MEALY BUG IS PREVALENT IN ORANGE-CO

500 Acres Prey to Pest, County Insectory Head Says Today.

More citrus fruit acreage in Orange-co is infested with mealy bug at the present time than in early summer of any previous year. Between 500 and 600 acres are a prey to this pest, inquiry of C. H. Russell of the County Insectory here showed. Science still is incapable of doing more than keep down this pest in groves which it has entered. Its spread cannot be prevented. The insectory is spending the bulk of its effort against the mealy bug, which has been spread by using in commercially clean groves tents use din fumigating unclean groves. New regulations now require tents to be vacuum fumigated before being used in clean groves, while pickers' clothes and boxes also are "cleansed."

Between 2500 and 3,000 acres of citrus fruit out of a total of 45,000 acres were not fumigated last year, because growers depended upon the aphycus to eliminate black scale, which was a serious mistake. But only one fumigation is necessary after the aphycus has worked thoroughly.

More rhizobius has been released the last year than any other parasite. It works on the pound of scale principle. Between July 1, 1922, when the insectory was started, and June 1, this year, 1,835,638 natural enemies of black, red and purple scale and of the mealy bugs have been released.

Between the same dates or in 11 months $6,586.00 has been expended including the cost of building and equipping the laboratory, out of a total of $9,869.56 contributed by the various packing-house associations, leaving a balance of $3,283.56. All of the Exchange Ass'ns and most of the independent ones contribute to its support. The directors of the Orange-co Pest Control Ass'n, which maintains the laboratory, voted to spend less time on black scale, until some more effective method of biological control is found.

Russell declared it was hoped funds might be secured with which to fight new pests that may enter the county or help the State Dept. of Agr. in obtaining a second foreign collector of parasites on scale and mealy bug.

The steel blue lady bug now is being released for the first time in the county by the insectory. It works on red and purple scale, which, while not so prevalent as black, can kill a tree much more easily. Excellent results have been obtained with it in the Carpenteria section of Santa Barbara-co. The purple scale is scattered practically all over the county, while the red is most prevalent in the Yorba Linda and Tustin vicinities.

The 100 stab lady bug beetle, which also works on red and purple scale, is being used more extensively. Several plots have been arranged on which to watch it work.

The Lopanthae is a third parasite on both scales that is being used more than ever.

The mealy bug in Orange-co is of three kinds, the Citrophilus, the Citrus and the Baker. Their prevalence is in the order named, the Citrophilus being by far the most spread out. Usually the mealy bug is prevalent earlier in the year than this.

Ranchers are expected to band their trees with burlap, if trees are infested with mealy bug, so as to catch the female when she descends to lay her eggs. The growers are co-operating well, particularly in changing the bands.

Natural enemies look after the Citrus and Baker mealy bug much more thoroughly than after the Citrophilus.

In regard to the [illegible] scale, 11 different secondaries are working on the aphycus. Hargreiaella [illegible] quayles is the chief of these secondaries. This with the Eusemion, the other chief secondary, was most responsible in making the aphycus ineffective last winter.

When black scale has been cleaned up in groves where red and purple scale also exist, it is possible to time fumigations for the latter alone. Many groves would be clean now if they had been fumigated last year, but still a new parasite has been found. It's work against the black scale is of doubtful value, says Russell.

In addition to the State Dept. of Agr. the Federal Dept. has a collector at work in China, trying to obtain [illegible] parasites for red and purple [illegible]

Four "Pall-Bearers" Bot Rouw's Silence

...CLIFTON,.. Ariz.,.. June.. 19—(INS)—Benjamin..... H... Rouw, whose startling claim that he had seen the burial of Leighton Mount re-opened the whole death inquiry Saturday, sold his silence to the four "pall bearers" for $100, he admitted today ,according to Assistant States Attorney Charles A. Wharton of Chicago.

