Leasing Activity Increases With Showings of Oil From Gaddie Well at Cypress

KECK GRABS MORE LAND NEAR WELL

Union Offers $100 and $5 Rental, Agreeing to Drill in 60 Days

Interest in the oil development operations about Anaheim is shifting, temporarily at least, to Cypress, with the announcement of more leases and offerings of terms for leases and the continued showing of oil near the Gaddie Oil Development Co.'s well. Offering of oil rights with lots being subdivided or to be sub-divided also is helping to boom things.

W. M. Keck, who is drilling Brookhurst Well No. 1, has leased 18 acres of Julius Hollingsworth and 20 acres across the road from the Hollingsworth place of Mrs. Joe Street. The terms are $100 per acre bonus, $5 per month rental the first year, $7.50 the second and $10 the third year. All this land lies less than half a mile east of the Gaddie well.

The Union Oil Co. is seeking leases also and offering $100 and $5, respectively, with the guarantee of drilling within 60 days if the Gaddie well brings in oil. Three-year leases the proviso being to drill within three years also are being sought.

The Standard Oil Co. has leased 80 acres of George B. Miller on Lincoln-blvd., and is offering terms for more.

The soil 16 feet down on the Sconce placer continues to be soaked with oil seepage, as fast as the dirt is removed. A pick is big as a kitchen table is wet with oil. The trees on the place also are dying. A drill never has been put in, contrary to reports.

The J. D. Millar Realty Co. of Los Angeles plans to open a subdivision east of the Gaddie well with oil rights thrown in. The concern already has 20 acres and will also develop three other blocks, one of 20 and two others of 10 acres, each, if the first piece sells well.

Coming toward Anaheim the W. M. Keck Drilling Co. again is busy drilling in Brookhurst Well No. 1 on Brookhurst road, after cementing off, with the bits steadily eating down well below the 1,000 foot mark. Soil formation has been favorable and progress is rapid.

The spudding in of the Miley Drilling Co.'s well near Broadway and Garden Grove road (Euclid-ave) is expected about next Monday, according to B. M. Sisson of Sisson Bros. The derrick is going up rapidly.

The Standard Oil Co. has not yet resumed drilling, after cementing off at 3160 feet, in its well near Placentia-ave and Warner-rd. It had been expected that the company would be drilling again Monday.

PHARES ASKS CUSTODY OF CHILDREN

Robert Phares, Fullerton oil-worker, husband of the "stepmother" being held in the county jail in lieu of $5,000 bail with Floyd E. Hatch in charge of inhumane treatment to two Hatch children, visited the district attorney's office today.

He stated Mrs. Phares left him June 22 and that he had not known of her whereabouts until he read a newspaper account of the case involving the Hatch children.

He told Deputy Dist. Atty. Mosley that she had become hardened the last three years and that he would have taken their two children from her but for fear she would attempt to kill him. He has filed a divorce suit and will ask custody of the children, asserting that separation from her two children would be fitting punishment for the alleged mistreatment of the Hatch children.

It was stated today that the Hatch children would probably be sent to their grandmother, Mrs. Alfa Hammond, of Los Angeles.

FORD DECLINES TO EXPLAIN NEW BID

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Henry Ford declined today to appear before the house military affairs committee to explain his new bid for the government's nitrate and power plants at Muscle Shoals, Ala.

Propose Sweeping Changes in Laws Governing Disabled Vets

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Sweeping changes in the laws governing the care of America's disabled war veterans were proposed today by the special senate committee which investigated the United States Veterans' Bureau.

A complete recodification of all laws affecting the veteran was introduced in the senate by the committee with a plea for its immediate enactment. The principal changes were:

1—Complete reorganization of the veteran's bureau thru the creation of rating boards in every district and sub-district for examination of veterans and elimination of the "present objectional system" for basing all decisions on the reports of physicians.

2—Reorganization of the hospital system and admitting free to government hospitals all veterans suffering from tuberculosis or mental diseases "without proof that the disease arose from military service."

3—Sweeping revision of compensation laws affecting the tubercular and shell shocked veteran by providing that tuberculosis or mental diseases developing within three years after discharge is "presumed" to be of service origin.

4—Far reaching changes in the award of compensation with increases for veterans or widows most in need of higher awards.

Senator Reed declared a later report would be filed upon the charges brought against former director Charles R. Forbes.

The changes proposed will affect thousands of ex-service men who have been barred from hospitals and compensation thru disagreement of expert medical examiners.

SEEK BANDITS WHO STOLE $16,000 GEMS

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29.—Police today were reported to be hot on the trail of bandits who early this morning held up a party of prominent Americans and robbed them of $16,000 worth of jewelry.

The victims of the holdup were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Toplitzsky, Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Canfield and Dr. and Mrs. H. I. Dowd. The holdup occurred in front of the Dowd residence as the party was returning from a theater party.

Police declared they believed the bandits watched their victims closely during the evening and trailed them to the holdup spot.

The bandits appeared in another auto as the party arrived at the Dowd home, and at the point of revolvers searched each member of the party.

Dr. Dowd and Mr. Toplitzsky were robbed of $250 in cash each. The bandits then warned their victims not to follow them or to make any outcry, and escaped.

CONTRACTORS MUST FINISH SEWER JOB

Contentions Appear Unwarranted When Four Councils Hear Case

Contentions of Contractors de Waard & Cobham, who find they are nowhere near able to complete the ocean section of the joint outfall sewer at the contract price specified, appeared unwarranted, when the joint councils heard their case last night at a gathering in Santa Ana City Hall.

The joint councils named a committee of councilmen and engineers who will investigate the case and report back to the councils. This committee consists of Councilmen Chapman of Santa Ana, Gibbs of Anaheim, Gunther of Orange and Marsden of Fullerton, and the four city engineers. The investigation will take place Friday, but whether it will be completed then is not altogether certain.

Present at the meeting from Anaheim were Mayor Stark, Councilmen Stock and Gibbs, City Manager Steward and City Attorney H. V. Welsel. Both of the contractors were on hand.

Cobham declared he had spent approximately $67,000 on the work which still was unfinished, whereas the amount of the contract was $42,000 or $43,000.

He and de Waard made these allegations: That much extra work had been done and that the plans and specifications had been so changed that additional expense had been incurred without compensation; that no right of ways under the Pacific Electric Co.'s track had been provided and that this had been occurred at an expense of $800 to the contractors; that additional excavation work had been necessary on the bench, work that the profile of the beach had not indicated as required; that the contractors had furnished a timber cradle in place of a gravel cradle as contained in the specifications; that they had used iron straps to anchor the big cast iron pipe in the ocean in place of wooden ties; and that they had been paid monthly without the items represented in such payment being detailed.

Engineer W. G. Knox of Santa Ana represented himself and his fellow engineers of Anaheim, Orange and Fullerton.

He declared: That the Pacific Electric Co. right of way had been obtained, that the permit was on file, and that any money which Cobham had paid was for construction work and not for right of way; that the iron strap had been substituted at the request of the contractors and to accommodate them in their work; and that the items of the month-ly payment were on file in the city offices of all four cities and accessible to the contractors; and that the profile of the beach had been changed by storm after the map of it had been made and been examined by the contractors.

Attorney Clyde Shaw, the spokesman also in defense of the four cities, asserted that the contract specified that any extra work according to plan should be done only on written instructions from the city councils and that similarly no changes in plans and specifications had been authorized except in writing.

