Separatist Government in Rhineland Palatinate Today Claims Stage of Seige

OUTBREAK OF SHOOTING IN RESTAURENT

Heinz Orbis, Leader, and Five Prominent Germans Killed

SPEYER, Germany, Jan. 10.—The Separatist government in the Rhineland palatinate today proclaimed a state of siege following an outbreak of shooting in a restaurant when four persons, including Heinz Orbis, leader of the secessionists, were killed.

Three other persons were wounded.

The assailants, all masked, drove up to the restaurant in an automobile. They entered and began firing in the direction of the table where Orbis was dining.

Orbis fell from his chair at the first volley. He was dead when help reached him.

The men then fled in their car. Immediately after the outbreak the separatist regime began arresting prominent persons, holding them as hostages.

The French foreign office announced several days ago that several Germans had been arrested by French occupational troops in the Rhineland palatinate, belonging to a secret anti-separatist society in the Rhineland palatinate. The inter-allied council of ambassador was asked to investigate the activities of the society.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Heinz Orbis, leader of the German separatists in the Rhineland and five other prominent Rhinelanders have been assassinated, said a Central News dispatch from Berlin today.

The dispatch added that the Rhineland situation was growing very serious.

Butler Orders Philadelphia Police to Get Busy or Quit

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—Se- vere force down today, General Butler, Philadelphia's new director of public safety, marshalled his forces for a final drive in his war on vice and crime.

"Have philadelphia cleaned up by 3:30 o'clock this afternoon or hand me your resignation," he informed police district lieutenants over the telephone.

General Butler estimated 80% of the vice, which he declared "ran rampant" in every section of the city, had been driven to cover.

To get out the remaining 20%, he planned:

To raid known saloons daily, arrest all police characters on sight; "bust" every lieutenant, captain and sergeant in whose police district he discovers the "hid ajay".

General Butler today estimated between 5,000 and 6,000 men and women law violators had left the city during the last 48 hours.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—Brig. Gen. Smedley Butler's arch heralded war on vice and crime in Philadelphia crashed headlong into its first political opposition today.

Magistrate Edward P. Carney, political "buddy" of Mayor W. Freeland Kendrick, general Butler's sponsor, opened jail doors for the first of those arrested by General Butler's raiders.

At 3:30 p. m. General Butler went into conference with police Superintendents Mills and Myer Kendricks. Butler intimated he had dismissed six of his lieutenants but said there would be no official announcement until after the conference.

START DRIVE TO REVISE R. R. ACT

Demos and Radicals of G. O. P. Opposed to Esch-Cummins Law

(By William K. Hutchinson) (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The insurgent progressive drive to amend the Esch-Cummins act was formally launched in a bill this afternoon by Senator Robert M. La Follette, republican of Wisconsin.

La Follette's bill would completely reorganize existing methods of fixing railroad rates by arranging a schedule on the "basis of cost of service."

He said it would save the American people $200,000,000 a year in freight rates and possibly $1,000,000,000 a year in reduced cost of living.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Announcement of an energetic campaign to revise and repeal some sections of the transportation act came swiftly on the heels today of the election of a Democrat Senator Ellison D. Smith, of S. Carolina, to the chairmanship of the Interstate Commerce Committee in a Republican-controlled congress.

Smith's election by a coalition of Democrats and Republican insurgents apparently has made certain a railroad fight of far-reaching preparations in turbulent 68th congress. The Democrats are opposed to the Esch-Cummins bill as a matter of party policy, and the La Follette insurgents are rabid against it, thus placing the law's enemies in the majority in both houses.

Senator Brookhart, Republican of Iowa, who is acting manager more as the spokesmen for the insurgents, gave an outline of what the insurgents hope to accomplish thru a coalition with the Democrats.

"We have made a good start" said Brookhart. "There will be fewer party ties in this senate from now on than ever before in its history. We voted for Smith for the same reason we voted for

ROBBERY WAS CAREFULLY PLANNED

Believe Bandits Made Inspection of Bank at Tustin Friday

The Tustin bank robbery, in which two daylight bandits escaped with $2800, was carefully planned after an advance survey, it was believed today following a declaration by Mrs. W. M. Huntley, of Tustin, that she had seen a roughly dressed man, answering to the description of the bandit leader, gazing into the bank last Friday.

That the bandits escaped directly through Santa Ana, where they "melted" into the heavy traffic along the state highway, was the theory adopted by Sheriff Sam Jernigan in the light of evidence showing the fleeing robbers followed a course along Main street, Tustin, and Chestnut street, Santa Ana, after the hold-up.

The bandits, it appeared today, had made good their escape despite the light draught thrown over not only over Orange co. but thruout So. Calif. by Sheriff Jernigan. Posses that hurried out under the sheriff's orders to search every locality of the county in the hope of picking up the trail of the bandit car returned late last night, reporting that no vestige of a clue was to be found.

Mrs. Huntley's statement was viewed by the authorities as indicating possibly a general inspection of Orange co. communities by the bandits before their stroke was made at Tustin.

Mrs. Huntley said she was seated in the lobby of the First National Bank at Tustin last Friday, having called there to open her safety deposit box. While examining the contents of the box she happened to glance toward the door, she said, and saw a man of disreputable appearance and evil countenance standing just outside of the door and searching the interior of the bank with his gaze.

The man, she said, closely fit the description given of the stockily built, hard faced bandit who appeared to be the leader of the hold-up expedition at Tustin Saturday. He did not come to the side of the bank, she said, but after a rather extended and apparently careful scrutiny of the interior he hurried away.

Officials of the bank today announced, after a check of funds in the bank, that the losses were exactly $2,800, thus lowering the original estimate of between $3000 and $3500. The money taken consisted of $2,050 in currency, $600 in silver and $150 in gold. The currency included $500 in $1 bills the rest being in $5 and $10 bills with possibly one $50 bill, the officials said.

The bandits overlooked a sum as great as that they escaped with. The money taken was carried away in a gunny sack, which the bandit leader, a man of about 30 years of age, carried over one arm, concealing the pistol he carried.