Wharton said Rouw told this story: For his silence, the "big fellow among the students who had secreted the body paid $100, demanding a receipt so he could collect from the others. That came after Rouw had seen a party of youths carrying the body of another.. approaching.. the.. pier stealthily. When they had disposed of the body.. and left the pier, they were disturbed to find Rouw had witnessed their behavior. The "deal" then followed ..

DECLARE SALOONS WIDE OPEN IN L. A.

LOS ANGELEC, June 19.—Making the surprising assertion that Los Angeles is "wide open" and that 1500 saloons as well as numerous gambling den and houses of ill repute are operating under "police protection, Rev Gustav A. Briegleb and Rev. R. S. Bhuler today filed written charges before the police commission and demanded that steps be taken to "clean house" and "clamp the lid" on vice and crime here.

Both ministers filed with the commission correspondence they had received from persons interested in the recent demand that Chief of Police L. D. Oaks be ousted by Mayor Cryer. One of the communications, it was claimed, recited that many police officers are being punished for enforcement of the laws by being transferred "to the tulies."

UNSECURED LOANS WRECK LARGE BANK

WICHITA, Kans., June 19.—The trail of a million and one half dollars missing from the bond department of the American State Bank of Wichita is a trail of petroleum.

Enterprises of the southwest benefitted to the extent of more than that amount thru the manipulations of Philip A. Drumm, cashier of the bank, according to bank authorities after a hasty examination.

Thru this, the institution, second largest bank in the state, and for years regarded as one of the strongest banks in the entire southwest, is wrecked and in the hands of the state banking department.

Drumm gave himself up to the county officials and submitted to arrest. He was arraigned on a charge of making a false statement to the state banking commissioner last November in connection with the condition of the bank. He pleaded not guilty and gave bond for his appearance.

Bare Throats Make Sweeter Dispositions

SAN FRANCISCO, June 19—(INS)—Women are sweeter dispositioned than a decade ago because they have adopted low collars, Mme. Berta M. Titus decared today, in addressing the University Fine Arts Club on "The Psychology of Dress."

"It is all on account of the bare throats," she said. "These high, tight collars pressed on the thyroid gland, making another pressure on the grain which caused hysterics and 'nerves'."

"I wonder when we can get collars off men?" she inquired.

"Freedom of dress for women has come to stay," Mme. Titus decared. "Women should always look well and feel well. It is demoralizing for a woman to spend all her money for cothes. We still belong to the 'Make 'Em Over' Club".

KIWANIS HEARS OF ATLANTA MEETING

A report on the Atlanta, Ga., annual Kiwanis convention by former President Hickson of the Pomona club, who was a delegate, was the feature of today's luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club in the Elks' clubhouse. The last drink Hickson saw of Henry Adams, the local club's delegate, was when the latter with Mrs. Adams was about to take the train for Washington, the speaker declared. Mr. and Mrs. Adams plan to return by way of Canada.

The So. Cal. delegates went on a special car, $0-85 of them together, from Los Angeles. They stopped off at Kansas City, Mo., and Memphis, Tenn., on the way. At Memphis they were the guests of the Memphis Kiwanians.

Hickson's first impression of Atlanta was the apparent lack of preparations to accomodate the big crowd. But everybody eventually found accomodations, he declared. The Atlantans proved very hospitable and on Memorial Day spent several hours driving the guests about.

A big barbecue at the Country Club was spoiled by rain. Most of the 4,000 guests were present at the time. Rain fell in fact, almost every day they were present, according to Hickson, in contrast to sunny California.

Henry M. Adams will tell the full story of the convention when he returns.

Homer P. Ames received an extension of a week on his autobiographic talk. Ames has been an attorney at points all the way from British Columbia to Tia Juana, he said.

David Jessurun told of delivering the visitation cup to the Fullerton Kiwanians. The latter, according to an announcement there, will deliver it to the LaHabra club with six Fullerton rooters from Fullerton accompanying it.

President A. R. McCord announced that the local Kiwanis nine would play Schneider team, also undefeated at the Y. M. C. A. grounds Thursday evening.

