BIG RANCHER DROWNED

Buy in Anaheim and G-R-E-A-T-E-R PROSPERITY

By the Mysterious Cowboy

Presently I will publish the complete honor roll of those business men and women who have made possible the great success of the Buy-In-Anaheim and Greater Prosperity campaign. Without their splendid cooperation the campaign could not have been—so I admonish you to remember these worthy deeds. Your first consideration should be for the man or woman who is doing all in their power to promote the interests of Anaheim. These merchants offer to you a service and merchandising advantages that you cannot improve upon elsewhere. Remember those names on the honor roll and remember the merchants who are doing their all for this city.

If you want good, sound real estate advice or any kind of realty service, including insurance and loans, then, by all means go to see Eygabroad and Fisher. If you are not bent on business, go to see them any way. I'll wager you never met a more jovial organization in your life. They are all smiles and you know that "it pays to smile."

Somebody has remarked facetiously that the consumer who runs out of town continually for the things he wants to buy is liable to get the galloping consumption. If the "running consumer" doesn't get the galloping consumption he is bound to get something a good deal worse. Before he comes galloping back he will have been so badly stung that he will not forget about his great run into bargains."

Thomas Edison is a great boy to ask questions and I would like to have the opportunity of asking him how it comes about that he has the most perfect phonograph in all the world—The New Edison, "the phonograph with a soul." Not knowing the wizard of Orange (N. J.) I called upon his local lieutenants to get the answer. I got it and Dunham and Knipe were the boys who furnished me with the information. It is true, indeed. The New Edison is the "final utterance" when it comes to phonographs. Dunham and Knipe are the admirable co-operation. And, too—they sell the famous Sonora phonograph. Edison must go some to keep ahead of the Sonora.

By the way Harry W. Hatch is another live-wire merchant who has his shop under the same roof as the Danz Piano Co., and Messrs. Dunham and Knipe. Harry is in the sheet music game aund also carries a large stock of small instruments and their accessories. It will be noted then that the store at 162 West Center street houses the "Big Three" in the musical world. Music reigns supreme in this shop and Harry Hatch is doing his part to keep up the reputation of the premises. Hatch is a former big leaguer in the musical game—he sold the jazz and the classical in good old Philadelphia and later in Los Angeles. Everything in sheet music and small instruments are there.

This gland epidemic is getting serious. I understand that rich women of the eastern cities are about to enter into the glad realm. The poor goats and the chimpanzees are the goats for run down humanity. Rat catchers are all leaving for Africa to engage in chimpanzee catching and the poor simian of the jungle is in an awful pickle. But human glands last longer out in California and we who live here do not have to send to Africa for "parts" when the old machine is missing.

I never caught a chimpanzee, but have shot bear and buffa... That reminds me that I must ... rifle or a revolver for an outing trip. I know the place to go—L. N. Wesser. He has everything for the sportsman and to hang around his fine store makes one yearn for the great out doors. Some bicycle department in that store, too. Perhaps the largest store of its kind in Orange county, it certainly offers a diversified service.

ANAHEIM PLASTERER FACES $1500 SUIT

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Peck have brot suit in superior court for $1,500 damages against W. H. Kidd, Anaheim plasterer, whom they accuse of using materials other than those specified in the construction of a new house. Kid obtained the contract from the general contractor, A. H. Pibel. Ames & McFadden represent the plaintiffs.

HIGH GERMAN OFFICIAL KILLED

Martial Law to Halt Uprising Reported After Cabinet Member Is Killed

BERLIN, June 24.— Mob rule in Berlin and martial law has been declared following the assassination of Walter Rathenau, minister of foreign affairs and one of the "biggest men in Germany," here today.

A manifesto has been issued by the trades unions calling upon the workers to resist a possible junker uprising.

The cabinet has met in extraordinary session and has unanimously approved Chancellor Worth's declaration that the utmost steps must be taken to protect the republican government from toppling.

The situation is the gravest that has confronted Germany since the kaiser fled from Berlin in 1918.

Meanwhile the police have thrown a cordon around a section of the city and patrols in fast motor cars are endeavoring to run down the assassins of Rathenau, who escaped after the murder.

Turbulent scenes were enacted in the reichstag this afternoon as a result of the assassination. Socialists attacked nationalist members, trying to drive them from the chamber. It took the president a quarter of an hour to restore order.

Chancellor Wirth revealed that Dr. Rathenau knew his life was menaced.

"The foreign secretary was warned weeks ago," said the chancellor. "I believe this outrage was due to the unscrupulous propaganda of reactionaries and also to France's policy of hatred and suppression which is driving the Germans to desperation. I expect that my turn will come, too"

Dr. Rathenau was murdered by assassins who threw a hand grenade.

BERLIN BEAUTIFUL, SAYS FALKENSTEIN

Here is another interesting letter from Wm. Falkenstein, whom the Plain Dealer requested to write of impressions on his trip to Europe. He says:

After a very enjoyable week spent in Berlin we are very comfortably settled in our hotel in Nordhausen and are enjoying the quiet and beautiful surroundings very much. We are feeling fine. Spring has come at last and there is no question that we have selected the best time of the year for our trip. The beauty of the country in spring cannot be described. Next week we are going to Herzberg and after that to Baden-Baden and Switzerland.

Textile prices are absolutely soaring from day to day and only by personally calling on manufacturers are merchants able to get the quantities they need as the representatives and traveling men are limited to small quantities. I am told that a certain sheet blanket bot for 165 marks last week is quoted today at 310 marks.

The business situation is so crazy here that it is impossible for us to understand it. Nobody can tell how long it is going to last as a reaction is bound to come.

RECORD PRICE FOR 20 ACRES WALNUTS

Sidnam Realty Co. has completed a sale to J. F. Witt and brothers, of Orange, of 20 acres of walnuts on the Katella Road, south of town, at what is believed the highest cash price of the year for unimproved walnut acreage. The land is a part of the Wm. Chambers ranch and brought the owner $2250 per acre or $45,000 for the tract.

The grove adjoins a twenty acres owned by the Witt brothers and makes their holdings in that section forty acres of choice land. They own in addition some 53 acres o foranges near Orange and Olive and it is understood that their new purchase will be set to valencias at once.

The Witt brothers are of a pioneer Orange-co family and are among the most successful growers of the district.

Sidnam Realty Co. also report the recent sale of the 16-acre Kingman ranch at Orange for a consideration of $60,000.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Beginning Monday, June 26th, we will deliver to any part of the city. Stroups Market, Phone 300.

WHAT DO YOU SAY?

G. Schneiker, manager of the local California Help Yourself store, asks:

"Why cannot give store clerks a little vacation during July and August by closing at 6 or 7 Saturday evenings? This will permit them to get away to Big Bear or other distant resort that evening. Working from 7 or 8 a.m. to 9 or 10 p.m. at a fast gait each Saturday in hot weather is too much of a good thing. The clerks would certainly appreciate and I do not believe the employers would lose by it."

Schneiker suggests that all retailers willing to cooperate in such a movement communicate with him.

CLAIM LOVE NOTES WERE IN CODE

LOS ANGELES, June 24.— Supporting the state's sensational testimony charging that Madelynne Obenchain and Paul Roman, a convict, "framed" the story of two "roughly dressed men" slaying J. Belton Kennedy, for whose murder Mrs. Obenchain is on trial, Deputy District Attorney Asa Keys today revealed what he alleges is an elaborate code used by the two in "love notes."

Letters alleged to have been written by Mrs. Obenchain in the county jail, Keyes contended, told Roman, who was then in prison, what to say in court to substantiate her story of Kennedy's slaying.

The defense, planning a hot attack on Rowan's testimony when the trial is resumed Monday, was rumored to be seeking the return of convicts from Folsom and San Quentin prisons and also prisoners from the county jail.

By this means, it was reported, strenuous efforts will be made to discredit the testimony of Roman that Mrs. Obenchain made love to him on different occasions annd "made up" the story of the slaying, with his assistance.

The defense, it was said, does not plan to deny that Madelynne wrote the "love message" introduced in court along with Roman's testimony, but will deny that she ever knew the convict before they were both in the county jail, where Roman was lodged pending his trial for robbery.

Spending a restful night, Mrs. Obenchain today was said to be apparently unconcerned over the surprise introduced of her alleged letters to Roman, in which she was claimed to have written of her great love for him.

In describing the code he claims Mrs. Obenchain and Roman used in their letters, Keyes expressed the theory that the "story" she referred to, supposedly being written by Roman, was in reality the story he was to tell on the witness stand in her case.

Roman's story, Keyes said, was to substantiate Mrs. Obenchain's story about the "roughly dressed men," and the ring found on Kennedy's body, which she claimed was a wedding ring bought for her.

Continuing to analyze the alleged code, Keyes said the word "martyr," frequently used in the letters, apparently was meant to represent Kennedy.

RETURN FROM 3900 MILE MOTOR OUTING

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stanley returned last evening from a 3900-mile motor trip in the north, spending some time at Yosemite, which they describe as being most beautiful on account of the abundance of water in the streams. They had plenty of trout, and report a most delightful trip, but as Mr. Stanley words it, "There is no place like Orange county and Anaheim."

VIOLATES TRAFFIC LAW

A driver of the Taft and Sand Development Co. was arrested in Anaheim this morning on the charge of turning in the middle of the block. He has not yet been arraigned before Judge Kuchel. He was arrested by Officers Andrade and Whalen.

PENSIONS GRANTED

A pension of $12 per month has been granted to James L. Arnold, of La Habra, and $30 to Mrs. Susan Teasdale, of Orange, among several allowed soldiers or their widows in So. Calif.

THE THERMOMETER

59 CARLOADS SENT EAST THIS WEEK

Valencia Market Continues Strong ith F.O.B. Prices Up 25 Cents

There is no united effort to keep Valencia orange shipments from California down to the minimum, or if there is market conditions have been too much for the independents and exchange associations alike. This it least is indicated in the Anaheim district, Including three mixed cars of oranges, lemons and grapefruit the district shipped 59 cars, only 10 less than last week. The independents alone showed a considerable reduction in cars sent out, and one of these shipped more cars than any other organization, although 10 less than last week, which was a record one. Another of the independents will increase shipments next week.

Auctions, it is declared, have been very heavy this week.

The Randolph Marketing Company reported prices of $6.35 a box for its Bulldog brand and $5.85 for Terriers, the best figure this year far ahead of any prices last. The company continues to add to its vegetable acreage signed up for next season.

The cantaloupe market apparently has gotten out of the control of the Imperial Valley shippers. The Valencia's current rival looks as if it would prove a liability nstead of an asset. Losses now are being suffered, and have been ever since the price went down to $3.50, minus freight and 15 per cent commissoon. The growers in the pool endeavored to reach an agreement to check shipments, but according to telegraphic word today had not succeeded in doing so. On June 22 shipments again broke all records with 521 cars and a total for the season of 4,474, which although the season was two weeks late compares with 5,883 on the same date last year.