After locking Cashier C. A. Vance, Assistant Cashier William Leinberger and Andrew J. Borchard in the bank vault, they hurried rapidly away in a waiting automobile, Borchard, a resident of Oxnard, had come to the bank seeking information just as the bandits were preparing to depart. They forced him into the vault with the officials.

Sheriff Jernigan's theory regarding the route of escape was formed after he heard the report of H. L. Craig of Tustin, who said he met a speeding car containing three men driving toward Santa Ana on Main street, Tustin, just after the robbery took place. Craig was positive that the car was a Reo.

Supposed to Have Been Dead Four Years, S. F. Broker Found

SEATTLE, Jan. 10.—Frank Simons, scion of a wealthy San Francisco family, former broker and popular clubman, who was supposed to have met death in the water of San Francisco Bay more than four years ago, has been located at Mount Vernon, north of this city, according to reports here today.

Mourned as dead by his wife and relatives and finally adjudged legally dead by the superior court of Marin county, which administered his estate, including $5000 insurance, Simons has been working in and out of Seattle under the name of Frank P. Simmons, in the varied occupations of clerk, radio operator and accountant. The insurance has been repaid to the company from funds of the estate.

For the last two years he has been employed by the Shell Oil Co., his present position being that of traveling auditor.

According to word from Mount Vernon, Simons admitted that he was the missing San Francisco broker. He refused to discuss why he had chosen this manner of his disappearance, or his plans for the future.

His many friends here declare that difficulties with his wife and family, after his return from war service with the marines, impelled him to plan the melodramatic simulated death, and to attempt to carve out a new life for himself in the northwest.

Simons' supposed death occurred in November, 1919 when a complete outfit of his clothing was discovered lying on the beach at Belvedere, fashionable San Francisco suburb.

LARGE CROWDS AT TABERNACLE

The evangelistic meetings being conducted by Evangelists Root and Simmons are attracting large hearings and creating a deep interest in the community. Mr. Simmons is surpassing all expectations as a leader of tone and soloist. His song services are enthusiastic and spiritual, and he has a faculty of getting folks to sing. After his solo Sunday night the large audience broke out in applause. Mrs. Simmons is his able accompanist.

Each night Evangelist Root calls for the number of Scripture verses read during the day, and thousands of verses are reported at each service. He lays especial emphasis on the teaching of the Bible and invites his hearers to measure every message by that Book. He uses no cheap, claptrap methods, but depends solely on the power of the Gospel to win. No personal work is done during the invitation hymn, which is a welcome feature to the many non-church members who are attending.

In his sermon on "The Leprosy of Sin" he showed that sin is like leprosy in that both have small beginnings; both are contagious; both are incurable by man; both are separative, dividing homes, friends and man from God; and the final result of each is the same, namely, death. "The wages of sin is death." He stated that Naaman was like many today, hoping to buy salvation, going to the wrong place to find it, expecting God to come to their terms, refusing absolute obedience, desiring to substitute their opinions for the revealed will of God and wanting a great demonstration to be made over them when they come into the church.

New German Oil Formula Rubs Out Rheumatic Pains

Local Druggists Give Written Guarantee to Refund Money if First Application Fails to Bring Relief

A remarkably new discovery now promises quick, soothing relief to Rheumatic Sufferers. German chemistry that has given to the world the boon of Aspirin for the relief of headache pains, and novocaine for painless dentistry, has now come forward with another scientific discovery that is absolutely guaranteed to end rheumatic pains.

This marvelous discovery, known as Buhler Oil is a new combination of certain rare oils, which produces a clear amber liquid that is applied with the finger tips. It is so penetrating that it disappears within a few seconds, so it must be entirely absorbed by the body tissues. Results are truly amazing! Tired muscles regain life, creaking joints become supple, annoying twinges cease. Even the most advanced, stubborn cases show astonishing improvement almost at once.

Rheumatism, it has been found in an enormous number of cases, is due to toxic poison formed in the intestines, which are carried by the blood to the muscles and joints—and the new German oil is designed to neutralize these pain-causing poisons.

So amazing have been the results from this German discovery that American distributors have authorized local druggists to offer it under a positive written guarantee, signed by the druggist himself, to refund the purchase price if even the first application fails to bring prompt and gratifying relief.

If you suffer from stabbing rheumatic pains in the arms, legs and muscles—if your back sometimes feels as if it would break in two—if your joints rasp and torture you—then by all means try a bottle of Buhler Oil today. You'll never want to be without it.

Remember—it is sold under an absolute written guarantee from your druggist. If it fails to give you relief after the first application, your druggist will refund the money without question. This city Buhler Oil can be purchased under this written guarantee from good druggists such as Seerp Bros.—J. S. Ward; Anaheim Pharmacy — Heying Pharmacy.

Why Chiros Cannot Obtain Licenses

That the will of the people is being thwarted by the injunction tying up the Board of Chiropractic Examiners was charged by several Anaheim chiropractic practicioners today.

"Chiropractors are perfectly satisfied with the law the people of this state gave us last November by a majority of 150,000 ballots, even tho the Board of Chiropractic Examiners has been unseated temporarily on a technicality by court order thru a suit brot by "drugless practicioners," declared Dr. Coleman today.

"There are a number of very competent members of the chiropractic profession in Anaheim and Orange, who have been unable to obtain licenses because of this injunction," continued Dr. Coleman. "On the other hand, the way has been left wide open at present for many unscrupulous "drugless practicioners" and so-called chiropractors.

"This situation, embarrassing both to the public and to legitimate chiropractic practicioners, of course cannot be remedied until the injunction has been removed and the Board of Chiropractic Examiners again functions.

BREED ACT MAY BE RETROACTIVE

If the supreme court confirms the reversal of decision by the third district court of appeal and gives traffic officers their former status of state traffic officers, its action will not be retroactive, C. N. Morley, deputy district attorney, said today.

At present, said Morley, the officers have again become attached to Sheriff Sam Jernigan's office, and are being paid by the county, as they were before the Breed motor vehicle act took effect.

The appellate court upheld the constitutionality of the act in the provision in question and ordered State Controller Ray L. Riley to honor the warrant of Thomas Ryan, Sacramento traffic officer, whose case was made a test.

