SCORE OF OFFICERS IN BIGGEST BOOZE RAID

STILL FOUND BY WOBBLY ROOSTER

Intoxicated Cockerel Leads Officers in Record Liquor Raid

Cuck-o-o! Cuck-o-o!! Cuck-o-o!!!

That's about the kind of a noise an old white rooster near Placentia was making yesterday when members of the Fullerton police department passed along the road and found him wobbling and reeling around. The officers investigated. There developed one of the biggest, biggest booze raids in northern Orange-co.

The rooster was found to be "soused" to the "gills" from eating whiskey mash. He smelled like a barrel of liquor. Further investigation discovered an old hen so drunk she could not walk, lying under a tree.

A crow and a coot were in the vicinity apparently were law-abiding. They watched with interest the antics of the old rooster who was so drunk as to think himself able to fight them.

In a small ranch house nearby, the officers found the cause of the disturbance in 10 barrels of mash, five large barrels and as many smaller ones. There was also a copper still and two jugs of whiskey. Three Mexicans were also found in the house, and arrested.

The officers smashed four of the larger barrels of mash, and took part of the other barrels to the Fullerton police station as evidence.

The Mexicans were entertained this morning before Judge French and held for a preliminary hearing later, being retained in jail on default of bond. They are: Jesus Ortez, Al Johnson, and Joe Jusino.

Richardson Asks Hughes Aid in Retention of Mrs. Phillips

(By International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—Disclosing details of the conduct of the Clara Phillips, "hammer murderess" and her companions in flight at Guatemala, before the "Tiger Woman" made her way to Honduras, where she was apprehended Saturday with Jesse Carsen, a letter was received today by Chief of Police L. D. Oaks from G. W. Flagh, resident of Guatemala.

The letter dated March 11 last, graphically details how two women and a man giving the name of "Carsen" crossed the border with difficulty because they had no passports. They also excited suspicion by telling different stories and appeared in a hurry to leave Guatemala.

Flagh gave a minute description of the two women, and indicated that Mrs. Phillips posed as the "sister-in-law" of Carsen, and that the other woman "dominated the husband and had no respect for him."

Scenes of violence, in which both women attacked the "husband," were described with information that the man was finally ousted from the hotel where they were stopping.

The letter is an almost complete verification of the report that Mrs. Phillips, with another woman and a man, fled from Guatemala on March 11, before any cabled information that she had been traced to Guatemala, reached authorities here.

Armour L. Phillips, husband of the "Tiger Woman" caged in Honduras as the convicted and escaped "hammer murderess" of Alberta Meadows, today was practically identified as the man seen in company with Jesse Carsen, ex-convict, and reported to be the traveling companion of Mrs. Phillips.

BEGIN DERRICK ON VALLECINTO WELL

That high expectations are entertained by many oil experts that a new field will be uncovered in the vicinity of Compton, is declared to be evidenced by the vigor with which the Globe Petroleum Corp. C. C. Julian and other oil seekers are prosecuting their operations in that territory. Almost every day reports of new ventures come to hand.

The Globe people, who recently acquired the oil drilling rights on the 260 acres at Vallecinto, fronting on the Riverside-Redondo-blvd. just east of Long Beach-blvd. a few days ago began the erection of the derrick for Vallecinto Well No. 1 and are reported to have made splendid progress. Under their contract, the Globe corporation agrees to begin drilling operations within 30 days after derrick is completed.

Because of the intense interest that is felt on every hand in the marvelous progress So. Calif. has made as an oil-producing region, there has been created a mistaken impression, in some quarters, that Vallecinto is being developed as an oil proposition. To correct this misunderstanding, the selling agents desire it to be understood that the owners of Vallecinto intend to carry out their long established plans to create a new community—perhaps a new city—on the site of the property. These plans were formed, it is said, long before any question arose as to the leasing of oil rights, and it is said, long before any question arose as to the leasing of oil rights, and it is the intention of the owners to carry them out in their entirety unless another Signal Hill or Santa Fe Springs is uncovered.

It is pointed out by the selling agent, that purchasers of lots at Vallecinto will be protected against any loss that might come to them from the necessity for oil development through the agreement that all lot owners shall participate in all oil royalties on wells drilled by the Globe Petroleum Corp. on the 260 acres of the property.

It is understood that if it is shown that oil in paying quantities is found, it is the intention of the Globe Petroleum Company to drill wells on sites apart on every 10 acres, so that a possible total of 26 wells might be drilled under this corporation agreement with the Vallecinto owners.

Plans for the development of Vallecinto as a home community contemplates the building of a business center along the Riverside-Redondo Boulevard frontage, which is the continuation of Main-st., Compton. The property faces for nearly a mile on this much travelled highway, a superbe location for the up-building of a business district. Pending this proposed development of this shopping center, early residents of Vallecinto will find excellent trading facilities at Compton, while it is only a few minutes ride by automobile on Pacific Electric lines to Long Beach.

Indian Mentalist At The United Theatre Tonight

Bas Pierre Brookhart, famed Indian Mentalist, who opens a limited engagement at the United Theatre tonight. Brookhart comes direct to the local theatre from an extended engagement on the Pantages circuit and opens an Orpheum tour in June. He is conceded to be the peer of all mentalists now appearing before the American public.

