ESTROVERS IT ROCKS

Naval Court of Inquiry at San Diego Today Adjourns Until Monday Morning

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 13.—A report that ten instead of seven destroyers went on the rocks Saturday night gained credence when undergrowth channels of information yielded reports to the effect that the Farragut and Somers are leaking from holes in their hulls.

The Marcus has been ordered to drydock tomorrow to repair a great rent in her false bottom. The war was learned at the destroyer repair base today.

How the Marcus received her wound has not been disclosed by the navy authorities officially, but private information is that the ship was following the seven wrecked sister ships.

Unfolding of the details of the disaster have been shrouded in mystery. The public has been permitted to learn only what was obvious from the sight of the wreckage.

Ships today tarry on the rocks of Point Honda, the navy officials withholding information that would make clear to the public the why and the where of the greatest naval disaster in the history of the American Navy.

Dispatches from Washington state that Secretary Denby has been practically without official advice and has been compelled to telegraph for details.

Officers of the line here have divulged bits of gossip to the effect that three destroyers, additional to the seven wrecked beyond salvage, are on the rocks before their widely reversed engines could halt their 20-ton progress in the dense fog. They were able, according to the seemingly well-founded rumors, to back off the rocks with the lift of friends' wave swells and make port under their own power, but in sadly crippled condition.

The naval board of inquiry to probe the disaster convened shortly before noon today at the naval air station on North Island. The board is headed by Rear Admiral William F. Pratt, assisted by Captain George C. Day and David S. Selig.

The first hours of the inquiry were given over to reviewing the hospital and casualty reports already made public. It was indicated that the proceedings will extend over several days and that sensational facts may be brought out, pointing to the responsibility of certain officers in charge of navigation of the wrecked squadron.

The board adjourned at noon until 1 p.m. Monday. Admiral Pratt denied newspaper men the privilege of being present and announced that all sessions would be closed.

Two statements were issued today, he said, during the hearings. Today's session was for the purpose of deciding on the method of procedure, Admiral Pratt announced, and that the four days' recess was necessary because of the delay in collecting statements from officers and enlisted personnel.

ORDER INVESTIGATION OF ELLIS ISLAND

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon was this morning ordered an investigation of the conditions at the Ellis Island immigration station.

The inquiry will be conducted by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Wadsworth, supervising the U. S. public health service, and assistant secretary of labor Bennett, who is directly charged with the direction of the American bureau.

Reorganization of the staff of the public health office on duty at New York is contemplated, according to treasury officials.

MITCHELL FIELD, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Lieutenant H. G. Brown, U. S. N., piloting a Curtiss navy biplane in preparation for the airplane race at St. Louis today established a new world's speed record of 245 miles an hour.

The previous speed record was held by Lieutenant L. H. Sanderson, of the U. S. Marine Corps with 238 miles an hour. The test was made over a kilometer course and was electrically clocked to the tenth of a second.

Lieut. Brown flew at the rate of 300 feet a second.

NEED INSANE ASYLUM IN COUNTY

The county soon will need an insane asylum of its own, if state institutions continue to be packed, Dr. Harry E. Zaiser, superintendent of the Orange County Hospital, said today.

Very recently seven hopelessly insane persons of the county have been turned back from Norway to the hospital. Other counties are having the same experience. Altho the September census of nurses filled up, Zaiser today issued a call for a new place in October, something unheard of.

The trouble with the insane, especially four of the new inmates, is that they are absolutely helpless and really require individual nurses. That makes the staff short-handed.

Six more nurses are wanted. Graduation from a high school no longer is a necessity.

At present the hospital has 108 patients, including approximately 40 old persons who are permanent wards of the county.

Zaiser announced that within six weeks work would be started on new cottages similar to the present ones to take the proposed place of a nurses' dormitory, a project abandoned, temporarily at least.

DRILL AGAIN TODAY THRU SAND

After several days' siege of the hardest kind of drilling, the crew on the Standard Oil Company's test well on the William Wagner, Jr., ranch of the Community lease, hit sand again today and in a short time had bored down 11 feet, compared with only nine feet most of yesterday.

That is, about 26 feet, has been bored in the last 24 hours, roughly speaking, and the depth now is 670 feet or better, with the possibility of nearly 800 by Friday morning.

Nine bits worn to an "edge" an inch or more thick, compared with a knife edge when they were first fastened on, testify to the recent difficulties.

That the present rock is sedimentary or of ocean type rather than rifted was the opinion given today by a man who should know. It is a conglomerate, with a thick sprinkling of pebbles, rather than ordinary sandstone, altho it would be hard if subject to erosion above the surface.

It is hoped to strike sea shells at 1000 to 1500 feet.

A big bit is being kept on hand ready to roam out the hole when it becomes too snug for the tools. That far it hasn't had to be used.

FIRST DIRECT WORD FROM QUAKE CITY

(The following dispatch from Duke N. Parry, I. N. S. staff correspondent in Japan, is the first direct word from the stricken city of Tokyo to reach the United States. Up to now all messages from Tokyo have been relayed via Shanghai and other far eastern ports.)

TOYO, Sept. 13.—Vice Minister Tanaka Gaimusho called on American Ambassador Cyrus Wood today to express his thanks to the United States for the leading part that nation has taken in rushing help to the stricken city.

