DALLAS FIRE BURNS 25 HOMES

Others 'Ablaze: 2 Firemen Injured; Entire Force at Work

DALLAS, April 22 — Fire which for an hour threatened to destroy an entire residential district in East Dallas was believed under control by police and fire officials at 3 o'clock today.

Approximately a score of homes were destroyed or burning over a four block area, but firemen believed they had the situation in hand. Three persons sustained minor injuries.

DALLAS, April 22—An entire residential district in East Dallas was threatened with destruction by fire which broke out in an apartment house this afternoon.

Thirty houses were reported afire 20 minutes after the blaze was discovered, and a 30 mile gale carried sparks over a radius of several blocks.

At 2:30 p.m. the fire was raging uncontrolled, threatening one of the most populous districts of the city.

Two firemen were injured when a sheet of flame swept out from a burning building.

Every piece of fire fighting equipment was fighting the blaze and hundreds of volunters were aidin the firemen in their desperate attempt to check the fires' spread.

Scores of policemen rushed to the burning district and herded women and children to safety.

Months of dry weather have made house roofs like tinder, and blazing embers were being hurled over a wide area by a stiff gale.

Sixteen homes were destroyed or burning forty minutes after the blaze was discovered, and roof blazes on a score of adjacent buildings had been smothered out.

ALL READY FOR HAWAII "ATTACK"

HONOLULU, April 22.—Silently advancing, the "blue" fleet scheduled to "attack" Hawaii today was believed nearing Oahu Island, the concentration point of the U. S. army's largest single outpost.

Troops are being mobilized at every stragetic point as plans for the defense are rushed. Army and Navy department officers in command of the "black" forces holding the island are determined to thwart the "enemy" at any cost.

High ranking officials are holding councils of war, giving orders and supervising plans for the defense. The National Guard of Oahu has been called to the colors and the troops are drilling daily. Their maneuvers are attracting more attention than the sight of hundreds of sailors from the U. S. S. Seattle in spotless white uniforms, who parade the shores nightly.

The Seattle, flagship of the fleet, is still docked here awaiting arrival of the remainder of the fleet, days hence, after the "attack" is made.

Notice was posted today that when the remaining 45,000 sailors in the fleet arrive shore leave will be cut to six p. m. to eliminate the possibility of revelry.

SEEK SEWER BIDS

Bids for a main line sewer from La Habra to connect with the Fullerton section are being advertised for. This piece will extend only to the Fullerton city limits. From there to the joint outfall sewer La Habra and Fullerton will jointly defray the expense.

For the installation of sewer lines within the Garden Grove sanitary district bids will be opened on Monday, according to W. G. Knox engineer. Eight bids are anticipated.

Reduces 57 Pounds By 50 Days' Fast

LOS ANGELES, April 22.—Mrs. Lillian Baldwin, who reduced 57 pounds by fasting for 50 days, resumed eating today.

Mrs. Baldwin weighed in for breakfast this morning at 180 pounds.

"I could go another 30 days without eating, but at 180 pounds I feel just right," she said.

"There is no fat-reducer more effective than fasting. Any fat woman who is willing to stop eating can bring herself down to any weight she desires."

Mrs. Baldwin's first meal after the long fast was just a glass of grape juice.

SENTENCE 59 ALLEGED GRAFTERS

CINCINNATI, April 22.—Fairly battling their way through crowds which jammed the courtroom, 59 policemen and dry agents appeared before U. S. Judge Smith Hickenlopper today to be sentenced as grafters.

Hickenlooper took up their cases individually.

His promise of leniency for the 59 men who confessed to accepting bribes and bootlegging didn't mean anything for Louis Sunderman, a flying squad detective and the first man sentenced.

Sunderman was given 18 months in prison and a fine of $2000 as stiff punishment as was received by any one of the three other grafters who were convicted.

The flying squad detective confessed that he received more than $17,000 in bribes to permit liquor to flow freely in his district of Cincinnati.

Lieut Aubrey Houston, second officer sentenced, received the same treatment as Sunderman. Houston said he had received $9,000 in bribes for giving protection to bootleggers.

The business of passing sentence was expected to consume most of the day.

After Sunderman and Houston came four patrolmen who were sentenced to 15 months. They escaped fines. One man was sentenced to 16 months and fined $2,000; another to 16 months and fined $1000.

Five policemen received 14 months sentences and three were given a year and a day.

The district attorney said a special train would take the sentenced men to Atlanta, leaving Cincinnati Monday morning.

WHEELER ON WITNESS STAND

Categorical Denial Made To Charges Advanced By Government

GREAT FALLS, Mont. April 22—Sen. Burton K. Wheeler today took the witness stand in his trial on a charge of misuse of office.

He entered a categorical denial of all evidence submitted by the government intended to connect him with alleged handling of oil-permit matters in Washington.

Under questioning by his attorney and senatorial colleague, Thos. J. Walsh, Wheeler told the story of his relations as attorney with Gordon Campbell, oil, magnate, relations which the indictment charges were illegal.

Wheeler sat back easily in his chair and spoke in a clear, firm voice. His first words were directed to refuting sensational prosecution testimony given by George B. Hayes, New York attorney, who said Wheeler had attempted in March, 1823 to interest him in a shady oil deal to make "millions."

"I never saw Hayes in my life until he was introduced to me in Washington in 1924, a year after he says he met me in New York," Wheeler said.

"A. B. Melzner and Henry Steel, who were assisting in the investigation, introduced him to me. I met him in the ante chamber of the committee room before he went on the stand to testify regarding the Gorini bootlegging case."

"I never at any time talked to Hayes about Campbell's affairs."

Wheeler leaned over and talked directly to the jury which sat alongside of him. He told them intimate details of how he and his wife went shopping in New York on the day Hayes said he met him.

ALLEYS OF CITY BEING CLEANED

Work of tidying up alleys is progressing rapidly. George W. Reid, secretary of the C. of C. told members of Realty Board at their luncheon today. Co-operation also is being obtained in planting shade trees and improving paving. Palm-st. will probably be the next thorofare to be paved, according to Reid.

14 realtors were present. W. M. Schumacher, supervisor and Charles Nichols, city marshal, were greeted and spoke briefly.

The board passed a resolution, asking Gov. F. W. Richardson to sign the equalized paving cost bill which both houses of the legislature passed. This bill provides that costs shall be scaled according to distance from the thorofare to be improved.

The luncheon was held at the Elks' club, because the ladies of the Legion Auxiliary could not serve the board today.

HEAVY LOSS IN MINING CAMP FIRE

NOGALES, Ariz., April 22.—Hundreds are homeless, and the little mining camp of Cananea Viejo, in Sonoras, Mexico, is a mass of ruins today following one of the most disastrous fires on the Mexican-American border.

The flames were brought under control early today, after raging 24 hours, and causing property damage which will exceed $1,000,000.

More than 200 homes, and the entire business section of the town, including the Cananea Copper Co.'s large department store, the Merchantile Bank, a new theatre, and the Cananea clubhouse, ere completely destroyed.

Several large warehouses in the railroad yards were swept by the blaze, which was finally checked after burning in this district for several hours.

The large reduction plant of the Greene-Cananea Copper Co. escaped the flames, it being located some distance from the main village, and the high winds carried the conflagration in an opposite direction.

A Chinese merchant was reported missing today and it is believed he lost his life when his store was destroyed.

Relief parties were being organized here today, and food supplies for the needy and homeless Mexicans were being rushed across the border.

AT LEAST 38 MEN LOST WITH SHIP

NEW YORK, April 22.—At least 38 men—probably more—lost their lives when the Japanese freighter Raifuku Maru went down with all on board 180 miles southeast of Halifax, N. S., yesterday.

The Kokosai Kesin, operators of the ill fated ship, announced here today their records listed 38 officers and men aboard the Raifuku Maru. It was pointed out, however, that this list possibly was incomplete and that the disaster's death toll might have considerably exceeded this figure.

ABOARD THE S. S. HOMERIC, April 22.—The White Star liner Homeric which yesterday finished a spectacular race with death just too late to aid the crippled Japanese steamship Raifuku Maru, is speeding toward New York today while boats from Nova Scotian ports are reported en route to the scene of the disaster to search for the bodies of the members of the crew.

Find Aged Couple Near Death From Hunger In Freight Car

LOS ANGELES, April 22 — Near death from starvation, an elderly Mexican couple, refugees from Guadelajara, Mexico, arrived here in a sealed freight car.

The couple, Francisco Cabrilla 60, and his wife, Alejndra, 55, were turned over to immigration authorities after police had given them food and medical treatment.