Threatens Perjury Charge if Dines Changes His Testimony

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29.—"Courtland S. Dines must tell the truth and I'm prepared to get it or know why."

With this announcement, District Attorney Asa Keyes today was prepared to cut down the stumbling block which arose during the preliminary hearing of Horace A. Greer, chauffeur for Mabel Normand, charged with shooting Dines, when Dines developed a "lapse of memory" concerning the shooting.

"I believe I have the truth from Mabel Normand and Edna Purviance," Keyes said today. "I don't think it will be necessary to recall them to the witness stand. What they have told me puts me in a position to attack Dines' story of not remembering what happened."

Greer's attorneys contended today that if Dines changes his testimony they will demand a complaint against him charging perjury. They claim he testified under oath and that he cannot change it now because the district attorney insists on it.

Greer's preliminary hearing, which is scheduled to start again tomorrow, will be continued again because of Dines condition. It was said today Dines cannot leave the hospital for another 20 days.

PREPARE TO OPEN DRIVE TOMORROW

Preparing for the opening of the campaign tomorrow, the Orange-co Executive Committee of the German Children's Relief met this afternoon at Harry D. Riley's garage and heard Harry B. Fullerton will start its work tomorrow.

Anaheim has been divided into four districts, and 10 smaller districts are being outlined in each of the four. Center and Los Angeles streets are the dividing lines.

DENBY DEFIES SENATORIAL ACCUSERS

Fall Under Surveilance To Prevent Flight From Country

(Bulletin)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Ex-Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall and Tom Johnson, his ranch foreman, have been under surveillance by department of justice agents since Jan. 20, to prevent them from leaving the country Senator Willis, Rep., of Ohio, announced in the Senate this afternoon in defense of Attorney-General Daugherty's connection with the Teapot Dome scandal.

The Senate adjourned shortly after 5 o'clock without taking any action on the Walsh resolution.

By KENNETH W. CLARK
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Secretary of the Navy Denby today defied his senatorial accusers to find him guilty of any crime or of any official action which would warrant his resignation from the Coolidge Cabinet.

Denby announced following the cabinet meeting this afternoon that his resignation had not been submitted to President Coolidge despite talk at the Capitol of impeaching him for his part in the leasing of navy reserve oil lands, in California and Wyoming to the Doheny and Sinclair interests, and that he had no intention of resigning.

Senator Wheeler, Dem. of Mont., presented a resolution in the senate today requesting the president to demand the immediate resignation of Harry M. Daugherty, attorney general.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—An imminent shakeup in the Coolidge cabinet loomed today as the senate settled down to the grim business of passing resolutions demanding cancellation of the naval oil leases.

The cabinet itself, under attack as have few others been in recent political history, met at the White House.

The resolutions demanding immediate resignation of Edwin Denby, secretary of the navy and H. M. Daugherty, attorney general, were laid formally before the senate for action.

These resolutions sponsored by Senators La Follette, Republican of Wisconsin, and Robinson, Dem. of Arkansas, constituted a vertural ultimatum to President Coolidge that if these officers were not removed from the cabinet impeachment proceedings will be launched immediately to force their dismissal.

So much significance was attached by the administration to the threatened action by congress

LEGION LADIES DISAPPOINTED ON LATE TRIP

MRS. GUS PRESCOTT, Mrs. L. M. R. Wilson, Mrs. John Wilson, Mrs. W. M. McFarland, Mrs. Wm. Ashby, Mrs. Wm. Webb, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hebson made another visit to the hospital in Norwalk last Saturday, taking along several pounds of home made candy for the several ex-service men who are patients there, but none of whom, through the fault of "red tape," are not receiving compensation.

No officials were present at the hospital other than those regularly employed by the state and the visitors were not allowed to see the men whom they sought. Not quite understanding this condition, a committee from the Legion has written the veteran's bureau in Los Angeles to inquire why they were denied admission.

The ladies, all of whom are members of the local Legion Auxiliary, left the sweets, and sincerely hope they found their way to the boys for whom they were meant.

Mrs. Hebson is in receipt of a very interesting letter from the hospital at Camp Kearny giving the names of thirty-nine men, all bedridden but two, who are entirely without compensation or funds. Of this number two have dependent mothers, one in Iowa, one in Mississippi, and two have wives.

The Auxiliary ladies are planning a visit soon again to the Norwalk patients and sincerely hope they will not be disappointed in their mission.

Have Adieu Party

As last Sunday was the final one on the ranch for the T. L. Hoag family, the day was passed in visiting, feasting and jolly activities. Mr. and Mrs. Hoag, who have resided almost two years on their ranch near Garden Grove, will occupy their residence 202 South Clementine-st., Saturday. Mr. Hoag's association with the tel-phone company made the move advisable.

From the pen of fat young chickens, Mrs. Hoag had selected three of the finest for the roaster, and had her usual accompaniment of excellent viands. Her dinner guests included her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Presel, her son-in-law, Fred Baum, who arrived Friday from Germany; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Vanatta; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Presel and family.

Several other members of the family joined the party in the evening, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hoag and Mrs. Schmuate, of Long Beach, and others, and another feast was spread for the evening. Music and an interesting description of Mr. Baum's voyage, which cost him 255 billion marks, but to a chew the last of many happy family affairs which have been under the hospitable Hoag ranch roofTree.

Try This Way To Get Relief From Head Colds

Nothing to Swallow—You Just Melt a Little in a Spoon and Breathe in the Healing Vapors.

To stop a head cold, try this simple, direct method. Melt a little Vicks in a spoon and inhale the penetrating Vapors of Camphor, Menthol, Eucalyptus, Juniper Tar, etc. Also put a little up each nostril and snuff well back.

Another method is to heat a tin cup, put in a teaspoonful of Vicks and inhale the vapors that way. As fast as the vapors lose their strength, throw out the melted Vicks and add fresh.

Mothers prefer Vicks for their children because it avoids so much internal dosing. It can be used with perfect safety on the youngest child.

Community Shop Needy

The Community Shop is again in dire need. The rainy weather has made a heavy demand upon the shop for clothing and other warm articles, so Anaheim housewives are again besought to ransack their attics and closets to see if they can spare several articles to clothe their less fortunate brothers. Also the shop needs shoes and warm clothing of almost every kind and furniture does not come amiss.

Mrs. Fred Bishop is willing to call for bundles and by phoning Mrs. Price, 856-J, the collections may be arranged for. A garment or two from everyone will greatly oblige the shop and be the means of bringing comfort to those who are glad to pay a small sum for clothing, rather than depending upon charity.

BECAME BRIDE ON ANNIVERSARY OF SISTER'S DAY

A QUIET wedding ceremony uniting Miss Katherine Lamoes and Godfrey Poetz, was solemnized at St. Boniface church, Monday at 10 o'clock, with Rev. P. Browne officiating. Mrs. August Schwarz, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor and a brother of the groom, as best man. The bride wore a lovely gown of blue and tan with hat of the corresponding shade. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses.

The wedding yesterday also marked the wedding anniversary of the bride's sister, Mrs. Schwarz, who has just recently come for a visit to California from Granville, North Carolina.

