

TOWN REVIEW

BY OLD TIMER

IF YOUR wife or divorcee petition smells fishy when you get it from City, Illus Weid. It will explain the why and wherefore.

If there's anything the city attorney like it's fresh fish so a client made a big hit with him when he presented Hans with a liberal menu just out of the drink. Hans first didn't know what to do with them until time to go home. Then his eyes opened on the safe. It's about the size of a refrigerator and looked cool. He decided to put them in there.

That was four days ago.

Today when he opened the safe—yay, yay and a couple of wags, Hans held his nose while he fished out the stinky fish, then slammed the door shut to keep the odor from circulating down into Center-st while he hunted a garbage can.

"And just think," wails Hans, "I could have eaten them as well as not."

"Never mind, Hans, when the old money starts rolling in here it's for brother Peter. You'll be opening your safe often than once every four days."

SO, CAL. will have two students in classic Harvard this year—one from Anaheim. He is Clinton Wilmer who left San Pedro last night on an oil-tanker with a Pomona college class from Pasadena. They will get $50 each and Jones for their work in the oil. (room on the trip thru the canal to New York.

The experience will be useful both as students of mechanical engineering. They plan to top off their studies at Pomona where they graduated in June with a course at Harvard.

HASNT anybody found a big bunch of keys? Got about everything including the key for the office. I'd hate to let it up now with gas at 15 cents. Certainly would appreciate it if the finder would bring or send them in. Promise never to raise you in the Town in Review if you do.

TOMORROW you'd better watch a year, step, that is, don't step too close on the throttle since all the new auto traffic laws are effective Saturday. Might be a good idea to sit down and give them the once over.

HONEST confession is good for the soul! Last May a newcomer from the east was shopping at Palco's store. Mr. Falkenstein was giving her his personal attention. "I saw she was recently from the west," as we commented on the weather, "she just doesn't get here in the summer," she asked.

"It will be no warmer than it is today," Mr. Falkenstein replied calmly.

"Oh, Mr. Falkenstein, I'm afraid you're another one of those California story-tellers," she exclaimed.

The other day she made a special trip into the store on purpose to converse with Mr. Falkenstein that was right.

The weather has been just wonderful here this summer. Anaheim people don't have any idea how fine it is here.

Ten sir, Anaheim weather is fine, winter or summer.

And, by the way, did you know that this is the second year in the last six years in which the hottest day of the whole year came in January? That's something to write back home about.

ANYWAY to get to So. Cal. is a good way but the fashion this year seems to be to leave wheels. Nearly every day you see one of these motorcyclists passing thru the streets.

I trooked into one the other day and it looked just like home with stove, ice box, wash stand, full mattress bed and solid collar on the bureau.

ERNEST Glick of the Anaheim Electric Co. tells me that he has having quite a run on electric fans. One family man after another has come in and told one away. He presumed it was on the "Wife Saving Station" sign in a window display electrical appliances.

May be so, Ernest, may be so. But you must also remember that those electric fans, anchored down with cord to the light socket, set it so handy to tease around promiscuous like as were the old or common garden variety of flat fans.

FULLERTON POSTAL PLUM ATTRACTS 3

W. N. Irwin, C. C. Clark and H. V. Williams, have thrown their hats into the ring for the appointment as Fullerton postmaster when the term expires next April. Mr. Irwin is a well-known Fullerton realtor, and has held many places of trust which qualify him for the work. At the present employed at the post office, and expects to make a good showing because of his experience and familiarity with the needs of the office. Mr. Williams is assistant cashier of the First National Bank and was formerly connected with what is now the Doty Drug Store.

J. A. Ryan, charged with evading railroad fare, was arraigned before Judge French this morning. He was sentenced 30 days in jail.

Constant, picked up on a felony charge, was turned over to the sheriff's office.

ABANDONS HOPE OF AVERTING STRIKE

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 31.—After five hours and 15 minutes of continuous conference, the meeting of anthracite operators and miners with Governor Pinchot, adjourned at 2:45 this afternoon to meet again tomorrow morning.

Meanwhile the strike is on.

(By George E. Durno)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 31.—All hope of preventing the 1923 anthracite coal strike was abandoned today.

Behind the closed doors of Governor Pinchot's office at the state house here, miner and operator delegations presented their answers to the peace plan submitted to them by the state's chief executive last Wednesday.

(By Jack Garberry)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 31.—The 155,000 workers in the anthracite coal districts of Scranton, Hazleton and Pottsville, were today preparing for another strike.

At the 435 pits, mines and collieries of the three districts, the workers were turning out what many of them expected would be the last hard coal mined for weeks—perhaps months.

Orders to the maintenance men—the pumpers, fan men, guards and mail tenders—instructing them to remain at their posts and keep the mines from flooding, were received today.

The mining towns are taking the pending strike report calmly. Authorities are not expecting trouble, although they have taken precautions.

Pennsylvania state police last night visited saloons in many of the mining towns and ordered the places closed suspected of selling liquor. This precautionary move was directed by Major Lynn O. Adams of the state police.

(By George E. Durno)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 31.—At midnight tonight a strike in the coal fields will be on.

Miners and operators meeting at noon today with Governor Pinchot will inform the Pennsylvania executive that as yet certain points of his proposal have not been accepted.

While this reply will mean a walk-out as scheduled, the way to future negotiations will not be closed. Enough of the Pinchot plan is acceptable to serve as a basis for further

FULLERTON PERMITS EQUAL LAST AUGUST

Fullerton building permits for August amounted to $14,000, it was announced today by E. S. Richmond, Fullerton building inspector.

He announced new permits issued as follows: J. L. Updike, residence, 135 E. Cornell, $1200; E. S. Gregory, three E-room, residence, 10th block on W. Wilshire-ave., $2500; E. S. Gregory, three E-room, residence, 10th block on E. Chapman-ave., $3500 each.

