LEADING NEWSPAPER OF NORTHERN ORANGE COUNTY

VOL. XXV—NO. 305
Anaheim, California, Thursday, August 3, 1922
TWENTY-SIXTH YEAR

TO GO AND GET DEFAULTER

B. P. DOCTOR WOULD HELP MADALYNNE

Dr. F. H. Sanborn, Former Orange County Man, May Go on Her Bond

Dr. F. B. Sanborn, who up to approximately a year ago resided at Buena Park, is one of three Obenchain jurors, it became known today, who has volunteered to aid Madalynne Obenchain in her struggle for freedom from the Los Angeles-co jail on bond. Dr. Sanborn, with James M. Rhoades of Glendale and Sol Deeble of Long Beach, voted for her acquittal at the recent trial.

With M. E. Paddock, foreman of the Madalynne C. Obenchain jury, scheduled for an important conference with the district attorney today, with an exhaustive investigation launched by attorneys for Mrs. Obenchain, charges and countercharges of misconduct on the part of certain of the jurors who failed to agree on Mrs. Obenchain's fate, appeared one step nearer an official probe today.

Upon the outcome of the district attorney's conference wtih Paddock, whom some of the jurors demanded be discharged as foreman, will depend whether a request for official action will be made. From reliable sources it was learned that Paddock is prepared to lay before the authorities grave charges of misconduct on the part of certain jurors.

With a hearing on Mrs. Obenchain's application for bail to come up before Judge John W. Shenk tomorrow morning, it was considered likely that if the necessary affidavits can be prepared they will be offered to the court at that time and an official investigation requested.

ATTENDANCE OF SCHOOLS TO JUMP

Increase of 20 Per Cent in County Forecast by Supt. R. P. Mitchell

Another jump of approximately 20 per cent in total atendance of the schols of the county, kindergarten, elementary, grammar and high, was predicted today by Superintendent R. P. Mitchell, who added that the attendance in the Anaheim schools would be one of the most satisfactory of any of the cities.

During the past year the attendance in local schools jumped from 960 to 1135 in the elementary and from 385 to 458 in the high school.

Superintendent Mitchell said that the forthcoming high school attendance could not be forecast, because of many young people who entered after receiving their preparation in other elementary schools.

During 1921-22, according to Superintendent Mitchell's report, just forwarded to State Superintendent of Schools Will Wood, attendance in schools of the county increased by 2355 and school costs mounted $270,151.81. Practically every school district in the county showed an increase.

The increased costs came in the way of a larger number of teachers employed. There were 97 additional teachers. Building construction and other items served to swell the total educational costs.

It was disclosed that in the 12 kindergarten schools in the county 30 teachers were employed last year, as against 27 for 1920-21.

The kindergarten enrollment for last year was 1193, as against 954 in the previous year.

Indicating a decrease in the average salary paid kindergarten teachers in 1922 as compared wtih 1921, the report revealed that the total salary for 30 teachers last year was $27,375, while in the previous year the total was $33,594.90 for 27 instructors.

Fifty-six more teachers were employed in the elementary schools last year than during the other year used in comparison. The increase in the enrollment was 1649 pupils. Last year boys numbered 6915 and girls 6577, reversing the usual record of boys exceeding girls in point of numbers and the same history holds good for the previous year, when 6081 boys and 5762 girls enrolled. Salaries paid teachers in the elementary schools for the last year totaled $624,953.65 and the year before they were $520,135.77.

Total expenses for the elementary branch of schol instruction were $1,307,263.67 for last year and $1,233,640.12 for the 12 month period preceding.

For 1922 the eight high schools of the county showed a gain in enrollment of 595 and an increase of 38 teachers over the year before, when only six high schools were operating.

The new high schools are at Garden Grove and Tustin.

Two hundred and two teachers were employed for the year closing June 30 last, their combined salaries being $421,569.36, as compared with $331,673.85 for the 1920-21 year.

Girls registering in the high schools exceeded the number of boys both years, 1711 boys and 1871 girls registering for 1922, and 1377 boys and 1610 girls for 1921.

Total expenses of the high schools in 1922 were $1,165,768.33, with a total of $969,240.07 for the other year.

