R.R.'S OFFER ENGINEERS ON LEVY

Big Technical Men of Public Service Corporations Will Recommend Protection Work

Messrs. Stark, Benjamin and Fraser spent the whole day yesterday in Los Angeles visiting public service corporations and other interested in permanent flood control for Anaheim. Nine calls were made and the general manager or executive officer in each case was seen, with the exception of the general manager of the Southern Pacific, who was out of town.

J. R. Hitchcock, asst. gen. manager of the A. T. & S. F., and others in charge of the right of way, approval of the subscription, made the suggestion that engineers of the A. T. & S. Fe., U. P., L. A. Pac., Southern California Edison Co., So. Calif. Edison Co., W. U. T. Co., and such other public service corporations as are interested in permanent flood control might lend the cooperation of their engineers, several of whom are very familiar with the Santa Ana river, to set out a plan that will be mutually agreeable as well to themselves as to the citizens who are bearing their share of this burden. Mayor Stark believes this suggestion a timely and an important one. He thinks the generous offer of this technical help should be accepted and that the engineers should be brought together at an early date by the C. of C. and taken over the ground, so that a thorough survey can be made, after which they may agree upon the best method for protection of the Anaheim river frontage.

Vice President Ward of the Edison Company and executive officers of the other companies mentioned above stated their willingness to ask their men to perform this service for Anaheim district.

In no case did this committee meet with a refusal. On the contrary, the subscription amount set by the committee was generally accepted by the persons seen with the customary reservation that their board of directors would have to consider the favorable report on the application.

Calls were made to the A. T. & S. Fe Ry., So. Pac. Co., Union Pacific System, Southern Counties Gas Co., Standard Oil Co.

CANVASS 70 PERCENT OF CITY DISTRICT

Solicitation for subscriptions progressed fairly well yesterday and the probabilities are that at least 70 per cent of the city district has been canvassed. Today's meeting should give the exact status. In some districts, a complete canvass was made and no refusals were encountered. Dr. Jewett and Mr. J. L. Pindle, who canvassed district 38, stated that without a single exception, the people responded cheerfully to the appeal of the committee and showed willingness to pay at once. Dr. Jewett said it was a pleasure to live in such a cheerful neighborhood.

Chas. Eyrabroad, chairman of the Finance committee, when told that several prominent property owners had shown indifference to the suggestions of the solicitors, and in some cases absolutely refused to protect their property under the proposed plan, suggested that a strong committee be appointed to see such persons and try to bring home the fact to them that the work is being done to protect their property equally with that of others. The committee appointed consists of the following: C. M. Hollingshead, Chas. Eyrabroad, E. A. Hargrove, G. M. Simpson and Harry D. Riley, all from Anaheim.

OVER HALF LEMONS SHIPPED BY WATER

"Did you ever realize that more than half of California's lemon production is now being shipped by water?" pointed out Chas. Eyrabroad, Anaheim director of the Cal. Fruit Growers' Exchange, today.

"This is done at a saving of one-half per freight.

"Lemon growers are improving position also thru the two-cent tariff on the Sicilian product. This is an increase from the former one-half cent tariff.

Consumption of both lemons and oranges has been increased 50 pct. at soda fountains which have adopted the new electric squeezers now manufactured by the Exchange, says Eyrabroad. The squeezers formerly sold for $165 but the Exchange bought the factory and sells them at cost for $42.

Citrus Fruit Assn. Aids Protection Fund

At the annual meeting of Anaheim Citrus Fruit Assn, directors yesterday, $140 was subscribed to the river protection fund.

It is unusual for the cooperative packing associations to make subscriptions of any kind but the directors decided to charge this to the insurance fund.

Six years ago, the basement in the warehouse of this association on Santa Ana-st was flooded, causing about $600 damages.

The C. of C. had not anticipated assistance from this source.

LUMBER MEN STRUCK BY P. E. AT CROSSING

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7.—Thrown for a distance of 100 feet when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Pacific Electric car at the Fletcher crossing in South Pasadena, William E. Cooper, president, and T. J. Hughes, vice president of the W. E. Cooper Lumber Co., of this city, were perhaps fatally injured today, according to physicians who examined them at the Pasadena hospital.

The two men, who are prominent in lumber circles of the southwest, it is said, had just left Mr. Cooper's home at 5507 Parmelee street, Sierra Vista, in his large sedan, bound for the lumber company offices at 2035 East Fifteenth street, Los Angeles, when the accident occurred.

Mr. Hughes, whose home is in Milwaukee, Wis., was the one seriously hurt in the collision, suffering a fractured skull, broken arm and possibly internal injuries.

Mr. Cooper was internally injured and his face, hands, neck and chest were severely cut and lacerated by flying glass.

According to Mr. Cooper, who was not rendered unconscious by his injuries, he approached the crossing and noticed a Monrovia bound car coming from the city. He states that he came to a stop, thinking the car was going to pass, but the motorman slowed down as though he was going to stop to discharge passengers.

Cooper says that he drove out on the tracks to go across and the car bore down on him, striking the heavy sedan at the back of the body.

JUDGE THREATENED IN ARBUCKLE CASE

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 7.—A death threat to Judge Harold Louderback and the defendant marked the preparations today for the retrial of Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle on a manslaughter charge as a result of the death of Virginia Rappe after a party given by the famous film comedian.

"Judge—Arbuckle or you will not live six months if he is freed," read the note, printed roughly and signed with the words "Beast" and "dead."

It was learned today that Arbuckle will be tried on the same charge the jury indictment first returned against him instead of the police court charge on which his first trial was held.

CITRUS ASSN. REFUNDS 21c PER BOX

$1,390,644 Banked Compared With $818,555 Previous Year, Says Annual Report

Members of the Anaheim Citrus Fruit Ass'n will receive a refund of practically 21 cents per box of oranges shipped during the 1920-21 season, Manager W. H. Schureman told the board of directors at the annual meeting yesterday afternoon.

Of the aggregate $27,325.75 will be in cash and the balance will be assigned pro rata to the Fruit Growers Supply Co. revolving fund, which in time will be paid out in cash and meanwhile earn 6 per cent.