Riley, it is considered sure, will appeal to the supreme court. He said so recently, and is not believed to have changed his mind.

District Attorney A. P. Nelson has said all along that the appointment of the former county traffic officers as state officers was unconstitutional, because the funds from which they were to be paid were county and not state monies.

INFLUENZA VICTIM

Mrs. Almina A. Himes, 84, mother of L. S. Himes, undertaker, and Mrs. S. E. Pinkerton, both of Fullerton, died at her home at Santa Ana, shortly after midnight of influenza. Mrs. Himes had been ill several days at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lucy Thompson, 1211 West Fourth street, Santa Ana.

SNOWBALL BATTLE STAGED AT CAPITAL—NO CASUALTIES

Congress, which opened with a bitter fight over the house floor leadership, has just witnessed another real battle—a snowball fight. It was staged between sessions by the Democrats and Republicans. But no congressmen suffered injuries as it was put on by the pages of the members of both parties. The judges returned a secret verdict.

If the Missouri son finds it possible to make the trip funeral services will be delayed to Monday, otherwise services will be held Friday, probably at Fullerton.

1800-BBL. WELL AT LONG BEACH

Long Beach's biggest thrill for the last week was the 1800-barrel well completed by the Petroleum Midway. The Foster holdings of the Petroleum Midway has produced some wonderful wells, No. 1-2 at 5007 proved no exception to the run of the Foster producers coming in at the above big figure and producing 26 gravity oil. The Foster well is another deep sand triumph for the field and the Petroleum Midway.

The Henderson Petroleum Syndicate continue to share in the best successes of the Long Beach field. Completing Hoover No. 2 at 4500 feet, a 1500-barrel well resulted. M. H. Soyster, former state oil and gas supervisor handled the geological work for the Henderson-Hoover well, and to him is given credit for getting a good well in territory that was somewhat doubtful on account of the water menace.

With the United Oil Co.'s western extension well, Bixby No. 1 over 4800 feet deep, the outlook for the northwest section of the field has not improved. This test well has been looked upon for some little time to hold the key to northwestern development, and unless it shows up better soon the outlook becomes rather doubtful.

The California Drilling Co. has started an innovation for drilling company at Long Beach. This drilling concern has installed a complete and up-to-the-minute field shop, where all its drilling equipment can be repaired and kept in condition on the ground all the time. The California Drilling Co. has a number of wells drilling in the field, the most important being the Bolsa Chica, the Bonded, and the Long Beach Petroleum Syndicate.

PLAN WAREHOUSE IN FULLERTON

A ten-year lease on a warehouse site has been obtained from the Union Pacific in Fullerton, by the Van Dien-Young Co., of Santa Ana, dealers in building improvements, it is announced. The date to begin construction has not yet been announced. The company plans by this means greatly to improve its service in Northern Orange co. The capital stock has been increased from $50,000 to $200,000 it is said.

FULLERTON POST INSTALLS OFFICERS

Fullerton Post of the American Legion last night installed officers: Sam L. Collins, commander; Ed. Nelson, first vice commander; E. M. Buffum, second vice commander; Oscar Crooks, adjutant; Gaylord Rohrer, treasurer; R. W. Peck, sergeant-at-arms; Bob Ridenour, parliamentarian; and R. H. Miller, chaplin. The new entertainment committee for the year is composed of Gerdon McClellan, chairman; E. M. Buffum, Ed. Nelson and A. G. Cook.

GET BIG WELL IN TORRANCE FIELD

By E. J. Munger

The discovery company of the Torrance-Lomita field took the production honors this week. The Chanslor-Canfield Midway put a 1500 barrel well on production on the Kettler property. If Kettler No. 1 is an index to the property the lease will add quite materially to the output of the Torrance-Lomita field. Kettler No. 1 is located in the eastern end of the field. Completed at a depth in excess of 3,000 feet the well is making 25 gravity, clean oil. On the Torrance lease the C. C. M. O. got a nice producer at No. 25. Completed at 3700 feet No. 25 is making 1000 barrels.

As an example of how close and town lot drilling is effecting the output of new wells in the central Lomita section of the field, the case of the Cheeot Oil Trust's well is sighted. Drilled to the same depth as neighboring wells and brought in with the same care and attention the Cheeot well started off at 350 barrels.

Contrary to the reports current on the corner well the Federal Drilling Company will not make a deep test. Drilled to 3870 feet the Gerner well developed water. It is the intention to cone back 100 feet and cement off producing the well from the upper zone. Operators seem a bit skeptical about trying for deep sand production in the Lomita section of the field, and it seems the Federal Drilling Company has no intention to lead off.

Two wells, the first drilled by the Julian Petroleum Corporation at Torrance did not come up to expectations by any means. No. 6 a southwest line test well went to 3762, found a little oil, not enough to make a flowing well. It is the intention to put in tubing carrying a packer in order to see if some gas pressure cannot be accumulated that will assist the well to produce. Julian No. 1 formerly known as the Torrance-Lomita Royalty Syndicate went below the 2300 mark, looked rather good, but when put on production the best it would do was to bail some heavy oil.

Deep test drilling on the western and northern outskirts of the Torrance field in the hands of the Union and Standard has not met with any success. The Union Oil Company's Weston well has passed the 5400 mark and not found anything. The Standard Oil Company's Felkner No. 1 at better than 5200 feet is not showing anything that looks like oil.

VISITOR PLEASED AT CITY'S GROWTH

Clifton Probst will leave for his home in Hamilton co., Nebr., Friday, after a short visit here with his aunt, Mrs. M. Probst, of Olive rd. This is the young man's first visit to Anaheim in 12 years and he sees great improvement over the community.

Mr. Probst, who is a farmer, tells that many places in his locality were hard hit by the recent financial situation, and are very eager concerning their coming summer's crops.

DAILY GREETING TO OUR READERS

Oh! it is a great thing to realize that the Divine Power is always working; that Nature in every valve and every artery is full of the presence of God.—Edwin H. Chapin.

This is leap year. But who's afraid?

One earthquake in Italy lasted thirty-six hours. Sufficient to make the stoutest nerves shaky.