He appointed M. Eugene Durfee, Willian Fultenstein and President Roscoe Young of the Anaheim Merchants' and Manufacturers' Ass'n a committee to meet with the Choral Union at James Cafe in Santa Ana next Friday evening.

Harry Whitake, postmaster-elect, who was a guest, was piano accompanist instead of Harry Briscoe, who was absent.

Gribling's testimony was largely perfunctory. He testified that $8,226.57 still was due from him for materials, including lumber which he alleged was unpaid on the total contract of a little over $122,600.

J. H. Woods and B. Marinapse of the Riverside Portland Cement Co., E. L. Bowers of Santa Ana, of the Adams-Bowers Lumber Co. and Carl Leonard of the Anaheim Truck & Transfer Co. were other witnesses.

OFFICER RELEASED FROM AUTO CHARGE

Louis Heffner, county motorcycle officer, arrested by Jake Dient of the Fullerton police department May 12 on the charge of running with a loose spotlight, was brot up before Judge French this morning. But the hearing did not develop for it. Lyon, city attorney, moved that the case be dismissed. Lyon gave no reason for the dismissal other than it would promote harmony between Fullerton and the county seat.

Whether this will widen the growing breach which rumor reports between the city authorities and the police department remains to be seen. Rumor has it that the break in point between Marshall Eells and the city officials is almost reached. Many different things are said to have entered into the controversy, direction being charged on one side and undue independence on the other.

MT. VESUVIUS SHOWS SIGNS OF ACTIVITY

Molten River Advancing 25 Yards an Hour, Annihilating Vineyards.

BY GUGLIELMO EMANUEL
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ROME, June 19—With 50,000 persons homeless from the violent eruption of Mount Etna and molten lava continuing, Mount Vesuvius began showing activity today.

The town of Giarre at the base of Mount Etna with a population of 17,000, now appears to be doomed.

Deep trenches have been dug around the town of Linguaglossa to divert the course of flowing lava. This town was reported destroyed yesterday.

The lava from Mount Etna is advancing 25 yards an hour, annihilating vinyards.

King Victor Emmanuel and the minister of public works in the Mussolini cabinet have left for Sicily to assist in relief work. Troops are assisting the people to evacuate.

Each rumbling and loud explosions accompany the eruptions of Etna. Owing to the slow movement of the lava there have been no fatalities (accordin to information from Messina at noon), but the chief fear now arises from the possibility of earthquakes.

Etna is a raging furnace. As the red hot lava streams slowly emerge huge volumes of black smoke and cinders belch skyward obscuring the sun. The noise is as a bombardment of artillery.

Tragic scenes mark the countryside about the burning mountain.

Despite the apparent safety of Linguaglossa the authorities warned the people to depart and most of them did so. The few that remained, reinforced by hundreds of refugees from the nearby countryside held, religious services in the public square amidst clouds of dust and cinders from the volcano.

While the homeless were put at 50,000 early in the day, some reports this afternoon said the number might reach 100,000 before night.

Near the base of the volcano semi-darkness prevailed owing to the clouds of smoke which clouded the sun. Crowds of fleeing men and women wandered from the roads and lost themselves in the fields.

It is impossible to estimate the financial loss but it will run into millions.

Messina, which was destroyed by earthquake 14 years ago, is filling up with refugees. The local organization of Fascisti is providing food and shelter.

LONDON, June 19.—Several new fissures have appeared in the crater of Mount Etna and molten lava is streaming from them, said a Central News dispatch from Rome today.

Linguaglossa is reported to have been completely evacuated.

At last reports a wall of lava 50 feet high and more than a mile wide was advancing toward the town of Giarre.

LONDON, June 19.—Activity of Mount Etna again increased this afternoon, said a news agency dispatch received from Rome at 2 o'clock.

The lava has reached railroads a few hundred yards from Linguaglossa.

ROME, June 19.—Pope Pius XI today contributed 25,000 lire for relief of Sicilians made homeless by the eruption of Mount Etna.

CATANIA, Italy, June 19.—Molten lava today destroyed the village of Cranica, near the foot of Mount Etna.