Announcement is made by Manager Murray of the United Theatres of a special engagement, starting tonight, of Bas Pierre Brookhart famed Indian Mentalist.

Brookhart has appeared over all of the principal vaudeville circuits of the country and opens an Orpheum tour late in June.

He is the man who in 1912 successfully predicted the great war of 1914 and in November of 1912 the Occult Research Gladiator published this prophecy which at the time startled students of psychology.

Last week in Los Angeles Brookhart predicted another world war in 1930, basing his prophecy on the 13th Chapter of Revelations in the Holy Bible, and during his local engagement will explain the process of his reasoning in making this startling declaration.

Brookhart is conceded to be the most remarkable mentalist before the American public today. While he claims no supernatural powers he does claim to be able to read the mind and tell, with uncanny exactness, coming events in the life of the person whose mind is read.

Unlike most mentalists of the vaudeville stage, Brookhart does not require his audience to write questions they may wish to put to him. He simply reads their minds from the stage and answers the question as he interprets it.

How he does it he does not pretend to know, but for two solid weeks he packed the Laughlin theatre in Long Beach and followed with a similar run in San Pedro, where he appeared at the California theatre.

In securing Brookhart for a limited engagement in this city Manager Murray is to be congratulated.

Bas Pierre Brookhart is assisted by the Princess Parillo, and will appear twice each evening. The first performance will be given tonight in conjunction with "Pawned" a super feature picture which yesterday attracted almost capacity business to all performances.

There will be no increase in prices.

NEW SUB-DIVISION AT CYPRESS KNOWN AS LAHOMA TRACT

Priddy & Sconce office at Cypress are preparing a new subdivision at Cypress. This tract is on the boulevard 3 blocks from Cypress P. E. Station. Nice grammar school and stores, Anaheim high school bus.

This sub-division will have graded and graveled streets, gas, lights and water pressure system—piped to all lots, boulevard lots $100.00, up—just off boulevard $400.00 up, half acre and acre tracts can be had ¼ down balance monthly.

Also bear in mind Cypress is expecting some oil developments, if it comes it would be good to own some land there—if Cypress don't prove to have oil, you have acquired property in a good location where it will have a good resale value.

FACTS TO CONSIDER

You have an oil bet, and Cypress is the center of 4 of the greatest oil fields in the United States—it has street car and bus convenients, and people that want car service to Los Angeles are going to come on down the line, for high prices around Compton and other towns only means people are selling and coming farther out, you can't go wrong to buy where the facilities will mean a good resale value.

Now folkes there will be only 54 parcels of land on this tract to sell and they wont last long and with land going higher, we don't expect to be able to secure another tract with like location—with improvements in, to sell at these prices.

We expect to have improvements completed in about 10 days but if you want to make your selections early, you can do so by paying a small deposit down. Which will be held with the trust company pending your option, when all improvements are in

Agricola, Guatemala will become Another Anaheim, California

"Not long ago I could have bought land around Anaheim for $250 an acre that now sell for $5,000 an acre."

How often have you heard Anaheim people make such statements as that? How they now regret their failure to grasp the opportunities that were within their reach! When they had that opportunity Anaheim was in the process of development into one of the most productive spots in the whole world—productive of real wealth.

Another opportunity is now presented to You to buy at $250 an acre and reap the great profits which are made in the development of fruit producing lands.

Anaheim was once a desert waste——cactus and sage brush. Not a thing grew that was of any use to mankind. Then the pioneers came and transformed the desert into what Anaheim is today. No need to describe Anaheim orange groves—they are the best in the world. Even at present selling prices of $5000 an acre and upwards, they are a splendid investment. $5000 an acre! Who would have believed it ten years ago? And still going strong!

But other fruits than oranges and lemons bring big returns to the owners of producing lands. Do you know that the pineapple crop of the Hawaiian Islands brings returns of thirty millions of dollars a year?

The man who started that pineapple business in the Hawaiian Islands was a former Anaheim man, Mr. Leonard G. Kellogg. He left Anaheim about twenty-five years ago and located in Hawaii, where he began growing pineapples on a commercial scale. He ultimately had over 800 acres in pineapples. That property today is worth millions of dollars, if it could be bought at any price.

Twelve years ago Mr. Kellogg returned to California. Eager for new worlds to conquer and subdue, he went south into Mexico. Being peaceful man, revolutions were not much to his liking; so he went further south—into Guatemala, the first Central American republic south of Mexico. There he found the natives growing a few pineapples in a primitive manner, but not on a commercial scale. He also found cocoanuts growing wild.

Four years of pioneering in that country gave him a vision of another and greater pineapple industry than that of Hawaii. Also he found that cocoanuts, properly planted and cared for, would prove very profitable.

PINEAPPLES AND COCONUTS

He found on the Pacific coast of Guatemala the land which he knew, from his experience of twelve years in Hawaii and four years in Guatemala, was right for pineapples, and which was also suitable for cocoanuts.

He bought twelve thousand acres of that virgin soil. Then others—some of them Anaheim men—joined him in the enterprise, and they bought other large tracts of land. Thousands of acres have been cleared, plowed and planted.