Shipments based on 400 boxes per car were: 872 cars Valencias, 65 to Washington navels, 15½ Med. Sweets, 2 grapefruit, 1 St. Michaels, 1 Bloods, Seedlings and Tangerines, 945 cars total 1920-21 season; 556 cars total 1919-20 season; 311 cars total 1918-19 season, (first season of present manager).

During the season $1,390,644.94 was banked, compared with $818,555.88 the previous season, or an increase of $572,089.88. The acreage was increased by 311 acres to 2,731.41, after taking into consideration a very few withdrawals and sales of groves to other than members. Tree planted numbered 126,870.

Only 84 cars out of 949 showed decay, the average on the 84 being less than 8.2 per cent, thus demonstrating the careful manner in which fruit was handled from the groves to the cars.

The C. C. Vecoras case was won in the state supreme court, thus showing the soundness of our by-laws. Judgment for amount sued, plus costs, was given; and the amount paid to our attorneys in cash.

Other features of the report are: 567,734 loose boxes of oranges handled, which netted growers an average of $1.76 per loose box, as delivered from groves. No boxes were filled to utmost capacity, in order to prevent bruising. This fruit packed up 67.2 per cent, or 67.2 packed boxes from each 100 loose.

Sixty-four large carloads of lumber used in making boxes; 450 kegs of nail used for boxes and car loading; 220 miles of box strapping used; 67 million tissue wraps used for as many oranges; about three-fifths of an orange for each person in the United States; $67,000 was paid packing house employes; $46,000.00 paid pickers; 79,298 pounds of cover crop seeds supplied to members; 1,088,230 pounds of commercial and other fertilizers to members.

Dying Youth Gives Name of Accomplice

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7.—Physicians of the receiving hospital waged a desperate battle today to save the life of George Crowe, 17, 1441 West Thirty-sixth-st, boy bandit suspect, declared by the police to have confessed and who was shot twice near the heart when he was alleged to have attempted to hold up Police Officer E. L. Oker of Hollywood police station in Mesa drive near West Forty-eighth-st.

At the same time the police, acting on information given by Crowe when he was told that he was dying, arrested Carl Smith, 18, 2238 W. Twenty-ninth-st, alleged accomplice of Crowe, in an effort to get a confession from him similar to that given by Crowe, but he maintained his innocence.

A third mystery suspect, declared by Patrolman Oker to have been implicated, was sought today by police, despite the statements of Crowe to the effect that only two men were involved.

At the receiving hospital today it was declared that Crowe is in a critical condition.

Police surgeons held out little hope for the youth's recovery. Crowe was unconscious much of the time. He was shot twice near the heart.

An alleged accomplice of the Crowe youth, Carl Smith, 2238 West Twenty-ninth place, arrested shortly before midnight by Detectives Shy and Ford, was held today in the city jail, where he was subjected to a grilling.

City's Prosperity Attracts Slick Boys

Why do prosperous orange growers, with an increase of 10 to 20 per cent, let themselves be taken in by frauds, offering stock in bogus concerns of one sort or another? According to the manager of a local packing house, growers have averaged 7 per cent on a valuation of $10,000 per acre during the past five or six years.

Yet these men, experts in their own line, are lured by promises of 25 or 50 per cent to give up their hard-earned cash, or even their ranches, and put money into schemes not only much less certain, but actually bogus.

Many thousands of dollars worth of stock in shady or semi-shady concerns was sold here in 1920 and 1921. This current year, because of Anaheim's prosperity, will see these fellows again coming here. Are you going to be bamboozled again? It's Up To You.

PETITION ADDITION OF EXTENDED AREA

A. A. Mills today started out with the petition for addition of a large territory on the north and east sides of the city. The matter has been delayed two months thru an auto accident eight weeks ago to Mills.

The territory included in the petition would push the city limits on the northwest to Palm-st and state highway ,on the north 150 beyond the state highway, east to Placentia-ave as far south as Center-st and the eastern limits between Center and Santa Ana-sts would be pushed 1000 feet east of East-st, the present boundary.

Mills found but one objector on the northside. He has not canvassed the eastside.

MADALYNNE SCOFFS AT BURCH SUICIDE

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7.—Madalynne Obenchain today scoffed at the story that Arthur Burch attempted to commit suicide by leaping from a stairway in the county jail.

She declared she believed Burch incapable of such a "cowardly act."

"I don't believe for a minute that Arthur would ever think of doing such a cowardly thing," Mrs. Obenchain said. "If, by any chance, he wanted to end his life I think he has a better plenty of opportunities other than trying to jump from a stairway while a jail guard stood at his side. I repeat, however, I think there's no truth in the report."

While Mrs. Obenchain was making this statement it was rumored from other sources that soon after his arrest, Burch made efforts in the jail to obtain a gun.

Deputy Sheriff A. S. Patton, who reported the caught Burch in his arms just as Burch was about to leap from the stairway, declared, however, he was ready to make an affidavit that Burch was attempting to commit suicide.

Night sessions in Burch's trial for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy will begin Monday, according to an announcement by Superior Judge Reeve. The sessions will be held from 7 until 9 o'clock in the evening in an effort to get the case to the jury before the end of next week.

LOCAL BANK ASSETS HIT $6,000,000

Jump in Deposits Convincing Proof Anaheim Is Center of "White Spot"

With reports of declines in bank deposits between Dec. 31, 1920 and Dec. 31, 1921, coming from cities and institutions even of Los Angeles and Orange counties, the white spots of the county, Anaheim banks showed an increase of $576,383.29, official figures obtained today show. Total deposits as of Dec. 31, last, were $5,490,447.51 against $4,514,064.23 a year previous. The increase is about 12 per cent.

Even this comparison does not do justice to the actual condition of local banks, for the reason that Dec. 31 proved to be an unfortunate date because of the period of stormy weather, which cut down business considerably. Taking only two of the banks, $61,000 can be added to the gain mentioned, making the actual gain $637,000, or more as of today over Dec. 31 last. One of these banks shows a difference of approximately $21,000 in favor of Jan. 7 as compared with Dec. 31, and another of about $40,000 in favor. Total deposits as of Jan. 7 are probably around $5,600,000.

