FIVE FOREST FIRES RAGE UNABATED

Travel Over Desert Road to Big Bear Endangered By Blazes

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—California forests were again menaced today by one of the most serious outbreaks of fire of the present year.

Strong north winds, high temperatures and low humidity combined to make the situation so serious that warnings were dispatched to all federal forests and state's forest supervisors to increase their vigilance.

Five major blazes were raging uncontrolled in as many national forests and in others exhausted workers had only quenched fires before they were hurriedly rushed to the danger zones.

So serious was the Monterey division fire in Santa Barbara National Forest because of inaccessibility that an airplane was dispatched from Crissy Field for Salinas where Supervisor Chester E. Jordan was planning late today to make an aerial reconnaissance of the menaced area.

A bad blaze was reported east of Oroville in Plumas National Forest on land owned by the Huthinson Lumber Co. where several weeks ago tens of thousands of acres of timber lands were devastated.

Areas now endangered by blazes which may develop at any moment into disastrous fires were: Angeles, Quincy, Tahoe, Santa Barbara and Stanislaus National forests.

In Tahoe National forest two bad blazes in the Relief Hill country are now roaring into valuable brush and timberlands with more than 235 men on the fire lines vainly endeavoring to control the huge blaze.

The town of North Bloomfield which was threatened by one of these fires was saved, it was announced by the United States district forester's office here. But one building was destroyed, it was said.

The Jawbone fire in Santislaus forest was out today after burning more than 1,300 acres of brush and timber altho the Calaveras, Big Creek fire was still being closely watched after devastating 1,800 acres.

The San Gabriel fire in Angeles Forest has jumped control lines on the west fork of the San Gabriel river, said reports received here, and 400 men are desperately building a new line opposite Chileon Canyon in an effort to stem its advance.

The Sugar Pine fire east of Cajon, on the desert side of the San Bernardino mountains also in this forest, was again out of control and roaring over fire lines built by 250 men.

CONSCRIPT SCORES TO FIGHT FLAMES

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 11.—Facing a flame wall over a 15-mile front, fire crews prepared today for a final defense in an attempt to save the Monrovia watershed from destruction by the fierce forest fire raging in Angeles Forest in the vicinity of Fish and Roberts canyons.

More than 1,000 men were fighting the flames. Scores of men were being conscripted in foothill towns near by in the event reinforcements were necessary.

TEXAS ATTORNEY SHOT TO DEATH

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 11.—Paul M. O'Day, prominent Dallas attorney was shot and killed in a downtown bank today.

O'Day's body was riddled with charges from a shotgun.

This is confirmed by V. M. Kipp, western superintendent of the Canadian Press at Winnipeg.

Wage increases asked and declined is the cause of the tie-up. The telegraphers refused to submit the issue to conciliation board arbitration.

DAHLIA SHOW ANNOUNCES PROGRAM

One of the finest features of the Buena Park Wman's club Dahlia show is the Dahlia dance to be staged by pupils of Mrs. J. A. Hilton, of Santa Ana, instructor in dance and expression, at the afternoon and evening show Friday, Sept. 19. This is the only number of the program which will be given both afternoon and evening.

A very nice arrangement this year will allow one admission to both entertainments, as the tea booth will provide a really filling luncheon of sandwiches, salad, cake, pie, coffee and ice cream. Patrons of the show may arrive in time for the program in the afternoon, enjoy a hearty meal from the tea table and have plenty of time to look at the floral exhibits before the evening entertainment.

The animated magazine will be an innovation, as nothing like it has been presented in the community. Each department of a magazine will be enacted, fiction, editorial, advertising, history, travel, biography, in fact, all that a modern magazine contains, will be delineated, with explanatory reading by a member of the club.

The dahlia show is not for Buena Park alone, it is for the whole of Orange-co and talent from the entire county will assist in making this the best show of the autumn. Splendid music will intersperse the other numbers.

YOUTH AND AGE PREY TO TRAFFIC

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 11.—Investigation of traffic accidents in Los Angeles and nearby cities, which caused the deaths of two persons and serious injury to three others, was under way today.

Mrs. S. C. Picter, 70, of Pomona was killed in a crash near Glendora and George Williams, 7, was killed in a triffic accident here.

The Misses Lois and Alice Ourward of La Verne, riding in the car with Mrs. Picter, were seriously injured. They were removed to a hospital and reported in a critical condition.

UTTER AUTO GOES WINDOW SHOPPING

Dr. J. W. Utter's Haynes five-passenger touring car was nearly sent cavorting into one of the S. Q. R. Store's show windows this morning, when a small Ford truck of the elevator department of the Baker Iron Works, Los Angeles, ran into it on South Los Angeles street.

The larger car ran up the curb, but stopped half way and was pushed back again. Its left rear fender was bent a little.

The Ford's steering gear and right front fender were knocked askew.

VALENCIAS STILL HIT HIGH SPOTS

Orange-co valencias again passed $8.00 yesterday on the New York auction market, and four other lots of oranges, including Anaheim Gloriana of the Anaheim Orange & Lemon Ass'n, ranged from $7.70 to $7.85.

There was a good-sized number of lots sold at $6.00 or better, as usual.

KINDLY HAND AWAITING YOUTHS

Warden Whitman Prophesies Prison Quiet May Work Wonders

JOLIET, Ill., Sept. 11.—Cold stone walls, strong steel bars, deadly dull routine, two numbers and oblivion are awaiting today for Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard A. Leob.

Waiting, too, is a kindly man who will strive with firm hands to bring to the pair some realization of the relation they bear to society and what future there remains to them.

"These things are sad, but they seem to be necessary," says John L. Whitman, warden of the penitentiary, who usually sighs as he discusses the frailities of humans.

"I have followed this case carefully as it developed and it seems to me that these boys will require some little time to adjust themselves. I believe that the quiet and seclusion of the prison will bring them to the point where they will want to talk the thing over. When that time comes someone will be there to talk to them—someone who will know almost as much about them as they know about themselves. They may not believe it now, but it is true, nevertheless.

"It is far better for the sake of the boys themselves that they are coming here at once than to have remained in the Cook county jail for a long period. The fact that they were the center of public attraction was a bad thing for them. It is possible that their own ideas of themselves developed over a long period of time under such circumstances would have prevented their ever understanding the situation as it exists."

Warden Whitman has his own ideas of reformation. He has demonstrated in the last few years that brutality and constant repression have no place in corrective institutions, no matter what the enormity of the crime may be.

At noon Sheriff Peter M. Hoffman announced that the papers for the prisoners' removal still lacked the signature of State's Attorney Robert M. Crowe and it was indicated the start would not be made until about 2 or 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The papers were signed by Judge John R. Caverly early today.

The crowd, which all morning had waited in the streets around the jail for a possible glimpse of the prisoners, gained in numbers as the day wore on, and at noon there were nearly 500 persons milling about in the cold drizzling rain.

The heavy police guard was kept on duty to keep the crowd moving and to prevent any untoward incident.

The slayers were kept in their cells and no one was permitted to see them.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Picked rifle squads this morning patrolled the block around the criminal courthouse and county jail here while preparations were being made to transport Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard A. Loeb to Joliet on what may be the last open air journey of their lives.

All thru the night, following pronouncement of the verdicts for the kidnaping and slaying of little Robert Franks, while the two young collegians slept soundly within, the armed guards marched monotonously back and forth in front of the structure. And all thru the night little knots of the curious gathered in the narrow streets there until the sharp command to "move on" routed them.

One arrest was made. A man who passed continually by the building was taken into custody on suspicion.

As dawn came the tenseness which had prevailed by night lessened, but jail officials were eager to get the young slayers started for Joliet.

United they leave, however, the redoubled guard both inside and outside the building will be maintained. The start will be made, it is expected, some time today.

ENDORSE LA FOLLETTE

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The United Textile Workers of America, representing 58,000 members, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, today passed a resolution endorsing the candidacy of Robert M. LaFollette for president and Senator Burton K. Wheeler for vice president.

Proves He's Boy Despite Clothes

A young lad living on West Chestnut street, Santa Ana, took sweet "revenge" when his mother put girls' clothes on him so he would not run away while she was away.

He went to the telephone and placed a frantic false fire alarm, late yesterday.

Fire trucks responded, without avail. The chief, however, traced the call.

Now the mother is devising plans to reverse the "punishment."