Musical Section Tea

Following the study hour of the Music section of Anaheim Ebell yesterday, when Mrs. W. E. Holland was hostess, the ladies planned a musical silver tea for their next meeting, the fourth Monday in February, when Mrs. Holland will open her pretty home, 736 North Zeyn. All members of Ebell and their friends will be guests of the afternoon and a program of unusual merit is now in preparation. The proceeds will be contributed to the clubhouse fund.

Whilst not largely attended, the meeting yesterday was intensely entertaining. Modern French composers, among them Debussy, were featured by Miss Woodworth, a talented musician of Garden Grove. She handled her subject most intelligently and played two piano numbers following. She expressed herself most pleasantly for the keen appreciation of her listeners, saying it was not always the largest numbers who show greatest enthusiasm.

Although Mrs. Nellie E. Terry prefaced her contribution with explanation that her technical knowledge of music was limited, her article on Caesar Cui, one of the five great Russians who founded the national Russian school of music, was thoroughly covered, and the record of the violin number, "Orientale," gave a pretty conclusion.

Open Installation

The open meeting of Rosewood camp, Royal Neighbors of America, attracted a large attendance yesterday afternoon. Three state officers, Mrs. Nellie Smithburn, Mrs. Josephine Hedges and Mrs. Christine Hummel, were present and expressed their praise of the work in no uncertain terms.

To guide the destiny of the order for the coming term, the following ladies took their chairs: oracle, Mrs. Laura Tucker; vice-oracle, Mrs. Augusta Hussman; chancellor, Mrs. Matilda Chambers; past oracle, Mrs. Mattie Thompson; recorder, Mrs. Era Boyd; receiver, Mrs. Lena Gross; inner sentinel, Mrs. J. T. McCracken; outer sentinel, Mrs. Della Wheeler; musician, Mrs. Susie Brown; marshal, Mrs. Ida Lake; assistant marshal, Mrs. Mary Mitchell.

After short addresses by the visitors, and congratulations and greetings to the new officers, all repaired to the social hall where an elaborate refreshment course was served by the energetic committee. The hall was prettily decorated in R. N. colors. More than one hundred ladies witnessed the impressive ceremonies.

Ceremony in St. Andrew's

The marriage of Miss Bessie Milner to Mr. Richard Morgan, was a pretty occasion which took place yesterday at 11 a. m., in St. Andrew's Episcopal church, Fullerton, when Rev. Percy E. Clarkson, rector of Orange Trinity church read the single ring ceremony.

Miss Milner is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Milner, of Buena Park. Mr. Morgan, a native of Ireland, came to California a little over a year ago and has been connected with the Milner dairy.

The young folks will reside for a time in Buena Park, where they will welcome their friends into their new home.

RECOGNITION OF SOVIET BLOCKED

By DAVID M. CHURCH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Jan. 29.—Negotiations of the Russian soviet government by Great Britain have struck their first snag, it was learned from an official source this afternoon.

Premier MacDonald suggested that Russia recognize her pre-war treaties and debts before the British labor government extends recognition. The soviet government replied it could not negotiate these points until Russia was elevated to the rank of Great Britain thru recognition.

France is understood to be bringing pressure upon Great Britain to insist upon recognition of pre-war debts by Moscow before the soviet government is formally recognized.

Unless there are concessions by one side or the other, the negotiations threaten to become deadlocked.

Fresh labor troubles loom up before the MacDonald Labor government. The dock workers have voted to strike February 6.

From the foreign office it was learned that the premier has adopted a general foreign policy which has for its main object a comprehensive settlement of European problems.

MacDonald is determined to ignore "pin-picks" by other powers and will refuse to enter into controversies over minor matters. He will seek first to settle the question of Russian recognition and then turn to reparations and war debts.

It was learned from an authoritative source that the premier hopes for the co-operation of the United States.

The regular meeting of the A. C. of C. is scheduled tomorrow at 6:30 p.m., at the McFarland cafe in Fullerton. George Farmer, secretary of the Fullerton C. of C., said that it is hoped to get something definite at this meeting to formulate into plans to be presented to the county board of supervisors for county planning in Orange county.

The matter of trying to locate the farm of the southern branch of the University of California in Orange county will also come up, Mr. Raymer said.

J. F. Ahlborn of Anaheim is expected to give a report on water conservation.

WOMAN RUN OVER BY AUTOMOBILIST

Mrs. Mary Dyer, 62, was seriously but not fatally hurt at Spadra road and Wilshire ave., Fullerton, when she was run over by a machine driven by J. F. Elofson of Santa Ana. She was on her way to the Baptist church. She was taken to the Fullerton hospital for emergency and removed to the home of her son, O. M. Thompson of W. Wilshire ave., in a Seale ambulance. Her injuries included bruises, a hurt in the head and a slightly fractured leg.

Another accident was reported from LaHabra and Brea roads, in which a machine driven by Chas. C. Newby of E. Commonwealth avenue, was hit from the front by a machine driven by a girl with C. J. Carlyle of Brea, and from the rear by a car driven by C. G. Savage of Fullerton. The accident is said to have occurred when the car from Brea struck a dirt pile, shot across the road into the other car and the car from behind piled into them. All three machines were damaged. No one was reported seriously hurt.

James I. Glenn is in the Community hospital in Santa Ana as the result of an accident near San Juan Capistrano. He is said to have been working on the railroad, when a car on the highway skidded and struck him. He suffered a broken leg.

WILL KEEP BABY LEFT IN AUTO

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 29.—Returning to their auto after an evening spent at a theater, Mr. and Mrs. John Hauck of Taft found a six-weeks-old baby girl wrapped in a pretty baby blanket in the rear seat.

A note was pinned to the blanket which read:

"I saw you people as you drove up and you looked like good, kind people. Will you please take good care of my darling baby. She will never see her mother any more."

The note was written in shaky handwriting on good paper and was unsigned.

When asked if she intended to notify the authorities, Mrs. Hauck said she intended to adopt the child and did not care to search for the child's mother. The Haucks have no family.

BRITISH RAILWAY STRIKE SETTLED

LONDON, Jan. 29.—Normal train service was being restored thruout Great Britain today, following settlement of the strike of locomotive engineers and firemen.

Large numbers of strikers returned to work during the morning.

The strike was settled at 4:40 o'clock after a 7-hour conference between representatives of the strikers and the railway companies. The settlement was largely due to pressure exerted by the labor government. This was the first victory by Premier MacDonald's cabinet.

The government acted thru the trades union congress, which has been meeting daily since the strike went into effect a week ago Sunday.

It was stated that the terms of settlement would be announced later.

Terms of the settlement provide for a conference to decide the extent of the application of wage awards made by the national wage adjustment board and to settle questions of classification.

John Bromley, head of the engineers and firemens' union, said a desire to avoid embarrassment to the labor government influenced the railway men to accept the terms.

TIPPING CURSE HAUNTING PARIS

PARIS, Jan. 29.—It is time for all good Parisians to be digging into their pockets, for tips to be distributed among all their many servitors. First the postmen, always two or three, who come to the door with homely little calendars handed out by the postal department. Then comes the breadcarrier bringing only a smile, but there is no mistaking what that smile means. And the tailor's boy, not to speak of all the various domestics in the household, and last, but by no means least, the "concierge," that eternal ogre who plays janitor in every French house. This is the most important gift of all, for upon its greatness depends all happiness for the year to come. It is he (or she) who holds the key.

COLLEEN MOORE IN FINEST ROLE

"The greatest role of my career!"

