VOL. XXVI—NO. 169 | Anaheim, California, Monday, March, 5, 1923 | TWENTY-SIXTH YEAR

2 FARM HOUSES RANSACKED WHILE FAMILIES ABSENT

Considerable jewelry was taken from the home of John Edwards half a mile north and east of Garden Grove between two and four o'clock Saturday, Edwards reported to Sheriff Sam Jernigan.

The articles taken included a ladies' gold watch, English and open-faced; long watch chain of fine mesh; gold ring with green setting; black leather cigar case; a string of pearl beads about 10 inches long; and a string of red beads, 13 to 14 inches long.

When the family came home they found two bed-rooms ransacked, including the beds, which was torn up evidently in the belief that they might have been hiding places.

Undersheriff E. E. French and Deputy Sheriff Jesse Elliott investigated.

Park Broden, Fullerton R. F. D. reported the loss Saturday of a quantity of electrical apparatus, worth several hundred dollars. The things taken included: A detector and two-step unit consisting of three Giffilan detector units, three filament control frost jacks, two semi-mounted amplifying transformers, one Cunningham detector tube, one Cunningham amplifier tube, Bakelite panel ⅛ by 7½ by 9½ inches, one 23-plate advance electric vernin condenser, one four-plate Vivo condenser, one 0-15 jeweled flush-mount voltmeter, one 0-8 jeweled flush mount radiofrequency ammeter, two radiatron amplifier, four six-inch porcelain glazed insulators, one socket for 50-watt tube and one General radio rheostat.

Calvin Baughman of 220 South Brodaway Santa Ana, reported the loss in Anaheim of a black hand bag with contents which was taken from his auto. The contents included lady's wearing apparel, grey suit with red lin new pair of black shoes, new pair corsets, several pair stockings and red ring with small diamonds and beaded hand bags.

W. Dean of the Elks' Club Santa Ana reported the loss of a Firestone cord tire from his car in front of the bathhouse at Huntington Beach.

AVERAGE RAINFALL BELOW PAR; TOTAL AROUND 7 INCHES

Jupiter Pluvius will have to hurry up if he expects to provide Orange-co with its average rainfall this season. At 48 hours added .26 or more the storm .40 or more, making for the season, but this is far low last year's record and considerably below the average. So far the wells are concerned, however, the snow in the mountains will be a very important factor.

There is more snow in the Santa Ana mountains, whose watershed drains of course into the Santa Ana river, than in any winter in years, is said, and the San Bernardino also has an unusually supply.

The spreading of water at the source of the river by the three counties also will have considerable effect. The Anaheim Sugar Co. reported .43 for the storm and .28 for the 48 hours, making .8 51 for the season. This makes a better showing for the Anaheim being 1.57 more than that reported by the Anaheim Orange & Lemon Ass'n.

On the former basis, which appears to accord more with the figures of Fullerton, Placentia and Yorba Linda, and adding the normal rainfall for March, April and May to the total to March 1 the Anaheim district will be more than 10 per cent under the normal of 13.09 for the season. The normal for aMrch is 1.52, using the Irvine ranch as the index for the county; 3.5 for April and .44 for May. These figures vary a good deal both ways. In May, 1921, for instance, 1.63 inches fell in this district. In April, 1922, only a trace fell.

The Yorba Linda Citrus Ass'n reported .37 for the 24 hours, .52 for the storm and 6.56 for the season to date. The Placentia Orange growers at Fullerton .21 for the 48 hours, .23 for the storm and 6.93 for the season. The La Habra Citrus Ass'n reported .07 for the 48 hours and 7.32 for the season to date.

TWISTED SIMLE DISCLOSES GARWOOD DEAD BANDIT

LOS ANGELES, March 5.—Tom Garwood, "king of Los Angeles underworld" master cracksman, teacher of criminals and pal of Herb Wilson, was the man who was killed in the desperate battle between crooks and police at Santa Monica last night.

Today the face that is in every rogue's gallery in the country easily identified its owner as he lay in the morgue, his famous "twisted smile" still making the features seem to grin in death as they did in life.

