SLAIN GIRL MYSTERY

BOARD ADDS ANOTHER DEPUTY

Contract for $25,000 Water Mains Awarded; Order Paving on Chartress.

City council, heeding the demand of businessmen for better police protection, last night by emergency ordinance authorized the appointment of one additional officer, making a total of six on the force.

C. of C. directors had suggested two additional officers, making it posible to have a desk sergeant on duty the entire 24 hours.

Council also let contract to U. S. Cast Iron Pipe and Foundry Co., for about $25,000 of water mains, to be paid for under the $50,000 bonds voted for water works improvements. The order, amounting to about 540 tons, will be shipped by rail from Birmingham to Mobile, then via boat thru Panama canal to San Pedro and to Anaheim by train. A representative for the foundry company stated that a saving would be made by hauling the pipe on trucks from San Pedro direct to the trenches, avoiding unnecessary handling. This is the arrangement under which Fullerton purchased a much larger amount of mains recently. However, it was considered that traffic might be impeded with pipe strung all over town and the material will be shipped by train. The pipe will greatly increase water pressure for fire protection.

The pipe purchase includes 400 feet of six-inch, 672 feet of 12-inch, 11,216 feet of 10-inch and fittings.

Contracts for one-carload of 80 35-foot cedar poles with 7-inch tops was let to C. L. Kieurloff Co., Los Angeles, at $13.25 each f. o. b. Anaheim. The bottoms of the poles are treated.

Council granted a representative of the Auto Club of So. Cal. permission to erect sign boards on the flag pole at Center and Los Angeles-sts and to station signs about the city near fire plugs and the like.

A delegation from West-st appeared to protest against further delay in installing about 150 feet of sidewalks between Center-st and Broadway. They fired a few shots at Councilman Gates for alleged decreptitude of a green-house, in addition to not having installed sidewalk. The matter was referred to City Manager Steward for immediate action.

Council adopted resolutions ordering the paving of Chartress-st between Olive and Palm-sts, and several alleys. Apparently protestants, who had objected to the improvement on the ground that the cost was excessive at this time, a large number signing a petition of objection at the beginning of the proceedings, had been thrown off the track by the recent mistake in the legal advertising, as none were on hand last night, the date set for hearing such protests. Bids for the improvement will be called for shortly.

Fire Chief Dean Hassen appeared as an emmissary from the fire department with request for appointment of fire marshal's powers to someone to enforce cleaning up of debris, particularly in the business district. City Manager Steward stated that as soon as the new garbage truck and trailer were in operation, perhaps within a week, he hoped to gather rubbish in the business district daily and in the residential districts twice a week. It was suggested the foreman of the garbage collecting department have fire marshal's powers as he would know whose backyard was dirty.

Council ratified City Manager Steward's appointment of J. H. Price as deputy building inspector.

City Clerk Merritt read a letter from the state board of health authorizing Anaheim and Santa Ana to construct jointly an outfall sewer to the ocean, providing ten per cent of solids were first removed and that mouth of outfall is at least 800 feet out in the ocean off the north jetty at the mouth of the Santa Ana river.

The council adjourned to Thursday evening when there will be signed the joint contract with Santa Ana and decision will probably be made on bond election date.

The money from the recent sale of bonds now being available for purchase of the auxiliary fire pump authorized by the ovters, as well as for city hall and other improvements, Chairman Chas Mann of the police committee was authorized to investigate the matter and report next Thursday evening.

Further discussion on plans for the city hall ,as to arrangement of various departments, will also be taken up with Architect M. Eugene Durfee next Thursday evening. It was decided last night to increase the width of the fire hall from 20 to 24 feet, permitting room for addition of a second truck if needed in the future. It has also been decided to raise the main floor three steps off the sidewalk.

Thousands of Ducks at Big Bear Lake Now

"There are thousands of ducks at Big Bear Lake now," reports Paul Frahm, who has just returned from a four-day visit to his mountatin cabin. "The hunting is fine. Baldwin Lake is frozen over, with about two inches of ice on it, and all the ducks are on Big Bear. They are all canvasbacks. In one limit I shot, there was only one small duck.

"The road is good by the desert route, the other roads being closed. Anyone planning the trip should leave before it snows, as Big Bear will freeze over then. It certainly was cold up there while the windstorm was blowing down here. However, after that, each day when the sun came out, it was mighty fine."

Frahm was accompanied by his brother, Louis Frahm, John Mohl, Henry McGregor and Gus Manske.

MANY AT CITRUS INSTITUTE

Increased interest was displayed today at the second day session of the citrus institute at Santa Ana. There were about 320 representative growers present when the morning program opened. It was a little late starting and only two speakers were presented before noon. They were Dr. W. P. Kelley, chemist of the state citrus experiment station, and Dr. J. T. Barrett, director at the same

Kelly, speaking on fertilizing problems, devoted his time to nitrogeneous and organic fertilizer. He told of the action of the fertilizer on various varieties of earth and the rate of their nitrification. Kelley has recently completed a series of tests extending over the period of a year to determine the discrepancies between laboratory and actual field investigations.

"Armillaria, known as oak root fungus, or mush-room root rot, its symptoms and methods of cure," was the substance of Dr. Barrett' s address. He said that the rot is cosmopolitan in its extent, being known in Europe and in this country where its ravages are confined principally to the Pacific coast.

"In the east, it is of slight importance," Dr. Barrett declared, "but climatic conditions on the Pacific coast are favorable to its dissemination.

"There are two methods of control. These are tree surgery and the method known as trenching.

This afternoon's session will conclude the two-day session of the citrus institute.

The complete program scheduled for today was: "Frosts and How to Anticipate Them," Floyd Young, metereologist at the U. S. weather bureau, Pomona; "Root Rot", Dr. J. T. Barrett, director of the state citrus fruit experiment station at Riverside; fumigation and spraying problems, R. S. Woglum, entomologist California Fruit Exchange; fertilizing problems, Dr. W. P. Kelley, also of the experiment station, Riverside; "Employment," J. D. Culbertson, assistant manager Limonera company, Santa Paula, and C. V. Newman, manager San Joaquin Fruit company.

PLAN $250000 ADDITION TO SUGAR CO.

Steffens Plant, to Greatly Increase Production, Announced by Supt.

A Steffens plant, to cost approximately a quarter of a miilion dollars, is contemplated by the Anaheim Sugar Company as soon as sugar prices are established at sufficiently higher levels to warrant the extension. The plant will be erected next to the lime kiln at the works.

The local factory is practically the only one of importance in the State, Superintendent D. Jessurun said this morning, which does not have a Steffens plant in operation. The plant is used to convert beet sugar molasses into sugar.

Construction of the plant, when effected, will mean an increase in the proportion of sugar extracted of 15 per cent and a boost in output of something over that. At present only 75 per cent of the sugar content is obtained from the beets directly. The force of hands will be increased about 10 per cent. uality remains unchanged.

The process is purely chemical, by precipitation of the sugar with lime. The Steffens system is the best known used.

Jessurun is doubtful whether sugar prices will advance to any extent for some time. Cuba will have made only 3,000,000 tons of cane sugar this year, compared with a normal production of 4,000,000. Hawaii's output will amount this year to approximately 560,000 tons, roughly, the same tonnage as in 1920 and, at present estimates, 1922.

California's beet crop was the biggest on record, and the Anaheim Sugar Company handled 89,000 tons of beets, compared with a crop of 86,000 tons last year. The 1922 crop will be very short, because growers do not find production worth while at the present low price of sugar.

The factory here is maintaining a force of 45 men, and is not likely to increase it until May, when more active operation will be resumed.

SHRINERS' BALL IS COMPLETE SUCCESS

The first annual charity ball given by Orange county Shriners took place in Santa Ana last evening at beautiful St. Ann's Inn, and was a thorough success. Among those from Anaheim attending were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Drake.

It was a truly society affair, almost all the participants being in formal evening dress, and the object was to raise a generous fund for Christmas philanthrophy. An excellent orchestra furnished the music for dancing, and in an adjoining room were several tables for cards. A real, live Santa Claus made his appearance late in the evening, and distributed presents to the more prominent members, the gifts being of burlesque kind.

The large ball room was decorated with flags. A program of several numbers was a pleasing feature, among them being a solo by Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh, and another by Robert Brown.

Altogether it was an elaborate and successful affair, which will no doubt be repeated next year.

BUENA PARK STORE IS BURGLED

Nelson Hardware Entered by Burglar Who Leaves Note and Finger Prints

A burglar who didn't care how much of a trail he left behind him, writing a note and leaving countless fingerprints, broke into the Nelson Hardware store at Buena Park last night.

Entrance was gained thru a rear door, the burglar first breaking into into an oil-house at the rear. There he procured an augure and using it to bore holes in the door to the hardware store, reached his hand in, turned the lock and shifted the bar.