LONG TIME HEAD OF CLUB SECTION GIVES UP POST

TENDERING her resignation as president of the Domestic Science section of the Ebell club, after serving continuously for the past three years, Mrs. R. B. Herman was given a rising vote of thanks at the final business meeting yesterday held at the home of Mrs. Turton, on South Kroeger-st.

Her successor, Mrs. Alberta Andrews, was elected without a dissenting vote and in a few well-chosen words solicited the support of the club, likening the organization to an automobile—with every part dependent upon the other parts, down to the tiniest nuts. Jokingly, some of the ladies informed her they were the "nuts," and she aptly told of disaster to the popular machine through lack of support from even the nuts. Mrs. Andrews has had wide club experience and the section is fortunate in securing her as the new president.

Mrs. Herman has an enviable record in her work with the section. She has never missed a meeting, has put over many financial efforts, and the organization now has a comfortable bank balance. In round figures the section has earned $1000 under her direction, and many a side issue has been brought to financial success through her individual effort and energy. She is among the oldest members of the Ebell club and for six years was on the hostess committee. The section organized with 17 members and now has a roll of 54.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Leslie Bowen as secretary and treasurer, to succeed herself, and by unanimous vote Mrs. Herman was placed in the vice president's chair.

Several important matters were discussed and plans for the opening activities in the autumn were touched upon.

A demonstrator of a popular brand of salad dressing was present and in proving the excellency of her wares, mixed a Waldorf salad which was served with the tea and cake prepared by the refreshment committee.

Several members of the section already are away on vacation but attendance was good and the interest deep. No more business meetings will be held until the autumn.

COMING EVENT IS INCENTIVE FOR JOLLY PARTY

A PRETTY courtesy is which Miss Anita Herzler was the honored guest, was given last evening at Glen Roee, the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pannier on S. East-st, when Miss Alice Pannier, assisted by her sister, Ruth entertained a large party of friends. Miss Herzler was called to the Pannier home to meet visitors from the east and when she got there the parlor was filled with her friends. The incentive for the affair is the approaching marriage of Miss Herzler to Mr. George Rains.

The house was very prettily decorated in yellow and white and the same motif was used in the menu.

The guests were given crepe paper and a clothes pin which they were asked to "doll" up as bride and groom. Prizes for the best costumes were given Misses Mattie Lou Robertson and Elise Jessurun, and Mrs. Floyd Curtiss and Mrs. Arnold Enearl. Several games were played. The bride-elect was presented with a large basket of packages which contained china and crystal gifts. Music and a social hour was enjoyed while dainty refreshments were served after.

Honoring Miss Herzler were the Mesdames Arnold EnEarl, Floyd Curtis, J. L. Davis, A. E. Clark, Robert Greer, the Misses Mattie Lou Robertson, Marjorie Rains, Ruth White, Myrtle Winters, Minnette Kelley, Elise Jessurun, Stella Witmer, Edna and Ella Mitchell, Erma Schletter, Cynetha Schletter, Edna Hochuli, Elsa Block, Ruth Crawford, Emma Owens, Lillis Johnston, Lottie Krick of Illinois, and the hostesses, Misses Alice and Ruth Pannier.

Birthday Surprise

F. A. Nellesen was honored last evening when his wife arranged a birthday surprise for him. A peal of the door bell was answered by Mr. Nellesen who was delighted to greet a party of close friends and for a moment was at a loss to account for so many calling on the same evening at the same hour. But birthday greetings and happy wishes brought about the realization of the occasion and he entered into the spirit of the evening as joyously as anyone.

Five hundred was the chosen game and several rounds were played. Mrs. John Kirsch won high score, Mrs. Leslie Cox second and Mrs. J. J. Burkhart, consolation. Each received suitable prizes.

Decorations of Shasta daisies prompted the color scheme of yellow and white. A large birthday cake served with ice cream formed tasty refreshment.

