having appeared himself over some of the big vaudeville circuits.

In commenting upon the brand of shows he intends to present to the people of Anaheim, Mr. Retlaw was very firm in his declaration that only the best procurable would be presented. He stated that his programs will match anything in Los Angeles, and will consist of such features as refined and high-calibre vaudeville and stage presentation with each show; the showing of the greatest and foremost picture on the market; wonderfull music as rendered by a highly trained organist and expert orchestra. Of course there will be many other things, but these stand out the most prominently.

NEW PLAYHOUSE IS "A GEM IN A JEWEL CITY"

Expert Staff to Manage Affairs Of New House

ONCE announcement was made recently that the new California theatre would stage its gala opening next Saturday evening rumor has been rife as to the personnel of the staff and employes. However, it was heretofore impossible to submit the list, as the management has been silent.

Now that the theatre is about to open, the house staff is complete and as many Anaheim people are anxious to know "who is who," the following is a complete summary of the personnel:

Messrs. Jack Retlaw and G. T. Ingram will manage all of the local houses, including the California, jointly. The financial details will be handled by Mr. Ingram, while the departments of presentation and publicity, among others, will come under Mr. Retlaw's direct supervision.

Arthur E. Shaw, brilliant organist, and known all over the west as one of the premier organists, will present all the programs on the wonderful big Wurlitzer organ. His knowledge of this instrument is very wide, and undoubtedly he will become a great local favorite. Mr. Shaw comes to Anaheim from Hollywood, having been organist of the Apollo theatre in that city.

Percy A. Swope, widely known Anaheim young man, has been selected as assistant manager. He comes from a family of theatrical folks, his brother, Mr. Leslie Swope, not only being a prominent Hollywood theatrical man, but also Exalted Ruler of the B. P. O. E. Anaheim lodge. "Perk" Swope comes to the California theatre from the big Kinema theatre in Los Angeles, where he was employed for some time past.

Real music is one of the essentials in the presentation of either motion picture or vaudeville. The California theater management feel that it has been fortunate in obtaining the services of Arthur Lewis St. George, well known violinist and orchestra director. He will have direct charge of musical scores.

One of the very important posts connected with a theater is the man who directs the seats. William Keeney will be stage manager. He is highly experienced in this line of work, and all of the effects used upon the stage will be arranged by Mr. Seeney under the direction of Mr. Retlaw.

Miss Iva Mapel will preside over the box office. She has been employed at such great theaters as Grauman's, and her fitness in handling the public as well as her speed, in serving the patrons will make her a prime favorite here.

The motion picture projection will be in the hands of A. V. Narath. He is known as a projectionist of unusual ability, and as he holds a very responsible position, inasmuch as he must supervise the actual showing of the silent drama features, this position will be no mean promotion to him. At the present time he is projectionist at the Grand, and will assume his new duties with the opening of the California.

Babe Smith will be head usherette and assistant at the door. Here is a responsible position also as she will be in direct charge of the bevy of usherettes at the California, and will direct the seating of the patrons.

The usherettes who will serve the public at this new theater, and who will be the subject for many admiring glances on account of the very "nifty" uniforms will be Misses Jean Melheny, Mary Garrick and Evelyn Barnett. Fred Anderson will be superintendent of the building, and it will be his duties to keep the playhouse in spick and span condition.

At the time this article was written, the final decision as to the personnel of the orchestra had not been determined. However a special announcement will be made regarding this ensemble of musicians, and the people of Anaheim can rest assured that only musicians of repute will be in the orchestra pit when the big theatre opens.

Retlaw Policy to Divide Program into Many Parts

IN announcing the future policy of the California theatre, which opens Saturday evening, Jack Retlaw, West Coast Theatres, Inc., representative and managing director in charge of presentation, outlined his proposed method of presenting programs of features and stage presentation.

These programs, he stated, would be subdivided into many numbers, each a different unit in the whole. As an illustration he submitted the following:

The program would be started off with an elaborate overture by the combined orchestra and orchestral organ. Only the most finished numbers will be presented during the overtures, and the music lovers of this city are certain to become great California fans in the near future.

If there happens to be a news feature on the program, it is billed to open the picture program. Special music by the orchestra is always provided for these subjects. In the event that a scenic or other similar short reel is programmed, it generally occupies number 2 spot.

Following this comes the pipe organ specialty. Selections comprising the most popular hits of the day as well as known classical and semi-classical numbers are presented by the organist. Unusual lighting effects accompany this feature and the organist presents his numbers in full view of the spectators, enhanced by a spot light from the booth.

The two reel comedy generally comes next. As most comedies are full of much hilarity and require swift action, the orchestra leader fits his selections to follow the quicker rhythm.

Next comes the stage presentation. This may consist of a refined vaudeville act or a notable vocalist, perhaps. Then again a prologue fitting the picture may be presented. There will always be something on the stage during every performance.

Following this comes the feature photo-drama. Owing to its importance the musical director needs must spend much time laying out his musical program to fit the picture exactly. Ordinarily the organist plays before part of the picture, while the combined orchestra and organ play for the finale. The performance closes with a snappy musical exit number.

Every Thursday afternoon and evening there will be a special road show vaudeville program. A number of clever acts will be added to the program. Special settings will be provided for these acts, and metropolitan presentations have been promised by Mr. Retlaw. Occasionally a road show attraction of legitimate drama direct from the great city theatres will be presented to the patrons.

MAN WHO BUILT THEATER IS REAL CITY BUILDER

THEODORE ROBERTS, city builder, to whom credit must go for conceiving for Anaheim the big, new California theater.

It was Roberts who first interested the West Coast Theaters in the leasing of such a playhouse as the California.