The market on Valencias continues strong with prices about 25 cents per box higher than last week. F. o. b. quotations, usual terms, range as follows:

Best Orange county, $7.50 per box on sizes 200s and larger; $7.25 on 216s; $6.50 on 250s; $5.50 on 288s and $4.75 on 324s and smaller. Some districts are willing to sell at 50 cents per box less than above prices. Delivered prices ranged about $9.00 per box for 200s and larger and $8.50 an 216s.

Growers and shippers are closely watching conditions pertaining to next season's crop and are wondering what the effect of the sudden hot weather this month will be on the newly set fruit that has as yet not had a chance to make any growth. The so-called June drop will probably come in July this year, if at all.

While the fruit in some districts has set very unevenly, other districts report a good setting. It is entirely too early, however, for estimates on the probable size of the coming crop.

The cantaloupe movement out of the Imperial Valley is the heaviest ever known in the history of that industry. On June 21 450 cars were moved. The estimated movement for June 22 was 500 cars. The heaviest movement in a single day previously was on June 12, 1919, when 349 cars went forward.

The total movement to date, however, is still around 1500 cars behind last year to the same date. Just what effect this heavy movement of cantaloupes will have on the market for other fruits as a whole is awaited with interest by shippers, but it is generally thought that the Valencia market will feel little or no effect.

The market on California grapefruit is exceptionally strong at this time; $5 per box is the ruling f. o.b. quotation on best stock.

The market on California lemons is a little groggy at this writing, due principally to the generally cool weather prevailing in the large consuming centers of the East. F. o. b. quotations on best stock ranges mostly on a basis of $5.50 to $6 per box.

There are on hand and available for sale within the next 30 days approximately 181,000 boxes of foreign lemons, as against 58,000 boxes in 1921; 202,000 boxes in 1920 and 179,000 boxes in 1919 for the corresponding period.

The total of 181,000 boxes reported available does not include cargoes coming through the part of Montreal, a cargo of 21,000 boxes now being at the docks there unsold. The Canadian merchant marine is now bringing heavy supplies of foreign lemons through the port of Montreal, which has not been done for about 15 years.

COMMERCIAL ALCOHOL PLANT

Anaheim Sugar Co. Spends Quarter Million for Improvements, Additions

The Anaheim Sugar Co., in line with the industrial activity now evident in additions to various existing plants here and erecton of new factories, has started a big distillery for the manufacture of commercial alcohol on a large scale. The fluid is manufactured from molasses or the residue from molasses after the sugar has been extracted.

The framework is in position and the pouring of concrete is under way. The new plant is expected to be finished by fall.

Owing to the low prices of sugar, beet pulp, a by-product sold formerly as cattle feed, is understood to be no longer profitable.

Officials of the company remain reticent about the proposed quarter of a million dollar plant, whereby large savings were to be erected in the manufacture of sugar.

Officials are more optimistic than in months over the market situation.

PREPARE TO BRING FURTHER CHARGES

The Golden State Motor Co. will be prepared to bring additional charges against Walter Hodges, former salesman accused of embezzling a new Hupmobile, when he is brought to trial Aug. 14 in Superior Court at Santa Ana, an official of the firm said today. One of the new charges may be that of falsifying the name of the owner of the machine, which Hodges is accused of doing here in town before the alleged embezzlement of the machine to No. Calif. and San Diego took place.

If the fact that the machine was registered in his name is to be part of Hodges' defence it will fail, this official said. No machine of the company during F. E. Valentine's control of it has been registered in Hodges' name, officials declared, nor has he been authorized except as an agent to conduct the financing of new machines in Los Angeles or elsewhere.

Gilbert S. Donaldson of the investment firm bearing his name in Los Angeles asserted that the financing which Hodges had conducted with his firm and others in the metropolis was done in Hodges' name and that the cars involved had been registered similarly.

No-fund checks alleged to have been written by Hodges in Los Angeles, Bakersfield, San Diego and other cities have been showing up in some quantity at the offices of the Golden State Motor Co. Various individuals and firms have been communicating in person or indirectly with the motor company regarding the man.

He has retained W. I. Gilbert, general counsel in Los Angeles of the S. P. Railway, and Leanard Evans of Anaheim to defend him.

CARS DAMAGED IN COLLISION

An accident occurred this afternoon at the intersection of Center and Claudina-sts. when a Maxwell driven by Miss Jessie Coons struck a car driven by Samuel Kraemer. The Kraemer car turned south on Claudina, and Miss Coons was going east on Center-st. Both cars were considerably damaged. Fortunately no one was hurt.

INJURY CAUSES ABCESS

Ralph A. Harris of Hynes, Calif., was brot to the local sanitarium last night suffering from the result of an accident. He is said to have been shoveling, and hurt his hand, which developed an abcess.

Other new patients at the sanitarium include: Mrs. William Greeley, Anaheim; Mrs. George Seeman, Burbank.

15 OF CREW MISSING AS SCHOONER SINKS

HALIFAX, N. S., June 24.— The American schooner Puritan, which was to have been a contender for the international fisherman's trophy, sank off Sable island, according to word received here today.

Fifteen members of the crew are reported missing. Capt. Jeffry Thomas was in command of the schooner, which was manned by a crew of 22 men.

If It's from Witman's It's Good.

HOW ABOUT IT?

Why should Anaheim's police be encased in tightly buttoned coats which weigh four or five pounds and feel like 24 or 25? Why should they be made to swelter for months, and their morale half spoiled, when for a few dollars each they can obtain suits that suit the temperature, their tempers and the tempora and also mores? Members of the force are asking this question, according to friends, who say perspiration standing still contains no inspiration at all. How about it?

400 SCOUTS GET 2 WEEKS AT LAKE

Pushing preparations for a summer camp at which 400 BoyScouts of the county each will be given two weeks' vacation under Scout regime, officials of the organization are in Bear Valley today looking for a site. The camp is expected to be opened not long after the Fourth. The site will be in the general vicinity of Barton Flats. Roland B. Dye, scout executive and assistant, E. V. Teaney, already are there, and others who will go soon are D. Eyman Huff, president of the county council; Willard Seth and Leon Whitsell of Orange; Fred Newcomb and Dr. M. A. Patton of Santa Ana; E. H. Metcalf of Anaheim; and W. H. Allen of Fullerton.

Several of these men are on the site committee appointed some time ago.

DELIVER TILE FOR KRAEMER BUILDING

The first load of enameled tile for the Arnold Kraemer-bldg on E. Center-st was unloaded today. The basement under the rear half of the building is completed and the concrete floor over it is nearly finished. The steel work is going up rapidly and masons will start work shortly. It is expected that this building will go up faster than the Samuel Kraemer-bldg across the street.

Workmen will start work next week on the foundation for the city hall.

OIL KING'S BROTHER SUCCUMBS TO COLD

NORTH TARRYTOWN, N. Y., June 24.—William Rockefeller, brother of John D., died of pneumonia here early today. He had been ill one week.

Five physicians were in attendance when Rockefeller, one of the richest men in the world, expired at his home. Rockwood hall, only a short distance from the estate of his brother at Pocantico hills.

Many members of the Rockefeller family were at the bedside when the end came.

Pneumonia that developed from a cold which the brother of the oil king contracted during the rainy weather which has prevailed recently, caused his death.

Hot Weather Brings Out Rattlesnakes

The hot weather is certainly bringing out the rattlesnakes, say Anaheimers who have been up in the hills.

I. O. Curtis, back today from Silverado mine, reports that last night while sitting on the screen porch of a bunkhouse at the mining camp, he was suddenly aroused by the bloodchilling rattle of a diamond back. Looking up, he observed a good-sized rattler gliding slowly along the ledge, apparently loking for an opening thru which to enter. The campers were aroused and soon dispatched the snake with the more alacrity because recently a rattler was discovered inside a bunkhouse.

Earlier in the week, one of the miners, in searchof a burro, had to depart from a beaten path some distance. He kicked up several rattlers and says he heard the rattles of a hundred of them.

RAPS ASS'T. SALOON LEAGUE

WASHINGTON, June 23—Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, spent between $100,000,000 and $150,000,000 to obtain the passage of the prohibition amendment, Representative Tinkham of Massachusetts, Republican, declared, and attacked the Department of Justice for failing to prosecute the league under the corrupt practices act.

SNAG UPSETS BOAT IN BIG BEAR LAKE

A. A. Bennett, Former College Professor, Loses Life on Vacation Trip

A. A. Bennett, 70, of Orange, was drowned yesterday afternoon when a motor-boat containing Mr. and Mrs. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Pixley and little Miss Rosalie Jacoby, struck a stump in Big Bear lake and capsized. The body was recovered soon after the tragedy and taken to San Bernardino, and from there removed to Orange this morning by Claude N. Ellis, funeral director. The remainder of the party will arrive this afternoon from Big Bear.

The motorboat was about 40 feet from shore near the dam when the accident happened. For a few minutes the boat stuck on the stump. Mrs. Bennett and Mr. and Mrs. Pixley clung to the boat. The baby was not even wet. Rescuers from shore came in two boats almost at once. Bennett's body lay at the bottom of the lake for more than three hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett were guests of the Pixleys at their cabin home for about a week. Mrs. Arthur Jacoby, daughter-in-law of Rev. H. C. Jacoby, of Anaheim, and little daughter were also their guests. Mr. Bennett was unable to swim and when the boat overturned, he apparently pushed away from it and went down.

Mrs. Pixley is ill from water on the lungs, Mrs. Bennett is prostrated with grief and Pixley, who is an old man, is suffering from shock.

Mr. Bennett was a prominent rancher of Orange. Prior to his residence there he occupied the chair of chemistry in Ames Agricultural college, Iowa, for many years. Mrs. Bennett is also well known, being state president of the P. E. O. and also a member of the grammar school board of directors of Orange.

An inquest was held yesterday afternoon by Dr. Dickson, Riverside-co coroner. Funeral arrangements are not fully completed.

Late in the afternoon it was learned that the coroner's jury declared the tragedy an unavoidable accident.

DRILL FOR OIL AT FAITH, SOUTH DAK.

It will be of interest to many Anaheimers who formerly resided in So. Dak. to know that the derrick has been erected for Weedman Well No. 1 near Faith, S. D., on the old Sioux reservation, about 140 miles west and south of Aberdeen and near the bad lands.

I. O. Curtiss, of Anaheim has large holdings near the well, site for which was selected after noted geologists outlined an oil dome.

An oily skum has been noticed on pools of water in the vicinity ever since the country was opened up.

SUGAR UP 20 CTS PER 100 IN WEEK

The improvement in grain prices is not reflected in the price of flour, which today is costing a dollar a barrel less than a year ago at this time, according to Kitchen's Market. The current price is $8.20 against $9.20 a year back. Cane sugar continues to stiffen, at $7.10 per hundred, up 20 cents last week and 70 over last year. Eggs are a cent a dozen cheaper at 29 cents than last week and nine cents cheaper than last year. Japanese rice is 90 c higher than a year ago, but fir mnow apparently. Evaporated milk at $4.60 is unchanged from last week, but 50 cents lower than a year ago. Butter at 44 cents is a cent lower than a week ago, but up five cents over last year. Pink beans at $6.75 are a dollar cheaper than a year ago.