REALTORS TO PLAY HOST TO 500

Anaheim, Fullerton, Santa Ana, Orange Boards Appear Unit on Plan

Plans were discussed today at the regular meeting of the Anaheim Realty Board to bring 500 realtors from all parts of California to Orange-co. in December, in connection with the annual State convention. It was agreed that entertainment of the visitors would be the biggest advertisement the county could receive. Several realtors from Santa Ana, and two from Fullerton were present at the meeting, and there was complete unanimity in the project for the bringing of the realtors here. It is stated that it will be the first time in history that the state convention has been obtained outside of the big cities, save once at Riverside, and that the Riverside convention had an attendance of only about 80.

Freeman H. Bloodgood of Santa Ana, presided at the meeting, and following the luncheon which was held in the Elks' clubhouse, each man introduced his neighbor to the right to the assembly. Several fines were imposed on those who broke the rules of etiquette.

A monthly business meeting by the various realty boards of Orange-co. was suggested by Mr. Bloodgood for the purpose of discussing the legal phase of the real estate business, and the suggestion met with favor. It was decided to make it a noon luncheon, and it is to be held in Anaheim the first Thursday in next month, and the first Friday in the succeeding month at Santa Ana.

It was suggested that the legal phases of the business be discussed today by Judge Howard of Anaheim, and a motion to this effect was passed. The judge excused himself, and the discussion of this matter was passed over.

A talk on this subject was made by Jack Wallace, secretary of the Santa Ana realty board, who is also chairman of the Orange-co. realtors general committee for preparing for, and looking after the convention. Mr. Wallace announced that he was in need of good live men from each of the realty boards of the county to assist in this work, but that if anyone should get on the committee who did not act, he will be fired, and fired quickly. The committee must be a live one if the convention is to be a success. He stated that it is planned to have every community in the county represented, and the second day of the convention it is planned to take the visiting realtors on a tour of the county, stopping in Anaheim for noonday lunch. E. A. Hargrove is to be assistant secretary with Mr. Wallace, and there are to be committees to look after every phase of the work. Judge Howard of Anaheim, and R. S. Gregory of Fullerton assured Mr. Wallace of whole-hearted assistance from the Anaheim and Fullerton boards. It is also planned to line up Orange in full force. Each board is to supply a list of its membership, and it is hoped to have each board represented on each committee. Other Santa Anans who were present and standing "tooth and toe-nail" behind the project included: Frank C. Pope, Joe Smith, Everett White, and others.

Mr. Wallace stated that the convention would be run on time, and that there would be speakers at each stop in the county to entertain and educate the realtors.

It was planned to obtain an appropriation from the county board of supervisors to help defray the expenses of the convention.

It was suggested that the luncheon tendered the realtors at Anaheim be such that the products of the county be represented. Mr. Bloodgood said in discussing this phase of the matter that the fruits which are so highly prized elsewhere are so common here that we forget them, and that it would be a good idea to have all kinds of Orange-co. fruits at the luncheon in order that the visiting realtors may really know what is grown here, and that realty prices here are not inflated.

PAUL BOCK'S CAREER LONG, SUCCESSFUL

Paul Bock, secretary-treasurer of the Oil Tool Service Manufacturing Co., and member of Nenno & Bock, automobile accessories, is a man of long and successful business experience. Before coming to California he was assistant to county clerk and county treasurer with headquarters at Wichita, Kansas.

After several months in this fine position he left to organize in June, 1917, the Schulte State Bank at Schulte, about 10 miles from Wichita. He was cashier of that bank for better than two years and, starting with a capital of $10,000, he built it up to deposits over $88,000.

During his incumbency be received letters from the State Bank Commissioner, complimenting him on the condition of the institution. One small note was charged off during his connection wtih the bank.

There were 26 rival banks within 12 miles of his bank. The town of Schulte contained a general merchandise store, branch lumber yard and grain elevator, run by a large milling company. The farmers were not satisfied with prices which the latter concern were paying, being from two to nine cents below the market, so they invited Mr. Bock to assume the direction of a Farmers' Co-operative Grain and Supply Co., which he organized. About 30 farmers composed the original subscribers. The new elevator had a capacity of 16,000 bushels and was completed in February, 1918.

For the year ending Dec. 31, 1918, did a business of $225,000, paying stockholders 10 per cent on their stock, with a patronage dividend of $1.00 per hundred they transacted wtih the company. In January, 1919, this company bought the lumber and coal business. The following March the capital stock was increased by $15,000, taken up by 131 stockholders, all farmers of the district. The company then was reorganized and a second 8,000 bushel elevator was constructed about six miles from Schulte on another railway, thus serving a large territory.