Roberts is used to going ahead and doing things on a big scale while other people sit back and talk. Within three years, he has added to the business district long lines of what are now among the most valuable business properties of the city. Todate he has done more than any other one man toward the enlargement of the business district.

Dream Palace of Orange-co Will Open Doors Saturday Evening

By JACK RETLAW

A GEM IN A JEWEL CITY." The dream palace of Orange County." These and other similar exclamations are but a few samples of the comments heard in Anaheim recently since the beautiful New California theater is rapidly nearing completion, and is all gaily decorated for the event of events in this city, in other words the great opening which is to take place Saturday afternoon and evening.

Unquestionably the California is all that has been said about it and in fact more. A metropolitan theater in every respect; fitted with the costliest of drapes and furnishings, embodying the utmost in theatrical presentation, this house will be looked upon as a fulfillment of a cherished desire by the people of Anaheim to have a theater all their own which can stand comparison with any in the country.

Let us take a glimpse into this splendid palace of the cinema and gradually absorb the optimistic atmosphere prevailing there. As one wanders down West Center-st, probably the first thing noticed is a huge electric sign over the top of a very neat looking structure. This emblazoned sign bears the word "California." What an appropriate name this seems to be.

As one comes a little closer, a massive, elegant but not garish marquee is the next object that attracts the eye. Dozens of electric bulbs light up this marquee at night, not only rendering it visible for a long ways, but as the patrons pass beneath it, they at once can not help but feel as if they were about to enter a homey, comfortable playhouse.

What have we to the right of us? Oh, it's the lobby, and what a lobby it is. As one glances upward the eye is greeted by myriads of flickering colors, the wonderful decorated reflections of countless huge electric lights, cleverly hidden from the naked eye, yet throwing their rays out over the resplendent ceiling and walls.

Lovely gilded photograph frames to the right and left, with many 'stills' or scenes of coming attractions display mute evidence of what is in store for the fans. By this time the spectator has arrived at the box office, a cozy den, presided over by a courteous cashier, the first employe that the patron comes into contact with.

The old adage of "how many" is forgotten in this box office, as the cashier politely inquires as to the wishes of the patron. Somehow, the patron begins to say to himself or herself, "this is a different theater," meaning that they are at once made to feel welcome and that their patronage is appreciated.

The next person to greet one is the ticket taker at the door. Chances are Mr. Ingram himself will be there to look out for your wants and to see that you are treated with every consideration. By this time you are in the softly lighted foyer. Elegance is the only word that can portray this particular part of the theater. Beautiful drapings, hangings in lazy folds simply invite you to enter.

But stay — who is that cute little girl in uniform coming our way? We look closer and as she reaches for the seat checks, it flashes upon one that this is the head usherette. What a clever costume of maroon bodice, grey trouserettes and the daintiest little Mary Janes.

By this time we are inside the big auditorium of the theater itself, and a wonderful sight surely greets the eye. What is one to look at first? There are so many things to see. Let us glance first at the floor. Heavy, rich looking rugs are beneath our feet, giving us that sensation of treading on the softest grass, and rendering our footsteps absolutely noiseless.

Next we raise our eyes and gaze towards the rear of the theater. In the eutest little cove, setting haughtily up there by itself is the loge section. Roomy, richly upholstered chairs beckon a greeting, and we are almost tempted to dash up the two or three stairsteps and sink into the luxurious seats. The walls and ceiling of this special loge section is "done" in the most beautiful fashion. Old gold, with here and there a dash of red or green, is the color scheme. We can hardly contain ourselves over the splendid sight.

It is now necessary for us to direct our attention toward the front of the auditorium. Beneath its domelike, softly curving roof, this auditorium just seems to tell us that we can hear the faintest sounds anywhere under its spreading canopy.

The walls and ceiling are decorated along the same lines as the loge section. Of course, at stated intervals panels are seen, highly colored and profusely lighted not only by the side wall and ceiling clusters, but also from the lights that glow forth from those beautiful niches in the wall. These niches are the utmost in tasty designing. Lovely panels, covered with varied colored silks, and behind this, cluster after cluster of colored lights throw out rays which rival even the rainbow.

There seems to be a riot of color everywhere. It is simply superb. Another thing that we were struck with was the freshness of the air. Huge hidden fans operated by powerful machinery keeps the air in constant circulation, and it is a fact that the air in this huge auditorium changes completely every twelve minutes.

By this time we have wandered down towards the stage. Right in the center, just below the stage is the organ console. Altho the organ itself is invisible, resting inside of lofts on either side of the proceinum arch, yet by the merest touch of the organist's hand harmony peals forth, either a crooning lullaby or perhaps a thundering march. On either side of this console, the orchestra holds forth. When the orchestra director raises his baton, ready for the first notes to ring out, he knows that his trained artists combined with the orchestral organ will vent forth music equal to any.

As we have become more curious, it is but natural that we should want to take a peek at the "back stage," that land of make-believe, which is so little known to the average person. Our first sensation upon stepping on the stage is the vastness of this platform and roof. Drape after drape all the colors imaginable come into view. These are supported on powerful wires and ropes which rest upon the huge girdiron above.

To the left we see the "peg-rack" where a single man may, with the assistance of heavy sandbags, raise or lower these great curtains. Just to the right of the procenium arch on the stage is absolutely the newest thing in switchboards. Here the electrician may by only a few moves brilliantly light the entire stage, or if he but moves a few dimmer handles, the lights gradually dim down to the softest of glows.

By this time, we feel that we have seen nearly everything, but this is not so. We turn and wander back to the rear of the house, curious to know what those square holes are in the back wall just over the loge section. It is necessary for us to leave the auditorium completely and make our way to a mysterious door at the extreme rear of the structure.