PIANO PUPILS IN RECITAL AT DELLMAN HOME

The pupils of Miss Bess Lenore Bennett, who has been in charge of the piano studio of Mrs. Lena Wellman, during her absence in New York, gave a recital at the lovely new Wellman home last evening. Seventy relatives and friends of the pupils enjoyed the program, which was most ably rendered, and brought satisfaction and approval to their regular instructor, Miss Wellman.

Participating in the program were Henrietta Viosca, Willis Hasson, Cecelia Lenain, Eva Wilbern, Edith Kenney, Madeline Teunseau, Augustine Lenain, Muriel Wagner, Elizabeth Parsons, Mary Louise Parsons, Bethel Elliott, Charlyn Tedrick, Rawlin Golter, Lucy Belle Morgan, Clarinda Viosca and Harriet Austin.

Miss Natalie Stanton Kilgore, contralto, of Los Angeles, gave several delightful solos, accompanied on the piano by Miss Bennett. Music was the evening plans for the summer were discussed. Miss Bennett, who has made a pleasant place for herself in Anaheim, will return to Los Angeles, to continue her instruction in classes in U. S. C.

Sew For Orphanage

More than thirty members of Lois Thimble club and the Rebekah lodge assembled in I. O. O. F. hall yesterday afternoon to put in a busy session over napkins and tea towels for the orphan's home, maintained by the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of the state, at Gilroy.

Several new mebbers were added to the club roster and a happy social time as well as a busy one ensued.

Later the afternoon hostesses, the Misses Minnie and Elizabeth Mang, and Mrs. A. J. Neiswanger served cooling refreshments of cream, home made cake and punch at the prettily decorated tables. Cosmas and anapdragons were artistically used in bouquets on each table.

Go to Camp Meeting

Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Jacoby will leave Tuesday for camp meeting of the German Methodist denomination which opens in Hollywood, and extends over the following Sunday. The camp grounds on Santa Monica and Kingsley Drive is being used this year for the last time, as the march of progress and building syptoaches the location too closely for that purpose.

The Epworth Leagues of the communities represented will be in charge of the meetings each evening and on Sunday evening, July 2, the league from the West Anaheim M. E. church will conduct services. The old people's home maintained by the denomination is near the camp grounds. Many members of the local congregation will attend several of the meetings.

Celebrates Fifth Birthday

Little Freddie Burke, who became five years of age today, was the youngest host to a few friends this afternoon at a party. After games and refreshments Mrs. Burke accompanied them to the California where they enjoyed the "movies."

Master Freddie received many pretty gifts, many from admiring relatives and friends from out of town. The little folks assisting him in making the day a thoroughly happy one were Cromwell Burke, "Bud" Burke, Dickey Jewel and Mary Emily Jewel.

Hotel Valencia Guests

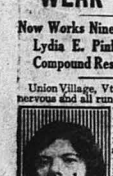

Guests at Hotel Valencia yesterday included: O. Schneider, Long Beach; E. Coombs, Los Angeles; H. Jones, Los Angeles; Dr. R. Edwards, Los Angeles; W. Deas, Los Angeles; F. C. Williams, Julian; J. G. Hargrove, Los Angeles; A. M. West, San Diego; Miss Kathaway, Los Angeles; Jack Roberts, Huntington Beach.

The Messrs Paulus and Vrooman returned from an abolone hunt in Balboa bay. They report a splendid time and plenty of fish.

WOMAN TOO WEAK TO WALK

Now Works Nine Hours a Day.—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Strength

Union Village, Vt. — "I was weak and nervous and all run-down. I could not walk across the floor without resting and I had been that way for weeks. I saw your advertisement in the paper and after taking one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt the good it was doing me and I took seven more in all. Before I finished I was able to work nine hours a day in a steam laundry. I cannot say too much in favor of your medicine. I trust all sick and suffering women will take it. It has been two years since I took it and I am strong and well." — Mrs. L. A. GUIMANN, Union Village, Vermont.

There is only one of such letters we are constantly publishing showing what Lydia E. Pinkham has done for women. Whether you work or not Mrs. Pinkham's letter should interest you.

If you get into a weak, nervous condition because of ailments peculiar to women should at once try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It will relieve you of trouble. Good health and this splendid medicine will help to keep it.

Successful Card Party

The benefit party given at the home of Mrs. Minnie Palmer yesterday afternoon was a social and a financial success, quite forty ladies taking part in the games.

Five hundrer was played around the nine tables, eight rounds being run. The interest in the game was unusual and efficient, prires being awarded to Mrs. L. F. Pomeroy, first; Mrs. E. Brus, second, and Mrs. U. S. Glaze, of Fullerton, third. No consolation prize was given.

Refreshment was served from the small tables after games. Guests from Artesia, Fullerton, Placentia, Brea, and several other nearby towns were present. The house was tastily arrayed with pink and white carnations.

Hostesses of the afternoon were the Mesdames Palmer, O. B. Baxter, Ben. Baxter and Rev. D. Wilson.

M. E. Quarterly Meting

Quarterly meeting, beginning tonight, will be held in the West Broadway M. E. church, district superintendent, Dr. J. H. Durbahn, delivering the sermon both this evening and tomorrow morning.

On tomorrow afternoon there will be an old fashioned love feast which will be thoroughly inspiring and enjoyable.

Standard Bearers Meet

Although vacations and other matters interfered somewhat with the attendance at the meeting last night of the Standard Bearers of White Temple, the social time was most pleasant. Closest attention was centered upon the lesson study, after which a short social hour was passed.

Punch, ice cream and wafers formed a collation served to the meeting.

Masons Initiate Four

Following a 6:30 supper last evening, the third degree was given to four candidates for initiation into the Masonic order. Visitors from the several nearby towns were present, fully one hundred uniting themselves at the evening meal.

City Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. George Ross and Lloyd Ross are spending two weeks at Elsinore Hot Springs.

A. H. Bircher, with brother, Harold Bircher, left over the Santa Fe today to take the remains of his wife to Kanopolis, Kansas.

Mrs. A. Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Rogers and children were called to Long Beach today by the sudden death of Ed M. Stonehill, a distant relative of Mrs. Andrews. The body will be sent to Waverly, Kan., for interment.

Mrs. Clem Potter, of North Philadelphia-st, has been entertaining her son, John C. Potter, of Hanford.

Mrs. Russell C. Davis, with a party from Long Beach, went deep sea fishing and caught a nice haul.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Dunton are spending several days at Catalina.

W. E. Alexander and H. H. and Claud Sidnam leave Wednesday on a still hunt for golden trout in the high Sierras above Bishop. They will come back when they get tired of fishing.

They will be illustrated by references to the most recent books dealing with our modern situation. Topics are:

July 2—"The American Ideal."

July 9th—"Can the World Be Saved?"

July 16—"What's Going On In the World?"

July 23—"A New View of Jesus—the Supreme Personality of History."

July 30—"The Mind of Christ."

Elect Governors of Santa Ana Y. M. C. A.

Returns of votes of subscribers for the governing board to take charge of Santa Ana's new Y. M. C. A. work show that these men were named out of the 30 nominees: Santa Ana—W. D. Baker, J. B. Baumgartner, F. C. Blauer, Alexander Brownridge, C. H. Chapman, J. A. Cranston, A. J. Crookshank, S. H. Finley, H. W. Lewis, E. B. Sprauge, W. B. Tedford and L. A. West; C. A. Miller of Tustin, H. L. Lake of Garden Grove and Eugene Grisset of Greenville.

S. H. Finley probably will call the board together for a meeting Monday evening when the board will organize.

The total collected was $232,480 of which all but $30,000, expended for a site, will go to the building and its equipment.

SERVICES TODAY FOR MRS. DEGRYSE

Relatives of the late Mrs. D. Degryse who were in Anaheim today to attend funeral services are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fleming, of Pomona; John, Will and Warren Houlihan, of Cathay, Calif.; sons of the only surviving sister of Mrs. Degryse, Miss Mary Linnen and Miss Margaret Nichlin, of Los Angeles.

Services were held this morning in St. Boniface church at 9:30, Father Brown in charge. Burial was in Holy Cross cemetery. The floral tributes sympathizing friends were exquisite and in large numbers. Pall bearers were the Messrs Ed Schneider, J. H. Baum, W. K. Sulter, Leslie Bowen, H. Bowen and Charles Reeknor.

SELECT GROVE H. S. SITE

The site for the proposed new high school building at Garden Grove is scheduled to be chosen July 5, when the trustees will meet. The $125,000 from the sale of bonds is available at the county treasury. Theodore Kistner will again submit preliminary plans.

TRUSTEES MEET JOINTLY

The trustees of Anaheim and Santa Ana plan to hold a joint session next week to discuss the outfall sewer.

Today at The California

SCENE FROM "THE PRODIGAL JUDGE"

The most lovable characters of action are found in Vaughan Kester's world-famous novel, "The Prodigal Judge." All the quaint picturesqueness of the story has been maintained in the picture. The characters were selected with great care, and the finished production has been termed "The Rembrandt of the screen." Jean Paige, Maclyn Arbuckle, Ernest Torrence and Charles Eaton head the all star cast under the direction of Edward Jose.

40,000 ACRES OF BEANS THIS YEAR

An unusually successful year for bean growers of the county is anticipated, with 40,000 acres under cultivation and a crop in sight valued at $2,150,000. Greenville, Tuthert, Smeltzer, Huntington Beach, El Toro and other districts all report conditions excellent.

W. C. Jerome, county auditor and bean grower said:

"On the San Joaquin ranch, about 17000 acres are devoted to lima beans and about 3000 acres to blackeyes. It is said that atmospheric conditions have been quite satisfactory and that the stand has been up to expectations.

"In the southeastern part of the county there are about 18,000 acres in limas. The county acreage on limas is about 35,000 acres, while that of blackeyes is something like 6,000.

"It is difficult, of course, to predict with certainty just what the money value of the crop will be, but I think it is safe to say that the limas will bring in about $2,000,000, while the blackeyes should run around $15,000, or a little more."

JORDAN'S FEATURES INCLUDE "BALANCE"

The new Jordan possesses that peculiar balance which cannot be attained in cars weighing twelve to fifteen hundred pounds more—nor in extremely light, short cars.

There is a new and exclusive Jordan motor—a dynamic bundle of fascinating power.

The body is hung low. The car hugs the road. There is no side sway—even at excessive speed.

It has a refreshing custom appearance. Square, wide-opening doors. Smart rectangular mouldings. Perfectly straight flat top edge. Distinctive fenders.

There is a new ventilator in the cowl. Instruments are grouped under glass, where you can see them.