The manager resigned at the completion of this harvesting year and it fell to Mr. Bock to market the crop and make all settlements until another manager could be obtained.

The financing of the company was left to Mr. Bock without bond.

He left the company on Aug. 20, 1919, giving up his connection also with the bank, on account of impaired health. Up to the time when he left the company, it had done a business of $335,000 Since Jan. 1, 1919, a period of only seven months. A stock dividend of 10 per cent again was paid and a patronage dividend of $1.00 per $100.

Coming to California to regain his health, he became partner of C. J. Nenno in a tire and accessory business, which operates one of the largest wholesale and retail business of the kind in Orange-co.

Mr. Bock sold out his business in Kansas and invested his funds here, where he purchased a permanent home.

He became connected with the Oil Tool Service Manufacturing Co. out of civic pride. His friends declare that his long and successful business experience are his strongest recommendation for the new position.

ON TRIAL FOR FORGING RANCH DEED

Accused of forging a deed to a ranch at Fairview, Samuel Hansen, former San Diego real estate dealer, is on trial this afternoon before Justice J. B. Cox at Santa Ana. The arrest of Hansen, which was effected recently after he had been pursued from San Diego to Denver and back again by A. K. Cravath, officer of Santa Ana, brings to a head one of the most involved cases in criminal annals in So. Cal.

Hansen was under bail of $5,000 which he broke.

The ranch was owned by John Kinmouth of Joplin, Mo., and two other purchasers claimed it, including John Otto, who occupied a house upon it. Kinmouth failed to receive his tax bills and became suspicious.

WOMAN FOILS JEWEL ROBBERY

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 3.— Suddenly awakened to find a strange man in her room at the Van Nuys hotel early today, Mrs. H. Love, a prominent Santa Barbara society woman, prevented one of the most daring jewel thefts ever attempted in Los Angeles.

The intruder, according to Mrs. Love, entered her room shortly after 7 o'clock this morning by using a pass key. She did not awaken until he was about to leave the room. She said all of her jewelry, valued at $10,000, and her purse containing a small amount of money had been scooped up by the robber as he prepared to leave the room.

Just as the intruder took hold of the door knob to make his exit, Mrs. Love raised up in bed and screamed. The robber, apparently fearing that he would be captured, tossed the jewels onto the dresser, threw the purse on the floor and hastily made his exit.

Mrs. Love rushed to the telephone and notified the management of the hostelry, while, in the meantime, guests who had heard her cries, began pouring out of their rooms.

REAL ESTATE ASSN. WOULD CURB TRUCKS

Endorsement of the proposed constitutional amendment, which would place motor truck and bus companies under unified regulation and control by the State, is announced by the California Real Estate Association, composed of all or practically all the realty boards of California.

The association, in a statement just issued, says:

"The gross income of motor truck and bus companies in California last year was more than twenty million income of taxicabs or other vehicles for occasional hire or of trucks for hire by the day or by contract which do not operate over fixed routs.

"The motor vehicle transportation business in California has already become a very important part of our transportation system and thus far it has developed in advance of any determined public policy with regard to its regulation and control.

"The California Real Estate Association is fearful that motor truck and bus transportation under the existing law will fall into the same difficulties that now beset the bankrupt electric railway companies and is asking the people to endorse an amendment to the State Constitution which will establish the principle of unified regulation and control of all local transportation with particular reference to electric railway companies and motor bus and truck lines.

"There are now nearly 800 bus and truck companies operating in the state over 5,000 miles of public highway. They serve practically all of the communities in the state and give freight and passenger service in many parts of the state that are without any other kind of transportation whatever. Their close relation to the marketing of farm crops and the distribution of construction materials and merchandise makes it imperative that their operation be placed on a sound and permanent basis."

NORWALK INVADED BY DRY AGENTS

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 3—Disguised as stockmen, prohibition agents, led by Prohibition Agent Dolley, visited the cattle and hog ranch of James Smith and Frank Adslead, near Norwalk, ostensibly to purchase cattle. They bought no four-footed animals, but instead purchased "Mirrouri mule" liquor, it was said, and confiscated more.

The two ranchmen were arrested on bootlegging charges. According to Dooley, he had received a number of complaints relative to their alleged bootlegging activities. It was said the liquor was not manufactured on the ranch, but was brought to that distribution center.