We climb a few stairs and step into a room, the like of which we have never seen before. Switches seem to be everywhere. Also electric buttons. We take a chance on asking the man in charge, known as the projectionist, just what all these things are. He points to two massive looking machines and informs us that they, together with the film reels, provide most of the evening's entertainment. These machines are of the latest design, and are regular beauties.

Over here is a "spot" machine, which throws the spotlights for the stage, and on the opposite side is a stereopticon, used mainly for projecting stills and slides upon the silversheet. These buttons in front are electrical controls, which operate many of the big curtains we saw on the stage. Others are signals to various parts of the house, and yet others control certain lighting effects. By this time we are interested in the extreme, but as time is limited, we find it necessary to continue on our way.

Just before leaving we glanced into the ladies' rest room. A cleverly designed little boudoir, in which any woman would be proud to spend her leisure time, is at hand. Every convenience is afforded the feminine patronage here, and it is certain to be very popular with Anaheim folks.

This is but a rough sketch of this splendid theater, yet it may convey to you just how fortunate this little city is in being the possessor of the finest appointed and most modern theater in Orange-co as well as one of the most beautiful playhouses on the coast.

THERE must always be a pioneer in the establishment of a new business district. In the West End business district The Prince Store has the honor. April a year ago, Sid E. Prince and George Prince established their exclusive ladies' ready-to-wear emporium. It was a new departure for that line of business in that section, and they were the first business institution to locate on the north side of the street.

How Penny Has Made Success in Helping Others

By R. C. Crawford

"If I didn't have an interest in humanity and in individuals—and some sentiment along with it—I wouldn't want to stay in business a minute.

"No man ought to have a right to advance in the world unless he is willing to take others along with him. If we had more of that sort of thing the country over, we would have less of dissention.

"We lay the emphasis on manbuilding in our organization, for we feel that money is merely a by-product, and that if we get the right kind of men and develop them properly, we will be assured of the financial return. Ten or twelve years ago I used to tell people that some day we would probably have around fifty stores; now we have over three hundred. We have succeeded beyond our fondest hopes and dreams."

J. C. Penney, chairman of the board of directors of the J. C. Penney Company, which operates a chain of 312 stores throughout the United States, selling at retail men's and women's clothing, shoes, dry goods, and miscellaneous articles of merchandise, leaned back in his chair.

"Ask me anything you will," he said. "There are no secrets about our business."

Mr. Penney declares frankly that he has made his big success by helping the other fellow—a success and an organization far beyond his most sanguine dreams of ten or fifteen years ago. There are men in the Penney organization who, ten years ago, had hardly a dollar to their names, and yet today are rated well beyond the hundred thousand dollar mark. The best part of it is that the Penney organization is perpetual; young men starting in without capital today will be the big partners in the business a few years hence.

Is it any wonder that, with an organization such as this, scores of men have been willing to give up positions paying into the thousands of dollars, to start in at the bottom of the Penney ladder? The Penney organization has an office in St. Louis which picks most of the young men for the company.

"We have generally found that the young men coming from the small towns of the middle west make the best all-around men in our organization," Mr. Penney told me. "They have not been spoiled by the big cities and for the most part know how to live within their means. The harder pull a man has had the better he can make good with us.

We look for clean qualities in the young man we pick. A man in our organization must not drink, gamble, or smoke cigarettes. I prefer a young man who has some religious stamina. We like college men, when they are willing to start at the bottom of the ladder and work up; in fact, we are willing to take all that kind of men we can find, provided they measure up to the other qualifications as well.

"For instance, I have in mind a young graduate of Cornell University who has been holding a rather lucrative position as instructor of Latin at a preparatory school back here in the East. He resigned that position to come with us at $100 per month. He is making satisfactory progress, and I look forward to the time when he will be one of the partners in the business.

"I can promise a young man anything when he starts in with us. We aim to ray him enough to live in fair degree of comfort. I usually prefer to underpay rather than overpay a man in our organization—as a salary is concerned. When a man realizes that his future does not lie in just his salary, but in something bigger, he is willing to work harder than if he simply came with us because we paid a little more salary than John Jones, down the street.

"We start a man in as a salesman behind the counter. Then, before giving him an interest, we learn to know him and he learns to know us. If he is made of the right stuff and has character, the time will come when he will be placed in charge of a store as manager, usually an offshoot of the store of which he has been working. Then the next time he changes he gets an interest in his first store. If he doesn't have the money, we are only too glad to loan it to him. If he is a big success in that store, he can establish other stores in which he has an interest. Then his material fortune begins to accumulate.

"Furthermore, it will be seen that in our organization a man does not run the same risk of failure that he would if he had to start business on his own account. There is no lhance of his being closed out, since he has always the backing of the corporation. We pay all the bills from our New York office and keep all the books here."

Mr. Penney told me that he did not know how many of the stores he has an interest in—would not know without looking them up. Those who know him best say that he does not look upon money as anything particularly desirable in itself.

In spite of the business depression, the Penny organization expects to do a bigger business this year than last. Total sales of the 312 stores last year were $42,000,000, and the company expects to pass the $50,000,000 mark this year. In July, its business for the year was running about $5,000,000 greater than the year before.

"We took our big loss in December and marked everything down," Mr. Penney explained. "The increase in business which resulted enabled us to get our money out of the goods and use it for buying at the lower prices. We can now make more frequent turn-overs; some of our stores turn their goods ten times in a year. We are not borrowing a single dollar today to carry on our business; in order to keep out of debt we long ago made it a rule that no store could start another store in the chain until it had the actual cash on hand."

Organ is One of Largest in This Part of Country

A FEATURE of no mean importance at the new California after it opens next Saturday afternoon and evening, will be the mammoth Wurlitzer orchestral pipe organ, one of the mightiest in this part of the country.