The Jordan is lubricated by the Alemite system, with special provisions for reaching otherwise inaccessible parts. Spring shackles are silent—and will remain silent.

Everything that experts have learned has been done to attain gratifying quiet.

With such a motor car you may drive as fast as you dare—and you experience the sensation of driving quietly, within the law.

Sit all day at the wheel, and you return without fatigue—ready to go again.

Quick action is necessary if you would have your Jordan promptly.

PAY $10 FINE FOR BURNING RUBBISH

West Brothers of So. Los Angeles-st paid a fine of $25 this morning to City Recorder Kuchel. A complaint was filed against them yesterday by Dean Hassen, fire chief, charging them with burning rubbish within 10 feet of a building without an incinerator. They entered a plea of guilty. Judge Kuchel issued a general warning because of the danger during hot weather, and says that if any are found guilty in his court they will be fined.

Other fines assessed by Judge Kuchel were: G. B. Lane, speeding, $5; S. Buigi, turning in middle of block, $5; E. R. Osborne, speeding, $5; W. Reed, speeding, $5; H. Eolke, speeding $5.

ENDORSE BOULDER PROJECT

WASHINGTON, June 24.— Endorsement of the Boulder Canyon dam project was given before the House committee on irrigation of arid lands by Gray Silver, speaking in behalf of the American Farm Bureau Federation; Dr. W. Irwin, president of the Calif. Farm Bureau Federation; Mayor S. C. Evans of Riverside, and W. J. Carr of Pasadena, and J. S. Sickerseal, president of the Imperial irrigation district.

GOMPERS RE-ELECTED

CINCINNATI, June 24.— Samuel Gompers was re-elected president of the American Federation of Labor for the 41st time. Gompers led a fight against a resolution urging the federal government to recognize the soviet government of Russia.

THEATRES

"The Prodigal Judge," starring Jean Paige and Maclyn Arbuckle, is seen again today at the California. There are also other features. The saxophone six is to be seen at the California Monday.

Rooky (Snuffy) Lewis, and his sunkist girls, are at the Grand theatre today in a musical revue.

State News Briefs

William Randolph Hearst will replace Hearst Hall at Univ. of Calif., which was burned, with a permanent fireproof structure, to be erected as soon as plans can be prepared.

Rabb, Hauser, Comer and Casad bonds in the Colorado river may be cut thru to guard the Palo Verde valley from being flooded. Arizona and California have agreed to the work.

The Los Angeles city council has approved the widening of Tenth-st for a crosstown boulevard. The public works committee of the council will consider the project next Tuesday. The council also has decided on a special city election to take place probably early in August to approve a bond issue of $12,800,000 for an outfall sewer.

Suspected of murder, nine holdups, a dozen auto thefts, burglary, etc., seven young men have been arrested in Los Angeles.

Edwin O. Edgerton, former head of the state railroad commission, will speak on "Public Utility Law" at the meeting of the American Bar Ass'n in San Francisco Aug. 7-8. Hugh Gordon, attorney for the commission, will speak on "Preservation of Balance between Federal and State Powers of Public Utility Regulation."

Mayor George E. Cryer of Los Angeles has come out for the proposed $10,000,000 bond issue to carry out the farm and home site act in heif of ex-service men.

Durants Are Eighth In 3 Months' Sales

In keeping with this wonderful achievements of the past, W. C. Durant, master builder of automotive products, has made another outstanding record.

The first three months of 1922 show that the production of the new Durant car was great enough to bring the standing of that car in eighth position in the number of cars manufactured. This includes the production of Ford, along with the many other old established factories manufacturing automobiles.

This information was first contained in "Automotive Industries," gathered by their research department. It is an achievement that has attracted attention from all parts of the world, and the fact that Durant showed such a wonderful start during the first quarter is only a forecast of what may be expected before the year is gone.

With four plants in the United States and one factory in Canada producing cars this summer, Durant will no doubt show the world that he can build as many, if not more, automobiles than any one man engaged in that business today.

The records of Durant as a builder of automobiles have been the means of adding more enthusiasm to the hundreds of dealers throughout the west in giving their best cooperation in marketing the latest product of W. C. Durant.

Every part of a clock built by an Italian was made of bamboo except one lead weight and two glass gongs on which the hours are struck.

Essex Owners Once Essex Owners Always

Would you buy the same make of car again, if you decided to get a new car? The answer to this question is the real test of what owners think of their cars, says H. L. Groves of Townsend & Medbery, Hudson and Essex distributors.

A great national magazine made that inquiry of American motorists. From the results a percentage table was worked out. In the very front line of cars which their owners were thoroughly glad they had bought was ESSEX.

In fact, only one other car—and that a machine of higher price—had a larger percentage (slightly) of owners who stood up and said they were ready to repeat.

What greater evidence of satisfaction can be devised or imagined? In your first purchase you may be attracted by a car's appearance, impressed by a skillful demonstration, or persuaded by the advice of some well-meaning friend.

But when an owner has tried out his car in every kind of weather; when he has driven it through hard going as well as good; when he has seen how it acts after a year's testing or more; when he has been able to make an actual comparison between his car and those of his neighbors, and after all stand up and says he is satisfied—there you have evidence of genuine value and satisfaction.

This enthusiasm of Essex owners has long been known to the Essex organization. Essex owners continuously tell us that the Essex is the kind of car they want, quite regardless of price, size or rated power. They like what it can do, and the way it stands up.

The swallow's mouth, in proportion to its size, is larger than that of any other bird.

SPORTS

HUNT GETS DECREE OVER JACK McCOY

Willie Hunt, of Fresno, was given the decision over Jack McCoy, of Los Angeles, at the Anaheim Athletic club arena last night in the final of another fast boxing bill.

The program was real fighting from start to finish. Manager Billy Darnley who acted as referee did not have to break the boxers once but he did wear himself out attempting to keep out of their way.

In the opinion of many bugs the most exciting encounter of the evening was the semi-final when the diminutive Ted Levin, of Los Angeles, with his big wallop, won the decision over Leonard Lee, of Denver. It was a mighty good bout.

Ortis Espinosa, of Anaheim, scored the only knockout of the evening when he floored Elmer Foley of Buena Park in the second round. Foley was game but lacked the steam and experience.

Tony Ross and Babe Orton put up a mighty good number, fighting all the way. Orton showed that he can assume the aggressive instead of merely stand punishment, as many bugs had believed his principal forte.

Bud Baker, of Orange and Bobbie Braver, of La Habra, were given a draw in one of the best clashes of the evening. Both boys were smiling the entire route and each won a black eye. They are game birds.

In the curtain raiser, Tex Jones, of Long Beach, and Billy Russell, of Anaheim, were evenly matched and fought four good rounds to a draw.

Several challenges were issued and the fans urged that several of the fighters appear again on next week's bill. Manager Darnley promised to so arrange it.

MANY ROOTERS TO ACCOMPANY ELKS

Despite the heat, a large crew of local rooters are expected to accompany Anaheim Elks baseball team to Corona tomorrow for the second league game with Riverside.

The local lineup will be about the same as last Sunday when Pomona was overwhelmed.

Anaheim K. of C.s will meet Santa Ana on the local field otmorrow instead of at Delhi as first announced.

START CLEMENTINE PAVING PLAN SOON

City council will probably start the ball rolling for paving of Clementine-st from Cypress-st to Broadway at the next meeting. It now has juris-diction in the matter, the time for filing formal protest by property-owners having passed without legal objection.

Because of the shortage in pipe for water mains and sewers which must be laid first, and the further fact that the contract awarded for such this week will not be delivered until October, it is probable that little if any more paving will be done before next spring, city officials intimated today.

JEWEL PATHE WILL LEAD BALBOA PARADE

Thirty models, headed by Jewel Pathe, who brought the models to Anaheim for the Fashion Shows, will give "The Parade of Paris" at Bal-boa Sunday, beginning at 2:30 p. m. Motion picture students at Holly-wood will compose largely those se-lected. Four prizes, including a hand-some loving cup, will be awarded. Mit Phillips of Santa Ana, has de-clined to act as a judge on the ground that the bathing suits to be worn will not be modest.

CHAPMAN ERECTS 5-STORY BUILDING

Fullerton will have a five-story office building, announces C. C. Chapman, who has placed initial order for structural steel. M. Eugene Durfee is in charge of plans and specifications.

It has been known for some time that Mr. Chapman contemplated a business establishment building at the corner of Spadra-rd and Wilshire-ave having made the promise at the time the new hotel plans were on, but it had not been announced that it would be of this magnitude.

The frontage along Spadra-rd is 70 feet, and along Wilshire-ave 120 feet, making it the most imposing business structure in Orange-co. Mr. Chapman plans to give the lower floor to mercantile space, and the upper floors for business offices.

FULLERTON SHIPS 31 CARS THIS WEEK

Thirty-one cars of oranges were shipped from Fullerton this week. Benchley Fruit Co. reported 11 cars, Fullerton Mutual Orange Ass'n, three and Placentia Orange Growers Ass'n 17.

J. C. ALUMNI ELECTS

The first meeting of Fullerton J. C. alumni was held last night at Fullerton H. S. in the second court of the Domestic Science and Art building. There was a short program, and business meeting. A banquet was served. Officers were elected for the forthcoming year as follows: Jeanie Fridd, president; Rebecca Burdorf, vice president; Dorothy Porter, secretary; Sanley Falkenstein, treasurer.

INQUEST OVER OILMAN

That A. N. Logsden, 40, met death from a fall of 55 feet off a derrick on the Richfield Oil Co. lease near Brea was the verdict of a coroner's jury at the funeral parlors of Angus McAulay late yesterday.

Funeral services were held this afternoon, a Christian Science reader officiating. Interment was in Loma Vista cemetery. The decedent's mother from Colinga was present.

FULLERTON BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. Simon Haverstick leave tomorrow over the Santa Fe for their farm, Ill., and Indianapolis for a visit.

Mrs. Sarah Hurd left yesterday over the Santa Fe for Kansas City to visit relatives.

LOCAL RITUALISTIS TEAM IS DEFEATED

After defeating the ritualistic team at Pasadena, to say nothing about Alhambra and Huntington Park, the team of Anaheim Lodge No. 1345 of the Elks last night bit the dust before that of Riverside. It was a three-cornered contest and took place at Pomona, with Redlands the other copetitor. Redlands came out third and the Anaheim team second.

Two past elaxted rulers of Pomona and one of Alhambra served as judges.

But for this elimination—the defeat was the first to be suffered by the local jeam—the Anaheimers might have marched nearer to victory.

The contest, which is state-wide, still has several weeks to run. It is a yearly affair, in which all of the 56 lodges of California are expected to compete and usually do.

The local teams consisted of the officers. Exalted Ruler, L. P. Bonnat; Lead Knight, H. H. Benjamin; loyal knight, Thomas Osborne; lecturing knight, F. B. Callan; inner guard, Louis Jacobs; chaplain, Leonard Evans; tiler, Fred James.

