CONFER OVER NEW PARK PLANS

Hamler Prepares Details of Written Proposal to Be Submitted to Council

George W. Hamler, real estate man and former councilman, after a conference today with City Manager O. E. Steward over plans for subdivision of the west ten acres of the city park site for a guarantee of $150,000, the price paid for the entire 20 acres, announced that he would proceed immediately to complete the details of the written proposal he will submit to council.

Hamler says he has received enthusiastic support for the project from numerous sources.

"They're all for it, so I can't see why we shouldn't go ahead with it," says Hamler. "The people want park improvements; there doesn't seem to be any way to get them unless something like this is done.

"I wouldn't expect to make a lot of money out of the proposition, but there would be considerable satisfaction in doing something worth while for the city.

"I would price the lots as low as possible. For instance, the very desirable east front lots facing the park on Clementine-st would range from $1850 to $2500. There wouldn't be any lots over $2500 in the entire 60. The lots would have 50 feet frontage and be 105 feet deep with 18-foot alleys and Clementine and Helena-sts. 66 feet deep with provision for an additional ten feet on Palm-st.

"Imagine a corner lot within two blocks of the postoffice, and in a beautiful new subdivision facing a park, for $2500."

5 COUNTIES TELL NEED FOR WATER

South Has Progressed as Far as Possible Without More Conservation Methods

Representatives of five Southern California counties at a meeting in Pasadena yesterday, expressed the opinion that the south part of the State has progressed about as far agriculturally and horticulturally as can be expected until it carries out an intensive campaign of reforestation, flood control and water conservation.

The meeting wa sheld in the Pasadena C. of C. auditorium under the auspices of the Water Research Board which the Legislature ordered to make a complete study of all phases of water development and conservation in this state. The board reported that it has nearly finished its survey in the north half of the State and has accomplished about 55 per cent of its work in the south.

State officials in attendance were: State Engineer McClure, State Superintendent of Banks Dodge, Atty.-Gen. Webb, and members of the board. Prof. B. A. Etcheverry of the University of California represented that institution, and there were city, chamber of commerce, and water company officials from more than twenty communities in Los Angeles, Orange, San Bernardino, Riverside and Imperial counties.

City Manager O. E. Steward and Water Supt. H. V. Hannum represented Anaheim, J. J. Dwyer and G. W. Sherwood, the Orange-co delegates to the Tri-Counties Reforestation committee and C. E. Utt and H W. Lewis the A. C. of C. water conservation committee.

City Manager Steward, C. E. Utt and H. W. Lewis joined in the discussion. Steward discussed the lowering water table in Orange-co and asserted everything possible to conserve water, outside of storm water, was being done here. Cement pipes are being used instead of open cement or dirt ditches and distribution of water in the most economical manner has been worked out here to a scientific point, declared Steward. Fully 75 per cent of irrigation water here now comes from pumps. The big water companies now pump more water than they get from the river at the height of the irrigation season.

Prof. Etcheverry opened the discussion by declaring that the whole State wastes water, and Volney Craig of the San Fernando Valley closed it by pleading with the board to formulate a plan by which it can prevent the Board of Public Service Commissioners of Los Angeles from bringing all the water of the Owens river to Los Angeles and dumping a good share of it into the ocean.

While there was wide difference of opinion among the speakers, the opinion was shared that in some manner the south end of the State must develop more water and save the runoff from stores. One group of expressed the opinion that impounding reservoirs should be built to hold back flood waters and let them soak into the earth. Another group declared that dams are too expensive and reservoir sites too scarce, but that many water-spreading operations should be resorted to in order to sink storm water into the ground for deep well use. Reforestation was recommended as a side feature of this plan.

Still another group, led by citizens from Redondo Beach and South Pasadena, deplored the wastage of water sewage, and asked for action to compel cities, such as Pasadena and Los

BARGAINS ATTRACT CROWDS OF SHOPPERS

Make these monthly sales days a permanent feature of trade here. Shopping has been livelier than during the first days just before Christmas. Hundreds of people have come to town. Buyers came early, and the afternoon business should be even better than the morning's. These are some of the opinions of Anaheim merchants on today's sale day.

Joseph Kustiner, men's furnishings, was one of those who thought business was better than during the three sales days of December. Scores of people have come to the city from out of town, and trade seems to be increasing as the day progresses, said Kustiner.

Manager Kurt Epstein of William Falkenstein's dry goods store, which conducted a special sale of aluminum ware in addition to bargains in general, said he never saw anything like the rush at the store. Long before the place opened the sidewalks were packed with women, seeking to take advantage of the exceptionally low prices asked. The store will continue its clothing bargains tomorrow.

O. H. Renner, manager of the S. Q. R. Store, said the crowd of bargain-seekers came early and continued steadily thruout the morning and early afternoon. Trade was just like that of Christmas. From the hour of opening, 8:30 a. m., the store has been full. Unusual bargains in silks, woolens, ready-to-wear goods, shoes, ets., are being offered.

W. J. Sebastian of Sebastian Bros., dry goods, said business had been very fine. Sebastian was thoroly in favor of making the monthly sales days a permanent feature here.

Edward H. Ahlswede's store, which deals in hardware, notions, crockery, etc., had a fine trade all morning and during the early afternoon. There were many buyers from out of the city on hand to obtain the quality merchandise offered.

Sidney Prince for the Prince Store, dress goods, women's wear, etc., said trade couldn't have been better. Business exceeded the firm's expectations, surpassing that of the December sales. Phenomenal price cuts have been made by the store for the two days.

The Kafateria Shoe Store received unusually excellent patronage from its regular and occasional customers during the day. Business was very good indeed, Manager DuBois said.

EXPERT HAS REASON FOR FAILURES

Use of Adding Material Natural Since Early People Counted With Fingers

Seventy-five per cent of all business in the United States fail, only five per cent make a profit and 20 per cent just keep going. W. W. Cooley, business expert, told the members of the Kiwanis Club at today's luncheon. Failures are due 65 per cent to ignorance and the other 35 per cent to carelessness in office methods.