Wishing to make a day of it, the prohibition agents went on into Norwalk after the arrest of the two men and raided a pool hall and cafe operated by M. R. Wallace. The raid followed purchases of liquor from Walace, it was said. A small amount of liquor was seized, according to Dolley.

SPORT

PINK OF PERFECTION FOR BOTH BATTLERS

(By MANLY ART)

Tomorrow night's main event, at the weekly doings of the Athletic clubs down at their arena on the sugar factory grounds, which will bring together Kid Louie and Leonard Lee, in a return match appears to be creating more interest than is usually the lot to befall a match of this kind. Both these youngsters met recently and set the fans wild with frenzy for there was more real fighting crammed into their four round mix-up than is usually seen in the average four round bout. A good many of the fans went ouou—almost—when Referee Billy Darnley called it "Even Steven", many claiming that the Placentia lad was the victor while Leonard's supporters came to the front and said it was their boy who won the medal. So taking all that for granted the draw decision must have been OK as near OK as OK could be. However, they will have the opportunity to settle their little grievances when they come together tomorrow night and it ought to be one sweet lil' ol' battle. Both Lee and Louie have been working out like trojans for the coming affray and neither will have poor condition to offer if he loses. Lee ahs never looked better and Louie too looks to be in the "Pink."

The semi-windup between our own Paddy Dillon and Jimmy Ray, also should bring forth another torrid contest. Paddy is working out daily and showing almost all of his old time stuff and form and if he can but keep up his present gait he will be topping the card before long. In this Ray boy, he has no set-up, for Ray can and will fight from the drop of the hat. He is a hard-hitting lad and he showed that in his recent set-to here with Teny Ross. Ray also won his bout with Eddie Sylvester at Vernon last Tuesday night. He should be a good drawing card here for the local club.

The prelims ought to bring forth more than their share of action for Matchmaker Darnley has signed up some rattling good boys to do combat. Bill Cordes the big blonde 165 pounder of local fame hooks up with Pete Burgess of Los Angeles and said Bill and Pete are both sluggers and wallopers of the first water. One or the other is bound to hear the birdies sing in this go-it is just a question of who hands first and hardest. Johnny Alexander, a fast, clever darky from Madison Square Garden, Central avenue, Los Angeles, will entertain Teny Wagner from up Friscoway for four rounds, while Kid Wirt, the pride of Garden Grove, wil lendeavor to show our own Johnny Bush that, while he may be a crackerjack ball player and can hit like-er on the diamond, but when it comes to a knowledge of the Marquis of Queensbury's pet game, he has no business in the same ring with him a-tall. Bush is apt to ring in a big surprise on the confident Wirt, for in his work-outs, he is showing plenty of good stuff, and if he can sock with the padded mitts like he does the old leather on the diamond, then woe betide brother Wirt.

Another good house is being looked forward to by the management for the advance sale is reported brisk. The ticket reservations may be secured at the United Cigar Store, 123 W. Center street, Phone 153.

STEINWAY PIANO CHOICE OF ARTISTS

The majority of world famous musicians, pianists, composers, singers, violinists have used Steinway pianos for private and public performances. There are many instances where artists have been paid fabulous sums to publicly appear with other pianos, and with the money thus earned they have been known to buy a Steinway piano for their personal home use.

Among the representative residents who have recently purchased Steinway pianos is Mrs. M. A. Spencer on West Orangethorpe, her selection being a Steinway Duo Art Grand, an electric reproducing piano costing $4,200.

Duo Art costs more because it is worth more. The incomparable Duo Art is the only reproducing form in which the supreme Steinway piano can be obtained. Prices range from $925 to $4600.

Mr. F. Seigel, 422 West Center-st., is the local agent for the Steinway piano.

DAILY GREETING TO OUR READERS

Public opinion, founded upon intelligence and fairness, is one of the most potent influences in bringing about social and industrial justice.

The public again appears likely to be the winner of the railway strike ,and the Government of the coal strike, which means that neither side is victor.

There cannot be too much sane, practical peace sentiment in this country and throughout the world. Through the crystallization of sentiment, peace will be brought nearer.

What has become of the old-fashioned farmer who kept his son at work on the farm until he became of age, and then gave him a horse and a saddle and bridle to give him a start in the world?

About gone are the days when the claim can be urged in behalf of a Presidential candidate that he was born in a log cabin. Some other means of showing the democratic origin of the candidate will have to be adopted.