SING OPERA IN HILLS

HOLLYWOOD, June 24—Ready to start staging the first great, out-of-door operatic spectacle since "Aida" was given at the base of the pyramids 30 years ago, Alexander Bevani, noted operatic empressario, is in Hollywood.

Bizet's opera "Carmen" will be sung under the stars one July night by 1,000 in the natural "bowl" in the Hollywood hills.

The cast will be drawn from famous operahouses.

Marguerite Silva, considered by some of the greatest Carmen on the modern operatic stage, will sing the title role.

GOVERNMENT QUITS MATHER AIR FIELD

SACRAMENTO, June 24. — The long grasses will again grow on Mather field and the sputter of starting airplane engines will cease, according to Maj. B. M. Atkinson, commandant, who reports he was ordered to demobilize and vacate.

FLOOD DANGER OVER

YUMA, June 24.—Dangers of floods from the high water condition of the Colorado river passed today when the weather bureau official announced that the crest had been reached and the water was now slowly dropping.

ACCUSE SCHOOLGIRL

SAN JOSE, June 24.—A warrant charging assault with a deadly weapon was sworn out today against Irene Granstedt, 14-year-old schoolgirl, in connection with the shooting of Harold Galloway here recently.

EXAGGERATE CUT IN 1922 ORANGE CROP

From September last year to May, inclusive, So. Calif. shipped 21,558 carloads of oranges and northey Cal. 5,491 carloads, compared with 206,273 and 6,709 in the same period the previous year. In other words, the expected were cut in the crop appears to have been exaggerated. While the crop is the smallest in the last seven years, with the exception of 1918, it is only about 21 per cent less than that of the year before in merchantable fruit.

These are the official figures of the exchange, which confirms the previous report that small sizes largely are to blame for the cut in the estimate of fruit to be shipped after June 1 to 5,000 cars or less.

Florida's shipments during the nine months mentioned were: Oranges 18,068 cars against 20,580 in the corresponding period previously; grapefruit, 14,830 compared with 12,927.

Porto Rico's shipments of oranges and grapefruit combined were 1,652 cars in the period against 1,778 previously.

The grand total of shipments from all three was 61,599 against 68,266 cars.

GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, June 24. (Spl.) The Vacational Bible school opened Monday with a splendid attendance which has been increasing daily. At the present time is an enrollment of 149 pupils, divided as follow:

Thirty-five in the kindergarten, 24 in the primary department and 80 in the junior and intermediate class.

The teachers are as follows: Kindergarten, Mrs. F. A. Monroe, and Miss Edna Beardsley; Junior and Intermediate, Mrs. Thomason, Mrs. D. C. Hoege, Mrs. P. M. German, Miss Chaffee, and eRv. S. W. Gage.

Walter Clark, who for several months past has been employed in the Garden Grove Meat Market, has resigned to accept a position with the Anaheim Beef and Provision Co., as salesman, and entered upon his duties the first of the week.

The splendid patronage given the Palace Market on the opening day Saturday, together with the many complimentary remarks relative to the fine new building and equipment, was most gratifying to the management, Messrs New and Lyman, who have spared no expense in giving to Garden Grove a thoroughly modern and up-to-date market.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell arrived home Thursday from an extended motor trip to various points of interest in Oregon. Mr. Mitchell also made a trip into Montana where he recently acquired a five hundred acre ranch, to look after his interests there.

A birthday party was given Miss Eleanor Wisner at her home on Acacia-st, Monday afternoon, in celebration of her ninth birthday anniversary. The afternoon was delightfully spent at various games followed by refreshments of ice cream and cake. The guests were: Vivian Ladd, Agneta Wheeler, Jean Edmunds, Winifred Schneider, Marguerite Reafsnyder, Estelle Crowe, Grace Junkin, Ruth Ryan, Martha Kelsey, and Mary Jane Bogardus, a visiting guest from Mason City, Iowa.

Mrs. Eva Park of Los Angeles has been a guest at the home of Rev. and Mrs. B. Silkwood the past week. Mrs. Park and Rev. Silkwood are cousins.

A very pretty wedding was solmnized at the home of Mrs. S. E. Chaffee Wednesday evening, When Mrs. Chaffee's niece, Miss Marjorie Helm, and Mr. H. Newell Steward of Los Angeles, were united in marriage. About 60 relatives and friends of the contracting party being present.

The house was beautifully decorated with ferns, palms, and spring flowers, pink predominating in the color scheme.

The bride's gown was of white canton crepe, and she carried a shower boquet of brides' roses, and lily-of-the-valley. She was attended by her sister, Miss Isabelle Helm, who wore a dress of apricot canton crepe, and carried a boquet of cream colored roses.

The bride and grom are both graduates of the U. S. C., as is also the officiating clergyman, Rev. Arthur Bolton.

BEGIN PROBE OF MINERS' MASSACRES

HERRIN, Ill., June 24—The military commission ordered by Governor Len Small to investigate the Herrin massacre arrived here today from Chicago. The commission, headed by Maj. Gen. Milton J. Foreman, went immediately to the scene of the wholesale slaughter or non-union miners six miles east of here.

Sending of troops into the troubled district is "unnecessary and ill-advisable," local authorities informed the military investigating commission. Assurances were given by Mayor A. T. Pace and Hugh Willis, leader of the 10,000 miners in the district, that no new outbreak of violence was contemplated or likely. Sending of the troops, Willis and Pace declared, would only complicate the situation and might result in provoking hostilities.

VOL. XXV—NO. 273 Anaheim, California, Saturday, June 24, 1922 TWENTY-SIXTH YEAR

CROWD WILL ATTEND AUTO TRADES MEET

Scores of automobile distributors and sub-distributors, particularly members of the Orange-co Auto Trades Ass'n, will attend the banquet and convention of the southern division of the State Auto Trades association,to be held at the Hotel Maryland on Monday and Tuesday. Three such division meetings are held during the year; one for the northern section of California, another for the central and a third for the southern.

The banquet, to be held at the Hotel Maryland, is expected to bring together some of the leading lights in the industry and distribution in the southland. Among the speakers at the meetings will be Percy Chamberlain ,formerly of Denver, who is credited with inaugurating the flat rate system on repairs to higher-priced cars. Chamberlain is a writer for automobile magazines and an unusually live man.

Another speaker will be Bob Martland, secretary-manager of the state organization.

It is hoped to obtain Gordon Lee, head of the automobile division of the United States department of commerce, for an address on the use of autos in commerce. The Auto Club of So. Cal. also will be represented.

Various problems and improvements, including the new string of headlight stations to be established by the State Auto Trades Ass'n, under authorization by the State Motor Vehicle Dept., some of which already have been opened in the northern part of the state around the bay region, will be discussed.

The Motor Vehicle Dept. is expected to have a speaker present, as usual.

STAGE CO. ASKS DAMAGES

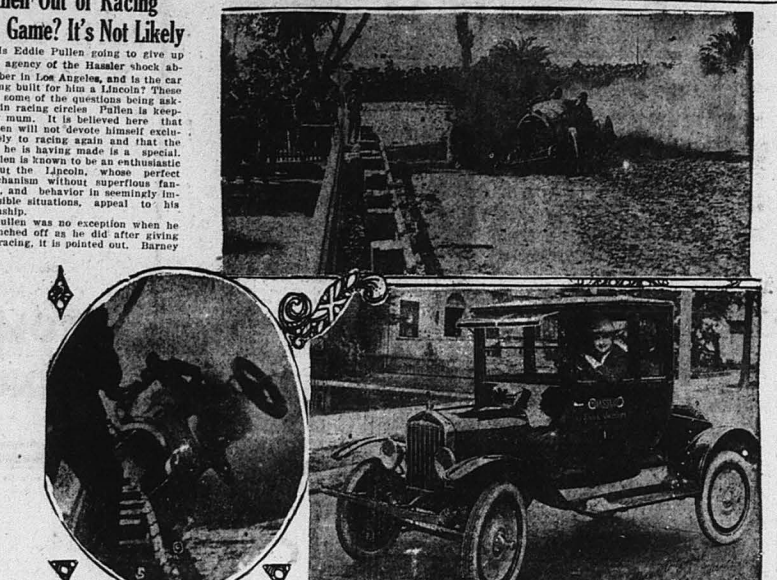

July 1, beginning at nine a. m., has been set for the trial of Miss Edna Love and O. Divers, both of Los Angeles, who are made the defendants in a civil suit for damages filed by the Crown Stage Line. A. B. Watson, president of the line, asks $114.09 damages which he alleged was suffered by a stage that lost two wheels in a collision near Westminster April 16. Clyde Bishop is attorney for Watson and S. B. Kaufman for Miss Love and Divers.

A charge of reckless driving was dismissed on motion of Deputy District Attorney D. G. Wattlin by a jury in Judge J. B. Cox's court.

Pullen Out of Racing Game? It's Not Likely

Is Eddie Pullen going to give up the agency of the Hassler shock absorber in Los Angeles, and is the car being built for him a Lincoln? These are some of the questions being asked in racing circles Pullen is keeping mum. It is believed here that Pullen will not devote himself exclusively to racing again and that the car he is having made is a special. Pullen is known to be an enthusiastic about the Lincoln, whose perfect mechanism without superfluous fancies, and behavior in seemingly impossible situations, appeal to his manship.

Pullen was no exception when he branched off as he did after giving up racing, it is pointed out. Barney

Oldfield is making tires, and good ones, though he still, at least, attends the principal races.

Caleb Bragg, another racer, is now a millionaire experimenting with airplanes.

Cliff Durant, who entered the Phoenix and Santa Monica road races to prove the stamina of the Chevrolet now is president of the Durant Motor Company, which recently, by the way, purchased the Elizabethtown, N. J. Willys plant.

Eddies Rickenbacker, priemer ace during the war, heads a company making a car named after him, and it's a good machine.

Earl Cooper, interested in the Stutz like Pullen hasn't been able to keep away from the racing game, and broke the world's speedway record for 25 miles with a stock chassis at Cotati recently.

DUNTON'S SALES MOUNT

George Dunton, Ford, Fordson and Lincoln distributor, continues to smash records this month. To date he has delivered 20 new and 22 used Fords, four new and one used tractor, and a Lincoln phaeton to H. E. Becker, of the Union Oil Co. at Brea. He has 25 unfilled orders for Fords.

Two Shops Merged In Automotive Electric

The equipment of two shops combined, and the whole thing in charge of a man with 10 years' experience with the electrical parts and system of automobiles and a life-long general electrical experience. This describes the new Automotive Electric Company which G. H. Ennis has purchased.

Ennis has taken the name of the concern and dropped the other, which was the Ennis Electric Service.

The new proprietor claims that he has the most efficient battery charging set in the city, and can test any kind of a battery and re-charge it if necessary. Besides the agency for the Exide and U. S. L. batteries, Ennis has taken over the distribution of the things carried by the former concern, including genuine parts for the Remy, Delco, Atwater Kent, Northeast, Gray & Davis, Bosch, Splitdorf, and Simms Huff. The shop is the official service station for the Autolite, Bijur, Briggs & Stratton, Connecticut, Eiseman Westinghouse and Tillotson carburetors.