The cremation of bodies continues (through Tokyo and Yokohama). Debris is being treated with rapidity as possible and the actual work of rehabilitation is expected to start within a week or ten days.

An official investigation is being made of Yokohama harbor to determine whether the upheaval of the port bottom will seriously interfere with the future activity and usefulness of the once great Japanese Seaport.

Tokyo presents a gruesome scene. The devastated city is a mass of ruins. The work of the anti-air corps is still in progress, and the ruins in plain view.

Slight earth tremors continue to be felt in the city. The fire is now a mass of refugees. However, no material damage has resulted from these shocks.

The youngest daughter of American Trade Commissioner E. G. Babington was killed in the earthquake at the Grand Hotel here at the time of the great quake and perished in the flames that subsequently manifested the building.

Mrs. Babington, who was undergoing a delicate treatment when the quake struck, had a miraculous escape when she was led by another daughter through the wreckage and falling debris to a place of safety in the open street.

American Commercial Attache Abbott's family escaped harm. First reports had it that it was Abbott's daughter who was burned to death in the ruins of the Grand Hotel, but it now is established beyond doubt that the unfortunate girl was the youngest daughter of Trade Commissioner Babington.

Food is plentiful throughout the stricken area and fire region. So far no serious outbreak of pestilence has taken place.

13 Ships Move With Earthquake Relief

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—With 13 ships now enroute or being loaded with relief supplies for the Japanese earthquake sufferers, national headquarters of the American Relief Committee announced this afternoon that subscriptions to its relief fund now total $6,129,507—more than $1,000,000 in excess of the original quota.

More than $3,500,000 has already been spent for food, medicine and other supplies.

JOPLIN SAYS HIS RIGHTS VIOLATED

To forbid a man to hunt on his own property violated the Fourteenth Amendment to the Federal constitution, which forbids the taking of private property without due process of law or without compensation, J. C. Joplin, County Treasurer, said today in answer to the misdemeanor charge filed this morning.

Further, more, the state does not have the right to shoot an animal on private property while prohibiting him to carry it off and eat it on his own place, whether that place is in a game refuge or not.

Joplin announced that he would fight the charge to the limit. He declared that he had had poultry, pigs, a calf, etc., killed by predatory animals, because he wasn't permitted to shoot on his own property for the purpose of protecting his animals from the law.

He owns 300 acres adjoining the O'Neill ranch, where he has for years had the privilege of shooting. Joplin said further that would-be poachers were back of the attempted prosecution.

The complaint is on two counts, one of which is shooting a game dove and the other taking a fire arm that is a shotgun, to a game refuge.

JOPLIN INVITES A TEST OF GAME LAWS

Whether the state game law should apply to private property or not is the question raised with the arrest of J. C. Joplin, county treasurer, accused of violating the law. Joplin was hunting on his ranch at the head of Bell canyon when Under-sheriff E. E. French took him on a charge of hunting on a game refuge of the state. At the opening of the dove season, Sept. 1, Joplin had told the authorities that he intended to hunt on his ranch, and did so, but the arrest didn't take place until today.

The State Fish and Game Commission, which is interested in a strict enforcement of the law, has asked the fight against Joplin, it is believed.

The refuge of which Joplin's ranch is alleged to be a part, includes part of the Trabuco division of the Cleveland national forest. The ranch lies on the edge of both the forest and the game refuge. Last fall Joplin refused to let his ranch be excluded from the game refuge, and in having two bills introduced to the legislature to have his ranch excluded from the game refuge. One of these bills was killed by the other the governor never signed.

RUGLAR COMMUNIST LEADERS ARRESTED

Supervisor Wm. Schumacher, in Anaheim this afternoon, announced plans for eight miles of new paving in this, the third, supervisory district.

These improvements will be distributed as follows: Garden Grove, about two miles. Streets in the townsite of Placentia, three miles.

The road from Northam station to Orangeflake will be widened to 40 ft. inside Buena Park to 30 feet. This is 1 1/2 miles.

This work will be done by improvement districts, the adjacent property owners paying one-fourth to one-third and the county the remainder. This is the paving program for the district in the new yearly budget.

$40,000 IS STOLEN FROM INDIANA BANK

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 13.—While most officials of the Indiana National Bank were out this afternoon $40,000 in United States certificates were stolen from the desk of D. V. Moore, vice-president.

The certificates had just been delivered to Moore and when he turned around to attend a business matter, the package was picked up by a man who disappeared in the crowd in the lobby.

No description of the thief could be given by Moore.

MILLER TO AWARD $3000 IN PRIZES

Following one of the most successful mass campaigns in Orange-County real estate history, Hugh Miller, real estate agent, has today announced that he has sold 700 homes in the new tract he is operating on W. Commonwealth, Fullerton.

Mr. Miller, who has a staff of many so excellent that judges could hardly choose between them, the company of which he is president, are Mr. Ralph W. Carhart and Fred Straus, all prominent finally decided on the name "Landsdowne, suitable for the name of the new tract. Mrs. C. W. Hansen, wife of a well known orange grower, was the winning title for which the $75 prize was awarded.

Mrs. Hansen's letter, which is self-explanatory, tells of the appreciation she has for the new homes of Hugh Miller Company.