In the morning Cooley gave the high school students an interesting talk on primitive methods of adding.

Cooley is district advertising manager for the western states of a well known adding machine company. His set topic was "Profits Gross and Net." With the use of several charts prepared from data obtained by the research bureau of Harvard University, Cooley showed the items which entered into the profit or loss of the retail and wholesale grocery business and the hardware business. One chart was entitled "Effect of Turnover Retail Grocers 1918," showing how the number of turnovers during a year was the chief factor in profits. In the case of the retail hardware merchant, for instance, expenses were grouped under low, high and common for each of the principal cost items such as selling expense, fixed charges, miscellaneous charges, bad debts, etc.

Many small dealers, said Cooley, make the mistake of not allowing for help furnished by members of the family itself.

The matter of changing the meeting place to the Elks' clubhouse again was postponed, on request of Homer Ames, one of the committee, after several members had spoken pro and con. Ames wanted more time in which to find out whether a private dining room could be given the club. Secretary G. R. Messias said a place would be necessary to keep the club's belongings during the interims between meetings.

F. T. Edmiston was awarded the attendande prize.

J. A. Clayes reported for the committee in charge of the observance of the seventh anniversary on the 26th. Leslie B. Henry has been asked to make the principal speech, but is still uncertain whether he can forego an engagement in New York on the same date. Fullerton and Santa Ana will unite with the local club probably in a ladies' night. Harry Fellinge's orchestra will probably play. Thirty-seven members will bring their ladies, including several who will have two or three guests. Fred Backs said the city council meeting took place on the 26th. Places for members who belong to the council will be reserved, if necessary.

In his speech before the students, Cooley said adding with the fingers had been common in many parts of the globe. It was natural, therefore, he said, for men to turn to a machine which was operated by hand.

Telling of the methods in Africa of each man's fingers representing units, tens of hundreds, and in the South Sea Islands, of the use of shells, and in China, of the use of pebbles in addition to fingers, and the knotted cord by Peruvians, he brought the thought up to the present time, the era of the adding machine.

Speaking of the Burroughs machine, he told of its invention by Seward Burroughs, who was born in New York in 1853. Being a bookkeeper in a bank, Burroughs realized the need for "the machine that thinks'.' and at 25 years of age was engaged upon it sinvention. His first model was displayed in St. Louis, and was the basis for his patent in 1888.

Further invention and improvements were worked out, and today the adding machine is one of the first requirements of any well equipped office.

Cooley will speak before the Fullerton high school this afternoon. He spoke at Orange union high school and Santa Ana Polytechnic yesterday. He goes to Riverside from this county.

LOCAL GIRLS DON'T STARVE THEMSELVES

Girls in the Union high school here are not trying to attain sylph-like figures by fasting or half starving themselves, said Principal J. A. Clayes this morning, when told of the statements to that effect of A. C. Olney, state commissioner of secondary schools. Olney said some girls in California's high schools even omit breakfast entirely, or eat only an apple or orange in order to gain or retain a good figure.

The women, rather than the girls, here seem tempted in that direction, said Clayes. The principal hasn't heard of a case in the local school.

Fortune In Liquor Stolen by Bandits

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—A fortune in liquor was stolen early today by daring whisky thieves at the drug store of D. M. Gringras, 880 Edgware-rd, according to Detectives Adams and Parsons of the police flying squadron.

The front door of the store was forced open and 3977 'smiles' were taken away. The loot consisted of five cases of ancient "caw-caw" whisky.

Fingerprints left by the thieves were examined by the police and the detectives who investigated reported that they found an illsmellingcork on the floor of the store and they believe that a bottle of "laughter" was opened by the thieves before they departed.

The bottle, partly filled, was left on a piece of paper ,upon which was written, "A drink for the dicks."

MAN ASKS AID TO KEEP FROM JAIL

C. P. Le Brun, proprietor of the Central garage at La Habra, has asked supervisors to help keep him out of jail.

In a letter to the board, Le Brun suggests that orders be given to E. E. Proud at La Habra to pile up certain scattered lumber and post a sign over it, so that Le Brun and others "might be kept out of jail."

Le Brun, it appears, noticed some lumber scattered around his place of business. Thinking it belonged to his neighbor, A. V. Douglas, editor of the La Habra Star., Le Brun stated that he was about to use some of it when Proud intervened. According to Le Brun, Proud informed him "in an insulting manner" that the lumber belonged to the county.

Le Brun informed the supervisors that he suggested to Proud that the latter "get busy and pile the lumber and place a sign on it." Proud answered, Le Brun said, that he had not received orders to that effect. Le Brun is desirous that such orders be issued to Proud.

BURCH AGAIN BEFORE JURY ON MARCH 27TH

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—Madalynne Obenchain, co-defendant of Arthur C. Burch, charged with the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, in whose case the jury disagreed yesterday, will be placed on trial before Burch is retried on the charge, Superior Judge Reeve and the attorneys in the case agreed today.

When Burch was taken before Judge Reeve this morning for the fixing of the date of his second trial, Paul W. Schenck ,chief of counsel for the defense, was prepared to present affidavits from physicians stating he was physically unable to defend Burch in another trial without at least three or four month's rest.

Upon stipulation of the attorneys in the case, Judge Reeve today set Monday, March 27, as the date for the retrial.

During the Burch trial Schenck lost 30 pounds in weight and he was ready to make a strenuous objection to a retrial of the case before Mrs. Obenchain's trial.

District Attorney Woolwine, however, announced that he would not demand that Burch be tried before Mrs. Obenchain, whose trial has been set for Feb. 6. He said that he would demand as early a trial as possible for Burch, but that he could not expect it to be set before that of Mrs. Obenchain.

Attorney Jud Rush and Al MacDonald, representing Mrs. Obenchain, were also ready to make a strong protest against a retrial of Burch before their client is tried. They declared they would insist upon going to trial Feb. 6. thus practically forcing Woolwine to try Mrs. Obenchain before Burch is tried for the second time.