Ennis has built up an excellent business since he came here several months ago. Until recently his shop was located in the building of Turton & Lumsdon, Maxwell and Chalmers distributors.

Goodyear Cords Make Good Shock Absorbers

"Out of Placerville, California, motor trucks on Goodyear cord tires maintain an express service to and from Sacramento, 50 miles distant, and, in the summer they also cross the summit of the Sierras to Lake Tahoe, 61 miles away, over gravel roads decidedly rough in places.

"The line is operated by the El Dorado Transportation Company, the owner of which, P. H. Fitzlaff, reports many advantages obtained from the Goodyear cord tires that have succeeded the solid tires previously used," the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. of Calif., says, according to Nenno & Bock, local distributors.

"The cushioning and nimbleness of the pneumatics enable the hauling of delicate vegetables and other perishables. The slowness of solid tires formerly shut out this source of revenue. Large quantities of eggs were broken on the solid tires, but very little damage of this kind occurs on the pillowy Goodyear cord tires. A noticeable difference also has been noted in the slinkage of livestock hauled to a slaughter house in Sacramento—hogs and cattle now arrive more smoothly, quickly and hence in better condition.

"On the easy-rolling Goodyear cord tires the trucks are sparing in use of gasoline and oil—one averaging 7½ miles per gallon of gasoline and 200 miles per gallon of oil. And the pneumatics save truck-wracking shocks and resulting repairs; one truck has covered 45,000 miles without repair expense. In other words, the record is quite typical of the general experience of rural users of Goodyear cord tires."

The Bob White Company this week delivered a Nash four to Charles Roney of Fullerton.

SIGNPOSTING WORK BOOSTING TRAVEL

There are thousands of automobile parties entering Southern California at the present time over the transcontinental highways, according to a report just issued by the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Motorists of this part of the state are themselves largely responsible for this unusual activity in cross-continent touring on account of their support accorded to sign-posting operations which have so marked the "long, long trails" that he who tours may read as he runs.

Five of the long trails are at this time in full blast, discharging travel into the counties of the southern part of the state. Over the Bankhead-Borderland route through the states of the south motor travel is pouring into San Diego and thence distributing itself over the state.

The National Old Trails Highway through the middle west is discharging heavy travel into the central counties. The Arrowhead Trail is bringing its heavy quota from the Lincoln Highway at Salt Lake City, while the Pacific Highway is attracting hundreds every month from the northwestern corner of the United States.

Recent signposting work carried on by the Auto club, which is supported by the motorists of Southern California is considered by state authorities as the greatest stimulus to the heaviest long distance motoring trekking ever seen in America.

Although the club sign-posting system has apparently reached a state of perfection, according to many observers, it is stated by officials of the organization that extensive improvements are planned for the near future.

Studebaker Man Sweeps Rival's Floor

Joseph Donovan of Boston enjoys the distinction of having attracted probably the largest and most distinguished crowd that ever gathered to watch any man wield a broom. It was so great, in fact, that it tied up traffic in the city of Cleveland for an hour.

In sweeping the Cleveland salesroom floor, Donovan, who is the Studebaker dealer in Boston, carried out one of the novel stipulations of a sales contest which his forces had arranged with the Studebaker sales organization in Cleveland. It was agreed that the loser journey to the city of the winner, armed with a mammoth broom, and that he not only perform the sweeping act but also play the role of host at a dinner to the victorious sales forces.

Among the prominent Clevelanders in attendance at the dinner were: Mayor Fred. Kohler; Paul J. Lamb, director of law; L. E. Skeel, prosecuting attorney; Thomas G. Martinee, director of public safety; W. E. Greenland, former lieutenant-governor of Ohio; F. H. Goff, president Cleveland Trust Co.; Charles Farnsworth, vice-president Union Trust Co., and Frank A. Shepherd, president Home Savings and Trust Co. From the Studebaker headquarters in South Bend, those in attendance included F. S. Fish, chairman of the

Studebaker Internal Hot Spot Is Unique

Of the many improvements and inventions embodied in this engine, the ingenious arrangement of intake manifold and Internal hot spot for obtaining maximum power from low-grade fuels—a Studebaker invention fully covered by patents—deserves and will command the greatest attention and the widest interest, says Harry D. Riley, northern Orange-co. Studebaker distributor.

The power derived from an internal combustion engine results from the explosive force of the ignited gas against the top of the piston. This force is created by the expansion of the gas when its temperature is suddenly raised by the chemical re-action of combustion, which is commonly called explosion. Combustion or explosion is induced by the application of an electric spark to a highly sensitive and unstable gas. It is obvious that this explosive force, and the consequent power of the engine, depends largely upon the quantity of gas present in the combustion chamber when ignition takes place, and that this quantity varies directly with the temperature of the gas and is greatest when heat is sufficient for complete vaporization, but no more.

The application of heat to the intake manifold through stoves, ordinary types of hot spots, etc., as com-

VIEW OWN COUNTRY FIRST, CLUB URGES

See your own county first, Mr. Motorist.

Road conditions for mid-summer touring throughout Southern California are reported good by the touring bureau of the Automobile club of Southern California.

This is true particularly in regard to the routes leading to the various resort sections of the southern counties, and not forgetting the national parks which include Sequoia and General Grant as well as Yosemite.

Every county at the present time, says the Auto club, has its own pleasure spot, and motorists are urged to patronize these local resorts as much as possible.

The club is urging a "see your county first" campaign throughout Southern California, just as the sentiment has grown to see America first. It is pointed out that after the auto owners of each county become thoroughly acquainted with the beauties of their own section, so that they can talk intelligently about them, then it will be time enough to fly to other environments.

Many motorists, it is said, do not know a thing about the beauties their own county has to offer, and they always think that a greater joy lies "just over the hill". To discount this growing unrest the Auto club is urging the See Your County First idea locally, so that the entire United States may come to know Southern California from the enthusiasm of its own residents. This is best promoted by close co-operation with the residents of each county working in harmony, it is pointed out.

After you learn your own county, then see Southern California as a whole, say the club officers.

BUICK MECHANISM CORRECT ALWAYS

Perhaps the biggest advantage in buying a Buick car is that you get a Buick valve-in-head motor and properly related charsis. Next to that is the range of selection which enables you to choose the type of car that exactly fills your needs as to passenger capacity and other service requirements, says Bill Goodrum, Buick distributor.

Buick engineers have kept one point constantly in mind in designing both the sixes and fours; namely, that no matter for what purpose a car is to be used, to give perfect satisfaction it must be thoroughly sound mechanically.

And that accounts for the correctness of the new four-cylinder cars. In mechanical excellence, the fours are the equal of the sixes; in appearance, they possess the same beauty, the same graceful lines and refinements.

While Model 22-Four-34 is intended for a two-passenger roadster, it can accommodate three comfortably, so roomy and spacious is the driving compartment. Ample storage space directly behind the seat, as well as beneath the rear deck, makes room for personal and business effects.

The inclined windshield affords clear vision and prevents the elements beating in between the sections or along the cowl. This feature, with the tailored side curtains that open annd close with the doors, affords comfort and protection nearly equal to that of a closed car in inclement weather.

From leather upholstery to the smallest details, it has everything that can be asked for in a car of its type. As in the case of all Buick four-cylinder cars, the roadster is equipped with 31x4 straight side cord tires.

U. S. BUREAU USES AJAX CORD TIRES

"A good tire like an old friend wears well. We have made lots of friends with the new Ajax tires. They will become an old friend to you if you try them."

So says James, the Vulcanizer.

With the best Para rubber obtainable in their composition, and a carcass with layers of pure rubber alternating with layers of fabric, this tire can withstand even extraordinary stone bruises. A Dodge purchaser tried out 16 different tires on the same model and found the Ajax the most satisfactory of them all. The Ajax ranks high with the Federal bureau of standards, which repeatedly has purchased them for use in the Canal Zone.

LOT OF ROAD WORK IN COUNTY

The north half mile of the mile of road improvement between Buena Park and Northam Station was completed this morning and part of the detour abolished. George Curtis, the Los Angeles contractor, is expected to finish the work next Tuesday, according to county Engineer J. L. McBride.

Next Monday Wells & Bressler of Santa Ana will finish pouring the concrete for the three miles of new paving on the Bolsa boulevard between Santa Ana and Huntington Beach. The road will be open again in three weeks or sooner.

The two miles of road on the Huntington Beach boulevard between the Westminster and Talbert boulevards will be completed within two weeks.

The paving of the two and one-half miles between El Modena and the County park is progressing fast and pouring will be finished next Tuesday.

More graveling of roads is being done by the county engineer's office. The strips of road include one of half a mile south of Cypress, completed; Holland-ave between Orangethorpe-ave and the Fullerton city limits, to be started on Monday; and East-st between the same limits, to be finished very soon.

The State highway between Tulliver's corner and Irvine Station has been closed, causing a three-mile detour.

Work on the west approach to the Olive bridge, a short but annoying pplece, will be started Tuesday, says McBride.

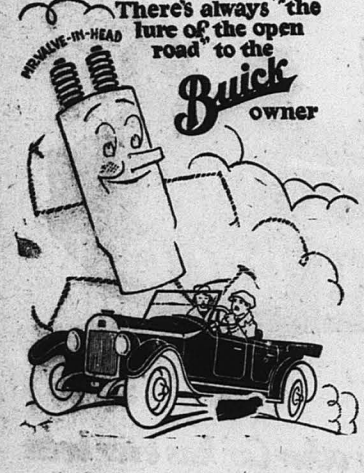

This week the bridge over the old Anaheim road to Long Beach, crossing the San Gabriel, was completed and the road thrown open to traffic again. This is one of the bridges that went out during last winter's floods. Three small bridges now are being constructed, one near El Toro over Toro creek and two over Aliso creek.

TO LOWER MODJESKA GRADE

It will be good news to autoists to learn that the 35 per cent grade on Modjeska hill, from Madame Modjeska's home, will be cut nine per cent and gravelled by County Engineer J. L. McBride. The grade is more than a quarter of a mile long.

There's always "the lure of the open road" to the Buick owner

Let's Go!

It's time to go. By golly the sun's shining at last and every last car owner is getting ready to take to the open road for the spring and summer months.

How about you? Will you be numbered amongst those satisfied, happy Buick owners?

There's no time like the present to buy one. Remember there's thousands and thousands of miles of happiness on the open road when you own a Buick.

And don't forget that—when you buy it here—YOU BUY SERVICE with it.

Studebaker

Motor Cars Are

Built Better

than cars that cost more—

A careful examination of the construction of Studebaker cars will convince you that they have no duplicate in value in their respective price class.

For instance, the machining of the crankshaft and connecting rods on all surfaces is a manufacturing practice that is found only on costlier cars.