Preventable fires entail enormous losses upon this country. Carefulness with fire should be enjoined upon all.

President Coolidge breaks his silence only when he deems it necessary or expedient. No President ever had better control over his tongue.

Brutal crimes should be prevented in this state. It is not enough to prepare elaborate machinery to hunt down criminals after crimes have been committed. There should be effective measures to prevent the perpetrating of heinous offenses of lawlessness and violence.

Politics is absorbing the political leaders and would-be leaders. The people are taking their politics quite calmly. This is going to be a lively campaign year, but not the hurraking type of twenty and thirty years ago. The people read more now, and form their judgments more calmly.

If Henry Ford is not a Presidential candidate—there is little probability now that he will be—he would make a very useful man in the Cabinet of the next President, whoever may be the next President. A great many feel that Mr. Ford is a more valuable man to the country out of politics than he would be in politics. This, of course, is debatable. But he surely would be useful in some responsible capacity at Washington, with a free hand in directing business affairs of the government. Why not schedule him for director of the budget, or secretary of the treasury?

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

By Roy K. Moulton

THE IMPERMANENT WAVE

He once did sport a fiery mane,
His reddish hair had waves;
His mass of curls drove men insane,
They made the girls his slaves.
But that was many years ago,
When he was but a lad,
And times have changed a lot, you know—
So has the hair he had.

The tide recedes; it ebbs and flows,
Just like his "waves"—so called.
Now when he doffs his hat, he shows
A head completely bald.
And times have changed a lot, you know
—Arthur N. Kober

PARAGRAPHS

(By Robert Quillen)

Sophistication: A collection of burnt flowers.

Sweet are the uses of adversity. A toothache makes you forget the heartache.

Man's emancipation always goes to his head; woman's settles in her trigger finger.

An old-timer is one who can remember when the height of luxury was to take a hot iron to bed.

The old-fashioned woman who kept house now has a daughter who doesn't keep anything but going.

The final "e" in blonde is silent. A man who married one says it is the only thing about her that is silent.

They say some bricks laid 200 years ago look as good as new. You can say that for a cold-storage egg.

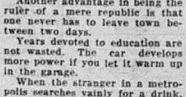

About all you can say for the University of Hard Knocks is that it turns out some proficient knockers.

Necessity is the mother of invention. There were no oil heaters until there were steam-heated apartments.

Destiny licked Napoleon at Waterloo. Perhaps it is to give ordinary folk a chance that you are held down.

When the village paper says the bride is talented, it means she knows how to cut a pattern and make biscuit.

"Ours" is the word used by an ordinary wife, but not by the wife who inherits a few thousand dollars.

You can't always tell. In the case of every henpecked husband we know, the bride's mother wept at the wedding.

Another advantage in being the ruler of a mere republic is that one never has to leave town between two days.

Years devoted to education are not wasted. The car develops more power if you let it warm up in the garage.

When the stranger in a metropolis searches vainly for a drink, it is little consolation to read that prohibition can't be enforced.

COUGHS—COLDS—"FLU"

Watch out for "Flu" and pneumonia now. Check coughs or colds quick. McMullin's Formula always reliable. Have it handy. Nothing better for weak lungs, bronchial troubles or asthma. FEDERALS MARCH ON VERA CRUZ

(By Arthur Costantine)
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 10.—More than 10,000 federal troops under General Eugenio Martinez began their "on-to-Vera Cruz" march today.

San Marcos, in the state of Tlaxcala, is being used as the federal base.

Federal airplanes preceded the advance, dropping bombs.

War Secretary Serrano said the rebels did not give battle but retired.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10—An official dispatch to the Mexican consulate here today stated that Sabinas, Coahuila, has been retaken from the Mexican rebels by loyalists under General Perez whose forces are now pursuing the rebels.

Efforts are being made by the rebels to cut Mexico City off from the border to prevent transportation of supplies for the expected attack on Vera Cruz, the dispatch said, but declared the public service remains normal in the northern states.

DRIVE TO REVISE RAILROAD ACT

LaFollette and Couzens; namely, to rewrite, if not repeal the Esch-Cummins act.

"It was not a partisan question to use, but one of railroad policy. Senator Smith stands with us on that policy. We tried for five weeks to reach a compromise with the old guard leadership, but they refused even to discuss the question with us. When they persisted in refusing to call a parley, we gave our support to a progressive Democrat to end the deadlock and start action upon our railroad program. We look upon the result as a victory for progressives.

"The railroad policy, for which we stand and which Senator Smith has endorsed, is based on the repeal of the vital clauses of the Esch-Cummins act," said Brookhart. "We will seek also to squeeze the $7,000,000,000 of water out of railroad valuations, abolish the railroad labor board in favor of a conciliation board and force a reduction in railroad rates."

Senator Smith, who was the first member of a senate minority ever to be elected chairman of a major committee, announced this morning he would issue a statement later in the day.

The insurgents voiced defiance of "political punishment" from their own party. LaFollette, they said, is more powerful than the party in Wisconsin; Brookhart won over organized Republican opposition in Iowa; Ladd and Frazier are supreme in North Dakota, while Shipstead and Johnson are farmer-laborites who defeated the Republican party in Minnesota.

These were the six senators whose bolt elected Smith. In addition, the insurgents claimed Senators Norris and Howell, of Nebraska; Gooding and Borah of Idaho; Capper of Kansas; Johnson, California; Couzens, Michigan, and Norbeck, South Dakota, would support in part at least, their program on railroad legislation. They likewise claimed a majority in the interstate commerce committee itself.

With the committee split, ten Republicans and seven Democrats the insurgents declared Senators La Follette, Gooding, Couzens and Howell would join the Democrats in reporting "progressive railroad legislation" against this majority, however, the insurgents were prepared to meet one and possibly two disaffections from the Democratic ranks on the committee. Their least optimistic tabulation, tho, would give them a nine to eight majority in the committee room and a resulting control in the drafting of all railroad legislation.

RACE WOMAN FOR BURIED TREASURE

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—A race between a beautiful woman in a large auto and deputy sheriffs of Los Angeles co, for a buried treasure, alleged to be the loot of numerous burglaries said to have been committed by Fred Rubio and Harry Lewis, now in San Quentin, developed today when the sheriffs' office was notified that a mysterious woman was seen digging early today on a vacant lot near the town of Bell, adjacent to Long Beach.