HI-Y SUMMER CAMP
Representatives of the local Y. M. C. A. leave tomorrow for Catalina to attend the HI-Y summer camp.

The delegates are: Dale Hensley, George Easton and Arthur Coons.

JOHNSON RETURNS
SACRAMENTO, Aug. 31.—U. S. Senator Hiram W. Johnson reiterated his stand against the world court during his stopover here today.

He will remain for some leading possibly Governor Pinchot, by President Coolidge—to assist the miners and operators' committees around the table again.

The mine workers quit although no formal suspension of strike notice had come through.

Streams of workmen poured from the pits as the whistles blew. Only a few men remained at work.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The impending hard coal strike will not have serious effect on American industry as a whole, secretary of Commerce Hoover declared this afternoon.

The most serious effect will be on the anthracite fields where 150,000 men will be thrown out of work he said.

CARR WILL CONDUCT DETECTIVE AGENCY

Today is the last day in office of O. K. Carr, special investigator for Dist. Atty. A. P. Nelson's office. The Broad bill, empowering the state to appoint certain specified traffic officers, left Carr out, and tomorrow he will open a detective agency with A. R. Cravath, former civil deputy of Former Sheriff C. E. Jackson, with offices in most of the principal points in the county.

County Auditor W. C. Jerome again refused to honor the warrant for Carr's salary. This time the warrant was issued by the superior court, later sustained by a supreme court decision, in continuing the office. The question previously was the constitutionality of the law.

It is understood that Fresno will fight the Broad law also as unconstitutional.

Carr's work for the county will have to be done by special aid in each individual case as it arises. His work partly duplicated that of the Sheriff's County Motorists' Officers, but Carr's superior was the District Attorney, who could dispatch him on any proper business he saw fit.

TRUCK OWNERS TO MEET THIS EVENING
The Truck Owners' Ass'n. of So. Cal. will hold their annual meeting tonight at the City Hall, Santa Ana, and elect executive committees and other officers.

The organization did effective work at the last session of the legislature in obtaining the passage of acts of benefit to truck owners.

The traffic school conducted at Anaheim is given the credit for helping members to keep out of legal trouble the past year. The association was in court only a few times. Plans call for several such schools in the county next year with District Attorney A. P. Nelson's aid as teachers.

2 DIE IN BLAST
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 31.—Two persons are dead, two dying and eight injured following an explosion early today that destroyed a nitro-naphtha line still in the chemical works of the Barrett Company, chemical engineers here.

Firemen with difficulty checked the flames which followed the blast.

Perhaps they are called grass widows because grass makes hay while the sun shines.

JULIAN OIL SUPT. HAS HEART ATTACK

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 31.—A two day search for W. J. Julian, oil superintendent of the C. C. Julian oil projects, ended today when he was found in a farm house near Santa Fe Springs.

Julian was stricken with a heart attack while enroute to Los Angeles and stopped at the farm house. His condition was such that he could not give his name.

Fears of foul play were expressed by his friends. Julian was a well-known diamond valuer at $20,000.

COLONEL LANGHORNE AIDE TO GENERAL WOOD
MANILA, Aug. 31.—Colonel Geo. T. Langhorne, U. S. A., a Consul of Lady Astor, has been detailed to the staff of Governor-General Wood, succeeding Brigadier-General Frank E. McCoy, who recently returned to the United States.

The job is practically equivalent to Assistant Governor-General. Colonel Langhorne is a veteran of the Philippine insurrection and originated the famous Manila Carnival about 15 years ago, which has since become an annual event.

FRANCE HAS FLEET OF COAL FOR WINTER
PARIS, Aug. 31.—Thanks to the Ruhr occupation, the French administration of the Saar Valley, France will not lack coal this winter.

The Saar will furnish approximately 2,000,000 tons more coal than the Ruhr mine would furnish a million tons.

Conservatism will pay from 75 to 100 francs $5 to $7 per ton for the fuel.

NO HOPE FOR WAGE INCREASES
SACRAMENTO, Aug. 31.—Clairing he has received a letter from Governor Richardson to keep the wages down to a minimum.

David J. Howe, secretary and executive officer of the State Civil Service, said scores of employees have been discharged by the State Motor Vehicle Department, Board of Civil Service and Highway Commission, will be discharged.

Reese also announced that the state election of a supervisor of the State Board of Harbor Commissioners have been rejected on the ground that the commission is not yet created positions exempt from the civil service and added employees to the payroll without authorization.

The reason flour and bread don't make the flour and bread.

STOCKS CLOSE STEADY
NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The stock market closed nearly steady today. Trading slackened in the final dealings. Steel Common finished fractionally higher at 92 1/2. Foreign players gained over three points to 77 1/4. Green Cananea made a gain of over 2 points. Northern Pacific rose 2 points to 89 1/2 and Great Northern preferred went to a new high on the move of 59 1/2, a gain of 2 1/2. Gulf States Steel and General Asphalt lost most of their early gains.

Pan-American Petroleum finished at 61 1/2, a gain of over one point over yesterday. Government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady. Stock sales today were $30,000 shares; bonds $5,450,000.

Menace to Still Hovers Over Europe

LONDON, Aug. 31.—Official confirmation that the Italians had occupied Gortia was received at Athens according to a dispatch tonight from the Greek capital.

Official advice of the occupation were received from Italy by the Greek government, the dispatch stated.

WAR BULLETINS
ROME, Aug. 31.—The semi-official newspaper Messaggero stated this afternoon that Premier Mussolini regarded the Greek reply to the Italian ultimatum as unsatisfactory.

