

VOLUMES ADDED TO HISTORY SECTION

A most important addition to the Fullerton library's collection of United States History has recently been made in the purchase of the extra illustrated edition of the Chronicles of America. This is a series of fifty volumes prepared under the direction of Yale University with the purpose of popularizing the study of American history by presenting it in concise, attractive and readable form. While each volume is written by a different author each is complete in itself, and when read in succession they present a comprehensive picture of American history. Their compact form and interesting story-telling quality make a strong appeal.

Each of these volumes is to be filmed under the direction of the university, and these, when completed, will be of the greatest value in the teaching of United States history. Following are a few of the fifty titles all of which are on display at the Public Library, and are now ready for circula-

Vol. 1 Huntington, The Red Man's Continent. Vol. 3 Wood, Elizabethan
Sea Dogs. Vol. 18 Skinner, Pioneers of the Old Southwest. Vol. 22 Skinner, Adventurers of Oregon. Vol. 25,
White, The Forty Niners. Vol. 26
Hunt, Deeds of the Frontier. Vol.

32 Fleming, Séquel of Appomattox. Vol. 36 Orth, Our Foreigners. Vol. 42 Thompson, The New South. Vol. 48 Seymour, Wilson, and the World's War.

A recent addition to the Library's periodical list is "The Literary Digest."

International Book Review". Any one interested in books and the author of the times will find this new publication a valuable help. The first three issues, December, January and February are now ready for circulation.

his own grove. The following schedule has been prepared:

Tuesday—April 16th, 2 p. m., Anaheim—Place of E. J. Reeves 2 miles south of Anaheim on San Diego Blvd. near Edison Station.

Wednesday, April 17th, 10 a. m., Tustin—Place of S. W. Stanley 6th

RANDLE REQUEST
(By International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 9.—Secretary of War Weeks today turned down the request of Mrs. Edward Randle of San Antonio, Texas, that the war department cease its investigation of the army "scandal" grow-

Mrs. Randle's request that the army's investigation be dropped was made in a telegram to Secretary

Weeks following the dismissal by agreement of the suit against Colonel Conger. Her husband is a captain in the infantry, stationed at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, and the suit arose from accusations made against Randle and his wife by Conger, who is regimental commander.

STATES TO CONFER ON COLO. RIVER CONTROL
Endorsement of the Swing-Johnson and Hayden bills is given and notice of a big Colorado River Conference, June 7-9, in Santa Barbara, by the League of the Southwest in a communication today to Orange County supervisors. The league represents interests of California, Arizona, Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah and Texas.

The former bill would provide for permanent flood protection of the Imperial valley. The latter would establish the Colorado River Commission to function as the permanent organism to build, operate and administer the works on the Colorado river.

The Santa Barbara conference is for the purpose of discussing the various factors essential to a harmonious understanding among the states interested.

Arnold Kruckman is secretary-treasurer of the league.

HOMER BY RAMAGE
WINS FOR ANAHEIM

In one of the best and snappiest games seen on the local ball diamond the Anaheim Elks won from the Norwalk Merchants by a 6 to 3 score. Hughes and Slattery engaged in a pitchers' battle both showing skill in tight places. An error in the local outfield coupled with a couple of long hits gave the visitors two in the second. Peckham, who in the fifth was one of the longest hits ever made on the local field. The home team scored in the first on a walk to Smith, B. Callan sacrifice and O. Callan's long two-bagger. In the fifth, B. Callan walked, Glenn was safe when the visiting catcher dropped his fly ball. Ramage then hit one to the farthest corner of the center field stand and across the pits long before the ball got back.

In the eighth, the local added two for good measure on terrific three-base hits by Ramage and Coffman and Schmitt's single.

For the visitors, Lenke at short handled 10 chances cleanly and Peckham who tried out, the Anaheim looked good on first besides putting out a double and homer.

Smith, a youngster for Anaheim, looked mighty nice while J. Hawkins playing first showed lots of class.

Hughes was at his best in the places, striking out nine men and allowing eight hits, while Slattery struck out four and gave seven hits.

NEW WORLD MARK
FOR HILL CLIMB

A new world's record of 15-1-5 seconds was set yesterday in the free-for-all event for 30-inch wheels in the eighth annual hill climb contest near San Juan Capistrano. Ed Ryan of Colorado Springs was the man who did it, riding an Excelsior machine. The record compares with 22 seconds for two years ago, established by Dudley Perkins of San Francisco.

It is estimated that 50,000 saw the event. Sixteen seconds was the time of Otto Steele on an Indian, who came in second in the free-for-all. Archie Rife and Floyd Glymer, both on Indians, were third and fourth in 16.4 and 17.1 seconds.