As soon as the land is cleared and plowed, the first thing is to plant out the cocoanut palms 42 to the acre then, the first year corn is grown between the rows of the cocoanut palms. Two crops of corn are grown in one year—and big crops too. That brings the land into a good condition for the next step.

The second year, pineapples are planted between the rows of cocoanut palms. The cocoanut palms begin to bear in about five or six years. The pineapples give a crop of about ten tons to the acre a year after planting, and they do not need re-planting for four or five years. A big, valuable crop each year without re-planting.

Pineapples and cocoanuts! Two crops produced on the same land in the same year, and year after year! The combined gross returns from the two crops, after the cocoanut palms come into full bearing, will run from $500 to $1200 an acre.

The cost of caring for and harvesting these crops is very small. There is no irrigation, as the rainfall is about sixty inches a year—ever four times as great as here. Labor is so fascinating. There is no pests of trees. There is no "smudging" as the temperature never goes below 50 degrees. Nor does it ever go above 95 degrees.

This land surrounds the townsite of Agricola, which is ten miles inland from the port of Champerico, where the steamships call on their way from San Pedro to the Panama Canal. A railroad, owned and operated by Americans, passes through Agricola, from Champerico to the capital city of Guatemala in one direction, and to Mexico City in the other. You can go by train from Los Angeles to Agricola. Retalhuleu, a city as large as Anaheim, is inland about seventeen miles from Agricola.

$250 AN ARCE—PRODUCING CROPS

The land around Agricola, Guatemala, is being sold today for $250 an acre, with a contract which guarantees that the company, of which Mr. Kellogg is president, will clear, plow and plant the land to cocoanut palms and pineapples. During the period when this work is being done, the buyer receives seven percent interest on his money invested, payable semi-annually, and one-fifth of all crops produced on the land. You do not have to live in California, if you so desire, and have the company look after your land, plant, harvest and market your crops.

When the cocoanut palms are in bearing, five or six years after planting, the gross returns will be from $500 to $1200 an acre. And the cost of producing the crops is very small. What will that land be worth in five or six years? Isn't this going to be another Anaheim over again?

You have the opportunity today to buy land productive of pineapples and cocoanuts, two of the best paying crops grown anywhere, for $250 an acre. What will it be worth five years from now?

Anaheim, California, has brought big returns to the investor and so will Agricola, Guatemala.

The L. G. Kellogg Company has offices at 239 South Hill St., Los Angeles, and has recently opened offices at 216 East Center Street, Anaheim, having leased that ground-floor location from Mr. Samuel Kraemer for five years—here to stay that long anyway, maybe longer. No fly-by-night outfit. Three hundred people have bought at Agricola from this company. Many Anaheimers are stockholders in the company. Many more have bought land.

ANAHEIM DEFEATS IRVINE BY 6 TO 5

Anaheim Elks again defeated the fast Irvine team yesterday, nosing out by a 6 to 5 score. The Beangrowers came loaded for bear, their lineup including four new faces. What is more, it looked as if their challenge would prove effective as they scored two in the second and one in the third before the home folks got one around.

However, in the fifth, Anaheim got onto the hang of things and piled up four more. One of them was a homer by Ramage, the hardest ball ever hit on the high school field. A run scored ahead of Ramage. In the sixth, Bush also drove a homer over the garage in deep left field. The bases were untenanted.

This made the score 6 to 2 and apparently there was nothing for Anaheim to worry about. In the ninth, Irvine drove in two runs and then a beangrower poled out a long hit that looked like a homer for tying run, but he was nipped at the plate.

The feature of the game was the heavy hitting of the Anaheimers who got 15 singles. Andie Hawkins and Glenn Callan each got three hits.

Before more than 30,000 persons, the Yankees lost their first game on the new field to Walter Johnson and the Senators from Washington, 4 to 3.

The Cubs also played to big money in beating the Cardinals, 8 to 7, before 37,000 persons in which it was said to be the largest crowd that ever witnessed a ball game in Chicago.

Woe is Flatbush! The Giants again made merry at the expense of the Dodgers, winning 10 to 0. It was the second straight shutout scored against the Dodgers by the Giants.

The White Sox got out of the maiden class by winning 4 to 2 over the Browns, a squeeze play in the eighth inning producing the winning run. It was Shocker's second defeat this season.

In another of those five-or-no-count games the Pirates fell upon four Red pitchers to win, 15 to 9.

A great pitchers' battle between Coveleskie and Collins came to an end in the tenth inning when Jones' wild throw allowed Coveleskie to score the only run of the game. The victory gave the Indians temporary possession of first place.

ANAHEIM MIDGETS MAKE 35 POINTS

Anaheim grammar school made an excellent showing in the Orange-co grammar school track and field meet at Huntington Beach Saturday afternoon. The meet was run off in three divisions: heavy, medium and lightweights. Anaheim heavies took four points and mediums 11 while the little boys captured 25. Fullerton took the meet with 64 points. Santa Ana followed second with 57½, Orange with 45¼, third; Anaheim fourth, 35 and Placentia fifth, 27.

Harold Tompkins was the local individual star, taking first in the 50-yd. dash and second in the shot put. Lawrence Mitchell of the local squad, heaved the shot the farthest. Anaheim's medium relay team came in third. Kenyon Smith took second in the pole vault at 7" 5". A Fullerton lad bettered him by one inch.

