SHOOT TIRES, NAB AUTO THIEVES

15-Year-Old Boy Slows Up Pair Wanted for Theft of Hollywood Woman's Car

J. H. Williams, 22, and James Harvey, 17, are in the Los Angeles-co jail charged with theft of an auto as a result of the excellent marksmanship of Charles Ring, 15, son of the proprietor of a gasoline service station on the state highway between Santa Ana and Capistrano.

Saturday evening Williams and Harvey stopped at the station for gas and oil. They started off without paying for it and without reckoning on young Ring who pulled his trusty rifle to his shoulder and punctured both rear tires and the spare, also.

Then along came John W. Howell, special investigator for the So. Calif. Auto club who joined young Ring in pursuit of the pair, capturing them in a canyon about five miles away.

The two were turned over to Undersheriff E. E. French who brot them to Santa Ana where they were held for Los Angeles-co authorities.

The car, an Oldsmobile, belonged to Rosalind Morse, 1421 So. Poinsettia-place, Hollywood.

2 USED CHEVROLETS BURNED SAT. NIGHT

Two used Chevrolets belonging to Frank Taggart, Chevrolet dealer for No. Orange-co., were destroyed by fire about 10 p. m. Saturday when the fire department was called to 306 No. Los Angeles-st.

An explosion in the gas tank of one car scattered the flames to a second.

DON'T OPPOSE MAIN UNION PACIFIC LINE

That there is no disposition on the part of ranchers of this district to oppose the extension of the Union Pacific main line into Orange-co but that the opposition is confined to the proposed stub line into the Olive-Tustin district was the declaration today of W. M. Cummings, chairman of the farmer's committee directing the opposition.

"There has been a studied effort on the part of railway officials" said Mr. Cummings today, "to make it appear that a small group of ranchers is attempting to prevent the extension of the Union Pacific into Orange-co. Apparently this effort is being made for the purpose of clouding the issue, since the farmers concerned in the opposition have at no time offered objection to the main line extension proposed. On the contrary, the ranchers of the Olive-Tustin district will welcome the Union Pacific main line to Orange-co and appreciate the importance of the line to the people of the county. The ranchers, however, contend that the proposed stub line into a district already fully served can be of no value to the community entered and will occasion great damage to the district.

MEXICAN NARCOTIC POWERFUL POISON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. — Although the growing and sale of the mariahuana weed is prohibited by ordinance in most of the border cities and towns of Texas, the use of this Mexican narcotic continues to spread rapidly. Although most of the addicts of the mariahuana cigarette are Mexicans, many white people in San Antonio and El Paso, especially, are using the drug, according to the police authorities of those cities. The bad effects of mariahuana smoking on the part of the soldiers of the Mexican army caused the growing and sale of the weed to be prohibited in that country several years ago. The fact, however, that the weed grows wild in many parts of Mexico and South Texas, makes it practically impossible to prevent it being used. In almost every town in the border region mariahuana cigarettes may be purchased at little Mexican tiendas or stores.

Fullerton Woman Hurt From Folding Bed

FULLERTON WOMAN— — — —

Mrs. W. T. Brown of Fullerton narrowly escaped serious injury Saturday morning when a folding bed fell on her, inflicting a scalp wound seven inches long. Twenty-three stitches were necessary to close the wound. She was unconscious all day Saturday, but regained her senses yesterday. Careful examination showed no fracture or concussion of brain.

The accident occurred at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Stinchfield, of Los Angeles, where she was staying expecting to be near Mr. Brown who is in the hospital there for an operation.

CROWN STAGE AND CADILLAC COLLIDE

A Crown stage going into the city about 11:30 o'clock last night, was struck near San Dimas by a Cadillac car driven by Fred Bixby. The stage was driven by Perry Coper, and there were five passengers on board, two of them attorneys. There was no one injured by the accident, which, it is said, was caused by the driver of the Cadillac driving on the wrong side of the road, altho both cars were badly wrecked. The damage to the stage is estimated at $1,000, and about a similar amount of damage was done to the Cadillac. Both cars were covered by insurance.

EASY TO CATCH WITH SALT ON TAILS

MOSES LAKE, Wash., Oct. 31. — Wild ducks which are visiting Coulee Lake now in great numbers, become on certain nights so loaded down with crystalizations of salt, borax and some other similar substance that they are unable to fly, and while in this condition become easy prey for so called hunters, who wade out into the shallow water and pick them up in their hands.

Often this substance collects on the birds' bills in such weight as to actually drag their heads under the water and drown them. According to M. Beasley, who has lived near the lake for years, a duck is often loaded down with several pounds in some instances. The crystals are quite evenly distributed over the birds' feathers above the water, sticking them together as if glued.

The crystalization always takes place in the night and entirely disappears after a few hours' exposure to the morning sun, or in the fresh water springs on the border of the lake.

Extradit. Without Formal Complaint

Tho no formal complaint has been filed against him, James Corrigan, arrested at Tombstone, Ariz., will be brot to Santa Ana, according to officials today. A wire was received Saturday from J. E. Hood at Tombstone, announcing arrest of Corrigan. Sheriff Jackson recalled a request had been made two months ago for Corrigan's arrest but inquiry at the district attorney's office disclosed no complaint had been sworn out there.

It was reported that Corrigan was wanted in connection with the "ghost oil city" in connection with which J. K. Wood will go to trial in January for bunkoing several Anaheim women. This report was also vigorously denied.

MOSQUE TO BE BUILT IN FRENCH CAPITAL

PARIS, Oct. 31.—Paris is to have a mosque. It will be in the old quarter of the city near the Botanical Garden, and is due to the initiative of an endowed Mohammedan society. However, the municipality has given the site and the French parliament has voted an appropriation to assist the work.

Marshal Lyautey, military commander in Morocco, is also actively interested in the enterprise. A single Mohammedan dignitary has given 125,000 francs to the building fund. Commenting upon this enterprise, Le Figaro says:

"It is natural that there should be a mosque in Paris. One hundred thousand Mussulmans fell in the cause of France during the war. Twenty million followers of the prophet live under our law or our protection. Every day the number of our African subjects who visit Paris for pleasure, study or business is growing greater."