His only loot was $1.50 taken from the cash register. H emade an attempt to break open the safe in the office, using two heavy picks for this purpose. Failing to swing open the steel dor, he apparently in disgust left on the top of the safe a note which read:

"Better luck next time.—R. B."

He didn't touch any of the stock, including a large Xmas display of watches, cutlery, etc.

Residents in the neighborhood of the store building believe the burglary occurred about 4 a. m. as they heard dogs barking at that hour. It is believed to have been the job of someone residing in the vicinity, as thoro familiarity with the store was indicated. It was pointed out that few would have known about the augur hanging in the oil house.

The note was written very legibily and it is not believed to have been the work of a Mexican.

VICTIM MAY HAVE USED DIFFERENT NAME HERE

Leona or Grace Mayfield or Mansfield, the girl whom George Christman, former automobile mechanic here confessed to have murdered in New York, was not known in Anaheim under either of the last names given, although she may have been the girl named Grace who worked in a local restaurant.

A blonde girl answering in general the description given of her, worked at the Dew Drop Inn for a few days. She was known as Grace.

Neither do the police know of a girl of that name formerly residing here. Chief N. F. Steadman said he never heard of the girl.

According to her self-confessed slayer, there was a woman at Brea whom the girl used to converse with over the telephone from here and whom she called mother.

Christman left town about July 4, according to the local police, and not early in June.

Christman, alias St. Jean, has made an additional confession, as follows:

"I came of good parents who are now living in Amsterdam, N. Y. I have been well educated, and took an engineering course in the University of Oxford, England. I have a wife living in New York State.

"In order to enlist at Toronto and not forswear allegiance to the United States, I chose the name of St. John—it's French-Canadian—to join the Royal Flying Corps. I was overseas. On my return I came to Los Angeles and met Grace—I know her best by that name—in Westlake Park. She never told me much about herself or her parents. She was that kind of a girl.

"I went East, taking flying work at Camp Borden, near Toronto. I returned to Los Angeles, worked in a garage at San Juan Capistrano for a time, and then went to Anaheim, where I worked in a garage. One day, as I stood outside the shop in my coveralls, I saw Grace go by. We talked. She went away, but in a few days returned. This was last June.

"Well, when I went East again, she went with me.

"I had met a fellow in the service by the name of Fred James. He said if I was ever in New York to look him up at a dairy lunch, where he was a counter man. When we reached New York I found him, although he was working under the name of S. T. Knave. The three of us took an auto ride.

"It was just after dusk on the sixth or seventh of last October, when we drew up and stopped in front of a rooming house on Fourteenth street. There was no argument. She threatened to report me to Federal authorities for violation of the Mann Act. I guess, in the dispute that followed—well, anyway, I strangled her.

"James took the body.

"When he came back he said he had put it in a pool in a vacant lot."

With Christman's identity well established, the police are turning to that of the girl. Christman says he believed the girl's parents lived at Brea, although he met her in Los Angeles. There is an Isaac Mayfield living near Brea with a four-year-old child, but he said he knew nothing of the girl.

The girl is described as five feet, four inches tall, 120 pounds in wt., auburn hair, hazel eyes and small ears, which are pierced as if for earrings.

Employer of Slayer Didn't Know of Girl

L. S. Irvin, of the Alexander Garage, who knew Christman better than any other man in town, says he knows nothing of any woman named Mayfield or Mansfield, whom Christman said he slew in New York City. Irvin employed Christman as a mechanic in his former garage here.

With Irvin's statement the mystery regarding the origin of the girl and her connections with Anaheim and other points is deeper than ever. One explanation of the mystery is that at least part of Christman's confession is that of an insane man, who has pieced up his past history largely out of imaginative whole cloth. Irvin is positive Christman is crazy.

Irvin insists, also, that Christman left town the day he took the Paige car from Booth & Heinze, May 30.

PLEADS GUILTY; TO ASK FOR PROBATION

Jesus Ramirez will receive a hearing Dec. 9 at 9 a. m. before Superior Judge R. Y. Williams on his plea for probation, made after pleading guilty to a charge of grand larceny.

After seizing her purse, Ramirez, it is claimed, was pursued and captured by a man who was attracted by the woman's cries for help.

SMALL BLAZE AT NOON

PROBE 2-NOTCH GUN TALE

Found with a gun from which the number had been recently filed and containing two notches which had been cut within 24 hours, H. Harrison, 26, and Scott Douglas, 22, who told conflicting stories after arrest late yesterday at El Toro by Deputy Sheriff O. K. Carr, were sentenced today by Justice Cox at Santa Ana to serve sentences of 90 days in the county jail.

In the meanwhile, officials will investigate possible connection with the murder of the two Los Angeles policemen Tuesday night. The gun was found on Harrison, who stated it had not been fired since they acquired it several days ago. However, the interior of the cartridge chamber belied this, officers claim. They assert it had been fired within the last day or so.

On the way to jail, after arrest, the two told Sheriff C. E. Jackson, Deputy Carter and Santa Ana Motorcycle Officer Frank Stewart, that they had been shooting at birds. Before Justice Cox this morning, they denied they had ever shot the gun and asserted they had never made such admission to the officers.

Children Snatched From Starvation by American Jewish Relief Workers Regain Health in School Gardens

Are you tired of looking at pictures of starving children overseas?

Then rest your eyes on these happy, healthy girls and boys working in a school garden just outside of Grodno. They represent a part of the salvage. When the agents of the American Jewish Relief Committee found them they were suffering from malnutrition, incipient tuberculosis and other diseases incident to starvation. The relief workers took them out in the country, fed them and gave them a chance for life.

But they are only a few of the lucky ones. The soup lines are still forming. Thousands died before help could reach them. The American Jewish Relief Committee since it began its work, away back in 1915, before America even got into the war, has sent $47,000,000 for the relief of Europe. Now its workers report that the need exists for $14,000,000 more. That is not the most that can be used. It represents rather the least sum that can be asked if the program of absolute necessary relief is to be continued.

Towns and villages where typhus is raging because the war destroyed their water and sewerage systems are being aided in re-establishing at least a minimal sanitary service. Bath houses are being rebuilt and delousing stations and sanitary laundries opened so the people can escape from the filth and squalor which not only imperils their own existence but forms a breeding place for epidemics that may easily overleap national boundaries and sweep the world.

The contributions made by Americans are being supplemented by generous gifts from European sources. The countries aided are slowly recuperating, and as they do so they take over the maintenance and operation of the institutions established by American gifts. Much remains to be done. Russia with its millions of Jews, many of whom are even now facing starvation, is for the first time open to American relief. War orphans must be cared for and child welfare work extended.

Louis Marshall of New York is chairman of the American Jewish Relief Committee, whose headquarters are at 103 Park Avenue, New York. Associated with him in the work of the committee are such men as Dr. Cyrus Adler of Philadelphia, Julius Rosenwald of Chicago, Felix M. Warburg, Henry Morgenthau, Nathan Straus of New York, Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of New York. The work of organizing the country for the fund-raising appeal has been entrusted to David A. Brown of Detroit, who has dropped his personal business affairs and will make his home in New York until the task is accomplished.

The executive committee of the Houser Bible class of the First Christian church of Fullerton in its regular weekly meeting yesterday voted to make the Christmas morning service at the Rialto theatre a benefit service. Every effort will be made to get as large a crowd present as is possible, and each of them will be expected to bring something for the unfortunate, and there is expected to be a large number of things for distribution among the less fortunate of the city.

The church and Sunday school will have a similar program, and the choir will give a cantata in the morning. There will be no evening service.

There were 32 present at the meeting of the committee yesterday, and eight visitors were there from Pomona who expressed their admiration of the class and said they were going home and start something similar, and then challenge Fullerton to a contest.

CHAS. H. MANN

CHARGES WOMAN WAS SHIELDING MAN

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 9.— Foundation for direct charges that Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain tried to protect Arthur C. Burch, on trial for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, but was betrayed by her confused accounts of the slaying told to officers and others immediately after the shooting, was expected to be laid by District Attorney Woolwine today through the testimony of prosecution witnesses.

By the evidence he planned to produce during the day, Woolwine expected to show that Mrs. Obenchain deliberately sought to mislead the officers, and that she blundered by giving accounts of Kennedy's death which did not conform to the apparent facts.

The witnesses called by Woolwine during the day were expected to repeat to the jurors Mrs. Obenchain's story of the shooting, which Woolwine charges was invented to protect Burch.

When the trial was resumed this morning Mrs. Elizabeth Besenty, an eye-witness to the shooting, who testified she saw Burch at the scene of the crime before and after the slaying, was on the stand for further cross-examination.

Following the completion of Mrs. Besenty's cross-examination, District Attorney Woolwine was expected to call to the stand George Deering, who took Mrs. Obenchain to the Sawtelle police-station after the murder.