The cabinet met at nine and discussed the Greek note. It was expected that the ministry and foreign office would issue statements later in the day.

An unconfirmed report was current that a squadron of Italian warships had sailed from Taranto last night. Greek journalists representing anti-Italian newspapers were ordered expelled.

VIENNA, Aug. 31.—Anti-Greek demonstrations were reported from Trieste today. The Greek flag was hauled down and burned. Greek insurgents were removed from schools.

PARIS, Aug. 31.—An unconfirmed report originated from Italian sources today that the Italian battle ship, the Giulio Cesare, had sailed from Taranto last night.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—A Greek community which intended to sail from Liverpool, Italy, for Greece today, was not permitted to leave the harbor, said a dispatch from Brin.

GENEVA, Aug. 31.—The council of the League of Nations, which was scheduled to meet here today, was expected to make representations to both Italy and Greece to preserve peace in the Mediterranean.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—Greece will demand satisfaction from Italy of the British position. The British will demand satisfaction from Italy of the British position.

Fresh detachments were landed at Marsabrega today without incident.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—British foreign office officials declared this afternoon that in event of war between Italy and Greece Great Britain would endeavor to restrict the movement of hostilities preventing either powers from being dragged in.

ROME, Aug. 31.—Premier Mussolini reported to the cabinet this afternoon that the Greek reply to the Italian ultimatum is not acceptable.

He said that "proper decisions" have been taken as a result.

KING VICTOR EMANUEL, who has been living at his summer palace on the coast, is returning to Rome.

HUGHES DEMANDS EXPLANATION OF BERGOLD'S NOTE

Secretary of State Hughes has asked officials of the Disabled American Veterans for an explanation of their recent announcement regarding the supposed receipt of a state department telegram regarding the case of Grover Cleveland Berggold and the release of Lieut. C. Hoover Griffin, American held in connection with the plot to kidnap the American slacker.

The statement placed the state department in the light of promising efforts to extradite Berggold and release Griffin immediately. Hughes says no such statement was issued.

Mrs. Elizabeth Brooks left yesterday over the Santa Fe for New York.

ALL DAY MEETING
Members of the Pacific club of the White Temple had an all day meeting yesterday at the home of Mrs. J. W. Elliott. There were about 25 members present. A feature of the covered dish luncheon was a demonstration of Hokusai art. The handicrafts were made from this kind of bread.

Postcards were made for the W. P. M. S. box which will soon be sent to Korea. After other routine affairs were discussed a social hour proved interesting.

The next meeting will be held Sept. 27 but the place hasn't been decided.

Prison at Corfu has been called on to surrender by the Italian forces of occupation according to an announcement here today.

"THE LORD IS MY SHEPHERD"
Walter B. Stewart of Los Angeles will deliver a comforting message to the Lord's people on the above topic. Service at the Odd Fellows' Hall on Center St. Sept. 2nd, 7:30 p.m.

PASTEBOARD BOXES CONTAIN FLASKS

They are making nice pasteboard boxes now to contain the half pint flasks. Santa Ana Officers Parker, Yoder and Elliott at 2:15 o'clock this morning arrested Sam King and captured one of the boxes containing 16 flasks and eight vials.

Sam will be charged with possession and transportation, the case probably coming before City Recorder W. F. Heathman this afternoon.

King is an old worker of Lone Beach and alleges he had spent only one day in the county, out of his 14 years in the state.

He was driving thru the business section of the city at the time. He looks like a professional boot-licker, but the evidence to prove it hasn't been obtained.

BOATWRIGHT GUILTY
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 31.—Thurman Boatwright, slayer of Felix Beasley, was found guilty of murder in the first degree this afternoon by a jury which tried him in superior Judge Reeve's court.

The jury recommended life imprisonment. Boatwright, following the slaying, told deputy sheriffs who investigated that Beasley had been killed by a bandit who held up Beasley, Boatwright and Boatwright's wife in Beasley's automobile.

TILDEN WINS MATCH
FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 31.—William T. Tilden, the American tennis champion, gave the U. S. an even break in the opening play of the Davis cup matches with the Australian team today, when he beat John B. Hawkes in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2, 6-1.

FRATERNITY CONVENTION
SACRAMENTO, Aug. 31.—Hundreds of delegates were in attendance today at the opening of the 21st annual convention of the Pi Delta Kappa national fraternity.

Victor Kohler was not the driver of the car of Phil Harnedy which went over the curb and into the door at the Knott's Meat Market recently, according to his mother. The announcement that he was the driver of the car was made by a companion of Kohler's who now says he did it "just for fun."

Mrs. Mildred Powell of the city building inspection department, leaves Monday for a vacation at Julian, 60 miles back of San Diego.

TEST WELL DOWN 120 FEET TODAY

The installation of the first casing in the Standard's wildcat well on the Community lease, of the William Wagner, Jr., ranch was completed last night and drilling was resumed today. At 10:45 a. m. the big bit was cutting thru the gravel and sandstone at a depth of 120 feet.

The 22-inch casing will be put in for a depth not yet determined and after that 16-inch casing will be used.

Reports that the material encountered was like that in wells of the Kramer lease, Placentia, were confirmed today. "Exactly the same formation," was the word that went out.

Some trouble is being experienced with water, however, which was not true in the Placentia field. This can only hinder the three crews, however. More mud is required to provide resistance to the bit.

A big calf wheel was put in today. All of the machinery and casing is on hand now.

Ranchers interested are confident that oil will be struck at around 4,000 feet.

Taking the "obey" out of the love, honor and obey combination may be all right; but it might be well to retain the honor.

LIONS HEAR ABOUT ECLIPSE OF SUN

Prof. Edgar Lucien Larkin, director of Mt. Lowe Observatory, spoke before the Anaheim Lions today at their weekly luncheon in the Elks' clubhouse on the eclipse of the sun. The address was highly instructive and humorous. References to the influence upon civilization of the progress in knowledge of astronomy were a feature.

