

BIG SMELTER MAY BE SEEN SHORTLY

Speaker urged against letting the city get into a rut. As an illustration he told the story of a pet eagle which had been chained for years and had worn a groove which never left. When released, it continued in the groove until one day its master tossed it into the air, when the bird spread its broad wings and inspired a sense of the flying power again and sped away.

It was time for the city to feel its sense of power and the Chamber of Commerce was at the backbone of such a realization.

President Riley, who had announced previously that Reid's speech and the introduction of him to the members was the feature of the meeting, again declared the satisfaction of the directors in having obtained Reid's services.

S. P. Morris of the Los Angeles C. C. opened with a reference to Rev. A. G. H. Bode's talk before the Kiwanis Club of Santa Ana on the "Evolution of Music." He referred to how "organized community effort" had played in the case of Los Angeles.

The city owed its reputation for beauty and not to location of inherent natural setting. The local chamber was the custodian of $9,000,000 in property valuation and 12,000 people.

The organization service department of the directors had been described as a policy of enlightened selfishness.

Los Angeles exercised no spirit of "paternalism" toward the rest of the Southland, but let its responsibility to the latter. The prosperity of Anaheim as part of the Southland was necessary to that of Los Angeles.

Los Angeles enterprise was putting into practical application the lessons of Virgil's Georgics, that of the fruitfulness and revenues for the law. Answering a question put by Roscoe Young, the Agropolis showed how Los Angeles, under the leadership of Frank Wiggins, had sold first estate, then the fact that the city was a flower at Christmas, then that oranges grew in the south, while propaganda finally brought in large numbers, industrial facilities were advertised and plans to take care of the population.

President Riley thanked Morris in behalf of the directors for his talk.

The meeting opened with a prayer of a verse of the Star Spangled Banner, followed by the invocation by Rev. A. G. H. Bode of St. Michael's P. E. Church. Mrs. Walter Ross gave two soprano selections, Joshua Williams a couple of solos, Mrs. Janie C. Nunn a violin solo with Miss Catherine Nunn at the piano and Miss Marion Wallace two delightful piano selections.

Supervisor Hill presided over the program and others were invited by Riley to sing, but declined. Barnes pleaded that he had no tickets and proceeded to do it.

In the course of the preliminaries President Riley announced that the club case now was open to the public.

CLAIMS HIGH SCHOOL

by my wife was enticing enough, so that with the assistance and co-operation of her mother she described on Aug. 4th and went directly to this person Burrows.

Since that time I have had no trace of her or been able to communicate with her, although I am informed on a good path that Burrows is in the vicinity of Huntington Beach.

I contend that any man guilty of such conduct as is contained in the letters written by him is unfit to be a teacher.

The very presence of such an unprincipled home destroyer as Burrows is a cancer in the village of the school life.

I appeal to the parents of the boys and girls attending the Anaheim Union High school to petition the Board of Education and insist upon the discharge of this man who has no regard for the sacredness of the marriage vows or the sanctity of the home life.

Very respectfully, T. S. DUSH, Phoenix, Ariz., 419 N. 4th St.

FIVE INJURED WHEN TWO CARS COLLIDE

Two women, two children and one man were injured, and a second man narrowly escaped injury, when two automobiles came together at North and Lemon sts., shortly past noon. One car was a Lexington driven by L. P. Robbins of Hollywood, and the other a Buick, driven by Earl Spires of Fullerton. Those injured were: Mr. and Mrs. Robbins and Mrs. Spires, and two little sons, three and four, respectively.

Spires is said to have been going north on Lemon st., and Robbins east on North st., both at a good rate. An orange orchard at the corner was said to have observed their view. Robbins was almost across the intersection when Spires struck him, knocking his car into a city dump wagon near the curb, and the Spires car shooting into the curb on the other side. Both cars were badly wrecked, and the axle on the dump wagon was said to have been damaged. The Spires car was towed to the Myers garage, and the Robbins car to the Bocklin and Boone garage.