Deering, according to Woolwine, was ready to corroborate Mrs. Besenty's story in many points and to tell the story of the slaying as related to him by Mrs. Obenchain.

Deering reached the scene of the murder in his automobile a few minutes after the shooting and was the first person to talk to Mrs. Obenchain and to discover that Kennedy had actually been killed.

When he first spoke to Mrs. Obenchain, Deering was ready to testify, she said that Kennedy had fallen on the stairs leading up to his cottage and that she was afraid he had "hurt himself seriously." She did not mention the two shots fired by the slayer.

FUSSY FOLK NOT ALL NEW YORKERS

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Some fussy folk in New York pride themselves in keeping their names out of the telephone directory to avoid the annoyance which comes with everything from home folks in town to local charity appeals. It is my experience that most of these people who are so exclusive about their phone number stay up at night to pass the number around to everyone who may be in the least interested. But a more practical excuse for absence from this "proof-readers' marvel book" is the relief it gives from doing jury service. The court bailiffs find it easy to run thru the book when estimable citizens shirk this duty of citizenship and pick out more unwilling victims who, in turn, plead with the judge to let off 'just this one time.' It is odd that the convenience in appearing in the directory would be offset by so deliberate a dodge of duty.

ORDER SMALLER JAIL FOR $2500

Plans for the proposed county jail upon which bids have been abandoned and John A. Parkinson, architect, has been directed to draw new plans and specifications for smaller building to cost not more than $125,000, according to Supervisor S. H. Finley.

Finley is authority for the statement that the aggregate of the lowest bids under the old specification totalled $219,000.

The new plans will provide for a jail building covering the front of the 100-foot lot and a depth of 75 feet. The abandoned plans provide for a structure covering the entire lot, 100x125.

BUTTONS IMPORTANT

One clever salesman in the suit department of a big department store says he can tell whether a man is married or a bachelor by the way he tests the suit or overcoat he is buying. A married man examines the cloth and asks about its wearing qualities. A bachelor tries the buttons to see whether they are securely fastened or not. He hates the thought of losing a button.

Bandit Escapes From Death Cell

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Dec. 9. Tom Slaughter, notorious bandit of the southwest, staged one of the most daring and spectacular prison breaks in southwestern criminal history early today when he escaped from the death cell of the state penitentiary here.

Following his escape with six other convicts Slaughter engaged in a gun battle with officers at Benton and Lonsdale and after eluding capture is believed enroute to his old haunts in Texas or Oklahoma.

Slaughter spent five hours wandering around inside the prison walls before making his final dash to liberty.

CAT, HERO OF WORLD WAR, DIES AT VILLA

JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 9. — French press pays tribute to a hero of the war, whose death has just been announced. The hero in question was named Diamond, and was a cat that attached himself to the French in the lines before Amiens. Every day Diamond might be seen threading its way through the entanglements to the German front trenches.

The poilus were afraid that some harm might come to their mascot, and in order to protect it they tied a packet of cigarettes round its neck before it started out on its ramble, bearing the words: "I bring you cigarettes; do not kill me." Diamond, being a war veteran, had a right to a comfortable home when the armistice was signed, and was sent to an animals' home superintended by the Countess Yurkevich at Neuily, where it died.

UNIQUE GAVEL HAS APPLE HANDLE

VANCOUVER, Wash., Dec. 9. — Mayor Kiggins swings a gavel at council sessions that has a unique history.

The head was made from a piece of the old witness trees that once stood at the foot of Main street and from which nearly all surveys in the Northwest started.

Each side of the head is inlaid with wood taken from a piece of timber used in the first dock erected at Vancouver. The handle is from the first apple tree planted in Vancouver in 1828 by the Hudson Bay Company.

The head bears the inscribed names of the first city council chosen in 1858. Levi Farnsworth was mayor at that time.

The gavel was made and presented to the city in 1913 by Chat Knight. It makes more noise than the other gavel.

18,000 in World's Greatest Orphanage

The world's greatest orphanage is at Alexandropol, Armenia, and in it are more than 18,000 children, fed and clothed partly on contributions of California foodstuffs and [illegible] clothing arriving late this summer, say relief officials.

These children are housed in one of the largest groups of military barracks in the erstwhile realms of the Czar of Russia. The barracks are of stone, and formerly held 90,000 soldiers.

After a recent inspection of the orphanage and conditions thereabouts, E. Guy Talbott, of Pasadena, Pacific Regional Director of Near East Relief, says:

"There are three groups of barracks, each group occupied by 6000 children. Such a sight! The remnant of a nation almost annihilated! Any and every one of these children would today be dead, were it not for the generosity and humanity of great hearted America. There they are safe from the Turks, who are only a few versts away, for Soviet Russia has said to Turkey, "Thus far shalt thou go, and no farther," and has put a stop to the massacre of innocents.

BOLSA DEFAULTS; LOSE BOND ELECTION

The election board of the Bolsa grammar school district Saturday threw a monkey wrench into the machinery of the bond election for voting on an issue of $125,000 for the Garden Grove union high school district, with the result that today plans for calling another election were under consideration.

No member of the Bolsa board reported at the school house Saturday morning to open the polls, and when this was discovered voting ceased in the Garden Grove and Alamitos grammar districts.

Whether failure of the members of the election board was designed in order to defeat the issue or was an inadvertent mistake could not be clearly determined today. The majority of voters in the Bolsa district are dissatisfied over proposed annexation to Garden Grove high school district, it was stated today by a resident of Bolsa, but whether this fact was responsible for failure of the election board members to open the polls, the resident was not in position to state.

MARINES GUARD NEW YORK MAILS

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 — Sixty-five marines today began guarding the mails in the streets, postoffices and terminals of New York, prepared to use war-like measures to prevent repetitions of last month's $2,000000 truck robbery. The force was expected to be augmented tomorrow by the arrival of 200 more sea soldiers from the barracks at Juantico, Va.

Mail trucks were heavily guarded tonight as they rolled along the streets and special armed guards accompanied letter carriers distributing registered matter.

HISTORIC CURFEW BELL

VANCOUVER, Dec. 9.—The curfew bell, which up to a year ago tolled the knell of parting day for Vancouverites and which came to light again during the exposition parade in Portland was brot around Cape Horn in the "good old days" by the Hudson Bay Co., it developed at an informal discussion here recently.

The bell was first used in the Hudson Bay Co.'s chapel to call the worshippers to church. It was acquired by the city in 1885, and used as a combination curfew and fire bell to summon what was then the volunteer fire department into action.

The bell weighs a ton and was used until a more modern electric siren forced its clapper into silence when it came to heralding fire, when the bell was then relegated to the realm of relics.

TWO CARS SMASHED WHEN THEY COLLIDE

A six-passenger Cadillac and four-passenger Dodge collided at West Charlress and North Lemon-sts Tuesday afternoon at about 4:15, but nobody was hurt, and the cars suffered little damage. Mrs. Gross of Crone-ave., who drove the Dodge, claimed the owner of the other car, H. E. House, of 1284 Oakland avenue, Pasadena, was going at a rate far exceeding speed limits.

House was driving north on North Lemon-st. and Mrs. Gross east on W. Chartres. The bumper and left mudguard of the Dodge was bent and other damages suffered. Charles Mann's garage is looking after the repairs. The running board and back fender of the Cadillac were damaged. Both House and Mrs. Gross are insured with the So. Calif. Auto Club.

STUDEBAKER DEALER

Makes an Important Announcement Concerning the Used Car Values

Popularity of This Make
Having an Unprecedented
Effect on Used Car Market

The fact that Studebaker cars are now generally recognized by discriminating buyers as the best new car values on the market, enables the Studebaker dealer to collect as "trade ins" on new Studebaker cars, an excellent assortment of high-grade used cars. On account of this unprecedented Studebaker popularity, these high-grade cars were taken in at fair market values.

Studebaker dealers are in the new car business and make their profit selling new cars—not used cars; therefore, all used cars traded in on new Studebakers are sold at actual cost.

If the used car buyer selects wisely and buys from a reliable dealer at a fair used car market price, he should be able to buy more real automobile value for a price from $500 to $900 than he could get in any new car at this low price.

Here are a few of these choice bargains; come in and look them over—we have many more from which you can choose.

The Rev. Mr. Shrock spoke of the various elements needed in each city, the "stand patter," conservative and progressive, designating the Lions as one of the latter class.

RAMSEY-MUNICIPAL FLOWING 400 BBLS.

Long Beach

Ramsey-Municipal No. 1, the big well that started off looking like a 1000 barrel producer has settled down to a steady flow of 400 bbls. This well was completed at 3121, the 10-in was set at 2470, and 3120 feet of 6-in was put in. The well is making 22.6 gravity oil and is free from sand and water. Until Mr. Ramsey arrives from Oklahoma, no plans for further development work will be given out.