If he had told any body 200 years ago the name by which the world now is known by among astronomers he would have been burned at the stake, he declared. The name is "Next to Nothing."

Discussing the Einstein theory of relativity, Prof. Larkin declared that he didn't know any more about it after he began to study it than before. He doesn't accept it apparently. "I have a million opinions for a nickel apiece," he said, referring to his popular newspaper articles.

He was born in 1847, making him the oldest astronomer of note living. Clifford Gruen of the legal department of the Auto Club of So. Cal. spoke on the provisions of the Breed bill which take effect tomorrow.

S. E. Smith, president of the Standard Bank expects to leave Sunday for a trip to Liberty, Saskatchewan, Canada.

DAILY GREETINGS TO OUR READERS

—It is a great thing for any person to be able to bring sharply before his own mind just what he is actually doing to do for the Master he serves. It is far easier to be stirred with good purposes, and to promise in a general way a life-time of service, than it is to determine to do one particular thing for Christ—Anonymous.

New President Makes Policies Known

President Coolidge has spoken more in detail of his policies as chief Executive of the Nation. He will pursue, in the main, the policies of his lamented predecessor, Mr. Harding. As to the political and economic crisis in Europe, this country stands ready to co-operate to any practicable extent which stops short of involving the United States in the political quarrels of European nations. The government at Washington, however, has no concrete suggestion or proposal to make at this time against the crisis which is halting the economic rehabilitation of Europe.

On domestic matters, President Coolidge takes an amelioratory stand as affecting relief for farmers, settlement of mining differences without a strike, and restriction of immigration to the better classes and elements. In the development of these questions and situations, President Coolidge is expected to follow original methods. New circumstances and unforeseen phases may call for assuming of the initiative by President Coolidge. He will not hesitate. Proof is given that he will assume attitude of clarity and firmness on any and every question which may come to issue during his term in the Presidency.

It will be a welcome consummation, when the United States Government formally recognizes the government of Mexico. The two republics should be the best of friends and neighbors.

Reduction in Acreage of Wheat Planned

The farmers of the American wheat belt are so discouraged with the situation and the outlook in wheat that a considerably reduced acreage will be sown the coming fall, according to present intentions of agriculturists. The reduction in acreage, as foreseen at present, will be more than 15 per cent.

The plight of the American farmer—particularly the grower of wheat—is sorry indeed. Price of this cereal is and has been so low as to cut out all profit to the farmer and entail actual loss to him. To go on growing wheat with prospects of continued losses, season after season, confronting him, is too much for the average farmer. Many are turning to other crops, and either abandoning wheat altogether or else reducing acreage.

Should there be pronounced reduction in wheat acreage, the yield next season would be correspondingly reduced. That might boost prices. But with decreased supplies of wheat and higher prices, what would be the lot of the consumer? Modern life is becoming so complex in its clashing economic interests that it is almost beyond human ken to find ways and means to balance things and establish an equilibrium of equities.

What wonderful strides in aeronautics during the last twenty years! What wonderful strides will be made during the next twenty years!

NEW YORK LETTER
By LUCY JEANNE PRICE

When Peter Bishop was brought before Magistrate McQuade for hitting a man in the jaw who was passing him on the street, the judge dismissed him, and gave him his sympathy. Besides, Mr. Bishop administered the punch on the jaw because the man was singing, "Yes, We Have No Bananas," and things had reached the point where he couldn't stand hearing one more rendition of the classic. "I cannot find it in my heart to blame you," said the judge.

Some one has said that since the publication of Harold Bell Wright's novels has been moved to New York from Chicago, New York has become a first class ghost town. It is really staggering to read the figures of what the sales of his novels have been. 1,284,414 copies has been the average purchase of each of the nine novels Wright has written. Think of it! Not content he issued yet another, "The Mine with the Iron Door," written in Arizona and published in New York, and you know read in the home town, wherever it is.

We had a play several seasons ago called "39 East." It was set in the typical high class boarding house in New York and was most accurate and revealing. I have lately heard of a famous institution of this kind which has all the earmarks of the type plus being exclusively southern. It is known as the "Little Dixie." A Carolina drawl or Tennessee accent is necessary to gain the rank of paying guest in this haven for the southerners. It is located up on Central Park West, an exclusive place. Of the sixty present guests, but three are not from the south. It is known all over the country, especially in the south, and there is many a shy young lady from down there allowed to come to New York only because her people have confidence in this particular house. Everything is done in the manner of the household, with the rare type of colored mammy making things comfortable. True to form, romance thrives in the little colony.

Near the tip of Manhattan is probably the shortest street in the world. It is known as Edgars, and runs from Trinity Place to Greenwich street. Just one block south of Rector. The property is on north side and is only 57 feet and on the south side is 62 feet. There are no shops on Edgars street. There is not even an entrance to the two buildings that flank it. Hence there is not even an Edgars street address. A modest sign on the southwest corner announces, "This is the shortest street in New York."

Fancy a mile of swineherd babies. An old verse had as its locale a bough in a tree where the fresh breeze made a soothing lullaby, but a new couplet must be written for New York. Some one has put it, "When the boardwalk breaks the cradle will fall, down will come baby, cradle, boardwalk balloon men and all." It was suggested by the hundreds of babies, rocking to and fro in hammocks that are swung under the protecting shade of the new Riegelmann boardwalk at Coney Island. The food parents disport in the waves in clear vision of the youngsters and run back to the cool shelter every now and then for a reassuring word and cuddle.