This is Colleen Moore's description of the role which she portrays in 'Flaming Youth,' a First National picturization of Warner Fabian's sensational novel of contemporary life, which is now showing at the California theater.

In "Flaming Youth" Miss Moore portrays a modern "flapperish" hoyden, a young girl reared in an atmosphere where reckless pleasure seems to be the only consideration.

In the role of Patricia Fentriss, charming, naive and unsophisticated young society girl, Miss Moore has a part to which she is especially adapted. She handles the part most effectively. Her interpretations of the different phases of this girl's life are exceedingly well drawn—the comedy touches are not overdone, and in the tense parts of the play she demonstrates an unusual ability in the handling of dramatic parts and proved beyond doubt that this talented actress, heretofore famous for her comedy roles, is as much at home in parts calling for strong emotional acting.

The character of Patricia Fentriss is one of the outstanding characterizations of contemporary fiction. Warner Fabian, the author of the sensational novel, from which the picture is adapted, declared recently that the character is his interpretation of the young girl of today—the girl who is forever seeking pleasure; meddling with fire; romantic, yet blind to the truer and finer meanings of love.)

Milton Sills, one of the screen's foremost leading men, plays opposite Miss Moore in this startling picture. Other film celebrities in the cast are Elliott Dexter, Myrtle Stedman, Sylvia Breamer, Betty Francisco, Phillips Smalley, Walter McGrail, Ben Lyon and others.

CAN ANYONE GIVE THIS MAN WORK?

If anyone in Anaheim or community has a job for a man who is head of a family composed of his wife and five children, Mrs. J. W. Price, 226 S. Olive would be glad to hear of it and may be reached by phoning 566-J.

The man is an able-bodied American but has recently recovered from a tedious illness. However, he is well able to work and will do anything. As the eldest child is but nine years old and the baby three weeks, it is easy to see that the mother can be of small assistance, although she can do plain sewing and would be glad to have the work. Any information may be received through calling Mrs. Price, at the above number.

BLUE BOOK CAST IN "WHITE TIGER"

"White Tiger," a Universal-Jewel photoplay telling a dramatic story of international crime and romantic love, comes to the United theater Friday and Saturday. The star is Priscilla Dean and the supporting cast a "blue book" group.

Wallace Beery of "The Flame of Life" and "Robin Hood" fame, will be seen in the principal "heavy" characterization, while Raymond Griffith handles a secondary masculine characterization and Matt Moore plays the straight lead opposite Miss Dean. Moore will be remembered for his superb characterization in "The Storm."

"White Tiger" is a rival to "Outside the Law," Miss Dean's spectacular success of two or three years ago, and is said to be a more thrilling play than the older production. "White Tiger" is the same type of picture, telling a dramatic story of the underworld, only the "underworld" in this case is chiefly the top strata of international crookdom. The same man wrote and directed both pictures, Tod Browning.

"White Tiger" is laid in the Limehouse and other picturesque sections of London, the ultra-elite social atmosphere of New York city and a lonely cabin up-state. An important feature of the story is the characterization by Miss Dean, Griffith and Beery of a trio of high-class crooks who display what fiction writers have been prone to call "honor among thieves." They have about as much honor, reapect for each other or comradely spirit as a cat, a dog and a snake would have if they had never seen each other before and were cooped up together.

A fact about crooks not commonly known is that they cannot believe in each other, or even in honest people, under most circumstances. Let a crook be watched by an honest man, shadowed for no apparent reason, and he'll probably say to himself: "That guy's another crook, watching for me to spring my deal so he can

UNREQUITED LOVE CAUSE OF SUICIDE

BOSTON, Jan. 29.—Miss Margaret Elliot Harding, daughter of Wm. P. G. Harding, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, killed herself scarcely an hour after she learned Stanley Hawkes, of the state department at Washington, was to marry Miss Mary Baldwin of Florence, Italy, it became known today, when Miss Annie Hamlin for the first time disclosed details of the dead girl's love affair with Hawkes.

According to Miss Hamlin, Hawkes and Baldwin fell in love when they met some time ago.

Half an hour after the maid brought Miss Harding copies of Washington newspapers containing announcements of the engagement, she was writing farewell notes.

An hour before reading the announcements, the girl was dead, with a bullet in her left breast.

"That's the step in and grab a share." The crooked mind expects crookedness in others.

ADMITS OFFICERS TRICK CRIMINALS

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 29.—Tacit admission that trickery is sometimes resorted to by officers of the law to obtain evidence was made recently by Federal Judge Dickinson in the United States District Court here during a prohibition case.

Benjamin Golder, counsel for a liquor dealer, sought to quash a search warrant issued against his client's premises by excluding certain evidence he contended was obtained by underhand methods.

"It may be unfortunate and bad morals," Judge Dickinson said, "but it is not bad law. No one would defend the morals of authorities who put a man in a cell with another in order to beguile him into making a confession, but the practice is permitted and evidence thus secured is used to secure conviction of the defendant. Maybe there is a need for a rule to exclude such evidence

HELD FOR SHOOTING WIFE'S COMPANION

SEATTLE, Jan. 29.—Harry Derby, 42, was being held in the city jail today in connection with the shooting last night of Major William J. A. Muirhead, 46, former traffic manager for the port of Seattle and now supt. of the Colman dock, while Major Muirhead was dining with Derby's wife in an uptown cafe.

Following the shooting, Major Muirhead drove his auto from the cafe to police headquarters, nearly a mile away, and reported the affair.

The wound in his lung may prove serious, according to attending physicians.

Derby told officers that Muirhead had been paying attentions to his wife for some time, and last night he followed them to the cafe. Muirhead denied he had any serious intentions toward Mrs. Derby, who disappeared after the shooting. He said he had merely taken an interest in the woman's troubles, and she had come to him for advice in regard to a di-

DAILY GREETING TO OUR READERS

JOY IS A PRIZE UNBOUGHT, AND IS FREEST, PUREST IN ITS FLOW, WHEN IT COMES UNSOUGHT. NO GETTING INTO HEAVEN, AS A PLACE, WILL COMPASS IT. YOU MUST CARRY IT WITH YOU, ELSE IT IS NOT THERE. YOU MUST HAVE IT IN YOU, AS THE MUSIC OF A WELL ORDERED SOUL, THE FIRE OF A HOLY PURPOSE. THE WELLING UP OUT OF THE CENTRAL DEPTHS OF ETERNAL SPRINGS THAT HIDE THE WATERS THERE.—HORACE BUSHNELL.

BENEFIT OF HEAVY RAINFALL

The coming of the annual rains after a long dry season is always hailed in California as an event calling for rejoicing. Even those not directly dependent for their prosperity upon the coming of the rains feel a sense of gratification and relief that the fates have not forgotten us. There is a feeling in the air that the rain is necessary to the good of the country and the health of the people. Only when the rain is long continued and seems not to know when to stop do people tire of it. This feeling is more pronounced with those that have had to do with country life. It stays with them throughout the years even when change of environment has changed their outlook. Confirmed city dwellers have much less of the feeling and sometimes seem to lack it altogether.

In California the coming of the rains marks the real birth of a new year. The growing processes of nature awaken into lew life. There comes a feeling of recuperation with the knowledge that the element necessary to the fertility of the soil is coming down from the heavens. It is like the satisfaction of being able to load up the larder with provisions to feel that the future growing season is being provided for. The underground springs are being filled up with the life-giving fluid and the reservoirs in the mountains are being replenished against the needs of the season when the skies will be clear again. It is like putting money in the bank to be drawn out in little sums as the needs of the time require.