According to witnesses, the woman lugged several sacks of dirt to her machine and when questioned as to who she was and what she wanted the woman is said to have explained she wanted the dirt for a flower bed.

The woman is said to have been seen at the exact location, where, according to a map in possession of the officers, the convicts are alleged to have buried their treasure, claimed to be worth $30,000, consisting of $5000 in currency and valuable jewels.

Lewis and Rubio are said to have drawn the map of their treasure trove in company with a third confederate, who is now under arrest here, but whose identity was not revealed.

"Ku Klux Klan."

Informed that there was no such recognized party, he declined to state any affiliation.

"I don't know just how to go about it, but I want to register with the Ku Klux Klan party," Bradley said, and seemed surprised when told that he could not do so.

"Well, then, I'll not register with any particular party," he said. "I want to vote for the Ku Klux Klan. I hear they are going to run a man for president."

DINNER STORIES

When Paderewski was on his last visit to Boston, it is related, he was approached by a bootblack who called,

"Shine?"

The great pianist first refused, but when the bootblack became persistent, he looked down at the youth, whose face was streaked with grime and said:

"No, my lad, but if you will wash your face I will give you a quarter.

All right, exclaimed the youth, who forwith ran to a neighboring fountain and made his ablutions. When he returned Paderewski held out the quarter, which the boy took but immediately handed back, saying:

"Here, Mister, you take it yourself and get your hair cut."

An Irish soldier had lost an eye in battle, but was allowed to continue in the service on consenting to have a glass eye in its place. One day, however, he appeared on parade without his artificial orb.

"McGinnity," said the officer sternly, "you are not properly dressed. Why is your artificial eye not in its place."

McGinnity was not lost for an explanation.

"Sure, sir," he said, "I left it in me box to keep an eye on me kit while I'm on parade."

DAINTY ACCESSORIES ADD CHARM TO FROCKS

It is a well known fact that many an otherwise unattractive frock is "made" by a smart collar and cuff set or other accessory. On the left is shown a tailored set that would appeal to the business woman or the practical home body. On the right is one of embroidery and lace that is very dainty and feminine.

And in the center is the ornamental "bib" of embroidered net and lace that is particularly effective on a simple black dress, transforming it from a businesslike gown to a near party one. These deep berthas of lace and net are very useful when one has a frock one cannot afford to throw away but is not quite satisfactory as to the fit of the front.

LOCAL BOY BACK FROM CONVENTION

Lowll Schmid, son of Rev. and Mrs. J. G. Schmid, of Salem Evangelical church, returned last evening from the National Y. M. C. A. convention in Indianapolis, Ind., where he was a delegate sent by the Fullerton Junior college student volunteer organization.

Prominent Y. M. C. A. men from all over the world were present, and more than 6000 delegates. Principal among the speakers were Robert E. Speer, John R. Mott, Sherwood Eddy and others. The convention spirit was remarkable and the messages those young men carry back to their organizations will be beneficial and inspiring.

Mr. Schmid mentioned his personal pleasure during the journey. The weather was fine until the last day of December when the cold wave hit the country, and in Chicago where he visited two days, the thermometer fell to 24 degrees below zero. As this was the young man's first experience in cold weather since he was six years old, he was rather uncomfortable and heartily glad to return to his sunny home in California.

OBITUARY

More Details Concerning Man Who Platted Laurel Townsite and Occupied Prominent Position in Business Life Of Early Eastern Montana

(LAUREL MONTANA OUTLOOK)

Edgar B. Camp, who platted the townsite of Laurel and for many years was one of the leading business men of Billings, closed his earthly chapter on Dec. 23, 1923, at his home for the last eight years on the Camphaven rancho, four miles west of Anaheim, Calif.

He was born, Nov. 25, 1856 in Bloomington, Ill., the son of Edgar B. and Mary (Porter) Camp, both natives of the Empire state.

His grandfather was Elisha Camp, a colonel of the war of 1812, and two of the latter's brothers, each a colonel in the Civil war, were buried at Arlington cemetery, Washington, with military honors. His father, a banker, lost his health and died at the age of 36, shortly after leaving his native home, Sackets Harbor, N. W., for the then far west, Illinois.

Mr. Camp's mother was born and educated in New York city, where she lived until her marriage, a daughter of David C. Porter, a wealthy business man of that city, and Rose Ann Hardy, daughter of Sir William Hardy of England. The families on both sides were noted for their literary attainments, and their descendants are known down to these later years. Miss Rose Porter, whose death occurred Sept. 9, 1906, at her home in New Haven, Conn., was a well known authoress of some 40-odd books. Mrs. Laura Porter Sanford of Geano, Italy, although only having published me volume of poetry in her own name, was sought for as a contributor to noted magazines and papers. Both the latter were sisters of Mr. Camp's mother. Mr. Camp certainly had cause for pride in the religious, musical, art and literary attainments of his ancestors.

Mr. Camp was reared in Illinois living at Odell, Normal and Pontiac, and in that state he received his education in the public schools. On leaving school he was employed in a dry goods store in Pontiac five years, and in the spring of 1880 engaged in the real estate, loan and insurance business in Pontiac. In the fall of 1881 he disposed of his interests and came to Montana, arriving Nov. 21, 1881, at Glendive. He worked in the Northern Pacific railroad yards and the first day's work was helping load three cars of buffalo hides. Finding the employment too heavy work, he pushed on to Miles City, reaching there on the first train to enter that place following the construction outfit which had reached there the day before, Nov. 30, 1881. Here he found employment with Miles and Strevell in the hardware business, remaining with the firm until February 26, 1882. He then formed a partnership with Arthur W. Miles, now of Livingston, who was then postmaster's clerk at Fort Keogh. Mr. Camp then proceeded to Coulson, then lively frontier town located on the Yellowstone river, two miles east of the now city of Billings, traveling by stage a distance of 160 miles, being followed by merchandise hauled by freight teams from Miles City, and on arrival he opened a hardware store in a tent. Later he was able to secure some green cottonwood lumber costing $60 a thousand, and erected a frame store building. Here he remained waiting for the town of Billings to develop. As soon as lots were placed on the market and a townsite laid out he moved the stock and on May 12, 1882, opened the initial store in Billings. He disposed of his interest in the business that summer to Mr. Miles. At that time he also became interested in a brick yard, known as the firm of Camp and Peany, the first yard in the Yellowstone valley. They manufactured the brick for the Northern Pacific roundhouse and many of the first brick buildings in Billings.