RICHEST INDIAN IS AFTER MORE MONEY

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Jackson Barnett, the richest American Indian in the world, is in Washington to get a larger allowance from the Indian bureau to build himself and wife a more pretentious abode. He and his wife now receive $2500 a month, but they declare they need more to keep up appearances at Henryetta, Okla., where many rich Indians live.

Barnett would not take an allotment when Indians of other tribes were grabbing at them, and the government forced one on him. Now he revels in wealth because of the oil beneath his land, which nets him large royalties. He has $1,018,000 in government bonds, which the interior department bought for him during the world war at par.

The birds "go south" in winter. But the "bird" with an extravagant wife has no choice of seasons.

A. O. & L. ENDS SUCCESSFUL SEASON

Packs 1000 Cars of Oranges and Lemons, Record for One House in County

With the persistency of a steam roller and the preciseness of the ticking of a clock, without any fuss or chaos, running with the smoothness of perfectly adjusted and lubricated machinery the Anaheim Orange and Lemon Assn. wound up the most successful season of its career Saturday night.

This association has handled more fruit the last season than has ever been handled by one association in Anaheim and more than has ever been packed under one roof in the county. Over 1000 carloads of oranges and lemons were packed. This means a half a milion boxes or around one hundred and twenty-five million oranges. To move this crop it has taken five carloads of wrapping paper, a carload of nails and 100 carloads of box shook. The house was run from five to seven carloads per day for the entire valencia season and there was not a single stop on account of breakdown or lack of material to pack the fruit.

The visitors' register shows the names of over 1200 people who have visited the packinghouse. As a great many got by during the busiest hours without registering, it is safe to say that over 2000 went thru the plant. From the register it will be seen that these visitors are from all parts of the world, and they will take with them the impression of having been thru one of the most up-to-date packinghouses in California and it was located at Anaheim.

On inquiry at the packinghouse Manager Sandilands states that one of the most satisfying items in the winding up of the present season is the fact that the association, with the close of the season, is absolutely out of debt. "We started out," says Mr. Sandilands, "with the idea that it would take from five to six years to get our plant paid for. We had plenty of handicaps in getting this house started and we have just completed our third year. Our brands have made an enviable place for themselves in the estimation of the country-wide trade. Too much credit cannot be given our enterprising and public spirited board of directors and the full support they have given the management and which has so materially assisted in bringing about the success attained."

The association has around fifty cars of valencias rolling which should clean up in the next three weeks on a highly satisfactory market.

The organization has been compelled to refuse membership to the many petitioning for same for the last two years. The idea seems to be highly approved by the members: "Not to see how large, but how profitable and efficient we can become."

SAME FAMILY OWNS FARM FOR CENTURY

MONTGOMERY CITY, Mo., Oct. 31.—Speaking of centennials—

There is a farm in western Montgomery-co that has been owned by the same family exactly 100 years. John H. Duton, a Baltimore ship's carpenter, came to Missouri and first entered the 160-acre tract in 1814. The formal entry, however, is dated 1821. His granddaughter, Mrs. Susan E. Phillips, is living on the farm now.

The old log house on the farm is celebrating its one hundredth anniversary this year. Weatherboarded and painted, with a porch added, it looks like a modern house. Its original huge stone chimney is still in good repair.

The well on the farm is 100 years old, too. When Dutton bought the tract from a trapper, the well was a living spring and helped attract him to the land. A century has passed and it is still going, dug out to make a clear, living well.

The big elm that shaded the front yard and that was one of the landmarks of that country did not quite survive to celebrate its centennial. It died not long ago at the age of 98. Fatty degeneration of the heart may have caused its untimely end, for its trunk measured six feet across.

In 1867 the farm went to Dutton's daughter, Evelyn Jane Dutton Shelton, and her husband, Jacob B. Shelton. Two years ago it was left to their daughter, Mrs. Phillips. These are the only two transfers within the century.

Becomes Step-Father of Former Wife

CEDAR RAPIDS, Oct. 31.— The ceremony uniting George E. Bider, 44 years old, and Mrs. Julia Davis, 48, in holy bonds of matrimony also made Bider the proud grandfather of his own six children and gave his parental authority as stepfather over his former wife. A few weeks ago Bider got a divorce from Mrs. Eva Bider, the present Mrs. Bider's daughter, and mother of Bider's six children.

2000 Income Tax Folks Delinquent

Elmer B. Burns, deputy internal revenue collector, announced today he would summor 2000 Orange-co people before him for irregularities in making out their income tax blanks. While many are delinquent, most are irregular because of ignorance as to proper methods in filling out the blanks.

Burns will interview those from the southend of the counuty at Santa Ana and Deputy Marvin will summon northenders before him at Fullerton. Burns estimates he can handle 20 per day.

SUBDIVISION ON MARKET AT ONCE

Elliott, Anderson & Allen today instructed surveyors to proceed with the plotting of their new ten-acre subdivision south of Santa Ana-st., between Palm and Citron-sts. The city will proceed with water and sewer lines, curbs, walks, streets, etc., as rapidly as possible and at least one house will be started within a few days.

In view of the close-in location and the moderate prices, it is expected the lots will be snapped up quickly.

RETURN FROM TRIP TO EASTERN CLINICS

Dr. and Mrs. H. D. Newkirk returned Sunday from a month's trip in the east during which Mrs. Newkirk visited friends in Minneapolis, and Dr. Newkirk spent much time in visiting various clinics of the east and middle west, and also of the Pacific coast on his return trip. He visited the ear, eye, nose and throat hospital in Chicago, the Mayo clinic at Rochester, Minn.; clinics in St. Paul, Minneapolis, Fargo, N. D.; Bismarck, N. D.; Seattle, Tacoma, Portland and San Francisco. He gave especial attention to ear, eye, nose and throat departments and found that clinics are becoming very popular because of the better treatment possible where there are specialists grouped together.

He said that he was surprised to find that the clinics of the west are superior to the clinics of the east, with the exception of Rochester and was also pleased to note that the Anaheim institution is well known in all the best medical centers.

He stated that business conditions in the east have been at a low ebb but that there is now a note of optimism everywhere. The people in all lines have taken their losses cheerfully, and are starting over again. Everywhere it is admitted that So. Calif. is the only white spot on the commercial map and Dr. Newkirk says that it is his firm conviction that Anaheim, as the center of this district, is bound to have a wonderful growth in the future.