That is not honest and fair in politics which is not honest and fair in any other relation or activity of life. There is no warrant or excuse for doing in politics that which is objectionable in any other realm except the political.

There are indications that voters are doing independent thinking in connection with the forthcoming California state primary. They are reading the statements of principles and purposes of the different candidates, and are listening to speeches, but seemingly are not being swayed by passion or prejudice. The people obviously desire a campaign of education and are bent upon using their best judgment in making choice for the respective positions.

The advice of a noted expert, "buy suburban property," is sound. Which does not mean that close-in urban property is a poor investment. Quite the contrary. Close-in property is such good investment that many with modest means cannot afford to purchase it. But suburban property can be bought at favorable price and on easy terms. Automobiles and interurban trolley service make it possible to live in the suburbs and go back and forth daily to work or to business or professional office.

The proposed joint luncheons of realty boards of Northern Orange County, the first of which will be held tomorrow at the Elks' Clubhouse, are an excellent way of solving the problem of cooperation for common ends . Such joint gatherings, first suggested here by President Henry Barbour of the Long Beach board, will also do much to promote good feeling among dealers of the towns concerned.

ASPERSING OF PUBLIC MEN IS DEPLORABLE

The aspersional tongue wags too freely in this country. Its venom is directed too often against men in public life. Public officials, in too many instances, are hounded with abuse and belittlement and coarse caricaturing. These things are defended by those who hold extreme views as to so-called freedom of speech.

But the question arises among thinking, fair-minded persons: Is this liberty of speech, or is it a pernicious license of speech, which should be discountenanced? Not that there should be laws restricting criticism of public officials. But surely the laws should serve to protect the good name of a public officials as they protect a person in private life. Any slanderous tale—any defamatory report, assailing the character and integrity of a man in public position, should lay the person circulating such slanderous reports open to prosecution for criminal libel. Furthermore, the public official thus aspersed should not be compelled to bring suit for prosecution of those who libel him—this should be done for him, in the name of the people. Surely the man who gives his services to the people should be protected by the people while he is giving such service, against assaults which might ruin his reputation and wreck his career when he leaves public position.

CONGRESS SESSION MAY END IN OCTOBER

Congress may be ready to adjourn by the early weeks of October. The senate is making some headway on the tariff. When the wool schedule is completed, it is predicted that the remainder of the schedules and items will be passed over hurriedly. The whole tariff measure can be put thru both houses of congress and full agreement reached, it is believed, by October 1. Meantime, it is believed that a bonus measure will be passed. But ship-subsidy, according to present forecasts, will go by the board for this session. President Harding has been insistent that subsidy legislation be enacted by this congress. It remains to be seen whether or not he can get his way as to this.

It would be amiss, of course, to attempt to appraise the record of this congress until its work is ended. There has been much disappointment, however, over dallying and delay. The people feel that swifter progress could have been and should have been made in putting through to passage important measures upon which the economic welfare of the country depends, in large measure. There has been too much political maneuvering and playing for advantage. Despite these handicaps, however, the country has continued to readjust itself economically and to lay the groundwork for a remarkable era of prosperity.

Now that Jack and Marilynn are wedded, let's hope that the world may regain its equanimity and move along in normal channels.

There are failures in marriage, as there are failures in every other human institution. But the vast majority of marriages are not failures.

Two kinds of friction

It has been proved that as much as 20% of the power delivered to the driving wheels may be lost through friction, due to the use of an incorrect oil.

This friction may be of two kinds—the friction of metal on metal, due to the failure of the oil to preserve a lubricating film between the bearing surfaces, or the friction of oil on oil—the internal, molecular friction of the lubricant.

Too heavy an oil, or an oil lacking in "oiliness"—the quality that makes it cling to the bearings while at the same time offering a minimum of internal or fluid friction—constitutes a direct drain on the available horsepower of your motor.

The right body at all operating temperatures

Made from carefully selected crudes and scientifically refined by our patented high-vacuum process, Zerolene has great "oiliness." It clings to bearing surfaces, while offering in itself a minimum of frictional resistance to the engine power.

Zerolene maintains the right lubricating body under all conditions. As the engine gets hot, bearing clearances decrease. Analysis of Zerolene shows that the variations in its body, at the various engine temperatures, follow in close relation the decrease in bearing clearances.

Because of their "oiliness," stability and purity, Zerolene oils give perfect lubrication and help to develop the maximum power, speed and gasoline mileage of the car.