Total resources, therefore, are probably well over $6,000,000 instead of over $5,000,000.

The significant item, of course, is the deposit, however.

The gains noted have been made in the face of many adverse conditions other than those of weather, which resulted in some declines from previous high marks of the year.

BLIND PIG RAIDS PROVE PROFITABLE

Sheriff C. E. Jackson is making the capture of bootleggers a profitable business for Orange-co. Last year $6656 was paid in fines by persons arrested for liquor and gambling violations. This is more than twice the expense for detectives in murder, gambling and blind pig cases.

Report of prisoners received at county jail for the year, Jan. 1, 1921, to Jan. 1, 1922:

Number of prisoners received, 1342; number sent to state's prison, 31 (four men for life for murder, one woman for one to 10 years for murder); number sent to Ione, 12; number sent to Whittier, one.

As compared to the year January, 1920, to January, 1921:

Number of prisoners received, 558; number sent to state's prison, 19 (one woman); number sent to Ione, nine.

Amount of fines paid to the county of Orange by persons arrested for liquor violations and gambling January 1921, to January, 1922, $6656.

Detective hire expense in murder, gambling and blind pig cases, January, 1921 to January, 1922, $2158.15.

Total profit, $3497.85.

BIG POWERS OUTLAW GAS WARFARE

Diplomats Override Opinions of Experts Who Contend Enforcement Impossible

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Poison gas as a weapon of warfare was barred by the arms conference today.

The five great powers—the U. S., Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy — approved the resolution as drawn up by Elihu Root and backed by the American delegation placing a strict ban on the use of deadly gases.

In putting the ban on poison gas the five powers override the advice of the various experts, who contend that enforcement of the ban on gas is nearly impossible so long as the great manufacturing nations go ahead making dyes and other chemical products.

However, the advice of the experts has been disregarded many times in the course of the conference. A. J. Balfour, the veteran leader of the British delegation, said:

"Experts are all right in their place, but they should not be allowed to direct the policies of statesmen."

There was some opposition to the abolition of gas but it melted away just as did the opposition to banning of submarine attacks on commercial vessels.

Great Britain will accept a U. S. senate resolution amending the four power alliance excluding the home land, of Japan from the protective scope of the pact, it was learned today on high British authority.

LINEN SHOWER HONORS BRIDE AT WOMEN'S ASS'N

THE regular monthly meeting of the Women's Ass'n of Olinda, met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. W. J. Travers, and resulted in a pleasant surprise shower for one of the members, Mrs. Jesse Rohrer, who, until ten days ago was Miss Helen Scribner.

Miss Barnwell, national secretary of the Y. W. C. A., was the speaker, giving an excellent informal talk on the educational work among the immigrants, particularly the girls and women, who, upon their arrival in this country, find themselves handicapped by their lack of education and knowledge of customs. Miss Barnwell is a woman of broad experience and her talk gave clear insight into the necessity for such work.

A program of music, consisting of a song by five little girls, dressed in fanciful costumes, and a solo by a little boy, with greetings to the New Year, brought the hour for the linen shower. Little Miss Ruth Emery, dressed as a tiny bride, first presented Mrs. Rohrer with a beautiful bouquet, then with a basket of packages. Upon opening them the honoree found many articles for use in her new home, which she graciously responded to the congratulations and good wishes sent with the basket. She also was given a large wedding cake, adding to date of her arrival. Afterward ice cream and cake was served to the company, which was composed of about fifty guests. The Travers home was appropriately trimmed in green and white, in compliment to the New Year.

Miss Mary Easton, who has been serving as secretary and treasurer, was retained.

With Miss Janie Van der Veer and Miss Lois Garrison as hostess, the social hour was announced. Games and music filled the remainder of the evening with jollity and good time, refreshments being not the least of the pleasantries. The next meeting will be held in two weeks, the Misses Florence Austin and Madeline Lumsden acting as hostesses.

SURPRISE WHIST PARTY

A jolly party of friends not having much to do last evening, collected and journeyed over to the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Backs on Emily street. MASONS INSTALL AT OPEN MEETING LAST EVENING

THE local Masonic installation meeting here last night was largely attended, and is said to have been the biggest event of its kind held in Anaheim. Following the installation of officers there was a program of music and speaking.

The installing officer of the occasion was Past Master Stanley Chapman of Fullerton, also past grand standard bearer of the Grand Lodge of California. E. B. Trako, past master of the Santa Ana lodge, and district inspector, was master of ceremonies.

A delightful surprise was given Mrs. J. P. Brastad in the presentation of a handsome gavel, in compliment to her position of Worthy Matron of the local O. E. S. The gavel is of brown wood, with a gold band, on which is engraven, "Presented to Our Sister, Opal Brastad, Worthy Matron, Chipa Chapter No. 151, O. E. S." with the dates of her term. The emblematic star in colors also ornamented the gavel. The presentation was made by Retiring Worshipful Master Jackson, on behalf of Anaheim Masonic Lodge No. 207. Mrs. Brastad graciously replied.

Mr. Jackson was presented with a past master's jewel and Mrs. Jackson with a Japanese basket of chocolates, Miss Jesserun presenting, in appreciation of her co-operation, for which Mr. Jackson expressed thanks for his wife and himself. A short speech by the newly installed master and an address by Dr. Lindsey of Fullerton, were both interesting.

A program of music opened with a number by Chas. W. Hawley, organist at the California theatre, a reading by Mrs. Harry Sears, two solos by Mr. Corley, and the reading by Miss Fay Kern, all being most excellent. Mr. E. Zitzmann and Dr. J. P. Brastad, in a mandolin duet, were accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Seitz in two numbers. Mr. Dwyer rendered two vocal numbers, bringing to a close a very entertaining program.

Refreshments were served in the dining room, after which the floors were cleared and dancing enjoyed for an hour or more.

WOMAN TOO WEAK TO WALK

Now Works Nine Hours a Day.—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Strength

Union Village, Vt.—"I was weak and nervous and all run-down. I could not walk across the floor without resting and I had been that way for weeks. I saw your advertisement in the paper and after taking one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt the good it was doing me and I took seven more in all. Before I finished I was able to work nine hours a day in a steam laundry. I cannot say too much in favor of your medicine. I trust all sick and suffering women will take it. It has been two years since I took it and I am strong and well."—Mrs. L. A. GUIMANN, Union Village, Vermont.