"Old Garwood," as he was known to the police died with his "boots on" as he always said he would die. At bay when trapped with two other gangsters after blowing a safe of the Crescent Creamery Co. plant on Twelfth street, near Colorado, Garwood died among the flying bullets and the fatal shot was fired by one of old enemies, "a bull."

Even in his last moment Garwood was the cold crook of old. His last words were a warning yelled to his "pals."

"Beat it. I'm shot," he called after being downed by a policeman's bullet. The other two bandits took the last order of their dying chief and escaped. And "old Tom," witnessing their escape, turned over and died with the "twisted smile" fixed on his face.

Garwood's last spectacular "job" prior to the one in which he met death last night was when he became the "fall guy" for Herb Wilson when the latter escaped from the county jail several months ago. Garwood was arrested at the time when he was found harboring Wilson, Guido Spinola, alias "the Mouse and Adam Ward after their escape from jail.

Although the police believed Garwood was conducting an "underground way" for the escape of crooks pursued by Southern California police he was finally released from jail Much of his life had been served behind prison doors and he was a notorious ex-covict.

While a dragnet was thrown over all of Southern California for Garwood's two companions, one of whom shot and wounded Policeman E. W. Cordes, and was himself wounded by the fallen policeman's fire, the authorities began to piece together as spectacular and checkered a career of crime as has ever come to their notice.

DR. GEISSINGER IN PULPIT AGAIN SUN.

Dr. J. A. Geissinger preached Sunday morning at the White Temple upon the text, Mark 8:36: "What shall it Profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" It was his first sermon in several weeks, following a throat operation.

He said:

"This is an arresting question because of the warning contained in it to the effect that it is possible for man to be utterly defeated in his life but also because it is a call to man to make the most of his life not let it sink down into meaningless futilities.

"There are times when we feel the full power of those words and yet ordinarily money, places, fame, power, social recognition success, knowledge seem legitimate ideals. And these things are not to be despised. The world—what is it? O it is the material, the passing, a fringe of things thru which we pass in our spiritual pilgrimage as immortal beings. And the world with all that is in it the lust of the eyes, the lust of the flesh and vainglory of life—these pass away. But man's life with his power of looking before and after, his imperial power of will, his moral freedom, his dominion over the earth, his sympathy, his idealism, his love of the true and the good and the beautiful, his conscience of right and wrong, his spirit of hope, his capacity for God and immortality for communion with the Most High, these are too great powers to trifle with or to waste.

"We say that a man is not warranted in wrecking his life to attain success; life is not to be squandered in a mad wild striving after pleasure; man, who was made to reign, must not come to ultimate moral disaster.

"Look at this truth, which Jesus Christ bring home to us with such vividness in his text, in concrete examples.

"Francis Xavier was a young Spanish nobleman, born to high position and great wealth. Also endowed with high mental power. In his twenties he had gained a doctor of philosophy at the Sarbonne. Soon from all over Europe eager youths were crowding his lecture room. Ignatious Loyola was one of his auditors. He saw the spiritual capacities of the young lecturer and frequently complimented him on his brilliant discourse. But always added: "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" One particular day this searching question came home with converting power to the heart of young Xavier and he left the class room to carry the gospel to haunts of poverty and misery in his own land and then left Europe on his grand mission for Christ. Not all of his work lasted but what a flaming evangelist he was for Christ and the church. Suppose he had settled down simply to comment on life and things!

"Chinese Gordon locked up in Kartoum, a victim of the red tape of a stupid foreign ministry, was yet told that there was a way out for him tho not for those who had trusted him. His reply is memorable. I will not rat out!" But suppose he had! Suppose Moses had remained a shepherd of the flocks of Midian when God called him to lead his people out of Egypt, what a waste of imperial powers. And suppose Paul had settled down to be a rabbi.

"There was in him that gracious letter to Philemon, First Corinthians 15, that we read over our dead, 13th of First Corinthians, that battle cry, Galatians, and the massiveness of Romans but they might all of them been lost easily. Supposed Luther had remained a monk all his days when God was calling him to open doors for men into a new and larger and more satisfying world.