The California-Mexican Petroleum Syndicate's No. 1 on Signal Hill is scheduled for the next producer. Drilling stopped at 3086 and about 200 feet of as rich an oil sand as can be found in any well was drilled thru, and the management have every reason to believe that a six or seven hundred barrell well will be brought in. The screen pipe is in the washing down process and underway. Last week's report referred to this company as the California-Mexican Petroleum Company, an error being made in the name. All information under the head of Cal-Mex Petroleum Company should refer to California Mexican Petroleum Syndicate.

The Crest Oil Co run in a string of 8-in and recemented at 2932 feet. A test of the shut off has been made and drilling is now going on into the sands at 2985. Crest Consolidated shows 1050 feet, and is drilling in sandy shale.

The Fisher Oil Co. has a string of left hand pipe at work getting out the lost drill pipe at 3150 feet. Progress is being made.

Jack Doyle, famous fight promoter, intends to assume the role of an oil producer. Doyle secured property north and east of the Oceanic's No. 1 and has a rig up for the first well.

Drilling on the General Petroleum's Bixby No. 1 is now close to 3,900 feet. The formation shows sandy shale, but no oil indications.

The National Crude drilled out the cement at 3100 feet and is now bailing for a water test. Success on shutting off the water will mean that this company will be on the production list soon.

The Oceanic Oil Co. is bailing for a test on the water at 3320. The fluid is bailing down and the hole fills rapidly with oil. Conditions are rather favorable for a shut off.

The Petroleum Midway started work on three new wells this week. Rigging up is underway at McDavic. Lumber is on the ground for Griswold No. 1 and Rosenfield No. 1 Ellis No. 1 shows 2700 feet in the shale. Brown No. 1 is a rig.

At 1865 feet Pettifells Syndicate set 12 --2 and cemented. Drilling is at 2500 feet in the shale. Proress to date has be engood.

The Standard Oil Co. now has seven wells underway in the Long Beach field. Alamitos No. 1 at 2900 feet is in hard sand. Earnsworth the No. 1 is drilling at 2300, Lomita No. 1 at 900, L. B. T. & S. at 2100, Pacific No. 1 at 1900, and Sylvester No. 1 at 2600. At Torrance No. 1 an attempt is being made to pull the 4-in and go deeper, the hole is now 4485. On the Bixby tract roads are being constructed for No. 2, a second test well for the property.

At 2846 the Sandburg Petroleum Company set 8 1-4 at No. 1. Bailing for a test will be made before the end of the week. Sandburg - Cooperation No. 1 is producing about 135 barrels. It is the intention to deepen this well soon.

At Booth No. 1, the San Martenas Oil Co. has recemented and set 8-in at 3246. No. 2 Freeman is building for a test at 3135. The water seems to come in slowly, indicating that there is either a leak in the pipe or that it is coming in from some other well.

The United Oil Co. has both Denni No. 1 and Denni No. 2 standing cemented. No. 2 set the 10-in at 2941 and No. 1 set the 8-in at 2590.

The Walter Western Oil Co. is rigging up to go ahead with drilling at 2998 with cable tools. San Martenas No. 1 makes Walker-Western look like the real thing now.

WIRES ELIMINATE TIME AND SPACE

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—More than any other enterprise, the telephone industry in a comparatively short period of existence has outdone all other endeavors to conquer time and distance. Thru an extensive and intricate network of wires, reaching in all directions thruout the country and connecting more than 13,450,000 telephones in the U. S., the telephone industry provides a means of direct intercommunication that is unequaled in speed by the telegraph, mails, railroads, aeroplanes or any other existing means of intercommunication.

GREAT AMOUNT OF EFFORT IN MOVIES

The layman who has never witnessed the filming of a modern motion picture would be astounded were he to see one produced from start to finish. He would be amazed by the labor required to furnish the proper settings and by the infinitesimal details which confront the technical staff.

An instance of the magnitude of such a task is "One Arabian Night," a First National attraction, starring Pola Negri, which will be the feature at the California Theatre, starting today. Prevented from filming the tale in its locale, the Persian city of Bagdad, owing to the prohibitive expense and the distance, the director Ernst Lubitsch, who also produced "Passion" and "Gypsy Blood," in both of which Mlle. Negri was the star, was compelled to construct practically an entire city.

And the replica was just as good as the original, authorities on Eastern architecture agree. It is difficult for the spectator to realize, on seeing a bird's eye view of the city, that it is not the real thing. But he is blissfully unaware of the work and thought it required to make it true to life in every particular.

Viewed from afar, the set imparts the spirit of the Orient in every particular. The skyline is a succession of minarets, the most distinctive feature of Oriental architecture, and from many of them arise the crescent in the form of a weather vane. The pulses quicken with the spell of romance as one looks upon the enticing vista.

Approaching closer one is thunderstruck by the size of the buildings. Towering more than a hundred feet in the air, they are awe-inspiring. Closer examination of the facades gives mute proof of the artistry of the producer, for not a detail is lacking in the attempt to make the reproduction faithful.

Before actual construction was begun, it had been necessary for the technical director to make a trip to the Orient and to spend several weeks in studying the buildings and general landscape. Then he was compelled to study many books bearing on the subject, in order to determine whether his ideas conformed with architecture of the period. After drawing his plans he had to consult with authorities on the subject, to make sure that there would be no incongruity in the finished product.

Chief among the features of the settings for "One Arabian Night" are the palaces of the sheik, one containing the throne room and his suite, and the other housing his harem, with a hundred wives and as many slaves and guards.

The shiek's main palace is crowned with an immense minaret whose height is staggering. On each of the wings is another, surmounted with the characteristic crescent. The arched doorway is a work of art, with its magnificent scroll work, panelings and carvings. In the wings are open windows, disclosing a promenade of considerable proportions.

A flight of fifty stairs, nearly a hundred feet wide at the base, lead up to the doorway ornamented on the sides with pillar lamps twelve feet in height and weighing several tons each. In front of the palace stands a fountain, spouting water thirty feet into the air, in the midst of a marble pool twenty-five feet in diameter. The palace is enclosed in a thirty foot wall of solid masonry.

These facts give an insight into the enormous amount of work involved in making the settings; and they comprise only two of the buildings. Many street scenes are shown, and while they are not as elaborate or as stately as the palace views, they required almost as much work to make them true to life.

There are many of the arched bridges which span the streets and are so dear to the heart of the Oriental. And neither they nor the buildings were constructed of papie mache; the walls are made of stone and brick, and the streets are crooked and winding in accordance with the traditions of the East. The delightful bazaars at which milady satisfies her feminine craving for shopping are there, too, and the plaza of the town covers several acres of ground.

Another feat accomplished by Lubitsch was the "making" of a desert. No suitable desert being within many miles, one had to be constructed to order. A hilly stretch of country was discovered, and for days trains of trucks carried sand to the spot. This was spread over the ground and on the hillsides, with the result that the made-to-order desert appeared to be the real thing.

And all with but one object—to entertain the motion picture fan.

WOMAN IN TREE ONLY POL PARROT

ALAMEDA, Cal., Dec. 9. — They still fall for Polly—just as they still bite on the old one of the wallet on the sidewalk on April Fool's day.

A woman's scream aroused the entire west end district here last night.

A huge crowd gathered and rushed up and down the 170 block in an attempt to locate the woman in distress. Several policemen aided in the search.

The "woman" was finally found roosting in a tree.

It was a Venezuelan parrot that had escaped from its cage and was amusing itself by drawing a crowd.

Policeman Andy Peterson climbed the tree and coaxed the bird to come home to papa.

SHERIFF WILL MAKE IT HOT FOR CROOKS

Crooks, both great and near-great, who come to Santa Ana looking for easy pickings, will get a warm reception this winter, according to the guardians of the law. The increasing number of small burglaries in and around Santa Ana has resulted in the officers' getting blanket orders to bring in any and all suspects for examination.

"We do not believe in filling the jails with hobos and footsore highway pedestrians," said Sheriff C. E. Jackson, "but we have given all our men to understand that Santa Ana is an unhealthy spot for the crooks."

Jackson cited the daring robbery at Los Alimitos last Thursday night, when four armed bandits held up a number of persons in two billiard halls and escaped in a high-powered automobile with loot estimated at more than $200.

"The pool hall robbery at Los Alamitos was an evidence of how some of those crooks operate. They seem to work in flying squadrons, with their base in Los Angeles, and they 'make' the smaller cities in their quest for easy pickings.

"I have instructed all my assistants to be on the lookout for the light-fingered gentry, and we will make it exceedingly hot for any crook who comes to Orange county for his winter operations. We have descriptions and photographs of a lot of these fellows, and our men will devote a great deal of time this winter to the work of ridding Orange county of undesirables."

