TWENTY-SIXTH YEAR

$700 PURSE LOST BY WOMAN

Savings of Lifetime Vanish in Santa Fe Station at Fullerton

The savings of a lifetime vanished within a few minutes this morning at the Fullerton station of the Santa Fe when Mrs. Hilda McClure of Placentia, Cal., who lives on the J. Charles Thanner ranch, left her purse on a bench coming back from where it was gone.

The purse is said to have contained between $700 and $1,000. Before Mrs. McClure noticed her purse, she had been two trains thru.

Joe Macillo, special Santa Fe detective, said he saw Mrs. McClure sitting on the seat in the open air waiting room, and that two men were sitting near her, one on either side. This raises the question as to whether or not the purse was taken from the seat, or whether it was slipped from her person without her knowledge.

S. E. Reed, Santa Fe agent, took a description of the purse and its contents, and efforts are being made to learn whether the finder took possession of one of the trains.

CLAM 9000 WILL LEAVE OLFIELDS

Huntington Beach Marshal Says None Quit Work There

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 1.—Up to two o'clock this afternoon not an oil worker had left the fields, Jack Tinsley, City Marshal, reported, nor were any expected to do so. There were no signs of strike, Tinsley asserted.

Leaders of the strike claimed that 5,000 additional men would leave for Los Angeles from Chicago, Springfield and Huntington Beach oil fields.

The police are in readiness to quell any disturbance should a general strike be called.

It was also claimed by strike leaders that airplanes would fly over Los Angeles and the strike area and distribute L. W. W. literature.

BUDGET BILL PASSES, BUT 2 ANTI VOTES

(By International News Service.)

SACRAMENTO, May 1.—The administration budget bill carrying the general appropriations for the conduct of the state government and its institutions, and amendments for the next two years passed the assembly today by a vote of 71 to 2.

An emergency clause giving effect to the bill immediately after adjournment of the legislature was adopted without a dissenting vote.

The bill now goes to the senate where it is understood additional amendments providing further increases are to be offered.

After both houses concur on the final form of the bill it goes to the governor who has the power, under the new budget law, to strike out or reduce any items he chooses. A two-thirds vote in both houses would then be necessary to override the governor's action in any instance, so he virtually has the final say as to the act of the bill.

The present, the bill, including provisions and recurrent and state appropriation by implication provided for by calls for approximately $115,000,000 state expenditures for the next two years.

NABEE WILL MEET PERCANTOS MAY 8

By Samum Shroat
Roy Nabee, our former wrestler, who has been turned down by the last few months, promises to fight in June or just as soon as Meyers returns from the east. In the meantime Roy is training diligently and doing some real wrestling now and again. He is preparing for a return match at Riverside with that wonderful little Greek, Louis Pergantos, May 8.

Tom Butler and Vic Boden are acting as Roy's training partners and they are ready to put out an S.O.S. for help. Roy is getting rougher in his old days, so if there is a rough one, Roy may that want to work out just call on Roy Nabee at the Elks gym.

It will be remembered that Roy wrestled the Greek some weeks back and while he secured a fall the Greek also flopped Roy and neither could reverse the second fall. Roy has blood in his eye and is going after the Greek right this time. At least, he is surely training for the event.

The Vernon Grange League ball team surely profited by the Capitol City team's slump last week. Vernon has a good hold on first place, but the pitchers will have to heat up if the hold is held. Punch was last week's series. The batters can't keep up last week's performance for long, so it will be up to the pitchers to check the enemy move.

The Angels are on the rocks. There are murmurs of desertion in the ranks. The pitchers are not going good and the big punch is gone. In other words, the team is in a horrible thing.

The Seals are having trouble also. They started off like runaway but has run into a slump. Their hitting and fielding is slow par.

Seattle is travelling along nicely. Their club appears well balanced.

Salt Lake has the punch to win in a walk but their pitching staff is none too strong. With a good staff of pitchers that Salt Lake wrecking crew would stand a good show in the big leagues.