Guests included the Messrs and Mesdames Page Tucker, Earl Spencer, John Kirsch, J. J. Burkhart, Leslie Cox and Leo Callahan. Departing, the guests expressed the wish that Mr. Nellesen be allowed to pass many more of these happy anniversaries.

URGES ROAD FROM BREA TO ANAHEIM

The following letter was written to the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce by R. W. Bartels, living at Fullerton and Brea, advocatin a new road between Brea, Fullerton, and Anaheim. He would make connections between the Brea canyon road and Raymond Ave., in Fullerton, which runs into East street in Anaheim:

Chamber of Commerce,
Fullerton, Calif.
Gentlemen:

Last Tuesday I presented to the Board of Trustees of Fullerton a petition asking for the opening and extension of North Raymond Ave., from its present terminus at its intersection with Brea Canyon road. Undoubtedly you will concur with me, that the execution of the work is of vast importance and will have a great bearing upon the future prosperity of Fullerton. A superficial survey discloses that the road can be made almost a straight one, with afair grade, the steepest point will be probably at the South end and will be about 1 in 18 or 1 in 20. Apparently the road will have but few cuts and fills and will reach the Brea Canyon road beyond the point where a road branches off to the cemetary. When complete it would be the shortest route between San Bernardino, Ontario and Pomona one way and Fullerton, Placentia, Anaheim and Santa Ana the other way. There is a movement underway in Anaheim to extend East street, as Raymond ave. is called, in Anaheim, on a straight line into Santa Ana, this connecting with our contemplated improvement would create the short route above mentioned.

Of more importance though than anything else would be the fact that the completion of this improvement would give Fullerton the much needed inlet from the North, and from the South, it would also be of importance to the city of Fullerton because it would be the means of enclosing the town in its present location.

For divers reasons it would probably be advocated at the present time to put gravel and oil the contemplated road, hence the cost would be merely ineignificant, when compared with the immense benefits derived.

The land traversed is almost entirely owned by the Union Oil Co. I have interviewed officials in Los Angeles and also corresponded with them. i had a letter from them a few days ago, dated June 14, in which they express their willingness to grant a right-of-way for the road through their land.

As it is of great importance that this work should be completed at an early date, I beg leave to ask your assistance and co-operation, to bring this about.

Trusting that you will give my request favorable consideration, I am,

Most respectfully yours,
R. W. Bartels

CRIME SATURNALIA IS PREVENTABLE

Los Angeles co is much wrought up over the prevalence of terrible crimes. Ways and means to prevent these outrages are being discussed. Many diverse suggestions have been made. There doubtless is merit in many of these. Perhaps no one of these completely covers the situation. Any reform, to be effectual, must incorporate the best and most practical of these suggestions.

This should be impressed at all times: Crime can be combated effectually by training children aright. Begin in their early years, in home teaching, to define sharply the difference and distinctions between right and wrong. Obedience should be taught in the home and in the school. The first lesson that all should learn in a free country is obedience—obedience to parental rule in the home; obedience to the teacher in school; obedience to laws and ordinances of the municipality, county, state and Nation. This generation in its swing toward personal independence, is neglecting the fine old disciplinary repression of obedience. The lawless spirit of the adult oftentimes may be traced in its beginnings, to the wilfulness and disobedience of childhood. It is a great wrong to the child itself to permit it to have its own way and to disobey parents or teachers with impunity. The fight against criminality should begin in the nursery, by the cradle of the impressionable child.

—o—

Human life is valued too lightly in this country. The number of homicides is frightfully large. The pistol is to be had too readily. Sale and possession of firearms should be regulated.

—o—

COMMENCEMENT HAS ITS OWN SIGNIFICANCE

No school, college or university commencement should be perfunctory. The program should not be dry and uninteresting. The occasion should be sprightly and full of human interest. Floral decorations and artistic arrangements of rooms or of the outdoor scene of exercises are important. But most important is the human element—the young men and young women; the boys and girls; the teaching staffs; the boards of education; and the parents. It is for this human contingent that all commencement features are planned. It is the human in these spectacles that vitalizes and quickens and gives color to them.

