BRIDAL COUPLE WELCOMED WITH PRETTY PARTY

An evening brimful over with a welcome for several newcomers to Anaheim was enjoyed at the home of Mrs. Edith Rovech, of New Lemon street last evening. The evening was passed with games of the hundred and music. Miss Mabel Woodworth, of Garden Grove, an able pianist, played several numbers and Mr. Carl Rhodes, director of the Anaheim Community Church, sang three numbers.

The rooms were prettily trimmed with red hearts and greenery, making a real valentine motif. Large clusters of dried and green flowers also were used for adornment. Perry; the Misses Mabel Woodworth, Dolores Larson, and Frieda Jans; the Messrs. Hester, Lyle Larson, Rhodes, G. W. Miller, Fowler, Dykes, and the hostess, Mrs. Rovech.

PLUMBING INDUSTRY TO ADOPT EMBLEM

Adoption of an emblem typifying the high ideals and business principles of the plumbing industry marked the monthly meeting of the Sanitary Development League of So. Calif., just held in Los Angeles.

The slogan, "acquire reputation as the greatest asset of members of the organization and the emblem, a metal disc, to be displayed by the more than 200 leading plumbing concerns enrolled in the league, expressed the spirit of the present educational campaign to induce the use of more modern methods of sanitation and better plumbing materials.

It is announced that a cash prize has been awarded to Ray H. Roemer, chairman of the publicity committee, for submitting the best slogan and design for an emblem.

The emblems are being made and will be sent to members within a few days. This will identify members of the league with the movement for better plumbing that is being conducted by the organization.

Henry Boynton, secretary, stated that more than 50 leading plumbing firms in So. Calif. have joined since the campaign was launched last month. These new members were accepted only after an investigating committee had assured itself that they are in harmony with the aims of the league and will adhere to the lofty principles upon which it is founded.

"There is a general movement for more substantial building, for the use of better materials of every kind in homes, office buildings, industrial and manufacturing plants," said Boynton. "The influence of the plumbing industry to safeguard health and to protect this and future generations is proving very satisfactory. This is largely due to the fact that the public press is co-operating with us."

EVANGELIST TELLS TABERNACLE CROWD BACKBONE NEEDED

A fine crowd assembled at the tabernacle last night, although it had been raining all day. The evangelist assured the people that there always would be service even in the hardest rain.

The singing was fine and last night was conducted by Miss Reever; Mr. Brotherton singing the solo.

The speaking was at the close of the service, but heretofore it will be at the beginning. A white canopy has been erected over the baptistry and it has a beautiful appearance.

The sermon subject last night was "After Faith What?" It was a sermon to church members urging the growing in grace and telling them how to become effective workers for Christ.

Evangelist Vetter told that crowd that the greatest asset to a Christian is not backbone, the courage to stand for the right. He said that it takes more courage for a man to ask another man to accept Christ than it does to talk politics, business or social affairs. "He is afraid," said the evangelist, that the man will say, "You are no better than I," but if that is true urged Dr. Vetter, "come down the aisle like any other back-sitter and get good enough."

Then some have the courage but not the knowledge. In the business world a man must know how to order to hold his position. More important than knowing how to get to the city of God. If the Christian does not know how to tell a man what he needs to do to be saved he should know how to find it in his Bible. The last two virtues considered were patience and temperance. They mean getting in the game and staying in the game.

There were two more additions to the church. Another interesting service is arranged for tonight.

Mrs. Mize will meet the boys and girls for the Bible Drill at 3:45 this afternoon.

TRYING TO PROTECT PURCHASER OF LIME

Many Orange County growers will be interested to know that an effort is now being made to protect the purchaser of lime and other soil amendments.

Upon request by a joint committee representative of the commercial fertilizer industry, the agricultural mineral industry, and the state, a bill was drafted by Mr. Geo. P. Gray, Chief of the Division of Chemistry. This was introduced to the Legislature on January 16th, 1922, as Senate Bill No. 35, by Senator Osborne and referred to the committee on agriculture.

This bill is intended to prevent fraud in the sale of agricultural lime, marl, gypsum, sulphur, and other minerals not covered by any law, and to raise the standard of such substances by requiring the labeling of every lot, giving the percentage of valuable constituents and the name of the purchaser or dealer.

It will be entirely self-supporting by means of license fees, and tonnage taxes, and can be economical to administer in conjunction with the Fertilizer Law, without any additional expense for supervision.