43 YEARS' SERVICE; VETERAN RETIRES

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 31.—After 43 years' service in the United States navy, Chief Machinists' Mate George G. Keating, of 1132 West Washington street, San Diego, today, at the navy recruiting office in the Union Oil building, was retired from the service on practically full pay, amounting to over $150 a month for the remainder of his life.

In fine health, weighing considerably over 200 pounds, Keating, with 11 gold service stripes on his arm, each representing a four-year enlistment period, was the envy of all of the young naval officers as he looks as fit and capable as any of them.

ORIGIN OF SAYING 'WHEN IN ROME' ETC.

DETROIT, Oct. 31.—The saying, "When in Rome," used most often as an admonition to people who seem unable to accommodate themselves to the ways and manners of those they associate with, is one of the most ancient anecdotes known to literature, says a writer in the Detroit News.

It refers to a witty conversation between St. Augustine and St. Ambrose.

St. Augustine was somewhat puzzled about the regulations concerning abstinence from high feasting, because in some parts of Italy, Saturday was observed as a fast day and in others Sunday was set aside for abnegation. He consulted St. Ambrose, calling his attention to the fact that in Rome Saturday was a fast day, while in Milan no such restriction prevailed.

St. Ambrose answered:

"When I am in Milan I do not fast on Saturday. When in Rome I do fast on Saturday."

FUNERAL FOR MRS. WOOSLEY

NAB 4 IN SATURDAY NIGHT BOOZE RAIDS

In a series of raids Saturday by county and city officials, arrests were made at four different places for violation of prohibition laws.

At Los Alamitos, Sheriff Jackson and Undersheriff French arrested Camille Ghyfels, Belgian, who was found dispensing from a considerable stock of home brew and other kinds of liquor to a number of patrons. Today, Ghyfels pleaded guilty before Justice Cox at Santa Ana and was fined $300 on each of two counts charging selling and keeping. Sheriff Jackson took the names and addresses of the patrons, finding they were largely from Olinda, Richfield and Placentia.

Three years ago Mrs. Ghyfels was arrested on similar charges and fined $400.

While stopping autoists suspected of hauling booze, in Santa Ana canyon near the Yorba bridge Saturday night, the sheriff picked up F. Ramirez with a jug of whisky. He was enroute to a dance near Corona. He pleaded not guilty to a charge of transporting before Justice Cox this morning but was expected to change his plea this afternoon.

The sheriff arrested Eugene Navara at the Anaheim sugar factory Saturday night. He was selling drinks from a quart bottle. When he spied the sheriff, Navara attempted to escape and break the bottle, but the sheriff was too nimble for him. He pleaded not guilty to transporting liquor before Judge Cox today.

E. M. Chapmanu was arrested Saturday night by Police Officer Tex Choate of Anaheim on a charge of transporting liquor, being found with a suitcase containing two one-gallon jugs of whiskey. Chapman was turned over to the sheriff who will notify the federal prohibition enforcement officers since the arrest was made inside the city.

MRS. CAMPBELL SENTENCED

Superior Judge R. Y. Williams today sentenced Mrs. Mary Campbell, convicted of the murder of her husband, Jess V. Campbell, Balboa oilman, to not more than ten years in San Quentin prison.

Heronl y visible evidence of emotion when sentence was pronounced was deeper breathing. Her sister, Mrs. D. M. Garvey, who sat by her side thruout the trial, was not in court this morning.

Her counsel, Atty. Guy Eddie, of Los Angeles, did not make a motion for new trial nor serve notice of appeal. Instead, when the court asked if there was any legal cause why sentence should not be pronounced, Eddie stated that Mrs. Campbell wished to make a statement.

"Go ahead," said the court.

"I wish to have it understood thatI have no malice whatsoever toward any official who took part in the prosecution and thus correct certain newspaper statements to such effect. I am making this statement in justice to my jurrors," said Mrs. Campbell.

"I grieved very much during the trial and I want to repeat emphatically, your honor, that I was not in my right mind when I shot my husband. I knew nothing of what transpired then."

For the first time it was generally known she had received flowers and letters while in jail awaiting trial when she voicer appreciation to those who had sent them.

The court stated she would be well treated at San Quentin and the length of her sentence would depend upon her behavior.

She left at 3:25 p. m. for San Quentin, in custody of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Lacy, county jailer and matron.

WHERE DO DRIVERS OF WRECKS VANISH?

Where are the vanished drivers of unsolved road wrecks?

Their charmed lives are the reason for official failure to solve the mysteries.

If they could be located; if they dared return, many a puzzling highway derelict could be explained, and many a story of miraculous escape could be told.

The unidentified casualty list of motordom has recently recruited two more such unkonwns in Orange-co. Their revelation, soon or ultimately, is dubious. It seems probable that they will go down on the records as permanently missing.

How flesh and blood could survive what wood and steel failed to withstand, is still a matter of keen curiosity to officers who are investigating the mysterious wrecking of two large touring cars on Orange-co boulevards within a recent period.

Some few days ago, a motorcycle officer came upon a Hudson super six, wrecked along the Irvine boulevard. It had plowed a great furrow in the earth for some distance and there was further evidence, in the condition of the car, that a bad accident had taken place while the car was traveling at terrific sped. Yet no trace of a human being was found. If the car had a driver, the fact must be deduced from the fact that most cars do have drivers. There was no proof to show that he had been killed, injured or had escaped unhurt. His identity and where abouts were and are today as much a mystery as the cause of the wreck.

There is slightly less mystery attached to the wreck of L. G. Swale's Cole eight, which was stolen from the Modjeska camp last Saturday and which a few hours later, went hurtling into the ditch on Grand-ave, at the Santa Clara intersection, in Santa Ana.

There is, however, the same mystery attached to the driver—who he was, what became of him, and, particularly, how he managed to survive the crash which changed a fine touring car into a jammed, crumpled mass of junk. There was not a drop of blood left to show that he had been even scratched. He merely vanished—into thin air.

Solution of the mysteries of the vanished drivers might provide an amazing contribution to science, not to mention literature, should they ever come to pass.