The Oaks, as of yet, started off like lions and have now become about as docile as home kittens.

LOCAL TRACKSTERS GO TO SANTA ANA

Coches Ray Elliot sends five tracksters to Santa Ana tomorrow to compete in the annual Orange County sophomore field meet. Daugherty entered in the high jump and broad jump and high hurdles; Preston mile and half mile; Donald Marsh, shot put; Edson, half mile; Fernland, 440 and half.

Preston is out out to be a regular stepper in the mile and made good time in the recent meet. With real coaching he should be a point winner in the big meet next week.

Twenty freshmen will represent Anaheim at Fullerton in the county meet Thursday.

Coach Ed Holt sent in his first squad until the fourth inning and then substituted several second team players when the score was 4 to 0. The second aggregation pushed up the score to 4-1. An extra inning was played and Garden Grove scored another run. Mann replaced Carroll on the mound in the fifth inning.

BOXERS TALK WHEN RECEIPTS ATTACHED

Fighters at the Anaheim Athletic club arena last night refused to go on with the show after the box office had been attached to satisfy an advertising and printing bill of The Plain Dealer. The bill was for $118 and extended back more than one year.

The Plain Dealer, which had given the boxing program hundreds of dollars worth of free publicity, had requested repeatedly in vain that Manager Danbury pay the bill.

Boxers had insisted they be paid at each show, and when there was no prospect of payment last night, they wouldn't fight, disappointing the fans.

The Plain Dealer's bill was for $118 but a $116 or $70 was obtained at the box office.

FELLOW CITIZENS APPROVE SLAYING

REDDING, Calif., May 1.—By a verdict rendered by fellow citizens in the little mining town of Lewiston, George L. Dickey was justified in killing George O. Given, alleged affluency of Mrs. Dickey.

Eight jurors found a verdict holding Dickey justified in shooting Given dead Wednesday when he found him with his wife.

The testimony was to the effect that Dickey had ordered Given out of the little mining town of Lewiston, Idaho, because he was a threat to the town's safety.

Given backed the irate husband up against the wall.

Four jurors returned a verdict that the shooting was justified.

Though her love for Given caused the killing, her husband treated her affectionately when they met in the little mining town of Lewiston.

Following the inquiry Dickey was taken back to the county jail at Weaverville until county authorities reach a decision.

It has been traditional for sophomores to take it upon themselves to make the freshmen wear green caps. That practice is hereby abolished."

DAILY GREETINGS TO OUR READERS

The best way to show appreciation of and to manifest interest in Shakespeare is to read and re-read his works. This gives one a rich legacy of noble thoughts clothed in classic diction. Reading Shakespeare is working a literary gold mine.

Erecting memorials to great and noble men and women is an excellent thing to do. It exalts the soul of people to exalt their great men and women. To cherish the memory of a great person is to try to imitate that person at least in a modest, humble way. The influence of this memorializing is distinctly good and wholesome.

Wholly negative, destructive criticism serves no good purpose except to constitute a "horrible example" of what criticism should not be. Criticism in any realm of husband thought or endeavor, to be useful must be constructive, progressive, illuminating. The useful critic is the one who points the way to betterment.

There are those who feel that the concession obtained by Americans in Turkey—known as the Chester concession—is not going to help to soothe the situation in the Near East. Should the United States back that enterprise officially, there might arise very serious friction there, because of this venture of American capital. Americans, however, should have the privilege of going wherever they may to invest their money in development projects.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

CLOTHING AS AN ISSUE
(Indianapolis News.)

Senator Brookhart of Iowa, a Republican who has commented and denounced pretty nearly everything that is Republican, took on the question of apparel as one of the greatest of importance. Perhaps he will recall the words of Polonius addressed to his son, Laertes, about to set out for Paris.

Costly they habit as thy purse can buy,
But not expressed in fancy; rich, not gaudy,
For this apparel oft proclaims the man.