A Bach, Terry and Campbell ambulance removed Mrs. Robbins who was painfully injured, and her husband was taken to the hospital. The younger of which was badly taken to being almost cut off, and a physician summoned. It was found that Mrs. Robbins had been badly cut about the face and hand, and Mr. Robbins badly bruised. The elder of the Spires' children was cut about the right eye, and the children were taken home after having received first aid.

NEW OPPOSITION TO STOKES' CHARGES

(By Jack Carberry) (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—William Easton Stokes, a New York hotel owner, bullet-scattered veteran of the "woman scorned" case, today launched a new opposition to the charges against him, claiming that the charges were "a gross misstatement of the facts."

After five years of silence, other than a denial of Stokes' charges, Wallace today, commissioned Charles Erbe, Chicago lawyer, associated with Samuel L. Warner, in Mr. Stokes' defense, to "act."

Wallace's telegraphic instructions to Erbe were brief. "Take any action you deem best," he instructed the attorney.

Erbe announced he would await the outcome of the present divorce suit before moving in Wallace's behalf. It was expected, however, that Erbe would join Stokes' attorney in a demand on District Attorney J. A. Banton, of New York, to call a grand jury to hear Stokes' activities in connection with securing witnesses, with a view to securing a conviction for Stokes.

It was also reported today that the other men named by Stokes had under consideration a move against Stokes. Stokes, so far, has not been charged with any crime.

PESSIMISM DEEPER IN GERMANY TODAY

BERLIN, Oct. 18.—Ominous clouds gathered over Germany today pointing the way to grave developments in the immediate future.

Pessimism has been deepened by the summary rejection of the government's proposals by France and Belgium. It is feared that the blast action of the French and Belgian will delay a settlement of the Ruhr reparations issue.

Grave disorders were reported from various quarters. Red terror grips Saxony and reinforcements are being moved into that state.

PARIS, Oct. 18.—The cabinet met today with President Millerand presiding and unanimously approved Premier Poincaré's rejection of the suggestions made yesterday by Herr von Hoese, German charge.

A mob of men and women attempted to storm the police headquarters at Gendarmes. Police fired upon the attackers, wounding three of them.

Fighting, which may grow to actual civil war, is feared. Bavaria, angered by threats of Saxons, communists, is threatening armed action.

The Berlin central government and the Bavarian monarchists. Fresh troubles have been stirred in Saxony and Baden, where two possibly three persons were killed yesterday and nearly a score wounded.

Communists began rioting at Heide, in northern Germany. In Gelsenkirchen, occupied Germany, Communists attacked police.

Swiss battalions of which, swayed by French propaganda, have been sent to Dresden to reinforce the garrison.

Members of the Saxon government are openly defiant of Berlin. Minister of finance Boettcher, in a fiery speech at Dresden, declared that "Red dictatorship is the only salvation of Germany."

The Saxonia communists want a republic. The Bavarians want a monarchy for Bavaria at least if they cannot have it for all Germany.

Members of the Rhineland are working for a Rhenish republic. French troops in the Palatinat are preparing to meet the situation if it becomes acute and proclaim a monarchy.

LANDMARK MAKES

WAY FOR PROGRESS

Hammer and pick, with occasional exploding dynamite, are fast bearing away the last of the old landmarks of the Anaheim business district, the old White Lily Bakery building, which has stood at West Center and Clematis-sts. for more than 50 years, according to old timers.

John Casson, who is raising the building to make way for a large new three-story structure to be used for stores and apartments, says that until the last 15 years the building was used as a saloon, and since that time as a bakery.

The building was erected by a pioneer, James Menzel, who has been dead many years, and it could talk a story of material progress in which Anaheim grew from a straggling desert village of dirt streets and plank sidewalks to its present place as the metropolis of southern Orange-co.

Many bystanders viewed its demolition today, perhaps here and there in old timer with the hint of a tear at the remembrance of the times gone to never return.

REALTY BUSINESS IS ON HIGH PLANE NOW

The realty business of California has been put upon a high and commendable plane of ethics. As the California Real Estate Association holds its enthusiastic annual meeting at Sacramento it is timely to make a few observations on the business of buying and selling realty.

