CITRUS SHOW DECORATIONS FINEST EVER

Alen Stops Few Minutes To Enthuse Over His Latest Creation

Getting down from his ladder in the citrus fruit tent where he had been hanging draperies with his workmen, P. C. Alen, decorator in charge of the decorations of the annual California Valencia Orange Show, today stopped a few moments to enthuse over his latest creation.

In his opinion, it is the richest and classiest thing of the sort he has ever conceived. Never before he declared, have the tents including the supporting poles of the orange show been so completely covered from view in the illusion aimed at, in this case Fresco renaissance.

The orchid chosen as the background in the citrus tent was selected because of the color values which would be possible with the light beam of it and the contrast of oranges against it. Rose color will be the other predominating shade.

Beauty turquoise and yellow will be the colors in the industrial tent, and yellow, peacock and blue those of the semi-tropical.

The decorator today told how the orchid had been suggested to him. He used it in decorating an Egyptian temple in the making of Cecile B. Lasky's picture "The Wanderer."

That is only one of many important contracts which he has handled. He will supervise the set decorations in the Shriners' parade in Los Angeles in June. He has been the only decorator of any of the Shriners' shows in this and the National Orange Show.

Construction now is being centered on booths and racks. Roy Compson, foreman of construction, is building 60 booths for the industrial tent at once, and will construct the others as rapidly as possible.

Finishing touches on the tower are being made, also.

Plain Dealer Sold to Owners of Bulletin

It is with no little feeling of regret that R. W. Ernest and Paul V. Hester announce the sale of The Plain Dealer, this being the last issue. The buyers are Mr. and Mrs. John Baker who hold the controlling interest in The Bulletin.

This move has resulted from economic conditions. Both papers have been operating at a loss. The Plain Dealer owners offered to buy out, sell to or consolidate with The Bulletin. The Bakers preferred to buy The Plain Dealer. While The Plain Dealer owners would have much preferred to have been the buyers rather than the sellers or to have joined in the merger, under the circumstances they must accept this decree of fate.

For almost nine years since Mr. Ernest acquired the Plain Dealer, then a small weekly paper doing $40 business per week. He was joined a few months later by Mr. Hester. In the fifth year after taking over the paper they had built it up to a business of $50,000 per year, with probably the largest payroll of any industry in the city. For more than two years the business has failed to show a profit and since the first of the year it has been operated at a loss running as high as $400 in some weeks.

Last year the local payroll totalled $56,368 divided as follows: composing room $17,415, editorial department $14,178, circulation $10,686, business office $5401, advertising department $6596, job department $12596. This was an average of $1083 per week for labor in Anaheim. In addition, it required $8539 worth of print paper, besides other expenses.

The circulation was about 150 when Ernest took it over. It was built up to a peak of $800, although advertising was sold on a schedule of more than $600.

It has always been the aim of the Plain Dealer owners to publish a clean, constructive newspaper. Mr. Ernest and Mr. Hester want to take this opportunity of expressing their gratitude to those who have in such large measure showed appreciation of the Plain Dealer's efforts by their patronage.

All advertising accounts up to and including the issue of today, Friday, May 8, are due to The Plain Dealer. Their payment at once at The Plain Dealer office would be appreciated.

(The Bulletin Published the Following Announcement Today)

"After several weeks of negotiation, all arrangements were completed last Tuesday afternoon and the Orange County Plain Dealer, one of the oldest publications in this section of the state, was sold to John S. Baker and Julia M. Baker. The property included in the deal consisted of the good will, advertising contracts, circulation lists as well as all machinery, equipment and office fixtures, was transferred to the new proprietors by Rollo W. Ernest and Paul V. Hester, who have owned and published the paper for the last several years up to the present time.

"The purchase of the Plain Dealer is part of Mr. Baker's plan to give Anaheim one good newspaper and his step in this direction will be the fusion of the Plain Dealer with Bulletin, in which he has been more or less financially interested since its advent into the field, and in order to culminate this plan as hastily as possible the Plain Dealer will be discontinued as an individual publication this evening.