LEGION CONVENTION FIGHTS FOR VETS' AID

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 31.—Following strains of the Star Spangled Banner sung by Madame Schumann-Heink, National Commander John G. Emory today opened the third annual convention of the American Legion. Madame Schuman-Heink was given a thunderous ovation as she finished, "You tell 'em mother," came from the Texas delegation as the last note died away.

The American Legion, in convention here today, renewed its campaign for assurance financially of aid to disabled veterans.

John J. Emory, national commander of the legion, told the opening session of the convention of the efforts made by the organization in behalf of physically disabled soldiers during the last year and then declared:

"Our great fight now is for another class of disabled veterans—the financially disabled."

"Adverse industrial conditions have hit ex-service men harder than any other class," Emor said.

He scored the senate's action in turning down the adjusted compensation bill.

"President Harding was misled by the anti-compensationists," Emory declared. "The senate is acting unfavorably on the bill bowed to the will of the chief executive and not to fact or reason."

SEND MARSHAL FOCH BOBCAT BY AIRPLANE

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 31.—Marshal Foch of France on his arrival here today will meet the "master strategist of the Montana timberlands, a wild bobcat, by special arrangement of the Montana delegation to the American Legion convention here.

A week ago the bobcat was hunting prey in the northwestern forest, but was captured for the meeting with the generalissimo and brot here by airplane.

Unless the famous French warrior is unusually familiar with zoos it is expected he has never seen a Rocky mountain bobcat. The little animal will be given the marshal by the Montana delegation as the official souvenir of the legion convention which takes place "out west" in America.

BURCH DEMANDS AID FROM OBENCHAIN

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 31.—On the eve of his trial for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, which begins tomorrow, Arthur C. Burch has sent an imperative demand to Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, indicted with him for the slaying, that she take the witness stand in his defense, it became known today.

Burch, it was reported, informed Mrs. Obenchain that she must appear as a witness for him to tell her version of the murder, which is that the crime was committed by two roughly-dressed men whom she saw fleeing when Kennedy fell.

According to all indications Mrs. Obenchain made no immediate answer to Burch's demand, apparently intending to discuss it with her attorneys some time today.

Burch's demand that Mrs. Obenchain appear as a witness in his behalf added a new complication to a situation already fraught with tenseness. Mrs. Obenchain several days ago announced that she was through with Burch forever because he told her he loved her and threatened to take her to San Quentin with him rather than see her reconciled with "Steady Ralph" Obenchain, her divorced husband.

LEASE SEATS FOR PASADENA STADIUM

Anaheim citizens who hope to see the Tournament of Roses football game on New Year's day, by means of tickets secured thru the office of Pasadena, for the local chamber, will be disappointed, according to the secretary of the Anaheim C. of C., who met with Mr. Bertoneau, secretary of the Tournament Assn., Saturday.

The plan is to sell leases on seats for five and 10 years at $50 and $100, respecitvely, plus 10 pct war tax. This will make the cost of a five-year seat $55, and one for 10 years $110. The holder of either class of seat is entitled to attend everything to be held in the new stadium for the period, without expenditure of additional war tax. The new stadium will not be completed before the end of next year, to be ready for the 1923 game. In view of this, the holder of a seat under the new plan will receive a rebate of $10, with which to buy tickets for this year's game. Arrangements have been made for installment payments in the case of both five and 10-year seats. It is estimated that there will be at least four or five events held in the stadium each year and it is more than remotely possible that the International Olympic games may be held at Pasadena within the term of the ticket. These tickets will be issued in permanent form and will be held by the owner except when sold or presented for use when he cannot attend; or they can be sold outright at any time after he completes purchase. Mr. Bertoneau states that there will be less than 2000 tickets of the ordinary kind for sale this year and these will only be sold to persons not residents in So. Calif., to whom the term tickets would be absolutely useless. There is no possible hope that the local chamber will be able to obtain any of these.

Those desiring the new form of tickets should apply to the office at Pasadena in person, if they wish a good location. The sale opens tomorrow and already requests for allotment of 2000 tickets have been received. Only 5000 five-year tickets and 5000 10-year tickets will be disposed of and buyers are entitled to pick any seat in the stadium which will hold 65,000 persons. The advantage of going in person is evident as seats for the game on New Year's day can thus be alloted at once on the $10 coupon which is returned to purchasers. Also there is every evidence that the 10,000 for sale under this plan will be exhausted before the day of the game. Mr. Bertoneau states that the contending teams for this year's game have not yet been selected but this will be known in a short time.

WOMAN HURT WHEN TWO AUTOS COLLIDE

FINDS CHAUFFEUR IS DEAF AND DUMB

The city authorities demanded that the license be revoked.

GIRL ATTEMPTS SUICIDE IN JAIL

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 31.—Margaret Sharp, held in the county jail on a burglary charge, attempted to commit suicide early today by taking morphine, according to a report at the sheriff's office. She was removed to the county hospital where it was said she has a chance to recover.

The room was very prettily trimmed in Hallowe'en colors. On a stand in one corner was a beautiful birthday cake with icing in orange color and around the outside of the cake were black candy witches, and cats. The stand was very prettily decorated with black and orange streamers. Five hundred was played until a very late hour, after which refreshments of sandwiches, coffee and cake and ice cream were served.

The men of the Standard Oil company presented Mr. Fallis with a bath robe as a reminder of the occasion, and guests from Long Beach presented him with eleven records for his victrola. ### PIANO PUPILS GIVEN PARTY BY MRS. BRYANT

A VERY spooky party was held at the home of Mrs. P. Bryant Saturday evening when she entertained for the members of her piano classes and their friends. The rooms were profusely decorated in the orange and black colors, with cats, crescents, pumpkins and other spooky suggestions on the walls and about the rooms. The floor lamp was dressed to represent a most horrible ghost. The arms were wired out and a light was in the cranium. The lights were turned low and the guests sat on the porch and told weird spooky stories; in fact they were so terrible that the bravest of the country swains almost fell in their tracks.

A ghost related the future of the ones bidden to the delightful affair, and after that Miss Vaughn Bryant rendered several delightful solos for the youngsters. Everyone was more than pleased with the dances that were presented by Miss Laverna Dugas. Near the close of the evening when the time arrived for the refreshments, Mrs. Bryant told the youngsters that pop corn balls were hidden about the rooms and they were to hunt for them. When everyone had found his popcorn ball, he had to go bobbing in the water for apples. After this was done they were told to put their hands behind their backs and eat the doughnuts that hung on strings. This caused no little amount of fun.