Woolwine announced he was prepared to meet any court action taken by Mrs. Eva De Mott, 4526 W. Eighteenth, the juror whom he attacked in a statement for having voted for acquittal for Burch.

Schenck declared he was ready and willing to file suit against Woolwine for Mrs. De Mott, and Mrs. De Mott hinted that such action might take place.

"As the trial progressed I became firmly convinced of the insanity of the defendant and I still hold that view," Mrs. De Mott said.

FATTY'S FIRST STATEMENT

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—"It's not prison I'm afraid of. It's not the loss of fame or fortune. It is the loss of regard, the loss of affection; the fact that the kids may think I am guilty that hurts me."

Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle, on trial for a second time charged with taking the life of Virginia Rappe, was speaking.

Smoking a cigaret in the corridor outside the courtroom he talked for the first time since his arrest.

"I'm innocent," Arbuckle began, slowly. "All I ask is a square deal," he went on. "All I want is for the public to withhold its judgment until the jury of 12 men and women has decided whether or not I am guilty.

"I have suffered the tortures of hell since I was arrested. The thot that some people might have believed me guilty of causing the death of that poor girl is torment.

"Bound by promises in the past, I had to face accusers day after day for the sole reason that the purported statements of witnesses were purposely twisted so as to injure me and my attorneys were certain that the same would happen to anything I might say."

Fatty hesitated, dropped his cigaret ,crunched it beneath his foot and started rolling another.

"Why, the women and children of the world were my audience," he said. "I made them laugh. I made them happy. They liked 'Fatty' of the films.

"No, it isn't the prison I'm afraid of. It's not loss of fame or fortune it is the loss of regard—loss of affection, the fact that the kids of the world may think I'm guilty—that hurts me.

"In my heart, I feel that the American people are fair, and that after a full hearing has been had in this case I am not going to lose their esteem.

"I'm a victim of circumstances. If I were not who I am, I doubt if I would be where I am now.

"Nothing I ever got in life came to me without a struggle. My life as a kid was a hard one. I fought for everything I got. There was no gold spoon in my mouth when I was born."

HUGO PLANS APARTMENTS

Plans for a 12-house apartment court to be erected at the southwest corner of Palm and Center-sts, were announced today by Nick Hugo. The space measures 210 feet on Center and 209 feet on Palm. The building will not be started for some months yet.

Hugo now is considering plans. He has tentatively decided to put up stucco, rather than plain frame houses. He will consult shortly with a Los Angeles architect.

Work on the $6000 improvements to the former postoffice building, owned by H. A. Dickel, was started this morning by Contractor A. H. Pibel. The front of the structure will be the finest in the city. William Jackson, dealer in men's furnishings, will occupy it.

MUSIC SECTION REVIEWS NEVIN AND M'DOWELL

AT the pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Maas Saturday evening an informal musicale was given by a few close friends, which was highly pleasing to the company and most capably rendered by those participating. The effect of the vocal numbers was heightened by the fact that the floor of the music room is slightly raised above the living room.

Mrs. Charles Harbeson, her sisters, Miss Beatrice, of Los Angeles, and Miss Ruby Cowan, of Bay City, Mich., who are guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Cowan, gave the vocal numbers and Miss Luella Simons, of Redondo, a reader of unusual ability ,added to the pleasure of the program. Cards were played at the close of the program.

Mrs. Maas had beautified her rooms with generous quantities of white hyacinths, of which the Maas garden boasts a bountiful assortment, and yellow roses, also home grown. At midnight the guests were served delicious refreshments.

The company consisted of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Cowen, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Simons, of Redondo, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Whitaker, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Harbeson, the Misses Luella Simons, Beatrice and Ruby Cowan, the Messrs Jack Church, Warren Holbrook and Mr. and Mrs. Maas.

JUNIOR COLLEGE TO BALDY

A week-end has never been spent more enjoyably than that of the past week when a great number of the Fullerton Junior college motored to Camp Baldy. Monday was the college annual mountain day and to make it a brilliant success, the committee decided to go on Saturday morning for a week-end affair. Some of the folk motored up on Saturday and others waited until Sunday and some went up on Monday. The college students took over the hotel and did their own cooking and all had one grand and glorious time. Hikes were enjoyed and other sports, including dancing and playing games. During the time about fifty were there. Miss Ida Manter was the chairman for the committees. The vice chairmen were, transportation, Wm. Glenn; chaperones, Franklin Howatt; eats, Nina Hanse; the chaperones, Mrs. Shrode and Mr. and Mrs. D. Sargent.

The young folks returned to their homes tired and happy last evening, thoroughly contented with the idea that this week-end had been the most pleasantly spent in many a moon.

MANY ATTEND COLORADO PICNIC

The northern Colorado picnic held Saturday in Long Beach was a very delightful affair, and renewing acquaintance of the past when the picnickers were residents of that section was the chief feature of the morning hours. Speakers entertained the crowd after lunch music interspersed the talks.

Attending from Anaheim were Mr. W. A. Kempton, Mrs. Linna Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Kempton, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Kempton and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mitchell. Mr. O. D. Shields, a notable man from "back home," was in charge of the program of the day.