"Mr. Baker will assume active position as the head of the consolidated newspapers as publisher, whose interest will be represented by Lotus R. Louden, who heretofore has been identified as publisher and manager of The Bulletin. There will be no changes in the present Bulletin staff for in order to assure to Anaheim and the readers of the new paper the very best in live, constructive journalism, the publisher will place at the head of the organization a managing editor capable of giving to Anaheim a daily newspaper that will be a credit to any thriving enterprising city.

"The policy of the consolidated paper will be broad and constructive. It will be the endeavor to eliminate all factional differences and to restore harmony and in pursuit of this purpose Mr. Baker has pledged himself to guard his news from being used to further any personal ends. For this reason the incoming managing editor will be selected because he is possessed of high ideals, capable of dealing with any situation in a fair, broad-minded way. The major policy will be to support all civic measures of merit, and to faithfully uphold the public interests."

DR. TONDARE IS MISSING FROM JAIL

"Alfalfa Specialist" Cuts Short His Term at Santa Ana

"Dr." Rex H. L. Albrextondare, termed the "alfalfa specialist" at his trial following the death of two Orange girls he treated and who was ordered sentenced to spend six months in the county jail, is missing, it was announced at the district attorney's office today.

The man, of dashing professional manner, and whose claims to having been held a "love prisoner," to have manufactured a human body, but failed to put the breath of life in it, brought him to the front pages of the newspapers a year ago, has been at liberty under $2000 bail while an appeal was taken to higher courts.

Though the judgment of Superior Judge F. C. Drumm, rendered the first week in May, 10, was upheld several weeks ago by the appellate court, the sensational prisoners cannot be located, it is asserted. His bondsmen, a surety company, has been notified and operatives have been put on the case.

Called to treat the Orange young women, who were suffering from an incurable heart disease, Albrextondare declared he was the owner of one to have administered a remedy he prepared, the medicine containing alfalfa, pea pods and garlic. When he was at home he would carry the girls into their yards to give them sun baths, it was testified, the parents repeating this treatment when the "doctor" was away. Bills he prescribed, the prosecution contended, were made of chalk and sugar, while it was alleged he used dynamite salt in others. He was convicted of violating the state medical practices act, and besides the jail sentence was ordered to pay a $500 fine.

Undressed for a bath by prisoners say the Orange co- jail, a woman's wig stocking containing $1000 in Liberty bonds was found dangling from his neck. These funds immediately were attached by Mrs. Jennie McFadden and her daughter of Altadena, members of a pioneer and wealthy Santa Ana family ,while a third party claim was placed by Mrs. Ruth Dearforff Shaw, former Santa Ana musician and asserted boon companion of the tall Hollywood "doctor."

With the filing of a suit to recover $35,000 which the McFaddens asserted they loaned Albrextondare to further his "scientific research," the loan being made at the instance of Mrs. Shaw, friend of the McFaddens, the "doctor" bared a sensational "love prisoner" story.

He lived in the McFadden's palatial home while he was ill, Albrextondare asserted, but when he wished to leave he declared the two women objected, literally detained him and spoke of love.

This the McFaddens hastily and emphatically denied, adding that Mrs. Shaw and brought the man into their home and they scarcely could force him to depart.

ALLEGE FAKE RAILROAD MERGER

Hold Promoters Pending Investigation of Activities

LOS ANGELES, May 8.—Promising their clients $10 for every $1 which they entrusted to them, Thomas Hennessy and Harry D. Hibbs, Los Angeles stock promoter, collected between $200,000 and $500,000 in a fake railroad merger, it was charged today by public prosecutors.

Hibbs and Hennessy were held under bonds of $100,000 each while authorities delved further into the operations the last four months of their alleged swindling which they conducted on a gigantic and extravagant scale.