Steele is national champion. He won the 61-inch event for professionals in 16.2 seconds. Ryan was second in 17.4 seconds; Dudley Perkins, Harley Davidson, third in 18.1; and Malcolm Ord, Indian, fourth, 21 seconds.

Next McIntyre, Indian, won the 61-inch event for novices in 33.3 seconds; Walley Guyette, Harley Davidson third, 35.5 feet, four inches and J. Leach, Indian, fourth, 22 feet, eight inches.

One of the spectators, not identified, was slightly hurt when Oscarin in the 61-inch event ran wild at the foot of the hill.

At left, Manager Kid Gleason and third baseman William Kamm, the Coast League Star purchased for $100,000. At right, Urban Faber, veteran pitcher who will be the mainstay of the harling staff.

DAILY GREETING TO OUR READERS

These days, but fail. What is the world's cold view?
 Seems failure, in God's sight is courage true.
 'Tis not the life that's failed—sweet comfort still—
 For what thy life is, "thou thyself shalt will."
 —Clarice Bancroft.

Wood just again, is life in soviet Russia.
 Every form of infirmity is a curse to its victim.

There's many a slip possible in a long-time Presidential house.

It is still the open season for million-dollar rains in California.

A moment is an eternity, and an eternity is a moment with God.

The way of the oil-stock swindler should lead directly to prison.

The way of the oil-stock swindler is being made hard. Which is his fault.

Public office imposes a responsibility to the public to give honest, fair service.

Cecil Sam is seeing it that the dodger of those taxes is not sleeping on a bed of roses.

Our outrage does not justify another. One crime does not give title clear to another crime.

Too many persons put the Golden Rule away in the lumber room of their lives, to repose under the dust and cobwebs, unused.

Few Presidents have found "winning around the circle" helpful to them, politically. Mr. Harding is going to brave precedent in this.

Orders which depote themselves to the welfare advancement and uplift of the community are deserving of commendation and support.

Observance of Christmas and Easter is impressive and valuable to the world that this is a worthy, a Christian Nation and people.

"The country is recovering from the crisis that really is swiftness. The betterment is so pronounced and so real that the pessimists are silenced."

Dr. Frederick A. Cook is in fair way to make a real discovery and to solve the world's problem of food.

Kidnapping in California should be punished severely that criminals of this type would be deterred from committing such dastardly crimes.

The number of shocking crimes is startling enough. It is disquieting, too, to observe how many persons are interested in the crime—how indifferent they are to the prevention of crime.

December 8th, 1918, was a day of the 60's, of 1898 and of 1917-18, with justice and gracious consideration. Their lot should be shared and they should be placed with the sun fighting chance in the struggle for existence.

There is a great deal of oil stock that is honest and profitable and a good investment. It should not be classed with and should not be made to suffer because of bonus stocks. Good money is not tainted because of the fact that there is some counterfeit money. Nor should some stocks be derided because there are some swindlers in stocks. The surplus only serves to bring the good out in relief.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

CHANGING OF MOODS

Rural Weekly

How often do our moods change? And what makes them change? The liver and the digestive system have a lot to do with it. Many a day's happiness is ruined by a morsel of food.

The chief reason people talk so much about the weather, is not because weather helps or interferes with their plans, but because it is so powerful in governing their moods. Difficult to explain how the weather can affect the mind or spirits unless you concede with Mr. Cowe, that we are slaves of our insatiable.

Under a certain set of circumstances you find yourself happy and care free, provided the weather is bright and sunny. Under identical the same circumstances you are miserable and dread and lament and overcast, most of us are gloomy, languid and make out of "mole hills"—mountains.

Writers of stage melodrama follow this psychology. Trouble scenes and forebodings are unfolded before a background of mournful wind and vicious swirling rain. The last act, the happy ending, usually is placed with the sun shining and everybody full of pep and joy except the villain.

Our endocrine glands—particularly the thyroid and adrenal—also have powerful control over our emotions or moods. These little bodies, by excessive or deficient secretion of chemicals, can make the most unfortunate owner melancholy almost to the point of insanity, terrified into near-hysteria or as exhilarated as if the glands were secreting essence of John Barleycorn. People with violent emotions often are merely the victims of diseased glands.

After all, what a wonderful thing it is, that our moods change so abruptly and completely! A happy life is a life of contrasts, with joy and displeasure, balancing or off setting each other.

Take a youngster with an appetite for candy that seemingly cannot be satisfied. Put him to work in a candy store. Come back in a year and you will find him more interested in bread and butter than in candy. With an unlimited supply of sweets before him, he has no contrast such as he had when sweets were a luxury. The contrast absent, he loses interest.