SURPRISE PARTY ON FRIEND

A number of friends of Mrs. C. D. Harrison gathered together and in the afternoon when all was quiet, went to the Harrison home on N. Lemon street, to participate in a grand surprise on Mrs. Harrison. The surprise was most complete and it was some time before the excitement was quieted enough to play five hundred. The blue and pink tallies showed that high score went to Mrs. Wm. Lake, second to Mrs. T. L. McFadden and consolation to Mrs. Henry Heying. Following the games the ladies served a delicious two-course collation, the color scheme being furthered in blue and pink. Places were marked at the card tables for the Mesdames V. N. LaMont, Fred Schneider, G. T. Ingram, A. F. Nowotny, Wm. Lake, H. Heying ,F. Mauer, Ed. Schneider, W. J. Junge, L. P. Bonnat, V. P. Bonnat, and the out of town guests Chas. Fisher of Chino, T. L. McFadden, Fred Cline and C. W. Blattner, all of Placentia; Harroun of Fullerton and the honoree, Mrs. C. D. Harrison.

lead soc—THEATRE PARTY

The faculty club of the high school enjoyed another of their parties last evening. To have a little change in the regular program they decided to have a theatre party. Reservations were made and all went to the California where they witnessed Charles Ray in "Two Minutes to Go." After the picture they were invited to the home of Mrs. Higgins in the Marita Court. Here they played games and enjoyed various amusements and in the late evening a delicious luncheon was served. Those joining in for the evenings' pleasure were the Misses Bella Walker, Myrtle Owen, Mabel Underwood, Lula Rumsey, Alice Bate, Mabel Duckett, Mary L. Ross, Irene Mac Lean, Martena Neale, Helen Coyner, Lillian Hutchinson, Margaret Hampton, Lucille Bickley, Mabel Wright, Thayer, Mabel Roe, Myrtle Winters, Lucille Perry, Irene Jacques, Alameda Hodgdon, Lova Holt, Janey Vanderveere, and the Messrs. and Mmes. ENTERTAINS FORMER PITTSBURGERS

Mrs. Ella Williams, of the Colonial Apts., was hostess last night to a party of former Pittsburg, Penn., friends some of whom now reside in the west, others being here for the winter, but all thoroughly in love with California.

A chicken dinner, with real holiday accompaniments, was served at 6:00, covers being placed for half a dozen, who were Mr. and Mrs. Donahue, who are wintering here; Mr. and Mrs. A. Schulte, Mr. John Frederick, of Los Angeles, and the hostess. After the dinner they formed a theatre party, attending "Two Minutes to Go," with Charles Ray leading.

SURPRISE CLASS MEMBER

The women's Bible class of the Christian Sunday school and their husbands went last night to the W. F. McClelland home, to properly celebrate the birthday of one of their members, Mrs. McClelland, which also was the anniversary of Mr. Lee Jones.

The honoree was taken completely by surprise but was delighted that the ladies had invited themselves in, and happily turned over her home to the party. Games were played, the older and the younger members entering with equal zest into them. An interesting topic of conversation was the approaching bonnet social, when, on Friday night, the men of the church will enter into a hat trimming contest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Wallace, on Lincoln highway. A prize will be given to the successful contestant.

Refreshments were served later, and as Mr. Jones was also celebrating his birthday, Mrs. Jones brought his birthday cake along, which, with the many others, gave unlimited assortment. About twenty-five guests were present.

BUSINESS IN GOVERNING IS NEEDED

Some super-altruistic persons shudder whenever "business in government" is mentioned. They seem to have a notion that to apply business methods in government would vulgarize the whole process of governing and drag down governmental ideals. This is a very mistaken concept, to put it mildly.

Where are there higher or better ideals than in Business? There honesty is the rule, and dishonesty and fraud the exception. There thoughtful attention to the comfort and interests of others prevails. There courtesy abounds. There efficiency is raised to the Nth degree. What has altruism to offer that is better? The conception of business which invests it with conscienceless grubbing for dollars, immersed in visionless sordidity, is an unfair and an untrue conception.

Government needs business precision and prevision business ability, business alertness, business initiative, business economy and conservation of energy and of resources. The more of the right kind of business methods put into government, the better and more successful government would be, and the burdens of taxation would grow lighter under a business regime at Washington, at every state capital, at every county seat and at every city hall.

About time for Sir Thomas Lipton's next challenge for the America's cup. There is a gallant and game sportsman, if there ever was one.

Every man should have a self-controlling interest in himself.

The libelous lie is industrious, keen to go and a speed-breaker when it gets started.

The more good business that is put into government, the better the quality of the governing.

One way soon to become flabby in moral courage is to begin systematically to shirk duties.

Plant a garden, if for no other reason than the pleasure you will get from watching it grow.

Cultivate enthusiasm. No great work is done that is not seasoned with enthusiasm in the doing of it.

There are two constitutions that no man should break — the United States constitution and his own.

There are musicians and musicians. Some can get more real music out of a Jews'-harp than others can get out of a grand piano.

Yes, the Arms Conference is a failure—from the standpoint of those who, for one reason or another, want to see the world kept on the brink of war.

Those who debonairly are predicting failure for the work of the Arms Conference would rejoice if their predictions came true. But they will have no occasion to pollify on this score—the conference will not fail in its work.

There should be no class distinction in cases of crime and vice. Crime is crime and vice is vice, whether those guilty are rich or poor, prominent or obscure. It is the quality of the deed, not the station of the doer, that should be indulged.

THE CYNICS ARE SKEPTICAL ABOUT PEACE

The cynics profess to see nothing to these world-peace movements. Imitating the muck-raker in "Pilgrim's Progress," they continue to rake the muck of the past, and to look down, obstinately refusing to lift their eyes toward the heavens where the sunrise of a new day is gleaming. "There always have been wars, and there always will be," is the favorite last-word of the cynics. "You can't change human nature," they say. "There is bound to be war, at intervals, so long as the world stands." And thus they wallow in the muck of the past and stolidly refuse to descry the signs of better times written all over the earth.

If all mankind adopted the cynical, pessimistic, skeptical attitude about world peace, there would be no permanent peace. But, thank heaven, the masses of the people of all civilized lands believe that peace is possible and they yearn for it. And the brainiest statesmen in the world today are sincerely for peace, and are striving, in practical ways, to lay the foundations for an enduring pacifiction, grounded upon justice and square dealing among nations.

Because there have been wars in the past is no absolute surety that wars will mark the future, any more than the fact that tallow candles once were in general use was surety that no other and better lights could be or would be devised. The world is tearing away from its old systems and practices. Note the work of the Arms Conference. No such frank, straightforward, direct brand of diplomacy ever before was witnessed in an assemblage of that nature. Note what actually has been done there. Can any open-minded, unprejudiced person contemplate the naval holiday and the four-power agreement and not be impressed profoundly with the fact that the world rapidly is moving away from the madness of frequent wars?