ABE MARTIN

It was rumored this morning that Tell Binkley's business had come to a close, but when he was interviewed on the links today, he refused to deny or confirm the report. "We much prefer a girl baby," said Mrs. Art Smiley, today, "cause girls'll raise 'emself'."

PARAGRAPHS

By ROBERT QUILLEN

Class consciousness is the yearning to swat anyone who is envious or anybody who has your coat.

It happens, however, that the man who thinks he is smoking too much is working too much.

After a man retires there isn't much to occupy his mind except the decision whether to die or to die.

The judges get off rather light at that. There is no Pulitzer prize for the sexiest novel of the year.

Matrimony they say, prolongs life. For that matter, a craven spirit prolongs peace, but what a price to pay!

The law of supply and demand doesn't always obtain. Look how many reformers there are, and how little they reform.

Perhaps the great American taxpayer will be willing to save Europe when he has finished the paying off the debt Europe won't pay.

No wonder the world feels a new interest in religion. Every man feels pious while nursing his head next morning.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

A MEMORY

The corner fakir used to stand And hold a bottle in his hand; He used to entertain the crowd By telling them in accents loud, This medicine would cure all ills, And took the place of salve and pills. It cured the goat and housemaid's knee, The jaundice, spinal misery, Appendicitis, rheumatism, And almost any ail that is, Including shingles, sprain, p.p., Ringbone, influenza, grip, Tonsillitis, falling hair, Corns and bunions and nightmare, And he threw in with his hope One nice cake of shaving soap.

A couple of months ago a man for whom I work and who is famous for other reasons quite apart from that calls me up on the telephone at my ancestral chateau and he says:

"Is that you?"

"I think it is a fair question, free from any guile, and so I reply: 'Yes, this is I, also me.' Not knowing which is correct, I generally use both."

"Well," he says, "I have some good news for you."

"I am surprised," I reply. "It is about the first time in thirty-five or forty years that you have had any good news for me. The best I ever got out of you in the past is a lot of very bad news."

"Well," he says, "it is different this time. It seems like a lot of people have been writing in here and asking us to publish one of your back page stories every day. Personally, I think they are crazy. I would not read one of your stories on a bet. But we have to cater to the public taste."

"The public hasn't got any taste," says I.

"I think the same," says he. "If they demand your stuff, but here is the idea. There are a certain amount of people among our readers who like to take their dope from you, and if you are not on the back page they simply say, 'What ho! There is no news in the sheet tonight.' So, you see how it is. Please get to work and TRY to earn your salary."

"I am too busy to do any writing now," I remarked.

"I don't have to do any writing," says he. "All you have got to do is to pound out a lot of stuff. Other folks will do the writing. If you ever start to write you lose your job."

And such is fame.

An incident happened last spring, when I was in a dining car, sitting opposite a woman who apparently was interested in the work of Irvin Cobb. We got to talking a bit and she said:

"I am always glad to get hold of a story by Irvin Cobb. I think he is great."

"I am glad of that," I said. "I am Irvin Cobb."

"Oh no," she said. "Irvin Cobb is not as homely as all that."

TIMES CHANGE

"Have your liver examined by a doctor" is the very good advice given by a newspaper health shark. It wouldn't do much good to go to a lawyer would it?

One sweet young thing had returned from the seashore in deep disgust, her entire vacation spoiled. She was in danger from the waves only once and then, as luck would have it, she was rescued by an old, homely, married man.

Report says that on account of the preponderance of brunettes immigration, we will soon be short of blondes in this country. But not so long as the good old corner drug store stays on the job.

A life insurance agent fell down a flight of stairs the other day and was not injured in the least. Being an insurance agent he was probably used to coming down that way.

SOCIETY

INVITE MEMBERS TO COTTAGE AT BALBOA ISLAND

Mr. W. J. Elliott has invited the members and friends of the White Temple to spend the day, Friday, Sept. 7th, with them at their beach cottage on Balboa Island. Two years ago a similar outing was enjoyed by several hundred persons but more elaborate preparations are being made this year.

Mr. W. J. Elliott has consented to act on the committee for transportation and will arrange carriage for all those who have no way of their own of going.

The Epworth League will have charge of games and sports. The Ladies' Aid will serve the picnic meals, but each one coming is asked to bring lunch, plate, cup, knife, fork and spoon. The men's club will provide the writers, the Pledge club the lemonade and Mrs. Gelsinger will serve coffee.

Tents will be pitched for the comfort of the guests and for the use of bathers. A portion of the island will be covered with canvas to keep the tables cool and comfortable.

In the evening huge fires will be built on the shore for the marshallers and wain-lights.

Guests are urged to come early in the day and to stay over for the evening but if they cannot come early they are at least to come for the evening.

Dr. Gelsinger has the promise of the Newport Harbor C. C. to let the yacht boats ride about the harbor and out to the jetty. Everything will be done to make this day as enjoyable one for all who can go and the invitation is meant to include not only members but friends of the church and school.

Tells About Mexico
Miss Jessie Boyd, who recently returned from a trip to Mexico City, gave an impromptu address at the Business and Professional Women's club yesterday. Miss Boyd was asked as a guest but was called upon to give a brief talk. It was indeed instructive as Miss Boyd told of her trips during the summer. The experience will be invaluable to her as she will teach history in the Paso Robles high school this term.

Miss Boyd is the daughter of Mrs. Eva Boyd, So. Olvest.

Fine Time at Cards
The committee in charge of the Royal Neighbors of America card party at the I. O. O. F. hall yesterday afternoon claimed it a decided success from every standpoint. Every one had a lovely time and the afternoon hours passed all too quickly.

Prizes were given for high and low scores. Mrs. Emma Bremer made high, Mrs. Miller, second and Mrs. Della Wheeler, consolation.

