ANNUITY VICTORY
CHANGES STATUS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—On the heels of the Kellogg-Churchill agreement in Paris, whereby the United States is to get 75 percent of the Dawes plan annuities in satisfaction of American war claims, there has been a reversal of opinion as to whether the achievement at Paris represents a victory or a defeat for American diplomacy.

While it is true that the American representatives forced the Allied powers to concede the justice of American claims and compelled participation in the German payments, the net result of such an agreement, it was pointed out in the first time since the war that the United States is thus made a party to the coalition of powers seeking to compel Germany to pay.

The United States now has a divorce, amounting to 2 1/2 percent, or some $400,000,000. And from now is no different from the position of Great Britain, Belgium and Italy.

While the state department is disposed to regard the Paris agreement as a decisive diplomatic victory, no such opinion prevails in some senate circles.

FATHER'S NIGHT

Father's night is Wednesday evening from 7:20 to 9 o'clock at Wilshire-grades school, Fullerton, at which time the school authorities invited the parents, especially the fathers, to come and inspect the work of the children. The seventh and eighth grades are planning to engage in penmanship and spelling from 7:20 to 8:20 o'clock and from 8:20 to 9 o'clock in conjunction with this the students are planning a potluck party, with special reference to the fathers, beginning at 8 o'clock, at which exhibits are to be shown.

OLD GHOST COMES TO EMPTY MANSION

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Visitors may find a ghost haunting the quiet village of Wellington, on the old Dover road, near the foot of Shooter's Hill. The village is stated, appears in Domesday House, an old and empty mansion standing on large grounds. George Boyd, a wealthy London merchant, who acquired the property in 1770, visits the old building when anything occurs against his wishes.

OPEN SCOUT SCHOOL

Tonight, beginning with a dinner at 5:30, the first of the evening talks in the new Scout Training School in Scout work to be held at the American Legion Home in Santa Ana will be held. Many Anaheimers are attending.

The program this evening covers fundamentals in scouting and the boy, organization of patrols, patrol meetings and patrol work. The program will close at 8:15.

The dates are every Tuesday evening to and including February 24, Wednesday, Feb. 11, and Saturday, Feb. 11, will be marked by special features.

NO LEGISLATIVE PROBE OF PARDON

TOPEKA, Jan. 14.—There will be no legislative probe of the pardon situation in the administration of Governor Ben. Allen and his staff, today by C. E. Hope, speaker of the house.

Gov. Ben. Allen, personal attorney of the governor, and head of the joint legislative committee of the last legislature, will hand in his committee report when the session reconvenes tomorrow and the committee will be discharged.

A caucus of leading members of both houses of the legislature will be held today to discuss the pardon action and the speaker.

It was indicated in the executive office this morning that the legislature will be allowed to take its own course without recommendation from the governor.

In the meantime all steps in the pardon action are marking time. Atty-Gen. C. R. Griffith said today he had new evidence that he wished to check and was doubtful whether he would file his counter suit against Carl Peterson, banking commissioner, until late tomorrow or possibly Friday. The county attorney's office was gathering evidence for the preliminary hearing of Davis and his son Russell, Jan. 23.

A Little Talk on Thrift

By S. W. STRAUSS
(President American Society for Thrift)

A great many people whose incomes are small except themselves from practicing thrift on the plea that they cannot save anything, that they must live in a decent standard of living. While it may be true in some isolated cases that circumstances are such that they have no control make it impossible for them to get ahead in the world, these instances are excepted and often of a temporary character.

The old saying that, "where there's a will there's a way," applies with full force to the practice of saving money. Those who do not save or who think they cannot are, to a great extent, not honest with themselves. They are unwilling to make certain sacrifices. Their minds are biased by false pride or egotism. Their viewpoint is incorrect. If they would give the problem sufficient study they would be able to find ways by which they could save something very small.

Also it must be borne in mind that those who are not sufficiently interested in their own welfare to lay by a certain portion of their earnings for the future, are not care enough about real success to achieve and substantial place in the affairs of men.

This is a phase of the matter that should be given the deepest consideration.

If you cannot save money out of your present income, you lack the quality of success.

Success in life is very much a matter of saving money. Those who cannot say "I will save" lack the essentials of overcoming those obstacles which lie in the path of every person.

Also it must be borne in mind that those who are not sufficiently interested in their own welfare to lay by a certain portion of their earnings for the future, are not care enough about real success to achieve and substantial place in the affairs of men.

YOUR CROSS WORD PUZZLE

HOW TO SOLVE THE CROSS WORD PUZZLE
The way to solve the Cross Word Puzzle is to fill in the white squares of the diagram with the words which agree with the accompanying definitions. The definitions are numbered to correspond with the numbers on the diagram.

Any word defined in the text under "HORIZONTAL" will begin at its number, shown on the diagram, and will extend all the way across to the first black space to the right of that number. In the word must begin in the square that contains its definition number, and extend as far as the white squares continue.

Any word defined under "VERTICAL" will also begin in the white space that contains its number, but will extend downward as far as the white squares remain uninterrupted.

FAMOUS TEST CASE
UP THIS MONTH

The state supreme court will hear Orange's famous "speed trap" test case Jan. 27.

Taken from Justice Morrison's court at Seal Beach, the case of Victor Fleming, Los Angeles motorist, had gone through the superior court at Santa Ana, where Judge F. C. Drummond reversed Justice Morrison and declared the law abolishing speed traps illegal, to the court of appeals, where Judge Drummond, himself, was reversed.

The supreme court, however, granted a review of the case, which will decide for all time the legality in California of the secret car to catch speeders.