A SWEET LITTLE BABY BOY

Makes a Bright Spot in Every Home. A Comfort in Years to Come

Park Rapids, Minnesota.—"I have taken your medicine — Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound — when I was a girl for pains and before and after my marriage. I now have a sweet little baby boy and will send you his picture if you wish to publish it. My sisters also take your medicine and find it a great help, and I recommend it to those who suffer before their babies are born." — Mrs. Wm. Johnson, Box 155, Park Rapids, Minn.

To marry and arrive at middle age without children is a great disappointment to many women. Think of the joy and comfort other women have in their children as they grow older.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped to bring great happiness to many families by restoring women to health. Often the childless home is due to a run down condition of the wife, which may be helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It brought health and happiness into the home of Mrs. Johnson. Why not to yours?

Wetherell claims to have paid $900 on the purchase price of the car, leaving a remainder of $590.16 unpaid. SAYS SOME RAILROAD PUBLICATIONS MYTHS

Approximately half a million dollars is being collected from business men of California annually for advertisements in publications alleged by their representatives to be organs of organized railroad employes, but which, in fact, are not the organs of any of the brotherhoods, according to declarations made today by J. C. Metzger, secretary of the A. C. of C.

His assertions were based on investigations that have been made as to the operations of such publications and the extent and field of their circulation.

"In the state of California an average of $500,000 a year is being paid to advertising solicitors for railway publications," said the secretary. "Of this vast sum, at least $450,000 is paid to representatives of so-called railway publications that have no official connection whatever with railway organizations. Of the latter amount, at least $400,000 gets into the hands of those representing a publication which does ot exist or is never printed, except in sufficient quantities to go to the men purchasing advertising space, investigations made in the state have disclosed. The total mailing list of these publications will not exceed 1,000, according to disclosures."

GIVE TOWARD FEEDING RUSSIA'S STARVING

Anaheimers, in responding to the appeal for help for the starving children of the famine-scourged regions of Russia, have several sources of satisfaction in this good work. In the first place, the money they give does not go out of this community. It is expended right here with a home industry, for the purchase of flour. In the second place, all who contribute have every assurance that what they give actually goes to starving Russian children and is not diverted or squandered. The fact that the Friends Service Committee has charge of the distribution of the food supplies donated is absolute guarantee not only of the most scrupulous honesty and care in the distribution, but skill as well.

Children literally by millions are famishing in Russia. They are innocent, helpless, little ones. They have had nothing to do with politics in Russia. They know nothing of sovietism. They are just children—God's creatures, like American children: children with appetites, who suffer when hungry, just as American children do. They are suffering unto death, with no food— perishing in multitudes. Here in Anaheim, surrounded by abundance, the impulse should be strong to give liberally to save these children. Donations of money, to be converted into flour, may be left at the chamber of Commerce or at any bank in Anaheim.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

SCOTT VS. HOFFMAN

Editor of the Plain Dealer:

The article you published in last Saturday's Plain Dealer anent the case of Scott vs. Hoffman, was somewhat incorrect. I hesitated about offering any correction, or a statement of the true facts, but in justice to my client and myself, I feel that the true facts should be given.

Mr. Scott, a real estate broker, brought suit in justice court, before Judge Howard, against Mr. Hoffman, claiming a commission of $275 for selling Hoffman's property on a writing or memorandum signed by Hoffman, which is as follows:

> "5-10 J. C. Hoffman Restaurant and Bakery, Price $600 cash. Will pay 5 per cent com. Exclusive for 30 days. Tak stock.—J. C. Hoffman."

This writing was made with lead pencil on a little card, all in the handwriting of Mr. Scott, except the signature at the end. Mr. Scott never sold the property or found a purchaser able and willing to buy. Mr. Hoffman himself sold his property on June 7th, 1921. When Mr. Scott brought suit, I advised Mr. Hoffman that the memorandum was not sufficient writing to authorize Mr. Scott or anybody else to sell his property, or to recover a commission, and besides that, it was incumbent upon a real estate broker, in order to recover a commission, to find a purchaser able and willing to buy within the time limited, unless it was stipulated and agreed in writing that he (the owner) would pay the commission whether the property was sold by the agent or the owner.

Justice Howard decided in favor of the plaintiff and defendant appealed. Judge West likewise decided in favor of the plaintiff, and took occasion to give a rap at defendant and his council by saying that he should have saved the expense of an appeal, and the plaintiff was clearly entitled to judgment.

I showed a copy of that memorandum to three lawyers before the trial, and all of them laughed at the idea that any Judge would hold it to be a sufficient memorandum. I shall show it to others, and I am sure that their opinion will be the same. The reader will note the following points: Mr. Scott's name does not appear in the memorandum. There is no authorization to anybody to do anything, whether sell, lease, exchange or burn. The property is not described in a way that a person can locate it—it does not say where it is. In Superior Court, for the purpose of impeaching the testimony of Hoffman, Judge Howard stated that Hoffman testified in Justice Court that he had agreed to pay Scott a commission whether he sold the property or not. Mr. Hoffman denied that he so testified. I stated that I did not remember hearing Hoffman so testify, but believed he testified to the very contrary. (I know that Mr. Hoffman, when I read the complaint to him, and later, scoffed at the allegation that he agreed to pay Scott a commission whether he sold the property or not. At no time did he admit to me that he so agreed).

I did not then, nor do I now, wish it understood that I doubt the honesty or veracity of Justice Howard. But the trial in Justice Court was had in June or July, and the testimony was oral, and a lot of the testimony was given and objections made; and it is an easy matter to forget. I know that sometimes a witness, in the heat of rapid questioning by an attorney, with a long question having many clauses therein, will lose sight of some important clause therein and answer the way the lawyer wants him to answer, because all the other clauses are all right, and he forgets that an objectionable one was not included therein. This may have happened in the Hoffman trial. Justice Howard's statement makes me doubt my own memory in the matter. But I do know this: outside of the trial, Mr. Hoffman always denied and with emphasis, that he promised a commission to Mr. Scott whether he sold or not. Property owners who contemplate selling, real estate men, and lawyers will be interested in this peculiar case—peculiar from the contents of the memorandum which was held a sufficient authorization.