This is only one of such letters we are continually publishing showing what Lydia E. Pinkham has done for women, and whether you write or not Mrs. Guimann's letter should interest you.

G. G. HIGH SCHOOL BOND VOTE TODAY

Voters in the Garden Grove, Bolsa and Alamitos districts, comprising the Garden Grove Union high school, decide the fate of the $125,000 proposed bond issue today when ballots are cast in three precincts. Polling places are located in the grammar school buildings of the respective districts.

At an election held Dec. 3, 1921, failure to open the pools at Bolsa nullified the result of the balloting, with the result that the districts were required to hold another election. Increased registration followed and it is expected that a record vote will be in evidence today.

In the event that the bonds carry—and it is freely predicted that they will—proceeds from the sale will be used in the construction of a modern high school building and to provide an adequate equipment for the institution.

Timely Tips to Milk Consumers

Milk is known to be one of the most important of foods and the fact that it is so universally used and holds so important a place in the diet of the modern world has made it necessary that all possible effort be made to keep it pure and wholesome.

Absolute cleanliness must be exercised in the handling of milk. The condition and feeding of the cows, the cleanliness of the producing plant and the method of handling and caring for the milk all effect the final quality. For that reason the consumer should know the source of the milk offered him.

The Public Is Invited to Inspect Our Method of Milking and handling of milk at any time, to satisfy themselves as to the high quality of the product we offer.

Our cows are carefully washed before each milking. They are machine milked, so that the milk is untouched by human hands. All pails, cans and utensils are washed and sterilized before using. The milk is immediately cooled and bottled and is held until delivered in a modern refrigerating plant.

It can be readily seen that milk as we offer it, produced ,bottled and delivered by ourselves, is without question superior to that brought from a distance to be bottled, from sources unknown to the consumer.

In addition, being near to town we are able to deliver today's milk to you today.

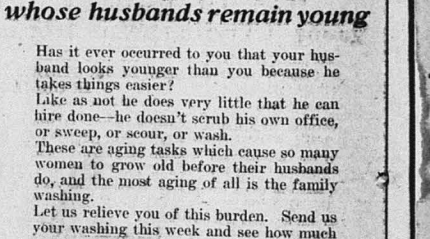

We deliver it to your door, from our own truck, once or twice a day.

SLIGHT CHANGES IN 1922 STUDEBAKERS

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The opening of the Automobile Show here today disclosed the fact that few if any radical changes can be expected in motor car engineering this year. The standard makes of cars which the public have approved by purchasing in large quantities are refined somewhat but show few mechanical changes. Only one of the larger manufacturers shows a decided progress in chassis construction and they have not made any radical departure from their previous engineering practice.

In the line of Studebaker Sixes many refinements of bodies, equipment and chassis are noted. The most discussed change is that of the clutch in the special and big-six models. The cone clutch so long used has been replaced with a single plate clutch of Studebaker design and one which has been tested in actual service for two years in the light-six cars. This change removes the last objection of the beginner who could not easily shift the gears until he had learned the proper procedure.

Studebaker engineers claim that they were unwilling to adopt any type in place of the cone clutch until they were able to develop one that would have the same efficiency and simplicity. This they state they have done with their plate clutch which gives the inherent ease of gear shifting even for the beginner and has the same accessibility and efficiency as the time proven cone clutch.

Changes in the Studebakers that are readily apparent are one-piece windshields for the two larger cars and cowl ventilators on open types as well as closed models.

New style lamps and new hub caps serve as marks of identification of the 1922 styles, for without a knowledge of these minor changes the new models would not be easily distinguished on the street for the 1922 cars do not differ radically in looks or construction from the well known "21" ses which became so popular last year that they outsold every other make of six cylinder car on the market.

THE SPEEDERS' FATE

By O. H. Peed, of Anaheim

Ten gay speeders all in line—
One hit a pole—then there were nine.
Nine fierce speeders at a rapid gait,
One turned over—then there were eight.
Eight swift speeders, with no mercy given,
One hit a train—then there were seven.
Seven silly speeders at their old tricks,
One hit a truck—then there were six.
Six wild speeders, all much alive,
One hit a tree—then there were five.
Five rapid speeders passed with a roar.
One hit a fence—then there were four.
Four fast speeders, happy and free,
One hit a car—then there were three.
Three rushing speeders, soon out of view,
One blew a tire—then there were two
Two jolly speeders, racing for fun,
One hit a wagon—then there was one.
One lonely speeder, out for a run,
He met a cop—then there were none.

PUDDIN' HEAD

Comment by us would be superfluous on the following little editorial, entitled "Puddin' Head" from Entertainment News issued by the publicity department of the Cosmopolitan Magazine—

For 20 years two chess players met daily at Brown's Chop House, took their places silently, silently played their game, and silently departed. For 20 years a third party sat by and silently look on.

Then one of the two players failed to show up—for the first time in 20 years. After waiting a few minutes, his partner said to the onlooker, "I guess he isn't coming today. Will you play his men?"

"Sorry," was the answer, "but I don't know the game."

He had followed every move for 20 years but he didn't know the game. He had watched the drama of king and castle for two decades without sensing a single undercurrent of strategy, speculating on a single motive or anticipating a single coup.

He had displayed infinite patience in looking at the game but he couldn't be bothered looking into it. He showed every symptom of life except its first symptom—curiosity.

He belonged to that listless army of passive observers who clutter up the side lines of business—men who look without seeing, listen without hearing, do without understanding.

Placed in an office—at a bench—he would remain 20 years ignorant of his neighbor's job his superior's problems, his own significance. When the opportunity for advancement came, he would have to say, "Sorry, but I don't know the game."

MONTANA TO MEET WINNER OF MATCH

Bull Montana will meet the winner of next Tuesday night's fracas between Al Sparkes and Roy Maybe. This has been assured both men and should be as an added incentive for both contestants to furnish the fans with a whirlwind bout to decide the winner.