CLAIM RIGHT TO CHILD THEY REARED

Claiming her daughter, 12, is being unlawfully imprisoned by an aunt and uncle, Peter and Jennie Teale, of their home between Bolinas and Westminister, Mrs. Cucca Yaris of Hartford today secured an order in habeas corpus proceedings compelling that the girl be brought into court for adjudication of the matter.

The aunt and uncle will maintain that she was kidnapped, when the child was about 18 months old, came before Judge F. C. Drummond tomorrow that they have raised the child from infancy, and that they now are entitled to her custody.

When the governor's supplementary budget messages and other necessary special appropriation bills are added to this sum the total of state expenditures for the coming biennium will be found to approximate $10,000,000.

If the gasoline tax is increased further additions will result, pushing the gross totals still higher.

GEN. BEACH GUEST

The Orange-County Harbor commission will have as its chief guest the Women's club on Thursday evening Gen. Lansing H. Beach, formerly chief of the board of U. S. army engineers and now consulting engineer of the harbor.

The dinner will be held at 6:30 in the Women's clubhouse at Costa Mesa. S. A. Meyer, H. Cardon Sloan and Donald Dodge will report on a budget plan for the Orange-County Harbor C. C.

A Chase Ad will bring you results.

DAILY GREETING TO OUR READERS

This is the confidence that we have in Him, that, if we ask nothing according to His will, He hearseth us.—1 John 5:14.

The wisest spirits are those which turn to Heaven not only in the hour of sorrow, but in that of joy; like the hawk, they wait for the clouds to disperse that they may soar up into their native element.—Richter.

THE WORLD'S END

One of the minor religious sects in this country is prophesying the end of the world in a few weeks, and warning other churches and the public. Its prophets, a Los Angeles woman, says:

"A black cloud will appear in the sky, growing greater every day until February 2. Then at midnight Christ will appear, and all the unrighteous will be blinded and killed by glory, and the dead will number the earth 1000 years before Satan awakes them to hell. But Christ will take the righteous with him, and they shall go to their reward."

There have been many such prophecies during the last 1900 years, and they have all ended in the same way. The sun has risen, and set as usual on the appointed day, and life has moved on in its eternal stream.

No doubt the wicked will be punished and the righteous will obtain their reward, for this is a fair and square world. And anything purporting to be a religious revelation is likely to have at least a kernel of truth in it. But the time appointed is in the keeping of the Master of the Universe. Life on this planet has endured for a long time, and may endure for many million years.

Whether everything will end in a universal doom, at one time, is something no man knows. But wise men know that, for practical purposes, the world ends every moment and begins every moment. To each one, every moment is a turning point and an opportunity for choice. And while the race lasts, the world will end every time a human being dies, and be newly created every time a human being is born.

The earth is not in danger of another ice age, scientists say. Too much California climate for that.

MR. COOLIDGE'S VOTE SETS RECORD

Calvin Coolidge was elected President, in November, by the greatest plurality ever recorded in a Presidential campaign—7,839,832. This was more than 433,000 greater than the plurality for Mr. Harding in 1920. Mr. Coolidge polled more votes than his two principal competitors combined.

Complication of official figures showing the popular vote indicates the magnitude of the victory for Mr. Coolidge. No candidate for the Presidency ever given a mandate from the people supported so overwhelmingly as this. It is a solid man verdict—the more solemn because so overwhelming. That Mr. Coolidge regards it with profound respect for the will of the people there is no gainsaying. He is accepting the mandate in the spirit in which it was given by his countrymen. He is proceeding to carry out his pledges to the people. His administration bids fair to show the very closest adherence to the pledges which he and his party made during the Presidential campaign.

The outstanding work of the administration, as pledged, is to lead the government into the channels of economy in expenditure commensurate with efficiency of service to the people, with reduction of taxes to the fullest measure which business like conduct of the government will permit.

Nations, as well as individuals, must pay their just debts or suffer in their credit.

"KING OF IVORIES"
 THE NEW 1964 FORD MUSTANG

RELEASED FRIDAY

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 14.—Harry M. Snodgrass, the "king of the ivories," and idol of the country radio fans, was writing his farewell speech today.

Tonight at station WOS, while for him unlocked the doors to fame and wealth. Snodgrass bid his invisible audience good-bye. He will play its favorite pieces and then "sign off" permanently. He will also "sign off" with the prison orchestra, for on Friday morning a new life will start for him. It will be the life of a highly paid artist.

Mystery, Romance in "Thief of Bagdad"

Douglas Fairbanks in "The Thief of Bagdad," his latest motion picture triumph that is now playing at the California theatre, transports his audience to the land of mystery and romance where all things are possible and all dreams come true. This "Thief of Bagdad" is a glorious fantasy of the Arabian Nights. In it the magic Doug leads the way through the winding streets of Bagdad, past the far-flung bazaars, stopping long enough to make the Golden Apple with the secret of life in its core, and then up to the Caliph's palace again. Greatest of all is the adventure which lies in the Magic Carpet on which the Thief and the Princess soar over the house-tops. The glamour and thrills that came with a child-mood reading of the "Arabian Nights," are doubled in "The

...a remarkable visualization of the glories of Old Bagdad, with nothing to mar the beauty or to weaken the intensity of the fantasy. The fantastic spirit of the thing is carried over to the smallest detail. The vase, urn, and trays, walls and even the rose bush in the Princess' garden have all been touched with a wand of atic. The illustration is complete that is a land of dreams and romance, where humor, however, is not unknown and where "happiness must be earned." Douglas Fairbanks is said to have selected the splendid role, the greatest of his career. It is, then, Fairbanks at his best—the Fairbanks who scales walls, drops into rose hens, leaps over anything that obstructs his way, and rides trailing horses through the woods, and soars over the house-tops on a Magic Carpet. He is supported by an excellent cast.

The part of the Princess is delightfully played by the attractive Johanne Johanne.