ANOTHER PRETTY SOCIAL COURTESY FOR BRIDE-TO-BE

A NOVEMBER pretty social courtesy was extended Miss Evelyn Degryse, popular bride-elect, last evening when she was honored at a pretty party given by Mrs. J. C. Ruick at 210 N. Emily-st.

When the honoree arrived at the Ruick home, Mrs. Ruick met her at the open door. The room was dark when she stepped in but like a flash the room was brightly lit and Miss Degryse started into the countenances of more than a dozen friends. After the excitement was over, Mrs. Ruick gave guests paper and pencil to fill in blanks in sentences with some part of an automobile. When the proper answers were supplied the sentences gave the story of "An Automobile Romance".

Prizes for this were given to Miss Ida Strahman, first; and Miss Ida Miller, consolation.

In a tree guessing game, Miss Miss Wilhelm-Zitzmann got first and Miss Roberta Wagner consolation.

After the games, the honoree was told to look throughout the rooms for packages that were hidden. As each one was found, she was taken to the center of the room and unite it, then look for another. There were many attractive gifts.

Mrs. Ruick had the rooms beautifully decorated with palm-leaf crepe paper and pink flowers. From the chandeliers to the corners of the room streamers were extended. In the arch way between the two rooms a dainty band of cariations and baby's breath was placed and other floral decorations included bouquets of gladioli.

At 10 o'clock delicate refreshments were served. The napkins were pink and white affairs and dainty napkins with a daisy design.

Invitations were extended to Mrs. J. C. Ruick, Mrs. C. B. Grodson, Mrs. Mildred Milner, Ruth Pannier, Wilhelmine Zitzmann, Thelma Chamberlain, Marjorie Westphal, Vera O'Brien, Helen Mann, Helen in Illinois and South Dakota and will return in October. Albert Hanson of Puente will be at the Hanson home while they are away.

Mrs. E. F. Mann was a guest at the Advance Night of the Chicago Chapter, O. E. S. at Anaheim on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Mann as one of the guests of Mrs. Hanson was presented with a beautiful hand-painted plate. After the meeting delicate refreshments were served in the banquet room which had been beautifully decorated.

Mrs. and Mrs. Charles Hammonson entertained a number of guests on Sunday. Included were Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Richards and Ben Smith of Long Beach and Mrs. Charles Baro of Vernon, Calif. Mrs. Baro was an old schoolmate of Mrs. Hammonson.

Mrs. and Mrs. Bert Steinhilber and daughter Margaret of Anaheim were guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Robinson on Wednesday evening. Mr. Steinhilber was a former resident of the Park and is now one of the faculty at the Anaheim high school.

Mrs. W. B. Shaw and sons Bailey and Robert, Mrs. L. J. Robinson and son Lawrence, Jr., Mrs. O. R. Daro and nephew Donald Brown spent Thursday at Long Beach.

Mrs. Ernest Woodfin was the guest of Mrs. Charles Hammonson on Wednesday.

Mrs. Nelson, before her marriage on August 18th was Miss Ellen Gillis of Glenboro, Manitoba, Canada. The young couple will reside in their bungalow on Tenth-st.

Mrs. and Mrs. Charles Hammonson spent Tuesday at Long Beach. Mrs. Hammonson was a guest of Mrs. and Mrs. Joe Childers and son Eugene motored to Long Beach on Sunday.

FULLERTON BRIEFS
Miss Rose Flatsbecker of Decatur, Ill., and Mrs. S. T. Keller of Los Angeles were recent guests at the home of Mrs. Agnes McAulay of Fullerton, where they participated in a birthday party in honor of little Agnes McAulay.

200 AT PROGRAM GIVEN BY LADIES OF MOOSEHEART

TWO hundred enjoyed the entertainment furnished last evening by the ladies of the Mooseheart Legion. An interesting program was given. The Brownfield sisters gave the opening number with saxophone solos. At 5 o'clock the Moose ceremony was given. Following this "The Dance of the Brownies" was given by the petite dancers, Anita Deuch, Frances Merrill gave a recitation and Lucille Goodrich gave several characteristic dances. The costume, Mrs. Florence Smith delighted the guests with solos. Another solo was given by Mr. Ross. Mrs. Jay Idrup accompanied the soloists and the dancing numbers. A dance by Mr. Wheeler concluded the program.

Cards were enjoyed after the program and the games were enjoyed until a late hour.

Mrs. Rose Van Horn and Mr. Anderson made high scores; Mrs. Mickey and Mr. Fisher, second; Miss Pearson, a gentleman, consolation.

Because the man refused to give his name, the committee wish to know that was a rather odd feat. The affair, the first given, was entirely successful and over $100 was netted. Mrs. Adolph Zimmerman, senior regent, wishes to thank the committees for their co-operation to make the affair such a complete success.

Truck Owners Picnic
The Truck Owners Ass'n of So. Calif. will have a barbecue and entertainment at Orange-Co. Park Labor Day. The popular "Daisy" famous throughout the south, will be featured. This will not be doubted when it is announced the menu will include baked ham, candied sweet potatoes, corn on the cob, chili beans, watermelon, wafers and free lemonade during the day.

A fine program has been arranged and there will not be a dull minute during the day. A program of athletics is billed and the Speed and Service employees of Brea are training for the matches. They won the events at the picnic held in May. Truck owners are requested to bring their employees and their families to the park.

Tickets may be secured at the following places: Santa Ana Transfer Co., Santa Ana; Ray Sherwood, Orange; O. J. Linde, Anaheim; O. V. Barkman and J. L. Updike, Fullerton; Lacy & Son, Huntington Beach; Speed & Service and Sullivan Bros., Brea, and from the secretary.

Women seldom do the courting. But when we consider what some of them marry, it occurs to us that it might be advisable.