They will probably be deported, having smuggled themselves across the international boundary.

The couple was discovered, together with a Mexican girl, huddled in a box car, by switchmen in the S. P. yards. The girl is searching the Mexican colony here for friends whom the stowaways traveled 2,000 miles to reach.

Cabrilla told police that they gave a brakeman $10, the last of their savings, at Juarez, to seal them in the box car. Three days ago they entered the U.S.

It was not until they reached Los Angeles last night that they were able to attract the attention of trainmen, and they were on the verge of death from starvation and exhaustion when they were rescued.

LEGISLATIVE GRIST TODAY HEAVY

Gas Tax, State Univ. Branch and Other Acts Up

SACRAMENTO, April 22 — Consideration of the two reapportionment measures which were to be finally disposed of in the lower house of the legislature today was postponed until 3 p.m. at the request of Asemblyman Frank C. Wheeler, when they were called up this morning.

The Breed one cent gasoline tax increase bill was set as a special order for 4 p.m., but indications are that it probably will not be reached until much later in the day.

The assembly today passed finally the Christian Optometry bill which will provide occulists and other eye specialists authority to perform the same work done by the optometrists.

Assemblyman Edgar Levy, of San Francisco led a hard battle against the bill, but the measure passed 61 to 16. Assemblyman William Hornblower led the debate for the bill.

Senator Chas. W. Lyon's bill and constitutional amendment calling for an $8,500,000 bond issue to be used in the erection of new buildings for the State university, a state building at Los Angeles and completion of the capitol extension buildings at Sacramento, have been set as a special order for 2:30 p.m.

The gasoline tax bill introduced in the upper house by Sen. Arthur H. Breed was passed out of the assembly committee on revenues and taxation late yesterday with a bare majority.

Both the opponents and the proponents of the measure claimed sufficient votes pledged to carry their respective sides today before the consideration.

HALT SEWAGE OF CHEMICAL PLANT

Anaheimers residing near the Crystal Chemical Co.'s plant were awaiting with interest today the effects of a petition presented by 51 of them to the State Board of Health, urging that the factory be compelled to take some action in regard to the odor nuisance which, it is alleged, has again become intolerable.

The factory was operating today.

Last night Fullerton City Council received a letter from the State Board, announcing that the factory would be forbidden at once from letting its sewage continue into the joint outfall sewer and that this order was good for 30 days. That is, permission is revoked by the state board.

J. W. Price, city manager, admitted that he had received a similar letter from the State Board, but declined to divulge its contents prior to action of Anaheim City Council tomorrow evening.

Gustav T. Reich, chemist and manager of the factory, is out of town for several days, his stenographer reported this afternoon. It was she who declared that the factory was operating today, but she finally refused to say what disposition was being made of the sewage.

Charges of corruption, dope peddling and grafting in the conduct of the Atlanta prison are being probed.

PUSH SEARCH FOR FLEEING MURDERERS

SACRAMENTO, April 22.—Search for Joe Tanko and Floyd Hall, escaped San Quentin murderers, was continued with renewed vigor here today following the shooting of a local policeman yesterday and their positive identification by F. R. Harlow, who was held up and forced to drive the men from in front of his place of business to a point near the city limits. His two-year-old daughter Pauline was in the auto with him during the escape.

Policeman Clyde Nunn as shot in the shoulder in an attempt to prevent the holdup of Harlow. Nunn's condition is not considered serious. Harlow was accosted by the two bandits late yesterday and ordered to drive them to Stockton when Nunn and Policeman Chick Taylor drove by. Sensing something wrong by the expression on Harlow's face, Taylor stopped the car and Nunn got out to investigate.

One of the bandits, identified by Harlow as Tanko, opened fire on Nunn with a 30-30 caliber rifle, wounding him in the shoulder. When Taylor returned the fire Harlow dropped to the bottom of the auto with Pauline clasped in his arms.

"Don't be afraid, little darling," the murderer soomthed the child, according to its father. "I'm in love with little girls like you and the bad old policeman won't hurt you."

After Harlow's car ran out of gasoline the bandits robbed him of something over $5 and then headed toward the general direction of Stockton. An all night search failed to trap them.

The two fugitives have been suspected of being in this vicinity for several days. A gun battle with the police, a robbery and a murder have been laid to their activities here since their escape from the penitentiary.

Over 50 men were in the posse which scoured the countryside during the night without success.

FIND WOMAN WITH SKULL CRUSHED

LOS ANGELES, April 22 — A former swetheart of Mrs. Louise Unternahrer, 48, Culver City dressmaker found murdered on Venice-blvd. was sought by police this afternoon.

He is wanted on the strength of information received from Mrs. Verona Kolinsky, neighbor of the slain woman. According to Mrs. Kolinsky, the dressmaker had a premonition last night she was going to be killed by a former sweetheart.

"I have been engaged to a man for two years and have been waiting for him to marry me," Mrs. Unternahrer is alleged to have told Mrs. Kolinsky. "A short time ago he threw me down. I started a breach of promise suit against him and I live in daily fear that he will kill me. I am looking for someone who is coming to take me for a ride so that he cannot get at me."

The dressmaker made those statements to Mrs. Kolinsky early last night, several hours before she was murdered, police learned.

Mrs. Unternahrer conducted a rooming house in Culver City. She was divorced from Antonio Unternahrer in Boise, Idaho, in 1910, according to papers found in her effects.

Child Dies From Strapping Given By Her Grandmother

TILLAMOOK, ORE., April 22.—"I don't know how hard and how often I struck her," was the dazed statement of Mrs. M. C. Patton, Meda district homesteader.

That was her answer to charges by authorities that she beat her four-year-old granddaughter, Sylvia Louise Descamps, until the latter died from the effects.

The coroner declared the little girl had been beaten with a strap about two feet long and about the weight of an ordinary razor strop. he said the body was covered with bruises and welts.

Mrs. Patton told District Attorney Barrick she corrected the child for some minor disobedience and the little tot attempted to strike her in return. Then she gave the child a whipping. She said she did not intend to hurt the baby

"Louise got up afterwards and went out to play with the other children," she said.

"I didn't think she was harmed. She played for a while and then came in, saying she did not feel well."

USHERS JUMP IN TO STOP TROUBLE

Kick, Cuff Each Other In Struggling and Shouting Mass

PARIS, April 22—A rough and tumble battle royal broke out in the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon during the election of a speaker.

Deputies cuffed and kicked one another in a struggling, shouting mass around the President's chair, until the session was suspended and the chamber cleared. The fight was precipitated by Deputy Balanant, of the right, who mounted the platform behind the chair occupied by temporary President Bouilloux La Font, in order to watch the balloting. Deputies of the left objected to Balanant's action and charged down on him.

Ushers jumped in to prevent trouble but were too late. Opposing deputies struggled and struck over the bent back of Bouilloux La Font, who was able to extricate himself with difficulty from the melee and suspend the session.

Today's contest followed yesterday's stormy session when Premier Painleve's ship of state rode out a storm of fierce opposition in the chamber and won its vote of confidence 304 to 218.

For a time it looked as ,tho the presence among the ministers of Joseph Caillaux might prove o Jonah to the government but altho the usually suave finance minister reddened under bitter personal attacks until the veins stood out on his bald head he kept calm.

M. & M. DISCUSSES SEVERAL TOPICS

Several interesting topics were discussed at last night's monthly banquet and gathering of the Merchants' & Manufacturers' Ass'n at the Elks' club. Plans to amend the occupational ordinance so as to satisfy certain lines like electric, plumbing and baking; to obtain publicity for the May Day festival and grammar school athletic meet; and to arrange for an Anaheim Valencia Trade Festival just before the Orange Show.

The ordinances of Whittier and Santa Ana were compared with the one of Anaheim. An effort will be made to get the lines mentioned together to work out the changes they desire.

What form the publicity for the May Day festival will take is uncertain as yet.

The trade festival would take place on May 19-20-21, preceding the show. Products of the vicinity would be brought into town on one of these days, market day.

CHANCES AGAINST THREE INCHES MORE

The chances are against Anaheim's receiving three inches of rain between April 21 and the date of the final seasonal storm, but anyhow no rain whatever fell last season after the 21st.

Last year's total was 9.44 against 6.34 this year to 8.00 a. m. today. During April, 1924, 1.97 inches fell.

Monday's storm brought "an awful lot of snow" to the San Bernardino mountains, according to G. W. Sandilands, manager of the Anaheim Orange & Lemon Ass'n, which furnished the figures given.