One of the interesting developments of the present generation in this state is the introduction of the age-old practice of irrigation with the various improvements that modern science has been able to devise. The idea of irrigation is older than history. Indications of the ancient canals upon the plains of Mesopotamia remain long after the records of their operation have gone. But the world has never seen the like of modern irrigation in California. The mountain reservoirs store up vast quantities of water to be distributed for the uses of intensive agriculture that frees the farmer from the necessity of worry over his supply of water for the year. It makes little difference to the farmer thus supplied what the variations of the rainfall may be if the annual average comes some time. The ditches do the rest. For chemical reasons, however, natural rainfall is the best.

All the injustice in the world is not that which is wrought by arrogant nations and peoples against weaker countries and peoples. In social life there are more rankling injustices than in any other relations, not excepting economic inequities. More lives are blighted by the cruelties, artificialities and inequities of modern social life than from any or all other causes. And this form of injustice is beyond the reach of statutory law. There is nothing to check it, except moral conviction. There is nothing to turn it aside, except innate kindness and generousness of heart. The modern world has none too much of genuine human kindness.

RADIO IS MARVELOUS IN DEVELOPMENT

The wonders of radio are increasing. Achievements of the most marvelous nature are being effected. Fourteen thousand miles covered by radio and telephone in one minute and forty-five seconds is the feat accomplished when David Sarnoff, vice-president and general manager of the Radio Corp. of America, sent a telephone and radio message to Japan from Columbia, Mo., and received his answer in less than two minutes. By the same ratio, the earth could be spanned in less than four minutes.

Radio messages are broadcast to the far corners of the earth. The most amazing records are made in this. Over land and sea, with incredible speed, the romance of the air is vibrated. For there is romance and marvel in the phenomenal development of radio.

Great Britain is having political excitement a-plenty. This country will not have a monopoly, this year, on thrilling things in the realm of politics. It is parliament, not elections, however, in Britain, that is the center of agitated interest.

ENJOYED A GOOD NIGHT'S SLEEP

"I wish to say that FOLEY PILLS worked O. K. on me in a couple of hours and the pains left me at once. DINNER STORIES

The lawyer for the defense, in the damage suit asked the witness who had seen the plaintiff struck by the auto, how far the victim was thrown by the impact.

"Fifteen feet six and three-quarter inches," was the immediate response.

"You seem to be very exact in your figures," snapped the lawyer sarcastically. "How does that happen?"

"I guessed some fool lawyer would ask me," the witness answered, "and I measured the distance."

He was supine in his deck chair, solemnly avowing to himself that he'd stay in Europe until they built a bridge across the Atlantic.

"Can I do anything for you, sir?" inquired a steward.

"You might present my compliments to the chief engineer," the passenger managed to reply, faintly, "and ask him if there is any hope of the boilers blowing up."

Little Talk On Thrift

By S. W. STRAUS

President American Society for Thrift.

It is an encouraging sign of right thinking that such widespread popular attention is being given just now to the anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin.

As the years go by more and more thoughtful attention is being paid to this superman of colonial days, more ardent homage is paid to his memory and a deeper understanding is gained of the truths he taught.

Among the great men of history Franklin stands out as the eternal personification of that group of homely virtues of which thrift is the center. Any nation which attains a general consciousness of the truths of his philosophy will prosper because of the flourishing home life and clean morals of its citizens.

The Franklin philosophy is nothing more than the most simple logic, yet in this fact there is a lesson for all of us. In this modern life of ours, with the practical annihilation of distance and with every day bringing new triumphs of science, we are becoming more complex.

But the truths of life are simple. Humanity never can get away from fundamentals. The plain axioms of Poor Richard will live through the ages.

Our standards of living will continued to progress. Fifty years from now life will be quite different from what it is today insofar as life's conveniences, comforts and advantages go. But the unbuilding effect of the homely virtues remain as unchanged as the mountains or the sea.

Among the many inspiring signs of the times no other is more indicative of a sound public attitude than the widespread attention now being given in the United States to the anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

What Editors Are Saying

RETIRED ON "ENOUGH" RICHES—Santa Ana (Calif.) Register

A Wall Street curb broker retired the other day under unique circumstances. He turned his business over to three young employes. He intends to spend the rest of his days looking after his personal affairs, running a small town newspaper, enjoying the companionship of his growing son and daughter, traveling and playing golf.

Because there are to be no pockets in his shroud, this man came to the conclusion that enough money was all he needed. In his case "enough" is a couple of million dollars. Many Americans, in recent years, have counted that much money a mere beginning to the wealth they wished to amass.

This retiring broker has provided for his immediate relatives, and has made certain investments more than sufficient to supply his needs and grant his wishes for the rest of his life. He will leave some money to his two children, but not so much as he would leave if he went on with his business. He would rather spend more time with them now than leave them, after his death, "enough money to make fools out of them."

Some persons will sigh and wish they had had this man's good luck. Others will smile and admire his good sense. Just piling up dollars is no occupation for a sane and healthy human being. Making money to turn it to constructive purposes, making it for the purpose of securing a proper amount of leisure and then using that leisure to its fullest enjoyment is justifiable.

"Enough" would vary in amount for different individuals. For most of us this man's $2,000,000 would be far more than enough. But every person who shows an understanding of the rightful place of money in human life and progress—not an end in itself, but only one means to an end—sets his fellowmen a fine example of living.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

OUR OWN DAILY SHORT STORY

Didn't Want to Talk

In the smoking room of an eastbound Pullman the other evening there were two men—one of them grouchy, the other one receptive. After smoking two indifferent cigars, the latter said to the former:

"How far are you going?"

"Buffalo," acknowledged the other one, taken off his guard.

"Is that so? Well, Buffalo is a great town. I have a cousin living there and I've been there myself several times. The last time was during the Pan-American Exposition. Er—what are you going to do in Buffalo?"

"Change cars."

FATHER KEEPS OATH, TELLS TRUTH, SENDS SON TO DEATH FOR MURDER

"Do you swear to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, so help you God?" The father of Arnold Anderson, alias Arthur Lindsay, said, "I do." Then he told a New York court how his son had confessed killing Harry C. Moore, wealthy real estate man, and shattered the defense of Anderson, who was totally unprepared for such a bombshell. But a little while later, when his father came to see him in the death cell to which he was condemned, the son forgave him.

Although police say he victimized members of his own family, his mother, Mrs. Mary Koretz, and his wife are leading a search for assets with which to settle with his clients.

Meanwhile police are attempting to round up the women in the case, and Mrs. Salo Auerbach, owner of a photoplay theater, has been called to tell of her relations with Koretz.

ARRIVAL OF U. S. TO END MEXICAN REVOLT QUIKLY

American ammunition piled up before the Mexican war department in Mexico city immediately after its arrival and (inset) General Gustavo Salinas, chief of Mexican aviation.

Although Mexicans have had some measure of success in the last few days, their victories are expected to end when units of the Mexican federal army placed in the field by President Obregon are fully equipped with the stores of ammunition purchased from the United States government at the same time President Coolidge barred export of munitions to the rebels.

The Mexican aviation corps, more or less dormant for some time, has suddenly become of prime importance with the arrival of more than a hundred planes purchased from the U. S. Army, and General Gustavo Salinas, chief of aviation, is busy reorganizing his branch of the service. There is a shortage of aviators at present, but a number of American airmen have offered their services.