It is a well known fact that a pipe and orchestral organ is one of the most complicated pieces of mechanisms yet devised by man. Thousands of wires, running from the console or control board of the instrument wend their way to varied parts of the organ, and when an electrical contact is made, harmony of the most beautiful sort peals forth. It may be the staccatto voices of the immense pipes, or again it may be the shrill whistle of the tiny (no larger than a toothpick) pipes. Possibly one may hear the muffled roar of the drums or the beating of the tom toms.

A great electrical motor furnishes the power that moves this big instrument to action. A huge blower sending forth a veritable hurricane of air fully under the control at all times of the organist, provides the breath for the pipes.

Although most of the organism is hidden out of sight of the curious public, yet if one were to find their way into the big organ lofts and minutely study this instrument, they would be amazed beyond mere words.

One of the greatest tasks connected with the erection of the California theatre was the installation of this great organ. However after it is completed, the organ experts generally step back, breathe a sigh of relief, and are tickled to death to think they have provided another great form of entertainment to a community.

They paid a high rent to get the block, but their business sagacity has been proven. Today the West End is one of the busiest business districts in Anaheim, and practically every line of business is represented.

BIGGEST PRODUCER ON SAM KRAEMER 2

RICHFIELD

The biggest producer in Calif. is now located at Richfield, on the Samuel Kraemer No. 2. The producer is the property of standard Oil Co. and puts the So. Cal. oil field to the front in production. The big well Kraemer 2-15 was completed early last week at a 4260 and started off at 2000 barrels. The production rose steadily until it reached the almost unbelievable figure of 4489 barrels. This tremendous output of oil is flowing thru a one-inch nipple and is under a pressure of 500 pounds. The oil is testing 26 gravity and is coming free from sand or water. California's now greatest oil well is a tribute to the genius of California's master rotary operator and the most successful "bringer" in of big wells, Ralph Winger.

The Amalgamated Oil Co. has closed a deal with Wm. Krammerer for holdings adjoining the Petroluem Midway's Krug property and will begin immediate development. Kaumerer No. 1 has been located to offset Krug No. 3. Page No. 1 was lost at 2780 and the rig moved. Breen 2-A continues drilling in the hard conglomerate at 2,400 feet. Bahya No. 1 down 2460 is redrilling at 2000. Thompson No. 1 is drilling out the cement and wil test out at 3821.

In all probability the Fullerton Oil Co. will abandon the deep test well Anaheim Union No. 9 Drilled to 4686 this wel at no time showed any indications of oil and can be set down as the first deep duster in the old reliable oil district, Richfield.

It is understood that there is a possibility of the Wonder Co. Ltc., taking over the uncompleted well of the Placentia-Pacific Oil Co. and carrying it on into the deep sands. At 3800 feet the Placentia-Pacific successfully shut off water, but failed to get a producing well. The Wonder Co. has holdings adjoining the Placentia-Pacific and in view of the holdings the Wonder Co. may be interested in going ahead with the well.

Krug No. 1 completed at 2925 came in a 100-barrel well and is the smallest producer on the property. The Petroleum Midway is now working on a deep test well at Yarnell No. 9 and drilling at 4000 feet the formation is showing shale and shell. Isaacs No. 2 is now drilling in the oil sand at 3175 and looks very good. Krug No. 5 set eight-inch at 2851. Richfield-Yorba No. 2 still stands re-cemented at 4157. On the Consolidated property No. 4 stands cemented at 2900 and No. 5 is rigging up to drill.

The Placentia Oil Co. failed to get a complete shut off at 2980 and carried the eight-inch on to 3022 and re-cemented. Indications point to a producer for the Placentia Oil Co. as soon as a successful water shut off is accomplished.

Drilling on the Richfield Union Petroleum (Comanche) was going nicely at 3670 when the drill pipe twisted off and left 17 stands in the hole. At 3665 formation changed from hard sand to shale and the twist-off came too early to find out how far the shale run or what it would run into. The oil sands are expected anywhere from 3802 to 4000 feet.

The prediction that the Ridge Oil Co. would get a producer at 4200 has gone by the boards. At 4200 the Ridge is showing brown sandy shale, a little gas and colors of oil.

At 4165 the Jones No. 1, deep test well of the General Petroleum at Yorba Linda, was cemented. At this depth the well is showing no indications of oil. Hugo No. 3 the G. P.'s next producer, according to schedule, met with an accident on the eve of coming in. While reaming out the last few feet of hole and getting ready to set the perforated, the bit stuck and resisted efforts to get it out. The well is now held up with a bad and complicated fishing job. The deep test well on the Waller got an encouraging showing at 3997, stopped the drilland set pipe at 3950. On the Carpenter lease the G. P. has No. 2 drilling at 2409 in sticky shale.

BOOST PRODUCTION OF FOWLER WELL 2

Huntington Beach

By deepening Fowler No. 2 from 3358 to 4167 the Amalgamated Oil Co. increased the production from 250 barrels to 800 barrels. At Huntington 2-A the 6-inch and 8-inch was reperforated, the idea to catch the upper sands from 2680 up. Huntington No. 3 is on regular production at about 250 barrels. Huntington No. 6 is down 2125 and getting close to production. Pearce No. 1 produces steadily at 375.

The Gypsy Syndicate is now listed as a producing company at Hunting Beach. Gypsy No. 1 set 10-inch at 2300, drilled out and went on production a hundred barrel well. The well is flowing thru 8-inch casing and is expected to better this figure as it cleans up and gets underway. At No. 2 a test is being made on the water shut off at 2215. Should the cement set successfully this second well will be on production soon.

Things are getting into shape rapidly for the return of the famous Huntington Central No. 1 to production. Sixty feet of new hole was made and at 2347 the well is being bailed down to bring in. According to the showings the well is expected to flow and will probably do 400 or 500. Huntington Central No. 2 is drilling at 3450 in very hard shell.