According to investigators, the California Ponzie posed as agent for a giant merger of middle-western railroad lines, involving one-third of the roads of the country. The merger itself would represent $6,000,000,000 capitalization and they were to receive $200,000,000 in commissions, the promoters told their customers, it is alleged.

Until the deal could be consummated, the brokers needed ready cash, and offered each client $10 for each $1 that was "invested" them. John B. Brokaw, local capitalist, claims he gave Hennessy and Hibbs $20,000. Others "ponies" contributed a total of more than $300,000, it is charged.

Contributors to the Hibbs-Hennessy promotion included some of Southern California's leading capitalists, according to district attorneys.

Hibbs and Hennessy, admitted, according to authorities, that they had obtained more than $300,000, but contend the railroad merger which they "traded on" was a bona fide transaction. The consolidation was started in 1914, and delay by the war, they said. They claimed to be the agents for the "Western Pacific Corporation of Delaware," and as such were to complete the merger.

Railway lines which they claimed were included in the proposed "merger" included the Western Pacific, Missouri Pacific, Denver and Rio Grande, Chicago Rock Island and Frisco Lines, and the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern Railway.

Plain Dealer Admits And Repudiates Libel Against Dr. Geissinger

The Plain Dealer is glad to announce that it has come to an out of court settlement of the libel suit brought against it by the Rev. Dr. James Allen Geissinger, pastor of the White Temple, for articles appearing in its columns during the recent recall elections making direct attacks upon the morality and patriotism of Dr. Geissinger.

Both of us recognize the fact that even tho those articles appeared during a hotly contested campaign they went beyond all bounds and were without foundation in fact. The articles in question charged Dr. Geissinger with being a trouble maker wherever he went, with disrupting the various churches he has served, with playing dirty politics and directly accused him of organizing the bootleggers and old soaks of Anaheim to break down law and order and carry the election for an open town. Dr. Geissinger was also accused in these articles with being a pacifist and with disloyalty during the war, charges we scorn the hand of the law again and again.

The Plain Dealer was drawn into this vicious personal attack in its support under recall of councilmanic candidates backed last spring and which had the backing of the Ku Klux Klan but the attack on Dr. Geissinger was wholly without warrant, as he had vigorously championed law and order and religious liberty and he was not a candidate for office nor was he in any official position to the U. S. organization backing the recall.

We, both of us, now feel that we did a great wrong in this attack to good order in the city, to public morale, to everybody concerned in the White Temple as well as to Dr. Geissinger.

We wish to say now with the utmost emphasis that we are fully convinced that Dr. Geissinger has done a real service to Anaheim and California and the U. S. at large in standing four-square for religious liberty and all those rights guaranteed to American citizens by our Constitution. He stood faithfully and at great personal sacrifice for a broad Christianity, a tolerant religious view and for a 100 percent. American-ism and his ministry along these lines will be an abiding influence for good in Anaheim and vicinity.

We wish to say that no one who knows Dr. Geissinger personally has ever that for a moment he has anyone ever fairly questioned his loyalty to the flag and all it stands for. But since this suit was filed against us we have taken the trouble to investigate his war work and find that he was the first forceful civilian service for the country from the declaration of war until the signing of the armistice. He was on many special committees and especially assigned work for the soldiers at Fort MacArthur and Camp Kearny, held many special services for the soldiers' sons and at the city at large. We have sought to do something to restore harmony to our community.

Dr. Geissinger has met us more than half way from the beginning. We approached certain freinds of Dr. Geissinger as to the possibility of an out of court settlement and were told that such could be secured only by our making a clean breast of the wrong we had done, by our payment of the costs of the suit and the payment also of a fair damage. Dr. Geissinger has waived all claim to financial re-imbursement save that we have agreed to pay the attorney's fees. And he has done so most maxnanimously without any pressure from either friends or attorneys. In fact, he has gone beyond the advice of friends and attorneys. He has insisted that his wife desire no satisfaction in action azainst us was to protect his reputation and honor and hand on his heritage to his boys unimpirched.