In October of that year, 1882, he re-entered the hardware business in partnership with his brother, Charles D. Camp, under the firm name of Camp Brothers, and this became one of the largest concerns in eastern Montana, erecting and occupying the entire building that is now known as the Commercial hotel, corner of Montana avenue and Twenty-sixth street.

On Jan. 15, 1887, after having retired from the above mentioned firm, Edgar B. Camp, purchased the plant of the Gazette Publishing company which had just consolidated with the other three newspapers, the Post, Herald and Rustler, thus becoming the owner of all the papers published in Yellowstone county. He conducted the Gazette daily and weekly for one year, then discontinued the daily edition, but continued the weekly, known as the Montana Stock Gazette until in September, 1888, he disposed of all his interests to E. H. Becker. Among the old, highly valued books of Mr. Camp's library are found the earliest printed collections of Billings' first newspapers.

During the years from March 4, 1885 to March 4, 1887, Mr. Camp was also treasurer of Yellowstone county, besides being alderman for a time and was elected mayor of Billings in 1888, which position he filled until Jan. 1889. He removed from the city, with his family, living at various times at Helena, Spokane and Chicago, returning from the latter city to Billings in March, 1897, and became a permanent annual event.

Surviving is the widow, Mrs. Edgar B. Camp, a daughter, Ruth Camp Bandini of Anaheim and son, Gilman L. Camp of Butte, Mont., a brother Charles D. Camp who has been residing and making his home for the past three months with Mr. Camp at the orange grove.

Having been recognized by his fellow citizens as a man of enterprise, ever ready to promote all projects designed for the public good, his death leaves a gap that will be hard to fill for some time to come.

Culture is what makes you think it wonderful if it is a genuine Rembrandt and rotten if it isn't.

ANXIETY OVER U. S. SEIZURE OF SHIPS

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Foreign office officials admitted today that recurring seizures of British ships by the American prohibition authorities is "causing much anxiety and endangering the proposed Anglo-American rum running treaty."

Officials characterized the American ship seizures as "high handed, illegal acts which have given rise to considerable irritation in British government circles." This feeling of resentment, it was claimed, is not confined to England, but is spreading thruout the British Empire.

London believes that the seizures were not ordered by Washington but were the result of over-zealous local officials.

MEDICAL JOURNAL RAPS GLAND ACT

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—Expulsion of "advertising alleged aland specialists" from the medical societies was urged in the leading editorial of the January issue of the California State Journal of Medicine published today.

Tracing thru the ages of antiquity the many "life-giving elixers" which thruout the ages have been heralded as "fountains of youth," the editorial says:

"The youth-restoring milk from the goats of antiquity has been replaced by an easier but no more certain use of the goats' glands.

"Aged flappers, male and female, with the sagging tissues of their necks 'hooked up' by surgeons and their expired wrinkles ironed out by massage until they look like billikens, insure plenty of propaganda that is utilizable," as "exhibits." They apparently bask in the notoriety they gain from the pathetic exposition of their pictures and senile statements to the public. Their careers are usually short, because the old article so on hardening, the crevices and joints continue to stiffen and the brain continues to soften all the more rapidly because they are unnaturally speeded up and not allowed to grow old gracefully."

The editorial severely criticizes "the attitude and conduct of some physicians in California and elsewhere" which it declares is causing many people to "jeopardize their health and squander their funds for a new youth that is no more sustainable by the use of monkey glands, goat glands, or what not, than it was for those other silly fools who followed the incantations of the Nile doctors."

PICKWICK STAGES PLAN BIG HOTEL

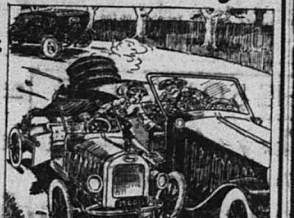

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 10.—This city has been selected as the site of a new hotel and motor bus station to be erected by the Pickwick Stage Co. at a cost of approximately $1,000,000, according to J. S. Rodman, Pickwick representative here.

The Santa Barbara station will be one of a chain along the Pacific coast to be organized to facilitate stage travel. It is said

The first part of January should be a good time for the publishers to sell these books on will-power.

"ACREAGE AND OIL"

We have several pieces of land, some in trees, improved and unimproved, adjoining active drilling operations in the Anaheim field. Most of these are favorably leased with cash rental to responsible oil companies. Priced at what the places are actually worth as acreage or groves, if oil is found in this territory, and many responsible and experienced oil men believe it will be, it would take a bank roll as big as a bale of hay to even talk of buying these parcels of land. Why not talk business now while they can be bought right.

"PIONEER TRAILS"

A PULSATING STORY OF THE EARLY WEST WITH

Alice Calhoun

Cullen Landis

TONIGHT RUBE MILLER'S COUNTRY STORE

and

"AT THE SIGN OF THE JACK O'LANTERN"

LANDIS PROVES EXPERT IN SADDLE, SAVES GIRL

Cullen Landis proves himself an excellent horseman in "Pioneer Trails," a Vitagraph special production, which will be shown at the United Theatre on Friday and Saturday.

The play demands a thrilling episode in which Landis halts a runaway stage coach, saving the lives of the occupants. Landis is called upon to race up to the stage and leap on the back of one of the leading horses and halt them in their flight.

During the making of this scene along a precipitous roadway in the mountains, Cullen misjudged the distance in leaping to the stage horse. The momentum of the jump carried him well over the horse in front. For a moment he hung by his hand downward between the wildly galloping animals. He struggled desperately to regain his balance, while the six horses drawing the coach raced on unchecked as the reins were broken.