"Charlemagne was undoubtedly the greatest ruler of the middle ages. Not only a great prince but the shepherd of his people. He aspired to be a modern David. When he died his body was laid in a magnificent tomb at Aix in Chappele, in the state room of which was placed a huge throne and a life size statue of the great king seated upon his throne. On

Happy Day with Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Ballou were host and hostess to a small company of friends and workers at supper, Mrs. Austill, of Pomona, Mrs. Mize, Miss Reaves and Mr. Morgan, including some young friends of Miss Faye Ballou, made a congenial party.

Mrs. Austill was one of the several friends who came from Pomona, among the delegation attending yesterday. Several of these men and women were former townsmen of Rev. Vawter. An all day meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the White Temple will be held at the home of Mrs. George Tedrow, near Orange, Thursday of this week. There will be cars at the church at 10 o'clock to take those who have no other way of transportation.

BUILDERS EXCHANGE TO MEET TUESDAY

The regular monthly meeting of Orange-co. chapter of the Los Angeles Builder's Exchange will be held at the Elks' club at Anaheim on Tuesday evening starting with dinner at 6:00 p. m.

This is to be an open meeting and all members are urged to be present and to bring a friend—someone connected with the building industry of Orange-co., either a contractor of good standing or a building material merchant or licensed architect.

It will be the last open meeting for some time. In the future, all meeting will be strictly confined to members and devoted to the discussion of local building problems.

The membership of the local chapter has been growing steadily since its first meeting four months ago. At the last meeting 5 new members were taken in, giving a total membership of 39.

The first action of importance taken by the Exchange was to present to the Santa Ana city council a resolution calling for an increase in the Building inspector's office—so as to provide adequate facilities to take care of the great increase in building in Santa Ana and see that only the best of construction, according to the building ordinance, is allowed to be erected.

The Exchange is composed of only reliable firms and it is pointed out as the prideful record of the Los Angeles Exchange that a lien has not been filed on any of its members in the last 25 years. This insures the public of the responsibility of the Exchange members in any dealings.

NEARLY 1200 BOY SCOUTS IN COUNTY

According to the monthly report issued by the scout executive today to the members of the county executive board, the County Court of Honor, of which Leon O. Whitsell of Orange is chairman, last month awarded 38 second class badges, 21 first class badges and 133 merit badges. It is fully expected this will be the greatest year for the Court of Honor. If this average is kept up.

One feature of this report is the fact that Orange-co has increased its membership by nearly 200% in the period when national headquarters had asked every council strive to increase 25%. If Orange-co had only increased its membership the alloted 25%, there would be 470 scouts at present whereas there are in excess of 1100. The report shows that several new troops are in process of formation and it is expected that the 1200 mark will be reached before the next county rally May 4th.

Friday evening, Victor E. Teaney, assistant scout executive, assisted in completing the organization of a new Cypress troop. The County Court of Honor, under the leadership of Leon O. Whitsell, met last week at which time the work of the Court of Honor was formally organized for the coming year. There are now 22 members in the combined district courts in the county. It is hoped that as a result of this conference, that even a higher standard of tests will be maintained.

The weekly bulletin to scoutmasters contains an announcement of several very important dates which scouts are looking forward to.

March 16th there will be Courts of Honor at Orange and Brea. March 19th will be a scoutmasters' meeting in Fullerton. March 21st there will be Court of Honor in Anaheim. March 23rd, Court of Honor will be held in Santa Ana. March 31st will be the scoutmasters' quarterly training day at Orange-co Park. On May 4th, the county rally is scheduled at which time eagle badges will be awarded to all who have qualified. May 12th has been set as county field meet Santa Ana H. S. field.

Dr. M. A. Patton, chairman of the county camping committee announced that the forest ranger was now "spotting" timber to be used in the huge scout cabin to be built at Camp Rokili at the summer camp. Camp is scheduled to open as soon as the roads are open afterschool is out and close the last of August.

THOMAS MEIGHAN LEADING FILM IDOL

Who is the most popular screen actor in this country today?

Of course you all know. Don't all answer at once.

Certainly. Its none other than Thomas Meighan.

Many stars claim title to the above but according to many authorities over the country, Meighan is without a peer in popularity and the affections of the people.