So it does, but what does it proclaim? Of course, if one wants to be "a man in cowhide boots" and it was in that capacity the Senator according to his opponent, the anthropologist, one must wear cowhide boots, for any other style of footwear would proclaim him to be being other than he is. By error of commission or omission, Brookhart must eschew oxfords, and much more pumps. We recall that a good many years ago Kansas was represented in the lower House of Congress by a worthy person, who scorned to wear socks, unlike former Senator Lewis, with whom socks were a passion.

The Iowa senator also objects, and emphatically, to evening clothes. "I never," he said, propose to, "I do not care for social functions and would prefer to remain away. If the occasion requires that, I will go just as I am. I told my constituents that if they wished to send a sport to the Senate they should send my opponent." There is no story, was elected, one knows, a philosophy of clothes, but we recall nothing in it that explains the attitude of Senator Brookhart, former Senator Bailey—to whom evening clothes were also anathema—the stockiest statesman from Kansas. Consider this from Carlyle:

"Clothes, too, which began in foolish love of ornament, when they had become necessary of security and pleasure, have now followed by what of them? Shame, divine shame (shame, indeed), as you a stranger to the anthropologist, human bones, arose there mysteriously under clothes; a mystic grove enfolded shrine for the body in man. Clothes as an individuality, distinction, social polity; clothes have made men of us; they are threatening to make clothes women of us."

Senator Brookhart refuses to become a sport to the world has many meanings. The sport is here is the popular and unexplainable type, thus defined: "An animal, of plant, or of its parts, that exists or is the result of various variations from the normal type." To be a sport in this sense, it would be hard to say a more pronounced "sport" than a man that every evening clothes at a social function. Truly all other men were wearing them. The man in a case the apparel, precisely as we read in the New Testament of a young man whose wedding party was a great event. Because he had not a wedding garment, he was cast out. A man who does not "dress the part" is a man who is not a man. We need a new philosophy of clothes. The world is worthy of the art.

RECOGNITION IS VERY IMPORTANT

Of vital importance to Mexico, and essential, perhaps, to the maintenance of domestic peace and order down there, is official recognition of the government of President Obregon by the government at Washington. Should the forthcoming negotiations looking to recognition fail, the effect upon the present administration in the City of Mexico might be disastrous. Should it be impossible for the negotiations to reach an agreement, the enemies of General Obregon would be emboldened and a series of serious revolutions involving revolutionary uprisings might ensue.

It is to the interest of the United States, as well as Mexico, to forestall a recurrence of the bloody chaos which scourged Mexico for years. Every reasonable concession should be made by both sides in these negotiations, to reach agreement and to bring about formal recognition and resumption of full diplomatic relations between the United States and Mexico.

THRIVING IS COMMON TO ALL INTERESTS

The gratifying volume of prosperity prevailing in this state and section, as reflected in the report of the Federal Reserve Bank in very widely and generally diffused among all classes and elements. Labor is thriving, which brings good times not only to those who labor and upon whom, then, but through the purchases which are made from payrolls, distributed to benefit through all lines of business. Industry thrives, and this helps along development projects. Prosperity in industry and in business is cumulative.

With all basic economic operations and forces enjoying almost unprecedented activity of a praiseworthy nature, the measure of thriving is very great and in it all are sharing, to some extent.

This is healthy thriving, not fictitious booming. It promises to endure. Not the least important of the prosperity, producing activities is building construction.

ORATORY IS DEVELOPED IN SCHOOLS

Oratory is not decadent among student bodies here in the Southland. Frequent contests among high school, college and university orators show this. Debates are of a high order of excellence. Young men and young women show marked forensic abilities in these competitive matches.

Oratory should not be permitted to decline its cultivation among students should be the care of educators. It is a graceful accomplishment. The strenuousness of the age should not crowd it.

President Harding has gone counter to all tradition by defying and opposing some of the most influential Republican members of the Senate. Mr. Harding, remember, was a Senator, himself. He is breaking over the tradition as to "Senatorial courtesy" and is blazing a way for himself and for his party, regardless of the wishes of the most influential colleagues in the Senate.