At ten o'clock the tired but happy guests were taken to their homes, thanking Mrs. Bryant for showing them such a very pleasant time. The guests of the party were: the Misses Marjorie Clark, Esther Leuschner, Constance Randall, Edith Alexander, Arleen and Frances Quarton, Elinore Puchert, Agnes Rasmussen, Vaughn Bryant, Bernice Ingram, Sarah and Mary Crone, Laverna Dugas, Nellie Quarton, Florence Smith, Rose Siefken, Ann Galvin, Dorothy Newman, Louise Dean, Alice and Margaret Cornwell, Frances Merrill, Edwina White, Iona Seale, Louise Grunemay, Augusta Stewart, Claudina Carrisosa, Clementine Bremmer, Catherine Todd the Messrs Robert Quarton, James Holland, Vincent Huarte, Meldon Randall, Theo. ### PRESBYTERIAN CALENDAR

Tuesday evening, regular meeting of the session. Every member is urged to be present.

Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock sharp, will be the meeting of the Sunday School workers. A good attendance is desired and all are urged to be on time so we may adjourn to the prayer service promptly at 7:30.

Wednesday evening at 7:30, the regular prayer and praise service, at which the ninth meditation upon the "Life That Wins" will be taken up. The special topic for the evening is "Christian Science and the Life That Wins."

Everyone is asked to keep in mind the fact that on Nov. 8, 9, and 10, the State Sunday School convention will meet in our city. More rooms, together with breakfast, are greatly needed for our visitors. Anyone who can finish entertainment is asked to report to Geo. M. Ross as soon as possible.

The pastor was made happy the past week when the congregation surprised him with a substantial cash gift to aid him in purchasing an auto, which will be a great help in his work.

The C. E. Society held a very interesting meeting last evening. Mr. Herbert Oelke was the leader. These meetings are steadily nacreasing in interest and a cordial invitation is extended to all young people who have no other place for worship.

The children of the Sabbath school have now become accustomed to their new classes and programme and are ready for new work. As a start they have set Sunday, Nov. 13, as the day for a special collection to aid in the purchase of electric light fixtures for the new manse. Don't forget the date, Sunday, Nov. 13.

Those winning awards for perfectly learned Golden texts during the past month were Bernice Bremer, Josephine Cook, Ellen Gibbs, Edwin Beebe, Paul Sloop, George Sloop, Winifred Beebe, Margaret Hartranft, Miriam Sloop, Yutaka Yans and Marshall Beebe.

The children are forming the habit of attending the Junior Sermons, which are proving both interesting and instructive.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICE YESTERDAY

St. Michael's Episcopal church was crowded to capacity last night when a class of nine candidates was presented to the Right Reverend Bishop Stevens for confirmation. The beautifully impressive service was augmented by appropriate music. Mr. George Jackson sang for offertory solo, "Open the Gates of the Temple," which he rendered excellently, and in which he was accompanied by Ernest Zitman, with violin obligato. The singing of the large choir was especially hearty and helped to render most attractive the services which was greatly enjoyed by the congregation.

Bishop Stevens in a splendid and forceful sermon, gave the candidates earnest advice, after which the rites were the Misses June Borchert, Honor were the Misses une Borchert, Honor Easton, Amanda Logan Chambers, Priscilla Messias, Dorothy Adele Yungbluth, Honer Marie McDuell, and the Messrs. William Walter Grafton, Robert Allan Lewis and John Willis Parks.

Probation by courts, an instrument of mercy and character-saving if discreetly applied, may become an encouragement of criminality. It frequently is charged—with much evidence that the charge is merited—that the granting of probations is abused in this state and that the public is victimized oftentimes by persons let out on probation.

The world war put this state and the nation back fully ten years in housing accommodations. For, while building construction was halted for five years, population steadily was increasing and the needs of housing were growing. So with the slackness of building operations in the period since the Armistice, there is an accumulated deficiency in housing which is startling indeed. The shortage in housing applies not alone to residences, but to schools and even to business blocks. With all the building that possibly can be done, everywhere, for an indefinite number of years to come, there can be no overbuilding.

Chicago's fake beggars ride in taxicabs. Those who impersonate crippled world war veterans gather in the greatest sums. This reflects the splendid generosity of "the man in the street" who, unfortunately does not take the time or trouble to look into the credentials of those who importune him for alms. It reflects, on the other hand, the most despicable and depraved form of fraudulence on the part of the beggars. That monstrous swindling should be broken up and the perpetrators should go to prison on stiff sentences.

RACE PROBLEM HAS MANY ANGLES IN U. S.

President Harding's frank discussion of the problems of the relations of the white and black races in this country has brought this question prominently before the people at this time. It always is a live question. It frequently crops out, in some form. As the negro advances in enlightenment and in capability for useful effort, and as the white man better understands the true nature of the negro race and the great struggles that negroes have had to make—and which they have made with credit to themselves—there is a more hopeful attitude between the thinking element of both races—an attitude that gives rise to the expectation that a better understanding may be effected, so that the two races may live side by side, each respecting the other and both working together in harmonious, co-operative spirit.

There never can be and never should be intermixture of races—and this applies as between the white race and other races than the negro. Amalgamation, racially, would be bad for both races thus attempting to blend.

There will be sympathetic interests among thoughtful, tolerant, humane white persons in the proposals set forth, from time to time, to encourage the negro in his efforts to better himself in education and in economic achievements. For neither race lives to itself alone. The white race is essential, in this country, to the welfare of the negro. And the negro, on his part, contributes vastly to the material progress of the Nation. The material interests of the two races interlock. Therefore, it is to the interest of each to promote the economic weal of the other.

Letters From People

LETTERS FROM PEOPLE—BOX HD . . MODERN WARS

The Plain Dealer;

During a life including much foreign travel I have observed that most people everywhere have a kindly feeling toward the peoples of other countries. But I have observed how propaganda—often of the most subtle description— has sometimes been directed against other nations and then suspicion is created toward other lands. Each nation next commences to emphasize the unjust actions of the other and forgets its own moral and political weaknesses. A hostile spirit is thus created.