We trust this frank statement and admission of our guilt will have some weight in bringing about a reconciliation on the part of many former friends and a better understanding on the part of all citizens.

TWO OTHERS SERIOUSLY INJURED

Party Enroute From S.A. To Los Alamitos Bay Skating Rink

SANTA ANA, May. 8.—Three high school students were killed, another is dying and two others were seriously injured when their automobile was struck by a Pacific Electric interurban near here. Authorities ordered a complete investigation today of the accident.

The dead are Glenn Richards, 19, Santa Ana; Raymond Kemp, 20, Irvindale, and Lucile Bloomer, 17, Villa Park.

Marjorie Haines, 16, Orange, sustained a fractured skull and is not expected to live. Charles Hine, 21, Santa Ana, and Aileen Haines, 20, sister of Marjorie, were seriously injured and will probably die.

The accident occurred at the 17th street crossing, while the party was enroute to Los Alamitos Bay to attend a skating rink.

R. R. Reamer, motorman, said his car was traveling approximately 20 miles an hour, and that he blew his whistle for the crossing. Another automobile approaching the tracks from an opposite direction stopped, he said.

Dr. Geissinger from Anaheim just before the last annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church at Santa Barbara. Since the election Feb. 3 we have co-operated with the disaffected group of Klan sympathisers of the White Temple in their efforts to force Dr. Geissinger's removal from Anaheim and, in fact, Rev. C. E. Hester, the father of the editor of The Plain Dealer, advised that group to proceed by petition and then by affidavits to bring about the suspension of Dr. Geissinger from his conference and finally his expulsion. As is well known now those charges fell to the ground and we regret that we ever gave ourselves to such methods.

The Plain Dealer has had for several years past an honest pride in the work and success of the White Temple under the direction of Dr. Geissinger and has seen it become one of the leadinz churches of So. Cal. in the last five years. Dr. Geissinger's work elsewhere has borne similar results and The Plain Dealer maliciously slandered him when it tried to make the people believe that he had been a builder of churches and wrecker of congrexations.

We make these statements cheerfully and willingly, having sought to make them and to try to undo some of the injury we have done to Dr. Geisaniger, his work and church here and to the city at large. We have sought to do something to restore harmony to our community.

Dr. Geissinger has met us more than half way from the beginning. We approached certain freinds of Dr. Geisinger as to the possibility of an out of court settlement and were told that such could be secured only by our making a clean breast of the wrong we had done, by our payment of the costs of the suit and the payment also of a fair damage. Dr. Geisinger has waived all claim to financial re-imbursement save that we have agreed to pay the attorney's fees. And he has done so most maxnanimously without any pressure from either friends or attorneys. In fact, he has gone beyond the advice of friends and attorneys. He has insisted that his wife desire no satisfaction in action azainst us was to protect his reputation and honor and hand on his heritage to his boys unimpirched.

We trust this frank statement and admission of our guilt will have some weight in bringing about a reconciliation on the part of many former friends and a better understanding on the part of all citizens.

SUBSTITUTION OF BABIES ALLEGED

NEW YORK, May 8.—Just before Mrs. Helen Augusta Gebser-Volk was to be called into court here today to answer charges of mistreating children left in her care, one of the baby inmates of her infants' home died at a hospital.

It had been found ill and allegedly neglected when police visited the place yesterday and was taken by officers to the hospital where it died this morning.

A nurse, once employed by Mrs. Gebser-Volk at the infants home, had told officers that 12 babies died there.

At the hospital the name of the child who died was not known.

Baby substitution is one of the allegations against Mrs. Gebser-Volk.

CONFESSES HUGE BLACKMAIL PLOT

LOS ANGELES, May 8.—Justine Valse, 24, actress, surrendered voluntarily to police today and confessed to a blackmailing plot designed, she said, to victimize Pola Negri, movie star.

Miss Valse told officers she "lost her nerve" when the alleged plot was about to be "sprung" and tearing arrest, save herself up and offered to assist in arresting other parties to the conspiracy.