The sheriff said Los Angeles was overrun with bunko-steerers and porch climbers, and many of these drop off here in their pilgrimage to Tia Juana and the Mexican gambling dives.

"When they run them out of Los Angeles, they float around in the smaller cities of So. California," he said.

PROMINENT ORANGE CO. GROWER PASSES

Orange county is mourning the loss of a very prominent man in the passing of Dr. C. J. K. Jones, whose death occurred yesterday morning at 7 o'clock at his home on South Glassell-st, Orange.

Dr. Jones was a member of the Sanitago Orange Growers' Assn. board for many years. He was a grower of extensive interests and during the past several years was a familiar figure in the weekly meetings of the California Fruit Growers' Assn. in Los Angeles.

Before coming to Orange he was Los Angeles city librarian for a number of years, and prior to his removal to California held several important pastorates thru the east. He was a keen business man, a man of interesting personality and a splendid friend.

His only surviving relatives are his invalid wife in Orange and a niece in Los Angeles. Funeral services were set for Friday, to be held in Los Angeles.

NEW COMPANY AT HUNTINGTON BEACH

Huntington Beach

The Huntington Royalty Oil Co. is a new concern that has just made its appearance at Huntington Beach. Th new company is backed by W. W. Bush and H. E. Hinkley of Ontario and the W. P. Weaver Drilling Co. of Huntington Beach. The new concern is building a rig on lots 3-4-6. and is putting lumber on the ground for a rig on block 7-11.

The Invaders Oil Co., (Phil Warner) carrying 4½ hhad the misfortune to have the pipe part and drop at 3056. Fishing for the pipe is underway.

Drilling on Marchris Bros. No. 2 is now at 1260 feet. No. 1 has settled down to a daily average of 350 barrels. The oil is runing better than 23 gravity.

Huntington Union No. 1 (McIntyre) No. 1 is now drilling at 3700 feet. The sandy shale is showing some colors and a quantity of gas.

After standing for four months Metcalf-Hinkley No. 1 is drilling out the cement and will be making a water test this week at 2205 feet.

The Krohn-Suttle Oil Co., one of the newest concerns at Huntington Beach had the misfortune to have its first new rig to blow down. The rig leveled by the wind is being rebuilt.

Drilled to 3725 feet and showing up splendidly the Miller Syndicate had made preparations to set the 8-inch at the above depth. On running in the oil string it was found that it would not go thru the 10-inch. The setting of the 8-inch will probably be delayed a few days.

E. J. Miley has spudded in and started drilling on No. 3. The depth of the hole is now 600 feet and some fast drilling time can be expected on No. 3. No. 2 set pipe at 2569, the ten inch. Miley No. 1 continues to produce about 450 barrels daily.

The Miley-Keck Oil Co. has decided not to move the rig and is putting in the rotary to drill by and on at 2590. No. 2 at 2920 continues to make about 35 bbls a day. No. 3 is a rig. No. 4 th ebig well continues to hold steadily at 400 barrels. No. 5 is rigging up and will be ready to go in a few days.

The cement was drilled out at O'Donnel No. 1 at 3510, the results of the bailing test is to be passed on today or tomorrow by the State Mining Bureau. Exports are looking for a big well. Condition seem favorable for a nice well at that.

Owing to being sanded up and mud condition of Pantages, this well has lost about ten days production. The well seems to have heavily sanded up and it will be some little job to get cleaned out and going again.

Petitfells Syndicate No. 2 is now one of the big wells of the Yserday's flow production ran close to 700 barrels. No. 3 is drilling at 2000 feet in brown shale.

The Petroleum Co., has made but little progress on Brown No. 1 and fishing continues at 4030 for drill pipe. Porter No. 2 is now a completed rig. Harriman No. 1 is a rig and Krahling No. 1 stands suspended at 685 feet.

Vollmer Meyer No. 1 at 3450 failed to flow and the Petroleum Midway is swabbin gthe well further in the hope that it will start. Smythe No. 1 at 3620 failed to produce when swabbed and is now being tubed for pumping. Elliott No. 1 drilled out at 2800 and is ready for a water test. Columbia 2-1 at 3400 is showing up nicely. Vollmer-Meyer No. 2 is in hard sand at 2700 and No. 3 has been located. Towers Community No. 1 is one o fthe choice wells of the field, it is producing about 700 barrels. Columbia 3-1 the Petroleum Modway's first well still continues to make close to 100 barrels daily.

The Republican Petroleum finds that some water still persists in coming in with the production at No. 2. Recent pumping tests show that this well will do about 200 barrels. With the water off the production will undoubtedly come up another 100 barrels. No. 1 continues to be a "whole" of a wel, it averages 700 barrels a day.

The Rhoades Oil Co.,'s three wells were off production yesterday. No. 1 is drilling nito production at 2385. No. 2 is cleaning out at 2378 and expected back at 125 or 150 bbls. No. 3 is also cleaning out and a production increase expected.

Rio Bravo No. 2 drilled to 2360 feet is being prepared for production. This well showed a lot of rich oil sand and should make something.

TWO SHOWS SAME NIGHT COMPLICATES

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—On a recent Monday night, society was virtually torn in twain. The opera and the National Horse Show opened on the same night, and while it was assumed that some would endeavor to attend both, the early arrivals in the "diamond horseshoe" as well as an equally representative throng at the same hour at the horse show would demonstrate that we are becoming a right big town and that the "four hundred" must be expanding. It was a very different horse show from that of preceding years. It has moved from the Garden at 26th-st to the armory of Squadron A in the upper nineties. Also, the seating capacity of the armory is limited, with but a total of 60 boxes, so that there was a great amount of promenading, which the New Yorker likes so much. The military showing by the swanking Squadron A men, who stod guard in their blue and yellow dress uniforms, made the scene quite as interesting and colorful as the splendid turn out down at the Metropolitan.

TRIED DEC. 20 FOR TAKING LEGION CAR

Trial of J. H. and F. M. Stern, brothers, accused of embezzling a $5,000 Premier automobile, with which they were conducting a raffle for the Santa Ana Post of American Legion, wa stoday set for Dec. 20 by Superior Judge Z. B. West, who appointed Attorney Ben. E. Tarver as counsel for defense. Arraigned in department 1 today, the two brothers pleaded not guilty. They had no attorney. Deputy District Attorney Mosley told the court that Attorney Thomas McFadden of Anaheim, who has been their counsel heretofore, had been notified, but had stated that he was not now representing the prisoners.

BARDEEN DRILLS OUT AT 2250 FEET

Puente Hills

The Bardeen Oil Co. will drill out the cement set in the 6-in at 2260 probably the latter part of the week. With a shut off an oil well of commercial production is assured.

The Chino-Corona United is about thru pulling out the 6-in string and will be ready to go ahead deepening at 3700 feet in a few days. At 3700 some good showings of light oil have been reported.

Authentic production performance of the Mahala Oil Co's No. 1 puts the production at a 150 bbls. A recent test of 8 hours pumping produced 55 barrels. Sand trouble, gas working on the standing valve and sloughing off continue to bother. Each successivve cleaning out improves the production. No. 2 has spudded in and is now drilling. There is a possibility of the Mahala starting a third well with the rotary.

The Pomona Oil Co. lost a shoe joint at 3310 and is now fishing. No indications of any importance have been reported.

The ten-inch string going into the St. Helens Petroleum Garnier parted and held up the cementing planned at 2333. The cementing will probably be completed early this week. At 2333 three feet of good oil sand was struck. The showing is good enough to test out.

BIRD SEED SOLD AS POOR MAN'S POPCORN

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—No telling where the practice will lead to, but down on the East side, the peddlers are selling penny packages of bird seed just like your little yellow Hop Sing consumes, except that the seed has been roasted. They call it "poor man's pop corn." Fish food would seem to be next, and somehow it might even seem appropriate in some cases.

PRECEDENT SET BY R. R. COMMISSION

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 9.—In the first proceeding of its kind in the history of the commission, William S. Van Hooscar stands adjudged guilty of contempt by the railroad commission and is under sentence to pay a fine of $250 or serve 30 days in the Alameda-co jail. President Harley W. Brundige, sitting in the courtroom of the commission in the Flood building passed the sentence yesterday. At the request of Attorney H. S. Craig, representing Van Hoosear, stay of judgment was granted for one week, to Dec. 8 at 2 p. m.

Van Hoosear operated a water utility near Hayward and on Nov. 19, 1919, shut off the supply furnished certain users in Castro valley. When directed to re-establish service by the commission he appealed to the supreme court, which sustained the order of the commission. Following the decision of the supreme court Van Hooscar failed to restore service.