Mabee is banking strong on his past record as an A1 wrestler to put over a win for him. He knows he has a tough youngster to tackle in Sparkes and he is leaving no stone thru with three more days to taper off his training he should be in the "pink" by Tuesday.

Sparkes, also, is fine fettle much better than when he met and lost to the Booi a couple of months ago. He says he will have no excuse to offer if he loses to Mabee on account of poor condition. Both men have signified their intention of going after one another right from the opening gong, and if they do, "Oh, Boy" how that old fur will fly.

RAINY DAY BOTHER CHE...

Even though rainy days and the less balmy weather of winter prevails, Chevrolet owners are not denying themselves the pleasures of out of doors, and many delightful cross-county trips are being enjoyed in this sturdy consistent, performing little car. Although steep, slippery grades, deep, heavy mud and rut-worn roads be encountered, the Chevrolet proves itself master of all road conditions and is just as sure of reaching its destination as the Overland limited.

Frank P. Taggart, local Chevrolet dealer is calling attention to the trip of L. O. Gorber, real estate dealer of Portland, Oregon, who is passing the holidays at the home of his brother in-law, G. T. Judd, of Garden Grove. He made the trip in his Chevrolet and saved enough in transportation costs to give him a little extra spending money. He says that he made the distance of 1150 miles in three and a half days, at a total expense of $12.25, or a trifle more than one cent a mile.

Gorber drove a "Four-Ninety," of which he has a number in daily use in his business in the northern city.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7.— Many undertakers in Los Angeles are liable to prosecution on charges of felony, growing out of the practice of collecting money from the county treasury, the family concerned or both for the burial of indigent ex-soldiers or soldiers represented to be such. Families were told, it is said, that the county would provide aid, and received from the undertakers $75. The undertakers then presented a considerably larger bill and pocketed the difference. The deceased was classed as an indigent on the Los Angeles county records and buried as such. Sometimes $50 to $200 was collected from the family and $75 from the county tho[illegible]

Twenty-five out of thirty claims for county aid for soldier burials have been disallowed by the board of supervisors since last September, when the frauds were discovered.

LYNCHING UNDER BAN OF PROPOSED LAW

Congress is taking cognizance of the lynching evil. There is pending in the House and now receiving consideration the so-called Dyer bill which provides heavy fines and imprisonment for persons participating in lynchings, and for officials who fail, through negligence, to prevent mob violence. The measure also would require counties in which lynchings occur to forfeit $10,000 to the family of the person lynched.

This measure may not be all that is desirable. But it is very much in order for Congress and for state legislatures to enact statutes to prevent mob violence of this nature. Such retraining legislation should not be construed as being in defense of heinous crimes or as extenuation, in any measure, of the horribleness of the offenses which usually incite to lynchings.

At the same time that severe penalties against lynchings are instituted, there should be reform of procedure in criminal courts, so that those guilty of outrageous crimes may be tried promptly; so that conviction may be had without justice-delaying red tape or adherence to archaic technicalities; and so that the law may do, in proper form, what the lynchers would in unlawful way. In other words, the criminal that deserves death under the law, quickly should be brought to death under the law. Then there would be no semblance of excuse for mob violence.

CARPENTERS READY TO DO THEIR PART

With but $14 more needed today before Anaheim Carpenters union will be told to go ahead with construction of a home for Widow Olaga and her five fatherless children, of Santa Ana-st., subscriptions today totalled $111. When $125 has been subscribed, the Gibbs Lumber Co., which has offered to sell the building material at cost, will be instructed to place it on the ground and work will start.

The following letter has been received from the carpenters:

"At the regular meeting of the Anaheim Carpenters Local Union 2203, the offer of J. R. Anderson that above local would furnish labor to build the house for the Olaga widow was unanimously ratified, and suggestion made that the land owner give the union a receipt for one year's rent, or that the house be built at the water works next the house built by the Elks. Yours respectfully, Joseph H. Anderson, 322 So. Lemon-st."

The suggestion that the house be erected near the house built by the Elks will probably be adopted.

FARM BUREAU HEAD URGES COOPERATION

The regular meeting of the Anaheim Farm Bureau was held last night at the high school auditorium. There were several selections by the high school orchestra, and two songs by members of the orchestra. The songs were "Old Black Joe" and "Glory, Glory for the Farmer."

The chief feature of the meeting was an address by Dr. W. H. Walker of the Calif. State Farm Bureau, and also a member of the National Farm Bureau, on "Farmers' Voice in National Affairs." He urged organization and cooperation. He also urged that all lines of the agricultural industry throughout the U. S. get together in one great big organization, and put their demands thru. He warned against self-satisfaction. When you are satisfied, there is nothing more to do, he declared.

He declared that agriculture is the great basic fundamental industry of the world, and that all other industries are dependent upon it. The farmers could buy all the railroads and all the manufacturing plants in the U. S. if they could only "cash in" on their property all at once, he said. The farm products in 1919 ran $500,000,000 in advance of their nearest competitor in value. However, the farm cannot continue to prosper under the present conditions, and the present exhorbitant rate of interest. Farmers cannot afford to pay 10 per cent interest.

He declared that the present system was certain to bring ruin and disaster. The farmer is like the mule—he can carry only so much and no more. Production must go down unless more labor is procured, and there is danger that in 50 years from now the nation will find it difficult to raise enough foodstuffs to feed the nation. It is a serious situation with which we are confronted. He said there are four great problems which confront the agriculturist—transportation, tariff and marketing. These can possibly be adjusted, or at least greatly helped by organization, he affirmed. The farmers should wake up and do something, he said. Nothing can be done individually, but much can be accomplished collectively. He stated that there has been much remedial legislation during the last term of congress in so far as effects the farmers, than in all the previous half century. He urged a national farm bureau to include all classes. He spoke against the tenancy of farms, which he said is growing at an alarming rate. He said that always in history this had resulted in the disruption of the nation.

The election of officers will be held at the next meeting of the Farm Bureau in February.

ENLARGE PLACENTIA ORANGE PKG. HOUSE

The Placentia Orange Growers' Ass'n. packing house is being remodeled and enlarged while the orchards are too wet to pick the fruit and pack it. The grading system is being enlarged and the manager's office has been moved and enlarged also. New cement steps are being placed at the north east side.