EGGERS ACQUITTED

RANCHERS HEAR KIWANIS SPEECH

Despite a loss of 20 or 25 per cent due to frost, the County's citrus fruit crop this 1924-25 season will bring nearly as large returns as in 1923-24, $18,000,000, if ranchers will ship only fruit that comes within the law.

Some 40 or 50 ranchers heard A. A. Brock, county horticultural commissioner, tell Kiwanians so Tuesday at the weekly luncheon in the Elks' club.

Carl Leonard, president of the Rotary Club, who was present, invited Kiwanians to come next Monday and hear Father Ricardo, weather forecaster, speak to Rotarians. The Lions also will be invited.

Discussing freezing weather, Brock declared that the first instance on record in this country of tropical fruit being frozen was in 1748 in Florida. But the 1913 freezing spell was the worst before or since, cause a loss in California alone of $10,000,000.

The gathering was in charge of William Webster, who introduced Brock and furnished the drink made by his concern. He declared that peddlers were required, on purchasing frosted fruit, to file an affivavit that they would use it only for beverage purposes.

Out of 30 carloads of citrus fruit condemned so far because of being frost-bitten, none whatever has come from Orange-co.

One of the worst evils of shipping frosted fruit is the hurt which is done to the State's reputation for good fruit, said Brock.

Turning to taxes, Brock asserted that out of all the taxes paid by Orange-co ranchers, citrus fruit producers paid nine tenths.

Betters prices than those enjoyed by fruit of any other state were brought by that of California.

Among the prominent individuals present were O. H. Haley, president of the Santa Ana C. of C., and Col. M. B. Wellington, president of the Santa Ana Kiwanis club.

Members were reminded of the performance of the Prince of Pilsen on May 7 by the Orange-co Choral Union.

YOUTH HANGED FOR FIANCE'S MURDER

LONDON, April 22—Despite intervention of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle in his behalf, Norman Thorne, a young farmer of Crowborough was hanged today at Wandsworth prison for the murder of his sweetheart, Elsie Cambron.

Thorne went to his death with the smile he has worn while all England stormed and flooded the newspapers with contrary opinions as to whether or not he should be executed.

A national debate on the question of Thorne's hanging ensued after Conan Doyle, near whose home the girl died, came out openly in opposition to capital punishment in this instance.

Circumstances surrounding Miss Cemeron's death precluded possibility of establishing Thorne's guilt beyond a doubt. The girl went from London to Crowborough December 5 last, with the announced intention of remaining there until Thorne married her. The accused man claimed she never reached his farm. After weeks of search Elsie's body, dismembered, was dug up under a chicken hatch.

Thorne then claimed his fiancee had hanged herself and that he had cut up and hid the body in fear.

Conan Doyle and others championed Thorne's cause after he was sentenced, the author and spiritualist maintaining that capital punishment should not be inflicted where conviction was on circumstantial evidence.

Undertone of excited comment on the matter showed a firm British determination to retain the finality of a jury's verdict in murder trials for fear of bringing about a situation similar to some in the United States in which the main facts are buried beneath technical discussion by hired experts.

REDDING — Albert Aberg, 15, died early today of burns received in an explosion when he poured coal oil on a fire in a stove.

NEW YORK — Samuel Goldwyn, motion picture producer, and Frances Howard, actress, will be married tomorrow at 11.30 a.m., in the office of Judge Leo Sullivan, Jersey City, N.J.

Local Officer Recalls His Experiences In Far North

LOST for weeks in the snow after having been chased and separated from his companions by a bear in which he leaped to safety over a 75-foot cliff landing in a soft snowbank; days and nights in the open with nothing to live on but black coffee; a boatwreck which resulted in two of his companions freezing to death, —these are just a few of the things that the visit to Anaheim of Gunnar Kasson, hero of the dash to Nome, brot back to the mind of L. O. Whalen, member of the local police force.

Mr. Whalen spent two years in Alaska and northern Canada as a prospector, hydraulic orker and a "musher," traveling from Skagway to Nome via Dawson City, and "roughing it" up and down the Yukon valley and along the Behring Sea basin.

He says that the snow around Nome in the winter, during which season he was there, lies from 18 to 20 feet deep, and the thermometer ranges from 25 to 50 degrees below zero, with an average of 40 below. He was there in 1901-2, and traveled from Skagway to Nome, more than 1,500 miles, on foot, by river boat and dog-team.

But with all its hardships he says that the Yukon holds a spell and fascination that really gets hold of one.

Nome, even tho so far away from the busy world, is by no means an uncivilized town, but has schools, churches, club rooms and a daily newspaper. When he was there the population totalled several thousand, and the city is larger now. Dawson City at that time was a flourishing mining town, with a transient population.

Mr. Whalen took a sudden notion to go to Alaska one night while working in Seattle, and climbed out of bed and began preparations to start. He went the inside passage by boat to Skagway, where he purchased a sled and some provisions and started on foot across the mountains to White Horse, B. C., on the headwaters of the Yukon, dragging his own sled. That soon got tiresome, and he began to purchase work do—starting with one and ending with five.

Dogs in Alaska sell all the way from $100 to $500 unless a prospector is found who is going out and is willing to part with his dog-team for whatever ready cash he can get. In such cases it is possible to get dogs for $50 each, Mr. Whalen said.

From White Horse he "mushed" down the Yukon valley to Dawson City, where he caught the spirit of adventure more than ever and decided to strike out across the snowy wastes with his dog team 1,000 miles to Nome, down the Yukon river to St. Michiel at its mouth and along the Behring sea coast.

He carried this adventurous project thru, conceived one of greater magnitude and laid in provisions to go to the north pole. This latter trip he would not undertake alone, and could find no one who would undertake it with him, so was forced to give it up.

He "mushed" back to the upper Yukon valley in British Columbia, where he remained for some time prospecting and working for a hydraulic mining company, living among the Indians. Here he had a spell of sickness in which he says the Indians showed him great kindness, and proved to him that even tho their skins were red they surely had hearts within.

He came out in the winter and here is where he had his greatest trouble. He made the mistake of disposing of his dog team in the interior, trying to reach the coast a hundred miles across the snow-covered mountains on foot. He had three companions and after many hardships in which they were forced to wade streams and deep snows with all kinds of exposure and nowhere to sleep at nights except under cliffs and in deserted log cabins, they were separated by the attack of a bear whose cubs must have been somewhere near, and Whalen was left alone with scarcely no provisions except black coffee.

To add to his plight the atmospheric conditions and the strangeness of the country confused him till he did not know which way to travel. All the trails were covered by snow, and he wandered around for about two weeks before he found his way out, melting snow to make his coffee and growing weaker each day.

Then one day he discovered the tracks of the Skagway-White Horse railway, and followed it to safety, reaching the Summit Hotel, where he partook of a meal that seemed to him like a prince's menu in comparison to his scanty rations.

Here he found that his companions had not been seen and because of a coming storm he was much concerned about them. He took a lantern and went back down the tracks yelling as he went and swinging the landern in hope that they too might be near and that he might direct them to safety.

Finally, he heard an answer and soon was delighted to hear the voices of two of his former companions, and then to see them. The fourth one had not been seen nor heard of since the separation. However, the next day they found him at a roadhouse two miles below the Summit.

Little trouble was experienced during the remainder of the trip to Skagway, but Whalen's difficulties were not over. He embarked on the steamship "Islander," for Seattle, and the boat ran into an iceberg and sank. Some of the passengers were saved on lifeboats, but Whalen and three companions found refuge on a raft which, altho it saved them from drowning, did not save them from the icy waters in which they remained four hours, and were chilled to the bone. Then they reached an inhospitable shore where they were forced to remain four hours more in the deathly cold before being rescued. By the time help reached two were dead from cold.

This experience cured Whalen of the adventurous fever for a while. When he got back to Seattle he had had enough of the wild and water to do him awhile, he said. Nevertheless, had he remained single he thinks he would probably have gone back to Alaska and have been there today.

He spoke in terms of affection of the dogs of the Northland, saying that the "musher" who is lost can safely depend upon the leading dog to take him home, just as Kasson depended on Balto. No reins are necessary for driving a dog team. Say, "mush", and they will go forward; "gee," and they will go to the right; "haw," and they will go to the left; "whoe, and they will stop. When they have been over a trail once they can go over it again, even tho it be hidden with snow. In the far north dogs are not only used as teams but also as pack horses, he said.

12,000 Public Utility Workers Join In Cooperative Plan For Future Protection Of Families

The smiles registered by this foreman and two of his crew are justified for they are reading documents that tell them of increased protection for their respective families.