NEW YORK LETTER

Alice Brady, the talented, polished actress, is playing under the management of her father at the Playhouse in a new melodrama filled with thrills but with considerably more character analysis than we ever got in the old melodrama, however good it might be as to action. "Drifting" is the rather intriguing title of the play and tells the story of a girl who insisted upon "seeing life" even at considerable expense of experience. She went to China under the chaperonage of two missionaries, but she didn't stay very closeeither to them or their ideals once she was there. She sang jazz in a Shanghai cabaret which does not sound like a pretty bad combination. Then in Tung Kow, where she visited the missionaries every spring, she met "Badlands McKinney," an officer and a gentleman, gone wrong. They almost wrecked their future together by being afraid to confess to each other their pasts. Finally, however, it is all put honestly behind them and they redeem each other.

Even in the hasty, shifting life of a burglar, it would almost seem as though some kind of address were necessary. But Adolph Gisterer, arrested the other day in connection with burglaries totalling $20,000, proved to the satisfaction of the court that he was honest in declaring that he had none. Most of the time after dark he was "en route" he explained. Daytime he spent in branches of the public library, and for some few hours each night, he surreptitiously entered the basement of an apartment house on 79th street and slept in a bathtub conveniently located there. When arrested, Gisterer wore his entire household effects around his waist under his clothes. They consisted of a bath towel with a cake of soap and several needles with thread wrapped in its folds. The police said that in spite of his informal housekeeping he was extremely neat.

Shall we come to the point of traveling by weight rather than by numbers? Will there be a set of scales or a tape measure instead of a metre in each taxicab? It almost looks as though something of the sort would have to be worked out. For Magistrate Corrigan has ruled that ten midgets may ride in a taxi at the same rate as five full sized men. The ten midgets rode in one taxi from their home at No. 10 West 70th street to a Washington Heights theatre. The meter registered $1.50. "Three dollars," said the chauffeur. "How come?" demanded the leading midget. "Five passengers go for the meter charge," the chauffeur explained. "Every additional person is extra." The midgets took the case in court. And won. Now then, how about giants? And will it be perfectly safe and economical to be fat if only one isn't too long?

What has become of the youthful wild-oat sower? The ne'er do well but gilded youth who wasted his father's money on the white lights and their various lures, while his name stood for a constant accumulation of wild escapades? He's vanished; that's all. And in his place has come—the middle-aged wild-oater. Whether the war made youth more serious; whether fathers of this decade have cut down on allowances; or whether it's just a part of the world's queer turn-over, I don't know. But certainly the man you see dining the show-girl in the restaurants today is not the youth who dined her ten years ago; it is the man over forty. The host at motor and roadhouse parties, where the pop of ice-cooled bottles is heard still, regardless of Mr. Volstead, has reached those same years. Here is one explanation I had given me, which may or may not be true: the "flapper," the young girl in the youth's own crowd, is as "good fun" today as the show-girl, whereas she didn't use to be. Moreover, it's the flapper who is as happy eating at Child's or from a "hot dog" wagon as she is in the Palais Royale. Therefore, the young fellow sticks to his own sister's friends and saves money, keeping out of escapades at the same time, while the "old duffer" continues to find in another life the excitement he can't

New York's transatlantic population, by which is meant the thousands who make their two or three trips annually to Europe, is taking great interest in the new steamship "Conte Rosso" of the Lloyd Saboudo Line, which is now on its maiden voyage across the Atlantic to New York. Spoken of in Scotland, where she was built as "the most luxurious liner afloat" these veteran ocean travellers are looking forward to visiting the ship when she is opened to the public at her Hudson River pier. Decorated by the foremost Italian artists at a cost of more than $400,000, Colonel Dr. M. Serrati promises that for beauty the Conte Rosso will be unsurpassed by any ship visiting this port. In addition to the luxurious accommodations which includes an open air dining room seating more than 500, the safety appliances of the ship are the most modern of any installed on a trans-Atlantic vessel. More than the usual number of life boats are provided which may be launched in pairs with absolute safety and there is a motor flagship for the life boat fleet which is equipped with wireless capable of sending more than 50 miles.