The ground is being broken preparatory to building a 25x60 foot addition to the west side of the house for the storing of shook to be used for boxes. The cost is estimated to be about $4000 or $5000.

Packing navels will start about the first of the week and Manager McKay expects the house will ship about 110 or 115 cars. The wind has done considerable damage and probably lessened the crop by 10 or 15 cars.

New York Letter

I rise to endorse tax drivers forever! Let no one say they are not honest men, all of them. While indulging in a taxi ride at great expense and with no small indenture on my conscience the other day, I lost the most valuable manuscript I have ever held in my hands; valuable because it was the only one in existence and because it dealt with a most interesting phase of literature, to say nothing of some extraordinary pictures which had been made at great expense of time and trouble. Trying to affect the nonchalance which goes with taxi riding, I slammed the door on leaving it and drifted in to my destination. But I was in only a second when I realized that the manuscript was in the taxi. I ran out and looked for the cab but it was gone and by reason of other engagements, spent hours before I could even trace it out. It was not a taxi of the standardized type, had no color scheme to distinguish it or suggest the company who owned it. My only recollection was that it was an old broken-down Renault model of several years ago, and that the ridge had been most precarious so that I entertained doubts whether it would ever get back to the place from where it started. Several hours later I took a street car to the village and searched about its funny streets—then imagine my joy when I suddenly saw my taxi wheeling away in front of the Greenwich Village theatre! But it was a different driver and he looked blank when questioned about a book. As I started away, once more downhearted, he shouted after me, "Say lady, the other driver left some old papers in here which I ain't been able to make nothing of, but I guess they don't belong to you." I hastened back. Down on the floor, covered with mud and grime, was my precious book. Small reward I offered the driver did not begin to bespeak my everlasting gratitude for its recovery.

No visitor with a more interesting story has engaged New York's attention than Miss Marian Peabody of Wellesley Hills, Mass., who has just returned from Turkey where since July 1919 she has been engaged in relief work among Armenian girls. Miss Peabody, while on the Young Women's Christian Ass'n's staff there was lent to the Near East Relief to conduct a home for Armenian girls who had escaped from their Turkish captors, with whom they were forced to live. Miss Peabody tells of housing 140 girls all of whom were given educational and industrial advantages. The acuteness of the political situation makes it impossible to investigate and determine just how many Armenian girls yet remain with their Turkish husbands. But those who come under the jurisdiction of the committee are given every protection from them, and this is no easy task because the husbands frequently call to demand their wives. She reports many tragic cases where whole families have been massacred and the girls, upon escape, have no place of refuge but that provided by the relief associations. When a girl flees from her new husband she seldom brings her children with her, saying they are Turks. But to her Armenian children, born before the war, she is intensely loyal. Most of these girls are from 15 to 25 years old. They are turned over to their own families as soon as possible, the work of tracing the families and restoring them being one of the chief efforts of the Y. W. C. A. Many times they marry Armenians and become self-supporting in the revival of the lace-making industry and in weaving and rug making. The process of restoring them to a normal frame of mind and sound health is very difficult because not only were they brutally robbed of their own girlhood but not a few of them saw their entire families massacred before their eyes by the Turks.

I have occasion to hear the wails of many people as I get about the town. My latest pessimist is the station master of the Grand Central station. He tells me that in the wee small hours of the morning when the porter begins cleaning the station there is not a spot on the floor a foot square that is not covered with gum debris. The station master denies that the gum chewing is done by New York people exclusively but attributes it to the nervousness of people in their comings and goings. These disorderly quids adhere to the tile floor with a pertinacity which requires quantities of kerosene to loosen it and to get it dumped out where it properly belongs. I don't know where this is, but it must be a sorry mess, anyway.

There is no more important theatrical person in New York than Mark A. Luescher, manager of the Hippodrome. He is not only the Keeper of Animals, the generalissimo of the greatest theatre in the world, the arbiter of more chorus girls' disputes than any other manager, but in addition to all these distinctions, has a dog. Now, most manager go in for dogs, but this dog—a sprightly airedale is the full brother of "Laddie Boy" who roups about the White House grounds in Presidential circles. We think, up here, that the distinction in with Laddie Boy to have so famed theatrical connections, but Mr. Luescher is a generous soul and like to brag about the official connection of which his dog boasts.

When one has led the suffrage cause to victory in the most populous state in the union and then gone abroad on a particularly delicate mission during the war, the lighter, more decorative ways of transforming oneself from a social butterly to a business woman do not appeal. Therefor, when Mrs. Norman de R. Whitehouse, prominent society woman of this city, decided to go into business, she did not chose perfumes or beauty parlors or motion pictures or the stage or interior decorating as all her social colleagues have done when they determined to become "economically independent." She went into the leather business! The other day, Mrs. Whitehouse stepped out and purchased the controlling interest in a big leather manufacturing business and is spending her days there hard at work. As one of her friends exclaimed, "Fancy! Vera choosing such a f-u-n-n-y business! Why her office isn't even in a good part of town."

ANAHEIM FULLERTON

MAY SAIL BETWEEN BALBOA AND PEDRO

A former gunboat of the United States navy, stripped of its war-like equipment and made over into a passenger vessel, may be plying between Newport harbor and San Diego soon after the completion of development work at the local port.

This became known at a meeting of the Orange county harbor commission at Newport Beach today when it was revealed that S. A. Leffingwell, of Portland, Ore., and formerly of Talbert, southwest of Santa Ana, is desirous of operating a passenger steamer between the two ports, whenever the harbor work is completed.

It was disclosed that Leffingwell has been conducting negotiations for the purchase of one of two vessels, one of which would cost $40,000 and the other $50,000. One of these is the old gunboat Yorktown, from which the armorplate turrets and like equipment have been removed.

Leffingwell, it was stated, is so favorably impressed by the prospects of future development of Newport harbor that he has rented a house at Balboa, pending the completion of the harbor improvements. If he installs the passenger service in question he will ask only the co-operation of the public, it was said.

The remodeled Yorktown would have a capacity of 600 passengers and the other ship under consideration would have a capacity of 400. The Newport harbor-San Diego trip by sea might prove extremely popular among tourists visiting the Southland, it was pointed out.