The minor sports which received some of the money made in football were tennis, golf, soccer, swimming, rifle and wrestling. Southwest storm warnings were ordered up at all Oregon and Washington coast stations during the night by the district weather office.

At 8 a.m. a gale of 70 mile velocity was reported from the mouth of the Columbia river. Earlier in the morning a maximum velocity of 72 miles was reported.

Announcement was made by the weather office that even more severe gales were anticipated during the day. Rain and continued mild weather will be brought to Portland and western Oregon by the disturbance, according to the forecast of the weather bureau.

BIBLE SHOWS MEN AS THEY ACTUALLY ARE

Dr. Geissinger spoke at the White Temple yesterday morning upon the subject, "In the Sight of God," and chose for his text: Acts 8:21, "Thy heart is not right in the sight of God." He said, in part:

"This man Simon saw a power that he wished to make use of and was willing to pay for it. That is more than can be said of some people who are glad to make use of the influence and forces of Christianity. But he thought that money was the measure of all things and stands forth in the white light of the judgment of God as a most ridiculous and sinful man.

"The Bible is a book of divine judgments. One man after another passes swiftly before us in its pages, and we see him as he actually is—not as he thinks he is. Caiaphas, supposed to be high priest, but really a pigeon peddler and huckster, in the house of God. Pilate, not a representative of the law and order of Rome, but a petty politician bent on saving his own skin. And so on. Judas, John the Baptist, Peter, the poor rich fool and rich poor man, and all the great company, who and otherwise, pass to judgment before our very eyes.

"It is often said that in our feeling about life and death, in our judgment of men we are nearer the standards set by the New Testament, more like Christ, than our fathers were. I question that. At any rate, if we have gained in our understanding of the fundamental essence of Christianity and have cleared away some of its excrescences, we have also lost not a little. We are strong against sins, against drunkenness and licentiousness and graft and dishonesty of every outward form, but we have lost our sense of awe, reverence for God and our sense of sin. We are not often crying out, 'What must I do to be saved?' 'God be merciful to me a sinner,' 'I believe; help my unbelief.' We do not 'hunger and thirst' after righteousness. We just do the best we can and let ourselves down easy.

"I ask you this morning for a little while to try to think of your lives as God thinks of them, as he has made clear to us in his word. Nothing is clearer than that Jesus, who came to be the light of the world, is also the judge of all men. As he walks down the streets of the world and comes in contact with all sorts and conditions of men and women, they move away from him, rated, judged and judged by what is in his hand and heart and to try to think of life as Jesus did.

"There are several different types of life as revealed in the gospels. Jesus makes it sun-clear that the unclean heart is not right in the sight of God. His enemies accused our Lord of condoning publicans and sinners in their wrong doing. But nothing is clearer than that every unclean life was rebuked by the sinlessness of our Lord. He never said that these coarser sins, or any sins, grow out of circumstances, or are for any reason to be excused. He says plainly that lust and violence and all manner of uncleanness come out of the heart and are worthy of condemnation.

"He makes it clear that the man who depends upon material wealth, as did the rich fool, the rich young ruler, Dives, and the majority of men and women of his day and ours, are not wise but foolish, and dead wrong in the sight of God. So wrong, he says, that they deserve and win hell. This is a phase of the teaching of Jesus that we gloss over, for so many of us are wrong in our scale of values.

"Then we see another group of men and women who are wrong. Those of the unteachable hearts, who have ears and will not hear and brains and will not think or understand. These unteachable folk become stiff-necked and rebellious and finally cynical and lost.

"Jesus was exceedingly severe with the class we call hypocrites, who know and do not do, as may be seen by anyone who will read the 23d chapter of Matthew. We have no trouble in seeing that the heart of the hypocrite cannot be right in the sight of God, for he demands truth in the inward parts.

"Lastly, we may name those who have Christless hearts. Those who acknowledge that Christianity is a great boon for the world and wish it well and even now and then do something to further its interest, but do not surrender their hearts to Christ. No man is a real Christian in the full sense of the word whose heart is not the host of Jesus. He was insistent that the worst and the most subtle sin of all is the sin of unbelief. 'When he, the spirit of truth, is come, he will convict you of sin because you believe not on me.' This is the supreme sin, for it, of all other sins, alienates us from the source of grace and power and places us in antagonism to God.

"Let us not measure ourselves by ourselves, but let us ask God to search our hearts with his word, and if there is any rebellion, any sinfulness in us, let us ask him to help us to rid our hearts of it. The supreme question for everyone is: 'How does my life appear in the sight of God?' For we shall yet all stand before the judgment seat of Christ and be made manifest."

TWELVE NEW OIL WELLS

Oil field operations reported week ending Jan. 19, show 12 new wells started, compared with 24 previous week. The total new wells this year is 91, compared with 95 the same date last year.

Tests for water shut-off 22, compared with 27 previous week. Yearly total to date 82; total to same date last year 103.

Deepening or redrilling jobs 10, compared with 6 preceding week. Total to date this year 34; total to same date last year 44.

It is foolish to speak of the "intelligent majority." If they were intelligent they wouldn't run such a risk.

PRESENT COLLEGE BOY NO SPENDER

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—What has become of that grand old American institution—the free-spending, largess-distributing college boy who spent money faster than his father could earn it?

Where is that picturesque character, so long exploited in fiction and feature articles, who helped to support the families of hard-working taxicab drivers, waiters and stage doormen by his lavish distribution of tips?

In a restaurant near the campus of Columbia University, in the heart of New York city, the mecca of pleasure-seekers and free spenders, there is an observant waiter called Charlie. The eating place is patronized by all classes of people, from the Panhandle Pete type to the successful salesman, so that Charlie is well qualified to gauge the relative generosity of college boys, measured by their tips.

"These rah-rah boys," Charlie remarked caustically, "are stiffs. You know what a stiff is—a guy who never leaves a tip. The only silver your college boy leaves on the table is the spoons, and he would make away with them if we gave him half a chance.

NEWS OF BIRTH IS EIGHT YEARS LATE

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—Immediately after receiving a card from Mr. and Mrs. James Callahan, which announced an addition to their offspring, Mrs. Albert Fineal, who lives at Waukegan, near here, telephoned the Callahans, intending to offer her congratulations. She was befuddled completely, however, when she learned she was about eight years tardy.

Upon re-examining the card, she discovered it had been mailed May 29, 1915.

Mrs. Callahan informed Mrs. Fineal her eight-year-old son was romping with some neighborhood youngsters in the yard.

DISCUSS WATER SUPPLY JOINTLY

Prepared to launch seriously into the problem of providing a sufficient and permanent future water supply for the cities which they represent, councilmen from Fullerton, Anaheim, Orange and Santa Ana will meet at the latter city tonight to discuss the situation.

Whether these municipal solons will decide on working a project in the San Bernardino mountains, or join other So. Cal. cities in seeking a water supply with the completion of the Boulder dam project, could only be conjectured.

Regarded as one of the most important joint sessions ever held, as a water supply was held invaluable, if not essential, if these four Orange-co cities are to progress in an industrial way, some definite steps are likely to be taken.

Committees likely will be appointed to make thorough investigation into the various possibilities of future water, with a report deemed likely within two months.