It is openly known and charged from the most responsible European sources that these influences originate with men whose interests in some way or other are enhanced by promulgating international fears. We must expect this because both "preparedness" and war result in the hard-earned assets of the many going into the coffers of the few. The opinion once having been created that war is inevitable the rest is easy. Under such conditions governments yield to the pressure brot upon them. Real motives for the prospective conflict are hidden behind plausible excuses because nowadays you must have your great moral slogans to justify war. Next, "leaders of public opinion," who possibly had not approved of the threatened struggle but who do not wish to seem unpatriotic, join in the call to arms. Other citizens who had seen a better way are silenced. The governments, if strong enough, next apply conscription with its freedom destroying corollaries of espionage and censorship. The people, often for political reasons, are kept in the dark whilst their wealth and their boys—the best of the breed—are destroyed. Who gets the plums? Members of the noisy minority, and few others, get the plums. These plum-securing folks meanwhile are mostly safe in their offices or homes whilst "the boys" are sent to the slaughter. When the war is over and the moral and material effects are counted, mighty few people are satisfied. How worse than foolish we are!

What is a remedy? Knowledge is not sufficient. The only practical solution is obedience to the plain teachings of Christianity. And the peoples must let their respective governments know what they want. Now is our time. Write to the president!

CHRISTIANITY FINAL RELIGION FOR MAN

Yesterday morning at the Methodist White Temple, Dr. J. A. Geissinger spoke upon Hebrews 7:25, his subject being "He Is Able." He said in part:

"The epistle to the Hebrews is difficult for a modern man to understand. And that is due to the form of the argument the apostle was compelled to make.

"His fundamental position is that Christianity opens up a new and living way of fellowship with God thru Christ. And that is modern enough.

"But this contention made it necessary for him to argue that Christianity was superior to every other religion including Judaism. So we read his words about Christ being superior to Aaron and Moses and the angels and take his argument as a matter of course. Not so his first readers. He was retiring the whole of Judaism — altars, priests, sacrifices, tabernacles, and temples. That was surely radical from the Jews' point of view and must have been altogether disturbing. Think what it would mean today if a man was to come among us and say that he believed in God and wanted everyone else to believe in God but to do so they would have to do away with churches and all of the machinery and institutionalism of Christianity. It would stir us considerably.

"And yet the apostle was right. Christianity is the supreme and final religion for it does bring men to God and that is what religions all have sought to do.

"No one can read the epistle to the Hebrews or this text without realizing that the author had come under the liberating power of Christianity. The New Testament makes it clear that Christ greatly moved the hearts of men and women when he was here upon earth. The sick, the lame, the ignorant, the poor, the sinful found in Him a Savior. Men who had felt that their lives were useless suddenly were stirred to hope and dared great things. Then His death on the cross at the time of the great feast when multitudes were in Jerusalem the capital of religion, created a great commotion. What must it have been when it became known that He was alive, had arisen and been seen by many? Then He went in and out among men for 40 days teaching and comforting them and organizing them for work. Pentecost shows how they had been moved. Three thousand joined the new movement in a body at one time. The apostle has felt this liberating power and is writing about it.

"What is his theme? What is the theme of Christianity? I answer—Salvation. Christianity knows no rich and poor, learned and unlearned, black and white but simply the lost and saved. If you read Luke 15 you will see that Jesus is trying to say that men and women get lost in all kinds of ways. He was impressed with the fact that few had any real faith in God and that the multitudes wandered about without hope and without God.

"But he did not come to remind people that they were lost but to help them to become saved. 'God was in Christ reconciling the world to Himself.' John 3:16 gives us the gospel in epitome and it shows that Christ was here for but one purpose and that was to save men. 'He shall be called Jesus because He shall save His people from sin.'

"Christianity is interested in everything human. So it cares for the bodies of men and builds hospitals. It is interested in music and literature and builds schools. It starts reforms and seeks to make the world a liveable place. But its great objective is sin. Its aim is to bring men back to God in penitence and faith and obedience. Salvation is its greatest word.

"What does salvation mean? What is it to be saved? It is to be reconciled to God and to be able to take up our lives as the children of God, delivered from the guilt and power of sin. It is to be lifted from the servility in which so many live into lordship over self and the world, mastery. The apostle says yet farther it is rest—the ability to live without care and anxiety in the comfort of faith. 'There remaineth a rest to the people of God.' Some do not enter into this rest but it is for every Christian. And finally, he says to be saved is to be set free from the fear of death.

"But the apostle makes his statement most vigorously. Christ is able to save to the uttermost. What are we to understand by an uttermost salvation? Much more than we can put in a few words. But at least a radical experience by which a man is made a new creature in Christ Jesus — his ambitions, purposes, desires, thots, hopes all dominated by Christ. It means a re-constitution of the inner life thru and thru. It means also that a man shall be saved all along the way so that he shall not be taken unawares or tempted above what he is able to bear. It means that he will be saved from his pet sin, whatever that is. Peter was afraid of people but God took that fear out of his heart and enabled him to face councils and courts and kings. You may be stingy. God can save you from avarice. You may have a nasty tongue. Salvation is for tongues, also. You may have an unruly tongue. Christ can bridle that for you, too. You may have an unclean mind. But you can be made clean every whit. You may be dying of littleness and not be able to see any good in others but salvation will open your eyes and quicken your power of appreciation. But salvation is not a matter of now and of this life only but is for eternity. Are we not all born to die? And must not any true religion have a word for the hour and article of death?

"There are two other words in this great text that throw light upon this uttermost salvation which is by Faith in Christ. Our salvation is assured because He ever maketh intercession for us. He is working this morning by making you recall your mother's prayers for you; by reminding you of the little one you have given back to Him; by the influence of friends and by all manner of gentle and severe providences. He ever seeketh those who shall come unto Him.

"And the other words the apostle places at the front of the text: 'He is able.' The abundant sufficiency of Christ for every human strait. 'Wherefore He is able also to save them to the uttermost that come to God by Him, seeing He ever liveth to make intercession for them.'"

HAPPILY MARRIED REWARDS MINISTER

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 31.—If you are happily married, did it ever occur to you that the preacher who performed the ceremony should receive a little credit for "tying the knot securely?"