The black-mailing scheme, according to S. S. Hahn, the girl's attorney, hinged on a photograph taken in New York city. The picture is said to reveal Miss Valse who strikingly resembles Pola Negri, in a compromising position with Miss Negri's husband or a fellow member of the blackmailing plot.

According to Hahn, the photograph was to be used as a lever with which Miss Negri would be forced under threat or exposure to come to terms in a demand for a huge sum of money.

The plot, police said, would probably never have been revealed if Miss Valse had not weakened, and gone to police and as attorney with her story. She was booked as a material witness. Later, accompanied by detectives, she was taken on a tour of Los Angeles and Hollywood in search of other members of the alleged conspiracy.

More Trouble For Young Highwayman

Hearing on a petition asking for probation for Roy Lane, convicted by a jury of being a member of an asserted bandit gang that held up J. R. Mayer, Santa Ana bank official, on the highway north of Fullerton two months ago was continued today by Superior Judge Z. B. West for one week. In the meantime, the court indicated, preparations might be made for sending Lane, who is but 16 years old, to the Preston school of industry.

W. A. Neuteboom, asserted leader, is under sentence to spend 20 years at San Quentin, while Jack Lee, after receiving a five-year prison sentence was released temporarily to Los Angeles authorities, who are to press charges of highway robbery of two physicians there the same night the prisoner was arrested by Anaheim police, who said they were attempting to rob a stage driver.

Virginia Hymer, fourth member of the party, was released at the trial last week, on motion of the prosecution. Though she is but 18 years old, her husband in Los Angeles this week started action to obtain a divorce from her, alleging infidelity.

EIGHTEEN YEAR OLD GETS OFF EASY

Glenn Duffy, of Costa Mesa, 18, and married, was sentenced to one year in the county jail by Superior Judge Z. B. West at Santa Ana today, after receiving Duffy's admission that he had illicit relations with a young married woman of that city. In order to save Duffy from San Quentin, the prosecution erased the word "married" from the portion of the information relating to the woman involved, the change making the offense a misdemeanor instead of a felony.

BUENA PARK, May 7. (Spl.)—The Eastern Star had a very interesting meeting Monday evening. After the usual routine a short program was given. And a short negro comedy sketch by Mrs. B. R. Shinn and Mrs. Geo. Large Attendance At Union Opera

Hundreds of Anaheimers turned out last evening at the Hi school auditorium to hear the Orange-co. Choral Union in Gustav Luders "Prince of Pilsen" under direction of Ellis Rhodes.

The opera, one of the most popular on the entire stage, was received with enthusiasm by the audience.

Wonderful stage settings and lovely and artistic costumes added greatly to the success of the performance.

Anaheim Kiwanians are being congratulated today over the skill with which the arrangements were made.

Reginald Taylor of the Plain Dealer, who played "Tom Wagner," young naval officer, also made a distinct hit. Taylor played opposite Irma Huffman May, and sang with her a duet entitled "Message of the Violet."

Taylor was only one of several Anaheimers in the cast, others incuding Mrs. C. A. McCullah, Mrs. R. F. Steelhead, pianist, Mrs. Taylor, Miss Christina Berghoffer and H. Glen Merrill.

Students, cadets, Vassar girls, hunters, bathing girls, waiters, etc., added color to the cast.

DAILY GREETING TO OUR READERS

Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright; for the end of that man is peace.—Psalm 37.37.

Happiness is not the end of life—character is.—Henry Ward Beecher.

TRADE GAINS NOTABLE ALL OVER LAND

Unusual activity in both wholesale and retail business is reported for the United States for the months of March and April. The Federal Reserve Board finds that merchandise is being distributed at greater volume than at any time since 1924. Wholesale trade, reports show, increased in all principal lines in March and the total for the month was larger than one year ago. Retail business also was unusually active for this season.

Fact is more impressive than theory. Accomplishment is more significant than prediction.The facts and figures given out officially by the Federal Reserve Board show unmistakably that the country's business, wholesale and retail, is in state of healthy activity and that prosperity is a present actuality, not merely a fond hope for future realization.