Thanks to the efforts of the better class dealers throughout the state, a state license law has been enacted; a state real estate department has been established; and the last Legislature provided for bonding of dealers, and in other ways threw safeguards around this business, to keep its standards high and to assure that only responsible persons shall hold licenses and transact realty business.

Realty boards and associations, in the various cities of the state, have become very important factors in community progress. The realty dealer is naturally a booster. The very nature of his business runs in the line of progress and development. At the present state meeting much attention is being given to development, and realty men are earnest supporters of solid, substantial upbuilding of California.

It is very gratifying indeed to have the real estate business in California in the hands of men and women of ideals, who observe a code of ethics which dignifies this business and wins the confidence of the public.

There are perils at sea, at best. Fire and wind and wave and unseaworthiness in vessels; shoals and rocky shores—all these, and other hazards lurk, to jeopardize those "who go down to the sea in ships."

The number of young men and young women who are working their way through college or university is large. This requires no little grit and resourcefulness. Young folk who do this are deserving of much credit.

Leave the weather to Providence. Be thankful when it is pleasant. Do not grumble when it is unpleasant.

Worry is the powerful ally of disease. When the two work together, there is downfall of health.

Health is the crown jewel of human existence. There is no possession affecting the material life of man that is more precious than health.

California is the vacation state pre-eminent. There is no region in America better adapted to the pleasurable satisfaction of vacationing than California.

Sufficient housing accommodations should be provided for schools everywhere. There is nothing more important in the life of the nation than proper maintenance of public schools.

Four home runs in one world's series baseball game—four home runs! Pity a million "fans" could not have been there, to see that rare and thrilling spectacle!

Happy home life is the foundation of national security.

Fight crime with respect for law instilled into the youths of the state.

The American people can stand one world's series a year without going into permanent hysteria.

ABE MARTIN

LEISURE
What is this life if, full of care,
We have no time to stand and stare?

No time to stand beneath the boughs
And stare as long as sheep or cows;

No time to see, when woods we pass,
Where squirrels hide their nuts in grass;

No time to see, in broad day,
Streams full of stars, like skies at night;

No time to turn at Beauty's glance,
And watch her feet, how they can dance;

No time to stand till her mouth can
Enrich that smile her eyes began;

A poor life this, if full of care,
We have no time to stand and stare.

—William H. Davies.

AUTUMN
Thou comest, Autumn, heralded by rain,
With banners, by great gales incessant fan'd,
Brighter than brightest silks of Samorano.

And stately oaks kneel'd to thy train;
Thou standest, like imperial Charlemagne,
Upon thy bridge of gold; thy royal hand
Outstretched with benedictions o'er the land,
Blessing the farms through all thy vast domain.
Thy shield is the red harvest moon, suspended
So long beneath the heaven's overarching canopy.

Thy steps are by the farmer's prayers attended;
Like flames upon an altar shine the sheaves;
And, following thee, in thy oration splendid,
Thine anemone, the wind, scatters the golden leaves!

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

SMITH, BROWN AND ROBINSON

San Francisco Journal

Smith, Brown and Robinson and their friends of similar names do not seem to be getting into the newspaper as frequently as they used to. One seldom hears of these men as being the speakers at "radical" meetings. The new profession of bootlegger seems to have enlisted few experts bearing these names, or names even remotely resembling them, while in the murders and lesser crimes being recorded from day to day our old friends are strangely unrepresented.

It would seem that Smith, Brown and Robinson provide poor material for the outstanding activities of American life today. Where can they be? What are they doing?

Gunmen, bootleggers and yeggs of every description are running loose, and the day's record of crimes indicates the races and countries from which these intruders are derived. Professor Albert Bushnell Hart of Harvard University says that we must "turn to such communities as Sicily or Albania or Bessarabia to find a national fondness for crime equal to our own." Prohibition Director Hayes says that the crimes being committed today by aliens and Americans are in the proportion of four to one, respectively.

Smith, Brown and Robinson are for the time being submerged in their own deep thoughts. It is to be hoped that they and their fellows will soon emerge and enter the arena of public affairs, and give more direct the destinies of the country as they did in the days gone by. Never was there a dearer real for them than there is now.