Machris Brothers No. 1 completed at 3597 came in yesterday and looks like a thousand barrel well. This new well is located in the vicinity of the Eddystone's initial well Ashton No. 1 that started off with a flow of 1500 barrels. Machris Bros. have played in hard luck for some time in So. Cal. and they are fully entitled to the big success that has just come to them.

E. J. Miley No. 1 picked up from 277 barrels to 600 and is holding steadily at that figure. Miley No. 2 is rigged up, and No. 3 is rigging up.

After standing for three months work on the Motor Oil and Refining Co.'s well resumed Monday. Rigging up with cable tools to drill out the cement is the order. Motor Oil cemented at 2379. The General Petroleum's Community No. 1 is 500 fet deeper and as yet has not struck the oil sand. The G. P. well is on adjoining property, east side. Miley-Keck No. 4 the sensation of the field last week has settled down to a steady flow of 700 barrels. At No. 1 sidetracking is at 2590. No. 3 is a rig. No. 5 is also a rig. No. 6 at 2550 is testing water. No. 7 at 2800 is drilling in brown shale. No. 8 is rigging up.

A third cementing failed to shut the water fo rthe Peerless Petroleum Co. at 2700 feet. Permission has been secured to go ahead and do prospect drilling.

The second cementing of the Golden Dome shut the water off at 2753 and now the 8-inch casing is going in and preparations underway to resume drilling. Golden Dome is expected to get into production at 2900.

The Painted Hills Oil Co. a concern operating at San Bernardino has leased from the Bolsa Chica Pet. Co. 40 acres in what is known as the Boulevard Acre Tract. The new comers promise immediate action.

The Petroleum Co.'s new producer Porter No. 1 after some variation has settled down to 2625 barrels. Brown No. 1 is now one of the deep drilling wells of the field, making hole at 3300 in hard sand.

The Petroleum Midway is now the second largest producing company at Huntington Beach. The completion of two wells, Vollmer-Meyer No. 1 and No. 4 gave the Petroleum Midway a new production of 2600 barrels. Vollmer-Meyer No. 1 completed at 3465 started off making a 1000 bbls. Vollmer-Meyer No. 4 completed at 3550 came in at 1600 barrels and the oil is 26.7 gravity. Columbia 2-1 is perforating the production string at 370 and is ready to be brot in. Ray Walker is now drilling again and shows 3000 fet in the shale. Smythe No. 1 stands cemented at 3368, and No. 2 has been located. Elliott No. 1 a new well spudded in and made 500 feet. Pearce No. 1 is a new location. Powers No. 1 is now at 3550 drilling.

Plans have been made to connect the two principal islands of Japan by a tunnel 10 miles long under the Strait of Shimonoseki.

The longest ocean waves are usually not within the South Pacific, where their lengths vary from 600 to 1000 feet.

17 NEW WELLS STARTED

Oil field operations reported the week ending Oct. 15 show 17 new wells started compared with 15 the previous week; total new wells this year 1084 compared with 691 the same date last year.

SPORTING EVENTS

EXPECT PLENTY OF SLUGGING TONIGHT

A wild fire slugging match chuck full of action from the opening gong will probably be handed out to local fight fans at the legion arena tonight when Steve Dalton and Jack Iman get together in the main mix. Dalton is one of the hardest hitting men who has appeared in a local ring, and Iman is no setup when it comes to throwing a wicked mitt. Dalton is the south's real hornet for middleweights and a win over him by Iman will create a demand for his services. However, Dalton is a hard one to beat, although a good many of the boys in this section have been able to get draws with him. As far as stopping him is concerned, that is only a possibility, but highly improbable.

Jimmy Lloyd and Bobbie Gray tie up in the semi-windup. It will be Jimmy's first appearance in the next bout to the striker, who Gray is said to be a tough boy and the "battling Elk" will have his hands full thruout the mill. In fact, it has been stated that he is apt to stop Lloyd's winning streak. However, Jimmy expects to keep on climbing the quality ladder and aims to put to step his man in as short time as possible.

George Gilmore and Joe "haney, and Kid Louie and Young Garcia should provide the real rapid-fire stuff of the evening. The fans know Gilmore, Chaney and Louis and should Young Garcia hold up his end of the scrap fest there will be all of the action that can be expected.

The card as a whole looks like one of the best shows staged here for sometime and the fistic emporium should be packed to the top rafter. Women will be admitted free at tonight's hostilities and the ringside should see a large gathering of the fairer sex.

POLY STARS READY FOR WHITTIER FRAY

With the squad renovated by the return of last week's cripples, Santa Ana anticipates no difficulty in disposing of Whittier Saturday on the local gridiron. Last week with a badly crippled team, no difficulty was encountered in taking a good beating onto Anaheim, considered a powerful contender in the league race. It follows, they declare, that Whittier, generally conceded to be a weak aggregation, should prove feeble opposition to the local gridsters.

Whittier met defeat at the hands of the Orange team, 32 to 6, revealed Santa Ana anticipates a victory by a greater score.

FANS INTERESTED IN BASEBALL LEAGUE

That Anaheim, Santa Ana, Pasadena and Whittier could support a winter baseball league is the opinion of many of the local fans since the rumor of steps to form a league was published in Monday's Plain Dealer.

Several well to do Pasadenians are said to have been considering the advisability of starting proceedings, and intended to feel out the pulse of the district named within a short time.