This particular operation is mainly responsible for the fine balance of Studebaker motors and their remarkable freedom from vibration at all speeds. It also has an important bearing on the wearing quality of the cars and on its long-lived dependable service.

The exceptional values in a Studebaker is possible because practically every part that goes into the car is manufactured complete in Studebaker's own factories which ARE THE MOST MODERN IN THE WORLD. Parts-makers profits are practically eliminated. Important savings through better methods and bigger volume, permit greater value to the buyer.

From the standpoint of SHREWD INVESTMENT you should find out why Studebaker offers so much more for your money in performance, service and economy.

Studebaker equipment includes ventilator (best accessory ever installed on any automobile); thief proof transmission lock, reducing theft insurance 15 to 20 per cent; cord tires and many others.

Please let us show a Studebaker to you before you buy your new car.

MAXWELL MODELS, 1922, ARE CHANGED

The hard and fast rule of keeping a model or make of car unchanged until the new year is being broken repeatedly this year. Turton & Lumsden, for instance, Maxwell and Chalmers distributors, this wek received a Maxwell touring car from Los Angeles with Timken bearings in the front wheels, a new improvement, and other improvements are said to be in the offering.

The local firm points out that it is just this sort of progressiveness that has made the car popular alike in California and Maine, Minnesota and Louisiana. The car's gain in sales in California is becoming so great that the Union Motors, Inc., So. Cal. distributors, believe the demand will exceed the supply soon.

"Word that we have received from William Robert Wilson president of the Maxwell Motor Corporation, shows, however, that the demand throughout the entire country just as great for the Maxwell models as it is here," said H. L. Turton of Turton & Lumsdon. "He advises us that during the first quarter of this year an increase in production of 340 per cent over last year did not take care of the demand, and 2,500 employees have been added, to the factory payroll, he said, to increase the capacity output.

Further than this, it is expected that June will exceed even April and May, the record months, in Maxwell sales, and from local indications, we are sure that this condition will exist in California. The first four months of this year in Southern California, showed Maxwell with an increase of approximately 450 per cent and in Los Angeles city, including Hollywood, an increase of almost 400 per cent, in sales over the same period as last year and in sixth position in registrations.

"This, we believe, is one of the most remarkable sales records that has ever been brought to light and even more interesting is the fact that the demand increases as more of the cars get into the hands of owners who are enthusiastic over its performance, as nothing could speak more highly of the Maxwell product."

Authur Cohen, besides being the youngest and one of the most discriminating of Orange County jewelers, youngest Shriner in California jurisdiction, and good fellow around Kiwanis and busy with other bustling social activities, now rides in a Dodge sedan.

The hustling young "Jewel Box" proprietor couldn't quite make up his mind which car to buy, until Chas. Turner, salesman for Charles H. Mann, Dodge agent backed one of the Dodge Brothers beauties up to the curb and hooked up with the Cohen family for a little drive. Cohen brought his trusty check book along, yielded to the car's charms, and wrote out a check in full payment. The purposeful look in his bright young face showed that the writing of the check was a real pleasure.

"It's about the neatest job I've seen, and I just couldn't resist joining the innumerable caravan of delighted Dodge sedan owners", chuckled the enterprising jeweler. The equipage was immediately covered to the hilt with Auto Club of California insurance.

board; A. R. Erskine, president, and H. A. Biggs, vice-president, who acted as toastmaster.

Donovan's arrival in Cleveland was marked by dramatic incidents. As he stepped off the Pullman, with a great broom over his shoulder, he was given a welcome by the Studebaker band and members of the Cleveland retail organization. Headed by the band, the car carrying the winners and losers of the contest, and 79 other Studebaker cars with appropriate banners as well as brooms front and rear, they paraded through the city streets.

In the evening Donovan entertained the winning organization at dinner. Speakers included Mayor Kohler and Messrs. Fish, Erskine, Goff, Murnane and Donovan. In his talk Goff emphasized the fact that the public and the bankers of the country are recognizing the motor car as the method of modern transportation, and that it is making for a better citizenship by improving the public health through getting people out into the open. The Cleveland organization presented a silver loving cup to both Murnane and Donovan. Biggs, in behalf of The Studebaker Corporation, presented Murnane with a beautiful watch in recognition of the month's record.

Promptly at 9 o'clock the following morning the parade formed in front of the Cleveland Hotel. Headed by the band, and with 80 cars in line, the procession made for the Studebaker salesroom, where Donovan pulled off his coat, rolled up his sleeves and gave the floor a real sweeping.

Nash Springs Unique Feature for Comfort

The Nash car, in addition to its other merits, is one built for comfort, the Bob White Company, distributors for the Nash and Franklin, point out.

One of the outstanding features of the greater Nash six is its entirely new and revolutionary type of easy riding springs.

Next in importance to the engine itself, the springs not only govern the riding comfort of the passengers, but the life of the chassis as well.

The difference in riding comfort (and in car life) between the ordinary type of springs and this new type is briefly explained.

The car is equipped with ordinary springs pounds into the hole, rebounds out and keeps on pounding along until its springs come back to normal. The Nash rolls in and out of the hole without the suggestion of violence or continued pounding.

The Nash springs consist of a master-leaf, an increased number of thinner, more flexible leaves, and a rebound plate. When small bumps occur only the flexible ends of the spring are effected—and the car rolls along with smooth, easy motion. When the Nash encounters a big bump the entire spring is depressed and then the rebound plate comes into play. Its are is opposite that of the other leaves (see dotted lines) so that on the rebound it acts as a snubber, meets and softens the recoil.

Altnow Service Is of Square Deal Sort

W. E. Altnow, of the Independent Battery station, local dealers for the Columbia battery, states that his policy can be sumed up in a few short words—these words being a "Square Deal."

Speaking of battery service he states: "It was only a short time ago when battery service was given outside in front of one's place of business. There was no nice, cozy driveway to go in; no systematized work on the part of the battery men. It was a go-as-you!-please proposition, like the old-fashioned barber shop.

"But what save you today? Every man is served in turn at our service station; it is all done inside; the time of inspection and refilling has been minimized so that it only takes an average of seven minutes for this service. Changing, changing of batteries, the hundred and one things which go to make up battery service has been so systematized that your battery is all fixed up before you know it."

FRANKLIN CAMEL IN SEQUOIA PARK

A bare two hundred and fifty miles from Los Angeles lies the Southland's great national park—Sequoia—a heritage to be handed down into the ages as the playground of the people, its magnificent forests, without compare in all the world, unspoiled by vandal hands.

Just east of Sequoia the mighty ridge of the Sierras, culminating in the Kaweah Peaks and Mts. Tyndall, Brewer and Whitney, the latter the highest point in the United States, displays a crown of snow throughout the year, while to the north, an easy journey by pack train, lies the great Kings River Canyon. Tehipite Dome is but one of the marvels along the gorge, being a few hundred feet higher than the famed El Capitan of Yosemite, and with the construction of a road the Kings River Canyon will become Yosemite's foremost rival.

Arriving at the Giant Forest, Sequoia, on the morning of May 28th after a night run via the Ridge Route, Bakersfield, Delano, Porterville, Exeter and Three Rivers, the Franklin Camel, Ralph Hamlin's famous scout car, set about opening the motor roads to various points of interest in this grove covering an area of little more than four square miles—the largest of the sequoia groups within the park.

Due to fallen trees and snowbanks the Sherman Tree road and Moro Rock road were not yet open and the road into the park has only been open three days. So, after visiting Col. John R. White, the able and enthusiastic superintendent of the Sequoia and General Grant National Parks, the Franklin party secured permission to open these roads. With cross cut saw, double-bitted axe and shovels, and a little snow-bucking on the part of the Camel, the Sherman Tree road was cleared on the 28th and the Franklin Camel had the honor of being the first to reach this objective for the season of 1922. Not only was the road cleared to the great tree, but the steep Sherman grade and Wolverton summit was cleared for traffic, though cars that followed did not seem to negotiate the soft stretches very readily—stretches the Camel bucked open with ease.

Having been without sleep for a considerable period the party hit the floor for the night, but next morning set out bent on new conquests and succeeded in opening the Moro Rock road in 2½ hours, cutting some twenty-one trees that had fallen across the road, rolling a few of the lighter ones off the trail and digging through one particularly aggravating snow bank.

Returning to Giant Forest the Franklin party found another car, which had followed the Camel after an interval deemed sufficient for the Franklin party to do all the work, stuck in the one detour made. Later in the day the Franklin made two additional trips to Moro Rock, taking Buell Benham and Herb Maier, of the Kings River Parks Company, on a tour of inspection inasmuch as C. H. Greenup, W. B. Allen and R. L. Larson, the Franklin party, desired very much to convince these gentlemen the road was actually cleared and that considerable talent had been exercised in the manicuring of the fallen trees, whereupon Maier and Benham, in the absence of Colonel White, suggested the Franklin party return each succeeding season to perform such health building labors.

There is on foot a movement to include the Kings River Canyon, upper Kern River Canyon and Mt. Whitney in a greater Sequoia National Park. The consummation of this plan will assure future generations a marvelous virgin sierra park that would offer the seeker of rest and recreation a vacation among the unspoiled beauties of Nature. It would provide a playground for the huge population of California in the years to come and preserve those towering giants that have clung so tenaciously to life through fire and storm.

It has been estimated by experts that 20,000,000 tons of paper pulp can be produced annually in India from bamboos and grasses.

TO TIA JUANA ON 25 MILES GALLON

Chevrolet parts aren't needed very often, but when they are the local branch of the Frank P. Taggart Company has a complete line of them, says O. E. Dinnis, who recently came here as manager.

To illustrate what a Chevrolet will stand without repairs—a mild, but timely example-Dinnis turned a Plain Dealer man to E. L. Hatcher, who told how a touring car recently had made the trip to Tia Juania without any repairs, without changing the air in the tires and averaged 25.6 miles to the gallon of gasoline. The trip was made by A. L. Hatcher, Hatcher's brtoher, and Robert J. Hatcher, his son. At Santa Ana they picked up two hikers, who informed them that on a walk from San Francisco they had ridden all but 10 miles of the distance. The hikers rode all the way to San Diego and then continued to Tia Juania.

The two Hatchers took aboard a pint of oil at Ensenada and another pint at Tia Jaunia, which they thought was also doing pretty well.

They weren't stuck once during the journey, although car troubles appeared to be plentiful on the road.

Dinnis is enthusiastic over the new coupe which has arrived. It's the best-looking Chevrolet car of the entire group of models—which is saying much—and contains all the equipment, including cord tires, that the big expensive cars carry. Compact but commodiuos, comfortable but not overdone, doing 25 miles per gallon of fuel, the car has hit the bull's eye at the local branch agency.

1,124,097th Goodyear Tire Made in L. A.

On Thursday, June 8, at the Akron factory of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, powerful sirens announced by 45 tremendous blasts the completion on that date of the 45,000,000th automobile tire at Akron.