No doubt a Minneapolis man believes this to be true, according to a letter and $20 that the Rev. R. N. McKaig received the other day.

Just twenty years ago Mr. McKaig performed a simple wedding ceremony in Minneapolis. He had forgotten all about the couple until he received the letter. Then he had to search his records to make sure the letter and draft were not sent him by mistake.

The letter says that after twenty years of cruising on the sea of matrimony, the writer finds that his wife is more wonderful and a better woman than he ever dreamed she could be. For this the writer is thankful and upon the twentieth anniversary of their wedding the husband penned a letter to the Rev. Mr. McKraig and sent a dollar for each year of wedded life.

Studebaker experience in carriage building goes back for seventy years. The accumulated experience of hundreds of skilled workmen is available to Studebaker in building fine enclosed motor cars.

It would be a mistake to choose an enclosed motor carriage with a body of such quality as the Studebaker unless it is mounted on a chassis as reliable, as satisfactory in performance and as long-lived as the Studebaker Six.

We anticipated the usual winter shortage of fine enclosed cars and ordered early so we are able to make immediate delivery on some of the models, reasonably soon on others.

Anaheim Elks Defeat Gene Murphy's 4 to 3

Anaheim Elks' baseball team defeated the fast Gene Murphy's of Los Angeles 4 to 3 yesterday afternoon at Commonwealth park in the last game of the season the athletes will play under the antlered herd's title. If there are other games, they will be independent of the Elks.

The feature of the contest was the patching of McDonald of the Irish team who held the locals to four scattered hits. It wasn't his falt that Anaheim won. On the few occasions his teammates were required to field the ball, they didn't know what to do with it. Three times they overthrew bases and failed to catch Anaheim runners. They did this twice in succession in the seventh inning, which with two walks, a sacrifice and a timely hit by Glenn Callan put three runs over.

McDonald is a regular Ichabod Crane, of the more pronounced Kentucky Wonder Bean variety, but for all his altitude he is as smooth in operation as Bobby Meusel. He sure had the locals swinging where they weren't.

Salveson, who started for the locals, kept the visitors' hits well scattered until the fifth which ran something like this:

Rose singled but was forced at second by Finley. Cummings was hit on the shin. Young fanned. McDonald, intent on winning his own game, got his second hit, a two-bagger, scoring Finley and Cummings. McDonald was brot home by Arviza's single. Arviza was caught at second trying to stretch it.

It was hot weather for baseball here and there were not many fans on hand indicating:

1. It mustn't be quite so warm if baseball is to prosper here.

2. The interest lags when there isn't a league.

If a local team was lined up with a snappy league, winter baseball would prove popular.

SANTA ANA DEFEATS FULLERTON 7 TO 0

Santa Ana defeated Fullerton in the year's biggest contest of the Orangeco league, at the county seat, Saturday afternoon before several thousand people from all parts of the county. It was the most hotly contested game of the season and Fullerton lost only by the narrow margin of 7 to 0.

Thruout the entire first half, victory hung in the balance, each team holding its own against the other, yet unable to make any considerable advances. The first half was merely a take and give with neither side scoring.

Santa Ana broke the Fullerton line, making a 10-yard gain, but fumbled and Fullerton got the ball. Fullerton made steady gains, then failed with a pass. There was a scrimmage, and Fullerton fumbled to Santa Ana.

I am PENNZOIL

If you don't know me
You ought to

I ride in many a car
Of many a make
And wherever I ride
You're pretty sure to find
A sweet sounding motor

All because a hot motor
Doesn't bother me

Getting the best of
Excessive motor temperatures
Is my main mission in life

I earn my friends because
I stick to my job

When I contract
To protect your motor
And your bearings
I see that the job
Is done right

No slip-ups when I get busy—never

Drop around wherever
You see the PENNZOIL sign
And take me along

I am easy to get along with

The whole town of Fullerton, while regretting the defeat of its football team by Santa Ana Saturday afternoon, is going to throw all its weight unreservedly into the scales to boost for Santa Ana during the remainder of the season, and do everything possible to bring the state championship to Orange-co, it was stated by Fullerton fans today. There is no ill feeling against Santa Ana for the whipping which was fairly administered, tho by a narrow margin, and Santa Ana can count on Fullerton to back her to the limit, it was declared.

"BACKFIRE" WALKER SERMON TOPIC SUN.

"The Backfire" was the theme of the sermon last night at the Presbyterian church.

"The children of Israel were not yet two months on their way from slavery," said Rev. Thomas H. Walker, the pastor, "when they began crying about the hardships of the way to liberty. Full of rage against their oppressors, and aflame with enthusiasm for freedom, they left Egypt with song, but when real difficulties began and they discovered that liberty was not so easily won, enthusiasm began to cool and the fires of their idealism to die down. The price of freedom frightened them. They were quite ready now to surrender freedom for food; to barter their ideals for physical comfort and sacrifice the spirit of manhood free to the appetites of the flesh seared with the lash. Strip the story recorded in Exodus 16th chapter to its significant facts and it is the story of the battle between the material and the spiritual. It is a parable of the struggle going on in the hearts of individuals and as well in the history of nations. 'The flesh lusteth against the spirit,' the great apostle wrote, 'and the spirit against the flesh.' The sacrifice of freedom of spirit to the baser passions is a repeatedly recurring tragedy. Youth is a time of idealism,—builds castles and cherishes ambitions. 'Young men shall see visions.' 'Wait till I am a man,' said J. M. Barrie, when a small boy, to his hard-working mother 'and you shall lie on feathers.' He dreamed of conquering the world for his mother. Most of us find realization hard enough, so hard in fact, that by middle life we have abandoned our quest. The radiance, color and splendor has passed forever out of life and it is drab, drab—so we surrender our ideals and settle on our lees and become contented with the 'flesh pots of Egypt,' and give up any idea of our 'promised land.' Tennyson's story of Sir Garwain is typical of so many. He sets out in search of the Holy Grail, which means he determines to live a pure and holy life; but he soon wearies of his quest and finding a silken pavilion in a field of merry maidens sporting there, spends his twelve-month and a day in sensuous ease and pleasure. On his return to King Arthur's court he scoffs at the very idea of "the quest" itself and calls it madness. Yet at the same time vents his disgust at his own weakness in time of temptation:

'But by mine eyes and by mine ears
I swear
I will be deafer than the blue-eyed cat,
And thrice as blind as any noon-day owl,
To holy virgins in their ecstacies,
Henceforward.'