Gentlemen:

Referring to your request for a name for the new tract, I have named it "Landsdowne," my baby, ber to submit "Landowse." This is the first time since the last election that the name "Landowse" has been used in the "down" in price.

Trusting that this name will meet with your approval.

Very sincerely yours,
Mrs. Chas. J. Hansen.

Last night Mr. M. M. Hansen related at the success of his campaign, announced that out of the list of names of those who subscribed money sufficiently good to demand consideration from the judges will receive a certificate of honor, and a check containing an order good for $250 when applied to the purchase price of the land.

These orders will be transferable and may be given to any friends of the cause, and will be good for property in "Landowse." Mr. Miller stated emphatically there are no other names on the list, and that they represented the only way in which he could fully express his appreciation of the support given throughout this district in his new project.

OUT GAVE IN IOWA

DES MOINES, Iowa, Sept. 12

Standard Oil Co. today announced another price cut on its kerosene, from 1-2 to 1-4 gallon here.

Independent companies immediately followed the Standard's lead. The latest slash in gasoline prices is that of local conditions, and probably will not spread through the west. R. H. Thomas, assistant manager of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, said:

"When it was taken, when we had positive information that certain large independent interests here were offering gasoline to some of our best customers at 12.5 cents a gallon, R. H. Thomas declared that he would not be the only supplier to obtain some of our trade without giving the public the benefit of the cut so we immediately decided to give the entire public the benefit of the cut."

ST. PAUL, Sept. 13.—Minnesota state officials will insist on the same deal as other states, officials attending Governor Preus' oil-price probe were today said, when notified that the Standard Oil and independent companies in Iowa today reduced gasoline two cents per gallon, making it 34.5.

Gas retails for 16.9c here at present following the six cent cut of a few weeks ago which resulted from the action of Governor McMaster of South Dakota.

The development of Southern and Central California has only begun, and this Company will grow with the community, as electric power is the basic industry upon which all other industries depend.

DAILY GREETINGS TO OUR READERS

God gives to every man an opportunity, but not every man improves the opportunity that God gives him. Every man's life is a plan of God, in the sense that every man has a plan of God in his behalf set before him for his acceptance or rejection. But it is for every man to accept or reject God's plan as he will, and upon his choice pivots his character and his destiny.—Anonymous.

Radium Discovery Is Very Important

Amid the distressing news reports from Japan and other parts of the world, it warms one's heart to turn to news of a more hopeful nature. Comes from the world that what is probably the largest deposit of radium in the world has been discovered in Russia and will be made available to the world. Hailed as a "tremendous addition to science and a boon to the masses," this addition to the world's available supply of this rare element promises to make radium common enough to be used in practically every hospital in this country.

The curative value of radium has not been determined fully. Experiences and experiments are proving its quality in this respect. With greater quantities of it to be had, its use doubtless will become much more common in the treatment of human ailments. While opinion now is divided as to its therapeutic efficacy, more extensive use of it should show definitely and conclusively just what may be hoped for in treating diseases with it.

Misfortunes and reverses are great dooms in life, making staunchness of character—if one has capacity for being staunch—just as storms and rough seas make good sailors.

California's History Is Glorious

California, up to 1850—the year of its admission into the Union—had a picturesque, stirring and varied history. The annals of California, the state, are no less interesting and romantic. Coming into the Union in the full flush of the excitement and intense "boom" produced by the discovery of gold within its borders, California for years was in the eyes of the world chiefly as a gold-producing state.

But the wonderful productive possibilities of its soil were not overlooked. In due time agriculture, horticulture and viticulture became established industries of immense proportions. Then the state passed from its flux into a settled status. It began to add rapidly to its permanent population. Cities grew. New towns sprang up. The desert was conquered over wider areas. Commerce blossomed. And the fame of California's climate, and the lure of its scenery, began to draw tourists from distant places.

And so California has grown. And so it has become a settled, highly organized, intensively progressive, thoroughly American community. And this Admission Day finds the state in the very forefront of the prosperous and growing commonwealths of the land, with high standards of life not forgotten or ignored.

Many of one's troubles are self-made. Oftentimes the trouble about which one complains most bitterly is the direct result of one's own follies and blunders.

Sea Disasters; Need of Radio Control

Confusion of radio messages, according to naval officials, caused the wrecking on the rocks about Santa Barbara, of seven destroyers of the United States Army. A score of lives were lost, and the material loss was more than $100,000. Wireless messages flying back and forth among the grounded line ships, whose wreck occurred not far away from the scene of this naval disaster, are said to have bewildered those in command of the destroyers, which were making their way through heavy fog by radio direction.

This should lead to legislation rigidly regulating radio and particularly providing for keeping the air open to distress signals. Congress at the next session, we may give legislative attention to this.

Two big marine disasters at almost the same hour and in the same waters, demonstrate tragically that old Neptune still shakes his "dread trident." Fortunately, the loss of life was small compared to the number of persons exposed to the dangers of the two disasters. Radio assisted greatly in bringing rescue to many. There were many acts of heroism, too, and these glorified the tragic picture.

Honesty begets confidence and trust. There is no asset anyone can have that is more precious than to be trusted.