Billy Knoll, assistant manager of the State Champion Elks' club, says:

"Altho I would not favor a league during the regular season because of the interference it would cause to the Elks' league, I would, however, like to see this section organize a winter league. Of course, one of the drawbacks here is the lack of a park, but I believe that can be overcome if enough interest in the proposition is manifested. There are hundreds of fans in Anaheim who would like to see good ball if there was a place here to hold games. Even during the Elks' season when we play on the Fullerton park there are many come out to that remote place and so I believe that a park in town could be made to pay."

There are several others in town who feel about the same as Mr. Knoll about the prospects here, and with the right boosting a league should materialize.

Several Santa Ana men have expressed the belief that the neighboring city fans would get behind a movement of this kind and organize a first class club. Anaheim could have one of the best teams on the circuit, using the Elks' players as a nucleus for the local team.

The sporting department of the Plain Dealer will publish, in these columns, views of the various fans on the plan. Outline your opinion on the proposition and mail it in.

ALL SOUTH ANXIOUS FOR U. S. C. VICTORY

It'll be a great day for So. Calif. if U. S. C. happens to romp away with the long end of the score in the annual football clash with the Bears on Nov. 7.

And, according to football followers who have seen the two squads in action this year, it is not only possible but probable that the southern aggregation will win. U. S. C. has one of the greatest football teams this year she has had in her history, and a win over the northern school would probably mean that she will represent the west in the annual East vs. West classic at Pasadena on New Year's day.

California believes she is two touch downs ahead of Stanford, basing the dope on the showing of both schools against the Olympic club team of San Francisco. The Bears won by a score of 14 to 0 while Stanford came out on the long end of a 7 to 0 score. However, Stanford followers claim the breaks were against the Cardinals in that contest. A better line on the two teams will be available following Stanford's game with the Navy Saturday. Last week the Bears won from the sailors 21 to 10, showing that the so-called "wonder team" can be scored against.

Young Burton, the lullaby baby, who has shown here several times, is again on Sparks' card Friday night. He and the young colored boy can swing a wicked mitt is a plain fact and should be a treat to all fans. A host of friends followers of the game will no doubt see him put on some red hot bouts.

Sorgum Sprout Likes Sparkes' Boxing Bill

Cypress, Oct. 19.

Sporting Editor:

I had been hearing so much of the good fistic programs staged at the Sparkes' ranch that I that I would attend last Friday's affair. I got my money's worth.

The first bout wasn't much to look at.

The second was the most foolish thing I ever saw to be called boxing.

But, say, we forgot those two first bouts when Young Burton, the Anaheim Tar Baby, turned loose on Joe Chaney. This bout was the show of the evening. Chaney was laughing at the Tar Baby in the first round but in the third and fourth all the laugh left Chaney. He got off form and he was hanging on and ducking for all he was worth when the bell rang. This Tar Baby sure am some scrapper.

In the semi-windup, George Gilmore did all his fighting in the first minute. Thereafter he generally hitting some soft place in the canvas. As a tumbler, Gilmore should be a success. Kid Leo went too far as to knock him through the ropes once.

In the main event we were served two rounds of slashing good fighting and two rounds of dancing. The trouble was the dancing and fighting was all mixed up. But Soules was far in the lead in the fighting and about even on the dancing. Young Dudley didn't show as much of his famous punch we had heard of. Both fighters seemed to think the other was liable to use an awful wallop.

To our way of thinking the Tar Baby-Chaney thing was the show of the evening.

We are going again—

SARGUM-SPROUT.

Sport Chatter

ABERT (Kid) Lee's win over George Gilmore was a surprise to followers of the boxing game here who that the Oaklander didn't have a chance with the slugger from Marysville. However, Lee got away to a good start and had the edge over Gilmore in the second round. Should he be able to put Sailor Hackley away tomorrow night at Sparks' ranch farm, Lee will begin to be a good drawing card here. The Kid is a long way from being done in the four round game, contrary to opinion of fans. He was going good in Oakland a couple of years ago, and began slipping about one year ago. However, he is showing some of his old time form and should be good for many more fast bouts.

Frankie Smith, the Santa Barbara bantam, won over Joe Garcia, another Santa Barbara boy, in last week's show. Smith has been going like a house afire since beginning his ring career and has beaten some good boys. Billy Darsley will bring him to Anaheim shortly where he will show at Sparks' farm. Smith is a boy who starts the ball rolling in the opening session and doesn't know what stop means.

Vernon promoters got an awful panning from the Los Angeles press yesterday for letting George Adams go into the ring against Ad Houbidoux. Adams, according to Fane Norton, was a sick hombre, and hardly able to hold up his hands. Jack Doyle stopped the slaughter in the second round. Under the state laws, a doctor's examination is supposed to be made of every boxer before he enters the ring, and a fatality resulting from a match where no examination was made would result in some one getting badly "burnt". A hint to the wise is sufficient.

Babe Ruth seems to have smoothed over his trouble. If the absence of fresh cigar stumps is indicative of what has occurred.

The influx of racing car drivers has begun to hit Los Angeles, in preparation for the Thanksgiving Day speed classic at the Beverley Hills bowl. Although the coast has always seen the best there is to see in speed demons, this year's gathering will not only exceed anything in the past in the way of real cars, but will also see several new faces in the line-up. Earl Cooper, old-time favorite, will be seen on the starting line, having re-entered the game in Fresno Raisin Day classic.

Pork and beaners are not the only ones forced to make their vacation trips by way of the box cars. Now comes word from the north that state university students will charter a string of side-door pullmans to carry them to Washington where the Bears clash with the Wash. State University.

Fight boss are praying that the city fathers don't go away and forget to turn on the electric light switch, or that a bird doesn't light on a wire tonight, and spoil the boxing show at the American Legion arena. Tonight's all-American card is one of the best attraction presented for some time and the fistic shanty will probably be jammed to the doors.