Village Gossip

A type of bridge, recommended as flood proof and of low construction cost, has been brought to the attention of the Orange county board of supervisors by Landrum Smith, of Whittier.

The Whittier man, who claims to be a taxpayer in Orange county, had chosen Southern California's recent flood period as an occasion for presenting his argument regarding bridge construction. His letter to the members of the board of supervisors was expected to be read today, at their regular meeting.

Smith calls attention to a type of bridge in use at San Antonio, Texas, saying that he had an opportunity to observe it in that city following an unusually severe flood. He was impressed by the features of economy and service embodied in the type.

Of cement construction and laid in the sand of the river, its surface flush with the riversand, the particular type of bridge in question would be available for service within forty-eight hours after any storm of any sort experienced in Southern California, Smith states.

Twelve-inch posts constructed along both the upper and lower sides of the sturcture, would mark the water line of the bridge for motorists as soon as the flood waters had receded sufficiently to make travel safe, he pointed out.

Such a type of bridge is not only permanent, with respect to flood danger, but would be available at a low cost, comparatively, Smith believes.

BACHELOR BUTTON INDUSTRY TOTTERS

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—In the hope of obtaining employment for the many women and girls, a mending bureau for the benefit of bachelors as well as business women and harassed housewives has been opened by the Y. W. C. A. in Columbia, South Carolina.

"Bachelors in search of a feminine needle for stray buttons, linings unstated by a tear or generally in need of assistance are welcome," says Miss Marion Boal. "It is hoped that our mending rates will appeal equally to busines women, restaurants and other business houses as well as housekeepers. All the work will be given out to skilled needlewomen now out of regular employment."

The bureau opened this month with active community assistance and supervision. Daily teams will alternate in dividing the office work and calls on possible patrons. A similar mending bureau is maintained for business women in New York.

AMERICAN TREES TO GROW IN EUROPE

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Many of the finest forests in Europe were destroyed in the great war. Not only on actual battlefields, either. The baronial estates of England and other belligerent nations were stripped of timber for use in building and in mines, in order to save shipping and reduce the adverse balance of imports over exports.

In France and Belgium entire forests were swept away by artillery.

These have been largely replanted with American tree seeds and saplings. Fifty years hence there will be American forests on many of these European battlefields.

In Great Britain the same processes of planting are in progress, and again it is America that supplies the germs of future forests.

The American Forest Association has mailed 25,000,000 seeds of American trees in England alone, all from the Pacific Coast. They include the Douglas fir, the Sitka spruce and the western hemlock. British landowners are calling for more, and declare that these trees seem specially suited to conditions over there.

THE RURAL MAIL BOX

What is the condition of the approach to your mail box? Is it in good shape for the winter? Section 827 of the postal laws and regulations says "that each mail box shall be erected in such a position that it is easily and safely accessible for the delivery and collection of mail by the carrier without leaving his conveyance and that patrons shall keep clear the approaches to their boxes by promptly removing obstructions which may render difficult or impossible the delivery of mail by the carrier."

From the reading of this section it is plain that the Department does not intend that there should be a rut or a mudhole in front of the box. Patrons sometimes wonder why the rural carrier doesn't seem to have the smooth even temper that it is expected he should have. A glance at the approach to the mail box will in many cases solve the mystery. If there is a rut or a mudhole, he can't be happy as he sees the life ground out of a nice new set of tires, or the last bit of energy taken from his already tired horse.

Stamps kept on hand are a great convenience and time saver too. You can't lose on them. They are safer than government bonds, because they never sell below par.

Think this over, Mr. Patron. Apply the Golden Rule and watch the service improve. If it doesn't improve you can at least have the supreme satisfaction of knowing that you have done your part.—A. Dale Gusman, an R. F. D. carrier.

WALL STREET OPENS OFFICE FOR WOMEN

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Women jurists may come. The women are taking up pipes. The girls may take over the ringside seats. They say knickerbockers have come to stay where skirts once had a monopoly. But to Wall-st a woman is still a widow, an orphan and a dependent wife. There is one place left where the women haven't made a dent. Woman still has a mid-Victorian time of it getting a stock broker to look for her on a margin, says Helen Bullitt Lowry in the New York Times.

The houses that do business for women are forced to carry on that business surreptitiously. Like bootlegging. Everybody knows that it goes on—but nobody in financial society will admit it on himself. No strange feminine person can walk in and buy "it" over the counter. They tell her gravely and reproachfully that they only handle investment funds for women, and are strictly recommending some nice safe ties. Or wouldn't she like to put some mortgages today? Or for 1 went the rounds.

NOTABLE SURGEON OPERATES ON BACON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—How Dr. Adolf Lorenz, one of the foremost surgeons in the world, found a "higher surgery" in becoming a "butcher" for the American Red Cross in Vienna came to light in a letter received by National Red Cross headquarters here from the famous surgeon. Dr. Lorenz did not gain the soubriquet of "butcher" by carving human being, but by turning his surgical skill upon bacon supplies sent to Vienna by the American Red Cross to relieve the hunger-stricken children of that city.

According to Dr. Lorenz' own version of his unique experience as a "butcher", no delicate operation in his past brilliant career afforded him half the satisfaction he derived when he began to cut from the sides of American bacon rich, juicy slices of nutritious meat for famished children.

The eminent surgeon's letter, written during the turbulent days that gripped Vienna following the war, vividly portrayed the pitiable plight of the starving children and the events leading up to his turning "butcher."

"Horrifying as is the daily toll of victims in turberculosis cases," wrote Dr. Lorenz, "the fate of unfortunate youths of both sexes is even more so. These drag themselves along, crying out for help that nobody can give them, and this just because they are starving.

At the California

Harrison Ford who supports Norma Talmadge in "The Wonderful Thing"

Once more Norma Talmadge has turned to a famous stage success for a motion picture production, for her latest picture, distributed through Associated First National Pictures, Inc., which is the attraction at the California Theatre tomorrow, is the "Wonderful Thing," which was a most successful starring vehicle for Miss Jane Eagles on the stage. Miss Talmadge portrays the role of Jacqueline Boggs, the part played in the stage version by Miss Eagles.