Quickened public spirit always is needed in the community. And with the keenness of public spirit should be consistent team work in promotional activities.

The velvet of her paws,
Her coat with the tortoise rings.

Her ears of jet, and emerald eyes—
She saw and purr'd applause.

Still had she gazed, but 'midst the tide
Two angel forms were seen to glide,
The Genii of the stream;
Their silken armour's Tyrian hue

Through richest purple to the view
Betrayed a golden gleam.
The hapless Nymph with wonder saw;
A whisper first, and then a glow

With many an ordinal wish
She stretched, in vain, to reach the prize—
What female heart can gold despise?

What cat's across to fish?
Presumptuous maid! with looks intent
Again she stretched, again she bent,

Nor knew the gulf between—
Malignant fate sat by and smiled.
The slippery verge her feet beguiled;
She tumbled headlong in!

Eight times emerging from the flood
She swam to every watery god
Some speedy aid to send.
No Dolphin came, no Nereid stirred,

Nor cruel Tom nor Susan heard
A favorite has no friend!

From hence, ye Beauties! undecor'd
And be with caution bold;
Not all that tempts your wandering eyes
And heedless hearts, is lawful prize.

Nor all that glisters, gold!
—Thomas Grey.

In a little while now daughter will go back to school, and then poor old Mother will have body to play the piano while she does the dishes.

NEW YORK LETTER

By LUCY JEANNE PRICE

Luxurious homes may mean considerable to human beings but they don't count much against affection with a dog. Louis Amato has spent most of his vacation so far looking for his Boston bull, named Ritzie. The other day he vowed he had found him, altho Peter Haslin explained that the dog was his, that its name was Nickie, and that he had paid ten dollars for him. Nickie had all the luxuries which could accrue to the life of a dog, under Mr. Amato's ownership. But thirteen year old Louis went to court to prove his claim. A wise and human judge let the contestants take their place on the opposite sides of the courtroom. Here Nickie Nickie, called Haslin at the top of his voice. Hey Ritzie old kid, said Louis and gave a sharp whistle. In one ecstatic jump the dog was at Louis' side. Haslin didn't even get a chance. Ritzie left the room bounding, at the boy's side, ears and beards' at seemed completely.

Politics may be touted as a warning occupation or even avocation. But John D. Voorhis, for half a century a Tammany leader in municipal politics, and Commissioner of Elections, celebrated his ninety-fourth birthday by cutting down his regular full-length working day to three hours and that is the closest approach to a vacation he has taken in 31 years.

Sticks became so common an accessories of women's costume that the novelty seekers have abandoned them in favor of an attenuated -H- of light wood, upon the cross section of which their pet parakeet or cockatiel. I saw one on Fifth Avenue yesterday and it was impressive even if a bit cumbersome in crowded traffic. The bird appeared quite comfortable and at home, however.

ABE MARTIN

At a debate at Apple Grove school last night it was resolved that 't automobiles do not hurt 't railroads any more than 't railroads hurt 't automobiles. "I never expect 't a purtier sight than 't sun when it first appears 't the morning," said Mrs. L. Pash, who allus waits up for her daughters.

COOLIDGES HAVE YANKEE TRAIT—New York Times

Colonel John Calvin Coolidge, the President's father, has all that reserve, habit of understanding, dislike of gush, ironic depreciation of compliment that characterize the old Yankee stock. A Yankee is naturally non-committal, except for sufficient cause. He likes to qualify his praise. Excess is hateful to him. A schoolmate of the late H. H. Rogers said, when the latter was in his financial prime, "Yes, I'm old Henry hasn't made out so bad, considerably." There is an evident dry humor in this habit of depreciation; but the Yankee rather resents questions. He prefers to disclose his full opinion at his own time. As he says of certain cows, he is "a hard milker." "I think he'll do fairly well," the Colonel says of his son. "He did fairly well as governor, and I guess that tempered fairly well" is delightful. It is worth more, coming from such a source, than any flamboyant string of superlatives. For nearly 100 years these Coolidges have been trained to work and to endure. There has been, it might almost be said, "hard sledding," what would be called "crisis" in the more emotional West, among the Yankee farmers most of the time. They work hard and shut up. In better fortune they do the same. Prosperity and distinction they take as undemonstratively as they take refractory soil, bad crops, the weather or the bull calf "actin like all possessed." It won't do for a Vermont father to reveal the pride he has in his son's achievements. That would be contrary to the rugged discipline of labor and the silent but undiminished encouragement, the personal self-respect that never permits itself to be dashed; and "boys" of whatever age, mustn't be "applied."

So Colonel Coolidge doesn't think of his son as President, but "just as a good and honest boy who'll do his best with any job given him. He always has been that way, and I guess he always will be." Calvin wasn't precocious or extraordinary. He did his work at school and at home. "He was a great hand on the farm." He wasn't brought up on any system of rules. "If there are rules," says the father shrewdly, "it gives a boy a chance to break them; I told Calvin always to do his job well. And he always did. That's what my father taught me and that's what his father taught him."

Calvin Coolidge has always done his job well, done his best, in every employment. He was brought up to do his best and say little about it. He begins his enormous task at Washington without a flutter or elation. The nation knows that he will do his best and "guesses" with his father that "he'll do fairly well as President." That means excellently well, as may be expected of a man of trained intelligence and judgment, honest, efficient, fearless, "dreading praise, not blame."