Johnny Adams and Irving Glassey meet in the main event at San Bernardino tonight. Glassey, who is boxing instructor at the state university, claims the coast flyweight championship. He won from Adams in their last meeting. Adams is well known to local fans and has always made a good showing when he appeared here.

What Others Say

DO MOTORISTS OBJECT TO A GASOLINE TAX?

(Sunset Magazine, October, 1921)

California has one large and influential associations of automobile owners. These associations have rendered most valuable services not only to their members but to the entire West by promoting the cause of good roads by sign-posting the highways in and leading to the Golden State, by urging modern and uniform automobile legislation and by spreading touring information. But these associations stepped from the path of constructive effort when their officers used their great power to kill legislation designed to raise a large road-building fund through the levying of a tax on the gasoline used by touring cars and motor trucks.

Oregon and Washington are levying such a tax without a noticeable protest from automobile owners who realize that it is not good policy to float thirty-year, high-interest bonds for the construction of roads which must be rebuilt before the bonds have been paid off. Bond-issue roads cost twice as much as roads built out of current funds and the automobile owners in one form or another pay the bulk of this double cost caused by interest payments. It is not true that the automobile associations of California have saved the car owners of the state millions of dollars by defeating the gasoline tax. On the contrary, they have deprived the motor owners of a large mileage of new highway and they have increased the cost of the highways that will be built in the future.

The average automobile owner, we believe, would not object to a tax of a cent a gallon, especially as this tax would force the road pests, the high-speed, reckless motor stages and busses to pay a fair share of the cost of building and maintaining the roads they are using.

Over 90 per cent of users of water from the Kings River reservoir, 1,200,000 acres, have reached an agreement to future division of water rights. This, in the opinion of experts, makes the big Pine Flat irrigation project immediately practicable.

RHOADES BRINGS IN WELL EACH MONTH

Huntington Beach

A well a month is the enviable record of the Rhoades Oil Co. It was just three months ago that Rhoades entered the Huntington Beach field. Taking over the Climax, the Huntington National and the Edca. Climax No. 1 and Huntington National are now producing Yesterday Edca No. 1 was bailing down and looks like a 500-barrel well. The showing of the Edca at 2945 is one of the best in the field and with 170 feet of oil sand to draw on Edca or Rhoades No. 2 has all the earmarks of a big well. Rhoades took over properties that did not look very promising, but his methods of operation made good wells. Rhoades treats every well as a wild cat; he studies formation changes closely and knows absolutely what he is in all the time.

Sun No. 4 completed at 2200 has increased its production from 50 to close to 100 barrels. Progress is being made on the deepening of Sun No. 3. This well was put on production three months ago at 2067 but made only a small well. Sun No. 1 stands re-cemented at 2485, and No. 6 is a rig.

Not satisfied with the showing the Torrance well made on a recent production test at 4485 the Standard Oil Co. plans on deepening the well. At best the well averaged about 25 barrels. As the production was rather heavy it is believed that the big light oil sand is deeper. On the Huntington A lease No. 6 is standing at 2970. No. 7 is testing water at 2790. No. 9 is drilling out the cement to test at 2535, No. 12 stands cemented at 2819. No. 13 also cemented is at 2921, No. 14 is drilling at 2800, No. 15 at 2800 and No. 18 at 2000 and No. 17 at 500 feet.

Huntington B-2 stands cemented at 4015. No. 4 stands cemented at 2740. No. 5, a new well, is building rig. No. 7, a new well, shows a completed rig. Huntington D-1 was cemented at 2664, D-2 is a location.

On the Huntington E lease No. 1 stands cemented at 2520, No. 2, formerly on production recemented at 2364, E-3, formerly the Bolsa Chica Oil Co., No. 1, is cleaning out to go on production at 2315. E-4 is rigging up. Bolso No. 3 is up for a water test, No. 4 is drilling at 2130 and No. 5 is building rig. The Jones Community No. 1 is now a 500-barrel well and No. 2 is drilling at 2345. Surf No. 2 stands cemented at 1937. Thompson No. 1 continues to give water trouble and the well was re-cemented at 2905. Farnsworth No. 1, a new property well, is rigging up.

Talbert No. completed at 2351 went on production yesterday. The new well at this depth looks like it is good for about 200 barrels. If it should fail to make a commercial well it is the intention to deepen.

Vista Del Mar No. 2 completed at 2920 put in a string of four-inch casing carrying the perforated. All that remains to do is to drill out a bridge at 2750 and bring the well in. In ten days the Vista Del Mar Co. expects to be listed as a producing company of Huntington Beach.

On the Copeland lease on the west side of the field the Union Oil Co. has No. 3 ready to set two-inch at 2760. No. 5 set pipe at 3497 and is ready for the state's O. K. Copeland No. 2 shows 2700 feet in the shale, Copeland No. 6 is being rigged up. At Newland No. 2 drilling is at 2500.

Additional field information:

Bell of Montebello No. 1, 2230, re-cementing for top water. Bolsa Chica Oil Corp., 2190, re-cemented. Blue Shale Oil and Mining Assn. No. 1, 2639, cemented at 2443, pulling six-inch. Eddystone Oil Corp., Ashton No. 3, 2075, sandy shale, drilling; Huff No. 1, 4015, fishing; Davenport No. 1, 2865, fishing. Edens Syndicate No. 1, 2339, preparing to deepen, shut off water. # REFORESTATION OF 'SHANTUNG AWARD'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.— "The Shantung Award," made famous since the peace conference and sure to come up for a big part of the discussion at the limitation of arms conference in Washington in November, is being reforested.

This activity is set forth in a report made public by the American Forestry, association, which has received from Dean John Reisner a statement on forestry progress in China. Reisner is dean of the college of agriculture and forestry of the University of Nankin.