Placentia took first place for the medium relay, Orange first in the lightweight and Fullerton first for the little boys.

Anaheim was represented by 36 boys, chaperoned by Mr. Seale, E. E. Bishop and M. W. Maxwell. All with the exception of one from the Central school and three from the Citron were from the Junior H. S.

M. W. De Lauderdale, Huntington Beach coach, and manual training promoted the meet. A great deal of the credit for the many events was due to Coach "Pest" Walker of the crack high school team and his flashes. The matches between the little fellows were the feature attraction of the day. These county meets between the grammar school students have proven so popular that the affair has been made annual.

A little boy from Westminster, as big as a minute, and the only one from that school, entered the meet on his own accord, donned a track suit, took a pole and started out to give other would-be-pole vaulters a chase. He was disqualified after making almost seven feet in this event. He showed great enthusiasm and created a sensation. He stated he was only in the third grade and was going to be a pole vaulter when he reached high school.

Looking at the latest fashions and selecting several gowns at the same time as she was making a scene for her new picture was the pleasant task assigned Marion Davies recently while making her Paramount-Cosmopolitan picture, "Adam and Eva." As a wealthy society girl, Miss Davies goes shopping and beautiful models, who might well grace a Ziegfeld chorus parade, display the most stunning new modes.

"Adam and Eva" was adapted to the screen from the successful stage comedy written by Guy Bolton and George Middleton. While quite a change from her tremendous production "When Knighthood Was in Flower," which scored such a success, Miss Davies steps gracefully from the royal robes of Princess Mary into the gingham dresses of "Eva." The story concerns a society girl, who becomes manager of a farm in order to retrieve the family fortunes. T. Roy Barnes is leading man in "Adam and Eva," which will be the feature at the California theatre tomorrow and Wednesday. Robert Vignola, who made "When Knighthood Was in Flower," directed.

Tonight will see the final performances of Mae Murray in her newest wonderful feature "Jazzmania". It certainly is a whiz, judging by the comments of those who have witnessed this unusual offering.

HEAVIES FLOCKING TO NEW YORK SHOW

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, April 23.—Just as water seeks its level, our esteemed heavyweight pugilists are about to gather in and around the happy hunting grounds, otherwise known as Broadway, for the big payoff May 12.

Jess Willard, lean as the shank of a grasshopper, if the exhorters can be believed, is due here tomorrow and will hasten to the nearest scales so that all can behold and be comforted.

Jack McAuliffe II, is expected today.

Senor Firpo, the well known human being, and Floyd Johnson, who may or may not meet Willard in the feature bout of the milk fund show, are already here, having nothing better to do.

Johnson finally has been granted permission to fight Funny Frederick Fulton in Jersey City on Monday night and may live to regret the fact. Frederick has an abiding fondness for the horizontal posture but is always dangerous.

The winner of the bout will go on with Willard and our only concern is that the worst may loses. You never can tell when they are both bad.

Little is known of McAuliffe. He is to engage the man-eating demon at the milk fund show and the most of that is unfavorable. He is thot to nourish a dash of lavender somewhere in his system, and, therefore, is the logical candidate for Firpo's immediate attention.

The Argentinan's motto is pick them off and hit them hard.

Willard, now is the dominating figure with Dempsey picking coal in Utah and Harry Wills a victim of protective coloration.

Warnick Oil Well Heater recommended by driller of Santa Fe Spring's largest wells,

McKEON DRILLING COMPANY
1004 Lane Mortgage Building
Los Angeles California

March 17, 1923

United States Oil Well Heater Corp.
Los Angeles Calif.
Gentlemen:

I am very much enthused over the fact that your Company is about to commence operations on a large scale with the Warnick Oil Well Heater.

I have been in the oil business for twenty-five years and in that time I have certainly come to realize the necessity for a device that can be used in a well for the purpose of heating same in concentrated areas. Because of the fact that paraffining of sands has become a very serious obstacle and also because of the fact that the cementation of the sands by calcium carbonate and other organic minerals has become an even worse trouble, I believe that the oil business is in great need of a device that will master these difficulties.

Before I had seen your oil heater in operation I had become convinced that the theory upon which the same is constructed was ideal for the necessary purposes. For that reason I took a great interest in the same, knowing that if it could be worked out on a practical basis, it would be a great asset in developing non-productive wells in which there is a gumming up of voids in the oil sands.

I became very enthused when later your heater had become perfected and demonstrations had been made in oil wells that had not produced over a barrel a day for months, the result that was obtained being so successful.

There are a great many oil fields not only in the State of California, but all over the United States where this heater can be used. There is a great advantage in fields where shallow wells are drilled and the oil so heavy that it cannot be pumped to the surface. I feel confident that after placing your heater in one of these wells it would so heat the oil and cause the same to become so thin that it would readily be pumped to the surface in large quantities. Because of the fact it is so difficult to produce this heavy oil and as there are many purposes for which the same can be used, there is at this time a nice market for it. There are also thousands of wells in California alone that have either been abandoned or are producing only a few barrels a day. Your heater could be placed in these wells under a contract with the owners for 50% of the increased production and with the small cost of heating and a small amount of labor a wonderful profit can be realized.