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

SARGASSO SEA

This is the graveyard of old sailing ships—
Unburied, broken masts bleach in the sun,
Dead at last kine on dead lovers' lips,
And quiet now, their mission being done,
Time was—and not so long ago—when these,
Their sails flung wide, were coursers of the main,
Braving the thousand dangers of the sea,
For England's glory, or to honor Spain.

Now none so shred of pennon avails to tell
To what forgotten cause their path was laid,
But we can know they served their masters well,
For those who captained them were unafraid.
Only a passing gull sweeps from the sky
To look at them, so quietly they lie!

AT UNITED THEATER

A great double bill last night at the United Theater. The intimate Al Ritzke and his beautiful movie picture girls, entertained the excited audience with their thrilling feat of skill and strength. Peter D. Kane's story of a man's thrilling fight for love and honor in the borderless, romantic West, on the screen. It was one of the greatest and most satisfying programs seen here in a long time.

Al Ritzke hasn't changed much since his return here last year, but he sure has some new stunts and thrillers, which to complement and tell you of her would spoil the show for you, as the same program will be given again tonight.

And the picture—Oh Boy! with Forrest Stanley and Marjorie Daw in the leading roles and the local lead right here in our beautiful California and just packed with thrills, love and adventure. It's incomparable and no more right when you consider its author, Peter D. Kane, than when there is none better as a story-teller and romance. Nobody knows and loves the finishing Spanish California as Peter D. Kane does. He has blended the glowing passions, virile, adventure and dark fads of that romantic region into this his greatest story.

And for the comedy part, well, Al pulls a few good ones and, on the screen is Bobby Dunn in "Poor but Honest," just two reels packed with laughs.

LIQUOR TAKEN FROM BRITISH STEAMER

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 12.—Seven gallons of liquor, which had not been declared, according to local federal officers, was seized today at Los Angeles harbor on the British government yacht Proteroman, carrying a party of the world to chart a "path" for British aviators who will attempt to fly around the world.

The mix-up of the vessel with the United States laws was preceded by the filling of a libel suit for $1250 against the vessel, by the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Drydock Corp., which alleged the vessel left without paying that amount on a bill for repairs.

40 PCT. JUMP IN NEXT LEMON CROP

The 25 per cent jump in the lemon crop of next year as compared with this season, makes an estimate in the opinion of leading experts of the county, who today placed the gross, barring unforeseen accident, at approximately 40 per cent.

L. A. Stevenson, assistant manager of the Central Lemon Growers' Association at Villa Park, and L. D. Palmer, manager of the same, are authorities for the estimate. Palmer, however, made it clear that any estimate while the fruit was still on the tree and before the new season had opened, was only preliminary and very uncertain.

Returning this year have been surprisingly good, although an estimate of the increase over last year cannot be given until the close of the final crop, according to Stevenson. Stevenson's own house will ship 700 cars. This total, while about the same as last year, consisted of a much better grade of lemons on the average, so that returns will be considerably higher.

Prices reached their height in July and August. Since the peak they have declined 25 or 50 cents per box, but this was expected and is the experience every year, Stevenson declared. Prices have been better all over the state.

In the Villa Park section the number of trees pulled out, following the loss of trees pulled out, was comparatively trifling, according to Stevenson.

YORBA NEWS

YORBA, Sept. 12.—(Sp.)—Well, the eclipse has come and none and we here in Yorba did not even change color or lose our complexion altogether nor did we alter our mode of living by an iota, although all of us realized the stupendous planetary events that were going on around and above us. Yes, and all despite the fact that the eclipse was eclipsed by such tension and flimsy reasons as the nebulous state of the weather turned out to be, so that the smudging of glasses, window panes and other adjuncts to the celestial paraphernalia of the layman was almost another case of "loves labor lost." The densest darkness lasted the full three minutes and came very rapidly. Some children in the neighborhood began to scream out "It's turning into night! It's turning into night!" and then gave awed attention to the heavens. As the darkness faded to reveal some one called out "Look at the moon!" and it was hard work trying to persuade the skeptics. In the neighborhood crowded and it was all over with.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Tied, left last Friday by auto to attend Grape Day at Escocandia on Saturday, and to visit friends of theirs in the southern metropolis. Incidentally, of course, they would not front seat for Monday's big show—the much heralded eclipse, but we are waiting for their return to hear if their party was any better than ours as far as seeing anything was concerned. It may have grown darker, that's all.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Locke of Hollywood are at their ranch here for a two weeks' stay. Mrs. T. Orville who lives hamburger so well that she almost "hamburger" her fingers in the meat chopper, has for the last couple of days been able to take the bandage off of her hand.

J. Garcia who had the misfortune to get some travel in one of his eyes is somewhat better, but he is still under the care of an Anaheim oculist.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Boismore and their two children from Perris have been visiting at the M. House residence home.

Messieurs T. Sanchez and A. G. Velasco and Messrs. Jose Sanchez and Louis A. Velasco were entertained last Saturday night at the Perris home in Olinda.