Therefore, his pictures are always looked upon as the best to be procured, and it is with genuine enthusiasm that the Califronia theater here is preparing to stage his latest feature entitled "Back Home and Broke."

This story, so ably portrayed by this distinguished actor, deals with the trials and triumphs of a small town young man who really finds out just who his friends are, both when he has money and when he is broke.

Supported by petite Lila Lee and a splendid supporting cast, Thomas Meighan does the best work of his career in this picture, it is said. The California will undoubtedly enjoy dandy business during the run of this picture tomorrow and Wednesday, it is believed. In addition to this picture, the California will also offer many other entertaining attractions.

Tonight will see the final performances of Reginald Barker's thrilling masterpiece "Hearts Aflame". With an all-star cast of notables, "Hearts Aflame" is creating much attention here.

DAILY GREETINGS TO OUR READERS

The shadows of doubt and uncertainty linger
But slowly and surely they pass away
Under the touch of Faith's gentle finger.
Oh, walk with hope in the light thou hast,
To the perfect day thou shalt come last.

President Harding is going to Florida to rest—provided the mosquitoes and office seekers will give him rest.

The burning of a vast stellar body is no more, in magnitude, to the Creator than the burning of a match is to a human being.

The graves of American heroes abroad should be kept green perpetually. And the living heroes should not be forgotten or ignored.

The way to retrench is to retrench—which means that real retrenchment in government means a scaling down in expenses, not a scaling up.

Teaching in the schools should be promotive of peace. Children should be impressed with the horrors of warfare and the blessings of peace.

The baseball season will open. And the enthusiasts will be on hand to show how much more they know about the game than the umpires or the player.

It is quite precarious for one to hang one's hopes for advancement in this world upon the limb of the family tree. Going forward should be upon one's own merits.

The agricultural industry is basic, and vital to the country. Upon it all other industries must depend, in some measure. When it thrives, the thriving is sensed by all other classes and industries.

There should be a supreme tribunal of the world to impose upon nations the obligations of respecting each other's rights and immunities, just as there are courts to force individuals to respect each other's rights.

That there is sustained improvement in business and industry, the country over, is indicated in reports from all sources. This betterment is real, not merely apparent. The demoralizing aftermath of the World War period is disappearing rapidly.

LABOR WELL EMPLOYED ALL OVER LAND

Favorable employment conditions are featured in official reports of the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Department of Labor. In the textile and steel mills and anthracite mines of the East shortages of both drilled and unskilled labor were reported. While employments conditions are better in some sections than in others, yet the country as a whole is "white" as to prosperous status of labor.

Generally satisfactory employment conditions denote generally satisfactory economic status. This country unquestionably is thriving handsomely. The deranged, demoralized economic status immediately following the Armistice is giving way to a settled, stabilized condition. The Scylla and the Charybdis of economic danger and depression are passed, and the Nation's economic bark is assured smoother sailing henceforth. All sections of the country are sharing in this more prosperous state.

U. S. MERCHANT NAVY IN SAD PLIGHT

Congress might have been justified in rejecting President Harding's ship-subsidy program, in whole or in part. But Congress was not justified in leaving the whole subject of shipping without legislative action. Here is a tremendously big problem—one that touches intimately the economic weal of the whole country. It should have received definite, constructive attention from Congress.

This is a fateful period for American shipping. The whole world gradually is reviving from the disastrous effects of the World War. Shipping interests of all the maritime powers are being revived and expanded. The United States has its fair chance to uphold commerce under its Flag in volume never ehfore equalled. This golden opportunity should not be flung away, in order that Congress may play politics or evade its manifest duty to do something constructive for the maintenance, promotion and upbuilding of American shipping interests.

Panama Canal fortifications are not adequate for the successful defense of the great waterway, should a powerful maritime nation attack it. This is demonstrated in the naval maneuvers in the canal region. This defense is essential to the safeguarding of this Nation. Congress should take heed to the potential peril of leaving the canal inadequately defended.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

WHAT EDITORS ARE SAYING

CHILDREN IN CHURCHES

Santa Ana (Cal.) Register

There has been a revolution lately in religious education, says a Protestant minister. And he does not refer at all to the kind of change in views of worship in which the child takes part, and of guidance in social acton, so that the child learns how to study, play and mingle with his bellows with religious motives in his heart."