I have been in personal touch with a great many oil operators seeking their views as to the possibilities your heater offers. Without exception they have shown marked enthusiasm and their belief in a instrument such as yours, is paralled with my own. Now that the heater has become perfected and tests have been made which have proved its practicality, I feel confident that it will be only a matter of time, and of course a nominal capital to install business.

Kindly feel free to consult with me at any time for I believe that if I can be of any assistance I will be rendering the industry of which I am so tremendously interested, a great service.

Wishing you all the success that is rightfully yours, I remain,

Very truely yours,
JOHN McKEON

ALTHO INCORPORATED FOR $1,000,000, ONLY $100,000 STOCK IS BEING OFFERED

It is a well known fact that oil wells have a habit of ceasing to flow after varying periods. Some great gushers taper off sharply to a few barrels per day, altho oil technologists agree that only ten to twenty percent of the oil is obtained from the sands by present methods of recovery. This rapid checking of the flow of wells is due to carbonating of the sands or clogging of the casing perforations by paraffine.

Paraffine melts at 112 to 160 degrees. Various methods have been used to "clean out" wells and relieve this "gummed up" condition.

Now, there has been invented the Warnick Oil Well Heater, electrical equipment which may be swung into the hole to the desired depth and by rheostadt controlling temperatures from zero to 1200 degrees, making revival of old, declining and abandoned oil wells absolutely certain. This is no sudden inspiration but is the result of several years experiment, expenditure of $40,000 and collaboration with leading electrical laboratories of the country.

DAILY GREETINGS TO OUR READERS

This is the law of benefits between men: the one ought to forget at once what he has given, and the other ought never to forget what he has received—Seneca.

The political battle of 1924 will involve the grand strategy of opposing wits.

Help to stay the waves of crime by exerting your influence, at all times, in favor of law and order.

Once having seen California, President Harding will know where to spend his vacations in future.

They are all making altitude records in flying at McCook Field. And, incidentally, the price of sugar is making some altitude records of it, sown.

It is shocking in this enlightened age, that there should be religious persecution in any part of the world.

There is a shortage of 1,000,000 tons of sugar in Cuba, it is said, and this is contributing to the rise in sugar. Farewell, apple pie.

As unemployment vanishes from the country, it is only those whose chief occupation is being pessimistic who are out of a job.

Babe Ruth has begun his annual pastime of knocking out home runs, and thrills are chasing up and down the spine of countless baseball enthusiasts.

Any girl foolish enough to indulge in a Marathon dance should be sentence to do housework for a year in her own home. That would be something worth while.

The bravest battles that men fight usually are fought alone, and only are known to themselves—battles which try moral courage to the utmost. If the whole truth were known about us, many a hero and heroine would be disclosed.

Seventeen years after its great disaster, San Francisco stands before the world completely rehabilitated and one of the great growing centers of population of this virile Pacific West. Its rebuilding was consummated with amazing swiftness.

Here's to the girl sensible, womanly and helpful enough to step a marathon and around the house or the office, accomplishing something useful and worth while, instead of making a silly spectacle of herself and endangering her health and life in Marathon dancing.

Young Theodore Roosevelt declares that he will not permit himself to be buried, politically, by accepting the nomination of the Vice-Presidency. And yet his illustrious father found the Vice-Presidency and his succession to the Presidency.

A great deal of matter published by sensational newspapers as news is as silly as it is vicious, and does not come within range of real news. The notion that news, to be interesting and readable, must be suggestive or openly unclean and salacious, is a foolishly wrong notion. Just as well argue that the sewage of a city is the most important and most representative feature and aspect of its life and the thing most to be written about and discussed, as to argue that moral sewage is the real, representative and important news of the community, instead of the clean, wholesome happenings which are typical of community life.

AMERICA SYMPATHETIC WITH EUROPE

Government officials at Washington are expressing satisfaction over the assurance given by Premier Mussolini of Italy that Europe's troubles are about to be relieved and that peaceful solution is near for its vexing problems. To the implication that the United States is indifferent to the fate of Europe, diplomatic officials of the government at Washington give negative reply.

Government and people of the United States are interested in the welfare of Europe. Not only is there profound interest in Europe's weal, but this nation stands ready to lend assistance in any and every practicable manner it may, provided it is not called upon to entangle itself in the domestic political affairs of Europe.

Sparks and Spikes

It is easier to compromise with yourself than to give in to others.

If you get mad at the wet this April just consider Burma; its annual rainfall is about 600 inches.

Spring make people lazy. The other seasons that make people lazy are summer, fall and winter.

AMERICAN MONEY IS PUT INTO TURKEY

American financiers have given the Old World a jarring surprise—a surprise that is getting on the nerves of the money magnates of some European countries. The Ottoman-American Development Company backed by American capital, has acquired huge railway concessions in Turkey. This is a field virgin to American capital—a field in which European countries and interests supposed they had a monopoly. The so-called "Chester project"— meaning this purchase, by American interests, of rail concession in Turkey has evoked much frenzied criticism in certain European capitals, particularly Paris.