Also to come before the joint meeting is the sewer project. Contractors working on the ocean outlet have expended $44 000 more than they had expected and they are seeking compensation from the cities. Delay in completion of the joint project has resulted in the laying of pipe into the ocean, requiring the services of divers. Of necessity the work has been slow.

MAN, 30, HELD ON CHARGE OF GIRL, 15

How a 15-year-old Huntington Beach girl, asserted victim of an attack by Everett O'Dowd, 30, guarded her secret, fearing the wrath of her father and the effect of the shock on her sick mother, was told today as O'Dowd was held in the county jail under $3000 bail on a statutory charge.

Until necessity forced her to open her lips, the girl remained silent, and even now, the authorities declared today, the mother, now critically ill, has not been informed of the alleged attack, which was said to have occurred some weeks ago.

On a warrant issued at the instance of the girl's father, O'Dowd was taken into custody and arraigned late yesterday before Justice J. B. Cox, who fixed bail and set the preliminary hearing for Feb. 29, at 10 a.m.

O'Dowd, it was said by the authorities, has indicated that he may waive preliminary examination and allow the case to be carried at once to the superior court.

Mission Play Near 2500th Performance

The Mission Play by the pen of California's own beloved playwright, historian and foothill philosopher, John Steven McGroarty, is entering its fourth week of its 13th year at San Gabriel. And as it is nearing its 2500th performance, it is getting better and better. No play in the world holds a record run of such length as this great California pageant drama has enjoyed in its own playhouse on the king's highway—or is any other play in America so firmly established as a dramatic institution destined to endure for all time—for that is the author's vision through his conception of the Golden Scroll.

At every performance there are record audiences, and better still, thoroughly enthusiastic ones. Many Mission Play lovers — and their name is legion—have seen the Mission Play as many as 30 and 40 times true-blue Californians, who would call a year lost if they did not take in the Mission Play several times a season and bring their relatives and friends who have come to the sunny southland for a visit. For to see anything else first would be seeing California backwards.

The Mission Play in beauteous pageantry and colorful drama tells the story of the beginning of California. How, through the indomitable courage of the Franciscan padres, led by the venerable Serra, they saved California for civilization, gave us a Christian civilization instead of allowing this golden state to perhaps later have been seized by an oriental invasion. The stellar role of Serra is this year portrayed by R. D. MacLean, a distinguished Shakespearian actor, who interprets the role with the power and artistry it deserves. A band of Hopi Indians whoop up the fiesta scene, which depicts the missions in all their glory, while lovely Spanish senoritas with twinkling toes and sparkling eyes add color and rhythm.

HARD WORK TO GET VOTER REGISTERED

The duty to register for the coming elections seems not to be fully appreciated, judging from some deputies who report requests to come again for various amusing reasons, one being that dinner was ready, but the deputy not invited to dine.

Mr. Varnum, 128 E. Center st., expects a very light vote at election if the indication of a registration of only 25 per cent during the first month of registration holds good.

If deputies could register a house complete at one call it would be soon done, but it is seldom that all the voters will be found in less than three to five calls. This means that many voters will have to take some trouble themselves to call at an office for registration, as deputies cannot be expected to make scattering calls for an occasional voter.

The war munitions are stored in a garage in the business section of the town, according to Special Agent G. H. Griffiths of Tampa, Fla., who said he was searching for John Green, an aviator, who claimed the munitions when they arrived here.

BANISHED PLAYER RECEIVED $5000

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 29.—Joe Jackson, former star outfielder of the Chicago White Sox, who was banished with other players from organized baseball following the 1919 world's series with Cincinnati, received $5,000 for his part in "throwing games," his attorney, Raymond J. Jackson, Cannon said, took no part in any efforts to deliver the series to the Cincinnati Reds so that gamblers might cash their bets.

Cannon's statement was made just before Jackson was called as first witness in his suit to force President Charles A. Comiskey of the White Sox to pay the balance of the salary named in Jackson's contract which was abrogated.

NEED ONE MORE LETTER CARRIER

All mail delivery routes have had to be re-routed, following the addition of two routes, and even so all are so crowded that one more letter carrier is an imperative necessity, Postmaster J. H. Whitaker declared today.

Whitaker, who has had the wires working for some months to obtain a third extra carrier, is being aided, he averred, by Inspector F. E. Jarvis, who is officially assigned to this territory.

One more carrier would mean better service all around, of course.

The postmaster hopes that the public will be patient if the service is not all it should be.

Effective at once, the money order window opens at 9 a.m. and closes at 5 p.m.

The two new routes laid out recently are being operated very [illegible] and most of the residents included in them have obtained their boxes.

DEMAND DAUGHERTY QUIT CABINET POST

against Denby and Daugherty that President Coolidge summoned a hurried conference with senate leaders last night to outline plans to block, if possible, impeachment proceedings.

Attending the White House meeting were Senators Lenroot, Republican of Wisconsin, chairman of the senate committee investigating the oil leases; Hale, Republican of Maine; Curtis, Republican of Kansas; Lodge, Republican of Mass.; and Pepper, Republican of Pennsylvania.

The meeting was surrounded with utmost secrecy, every precaution being taken to prevent a leak as to the policy determined upon. It was indicated however, that President Coolidge instructed the leaders to wield the "big stick" in lining up Republican senators against the impeachment moves.

President Coolidge was said to feel that resignations of Denby and Daugherty at this time would be premature; that they should not leave the cabinet at least until the investigations by counsels appointed by the president are concluded.

To permit the resignations now, the White House held, would amount to an unjustified repudiation of Denby and Daugherty, especially as the special counsels will be called upon to determine in court whether they have been guilty of any wrong doing in connection with the leasing of naval reserves.

The senate leaders spoke unreservedly to the president. They told him that chances for passing the resolutions were favorable; that an agreement had been reached between insurgent republicans and democrats to demand removal of Denby and Daugherty, both of whom have been denounced savagely in speeches in the senate.

Only a break in the insurgent or Democratic ranks, they pointed out, can prevent the adoption of the ouster measures. Proof that the La Follette group, supported by the Democrats, hold the balance of power in the senate and can dictate legislation was shown in the fight over the chairmanship of the interstate commerce committee, which resulted in election of a Democrat, Senator Smith of South Carolina, the president was told.

The public lands committee held only a short session today and decided not to go to Fall's bedside to question him.

Fall's four physicians, however, were summoned to appear before the committee in executive session tomorrow and tell what is wrong with him. They said today that their patient was on the verge of a nervous breakdown. The committee also excused Tom Johnson, foreman of Fall's New Mexico ranch.

Unquestionably the Coolidge administration faced a crisis today. The president and the cabinet were under a heavy fire and Senator Walsh, Dem. of Montana, leader of the Teapot Dome probe, involved the whole cabinet in the naval reserve scandal by charging that the question of leasing the oil lands had been discussed frequently in the semi-weekly sessions of the president's advisers.

The principle involved in the leasing was not attacked by any cabinet member, including President Coolidge, who was vice president, sat in cabinet meetings, in the charges.

The cabinet was presented with a modified Walsh resolution directing President Coolidge to employ counsel to institute proceedings to recover the Doheny and Sinclair leases, the public lands committee met to examine additional witnesses.

Ex-secretary of the interior Albert B. Fall, the central figure in the oil scandal, was excused when his attorneys submitted a medical certificate declaring, "it would be detrimental to Fall's health for him to leave his residence in his present condition."