Joy ceases to be joy when it is a constant thing. Occasional troubles and disappointments make joy stand out as a desirable contrast. So we appreciate happiness when we have it.

INCREDIBLE SPEED IN AIR BY ARMY FLYER

Speed records in the air are being broken by American army aviators. The first of Lieutenant Maughan, at Dayton, Ohio, in making practically 234 miles an hour, stands out in relief as one of the outstanding achievements of the air.

Can this speed be realized by the average person? Almost four miles a minute! At one time, a mile a minute was set down as a wonder speed.

But the aviation is only beginning to "come up" at a speed of sixty miles an hour.

While these dizzying bursts of speed are for short distances only, and are made as tests, yet the speed attained on long flights are quite remarkable. As air machines are perfected, and as aviators become more expert, ever greater records in speed in the air doubtless will be made.

URGES TOURS ABROAD BY PRESIDENTS

Presidents of the United States should be required to travel abroad, while they hold office. This opinion of a high naval authority in Washington, voiced by the recent address in Pasadena, of Frank A. Vanderlip, in which he deplored the "amateurishness" of President Harding and Secretary Hughes in dealing with foreign problems. The naval expert holds that it is absurd for heads of governments in this country, who have never been abroad, to attempt to match wits with foreign statesmen and settle world problems. He advocates sending governmental leaders all the way around the world.

There would be a departure indeed. General Grant was the first ex-President to make a formal tour of the world. It remained for Woodrow Wilson to be the first President actually to leave this country and to travel on foreign soil, and to go abroad. He felt that, in so doing, he could serve this country well and subserve the peace and welfare of the world.

But there would be quite an outcry of ultra-conservatives, should Presidents, in time of peace, start to go abroad, as a custom. Should a great emergency arise in future, doubtless some president of that day would imitate Woodrow Wilson, and go abroad. If he felt that, in so doing, he could serve this country well and subserve the peace and welfare of the world.

BUSH RATS

W. E. Allen

California Biological Feature Series

Of the many kinds of animals about which most of us know little or nothing, perhaps the most interesting in its life and activities is the brush rat (also called wood rat and trade rat). Nearly the size and general appearance of the pestiferous brown rat, it is easily distinguished therefrom by the fact that its tail is hairy instead of scaly. Furthermore it is not often seen in the haunts of the brown rat.

In southern parts of our coast where trees are scarce this animal builds enormous piles or houses of branches of sage brush and the like, hence the name brush rat. In northern sections where forests abound it uses tree trunks as well as the shrubbery in building and it also places some nests amongst the branches of trees, hence the name of wood rat. In any locality where opportunity offers it may carry portable articles from one place to another and take something back in exchange from the last place visited, hence the name of trade rat.

Apparently on the Pacific coast there is only one or two, or at least very few species although there are several races or varieties. For that reason it is generally thought that the various kinds have essentially similar habits and characteristics.

In the Journal of Mammalogy for February 1922, there is a very interesting article by Professor F. E. Smith which describes the life and the habits of the white community, a large one on the ground and a smaller one in trees and other places. In the sage brush of Southern California I have seen only the ground rats which vary from three to five or six feet in height and diameter as the base. The Oregon ones are said to reach as much as eight feet in height. In both localities the ground rats are usually found in dense thickets, often amongst clumps of brambles or nutmeg, and there is likely to be a small number near together. Mr. Smith says this is partly due to the tendency of the rising generation to add to the old nest and stay in it, at least for a time, and then for those that thus accommodated to build for themselves near by.

Any kind of portable material may be used in building the nests but in the La Jolla region there is little outwardly visible except the branches of sage brush which are lengths of from one to three feet. These are closely packed together and the whole pile fairly well rounded into conical together and the whole pile fairly seen to be varied, as might be expected from the greater number of kinds of trees and shrubs.

TUTANKHMEN FASHIONS

Left—The newest creation, which shows a Spanish tendency in design of the embroidery as well as the outline and is slightly reminiscent of the time of Tutankhamen.

Right—A mosaic headpiece for evening wear, of five shades of leather interwoven with tulle and tinsel, one of the striking models.

Sorority Party

A sorority party, elaborate in every detail, was the reunion of members of the Chi Delta Phi sorority yesterday afternoon with Anaheim members as hostesses at the home of Mrs. James Sutherland on West Broadway.

The rooms were brilliantly lighted with silver and lavender candles and gave an attractive color tint to the rooms. Many beautiful bouquets of lilacs and cherry blossoms furthered the color motif. Recalling the days when they were in school and present day life was discussed. Musical numbers were furnished by several of the invited guests.