American Fox Fails to Halt For Royalty

SYOSSET, L. I., Sept. 11.—H. R. H. went on his first royal fox hunt but failed to get his fox. Last night he danced at the home of Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, II, leaving the party shortly after 2 o'clock, presumably to get to bed early for today's hunt.

More than 50 members of Long Island hunting set gathered for the hunt after 5:30 this morning and after waiting a few minutes with hounds straining at the leashes, finally rode off from the estate of Robert E. Todd, without the prince.

Almost a mile down the roadway, however, the prince, riding "Goat," joined the merry party and led off by taking the first jump.

After an hour's riding a fox was chased out of the bush and the hunt was on.

The American fox, disdainful of the honor of having the heir of the British throne on his trail, made a beautiful run and after three hours the fox hunters gave up the chase, leaving the panting fox still alive "somewhere on Long Island."

CHALLENGES RIGHT OF CITY TO PAY

A temporary injunction was filed in the superior court this afternoon by David Jessurun, prominent Anaheimer, to prevent payment by the City of Anaheim to R. F. Brown for $1449 as contractor of the city hall, and to the Byron Jackson Iron Works the sum of $805 for a well pump. Mayor E. H. Metcalf and City Treasurer Chas. Boege were named as defendants.

There is a city ordinance which states that no contract shall be let for more than $300 unless a call for competitive bids is issued, and this ordinance was violated, stated Jessurun.

He was accompanied by his attorney, Homer G. Ames.

POLICE HIT ONLY HI SPOTS IN RUN

Local police were called last night about 9 o'clock to investigate a burglar alarm from 911 West Center-st, where the people were away from home, visiting in the east. The police were there in two minutes after having been called and searched the place, but found nothing missing. It is thot the burglar may have been frightened away.

ASKS FINANCIAL SALVE

MAY ASK FOR COUNTY BOND ELECTION

Committee Wants $750,000 for Improvements to Harbor

The harbor committee of fifty will recommend that the supervisors call a bond election to provide money for improvement of Newport bay. It may not ask $1,500,000, but it likely will seek at least $750,000.

This was intimated by J. S. Smart of Santa Ana, a member, when he appeared before the Chamber of Commerce directors last night. The directors had sought to get more harbor information and Smart's remarks came during a discussion of this subject.

The $750,000, it was learned, would be needed to strengthen the present west jetty and to do other work at the entrance, improvements which Smart said the harbor committee "considered feasible."

The committee's report, due to be presented at a final meeting at the court house Monday at 7:30 p. m., has been withheld from publication until it has been presented to the supervisors.

OVERRULE PROTEST PASS ORDINANCE

A stout protest against the annexation of a strip of territory along both sides of Orangethorpe-ave, stretching from Fullerton to Anaheim city limits was made last night to Fullerton Board of trustees by H. G. Meiser, a resident of the tract proposed to be annexed. Meiser said the proposed annexation is a move to block opening No Lemon-st in Anaheim thru to Orangethorpe. The protest was overruled, and an ordinance was passed calling the ennexation election for October 13.

A communication was received from the state board of health asking that the city health officer be sent to the meeting of the League of Municipalities to be held at Monterey October 6-10. The communication was referred to the health board with the assurance that if the board wished to send the health officer the city stood ready to bear the expense. The city engineer, city attorney and city clerk will also be sent to the meeting, it is said.

The matter of clearing the Starbuck-rd of telephone poles was taken up again last night by the Fullerton Board following the receipt of a communication from the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. protesting against the removal at this time. The matter was referred to the city attorney who was instructed to ask the telephone company if they would be willing to remove the poles if the right-of-way was obtained.

A motion was passed raising the salary of the city treasurer from $50 to $100 per month.

The city engineer was instructed to proceed in arrangements to improve the road to the new glass company plant.

TILDEN WINS FIRST SINGLES IN CONTEST

GERMANTOWN CRICKET CLUB, PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11—The United States got away to a fine start in its fight to retain the Davis Cup here this afternoon when "Big Bill" Tilden, of Philadelphia, captured the first singles match from Gerald Patterson, of Australia, in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2, 6-2.

The match lasted only 40 minutes and the American champion wore his sweater throughout.

BOUT SEEMS QUESTION OF PUNCH

Both Boxers Reputed Good Hitters but Weak To Receive

RINGSIDE, BOYLE'S THIRTY ACRES, JERSEY CITY, Sept. 11—Only a few hundred of fistic fans were on hand waiting to enter the stadium where Luis Firpo and Harry Wills will battle tonight, when the gates were thrown open shortly after 5 o'clock These few hundreds were headed for the two and three dollar seats. By 5:30 o'clock about 1,000 had passed thru the gates.

The weather was ideal. The air was crisp and cool. Most of the spectators that were on hand wore overcoats.

Tex Rickard had provided a band that kept the early arrivals happy by playing popular airs.

The arena was amply guarded. More than six hundred of Jersey City's "finest" were on duty inside the big bowl. In addition nearly five hundred were stationed in the immediate vicinity outside of the arena. These latter kept the crowds moving.

Several hundred firemen also were on hand ready to man emergency apparatus that had been setup to guard against a blaze.

WEST HOBOKEN, N. J., Sept. 11—Luis Angel Firpo and Harry Wills who fight at Boyle's Thirty Acres in Jersey City tonight, weighed in at Joe Jeanette's gymnasium here this afternoon before Caesar Walter, boxing inspector of Hudson County.

Firpo weighed 224½ pounds, Wills tipped the beam at 217.

Firpo, 25 minutes late in arriving, looked sombre. Wills appeared nervous but looked in great shape.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Luis Angel Firpo, alleged wild bull and Harry Wills, so-called black panther, are scheduled to appear in a 12-round bout at Jersey City tonight for the edification of those who like their blood served red and flowing and knowing all there is to be known about the principals, the man who tries to pick a winner must have a frayed cuff in his family closet.

In the accepted sense of the terms, Firpo is no more wild bull than Harry Wills is a panther. The terms are libelous to the animals in question.

The bull does not live that cannot accept a wound for what it may be worth and come on for more. And what may be said for a panther with broken claws and a weak jaw such as Wills is reported to feature?

From all appearances it will be a meeting between two big tremendously strong men who can deal out punishment, but cannot take it. Theirs apparently is the theory that it is more blessed to give than to receive. It will be a question of the man landing the hardest punch first and in spite of Wills' cleverness he cannot be staked in preference without first proving that he rates that distinction.

The same goes for Firpo. There will be a winner tonight but the writer knows him not.

The loser? It may be our Mr. Rickard. Favored by excellent weather and an attraction that has the sharpshooters divided against themselves, he may accept a financial loss on the venture, owing to Firpo's difficulties with the law.

Failing in their efforts to have the senor deported before the bout and in a subsequent attempt to have the fight outlawed, New Jersey reformers are threatening the arrest of Firpo under the Mann act and will seek a warrant for his arrest today. The possibility that Firpo may be arrested in fighting togs as he climbs into the ring has added to the gaiety of the occasion but not to the gate receipts. Those were benefited not at all by Firpo's troubles which have caused the customers to abstain from ticket buying on the theory that a buck in the hand is worth two in the box office.

They feared a postponement or cancellation and in consequence the advance sale has not exceeded $300,000. Of this Wills is supposed to draw $150,000 and Firpo a guarantee of $100,000 with t privilege of a cut in the receipt

However, our Mr. Rickard lo for a last minute rally around entrances today and tonight.

SOCIETY

PETITE GIRL IS BRIDE OF YOUNG LOCAL RANCHER

SWEET and impressive were the services at the German Baptist church last evening when Miss Lydia Bernice Stranske became the bride of Mr. Carl John Remland.

The church was very prettily decorated in white intertwined with greenery and under the archway hung a white floral bell, the handiwork of the bride's artistic sister, formed a canopy where the couple exchanged their vows. Rev. Max Leuschner, pastor of the church, officiated, reading the service in both English and German.

Preceding the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Wedel sang "Thou Art Mine" and Mrs. Wedel, "O Promise Me," accompanied by Mrs. Koons of Santa Ana.

Jonathan Stranske, brother and Ephraim Stranske, cousin of the bride, ushered the guests to their pews.