The above named and Mr. Willie Sanchez were entertained on Sunday night by Mrs. R. Macarray and her daughter Miss Esther Macarray at Anaheim. Mrs. Macarray has moved to her beautiful new residence on Palm-st. and has a home that has not only the usual conveniences, but many new and unique features.

Mr. Y. A. Gunders Sr. was in Perris last week to see about the installing of a pumping plant on his property at that place.

The school house has been given a new coat of paint and is all spick and span ready to receive the attending children who today begin their scholastic year. The teachers and Mrs. Boyles, principal and Mrs. McManis primary teacher, and Mrs. Boyles was teacher here last year but Mrs. McManis is a newcomer to this state from the state of Delaware. CONSIDER PROBLEM OF REFORESTATION

Francis Cuttle, chairman of the Tri-Counties Reforestation committee returned yesterday from San Francisco where he went to appear before the McNary Committee of the United States Senate.

This committee is investigating the problem of reforestation on the Pacific coast and consists of U. S. Senators Chas. L. McNary, chairman, Geo. H. Moses, New Hampshire, Duncan U. Fletcher, Florida and Pat Harrison of Mississippi. Senator James Coussens of Michigan is also a member of the committee but was not present as he is absent in Europe.

The primary purpose of this committee is to "investigate problems relating to reforestation with a view to establishing a comprehensive policy for lands chiefly suited for timber production in order to secure a perpetual supply of timber for the use and necessities of the people of the United States," so that the preservation of watershed cover for conservation of water is only incidental. Nevertheless Mr. Cuttle was accorded a hearing by the committee and he argued the case for the preservation of the brush and timber on the watershed of the Santa Ana river, pointing out to the committee the tremendous value of the water from this river and therefore the necessity for preservation of all growth on its watershed. The forest department of the reforestation of this watershed immediately, but did urge that a forest experiment station be established and maintained so that the forest service would be able to determine what trees would make the best growth on the watershed and how these trees should be handled. The nearest forest experiment station, now to the Pacific Coast, is in the state of California.

Many representatives of different organizations appeared before the committee, about 100 in all, being in attendance during the hearings of the committee. Among these Prof. Walter Mulford, head of the forestry division of the University of California, stressed the importance of preservation of watershed cover for the conservation of the water, and this was also stressed by other lumbermen.

Mr. Cuttle did not seek to minimize the great necessity for reforestation of cut-over lands, but emphasized it, while directing the attention of the committee to the necessity of conservation of watershed covers.

Senator McNary stated to Mr. Cuttle after the meeting that he had noticed during travels in the northern part of the state that timber had been cut from watersheds without regard to its effect upon stream flow, and that he had been impressed with the necessity for the preservation of the watershed cover on all streams.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS MISSING SALESMAN

DENVER, Sept. 12.—Mystery still surrounds the disappearance of Richard M. Metz, 24, a Pittsburgh, Pa. salesman, who dropped completely from sight Monday, despite vigorous efforts to find him.

What is believed by authorities to be the first real clue of the whereabouts of Metz was furnished by Patrick Pointer, an employee of the municipal camping grounds who identified a picture of the missing man as one who answered an advertisement of J. Klockwer for a traveling companion in California.

A theory was advanced by Chief of Police Williams that "heavily armed" might have something to do with Metz' disappearance as several discrepancies were found among letters.

Fourteen camp grounds were inspected among other places, 13 parking stations, 14 canning and packing plants and 47 miscellaneous establishments.

CANNOT LOCATE SEVERAL WIVES

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 12.—The mysterious disappearance of three of the seven "wives" who Harry R. Robson, alias "A. E. Wood" and "A. Allen," confessed having married, today resulted in the suspicion at the district attorney's office that the super-begamit may have made his confession to halt the investigation of his career as a "love pirate" and possibly hide more serious offenses.

Telegraphic inquiry developed, the authorities declare, that Robson's wife, Emma L. Johns of Warren, Ohio, could not be found. His second "wife" Della Whalen, also of Warren, Ohio, and Belle Parker of Evansville, Wis., could not be located.

ELEVATOR GIRL FIBS; DIVORCE DENIED

AKRON, Sept. 13.—There are many ups and downs in the life of an elevator girl, but it doesn't pay any of them to tell fibs in court, as Kay Kathleen Hogue confessed today before Judge H. C. Spicer.

Gay Kathleen, 27, seeking a divorce, told the judge she had no other man, was keeping company with no other man, and had no idea of being wedded again if divorced.

Her husband present in court as a spectator, spoke up and told the court that his wife was not telling the truth. Finally after severe cross-examination the woman admitted within a few minutes to another man.

The judge fined her $10 for contempt of court and refused to grant the divorce.

DEMAND MELONS AS PAY FOR BOOKS

PARIS, Sept. 13.—The melon is the chief desire of the Summer, once wrote the famous Alexander Dumas who thought there was nothing better in France than a melon of Cavillon. The story runs that one day a municipal councillor from this village came to the writer with the request for several of his books for the library of Cavillon.

"Certainly," Dumas replied, "I will send you a copy of each one of my 500 volumes but in return I demand a yearly income of twelve melons from Cavillon."

In France the melon is most generally served at the beginning of the meal as hors d'oeuvre. It is served in a soup, it is served on a plate surrounded with chopped ice. Most of the Frenchmen prefer sugar to salt. Only a few take dessert.