Picnic at Beach
An unusually good time was enjoyed last evening by a congenial group of girls who went to Long Beach for a swim and other diversions. The "Sharks" stayed in the plunge until 7:30 and after a brief picking up of their costumes, they went to the Poken Cafe where all were served with Chinese food. Many fortunes were told over the tea grounds and the girls had a jolly time. A raid was made later on the pike and the girls took in the various concessions. Those who cared to dance, went to the Rose Garden where the hours were pleasantly whittled away. Late in the evening they left for their homes, all declaring that this was the happiest successful swim event of the season.

Calley Sparks is very proud of her "sharks" and she declares that those who do not know how to swim when the club started are "regular sharks" now.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Nogaro accompanied the girls to the beach. Others in the crowd were the Misses Calley Sparks, Irene Jacques, Hattie Erickson, Lucille Bustin, Helen Weber, Ann Clark, Dorcas Jacques, Margaret Blake, Blanch Mickle, Lucille Nervo, Elsie Jeustrun, Mae Polier, Mrs. Emily Dalton, Mrs. Agnes Savers, Mrs. Maybelle Hathaway, Dr. Benica Haljache.

LOCALS
Dr. G. E. Campbell of Pasadena, and Miss Gladys Vain, who is with the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., visited the Johnston-Wickett Clinic today.

Mrs. and Mrs. W. R. Carver of North and West-sts. and Louis Blake and wife of North and Palm-sts. left this morning over the Santa Fe to attend the G. A. R. encampment at Milwaukee, and visit their old home at Redduburg.

New patients at the local sanitarium include: Mrs. J. W. Murray, Yuba Linda; Mrs. C. D. McBride, Brea; Miss Edna Hochmuller Anaheim; Lawrence Merriam, Bellflower, and Mrs. F. S. Stewart, Anaheim.

Mrs. T. J. Lenine of Huntington Beach passed the day yesterday in Anaheim.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Lamb and family have been entertaining the Misses Gwenodoly and Gertrude Rich of Grand Junction, Colo. for the past week. The girls will attend U. C. southern branch this coming term.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Nelson attended a banquet at Balboa on Wednesday evening.

Attend Housewarming NOTED LECTURER AND JOURNALIST AT BOOKLOVERS

THE opening meeting of the season of the Booklovers club was held at the home of Mrs. J. H. Swan on Thursday. There was a full attendance, including: Mrs. G. M. Simpson, Mrs. H. H. Benjamin, Mrs. L. Adams, Mrs. Honor Easton, Mrs. H. Sears, H. D. Newkirk, Mrs. H. M. Adams, Mrs. H. A. Johnston, Mrs. L. C. Denning, Mrs. J. P. Bratard, Mrs. J. H. Swan, Mrs. Harry Welch, Mrs. Malcolm Fraser, Miss Helen Easton.

Mrs. Isabel Fraser Chamberlain was the guest of the club and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Randall, of New York and Mrs. Harry Welch, of Newport, were also guests.

Luncheon was served in the beautiful parlors of the Swan. Miss Helen Easton assisted Mrs. Swan in serving.

Mrs. Isabel Fraser Chamberlain, of New York, editor of Malcolm Fraser is a lecturer and journalist of note. After the luncheon the club assembled in the drawing room where Mrs. Chamberlain told of the famous people, dear to booklovers, that she had met on her travels. The thread that ran through her talk was the Universal Brotherhood of Man represented alike in booklovers, book writers and book readers. The lecture ranged from the early literary days of San Francisco to the sagas of the far East. She was asked to give another lecture in the near future.

Mr. A. W. Randall who for five years had charge of the properties of St. Mark's in the Bowery, New York, and who is here sojourning for his health, gave an interesting talk on the philosophies of the different countries of the world, a subject of which he has made a deep study.

Will Return Here
Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Krieger and two children, who have been the guests of the Frank Koss and Ed Thompson families, have departed for their home in Shelby, Neb. Mr. Krieger is one of the most popular druggists in Nebraska.

The center was greatly impressed with their first visit to California and Mr. Krieger stated that he would dispose of his holdings at Shelby and return to sunny So. Cal. to make his home.

Sacketts Return
Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sackett and daughter Nellie have returned from a delightful three-month trip to their former home in Parks City, Mont. They visited Yellowstone National Park and other points of interest. From Montana they went to Spokane and other Washington cities.

During their thousands of miles travel, they saw some very attractive sights but none as pleasing as Anaheim and Orange.

EUREKA, Aug. 31.—Hundreds of delegates were leaving Eureka today following adjournment late yesterday of the state convention of the American Legion which has been in session here during the past three days. As the result of the annual election of officers held last evening, son of Governor Brown, was the motion for adjournment. James Collins of Long Beach was named state commander for the following year, succeeding Steve Mullins of Colma.

Philagino, however, retaining an official position with the state body as it was elected to serve as national executive committee member for the California region during the next twelve months.

Paul Katz, famous war hero, and California's contribution to the living hall of fame, was signaled homebound by his comrades during the convention.

JUDGE IN PAJAMAS
ASSESSES $600 FINE

NEWHAUL, Aug. 31.—Attorney J. Pajamas and over ten half of overalls to keep his legs warm, Judge W. A. Miller shortly before daybreak today called his court to order to hear liquor law violation charges.

"James Glad was fined $600, and the court held S. G. Gish, James and John Sherman and Robert Webster for trial."

OPEN WALL ON WATERED MILK
SACRAMENTO, Aug. 31.—Dr. J. P. Iversen, chief of the division of agriculture and industry of the State Department of Agriculture, announced today that he has declared war on the vandals of "watered milk" in the Yosemite Valley. Iversen said that visitors to Yosemite have been charged fancy prices for milk which has been greatly diluted. One conviction has already been obtained. Iversen, however, asserted that the "watered milk" dealer deserves a fine of $250.