Mrs. C. A. McCullough poured the tea. The hostesses were the Messas James Sutherland, Paul Todrick, J. W. Elliott, Dale Quanton, L. E. Sutherland and Miss Muriel Arkley of Garden Grove. There were about 25 guests from different cities in the southland.

BIRTHDAY PARTY GUESTS TAKEN TO SEE "THE KID"

MISS BETTY DUNSTON was a gracious hostess to a number of friends Saturday afternoon when she took them to the California Theatre to see "The Kid." After the matinee the young folks gathered at the California Inn where a table was especially fixed for the occasion. Pink flowers and greenery with suitable place cards and favors graced the table where an attractive cake with eight candles and a satisfying dish of ice cream was served.

The incentive for the affair was the eighth birthday anniversary of Miss Betty.

Incidents in the party were Miss Dunstons and Alice Berry, Edith Spencer, Margaret and Helen Pamel, Catherine Dunstons, Marion Stroup and Barbara Dunston.

EASTER CANTATA MUSICAL SUCCESS

The Easter Cantata, "Eastering Life," given by the choir of the White Temple under the direction of Dr. H. H. Young, was a musical treat from beginning to end. The cantata opened with a soprano solo by Mrs. J. M. Hitchcock, a chorus and a contralto solo by Mrs. A. L. Knipe which took the large audience through that immortal work when our earlier suffered the agonies of the cross. Then began the resurrection theme by the ladies quartet, the voice sweetly blending in the glad message of the new "Dawn." The chorus took up the glad song in "The Stone is Rolled Away." Then came the angel's message, "Fear Not Ye," by the M. Eugene Durfee and a contralto solo by Mrs. A. L. Knipe which took the large audience through that immortal work when our earlier suffered the agonies of the cross. Dr. Young is to be commended on the ensemble work of the chorus. It was the best ever given at the White Temple. Miss Grace Curran presided at the organ and was in no small way responsible for the success of the production.

NEW STENNES-BRITISH LINK VIENNA, April 9.—A new link is about to be added to the chain of relations between Britain and British capitalists, already very close.

The Austrian Alpine Montanengesellschaft, one of the Stinnes concerns, is negotiating in London for a credit of $60,000 pounds to be loaned by the Austrian Bank, Ltd., and Mr. A. Neubrock, one of the directors of the bank, will enter the German negotiations on behalf of the Alpine Montanengesellschaft.

CLOTHING STOLEN FROM DYERS' PLANT

The Acme Cleaners and Dyers' plant on No. Los Angeles-st. was entered Saturday night and rifled of a large quantity of clothing. Bars in the rear were pryed apart about seven inches, apparently to admit a child who unbarred the rear door. Burglars then entered and ransacked the plant. It was announced this afternoon that no estimate could yet be made of the loss since the books of the plant have not been checked.

REASSURE BELGIUM (By International News Service) PARIS, April 9.—Premier Poincare has addressed a note to Belgium, reassuring the Belgians that the recent visit of Louis Loucheur to London was not a mission for the French government and that the French troops would not evaluate the Ruhr until German reparations are completely paid, according to the Echo De Paris today.

PINNING TAIL ON "SPARK PLUG" BIG PARTY FEATURE

CHARLES TREMBLAY was 11 Saturday and to make the event more memorable Mr. and Mrs. E. Fred Simmons gave a party in his honor at their home on E. Charles Saturday afternoon. The guests passed the afternoon playing games outdoors and enjoying themselves in good fashion. A delightful feature of the party was the task of pinning the tail on "spark plug." For the most correct mark, Miss Lucille Smith was given first prize, which was a pretty kewpie doll and to Adrian Perry went the consolation prize.

The birthday luncheon was indeed a delicious repast. Sharing in the fun of the afternoon were Misses Lucille Smith, Charlotte Peltsar, Juanita Brownfield, Bernice Kroeger, Lucille Lesnaine and Francis Quanton, Messrs. Richard Wallace, Clifford Nason, Lawrence Polster, Adrian Perry, Brvin Pelzer, and host, Charles Tremblay, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Tremblay, parents of the host and Mr. and Mrs. Simmons.

PRELATE FACING PENALTY OF DEATH

STOCKHOLM, April 9.—The indictment against Patriarch Tikhon, head of the Orthodox church in Russia, demands the death penalty if he is found guilty of assisting against the soviet and of obstructing measures of church property for the famine fund, said a dispatch from Helsinki today.

The prelate's trial is to open in Moscow Wednesday. He was asked if he wanted counsel.