While manufacturing production has not shown increase, yet the very fact that the volume of merchandise sold is greatly increased means but one thing—that production in textiles and other standard commodities must needs be increased to meet the increasing demands of trade. In other words, when the wholesaler sells out, he is going to besiege the manufacturer for additional stocks. And the manufacturer has his ear attuned to catch that kind of demand from trade.

HEALTH AND DIET ADVICE

By Dr. Frank McCoy
Author of "THE FAST WAY TO HEALTH"

HOMINY may be used as a good starch if it is soaked in water for several hours, and then washed in two or three washings of hot water so as to remove the irritating elements used in its preparations. It should then be boiled slowly for at least half an hour, and seasoned with butter or cream only.

SWEET POTATOES are not as good a starch as Irish potatoes, but if they are used, the best way to prepare them is to bake them for a long time in the oven so that as much of the sweet potato as possible will be dextrinized. One should never use as large an amount of sweet potatoes as they might use of the Irish potato, because of the peculiar carbohydrate mixture in the sweet potato, which makes it ferment easily.

SUCCOTASH is made from a combinaion of lima beans and green corn cooked together. This combination is not specially desirable, but if small lima beans are used, one with a strong digestive ability will not experience any difficulty in handling the combination. However, it should not be used in addition to any other starchy food, but taken ast he main starchy part of the meal.

What Editors Are Saying

EDUCATE THE MOUNTAINEERS—San Bernardino Sun

"By hickory," says Chauncey M. Depew, "there is no doubt about it! The world is growing better, and these calamity howlers and prophets of evil don't amount to a darn."

He says it on his ninety-first birthday, so it must be true. Men are commonly regarded as inspired at such times, and Mr. Depew has not only lived long but lived much and observed shrewdly.

"The future?" he continues. "Nothing could be brighter. You come back here nine years from now—when I'm 100 years old—and see if I haven't been right."

That is a reasonable proposition. It may be worth waiting nine years for a show-down on this matter. It would afford rare pleasure for a lot of dyed-in-the-wool pessimists to prove a champion optimist dead wrong on his hundredth birthday. But they probably haven't much show. Chauncey has always been a winner—perhaps because he has always been cheerful.

OF YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

Hanson News

HANSEN, May 8. (Spl.)—Mrs. O. J. Hawley superintendent of the Savanna school took the scholars of her room to Huntington Beach on Tuesday afternoon of this week for a weinie roast on the beach. They were accompanied by Mrs. Ward and Miss A. L. Ditmar the other two teachers of the school.

Mrs. A. M. Stanley of Garden Grove who entertained the Ladies Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Christian Friends church on Thursday afternoon of last week made the occasion a veritable May day affair.

At noon of visitors drove up through the rose lined driveway into a park like space filled with 50 varieties of roses of all shades and colors and were met by the hostess there were exclamations over the beauty and grandeur of the sight. Questioned as to their name and culture Mrs. Stanley could give the name of each one and was very patient to give information as to their culture and care. It was with a feeling of antipathy that visitors left this rose garden and strolled up the steps and into the house. Even here we found exquisite bouquets to attract our attention. There were bouquets of roses some flowers as large as saucers to every shelf, table or receptacle where vaces or pots could stand. One almost felt that they were in some exotic flower grounds. One bouquet of buff Hellan roses attracted much attention.

As a society one quilt was pieced after which the president, Mrs. G. A. Shacelford conducted the devotional exercises and business was sent to Mrs. Stanley served refreshments.

WHAT MY NEIGHBOR SAYS

Is of Interest to Anaheim Folks

When one has had the misfortune to suffer from backache, headaches, dizziness, urinary disorders and other kidney ills—and has found relief from all this sickness and suffering, that person's advice is of untold value to friends and neighbors. The following case is only one of many thousands but it is that of an Anaheim resident. Who could ask for a better example?