FRESH VOLUMES AT FULLERTON LIBRARY

The following new books will be ready for circulation at Fullerton library Saturday evening:

NON-FICTION
Perhaps the most popular book on the non-fiction list for this week will be "My Experiences at Scotland Yard" by Basil Thomson. The author was Scotland Yard's Chief Clerk from 1913 to 1921. "His story of his experiences is filled with dramatic incidents, juicy and clear, and, small size and large deceptions, which make the story more exciting, because more convincing and more trustworthy, than the best detective tale."

Other titles of a popular character are "Leslie Brant's Mirror of Moscow" which is a collection of illuminating biographical sketches of men and women prominent in Russian political life today; "Southey's Life of Nelson" a republication of this classic life of England's greatest naval hero; and "Hilary Belton's 'On' a book of provocative and humorous papers by a master of English prose.

The remaining titles will be very useful additions if not so popular as the above. They are: "Alexander, North American Mythology, Fish, American Diplomacy," "Fishes, Sticks, Bones," "Portraits and words of all the old favorites as well as many new ones known. "Books of a History of Roman Literature, Post, Mythology of the Greeks and Romans," "Jailbirds, Principles on Prison Service," "Johnston, Old Times, Games and school books, "Mines, Three Plays, "Cabinets, "The River Road," "The Truth about Bluffs, and "The Great Broxopp, Moscow, Representative on plays by continental authors. "Mozart's Fossils, Fishes, and quotations. "Knickerbocker, Street metal work, Yates, Model, making, including workshop practice, design and construction of models, "Wier, Light plays pieces the whole world plays.

FICTION
"Birds, The 12th edition, New, Curwood, The Alaskan, Gerold, Conquistador; a drama of life in Mexico. Giraudoux, Scapane and the Pacific. Green, The tip on the state, Hendry, North, Mackall, Bill the bachelor, Maxwell, Spinner of this parish, Pater, Mary, the Episcopalian, Porter, The white flag, Quick, The hawkers, "Terhune, Mike, Caesar's clan, a Florida mystery story.

FINISH PLANS FOR S. S. CLASS BLDG.

Other building permits issued by E. S. Richman, Fullerton inspector, include one to H. T. Young for a $4000 residence at 111 W. Royley.

SIX BOATS LOST
COPENHAGEN, Aug. 31.—Six fishing boats were reported lost today in a terrific gale which swept the Danish coast for 24 hours. Heavy damage was done to livestock and crops on the Littoral.

SHERIFF'S SLAYER FACES FIRING SQUAD

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 31.—George Gardner, convicted of the murder of Deputy Sheriff Gordon Stuart, was shot at 6:25 a. m.

Three and a half minutes later he was pronounced dead. Gardner was led from the death cell at 6:24, stopping to speak to his brother-in-law, T. J. John, who was with him to have charge of his body. He then shook hands with Sheriff Harries and his last statement was that he had no regrets. Deputy Sheriff Gordon Stuart was accidental and committed when he was half-sighted in England. He also wished to extend his sympathy to Mrs. Stuart.

At this point the death cap was placed over his head and the march to the death chair started. Gardner, contrary to all expectations, made no demonstration of weakness.

He was placed in the chair where his hands and legs were tied and without further ado waited the sheriff's command of execution.

During the night, Gardner chatted freely with friends and other prisoners, stating that he had always led a clean life, abstaining from stimulants in the way of drinks or smoking.

AMERICAN RELIEF LEAVING RUSSIA

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The first move on the part of the United States in demonstrating its policy of "wider international co-operation" with other American nations as envisaged last night in Minneapolis by Secretary of State Hughes will be the resumption of diplomatic relations with Mexico.

Official confirmation was given today to dispatches of last week, announcing that nothing was stand in the way of the recognition of the Obregon government.

Officials declined this morning to state when recognition would actually take place, but it was reliably reported that the resumption of political relations would be announced simultaneously in Washington and Mexico City at noon today.

Mansel C. Telle, Mexican chargé d'affaires here, expressed a keen interest today in Secretary Hughes' interpretation of the Monroe doctrine and stated the complete text of the Minneapolis speech to be called to Mexico City for President Obregon.

The declaration of Secretary Hughes that the United States sought wider co-operation with the governments of South and Central America was followed here today by an announcement that simultaneous meetings with this end in view will be held in all American capitals on Columbus Day, Oct. 12.

The meeting will be held under the auspices of the Pan-American committee of which Secretary Charles Evans Hughes, wife of the secretary of state, is chairman.

HORSE RACING THRIVES IN BRITAIN

LONDON, Aug. 31.—Horse racing once known as the Sport of the Kings has become the sport of the multitude in Great Britain.

Yesterday at a hearing held in connection with a proposal to impose a tax on betting, John Law, controller of the British central telegraph office, revealed that 5,000,000 telegrams in connection with racing are sent in England in a year. Including press dispatches dealing with racing, 17 per cent of all the telegrams that are handled in England in a year are dispatched by persons who bet on horse races or are otherwise connected with the turf.

Of 26,000,000 telegrams which passed through my office last year and 2,500,000 were in connection with racing.

Racing telegrams represented about 7 per cent of the whole telegraphic traffic during the year and press telegrams dealing with racing represented about 10 per cent.

IN PEN FOR MURDER

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 31.—Twenty-five years in the state prison at Waupun today—one to serve a life sentence, the other a 25 year sentence—were meted out to the murderer of Robert Jaeger, 62.

Alvin L. Jensen was given a sentence of 25 years for the murder of the hermit.

Each year, upon the anniversary of the crime, the men will be placed in solitary confinement.