The point is stressed, by representatives of Turkey, that America, investing in the Near East, would not resort to "economic enslavement" or "political pressure" in connection with investments or concession there. It is explained, by Turks that European investors pursued the policy of getting all they could and giving as little as possible. Inasmuch as the United States has no "political ambition" in Turkey, the Turks believe they will get a square deal from this big investment in railway concession. The venture will be watched with world wide interest.

NO POLITICS IN TALKS OF MR. HARDING

President Harding is maturing arrangements for his trip West in June, which will bring him to California for the first time since he entered the White House as President. He will make a few set speeches on his journey. In which connection it is interesting to note that Mr. Harding's friends say that he will be very careful not to turn his trip into a political "swing around the circle." It is said that Mr. Harding has let it be known that he would prefer that the questions which he will discuss on his trip shall be regarded as non-partisan. He is going before the people as the official representative of the whole nation not as spokesman for a political party, and will endeavor to explain what he has done and what he hopes to do as President and to seek from the whole people advice and guidance as to his future course.

It is wholesome indeed to contemplate a Presidential journey across the continent conceived in this broad spirit. It is just what should be. It would be unseemingly and bad taste indeed for any occupant of the White House to make political capital out of the tours which Presidents are called upon to make, at times, in the line of official duty.

HELD ON CHARGE OF EMBEZZLEMENT

E. R. Caverly employed with the local Chaffee Store, was arrested Saturday night by the local police upon a warrant sworn to by J. M. Beasley, manager of the Orange-co Chaffee stores, charging embezzlement. His bail was fixed at $1,000, and he was held in jail in default of bond.

Caverly is alleged to have appropriated Saturday's receipts, and to have had them in his possession when arrested. He says that he did not mean to appropriate the money, that the Chaffee stores have no safes and that he has been taking the receipts home each night for a year or so for safe keeping. Mr. Beasley said he did not know this. The district attorney said that unless more evidence of the man's intention to appropriate the money was brot to the surface, the case would be dismissed.

Beasley is in conference with the district attorney this afternoon. He said the charge of embezzlement would be changed, but did not know what charge would be instituted.

U. S. IN PARLEY TO DEFEND CITIZENS

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

LUSANNE, April 23.—"The only purpose of American participation in the Near East peace conference is to defend American citizens interests and further the principle of the open door," said Joseph C. Grew, American minister to Switzerland and head of the American delegation of observers at the formal session of the parley this afternoon.

A quarrel over the oil and railway concessions granted by the Turks to the Ottoman-American development threatened to put serious obstacles in the path of the Near East peace when the conference was resumed. This is a continuation of the Near East peace deliberations broken off in January.

The first business session adjourned at 5:30 o'clock after appointing three committees, political, financial and economical.

2 CARS IN COLLISION

A brand new Chevrolet and another car collided yesterday as the former was turning onto the Anaheim-Artesia-blvd from a detour, with disastrous results to the Chevrolet, and some damage to the other car, although no severe injuries were sustained by occupants of either car.

Miss Bertha Howland, domestic arts teacher in the San Pedro schools, was returning from Fullerton, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Mary Howland, and was on the way to Hollywood, her home, from a visit with a daughter in Fullerton. As Miss Howland, an experienced driver, turned into the boulevard, C. A. O'Connor, of Wilmington, coming from Cypress, collided with the Chevrolet, breaking the axle, damaging the fender and running board and wrecking the body of the car. His car was slightly less damaged, and it was with difficulty the two cars were taken apart.

Mr. O'Connor assumed all responsibility, as he was blinded by the sun. Neither of the passengers in has car saw the approaching Chevrolet.

All occupants of the two cars were able to go on their way unassisted.

VICTIMS OF AUTO WRECK IMPROVE

Mrs. Emily Post and Miss Dolores Post of Hansen Station and G. L. Rainey, of Anaheim, injured Saturday when the car skidded over a 50-foot embankment into the Santa Ana river above Sulphur Slide, there being no bannisters at that point to prevent the accident, were all improved today. The whole party was rendered unconscious for a time, but were revived by the water and the women screamed.

Vern Adams, 19, of Corona, helped Rainy to get the women out of the wreckage, and hailed a passing stage to take them to the Corona hospital, where it was found that Mrs. Post has suffered a wrenched back, Mr. Rainey a bump on the head, and Miss Post several broken bones.

Mrs. Post and Mr. Rainey were able to return to Anaheim but Miss Post is still in the Corona hospital.

HUSBAND IS SURPRISE AT BIRTHDAY PARTY

H. C. RUICK was agreeably surprised Saturday evening when a party of friends called to help him celebrate his birthday, anniversary. The visit was a great surprise as the Ruick's were waiting for callers to take them to a card party presumably.

Five hundred was the diversion of the evening hours and the game was played until 11. Scores were counted as it was found Mrs. Tucker and Mr. Durkee, had made high scores with low going to Mrs. Durkee and Mr. Thomas.

Mrs. Ruick had several pretty bouquets of roses of different hues given her by friends, but which were hidden and brought out after the guests had gathered.

A delicious luncheon was served at midnight. Mr. Ruick was presented with a birthday cake with candles and a number of attractive presents.