This, clearly enough, is the way to go about the matter. It is the way to rear up a new generation of religious men and women who may not have exactly the same faith as their forefathers, but whose faith will be living and practical.

It is the method by which children are taught nowadays in their secular studies—intelligent and capable instruction, combined with practice. Children learn religion, as they learn anything else, that is really learned—by performing it.

TOWN IN REVIEW

WHILE THERE'S LIFE, THERE'S HOPE, EVEN IN CONNECTICUT

This is an "off" week for New Prestonites. Nothing doing. Life is just one opaque mass of dull, insipid monotony. No skating, no nothing. So almost everybody has turned into a Micawber and is waiting for some thing to turn up. You see, the thaw set in Saturday, and the going is such at the present that—well—our citizens use in the morning, don their apparel, eat, goof their apparel at night, sleep, get up in the morning, don their apparel, and so on in a circle of endless monotonous sameness continued. We live in hopes of better and livlier times. If the thaw which is now gently progressing should continue until about three ft. of the snow should disappear from mortal view there would be great rejoicing among our citizens. If otherwise and the snow remains, why the proper thing to do is to read Whittier's "Snowbound" and resume "watchful waiting".—Ridgefield (Conn.) Press.

"People arn't going to be scared by any threats of hell or pain hereafter," Stitt Wilson told the Council of Cities of the Methodist Episcopal church the other day.

After watching the railroad commission settle the telephone rate squabble, we're inclined to agree with him.

A Washington bureau says cost of living went down 1 per cept last month. Glad we found it out.

The Germans say they won't fight The makes it unanimous.

Berlin reports, however, that the French are holding seven burgomasters in a cellar. In this country, that wouldn't be so bad.

INCA

Tichapata, Inca chief in Peru, watches fish swimming in a river. From them he gets an idea for an invention; an improved paddle wheel which he says would carry a ship across the Atlantic ocean in two days. Tichapata catches a steamer, arrives in New York to interest capitalists in his invention.

This Inca chief is a university graduate. He builds canals, is an expert at repairing sugar plantation machinery, and travels in his home country on a bicycle of his own invention. The bike has revolving wings. Tichapata is a Christian. Compare him with his sun-worshiping ancestors, and you realize how the white man's civilization is penetrating to the far corners of the earth An Inca chief riding a bicycle and crossing the ocean to consult bankers is the most startling item in today's news.

K-L Pills

For Kidney and Liver Troubles, Constipation, Intestinal Indigestion and Kindred Ailments.

Liver trouble leads to serious ills. And a sure sign of liver trouble is biliousness. If you have attacks of headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if you have a fickle appetite, you probably are bilious—which may lead to derangement of the liver and to serious and quite often fatal results. Read this strong endorsement of Dr. A. W. Chase's K-L Pills. Mrs. J. H. Stone, Route No. 2, Bailey, Ga., writes:

"For a number of years I have been troubled with my kidneys, liver and also my stomach. I find Dr. A. W. Chase's K-L Pills a wonderful remedy. They certainly are the finest I ever used. I would not be without them in my home and take great pleasure in recommending them to my friends."

You can buy Dr. Chase's K-L Pills at all drug stores. To be sure of getting the genuine, see that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase M.D. are on every box—your protection against imitations.

NEW YORK LETTER

NEW YORK, March 5—They don't pose as art critics in Cody, Wyoming, but they do know horses, particularly western ones. Much as the people of Cody appreciate the equestrian statue of Buffalo Bill, which Mrs. Henry Payne Whitney has modeled to be erected near their city, they just can't bear to have their hero mounted on so fat a horse. "It isn't Mrs. Whitney's fault," they explain. "She knows horses and she meant right, but it's eastern horses that she knows. New York City horses. Our horses are lean, while theirs are plump. Buffalo Bill never rode a horse all curves like that."