Yours truly,
J. U. HEMMI

MANY LIVES ARE SAVED BY WIRELESS "S. O. S."

Ability of the army transport, Crooke, to inform other vessels and the mainland of its condition by wireless, as it came toward an Atlantic gale, bearing 1000 American army service men returning from Germany, was another of the oft-given demonstrations of the value of wireless in saving lives endangered at sea.

Before this ever-ready and ever-serviceable means of communication was invented, the vessel in distress had to take precarious chance of being sighted by some other ship passing along the highways of ocean travel. But then ships had to come close to the distressed vessel—close enough to hear her guns or to see her signal rockets—or the disabled ship would not be discovered and aided. But now, the ship in distress promptly flashes in every direction its wireless "S. O. S.," and the message carries hundreds of miles, certain to find one or more vessels. Help is then forthcoming speedily.

DIABETES CURABLE IN 70 PCT. CASES

Modern methods of treating diabetes have made seventy percent of cases curable, and a still higher percentage would be possible if patients W.completely co-operated, Dr. Nelson W. Janney of Los Angeles told forty or fifty physicians of the county, present last night at the open meeting of the Johnston-Wickett clinic. "Modern Treatment of Diabetes" was the speaker's topic. Several physicians discussed points in the address at its conclusion. Lantern slides illustratoins were used.

Dr. Janney for years was connected with Carnegie Institute, and was instrumental in organizing the Metabolic Institute at Santa Barbara.

CHOCOLATE AND CRACKERS MENU OF UNDERNOURISHED STUDENTS

With relish, hundreds of undergraduates at the Massachusetts Institute of technology have accepted the repast provided daily by the Medical Department of the institute. The department finds that 40 pct. of the students are undernourished. It appears that the light luncheon does not prevent the diners from imbibing learning meanwhile.

REORGANIZATION PLANS FOR THE CABINET

Reorganization of the administrative branch of the United States government, which is being planned at Washington, may result in the merging of four cabinet positions into two, and the creation of a new cabinet post—a net decrease of one cabinet portfolio—It is practically certain that the war and navy departments will be consolidated. Instituting of a naval holiday and big reduction in the strength of the standing army make it practicable to put all branches of national armament under control of one cabinet officer. It is proposed also to merge the departments of commerce and labor.

The Department of Public Welfare is the new cabinet post projected. Mr. Harding has strongly advocated the creating of this department and has high hopes of its usefulness.

Reorganization, as proposed, would bring related activities together under the same department, thus simplifying operations which are now confused and complicated, in many instances. The reorganization also should be instrumental in effecting savings in administering departments and bureaus—and this phase of it will be of interest to the taxpayers.

SATURDAY SALES OF MAXWELL CARS

"The new series of the Good Maxwell is coming in to its own!" says Mr. Lumsdon, of Turton & Lumsdon, local Maxwell dealers. As evidence of the fact we give a list of buys of the populah car, all of whom made their purchase last Saturday: LeRoy P. Berger, Maxwell Sedan; Harry T. Smith, of Fullerton, Maxwell touring; L. B. McGavren, Anaheim, Maxwell touring; C. J. Rewett, La Habra, Maxwell touring.

These classy cars are going fast and are maintaining their lead over all other cars in popularity.

Canada punishes its criminals surely and severely. As a consequence it is less criminality than other countries of equal population. The Dominion does not permit technicalities to obstruct the rigid enforcement of law.

Every note how much more interesting it is to hear an enthusiastic traveler tell of distant places and peoples, than to read about them?

SECRETARY HOOVER MAY GO TO GENOA MEET

Should the United States government decide to accept the invitation to have representation at the international economic conference at Genoa, it is believed in Washington that President Harding will name Herbert C. Hoover, secretary of commerce, to head the American delegation. This conference is called for early in March. There is strong likelihood that the United States will be represented there, inasmuch as Europe gives signs of getting down actively and practically to helping itself out of its economic bogs.

No better choice could be made for that great meeting, than Herbert C. Hoover. His knowledge and grasp of the world's economic affairs amounts to genius. His experiences in Europe during the World War period and since, especially fit him for giving sage counsel in that conference. He knows more intimately about economic conditions and problems of Europe than many European experts themselves do. His appointment to that mission would be hailed with keen satisfaction in Europe.

Weekly luncheons of the Santa Ana Realty board were today inaugurated. Matters pertaining to the state convention of realtors to be held in San Francisco Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, were discussed, as well as other matters of interest to dealers. It is intended to make the weekly luncheons of unusual interest to real estate men, and these meetings will be conducted along lines similar to the Kiwanis, Rotary and Lions clubs. Men who are prominent in real estate and other business activities will be invited to address the meetings.

Indications today were that a large number of Orange county realtors would attend the convention.

60-YEAR-OLD TREE COMES DOWN TODAY

The end of a magnificent pine upwards of 60 years old, standing in front of the old house at 314 North Los Angeles street, came down this morning, when a crew of laborers under the direction of Julian Barraza felled it. The house for ten or twelve years was occupied by William Crother and family, and still is owned by Crother estate. The family vacated it some 36 years ago. The present tenant is L. K. Marshall.

The tree had split and the damage was increased by recent wind storms until the Marshals became worried lest it fall over on the house during the night. George Dunton's garage also was threatened.

A big rubber tree received the impact of its neighbor's fall and lost one or two limbs.

MEAT HIGHEST IN CAL., SAYS RUETHER

Production of meat has fallen off in So. Calif. annually for many years past, the Rotary club was told by John Ruether, of the Anaheim Beef Co., who said that in 1905 this part of the state produced 40 pct. more livestock than now. So. Calif. now depends princiually upon the Middle and Rocky Mountain states for its meat, he said. Tourist hotels now are paying a premium for the better cuts of meat so there is little likelihood of meat coming down this year.