As Lohengrin's wedding march was played, the ushers marched up the aisles and waited at the altar for the remainder of the wedding party. The groom and his best man, Bert Stranske, were followed by the bride's maids, the Misses Emma Schaddick, in pink voile and Ella Grauer, orchid voile, both carrying bouquets of pink carnations.

Miss Olga Stranske, sister of the bride, as maid of honor looked very sweet in pale green voile, most becoming to her blond hair and fair complexion. Her bouquet was pink roses and orchid sweet peas.

The little flower girl, Anna Marchall, niece of the groom, strewed rose petalls in the path of the bride. She was dressed in pink and her long dark curls gave her particular childish beauty.

The little bride, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Stranske of 303 E. Alberta-st looked very lovely in her gown of white satin made in girlish mode. She wore a veil caught at her head with a coronet of orange blossoms, her only ornament being a pearl necklace, a gift of her fiancee. She carried a shower of bride's roses and sweet peas, intertwined with maiden hair fern.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Remland of Lincoln-ave., pioneer residents of Anaheim. Mr. Remland has prepared a pretty home for his bride on his ranch west of Anaheim.

Following the ceremony the wedding party and guests went to the Stranske home where a reception was held. Mrs. Remland delighted in showing her many lovely wedding gifts which she had received, both on the occasion and at the several pre-nuptial courtesies.

Both the young folk are Sunday school teachers at the German Baptist church and both very active workers. They slipped away from their friends and hurried off to Long Beach from where they left this morning by motor for a honeymoon trip.

Chicken Supper

The good news of a chicken supper Monday evening, Sept. 22, has been broadcast to all Moose members. The dinner will be prepared by the Moose with a little assistance from the lady's auxiliary. There will be an entertainment after the dinner.

A radio is being installed in the Moose quarters for the entertainment of the boys. Special efforts were being made today to make it complete for the Wills-Firpo fight this evening.

J. F. McCracken, superintendent, was in Los Angeles this morning conferring with Moose officials to determine whether or not James J. Davis, secretary of labor, and district general of Moosedom, would be able to make a visit to Anaheim when he visits So. Calif. Every effort will be made to get Mr. Davis to come to Anaheim.

LIVING WITHOUT A STOMACH

Is it possible for a human being to live without a stomach? That is a question physicians are often asked. Persons have been known to survive for a number of years after the removal of the stomach—but what a miserable existence! Surely no one would care to live very long under such conditions.

Thousands of people afflicted with chronic stomach trouble are little better off than the person who has had this vital organ cut out. They are really living without a stomach, but don't know it. What food they eat, is digested, if at all, in the bowels. No wonder that so many are finally stricken with deadly appendicitis.

Stomach sufferers who have used Smith Bros.' M.A.C., say that nothing ever gave them such prompt, effective relief. This invigorating and cleansing tonic is sold on a positive guarantee of money back if the very first bottle doesn't relieve any case of digestive trouble. Try it today for dyspepsia, indigestion, heartburn, excessive gas, nausea, acidity or other stomach distress. Large bottle $1.25.

Heying's Pharmacy will supply you. (Mail orders accepted.)

Church Meeting Tonight

There will be a meeting of all the men of the church in the new Christian edifice this evening at 7:30. The meeting is so essential to the success of the dedication of the church next Sunday that the men of the church are requested to brush aside every hindrance to attend the meeting. This request comes personally from Dr. H. G. Carlin, chairman; H. S. Leavitt, secretary, and the Rev. L. L. Myers, pastor.

Kansas Picnic

The final call for the Kansas picnic has been sent out for Saturday, Sept. 13, at Sycamore Grove. There will be talks and a program and everyone is requested to bring a basket lunch.

New patients at the local sanitarium include: Mrs. L. E. Miller, Anaheim, and Margie Daly, Avalon.

Remove to platter and pour the sauce around it.

MENDING

In mending baby's clothes or other garments made of sheer material, a fine piece of footing may be set under the thin place or small tear. Then darn with a very fine thread, using the net as a foundation. If carefully done the work will not show badly and the net is very strong.

New neckbands may be put on men's shirts and the French cuffs reversed when worn. The place at the neck in front where the collar rubs can only be mended by as neat a patch placed on the under side as the mender can manage.

BILLY WHISKERS

BY FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

Billy Jr. and his family were getting very tired of being locked up in the pen in Lincoln Park.

"If that fence were not so very high, I could jump it," said Billy Junior. "But should I try and fail, I might fall back on the long, sharp spikes and hang there."

"Or if only the bars were not so close together, we would starve ourselves and squeeze through," remarked Daisy.

"Or dig under," suggested Nannie," if the bars did not go down into the ground so far.'

"Oh, my; oh, my; oh, me! Isn't this life awful, with nothing to do but wander around this old yard where the grass is all tramped down and burnt by the hot sun, with people walking by and looking at you all the time! Only an occasional kind-hearted person gives you a peanut or the core of an apple," grumbled Billy Junior.

"I wish your father were here," said Nannie. "When everything looked hopeless, he always found a way out."

"So do we wish he was here," chimed in Daisy and Billy Junior.

"Mercy sakes alive!" exclaimed Daisy the next moment. "See where those kids are! In the elephant yard!" and she jumped to her feet and ran to the fence which separated the yard where the goats were confined from that of the elephants. "How did you two get over there?" she asked severely. "Come straight out of that yard! The elephants may not like kids and kill you."

"You are perfectly correct, madame," said an elephant. "I dislike goats of all kinds, and so would you if in my place. Forced to live month in and month out next to a goat pen where the disagreeable odor all goats have is carried to my nostrils until I am sick from it and cannot eat is far from pleasant."

"Did I hear you say," said Billy Junior, stepping up beside his wife, "that you do not like the smell of goats?"

"That is exactly what I did say," replied the elephant. "And I will repeat it if you wish me to do so."

"Oh, don't take the trouble. Saying it once is enough. But allow me to inform you that the odor of a goat is as sweet to the nostrils as roses and lilies compared to the odor from an elephant. That resembles the smell from a garbage pile!"

Now Billy Junior had done it! The elephant became enraged and tried to break down the fence between them. When he found he could not do this, he trumpeted and pawed the earth, throwing great clods of dirt all over them.

"Come out of there! Come out of there!" called Daisy to the kids. "He will kill you!"

LA HABRA

Happy are the members of the music committee for the street dance and fair to be given Saturday night by the La Habra Woman's Club for they have secured the services of the Sunnyland Orchestra. This is a group of colored musicians who played for the La Habra American Legion dances and they are most entertaining. They will bring a singer and dancer with them. Even dancers admit it is almost as much fun to watch these men as it is easy to dance to their music.

Registration for the baby show will be on Thursday and any baby may be entered. The entrants will all be shown Saturday afternoon and the eight prizes offered will be awarded by outside judges. The ages are from three to twenty-four months. Dr. Edna Burgeson is examining physician.

Chicken and pork dinners will be served in the evening and just after dinner there will be a free minstrel show. These artists are going to be kept dark by Mrs. J. T. Benson and Mrs. C Holzgrafe, who have this part under their direction, but they promise that a treat awaits the audience.

Starting with a flurry on Monday and enjoying a holiday on Tuesday, work in the La Habra grammar schools was resumed Wednesday with a larger enrollment than ever before, according to those in charge. While the exact number of pupils registered in the Washington and Lincoln schools could not be given all the rooms were well filled and some so crowded that adjustments were necessary. In the Washington school the sixth and seventh grades had to be divided and part of the children were sent to Lincoln school. This will be the first year Lincoln school will have a sixth grade. Up to this term only the fifth grades and below have been taught there. Mrs. Kate Essert will have charge of this room. For the extra second grade room no teacher has been chosen. There will be two special rooms at the Washington school, one for boys and one for girls, Mrs. Frances Gladwin will be in charge of the boys, and Mrs. Margaret West of the girls. Children from the fifth grade up will be enrolled in these rooms and each teacher expects to have a number to graduate in June. Morning assemblies will be another feature of this year.