A week later the Los Angeles factory of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company of California likewise had cause for jubilation, for Wednesday, June 14, marked the starting of the third year of tire production and the manufacture of the 1,124,697th automobile tire in Los Angeles.

Factory Superintendent H. E. Blythe signalled the production of this particular tire by a luncheon to the factory men who actually participated in building the tire—L. C. Ranney, a tire builder, and William Fillion, a tire finisher. C. L. Young of the Goodyear textile mills represented that unit of the Goodyear factories at Los Angeles that fabricates cotton into the cord fabric used in building Goodyear tires. Included as guests at the luncheon that did honor to the workmen who produced the tire were members of the Goodyear Factory Council, representatives of the sales organization, the administration department, and H. A. Price, manager of the Los Angeles branch.

In congratulating Messrs. Ranney Fillion and Young on their particular participation in the building of this tire selected for Goodyear's museum, as a companion of the first tire built on June 14, 1920, and the 344,279th aire manufactured June 14, 1921, Blythe pictured to them the tremendous changes that have taken place at the old-time race track at Ascot Park, since the creation of the Goodyear plant, during 1919-20.

Blythe outlined the production history of the company and marked the successive steps that meant increased product value—showing by examples of representative tires of each year how the California factory is operating in line with Goodyear at Akron.

The Cross-rib cord tire—the latest development of Goodyear—was exhibited also, with tire No. 1,124,697, and marks the very latest steps in the development of a quality product.

"The first tires were built on June 14, 1920, and since that date production has been continuous. The factory has been in operation every day with the exception of the usual semi-annual inventory interruptions.

"Today hundreds of skilled workmen like yourselves are employed in the tire factory and the cotton mill and their product supplies not only Los Angeles and California, but the entire West.

"Long, staple cotton from the fields of Arizona, and Imperial Valley and rubber from the plantations of Sumatra are manufactured by California workmen into tires that in every respect are as worthy of the Goodyear name as these produced at Akron and Toronto, Canada.

It is with considerable pride that the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company of California starts the third year of tire production and marks the passing of the second with the production of 1,124,697 automobile tires and 1,263,421 automobile tubes since the plant started."

The tire selected from the production of June 14 in company with the tires from the first day's production and the production of a year ago will be exhibited at the Los Angeles Branch of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, 1200 South Olive Street at once, and afterwards sent on a tour of the 15 Western branches of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company of California, and after this trip will be on exhibition in the Goodyear booth at the Chamber of Commerce Building, Los Angeles.

FAGEOL TRACTORS STAND PUNISHMENT

Nothing makes a dealer feel better than to know that the owners of the tractor he sells are satisfied, for a satisfied owner maks more owners.

Three owners of Fageol ractors of the older type came in the past week and purchased new Fageol tractors. Herman Freese, Melvin Salveson and Henry C. Cordes, all of Anaheim, and all former owners of Fageol tractors thus showed their confidence in the Fageol.

One Fageol tractor in Orange-co. has run over 4000 hours with a expense of less than $100.00 for repairs.

Lawrence Sutherland worked 115 acres in 1920, 886 acres in 1921 and his actual expense for repairs is less than $80.00 in the two years. The total is 201 acres, the same as taking care of 10 acres for 20 years.

That is one instance of Fageol economy and efficiency. We can tell you of many more, if you will take the trouble to call. —J. J. Devaney, dealer; H. S. Gelnette, Manager.

PARA-BELL TIRES GROW IN DEMAND

The way the general public and commercial firms are recognizing Para-Bell tires is indeed significant rendering, say the boys of the Reliable Tire Co. It is almost unbelievable, the splendid shape in which the tread of these tires are after 8,000 or 10,000 miles of hard use. In many cases no appreciable amount of tread seems worn after this amount of mileage. The 30x3½ cords are six-ply and the larger sizes eight-ply, thus insuring a sturdy carcuss, and with the tough and pliable tread of Para-Bell tires, makes a hard combination to beat. Every buyer is a booster and repeat orders are self-evident of the worthiness of any merchandise.

Studebaker Internal Hot Spot Is Unique

monly employed in automobile engines, has not successfully met the issue and is decreasingly efficient because of the steady decline in the grade and quality of commercial gasoline. Commercial gasoline of today is amixture of many characteristic fuels ranging all the way from kerosene, which is heavy and requires a great amount of heat for vaporization, up to benzine, which is light, highly volatile, and is transformed into gas at a much lower temperature. It follows that the application of a uniform heat to all of these different fuels will not completely vaporize them. The degrees of heat necessary for the kerosene elements will overheat and therefore expand the gases into which the lighter elements are transferred; and conversely, regulation of heat so that the gases from the lighter elements are not expanded will be insufficient to completely vaporize the kerosene or heavier elements, and will result in the waste of a considerable portion of the fuel.

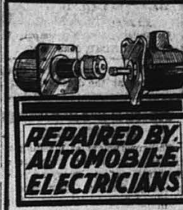

Perfect and efficient combustion is obtained in the Studebaker light-six engine by the addition of the new and original Internal Hot Spot.

VESTA LONG LIFE BATTERY

"To insure uninterrupted enjoyment of your car this season it is advisable to have your starting and lighting system inspected by experts at frequent intervals," according to West Bros., manager of the local Vesta Service Station.

"In Vesta Batteries these are four patented features which insure longer life. These features are inside the battery, where they cannot be seen unless the battery is opened, but they represent a distince advance in battery construction."

EUROPE IS NOT IN HASTE TO ARRANGE DEBTS

The government at Washington is said to be somewhat exercised over the tardiness of European governments in sending commissions to Washington to consider refunding of war loans. The American government sent forward the invitation several weeks ago and the invitation was acknowledged by the principal governments and promise was given to send commission, as requested. But no commission has come, as yet.

There is no reason to doubt the attitude the powers concerned will take. They will send their commissioners, ultimately, and doubtless satisfactory arrangements will be made. It would be well, however, if their course were marked by a little more haste. It would make this country feel more at ease and more reassured if all the powers indebted to the United States would come forward promptly, acknowledge their indebtedness and join in conferring as to the best means of refunding these huge obligations.

The Congressional campaign in its preliminaries, will be conducted from Washington, during the summer. Yes, it will be very warm. Anything is warm in Washington in summer—even an iceberg seems less frigid than in some other localities.

The Pacific West is heard and heeded by official Washington because of this section's growing political importance. Time was when the Pacific Coast, asking any favors at Washington, was laughed to scorn. But as population increased and as representation of this section in Congress became greater, the degree of respect and consideration shown this section was enhanced correspondingly. This state and section are heard and heeded when they ask that which is reasonable at Washington.

Those who visit the mountains, canyons and woodlands of this state should have regard to the preservation of wild-flower and plant life. Pulling flowers and plants up by the roots, or breaking them off before their seeding time, means extermination of whole species, in time. The California poppy has been killed out in many places by ruthless sightseers who break off the beautiful stems when they are in their glory. Why not leave the gorgeous array of blooms and plants, to adorn the hills and vales and woodlands?

NEWS THAT IS NEWS, AND "NEWS" NOT NEWS

What is news? This is a serious question in every responsible newspaper office in the land. Jesting Pilate asked the Christ: "What is truth?" But those who are charged with the task of making newspapers do not ask jestingly: "What is news?" They ask it in all seriousness. They rack their brains over it. They must decide, day after day, just what is real news and what is spurious, or objectionable. And they must decide, too, relative values in news items—is this more important than that, and if so, why?

The clean, conscientious newspaper bars a certain type of "news" without even pondering over it—that is, salacious, filthy, moral-sewage "news." Then there is a wide diversity of news—so-called—which, in a great many instances, is not legitimate news, but rumors or insinuations of half-truths which, if published, would injure someone, or perhaps would injure several persons—might even ruin somebody. The conscientious publisher or editor does not seek this kind of news, and does not use it unless the good to be accomplished by its publication would offset the hurt its publication might give.

Then there is the question of the value of news. This is a busy age. Newspapers are read by multitudes who have no time to waste—who must read hurriedly. They want the meat of the news, so to speak. They do not want a great mess of inconsequentials. They do not want columns of scandal or other columns about the engagement of an American heiress to a Swiss riding-master and what her family thinks of it; or yet other columns about a glandular operation on a captain of industry. It must be admitted—and the makers of newspapers take cognizance of the fact—that there is a type of news known to newspaper offices as "human-interest" which is used, to some extent, in the best newspapers. How much of this to use is a perennial question in every newspaper office. But the best type of papers use it sparingly and take pains to use only that which is wholesome and unobjectionable.

The remedy for Europe's economic illness may not be found at The Hague. But the western powers will doubtless persist until some practicable healing agency is found. The great problem is Russia. And Russia is as much of a problem to itself as it is to the rest of Europe.

Resorts should always keep waste receptacles on the beach for just this purpose. But do your part, anyway, clean up!

New York Letter

by Lucy Jamison Price

NEW YORK, June 23.—While others are grumbling about the high cost of living we have discovered a property owner and landlord who lives close to New York, who has been able to get along comfortably on $1 a month. Being a landlord this is not difficult to understand. But here is a landlord who has not spent money on living consistent with his rumored income. He is thirty-five years old; he has been living the life of a hermit in a shed back of his two-family house for several years. The shed was formerly part of the stable, but has been furnished in the simplest manner for living quarters. In answer to a recent suit against him in a real estate transaction, when asked to show some papers in court, the recluse unpinned three big safety pins that held his coat together, removed six pins from an inside pocket and disclosed his private "bank," wound with string that was reinforced with seven rubber bands. While he had an income of more than $12 a month he explained that he lived in his shed, because he "can't afford a house. Others are wasting their money by trying to keep up appearances, while the most I spend for my living is $1 a month." Perhaps this is the way people become landlords.

According to Will Rogers, now and then of photoplay and acting fame, movie magnates no longer spend their profits recklessly. Recent disclosures of the habits of these monied folk have given broad grounds for conjecture on their extravagance. Lighting cigars with greenbacks was once a quaint method of impressing by-standers but prevailed in the pre-Volstead period. Tossing away money was never regarded in really conservative financial circles as the best method of getting more money. It would be rather pleasant in some ways if it held true that the more money one spent the more one got, but it doesn't. This holds true even in the motion picture business. Now most moving picture folk, having just passed through the cold gray morning after the unbridled profits which they have undergone, have settled down to business and business does not mean that art is being neglected. According to Will Rogers, only when artists get down to business does real art result. "All the old time foolishness—waste of money and waste of time included—is over. It is a man size, bed-rock enterprise now. Everybody has the spirit of taking off their coat and giving the best there is in him—of earning his salary. The actresses and actors do their work and conduct themselves just as men and women in other business, everywhere. There is no different standard of decorum or conduct." And when Will Rogers says things, somehow you believe he means them.

LOVE

Yes, love will often have its pain;
The roses bloom because of rain
And wintry snows the grasses keep—
Love is not love that cannot weep.

Dear heart, whatever hurt we had
In other days, let love be glad.
For now we walk a better mile—
Love is not love that cannot smile.