This is gas pressure week. We ought to get a lot of information about the charter, pro and con.

NEW YORK LETTER
BY LUCY JEANNE PHILLIPS

NEW YORK, May 1.—One doesn't think of a police station as the most conducive spot to matrimony. And yet a fact developed at the annual auction of stolen and unclaimed property held at Police Headquarters here, which demonstrates that the young God Hymen gets about very lively. The way to get in good with a lady, declares one of the bidders, is to give her something that has got a history. For instance, tonight I'm going to give my gal this watch and explain to her it's one that an old friend of mine is spending fifteen years in Sing Sing for lifting it off a lady in the subway. That ought to make a hit. And so it is, underword, they probably say it with look.

The most conservative paper in town is conducting a classified ad department, which is run in the new columns, and does not command a line rate. It is done in the manner of the Lost and Found column, and it headed "Missing Persons" and "Lost and Found." The last issue I saw had seven missing and thirteen located, which seemed hopeful enough. With a safe margin of six, no one could complain of popular definition. A pessimist could easily work out another plight however, as the average age of those missing is 18, and of those located, 25. There you are, the best blood gone, and those on the borderland of waste recovered, while the oldest of those yet missing is 44. The men are naturally the most advantageous, five of those missing being male, but so also are they the first to come back because 8 of the recovered are also men. There is an insight to humanity here, and something for the psychologist to think about.

The American National Theater, shepherded by Augustus Thomas, the Theater Czar, has had its premiere in "As You Like It." And nice people they chose to carry out the cherished ideal of Marjorie Rambeau, Margalo Ollimore, Ian Keith, A. F. Anson, and Ernest Lawford, with a host of others. Lee Simonson fitted the production with his appealing sets, and the Play-Maker of all days consoled as usual. Marjorie Rambeau and Miss Ollimore are two of the prettiest women on the stage, and much of a type. Margalo might easily look at the senior Marjorie and see what she will be like in—but it would not be nice to go into axes, with such adorable person. In the midst of all the Shakespearean celebrations, the Bard must have looked down on these two, and recalled the line of Johnson's "Not so much honoring these."

I seem to have a figure complex lately. But it came up again with Broadway rubbing its eyes over the several reports of mutilation, and closing their tour with what are figured as record-breaking receipts. Ignace Paderewski has earned since November a total of $460,000, or an average of $7000 for sixty-six piano recitals in America. This is nearly double what he earned in the early nineties in the prime of his sensational career. It is noted that he is thirty-three years older now, proving that art is long. He outdoes the ladies too, Miss Farrar socked a mere $125,000 and Jetta's paltry share was but $60,000. Several of us would be willing to take a flyer in politics, after the manner of Paderewski, if we could stage a comeback like that.

ABE MARTIN

It's hardly safe to write a poem this backward, crying unless it's published 'til' same day. It was feared for a while 'til day that popular Mrs. Fern Bentley was lost, but she was unavoidably detained at home.

At any rate you can patronize a soda fountain without being button-holed by some weedy chap who wishes to tell the sad story of his life.

IF YOU WOULD CEMENT YOUR LOCAL FRIENDSHIP; IF YOU WOULD HAVE THE GOOD WILL AND THE PLAUDITS OF THE LOCAL MERCHANTS; IF YOU WOULD HAVE THE GRATITUDE OF A FASTLY GROWING COMMUNITY—THEN, YOU WOULD BUY YOUR REQUIREMENTS AT HOME. EACH AND EVERY PURCHASE YOU MAKE IN YOUR HOME CITY INCREASES THE WEALTH AND IMPORTANCE OF THE CITY, HOWEVER, SMALL. ONE LITTLE PURCHASE IS NEGLIGIBLE BUT MANY PURCHASES BY A CONSISTENT AGGREGATE OF PURCHASERS IS ALL IMPORTANT AND THE ONE ACTION THAT SPELLS ADVANCEMENT AND PROMOTES THE LESSON OF CIVIC PRIDE.