The action in the story runs from the ancestral home of the aristocratic English family to a hog ranch in Iowa, and Miss Talmadge and her company had to travel many miles before covering all the locations selected for the filming of the various parts of the story. Miss Talmadge is supported by a very talented cast, including Harrison Ford, Howard Truesdale and Robert Agnew. Others in the cast are Mrs. Lydig Hoyt, the New York society beauty, who has sought work in pictures as a relief from the ennui of the routine of society. The production as a whole is a considerably lighter vein than anything which Norma Talmadge has done recently, but it has an underlying strain of love-drama which gives Miss Talmadge opportunity for some bits of the superb emotional acting that has made her so popular as a screen star.

The California Theatre is presenting other features in connection with the offering of this feature picture, and the entire bill is replete with color and genuine entertainment. Charles W. Hawley is still at the Wurlitzer, delighting patrons with his keen selection of musical augmentation to the showing of the feature pictures.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

It may be, as its critics say, that prohibition has dimmed the brilliance o four Great White Way. It is entirely possible that the more or less mystic realm is less intense than it was in "the old days." But it is certainly taking on size—length—with a rapidity which needs no alcoholic stmulent. We won't be able to signify it much longer by the words, "Times Square". Away up to Ninety-sixth-st. it now makes its way, activity undiminished even its gayety is somewhat modified. Perhaps the quick transit is responsible. Perhaps we really needed more room for our evenings' frivolities. At any rate, theaters are being built up in that Seventy-second-to-Ninety-sixth district, restaurants are blooming, and limousines are as crowded as in the renowned and storied "Forty-second and Broadway" region.

Eight million outgoing letter and half a million parcel post packages were handled in the New York post office one day before Christmas, establishing a brand new record for the city. Twenty-five hundred temporary clerks were added to the regular force for the rush season, and 414 motor trucks, sixteen auxiliary stations were opened.

It is surprising to hear that women of New York, and they may well be said to be representative of the entire country, do not "blow their own horns" enough. Miss Louise McManigal, head of the Employment Bureau of the National Board of the Young Women's Christian Ass'n, which places more than 70,000 girls and young women yearly, complains that this diffidence on the part of women is a handicap. "Women underestimate the difference between bluff and selfconfidence, between boasting and self-reliance. Nothing is more dangerous than a false impression. Yet women, by bending almost backward in their conscientious efforts not to make an overstatement often belittle themselves and handicap their own chances. A financial expert says that women are too timid about selling their services and that a woman presents whatever she is trying to sell in a small way. This is the direct result of a woman's sheltered life and lack of experience in financial matters." To bear out this fact it is cited that women are selected ahead of men for employment bureau heads. They realize the reluctance of their sex to "sell themselves" and will go further in digging out their real qualifications than will a man. The men are also inclined to judge too quickly from appearances. The Y. W. C. A. has been one of the few national organizations with a well-defined employment department for women and has functioned consistently throughout the ups and downs in our employment situation. Nearly 50 bureaus in almost as many cities are maintained. That it knows how to meet the situation is demonstrated in the distribution of a poster hung in the railroad stations thruout the country, urging girls to stay at home as long as the unemployment situation remains at its high point.

Norman Trevor, who made such a capital prima donna's husband in "Enter,, Madame" last season, has produced another married problem play which has just opened at the Princess Theatre, "The Married Woman." Mr. Trevor himself plays the roll of Hugh Bellamy, who proves the "right" man, after "the married woman" has attempted matrimony with the wrong one. He is splendid, as always, and so is Margaret Dale, in the title role.

The world of the theatre may pretend not to take too seriously the world of Society and its glitter, but I noted the line on the programe of "The Squaw Man": "Diana, Countess of Kerhill—Julia Hoyt (Mrs. Lydig Hoyt)." The parenthesis was what attracted my attention. Evidently the world of the theater thought it will to add that Social Register touch whether it had anything to do with the playing of the part or not.

Gotham is also interested in the announcement that Ethel Kelly Gould (Mrs. Frank Gould) will be one of the performers in an elaborate revue the Shuberts are bringing over from London, called "Pins and Needles." As the Frank Gould divorce case is not yet entirely settled, to Mrs. Gould's satisfaction, she is expected to be considerably occupied between legal and professional occupations while she is here.

WATER COMMITTEE TO MEET TUESDAY

With the announcement by J. Frederick Ahlborn, of Anaheim, chairman of the water conservation committee of the A. C. of C., that he had called a meeting of this committee for 2 p. m. next Tuesday at the offices of the Anaheim Union Water Co., keen interest was revived in the several plans now under consideration for the adequate storing and proper utilization of Orange-co's flood waters. With the lessons of the recent storms still fresh in their minds, Orange-co citizens were determined to make the most of this opportunity and give every feasible suggestion the frankest consideration.

Chief among the numerous propositions now before Chairman Ahlborn's committee were the "pit" plans of the sub-committee headed by F. D. Collins of Orange, and the proposal of C. E. Utt of Tustin that the county build a dam at Rincon for the storage and proper distribution of storm waters. At Tuesday's meeting it is expected that reports will be read by Collins, outlining the investigations his committee has made since the last meeting of the committee several weeks ago.

The full committee is composed of J. Frederick Ahlborn, chairman; J. J. Dwyer, Bert Kuebler, W. C. Mauerhan, Anaheim; T. H. Covell, Dr. J. R. Scofield, Buena Park; H. H. Dale, G. W. Sherwood, L. S. Stewart, Fullerton; A. N. Saxon, F. D. Collins, D. C. Drake, George Dierker, Orange; H. W. Lewis, H. C. Head, Santa Ana; C. E. Utt, Tustin. John Dunston, C. J. Klatt, and others.

Briefly stated, the plan suggested by C. E. Utt would follow the same general lines as in the construction of the Devil's Gate dam near Pasadena. Utt would build a dam at Rincon, near Prado, where the Santa Fe tracks cross the Santa Ana river. This dam, he suggests, should be at least 100 feet in height and would be built to store between one and two hundred thousand acre feet of water.

"This would at once solve our flood problem and add many millions to our possible annual wealth production," said Utt.