For many moments it seemed as if Landis and the occupants of the coach would be hurled to death as the stage raced around dangerous mountain curves. Gradually, by sheer strength, Landis slowly regained his balance, and threw himself astride one of the horses. He seized the reins and by dragging on them with all his weight he succeeded in getting the horses under control and in finally stopping the stage.

Alice Calhoun and Dwight Crittenden were two prominent stars who were riding in the coach when this near mishap occurred. Cameramen and other members of the cast who were watching the taking of this daring scene were literally on their knees praying for the lives of those on the coach when for a time it appeared all would be hurled over the mountain side to a terrible death.

This action forms an important sequence in the story of "Pioneer Trails." Through it Jack Flaire, played by Cullen Landis, meets Rose Miller (Alice Calhoun), the heroine, and falls in love with her.

"Pioneer Trails" is a story of the early West, when the man with the quick-draw and ready courage ruled. It portrays skillfully the life of that period and presents a story that is replete with thrills and human touches as well as an absorbing love theme. An Indian attack on a prairie caravan, the stage coach runaway and a leap down a chasm are high lights of the thrills in the photoplay. The picture is another David Smith production.

FAST TEAM WILL BATTLE ANAHEIM

Barry's Classy Hats, one of the fastest semi-pro teams in Los Angeles, will contest with Anaheim Merchants Sunday at the High School field. The lineup will include: Barnes, ss; Dunning, 2b, who is contracted to Salt Lake; Agee, 1, sought by several league clubs; Ruddy, c; Ruddy, p; Bates, rf., who goes to Seattle; Sharna, 3; Casey, c; Trautwine, p, of Vernon.

Local fans are congratulating Manager Vic Ruedy over the placing of Doty Bush with the Denver club of the Western league. Ruedy and Ray Falks of the Denver club are former teammates. Ruedy urged Falks to Bush's abilities with the result that Anaheim's crack infielder will report for spring training in March.

Ruedy had a contract in his pocket for another league club but Falks acted first. Ruedy says Bush is going to a nice berth where he will be given every opportunity to make good. He will find Joe Berger, the man who developed Jimmy McDowell, the best kind of an infield coach.

C. C. DIRECTORS MEET TONIGHT

Reports of the transportation, road and membership committees will feature tonight's meeting of C. of C. directors at the Elks Clubhouse.

Secretary George W. Reid hopes to have the directors endorse the proposal to extend N. Lemon-st. to join with Harvard-ave., Fullerton, and approve a resolution in favor of the interchange system among the three railways in the city with corresponding low rates.

Miss Luelle Nenno of Secretary Reid's office, who has been interviewing prospects for new members, will make a report.

Reid made public a letter from Secretary J. L. Swarthout of the Anaheim Realty Board in which the latter approves Reid's rebuke to the Riverside Chamber for belittling Anaheim on a map recently published. The letter says in part: "We Realtors in the city of Anaheim thank you, and greatly appreciate the manner in which you so efficiently handled this matter.

"Hoping that we may have the opportunity to co-operate with you in every way for the good of our community," etc.

CHANGE OWNERSHIP OF PIGGLY WIGGLY

MEMPHIS, Jan. 10.—Possibility of complete change of ownership for the Piggly-Wiggly stores loomed today when it was announced in financial circles here that Norman Staples, who a few months ago came here in the guise of a minor employe, is in reality a multi-millionaire, said to be representing certain New York interests which seek to obtain control of the corporation.

The belief was current in financial circles here that the headquarters of Piggly-Wiggly will be moved to New York in the event Staples acquires control.

MELLON TAX ACT MAY NOT PASS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The Mellon plan of tax reduction has met such formidable opposition in both senate and house that Republican leaders were privately conceding today it cannot be passed in its present form.

Congress will reduce taxes. That much is assured by all factions. And the program laid down by Secretary Mellon will afford the basis of reduction, but the coalition between Democrats and La Follette insurgents, now a matter of record, has virtually assured the defeat of many of the Mellon rates. Republican leaders are not acknowledging defeat publicly, as that would be "bad strategy" but in the privacy of cloakrooms and conference rooms it is conceded.

As a result of the developments during the week that congress has been back from the holidays, the consensus of opinion among republicans, democrats and progressives today was that an finally adopted the tax reduction will represent a compromise between the Mellon plan and the Democratic plan—particularly with respect to sur taxes on large incomes.

Secretary Mellon proposed these sur taxes be reduced from 50% to 25%. The democrats proposed 44%. The La Follette insurgents was 65%.

As matters stood today, it appears probable to both democrats and republican leaders that a compromise between 25% and 44% is the most likely solution and the suggested figure is 40%.

While the republicans are in nation control of this situation actually the democrats are more powerful than the republicans for the reason that the democratic plan of heavy reduction on small incomes and only slight reductions on the so-called "millionaire incomes" more nearly coincides with what the insurgents want. The democratic plan has been shrewdly drawn with just that object in mind.

How confident the democrats and insurgents are of their power may be gauged from the fact that they are now privately discussing the possibility of passing a tax reduction measure over a possible veto from President Coolidge.

Should such a situation arise, it would admittedly create political chaos.

Meanwhile the war in the house as to whether taxation or a soldiers bonus shall have the right-of-way continued unceasingly today.

A showdown will come tonight in the republican conference where the question will be voted upon. Administration leaders are confident they have enough votes to defeat the bonus advocates but their claims are not conceded by the bonus forces.

Non-partisan observers, however, believe the administration forces will come thru successfully with a measure which will empower a committee to go ahead with the tax legislation.

The bonus advocates admittedly have lost ground during the week congress has been back on the job. When congress adjourned for the holidays, even administration leaders admitted there was little possibility of sidetracking the bonus.

Today, however, it appeared the bonus will be delayed. Bonus leaders attribute their lost ground to the veritable deluge of letters and telegrams which have been descending upon congress for a month demanding quick action on tax reduction.

Most of these letters have been from chambers of commerce, bankers associations, manufacturers organizations, real estate boards and other societies identified with business interests and it is said by bonus leaders that they have made a distinct impression upon all members of the house who come up for re-election in November.