The need for the bill as proposed has been fully shown by investigations made by the Division of Chemistry of the State Department of Agriculture. Results of this investigation have been given in Special Publications 18 and 29, of the State Department of Agriculture. It is shown that many of the minerals covered in the proposed law are advertised or labeled so as to give the prospective purchaser the impression that he is obtaining not only lime or gypsum, but in addition, an appreciable quantity of the three commonly recognized plant foods, nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash, which substances determine the commercial value of a fertilizer.

Fifty-two lots of lime stone and marl obtained at as many as thirty-two different localities in the state have been examined. These analyses show that a wide variation in composition exists. Of the fifty-two lots tested, only sixteen contain 85% or over of calcium carbonate. Many specimens have been analyzed which contain two-thirds clay or sand, some samples even running as low as 90% and clay. Since the investigation has started, considerable improvement has been shown in the quality of the materials marketed, but some form of legal regulation is needed in order to correct the evils noted above.

It is estimated that in excess of 100,000 tons of agricultural minerals are sold in the state each year at prices ranging as high as $55.00 per ton. Many instances are known where very low grade lime has been sold at a price five to six times higher than high grade lime could have been purchased. Under present conditions, the purchaser has no means of detecting these frauds on account of the nature of the materials, the agricultural value of which cannot be judged except by chemical analysis. This bill provides that each lot or package be labeled showing the percentage of each valuable constituent.

ELECTRICITY FOR INDOLENT BRAINS

LONDON, Jan. 27.—Dr. Bernard Hollander, the mental specialist, told the British Phrenological society at its annual meeting that electric currents passed through schoolrooms helped backward, indolent students to pass examinations in which they had previously failed.

Dr. Hollander pictured a new world in which the respective merits of battery and magnetic ignition for the brain would be hotly debated in the clubs. He did not develop the idea, however, but went on to speak of the scientific phenomena which it would be possible to institute. If mental hospitals could be established for the study of mind changes, following brain disorders.

It is estimated that in excess of 100,000 tons of agricultural minerals are sold in the state each year at prices ranging as high as $55.00 per ton. Many instances are known where very low grade lime has been sold at a price five to six times higher than high grade lime could have been purchased. Under present conditions, the purchaser has no means of detecting these frauds on account of the nature of the materials, the agricultural value of which cannot be judged except by chemical analysis. This bill provides that each lot or package be labeled showing the percentage of each valuable constituent.

CITRUS PRUNING TO BE FEATURED

The Agricultural Extension Service announces another series of citrus pruning demonstrations for February 13th to 17th. The object of these field meetings will be largely to demonstrate the follow-up treatment of trees frosted a year ago, but normal trees will also be handled for the benefit of those who did not attend the previous field demonstrations.

Pruning will be featured at El Modena, Yorba Linda and La Habra; orange at Tustin, Garden Grove and Anaheim.

The following schedule has been arranged. Locations of the demonstrations will be announced later.

Feb. 13th, Garden Grove 2 p. m.; Feb. 14, Yorba Linda 10 a. m., El Modena, 2 p. m. Feb. 15, Anaheim 10 a. m., La Habra, 2 p. m. Feb. 16th, Tustin, 10 a. m.

HERO OF LADYSMITH HONORED AT LAST

LONDON.—The British public is always ready to honor its heroes, but usually takes its time about it. A memorial statue to Field Marshal Sir George White, V. C., the defender of Ladysmith, was unveiled in Portland place the other day by Lord Derby, secretary of state for war. The first subscriptions toward the statue were collected as long ago as 1913.

A guard of honor was provided by the London Scottish and Chelsea pensioners.

FOR NEW BRIDGE

LUMA, Jan. 26.—A new bridge across the Colorado river and rearrangement of its tracks at Yuma, Ariz., at a cost of about $2,000,000 are contemplated by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company. Chief Engineer G. W. Boschee has notified the city council of Yuma that construction will be started in about a year.

The new bridge will span the river between two busses known as Prison Hill and Indian School Hill. On the California side a viaduct over the main traveled highway and a trestle over the Yuma project main canal will have to be constructed.

As mischief in youth will often carry too far, so will foolishness in old age.

The DOBLE STEAM MOTOR CAR

Will be in
ANAHEIM
Thursday, Friday and Saturday Only February 1, 2 and 3
IRVIN'S GARAGE
247 N. Los Angeles St.
10:00 a. m. to 9 p. m.

THE DOBLE STEAM MOTOR CAR is so astonishingly superior to any other automobile that it cannot be measured by the same standards!

For years engineers have dreamed of a perfect automobile—a car that would be simple in construction and operation, economical to drive, silent and luxurious at all speeds. A car of few moving parts, without the bother of self starter, clutch and gear shift, a car that would thread its way through traffic with the ease of a pedestrian, a car the success of which would be ABSOLUTELY ASSURED, because it would IMPROVE TRANSPORTATION.