WEAK NERVES AND THIN BLOOD

Ruin Health of Thousands Without Their Ever Suspecting the Real Cause of Their Trouble—Iron Starvation

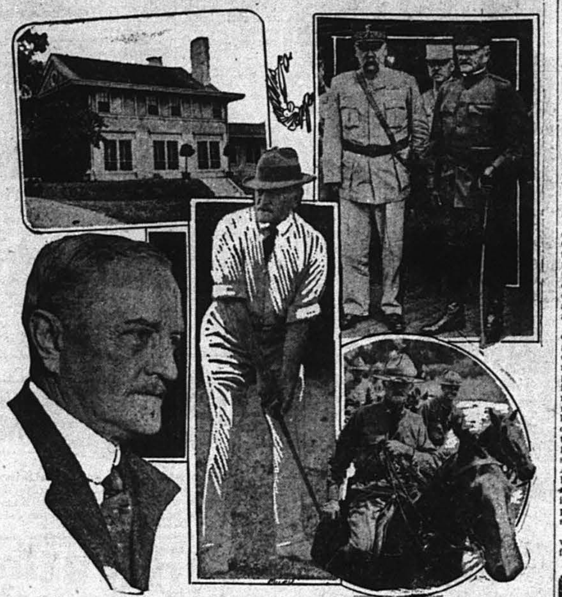
An enormous number of people who ought to be strong, vigorous and in the prime of life, are constantly complaining of weak nerves, headaches, pains across the back, disturbed digestion, shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart, a general "run-down" condition, melancholy, bad memory, etc., all as a result of iron starvation of the blood.

There are 30,000,000,000,000 red blood corpuscles in your blood and each one must have iron. Without iron your blood also loses its power to change food into living cells and tissue, and nothing you eat does you the proper amount of good—you do not get the full strength out of it, and as a consequence you become greatly weakened both in body and mind.

If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times a day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained.

Over 4,000,000 people annually are using Nuxated Iron. It will not injure the teeth nor disturb the stomach, because it is organic iron like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils, and apples, and not the metallic iron which people usually take. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain satisfactory results. Beware of substitutes. Look for the word "Nuxated" on every package and the letters Nd. on every tablet. Sold by all druggists.

Pershing Quits Army for Golf Links



JOHN J. PERSHING will devote himself to golf and books, and perhaps he will write his memoirs, when he retires as general of the U. S. Army, in September, after one of the most active lives ever led by an American military leader. He must quit the army because he is 64, its inexorable age limit. Above, at left, is his home in Washington, D.C. At right, above, he is shown with General Pelletier of the French army on his arrival in Paris as commander-in-chief of the A. E. F.. Left, below, he is pictured in mufti as he is today; in the center, on the golf links; at the right, when he was commander of the punitive expedition sent into Mexico in search of Villa, back in 1916.

TRIAL FLIGHT OF U. S. ZR-3

The ZR-3 probably will have another trial flight wtih passengers before she sets off on her trans-Atlantic flight to the Lakehurst, N. J., air station about September 23.

"Nigger in Woodpile"

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Charges that "some invisible empire" is seeking to prevent the Wills-Firpo fight in New Jersey tomorrow night reached President Coolidge today in a telegram from the Colored Non-Partisan League of California, which claimed to speak for 14,000,000 negroes in the United States.

EVERY POUND PLEASES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8—It is hard to imagine General John J. Pershing at leisure. Of all living Americans his has been one of the most active lives. Yet, though he is still in the best of physical condition, he will have nothing to occupy him but golf and the writing of his memoirs after Sept. 13.

On that day he will be retired from the regular army after 42 years service, with the rank of general—the fifth man ever to attain that post in the American military forces.

Some one asked him recently what he expects to do in retirement. He smiled—his characteristic smile that shows a row of very white teeth and a deep dimple in the left cheek.

"A number of things I have been planning to do all my life" he replied.

Teaching; fighting — mostly fighting. These words tell his life story.

His first birthday occurred in Linn County, Missouri. He was educated for a teacher, but was sidetracked into the profession of war by seeing an announcement of an examination for West Point. He took it, passed and entered, and was graduated in 1886.

He joined Gen. Nelson A. Miles's expedition against Geronimo and his Apaches.

Jumped Trough Ranks

Then he served as military instructor at the University of Nebraska and afterward at West Point, where he was teaching when the war with Spain began. He joined the volunteer service and earned a major's commission in the field, but resumed the rank of first lieutenant of Regulars on his return to the States.

In 1901 he was sent to the Philippines. The assignment called for qualities of diplomacy, strategy and much personal courage, to convince the unruly Moros the Americans were not only their friends, but also better fighters than they. Pershing succeeded so brilliantly that President Roosevelt jumped him, at the age of 46, from a captaincy to brigadier general, over the heads of hundreds of others.

For a short time in 1903, he was in Washington on the general staff, and then served as military attache to the American embassy in Japan, and as observer with Gen. Kuroki's army in Manchuria in the Russo-Japanese war. Then he returned to the Philippines.

Tragedy Enters Life

During his stay in the United States in 1903, he had married Miss Frances Warren, daughter of United States Senator Francis E. Warren, of Wyoming. When he came back from the Philippines the second time, he was put in command of the 8th Brigade at San Francisco, and with Mrs. Pershing and their four children he lived at the Presidio.

When the Mexican situation grew acute, Pershing was sent to protect the border. While there he received word his wife and three of the children had been burned to death in a fire at the Presidio. It was with the shadow of this tragedy upon him that he took charge of the expedition into Mexico that was to punish Villa and his bandits.

The expedition was small, the men soft and the horses were soft; it was penetrating strange country, in search of a foe that knew every stone and sagebrush, and it was tangled at every step with Washington red tape. It never caught Villa, but it did outride and outfight his bandits again and again.

When, in 1917, America had to choose a general for the unprecedented task of leading an overseas army, Pershing was the General chosen.

How huge the job was, probably few can realize. Just where, in the list of great American generals, Pershing's name will stand a hundred years from now, it is too soon to prophecy, but it seems sure that it will stand high.

When the war was over Pershing was given the title of full General—the fifth man to hold it since it was created by George Washington in 1799, the others being U. S. Grant, William T. Sherman and Philip T. Sheridan. He was mentioned for the posts of Ambassador to England, France and Japan respectively. A lively little boom for the Presidency was started, in which his friend Gen. C. G. Dawes, was active. This boom curled up when the General announced he was not and would in no circumstances be a candidate for any political office.

Finally the problem of what he was to do was solved by appointing him Chief of Staff to succeed Gen. Peyton C. March. In this post he served his remaining time in the army.

Water Only in Way Of Good Oil Flow

It only remains for the companies operating to shut off invading water to develop on oil field between Seal Beah and Los Alamitos on the great Bixby, Bryant and Hellman estates.

This became evident today when it was learned that Bixby Well No. 1 on Fred Bixby's 2500-acre ranch has been practically brot in, altho salt water is still preventing a successful well.

This was the same trouble as with Bryant Well No. 1, altho a good sized sump hole was filled with oil before the water baffled further pumping. The Shell Oil Co. crews are busily at work on both wells to obtain a good shutoff.

A rumor was current also today at Los Alamitos that the Standard Oil Co., which holds leases of the Alamitos Land Co., planned to drill on Hogg Island, which is mesa land. This island would belong to the government, but the land concern has established a claim to its ownership from having paid taxes for many years on it.

The Shell is having similar trouble at Compton on its Reyes well.

Regarding the Standard's test well near Placentia-ave. and Wagner-ro, Fred Weisel today declared it was news to him that the company was abandoning operations, as reported today. The big concern hasn't yet obtained a successful water shutoff and won't quit until it has done so.

York Bros. of Santa Fe Springs are said to be the company which has obtained large acreage, put at 1500, between Cypress and Westminster, where it will drill.

The Gaddie well at Cypress remains in statu quo.

The Artesia well is being rehabilitated at an expenditure of some $5,000 or $6,000 after it had been drilled to a reputed depth of 5,800 feet. There was said to be a bad kink in the casing.

TWO DROWNED

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Two men are believed to have been drowned, two others were captured and a cargo of Scotch whiskey valued at $25,000 was seized today when marine police captured the 85 foot steel yacht Sagitta, the fastest rum runner on the Atlantic.

J.C.Penney Co. Stores Leading Field

Report Shows Great Increase in Business

There are certain stoes to which most persons always turn when they want goods of a known merit. These stores are those of one of the great chain systems. To operate a chain store system profitably there is one essential: there must be a very rapid turnover. To attain this is the secret of the success of the chain stores.