Husbands can't be taken on and thrust away just for the purpose of having a simple way of getting rid of another suitor. Not in New York. We may not take marriage as seriously as we ought, but it mustn't be entered into with the same light temperiness with which one would plead sick headache to stay at home from a dull card party. So Doris Leberfine Rafelson found when she sought an annulment of her marriage to Sidney Rafelson. She explained to the court that she married Rafelson, and lied about her age to do it, so she "could have a marriage certificate to show the man she wanted to get rid of." Judge Francis Martain insisted she couldn't take on and put off a wedding ring like that and that she must stay married, and so be rid permanently of other bothersome suitors.

When you can get Marie Dressler, Benny Leonard, Kitty Doner, and Thomas Burke, to say nothing of a super-lovely Spanish creature named Trini, together in one colorful and tuneful revue, even for New York, it is a bargain. This is true of "The Dancing Girl." Personally I would rather laugh at the adorable Marie Dressler, than cry over the greatest tragediennes of all times and countries. She is here, bigger, better, and funnier than ever. Leonard gives the great lay public a chance to see a prize fighter in action, for a manner which is not only inoffensive, but positively charming and entertaining. Trini is just more propaganda for Spain. How we can ever have had a difference with a country who disports her like is more than I can understand. Yes, there are girls, and costumes, and scenery—oodles, and perfect.

Just being a news photographer seems to be a violation of the law. After he had taken pictures from the top of the Manhattan tower on Brooklyn Bridge, Edward Mulligan was arrested on a charge of endangering the lives of pedestrians. Mulligan declared he was taking no greater risks than photographers all do.

Either a good many more women in this city are working this year or else they are getting more money for their jobs. The number of single women filing income tax reports this year is much greater, according to the Internal Revenue office in New York City, than ever before. Last year half a million women here paid taxes on incomes aggregating more than a billion dollars, which would mean that they averaged over $2,000 a year.

The famous French tapestry set, "The Hunt of the Unicorn," which the French press has been calling "lost", is safely in the possession of John D. Rockefeller, Jr. That is, they are here, awaiting release by the customs officials, having just arrived from abroad. The real mystery is the removal an sale of the tapestries for the reported sum of $1,000,000, despite the vigilance of French authorities in their safeguarding of the nation's art treasures. Mr. Rockefeller had what he considered to be responsible assurances, before purchasing them, that their sale was duly authorized and quite proper both from the standpoint of their owner and of the French government, but France is not yet ready to let her masterpieces leave the country. "The Hunt for the Unicorn" is a series of six Gothic tapestries woven about 1450 for the Duc de la Riechefoucauld. They were preserved for 473 years in the castle of Vertouil.

Beautiful Beverly Tract

For years the tendency of Anaheim's growth has been towards west and it's only a question of a few years and West Broadway will be the dominating residential section of this wonderful growing city.

We have therefore carefully planned to get in line in time and acquired 21 acres of walnuts and oranges in the very heart of town, 1 block from Broadway, 2 blocks from high school, Fremont and Kindergarten schools, for subdivision purpose. We were able to obtain this land at what we consider a bargain price and today we are in a position to let you have the benefit of our advantageous acquirement in selling the lots at prices unheard of in Anaheim for years past.

The improvements of the lots in Beverly Tract consist of electricity, gas, water, sewers, cement walks, curbs and good oiled streets, all these improvements will be completed within a short time from now.

The prices of this full sized 50 feet front lots run from $1,200 up to $1,400. While the corners are considerably larger and you can have the terms to suit you.

The restrictions will protect you as well as your neighbor, Beverly Tract as well as all surrounding tracts is well restricted. There is the finest kind of soil 10 feet deep.

The ideal location of Beverly Tract, it's unique beauty, low price and terms within the reach of everyone tend to make this tract Anaheim's most popular residential section.

If interested act quick, for at this price these homesites will be sold soon.

MABEE STARTS ON RIGOROUS COURSE OF MAT TRAINING

Roy Mabee yesterday started upon a rigorous course of training for his match here about the middle of the month with Johnny Meyers, middleweight wrestling champion and inventor of the famous "stopper hold."

The "stopper hold," by the way, is a wrist lock applied to the foot and leg. In it once, there's no getting out. About all the vanquished mat artists remembers is the tear producing pain that accompanies it. The only way to deal with a "stopper hold" is not to get into it.