Commencements should be community affairs in the broadest, most comprehensive sense. All elements in the community should join in the celebration of this momentous event in school life and in the advancement of enlightenment in the community. The schools belong to all the people. They should show their proprietary interest in the schools.

—o—

Hospitable greeting will be given President Harding when he comes to California. This state esteems Mr. Harding highly as a man and citizen, as well as chief magistrate. Californians have the reputation of being particularly cordial to Presidental visitors. Mr. Harding will have no cause to be displeased with his greeting here.

—o—

FARMS OVERPRODUCING SAYS MR. WALLACE

The American farmer mus tuse enlightened judgment and alert wit, is the somewhat startling assertion of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace. He goes on to say that, contrary to general belief, exports of farm products have not languished since the Armistice, but on the contrary have been greater than they ever were before—greater in some instances, than they were during the World War period.

The American farmer must use enlightened judgment and alert wits to bring to himself the material rewards which should be his. He must diversify his crops. He must gauge the demand for each crop, and regulate acreage planted to the several crops according to reasonable expectation as to demand. In other words, should the market be glutted with any one cereal, acreage in that cereal should be reduced for one year, at least, to permit the market to be cleared of its superfluous stocks, and to create a healthy demand at remunerative prices. In this and in other ways the farmer should look well to his own interests.

—o—

Bank clearings in California cities are encouragingly heavy. This shows that the people are thriving and that they have the utmost confidence in economic conditions in general and in banks.

—o—

DEVELOPMNENT HERE IS REMARKABLE

Southern California is developing with remarkable strides. This development is general. It is distributed among all interests. It affects industries of every sort. It affects business. It gives remunerative employment to labor.

This development has been in progress for a long time. It bids fair to continue indefinitely. It is one of the most encouraging signs of the times, economically. It should give heart even to those who are inclined to be bilious and pessimistic.

This thriving is actual, not artificial or spurious. The good effects of it are manifest. They are felt in all circles.

—o—

Unemployment conditions are more favorable, the country over, than at any time within the last year. This is extremely gratifying and reflects the adundant prosperity prevailing throughout the country.

—o—

The country's prosperity is actual and bounteous. It is generally distributed. It is manifest particularly in the general employment of labor throughout the country. The industrial situation is particularly encouraging.

—o—

Oklahoma and Kansas are being scourged by destructive floods. This distressing experience comes to that section frequently. It would be real economy to put the floody streams under rigid control of scientific prevention projects.

—o—

President Harding's urging that the people learn to sing "The Star-Spangled Banner" is pertinent. Too many persons do not know the words to this air, or, knowing the words, do not get the tune. Children should be taught both the words and music of the national anthem.

—o—

Europe is making economic progress, despite the havoc of the World War and notwithstanding the broils and uncertainties of the period since the Armistice. Once the aggravating issues are adjusted the continent should settle down to an era of uninterrupted recovery and thriving.

—o—

Presidential politics is engaging a great deal of public attention. But the people are not forming final opinions now. Their tentative judgments will be subject to change, as the months go by, as issues crystallize and as prospective candidates assume their attitudes. This is not to be a programmed campaign.

Yes, my darling daughter;
Hang your clothes on this "hickory limb,"
But don't go near the "water."

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

EDITORS ARE SAYING

JOY OF BEING A BOY

Philadelphia Public Ledger

One of the best things about the Boy Scout movement is that it makes clear to young boys, and old ones as well, that the business of being a boy means being a good son and brother as well as a good citizen.

That boys will be boys was once taken to mean that if the youth of the race run wild or are destructive, that is but what we must expect from those who, according to Aristotle, are the hardest of all wild beasts to tame. The modern lad has every encouragement to learn that politeness, truthfulness, fidelity to duty and other qualities of the sort are perfectly compatible with the joy of living and the natural freedom of childhood. Being a boy need not mean boorish unmannerliness, and consideration for the rights of others is entirely compatible with the juvenile notion of a good time.