Many persons go into a store of the ordinary merchant and see goods priced beyond what they wish to pay. Then they go to a chain store, such as one of the J. C. Penney Company stores, and they see the same article at a much lower price. Many unthinking persons assume that the article is inferior. But after close examination it is as good as the article offered in the other store, and half dubiously he buys it.

The fact is, the article purchased in the chain store is as good or better than the one purchased in the ordinary store. The reason for this difference is apparent to one who has had experience in merchandising. The local merchant has the benefit of his regular customers; people who know him in the city, through his own neighborhood and other contacts. They go to him with confidence that he will give them sound goods at a reasonable price. And in all likelihood he does. But he sells only at his one store, his range of goods and sales are limited. Hence he must sell at a price to make a profit upon this small range of goods and sales.

But a chain store maintains a wide range of goods, they profit from many stores and many sales. There is less overhead per sale and through large quantity buying they effect great savings for their customers.

The chain store must sell goods of unquestioned quality or they cannot hope to win trade, and they must sell at a very small margin of profit or they will have a slow turnover. So by selling great volume at a small individual profit, the company is able to succeed and to give the public exceptional values.

The J. C. Penney Company is one of the great chain stores which have succeeded in providing the public with goods of merit at reasonable prices. And that the company is gaining the volume of the trade one need only examine their recent report. According to this report for the first four months this year the company sales amounted to $17,882,342. This represents a net gain of $3,415,000 over the same period last year. The J.C Penney Comapny is rapidly taking its place at the head of the great chain store companies, and they are doing it upon the only sound basis it can be done, of merchandising a greater volume of goods of unquestioned merit at prices that attract trade, and to hold that trade by a service that wins the loyalty of their customers. This is the only formula for success, and the J. C. Penney Company officers have applied it with unusual effect as their latest report shows.—Paid advertisement.

WEALTHY MAN HELD FOR ARSON

MODESTO, Cal., Sept. 11.—L. W. Lee, wealthy property owner in Placer, Eldorado, Santa Clara and Stanislaus counties, was arrested in Auburn today by Stanislaus county authorities on charges of arson.

Mysterious burning of three buildings in Turlock, one of them an apartment owned by Lee, led to the placing of the charges, officers said.

STUDEBAKER CO. ANNOUNCES COMPLETE CHANGE IN MODELS; NEW TYPE OF BODY

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 11—Those on the inside, who have seen the carefully-guarded, new Studebaker cars, are predicting nothing short of a sensation for American motordom when they are publicly announced this coming Sunday, Sept. 14.

Chief among these is said to be an entirely new type of body, of pressed steel, which is both an open car and a closed car. The entire top of the car is shaped in steel and covered with waterproof moleskin fabric. The device for converting the car into a closed car is said to be entirely new and almost instantaneous in operation. The new type car will not be higher in price than the average open car, according to advance predictions.

This is the first complete change in models that Studebaker has announced in six years. People may reasonably expect drastic changes and not be disappointed, say those who have seen the new models.

Studebaker engineers combed the motor centers of Europe last year for new ideas, not only in style and appearance but in mechanical design. As a result the new lines and appearance suggest foreign distinction. Although the new Studebaker cars are unlike any present American or foreign cars in appearance. They are said to be exceptionally beautiful.

According to inside sources, extra-wide and deeply crowned fenders have been designed especially for the new type of large balloon tires.

Further predictions are: that there will be an entirely new four passenger model on one of the three chasses—an especially beautiful car with new ideas in comfort and coziness.

There is an entirely new Six which comes from the new factories at South Bend, according to reliable information. It is said to be larger than the former Light Six and to include many new features which give it remarkable power and performance. Although a medium sized car, it has been so designed that the driver's compartment has as much room as that of the largest car, reports have it.

The big Studebaker factories both in Detroit and South Bend have been in production, full-force, for the last 30 days and the new cars have been shipped to every part of the United States for the first public announcement and display to be made next Sunday.

This is really the first output of the now-completed new plants in South Bend, one of which is a closed body plant said to represent an investment of ten million dollars. It is claimed that economies possible in the new plants by modern machinery, substantially reduce the prices of all Studebaker cars, quality considered.

All of the new closed bodies are now manufactured complete by Studebaker. In material, workmanship and finish they are said to be as fine as any closed bodies ever produced in this country. Prices of the closed cars will range from about $1395 to $2860 according to the chasses model on which they are mounted, it is forecast.

There has been tremendous interest in the forthcoming Studebaker announcement for many weeks among people who are interested in automobiles.

Undoubtedly next Sunday will find hundreds present at local Studebaker salesrooms—on hand to see the sensational new Studebakers unveiled.

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD AS LITERATURE

There has actually been discovered a man who reads the Congressional Record. Henry Fountain Ashurst when a boy of ten wrote after his name in his school geography, "United States Senator from Arizona," and twenty-six years later that title was his. And now Senator Ashurst makes the astounding confession that he began at the age of ten to read the Congressional Record, and that for the past twenty-four years he has religiously devoted an hour o day to that great but hitherto unappreciated work. He finds in it, he says, more history, more philosophy and more rhetoric, than in any other publication in the world. (We have no doubt about the rhetoric.) "If limited to only one thing to read," he advises, "by all means let it be the Congressional Record."

His literary tastes, if nothing else, distinguish Senator Ashurst and make him unique. He has done what no one else ever thought of doing. But, all jokes aside, we may hear from this Senator again. At twenty-one he was in the Arizona legislature and in his second term was speaker of the House. He has been cowboy, deputy sheriff, lumber jack and newspaper reporter. He aspired to be United States Senator from Arizona and he got there. And now it is said he aspires to be President of the United States.

Politics is interesting, in a way. But—did the Giants win today. And did Babe Ruth get his usual home run?

ENDOWED FOR PUBLIC SERVICE

Having instilled in the mind of his son, ideals for public service, and taught him that money-making and politics should be widely separated, the late Henry P. Davidson, at one time head of the American Red Cross, created in his will, a six and a half million dollar endowment fund whereby this son might devote his life to public welfare in the field of politics unhindered by the necessity of making money. A younger son succeeds the father in the financial world.

The young man, F. Trubee Davidson, twenty-six years old, is said to be imbued with his father's high ideals and had made the decision to give up finance for politics before his father's death and before he knew that he was to be endowed. He has already served three terms as assemblyman from his district on Long Island and is said to have won the respect of big men in the Republican party.

The elder Davidson loved his country. His watchword was "The public good." In thus endowing his son for a life of public service he has set a patriotic precendent for other men of wealth to follow.

A campaign of reason, untainted with abuse and narrow prejudice, would be becoming to this country.

WHO'S WHO IN THE DAY'S NEWS

PAUL WAYLAND BARTLETT

A few days ago the cables from Paris brought a brief message announcing that Paul Wayland Bartlett, American sculptor, had been honored in Paris by being chosen commander of the Legion of Honor by the French government.

This honor was bestowed upon him in recognition of his distinguished services to international art.

Paul Bartlett is a New Englander by birth. He was born in New Haven, Conn., and his father was also of New England birth, a Bostonian. His ancestry dates back to the Mayflower Pilgrims.

Bartlett is known as the sculptor of the great equestrian statue of Lafayette, which stands at the entrance to the Louvre. A replica of this statue has also been erected at Metz.

Only recently there was unveiled the first model of his statue of Sir Wm. Blackstone, internationally known as a great authority in law. This statue is the gift of the American Bar Ass'n to the British Bar Ass'n. The sculptor is now engaged upon the task of completing this masterpiece in his Paris studio. The statue will be cast in bronze.

DINNER STORIES

A gruff old practitioner of the type of the last generation, who is official physician of the public schools in a small town, was examining the aural faculties of the pupils one day recently and, with watch in hand, gripped a little girl of 10 taking the test.

"Hear that?" he asked, with the timepiece at arm's length.

"No, sir," came the timid reply.

"Hear that?" he repeated, bringing it slightly nearer.

There was no response and he carried the watch nearer and nearer with no better results. Finally, jamming it against the child's ear, he exclaimed with some heat: "Now, don't you hear that?"

There was the same monosyllable reply, and with an air of deep disgust, the old doctor held the watch to his own ear with the exclamation: "Gosh," the old thing ain't goin'!"

They were out for a hike, the dog and John, when they came across a farmhouse on fire. An elderly man standing on the front porch was quite oblivious to the smoke and flames. John quite naturally called out, "Hey, mister, your house is on fire!"