Prfices now are the highest of any state in the union, Ruether declared.

The "Big Five" packers handle only 20 pct. of all the meat consumed in the country, the speaker said. They will not open retail stores of their own, in Ruether's opinion, because they failed to make such stores succeed when they tried it before.

The speech was one of the most interesting the club has heard for months past. Only one member was absent.

The club is considering the purchase of a piano and the fitting up of a dining-room of its own in the Elks' clubhouse.

PLAN BIG COLORADO DAM

SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 17. — Construction of a big dam on the Colorado river at Diamond Creek, near Peach Springs, on the Santa Fe railway, is predicted by R. U. Fitting, treasurer of the Parklap Construction Corporation of New York City. Arizona copper interests are behind the project. They seek to cut power costs. Thirty millions would be expended.

What Happened To the Roues of Paris

In the days of Louis XV a notorious Irish doctor, banned from his country for malpractice, found himself stranded in Paris. Just at this period one of the epochal discoveries of medical science was revealed—a narcotic of vast value in certain conditions.

This doctor found that the drug acted as a strong stimulant and began making it up into pills, which were freely taken by the run-down roues of the gay city. His nostrum was in tremendous vogue for a while, but soon his patients had to take more and more of it to get the desired effect, until finally its efficacy was entirely gone and the fraudulent doctor was driven from the city—leaving behind him untold misery.

In this regard the world has progressed little. Today the greatest health discovery of all times is being prostituted to the greed of fakers, who simully commercialize the credulity of suffering mankind. The public is being led to believe that is a quick cure for every ill that afflicts the human body. Nothing of the sort! Uncle Sam, in his experimental kitchens, has found that Vitamines are a food, not a medicine. The world's greatest scientists are agreed that Vitamines are the element in our food which sustains life. They also agree that our present method of food preparation destroys the natural Vitamine content of the food we eat. Hence one of these scientists has approved and perfected a new tonic food—

Susto

which contains all the known Vitamines of eggs, rice, fruit, yeast, vegetables, and which if taken regularly, puts back into the diet the life-giving Vitamines which improper cooking takes away.

SUSTO contains nothing harmful—its effects are entirely beneficial. It is splendid for under-weight children, as well as poorly nourished adults.

SUSTO is not a medicine. It is a food balancer—it adds to the daily diet the growth-promoting, strength and life-giving elements that we are not getting in our daily food and which are as necessary as fresh air to sustain life.

If you are irritable, pale and nervous, thin, worn out and haggard take SUSTO, this wonderfully efficient new tonic food. There is nothing like it to build up strength and energy, and you will notice an improvement in weight, physical fitness and general "pep" in a surprisingly short time. All druggists sell SUSTO. Be sure to get genuine SUSTO Vitamines —only $1.00 per package. Ask for report on SUSTO by famous authority.

SPORTING EVENTS

SUNDAY'S GAME AT HIGH SCHOOL FIELD

Anaheim Elks will play next Sunday's game on the high school field here. This was announced today by Manager Billy Knott. Poor attendance at the Commonwealth park, in Fullerton, because it is so far out in the country, and the added fact that there is a better field at the high school prompted the change.

Incidentally, it would be easy to strike a bargain with the owner of the stands at the Commonwealth park. This may interest high school trustees or city park developers.

Manager Knott was not certain today who would furnish the opposition for Sunday's game tho it will probably be Riverside Elks.

Ford Tally, American Association pitcher who faced the locals last Sunday, will be in an Anaheim uniform Sunday.

DOZEN ANAHEIMERS JOIN COUNTRY CLUB

Anaheim will shortly be represented by at least a dozen golfers in the Orange-co Country club at Newport. C. C. Sidnam, B. H. Sidnam and Harry Hathaway are now members. Sunday the Sidnams and Bud Dozier introduced Bud Holland into the mysteries of the ancient and honorable game.

7 MIGHTY HUNTERS SHOOT 275 DUCKS

Bert Kern, Frank Miller, Earl Schrott, Louie Schrott, Wm. Collman, A. C. Miller and Joe Gabonfa returned last night from a 10 days' hunting [illegible] northwest of Wasco. They shot [illegible] ducks and five geese. Rains and fog made hunting difficult. They did not have a sunny day on the entire trip. The heavy rains covered the lowlands with water so that instead of finding five small lakes with thousands of ducks huddled together they found one great sea of water with the game widely scattered.

JAYHAWKERS TO RALLY

All who ever lived in the Sunflower state are called to meet under the auspices of the Kansas Association of Long Beach for the great picnic reunion, all day, Saturday, Jan. 28th, at the Pier and Auditorium, Long Beach.

There will be a brief program opening about two o'clock.

AUDIT A. U. W. CO. BOOKS

Auditors are checking over the books at the local office of the Anaheim Union Water Co. They began yesterday and expect to be busy the remainder of the week. Leo J. Sheridan secretary, was still in town this morning.

CROWDED TO WALL

They have some very fine lookers in Calif. This young lady, Miss Beth Darlington, recently won a bathing girls' contest. She was pushed against the wall by the protographer, who just wanted one snap of her.

He Who Hesitates Is Lost

A trite saying but worthy of acceptation. How often have you known people to hesitate and then pay more? Many say they could have bought the whole Anaheim area some years ago for the price of waste lands. Had they only done so their vaults would now be lined with Gold.

Let us show you a home of six rooms fit for the "400" class, but at a price in the reach of the wage earner, or;

Let us show you a 5-acre Valencia Grove, second to none at its age, with magnificent home and ideal location, or;

Let us show you 12 acres of the finest Valencia Oranges in all of California, well located close to town, and on terms that we will guarantee the Grove will pay for itself.

Now is the best time in all the year to buy, and it costs you nothing to investigate these propositions.

NEWS OF FULLERTON

KIWANIANS HEAR ABOUT INCOME TAX

The regular weekly meeting of the Fullerton Kiwanis club was held at noon today at the I. O. O. F. banquet rom over the First National Bank building. There was a large attendance. Carl Parkes won the attendance prize.