Mrs. R. Long, 311 N. Emily St., says: "I could hardly get dressed mornings because of the severe pains which struck me in my back I had pains all over my body and felt worn out and had no energy. I had headaches and dizzy spells too. Doan's Pills from Kemp Bros. Pharmacy, helped me, removing the backache and making me better in every way."

Over three years later, Mrs. Long said: "I have had no need for Doans' in some time, but recommend them at every opportunity."

JACK HOXIE AT UNITED THEATER

A stirring, dramatic tale of the cattle country is promised for the screen by "A Roaring Adventure," Universal Western starring Jack Hoxie and which will be shown in the United Theater Friday and Saturday. Hoxie is cast in the part of a young chap who comes from the East to visit his father and becomes mixed up in the plot of some cattle rustlers to despoil the ranch the father owns in the hills some miles from a little town where the father makes his home.

Hoxie is supported by a cast that includes Mary McAllister, Marin Sais, J. Gordon Russell, Francis Ford, Jack Pratt and little Margaret Smith. Clifford Smith directed and the Hoxie unit of the famous Universal Ranch riders contribute some spectacular features in the way of horsemanship.

Duffy Burns, the part portrayed by Hoxie, decided to go to the ranch and see if he can discover who is responsible for the loss of his father's cattle. Because the ranch superintendent's daughter, who recognizes in Duffy the man who saved her for him, the ranch foreman, who expects to make the girl his wife, becomes Duffy's bitter enemy.

The picture was filmed on location in one of the most picturesque sections of California, the famous Mother Lode mining region.

Gasoline Men Celebrate Anniversary

Honoring the tenth anniversary since the launching of Ventura gasoline and oil upon the market, a meeting of the wholesale distributors and branch managers of the Ventura Refining Company was held in Los Angeles this week.

Mr. R. A. Mosher attended as representative from this territory.

He reports a very enthusiastic meeting at which advertising and merchandising plans were announced, which were the most comprehensive in the history of the company.

"We expect 1925 to be the biggest year of all in sales," it was announced by T. W. Okey, sales manager who presided at the meeting. Other speakers were Frank G. Hobart, L. R. Orton, R. A. Mosher, F. W. Hicks, Frank Barnes and E. G. Mulford.

"More power to you," is the slogan for 1925 for all Ventura representatives. This slogan will be used in bill board and newspaper advertising and the Ventura men are going to try to make the popular farewell, "More Power to You" instead of "so long."

VAUDEVILLE AT CALIF. THEATER

There is a knockout show of vaudeville and pictures booked for the California Theatre for today and Saturday.

First there is five acts of exceedingly good vaudeville coming direct to Anaheim from big time theatres. Each and every one of these classy acts is an artist in their own particular line, and we know that you will enjoy their offerings.

King J. Sauls presents an "Artistic novelty" in the transparent paintings, that is something out of the ordinary.

A master of the accordeon and a beautiful singer of popular songs are Gulano and Marguerite in "Musical Oddities."

"The Old Home Town" is the title of the laugh producing skit with Tom and Dorothy Bennett. It is from the pen of that master vaudeville writer and contains a wealth of infectious rube comedy.

Wild and Sedalia are a pair of well matched entertaining artists. In their offering, "Here, There and Everywhere," they have an act that for good laughs cant' be beat.

"Footlight Fantasies" is the feature offering of the vaudeville program and is a "Reproduction of Famous Broadway Stars." All the individual mannerisms of the famous stars were made a study by this clever company of five artists and the impersonations are perfect.

"Too Many Kisses," Richard Dix's newest production for Paramount which is the feature for Friday and Saturday at the California theatre, is a story of a young American who goes to Spain to forget about women, and there falls in love with the "only girl in the world."

Frances Howard is featured in the leading woman's role in the production, directed by Paul Sloane, from "A Maker of Gestures," by John Sanderg, Gerald Duffy prepared the scenario from this Cosmopolitan magazine tale.