The latest and most important insurance transaction of a public utilities organization is that of the Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, which recently insured its 12,000 men and women workers for a total coverage of between $15,000,000 and $16,000,000. This corporation provides local transportation, electricity and gas to communities throughout New Jersey.

The Prudential Insurance Company of America issued the insurance. It provides protection to all employees who have been in the company's employ for a year or more, the minimum insurance being for $1,000 without physical examination, and at an extremely low rate. There are 12,000 now eligible, and 4,000 more to be included as they complete a year's service. The premiums are shared by the employer and employe.

There are now more than 8,000 employers in the United States carrying group life insurance for two and a quarter million employees and their four and half million dependents. Many of these policies are upon public utility organizations.

DENIES ANY DEAL MADE WITH HAYES

All details of how he spent the day were related.

"I was in a Fifth-ave. store shopping at the time he says he met me in the Waldorf lobby," Wheeler said.

William G. Feeley, a Washington attorney, testified that he and not Wheeler appeared before the interior department as attorney for Gordon Campbell, Montana oil man.

Feely declared he was hired by Campbell the latter part of March or the first of April, 1923 to straighten out Campbell's intricate legal difficulties with the department regarding government permits.

GREAT FALLS, Mont., April 22.—Pounding at the prosecution's star witness in the trial of Senator Burton K. Wheeler for alleged misuse of his office, the defense set out with the sole purpose today of breaking down the testimony of George B. Hayes, eastern lawyer, who says Wheeler tried to involve him in a deal to make millions out of oil permits.

Wheeler himself will go on the stand to tell the complete story of his employment by Gordon Campbell, Montana oil man, and to deny that he ever saw Hayes in regard to any deal.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Edwin S. Booth, indicted in the District of Columbia with Senator Wheeler and Gordon Campbell for conspiracy to defraud the government, today filed a demurrer in district supreme court demanding the indictments be quashed on the ground that the various persons were unlawfully present in the grand jury rooms during the deliberations.

Booth alleged William J. Donovan, assistant to the attorney general and a number of other department of justice officials were present when it was only legal for the attorney general, the district attorney, witnesses and others specially authorized to enter the room.

OAKLAND—Fire early today in an adjoining garage sent 150 guests at the Key Route Inn scurrying to the street partly clad. All available fire apparatus was rushed to the blaze, which was controlled without damage to the hotel.

Find Woman With Skull Crushed

murdered near a Culver City roadhouse today was identified by police shortly before noon as that of Mrs. L. Unter, 48, of Los Angeles.

Police at first reported that the slain woman was an escaped inmate of a Culver City sanitarium.

Mrs. Unter had been attacked and beaten to death, presumably by someone from whom she had accepted a ride in an auto.

Her body was discovered at 5 a.m. by a milkman. He first noticed a pool of blood at the roadside, and following a trail of blood stains discovered the body hidden in a clump of bushes a block from the Green Mill, fashionable dance hall.

Authorities said the woman had apparently been dead for several horus.

LOS ANGELES, April 22 — The body of an unidentified woman, about 35, was found in a clump of weeds behind the Green Mill cafe, fashionable Culver City roadhouse.

The woman's skull had been crushed, and most of the clothing had been torn from the body.

The discovery was made by a workman shortly after 6 a.m. The woman had apparently been beaten to death with a club and her body dragged to the weeds in an effort to conceal it.

Culver City police were notified and hastened to the scene after reporting the murder to the local sheriff's office. Undersheriff Eugene Biscailluz and a squad of deputies were dispatched from the local office to aid in an investigation of the slaying.

LOCAL ARCHITECT PRIZE WINNER

NEW YORK, April 22—Albert W. Ford, architect, of Anaheim, Cal., is one of 28 prizewinners among 567 architects from all parts of the country who entered a competition in the design of fireproof small homes. This contest of house plans to be erected of structolite gypsum concrete was conducted by the Architectural Forum of this city for the U. S. Gypsum Co., and formal announcement of the awards will be made at the convention of the American Institute of Architects this week.

Five out of the eight prizes and four of the 20 honorable mentions were awarded to California architects. Awards of $500, $300, $200 and $100 and 10 honorable mentions carrying $50 each were offered in each of two classes. Class a was for five room bungalows; Class B, for two-story, six-room houses, both types to be built of structolite concrete and finished with stucco, brick, stone or wood.

Mr. Ford won third place in Class A. In this division, Harrison Clark of Los Angeles was second, and Angelo de Sousa of Berkeley, first. Honorable mentions were given to William A. Glasgow and William M. Stryker of Los Angeles and R. M. Eskil, of Sacramento.

All told, 567 plans were submitted—the most ever entered in a house design competition in this country.

Ford is employed by M. Eugene Durfee, Anaheim architect, as chief designer. He has been here since last October. Class A included five-room houses and third prize amounted to $200.

DANGEROUS CROSSING MADE SAFE

THE MEETING OF DAVID SMITH and WOLF

THERE are certain men in this world who are gifted with an uncanny something that draws animals, both tame and wild, to their feet, and these men may walk unafraid amid dangers that would make most of us mere mortals quake with a perfectly natural terror. It is a spirit that cannot be defined, neither can it be cultivated—a man either has it or he hasn't. But there is one thing that can be blindly said of every man of this type—whether or not we know his habits, temperament or character—he is not a killer. Wild animal life to him is a sacred thing, to be cultivated and understood, and never destroyed.

David Smith, Vitagraph director, who made "Black Beauty" and many of those wonderful stories wherein animals have played important parts, and who is now engaged in making "Baree, Son of Kazan," by James Oliver Curwood, has this spiritual something to the nth degree. But with David Smith one has but to be associated with him to understand—there is a tender magnetism about the man, a quality that breeds trust, and yet says in language that every dumb thing understands: "I am your friend, but I am also your master." And what horse, or dog, or wild thing does not love this spirit in man and bow before it. There is an old, old saying: "A woman, a dog and a walnut tree—the more you beat 'em, the better they be." As an epigram it is clever, but as a truism it is false if taken literally. However, it contains that idea of mastery without which every man is but one of the crowd—one of the followers-on.

The really marvelous part of David Smith's success is the fact that none of the animals with which he works has ever been trained by him. They come to him as strangers; they hear his voice; they feel his hand; they sense his mastery, and they are won. So, after all, what seems so difficult to the onlooker is no more than another day's work for David Smith.

With the announcement that "Baree, Son of Kazan," would be made by Mr. Smith came also the news that Wolf, the famous war-dog of the A. E. F., would be engaged to play the name part. Now, here was an animal of an intelligence far above the average "trained" dog, a one man dog—that is to say, that acknowledged but one master—and one that at no time during his performing career had been without the steadying presence and command of the man with whom he had lived since the old, wild days overseas. Now, David Smith would no more allow a man on his set through whom to transmit ideas and directions to his dumb actors than he would allow one to interpret his orders to the regular players. His theory that the contact must be direct and personal and uninfluenced by outside dominance is correct, as his pictures vividly show.

When Mr. Jere Evans was confronted with this condition he did not balk, but doubted that Wolf would accept, or that it would be possible to make him go through with the part. The test was made immediately. Wolf was brought to the studio by Mr. Evans and taken right to the stage where David Smith awaited him alone. Mr. Evans put his arm about David Smith's shoulder and said; "Wolf, I am going away. This man is my friend and he will be your master until I return." The dog gazed first at his master, then at David Smith, the hair rose on his back and he stepped forward with a low growl, cautiously nosing David Smith's trouser leg. Slowly the dog's stiffened tail dropped, the bristling hair on his neck and back fell and he stepped back with his intelligent eyes raised to David Smith's face. Mr. Evans, hardly able to conceal his astonishment, stooped, patted Wolf's head and without another word went out of the studio. The dog rose, watched his master intently until the door closed behind him, then turned and squatted on his haunches before David Smith with an expression that said as plain as words: "You are my master—what do you want me to do?" Then and then only did David Smith move. He sank to his knees and took that wonderful dog's head between his two hands and gazed long and earnestly into his eyes. Another animal had succumbed to David Smith's magic.

NEIGHBORS OF DISTRICT IN CONVENTION

THE annual district meeting of Royal Neighbors of America drew large delegations to Santa Ana yesterday, which resulted in a jolly, beneficial and entertaining convention.

The morning program included stunts and specialties from the various camps of the district, Anaheim contributing two vocal numbers through Mrs. Nettie Schee. It was Santa Ana's pleasure to seat the officers and Long Beach exemplified the memorial service.