Mabee worked out for an hour yesterday at Elks club. Hubert Wilson of Pennsylvania, Al Sparkes and Vic Baden of Anaheim are working out with him. Tomorrow evening Mabee will get a fine workout at Riverdside with "Pat" Aageson, a middleweeterner.

ANAHEIM HI GIRLS KEEP SO. CAL. TITLE

Anaheim Hi retains the right to the So. Calif. girls basket ball title. The local girls trimmed Santa Monica Hi 22 to 19 at Santa Monica Saturday. The Bay City champs were rather put out over the defeat as this is their first loss in two years.

Every girl on the local team was in tip top shape and played to the best of her ability. The affair was by no means a walkaway as the Santa Monica girls put up a wonderful fight. Coach Jacques' champs proved too speedy for their opponents.

Helen Daly made the majority of the baskets, assisted by Evelyn Cordes. Viola Lensing played forward Brilliant work of the guards, Esther Hile, Irma Young and Mae Requarth deserves considerable mention. The centers, Ella Cook and Frances Adams, played a wonderful game, showing plenty of action.

Both teams made a wonderful showing. The Anaheim girls wore their gold sweaters and the Santa Monica girls blue.

A large body of boosters accompanied the team. Thirteen month-old Nellie Tipton, daughter of Professor Tipton of the H. S., went along as mascot and the girls attribute their winning to her presence.

Anaheim girls will defend their title Saturday when they meet the Hemet girls at Riverside Hi court.

Sargum Sproutings

By Sargum Sprout

Out west of Anaheim, where the song birds and the droning of bees are incurrant and the air is laden with the sweet scent of orange bloom and freshly tilled land, there is a man, spreading the paint of war and doing the war dance. He has been so busy tending to his orange grove and listening to the songs of spring that he failed to hear the challenge of one of his race until that one hinted that Roy Mabee had a yellow streak and was afraid to wrestle a man smaller than himself.

Roy is up in arms and wants to know where Johnny Meyers "gets that stuff."

"I know Johnny is a great little man," says Roy, "but if he thinks I am afraid of him he has another think coming. And, say, he can bring on that famous 'stopper hold' and anything else he has in stock. If he lands me well and good, but, by Gosling, you can bet I'm not afraid of him. I have just been too busy to pay any attention to him."

These is your answer, Mr. Meyers, and the wrestling fans of Anaheim are tickled stiff at the prospect of a battle between "Our Roy" and the middleweight king. This match will be more spectacular than the Mabee-Santel title go, as Johnny has only a speedster and Ad Santel is a lumber truck. But, is Johnny's speed enough to enable him to clamp on his deadly "stopper" on our favorite lad? We shall see what we shall see.

Anyway, Roy Mabee is game and Johnny Meyers will find that fact to be true before a month is out. Why, Strangler Lewis could not come in here and growl at Roy Mabee and get away without a fight.

Arrangements and details of the match will be worked out in forty-four days. It will take place on or about the 15th, either at the Fairyland or the Athletic clubs Arena.

In the meantime, tomorrow evening at Riverside Roy wrestles Tag Tagesen in a finish match. Tag is a very tough hombre and the match will be well worth going to see. Also Tom Roller who is making his home in our fair city and who is a master of the fine points of the game, takes on Louis Pergastos and in a finish match. This double main event is a real bargain counter attraction for the wrestling fans.

If you would like to make the trip and have no auto there may be able to make arrangments at the Anaheim Barber Shop. The match will take place at the Riverside Elks club, and the admission is $1, ladies free.

Miss Elizabeth Ryan of California lost to Miss Kathleen MacKane of England in the Monte Carlo tennis tournament yesterday. Molla Mallary had been eliminated in the finals the day before by the English star, so America is out of the running in this tournament.

Molla and Suzanne Lenglen will probably get together in their spite match at Nice next week.

Molla has been playing away below par and newspaper accounts of her daily and night life, do not lend encouragement to the hope that she will play an improved game at Nice next week. Night life along the "white ways" of Monte Carlo and Nice is not conducive to athletic perfection.

The powerful Molla has the ability to defeat the French star if she holds her temper and is properly trained.