The man did not seem to have heard John, however, so he repeated the news lustily, the dog barking along co-operatively.

"How's that?" answered the farmer, placing his hand behind his ear and looking rather puzzled.

"Your house is on fire," John said again.

"Is there anything else?" was his imperturbable reply.

"No," John hollered, "that's all I can think of just now!"

BY CLARK KINNAIRD

THE SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST

To survive, every species of creature must fulfill two conflicting requirements, it was held by Herbert Spencer. During a certain period each member must receive benefits in proportion to its incapacity. After that period, it must receive benefits in proportion to its capacity.

"Obviously this law that the least worthy shall receive most aid is essential as a law for the immature; the species would disappear in a generation did not parents conform to it," he comments.

"Now mark what is, contrariwise, the law for the mature. Here individuals gain benefits proportionate to their merits. The strong, the swift, the keen-sighted, the sagacious, profit by their respective superiorities—catch prey or escape enemies, as the case may be. The less capable thrive less, and on the average of cases rear fewer offspring. The least capable disappear by failure to get food or inability to escape.

"And by this process is maintained that quality of the species which enables it to survive in the struggle for existence with other species. There is thus, during mature life, a reversal of the principle that rules during immature life."

* * * * *

Hence the necessity Spencer sees of maintaining this cardinal distinction between the ethics of the Family and the ethics of the State. Hence the fatal result if family disintegration goes so far that family policy and state policy become confused

"However fitly in the battle of life among adults, the proportioning of awards to merits may be tempered by private sympathy in favor of the inferior; nothing but evil can result if this proportioning is so interfered with by public arrangements that demerit profits at the expense of merit," Spencer decides.

PERSHING LAUDS GLOBE FLYERS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The army round-the world fliers, resting in Washington before setting out for the Pacific coast, were presented to General Pershing at the war department today.

The presentation was made in a formal military manner by Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the air service, after which the fliers were put "at ease" and sat down for a chat with the general.

Pershing said their achievement had "blazed a new trail in the development of aviation" and that their record "would stand for a long time."

HOLD OFFICIALS TO ACCOUNT

DENVER, Sept. 11.—The only hope for "honest government" in the United States is for the citizenry to hold all public servants strictly accountable for their acts, John W. Davis declared today on the eve of his second keynote speech in the west.

The Democratic nominee reached here this afternoon from Estes Park where he rested for three days in the Colorado Rockies.

States Stand on Defense Test Day

As my name is on the program for the invocation on Defense Test Day I ask you to print a few lines explaining my position.

Those who favor the demonstration and those who do not are all saying "I am for peace." My prayer will be for peace and the coming of the time when defense tests will not be held.

In the controversy going on, I recognize the men who protested against a mobilization as being equally patriotic with those who favor it. Their protests in my opinion have caused the change of name to Defense Test Day and brought out the avowal that peace is the real object of the demonstration.

Hating war, I deprecate the parading of school children on military occasions for we all know how marching to martial strains rouses us, as De Gallienne says, "to love the thing we loathe."

But when our soldiers and those under legal orders respond to the call of duty I honor them and am willing to stand beside them while praying for the ending of war and the settlement of differences by other means. Yours,

A. G. H. BODE.

EARLY STOCK TRADING WEAK

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The stock market returned to its dull and narrow routine today and price changes were the smallest of any full session in a week or more. Activities of the professional traders dominated the whole market; new assaults were made on stocks which were supposedly in weak technical positions; pools advanced their favorite stocks, only to meet with indifferent support from the trading public. More interest was taken in the grain markets as prices for wheat and corn advanced sharply in the early trading, and cotton retraced some of the ground it has lost in the last few sessions.

The bears were unable to continue the depression of stock prices as generally as in the end of Wednesday's market, tho they were apparently no hurry to cover their short lines. Stocks offered in quantity met with good buying support but bullish interests seemed content to permit prices to remain slightly under the last closing levels. The number of individual stocks enjoying rallies of any consequence was very small and a small number of industries also was reported.

Oil stocks resisted efforts of bearish trades to mark off the gains which these stocks have made in the last few days. Under the leadership of Houston Oil, Mexican Seaboard and Marland, the oils again displayed good form.

The rails as a rule were neglected today and permitted to sag. Northern Pacific lost two points at 62¼; Northwestern 1½ at 59; New York Ontario & Western gained two points at 21½ on reports that the earnings in the first seven months of the year amounted to one percent on the stock, against a deficit in the same period last year.

Industrial and steel stocks were extremely narrow in their movements. Occasional covering movements were forced by the bulls and the small supply of stocks in the market was reflected in a few sharp movements upward; but as soon as these operations were completed they relapsed into dullness. Daniel Boone Woolen Mills registered about 2 points of its recent losses and American woolen maintained a firm front against short sellers.

The grain market was active and generally higher today; cotton from 25 to 35 points higher; bonds active with good buying of foreign government issues and domestic industrials. Time money rates easier.

Stock sales today, 654,400 shares; bonds, $11,188,000.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Lead by wheat which advanced steadily thruout today's session for a net gain of from 4 to 4¼ cents, grain prices advanced sensationally today and the market closed strong and materially higher.

Wheat finished 4 to 4⅛ cents up. Corn was 3 to 4c higher at the close; oats finished 1½ to 2⅝ up.

NOTED ARCHITECT DIES IN NORTH

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—Willis Polk, 59, nationally famous architect, builder and clubman of this city, is dead here today.

The end came as a result of a heart attack at the Adler Sanitarium where Polk had gone suffering from a nervous breakdown.

Polk was noted as the designer of the Union Station, Washington, D. C., the San Francisco Ferry Building, known to travellers the world over, and of scores of other buildings in this city.

Polk started his career in St. Louis, where he sold papers at the age of 6.

YORBA LINDA

YORBA LINDA, Sept. 11.(Spl.)—Little Miss Marjorie Knight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Knight, entertained last week several little friends to celebrate her eighth birthday. Games were played and refreshments served. Miss Marjorie was the recipient of some nice gifts from her little friends.

Orange-co officers from Yorba Linda attending the Orange-co executive board meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. W. W. Crosier at Newport Beach on Tuesday included Mrs. E. E. Knight, Mrs. Rthhur Miller and Mrs. B. W. Seloyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Marsh of La Habra are at the J. W. Marsh home in the absence of the latter. Mr. J. W. Marsh is receiving medical attention for a few weeks at Glendale while Mrs. Marsh stays with their daughter at San Francisco.

Mrs. Theresa Hennesy of Los Angeles is spending a few days on her ranch here.

The "ways and means" committee of the Yorba Linda Woman's club will start their series of card parties in the local club rooms next Saturday evening. A large attendance is looked for and a jolly time assured.

Friends here of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Vernon of Santa Barbara, who formerly resided here, will learn with interest that they have adopted a two weeks' old baby girl, whom they have named Barbara. They were recent visitors here.

The first meeting of the Yorba Linda Woman's club was held in the club rooms on Tuesday evening. Such a splendid program had been arranged that it is to be regretted that a larger number was not in attendance. The new president, Miss Marsha Vernon, presided and after a few words of welcome Mrs. E. E. Knight, county club president, in a few words of praise for Mrs. S. W. Acker the local retiring president, presented her on behalf of the local club, with a general Federation pin. Mrs. Acker responded with a few gracious words of appreciation and the program of music and readings followed. Miss Geraldine Mills of Whittier gave several whistling solos accompanied by her teacher, Miss Williams. Miss Ann Hobson also of Whittier gave readings which were much enjoyed. Mr. Edward Records pleased the audience with beautifully rendered violin solos and Mrs. Stanley Tutton accompanied herself for a vocal solo and responded to an encore. Mrs. Seamons introduced a friend, Miss Monroe, who has recently returned from a concert tour and who gave generously several musical selections, the most popular of which was perhaps the one with which she had entertained the boys of the A. E. F. in France during the war. Several new members were taken into the club during the evening and Prof. Boyce of Fullerton high school gave a splendid talk on "Why the United States is not in the Peace Conference." The evening closed with a "watermelon feed" and those in attendance report a pleasant evening.

MORE FUN THAN A CIRCUS

RACING LUCK

with Monty Banks

A Screeching Comedy of Life, Love, Laughter A Big Fun Riot.