As luncheon hour approached there was unusual bustling about. Lines were finally formed and the 300 Neighbors startled the business district of the county seat by marching two abreast down the main street of the city, with the chief of police at the head of the line. It was jokingly asked whether the "cop" was running all that bunch in or whether all that bunch was taking the officer in. Anyhow, the ladies safely reached the banquet hall, after singing camp songs and giving camp yells en route, where they were served with a most delicious dinner.

The afternoon meeting saw 350 women in their places and the evening crowd swelled to more than 500. The school of instruction by district deputy, Mrs. Christine Hammil, occupied much of the afternoon. Orange camp did the balloting work; Laguna Beach, reception of candidates; Glendale, also a portion of work with the candidates; Culver City, the retiring march, and so on, each camp delineating some ritualistic duty.

Election of officers placed Mrs. Eula Diemer, of Long Beach, in the presidents chair and retired Mrs. Thelma Rockwell to Past president.

Santa Ana performed the ceremonies of class adoption in the evening following the competitive drills in which that camp also won the prize, with Sunny South camp of Los Angeles beingsecond.

Rosewood camp, of Anaheim, was represented by the Mesdames Henry Husmann, Henry Heying, A. Chapman, Wm. Chambers Nettie Schee, John Johnson, Charles Barr and J. D. Guy.

Busy Calendar Ahead

Adding another member to the corps yesterday, Mrs. Pamelia Mills, the W. R. C. had an unusually good meeting with a fine attendance. Plans for Memorial day exercises were formulated, in which Daughters of Veterans, and the W. R. C. will co-operate. Services will be held at the cemetery in the morning, beginning at 9:30; pot luck luncheon at noon in Fullerton, and in the afternoon services will be held in Loma Vista. Flowers will be placed on all veterans graves.

The local corps is looking forward on Tuesday, May 5, its second birthday, and the corps feels now old enough to have quite an elaborate party. There will be several worth while events on that day, with a pot luck dinner. Mrs. Addie McMillen is in charge.

As April 27 was the birthday anniversary of Ex-president U. S. Grant, Mrs. Emily Loneus read a sketch of his life and achievements.

The ceremony of presenting a flag to Calvary Baptist church next Sunday, when for the first time the new church will be occupied, is going to be quite auspicious. The presentation will be made by Mrs. Lydia Herman, patriotic instructor, on behalf of the corps.

Fidelic Class Entertains

Taking the place of the all day April Fidelis class meeting, the Men's Bible class and families and families of the Fidelis class will be guests of honor at a 6:30 pot luck supper Friday evening in the social hall of the White Temple. Each member of the class is asked to bring a covered dish and sandwiches enough for her own family.

Games and music will enliven the later hours.

Pythian Silver Tea

Pythian Sisters will hold a silver tea tomorrow at the home of Mrs. William Sperber, jr.; 118 No. Helena-st. Mrs. Maude Sanger will be assistant hostess. All Pythian Sisters and their friends are invited in for a pleasant afternoon.

R.N. of A. Card Party

Royal Neighbors have some special arrangements for the card party to be held Thursday evening in Odd Fellows hall at 8:30, and very fine prizes are being offered. Refreshments will be served and the public is cordially invited. Mrs. Henry Heying is chairman of the committe on arrangements.

Departures over the Santa Fe: W. C. Markes, St. Louis, Mo.; H. and R. A. Myers, Del Norte, Colo.; C. B. Mercer, Detroit, Mich.

LIBERTY COURT CELEBRATES ITS 6th BIRTHDAY

SOC—LIBERTY COURT -?....

CELEBRATING its sixth birthday last evening, Liberty court, Order of the Amaranth, had a 6:30 dinner and evening party, grouped many members and quite a few out of town friends. Mrs. Eva Boyd was chairman of the committee.

Cards and dancing to Dude Martin's orchestra formed the evening pastime. J. O. Hardage and Mrs. W. C. Brown were in charge of the dance floor and arrangements, and Mrs. E. E. Smith and Mrs. Guy Daniels looked after the convenience of the card players.

Punch and birthday cake were served by the refreshment committee. The cake, which was baked by Mrs. Smith, was adorned with roses and six pretty candles designating the age of the court.

A short business session preceded the social affair and during this hour the court presented Mrs. Eva Boyd, as the "mother of the court" with a pretty gift. Mrs. Boyd was the first royal matron of the order and has since been one of its staunchest supporters.

Auxiliary Card Party

Ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary are looking toward Friday night with real interest as that is the time chosen for the card party to be held in the Legion rooms of the city hall. Five hundred is the accepted game and some real nice prizes have been secured for the winners of high scores. Games will start promptly at 8 p. m. Mrs. A. V. Wheeler is chairman of arrangements.

These and other plans were arranged at the regular Auxiliary meeting last night prior to the social hour which always "winds up" the evening. Three new members were received into the Auxiliary. Mrs. John Wilson and Mrs. E. H. Fulfer were hostesses and served delicious refreshments.

Return Pencils At Once

In closing the lead pencil campaign recently conducted by the Anaheim Ebell club, it is found there are yet several packages of pencils yet unaccounted for. It is urged that all books and pencils be returned to Mrs. Eva Boyd, Mrs. M. E. Canby or Miss Rea, not later than April 25th. The holder will be held responsible for any not returned by that time.

It is the earnest wish of Miss Rea, president of Ebell, that this matter be concluded at once. She will have some very interesting, joyful news to relate at the next general meeting in connection with the real estate holdings of the club.

Presbyterian Aid Meets

The Ladies Aid of the Presbyterian church, will hold its usual meeting Thursday at 2:30, in the church. After the short business meeting, which will include some very important matters, a pleasant and well planned social hour will be passed. All ladies of the church are cordially invited.

Guild Tea Tomorrow

Ladies of St. Michael's Guild are asked to remember the tea tomorrow with Mrs. R. W. Balen, South Lemon-st., which will be purely a social affair. Those so choosing may bring their needle work along for pastime, as there will be no program whatever.

Instead of the usual silver offering each member is asked to donate an article of fancy work to be sold at the bazaar in the early autumn. There will be light refreshment served.

Books in by Friday

This donation is in line with activities on behalf of the Merchant Marine, and club women particularly, are requested to donate a book to the local collection at the library which Miss Rea will deliver to Fullerton, and from there be sent to headquarters for distribution to the proper places. Book Week is being observed all over the nation, but this particular effort is under auspices of the California Library association.

COLLEGE GLEE CLUB COMES TO ANAHEIM

GLEE Club of Occidental college will appear at the Anaheim Presbyterian church Monday, April 27th at p. m.

Numerically, the club is stronger than in recent years and excels in tone quality and finesse of interpretation, due to the admirable coaching of Maud Reeves-Barnes, soloist and teacher of Los Angeles, Pasadena and Venice, and director of the club for the past three years.

The versatility of the program and its attractive presentation are highly commended by critics. "Dawn" by Curran, "Waken Lords and Ladies Gay" by Matthews, an American folk song "Frog went a-courting" are very popular.

A special attraction is the 'Maytime Quartette' in quaint colonial costumes singing old-time songs. Soloists are Miss Roberta Taylor, cellist, Miss Eleanor Phillips soprano, and Miss Marinita Davis, contralto.

The readings of Miss Evelyn Forbes are bits of sparkling humor which captivate the hearers. Miss Alice Joynson is accompanist.

Six New Patients

In the report from the Crippled Children's Relief Ass'n covering a period of two months, six new cases had been added. One, a boy from Placentia, was brought by the school nurse, Miss Harrol. An operation was necessary and although he is a very delicate child, he is improving nicely. Another case was brought from La Habra through the report of Mrs. Hazen. This is infantile paralysis and necessitates use of a brace which will be purchased for the child. The other four, two American and two Mexican children, are from Placentia, all having received the care the individual case required.

Mrs. Adams, in charge of the home here, has made 120 visits in two months, giving massages, exercises and instruction to parents. She also has visited the school nurses at La Habra, Laguna Beach and Huntington Beach, thoroughly explaining the work of the association, and was assured of heartiest co-operation.

At the sanitarium: B. A. Cole, Anaheim; Mrs. Fred Pape, Huntington Beach; George R. Thompson, Garden Grove.

ACTRESS PLAYS FOR SICK YOUTH

MODESTO, April 22.—With 4 bleak hospital walls for a playhouse, two nurses and a suffering boy for an audiance, Helen Menken, star of "Seventh Heaven," last night gave the most difficult performance of her career.

Courage and faith, the central theme of "Seventh Heaven," was the theme of her improvisation as she strove to instill into the heart of the boy the determination necessary to his recovery.