MRS. ALMIRA HIMES DIES

Mrs. Almira A. Himes, 84, of Santa Ana died Tuesday midnight at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lucy Thompson, of Santa Ana. The body is being held at the McAulay funeral parlors, Fullerton pending funeral arrangements.

LOCAL GIRLS IN TITULAR CONTEST

Coach Irene Jarques and her cage rosers went to Santa Ana this afternoon determined to win the county league basketball title or know why. Anaheim has an excellent team and should take the game. Garden Grove, the opponent, has been practicing hard.

The local girls are in the pink of condition. Irma Young, one of the local quintette, started in the line-up. Her injured knee is still sore at times but she thought it well enough to play.

CARPENTIER MAY FIGHT GIBBONS

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—A bout between Tom Gibbons, St. Paul heavyweight challenger, and Georges Carpentier, the exotic bombardier, was looking mightily today as the result of a conference between Eddie Kane, Gibbons' manager, and Tex Rickard.

It is almost certain that Gibbons and Carpenter will oblige in the opening number of the outdoor season and it may be that Thomas will take on Tuney or the Carden within six weeks.

Kane would neither deny nor affirm the foregoing program.

"Gibbons will take on Tunney, McTigue, Grib, Renault and in fact the entire field," Kane said. "After that, Dempsey. We are making no secret of the fact that our campaign is directed toward another match with the champion.

"However, I want to say now that I have been negotiating with Jim Mullen, western promoter, and will take no definite action until I hear further from him."

This last statement is said to come under the head of sweet peas garnished with apple sauce.

Gibbons is again in need of "background" following his inactivity after sticking 15 rounds with Dempsey at Shelby. Only Rickard can supply the need. He has most of the big timers, including Carpentier, locked in his office safe and it is altogether unlikely that Dempsey himself will attempt to do business with another promoter.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS

PERMANENT DECREE

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 10.—Judge Chester W. Burrows, today ordered absolute and permanent the suspension of Nina Wilcox Putnam-Sanderson's divorce decree which temporarily was suspended a week ago.

The action came after investigation into Rhode Island's divorce laws. Several persons, during the past few months have made this state their residence for the purpose of obtaining decrees.

42 FIRES IN '23; TOTAL LOSS $9700

Fires in Anaheim last year numbered 42 with total damages of $9,700, according to the annual report of Frank Tausch, secretary of the local fire department. This loss is three times that of any previous year.

Officers were elected as follows: Dick Fischle, chief; Dean Hassen, assistant chief; Albert Vail, first lieutenant; Jack Kemper, second lieutenant; Hugh McGillbray, sergeant; Leo J. Sheridan, foreman; Frank Tausch, secretary, and W. J. Lake, treasurer.

SHERIFF ARRESTS 11 DRY LEADERS

MARION, Ill., Jan. 10.—Adjutant General Carlos Black is expected to return to Springfield today but without ordering the return of the troops summoned here by threat of factional trouble growing out of wholesale dry raids.

He declared that troops would not be withdrawn today; Sheriff George Gallingan, whose appeal brot the troops to Marion, in a formal statement charged that back of the raids, in which Ku Klux Klan members state they gave full co-operation, would be found contempt for rights of citizens and actual crimes.

Sheriff Gallican caused a sensation when he issued warrants late yesterday for S. Glenn Young and ten other dry leaders. The warrants charged assault and robbery. Young, who holds a special deputy's warrant, said the warrants were designed to stop the raids but would not have this effect.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—Overcome by gasoline fumes while aboard the sea taxi "Wa-We-Go" when the boat broke down off Los Angeles harbor, two men, P. H. Cole, a fireman of San Pedro, and Jacob Laurhlin, of Long Beach, were rushed to hospitals today in a serious condition and four other men were suffering acutely from their experience.

BRING BODY HOME

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—The body of Mrs. Rupert Hughes, who committed suicide several weeks ago while aboard a boat near Haipong, Indo-China, will arrive in San Francisco aboard the S. S. President Wilson, Feb. 7, it was announced here today.

Another fault in our system of government is that a congressman can't get much publicity by keeping still and sawing wood.

"CALL OF THE CANYON" FILMED BY PARAMOUNT

Zane Grey is probably the biggest name in modern American fiction. Every one of his books sells over a million copies. "The Call of the Canyon" is the second Zane Grey story to be produced by Paramount. It ran as a serial in the Ladies Home Journal and has since been published as a novel. It is a story of Fifth Avenue and the Mojave Desert, of frivolous New York society and the stern life of the western ranges, of a pair of society wasters—a man and a beautiful girl—and the effect which the great open spaces of the west has upon their souls and their love. The contrasting backgrounds of New York jazz parties and the struggles and feuds of the Arizona cattle country, the man-to-man fights and the love-rivalries, and the rapid-fire thrills with which the plot is packed, make this in every respect an outstanding picture of any season.

The picture which will be shown at the California starting tomorrow tells of Carley Burch, a daughter of the rich, who is engaged to be married to Glenn Kilbourne, a World War veteran. He becomes disgusted with the shallowness of their frivolous society life and gladly obeys his doctor's orders to go to Arizona for his health.

Glenn stays with an Arizona ranching family, the Hutters, and Flo, the daughter of the house, falls in love with him. But he is true to Carley, though he wavers. Carley, still deeply in love with him, journeys out to Arizona to see him. The crudeness of everything disgusts her. She attends a ranch dance in a very decollete evening gown and is insulted by a sheep-herder. Glenn licks him. She tries to get Glenn to go back East with her but he will not go. She returns home to live her old life only to find it tasteless!

In her absence, Glenn, to save Flo Hutter's life and in gratitude for her devotion, is about to marry her when Carley returns to Arizona. Flo realizes that her love for Glenn is vain and in the church she sees Carley. Flo leaves and Glenn and Carley look at each other with the full assurance that their troubles are over. The climax is strong and effective.

MAYOR OF VENTURA SUED FOR DIVORCE

VENTURA, Jan. 10.—Two sensational developments occurred here today in connection with the suit for divorce filed against Mayor Charles Rea in which Mrs. Rea charges she found her husband in company with Mrs. Gertrude Strong, Santa Paula widow at Mrs. Strong's home.