This Battling Siki, who holds the light heavyweight title of the world as a fist slinger, is about the poorest excuse for a champion that ever held a championship. Physically he is a champion, mentally and morally he is a sap. The sooner he gets knocked into oblivion the better for the pugilistic game. A champion of his calibre can reflect nothing but dishonor to the game.

He takes on Mike McTigue on St. Patricks Day in Dublin in a title bout. Here's to the power of the McTigues. May the good fists of Mike bring the crown to his brow. Then let him come to America, the world's middleweight crown could well decorate the brow of either Gene Tunney or Harry Greb. I am not color prejudiced but I am prejudiced against any one who makes him money off the public and then by riotious living sets very bd example nd does not give the people wht they py for; his best efforts. Anyway there would be much more honor in winning from a fighting Irishman than a drunken negro.

DOUGLAS AND DOTY MIX TUESDAY NIGHT

Jimmy Douglas, erhek Phoenix lightweight, and Battling Doty of Wintersburg will meet on the local athlete club boxing bill next Tuesday in the main go. Athletic Manager Billy Darnley signed the pair up yesterday. Douglas and Doty furnished the fans with a high powered bout here a couple of weeks ago. The decision was handed to the Phoenix but, in the minds of many, a draw would have been the proper verdict.

Blackie Rice, shifty colored middleweight, meets clever Jack Moore of Los Angeles in a bout that ought to be exceptionally good. Rice is a fast hard-hitting lad and a good audience pleaser; Moore is now in Jack Dempsey's training camp working out with the big fellow every day at Tommy McFarlands Gym in L. A. He should give Rice a whale of a battle.

Tobby Montoya, the classy little Fullerton battler, is making his reappearance at the local club after an absence of several weeks. He is to be pitted against Jake Poole of Covina. Poole is a rough, tough person and even tho he loses, Tobby will have k-own he has had a battle. Three snappy preliminaries between willing performers will round out what appears to be another bang-up program.

HEFFRON NOSES OUT McGAUGH IN MATCH

Eight of Anaheim's best bowlers shot in the special ten-game match on the local alleys last night, Heffron taking first place with 1931 pins; McGaugh second, 1910; Karam, third 1858, and Cordon, 1832.

The match was close all the way with McGaugh leading until the ninth game when Mac had his low game and put Heffron in a position to win when he shot 213 in the final game. McGaugh's 2344 was high single game one pin better than Karam's best.

Anaheim's entry in the Mercantile League will meet the Oaks No. 1 team on the local alleys tonight. Roehm-Sylvester are tied for fifth place and with two weeks at home expect to climb up in the race.

ANAHEIM WINS TWO AT SANTA MONICA

Coach Irene Jacques took her bantam squad to Santa Monica Saturday to meet the lightweights. The Santa Monica coach got the idea that they were pitted against Anaheim's second team, so she put in some tall, speedy players who towered like giantesses above the Anaheim midgets. At the end of the first third of playing Santa Monica was ten points in the lead. Anaheim girls rallied in the second period when two second team players were substituted. At the last third, the local girls started out to win that game or bust. Santa Monica found her girls loosing ground and put in some of her first team player and as a result the final score was 35 to 25. Neither team could claim the championship as the two coaches decided on another five minute spasm, enabling Anaheim to claim the title. Rosie Labourdette was the outstanding star of the fray. Other players were Frances Nelson, Marie Hoch, Grace Holsworth and Alice Longeval. The guards were Charleen Smith, Edith John, Florence Finley, Frances Murch, Catherine Shea, Arline Pieper, Madaline Tousseau.

HERBERT RAWLINSON AT UNITED THEATER

If you met and married a million dollars in five hours and then lost it, what would you do?

Suppose also that you might have been suspected of crime during those five hours, and had been the target of a gan of crooks.

Those are a few of the things that befell John D. Curtis on the first night of his return from five years spent in China. Between the hours of sunset and sunrise he found more real romance and adventure than in all those five years of travel.

"Romance and mystery!"

What intrigue lies in those words. There are stories and stories, and all have their day, but the appeal of the red-blooded adventure story is perpetual.

That is the appeal which is carried in "One Wonderful Night," the Universal film play, which brings Herbert Rawlinson to the United theater tomorrow.