"The Fast Express' also Current News

LAST TIMES TONIGHT
Jack Holt and Dorothy Dalton in
"The Lone Wolf"

"RACING LUCK" FULL OF ACTION

In "Racing Luck." Monty Banks is up against it hard when he loses a fortune that he has saved in which to go into business and bring his parents from Italy to enjoy new life in this country. Just when he and the girl of his young life, Rosina, played by Helen Ferguson, are mourning Monty's great financial loss, Monty is dragged by the heels so to speak in a big international auto race when an ambitious press agent of the big contest, runs Monty's picture, in the newspapers, with a flaring caption, that he is the famous foreign driver that has been signed to drive a Comet car in the big race.

It is all done in the name of fun and it's jolly good fun with many thrills the way Monty, Miss Ferguson and the villian, played by Francis McDonald enact the plot and comedy before the camera.

As an added feature on this exceptionally entertaining program will be William Duncan and Edyth Johnson in that thrilling railroad melodrama "The Fast Express." This chapter of the serial has a thrilling surprise so do not miss it.

WORLD'S TROPHY TENNIS TODAY

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11.—America and Australia will clash today for the Davis cup trophy, emblematic of world supremacy in lawn tennis.

The defenders are William T. Tilden, greatest singles player known to the game, and Vincent Richards, Olympic champion and boy wonder in general.

The challengers are Gerald Patterson and Pat O'Hara Woods, the fighting Australians. Tilden will play Patterson in the first singles match this afternoon and Richards will meet O'Hara Woods.

Tomorrow Patterson and Woods, greatest of doubles teams, will face Tilden and William M. Johnston. Two remaining singles matches will be played Saturday, the series being determined by the best three out of five matches.

LIVES SINCE APRIL

Though he still wears a steel and leather collar, Harry Hanby of Villa Park, hurt last April, is living though he has a broken neck. He has returned home from San Francisco, where he was rushed after he fell from the roof of his residence. He is 45 years old and an employe of the Southern Pacific.

BOUT SEEMS TO BE QUESTION OF PUNCH

crowd of 50,000. It will be a cosmopolitan gathering, if ever there was one. Albert Edward, the Prince of Wales, will appear in person. So will Jack Dempsey, the king of heavyweights, with whom the winner may be matched. Both are royalty, the first by divine right, the second by force of circumstances. They represent only one of the many contrasts with which the gathering will abound.

All in all, it will be a specious occasion, the most significant in fact that pugilism has known in recent years barring championship fights.

It will furnish Wills his chance for a shot at the big money and possibly the championship. It will stake Firpo to the chance of redeeming his two round knockout at the hands of Dempsey.

And, all Cauliflower Alley from one end to the other hasn't the slightest idea of the winner, say what it might. A symposium of the experts this morning showed as many picking Wills as picked Firpo and none could give a logical reason for his choice.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 11.—Federal Judge William Runyon today denied an application for a warrant for arrest of Luis Firpo, Argentine prizefighter on the charge of violating the Mann White slave act.

The charge had been made by Herbert Clark Gilson, attorney for five organizations seeking to block the Firpo-Wills fight scheduled to take place at Jersey City tonight.

Gilson and three New Jersey ministers were present when the judge handed down his decision.

NIP AND TUCK IN NATIONAL LEAGUE

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The Giants were slightly more than a game in the lead in the National league race today by virtue of a double victory over Boston, but the Dodgers have a chance to pick up lost ground today at the expense of the Phillies while the champions are idle.

The Pirates are three and a half games behind the Giants.

The Senator's lead in the American league is still a game and a half. The Yankees can tie them by beating the Red Sox twice today if the Athletics win from Washington.

The Tigers are now five games behind the Senators.

BABE DOES 45TH

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—Babe Ruth hammered out his forty-fifth home run of the season in the eighth inning of the first game with the Red Sox today.

Ehmke was pitching.

Tagging All Bases

The Giants practically ruined the Braves by burying them under scores of 22 to 1 and 6 to 0, increasing their slender lead over Brooklyn by half a game. The Giant batters swatted everything but the umpire, piling up 35 hits.

Wheat's home run with one on enabled the Dodgers to beat the Phillies 5 to 1 and stay in the race. Rube Ehrhardt, Brooklyn's sunkissed Florida twirler held the slow-town lads to five hits.

Father Time chuckled as the veteran Babe Adams stepped from the morgue and held the Cardinals to five bingles. Score Pittsburg 3; St. Louis 1.

The Athletics clung to sixth place by nosing out Washington 2 to 1, but the Senators won the nightcap 6 to 5 and maintained their lead of a game and a half over the Yankees.

Hollis Thurston snapped Detroit's winning streak as four Tiger pitchers paraded to the showers. Score White Sox 12; Detroit 8.

The Reds booted the Cubs again, 6 to 3 in their farewell appearance at Chicago.

AUTOIST LOSE IN RACE TO CROSSING

As two Santa Ana women looked on, George E. Davis, of Vista, San Diego-co, drove his automobile in front of a fast Pacific Electric trolley in Santa Ana, late yesterday, and today Coroner Charles D. Brown was making preparations to hold an inquest at Santa Ana tomorrow.

Davis, who was 45 years old, died at the Santa Ana hospital several hours later, of a fractured skull. He was alone in the car and, according to the women, apparently tried to drive the machine across the street ahead of the car. He

SEVEN BURN IN FARM HOUSE FIRE

DICKINSON, N. D., Sept. 11.—Six children and an aged man were burned to death when the house on the farm of Louis Stilchat, 15 miles south of her, was destroyed today.

The children were the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Stilchat and range in ages from 3 to 14 years. The aged man was the father of Mrs. Stilchat.

An eight months old baby was rescued by the father and as he returned in an effort to rescue the other children, the house collapsed.

CHARGES OF CANON MAY FORCE FIRPO TO LEAVE COUNTRY

Deportation without the right of return awaits Luis Angel Firpo (inset), Argentine pugilist, if he is found guilty on charges made by Canon William S. Chase (above) of New York City. The canon accused Firpo of perjury by his statement that Miss Blanca Loudres Picart, who came here with him from South America, was his secretary. Miss Picart was sent back.

SARGUM SPROUTINGS

The Miller-Sour wrestling match at the Fullerton club will be Sept. 16 or next Tuesday evening instead of Friday the 12th as first given out. Manager Jaffray informs us that the match is coming along great. Both men are working to be in tip-top condition. Miller just has to keep toned up a bit. His physical condition is near perfection at all times. The clean, right living of this youngster should commend him to the sport world. He has been winning with such regularity that there are those that would like to see him thrown.

We all thought that Hackenschmidt would throw him when they met the last time but Miller proved us wrong. Peter Sour is really a great wrestler and is young and should have the endurance to stay with Miller. His extra weight should handicap the Brea lad but Miller has fought handicaps before. Both men will go on the mat with all the confidence in the world. Miller knows that he will have one of the hardest tussles of his career but he believes that Orlando Miller can be wrestling when the other man has spent his force. He has done that little thing so often that he has a perfect right to believe that he can do it with Pete Sour.

Abe Goldstein is still the bantam champion in spite of all Tommy Ryan could do. Tommy started off strong and finished the same way but in between the first and last round of that 15 round fight, Tommy received an awful lambasting and just barely kept away from a knockout.

The Brooklyn Dodgers are still going like wild and the Giants neighboring city has gone baseball mad. They are again calling Uncle Wilber the "miracle man." Uncle Wilber has taken a bunch of misfits and is knocking at the exhaulted door where National league pennants are kept. Four months ago if some one would have had the nerve to fortold such a condition they would have been laughed out of town, but when Uncle Wilber gets his old men started once nothing seems to be able to stop them.

Of course the Pirates and Giants are still very much in the race but the Dodgers have accomplished wonders even if they do not cop. What would Robertson do if he had a real team to work with?

Bert Ellison has accomplished what he has been trying for all season. He is leading the Coast league batters. Duffy Lewis has been showing the way all season but Bert has kept within hailing distance all the time. Now he finds his average up to .392 while the Mormon leader is only hitting .390. True, Bert's lead is not very great but he is leading.

Wally Hood is still leading the Angel swatsmiths with .348, Mike Menosky is the high man for the Tigers with .320. Jimmy McDowell is batting .289. Jimmy is not hitting regularly. One day he is a demon, next he is not so good. He has made 143 hits out of 4?? times at bat. He has unloaded a lot of heacy swats on the opposing pitchers, having made 28 two baggers, 6 three baggers and 20 home runs.