EXQUISITE GOODS SHOWN TODAY AT EBELL BAZAAR

WITH countless articles for good, practical use, for ornament in the home, for personal adornment and for almost any use, the Ebell bazaar opened today in the new Buick salesrooms on North Los Angeles street. The booths are prettily decorated, each one containing an assortment along a particular line. The country store, which is one of the unique as well as popular features of the bazaar, carries a line of stock which would outfit a family for months. Beans, jellies, pastries, vegetables, canned goods, everything, may be found in the "country store" section. Mrs. Fred Peck is general manager of the store and her corps of clerks is lending every effort to please the purchaser.

Mrs. R. B. Herman is in charge of the apron booth, where one may find these useful garments from the big, practical, kitchen variety, to the most dainty little afternoon tea model. Hand made dresses, lingerie, caps, etc., all are offered for sale at most reasonable prices.

Mrs. E. B. Camp is presiding at the fancy work booth this afternoon and Mrs. J. P. Probst and Mrs. J. T. Lyon are selling from the candy booth.

The Ebell ladies have been strenuously working to make the bazaar a financial success for several months, starting some of the sewing last summer. The proceeds will be added to the club house fund, which is in the making. The bazaar will be open this afternoon, this evening, tomorrow afternoon and tomorrow evening. Aside from the financial gain the affair is really a social event, and dancing and cards will give diversion each evening.

CHOIR CHRISTMAS PARTY

Following rehearsal of Methodist White Temple choir last evening, the thirty-five members and their friends, totaling 60, repaired to the social hall for a Christmas party. Music and games were played with enthusiasm, after which interest centered in the prettily decorated Christmas tree.

A present for every guest hung upon the tree, and merry was the hour which followed distributing the gifts, as almost all of them were burlesque presents. Pop corn and rosy cheeked apples were served for refreshment.

The guests greatly enjoyed the vocal numbers given by Mr. Herman Poyner, who recently came to reside in Anaheim. He will also appear on the program at church services Sunday.

LAST MEETING OF THE YEAR

White Temple Women's Foreign Missionary society held the last meeting of the year yesterday, and the occasion was especially interesting. Mrs. Goodale reviewed the first two chapters of the study book, "The Kingdom and the Nations," in her characteristically interesting way, and gave excerpts from peace conference activities among the women from foreign countries who are attending. Among them was a Japanese woman, ninety years of age, who is there to represent Japanese womankind.

Mrs. Abernathy sang a solo very sweely, and the Mystery box was then conducted by Mrs. E. O. Mathias. This is always an interesting part of the program and yesterday was no exceptiin. Questions are dropped in the box to be answered and discussed.

MAKE BIG STRIDES IN BUREAU DRIVE

Canvassing teams in the farm bureau membership drive were today reporting great progress, and Secretary-manager R. D. Flaherty, in charge of the campaign, expressed confidence in the successful outcome of the effort.

As a result of the efforts of August Lemke, of Olive, who has been soliciting in the Santa Ana canyon, a membership of 28 has been secured. Last year only two men in that section were farm bureau members. Lemke expects to obtain at least seven more members before he concludes his labors. Upon his success will depend the formation of a farm center there.

Cypress had 51 last year, and up to the present has fifty-five. Teams are still at work there.

Teams in Fullerton, La Habra, Buena Park, Placentia, Yorba Linda and Tustin have made no reports.

The drive for members at Anaheim and West Orange will take place Jan. 9 to 15.

LA HABRA BUSINESS SECTION GROWING

LA HABRA, Dec. 9.—La Habra's business section is moving out, and moving in, but a much faster move must be made if it is to catch up with its residential district.

Roy Baker, of Santa Ana, who will open a new hardware store on Central avenue, has bought a home site.

These sales have all been made in the McPherson tract, on Central avenue.

Twenty-six feet frontage on Central avenue was sold Friday by Luther Lindaur to C. F. Huckelbridge at a consideration of $4000.

Mrs. George Hilbert has bought a corner lot from R. W. George and will erect a bungalow court at once.

Price and Bishop list the following sales: A corner at First and below Hiatt going to R. W. George, to G. E. Parsons, Parsons will build a medium-priced bungalow court. Charles Newson has bought of L. Lindzur a 90 by 85 foot lot facing on Hiett-st., and a number of lots in the Garretson tract have been sold by this realty firm.

ONLY FORDS BEAT NEW STUDEBAKERS

The reports of reproduction of motor cars for the first half of 1921 recently issued by the Auto C. of C., shows that only one make of car exceeded Studebaker in production. This was the Ford. Among the cars selling at or above the Studebaker prices Studebaker maintained a big lead even though they manufactured sixes exclusively.

The percentage of sales as register in California shows the same ratio as production by the factory for out of every 100 six cylinder cars sold in California during the first eight months of 1921, 29 were Studebakers. The six cylinder car has more popularity than all other types combined listed at or above Studebaker prices for the report shows that 70 out of every 100 have six cylinder motors.

Harry D. Riley, local distributer of the Studebaker line, ascribes this six cylinder popularity to the greater satisfaction that owners get from six cylinder performance and gives Studebaker owners most of the credit for the great increase of sales over last year.

"Many of the men who are buying cars from us, tell us," he said, "that some friend of theirs who owns a Studebaker influenced them to choose the same make. They claim that they get this superior performances with greater economy than they have ever had before from other cars of like size or power."

WANTS CAR OWNER TO PAY DAMAGES

E. O. Bray, 728 Chestnut, Santa Ana, feels that the owner of a cow which leaped in front of his Ford car while he was driving through a fog en route from Huntington Beach to Santa Ana, should pay for the extensive damage sustained by the car.

Bray made this statement in reporting the collision at the sheriff's office.

Bray did not know what damage had been done to the cow, he reported.

On the previous night the shots were fired near the city water works.

REPORTER SPILLS BEANS

It was a fine plan, but the trouble with fine plans is that they do not always work out in a fine way. And the trouble was that they forgot that it is impossible to keep a secret from the newspapers—like the proverbial collar button that rolled under the dresser it always somehow gets into print. But to make a long story short it is the story of a couple of honeymooners who eloped, and were united in a "secret" wedding, thinking that they would fool their friends, but a reporter happened along, and spoiled all their plans. The bride was Miss Adah R. Thomas, daughter of Mrs. J .E. Thomas of West Commonwealth-ave, and the groom, Raymond S. Dyer, truck and transfer man of Orange. The bride told her friends that she was going to Los Angeles to spend the week-end with relatives and friends, but instead went to Riverside and got married. But the reporter of one of the Riverside papers got the marriage license, and the "secret" reached Fullerton. The newlyweds are now receiving congratulations and also a lot of good natured chaffing because of the failure to keep their secret. They expect to make their home in Fullerton as soon as they can find suitable quarters.

Following a short business session, the members of the P.-T. A. of La Habra enjoyed a delightful Christmas program, consisting of the following numbers, a piano duet by Mrs. Peabody and Miss Myrtle Leuitwiler, a recitation by Miss Robins, several pretty vocal selections by Miss Stanton of Olinda, and an interesting talk by Miss Juanita Shepherdson on High School Activities. Mrs. L. Webster and Mrs. W. L. Rhodes then closed the program with detailed report of the District Federation of Woman's clubs held at Santa Ana recently.

W. H. Bandy, 119 N. Olive St., Anaheim, says: "I found Doan's Kidney Pills to be a good remedy when my kidneys got out of order. I had a lameness and dull ache across my back. This made it hard for me to do any stooping or lifting. My kidneys didn't act right, and when I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and used them, they fixed me up in good shape and the aching left."

It will be noted that the number of bandits braving sure death by attacking mail trains guarded by marines is decidedly small.

Through the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence to the Atlantic and straight across to Europe is destined to be a great waterway traffic route in future. A great ship canal in the St. Lawrence, to make deep-water navigation possible, already is projected. This route should be of immense material benefit to the Middle West.

Marshal Foch, of France, and General Diaz, of Italy, two of the illustrious conquerors, of the World War, are conquering the American people in the only way they can be conquered—not with fire and sword, but with kindly smiles and gracious amenities. These two great men are welcomed right heartily wherever they go in this country.

Tales of attrocities by United States Marines in Haiti and San Domingo are to be investigated by a committee of Congress. The whole truth should be brought out. The tales, in all likelihood, have been greatly exaggerated and the circumstances surrounding the slayings may have been such as to warrant killing. The whole unbiased truth should be found and given to the world.

No improvement has been made or can be made in the Golden Rule. No betterment has been made or can be made in the principles of rock bottom honesty and integrity. The virtues are as unsurpassable today as they ever were. They cannot be improved by amendment or revision. The Ten Commandments need no overhauling. The Sermon on the Mount could not be revised, even as to a single word, to bring it any nearer perfection than it is. The great fundamentals of religion and right living are not subject to change They came down through the vicissitudes of time like towering peaks of granite, which the storms of the centuries cannot shake the alter.