"No," replied the patriarch. "I desire no defender except God."

Despite his refusal, the soviet appointed a lawyer to defend the churchman.

Heying's Pharmacy

(BY THE MYSTERIOUS COWBOY)

ANAHEIM'S OLDEST DRUG CONCERN FEATURING MEDICINAL LINES IS HEYING'S PHARMACY. PROFESSIONAL PHARMACISTS AT THE CORNER OF CENTER AND LOS ANGELES STREETS. THIS OLD HOUSE HAD ITS BEGINNING ABOUT THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO.

No merchant sells more diversely born or more widely travelled merchandise than the pharmacist, and accordingly it is necessary to go into the far corners of the earth to find those things that are used in the prescribing of medicines. Some of the ingredients are found in the jungles of Africa, some come from the wilds of Asia, some from the frozen north, and many others from all sorts of civilized and uncivilized parts of the earth. They are taken from the ground, the air, the trees, the plant life and from animals of the sea and land. They are gathered by humans of all colors and are brought to market under various and rigorous climatic conditions. The business has been going on for centuries and the interest in it never wanes from the point of human curiosity.

There is something intensely human about a typical drug store. Into it come all kinds of people: Some light hearted and gay, but many others burdened with the trials of life. In such surroundings are placed the hopes of the less fortunate and it is the business of the wise pharmacist, to not only take a keen interest in his patrons but to actually do all in his power to justify their hopes and to alleviate their ills. It is a noble calling and sometimes it is a trying one, too.

The brothers, A. H. and O. W. Heying, came to Anaheim about twenty years ago. Both were boys at the time and within a few years we find them being graduated from the Anaheim High School. To round out their schooling, the older brother graduated from the University of California, while O. W. finished his studies with graduation from the University of Southern California.

They very early engaged in business for themselves and since that time have built up a business that is a credit to the community and to its builders. Here one may obtain the most courteous and efficient of service. Much attention is given to their prescription services and three registered pharmacists are in attendance. Other lines and sundries usually found in the drug store are to be found in this old and reliable house. A fine modern soda fountain completes the ensemble of this very attractive drug store. Their slogan is "It pleases us to please you" and the truth of that statement is to be found in every activity of the place.

The governing board of the next annual County Fair was endorsed and the entire management of the event was turned over to the directors of the Farm Bureau yesterday afternoon.

The bureau also re-elected its officers. The board which has been in charge of the fair since 1928, owing to the fact that he had been chosen to manage the grain exchange, however, is likely to be re-elected. The matter will be decided officially tomorrow at a meeting in Riverside.

At a meeting of the fair board J. A. Smiley was elected chairman, G. S. H. Pliny vice chairman, L. G. Swales treasurer and E. E. Campbell secretary.

It was decided to have the management of the fair for next year, Smiley was authorized to make arrangements for a meeting on Monday at 2:30 p.m. at the home of the fair board.

Earl Campbell already has planned to enter his stallion, as soon as they are sufficiently trained, says W. M. Coy, assistant farm advisor, he will look out his name on the program.

CARPENTRY SCHOOL OPENED AT NAZARETH

ATTEMPS, Mar. 27.—A dispatch received from Jerusalem states that Edward W. Blatchford of Chicago was appointed director of the new East Nazareth school in Palestine. Blatchford will have charge of all American carpenters working in Jerusalem, Bethlehem and Nazareth, where 1000 American carpenters from Anatolia and Baghdad are already established.

American carpenters occupy some of the most famous spots in sacred history. One is located in Saint George's monastery on Mt. Zion, another in the Grotto of the Cross. At Nazareth is a school for carpenters, and carpenters work in Jerusalem, Bethlehem and Nazareth, where 1000 American carpenters from Anatolia and Baghdad are already established.

The Bethlehem carpenters overlook the Church of the Nativity and the fields where the shepherds watched their flocks.

This land is leased. If we had enough money to pay for all this property, we would have bought it. We have cut 150 acres into 150 lots, each 1 acre, giving you a good deal of land, also one thirty-fourth part of an acre on the thirty-fourth part of an acre.

Miss McGuire, as an artist, first appears aboard ship on her way to the great Sahara desert. Enraptured by the sun and sea, she vanishes and sketches a Shelti before returning to his native country after a visit to America. Her charms also attract the attention of one of the crew (Ben Turpin), who later throws the peculiar fellow into the sea. The Shelti becomes the husband of an Arab. They meet again in the desert, and a scene follows in which he tries to exercise his authority over her. She is so beautiful that she overcomes him. He is but a weakling in her hands, of which condition she takes advantage in the face of his hordes of wild looking Arabian attendants.