"Nations repeat this tragedy of the Israelitish nation in modern times. Under the impulse of some great and noble passion, a nation is lifted to great heights of unselfish enthusiasm and acts in idealistic, sacrificial fashion. Under the pressure of time the nation is apt to sag and often breaks. Yet such enthusiasm is not to be made light of, for often they leave solid, permanent gains in their path. Savana Rola for an all-to-brief space, lived Florence with a desire for holier and purer living. He put the fear of God in their souls and they made a bonfire of all their vanities, their obscene books, their prurient pictures their instruments of vice in the great square of the city. But their enthusiasm cooled under the skilful propaganda of his enemies, and before many months had passed they burned Savanarola himself in that very same square.

"Will we as speedily lose the high ideals we voice as a nation? Shall we be able to keep what we won of world ideals in the great war? Shall we lose our enthusiasm for right and truth and honor?

"The 'backfire' is strongly in evidence today and it is desperately difficult to live on any upward-lifting program of national activities.

"Let Whittier's lines stir our lagging spirits:

" 'Ho, everytrue and loving soul,
To Freedom's periled altar bear
The Freeman's and the Christian's whole,
Tongue, pen, and vote and prayer.
One last great battle for the Right,—
One short, sharp struggle to be free.
To do is to succeed—our fight
Is waged in Heaven's approving sight
The smile of God is victory.' "

START WORK SOON ON COAST HIGHWAY

With the sale of $5,000,000 California state highway bonds to the London-Paris National bank, of San Francisco, at a premium of $176,000, a forward step has been taken in providing construction of the proposed highway between Long Beach and Huntington Beach. Disposal of the bonds will enable the state highway commissioners to proceed with advertisements for bids within the next 45 days.

The proposed highway work consists of construction of sections of the Oxnard-San Juan Capistrano highway, from Oxnard to Santa Monica, and from Long Beach to Huntington Beach, the route following the shore line from Gaviota to San Diego. In addition, the proceeds from the bond sale will finance completion of the San Bernardino-Victorville highway, and the widening of the Mountain Springs grade of the San Diego-El Centro highway.

FORTUNE HUNTERS BUSILY ENGAGED

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 31.—Search for sunken treasure amounting to $3,000,000 which has been at bottom of the ocean eleven years, is vigorously going on at a point sixty miles east of the Virginia capes, where the steamer Merida went down following a collision. The treasure hunters on the salvage ship Ripple, believe they have found the wreck of the sunken vessel, and expect soon to recover the fortune abandoned when the vessel sank.

The Merida's treasure consists of a large quantity of silver, about one-half million dollars in gold and a quantity of precious stones. She was sunk in May, 1916, when bound from Mexico, via Havana for New York, by the steamer Admiral Farragut. The collision occurred about midnight, in a fog, the Merida remaining afloat for six hours. The Admiral Farragut was badly damaged, but remained afloat. The vessel had 4700 tons of copper in her hold, carried as ballast. She is believed to be resting on an even keel on the hard sand bottom.

Austin's for phonographs.

If it's from Witmar's it's good.

Our Attitude Towards the Home

As an academic proposition, we still admit the importance of a home.

"Society's most essential foundation," the bed rock of the state, the parent of all human institutions.

But, having blessed it with smiles and epigrams, what is our real attitude?

What are we doing to keep, protect and improve it in comparison with other institutions?

Of all the millions that are donated to elevate and uplift humanity, how much goes to the betterment of homes?

Of the still more numerous millions that are marshalled by the way of general credit, how much goes for the promotion of home-building?

We take the home very seriously as a matter of tradition. Do we take it seriously as a matter of present-day necessity? Isn't our real attitude towards it one of tolerance rather than satisfaction?

In our pursuits of business, or pleasure, aren't we coming to look on the home as something to be provided for last? In our text books on political economy and social progress, in our fiction and our romance, in our poetry and pastimes, aren't we visualizing the home as something to be depended on when there is nothing else left?

When we engage in community afforts to reform the boy, or save the girl, is it through the home that we operate?

In our thoughts for the moral elevation of mankind, what part does the home play?

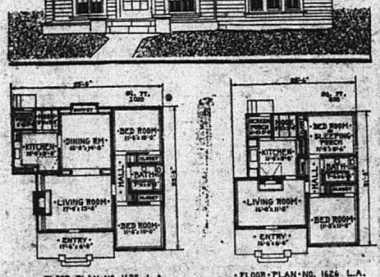

Why have we drifted into a situation where more than half the American people are tenants? Is it because we lack the money, or energy, or resourcefulness, or is it because our aspirations have been centered upon other projects rather than on promotion of home life?

If the home is what we admit it to be after cool thought and right understanding. If it is "society's most essential foundation," then let's place it where it rightfully belongs in the front ranks of modern progress, and consider everything else of secondary importance until home ownership is realized.

Putting home ownership on a low base of dollar and cent thoughts wouldn't we have managed our movements of reform and uplift more cheaply and with far greater results had our united efforts been concentrated on the establishment and maintenance of better homes?

If the various agencies, societies and clubs whose aim is to help improve morals, aid those who are deserving and need assistance, were to join forces and give home ownership and home life the consideration it deserves, their efforts would bring about a transformation that would be of far-reaching effect and they would be generously rewarded, for it is in the home that morals are formed, where the kiddies receive their first teachings that makes of them worth-while men and women. You can best do this by encouraging those who have money to loan to invest in home mortgage loans, and by co-operating with holding companies that those who are desirous of acquiring homes and who have only a small amount of money to start with can secure assistance and pay out for their home in reasonable monthly payments. Both first and second mortgage paper is safe investment, particularly is it that you hear of anyone losing their home through failure in meeting payments, and each payment substantially reduces risks and adds to the security of the investment.

Hundreds of families right here in our city would start immediately building homes of their own if money was available in amounts that would allow them to make the start with their small savings and care for future payments monthly. Every progressive man and woman can do their share and will be happy in the thought that they have been instrumental in doing a wonderful good, for nothing else that you can do will mean more to humanity than helping the man to secure homes of their own.