The Seals, who are playing with the Angels this week at Washington park, seem to be all set for another pennant. The Seals for the last four seasons have been about the best minor league aggregation ever assembled. Outside of their pitching staff they are the class of all minor leagues this season. They work together like a well oiled machine. Manager Ellison seems to be able to keep down all internal friction which bobs up on ball teams so often. The Seals are the most confident bunch I ever saw play. No matter how far behind they may be, they act as if they knew that they could step in and knock out a victory. It is this never beaten spirit that has won so many games for them.

Bert Colima had one of his good nights Tuesday and Lawyer Sage took a sound thrashing from the Whittier Mex for the starting bell. Bert had the lawyer almost out in the first round but could not complete his job. Sage can use his noodle in the ring as well as in the court room. He staved off a knockout by using his old bean. He never had a chance all evening to win from Bert.

Johnny Adams pulled a defeat out of the fire in the last three minutes, up to which time Phil Salvadore had the best of their argument. Johnny made a great finish and succeeded to gain a draw.

It was the first time that the new Doyle arena was not capable of taking care of the crowd. Many were turned away after all the available standing room was taken. It was a great card and all who attended seemed to think that they received their money's worth even if they had to stand.

They are talking Tommy Gibbons with the winner of today's battle, Firpo and Wills. Tommy will take on the winner some time in October. That leaves a Jack Dempsey fight out of the question till next spring. Dempsey will be at the ringside this afternoon and says that he is ready to take on the winner, but Jack is not his own boss. Jack Kerns will say when the champ is to fight.

Kerns says that Jack needs the fights to stay a champion, that he is losing out from inactivity, but at the same time Mr. Kerns wants the U. S. treasury and then some to put his champ in action. When it comes to talk Mr. Kerns is about the best little hot air merchant in the world, but when it comes to business he gets the money or there is no business.

No matter who wins today there will be a lot of bickering before he gets in the ring facing Jack Dempsey if he ever is given that chance. If Wills cuts Firpo down today, the public may force a battle on Mr. Kerns, but Mr. Kerns is hard to force.

TWO STATE GOLF CHAMPS DOWNED

DEL MONTE, Calif., Sept. 11—Two former state golf champions, Jack Neville and Dr. Paul Hunter, were eliminated today in the second round of match play in the California state amateur golf championship tournament.

Johnnie McHugh, San Francisco title defender, accounted for Dr. Hunter after a grilling match that ended on the 17th green with McHugh two up. Neville, who was state champion in 1922, was defeated by J. Levison of San Francisco, a left handed player whose golf is one of the features of the tournament.

Other survivors of the championship flight in today's play were Rudie Wilhelm of Portland, who defeated Lauren Upson, 3 and 2; Frank Godchaux, Los Angeles movie actor, who defeated Max Behr of Los Angeles in a runaway match, five and four; Captain A. Bullock Webster of Del Monte, who defeated C. H. Palmer, Los Angeles, 2 and 1; George Ritchie of San Francisco Olympic club, who repeated his last year's second round performance by defeating Bud Edwards 4 and 3; Norman MacBeth, Los Angeles, who defeated his old time rival, E. S. Armstrong ,of Los Angeles, 3 and 2, and Ed. Neitzel, Los Angeles, who defeated Joseph Hageman, 5 and 3.

BOTH LEGS OFF

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 11.—Mrs. Bert A Herrington, beautiful young widow of Bert A. Herrington, councel for Clara Phillips, famous hammer murderess, underwent an operation here today for amputation of both legs.

LA HABRA NEWS

Not only was it a surprise on the honoree, Miss Frankie Mae Taylor, Saturday afternoon when Miss Dorothy Randall and Miss Emily Young entertained at the home of the former, but it was a surprise on the guests for the wedding dates of both Miss Taylor and Miss Randall were revealed. Towels were hemmed. Miss Taylor was given a basket and told to go and gather in the washing. This she found to be dainty packages. After they were unwrapped and admired a pretty collation was served in the dining room. "The brides that are ,the brides-to-be and the maids who wish they were" were toasted by Miss Young. A scroll which was unrolled and read by Miss Florence Randall a cousin of the hostess stated that the wedding date when Miss Taylor would become the bride of Edgar Herman was October 6, and that on October 10 Miss Randall would wed Horace Blair of Fullerton. Mrs Homer Randall and Mrs. A. J. Young assisted their daughters.

As they are going to Sacramento to live, Mr. and Mrs Harry Dill were surprised Saturday evening at their home on Erna street by a number of friends and neighbors. An informal evening was enjoyed. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. Strong, Mr. and Mrs. U. R. Phillips, Mr and rMs. William Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Sutton, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Stevens, Mrs. G. E Hart, Miss Allie May Dill and James Bristow.

Mary had a little throat,
Which Mary took to school;
The school inspector sent her home—
(It seems that was his rule);
They tucked poor Mary in her bed,
With gargles to relieve her
The doctor came and shook his head—
"I think it's scarlet fever."

WHO IS BABBITT IN ANAHEIM?

Have you a "Babbitt" in your community? Harry Beaumant, who directed the screen version of Sinclair Lewis' widely-read novel, "Babbitt," for Warner Brothers, states that every hamlet, town and city in the United States boasts of at least one character whose career parallels in part that of the central figure of the entertaining Lewis story.

Some days, says Beaumant, dictionaries will include the word "Babbitt" and will define it as one who is commercially and socially ambitioups; a person who affiliates himself with a community's civic and social activities. For such is the Mr. Babbitt whose character and personality are typical of countless thousands who make up the populations of every community of 500 or more persons.

In Beaumant's picturization of "Babbit," Willard Louis portrays the title role to perfection. He is a more or less pompous and self-satisfied man who is a member of every civic, social and fraternal society his city harbors. He is a professional "booster" for the town and is a prime mover in all things.

Mr. Louis is supported by a brilliant cast, some of the members of which are Mary Alden, Carmel Myers, Raymond McKee, Maxine Elliott Hicks, Cissy Fitzgerald and Lucien Littlefieild.

This Warner Brothers Classic of comedy in which BusterKeaton apfornia theater tomorrow and Saturday.

A strange, strange sea ritual is brought to light in the latest comedy in which Buster Keaton appears at the California theater today and Saturday. It is called "The Love Nest," but the action in the comedy completely gives lie to the pacific atmosphere that the title of the picture suggests.

Buster, a heart-broken swain, takes to the briny deep for solace in a small boat. When his provisions have been exhausted he makes connections with a tramp whaling ship, the skipper of which is a swash buckling old giant who indicates his displeasure from time to time by hurling members of the crew over the side of the boat. When a seaman has gone over the side, it is his custom to select a flower wreath from a bin especially provided for the purpose and toss a wreath after the fired member of the crew.

One of the big laughs occurs when Buster, realizing that his days aboard the boat are few, spends no little time selecting a suitable wreath to follow his exit from the ship.

Final time tonight 5 big acts Vaudeville and "Scars of Jealousy."

ORDER REMOVAL OF HIGHWAY SIGNS

Instructions to remove all signs from the face of boulevards in the county were given by the Board of Supervisors today to J. L. McBride, county superintendent of highways.

No particular signs were mentioned by name.

The board referred to District Attorney A. P. Nelson a petition from E D. DeGray and H. H. Riley of La Habra that they be permitted to operate the dance hall there. The petition was signed by leading business men and ranchers, who approved if the place were run in an orderly manner.

The Swing

Your right arm coming down must follow the line your left arm took on the upward half of the swing. To get this, hug your right arm close in toward the body all the time.

Use the same grip for all the clubs except the putter. The grip for the putter will be explained when we come to putting on the green.

To master the swing of the wood club necessitates practice and patience. It must come with true rhythm and timing. Do not stop and wonder if your wrist is going to do so and so and all the memorized details as you step up to hit a ball. If you do the ball will never get away.

Hitting a baseball and a golf ball is entirely different. In hitting a ball coming towards you your weight is on the right foot when hitting a baseball; the very opposite in hitting a golf ball. Your weight at the finish of the stroke is all on the left foot and absolutely solid on the ground. Never lose track of the weight of the left big toe at any time during the swing.