The thrifty French housewife saves the rind of a melon for jam. She uses the thickest ones. Peel the rind and add sugar and lemon juice. For a pound of this use an equal amount of sugar.

The rind of a melon with a thin bit of water and add the rind with a bit of lemon, let cook about two hours. Shell Sugar 1 lb. 49c per lb. For a pound of this use an equal amount of sugar.

GOLFWHAT THEY THINK ABOUT BIG BATTLE

(Copyright 1923 by International News Service)

Public opinion leans heavily toward Jack Dempsey as the probable winner of tomorrow night's championship battle between Dempsey and Luis Firpo, South American challenger.

International News Service has obtained the following synopsis of opinion from well known personalities: GEORGE BLAKE, nationally known referee and chief boxing instructor of the United States Army during the world war: "Dempsey is a fighter. Firpo is too green."

WILLIAM WHITLEY, Jr., owner of the Chicago Cubs: "My reaction is that when they get all thru fighting, Dempsey will still be champion."

JUDY LANDIS: "I have not the slightest idea. I have not followed the fight news. Sorry I am such a deadhead."

JESS WILLARD: "It's a toss up. Dempsey can hit; so can Firpo. Dempsey is clever; Firpo is awkward. But Firpo's awkwardness is puzzling. Firpo is dangerous. It's hard to pick the winner."

JACK DOYLE, promoter: "Dempsey is in a hurry."

MARTIN H. GLYNN, former governor of New York: "I believe Dempsey will win and win quickly. Dempsey has science and punch. Firpo only punch. Science and punch ought to beat punch."

T. L. JONES, former manager of Ad. Wolcott: "Dempsey will win, but Firpo has a chance."

LEW SHANK, famous "potato" mayor of Indianapolis: "By gosh, if Dempsey doesn't win in three or four rounds, Firpo will knock him out. Firpo is the most wonderful hitter I ever saw."

WILLIAM DEVER, mayor of Chicago: "Dempsey and I am for him because he is an American. I met Dempsey when he came thru Chicago and consider him a friend."

TAD, famous sporting editor: "It is really the hardest fight to figure out that has been on the boards for years."

BILL BRENNAN, who has fought both Dempsey and Firpo: "Dempsey is a rough fellow and because of Dempsey fighting only eight championship matches in four years, Firpo may tie him out."

YOUTHFUL SWIMMER IN NEW RECORD

Miss Ruth Thomas

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 12.—The latest star mermaid to scintillate in the competitive firmament is fifteen year old Ruth Thomas, of the Ambassador Swimming Club, Atlantic City. With her splendid and unexpected performance recently, when she defeated a whole field of contestants for the title of 220 yard national champion backstroke swimmer, she springs into country-wide prominence and looms as a candidate for the 1924 Olympics.

Out in Indianapolis at the Broad Ripple Pool, filled with fresh water, this little salt water fish defeated easily the 100-yard senior national breast-stroke champion, Miss Edna O'Connell, of Chicago and Miss Eugenia Heise, of Uniontown, Pa., also title holder in her district. Besides doing this she hung up a new record for 3 minutes 50 1/2 seconds for a pool having one turn.

THOMAS E. WILSON, packer: "It is almost impossible to pick the winner."

LEWEL BULLS, adjutant of the American Legion: "Firpo looks like the best bet to win the championship in a long time."

GEORGE MUEHLBACH, owner of the Kansas City American Association club: "Dempsey by the tenth round. Dempsey is too fast and knows too much for Firpo. The champion should win inside of three rounds."

MATT HINKLE, Cleveland boxing referee: "Dempsey in three rounds."

ROCKY KANSAS, lightweight title contender: "Dempsey is too fast and knows too much for Firpo. The champion should win inside of three rounds."

EXPERTS ALL THINK
DEMPSEY WILL WINBy DAVID J. WALSH
(N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Experts with the slightest tinge of sports will pick Luis Firpo to go out early at the earnest behest of Jack Dempsey's first at the Polo Grounds to-morrow night. That is the sensible way to pick this fight.

It is the first and possibly the only world's heavyweight championship bout in a generation, in which the experts, so called, are in perfect accord as to the results.

They have picked the loser and personally we think they can do so safely.

The Latin challenger has been made the subject of a most successful "build up." From the very moment that he appeared in America, 15 months ago, he has been nurtured and preserved as the "logical" challenger for the heavyweight title and seemingly his career has been ordered by an unseen force.

He was the candidate for a gigantic "smoke-up" and some men no money could alter the course of his immediate life. He was and is a child of destiny, a plaything of the fate. He happened to come here and foreign. He didn't need anything else beyond a ferocious expression and reasonably good health. He was Richard would attend to the rest of it. These are about all Luis has to recommend him in tomorrow's bout. He is simply a young man with a ponderous punch, a punch that might play havoc with a stationary target. Dempsey, on the other hand, is elsewhere when that punch is started and finished.

The writer has been watching Firpo work for a week and cannot do less than say that he is a terrible mistake. Young Bob Fitzsimmons, John Lester Johnson and other sparring partners of similar ability, if any, have been able to hit him at will and escape the consequences. They have made the Latin appear to be a very poor specimen, indeed.