The suffering youth is a little Jewish boy, Morris Zeff, who injured his spine playing football last season. He is clinging to life and suffering intense pain. His groans attracted the attention of Miss Menken soon after she was taken to a hospital here last Wednesday to be operated upon for an emergency attack of appendicitis which attacked her one hour before the performance was scheduled to start.

The philosophy of "Chico," character in "Seventh Heaven," who scorned fear and was "a very remarkable fellow," and the faith of "Diane," formed the burden of Miss Menken's recital as she told the story of the play and tried to convince the boy that he too, might be a remarkable fellow and fight his way back to health.

May Join With Ebell

The Fullerton Ebell club was hostesses last evening to the Business and Professional Women's club of Fullerton and vicinity at a supper, meeting and dance held at the Ebell club house, there being about 150 present. It was suggested that the Business and Professional Women's club be formed as an auxiliary to the Ebell club, and a committee appointed to bring this about. The committee is composed of Miss Ion Beaty of the Fullerton Chapman-ave. grammer school, chairman; Miss Fern Harvey of the high school; Miss Ione Willits, and Mrs. Wanda McGraw of the Business and Professional Women's club; Miss Julia Keithly, nurse; and three out-of-town representatives representing Brea, La Habra, and Placentia. Mrs. Taylor was acting secretary at the meeting; Mrs. W. A. Moore in charge of serving; and Mrs. A. E. Stuelke chairman of the invitation committee. The dance began at 9 o'clock.

DAILY GREETING TO OUR READERS

But in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than ourselves. Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others. —Philippians 2.3, 4.

Perhaps the city which has "no need of the sun, neither of the moon to shine in it, for the glory of God shall lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof," is too far above the ordinary soaring of our imagination to be readily conceived. But I think, in most cases, it is from want of use that the wings of thought droop so soon, and will carry us so little way upwards. —Theophilus Parsons.

OUTLAW WARFARE, PLEA OF MANY

Outlaw warfare! This should be the paramount proposal by the United States in the next international arms conference. This is urged, in a memorial to President Coolidge, by prominent churchmen, educators, governors of states, and other notables. This action should be concurrent with additional reduction of armaments, the memorial urges. The time is ripe now for action of this kind, is the contention of these friends of peace.

It is more and more apparent that the outlawing of warfare must be undertaken, in good faith, and in profound earnest, by the great powers of the world. There must be crystallization of sentiment everywhere around this major proposal—to put aggressional warfare on the defensive all over the earth—to outlaw the grim god Mars. The United States well may join this movement, heart and soul, and take leadership in it.

A true friend is candid, but not captious.

One tax reduction in the hand of the taxpayer is worth a hundred in florid promises.

Battles among nations in the golden future—which should not be far ahead—will be fought on the field of reason.

HEALTH AND DIET ADVICE

By Dr. Frank McCoy
Author of "THE FAST WAY TO HEALTH"

POTATOES: These constitute one of the finest forms of starchy food, although they only contain from 14% to 18% starch. I place the potato at the top of the list because I consider it one of the most valuable of the starchy foods, and not simply because of the quantity of starch it contains. White bread contains four times as much starch as potatoes, but if used in excess is about four times as injurious as the latter. If potatoes are used in proper combination with other foods, a larger amount can be eaten without injury than of any other starch.

I believe the best way to prepare them is to wash them well with a vegetable brush, which should always be kept in the kitchen for this purpose. The potatoes should then be boiled in plain water for a long enough time to enable them to become soft. All starchy food requires long cooking in order to break up the starch cells and render them more easily digestible. Potatoes cooked in this way with their skins on will have a better natural flavor than if they are cooked in any other way. They should be eaten without removing the skin, which contains valuable vitamines and organic salts. The only part of the potato that is anything more than starch and water is the skin, and if this is removed the valuable bone and nerve building elements are lost.

Freedom Of Women Causing Decline Of Civilization, Says Author-Philosopher

R. H. TOWNER
Underwood & Underwood

The emancipation of women, excessive statuatory prohibitions, the growing tendency toward uniformity between groups and classes of the present generation, and our "Asiatic" method of criminal procedure—these, according to R. H. Towner, philosopher and author, are the factors dominating the decline of the civilization of the English-speaking people to-day.

It will undoubtedly come as a surprise to many to learn that our civilization is on the down grade, and even more of a surprise to learn the reasons why, but Mr. Towner's evidence, set forth in abundance within the two volumes of his latest book, the "Philosophy of Civilization," has startled many commentators into serious discussion of his premise.

Mr. Towner has spent a lifetime in compiling the evidence upon which he bases his assertions. A series of old woodcuts, published in Century Magazine in 1887, which contrasted the heads of the ancient Pharaohs with those of lower caste Egyptians, led him to study of the theory which he later developed in his philosophy.

Commenting on the difference between the Pharaohs of the Exodus and the ordinary type of Egyptian fellaheens, as he first viewed them in the magazine, Mr. Towner says:

"It was evident that the differences between these were as old as civilization; that it was a difference of nervous organization; that the higher nervous organizations were always fewer than the lower; and that the positions of the Pharaohs and the fellaheens were never reversed—i. e., the higher nervous organizations although fewer in numbers always dominate the lower, and this relation tends to repeat itself throughout all history.

"This was practically the beginning of my thinking on the Philosophy of Civilization. In all my reading since, I was seeking for the factor in human life that tends always toward the same differentiation, creating a minority of higher nervous organizations, with a few geniuses and a great multitude of lower nervous organizations."

Mr. Towner began dictating the Philosophy in 1915 and did not finish the first draft of it until 1922, working [illegible] away from business.

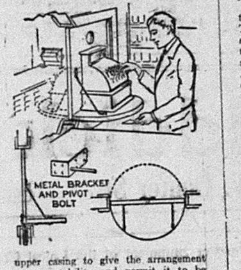
Double-Duty Cash Register

In a country hardware store a small radio department was opened and a partition erected to separate this section from the rest of the store. As the owner did not feel justified in purchasing a separate cash register for the new department, he devised the plan illustrated, which made it possible to use one cash register on both sides of the partition. A square section, a little higher and wider than the cash register, was cut out of the partition and the opening finished with casing. The bottom of the opening was desk-high, and a wooden panel was fitted loosely in this opening. A semicircular shelf was fitted to the panel at the bottom and was supported by two iron-rod braces, as indicated, and a peephole, about 3 in. in diameter, was cut through the panel just above the top of the register. This allowed a clerk on one side to see whether or not a clerk on the other side was using the register. A hole was drilled in the center of the bottom casing to hold a socket for a strong pivot bolt, which was welded to a metal bracket, screwed to the panel and shelf as indicated in the detail. This permitted the panel to be swung around freely. It is a good idea to fit a bolt also in the upper casing to give the arrangement greater stability and permit it to be turned more easily.



Correct Grid Leak in Your Radio Set Is Important

One of the smallest parts that enters into the construction of a radio receiver is the grid leak, and in connection with it the grid condenser. As usual with small details they are given little attention. It will surprise many to know that the volume and clarity of reception depend on the correct value of the grid leak and the grid condenser. The grid current is determined by the number of negative electrons that are attracted to the grid from the filament. The negative charge on the grid sometimes piles up to a point where it practically stops the flow of plate current; the grid leak relieves this situation and frees the imprisoned electrons, preventing the tube from choking. This requires a grid leak of correct value for the tube used.

The grid leaks now on the market vary in efficiency; some are correct in value according to their rating, others nearly so, and many are found to be inefficient. When selecting the materials for building your set, always demand the best; this applies especially to grid leaks and grid condensers. Substituting different grid leaks of various resistances in your receiver will often be the means of improving volume and clarity of reception.

Each type of tube requires a different type of grid leak and grid condenser. The values of these parts are usually supplied by the manufacturer of the tube, and will be found in the literature accompanying the tube when purchased. A good variable grid leak is recommended by some authorities; another plan is to have several fixed grid leaks varying in value from one to five megohms and you will be able to select the best one on trial.

The variable grid leak is a valuable instrument—if the average user would be content to let it alone once it is adjusted to the best value for the particular tube he is using. Once the leak is properly adjusted it should not be touched unless the tube is changed.

Washing the Car Chassis

More mud and dirt collects under the body on the chassis than anywhere else on the car. A simple and efficient method of removing this is to use a stationary sprinkler of the kind shown in the drawing, provided water under pressure is available. It can be installed in any garage having a concrete floor and good drainage, and consists of two lengths of ½-in. water pipe, perforated with a number of small holes. The pipes are arranged along the side of the garage and connected to the water supply. The distance between the pipes should be a little greater than the tread of the car so that the spray will strike the underside of the chassis. Thus the water will reach parts that are nearly inaccessible when using a hose.