Zerolene forms less carbon than any other motor oil known to us. As a result, the Zerolene-lubricated car may be driven from 15% to 50% farther without having the valves ground or the cylinders rebored.

Because Zerolene gives better lubrication continuously, it reduces wear to a minimum and permits the delivery of more engine power to the wheels on the ground, giving you more mileage from your gasoline.

"WOMAN OF BRONZE" AT UNITED THEATRE

"The Woman of Bronze" which comes to the United Theater tonight provides Clara Kimball Young with the greatest emotional opportunities of her career.

It is by far the most gripping, and at the same time the most difficult role Miss Young has ever played, and the result is her greatest screen triumph. It is filled with thrilling incidents, as one would expect in a story dealing with the at-

Leonard Hunt has begun work on a great Victory Memorial which is to enter into a million dollar prize contest but he is at a loss for a model for the central figure of the group until he sees Sylvia Morton. Sylvia consents to serve and a genuine attachment grows between the two. Vivian, his wife, realizes that he is not doing his best work until he is doing his best work with her.

As Sylvia comes to take Len away Vivian threatens her with a knife if she refuses to stop seeing Len.

The frightened girl escapes when the wife's anger subsides. Months later Len, repentant, comes back to Vivian. But Vivian has suffered greatly and her heart is chilled. Now it is Len's turn to seek to re-kindle the spark of love. The story rushes through to a moving climax, which employs all of Miss Young's powers as a supreme emotional actress.

Like an army, he travels on his stomach

THAT schoolboy of yours is "carrying on" a campaign every day. A campaign as tense and vigorous in its way as that of a full-fledged soldier in action. For he is putting into his daily battle with the three R's the most delicate machine in the world—a child's mind.

It is hard for grown-ups to realize the tremendous amount of energy and nerve force consumed by the average child in school—and out. The more energetic the child to learn the more energy he is burning up. And the more careful must be the re-charging of the mental battery.

Moreover, a child has a double need. First, he needs energy to repair his daily loss. Second, he needs plenty of reserve strength to grow on. So the food that goes into the schoolboy's stomach is the thing he travels on.

Wise parents realize their children cannot do justice to themselves—or their schoolwork—on a half-empty stomach. Nor an overburdened one! So, they choose for breakfast a cereal rich in energy, yet easy to digest. Such a rare combination is Germea: a tasty cereal that quickly releases food-energy without taxing or troubling the stomach.

It is "germ," the vital part, the very life of the wheat, that goes into Sperry Germea. The whole of the wheat has but 2% of "germ." Germea has 100%—five times as much life-energy! That is why an army of children is fed on Germea every morning. Are yours?

DRAWN BATTLE IN ACTION OVER LIME

It was a drawn battle today between the Torrance Lime and Portland Cement Co. and Fred Simpson, in the civil suit before Justice R. V. Williams, which opened yesterday. The company sued for payment of lime, and Sexton countered with a suit in which he charged that the time was inferior and that he had lost customers by selling it.

The pleas of both plaintiffs were denied.

"Homesites and Habitations"

THESE LOTS are priced absolutely right. Two east front lots in the close-in West tract at $1750 each, one east front in the pretty Palmdale tract at $1700; one half-torced residence site on South Palm at $1750; one lot in Monte Vista tract at only $1150. We deliver any of these on easy terms.

DISTINCTIVE AND INDIVIDUAL—A wonderful Spanish type home of exceptional beauty and arrangement. Blue sun finish, throughout main rooms; domed and specially finished ceilings; hardwood floors throughout; no better construction in the city at any price; built by quality home builders. The price of $8500 is only a few hundred dollars more than is asked for the ordinary house of similar size, but it shows several thousand dollars more of value. It will be a genuine pleasure to show this remarkable place.

NEW FIVE-ROOM—A fine one of unique design and large, well-located lot. This place embodies features found usually in higher-priced homes. Only $6200, with terms of $1000 cash, balance $50 per month, including interest.

ONE ACRE—A few blocks from the heart of town in a good residential district. The site of 19000 would be amply justified for location alone, but it is improved with small house. A profitable investment in every respect.

Kindly ask for Mr. Ambrose.