In "Too Many Kisses" Dix is cast as a ne'er-do-well son of a wealthy mine owner who is at his wits end to know what to do with him. As Robert Gayford, there is scarcely a day passes but that Dix has to go to his father for a little check to settle some breach of promise suit.

A little change might do them both good, thinks Gaylord, Sr. So off goes Bob to the Basque country to look up a certain valuable metal which is little known with his father's promise that he attends strictly to business and leave the women alone he will be taken into the firm.

But it seems the girls in this little town way up in the Pyrenees are more beautiful than he has seen anywhere—one in particular Yvonne.

Naturally, Bob falls for her, hook, line and sinker, forgets all about turidium, fights off a band of cut-throats and convices his father that now women in general have no place in his mind he might be able to pay a little more attention to work.

Besides Miss Howard, the cast of the production includes William Powell, a hot-blooded young Basque rival for the girls' hand.

A Christie comedy, "Granpa's Girl," and an Aesop Fable are on the program.

BUSTER KEATON COMING TO CALIF.

Buster Keaton and T. Roy Barnes, famous stage star, are Wall Street "magnets" in "Seven Chances," Buster's latest comedy which is coming to the California Theatre for next Sunday Monday and Tuesday. And between the two of them "Seven Chances" has been made into the most screamingly funny farce in which Buster has even appeared.

Buster has $7,000,000, and some 7,777 women who wish to marry him and his millions in "Seven Chances," which is his latest Metro-Goldwyn comedy, presented by Joseph M. Schenck. Even David Belasco, who produced "Seven Chances" for the speaking stage, roared at the way Buster has transformed his stage comedy into a fun film, and, by the way, it is the first stage production Buster has ever used for film purposes.

Busters' trio of scenarists, Joe Mitchell, Jean Havez and Clyde Bruckman, have "gagged up" the Belasco comedy so that the screen version out-laughs the stage play at every turn.

The cast appearing in support of Buster consists of Ruth Dwyer, his new leading woman; T. Roy Barnes, Snitz Edwards, Jules Cowles, Marion Harlan, Doris Dean, Peggy Pearce, Loro Bara, sister of Theda Bara; Alma Bramley, Detroit Actress; Hazel Dean; Pauline Toler; Judie King; Bartine Burkette, Eugenie Gilbert, Edna Hamman, Barbara Pierce, Eva Arthur, Connie Evans and Rosalind Mooney.

"The Three Wilson Girls" in a dainty offering of "Song and Dance" is the special stage presentation during the run of Buster Keaton in "Seven Chances."

MOTOR SHARES SHOW STRENGTH

NEW YORK, May 8.—Stocks continued today to reflect the restoration of confidence in the Wall Street community regarding the financial and business outlook. Speculative sentiment had been dealt a severe blow by the drastic price declines which took place in March and early April. But with the averages back to within striking distance of the high point reached on last winters forward movement, it was increasingly evident that the reaction had been technical in character and in no way changed the outlook for sustained prosperity in the general commercial fields.

Motor shares were taken up in an impressive way under the leadership of Dodge pfd. and Willys-Overland. Public utilities continued to furnish a number of buoyant features while strength in Seaboard, Ann Arbor, Rock Island and other rails with consolidation prospects demonstrated that the possibilities in this connection were not likely to be overlooked.

Leading industrials were held back by the expectation of an unfavorable tone in the U. S. Steel unfilled tonnage statement for April.

GRAIN PRICES SOAR

CHICAGO, May 8.—Extremely bullish news circulated freely about the grain pit today and prices soared to a higher close. The full advance was not held. Late profit taking caused fractional recessions.

General belief was that the official document to be released however, among those present were those present there were those who believed recent advances discounted much of the expected unfavorable crop outlook. Liverpool and Winnipeg were sharply higher. Leading commission houses were principal buyers of corn. Pressure to sell was light. Cash showed improvement.

Better general demand and strength in other grains helped corn. Liberal amounts was reported worked for export.

Provisions had a strong undertone most of the day, but sagged late on profit taking sales.