The matter of a joint meeting of the Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton clubs in a big banquet at Anaheim on the evening of Jan. 26 was discussed, and provision made for the club to pay the bill of the Kiwanis members, but the members must pay for their lady guests. It was voted to have the regular meeting next Tuesday, however, as usual. Arrangements were made only for the Kiwanians and their wives. There is not expected to be room for any more guests.

The Kiwanians immediately after lunch sang "The Spanish Cavilier" and "Dixie Land."

Dale King announced that this is Abe Pritchard's birthday. His age was not announced, but someone looking at Abe's bald head which stood out prominently from among "the fellows" cried: "How old are you, Abe?—72?"

Dan O'Hanlin, secretary of the club, presided, following Albert Launer's abdication. Mr. Launer presided until it was time to introduce the speaker of the occasion, then turned the meeting over to Mr. O'Hanlin.

Elmer Burns of Santa Ana, internal revenue officer, spoke on the income tax, and the new act which has just become effective. He said he wished he could knock the idea of exemptions on the head since it is so misleading. All single persons, with or without dependents, MUST make a report of their income amounts to $1,000 or more, and persons who are married and have an income of $2,000 or more must make a report, whether or not they have dependents. Exemption will be given in such cases, where there are dependents, but they must file returns. Information reports must be filed in time to reach Washington by March 15, else they shall be classed as delinquents. Corporations will be taxed on their net profits. Partnerships must make a report of information.

Cost of insurance policies on business may be deducted.

JANUARY BUSINESS STARTS WITH BANG

During the first ten days of this month, the Wickersheim Implement Co. sold and delivered 15 new Fords (including trucks) and 14 used cars and trucks and two Fordsons. Mr. Wickersheim says that Fords never sold as well during any like period in January since the Model T. Ford was invented and first manufactured 13 years ago, and furthermore this unprecedented sale of Fords was before the January drop in Ford prices. Mr. Wickersheim feels assured that the volume of sales this month will exceed that of any other January since he started in business in Fullerton 20 years ago, and he is confident they would increase their 1922 volume of business by $50,000 over last year, making their volume of sales this year exceed $600,000.

Last Saturday Joe P. des Granges presented his wife and daughter with a brand new Ford Sedan purchased from the Wickersheim Implement Co.

RUSH FOR AUTO LICENSES

Those desiring license should not delay in making application.

CONTRACTORS ASK BIDS

Bids have been asked from as many contractors as possible for the new $150,000 hotel proposed for Fullerton on No. Spadra-rd. The site has already been cleared of all impeding buildings. The various subscribers have been faithfully increasing their subscriptions in accordance with their agreement with C. C. Chapman, it is stated.

FINE TIME AT BALDY

The Fullerton high school seniors and juniors who went to Camp Baldy Saturday report a great time. They spent the day camping about two miles beyond Camp Baldy, and in wading about thru the snow and exploring the country.

WATER PIPE HAS ARRIVED

Ben. Dupuy, city engineer of Fullerton, drove to San Pedro yesterday morning to see about the unloading of the shipload of waterpipe which has arrived from Birmingham, Ala. The ship could not make the Wilmington dock but has to unload at San Pedro.

REMOVED FROM HOSPITAL

Fay Hartman of Los Angeles who was injured Sunday night near Fullerton when he fell from an auto onto the pavement causing concussion of the brain was removed to his home in Los Angeles yesterday. It is thot that the skull was not fractured, and it is hoped that he will recover.

FIVE COUNTIES TELL NEED FOR WATER

Angeles to put in sewage plants which will recover, they asserted, 40 per cent of all water used in the two cities for domestic purposes.

T. A. Allen of Pasadena pointed out that in the early days storm waters did not menace this country because the underbrush checked its flow and caused it to enter the ground. He asserted that the cutting off of brush and building of all sorts of structures has removed the checking forces and closed up a great deal of area into which rain formerly went, with the result that there is much less area for saturation, and faster runoff.

This same thought was brought out by George Hinckley of Redlands, representing three counties, which are endeavoring to control flood waters of the Santa Ana river. He told the conference that records are sufficient evidence that Redlands experienced no run-off of storm waters years ago, but that since the country has been developed flood waters are a menace. He estimated that fully 50,000 acre feet of water passed out of the Redlands district via the Santa river during the heavy storm late in December.

William Mulholland, chief engineer of the Los Angeles water department, discussed the water question from many angles and informed the conference that Southern California can never bring water from any point north of the Tehachepi. His reasons for this are that the city of Los Angeles is already bringing here all the water from the east side of the Sierra Nevadas. Water from the west side of the Sierras, he says, belongs to the area between Stockton and Caliente.

There is only one point from which water could be brought, he asserted, and that is the South Fork of the Kern river. This water, however, belongs to the ranchers of the Bakersfield district, and could not legally be wrested from their control.

As for the Devil's Gate dam, he declared that it will not store what he characterizes as a major flood, and is only a drop in a bucket as a conservative project, although he admitted that it has already been worth more than its cost to the water department of Pasadena.

REMOVE POLES FROM SPADRA

The Edison Co. men expect to get all the telephone poles out of Spadra-rd early this week from Santa Fe-ave to Wilshire-ave where the ornamental lighting system has made them of none effect. A large number of them have already been removed.

The Telephone Instrument

The telephone is a highly sensitive, delicately adjusted instrument. Think of it—without regard to distance, instantaneously reproducing every tone of the human voice.

The quality of its service, in great measure, depends upon careful use.

As with your watch, automobile or piano—the more care, better results.

Among the "out of order" reports received by the company, many result from the carelessness of the subscriber. A telephone may fall from desk or stand, breaking the mouthpiece or throwing the apparatus out of adjustment. The cord may become twisted; meaning a "noisy" line. A damp cloth laid on the cord or the moisture from an open window may cause the "short circuit" and an entire interruption of service.

All of these things are avoidable with the exercise of slight care. In protecting the telephone equipment you are protecting your own service.