The man who most vividly remembers his boyhood is he who keeps youngest, and the best way to recapture youth is to be friends with the youthful. If, as Wordsworth tells us, the boy is father to the man, let the man reciprocate and sympathize, and let the son or nephew know that he understands the perplexing trail; that he went over the same ground and through the same dark forests, years ago. Boy Week is a good time not merely for the boy to celebrate, but for man to reaffirm his faith in what he beheld in the sunrise of his own life. Let him humbly submit himself to school in the republic of boyhood and become again as a child, recapturing his faith in the ideals that were his when years were few, but dreams were many and ambition knew no bounds.

If truth were told, "the ten books I have enjoyed most" would in most cases include a check book.

BILLY THE BUTCH

(By The Mysterious Cowboy)

—Metaphorically speaking, our little is dealing with Knott's Meat Market and its capable proprietor, Mr. Billy Knott. Billy needs no introduction to the citizens of Anaheim—for fifteen years he has been connected with the butcher business in this city, starting as a delivery boy and working his way upward until today we find him the sole owner of one of the cleanest and most efficient meat markets under the sun. His splendid establishment was opened Jan. 28th, 1922. Since that time his trade has increased to the most gratifying limits and it continues to increase, because he is giving the people of Anaheim a service in meats that is distinctly sanitary and wholesome.

—Billy Knott knows how a butcher's business should be conducted. Go into his market and study the scheme of things—the clever, commendable scheme of things—the way Billy would have it always and the way every sane person would wish for it. Cement floors, and spotless; numerous large electric fans; high ceilings and lily white walls brand new equipment throughout; chopping blocks so fresh and clean; clerks in neat white working clothes; not an insect or a fly to be seen in the place—his many electric fans look out for that; fresh; wholesome meats of great variety, and best of all everything in the meat line is absolutely under cover, under the neatest and cleanest of cases with their refrigerating systems.

—It is a positive joy to visit a place like this and to know and to see that this conscientious butcher is guarding the interests of his customers to such an admirable and honest extent. The place it literally permeated with wholesomeness, all goods fresh and healthy, not an unpleasant ordor or anything to mar our genuine praise of the place. On the walls behind his counters are two artistic garden wall boxes, heaping full of artificial flowers, a most charming effect and the very keynote of the sanitation and wholesomeness of this fine establishment.

—It would do one good to watch the constant attention paid cleanliness. Innumerable times a day, clerks can be seen dusting the show cases and washing them down, too. Nothing is overlooked when it comes to giving a pure, clean service. They have their own refrigerating plant and this means that only fresh meats are served at this meat market.

GIBON'S MANAGER OFFERS $20,000 BET

By David J. Walsh
I. N. S. Sports Editor

SHELBY, Mont., June 19.—Exchanging amenities for the first time in five years, Jack Kearns and Eddie Kane, arch-enemies and respective managers of Jack Dempsey and Tom Gibbons, today engaged in an impromptu duel of words which culminated in an offer by Kane to chance $20,000 on his man's chance.

Kearns, however, wasn't listening. He never bets on fights, he said.

Kane's faith in his man and the apparent sincerety of his offer was the sensation of Shelby today.

"They seem to think Tom is a push-over for Dempsey," said Kane to the writer. "Where that idea originated I can't imagine. Gibbons is faster than Dempsey, is in much better condition and has had the advantage of working with better sparring partners. Dempsey can hit harder, I admit, but my man will surprise everyone with his hitting. This is the year for champions to be knocked off and the biggest of the lot is due for a fall on July 4."

"The clash came during a conference over motion pictures o fthe fight when Kearns made a chance remark that the champion probably would be a four to one favorite.

Sentiment is crystallizing in favor of Gibbons, largely because Dempsey does not appear to be taking the fight seriously and has failed to reach anything resembling the form he displayed in slapping Willard and Carpentier to sleep.

Offers to bet, however, are scarce as pink overcoats.