Cathedral Saved by Diver Working Years in Dark

One of the most heroic accomplishments in the annals of engineering has come to light in the account of a diver who, working single-handed and in almost complete darkness, saved Winchester cathedral in England by renewing its foundations. The task consumed most of five and one-half years and was performed several feet below the surface, in slimy soil and water. The building was foundering because it rested only on an eight-foot layer of wet peat. The diver removed this material in sections, substituting concrete which he himself brought down and laid on a firm stratum of gravel, flint and chalk below the peat formation.

WAR ON BETWEEN MOVIES AND RADIO? NOT SO PRISCILLA DEAN NOTICES IT

FEARS among certain theatrical and motion picture magnates that the radio is luring thousands upon thousands of people away from the box offices is not shared by many screen favorites. Radio men declare they neither desire nor anticipate that interest will lag in the drama and the movies, but that radio will encourage greater support for the best plays and films.

Among the actresses who believe radio will be helpful is Miss Priscilla Dean, who holds that reports of antagonism are greatly exaggerated, to say the least. Miss Dean is a radio enthusiast and finds much pleasure in listening to the music and story that the ether brings, wherever she goes.

What Editors Are Saying

INFLUENCE FOR GOOD ON THE YOUNG—

Christian Science Monitor

Youth is plastic material. In the proper hands it may be molded into forms of beauty and usefulness; if left alone, to grow as it will, it may become distorted or develop unseeingly to no worthy purpose. In the impressionable years ranging from 16 to 21, particularly, the young man is in need of wise guidance that will direct him safely past the many pitfalls in his experience and aid him to gain a firm footing whence he will be able to see and to grasp securely tha which is good, true, tried and worthy of permanent regard. It is at this critical age that the Order of De Molay takes hold of the young man and seeks to lead him safely inside the portals of right thought and useful action.

The citizenship forums, which De Molay chapters are conducting are just one example of the work of this organization. These forums have been arranged especially for young men who are soon to become of age and to enter into all th privileges and responsibilities of citizenship. Many of these young men are employed and are out of school, many of them who are still in school do not receive the type of training which the forums afford. Hence the arrangement of these citizenship courses to direct attention to such subjects as the problem of illiteracy, is consequence, and the means to remove it; the question of effective political action, how it may be obtained and encouraged; the question of home life its relation and value to society; the needs of the immigrant in our midst; the spiritual needs of man; international good will and the means of world peace, and the American form of government, how it may be improved and perpetuated.

About these and similar subjects the entire work of the Order of De Molay revolves. The order is essentially a builder of manhood. It encourages loyalty to home and parents, to the school and the church, and to the fundamentals of national life. It encourages the youth in education, self-expression, in the study of current questions, in the cultivation of life interests, in self-mastery, reaching young men in every state of the Union, and in many foreign countries. Organized in Kansas City, Mo., less than six years ago, the order now has a total world membership approaching 150,000. The Order of De Molay fits in admirably with such organizations as the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls, all of which are seeking to shape wisely the lives of young men and women, to hold in their pathway a light that will guide them securely forward.

MANY CURIOUS AT MURDER HEARING

HANFORD, April 22.— Standing room only was a misnomer at the opening of the trial today of Louis A. Kider for the "unwritten law" shooting of L. A. Broderick March 19.

Kinder, with his attorneys, J. F. Pryor and Harry Brown, and Mrs. Mae Kinder, sat silently on one side of the tables in the witness section, with Dr. Blanche Barton Broderick, divorced wife of Broderick, and Mrs. L. A. Broderick, the widow, on the other. Attorney Rowan Irwin of Bakersfield is assisting Dist. Atty. William McKay.

Neither Kinder nor his wife appeared worried. Kinder kept his eyes down, but now and again would lift them and give a recognizing glance at friends in the crowd.

The work of selecting a jury followed the formality of the arraignment, charging Kinder with having with his wife, Mate, lured Broderick to the Kinder ranch near Hanford on the date mentioned for the purpose of compelling him to pay over a certain sum of money.

PISTOL SHOOTERS WILL ORGANIZE

Steps have been taken to organize an Orange-co. Pistol Shooters Ass'n., embracing all the police departments in the county, with Claude Rogers, Santa Ana police chief, as captain, and C. B. Nichols of Anaheim and O. W. Wilson of Fullerton on the board of directors. It is planned to hold a contest once a month at Orange-co. park with the ten high men forming the county team for that month.

Chief Nichols says that pistol practice will in the future be part of the work of Anaheim policemen, who will be required to take target practice twice a week. He thinks this essential because a policeman, he said, might be called upon to fire in a crowded street some time, and he must be competent to do it, or else not do it.

Fullerton plans to use Anaheim's range for target practice.

SAY WOOL THIEVES STOLE THOUSANDS

LOS ANGELES, April 22.— W. R. Attison, alleged ring-leader of a band of wool thieves said to have robbed farmers in the upper San Joaquin valley of thousands of dollars worth of wool, was held in county jail here today awaiting transportation to Kern-co for trial.

Attison was arrested while delivering a truck-load of wool, which officers claim he and his gang gathered in a systematic robbery of Kern-co sheep owners. Attison, it was said, "bootlegged" his wool at 1 cents a pound, about 12 cents below market price.

BOY, 15, WRITES UNITED PLAYLET

Patrol 3 of Anaheim Boy Scout Troop 3 will present at the United Theater Thursday evening a playlet, "The Two Scouts in France," Thursday evening in conjunction with the regular program.

The playlet was written and is being directed by Wilbur Akers, patrol leader, helped by George Daws, assistant patrol leader. Young Akers is 15 and in the eighth grade. It is only five minutes' long but is full of action. Mr. Keogh, of Keogh Players, highly complimented the young playwright for getting so much action into the brief skit. There are plenty of guns and sworts.

Joseph Repier and Leland Schroeder are the two scouts in France; George Daws is General McNeal; Wilbur Akers is the sqy; Gilbert Kohler is Lieut. Wood; Ernest Holmes, Julius Palm, Alaic Geren, Jack Schroeder and Paul Lepier are the soldiers.

STORY OF MYSTERY AT UNITED THEATRE

"Behind the Curtain," which will be the attraction at the United Theatre has an all-star cast including Winidre Bryson, Lucille Rickson, Johnny Harron, Charles Clary and Eric Mayne.

The story from which the picture was made was written by William J. Flynn, former head of the United States Secret Service Bureau, and said to be based in part of an actual happening that came to his personal attention. Further, Mr. Flynn, is a student of criminology and he drew on his knowledge to combine fiction with facts into a fine mystery story.

In a way the story constitutes an attack on spiritualism for the effect of materialization seances on minds of a certain type used in connection with the solution of a murder mystery. One of these minds is that of a congenial criminal who believes that if death be the penalty for his crimes he can be brought back to this life. The other is that of the medium himself when confronted by an unexpected result of his display of his psychic powers.

The love affair of a boy and a girl, resulting in an elopment, constitutes the initiative of a series of incidents that bring about a crisis in the life of the sister of the girl, a murder and its consequent mystery concerning the murderer.

COUTANT STEPPERS AT CALIF. TONIGHT

The advanced pupils of Miss Claire Coutant of Los Angeles, who conducts a school in dancing here will offer a special stage presentation at the California Theatre tonight and Thursday, in "The Coutant Steppers" a classy song and dance offering.

These four young ladies, Miss Helen Brown, Inez Berkey, Grace Hirigoyne and Ann Fetherstonhaugh have been practicing hard for the past several weeks on their special numbers and from the perfect rehearsals that have been held will present a performance that will demonstrate that they are real artists.

"THE RAG MAN" PROMISES TO BE JACKIE'S FUNNIEST

In his latest Metro-Goldwyn production, "The Rag Man," which is coming to the California Theatre for Friday and Saturday, Jackie Coogan has a story that is timely in its application, for it is a beautiful argument against race prejudices—though of course its reason for existence is not to preach, but to entertain.

The story, written by Willard Mack, tells of a little Irish boy who falls into the hands of a junk dealer, becomes his active, and finally his "senior" partner, and throughout is his tormenting, adorable and aggravating little comrade. There is plenty of pathos, but there is more than even the usual quota of "Coogan Comedy."

APROVE McTIGUE BERLENBACH BOUT

NEY YORK, April 22. — The New York state boxing commission today approved the scheduled bout between Mike McTigue and Paul Berlenbach, May 29, at the Milk Fund benefit.