The Immaculate Trio

(BY THE MYSTERIOUS COWBOY)

Plain language cannot tell of the perfection and beauty of the Anaheim Laundry Company. It would take a trainload of superlatives and a couple of dozen Noah Websters and Dr. Sam Johnsons to even begin to tell the truth of the place. This poor cowboy will do the best he can under the circumstances.

My first impression of this perfect laundry was that of a great conservatory, filled to overflowing with lilies. I wonder if you can visualize my conception. The place did not look like my most ideal idea of a perfect, modern laundry. Of smooth white tile brick, all trimmings of green and windows and borders in such artistic array; entirely surrounded by a bright green lawn; no evidence of exterior congestion nor the slightest incongruity to mar the pretty scheme of things, it was difficult to bring myself to the realization that I stood in the premises of America's newest and most perfect laundry.

After sketching the founders of this wonderful plant, the Messrs. Theodore Bros., I was taken through Anaheim's pride. Now the lily part of it dawned on me. It was the white dresses of the workers and the whiteness of everything else that gave birth to the idea of the conservatory. Spotless, perfect in running order and with a lack of confusion that was amazing; equipment of the most up to date manufacture; mutual good will so noticeable among all who worked there—surely the place had earned its name—America's newest and most perfect laundry.

The people of Anaheim are familiar with the notable facts concerning this magnificent plant—completed about the first of this year and in operation since February, it has lived up to its reputation of the highest degree in laundry efficiency. The three brothers, whose enterprise built the place and who now operate the plant, have been in the laundry business for the past ten years. When they decided to build a new place they agreed upon the best plant possible, and being of recent construction it is therefore the finest to be found anywhere.

All the features of the modern laundry are to be found here; the great water softening system; the latest machinery and the most improved methods; a sunny dining room for the girls that work in this pleasant place; beautiful offices; smiling, pretty girls, happy employees—one will envy anybody that calls the place their environment.

Such a laundry will always please its clients. The service and the quality of its work is in keeping with the high operating efficiency. If our laundry is to be cheaper in the future, you may be assured that this perfect laundry will lead the way to lower costs. The management is for ever looking for room for improvements. To say that they are enterprising and progressive does not tell it all—they are the true friends of Anaheim.

SHERIFF SAVES MAN FROM STICKY COAT

(By International News Service)
SANTA ROSA, Calif., May 1.—While a huge pot of tar boiled in a nearby cauldron, Sheriff John M. Boyce and one deputy succeeded early today in persuading a mob of 100 residents of the Cunningham district of Sonoma to permit the law to take its course in the case of rank Pisk, a chicken rancher, accused of making improper advances to little girls.

Bent on fanning and feathering the accused rancher, the crowd gathered in a cemetery. Sheriff Boyce had been tipped in advance and arrived there just in time.

The crowd dispersed and Pisk was brought to the county jail here where he was served with a warrant today charging an attempted statutory offense.

Accusations against Pisk have been made for some time. Three young girls ranging from 11 to 14 years of age, had informed their parents of his alleged actions. They charged that he had induced them to go bathing in a lagoon near his place, sans bathing suits.

WIFE, MAN, AFFINITY LIVE TOGETHER

Elina Kinnun (left) loves Fred Vanderloft, a locomotive engineer. So does Mrs. Rose Vanderloft (at right) wife of Fred, although she filed suit against him asking a divorce. Fred left Rose in St. Paul for Elina. Rose went to Chicago and obtained a job as waitress. Fred walked into the restaurant with Elina on the day they arrived in Chicago and nearly fainted when friend wife came up to take the order. Elina fell ill. Rose took her in, and fed her, nursed her, became her firmest friend, despite the fact that Elina is soon to prevail on Fred with a child. When the divorce case reached the calendar, Fred told the judge he loved both women and asked what he should do. The women both love Fred so much that they admit each would take a third of the sentence if Fred were sent to jail for a year. The judge has taken thirty days to think over the case.