Honoring Mr. Ruick were Mr. and Mrs. Ruick, Mr. and Mrs. Pare Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Durkee, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Fergus and son, Ernest, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. J. C. W. S. Fine Session

A conference of Women students of junior colleges in Southern Calif. was held Saturday with Fullerton J. C. the hostess society. Representatives from all over the district, Chaffee J. C., at Ontario; Riverside, Santa Ana, Pomona, included three students and the faculty advisor of each. Prof. L. E. Plummer welcomed the visitors in a hearty speech and an excellent meeting was held in study hall, while the faculty advisors met in the library for a conference. Fullerton J. C. was represented by the Misses Constance Fagerter, Ruth Loescher and Dorothy Weute.

Mrs. Murphy, manager of the J. C. dining room, assisted by members of the Household Management class, served luncheon at 12:30. The table was centered with Cecil Brunner roses, and favors and place cards were in dainty colorful and were the handiwork of members of the A. W. S. order.

Miss Ruth Loescher, accompanied at the piano by Miss Constance Fagerter, sang a solo and Miss Dorothy Stein gave a reading. The visitors were shown about the college campus, afterward meeting in the library for the afternoon session. The topics holding deepest interest were the improvement of scholarship, creation and maintainance of public interest in junior colleges; financing student activities; junior college traditions; social life in junior colleges.

Junior colleges were invited to go in with the So. Calif. conference hereafter and will participate in a big spring meeting annually, and the association of women students of So. Calif. will meet in the autumn.

Grunion Failed to Come

A jolly party of Anaheimers went to Anaheim Landing Saturday evening where they pitched their tents on the sand, built a bon fire then sat down to wait for the grunion to run. They waited and waited, but none came. The party remained over night and yesterday and reported a most enjoyable time.

In the group were Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Newsom and children of Santa Ana, Mr. and Mrs. L. Z. Krueger and children, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tausch, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Boege and children, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Erickson and children.

THE fifth wedding anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Peters was celebrated yesterday when they served a prettily appointed 5 o'clock dinner. The afternoon was passed in a social way during which time many guests called. Rev. and Mrs. Peters were presented with appropriate and lovely presents.

Covers at the dinner table were laid for the host and hostess, Rev. and Mrs. Peters, Mr. and Mrs. F. Peters, Mr. and Mrs. H. Bush and A. Ford C. Bath of Los Angeles, Miss Pauline Peters, and George Goldstein of Golden, Illinois. Carnations formed the floral decorations for the rooms and table.

DINNER AND RIDE BRING PLEASURE ON ANNIVERSARY

MR. AND MRS. C. A. JOHNSON, 212 South Illinois-st., entertained yesterday with a dinner party to commemorate the seventeenth anniversary of their marriage.

The table, centered with a pretty bouquet of flowers, which are at their best just now, was loaded with good things, and a cake, decorated in keeping with the occasion was an interesting article.

After the meal the company drove about the country enjoying the orange groves, also drove about in Fullerton. As this was the first time Mr. Johnson had been out for two years, he was delighted with the wonderful growth and improvement of Anaheim.

When all had returned to the Johnson home after the drive, angel food and ice cream were served. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Theo. E. Stoll and Ed Falbe. Everyone passed a happy day, which will long be remembered.

Meet the new Venus, a perfect 34, who has just been discovered by the dictators of American fashions, and who stands a good chance of backing the time honored Venus de Milo with her perfect 34 right off the boards. She is Miss Martha Gonzales, a Brooklyn girl who is 20 years old and meets every requirement for the new form divine. Miss Gonzales was born in New York. Her parents are American citizens of Spanish extraction and she was educated in a convent.

LOCAL LEAGUER MADE VICE PRES. AT DIST. CONV.

ANAHEIM Epworth League was honored in the closing business session of Saturday afternoon the annual San Diego district convention meeting here, when one of the local active members Wilbert Bonney, was elected fourth vice president of the district. President is Horace Veith, Arlington; first vice, Hazel Schaar, second vice, Winnie Caldwell, Riverside; third vice, Esther Kieffer, Riverside; secretary, May Beamer, Santa Ana; treasurer, Clarence Koch, Riverside; Junior League and intermediate superintendent, Harold Girton, Anaheim; his assistants are Miss Lillian Crandall, Imperial, and Mrs. Caldwell, San Diego. The convention next year will be held in San Diego in Mission Hills Methodist church.

Business was put aside at 3 o'clock and the delegates and others went to Orange County park for a few hours picnic and supper. A happy afternoon ensued and left the participants fresh for the evening meeting. "Our Program for 1923-24" was the topic of district officers talks. Pasadena District Leaguers presented "stunt", and the address of the evening "Saving a Life," was given by Dr. Will A. Betts.

A sunrise song and prayer service opened the day yesterday and the convention sermon, preached by Dr. Clyde M. Crist, district superintendent, followed by installation of officers, brought to a close one of the most successful meetings in years.

There will be a board of directors meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club this evening at the home of Miss Grace Burgess, at 7 o'clock in the Mann-apts. All directors and officers are requested to be on hand.

COLLEGE DAYS REVIEWED OVER BANQUET TABLE

COLLEGE days were lived again Saturday night when 64 representatives of the Alumni and ex-students from Pomona college met in Elks club for the annual dinner and evening of reminiscenses.