Yet, it must be granted that Firpo is a better fighter than the Italian workout indicated. The fact that he must score a knockout to look like anything at all mitigates against a favorable impression being gained of him. If the South American were sent in to finish his sparring partners day after day, the chances are that some of the boys might think highly of his ability. One cannot go behind a knockout any more than he can behind his hip pocket an airpump. It is something like watching a steam roller practice racing stunts.

One could and did sense the fact that his tremendous fighting power was being diverted into unnatural channels. If he was being sent in against a roomful of barroom roustabouts every day and permitted to fight accordingly, the chances are good that Firpo would now command more respect than is accorded him. It happens that tomorrow night's bout will not be conducted under barroom rules.

CARGUM
PROUTINGS

Babe Ruth and Cy Williams are having the greatest little tussle for home run honors that two men ever had in the history of the game. Cy got the jump on Babe but Babe kept plugging away till he pulled up even with Cy. That was some weeks ago. Since that time Cy has been out in the lead by one or two several times but Ruth evened up the score.

In our coast league Paul Strand has accumulated 37 circuit drives along with his other assortment of pokes which have netted him a batting average of .413. Paul is in a class by himself, both in hitting runs and in ordinary batting. His nearest rival is down to .377.

Salt Lake, way down in sixth place, sports the leading batters of the league. Beside Strand there is Whitcomb with .564, Lewis with .552, Leslie .544, and Peters .543. This bunch of heavy artillery should carry most any team far above the Salt Lake standing.

Zev, the greatest of America's three-year-old racers and which was to have been America's best bet against Papyrus, the three-year-old, has pulled up lame and may not be able to enter the international race next month. The injury is slight but may take some time to heal.

Papyrus, winner of the English Derby, is the best horse in the world on the turf today. Papyrus is so well thought of that the owners are shipping water from England for the horse to drink while in America. Some horse.

"Iron" Joe McGinnity, pitcher and manager of the Dubuque team of the Mississippi Valley League, has signed to pitch for Des Moines. Joe is a young man who should make good. He has had some experience, being a top notcher some 15 or 20 years ago. Joe is only 32 years of age and will make his mark pitching some day.

Pitcher John Watson felt the iron hand of John J. McGraw and was willing to bend to its rule. Watson broke some of the McGraw training rules and was promptly suspended.

The Pennant Race

While the Giants and Pirates were idle yesterday, the Reds gained half a game on them when they triumphed over the Cubs.

The Giants still lead the Pirates by five games and the Reds by six games. If New York wins ten of its remaining sixteen games the Pirates would have to win eighteen of their 20 contests to defeat them and the Reds must win all of their remaining 18 games to win out.

The Yanks increased their lead over Cleveland to 14 1/2 games when they won a doubleheader from the White Sox, while the Indians were idle.

The Yanks need but ten more victories of the 21 games they have to play to clinch the pennant even if the Indians win all of their 20 remaining games.

TAGGING ALL THE BASES

Good pitching by Hoyt and Pennington gave the Yankees a double victory over the White Sox, 2 to 1, and 6 to 3, and placed them that much nearer clinching the pennant.

The Reds came back to life and took a wallop out of the Cubs 4 to 1. The Cubs have failed to score a run in 35 innings.

Coming from behind the Tigers knocked out the Senators in the twelfth to 4.

The Dodgers and Phillies played another game with the Dodgers winning 6 to 4.

The Giants were fined $500. The Giants went to their fellow players' aid by petitioning McGraw to reinstate the erring player. Fighting John harkened to his team and "Kule" Watson is again a Giant in good standing providing he walks the straight and narrow path.

We are going to be at the Plain Dealer home to hear the returns of the big fight. The Plain Dealer's telegraphic connections will give it every detail of the big event. The Plain Dealer always give the public the best service it can, and the handling of the Fourth of July fight was one of its crowning successes, so come join the Plain Dealer family Friday evening and hear the returns both of the grapple.

YOU NEED NOT BE SICK

Every fifty seconds a life is lost in the United States from ignorance or neglect of curative measures. Every year over 1,500,000 sick beds are kept filled unnecessarily. Every year the loss cut off from earnings by disease and premature death is $1,500,000,000.

This maelstrom of misery and life-waste is a startling indictment of the methods heretofore used in treating disease. The Chiropractic profession, using an entirely new method based on a scientific principle, is slowly but surely diminishing the sufferings of countless thousands who were unable to find relief through the ordinary systems of medicine.

Chiropractic consists entirely of adjusting the movable segments of the spinal column to normal position.

Chiropractic is the Science of steady nerves, strong vital vigorous physical and mental efficiency that enables you to keep a firm hold on the place you have gained in this game of life.

Chiropractic concentrates all its attention on the main springs of human action and human nerve-power. It keeps the Brain and Spinal Cord functioning at full efficiency, hence it enables you to defy disease, and to prolong your life term.

Chiropractic is unshackling man's bondage to the disintegrating, destructive disease factors, against which he has battled so hopelessly for centuries.

If you have been taking pills, powders and potions without result, I can prove to you that you need endure no longer the sickness and suffering that is perhaps racking your body today; from now on your life can be full of health and happiness.