Another Old Master has come to these shores. Unknown to any but a small circle of art lovers and connoisseurs it has been here nearly nine months. It is a Titian in an almost perfect state of preservation and its genuineness has been duly attested. There are few Titans in the United States. This one is "Joseph and Potiphar's Wife" and is now in the possession of Romeo Donconi. It was brought here last March and has remained unknown for that length of time. The picture has had the interesting history of most masterpieces in that it has been lost, stolen and carried all over the world since the date of its painting. It will rest in one of the large galleries here.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

WHAT EDITORS ARE SAYING

DON'T READ TOO MUCH—Canton (Ohio) News

Some persons seem to take pride in the number of books of fiction they manage to read in a year, while others read newspapers to the exclusion of practically everything else. Even those persons who read books of instruction without regard to number may fail in acquiring the real benefits from reading.

It is said of Benjamin Franklin that he was an omnivorous reader of the books and periodicals of his time, but it may be said to his advantage that much of the cheap literature, so called, of the present time was not in existence in the days of Franklin. In spite of his habits of reading, there is no indication that Franklin was ever troubled with mental bewilderment.

"It is possible to clutter up the mind with a great deal of useless information," the Pittsburgh Post says. "It is a waste of time to read certain books and magazines; they serve no worthy purpose. Moreover, the number of things it is desirable to read is so large and the ordinary person's leisure is so limited that it behooves one to exercise care in the choice of reading matter."

Of course, it is understood that any professional or business man or woman will keep posted on the things that qualify them for better service in their particular calling, but discrimination will be necessary in the selecton of supplementary reading—such reading as will provide mental stimulation and appreciation of the best things in life.

MRS. WALLIE REID AT THE CALIFORNIA

Another triumph for the California theatre of Anaheim.

This theatre will have as its stellar attraction tomorrow and Saturday none other than Mrs. Wallie Reid, in person in her famous Orpheum vaudeville act entitled "The Blue Flame."

This is not a motion picture, but a very wonderful sketch, in which Mrs. Reid takes the principal part right on the California theatre stage. She comes direct from the Orpheum theatre circuit, and is accompanied by two other celebrities who appear also in her act.

Everyone will want to see Wallie's wife. Before her marriage she was a famous star in her own right, known as Dorothy Davenport. She has starred in some very big pictures, but retired shortly after marrying Reid.

It is expected that Wallie himself will be in Anaheim for this event, as it is a well known fact that he is a very devoted husband, and when she appears near Los Angeles, he always motors out and brings her home with him, so Anaheimers will probably have the opportunity of seeing Wallie, too.

The sketch in which Mrs. Reid appears is a crook story, and she takes the part of a clever rogue who has broken into a house to steal some valuable jewels. It is tense and exciting. Mrs. Reid appears in a glorious, brilliant hued gown, and her personality is radiant throughout.

In conjunction with the personal appearance of Mrs. Reid, the theatre management will also present Viola Dana in her latest photoplay "Glass Houses."

FULLERTON DEPT.

JULY SEES LITTLE BUILDING ACTIVITY

That Fullerton struck the "low water" mark in its building activities during the month of July was the substance of the announcement made yesterday by E. S. Richman, city inspector, of Fullerton. Mr. Richman stated that only 29 permits were issued during the month of July and these for buildings covering improvements valued at approximately $48,251. Notwithstanding these low figures for July, this has been a great year for building in Fullerton, and many buildings are under construction or contemplation. Permits may be issued this month for the new city hall building and the Chapman building, tho it is possible that these may not be taken out until in September. Prominent buildings now under construction incude the large new California hotel, which is expected to be completed at an early date, and be ready for occupancy by October, and the new high school building additions, which are going up at a rapid rate, some of them nearing completion. The new buildings under construction, or contemplation when completed will give Fullerton one of the finest city hall, store buildings, schol buildings and finest hotel of any city in So. Cal., several times its size. "There's nothing too good for Fullerton," says the slogan of businessmen here.

CUT BUTTON; FINED

Judge French, city recorder of Fullerton, is still doing what he can to put the fear of the law into the hearts of violators brot before him. His latest exploit law in the collection of fines from those who acknowledged themselves guilty of cutting the button, each of whom was fined $10. They were: G. W. Milhouse of Whittier; K. C. Newell of Pasadena and F. B. McKnight of San Diego.

G. E. Salter of Brea who has been a patient at the Fullerton hospital was taken home yesterday.

MAKE PEAT BRICKS

The Swedish government has subsidized the manufacture of peat bricks for insulating building floors and walls.