IMPROVEMENT IN WEST. IN BUSINESS

Business and industry are showing improvement, on the whole, in the Pacific West, according to Federal Reserve Bank reports. The slump in demand for labor in the agricultural regions after the crops were gathered has been offset by an increased demand for labor in manufacturing industries.

The lumber industry, responding to the extraordinary call for building materials, is brisk. In building, the Pacific Coast is surpassing its greatest records. City after city, and town after town, are exceeding the volume of building of their palmiest years. This unprecedented activity in building operations affects other industries and all business, more or less.

It would be beside the truth to assert that the economic normal has been attained in the Pacific West. It has not. There is dullness yet, in some lines of industry and business. But it is well within the truth to say that general conditions gradually are improving and that the outlook is quite hopeful. It would not be reasonable to expect a mighty outburst of business and industrial activities. No Niagara is going to break loose, all at once, in the economic realm. But indications are clear and unmistakable that bettedment has set in and that this improvement will continue indefinitely in this section. There may be white spots and dark spots, and briht days agnd cloudy days, economically speaking; but the trend is toward the economic normal.

SEEING THINGS WITHOUT WRITING ABOUT THEM

After saying that most persons seek a place free from disturbance when they attempt to write, whether the writing is to be a letter to a friend or an epic poem addressed to a nation, the Kansas City Star makes this interesting comment as to the practice of writers:

"It is usually supposed that whatever attempts to write shall first have something to write about and not make his composition a mere matter of spinning out the imagination.

"Some easy fallacies have arisen in connection with this subject of the leisure and seclusion that are often desirable for the writer, and F. M. Colby, writing in Harper's, comes very near falling into one of them. Taking his cue from Mark Twain, who, we are informed, wrote worst when he had seen most, Mr. Colby reaches the conclusion that jail at least for a while, would be a good thing for authors. For, as in the case of Twain, and others, the more things that happen to them from without, the fewer things happened inside them. . ." Kipling is cited as "a better example or this inverse ratio of literary result to external experience."

Surely, Mr. Colby doesn't mean just what he says. Perhaps some youngster tugged at his sleeve, he was called to the telephone or confronted with a bill collector just as he was writing down some of these smart sentences. His text, to the effect that a year in jail would probably be a fine thing for the literary output of H. G. Wells as a certain period there proved for Bunyan, Wilde, Raleigh and several others, is thoroughly orthodox in sentiment. But what heresy have we in the preachment that experience, of an external nature, may and does work to the detriment of the author? Would the author infer that because a year or so in jail would be a fine thing for many writers, a lifetime there or in some other spot shut off from the world of actual life would be a still finer thing? Evidently, and sadly, so.

But if the poet, as Browning says, is a reporter of life, how much more so must be the novelist and the dramatist, to say nothing of magazine writers? And how is a man to be a reporter of life unless he has seen life, been in the midst of it, heard its language, felt its emotions? Browning himself was of the world, mingling freely here and there; so was Shakespeare, stout old Ben Johnson and all the worthies of the Elizabethan age, save Edmund Spenser, whom not even Mr. Colby reads. Milton's work is marred by an aloofness from the world and experience; so is Tennyson's, Wadsworth's, Shelley, highly imaginative as he was, went to depths of experience and human suffering. Thackeray got out into the world a bit, as did Dickens and the other novelists who have written serviceably of life.

What Mr. Colby and all others concerned do not want in this matter is the kind of reporting in the the field of literature that an office boy might do in the field of the newspaper—a cut-and-dried recital of facts, with some of the facts and all the life left out. But to shut your author up in jail for good or make him the hot-house plant of the quiet library or backyard garden would be to keep all your reporters in the office and tell them to get their material from what happens inside them instead of what might be going on in the outside world.

In short, the need is a mixture of inside and outside. And the real author does not need any protracted period of seclusion in order to give the mixture form.

"INVISIBLE" PAGE GOING INTO BLOCK

TOKIO, Dec. 8. — The "invisible page" of Japanese newspapers is becoming a thing of the past.

"The invisible page" used to be to Japanese journalism what the "man in black" still is to the Japanese stage.

When a person wearing black clothes comes upon the stage of a theatre here his presence is unnoticed. Being in black means you are not there at all. It is very convenient. If it is necessary to shift scenes or bring on new settings in the midst of an act, the stage hands simply put on black coats and proceed about their business. The performance continues without interruption, actors and audience alike undisturbed.

By a similar delusive process, which for a long time was accepted by everybody without question, newspapers had the custom of printing an "invisible page." Theoretically, it didn't exist. Actually it was read with more zest than anything in the paper.

-: New York Letter :-

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—In the midst of all this housing difficulty, one group of New York residents insist upon looking out for themselves and refusing any aid however kindly intentioned. When the beavers' pond at the Bronx zoon was drained the keepers decided to build a better home. Expert carpenters were called in and a much finer shelter constructed. But it was no use. The beavers immediately went to work and "rolled their own," ignoring the man-built home entirely.

Another sign of domesticity is breaking out in our undomestic city. Dyed rags for rugs, in bunches, are appearing in the shops and are being sold rapidly. They are fast colors and in every imagineable shade. The number of women who are weaving their own rugs is said to be increasing by the hundreds right here in New York.

The drama has not lost its lure for Mrs. Lydig Hoyt in spit of the fact that she has abandoned the field of motion pictures which first intrigued her fancy. Now she plans to go onto the legitimate stage. She is said to be considering a number of offers for speaking roles, some of which are "leads."

We have had various instances of husbands' writing plays for their wives to act in, but Mrs. John Barrymore seems to have started the tide the other way with her "Clair de Lune" of last season. Now it is Clara Lipman, who has written "Nature's Nobleman" in which her husband, Louis Mann is appearing. The play, which opened the other night at the Apollo theatre, is real comedy, and gives Mann fine opportunities.

New York has heard another diva. The beautiful Jeritza was heard for the first time in Krongold's "Die Tote Stadt" (The Dead City), an opera new to the American public. The role called for a dancer as well as a singer and in both respects Madame Jeritza qualified unquestionnably. No more beautiful or appealing spectacle has ever been given at the Metropolitan and an audience not too welcome in its greeting to a newcomer attested an appreciation and affection for this lovely lady which will long be remembered in the annals of opera. What I liked most is the fact that she isn't fat, long since an accepted necessity for a great opera singer.

A few of the elite in local art circles have had a rare privilege lately. In viewing a work of art not only notable for its quality, but for its ironic significance. An adoring friend of the bonny Prince of Wales has had a beautiful pack of hand painted ivory playing cards made for his highness and the story goes that certain crowned heads of Europe represent the knaves in the pack. Various names are given out as to the identity of the knaves, but all are agreed that the following noble visages are represented: the former kaiser, ex-King Ferdinand of Bulgaria, Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria and last, and undoubtedly least, the German Crown Prince. If the present conference in Washington does put an end to the nice little European gamble these cards will become all the more significant as the last evidence of a losing game.

Since we are having boxing bouts for the entertainment of society people, a practice instituted by Miss Anne Morgan, many smart women have been attending exhibitions of the manly art. One Benny Leonard, the lightweight champion, while a young man of charm and personality, never expected to be included in the set which now receives him with open arms. Nor is he contemplating leaving his profession, having just completed arrangements whereby a group of men take possession of the old Seigel-Cooper store at Sixth-ave and 18th-st for a sporting club which bids fair to rival Madison Square Garden. A seating capacity of 1,800 is assured.

An interesting report on domestic service and its many-angled problems has been received by the national board of the Y. W. C. A. from two of its western college girls who did six weeks' work as domestic servants. They embody ten recommendations in the report, all emphasizing the importance and the necessity of giving domestic workers some opportunity to lead normal social lives outside of their working hours. Regularity in meals so far as possible, one free day a week, and other details of that kind, are taken up; but perhaps the most interesting item of the recommendations is "that housewives have a knowledge of the work to be done and of the length of time it takes to perform a given task." That seems to go to the foundation of much difficulty. Another paragraph which the board considers worth noting is "that because a Christian's obligation begins in the home no amount of public service will compensate for the ill-treatment of a human being there who is making that service possible." These two college girls seem to have learned more than academics during their course of study! They have even learned to be humble, for they begin the report with the admission: "realizing that college girls—are frequently the most thoughtless—".

Do you recall attending a party back home and having your hospitable host urge a few of the sandwiches on you when you were leaving with the remark that "They will just be to throw out, and you might as well have them." Such things do not happen in New York. In fact, one of our grande dames is being quoted as saying; "I want to refresh people, not to feed them. I find that with the caterer given carte blanche some of the dowangers who cannot fight for food find nothing left after the rush is over. Why my butler tells me that he has seen some prominent clubmen actually wrapping up olives and celery in their handkerchiefs, for home consumption!" It isn't that we are less hospitable here; our guests are just a little more determined.