HERE'S CHANCE TO WIN ESSAY PRIZES

Students and teachers of the Anaheim grammar schools have an opportunity to enter a contest on "How I Can Make the Highways More Safe," and possibly win $500 and a free trip to Washington with all expenses paid, according to information announced by Paul V. Allen, local manager of the Anaheim branch office of the Auto Club of So. Cal. The pupils are given a chance at writing a 500-word essay on this subject, and the teachers at the best lesson they can give instilling "safety first on the highways" into the heads of the children. The contests have been inaugurated by the highway transport committee of Washington, and can be competed in by grammar school students 14 years or under, and grammar school students thruout the U. S. and its territorial possessions.

The matter was presented to C. F. Smith, superintendent of the local grammar schools, and an outline was given to the grammar grades at this week's assembly, meeting with favorable response.

Any grammar school pupil 14 years old or under may compete in writing an essay about 500 words in length, telling about traffic rules, how to cross the streets, why children should not play in the road, or any other means that will make the highways more safe. Illustrations are to be provided by the pupil. All essays must be handed to the school principal on or before Dec. 10, and it is suggested by Auto Club officials that work on the essays begin at once. In the case of teachers, bulletins will be received from Washington as to the conduct of the contest which may take the form of a lecture, recitation, game or drama in presenting the safety subject to pupils.

The prizes are as follows: For teachers, first prize, a trip to Washington with all expenses paid, and $500; second prize, $300 cash; third prize, $200 cash. The prizes for the students follow: first prize, gold watch, and trip to Washington with all expenses paid; second prize, gold loving cup; third prize, silver loving cup. The California state prizes for the students are as follows: first prize, gold medal and $15; second prize, silver medal and $10; third prize, bronze medal and $5.

Forrest Mitchell, it was stated by Mitchell at the local federal prohibition offices today.

RIVERSIDE IS NEXT SO. CAL. OIL FIELD

Riverside

That Riverside is the next So. Calif. field is the claim of the Riverside-co Oil Co. The claim seems to be quite fully substantiated by the big showing of oil the company got at 1800 feet and which continued to 2225. A producing oil sand struck at 1835 feet showed a lot of oil and increased as the well deepened. At 2225 looked like the well might blow in uncompleted. Drilling was stopped and a string of pipe set at 1824. Leasing is now underway hot footed.

More than $6,000,000 will be paid out Nov. 15 by the California Associated Raisin Co. to its members in final payment of the 1920 crop. This will bring up the total payment to $37,000,000, or rather more than the 1919 total.

FOR A FREE DEMONSTRATION in your home of the WILCOX & GIBBS machine, without any obligation to purchase, write Mrs. Segerstrom. Will call at any home in Orange county. P. O. Box 397, Anaheim, Calif.

Garden Grove News

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 20.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Andres entertained about 75 friends at their home Monday evening in celebration of their 25th wedding anniversary. The house was decorated with jack-o'-lanterns and other Hollowe'en suggestions.

The Rev. W. Harkness gave an appropriate speech and presented Mr. and Mrs. Andres with a set of sterling silver teaspoons. Mr. Andres thanked their friends and presented his wife with a set of sterling silver tablespoons.

The evening was pleasantly passed with games and a social time.

Refreshments of pumpkin pie, doughnuts and coffee were enjoyed. Two beautifully decorated wedding cakes were cut and served to the guests.

The local Y. M. C. A. committee held a meeting and banquet at the Garden Grove hotel. The following were present: H. A. Lake, Milo Allen, Garfield Allen, J. A. Knapp, P. M. German, W. M. Morrill, C. S. Holt, F. E. Bissitt, Claud Crosby, F. L. Woodhouse, J. O. Arkley, E. M. Dozier, Mr. Salomker and Mr. Chessum, of Santa Ana.

The congregation and invited friends of the Rev. W. Harkness and family will give a banquet at the M. E. church next Friday night, the occasion being the beginning of the new conference year.

JAPS PREPARING FOR SHANTUNG ISSUE

TOKIO, Oct. 20.—Following publication here this afternoon of a detailed statement of Japan's steps in the Shantung matter, it became known that Japan has given up hope of keeping the issue out of the Washington far eastern conference and is preparing for her stand there now.

Plans to seek the mediation of President Harding in an effort to settle the issue with China are understood to have been blocked by the diplomatic council.

TEST LEGALITY OF U. OF C. $25 FEE

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 20.— A request for an opinion on the legality of the University of California's charges for "incidental fees" on resident and non-resident students was asked of Attorney General U. S. Webb by Chairman Gilbert B. Daniels of the state board of control in a letter issued here last night. The request follows numerous protests against the charge of $25 as an "incidental fee" at the university.

DATE OF CHECK DAM TOUR IS ANNOUNCED

The joint tour, which committees from supervisors of Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties are planning for the purpose of inspecting check dams used in flood protection work in Los Angeles county, will be taken Saturday. Haynes canyon is one of the points to be visited.

The committees are gathering data on flood control to guide the three counties in proposed control work on the Santa Ana river at the head of Santa Ana canyon.

The committees are composed of the engineers of each county and Supervisors S. H. Finley, Orange; Packard, Riverside, and Biggin, San Bernardino.

The Premier
ELECTRIC CLEANER
ALL the dread and drudgery of cleaning vanish when the Premier arrives in your home. Even the hard-to-get-at places can be quickly and easily cleaned. And things you are now obliged to send out can be renovated thoroughly at home.
Premier is also worth many times its cost because of the time and labor it saves. Hours you now spend in hard-labor cleaning can be spent in more enjoyable tasks, at rest or recreation.
Visit our Premier department and see a demonstration of this efficient cleaner. Learn how it makes housework more enjoyable. Moderate prices—convenient terms.