The table was arranged in a letter "U", and was decorated in the college colors, blue and white, with centurias and carnations, baby's breath, furnished and arranged by Miss Ottilie Stechart, of class of 1907, Toastmaster Arthur McFadden, '91, older graduate present, was seated in the curve of the table and presided with thorough aplomb. During the meal Miss Ruth Scarceder played a piano solo and Mr. Howard Pattee, accompanied by Miss Schroeder, sang a vocal solo. Mrs. Jenkins also played a piano number.

Dr. Robert Williams, 1903, of Pomona chair in psychology, was introduced and responded with an excellent address on "The New Pomona". He told that in the past decade the college has doubled in size, and that the alumni is now four times the size it was 12 years ago. Of course cost has increased and now requires three times as much to attend college as it did in 1911. The college, he said, is now much more careful in admitting students, and every student who is accepted is given a psychological test. Of 500 applications for the freshmen class next year, 300 women and probably 150 men can be accepted. Before the address Dr. Williams gave several baffling exhibitions of legerdemain.

Raymond Elliott, '17, talked on "Pomona Clubs," on which "the sun sets;" as membership is scattered all over the world. Miss Evylena Nash, '19, talked of her European travels, during which she was a special teacher in art in Japan, Korea and Egypt. Her topic was "The Wanderings of A Pomonaite."

The toast of Edwin Munger, 1908, of Brea, "To the Old Pomona," brought the program to Dr. Williams' speech.

To close the evening the club appropriately sang many college songs, among them the "Ghost Parade" and the Alma Mater, "Hail, Pomona, Hail."

Anaheim representatives were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Moreland, Mr. and Mrs. Heaton W. Faris, Miss Dorothy Decker, Miss Josephine Smith, Miss Ottilie Stechart and Miss Kerr, Anaheim grammar school teacher.

We know Values—12 Years Active Experience

The More You Look

The better you will appreciate these remarkable values in sound country properties:

ACRE TRACTS—Every one a big, full size acre of productive soil, suitable for trees, vegetables, chickens, etc., well located not far from town. Don't be satisfied with less land for once money when you can buy one of these big acres at only $1795 on a payment of $295 down and balance in five easy yearly payments. This includes investment in the territory.

TEN ACRES—Valencias, all in bearing and one of the choicest groves of the district. Trees fully improved and an especially heavy crop estimated at better than 2000 boxes. This crop, at last season's prices, should nearly provide the amount necessary for the first payment and leave you easy.

TWENTY ACRES—All Valencias, mostly bearing trees. A close in property and good producer. We fully recommend this grove at $4000 per acre and we can deliver it on a payment of about one quarter down. Owner will allow $10,000 for the present crop. A most attractive investment.

TEN ACRES—Bearing lemons, healthy trees with good crop set and A-1 soil, located in Anaheim district. A veritable steal at only $1600 per acre.

Introducing Alice Louise Shrode

Gifted Child Artist to Be Heard at Chautauqua on the Second Day.

Unusual charm marks the program for the second day of Chautauqua. Alice Louise Shrode is one of the best juvenile entertainers in this country. Delightfully girlish and natural, she has also the technique of a highly trained artist. With whistling, singing, dancing and impersonations she wins her way to the heart of every audience. Illness-White have wanted, for several seasons, to introduce her to their western audiences, but her popularity with eastern managers has made this impossible till now.

FRUIT SHIPMENTS RECORD IN MARCH

Shipments of oranges in March from So. Calif., were the largest with one exception of any March on record, according to figures of the California Fruit Growers Exchange. They amounted to 6,071 cars against 6,863 in March, 1917, the record.

Shipments from the northern citrust belt of the State amounted to only 51 cars, smaller than usual.

Florida shipped 3,117 cars of oranges the largest in its history, and 3,023 cars of grapefruit, also a record.

Porto Rico shipped 286 cars of Cangres and grapefruit or a total of 12,563. The total of 12,563 cars from all three producing sections, including Porto Rico, were shipped.

From sept. 1 last to March 31, 17,422 cars were shipped from the southern belt of California, the record except for 1917, when 18,170 cars were shipped; from the northern belt 5,052, the best, showing yet; from Florida—oranges, 20,904 and grapefruit, 13,510, both records; from Porto Rico, 2,469 of oranges and grapefruit combined. The grand total of shipments was 59,357.

CABINET TO RALLY TO COURT'S SUPPORT

The president will deliver, tomorrow his first formal address in many weeks. It will be made before a convention of Newspaper publishers in New York.

The speeches of both the president and the secretary of state will be directed principally to members of their own party who have not hesitated to condemn in vigorous fashion, the Harding-Hughes internation-

HEADS CUT OFF FOR "LOBBYING"

(By International News Service)

SACRAMENTO, April 23.—State officials will be "docked" a day's pay for every day they are "caught" lobbying about the capitol, according to a new edict issued today by Governor Richardson.

Attorney Graupner of the industrial accident commission, has already been called home, and Paul Scharrenberg has been removed as a commissioner of immigration and housing for their activities against the economy program.

Governor Richardson said:

"I am determined to do my part in helping the legislature to free itself of objectionable lobbyists of all kinds. State employes must attend to their duties and refrain from influencing the legislature unless called upon for service. If these employes can spend day after day in lobbying, then they are not needed in the state service and can be cut from the payroll."