"Taking coals to Newcastle" has been demonstrated to the delight of the local bellhops. During the recent visit of hotel men from all parts of the United States and Canada to New York for the hotel mens' convention, the visitors established a new record for liberality of tips. It suggested the good old days, and one of the lady-coat checkers went on record with the following: "Not in two or three years have we received such liberal tips from guests. Usually we get ten and twenty-five cent tips at the cost checking counter, but this week the tips usually started at about 0 cents and often we received paper money." The gentle art of tipping seems to have been lost in hotels and restaurants since the coming of prohibition. Then to fifteen dollars a day was formerly a fair average with wages as low as $2.00 for the privilege, but now the wages have not been increased and in consequence the average hotel employe is finding it hard to get along, even as you and I.

PRODUCTION JUMPS IN BUTTERWORTH 1

Santa Fe Springs

Butterworth No. 1 continues to surprise its owners. Last week the production stood at 323 barrels. This week the well is up to 350 barrels and the gravity has increased to 36.7. Butterworth No. 1 is now producing the highest gravity oil in Southern California. Butterworth No. 2 is drilling at 500 feet in sand and boulders.

The Central Oil Co., is rigging up at Los Nitos No. 1 and will be ready to start drilling before the end of the week.

The General Petroleum has taken over the holdings of the Chanseler Canfield Midway Oil Co., at Santa Fe Springs. The General Petroleum is planning on drilling four wells at once. Why this move was made is not known. It is the supposition that the Chanseler-Canfield did not want the light oil production of Santa Fe Springs and as the oil the company produces all goes to the railroad the light product could not be used with economy. The interstate commerce commission prevents the Chanseler-Canfield Midway from selling its production on the open market. A railroad company cannot engage in the oil business.

The Fullerton Oil Co. is about ready to start drilling on the Burmdey property. No. 1 is rigged up and ready to spud in.

Drilling on the Nevada-Ventura is close to 1200 feet. A lot of hard shell from 1000 on has slowed the drilling progress.

The Petroleum Midway spudded in at Los Nitos on the Bell Community lease and is now drilling.

The Scientific Oil Co. is making good weekly runs now. Drilling is now at 1725 in the blue shale, and going ahead nicely.

The Standard Oil Co., has taken first place in the development work at Santa Fe Springs. This company has eight wells underway, four are actually drilling and four are rigging up. Brownrigg-Kellar is showing some real speed. Three weeks drilling put the hole down 2650 feet. L. A. T. & S. No. 1 is drilling at 1300, Pacific Clay Pipe at 1200 and Sanchez No. 1 at 600. Hepler No. 1 is rigging up, also Whittier Com. No. 1 and No. 2, and Wolfskill No. 1.

The Shell Co. intends to be in on the "big stuff" at Santa Fe Springs and is rigging up at Golay Communnity No. 1.

All the Union Oil Co. has to do is to increase the flow nipple an eighth to get another 500 out of Bell No. 1. Last week the well was making 2640 barrels thru a ⅝ths nipple. The flow nipple was enlarged to ¾ this week and the well is now doing 3100. The pressure stands at 500 and the capacity of production has not been found yet. Bell 2 and 4 are building rigs. Bell No. 3 is rigging up. Flood No. 1 and Sanchez No. 1 are drilling at 1000 and 700 respecting. Alexander No. 1 is rigging up. Farewell Nolis building rig and Howard No. 1 has been located.

Meyer No. 3 is cleaning out and is coming back on production. The production got down as low as 30 barrels, it is now 70. Meyer No. 5 at 4977 is fishing for 7 joints of drill pipe. Meyer 4 is redrilling at 4975.

COSTS LEGION ONLY $35 FOR FOCH TOUR

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 8.—According to John J. Byrne of the Santa Fe, the total charges for the movement of Marshal Foch's special train to all the cities he visited in the United States and Canada, only totaled $35. The lowest charge on any one line was $1 and the highest was $5.

Under the transportation law, revenue must be derived from every train passing over any company's lines. Practically every line handling the train agreed to the $1 charge. The American Legion will pay the bill.

MODERN HOBOES ARE NOT SO WISE

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 9.—"The old time hobo is disappearing, giving place to a younger generation," says Dan O'Connell, Chief Special Agent for the Southern Pacific Company, in commenting on the great number of trespassers encountered by the railroads these days. O'Connell recently reported that 20,634 trespassers were put off the Southern Pacific Co's property during a recent month. He says that the number of hoboes this year is greater than during any previous period in the company's history.

"The majority of those beating their way are under 30 years of age and many are in their early twenties. The old timers, with their blanket rolls are found more infrequently. The new comers in this class are not so wise to the ways of hoboing and many lives are lost in this dangerous practice."

NO BOXING UNTIL AFTER CHRISTMAS

Due to the recent wind storm which played havoc with the Anaheim Athletic Club's arena on N. Los Angeles street, the weekly boxing show has been called off for tonight. The arena will remain in darkness so far as boxing bouts are concerned until after the holidays, when it is expected to resume the shows weekly as before.

The club management is figuring on changing to Thursday in response to a good many requests from local fans.

The only doings soon at the arena will be the big wrestling match between Al. Sparkes and Roy Mabee, who are booked to wrestle to a finish catch as catch can, best two out of three falls, Tuesday, Dec. 20th. Both men are now in active training every day and expect to be in tip top shape for a genuine fracas.

In the meantime, Athletic Manager Billy Darnley is going to keep the boxing boys busy by frequent workouts and instruction which he will give daily out at the arena training quarters. The club extends a welcome to all boxers and aspiring boxers to keep themselves in shape by the use of the equipment at the arena.

GREAT INTEREST IN FOOTBALL CLASSIC

Football fans are interested in the San Diego-Santa Ana game to be played on the U. S. C. athletic field Saturday afternoon, to determine the champion football team of So. Calif., and there will be a good many of them in the stands when play begins according to present plans.

According to local followers of the game, the two teams are a fairly even proposition, although Santa Ana is thought to have a little the best of it from the fact that they beat the southern team in a practice game early in the season by a score of 14 to 0. They also have the edge in the matter of the season's scoring record, with 376 points to their opponents' 21, the figures for San Diego being 271 to 38.

Both teams will go up to Los Angeles 25 strong, it is said, reserve force being a strong point with both coaches.

Half the receipts of the game will be given to the Red Cross, each team will be given 20 per cent, and 10 per cent will go to the California Interscholastic Federation, under whose auspices the championship games are being played off.

Dinuba and Bakersfield will play Saturday for the championship of Central California, and the two winning teams will meet on the following Saturday in the semi-final. The final battle for the state high school championship will be fought out at Tournament Park, in Pasadena, during holiday week, with the best team in the north furnishing the opposition.

LOVELY TROPHIES FOR TOURNAMENT

PASADENA, Dec. 9—Entry blanks for the 1922 Tournament of Roses parade will be obtainable at Tournament of Roses headquarters by or before December 10. These blanks will give full information as to the classes in the big floral pageant. Chairman B. O. Kendall of the Tournament of Roses parade committee made this announcement today.

More handsome silver and gold trophies have been offered so far this time than on any similar date in the long history of the parade, says Chairman Kendall. The prizes this time will be the finest which have ever been offered for competition in the annual pageant.

The parade record was set on Jan. 1, 1921, when more than 100 notable entries were reviewed by some 300,000 people. It is expected that the parade this time will be even larger and more elaborate than the one a year ago.

FOR SALE

20 acres (1744 trees) which unquestionably stands unchallenged as the best orange grove in this section. A grove with a record, a grove with a future. There is not one weak feature attachd to this offering. Upon inspection one becomes impressed with the size of the trees, their vigor, health and thrifty condition. The soil is of the finest, setting indicates that it will be one of the heaviest producing 20 acres in Orange-co. This is a grove which has received not only the best of care, but all work has been done by the owners themselves. Its location is ideal, situated in city limits, 3 blocks from the new postoffice, with frontage on 3 streets. The only reason this splendid grove is on the market is due to one of the owners being desirous of returning east. It is offered for sale at a ridiculously low figure, and we are prepared to produce figures which will show an income of 22 per cent. This is your one big opportunity to purchase a grove which is now increasing in value. Don't wait until the fruit colors up. Don't wait until the owners change their minds but buy now.

5 aces of 5-year-old Valencias that would do your heart good to see. The trees have an exceptionally heavy setting for next year, wtih every indication of sizing up well. Soil conditions fine. This grove is all piped. There is a nice home, all modern, with garage, which makes this proposition exceptionally attractive. We doubt if there is another 5 acres which can compare with this. Anyone purchasing this beautiful grove will feel greatly satisfied especially when the fruit colors up. Better look into this before it is too late.

10 acres 8-year-old Valencias, setting and soil A-1. Grove all piped. This grove can be purchased at your own figure.

5 acres 2-year-old Valencias ,all piped, soil exceptionally good. Priced at $1600 per acre.