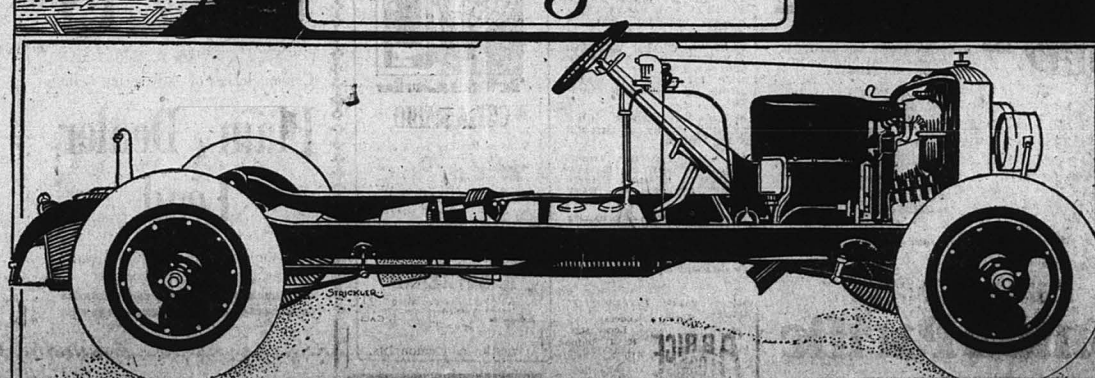

Today Abner Doble has perfected such a car in his master creation and has successfully surpassed the world's greatest motive power—STEAM—to automotive transportation in a way that bids fair to completely revolutionize the standards of the motor world!

Speed	Simplicity	Economy	Durability	Climbing Ability
The car is geared one-and-a-half to one and has a road speed of 75 miles per hour in reserve.	The entire power plant contains but 36 moving parts. There is no clutch, gear shift, self-starter, transmission or universal joints. The car is controlled by the operation of a single lever; starts from absolutely "cold" in 30 seconds by merely turning on an electric switch.	The Doble car burns kerosene, distillate or gasoline without adjustment. Wonderful oil economy—500 miles to the pint—or 4,000 miles per gallon—2,000 to 3,000 miles on one filling of water—50% increased tire mileage.	The power plant of the Doble car carries a guarantee of 100,000 miles. At 35 miles per hour the Doble motor is the "Orr" to San Francisco turning but 545 revolutions per minute, compared with the average gas car motor, and responds most startlingly turning 1,800 to 2,200 revolutions at the same speed. Vibration is eliminated in the Doble car.	The stock Doble carries a steam pressure of 750 pounds. The locomotive that runs the "Orr" to San Francisco requires 200 pounds pressure, and responds most startlingly on the steepest hill. In short, the Doble Steam Motor is completely beyond comparison for hill work.

DAILY GREETINGS TO OUR READERS

Oh! Promise of a loving God, Who set his children's feet.
Since I am His, I claim Him mine—
And I am rich indeed—Anonymous.

Keeping of promises punctiliously wins confidence and respect.

The most common fiction in the world, when the light is low, is "You are the only girl I ever loved!"

Europe does not need an outside physician so much as it needs to apply self-healing to its political and economic ills.

Keeping one's promises clean, neat and attractive is one effective way to contribute toward making one's home city beautiful.

Scoring at things holy and sacred is no badge of manliness or womanliness. More often it betokens vulgarity and shallow mentality on the part of the person indulging in it.

American soldiers went toward the Rhine with broken minds and broken hearts. They are coming away from the Rhine having gained opinions from the German people. Gallant in war and manly in peace, and American soldiers will respect and esteem everywhere.

The Colorado River is the greatest potential developmental agency the southwest has. Put under scientific control by the building of a huge dam, as projected, it will become a source of untold blessing to this entire region.

The number of home-owners in California is increasing rapidly. This is very gratifying. It denotes steady progress. It betokens permanent residence on the part of newcomers and native sons and daughters who buy or build their home-land and settle down in it.

President Harding has named four members of the United States Supreme Court, including the chief justice. He probably will name the fifth member while he is in the presidency, thus achieving the distinction of appointing a majority of all members of that august tribunal.

Not all the school boys in Ohio are destined to become president of the United States. Some of them must be reserved to become United States senators, cabinet officers, foreign ambassadors and members of the august court. Ohio believes in diversifying the crop of talents of her favorite sons.

Seventy-five years ago gold was discovered in California. It has been three-quarters of a century of mar-vels in development of this state.
The golden treasure has poured forth in a steady stream from California's mines and has replenished the treasury of the nation and has added strength to the sunny standards of all the great nations of the world.
California's contribution in this, to the welfare and progress of the world has been monumental.