The commission also approved a bout between Mickey Walker and Harry Greb, June 19, at the Polo grounds, a benefit for the Italian hospital. Harry Wills will meet Charley Weinert on the same card.

A condition to the Greb-Walker match, articles for which will be signed here tomorrow, is that Walker post a forfeit of $10,000 to fight Dave Shade of California, for the world's welterweight title before Aug. 15. Shade must post a forfeit of $10,000 to make 147 pounds for the fight.

Tommy O'Brien of Milwaukee, appeared before the commission and retired from the lightweight competition, announcing he had hurt his hand in a recent bout with Pal Morgan. This leaves the contest which the New York boxing commission hoped would find a successor to Benny Leonard, between Sammy Mandell, Rockford; Jimmy Goodrich, Buffalo; Benny Valger and Solly Seaman, New York.

Southland Sports

LOS ANGELES, April 22. — Paavo Numni, the main attraction of a track and field meet here Saturday, has decided that his race against Sherman School Indian runners shall be over the three-mile distance.

Nurmi will arrive Thursday, as he is coming on the same train which is bringing Loyd Hahn. There is some doubt yet as to whether the fleet-footed Finn will consent to a mile race against the Boston star, but efforts are being made to arrange one.

In addition to the events featuring the visiting athletics, a large program of track and field contests is to be staged by the Rinbow division veterans, sponsors of the meet.

Occidental College played smart baseball in defeating the University of So Calif. team yesterday, 4 to 2. Bud Teachout, M[illegible] Hurler stood the strain of 11 innings better than Thomas, who was on the hilltop for the Trojans. Both pitchers struck out 17 batters.

The U. S. C. squad was to leave this afternoon for a swing thro Arizona.

Pat Mills, English lightweight, meets Buck Curtis of Long Beach in a bout scheduled for 10-rounds at Wilmington tonight.

Tiny Herman, Portland heavyweight won a decison over Capt. Bob Roper for the second time within a month at Vernon last night.

The fight was a slow affair which went the scheduled length of ten rounds. Roper was constantly clinching. The first four rounds were given to Herman, the fifth even. Roper had an edge on the next four, and the last was won by Herman.

Roy Cliffe knocked Tommy Richards down for the count of eight in the second round and on the sixth round semi-final by his superior punching. Larry Murphy and Frankie Fink fought a draw, Hayden Phythian knocked out Earl Little in the first round with a hard right. Frankie Osner beat Benny Dotson and Mel Manning beat young Carpentier in the preliminaries.

SANTA ANA J. C. BEATS ANAHEIM

In a lively game here last evening the Anaheim Hi school baseball team was defeated by the Santa Ana Junior College crowd, 7-6, after Anaheim led 6-1 at the opening of the sixth inning.

Santa Ana scored six runs in the seventh inning.

Next Monday Fullerton Hi boys will come here, on Wednesday the local second team will play there, and on Thursday Anaheim and Orange will play.

Preparations for the May Day grammar school athletic meet here continue. Boys under 100 pounds will be in one class and those without weight limits will be in another. The Hi school track team, of which Ralph Jabs is captain will be in charge.

The girls' first baseball team worsted Fullerton 8-6 last evening. Grace Holdsworth, at first base, Leonora McAllister at center field and Lydia Moore at second base each made two points; Catherine Shea, left field, and Loretta Sievek, right short stop, one each. In the sixth inning Fullerton took the lead 6-5.

The second team will play at Orange on Thursday and at Tustin on Wednesday.

BREA OVERCOMES DOMINGUEZ 3 to 0

After taking a 13 to 6 beating Saturday the Brea Bearcats revamped their batting order, took on some "quick starting" fluid and whipped the Dominguez Drillers 3 to 0 yesterday. It was the best game so far this season, both teams playing spectacular ball and giving the fans plenty to talk about for months to come.

Both teams went scoreless until the last half of the fourth inning when Welin singled, Ansell sacrificed him to second, Neal singled through short but the throw-in held Welin to third. Hilsenhoff hit a single to center scoring both Welsin and Neal. Lewis singled through short and both men died on base when Orahood fouled out and Thompson whiffed. Brea counted once more in the 5th and that ended the tallying for the day. Valente on the mound for the inners pitched a stellar game and scattered the visitors' seven hits through as many innings. His fielding was good to look upon.

RUNNERS FROM S. F. BAY

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22—The watch of Golden Gate has chased rum runners to others fields, according to Prohibition enforcement officials today.

With an appeal from prohibition agent William Anderson of Los Angeles to the coast guard for more cutters in the south and captures of smuggled liquor near Tomales Bay in the North, officials here see success for their efforts to keep the gate closed to illicit liquor.

Captain Charles Goff, No. Calif. raiding chief, says Canadian rum ships are now centralizing efforts on the bays and inlets to the north of San Francisco Bay.

GIANTS SHOULD LEAD ALL YEAR

NEW YORK, April 22.—Standing of the clubs in the National league today assumed a very familiar pose. Thru no particular efforts of their own, the New York Giants were forced to take the lead. The Pittsburgh Pirates obliged by dropping the Cincinnati Reds, and the Giants succeeded to first place without playing a game.

Unless the dope goes wrong, the Giants will be in there or around there for the rest of the season. One week of actual competition is not enough to prove anything, but there is little about the National league champions that need proof.

Altho the team has been crippled on the defense by injuries and illness, it has been moving along, with some good pitching from unexpected sources. Jack Scott and Wayland Dean have done some fine work and Hugh McQuillan pitched a good game in his last start. Nehf is most always dependable.

While the Reds have lost first place in the league, it does not mean that the club has exploded. There is too much pitching class on the club to go on the rocks so early in the pennant race. The rally of the Pittsburgh club may mean that the Pirates have shaken off that terrible slump that has made a tail ender out of a club that was picked one or two by nearly every critic in the country.

The Cleveland Indians continue to be the surprise of the major leagues. Speaker seems to have found a new combination that cannot lose. There is some formidable competition in the west, too.

HUNT MORON FOR DEATH OF WOMAN

CHICAGO, April 22.—A moron was hunted today for what the police termed "one of the most diabolical murders" in the history of Chicago.

Police and the coroner agreed that a moron killed and hacked to pieces a woman of between 20 and 30 whose torso was found in a "catch basin" on the Budlong Golf Links late yesterday. The head, arms and legs had been cut and chopped off. Examination of the torso today revealed that the slayer had cut a deep incision into the stomach and removed the sex organs.

Dr. Thomas Foley, coroner's physician, who made the examination, declared that none but a moron would have performed the grewsome operation.

The victim probably was killed a year ago, he said.

A certain amount of skill was evident, Dr. Foley said.

While the head was hacked off in a crude manner, the removal of the arms at the shoulders indicated considerable skill. The leg and stomach operations were crude.

Belief is expressed that a moron assaulted and murdered the woman and then attempted to destroy her identity.

A pair of flesh colored stockings and a gabardine coat were found in the "catch basin". These are the only clews so far.

"GIFT NITE" AT CALIF. TONIGHT

Tonight is Gift Night at the California and there are over $100 in valuable and useful gifts that will be distributed.

"If I Marry Again" is the title of the feature photoplay for Today and Thursday featuring Doris Kenyon and directed by John Francis Dillon.

The story tells of the son of a wealthy and proud family who, against his father's wishes, marries the daughter of a notorious woman in San Francisco society. He is practically exiled to a tropical island where he manages his father's rubber plantations. In contrast with the beautiful picture of the married life of this rich boy and his "undesirable" wife is shown the unhappy home of a successful business man and the wife whom he neglects in his pursuit of success. The scenes, shifting from the gay haunts of San Francisco's night life to a rain-drenched, fever infested land of the tropics, provides a variety of setting seldom found in motion pictures.

Ben Turpin in a Mack Sennett Comedy—"Romeo and Juliet" and an International News are also on the program.

Geo. E. Turner, concert organist has arranged a special musical program for this week.

Where the Laundry Wagon Calls Regularly
the Doctor Comes Seldom

In figuring up washday expense there is an item rightly chargeable which many women overlook.

That item is doctor bills—of all causes that bring complications to women at this season of the year there are none so potent as washday in the home.

Think it over for a moment—first, the heavy work; then the moist air, damp cellar, and wet feet; finally the running in and out from a warm, steamy house, to a cool outdoors. Is it a wise risk to take; a fair price to pay?

The beauty of this service of ours is that we take out of the home everything that pertains to washday. You simply call us, and in no time at all your washing is back, as sweetly clean and finely finished as if you had laundered it yourself.

As for the cost, you will find it truly moderate. Call us and see.