Dan Tracey ,the new promoter, is giving some indications of his business acumen by planning a series of bouts in the arena on July 3. A match between Jimmy Delaney and Jack Burke, light heavyweights, sparring partners of Gibbons and Dempsey, respectively, is on of those in prospect. Tracey has accepted the terms of Jimmy Daugherty of Philadephia to referee the big bout.

SHELBY, Mont., June 19—(INS)—Altho Tom Gibbons is in good shape, his training program calls for eight fast rounds of boxing every day from now on until he knocks off work the day before the big fight, Manager Eddie Kane said today there will be no more days of rest for the challenger, that he needs plenty of boxing and that he is going to get it.

Sargum Sproutings

By Sargum Sprout

The past two weeks have proven the two leaders of the two major league teams to have opposition in the pennant chase. The two New York teams appeared to have a run away in their respective leagues ten days ago, but both have been skidding since that time.

Pittsburg is the runnerup in the Nationals with Cincinnati and St. Louis climbing rapidly. The Giants still have a gobd lead but it is not so great that it can be easily cut down and overcome.

Conny Mack's kids are hotfooting the Yanks. Conny's kids are no longer the laughing stock of the league but are real honest-to-goodness ball players who will fight the Yanks to the last ditch. They are kids and have no idea when they are defeated.

All the cities in both big leagues are pulling against the leaders. Both New York teams have been buying all the stars in sight and the pennants they have won have been purchased rather than won. It would be a great thing for the game if one or both of the New York teams should loose out this year. Each city can not hog all the glory year after year without hurting the game. If Conny Mack's kids could turn the trick in the American league, old Philadelphia would go crazy and attendance would pick up all over the loop.

The fans are getting the idea that it is no use, that it is a foregone conclusion that N.Y. will win, so many are staying away from the game.

The roar in our own Coast League is going merrily on. Pres. McCarthy and Wm. Wrigley shook hands and pledged friendship but there are others. Looks as if President McCarthy has the goods on the Seattle purchase and holds the whip hand.

Firpo, the American heavyweight hope, bowled over another easy mark, Jim Hibbard, in Mexico City. Louis Angel is trying to learn the game. He is taking on any and all comers, but if he keeps up his present clip he will soon run out of material.

WILDE DECISIVELY BEATEN BY VILLA

NEW YORK, June 19—(INS)—"It was the first time any man of my own class ever knocked me out," Jimmy Wilde said today with a rueful smile. "Maybe that means I'm getting old. I don't know. He beat me fairly. I could not hurt hi mand every time he hit me I felt it. Villa is a great little fighter and will make a worthy champion."

Mrs. Wilde, who watched her husband's game battle for six rounds, but who left just before the knockout, was philosophical.

"He had to lose some time," she said.

Wilde was knocked out in the seventh round. As a contest it was one-sided. At no time did Wilde have a chance. The vaunted cleverness, the mighty hitting ability upon which the reputation of Wilde had been based, was missing. All the veteran had was superlative gameness which made him carry on despite seven rounds of the most merciless trouncing ever given a champion.

His downfall was tragic, altho heroic. Altho he had absolutely no chance of winning after the second round, his seconds refused to throw in the towel.

The end came with a startling suddenness. Wilde had been beaten to a pulp when the seventh round started. A deep cut in his right cheek from a left hander by Villa smeared his face with blood. Both his eyes were closed and he was paving away by instinct attempting to find his opponent when he suddenly pitched forward on his face unconscious.

His seconds carried him to his corner where they worked desperately to revive him. Villa, carried away by his wonderful victory, rushed over to the Welshman's corner and kissed him.

MANILA, June 19.—The celebration today of Pancho Villa's victory over Jimmy Wilde in New York overshadowed the observance of the birthday of Jose Rizal, Filipino national hero.

"The dead hero is all but forgotten in favor of the new and living hero," the Manila Times observed.

Thousands of Filipinos headed by native boxers in ring costume and hands were parading the principal thorofares, cheering Pancho with other thousands lining the streets and addin gto the plaudits.