EUROPE NEEDS MORE OF GODLINESS

"The trouble is that the diplomats and politicians have been leaving God out of the reckoning."
These are the words of Dr. G.
Campbell Morgan, eminent clergyman of London, who is holding meetings here in Pasadena. Dr. Morgan advances a suggestion that perhaps offers the only solution of Europe's grave problems. It is very true that God is being left out of the reckoning for there is no religion-ity that is worshipped in the true God but the god Mam and the god Dread. This worship is not chargeable to the masses of Europeans, but certain leaders who misguide their people.

If the statement of Europe were guided by the teachings of the Christ the present crisis would pass away like mist before the rising sun. Perhaps no better formula could be found for Europe today than the Sermon on the Mount. But alas! There is small hope that the Beatitudes or the Golden Rule or the sublime moral principles which the Christ taught will be accepted as guiding forces by the statesmen of Europe.

FARM CREDIT PLANS IN CONGRESS

Congress is pushing proposed legislation to extend credit facilities to farmers. Influences in behalf of expanded credits for agriculturists are so strong that definite results are expected at this session. Political considerations will enter into this situation largely. Both of the great politicians are wooing the farmer element, bidding for greater support in 1924. The so-called "farm bloc" which houses of Congress is very strong.
In truth, this group just about holds the balance of power in Congress.

The American farmer, on the markets of his situation, should be given special assistance in financing his farming operations and in marketing his crops. His is a vital industry, an industry upon which the very life of the Nation and people depends.
Nothing should be permitted to jeopardize this industry. Everything that properly and practically can be done to promote agriculture and encourage agriculturists, should be done by the government at Washington, and by the masses of the people.

Economy at Sacramento lights the tapers of hope in the hearts of California taxpayers.

The person who elects to lead a decent, orderly life should not be succeeded at and regarded as an impenent, old-fashioned and out-of-date. God help this Nation should the old-fashioned virtues depart.

Senator Capper of Kansas, in the Henry Clay role of "I would rather be right than be president," may find himself promoted all the harder for the nomination in 1924. There is such a thing as the nomination for the presidency seeking the man, rather than the man seeking the nomination.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

CONTEST ON REAPPORTIONMENT
(Glendale News)

San Francisco rather hastily challenged southern California's right to seek reapportionment in the legislature this season. In fact, it was not a challenge, but a soft, a denial, a repudiation of their representative sworn oath to uphold the constitution.

Now these northern legislators are the principals in a drama "To Have and To Hold," which bears every evidence of a most serious compromise. In fact, it was not a challenge, but a soft, a denial, a repudiation of their representative sworn oath to uphold the constitution.

That San Francisco had not thought of the initiative, through which a constitutional amendment would call for reapportionment and special election to follow the next general election, seems surprising.
Perhaps the north does not appreciate the leaps and bounds made in legislation in the south.

It had been the hope of southern states that the north, which is bound to lose by lack of voting strength, would offer some compromise, which would give the minority of population even more than it was entitled.
Senator Dugger's generous offer, however, as San Francisco and the covernment were concerned, was interpreted as the south's admission of defeat.

Is that assumption the northern representatives held the fallacious al-lure of victory easily achieved and that the newspapers and public in the south have awakened and demanded full representation for the south?

Southern California stands solid for reapportionment.

Southern California will represent in 1924 more than fifty per cent of the voting strength of the entire state.

Los Angeles county today has approximately one-third of the actual voting strength. Other sections of the state continued domination, through the bay cities' representation, will give the south more than the needed majority.

The mistake the majority in the legislature are now making is that they have been blinded to these facts. They have been blinded to the results in 1925 and the greater results to be obtained six years thereafter, when a new federal census will reveal the immensity of Los Angeles' growth.

Since San Francisco is not evidencing a spirit of compromise and fairness, which would in turn, avail them much when they are in the minority, they must realize that human nature runs in its regular course and they will get the same reply in 1931 that they gave the north in 1921 and 1925—no more, no less.

It must be remembered that Los Angeles county gets what it goes after. There are no half way measures, no defeated spirit and no delay at this late hour to compromise.
The day of reckoning comes closer.
The next legislature will see a full quota from the south seated in both the house and the senate. If it is a matter of initiative.

And what then? Los Angeles will be able to give the cow counties their every want and thereby control the legislative body of this state.
Also, southern California may be able to inflict some of its spirit of progress and prosperity on the north by the eradication of the bay district bosses who are fighting their last fight—and losing hard.