REED LEADING IN SENSATIONAL RACE

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 2.— Senator James A. Reed bitterly denounced by former President Woodrow Wilson in the Missouri primary election fight, was gaining steadily over his opponent, Breckenridge Long, for the Democratic senatorial nomination as returns from yesterday's election rolled in.

Returns from more than two-thirds of the state's 3834 precincts gave Reed 140,836 and Long 128,933. With but 17 precincts missing out of 618 in St. Louis, Reed was leading Long by 25,489 votes.

SEEK MAN IN GIRL SHOOTING SCRAPE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 3.— While Miss Mary Hough, 24 years old, lay in the French hospital today fighting for her life, with three bullet holes in her body, police sought for Paul Curran, 26, of 743 South Ardmore-ave., whom she charged with having attempted to kill her because she refused to marry him.

Curran, it was charged, also shot and slightly wounded Harry Jensen, 1133 Fifth avenue, who ran to Miss Hough's assistance when he heard her scream.

The fact that two shots were heard after Curran leaped from the automobile and, leaving the girl lying wounded in the road, fled into the brush, suggested that he might have committed suicide, but search failed to disclose his body.

CARS DAMAGED IN MORNING CRASH

An accident was reported to the local police department from the intersection of Lincoln-ave and Stanton-rd., where a Cadillac driven by W. E. Duckworth of Anaheim was struck by a Federal Drilling Co. truck of Huntington Beach. The car was damaged. Fortunately no one was hurt.

An accident was also reported in which Harold Wimland of Balboa Beach struck the left wheel of a sand wagon, damaging the wagon. The driver of the wagon received a few scratches, but was not seriously hurt.

SLAYER OF U. S. MAN SENTENCED IN ITALY

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lane and daughter, of Brea, and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Redfern, and daughter, of Fullerton, were dinner guests last evening of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Scott.

BIG BASS CATCHES REPORTED IN NORTH

James S. Bradley of Fresno caught a 4½ lb. bass in Bass Lake, Madera-co., Calif., last week according to the Southern Pacific's weekly fishing report from its agents. Other big catches reported from Bass Lake were a 3½ and a 4 lb. bass by S. B. McEwen of Long Beach and a 4 lb. bass by Mrs. George C. Aydelott of Sanger.

The report states that with the streams low and clear and the weather warm, fishing is good throughout the state. Fly fishing is unusually good. Many fine catches are reported from Dunsmuir, Sisson, Bray, Klamath Falls, Cisco, Truckee, Lake Tahoe and So. Calif. resorts. Tuna fishing off Catalina Island is the best in years according to the report.

WISSER'S UNIFORM SCARES AWAY DEER

Peter Wisser, prominent local sporting goods man, has just returned from a deer hunting trip to the headwaters of the Santa Maria river in Kern-co. It is stated that Mr. iWsser outbid the other local sporting goods houses for Mike Lopez, the crack shot of the country, to go with him, hoping to come back loaded to the brim wtih deer meat. They left on the opening of the season, Aug. 1, and it is told that the nearest they came to getting venison was to find a deer which someone else had killed, and which was dried up to skin and bones, and could not even be brot back as a specimen. Mr. Wisser''s friends say of him that he wore a red shirt and bells on his collar to keep from getting shot, and that apparently all the deer were frightened away.

$1,000,000 LOSS IN BIG IOWA HAILSTORM

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, Aug. 2. — Cutting a path two miles wide and several miles long, hail as large as hen's eggs and falling to the depth of six inches destroyed all corn, grain and fruit early last night. The storm originated near Ryan, in Delaware county, swept across the northwestern part of Linn county into Jones and Dubuque counties. The damage will amount to more than $1,000,000.

MRS. HATFIELD
SABINA, OHIO
In Pitiable Condition when she Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sabina, Ohio.— "I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness and irregularity. I was weak and nervous and could hardly stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal. I was this way for about a year and had tried several medicines and had a physician, but to no avail. My sister was taking your medicine and finally induced me to try it. I now feel fine and can do my housework without any trouble at all. You can use this letter for the sake of others if you wish."—Mrs. WELDON G. HATFIELD, R. R. 3, Sabina, Ohio.

Housewives make a great mistake in allowing themselves to become so weak and nervous that it is well-nigh impossible for them to attend to their necessary household duties.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken when you first notice such symptoms as nervousness, backache, weakness and irregularity. It will help you and prevent more serious trouble. Give it a fair trial. It surely helped Mrs. Hatfield, just as it has many, many other women.