He is staying at the home of Colonel Zevely, Sinclair's attorney, who handled the loan of $25,000 in liberty bonds which the oil man made to Fall.

It was suggested that the committee go to the former secretary's bedside to hear his story about the Sinclair and Doheny loans. This the committee was not inclined to accept, feeling that Fall should come before it to explain contradictory statements regarding the loans.

With Fall's testimony delayed the committee called Tom Johnson, foreman of the ex-secretary's New Mexico ranch. He was wanted to clarify testimony by Archie Roosevelt, who alleged that G. D. Wahlberg, former secretary to Sinclair, declared he was worried about cancelled checks for $68,000 payable to the foreman of Fall's ranch. Wahlberg subsequently declared the checks were for S. C. Hildreth, trainer of the Rancocas stable.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—A stirring defense of President Coolidge, whom he said had been absolved of any blame or responsibility in connection with the Teapot Dome scandal, was made by Senator Lenroot, Rep., Wisconsin, chairman of the oil probing committee, before the Senate today.

"I realize that senators on the other side (Democrats) will take every advantage to make political capital of any dereliction or failure to perform duty by any Republican official," Lenroot shouted.

"Every means will be taken by Democrats to fasten upon President Coolidge some culpability, some responsibility for these lease transactions.

"But those efforts will fail."

Lenroot's fiery speech was in reply to charges by Senator Walsh, Dem., of Montana, that the entire Harding cabinet, in which Mr. Coolidge sat as vice-president and which he inherited intact, was involved in the naval reserve mess.

Another sensation was sprung by Lenroot when he stated flatly that the late President Harding was without legal authority in issuing the executive order transferring control of the reserves from the navy to the interior department.

"The time has come when politics should be dropped from the case. When we come to the point of rectifying any wrong, if wrong there be, I say politics should cease. That we should act together as patriotic Americans in an effort to secure justice for the American people."

Lenroot was one of five senators who last night conferred with President Coolidge more than two hours about the Teapot Dome scandal.

"The first positive evidence pointing to fraud came before the committee last Monday, during the testimony of Archie Roosevelt," Lenroot continued.

"When this information came to President Coolidge's attention he acted and did everything that any president, either Democratic or Republican, could do."

Lenroot declared 'every lawyer' on the senate investigation committee, "had expressed doubt as to the legality" of the Doheny and Sinclair contracts. This doubt was, he said, based on a feeling that Secretary Fall did not have legal power to make the leases.

Lenroot demanded to know why the Democrats tried to make it appear the administration had been shielding 'fraud in these leases for the last two years."

"They are criticizing the president of the United States for delaying action and they do that for political purposes only. They know he acted just as soon as any evidence was uncovered which even hinted at corruption."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate and lessee of the Teapot Dome, denied in a cablegram from Paris to the senate public lands committee today that he had ever given money to ex-secretary of the interior Fall.

Col. J. W. Zevely, Sinclair's counsel, previously testified he had loaned Fall $25,000 in liberty bonds which he had received from Sinclair.

TRY TO REFUTE DAMAGE CLAIMS

With the plaintiffs' case rested, attorneys for the county were today offering their defense in Superior Judge F. C. Drumm's court to the $25,000 flood damage suits instituted by Thomas Page and Joseph Stupp, Richfield ranchers.

In the mass of testimony that citrus trees on the Page and Stupp ranches have been killed by excessive moisture, was included evidence from the testimony of one witness that "storm" waters standing upon the ranches contributed to the damage. This witness testified that he had observed storm water backed up on the ranches by a county road grade, which blocked drainage. The plaintiffs allege that the damage resulted from a change in grade of this road, extending between Placentia and Richfield. Stupp asks $5,000 damages and Page seeks $20,000.

District Attorney A. P. Nelson and Deputy District Attorney D. G. Wettlin were launched today into their task of refuting the contentions of the plaintiffs.

They announced that they would seek to prove that damage to the two ranches, which are situated in lowlands, entirely surrounded by higher ground, was a natural result of raised water levels, caused by sub-irrigation from the high ground.

They will also show, they said, that the road itself has settled because of this sub-irrigation, until at one point it is actually lower than before the raise was made several years ago. That the ground in the vicinity was waterlogged even before the grade was raised, as revealed to the workmen employed in raising the grade, is another contention which the defense will seek to establish, it was said.

4 BOY BANDITS ROB L. A. BANK

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29.—Four youthful bandits shortly before noon today held up five employes of the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings Bank at Western-ave and Beverly-blvd, with pistols and robbed the institution of several thousand dollars and escaped in an automobile.

One of the bandits remained in the auto while three companions entered the bank and took the money. Hollywood police hurried to the scene but found no trace of the bandits who were said to be between 18 and 20 years old.

BELIEVE "BADGE" BANDIT HEAD DEAD

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—James Soto, 32, believed by police to have been the mysterious "badge" bandit leader of a gang of "hijackers," was shot and killed and four members of his band captured early today, when they were surrounded in a house after an alleged night of crime.

Soto was shot as he attempted to escape from a rear window in a gun battle with officers. The four captured gave their names as James Thornton, George Douglas, William Barney and Eugene McDermott.

Police were about to launch an attack on the house with tear bombs when the four, minus their leader, surrendered. Police were directed to the house by Thomas Magnon, who reported he had been robbed, and then trailed the bandits to their rendezvous.

PASTOR DENIES WOMAN'S CHARGE

By ROLAND KREBS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—Rev. Dr Carl D. Case returned to the witness stand and answered the charges of Mrs. Charlotte Leland that he was a lover of such volcanic intensity that he swept her into sin, with testimony calculated to show he was a man of glacial coolness, restraint and apathy, in women's presence.

The clergyman, named by Albert Leland in his divorce suit as the other man, testified that in all his years in the ministry he never had felt any temptation when emotional women came to him for sympathy or advice.

"Conditions are not ideal for feeling emotional about such women," he said.

One alienist already has testified that, while Mrs Leland has not the delusions or insanity Dr. Case charges, she is "intensely emotional."

Smarting under the testimony of Mrs. Leland, of the tempestuous way in which he made love, Dr. Case offered his version of her alleged methods of pressing an amour.

Her testimony was flattering in a shade in that it pictures him as a man of tremendous personality and a charm almost magic.

He described her as cringing, worshipful, loving more deeply and more ardently under rebuffs.

Dr. Case said Mrs. Leland kissed his hand. That disgusted him, he added, because he thot it too much of a "movie stunt".

"Her letters were unnecessary, useless—somewhat of a nuisance," the clergyman testified.

"I threw most of her letters into the waste basket."

Then he aded:

"I have never been tempted by any woman who came in regard to church work."

It was a different Dr. Case who took the stand today. He had little of the calm that characterized his behavior yesterday. His discomfort was made obvious by his shifting in his seat and the annoyance he manifested in answering questions.

The minister denied ever having given a book entitled "Sex Worship" to Mrs. Leland's husband.

The biggest crowd that has appeared since the case was reopened at Dr. Case's request to clear his name surged in the superior court corridors today.

Fist fights were frequent and enthusiastic.

The crowd was drawn by the expectation of hearing the testimony today of Mrs. Leland's eldest son, John, 15. The boy was expected to tell of what he knew of the clergyman's alleged relations with his mother and how he acted as cupid's messenger, carrying notes to and fro between them.
